

Advanced Junior Dictionary

FOURTH EDITION

THORNDIKE • BARNHART

Edison School

Book No. _____

1. Student _____ Date _____

Condition _____

Room No. _____ Teacher _____

2. Student _____ Date _____

Condition _____

Room No. _____ Teacher _____

3. Student _____ Date _____

Condition _____

Room No. _____ Teacher _____

4. Student _____ Date _____

Condition _____

Room No. _____ Teacher _____

5. Student _____ Date _____

Condition _____

Room No. _____ Teacher _____

6. Student _____ Date _____

Condition _____

Room No. _____ Teacher _____

7. Student _____ Date _____

Condition _____

Room No. _____ Teacher _____

PARTS OF SPEECH

n.	noun	adj.	adjective	prep.	preposition
v.	verb	adv.	adverb	conj.	conjunction
pron.	pronoun			interj.	interjection

COMPLETE PRONUNCIATION KEY

The pronunciation of each word is shown just after the word, in this way: ab bre vi ate (ə brē/vē āt). The letters and signs used are pronounced as in the words below. The mark ' is placed after a syllable with primary or strong accent, as in the example above. The mark / after a syllable shows a secondary or lighter accent, as in ab bre vi a tion (ə brē/vē ā/shən).

Some words, taken from foreign languages, are spoken with sounds that otherwise do not occur in English. Symbols for these sounds are given at the bottom of the page as "Foreign Sounds."

a	hat, cap	j	jam, enjoy	u	cup, butter
ā	age, face	k	kind, seek	û	full, put
ã	care, air	l	land, coal	ü	rule, move ä	father, far	m	me, am	ū	use, music
		n	no, in
b	bad, rob	ng	long, bring
ch	child, much			v	very, save
d	did, red	o	hot, rock	w	will, woman
		ō	open, go	y	young, yet
e	let, best	ô	order, all	z	zero, breeze
ē	equal, see	oi	oil, voice	zh	measure, seizure
èr	term, learn	ou	house, out
f	fat, if	p	paper, cup
g	go, bag	r	run, try	ə	represents:
h	he, how	s	say, yes	a	in about
		sh	she, rush	e	in taken
		t	tell, it	i	in April
i	it, pin	th	thin, both	o	in lemon
ī	ice, five	th	then, smooth	u	in circus

foreign sounds

Y as in French du. Pronounce ē with the lips rounded as for English ü in rule.

N as in French bon. The N is not pronounced, but shows that the vowel before it is nasal.

œ as in French peu. Pronounce ā with the lips rounded as for ō.

H as in German ach. Pronounce k without closing the breath passage.

Digitized by the Internet Archive
in 2025

https://archive.org/details/bwb_C0-BNV-381

TABLE OF CONTENTS

General Editorial Advisory Committee...	v
Special Editors and Editorial Staff.....	vi
To the Teacher and Parent.....	vii-viii
To the Pupil.....	ix
How to Use This Dictionary.....	x-xxxiii
How to Find a Word.....	x-xiii
How to Find a Meaning.....	xiv-xxi
How to Use the Pronunciations.....	xxii-xxvii
How to Use This Dictionary for Spelling	xxviii-xxxiii
Common Spellings of English.....	xxxiv-xxxv
Complete Pronunciation Key.....	xxxvi
A Dictionary of the English Language....	1-946

GENERAL EDITORIAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

- PROFESSOR W. CABELL GREET, Barnard College, Columbia University
- PROFESSOR HAROLD B. ALLEN, University of Minnesota
- PROFESSOR ALBERT C. BAUGH, University of Pennsylvania (Emeritus)
- PROFESSOR J. A. W. BENNETT, Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge University
- PROFESSOR MARGARET M. BRYANT, Brooklyn College of The City University of New York
- PROFESSOR FREDERIC G. CASSIDY, University of Wisconsin
- PROFESSOR CHARLES C. FRIES, University of Michigan (Emeritus)
- PROFESSOR MILES L. HANLEY, University of Wisconsin (Deceased)
- PROFESSOR S. I. HAYAKAWA, San Francisco State College
- PROFESSOR ARCHIBALD A. HILL, University of Texas
- PROFESSOR AILEEN TRAVER KITCHIN, Teachers College, Columbia University (Retired)
- PROFESSOR HANS KURATH, University of Michigan (Emeritus)
- PROFESSOR GEORGE S. LANE, University of North Carolina
- PROFESSOR IRVING LORGE, Teachers College, Columbia University (Deceased)
- PROFESSOR ALBERT H. MARCKWARDT, Princeton University
- PROFESSOR JAMES B. McMILLAN, University of Alabama
- PROFESSOR ALAN H. MONROE, Purdue University
- PROFESSOR PORTER G. PERRIN, University of Washington (Deceased)
- PROFESSOR ROBERT C. POOLEY, University of Wisconsin
- PROFESSOR LOUISE POUND, University of Nebraska (Deceased)
- PROFESSOR ROBERT L. RAMSAY, University of Missouri (Deceased)
- PROFESSOR ALLEN WALKER READ, Columbia University
- PAUL NORTH RICE, Reference Department, New York Public Library (Deceased)
- PROFESSOR ESTHER K. SHELDON, Queens College, Flushing, New York
- PROFESSOR CHARLES K. THOMAS, University of Florida (Deceased)
- PROFESSOR CLAUDE M. WISE, Louisiana State University (Deceased)

SPECIAL EDITORS

Pronunciation

PROFESSOR W. CABELL GREET, Barnard College, Columbia University

PROFESSOR ALLAN F. HUBBELL, New York University

New Words

PROFESSOR I. WILLIS RUSSELL, University of Alabama

EDITORIAL STAFF

Assistant to the Editor-in-Chief: Carolyn D. Werley.

Managing Editor: W. D. Halsey.

Editors: Frances Murlin, Phyllis Ruckgaber Winant.

Associate Editors: Robert K. Barnhart, Lawrence Levenson, Patricia McKeever, Pamela Shortall.

Art Editor: Martha Colley.

Assistant to the Art Editor: Sheila Goldstein.

Illustrators: Raymond E. Craig, Warner Sallman, Nellie Starkson, and George White, general artists; Leon Pray and R. T. Rice, special artists for animals; Helen Snyder, special artist for plants.

Office Assistants: Helen Barlow, Anne-Luise Bartling, Leroy Brightman, Helen Cornell, Susan Enders, Dorothy M. Gollow, Ellen L. Nelson, Ruth C. Vickery, Elizabeth Vogeley, Helen Wasch, Elizabeth Ann Westin.

STAFF FOR THE FOURTH EDITION

For Mr. Barnhart: Robert K. Barnhart, Assistant to the Editor-in-Chief; Reason A. Goodwin, Sol Steinmetz, Ruth G. McClare; Anne-Luise Bartling, Andrea B. Olsen, Julia Galas; Leroy Brightman; Albert Crocco.

For Scott, Foresman: Samuel C. Monson, Directing Editor; Graham Mitchell; Carol Ann Hatcher, James P. Norris; Norbert H. Johan, P. Norman Linsell, Jan Pfannenstiel, Julia B. Plier, Barbara Reznik, Cynthia Zilliac; G. B. Davidson.

TO THE TEACHER AND PARENT

This dictionary is designed specifically for use in schools and for study at home by young people who are passing from the simple curriculum of the elementary grades to the complex studies of high school. It is designed to answer the questions which boys and girls at this stage will ask about words in science and in every other major field of interest.

The principles followed in the making of this dictionary are the same as those of all the Thorndike-Barnhart dictionaries. You will find, therefore, that this book easily fits into classroom or home use at the point where the Thorndike-Barnhart Junior Dictionary ceases to be completely satisfactory, and before the Thorndike-Barnhart High School Dictionary can be used to the fullest advantage.

This book has been made by a permanent staff of specially trained dictionary editors, with the continuing support and advice of various scholarly advisers. I believe that you will find that the book, as a result of the efforts of this considerable body of specially qualified people, will give the student the help that he needs when he needs it, with a minimum of eyestrain and fatigue. For every minute of study it will return knowledge and skill and power for reading, writing, and speaking. It fits him in due time to make proper use of a dictionary for adults.

A Dictionary Planned Specifically for the Junior High School. The selection of words and meanings in this dictionary, as in every dictionary of the Thorndike-Barnhart series, is based on counts of the actual occurrences of words in reading matter. These counts have been supplemented by special checks of glossaries and indexes to standard textbooks used in the grades for which the dictionary is designed. The definitions are above the simple level of the Junior Dictionary.

Particularly in the case of certain sciences with which children in their early teens now have greater contact, we have not hesitated, when it seemed desirable, to approach the high-school level in our definitions. At the same time we have maintained the principle of using illustrative sentences very freely to clarify relatively complex meanings. We bridge the difficult gap between the elementary and the high-school levels of a student's vocabulary needs; we gauge his capacity for understanding definitions.

Special Emphasis on Teaching the Parts of Speech. The part of speech of every meaning is taught. This greater emphasis on grammar is one of the significant advances of this dictionary as compared with the Junior Dictionary. Naturally, emphasis is still placed primarily upon the use of the dictionary as an aid to deciphering the meaning of hard words in particular contexts. However, by indicating exactly which meanings are verbs, nouns, adjectives, etc., at the end of each entry, we make it possible for the student to begin also to think of different meanings in terms of the formal grammatical categories within which they fall. Thus we build upon the structure of the Junior Dictionary, organized principally from the reading point of view, toward the more formal, more traditional structure of the High School Dictionary.

Recognition Given to Increased Vocabulary at the Junior High School Level. There are approximately 20,000 more entries in the Advanced Junior Dictionary than in the Junior Dictionary. This increase of approximately 33 per cent is designed to parallel curriculum changes and to provide for the vocabulary growth which must be anticipated as a result of free reading at the junior high school level.

Important New Features. Certain new features have been introduced into this dictionary to make it as effective as possible for Junior High School pupils:

(1) Over one hundred exercises which the pupil can work have been given in the notes on the use of the dictionary. If the teacher insists that these exercises be worked by using a few minutes each week of a study or reading period, any pupil should then be able to do independent work with his dictionary. The exercises on finding a word, on finding meanings, and on using the dictionary for spelling and pronunciation are all suited to the Junior High School grade level.

(2) Two tables of English spellings have been provided on pages xxix and xxxiv-xxxv to help the child who has spelling difficulties. One (on page xxix) deals with initial sounds, and the other (on pages xxxiv-xxxv) is a fairly complete table showing the complexity of English spelling. By teaching a pupil to consult these tables of common spellings, especially the one showing spellings of initial sounds, we can help him find many words in his dictionary that he has heard spoken but does not know how to spell. For example, a child who has difficulty spelling pneumonia will find from this table that he has only four places in the dictionary to look: gn-, kn-, n-, and pn-. By using the table he can find the word he seeks under its proper spelling, and will be trained in recognizing the difficulties of various spellings of the particular type that has puzzled him.

(3) Simplified scales of miles have been provided at the top and on the left-hand side of all the maps contained in the book. I trust that this device will result in maps that have much more meaning for the average American child, whose experience with the automobile has equipped him to think fairly readily in terms of tens or hundreds of miles. The student can thus learn simply by using his dictionary that, for example, the distance between any two points in Asia or Europe that may be important in his study of history can actually be stated in terms which he can equate against a Sunday afternoon's drive, or some other span of travel within his own experience.

(4) Legends under many of the illustrations have been considerably expanded. They not only identify, but also aid considerably in helping the illustration to achieve its primary purpose of clarifying the meaning. You may be interested to see examples of such legends under abacus, abutment, and anemometer.

We have been guided at all times during our work on this dictionary by the basic principles enunciated for school dictionaries upwards of 20 years ago by the late E. L. Thorndike. These principles, which were first applied in the making of the Thorndike-Century Junior Dictionary, have quite properly been given a major share of credit for the tremendous improvements since made in dictionaries designed for virtually every level of use, and most particularly at every level of school use. Professor Thorndike would have been gratified, I am sure, to know that yet another book has been added to the series that bears his name, and that in this book his principles have been applied again to the construction of a dictionary that will, we all trust, be useful to yet another great body of young people.

Clarence L. Barnhart

TO THE PUPIL

What would happen if we could not use words to tell each other what we want or need? We would be like the people who were building the Tower of Babel when God made it impossible for them to understand each other. They were unable from that moment to work together, and had to stop everything they were doing. If something like this were to happen today, factories would have to close, trains and airplanes would have to stop traveling from city to city, food could not be moved from the farm to the market and into our homes. Within a matter of hours our whole world would have gone back thousands of years. And all this would happen for a very simple reason—because people could no longer tell each other by words what it was they wanted or needed.

Of course, we don't need to worry about this happening, because practically all human beings (except very small babies) know at least enough words to get along in daily life. But probably no one knows all the words needed to understand all the things that are important to everyone today. In science, sports, or in any other field you will probably find that there are many words you need to know, words that you have never heard before or that you do not understand.

A dictionary is a book that tells you what words mean. You should think of your dictionary as a key that opens the door to whatever it is you want to know about the meanings of words. This dictionary, and most other dictionaries, actually do even more than this. A good dictionary not only tells you what words mean but also helps you to spell, pronounce, and use them correctly.

You have probably already used at least one dictionary, but even if you have not, you will not have any trouble learning to use this one. Have you ever looked up the telephone number or home address of one of your friends in the telephone book? If you have, you already know the first thing you need to know in order to use this dictionary: everything you are looking for is arranged in one alphabetical list.

The information you will find on the next 27 pages will help you to make full use of this dictionary. It will also prepare you for more advanced dictionaries when you are a student in high school, or when you are an adult.

I hope that you will read these instructions and understand them. I hope that you will find this book, which has been written especially for you, useful when you turn to it for answers to questions about words. If you find in this book anything that is not helpful, or that you cannot understand, or that you think is not correct, I shall be glad if you will write me and tell me. I have tried to make the best book I could for you, and I shall be happy to hear anything you wish to tell me about it.

Clarence L. Barnhart

HOW TO USE THIS DICTIONARY

HOW TO FIND A WORD

1. Guide words are the words printed at the top of each page in the main section of this dictionary, over each column, in very heavy black letters. The one at the top of the left-hand column is the same as the first word you can look up on that page; the one at the top of the right-hand column is the same as the last word you can look up on that page. For example, on page 88 the guide words are blowfly and blurb, which means that you may expect to find on that page these two words and all words that fall between them in alphabetical order. In a dictionary, guide words are more important than page numbers, because they tell you quickly whether or not the word you are looking for may be found on a particular page.

Exercises:

1. a. Write the following words on a sheet of paper: blossom, blowpipe, blouse, blue, blunt, blush, and boat. Put a check mark after the ones you would find on page 88, and then turn to page 88 and check yourself. Did you put a check mark after any words that are not on page 88?

1. b. Next, draw a circle around the words you have listed that are not on page 88 and, using the guide words, find out on what pages these other words may be found; then write the page numbers after them on your list.

2. Now use the guide words to find the words in this famous statement made by the American patriot Patrick Henry: "Give me liberty, or give me death." They are all in this dictionary. Can you find them all?

3. By using the guide words, see how many seconds or minutes it takes you to find czar, galore, medicale, secrecy, and transit in this dictionary.

2. One Alphabetical List. All the words in this dictionary are in a single alphabetical list. You don't have to ask yourself whether something will be in the main list, in the list of people's names, in the list of place names, or in any other special list, because there is only one list in the entire book. Look at the very first page in the book. You will find that it starts with the letter A ("the first letter of the alphabet") and that the page includes abbreviations (A), the name of a person (Aaron), the name of a place (Aachen), as well as abandon, abash, abate and other such ordinary words of English.

Exercises:

1. a. Copy the following words, putting them in correct alphabetical order as you do so: dab, dip, den, dub, dot.

1. b. To test whether you have done this correctly, cross out the d at the beginning of each of these words. Then check the alphabetical order of the letters that are now first. Have you made an error?

2. a. Now copy this list, putting the words in alphabetical order: bought, botulism, boudoir, bottom, bother. Check it against column 1, on page 94 of the dictionary. Did you put any word in the wrong order?

2. b. Now turn again to page 94. There are nine words between bother and bought on that page that were left out of the list you have just arranged. Copy these missing words from the book in their proper alphabetical order. Circle the letter in each one that accounts for its position in the list.

3. Different Words with the Same Spelling. Sometimes there are two or more different words which have the same spelling.

For example, on page 67 you will find three separate entries which are spelled baste:

baste¹ (bāst), drip or pour melted fat on (meat, etc.) while roasting. Meat is basted to keep it from drying out and to improve its flavor. v., bast ed, bast ing.

baste² (bāst), sew with long, loose stitches to hold the cloth until the final sewing. v., bast ed, bast ing.
—bast'er, n.

baste³ (bāst), beat; thrash. v., bast ed, bast ing.

Notice the small raised number which follows each of these entry words. That number is a reminder to look at other words spelled the same way if you do not find the definition you need under the first one.

Different words with the same spelling, like these three, sometimes result when words are borrowed from different sources or when they gradually change in form until they are identical. Such words are called “homographs.” Baste¹ came from an old French word meaning “moisten.” Baste² came from a different old French word meaning “sew up,” a word which the French had in turn borrowed from an old German language. Baste³ came from a Scandinavian word which meant “beat; thrash,” just as baste³ does.

Exercises:

1. How many different words are spelled bale? bank? net? stern?

2. a. Write the following sentences on a sheet of paper:

The bark sailed out to sea.

The man stripped off the bark of the tree.

Many dogs bark at strangers.

2. b. Find the entries for bark on page 64.

2. c. Write above the word “bark” in each sentence both the small number next to the entry word and the number of the definition of the meaning of bark as used in the sentence.

When looking up a reference from one part of the book to another, be sure that you notice whether or not there is a small number next to the word you must look up. For example:

bore² (bōr), pt. of bear¹. She bore her loss bravely. v.

tells you to look at bear¹ (bār), 1. carry: A voice was borne upon the wind.

2. support: That board is too thin to bear your weight. . . .

not

bear² (bār), 1. a large, clumsy mammal that has coarse hair and a very short tail. . . .

Exercise: Look at clove³ on page 152. Is clove a past tense for all the entries spelled cleave? Now turn to page 149 and find the cleave whose past tense is clove.

4. Combinations of Words. There are some combinations of words that cannot be fully understood from the ordinary meanings of the separate words. You may know, for example, the meanings of air and of pocket, but knowledge of the meanings of these words will not make clear that air pocket means “any current or condition in the air that causes an airplane to drop suddenly.”

When any combination of words is puzzling, though you know what each word means, look up the combined form of the words to find what they mean when taken together. For example, you will find air pocket between airplane and airport on page 18. You will find bay rum between Bayreuth and bay window on page 69.

Exercise: Look up the words bad and blood and then look up the entry bad blood. What special meaning do the two words have as a compound?

5. Derivatives. Derivatives are words formed by adding prefixes (pre-, un-, re-, in-) and suffixes (-ly, -ness, -er, -less, -like) to other words, either to the complete word or to the root. A prefix is one or more syllables or a word put at the beginning of a word to change its meaning or to make another word, for example, trans- before continental in trans-continental. A suffix is one or more syllables or a word put at the end of a word to change its meaning or to make a new word, for example, -ly after transparent in transparently. The most important prefixes and suffixes are entered separately in this dictionary so that you may look them up and find out what they mean and how they may combine with other words.

Derivatives are entered as main entries, pronounced, and defined when they have difficult or specialized meanings or are hard to pronounce. For example, individually is a derivative of individual; however, because it does not mean merely "in an individual manner" but has specialized meanings it is separately defined:

in di vid u al ly (in'də vij'ú əl ē), 1. personally; one at a time; as individuals: The teacher helps us individually. 2. each from the others: People differ individually. adv.

Many derivatives, however, have little or no spelling, meaning, or pronunciation difficulty, and often fall in alphabetical order immediately before or after their root word. Such derivatives, as gracefully or gracefulness in the entry below, are given in smaller boldface type at the end of the entry graceful:

grace ful (grās'fl), having or showing grace; beautiful in form, movement, or manner; pleasing; agreeable: A good dancer must be graceful. She thanked him with a graceful speech. adj. —grace'ful ly, adv. —grace'ful ness, n.

a. Derivatives formed by adding suffixes. You can understand the meaning of a derivative formed by adding a suffix by studying the following examples and rules:

(1) -able. If the word is made by adding -able to a verb, think "that can be ____ed" or "able to be ____ed," putting the verb in place of the dash. Thus, avoidable (under avoid) means "that can be avoided" or "able to be avoided."

Exercise: Write a sentence using each of the following words: adjustable, containable. What are the root words of these words?

(2) -er. If the word is made by adding -er to a verb or its root, think "person or thing that ____s," putting the verb in place of the dash. Thus, lender means "person who lends" and stamper means "thing that stamps."

Exercise: To which of these words can you add -er to mean a person or thing that does something: complain, doubt, expand, objection, person, ring?

(3) -ion. If the word is made by adding -ion (or -ation or -tion) to a verb, think: "1. a ____ing. 2. being ____ed." Put the verb in place of the dash. Thus, decontamination means: "1. a decontaminating. 2. being decontaminated." Magnetization means: "1. a magnetizing. 2. being magnetized."

Exercise: What do the words adoption and completion mean in these sentences: The boys are talking about the adoption of a new plan for the picnic. The work is near completion. Now look up adoption and completion in your dictionary to see if you are right.

(4) -less. If the word is made by adding -less to a noun, think "without ____" or "having no ____," putting the noun in place of the dash. A wingless bird means "a bird without wings" or "a bird having no wings."

Exercise: What do the following phrases mean: a dreamless sleep, a windowless room, a birdless forest?

(5) -like. If the word is made by adding -like to a noun, think "like a ____" or "like a ____'s," putting the noun in place of the dash. Birdlike movements mean "movements like a bird's."

Exercise: Say the following sentences in another way: She has a face like a flower. He ran with the grace of a cat.

(6) -ly¹. This suffix is used to form adverbs from adjectives. To get the meaning of such derivatives, think "in a ____ way or manner," putting the adjective in place of the dash. Thus, innocently means "in an innocent way or manner."

Exercise: How could you shorten the following sentences: The soldier behaved in a brave manner. The little girl answered the question in a curt way.

(7) -ment. If the word is made by adding -ment to a verb, think “a ____ing” or “being ____ed,” putting the verb in place of the dash. Thus, shipment means “a shipping”; astonishment means “being astonished.”

Exercise: To which of these words can you add the suffix -ment to mean “a doing (something) or being done”: abandon, abbreviate, beg, abase, enforce, combine?

(8) -ness. If the word is made by adding -ness to an adjective, think “the fact or quality or state of being ____,” putting the adjective in place of the dash. So evilness means: “the fact or quality or state of being evil.”

Exercise: What do the words freshness, bigness, and redness, mean in these sentences: The freshness of fish makes it taste better. The bigness of a desk makes it hard to carry. The redness of an apple makes it pretty.

(9) -or. If the word is made by adding -or to a verb, think “person or thing that ____s,” putting the verb in place of the dash. Thus, corroborator means “person or thing that corroborates.”

Exercise: Write a sentence using each of the following words: confessor, elevator, orator. What are the root words of these words?

b. Derivatives formed by adding prefixes. A large number of derivatives are formed by adding prefixes, such as un-, re-, non-, and super-, before a root word. Thus, the prefix non- meaning “not” is inserted before the root word belligerent to form the word nonbelligerent, meaning “not belligerent.” If you do not know what belligerent means you should look it up, and will discover that it means “warlike.” Nonbelligerent, then, means “not warlike.” You should always look in the proper alphabetical place in the main entry list for words beginning with a prefix. If the word is not entered you must look up the prefix (non-) and the entry word (belligerent), and put the two meanings together. However, derivatives often have special meanings and have to be separately entered and defined. Noncombatant is an example of this.

The prefix un- is perhaps the most widely used English prefix. Many of the derivatives formed by the addition of un- are defined in the dictionary. Other such derivatives are listed at the bottom of pages 880 through 894 without a definition if they can be understood by combining the meaning of the prefix un- with that of the word to which it is added. Thus, unladylike is listed at the bottom of page 889 since it simply means “not ladylike.”

Exercise: There are a number of prefixes that mean “not.” Among them are un- and dis-. Copy the following list of derivatives on a sheet of paper, and then circle the root word and underline every prefix that means “not”:

unhappy	repayment	antislavery
prepayment	improper	inactive
disagreeable	nonpayment	superabundant

6. Idioms. Often words occur in phrases or expressions that have a special meaning which cannot be fully understood from the ordinary meanings of the words that form them. Such special phrases are called idioms and there are many of them in our language. Examples are yield the palm to, parcel out, bring to pass, pass over, make reference to, under the sun, and many similar phrases on almost every page of this dictionary. You can find an idiom by looking under its most important word. For example, the idiom with a vengeance is placed under vengeance.

vengeance (ven'jəns), punishment in return for a wrong; revenge: The Indian swore vengeance against the man who murdered his father. n.
with a vengeance, 1. with great force or violence: By six o'clock it was raining with a vengeance. 2. extremely.
3. much more than expected.

Exercises:

1. Find the idiom near at hand. On what page do you find it? Under what entry?
2. Notice that it has two meanings. Which of these fits in the sentence: Mother stayed near at hand while I was sick. Is another meaning used in this sentence: Examination time is near at hand. Test yourself to see whether you chose the right meaning for each of these sentences by substituting the meaning itself for the idiom in each one. Do they make sense with the meanings you have chosen?

HOW TO FIND A MEANING

1. Importance of Meaning. What do you do when you meet new or hard words in reading? Sometimes you probably just skip them and go on, and it may be all right to do this if you are in a great hurry and need only to get the main idea of whatever it is you are reading. Usually, however, this is not a very wise practice because you may miss the main idea by this skipping. To skip a word is just like having a blank space in your mind where that word should be—like having a hole in a sentence. If there are too many blank spaces in a paragraph, it will be impossible for you to get even the trend of what it is saying, or to give the right answers to any questions about it.

How can you find the meaning of a hard or new word? You can, of course, ask your father, your mother, your brother, or your sister, or your friends. Or you may want to ask your teacher. However, your family, friends, and teacher may not always be near enough at hand to ask, or they may not always be willing to be interrupted by the asking of questions. Fortunately, you can always turn to one friend for help with questions about words, especially the meanings of words. That friend is the dictionary, whose editors have spent thousands of hours working over the explanations of hard words and new words in order to make them clear to you.

Do you understand the underscored words in the following sentences:

“Dr. Roylott seems a very amiable person,” said Holmes, laughing.

Holmes told her that he and Watson would make a nocturnal visit to Stoke Moran.

Unless you know the words amiable and nocturnal, it will not be easy for you to understand these two sentences. If you turn to the definitions in this dictionary, you will find that amiable means “good-natured and friendly; pleasant and agreeable” and nocturnal means “1. of the night. 2. in the night: Stars are a nocturnal sight. 3. active in the night: The owl is a nocturnal bird. 4. closed by day, open by night: a nocturnal flower.” Which meaning of nocturnal would you use?

2. Meaning Comes from Context. Very often, as you are reading along, you can determine fairly well the meaning of a word from its relationship to the context (which means the other words in the sentence). For example, in the sentence “Fish seldom make an unprovoked attack with the exception, perhaps, of the pugnacious moray eel, a mean-tempered fellow with long, needle-like teeth,” the word pugnacious clearly means “fond of fighting; quarrelsome.”

In the sentence “Despite the potential dangers of skin diving, the actual dangers are few,” we can get a fairly good idea of the meaning of potential that is meant here, which is “possible as opposed to actual; capable of coming into being or action.”

If you are reading rapidly for the story, you can probably get a sufficiently good idea of the meaning of these words so that you will not need to look them up. However, if you want a more precise idea—for example, if you are called upon to explain what these terms mean in a few words (in other words, to give a definition)—you should probably look them up in a dictionary.

When such words occur in your reading, your teacher may very well say to you to try to get the meaning of the hard word from the "context clues." These clues may be in the sentence which you are reading, but they also may be in several sentences before the one you are reading or they may occur after the sentence. Sometimes it's more work to read carefully the context than it is to turn to a dictionary for a precise idea of what the words mean.

Exercises:

1. In the sentence "By exercising ordinary precaution, the average skin diver is safer than he would be crossing the street," does precaution mean care, preparation, or safety?

2. In the sentence "If you don't mind tangling with the denizens of the deep—in their underwater back yards—you have the first requisite for becoming a skin diver," does denizens mean emblems, hardships, or inhabitants? Does requisite mean opportunity, requirement, or advantage?

3. How to Fit Definitions into the Context.

a. By Substitution of All or Part of the Definition. Many times the context does not provide you enough information for you to be certain of the meaning of a difficult word. In the sentence "Scrooge was a penurious old man" penurious could mean any number of things. The definition of penurious includes the phrase "mean about spending or giving money" and the synonym stingy. A synonym is a word having a meaning that is the same or nearly the same as that of another word. We have only to substitute the synonym stingy in the sentence in order to understand what penurious means. If you don't understand the meaning of purloin in the sentence "The spy may purloin the secret code" you can find the synonym steal when you look up purloin in your dictionary. When you replace purloin with steal, the meaning of the sentence is clear. You will find that your dictionary includes synonyms in the definitions of many unfamiliar words.

The dictionary also uses antonyms to help you understand unfamiliar words. An antonym is a word that means the opposite of another word. In a definition, an antonym is preceded by not. Thus, to understand the meaning of fictitious in the sentence "All of the characters in this play are fictitious" you would substitute the phrase "not real" for fictitious.

Exercises:

1. Copy these sentences on a sheet of paper:

His manner was blithe and jaunty.

The Romans tried to subjugate the country.

The mayor had an unblemished reputation.

2. Look up the underlined words in your dictionary and write above each of them a synonym that you might substitute for it.

When an appropriate synonym is not provided for a difficult word, you will need to substitute the definition of the word in the sentence. Sometimes you need only take a part of the definition. The complete definition may be so long that it would overwhelm the sentence. In the sentence "The rocket shot into the stratosphere," it is very difficult to substitute the entire definition of stratosphere, which reads "the upper region of the atmosphere, which begins about seven miles above the earth. In the stratosphere, temperature varies little with changes of altitude, and the winds are chiefly horizontal." All you need to do in this sentence is to substitute "upper region of the atmosphere" for stratosphere.

Exercises:

1. Write the following sentences on a sheet of paper:

The king rode a powerful charger.

The three-act play was condensed for television.

The boy was wearing brogans.

We met him in the vestibule of the building.

The police confiscated the stolen money.

He was a recluse for many years.

2. Now substitute for each underlined word the part of the definition you think you need to replace it. Do you ever need the whole definition?

b. By Changing the Order of Words in the Sentence. Sometimes you have to change the order of words in a sentence in order to fit the definition smoothly into the context. In this sentence "A southerly wind brought sweltering heat," you may have difficulty with the word southerly. Looking it up in your dictionary, you will find the definition "from the south." In order to fit this definition into the sentence, you have to change the order of the words in the original sentence so that it reads as follows, with the modifying phrase after the word wind: "A wind from the south brought sweltering heat."

Exercises:

1. Copy these sentences on a sheet of paper:

A common soldier is a private.

Mr. Brian was honest in all financial dealings.

2. Now look up the underlined words in your dictionary and write their meanings above the sentences. Do you notice that you can't just put them in place of the underlined words?

3. Write the sentences over again, using the meanings you have looked up. Do you see how you have changed the order of the words?

c. By Changing the Form of a Word or Rewording the Sentence and the Definition. Sometimes you will also have to change the form of the word in the definition. The definitions are often given in one tense and you have to put them in another; or the definition may be in singular form and you will have to put it in plural form.

Thus, for the meaning of piqued in the sentence "Being overlooked piqued Alice," you will look up the entry pique, which is defined as "cause a feeling of anger in; wound the pride of." Naturally you will have to put the definition in the past tense, so that it might read either "Being overlooked wounded the pride of Alice" or "Being overlooked wounded Alice's pride." In the latter case you have somewhat reworded the sentence.

Sometimes it is necessary to go even further and reword both the sentence and the definition. Consider, for example, the word cistern in the sentence "At the farm we drank cistern water." Cistern is defined as "reservoir or tank for storing water." Both the definition and the sentence will need to be reworded somewhat: "At the farm we drank water that had been stored in a reservoir."

Exercises:

1. Write these sentences on a sheet of paper:

The faculty of the college was invited to the students' dance.

Anne was an introspective girl.

Mr. Slauson's assailant was soon identified.

A triumphal bonfire was lighted after the game.

2. Using your dictionary to help you, rewrite these sentences on another sheet of paper, replacing the underlined words. Be sure that the new sentences mean the same thing, and are not awkward.

4. How to Choose the Meaning that Fits. Many words are used in different sentences in different ways. In other words, they have different meanings. You probably use many of these different meanings every day without ever thinking of it.

For example, you might say "I want to exchange this scarf at the store for another one," or "I wouldn't exchange my dog for anything on earth," or "My cousin and I exchange letters regularly." Do you see how the meaning of exchange is altered according to the sentence in which the word is used?

Can you find the meanings of exchange in this dictionary that fit each of these sentences? Notice in the entry under exchange in the dictionary that the definitions are all numbered for each separate sense.

Quite often you will have the problem of selecting which definition applies in a given sentence. The best way to test whether or not a definition applies is to fit part of it or all of it into the context or sentence.

Exercises:

1. Write the following two groups of sentences on a sheet of paper, leaving a space before the sentences in Group II.

Group I

1. After sailing away from Troy, the Greeks hid every craft and returned by land.
2. To fashion the huge horse from wood had required great craft.
3. Not many of the warriors were skilled in the craft of carpentry.
4. By craft Sinon induced the Trojans to pull the horse into the city.
5. In those days no craft plied the skies.

Group II

____When the Greeks saw that they couldn't defeat the Trojans by force, they decided to try craft.

____The warrior carried a shield that had been carved with considerable craft.

____The British tourists looked down from the craft at the ancient plain of Troy below.

____Among the Greek warriors were men of many different crafts.

____The fact that Ulysses' plan depended on craft delighted the Greeks.

____Each craft carried oars for use when there was no wind.

2. Now match the sentences in Group I with the sentences in Group II. Put the number of the sentence in Group I that applies to the similar sentence in Group II before each sentence in Group II. Do you recognize the similarity in meaning?

3. Now look in your dictionary and put the number of the definition of the word craft that applies after each sentence in Group II.

5. How Definitions of Words with Many Meanings are Organized. When you encounter a word that has many meanings and look it up in the dictionary, you will find that the most common meaning is put first. This saves much time and enables you to start reading definitions and meanings that are best known to you. Meanings are also arranged according to related ideas, so far as it is possible to do so. For example, in the entry club, definitions 1, 2, and 3 all deal with the "heavy stick." Definitions 4, 5, and 6 all deal with the "group of people." Definition 7 deals with the "playing card":

club (klub), 1. a heavy stick of wood, thicker at one end, used as a weapon. 2. a stick or bat used to hit a ball in games: golf clubs. 3. beat or hit with a club. 4. group of people joined together for some special purpose: a tennis club. 5. a building or rooms used by a club. 6. join together for some special purpose: The children clubbed together to buy their mother some flowers for her birthday. 7. a playing card with one or more black designs on it shaped like this: ♣. 1,2,4,5,7 n., 3, 6 v., clubbed, clubbing.

6. Special Constructions. Some words are followed by certain prepositions (see accede) and some have different meanings with different prepositions (see abound). In this dictionary these prepositions are printed in italic type and placed in parentheses in the definitions:

accede (ak sēd'), 1. give in; agree (to): Please accede to my request. 2. come (to); attain (to an office or dignity): When the king died, his oldest son acceded to the throne. 3. become a party (to): Our government acceded to the treaty. v., acceded, acceding.

abound (ə bound'), 1. be plentiful: Fish abound in the ocean. 2. be rich (in): America abounds in oil. 3. be well supplied; be filled (with): The ocean abounds with fish. v.

7. Ways in Which Meanings are Given. Meanings of words are given in one of three ways or in some combination of them.

First, meanings are given by a descriptive statement:

abacá (ä'bə kă'), 1. hemp made from the fibers of a Philippine banana plant; Manila hemp. 2. the plant itself. n.

Second, complicated definitions of words are often broken down into a statement plus a sentence to avoid a long and involved definition. For example, abomasum is defined as follows: "the fourth stomach of cows, sheep, and other animals that chew the cud. The abomasum is the stomach that digests the food."

The sentences in such definitions are in ordinary type and are really a part of the definitions. Sentences and phrases, however, that show how a word is used in a sentence or that help to show the difference between meanings which are closely related are printed in italic type at the end of the definition:

ar range (ə rānj'), 1. put in the proper order: The army is arranged for battle. 2. settle (a dispute): Mother arranged the quarrel between the two girls. 3. plan; prepare: Can you arrange to meet me this evening? 4. adapt (a piece of music) to voices or instruments for which it was not written: This music for the violin is also arranged for the piano. v., ar ranged, ar rang ing. —ar rang'er, n.

In the case of some very common words that have a great number of meanings, it is sometimes very difficult, if not impossible, for anyone to understand the meanings without sentences or phrases that give examples of the meanings in use. Look at the illustrative sentences after the definition in the entry on about and see how they help you to understand the way in which you would use each particular meaning:

a bout (ə bout'), 1. of; having to do with: "Black Beauty" is a story about a horse. 2. nearly; almost: He has about finished his work. 3. all around; around: A collar goes about the neck (prep.). Look about and tell me what you see (adv.). 4. on (one's person); with: Have you a pencil about you? 5. on the point of; going; intending; ready: a plane about to take off. . . .

Exercises:

1. Look at the first definition of acolyte and then describe one way in which an acolyte helps a priest.
2. Look at the first definition of board. In what way are boards used?
3. Look at the definitions of chicory. How are the leaves and roots of chicory used?

Third, this dictionary gives many pictures, diagrams, and maps to help explain the definitions. Notice how the legend under the picture of a camera helps you to understand more about how it works:

cam er a (kam'ər ə), 1. machine for taking photographs in which film or plates are exposed and the image is formed by means of a lens. 2. part of the transmitter which converts images into electronic impulses for television transmitting. 3. a judge's private office. n., pl. cam er as for 1 and 2, cam er ae (-ər ē) for 3.

Camera. When the shutter is opened, light rays reflected from the object pass through the lens and are focused by it on the film. Because the film is sensitive to light, it records the image.

Under the entry Bahamas, which are a group of British islands in the West Indies, you will find the map below. The small figures at the top and left-hand side of this map are mileage figures. You will find figures like these above and beside every map in this book. By using them you can tell, for example, that the Bahamas are anywhere from 100 to 600 miles east and south of Miami, and that Nassau, the chief city, is about 200 miles east and slightly south of Miami in a straight line. Doubtless many of you have driven a greater distance than this in an afternoon, and if you will think of the distance in these terms, you will realize that Nassau and Miami are actually quite close to each other:

Exercises:

1. Look at the map of the Adriatic. Approximately how many miles is Corsica from Africa?
2. Does Afghanistan have a seacoast? See the map under Afghanistan.
3. Look at the map under Alaska Highway. Approximately how many miles long is this highway?

8. The Parts of Speech. Such words as “noun,” “verb,” and “adjective” are actually names for the ways words are used in sentences and their relationships to each other. There are eight such words in English: noun, pronoun, verb, adjective, adverb, preposition, conjunction, and interjection. These words are the “parts of speech” of English.

Some of these parts of speech are more important or occur more often than others because of the nature of their use in a sentence. In almost any sentence it is easier to pick out the word that tells what is being done or that expresses action or being (a verb) than it is to pick out any other part of speech. The abbreviation v. is used after the verb definitions in this dictionary. Remembering that words like talk, ring, run, was, know, and eat can be verbs, try picking out the verbs in these three sentences:

1. After he had opened his presents, Tim blew out the candles on his birthday cake.
2. My father is washing his car.
3. It is time for us to go home.

Nouns are the names of things, persons, places, qualities, or events. Words like table, John, Boston, goodness, and party are nouns.

Exercise:

Which of the following words are nouns: facility, birthday, describe, happy, happiness, chair, very, mercy? The abbreviation for noun is n. Do you see the n. after the definitions of these words in your dictionary: fireplace, earth, encore, aerial, maintenance, eel?

Pronouns, such as I, we, you, which, are words used instead of nouns. See if you can pick out the pronouns in the following sentence: After I got home from my music lesson, mother asked me to go to the store for her. The abbreviation pron. is used at the end of the definition of pronouns.

Prepositions show certain relationships between other words in a sentence. In the following sentence the prepositions are with, for, and by: A man with rugs for sale walked by our house this morning. Now see if you can pick out the prepositions in this sentence: I rode my bicycle to the store on an errand for mother. The abbreviation prep. is used at the end of the definitions of prepositions.

There are two other parts of speech that are very common, and which all of us start using fairly early in our lives. These are adjectives, which qualify or limit the meaning of nouns and pronouns, and adverbs, which do the same sort of thing for verbs and adjectives. Words like green, good, and big, are adjectives. Words like soon, here, quickly, and not, are adverbs. The abbreviation adj. is used after the definitions of adjectives and adv. after those of adverbs in this dictionary.

The last two parts of speech are conjunctions and interjections. Conjunctions are words like and, or, and but, which connect words, phrases, clauses, or sentences. Interjections are the exclamations that we say when we are surprised or frightened. Such words as oh!, and hurrah! are interjections. The abbreviation conj. is used after the definitions of conjunctions and the abbreviation interj. is used after the definitions of interjections.

You use most of these parts of speech many times every day, and perhaps you have noticed that sometimes the same word can be both a noun and a verb, or a noun, verb, and adjective. For example, the word abandon is both a noun and a verb:

a ban don (ə ban'dən), 1. give up entirely: She abandoned her hope of becoming a nurse. 2. leave without intending to return to; desert: A good mother will not abandon her baby. 3. yield (oneself) completely (to a feeling, impulse, etc.): abandon oneself to grief. 4. freedom from restraint; lack of self-control: The students cheered with abandon, waving their arms and shouting. 1-3 v., 4 n. —a ban'don er, n.

Do you notice that at the end of the entry on abandon you see “1-3 v., 4 n.?” These numbers and letters tell you that meanings 1, 2, and 3 are verbs, and meaning 4 is a noun.

Sometimes the same meaning can be used for more than one part of speech. For example:

chest nut (ches/nut), 1. a large tree belonging to the same family as the beech, that bears sweet edible nuts in prickly burs. 2. nut of this tree. 3. wood of this tree. 4. reddish brown. 5. a reddish-brown horse with mane and tail of the same or a lighter color. 6. Informal. a stale joke or story. 1-6 n., 4 adj.

Notice that meaning 4 can be both a noun and an adjective. If you put this meaning into context you will see that this is true. In the sentence "Chestnut is my favorite color," you can substitute "Reddish-brown" for "Chestnut," and here you have the meaning as a noun. In the phrase "a chestnut stain," you mean "a reddish-brown stain," and here you are using it as an adjective.

The abbreviations used to indicate these different parts of speech in this dictionary are:

n.	noun
pron.	pronoun
v.	verb
adj.	adjective
adv.	adverb
prep.	preposition
conj.	conjunction
interj.	interjection

If you are ever in doubt about how you can use a word these abbreviations indicating the part of speech of a meaning of a word will tell you what its function is. The editors of this dictionary have taken great pains to make sure that all of this information you may need is arranged for you at the end of every entry so that you can turn to it and see what the parts of speech of all the meanings are, but we have not done this in a way that will make it hard for you to understand the meanings themselves. In other words, we have arranged the meanings so that they come together in their natural relationship as meanings rather than put them all together each in a little separate cubbyhole, so to speak, according to parts of speech. This makes it possible for you to find the meaning you want very quickly, and by looking at the end of the entry, to check yourself on the part of speech of a particular meaning.

Exercises:

1. How many parts of speech do the following words have: accord, consider, dandy, forest, inside?

2. a. Copy the following sentences on a sheet of paper:

The dog is her constant protector.

He dedicated his life to science.

Honking at a driver who has stalled his car often confuses him.

A car depreciates after a number of years of use.

It is my conviction that he will succeed.

His behavior shows his lack of consideration for others.

I must conclude from what you say that you are dissatisfied.

2. b. Write above each one of the underlined words the abbreviation for its part of speech. If you have any trouble doing this, look the words up in the dictionary and let your dictionary help you. Even if you are sure that you know the answers, check yourself against the dictionary after you have written the abbreviations to see if you are right.

3. You have probably noticed already how often you can tell the part of speech of a word from what it does in the sentence. Words tend to indicate this by their position, and some of you might like to try this simple exercise to prove to yourself that this is true. Copy on a sheet of paper the following well-known passage from Through the Looking-Glass by Lewis Carroll:

" 'Twas brillig and the slithy toves did gyre and gimble in the wabe."

The words that are underlined are "nonsense words." You will not find them entered in your dictionary. The other words are entered in your dictionary. (As your dictionary tells you on page 877, 'Twas is actually a short way of saying it was, and you may therefore describe this as having the parts of speech of both of these words.)

First, write the abbreviation for the part of speech of each word that is not underlined right above that word. Use the dictionary if you have any trouble.

Second, write the part of speech for each word that is underlined, right over it. If you will look at the sentence and think about the function of each word in it, you will realize that you probably can decide the parts of speech of most of these words, even though you won't find them in your dictionary. Here is a little tip that may help you if you have trouble—substitute for any of these words any other word that you can think of, which seems to you to fit. The part of speech of the "nonsense word" will be the same as that of the substitute word.

9. Restrictions of Use. Not all words or meanings are always used by everyone who speaks or writes English. Many English words are shared by all users of the language, but some words and some meanings of words are used mostly by members of various trades and professions. Some are common only in certain geographical areas, some are used only on certain occasions—in speaking and in informal, but not in formal, writing—and others are old words which are now usually found only in literary use or in old books. These specialized words and meanings have labels to show how, when, or where they are used. Among these labels are:

(1) Informal, which means that the word or meaning is used in ordinary, everyday speech and writing, but not in formal speech or writing:

gab by (gab'ē), Informal. very talkative. adj., gab-bi er, gab bi est.

(2) Slang, which means that the word or meaning is not accepted as good English by educated writers and speakers. If they use it at all, it is in very informal speaking or, sometimes, for an unusual effect in writing:

razz (raz), U.S. Slang. laugh at; make fun of. . . .

(3) Dialect, which means that the word or meaning is used only in the folk-speech of a certain geographical area:

br'er (brēr), Dialect. brother. n.

(4) Poetic, which means that the word or meaning is usually found only in poetry or in prose that is attempting to achieve a poetic effect:

a wea ry (ə wir'ē), Poetic. weary; tired. adj.

(5) Archaic, which means that the word or meaning is very rare except in old books or in books that are written in the style of an earlier period:

a vaunt (ə vōnt'), Archaic. begone! get out! . . . interj.

(6) Trademark, which indicates that a word or meaning is owned by a particular company and used to identify its product. Great care has been taken to label trademarks, but failure to include the label does not mean that the word is not a trademark:

Plex i glas (plek'sə glas'), Trademark. a light, transparent plastic, often used in place of glass. n.

(7) French, Latin, Italian, etc., which are used to show words that, though used in English writing and sometimes in speech, are not thought of as English words:

gar çon (gär sôn'), French. 1. a young man; boy. 2. servant. 3. waiter. n., pl. gar çons (-sôn').
ad hoc (ad hok'), Latin. for a certain purpose; special.

(8) Brit., Scottish, U.S., etc., which are used to show words, meanings, or spellings that are used mostly or only in some particular part of the English-speaking world:

lor ry (lôr'ē), 1. Brit. automobile truck. . . . n., pl. lor ries.

loch (lok or loh), Scottish. 1. lake. . . . n.

john ny cake (jon'ē kāk'), U.S. corn bread in the form of a flat cake. . . . n.

(9) If the restriction refers to all the meanings of a word, it is put before all the meanings.

gab (gab), Informal. 1. chatter; gabble; idle talk. 2. talk too much; chatter; gabble. 1 n., 2 v., gabb ed, gab bing.

If the restriction refers only to one meaning of a word, it is put in between the number and the definition and examples to which it applies.

grit ty (grit'ē), 1. of or containing grit; like grit; sandy. 2. U.S. Informal. courageous; plucky. adj., grit ti er, grit ti est.

HOW TO USE THE PRONUNCIATIONS

1. Why You Should Learn How to Pronounce Words. Learning how to pronounce the new words that you find in your reading is important for three reasons. First, the word may not be a new word at all. It may be a word that you have heard many times, but that you don't recognize because you haven't met it in print. In that case, as soon as you find out how to say the word, you know what it means.

Another reason for pronouncing the new words in reading is that you may meet those same words in conversation, and you won't know that you have met them before unless you know how they sound. Suppose you see the word despondent in a book, and learn its meaning from the dictionary. Sooner or later someone is sure to speak of "being despondent," but you might not know you had met that word before unless you looked up the word and learned its pronunciation when you were reading.

Finally, you will find some of these new words useful in your own talking. The more words most of us know, the better we can usually say what we want to say, so it is a good thing to keep increasing the stock of words that you can speak and write. You learn many new words by hearing other people talk, but you can also learn many by looking up the pronunciation and meaning of words that you find in your reading.

2. What the Alphabet Is. The letters of the alphabet stand for sounds and our printed or written words really consist of letters or combinations of letters that direct us to say certain sounds. If the directions given to us in this manner always meant the same things, we could always give the proper sounds. That is, if there were only one symbol for each sound we would always be able to say a word if we knew the spelling. In English, however, this is not true, as we have around forty sounds and only twenty-six letters to represent these sounds; there are over 200 spelling combinations directing us to use these sounds. The letter a stands for one sound in hat, another in ate, still another in care, another in father, another in about, another in all; the sound of a in ate may be represented in the spelling by a in ate, ai in aid, ao in gaol, au in gauge, ay in say, ea in break, ei in vein, eigh in weigh, and ey in they. One letter may represent many sounds (a in the examples above may represent any one of six sounds); the sound of a in ate may be spelled in any one of nine ways. The only way that we can give directions so that they will always be understood is to have only one symbol for one sound; your pronunciation key does just that. If you know how to use a pronunciation key you can learn the pronunciation of any word in the English language by looking the word up in your dictionary.

Exercises:

1. Look at the Table of Common Spellings of English on pages xxxiv and xxxv. Which sound has the most spellings? How many does it have?
2. Do any sounds have only one spelling to represent them?
3. Which sounds have two spellings? three spellings?
4. List the symbols according to the number of spellings each symbol has, so that the one with the most spellings is first and the one with the fewest spellings is last. Put the number of spellings after each symbol.
5. Look over these words and say them: gum, fog, generate, ridge, and gland. Each word has a letter g in it. Does the letter g in all of these words have the same sound as the g in go and bag?

6. Look at the words beginning with the letter g on pages 332 to 364. The letter g has the sound of g in go or bag six times as often as it has the sound of g in gem. Because the letter g has the sound of g in go much more often than it has the sound of g in gem, we use the letter g in the pronunciations in this dictionary to represent its most common sound, that of g in go.

3. What the Pronunciation Key Is. Each symbol used in your pronunciation key is a direction to say one particular sound; by using these special symbols to respell words it is possible to tell anyone exactly how to say a word, because these directions can always be depended on. These symbols are always put in parentheses immediately after the spelling, thus: clear (klir); break (brāk).

Most of the symbols of our pronunciation key are single letters of the alphabet that represent the commonest sound of that letter. Thus, as you have already learned, g represents the sound of g in go or bag, not the sound of g in gem. Because of this use of a letter to represent its most common sound, the pronunciation symbols inside the parentheses will often be exactly the same as the spelling of the word, for example: met (met). Notice that the m stands for its most usual sound, the e for its most usual sound (the short sound, as in end), and the t for its most usual sound. By using the letters of the alphabet in this way we need only a few special symbols (such as a with a long mark over it to represent the sound of a in age; a with two dots over it to represent the sound of a in father) to stand for the less usual sounds. These lines or dots or carets are called diacritical marks.

Exercises :

1. Look at the Complete Pronunciation Key at the very front or back of the dictionary. How many symbols are there in the key?
2. How many consonant symbols are there? Write them in a list with a word after each one that uses that sound. At least one such word (called a "key word") is put in the pronunciation key after each symbol.

3. There is only one consonant symbol that has a diacritical mark. Can you find it?

4. How many vowel symbols are there? Write them in a list, following each with a word that uses that particular sound.

5. How many vowel symbols have no diacritical marks? Write them in a list with their "key words." These sounds are the most frequent vowel sounds and are known as the "short sounds" of the vowels.

6. How many of the vowel symbols have a long mark over the vowel? Write each symbol with its "key words." These vowels are often called the "long vowels."

4. Interpreting Pronunciation Symbols. Look through the consonant symbols in the Complete Pronunciation Key again. What is the first one? What sound does the consonant b usually stand for? What two key words show this sound? What is the name of the second consonant symbol. Notice that it is composed of two letters.

The two-letter consonant symbol ch stands for just one sound and is used just as any single-letter symbol in the alphabet is. What key words illustrate this sound? Each of the two-letter consonant symbols in the key stands for a consonant sound that we use in speech but for which our alphabet contains no letter.

Exercises :

1. List the two-letter consonant symbols other than ch on a sheet of paper and write the key words illustrating the sound of each.
2. How many consonant symbols are two-letter symbols?
3. Write on a sheet of paper the pronunciations given below, in two columns. Pronounce each word by using the pronunciation key and write the spelling of the word before the pronunciation.

(sin)	(ʃhō)	(chôr)	(shangk)
(singk)	(ʃhîn)	(lach)	(shok)
(yung)	(tʃhink)	(kem'ist)	(thik'nis)

4. Check your work by looking each word up in this dictionary.

5. How Accents are Marked. To pronounce correctly, we must usually accent or speak one part of a word more strongly than another part. The parts of a word that we say in pronouncing are called syllables. Some words have only one syllable, as man, reach, could. Others have two syllables, as listen, easy, never. Others have three syllables, others four, and so on up to some words of ten or more syllables. The pronunciation of each word, by the extra space between these parts, shows the syllables that are used in pronouncing it. Now look at the pronunciations of listen, easy, and never, and you will see the accent mark (') that shows which syllable should be accented or spoken more strongly.

Exercise: Look up the following words and see how to accent them. To do this you find the word, then look at the pronunciation, and see which syllable is marked with the accent:

milliner
enthusiasm
gravitation

ornamental
investigate
handkerchief

Some long words have a main or "primary" accent (') and a lesser or "secondary" accent (/). Both primary and secondary accents occur in hes i ta tion (hez'ə tā'shən) and gov ern men tal (guv'ərn men'tl). Notice that the syllables hes- and gov- are pronounced with less force or stress than the syllables -ta- and -men-.

Exercise: Look up the following words and pronounce them. On which syllables are the main (primary) and the lesser (secondary) accent marks:

representation
mobilization

grasshopper
superstructure

Many words, formed by the adding to a root word of an easy suffix, are listed after the definitions of the root word. Such words as pleasantness or consistently or onionlike are easy to understand because their meaning is clear and the pronunciation is nothing but the pronunciation of the root word plus that of the suffix. On such words we show only the accent on the derivative, how the word is divided into syllables, and its part of speech.

In pronouncing any word, especially derivatives, it is necessary to know on which syllables the accent or accents occur, and you will thus always find them shown, as in affableness and affably in the entry below:

af fa ble (af'ə bl), easy to talk to; courteous and pleasant. adj. —af'fa ble ness, n. —af'fa bly, adv.

6. Pronunciation of Unaccented Vowels. One symbol in our key occurs only in syllables that have no accent. This symbol, called schwa, is used to note the soft, neutral sound of a vowel in an unaccented syllable or an unstressed word. It is the sound of a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, and u in circus and is one of the most frequent sounds in the English language. The proper relationship between the stressed and unstressed syllables must be maintained for clear, natural speech. By using schwa to indicate an unstressed syllable or word we help you to take your mind off the spelling and put it on the pronunciation so that you can talk naturally, clearly, and effectively.

Exercises:

1. a. Write the words angel, London, ripen, carol, and wistful in a column on a sheet of paper.

1. b. Pronounce each word and tell which syllable is accented and whether the vowel sound in the accented syllable is long or short.

1. c. Write the accented syllable after each word as it would be shown in a dictionary. Note that there is a different vowel sound in each of these accented syllables.

2. Now pronounce all five words and notice the vowel sound in the last syllables. Are the last syllables in the five words the same vowel sound? Do you notice that it is an unaccented vowel sound in each case?

3. a. Now write after each word the pronunciation of its final syllable: jəl, dən, pən, əl, fəl. Do you see that each uses the same symbol: ə? This is the special symbol mentioned above, called schwa, that is used to represent the neutral, unaccented vowel sound.

3. b. Compare the spelling with the pronunciation of the vowel in the last syllable in each word. Note that in the spellings different letters stand for the same vowel sound in these unaccented syllables. How many different letters are used?

4. Look up the pronunciation of the following words which contain long, short, and unstressed (or schwa) vowel sounds. Find these words in your dictionary and see if you can pronounce them:

confiscate	premonition	rancid	concussion optimistic	sinister	imitation

7. How to Use the Key Words. Sometimes the pronunciation will have less frequent symbols that will not be as familiar to you as the consonant symbols, the short and the long sounds of the vowels, and schwa (ə). These additional symbols are ä in father, ã in care, ër in term, ô in order, û in put, and ü in rule.

The pronunciation of these symbols can be learned from the two common words placed after each symbol in the Complete Pronunciation Key. These words, or key words, contain the sound of the symbol given. They tell you to use the sound of the letter in the key word whenever you see the symbol in a pronunciation.

As you use your dictionary, you will find that the key words help you say the sound of the various symbols very quickly so that you will learn how to reproduce the sound of the letter in a particular spelling without looking at the key words. When you see a symbol you don't know, you usually can find out just how to pronounce it by looking at the list of key words at the bottom of each right-hand page instead of turning to the complete key on the end sheets.

For example, the five-letter word dairy has this pronunciation: (där'ē), which should be read: "Say dairy with the sound of d in did, a with the sound of a in care, r with the sound of r in run, and e with the sound of e in be; say the accented first syllable (där'-) with more force than the unaccented second one (-ē)." You can always read any pronunciation by looking at the key words at the bottom of each right-hand page or the complete key on the page facing the inside of the front and back covers of your dictionary.

Exercises:

1. Look up the following words and find out how each is pronounced. Copy each word and write after it the respelling and the key words you needed to use to pronounce the word:

nostrum	bravo	galore
clarion	surplice	flagrant linear	provender	enlargement

2. a. Here are the symbols and key words for six relatively unfamiliar symbols:

1. ä as in care	4. ô as in or
2. ä as in far	5. û as in put
3. èr as in term	6. ü as in rule

2. b. Write them all in a single column on a sheet of paper. Pronounce each key word distinctly, pointing to the vowel symbol that precedes it as you do so.

2. c. Pronounce the word fair. Listen carefully to the vowel sound that you hear. After which key word do you think fair should be placed? Write the pronunciation (fär) after the proper symbol with its key word.

2. d. Write the pronunciation of each of the words below after the correct vowel symbol and its key word. Check the pronunciation in your dictionary if you are uncertain.

curb	all	prayer
their	heart	stalk
harp	law	broad
snarl	first	turn
pear	work	soup
hood	threw	full
troupe	look	fruit

8. Interpreting Pronunciation Symbols. If you have read the explanations of your key and the pronunciation exercises before this one, you should be able to use the pronunciation key easily and efficiently to obtain any pronunciation you need. You should know all of the symbols using diacritical marks. This short review exercise may help you to test your knowledge of the symbols and make clear to you that pronunciation symbols are simply another way of spelling a word to indicate its pronunciation:

Exercises:

1. Write the following pairs of pronunciations on a sheet of paper:

jō—joi	lās'ing—lak'ing	ə shōr'—azh'ər lām—lām	flēr'ē—flou'ər ē	kēr'dl—krā'dl büt—böt	cher'ē—chir'ē	ē'kwäl ē—i kwol'ə tē bath—bāth	ōf'ər—ə fār'

2. Now turn to your dictionary and locate the short pronunciation key at the bottom of any right-hand page. Say each pair of pronunciations you have written on your paper, using the key to tell yourself the pronunciations of the words represented. Then write the usual spelling in English of the words in each pair, before and after the pronunciations.

9. Pronunciation and Spelling. There are more sounds in English than there are letters for writing them. Some letters are used for spelling several different sounds. Some sounds are spelled in several different ways. The dictionary pronunciation symbols help you say a word the way other people say it, even when the spelling might suggest that you pronounce it differently.

Sometimes writers and speakers try to get special effects by matching sounds in words, especially in poetry. The words "deep, dark, damp dungeon" not only describe a place. They also create an additional effect because of the repeated initial sounds of words, known as "alliteration." "Rhyme" is the opposite effect, where the words sound alike starting with a vowel sound and going to the end of the word. Sing, bring, and string all rhyme. You cannot use alliteration and rhyme very well if you just look at the spellings of words. You must think how the words sound. Check the dictionary pronunciations to help you do the following exercises correctly.

Exercises:

1. a. On a sheet of paper write within parentheses the rhyme of the word in heavy type. Then write all the words in the list which rhyme with the first word, like this: (ingl) sing, bring, string.

fight, weight, bite, infinite, finite

1. b. Do the same for each of these lists:

align, gelatine, machine, tine, skein, stein cur, shirr, myrrh, confer, chauffeur dunce, once, nonce, hunts, taunts

2. a. On your paper write the first sound of the first word below in parentheses. Then write the other words in the list which alliterate with it:

soap, cayuse, sciatic, chevron, cilia, chervil, certes, pseudo, pshaw, schism

2. b. Do the same for each of these lists:

shrapnel, characterize, charivari, chaffer, challis, shagreen, sugary chinook, chamfer, Tchaikovsky, charlatan, chinch, cellist, chaotic, Czech, czar

10. Foreign Sounds. You may encounter foreign words or expressions in your reading, and almost certainly will see and hear many foreign names of places and persons. A character in a story may use auf Wiedersehen or au revoir, or someone may refer to a meal to be ordered à la carte or table d'hôte. You may need to pronounce Goethe or Meuse. If we use foreign words frequently we finally pronounce them as we do other English words instead of giving them foreign vowel sounds and trying to keep the accent where it is in the foreign language. Relatively infrequent foreign words or expressions or those used chiefly by persons who know French, German, or other foreign languages may retain the foreign vowel sound and accent. We give the most important of these sounds in the lower right-hand corner of the Complete Pronunciation Key.

Exercises:

1. How many symbols of foreign sounds are given in the complete key?

2. Read the directions for saying γ, œ, ñ, and ð. Can you make the sounds? Perhaps your teacher or the French or German teacher can help you.

3. Which of the following words have both an English and a foreign pronunciation in this dictionary?

au gratin	Roentgen	aficionado
spaghetti	Bolivar	Paris
basso	Cannes	mademoiselle

4. a. Now write the following words on a sheet of paper:

Aachen garçon hors d'oeuvre

4. b. Turn to the entries on these words in the dictionary. Copy the pronunciation for each one after the word to which it applies.

4. c. Say the pronunciations to yourself and see if you are saying the foreign sound in each word as the sound is described in the key.

11. How to Find the Pronunciation You Want. We have tried to give the most widely established American pronunciation for each word, and any generally acceptable variants. The more usual pronunciation is given first.

Sometimes, however, it is very difficult, or even impossible, to know which pronunciation is used more often or more appropriately than others, and for some words usage may be evenly divided, so far as anyone can determine. You should not, therefore, assume that the first pronunciation given is "better" than the second or third. For example, there are two pronunciations given for the word rodeo (rō'dē ō or rō dā'ō), but the fact that we show the pronunciation (rō'dē ō) first does not mean that it is more "correct." It simply means that, in the opinion of many scholars, it is the one more commonly used by educated people throughout the United States as a whole; however, in certain parts of the United States, especially in the Southwest, the other pronunciation may be much more frequently heard.

Remember that the "best" pronunciation for you will usually be that one which is most widely used by educated people in your community. If you will study these examples, you will be able to use this dictionary quickly to solve questions about pronunciations:

(1) If a main entry has two or more spelling variants pronounced alike, the pronunciation follows the second (or last) spelling:

bak sheesh or bak shish (bak'shēsh). . . .
ban dan na or ban dan a (ban dan'ə). . . .

(2) No pronunciation is given if the main entry is more than one word and if the words which make it up are separately entered with pronunciations:

benefit of clergy, 1. privilege of being tried in church courts instead of. . . .
House of Representatives, 1. the lower branch of the lawmaking body. . . .

(3) If the main entry is made up of several words, pronunciation is given only for that part which is not entered elsewhere:

Mal a bar Coast (mal'ə bār), region along the SW coast of India.
Sa u di Arabia (sā ū'dē), country in central Arabia. . . .

(4) Difficult inflected forms are pronounced after the part of speech or they are separately entered. For example:

cor pus (kôr'pəs), . . . n., pl. cor po ra (-pə rə).
hoof (hūf or hūf), . . . n., pl. hoofs or (Rare) hooves. hooves (hūvz or hūvz), Rare. a pl. of hoof. n.

(5) Important specialized pronunciations are listed in this dictionary with their labels:

gaff top sail (gaf'top'sāl'; Nautical gaf'top'səl), . . .
ca dre (kā'dər; in military use, kad'rē), . . .

(6) If some meanings of a word have a pronunciation different from that of other meanings of the same word, the numbers of the definitions to which each pronunciation applies are given. For example, confine has two pronunciations. The pronunciation for the first three definitions, all verb meanings, is kən fīn'. The noun, definition 4, is pronounced kon'fīn.

HOW TO USE THIS DICTIONARY FOR SPELLING

Importance of Correct Spelling

Your best friends may not care how you spell but practically everybody else does. Any person to whom or for whom you write a letter or a report expects you to be courteous enough and considerate enough and care enough about what you are saying to spell correctly the words you use. If your words are not important enough for you to spell them correctly, why should they be important enough for anyone to read? If you write a letter asking for work (some day you probably will) or you are writing a theme or a report, you will find that people will pay more attention to what you say if you spell correctly. Misspellings take the attention of the reader away from your ideas and thoughts and attract attention to themselves as mistakes.

Your dictionary can help you to avoid most mistakes in spelling if you will take the time or trouble to

- (a) look up the word
- (b) look carefully at the word, syllable by syllable and letter by letter
- (c) pronounce the word very carefully so that you are sure it is a part of your speaking vocabulary
- (d) read the meaning and any illustrative sentences or phrases so that you may be sure that you are spelling the right word.

If you can't spell a word the chances are that you haven't looked at it carefully and closely enough. Good spelling is a matter of paying close attention to little details.

How can you find a word in the dictionary if you know how to pronounce it but don't know how to spell it? English spelling is confusing; the letter c may stand for one of the sounds of s or the sound of k, s may stand for two sounds—one the sound of s in say and the other the sound of z. We really don't need the letter c and we could do without q and use k. S, k, and z could do the work of c, q, and x, so that three letters could be dropped from our alphabet and the alphabet would actually be more efficient. However, nothing like this is likely to happen. Fortunately, the spelling of initial sounds is much more regular than the spelling of sounds occurring in the middle or at the end of words. This means that practically every time you want to find how to spell a word, you know at least how the word starts. You usually know the first letter and can find that letter in the dictionary. But if you need help to find the word when you know the beginning sound, look at the table on the page facing this one, which gives you the various spellings of sounds that occur at the beginnings of words. You can use this table merely by matching the sound you say with the proper symbol for its pronunciation, and then looking to the right for the ways in which it may be spelled.

COMMON INITIAL SPELLINGS OF ENGLISH SOUNDS

SYMBOL	SPELLINGS (Rare Spellings Are in Parentheses):	SYMBOL	SPELLINGS (Rare Spellings Are in Parentheses):
a	at (aunt): a (au)	n	gnaw, knife, no, pneumonia (mnemonic): gn, kn, n, pn (mn)
ā	age, aid, eight (éclair): a, ai, ei (é)	o	odd: o
ã	area, aerial, air, ere: a, ae, ai, e	ō	open, oats, oh, own: o, oa, oh, ow ä	argue, ah, almond, encore: a, ah, al, e	ô	all, auto, awful, order, oar (aught, ought): a, au, aw, o, oa (augh, ough)
b	bad: b	oi	oil: oi
ch	cello, child: c, ch	ou	out, owl: ou, ow d	do: d	p	pay: p
e	any, aesthetic, end: a, ae, e	r	run, rhythm, wrong: r, rh, wr ē	aegis, equal, eat, eel, either: ae, e, ea, ee, ei	s	cent, psalm, say, scent (schism): c, ps, s, sc (sch)
ér	earth, ermine, urge, err, irk: ear, er, ur, err, ir	sh	chauffeur, sure, schwa, she, (pshaw): ch, s, sch, sh (psh)
f	fat, phrase: f, ph	t	ptomaine, tell (Thomas): pt, t (th)
g	go, ghost, guest: g, gh, gu	th	thin: th
h	he, who: h, wh	TH	then: th
hw	wheat: wh	u	oven, up: o, u i	enamel, inaction: e, i	ū	eulogy, ewer, use, you, Yule: eu, ew, u, you, yu ī	either, ice (aisle, aye, eye): ei, i (ai, ay, ey)	ü	(ooze, ouzel: oo, ou)
j	gem, jam: g, j	v	very: v
k	coat, chemist, kind, quick (quay): c, ch, k, q	w	will: w
l	land (llama): l (ll)	y	yes: y m	me: m	z	xylophone, zero: x, z
		zh	(jabot: j)
		ō	alone, essential, oblige, upon: a, e, o, u

Exercises:

1. What three English sounds never occur at the beginning of words? (See the table of Common Initial Spellings of English Sounds on page xxix.)
2. What two sounds listed on the page before this one occur infrequently at the beginning of English words?
3. How many initial sounds in the list on the page before this one are represented by only one spelling? by two common spellings? by three or more common spellings?
4. What vowel letter is never used to represent a at the beginning of a word?
5. Under which letters would you look to find the following? Look at the spellings of the initial sounds if you are in doubt.

frāz
ves/1
kem/1s trē
i nam/1
sī kī/ə trist nōm ōk/ən
ēz/ē

1. Common Spellings of English. In addition to the table of initial spellings on the page before this one, a fairly complete table of the common spellings of English is given on pages xxxiv and xxxv. For example, if you did not know how to spell phlegm you could look under the spellings representing the f-sound and discover that this sound at the beginning of a word is spelled in one of two ways—f or ph. You would also find that the last sound, m, may be spelled chm, lm, mb, or mn at the end of a word. There are so many different ways of spelling most of the sounds in English that no table can be absolutely complete, but the one given on pages xxxiv and xxxv does give you all the most common spellings and will help you to find a word you know how to pronounce but cannot spell.

Exercises:

1. On page 454 there is a word that has exactly the same pronunciation as no. It is one of the most frequently used words in English. Use the table of Common Spellings of English on pages xxxiv and xxxv to help you find out which it is.

2. Now, see if you can find the two words in this dictionary that have the same pronunciation as new.

2. Syllable Division. Words of one syllable are printed without any space between the letters. See each on page 253. Words of more than one syllable have thin spaces between the syllables. No confusing marks are given between the syllables or on the letters. You can thus fix the word in your mind syllable by syllable and letter by letter and learn to spell the word more easily. See ac com mo date on page 6. These thin spaces show you where you can divide a word if you do not have room to write the whole word on a line. For example, char ter can be divided after the first r; dis tress after the first s; pro fuse after the o.

If a word is too long to fit at the end of the line, you can divide a word at the end of a syllable and put part of the word on the next line. We never split a word like straight that consists of a single syllable. Nor do we put a syllable that has only one letter in it at the end of a line. We would not split about since it would have to be split a bout with the a- on a line by itself. When a long word is split we put a hyphen at the end of the line to show that part of the word is on the next line.

Exercises:

1. Which of these words can be split at the end of a line and which cannot: factional, goalkeeper, larcenous, shrewd, showy, stubble, acceptability?
2. Look up these words in the dictionary and see if they have spaces between the letters: strong, caught, prime, straight, faked. Could any of these words ever be divided into syllables at the end of a line in writing?
3. Now look up these words and see where they may be divided: citizenship, forgiveness, philosophical.

4. a. Write these words on a sheet of paper: afraid, fascinate, mellifluous.

4. b. Now look in your dictionary to see how many syllables each one has. Write the number of syllables in each word immediately above the word. Are any of these numbers the same?

4. c. If you do not have a different number for each of these words, go back and count again and see where you made your mistake.

5. a. Write these words on a sheet of paper: prowess, public, sample.

5. b. Now look each of these words up in your dictionary and draw a line up and down between the syllables in each word. This line should correspond to the space you find in the entry word in this dictionary.

3. Variant Spellings. Most English words are spelled in only one way. We spell avoid, hand, mercy, posture, and many thousands of other words in only one way if we wish to be understood. There are, however, a few hundred words that are spelled in different ways, and each of these ways, called variant spellings, may be equally correct. Which one you use may depend upon where you live. For example, canyon and cañon are variant spellings of the same word, but canyon is much commoner than cañon in every part of the United States except in the Southwest. There are many people in that part of our country who know Spanish, and some of them prefer the spelling cañon. The spelling jail is common in America, but in Great Britain this word is usually spelled gaol, but pronounced just like jail. Often, the difference in spelling has no necessary connection with any particular region or country; for example, almost as many people use the spelling cantaloup as the spelling cantaloupe. The important thing for you to remember about these different spellings is that all are acceptable, and which one you use may depend upon where you go to school or what part of the English-speaking world your family comes from.

You will find all the common variant spellings in this dictionary, and entered according to the following rules:

(1) Two or more variant spellings are entered together unless several words come between them alphabetically. The spelling that is more commonly used is given first:

adz or adze (adz), tool somewhat like an ax. . . . n.

Exercises:

1. How many ways can you spell bandanna? ax?

2. Which spelling is more common, gasolene or gasoline?

(2) If the spellings occur fairly close together, but the pronunciations are different, the variants are entered separately and the commoner spelling is used to define the other:

mar ga rin (mār'jə rin), margarine. n.

mar ga rine (mār'jə rin or mār'jə rēn), substitute for butter consisting mainly of vegetable fat derived from cottonseed and soybean oils and to a lesser extent from corn and peanut oils; oleomargarine. n.

Exercise: Which is more common: align or aline, chetah or cheetah, sulfur or sulphur?

(3) If the variant spellings must be entered in different parts of the dictionary, we give the less common one at the end of the more common one. Under the variant, we refer you to the more common form:

en close (en klōz'), 1. shut in on all sides; surround. 2. put a wall or fence around. 3. put in an envelope along with a letter, etc. 4. contain. . . . v., en closed, en clos ing. Also, inclose.

in close (in klōz'), enclose. v., in closed, in clos ing.

Exercise: Find the variant spelling of these words: aesthetic, calk^t, intrust.

4. Inflected Forms of Verbs. Not all words that you find in your reading will be found in your dictionary just as you encounter them. A dictionary with every word entered just as it occurs would be a complicated and cumbersome book to use. In the sentences below think where you would look for the meaning of the words underscored:

The two boys headed for the barn.

Tommy advanced with a mischievous grin.

He admitted that the stunt wasn't planned.

The weasel came slinking down the path.

Water was bubbling merrily over the old mill wheel.

The canoe glided past a rock jutting into the stream.

Headed is a form of the verb head which shows that the action took place in past time. To find the meaning of headed you have to look under head. Such a verb formed by adding -ed to the verb to show past time is called a past tense.

In the sentence "The weasel came slinking down the path" slinking is a verb form (a present participle) that describes the weasel. Slinking is formed by adding -ing to the verb slink. Such verb forms as headed and slinking are called inflected forms of the verb. If these inflected forms are made by adding -ed and -ing to the verb without any change in the verb or the ending, the inflected forms are not given in the dictionary. For that reason, we do not enter headed or slinking either as main entries or after the parts of speech at the end of the definitions of head and slink.

However, if the verb changes in any way when it is put into the past tense, past participle, or present participle, this dictionary shows the different forms. In the sentences above, advanced and bubbling are inflected forms given after the parts of speech of advance and bubble because the -e is dropped from the root words advance and bubble when -ed and -ing are added. In admitted and jutting the first consonant -t is doubled when the suffixes -ed and -ing are added. These inflected forms may cause you difficulty in spelling, so they are printed after the part of speech:

admit (ad mit'), 1. say (something) is real or true . . . 2. accept as true . . . 3. allow to enter . . . 4. give the right to enter to . . . 5. make allowance (for) . . . 6. allow . . . v., admitted, admitting.
bubble (bub'l), 1. a thin film of liquid enclosing air or gas . . . 2. an air space in a solid . . . 3. have bubbles . . . 4. make sounds like water boiling . . . 5. act or process of bubbling . . . 6. plan or idea that looks good, but soon goes to pieces. 7. Archaic. swindle. 1,2,5,6 n., 3,4,7 v., bubled, bubbling. —bubblingly, adv.

Exercise: To see how your dictionary helps you write past forms of verbs, look up the following:

drink	send	reach
open	fly	dream
sag	renew	grab
argue	travel	seek

5. Inflected Forms of Nouns. One thing that may bother you in writing is the plural forms of some nouns. You may know how to spell calf, or city, but be uncertain about the plural forms. How can you find out? The answer is very simple. Just find the singular form in your dictionary; then look after the meaning that is given for this word. If the plural form is different from the regular plural spelling, the dictionary will show you how to spell it. Of course the dictionary will not need to spell the plural for you if it is made just by adding s, as hound, hounds. And you probably already know that nouns ending in ch, sh, s, x, and z form their plurals by adding es (for example, batch, batches; dish, dishes; glass, glasses; box, boxes; buzz, buzzes). Your dictionary does not spell out for you the plural forms of these easy words, but it does spell out all irregular plural forms.

6. Inflected Forms of Adjectives. Probably you often need to change a word like rich into the forms richer or richest. Such a change is simple, because you just add -er and -est to the word. But if the word is changed in another way, the dictionary will show you the right spelling. Suppose you want to say that your dinner was a more hearty meal than your lunch. Should you take hearty and add -er? Look the word up in the dictionary, and you will find after the meanings of hearty the different forms, heartier, heartiest. The first of these answers your question.

7. Difficult Inflected Forms. Certain inflected forms, especially of verbs, change so much that they are very hard to find if they are entered only after the root word. For example, both sang (a past tense) and sung (a past participle) are entered in their alphabetical place and the user is sent back to the main entry sing.

Look at ox on page 579. After the definition of ox, there is n., pl. ox en. But, since there are very few nouns with a plural formed by adding -en to the root word, we also enter oxen as a main word. After the definitions of bring, there is v., brought, bring ing. Brought is separately entered because it is difficult to locate it under bring but bringing is entered only after the definitions and part of speech of bring. After the definitions of good, there is adj., bet ter, best; both better and best are also entered in the B's in the main list. After the definitions of abridge there is v., a bridged, a bridg ing, but after the definitions of administer there is only v. Since there is no change in the root word administer when -ed is added to form the past tense and -ing is added to form the present participle, no forms are given. The abbreviations used in these definitions are:

pt.	past tense
pp.	past participle
pl.	plural
sing.	singular

Exercises:

1. bought is pt. and pp. of _____.
2. bound is pt. and pp. of _____.
3. genii is a pl. of _____.

COMMON SPELLINGS OF ENGLISH

This table shows you the different sounds of the English language and the commonest ways of spelling those sounds. It can help you find out where to look in your dictionary for words you know how to say, but not how to spell.

If you will look at the left-hand side of the table, in the column of symbols for the various sounds, you will be able to determine the various ways in which the word you are seeking may be spelled, on a basis of the sounds that combine to form it. You will then be able to look in the different parts of the dictionary where it might be entered.

To the right of each of the sounds shown at the left-hand side of the table you will find words illustrating spellings of that sound at the beginning of words, in the middle of words, and at the end of words. The letters standing for the spelling in each case are set in heavy black type. Thus, for the sound of a as in age (which is represented in the pronunciation key by the symbol ā), you will find four examples of different spellings in the middle of words. One is gauge. Can you find the other three in the table?

SYMBOL:

SPELLINGS:

a	hat, plaid , half , laugh
ā	age , aid , gaol , gauge , say , break , vein , weigh , they ã	care , air , prayer , where , pear , their ä	father , sergeant , heart
b	bad , rabbit
ch	child , watch , righteous , question , future
d	did , add , filled
e	many , aesthetic , said , says , let , bread , heifer , leopard , friend , bury ē	Caesar , quay , equal , team , bee , receive , people , key , machine , believe , phoenix ēr	pearl , stern , first , word , journey , turn , myrtle ēr	liar , mother , elixir , honor , honour , augur , zephyr
f	fat , effort , laugh , phrase
g	go , egg , ghost , guest , catalogue h	he , who
hw	wheat
i	England , been , bit , sieve , women , busy , build , hymn

SYMBOL:

SPELLINGS:

ī	aisle, aye, height, eye, ice, lie, high, buy, sky, rye
j	bridge, verdure, soldier, tragic, exaggerate, jam k	coat, account, chemistry, back, acquire, sacque, kind, folk, liquor l	land, tell
m	drachm, paradigm, calm, me, climb, common, solemn n	gnaw, knife, mnemonic, no, manner, pneumonia ng	ink, long, tongue
o	watch, odd, honest
ō	beau, yeoman, sew, open, boat, toe, oh, brooch, soul, though, low ô	all, Utah, walk, taught, law, order, board, bought oi	boil, boy
ou	house, bough, now
p	cup, happy
r	run, rhythm, carry, wrong s	cent, nice, psychology, say, scent, schism, miss sh	ocean, machine, special, pshaw, sure, schist, conscience, nauseous, she, tension, issue, mission, nation t	stopped, bought, ptomaine, tell, Thomas, button
th	thin
TH	then, breathe
u	come, does, flood, trouble, cup
ū	beauty, feud, queue, few, adieu, use, cue, you, yule û	wolf, good, should, full ü	maneuver, threw, adieu, move, shoe, food, croup, through, rule, blue, fruit v	of, Stephen, very, flivver
w	choir, quick, will
y	opinion, hallelujah, yes z	has, discern, scissors, Xerxes, zero, buzz
zh	garage, measure, division, azure, brazier ə	alone, bargain, moment, April, complete, cautious, circus

PARTS OF SPEECH

n.	noun	adj.	adjective	prep.	preposition
v.	verb	adv.	adverb	conj.	conjunction
pron.	pronoun			interj.	interjection

COMPLETE PRONUNCIATION KEY

The pronunciation of each word is shown just after the word, in this way: ab bre vi ate (ə brē/vē āt). The letters and signs used are pronounced as in the words below. The mark / is placed after a syllable with primary or strong accent, as in the example above. The mark ' after a syllable shows a secondary or lighter accent, as in ab bre vi a tion (ə brē/vē ā'shən).

Some words, taken from foreign languages, are spoken with sounds that otherwise do not occur in English. Symbols for these sounds are given at the bottom of the page as "Foreign Sounds."

a	hat, cap	j	jam, enjoy	u	cup, butter
ā	age, face	k	kind, seek	û	full, put
ā	care, air	l	land, coal	ü	rule, move
ä	father, far	m	me, am	ū	use, music
		n	no, in
b	bad, rob	ng	long, bring
ch	child, much			v	very, save
d	did, red	o	hot, rock	w	will, woman
		ō	open, go	y	young, yet
e	let, best	ô	order, all	z	zero, breeze
ē	equal, see	oi	oil, voice	zh	measure, seizure
èr	term, learn	ou	house, out
f	fat, if	p	paper, cup
g	go, bag	r	run, try	ə	represents:
h	he, how	s	say, yes		a in about
		sh	she, rush		e in taken
		t	tell, it		i in April
i	it, pin	th	thin, both		o in lemon
ī	ice, five	th	then, smooth		u in circus

foreign sounds

Y as in French du. Pronounce ē with the lips rounded as for English ü in rule.

N as in French bon. The N is not pronounced, but shows that the vowel before it is nasal.

œ as in French peu. Pronounce ā with the lips rounded as for ō.

H as in German ach. Pronounce k without closing the breath passage.

THORNDIKE • BARNHART

ADVANCED JUNIOR

DICTIONARY

A

A or a (ā), the first letter of the alphabet. n., pl. A's or a's.

a¹ (ə; stressed ā), 1. any: a tree, a year, a union, a hospital, a hotel. 2. one: a pound of butter. 3. a certain; a particular: two at a time. 4. a single: not a one. "A" is used before words beginning with the sound of a consonant, whether or not that consonant is shown by the spelling (a man, a union), while "an" is used before words beginning with a vowel sound (an owl, an hour). adj. or indefinite article.

a² (ə; stressed ā), to or for each; in each: ten dollars a day, three times a day. adj. or indefinite article.

a-, prefix meaning:

1. in; on; to: Abed = in bed.

2. in the act of ____ing: A-fishing = in the act of fishing.

A, 1. answer. 2. argon.

a, 1. about. 2. acre; acres. 3. adjective.

A1, Informal. A one; first-class.

Aachen (ä'hən), city in West Germany. 151,000. n.

aardvark (ärd'värk'), a burrowing mammal of Africa that eats ants and termites. n.

Aaron (är'an), the brother of Moses and first high priest of the Hebrews. n.

ab-, prefix meaning: from; away; away from; off, as in abnormal, abduct.

A.B., Bachelor of Arts, the lowest degree in Arts, science, or other subject at a college or university. Also, B.A.

a ba cá (ä'bə kä'), 1. hemp made from the fibers of a Philippine banana plant; Manila hemp. 2. the plant itself. n.

a back (ə bak'), toward the back; backward. adv.

taken aback, suddenly surprised; upset or confused by something unexpected.

abacus (ab'ə kəs), frame with rows of counters or beads that slide back and forth in grooves or on wires, used in calculating. n., pl. abacus es, abaci (-sī).

a baft (ə baft'), 1. back of; behind. 2. at the stern; toward the stern. 1 prep., 2 adv.

Aardvark
(total length 6 ft.)

1 3 5 2 0 6 4 7 0 8
Abacus. Beads above bar: 5 each when lowered. Beads below bar: 1 each when raised. Numbers are shown by setting of 1,352,064,708.

abbrev.

abalone (ab'ə lō'nē), an edible mollusk, with a large, rather flat shell. The bright-colored lining of its shell is made into buttons and ornaments. n.

abandon (ə ban'dən), 1. give up entirely: She abandoned her hope of becoming a nurse. 2. leave without intending to return to; desert: A good mother will not abandon her baby. 3. yield (oneself) completely (to a feeling, impulse, etc.): abandon oneself to grief. 4. freedom from restraint; lack of self-control: The students cheered with abandon, waving their arms and shouting. 1-3 v., 4 n. — a ban'don er, n.

abandoned (ə ban'dənd), 1. deserted; forsaken. 2. shamelessly wicked; immoral. adj.

abandonment (ə ban'dən mən't), 1. abandoning. 2. being abandoned. 3. freedom from restraint; lack of self-control; abandon. n.

abase (ə bās'), make lower in rank, condition, or character; humiliate; degrade: A man who betrays his country abases himself. v., a based, a basing.

abasement (ə bās'mən't), lowering or loss of self-respect; humiliation; degradation. n.

abash (ə bash'), embarrass and confuse; make uneasy and somewhat ashamed: The shy girl was abashed when she saw the room filled with strangers. v. — a bashment, n.

abate (ə bāt'), 1. make less in amount, intensity, etc.; decrease: The medicine abated his pain. 2. become less violent, intense, etc.; diminish: The storm has abated. 3. do away with; put an end to; stop: We can abate the smoke nuisance by burning oil. v., a bat ed, a bat ing. — a bat'er, n.

abatement (ə bāt'mən't), 1. decrease; lessening. 2. putting an end to. 3. amount abated; reduction. n.

abattoir (ab'ə twär), slaughterhouse. n.

abbe (ab'ā), 1. a title used in France for any clergyman, especially a priest. 2. an abbot. n.

abbess (ab'is), woman who is the head of a community of nuns. n.

abbey (ab'ē), 1. the building or buildings where monks or nuns live a religious life ruled by an abbot or abbess; a monastery or convent. 2. the monks or nuns living there. 3. church or building that was once an abbey or a part of an abbey: Westminster Abbey. n., pl. abbeys.

abbot (ab'ət), man who is the head of an abbey of monks. n.

abbrev. or abbr., 1. abbreviation. 2. abbreviated.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, térm; it, ĭce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rüle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ꝥ, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

ab bre vi ate (ə brē'vĕ āt), 1. make (a word or phrase) shorter so that a part stands for the whole: We can abbreviate "hour" to "hr." 2. make briefer. v., ab bre vi at ed, ab bre vi at ing. —ab bre'vi a'tor, n.

ab bre vi a tion (ə brē'vĕ ā'shən), 1. shortened form of a word or phrase standing for the whole: "Hrs." and "hr." are abbreviations of "hours" and "hour." "W. Va." is the abbreviation for "West Virginia." 2. making shorter. n.

A B C (ā'bĕ'sē'), elementary principles. n.

A B C's (ā'bĕ'sēz'), the alphabet. n.pl.

ab di cate (ab'dā kāt), 1. give up or renounce formally; resign: The king abdicated his throne, and his brother became king. 2. renounce office or power: Why did the king abdicate? v., ab di cat ed, ab di cat ing. —ab'di ca'tor, n.

ab di ca tion (ab'dā kā'shən), an abdicating; giving up an office, power, or authority; resigning, especially under force: The abdication of the King of Egypt took place in 1952. n.

ab do men (ab'də mən or ab-dō'mən), 1. the part of the body containing the stomach, the intestines, and other digestive organs; belly. 2. the last of the three parts of the body of an insect or crustacean. n.

ab dom i nal (ab dom'ə nl), Three parts of an insect of, in, or for the abdomen: Bending the body exercises the abdominal muscles. adj. —ab dom'i nal ly, adv.

ab duct (ab dukt'), carry off (a person) unlawfully, by force or by fraud; kidnap. v.

ab duc tion (ab duk'shən), kidnaping. n.

ab duc tor (ab duk'tor), kidnaper. n.

a beam (ə bēm'), 1. directly opposite a ship's side: The pirates started firing when their ship was abeam of ours. 2. straight across a ship. adv.

a bed (ə bed'), in bed. adv.

A bel (ā'bl), the second son of Adam and Eve, killed by his older brother Cain. Genesis 4:1-15. n.

A ber deen (ab'ər dēn'), 1. city in E Scotland. 186,000. 2. city in NE South Dakota. 23,000. n.

ab er rant (ab'er'ənt), deviating from what is regular, normal, or right. adj.

ab er ra tion (ab'er ā'shən), 1. wandering from the right path or usual course of action. 2. deviation from a standard or ordinary type; abnormal structure or development. 3. temporary mental disorder. n.

a bet (ə bet'), encourage or help, especially in something wrong: One man did the actual stealing, but two others abetted him by attracting the attention of the storekeeper. v., a bet ted, a bet ting. —a bet'ment, n.

a bet tor or a bet ter (ə bet'ər), person who abets. n.

a bey ance (ə bā'əns), temporary inactivity; state of suspended action: The judge held the question in abeyance until he had the information necessary to make a decision. n.

ab hor (ab hōr'), shrink away from with horror; feel disgust or hate for; detest: Some people abhor snakes. v., ab hor red, ab hor ring. —ab hor'rer, n.

ab hor rence (ab hōr'əns), a feeling of very great hatred; horror; disgust. n.

ab hor rent (ab hōr'ənt), causing horror; disgusting; hateful. adj. —ab hor'rent ly, adv.

a bide (ə bid'), 1. stay; remain: "Though much is taken, much abides." 2. dwell; continue to live (in a place). 3. put up with; endure; tolerate: A good housekeeper cannot abide dirt. 4. stand firm. 5. wait for: He will abide my coming. v., a bode or a bid ed, a bid ing. abide by, 1. accept and follow out: I will abide by your instructions. 2. remain faithful to; fulfill: You must abide by your promise.

a bid ing (ə bid'ing), permanent; lasting. adj.

A bi cjar (əb'i jän'), capital of the republic of the Ivory Coast, in the SE part. 160,000. n.

a bility (ə bil'ə tē), 1. power to perform or accomplish: A horse has ability to work. 2. skill: Washington had great ability as a general. 3. power to do some special thing; mental gift; talent: Musical ability often shows itself early in life. n., pl. a bilities.

ab ject (ab'jekt), 1. wretched; miserable: abject poverty. 2. deserving contempt; degraded: an abject flatterer. 3. slavish: abject submission. adj. —ab ject'ly, adv.

ab ju ra tion (ab'jū rā'shən), an abjuring. n.

ab jure (ab jūr'), renounce on oath; repudiate; swear to give up: The king ordered the Jews to abjure their religion. v., ab jured, ab jur ing. —ab jur'er, n.

ab la tion (ab lā'shən), the melting or vaporizing of the nose cone of a missile or spacecraft upon reentering the atmosphere. n.

a blaze (ə blāz'), 1. on fire: forests set ablaze by lightning. 2. blazing: The room was all ablaze with a hundred lights. adv., adj.

a ble (ā'bl), 1. having power, skill, means, or talent; competent: Little children are able to walk, but they are not able to earn a living. 2. having the necessary qualifications: an able seaman. 3. having more power or skill than most others have; clever: She is an able teacher. 4. competently done: an able speech. adj., a bler, a blest.

-able, suffix meaning:

1. that can be ____ed; able to be ____ed: Obtainable = that can be obtained.

2. likely to or suitable for: Comfortable = suitable for comfort.

3. inclined to: Peaceable = inclined to peace.

4. deserving to be ____ed: Lovable = deserving to be loved.

a ble-bodied (ā'bl bod'ēd), strong and healthy. adj.

able-bodied seaman, experienced sailor who can perform all the ordinary duties of a sailor.

ab lu tion (ab lū'shən), 1. a washing of one's person.

2. washing or cleansing as a religious ceremony of purification. 3. the water or other liquid used. n.

a bly (ā'blē), in an able manner; with skill. adv.

ab ne gate (ab'nə gāt), deny (anything) to oneself; renounce or give up (a privilege). v., ab ne gat ed, ab ne gat ing. —ab'ne ga'tion, n.

ab nor mal (ab nōr'ml), very different from the ordinary conditions, the standard, or a type; markedly irregular; unusual: an abnormal amount of rain. It is abnormal for a man to be seven feet tall. adj. —ab nor'mal ly, adv. —ab nor'mal ness, n.

ab nor mal i ty (ab'nōr mal'ə tē), 1. abnormal thing or happening. 2. abnormal condition. n., pl. ab nor'mal i ties.

a board (ə bōrd'), 1. in or on a ship. 2. in or on a train, bus, airplane, etc. 3. alongside. 4. on board of; on, in, or into (a ship, train, etc.). 1-3 adv., 4 prep.

all aboard, everybody on (conductor's call directing passengers to enter a train, bus, etc., about to start).

a bode (ə bōd'), 1. place to live in; dwelling; residence. 2. a pt. and a pp. of abide. He abode there one year. 1 n., 2 v.

a bol ish (ə bol'ish), do away with (a law, institution, or custom) completely; put an end to: abolish slavery. v. ab o li tion (ab'ə lish'ən), a putting an end to; complete destruction: The abolition of slavery in the United States occurred in 1865. n.

ab o li tion ist (ab'ə lish'ən ist), person who wishes to abolish something. The people who wished to put an end to slavery were called abolitionists. n.

ab o ma sum (ab'ə mā'səm), the fourth stomach of cows, sheep, and other animals that chew the cud. The abomasum is the stomach that digests the food. n.

A-bomb (ā'bom'), the atomic bomb. n.

a bom i na ble (ə bom'ə nə bl), 1. disgusting; hateful; loathsome. 2. very unpleasant; very bad; distasteful. adj. —a bom'i na bly, adv.

a bom i nate (ə bom'ə nāt), 1. feel disgust for; hate very much; abhor; detest; loathe. 2. dislike. v., a bom i nat ed, a bom i nat ing. —a bom'i na'tor, n.

a bom i na tion (ə bom'ə nā'shən), 1. a disgusting, hateful, or loathsome thing. 2. a feeling of disgust; hate; loathing. n.

ab o rig i nal (ab'ə rij'ə nl), 1. existing from the beginning; first; original; native: aboriginal inhabitants. 2. of the earliest known inhabitants: The use of horses was not an aboriginal custom of the American Indians, but was introduced by Europeans. 3. any one of the earliest known inhabitants. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

ab o rig i nes (ab'ə rij'ə nēz), the earliest known inhabitants of a country. n. pl. of aborigine.

a bort (ə bōrt'), 1. miscarry. 2. fail to develop. v.

a bort ion (ə bōr'shan), 1. birth that occurs before the embryo has developed enough to live; miscarriage. 2. failure to develop properly. n.

a bor tive (ə bōr'tiv), 1. unsuccessful; fruitless: The early attempts to make airplanes were abortive. 2. born before the right time; born prematurely. 3. not developed properly; rudimentary. adj. —a bor'tive ly, adv. —a bor'tive ness, n.

a bound (ə bound'), 1. be plentiful: Fish abound in the ocean. 2. be rich (in): America abounds in oil. 3. be well supplied; be filled (with): The ocean abounds with fish. v.

a bout (ə bout'), 1. of; having to do with: "Black Beauty" is a story about a horse. 2. nearly; almost: He has about finished his work. 3. all around; around: A collar goes about the neck (prep.). Look about and tell me what you see (adv.). 4. on (one's person); with: Have you a pencil about you? 5. on the point of; going; intending; ready: a plane about to take off. 6. in the opposite direction: You are going the wrong way. Face about! 7. one after another; by turns: Turn about is fair play. 1,3-5 prep., 2,3,6,7 adv.

a bout-face (ə bout'fās' for 1; ə bout'fās' for 2), 1. a turning or going in the opposite direction. 2. turn or go in the opposite direction. 1 n., 2 v., a bout-faced, a bout-fac ing.

a bove (ə buv'), 1. in or at a higher place; overhead: The sky is above. 2. higher than; over: He kept his head above water. A captain is above a sergeant. 3. more than: Our club has above thirty members—thirty-five, to be exact. 4. beyond: Turn at the first corner above the school. 5. too high in dignity or character for; superior to: A great person should be above mean actions. 6. in heaven. 7. earlier in a book or article: See what is written above. 8. something that is above. 1,6,7 adv., adj., 2-5 prep., 8 n.

a bove board (ə buv'bōrd'), in open sight; without tricks or concealment. adv., adj.

ab ra ca da bra (ab'rə kə dab'rə), 1. word supposed to have magic power, used in incantations or as a charm to ward off disease. 2. meaningless talk; jargon. n.

a brade (ə brād'), wear away by rubbing; scrape off: The skin on Tom's knees was abraded by his fall. v., a brad ed, a brad ing.

A bra ham (ā'brə ham), the ancestor of the Hebrews. Genesis 12-25. n.

a bra sion (ə brā'zhən), 1. place scraped or worn by rubbing: Abrasions of the skin are painful. 2. a scraping off; a wearing away by rubbing. n.

a bra sive (ə brā'siv), 1. a substance used for grinding, smoothing, or polishing, Sandpaper, pumice, and emery are abrasives. 2. wearing away by rubbing; causing abrasion. 1 n., 2 adj.

a breast (ə brest'), side by side: The soldiers marched four abreast. adv., adj.

abreast of or abreast with, keeping up with; not behind; alongside of: Read the newspapers to keep abreast of what is going on.

a bridge (ə brij'), 1. make shorter, especially by using fewer words: A long story can be abridged by leaving out unimportant parts. 2. make less: The rights of citizens must not be abridged without proper cause. v., a bridged, a bridg ing.

a bridged (ə brijd'), shortened; condensed: This book appears in the "Reader's Digest" in an abridged form. adj.

a bridg ment or a bridge ment (ə brij'mənt), 1. shortened form, especially of a book, long article, etc.: That one book is an abridgment of a three-volume history. 2. a making shorter; an abridging. n.

a broad (ə brôd'), 1. outside one's country; to a foreign land; in foreign lands: Sam is going abroad this summer to travel in France and Germany. 2. out of doors; out in the open air: Grandfather walks abroad only on warm days. 3. going around; in motion; current: A rumor is abroad that school will close. 4. far and wide; widely: The news of his coming spread abroad. adv.

ab ro gate (ab'rə gāt), do away with; repeal; cancel: The 21st amendment to the Constitution, permitting the manufacture of intoxicating liquor, abrogated the 18th amendment, which prohibited it. v., ab ro gat ed, ab ro gat ing. —ab'ro ga'tion, n. —ab'ro ga'tor, n.

a brupt (ə brupt'), 1. sudden; hasty; unexpected: He made an abrupt turn to avoid another car. 2. very steep: The road made an abrupt rise up the hill. 3. short or sudden in speech or manner; blunt: He was very gruff and had an abrupt way of speaking. adj. —a brupt-ly, adv. —a brupt-ness, n.

Ab sa lom (ab'sl əm), in the Bible, David's favorite son. He rebelled against his father and was later killed in battle. II Samuel 18. n.

ab scess (ab'ses), a collection of pus in the tissues of some part of the body. An abscess results from an infection and usually makes a painful sore. n.

ab scessed (ab'sest), having an abscess. adj.

ab scond (ab skond'), go away suddenly and secretly; go off and hide: The dishonest cashier absconded with the bank's money. v. —ab scond'er, n.

ab sence (ab'səns), 1. being away: His absence was caused by illness. 2. time of being away: The sailor returned after an absence of two years. 3. being without; lack: Darkness is the absence of light. n.

absence of mind, absent-mindedness.

ab sent (ab'sənt for 1,3,4; əb'sənt' for 2), 1. not present (at a place); away: Three members of the class are absent today. 2. keep or take (oneself) away: Do not absent yourself from school without reason. 3. lacking; not existing: Snow is absent in some countries. 4. absent-minded. 1,3,4 adj., 2 v.

ab sent tee (ab'sən tē'), 1. person who is away. 2. of or for voters permitted to vote by mail. 1 n., 2 adj.

ab sent tee ism (ab'sən tē'iz əm), practice or habit of being away. n.

ab sent ly (ab'sənt lē), without paying attention to what is going on around one; inattentively. adv.

ab sent-mind ed (ab'sənt mīn'did), not paying attention to what is going on around one; inattentive. adj. —ab'sent-mind'ed ly, adv. —ab'sent-mind'ed ness, n.

ab sinthe or ab sinth (ab'sinth), a bitter, green alcoholic drink flavored with wormwood and anise. n.

ab so lute (ab'sə lüt), 1. complete; whole; entire: Try to tell the absolute truth. 2. not mixed with anything else; pure: Absolute alcohol has no water in it. 3. free from imperfection; perfect: absolute purity. 4. with no limits or restrictions: an absolute monarchy. 5. not compared with anything else: absolute velocity. 6. real; actual. 7. certain; infallible; positive: absolute proof. adj. —ab'so lute'ness, n.

ab so lute ly (ab'sə lüt'lē), 1. completely. 2. Informal, positively: He is absolutely the finest fellow I know. 3. U.S. Slang. yes. adv.

absolute zero, temperature at which substances would have no heat whatever, and all molecules would stop moving. Theoretically, it is -273.18 degrees centigrade or -459.72 degrees Fahrenheit.

ab so lu tion (ab'sə lū'shən), a freeing or freedom from guilt and punishment for sin; forgiveness. A person who confesses and is sorry for his sins and promises to do penance, is granted absolution by a priest. n.

ab so lut ism (ab'sə lüt iz'm), system or form of government in which the power of the ruler is not restricted; despotism. n.

ab so lut ist (ab'sə lüt'ist), 1. person in favor of a despotism or absolutism. 2. despot. 1 n., 2 adj.

ab solve (ab solv'), 1. declare (a person) free from sin, guilt, or blame. 2. set free (from a promise or duty). v., ab solved, ab solv ing.

ab sorb (ab sɔrb'), 1. take in or suck up (liquids): A blotter absorbs ink. 2. take in and make a part of itself; assimilate: The United States has absorbed millions of immigrants. Digested food is absorbed into the blood stream by osmosis. 3. take up all the attention of; interest very much: The boy was absorbed in building a dam in the brook. 4. take in and hold. Anything black absorbs most of the light rays that fall on it; that is, few of the light rays are reflected from it. v.

ab sorbed (ab sɔrbd'), very much interested; completely occupied. adj.

ab sorb ent (ab sɔrb'bənt), 1. taking in, or ready to take in, moisture, light, or heat: Absorbent paper is used to dry the hands. 2. any thing or substance that takes in or sucks up moisture, light, or heat. 1 adj., 2 n.

ab sorb ing (ab sɔrb'ing), extremely interesting: The story of the explorer's adventures was absorbing. adj. —ab sorb'ing ly, adv.

ab sorp tion (ab sɔrp'shən), 1. an absorbing; a taking up and holding. In the absorption of light rays by black objects the light rays are changed to heat. 2. great interest (in something): Everybody noticed the absorption of the children in their game. 3. the process of taking (digested food, oxygen, etc.) into the blood stream by osmosis. n.

ab sorp tive (ab sɔrp'tiv), able to absorb. adj.

ab stain (ab stān'), do without something voluntarily; refrain (from): Athletes usually abstain from smoking. v.

ab stain er (ab stān'ər), person who abstains, especially from the use of alcoholic liquor. n.

ab ste mi ous (ab stē'mē əs), sparing in eating and drinking; moderate; temperate. adj. —ab ste'mi ous ly, adv. —ab ste'mi ous ness, n.

ab sten tion (ab sten'shən), abstinence. n.

ab sti nence (ab stē'nəns), an abstaining; partly or entirely giving up certain pleasures, food, drink, etc. n.

abs ti nent (ab'stə nənt), abstemious. adj.

ab stract (ab'strakt or ab'strakt' for 1,2,4; ab'strakt' for 3,5; ab'strakt for 6,7), 1. thought of apart from any particular object or real thing: Sweetness is abstract; sugar is concrete. Numbers are often abstract. 2. expressing a quality that is thought of apart from any particular object or real thing. In "Honesty is the best policy," honesty is an abstract noun. 3. think of (a quality, such as goodness, redness, weight, beauty, or truth) apart from any object or real thing having that quality. 4. hard to understand; difficult: The atomic theory of matter is so abstract that it can be thoroughly understood only by advanced students. 5. take away; remove: Can you abstract the watch from my pocket without my knowing it? 6. a short statement of the main ideas or points in an article, book, case in court, etc.; summary. 7. make an abstract of; summarize. 1,2,4 adj., 3,5,7 v., 6 n. —ab'stract ly, adv. —ab'stract ness, n. in the abstract, in theory rather than in practice: In the abstract, we approve of the Golden Rule, but we do not always follow it.

ab stract ed (ab'strak'tid), lost in thought; absent-minded. adj. —ab'stract'ed ly, adv.

ab strac tion (ab'strak'shən), 1. the idea of a quality thought of apart from any particular object or real thing having that quality; abstract idea or term: Whiteness, bravery, and length are abstractions. A line that has no width is only an abstraction. 2. formation of such an idea. 3. taking away; removal: After the abstraction of the juice from an orange, only the pulp and peeling are left. 4. being lost in thought; absence of mind. n.

ab struse (ab'strūs'), hard to understand. adj. —ab'struse ly, adv. —ab'struse'ness, n.

ab surd (ab'sərd'), plainly not true or sensible; so contrary to reason that it is laughable; foolish; ridiculous. adj. —ab'surd ly, adv. —ab'surd'ness, n.

ab surd i ty (ab'sərd'ə tē), 1. something absurd; an unreasonable, ridiculous, or silly action, statement, custom, etc.: Your explanation is an absurdity. 2. absurd quality or condition; folly: the absurdity of superstition. n., pl. ab'surd i ties.

a bun dance (ə bun'dəns), a quantity that is more than enough; great plenty; full supply. n.

a bun dant (ə bun'dənt), more than enough; very plentiful: a river abundant in salmon. adj. —a bun'dant ly, adv.

a buse (ə büz' for 1,3,6; ə būs' for 2,4,5,7), 1. use wrongly; make bad use of: abuse a privilege. 2. a wrong or bad use: the lazy boy's abuse of the opportunity for an education. 3. treat badly: abuse a child. Don't abuse your eyes by reading in poor light. 4. bad treatment: abuse of a helpless prisoner. 5. a bad practice or custom: the abuses of evil dictators. 6. scold severely; use harsh and insulting language to. 7. a severe scolding; harsh and insulting language. 1,3,6 v., a bused, a bus ing; 2,4,5,7 n. —a bus'er, n.

a bu sive (ə bū'siv), 1. scolding severely; using harsh and insulting language. 2. containing abuse: an abusive letter. 3. abusing; treating badly. adj. —a bu'sive ly, adv.

a but (ə but'), touch at one end or edge; border (on); end (against): The sidewalk abuts on the street. The street abuts against the railroad. v., a but ted, a but ting.

a but ment (ə but'mənt), a support for an arch or bridge. n.

a bysm (ə biz'əm), an abyss. n.

a bys mal (ə biz'ml), too deep to be measured; bottomless. adj. —a bys'mal ly, adv.

a byss (ə bis'), 1. a bottomless depth; a very deep crack in the earth. 2. lowest depth. n.

Ab ys sin i a (ab'ə sin'ē ə), Ethiopia. n. —Ab'ys sin'i an, adj., n.

Ac, actinium.

A.C. or a.c., alternating current.

a ca cia (ə kā'shə), 1. tree or shrub with finely divided leaves that grows in tropical or warm regions. 2. a thorny North American tree with white flowers; the locust tree. n.

ac a dem ic (ak'ə dem'ik), 1. of or having to do with schools, colleges, and their studies. 2. U.S. concerned with general education rather than commercial, technical, or professional education. 3. scholarly. 4. theoretical; not practical: "Which came first, the chicken or the egg?" is an academic question. adj. —ac'a dem'i cal ly, adv.

ac a dem i cal (ak'ə dem'ə kl), academic. adj.

a cad e my (ə kad'ə mē), 1. place for instruction. 2. a private high school. 3. school where some special subject can be studied. There are academies of medicine and painting, and military or naval academies. 4. society of authors, scholars, scientists, artists, etc., for encouraging literature, science, or art. n., pl. a cad e mies.

A ca di a (ə kā'dē ə), region in SE Canada.

It was a French colony from 1604 until 1713, when it was ceded to Great Britain. Part of Acadia is now called Nova Scotia. n. —A ca'di an, adj., n.

These abutments support the arches and also turn aside strong currents that might weaken the structure.

Acacia (def. 1)

a cap pel la (ă' kə pel'ə), in music, without instrumental accompaniment.

acc., 1. accusative. 2. account.

ac cede (ak sēd'), 1. give in; agree (to): Please accede to my request. 2. come (to); attain (to an office or dignity): When the king died, his oldest son acceded to the throne. 3. become a party (to): Our government acceded to the treaty. v., ac ced ed, ac ced ing.

ac cel er an do (ak sel'ər an'dō), in music, gradually increasing in speed. adv., adj.

ac cel er ate (ak sel'ər āt), 1. go or cause to go faster; increase in speed; speed up: The train accelerated suddenly. By touching the throttle the pilot accelerated the plane. 2. cause to happen sooner; hasten: Sunshine, fresh air, and rest often accelerate a person's recovery from sickness. 3. change the speed or velocity of (a moving object). v., ac cel er at ed, ac cel er at ing.

ac cel er a tion (ak sel'ər ā'shən), 1. a speeding up or hastening; increase in speed. 2. change in velocity. Positive acceleration is an increase in velocity. Negative acceleration is a decrease in velocity. 3. rate of change in the velocity of a moving body. n.

ac cel er a tor (ak sel'ər ā'tor), 1. thing that causes an increase in the speed of anything. The pedal or lever that controls the flow of gasoline to an automobile engine is the accelerator. 2. cyclotron. n.

ac cent (ak'sent for 1-3, 5-7; ak'sent or ak sent' for 4,8), 1. the greater force or stronger tone of voice given to a syllable or a word in pronouncing it: In "letter," the accent is on the first syllable. 2. a mark (') written or printed to show the nature and place of the spoken force of a syllable, as in yes'ter day, to day', and to mor'row. Some words have two accents, a main accent (') and a secondary or lesser accent (˘), as in ac'a dem'ic. 3. characteristic manner of pronunciation heard in different parts of the same country or in the speech of a person speaking a language not his own: Hans is German and speaks English with a German accent. 4. pronounce or write with an accent. 5. tone of voice: The little girl spoke to her doll in tender accents. 6. emphasis on certain words or syllables in a line of poetry to give them rhythm. In "The stag at eve had drunk his fill," the accents are on stag, eve, drunk, and fill. 7. emphasis on certain musical notes or chords. 8. emphasize; accentuate: Throughout his speech he accented the gravity of the situation. 1-3, 5-7 n., 4, 8 v.

ac cen tu al (ak sen'chü əl), 1. of accent; formed by accent. 2. having the same accent as ordinary speech: Much modern poetry is accentual. adj.

ac cen tu ate (ak sen'chü āt), 1. emphasize: Her black hair accentuated the whiteness of her skin. 2. pronounce with an accent. 3. mark with an accent. v., ac cen tu at ed, ac cen tu at ing.

ac cen tu a tion (ak sen'chü ā'shən), an accenting; emphasis. n.

ac cept (ak sept'), 1. take or receive (something offered or given); consent to take: I accept your gift. 2. agree to; consent to; say yes to: The United States accepted Japan's proposal for a conference on fishing rights. 3. take as true or satisfactory; believe in: We accepted her excuse. 4. receive with favor; approve: Einstein's new theory was widely accepted. 5. undertake as a responsibility: My sister accepted a position as cashier. 6. sign and agree to pay: accept a note for a loan. 7. say yes to an invitation, offer, etc.: He asked me to go with him and I accepted. v. —ac cept'er, n.

ac cept a bil i ty (ak sep'tə bil'ə tē), quality of being acceptable or satisfactory. n.

ac cept a ble (ak sep'tə bl), 1. worth accepting; agreeable; welcome: Flowers are an acceptable gift to a sick person. 2. good enough but not outstanding; satisfactory: an acceptable performance. adj.

ac cept a bly (ak sep'tə blē), in a way that pleases. adv.

ac cept ance (ak sep'təns), 1. taking something offered or given. 2. favorable reception; approval. 3. belief, taking as true and satisfactory. n.

ac cep ta tion (ak'sep tā'shən), usual meaning; generally accepted meaning: It is more important to know the acceptance of a word than its derivation. n.

ac cess (ak'ses), 1. right to approach, enter, or use; admission: All children have access to the library during the afternoon. 2. condition of being easy or hard to reach; approach: Access to mountain towns is often difficult because of poor roads. 3. way or means of approach: A ladder was the only access to the attic. He has access to men who can help him get work. n.

ac ces si bil i ty (ak ses'ə bil'ə tē), 1. condition of being easy to reach or get at. 2. openness to influence. n.

ac ces si ble (ak ses'ə bl), 1. that can be entered or reached. 2. easy to get at; easy to reach or enter: A telephone should be put where it will be accessible. 3. that can be obtained: Not many facts about the kidnaping were accessible. adj.

accessible to, capable of being reached or influenced by; susceptible to: An open-minded person is accessible to reason.

ac ces si bly (ak ses'ə blē), so as to be accessible. adv. ac ces sion (ak sesh'ən), 1. act of attaining to a right, office, etc.: the prince's accession to the throne. 2. an increase; addition: The school was increased by the accession of forty new pupils. 3. thing added. n.

ac ces so ry (ak ses'ə rē), 1. an extra thing added to help something of more importance; subordinate part or detail: All the accessories to her costume—gloves, stockings, handkerchief, and purse—were perfectly matched. 2. helping something more important; added; additional; extra: His tie supplied an accessory bit of color which was very pleasing. 3. person who has helped in a crime or who has helped to hide it, or who has not reported it afterwards. 4. helping; helping to commit or hide a crime. 1, 3 n., pl. ac ces so ries; 2, 4 adj.

ac ci dent (ak'sə dənt), 1. an unfortunate happening; something harmful or unlucky that happens: an automobile accident. 2. something that happens without being planned, intended, wanted, or known in advance: Their meeting was an accident. 3. chance: We met by accident. n.

ac ci den tal (ak'sə den'tl), 1. happening by chance; unexpected: Breaking Mother's dish was purely accidental; John did not mean to do it. 2. nonessential; not necessary; incidental. 3. in music, of or having to do with an accidental. 4. a sign used in music to show a change of pitch; a flat (b), a sharp (#), or a natural (♮) after the key signature and before the note to be changed. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

ac ci den tal ly (ak'sə den'tl ē), in an accidental manner; by chance. adv.

ac claim (ə klām'), 1. show satisfaction and approval of by words or sounds; shout welcome to; applaud: The crowd acclaimed the fireman for rescuing two people from the burning house. 2. announce with signs of approval; hail: The newspapers acclaimed the fireman a hero. 3. shout or show of approval; applause; welcome. 1, 2 v., 3 n.

ac cla ma tion (ak'lə mā'shən), 1. shout of welcome or show of approval by a crowd; applause. 2. oral vote: All the club members said "Aye," and so the chairman was elected by acclamation. n.

ac cli mate (ə klī'mit or ak'lə mā't), Esp. U.S. custom or become accustomed to a new climate, surroundings, or conditions. v., ac cli mat ed, ac cli mat ing.

ac cli ma tion (ak'lə mā'shən), an acclimating or being acclimated. n.

ac cliv i ty (ə kliv'ə tē), an upward slope (of ground). n., pl. ac cliv i ties.

ac co lade (ak'ə lād' or ak'ə lād'), 1. a tap on the shoulder with the flat side of a sword given in making a man a knight. Formerly an embrace or kiss was given instead. 2. praise; recognition; award. n.

ac com mo date (ə kom'ə dāt), 1. have room for; hold comfortably: This big bedroom will accommodate six beds. 2. help out; oblige: He wanted change for a quarter, but I could not accommodate him. 3. furnish with lodging and sometimes with food as well: Can you accommodate a party of five for two weeks? 4. provide (a person) with a loan of money. 5. make fit; make suitable: The eye can accommodate itself to seeing objects at different distances. 6. reconcile; adjust. v., ac com mo dat ed, ac com mo dat ing.

ac com mo dat ing (ə kom'ə dāt'ing), obliging; willing to help: The man was accommodating enough to lend me a quarter. adj. —ac com'mo dat'ing ly, adv.

ac com mo da tion (ə kom'ə dā'shən), 1. lodging and sometimes food as well: The hotel has accommodations for one hundred people. 2. a help; a favor; a convenience: It will be an accommodation to me if you will meet me tomorrow instead of today. 3. U.S. loan. 4. willingness to help out. 5. the fitting (of something) to a purpose or situation; adjustment: The accommodation of our desires to a smaller income took some time. 6. settlement of differences; reconciliation. n.

ac com pa ni ment (ə kum'pə nē mēnt), 1. anything that goes along with something else: Destruction and suffering are accompaniments of war. 2. in music, a part added to help or enrich the main part: Anne sang to a piano and violin accompaniment. n.

ac com pa nist (ə kum'pə nist), person who plays a musical accompaniment. n.

ac com pa ny (ə kum'pə nē), 1. go along with: May we accompany you on your walk? 2. be or happen in connection with: Fire is accompanied by heat. 3. play or sing a musical accompaniment for or to. v., ac com pa nied, ac com pa ny ing. —ac com'pa ni er, n.

ac com plice (ə kom'plis), person who aids another in committing a crime or other unlawful act: Without an accomplice the thief could not have got in the house. n.

ac com plish (ə kom'plish), 1. succeed in completing; carry out (a promise, plan, etc.): Did you accomplish your purpose? 2. finish; actually do: Fred can accomplish more in a day than any other boy in his class. v. —ac com'plish er, n.

ac com plished (ə kom'plisht), 1. done; carried out; completed: With their assigned reading accomplished, John and Mary were confident they would do well on the test. 2. expert; skilled: an accomplished dancer. 3. skilled in social arts and graces: An accomplished lady has good manners. adj.

ac com plish ment (ə kom'plish mēnt), 1. an accomplishing or being accomplished; completion: The accomplishment of his purpose took three months. 2. thing accomplished; achievement; completed undertaking: The teacher was proud of her pupils' accomplishments. 3. skill in some social art or grace: Anne was a girl of many accomplishments. She could draw, sing well, and also sew and cook. n.

ac cord (ə kôrd'), 1. be in harmony; agree (with): His accord of the accident accords with yours. 2. make agree; harmonize; reconcile. 3. agreement; harmony: Their opinion of war was in accord with his. 4. an informal agreement between nations. 5. harmony of color, pitch, or tone. 6. grant (a favor, request, etc.): Accord Tom praise for good work. 1,2,6 v., 3-5 n.

of one's own accord, without being asked; without suggestion from another.

with an accord, all agreeing together: We cheered with one accord when Ralph made the winning touchdown.

ac cord ance (ə kôrd'ns), agreement; harmony: What he did was in accordance with what he said. n.

ac cord ant (ə kôrd'nt), agreeing; in harmony. adj.

ac cord ing (ə kôrd'ing), 1. agreeing; in harmony. 2. accordingly. 1 adj., 2 adv.

according as, in proportion as: According as you have enriched your own mind you will have influence upon other minds.

according to, 1. in agreement with: He came according to his promise. 2. in proportion to: Spend according to your income. 3. on the authority of; as said by: According to this book a tiger is really a big cat.

ac cord ing ly (ə kôrd'ing lē), 1. in agreement with something that has been stated: These are the rules. You can act accordingly or leave the club. 2. therefore; for this reason: He was too sick to stay. Accordingly, we sent him home. adv.

ac cor di on (ə kôrd'ē ən), 1. a portable musical wind instrument with a bellows, metallic reeds, and keys. An accordion is played by forcing air through the reeds by means of the bellows. 2. with folds like the bellows of an accordion: a skirt with accordion pleats. 1 n., 2 adj.

ac cost (ə kôst'), speak to first; come up and speak to; address: A ragged beggar accosted him, asking for money. v.

ac count (ə kount'), 1. a statement telling in detail about an event or thing; explanation; story: Please give an account of your trip. 2. reason: He was brought up not to lie on any account. 3. sake: Don't wait on my account. 4. value; worth: This torn notebook is of little account. 5. profit; advantage. 6. statement of money received and spent: Jack keeps a written account of the way he spends his money. Businesses and factories keep accounts. 7. hold to be; consider: Solomon was accounted wise. In law, a man is accounted innocent until he is proved guilty. 1-6 n., 7 v.

account for, 1. give a reason for; explain: Late frosts accounted for the poor fruit crop. 2. tell what has been done with; answer for: The treasurer of the club had to account for the money paid to him.

of no account, of no use or importance.

on account of, 1. because of: The game was put off on account of rain. 2. for the sake of.

on no account, under no conditions; certainly not.

take into account, make allowance for; consider.

turn to account, make useful or helpful; get advantage or profit from.

ac count a bil i ty (ə koun'tə bil'ə tē), state of being accountable; responsibility. n.

ac count a ble (ə koun'tə bl), 1. responsible; liable to be called to account: Each person is accountable for his own work. 2. explainable: His bad temper is easily accountable; he has had a toothache all day. adj.

ac count a bly (ə koun'tə blē), in a manner that can be accounted for. adv.

ac count ant (ə kount'nt), person who examines or manages business accounts. n.

ac count ing (ə koun'ting), 1. art or science of keeping, analyzing, and interpreting business accounts. 2. statement of accounts. n.

ac cou ter (ə kü'tər), equip; array: Knights were accoutered in armor. v.

ac cou ter ments (ə kü'tər mēnts), 1. a soldier's equipment with the exception of his weapons and clothing. A belt, blanket, and knapsack are parts of a soldier's accouterments. 2. personal equipment; outfit. n.pl.

ac cou tre (ə kü'tər), accouter. v., ac cou tred, ac cou tring.

ac cou tre ments (ə kü'tər mēnts), accouterments. n.pl.

Ac cra (ə krä' or ak'rə), seaport in W Africa, capital of Ghana. 350,000. n.

ac cred it (ə kred'it), 1. give (a person) credit for; regard (a person) as having: accredit Mother with kindness. 2. consider (a thing) as belonging or due (to a person): We accredited the invention of the telephone to Bell.

3. accept as true; believe; trust: Ruth is always truthful, and anything she says will be accredited. 4. give authority to: The president will accredit you as his assistant. 5. send or provide with credentials or a recommendation. An ambassador is accredited as the representative of his own country in a foreign land. 6. recognize as coming up to an official standard. v.

Girl playing an accordion

ac cred it ed (ə kred'ə tid), 1. worthy of acceptance, belief, or trust: Einstein was an accredited authority in mathematics. 2. recognized as coming up to an official standard: Some colleges will accept without examination the graduates of accredited high schools. adj.

ac cre tion (ə krē'shan), 1. growth in size. 2. a growing together of separate things. 3. an increase in size by natural growth or gradual external addition. n.

ac cru al (ə krū'al), 1. an accruing: Money left in a savings bank increases by the accrual of interest. 2. amount accrued or accruing. n.

ac crue (ə krū'), come as a growth or result: Ability to think will accrue to you from good habits of study. v., ac crued, ac cru ing. —ac crue/ment, n.

acct., 1. account. 2. accountant.

ac cu mu late (ə kū'myə lāt), 1. collect or heap up little by little: Through the years he accumulated sufficient money to buy a farm when he retired. 2. grow into a heap or mass: Dust had accumulated during the weeks that she was gone. v., ac cu mu lat ed, ac cu mu lat ing.

ac cu mu la tion (ə kū'myə lā'shan), 1. material collected; mass: His accumulation of old papers filled three trunks. 2. collecting together: The accumulation of knowledge is one result of reading. n.

ac cu ra cy (ək'yə rə sē), being without errors or mistakes; correctness; exactness. n.

ac cu rate (ək'yə rit), 1. exactly right as the result of care or pains; precisely correct: You must be accurate in arithmetic. 2. that operates without error: Our track coach has an accurate stop watch. adj. —ac/cu rate ly, adv. —ac/cu rate ness, n.

ac curs ed (əkər'sid or ə kərst'), 1. damnable; detestable; hateful. 2. under a curse. adj.

ac curs t (ə kərst'), accursed. adj.

ac cu sa tion (ək'yə zā'shan), 1. a charge of having done something wrong, of being something bad, or of having broken the law. 2. the offense charged. n.

ac cu sa tive (ə kū'zə tiv), 1. showing the direct object; objective: Me, us, him, and them are in the accusative case, or, as we usually say for English words, the objective case. 2. the objective case. 3. word used as an object of a verb or preposition. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

ac cuse (ə kūz'), 1. charge with having done something wrong, with being something bad, or with having broken the law. 2. find fault with; blame. v., ac cused, ac cus ing. —ac cus'er, n. —ac cus'ing ly, adv.

ac cus tom (ə kus'təm), make familiar by use or habit; get used; train: accustom a hunting dog to the noise of a gun. v.

ac cus to med (ə kus'təmd), usual; customary: By Monday he was back in his accustomed place. adj.

accus to med to, used to; in the habit of: He was accustomed to hard work.

ace (ās), 1. a playing card, domino, or side of a die having one spot. 2. a single spot or point. 3. a point won by a single stroke in tennis and certain other games. 4. person expert at anything: Peter is an ace at basketball. 5. of very high quality; expert: an ace football player. 6. a combat pilot who has shot down five or more enemy planes. 1-4,6 n., 5 adj.

a cer bi ty (ə sēr'bə tē), 1. sharpness of taste; sourness. 2. harshness of manner; severity. n., pl. a cer bi ties.

ac e tab u lum (as'ə tab'yə ləm), a socket in the hipbone into which the top part of the thighbone fits. n., pl. ac e tab u la (-lə).

ac et an il id (as'ət an'ə lid), a white, crystalline drug, used in medicines to lessen pain and fever. n.

ac et an il ide (as'ət an'ə lid), acetanilid. n.

ac e tate (as'ə tāt), a salt or ester of acetic acid. Cellulose acetate is used in making imitation leather, phonograph records, rayon, cellophane, etc. n.

ac e tic acid (ə sē'tik), a very sour, colorless acid, present in vinegar, a compound of hydrogen, carbon, and oxygen.

ac e tone (as'ə tōn), a colorless, volatile, inflammable liquid, used as a solvent for oils, fats, resins, cellulose, etc., and in making varnishes, etc. n.

a cet y lene (ə set'ə lēn), a colorless gas that burns with a bright light and very hot flame. It is used for lighting and, combined with oxygen, for welding metals. n.

ac e tyl sal i cylic acid (as'ə til sal'ə sil'ik or ə sē'tal sal'ə sil'ik), aspirin.

A chae an (ə kē'an), 1. of Achaia; Greek. 2. native or inhabitant of Achaia; Greek. 1 adj., 2 n.

A cha ia (ə kā'ə), country in ancient Greece, in the S part. n.

A cha tes (ə kā'tēz), 1. in Roman legend, the faithful companion of Aeneas. 2. a faithful companion. n.

ache (āk), 1. be in continued pain: My back aches. 2. a dull, steady pain: a stomach ache, a headache, a toothache. 3. Informal. be eager; wish very much: During the hot days of August we all ached to go swimming. 1,3 v., ached, ach ing; 2 n. —ach'ing ly, adv.

a chene (ā kēn'), any small, dry, hard fruit consisting of one seed with a thin outer covering that does not burst open when ripe. Sunflower achenes are commonly called seeds. n.

a chieve (ə chēv'), 1. do; get done; carry out; accomplish: John soon learned that you cannot achieve much without work. 2. reach (a certain end) by one's own efforts; get by effort: Both George and Tom achieved distinction in mathematics. v., a chieved, a chiev ing. —a chiev'a ble, adj. —a chiev'er, n.

a chieve ment (ə chēv'mənt), 1. thing achieved; accomplishment; feat. 2. some plan or action carried out with courage or unusual ability: Ralph Bunche won the Nobel Prize for his achievement in Palestine. 3. an achieving. n.

A chil les (ə kil'ēz), in Greek legend, a hero of the Greeks at the siege of Troy. No weapon could injure Achilles anywhere, except in the heel. n.

ach ro mat ic (ək'rə mat'ik), 1. refracting white light without breaking it up into the colors of the spectrum. 2. colorless. adj. —ach'ro mat'i cal ly, adv.

acid (as'id), 1. any of a class of chemical compounds that are generally sour or bitter to the taste, are soluble in water, and turn blue litmus paper red. Hydrochloric acid and sulphuric acid are two common acids. Acids yield hydrogen ions when dissolved in water and usually react with a base to form a salt. 2. of acid; having the properties of an acid. 3. a sour substance. 4. sour; sharp or biting to the taste. 5. sour and sharp in manner or temper: Mother made an acid comment about my untidy room. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 adj. —ac'id ly, adv. —ac'id ness, n.

a cid ic (ə sid'ik), forming acid. adj.

a cid i fy (ə sid'ə fi), 1. make sour. 2. become sour. 3. change into an acid. v., a cid i fied, a cid i fy ing. —a cid'i fi'er, n.

a cid i ty (ə sid'ə tē), acid quality or condition; sourness: the acidity of vinegar. n., pl. a cid i ties.

ac i do sis (as'ə dō'sis), a harmful condition in which the blood and tissues are less alkaline than is normal. n.

acid test, a thorough test to find out the real quality of some person or thing.

a cid u late (ə sij'u lāt), make slightly acid or sour. v., a cid u lat ed, a cid u lat ing. —a cid'u la'tion, n.

a cid u lous (ə sij'u ləs), slightly acid or sour. adj. —a cid'u lous ly, adv. —a cid'u lous ness, n.

ack-ack (ak'ak'), Slang. anti-aircraft fire. n.

acknowledge (ak nol'ij), 1. admit to be true: He acknowledges his own faults. 2. recognize the authority or claims of: The boys acknowledged him to be the best player on the baseball team. 3. express thanks for (a gift, favor, etc.). 4. make known that one has received (a service, favor, gift, message, etc.): I acknowledged her letter at once. v., acknowledged, acknowledging.

acknowledgment or acknowledgement (ak-nol'ij mēnt), 1. thing given or done to show that one has received a service, gift, favor, message, etc.: A receipt is an acknowledgment that a bill has been paid. 2. act of admitting the existence or truth of anything: The accused man made acknowledgment of his guilt. 3. recognition of authority or claims. 4. expression of thanks. n.

acme (ak'mē), the highest point: To graduate at the top of his class was the acme of his hopes. n.

acne (ak'nē), a skin disease in which the oil glands in the skin become clogged and inflamed, often causing pimples. n.

acolyte (ak'ə lit), 1. person who helps a priest during certain religious services; altar boy. The acolyte lights the candles on the altar. 2. attendant; assistant. n.

Aconagua (ä'kōn kä'gwə), mountain in the Andes, in W Argentina, the highest mountain in the Western Hemisphere. 22,834 ft. n.

aconite (ak'ə nit), 1. a poisonous plant with blue, purple, or yellow flowers shaped like hoods. Wolf's-bane and monkshood are two kinds. 2. drug used to relieve inflammation and pain, obtained from one of these plants. n.

acorn (ä'kōrn or ä'kərn), the nut, or fruit, of an oak tree. n.

acoustic (ə kūs'tik), 1. having to do with the sense or the organs of hearing: Earphones are acoustic aids for deaf people. 2. having to do with the science of sound. 3. that absorbs noise: acoustic tile. adj.

acoustical (ə kūs'ti kl), having to do with the science of sound: an acoustical engineer. adj.

acoustical ly (ə kūs'tik lē), with regard to acoustics. adv.

acoustics (ə kūs'tiks), 1. the qualities of a room, hall, auditorium, etc., that determine how well sounds can be heard in it; acoustic qualities: The acoustics were so good that people in the last row could hear the speaker well. 2. the science of sound: Acoustics is taught in some colleges. 1 n. pl., 2 n. sing.

acquaint (ə kwānt'), 1. inform (a person about a thing): Acquaint him with your intention of leaving at once. 2. make more or less familiar: Let me acquaint you with the facts. v.

be acquainted with, have personal knowledge of: He is acquainted with my father.

acquaintance (ə kwānt's), 1. person known to one, but not a close friend. 2. knowledge of persons or things gained from experience with them; personal knowledge. n.

acquaintance ship (ə kwānt's ship), 1. personal knowledge; acquaintance. 2. relation between acquaintances: Their acquaintanceship lasted many years. n.

acquiesce (ak'wēes'), give consent by keeping silent or by not making objections; agree or submit quietly: We acquiesced in their plan because we could not suggest a better one. v., acquiesced, acquiescing.

acquiescence (ak'wēes'ns), consent without making objections; agreeing or submitting quietly. n.

acquiescent (ak'wēes'nt), acquiescing; agreeing; quietly consenting. adj.

acquire (ə kwir'), 1. receive or get as one's own; get: By the time Jim was thirty he had acquired a store of his own. 2. get by one's own efforts or actions: He acquired a college education by working summers. v., acquired, acquiring. —acquirable, adj. —acquirer, n.

acquirement (ə kwir'mēnt), 1. act of acquiring. 2. something acquired; attainment: Her musical acquirements are remarkable for a girl of her age. n.

acquisition (ak'wə zish'ən), 1. an acquiring or getting as one's own: He spent hundreds of hours in the acquisition of skill with a rifle. 2. thing acquired: Mary's new acquisitions were two dresses, a hat, and a pair of shoes. n.

acquisitive (ə kwiz'ə tiv), fond of acquiring; likely to get and keep: A miser is acquisitive of money. A great scholar is acquisitive of ideas. adj. —acquisitively, adv. —acquisitiveness, n.

acquit (ə kwit'), declare (a person) not guilty (of an offense): The jury acquitted the innocent man of the crime. v., acquitted, acquitting. —acquitter, n.

acquit oneself, do one's part; behave: The soldiers acquitted themselves well in battle.

acquittal (ə kwit'l), a setting free by declaring not guilty; discharge; release. n.

acquittance (ə kwit'ns), 1. release from a debt or obligation. 2. payment of a debt; settlement of a claim. n.

acre (ä'kər), a measure of land, 160 square rods or 43,560 square feet. n.

acres, lands; property.

acreage (ä'kər ij), 1. number of acres: The acreage of a square mile is 640. 2. piece of land sold by the acre. n.

acrid (ak'rid), 1. sharp, bitter, or stinging to the nose, mouth, or skin. 2. sharp or irritating in manner or temper. adj. —acridly, adv. —acridness, n.

acridity (ə krid'ə tē), bitterness; sharpness. n.

acrimonious (ak'rə mō'nē əs), sharp or bitter in temper, language, or manner. adj. —acrimoniously, adv. —acrimoniousness, n.

acrimony (ak'rə mō'nē), sharpness or bitterness in temper, language, or manner. n., pl. acrimonies.

acrobat (ak'rə bat), person who can perform tricks on a trapeze, turn handsprings, walk on a tightrope, etc. n.

acrobat ic (ak'rə bat'ik), 1. of an acrobat: Dancing on a rope is an acrobatic feat. 2. like an acrobat's. adj. —acrobat ically, adv.

acrobat ics (ak'rə bat'iks), 1. tricks or performances of an acrobat; gymnastic feats. 2. feats like those of an acrobat: The children were delighted by the monkey's acrobatics. n. pl.

acromegaly (ak'rō meg'l ē), a disease caused by abnormal activity of the pituitary gland. The head, hands, and feet become permanently enlarged. n.

acronym (ak'rə nim), word formed from the first letters or syllables of other words, such as UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization). n.

acropolis (ə krop'l is), the high, fortified part of an ancient Greek city. The Parthenon was built on the Acropolis of Athens. n.

across (ə krōs'), 1. from one side to the other of; to the other side of; over: a bridge laid across a river. 2. from one side to the other: What is the distance across? 3. on the other side of; beyond: across the sea. 4. on or to the other side: When are you going across? 5. into contact with: We come across hard words in some books. 1,3,5 prep., 2,4 adv.

acrostic (ə krōs'tik), a composition in verse or an arrangement of words in which the first, last, or certain other letters in each line, taken in order, spell a word or phrase. n.

act (akt), 1. thing done; deed: an act of kindness. Slapping his face was a childish act. 2. process of doing: The thief was caught in the act of stealing. 3. do something: The firemen acted promptly and saved the burning house. 4. have effect: Yeast acted on the dough and made it rise. 5. behave: The boy acted badly in school. 6. behave like: Most people act the fool now and then. 7. perform in a theater, on television, etc.; play a part: The handsome man acts the part of the hero. He acts very well. 8. a legislative decision; decree. An act of Congress is a bill that has been passed by Congress.

North East
West
South

Acrostic
of "news"

9. a main division of a play or opera: Most modern plays have three acts. 10. one of several performances on a program: the trained dog's act. 1,2,8-10 n., 3-7 v.
act as or for, take the place of; do the work of.
act on, follow; obey: I will act on your suggestion.
act up, Informal. 1. behave badly. 2. play tricks; make mischief.

ACTH, a hormone obtained from the pituitary gland. It is used in treating arthritis, rheumatic fever, etc. n.
act ing (ak'ting), temporarily taking another's place and doing his duties: While the principal was sick, one of the teachers was acting principal. adj.

ac tin ic (ak tin'ik), 1. of actinism. 2. producing chemical changes by radiation. Actinic rays are important in photography. adj.

ac tin ism (ak'tin iz əm), property in light that causes chemical changes. n.

ac tin i um (ak tin'ē əm), a radioactive chemical element somewhat like radium, found in pitchblende after uranium has been extracted. Symbol: Ac n.

ac tion (ak'shən), 1. doing something; process of acting: The quick action of the firemen saved the building from burning. 2. activity: A soldier is a man of action. 3. thing done; act. 4. effect or influence of something on another: the action of wind on a ship's sails. 5. way of moving or working; movement: a motor with an easy action. 6. battle; part of a battle: Peter's older brother was wounded in action in Korea. 7. lawsuit. n. —ac'tion less, adj.

actions, conduct; behavior: Mother punished me for my rude actions.

in action, 1. active; taking part. 2. working.
take action, 1. become active. 2. start working. 3. start a lawsuit; sue.

ac ti vate (ak'tə vāt), 1. make active. 2. make radioactive. 3. make capable of reacting or of speeding up a chemical reaction. 4. purify (sewage) by treating it with air and bacteria. v., ac ti vated, ac ti vating. —ac'ti va'tion, n.

ac tive (ak'tiv), 1. acting; working: an active volcano. 2. showing much action; moving rather quickly; lively; brisk: Most children are more active than are old people. 3. real; effective: John took an active part in organizing the stamp club. 4. showing the subject of a verb as acting. In "He broke the window," broke is in the active voice. 5. the active voice. 1-4 adj., 5 n. —ac'tive ly, adv. —ac'tive ness, n.

active duty or service, 1. military service with full pay and regular duties. 2. service in the armed forces in time of war.

active satellite, an artificial satellite that amplifies and relays television and radio telephone signals transmitted to it.

ac tiv i ty (ak tiv'ə tē), 1. being active; movement; use of power: physical activity, mental activity. 2. action; doing: the activities of enemy spies. 3. vigorous action; liveliness: the activity of children during recess. 4. thing to do: A student who has too many outside activities may find it hard to keep up with his studies. 5. anything active; active force. n., pl. ac tiv i ties.

act of God, something that could not be foreseen or prevented by human beings; a happening beyond a person's control. Floods, storms, and earthquakes are called acts of God.

ac tor (ak'tər), 1. person who acts on the stage, in motion pictures, in a broadcast, or on television. 2. person who does something. n.

ac tress (ak'tris), a woman actor. n.

Acts (əkts), the fifth book of the New Testament. It tells about the beginnings of the Christian church. n.

Acts of the Apostles, Acts.

ac tu al (ak'chū əl), 1. existing as a fact; real: What he told us was not a dream but an actual happening. 2. now existing; present; current: The injured man's ac- tual condition will improve soon. adj. —ac'tu al ness, n.

ac tu al i ty (ak'chū əl'ə tē), 1. actual existence; reality. 2. actual thing; fact. n., pl. ac tu al i ties.

ac tu al ize (ak'chū əl'iz), make actual; realize in action or as a fact. v., ac tu al ized, ac tu al iz ing.

ac tu al ly (ak'chū əl'ē), really; in fact: Are you actually going abroad this summer? adv.

ac tu ar y (ak'chū er'ē), person whose work is figuring risks, rates, premiums, etc., for insurance companies. n., pl. ac tu ar ies.

ac tu ate (ak'chū āt), 1. put into action: This pump is actuated by a belt driven by an electric motor. 2. influence to act: She was actuated by love for her mother. v., ac tu ated, ac tu at ing. —ac'tu a'tion, n. —ac'tu a'tor, n.

a cu i ty (ə kū'ə tē), sharpness; acuteness. n.

a cu men (ə kū'mən), sharpness and quickness in seeing and understanding; keen insight. n.

a cute (ə kūt'), 1. sharp and severe: A toothache can cause acute pain. 2. brief and severe: An acute disease like pneumonia reaches a crisis within a short time.

3. threatening; critical: an acute danger of war. 4. keen: Dogs have an acute sense of smell. An acute thinker is clever and shrewd. 5. high in pitch; shrill: Some sounds are so acute that we cannot hear them. adj. —a cute'ly, adv. —a cute'ness, n.

acute accent, 1. mark (') placed over a vowel to show the quality or length of its sound, as in French abbé, or to show stress, as in Spanish adiós. 2. mark used to indicate emphasis in pronunciation.

acute angle, angle less than a right angle.

ad (əd), Informal. advertisement. n.

ad-, prefix meaning: to; toward, as in admit, administer, advert, advert.

A.D., in the year of the Lord; since Christ was born. From 63 B.C. to 14 A.D. is 77 years.

ad age (əd'ij), a wise saying that has been much used; well-known proverb. "Haste makes waste" is an adage. n.

a da gio (ə dā'jō), 1. slowly. 2. in music, slow. 3. a slow part in a piece of music. 4. a slow ballet dance in which a man and woman do acrobatic feats. 1 adv., 2 adj., 3,4 n., pl. a da gios.

Ad am (əd'əm), in the Bible, the first man. n.

ad a mant (əd'ə mant), 1. unyielding; firm; immovable. 2. too hard to be cut or broken. 3. substance too hard to be cut or broken. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

Ad ams (əd'əmz), 1. John, 1735-1826, the second president of the United States, from 1797 to 1801. 2. John Quincy, 1767-1848, the sixth president of the United States, from 1825 to 1829, son of John Adams. 3. Samuel, 1722-1803, American leader at the time of the Revolutionary War. n.

Adam's apple, the lump in the front of the throat formed by the thyroid cartilage.

a dapt (ə dapt'), 1. make fit or suitable; adjust: Can you adapt yourself to a new job? 2. modify or alter for a different use: The farmer can adapt the barn for use as a garage. v. —a dapt'er, n.

a dapt a bil i ty (ə dapt'ə bil'ə tē), power to change easily to fit different conditions. n.

a dapt a ble (ə dapt'ə bl), 1. easily changed to fit different conditions: an adaptable schedule. 2. changing easily to fit different conditions: Jane is an adaptable person. adj. —a dapt'a ble ness, n.

ad ap ta tion (əd'əp tā'shən), 1. an adapting or fitting: Dan made a good adaptation to high school. 2. being adapted or made to fit. 3. something made by adapting: A motion picture is often an adaptation of a novel. 4. change in structure, form, or habits to fit different conditions: Wings are adaptations of the upper limbs for flight. n.

a dapt ed (ə dap'tid), 1. modified or altered so as to suit new conditions: an old law adapted to today's needs. 2. fitted; suitable: a climate adapted to the growing of oranges. adj.

a dap tive (ə dap'tiv), 1. that can adapt. 2. showing adaptation. adj. —a dap'tive ly, adv. —a dap'tive ness, n.

add (ad), 1. join (one thing to another); put together; put with: Add another stone to the pile. 2. find the sum of: Add 8 and 2 and you have 10. 3. make or form an addition; increase: The fine day added to our pleasure. 4. say further; go on to say or write: She said good-by and added that she had had a pleasant visit. v.

ad dax (ad'aks), a large antelope of Arabia and N Africa. n.

ad dend (ad'end or ə dend'), a number or quantity to be added to another number or quantity. n.

ad den da (ə den'də), plural of addendum. n.

ad den dum (ə den'dəm), 1. thing to be added. 2. thing added; appendix. n., pl. ad den da.

ad der (ad'ər), 1. a small, poisonous snake of Europe. 2. a small, harmless snake of North America. 3. a large, poisonous snake of Africa; puff adder. n.

ad dict (ad'ikt for 1; ə dikt' for 2), 1. person who is a slave or devotee to a habit: A drug addict finds it hard to stop using drugs. 2. give (oneself) up to a habit. 1 n., 2 v.

ad dict ed (ə dikt'id), slavishly following (a habit or practice); strongly inclined: He was so addicted to the use of tobacco that he smoked ten cigars a day. adj.

ad dic tion (ə dikt'shən), condition of being a slave to a habit; strong inclination. n.

Ad dis Ab a ba (ad'is ab'ə bə), the capital of Ethiopia, in E Africa. 400,000.

ad di tion (ə dish'ən), 1. adding one number or quantity to another: 2+3=5 is a simple addition. 2. adding one thing to another: The addition of flour will thicken gravy. 3. result of adding; thing added. 4. U.S. part added to a building. n.

in addition to, besides; also: In addition to her work as teacher in the school, Miss Jones gives music lessons after school hours.

ad di tion al (ə dish'ən l), added; extra; more. adj.

ad di tion al ly (ə dish'ən l ē), in addition. adv.

ad di tive (ad'ə tiv), 1. to be added; involving addition. 2. a substance added to gasoline, fuel oil, etc., so as to improve efficiency of combustion, etc. 1 adj., 2 n.

ad dle (ad'l), 1. make or become muddled. 2. muddled; confused, etc. 3. make or become rotten. 4. of eggs, rotten. 1,3 v., ad dled, ad dling; 2,4 adj.

ad dress (ə dres'; ad'res especially for 4 and 5), 1. a speech, especially a formal one: The President gave an address to the nation over television. 2. direct speech or writing to: The President addressed the nation on the subject of war and peace. 3. use titles or other forms in speaking or writing to: How do you address a mayor? 4. place at which a person, business, etc., receives mail. 5. the writing on an envelope, package, etc., that shows where it is to be sent. 6. write on (a letter, package, etc.) where it is to be sent. 7. manner in conversation: A salesman should be a man of pleasant address. 8. skill: A good manager shows much address in getting people to help him. 9. apply or devote (oneself); direct one's energies: Dan addressed himself to the task of doing his homework. 10. a formal request to those in authority to do a particular thing: an address from the colonists to the king, listing grievances. 11. direct to the attention: address a warning to a friend. 1,4,5,7,8,10 n., 2,3,6,9,11 v., ad dressed or ad drest, ad dress ing. —ad dress'er, ad dres'sor, n.

addresses, attentions paid in courtship.

ad dress ee (ə dres ē'), U.S. person to whom a letter, package, etc., is addressed. n.

ad duce (ə dūs' or ə dūs'), offer as a reason; give as proof or evidence; bring up as an example. v., ad duced, ad duc ing.

ad duc tion (ə duk'shən), bringing forward arguments. n.

Ad e laide (ad'lī ād), city in S Australia. 563,000. n.

A den (ād'n), 1. former British protectorate in SW Arabia, now the Federation of South Arabia. 2. former British colony, now a state in this Federation. 3. seaport and capital of this colony. 4. Gulf of, part of the Arabian Sea between S Arabia and E Africa. n.

Ad e nau er (ad'n ou'ər), Konrad, 1876-1967, German statesman; first chancellor of West Germany, 1949-1963. n.

ad e noid (ad'n oid), 1. of the lymphatic glands. 2. like a gland; glandular. adj.

ad e noi dal (ad'n oid'l), adenoid. adj.

ad e noids (ad'n oidz), growths of glandular tissue in the upper part of the throat, just back of the nose. They sometimes hinder natural breathing and speaking. n. pl.

ad e pt (ad'ept or ə dept' for 1; ə dept' for 2), 1. thoroughly skilled; expert: Anne is adept in music. 2. a thoroughly skilled or expert person: He is an adept in working crossword puzzles. 1 adj., 2 n. —a dept'ly, adv. —a dept'ness, n.

ad e qua cy (ad'ə kwə sē), as much as is needed for a particular purpose; sufficiency. n.

ad e quate (ad'ə kwit), 1. as much as is needed; fully sufficient: His wages are adequate to support three people. 2. suitable; competent: an adequate person for the job. adj. —ad'e quate ly, adv. —ad'e quate ness, n.

ad here (ad hir'), 1. stick fast; remain attached (to): Mud adheres to your shoes. 2. hold closely or firmly (to): The principal adhered to the plan for dropping Latin in spite of the opposition of some parents. 3. be devoted (to): Most people adhere to the church of their parents. v., ad hered, ad her ing. —ad her'er, n.

ad her ence (ad hir'əns), 1. attachment or loyalty (to a person, group, belief, etc.); faithfulness. 2. a holding to and following closely: rigid adherence to rules. n.

ad her ent (ad hir'ənt), 1. faithful supporter; follower: He was an adherent of the conservative party. 2. sticking fast; attached. 1 n., 2 adj.

ad he sion (ad hē'zhən), 1. a sticking fast; attachment. 2. a following and supporting; faithfulness. 3. agreement; assent. 4. the attraction that holds unlike molecules together. n.

ad he sive (ad hē'siv), 1. holding fast; adhering easily; sticky. 2. smeared with a sticky substance for holding (something) fast: adhesive tape. 3. U.S. gummed tape used to hold bandages in place. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —ad he'sive ly, adv. —ad he'sive ness, n.

ad hoc (ad hok'), Latin. for a certain purpose; special.

a dieu (ə dū' or ə dū'), good-by; farewell. interj., n., pl. a dieus or a dieux (ə dūz' or ə dūz').

ad in fi ni tum (ad in'fā nī'təm), Latin. without limit.

a di os (ā'dē ōs' or ad'ē ōs'), in the Southwestern U.S., good-by. interj., n.

ad i pose (ad'ə pōs), fat. adj., n. —ad'i pose ness, n.

ad i pos i ty (ad'ə pōs'ə tē), fatness. n.

Adirondack Mountains, the Adirondacks.

Ad i ron dacks (ad'ə ron'daks), mountain range in NE New York. The highest peak is 5344 feet. The Adirondacks are a part of the Appalachian mountain chain. n. pl.

adj., adjective.

Adj., Adjutant.

ad ja cen cy (ə jā'sn sē), nearness. n., pl. ad ja-cen cies.

ad ja cent (ə jă'snt), lying near or close; adjoining: The house adjacent to ours has been sold. adj. —ad ja'cent ly, adv.

adjacent angles, two angles that have the same vertex and the same line as one of their sides. In the diagram, ADB and BDC are adjacent angles.

ad jec ti val (aj'ik tī'vl), 1. of an adjective. 2. used as an adjective. adj.

ad jec ti val ly (aj'ik tī'vl ē), as an adjective. adv.

ad jec tive (aj'ik tiv), 1. a word used to qualify or limit a noun or pronoun. Words like green, old, short, sweet, and sour are adjectives. An attributive adjective stands immediately before or after the name of the person, animal, or thing being described more fully, as, the tiny brook, horseless carriages, his lady fair. A predicate adjective is used with some form of the verb be or some other linking verb (taste, feel, turn, etc.): The day is warm. That pie smells good. For a while I felt bad. How tall you have grown. A descriptive adjective shows a quality or condition as belonging to the noun or pronoun named, as, a blue shirt, a wrecked car. A limiting adjective points out in some way the noun or pronoun named, or indicates quantity or number, as, this pencil, his book, any person, twenty-five cents. 2. of an adjective. 3. used as an adjective. 1 n., 2,3 adj. —ad'jec tive ly, adv.

ad join (ə join'), 1. be next to; be in contact with: Canada adjoins the United States. 2. be next or close to each other; be in contact: These two countries adjoin. v.

ad join ing (ə join'ing), being next to or in contact with; bordering: Kate and Sue have adjoining lockers. adj.

ad jour n (ə jern'), 1. put off until a later time: The members of the club voted to adjourn the meeting until 2 P.M. 2. suspend the meeting of to a future time or to another place: The judge adjourned the court for two hours. 3. stop business or proceedings for a time: The court adjourned from Friday until Monday. 4. Informal. go to another place. v.

ad jour n ment (ə jern'mənt), 1. an adjourning or being adjourned. 2. time during which a court, law-making body, etc., is adjourned. n.

ad judge (ə juj'), 1. decree or declare by law: The accused man was adjudged guilty. 2. condemn or sentence by law: The thief was adjudged to prison for two years. 3. decide or settle by law; judge: The boy's case was adjudged in the juvenile court. 4. award or assign by law: The property was adjudged to the rightful owner. v., ad judged, ad judg ing.

ad ju di cate (ə jü'də kāt), 1. decide or settle by law. 2. act as judge; pass judgment. v., ad ju di cat ed, ad ju di cat ing.

ad ju di ca tion (ə jü'də kă'shən), 1. an adjudicating. 2. decision of a judge or court. n.

ad ju di ca tor (ə jü'də kă'tər), person who judges. n.

ad junct (aj'ungkt), something added that is less important or not necessary, but helpful. n.

ad ju ra tion (aj'ü rā'shən), solemn command; earnest appeal. n.

ad jure (ə jür'), 1. command or charge (a person) on oath or under some penalty (to do something). 2. ask earnestly or solemnly: I adjure you to speak the truth. v., ad jured, ad jur ing.

ad just (ə just'), 1. fit or adapt (one thing to another): adjust a seat to the height of a child. 2. regulate for use: adjust a radio dial. 3. arrange satisfactorily; set right; settle: adjust a difference of opinion. 4. accommodate oneself; get used: He soon adjusted to army life. v. —ad just'a ble, adj. —ad just'er, ad jus'tor, n.

ad just ment (ə just'mənt), 1. act or process of adjusting: The adjustment of the seats to the right height for the children was necessary for their comfort. 2. the orderly arrangement of parts or elements. 3. means of adjusting: Our radio has an adjustment so that we can make the tone loud or soft. 4. settlement of a dispute, a claim, etc. n.

ad ju tant (aj'ə tənt), 1. army officer who assists a commanding officer by sending out orders, writing letters, giving messages, etc. 2. helper; assistant. 3. a very large species of stork of India and Africa. 4. helping. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

ad lib (ad lib'), Informal. make up as one goes along; extemporize freely. v., ad libbed, ad lib bing.

Adm., Admiral.

ad min is ter (ad min'is tər), 1. manage the affairs of (a business, a city, etc.); control in behalf of others; direct: The Secretary of the Interior administers a department of the government. A housekeeper administers a household. 2. give (to); apply; dispense: A doctor administers medicine to sick people. Judges administer justice and punishment. 3. offer or tender (an oath). 4. settle or take charge of (an estate). 5. act as administrator. 6. be helpful; add something; contribute: administer to a person's comfort or pleasure. v.

ad min is tra tion (ad min'is trā'shən), 1. the managing of a business, office, etc.; management. 2. group of persons in charge: the administration of a university. 3. management of public affairs by government officials. 4. the officials as a group; the government. 5. the period of office of these officials. 6. Usually, the Administration. U.S. the President of the United States and his Cabinet. 7. U.S. the term or terms during which a President holds office. 8. a giving out, applying, or dispensing (of medicine, justice, etc.). n.

ad min is tra tive (ad min'is trā'tiv), having to do with administration; managing; executive. adj. —ad-min'is tra'tive ly, adv.

ad min is tra tor (ad min'is trā'tər), 1. person who administers. 2. person appointed by a court to take charge of or settle the estate of someone who has died. n.

ad mi ra ble (ad'mə rə bl), 1. worth admiring. 2. excellent; very good. adj. —ad'mi ra ble ness, n. —ad'mi ra bly, adv.

ad mi ral (ad'mə rəl), 1. commander in chief of a fleet. 2. naval officer having the highest rank. 3. admiral, vice-admiral, or rear admiral. n.

ad mi ral ty (ad'mə rəl tē), 1. law or court dealing with affairs of the sea and ships. 2. in England, the government department in charge of naval affairs. n., pl. ad mi ral ties.

ad mi ra tion (ad'mə rā'shən), 1. a feeling of wonder, pleasure, and approval; delight or satisfaction at something fine or beautiful or well done. 2. act of regarding with delight (something fine or beautiful): They paused in admiration of the beautiful view. 3. person or thing that is admired (now used only in the phrase the admiration of): Helen's beautiful new dress was the admiration of all her friends. n.

ad mire (ad mīr'), 1. regard with wonder, approval, and delight: I admire your bravery. 2. feel or express admiration of: He forgot to admire my dog. v., ad mired, ad mir ing.

ad mir er (ad mīr'ər), 1. person who admires. 2. man who is in love with a woman; suitor. n.

ad mir ing (ad mīr'ing), full of admiration. adj. —ad mir'ing ly, adv.

ad mis si bil i ty (ad mis'ə bil'ə tē), quality or state of being admissible. n.

ad mis si ble (ad mis'ə bl), 1. that can be permitted; allowable: Is it admissible to smoke here? 2. having the right to enter or use (a position, occupation, group, place, etc.): Only adults are admissible to this club. 3. that can be considered as evidence or proof. adj. —ad mis'si ble ness, n. —ad mis'si bly, adv.

Adjutant (def.3)
(5 ft. high)

admission (ad mish'ən), 1. act of allowing (a person, animal, etc.) to enter; entrance: admission of aliens into a country. 2. power or right to enter or use an office, place, etc. 3. price paid for the right to enter. 4. an acknowledging: Tom's admission that he was to blame kept the others from being punished. 5. fact or point acknowledged; something accepted as true or valid. n.
admit (ad mit'), 1. say (something) is real or true; acknowledge: I admit my mistake. 2. accept as true or valid. 3. allow to enter or use; let in. 4. give the right to enter to: This ticket admits one person. 5. make allowance (for); leave room (for); be capable (of): His answer admits of no reply. 6. allow; permit. v., admit ted, admit ting.
admit to the bar, in the United States, give authority to practice law.

admittance (ad mit'ns), 1. the right to enter; permission to enter: The reporter had admittance to all theaters free of charge. 2. act of admitting. n.

admittedly (ad mit'id lē), without denial; by general consent. adv.

admix (ad miks'), add in mixing; mix in. v.

admixture (ad miks'chər), 1. act of mixing; mixture. 2. anything added in mixing. n.

admonish (ad mon'ish), warn or advise (a person) about his faults in order that he may be guided to improve: The policeman admonished him not to drive too fast. The teacher admonished the student for his careless work. v. —admon'ish er, n. —admon'ish ment, n.

admonition (ad'mə nish'ən), advice concerning the faults a person has shown or may show; warning. n.

admonitory (ad mon'ə tō'rē), admonishing; warning. adj.

ado (ə dü'), action; stir; fuss; trouble: There was much ado about the party by all the family. Alice made a great ado because her dress did not fit. n.

adobe (ə dō'bē), 1. sun-dried clay or mud. 2. a brick or bricklike piece of such material, used in building. 3. built or made of sun-dried bricks. Many people in Southwestern United States and in Mexico live in adobe houses. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Adobe house

adolescence (ad'ə les'ns), 1. growth from childhood to manhood or womanhood. 2. period or time of this growth; youth. n.

adolescent (ad'ə les'nt), 1. person from about 12 to about 22 years of age. 2. growing up from childhood to manhood or womanhood. 3. of or characteristic of adolescents. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

adonis (ə don'is or ə dō'nis), 1. in Greek mythology, a handsome young man who was loved by Aphrodite. 2. a handsome young man. n.

adopt (ə dopt'), 1. take for one's own; take as one's own choice: I liked your idea and adopted it. 2. accept formally: The club adopted the motion by a vote of 20 to 5. 3. take (a child of other parents) legally and bring up as one's own. v.

adoption (ə dop'shən), 1. an adopting: The teachers are talking about the adoption of a new course of study for the high school. 2. being adopted: Joe's adoption by his aunt changed the boy's whole life. n.

adoptive (ə dop'tiv), 1. tending to adopt. 2. related by adoption. adj. —a dop'tive ly, adv.

adorable (ə dōr'ə bl), 1. worthy of being adored. 2. informal. lovely; delightful. adj. —a dor'a bly, adv.

adoration (ad'ə rā'shən), 1. highest respect; devoted love. 2. worship. n.

adore (ə dōr'), 1. respect very highly; love very greatly. 2. informal. like very much. 3. worship. v., a dored, a dor ing. —a dor'ing ly, adv.

adorer (ə dōr'ər), 1. a devoted admirer; lover. 2. worshiper. n.

adorn (ə dōrn'), 1. add beauty to; make greater the splendor or honor of; add distinction to. 2. put ornaments on; decorate. v. —a dorn'er, n.

adornment (ə dōrn'mənt), 1. thing that adds beauty; ornament; decoration. 2. act of adorning: Mary was busy with the adornment of the church. n.

adown (ə doun'), Poetic. down. adv., prep.

adrenal (ə drē'nəl), 1. near or on the kidney. 2. an adrenal gland. 3. of or from the adrenal glands. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

adrenal gland, one of the two ductless glands, one on the upper part of each kidney, that secrete adrenalin; suprarenal gland.

adrenalin or adrenaline (ə dren'lin), hormone secreted by the adrenal glands. n.

Adrianople (ā'drē ən ō'pl), city in the NW part of European Turkey. 34,000. n. The official name is Edirne.

Adriatic (ā'drē at'ik), sea between Italy and Yugoslavia. It is an arm of the Mediterranean. 500 mi. long. n.

adrift (ə drift'), drifting; floating without being guided: Our boat is adrift on the lake. The basketball team was adrift while the coach was sick. adv., adj.

adroit (ə droit'), expert in the use of the hands or the mind; skillful: A good teacher is adroit in asking questions. adj. —a droit'ly, adv. —a droit'ness, n.

adsorb (ad sōrb'), gather (a gas, liquid, or dissolved substance) on a surface in a condensed layer. v.

adsorption (ad sōrp'shən), an adsorbing or being adsorbed. n.

adulate (aj'ə lāt), praise too much; flatter slavishly. v., ad u lat ed, ad u lat ing. —ad'u la'tor, n.

adulation (aj'ə lā'shən), too much praise; slavish flattery. n.

adulatory (aj'ə lə tō'rē), praising too much; slavishly flattering. adj.

adult (ə dult' or ad'ult), 1. having full size and strength; grown-up; full-grown; mature. 2. a grown-up person. 3. any plant or animal grown to full size and strength. 4. of or for adults. 1,4 adj., 2,3 n. —a dult'-ness, n.

adulterant (ə dult'ər ənt), 1. substance used in adulterating. 2. adulterating. 1 n., 2 adj.

adulterate (ə dult'ər āt), make lower in quality by adding inferior materials; make impure by mixing in other substances: adulterate milk with water. v., a dult'er at ed, a dult'er at ing.

adulteration (ə dult'ər ā'shən), 1. act or process of adulterating. 2. an adulterated substance; product that has been adulterated. n.

adulterer (ə dult'ər ər), person, especially a man, guilty of adultery. n.

adulteress (ə dult'ər is), woman guilty of adultery. n.

adulterous (ə dult'ər əs), guilty of adultery. adj.

adultery (ə dult'ər ē), sexual unfaithfulness of a husband or wife. n., pl. a dult'er ies.

adv., 1. adverb. 2. advertisement.

ad valorem (ad və lō'rəm), (of merchandise) in proportion to the value: an ad valorem tax.

advance (ad vāns'), 1. move forward; go forward: The troops advanced. 2. bring forward: The troops were advanced. 3. movement forward: The army's advance was very slow. 4. going before: the advance guard. 5. make progress; improve: We advance in knowledge. 6. a step forward; progress: a great advance in our understanding of the laws of physics. 7. help forward; further: advance the cause of peace. 8. put forward; suggest: advance an opinion. 9. raise to a higher rank; promote: advance him from lieutenant to captain. 10. rise in rank; be promoted: advance in one's profession. 11. raise (prices): advance the price of milk. 12. rise in price: The stock advanced three points. 13. make earlier; hasten: advance the time of the meeting. 14. supply beforehand: advance a salesman funds for expenses. 15. ahead of time. 16. the furnishing of money or goods before they are due or as a loan. 17. the money or goods furnished. 1,2,5,7-14 v., ad vanced, ad vanc ing; 3,6,12, 16,17 n., 4,15 adj.

advances, personal approaches toward another or others to settle a difference, to make an acquaintance, etc.

in advance, 1. in front; ahead. 2. ahead of time.

ad vanced (ad vanst'), 1. in front of others; forward: an advanced theory of the composition of the atom. 2. ahead of most others in progress, ideas, etc.: The advanced class has studied English three years. 3. far along in life; very old: the advanced age of ninety years. adj. ad vance ment (ad vans'mənt), 1. movement forward; advance. 2. progress; improvement. 3. promotion. n.

ad van tage (ad van'tij), 1. any favorable condition, circumstance, or opportunity; means helpful in getting something desired: Good health is always a great advantage. 2. better or superior position: She has the advantage of Mrs. Allen, who has no money at all. 3. the result of a better position: The boy who can think for himself has an advantage when he begins to work. 4. give an advantage to; help; benefit. 5. the first point scored in a tennis game after deuce. 1-3,5 n., 4 v., ad van taged, ad van tag ing.

take advantage of, 1. use to help or benefit oneself: Take advantage of your illness to catch up on your reading. 2. impose upon: Don't take advantage of me by asking me to run errands on such a hot day.

to advantage, to a good effect; with a useful effect.

ad van ta geous (ad'van tā'jəs), giving advantage; favorable; helpful; profitable: This advantageous position commands three roads. adj. —ad'van ta'geous ly, adv. —ad'van ta'geous ness, n.

ad vent (ad'vent), coming; arrival: The advent of spring was a time for festivals in ancient days. n.

Ad vent (ad'vent), 1. the birth of Christ. 2. the season of devotion including the four Sundays before Christmas. 3. the second coming of Christ at the Last Judgment. n.

Ad vent ist (ad'ven tist), member of a Christian denomination that believes that the second coming of Christ is near at hand. n.

ad ven ti tious (ad'ven tish'əs), coming from outside; additional; accidental: The romantic life of the author gives his book an adventitious interest. adj. —ad'ven ti'tious ly, adv. —ad'ven ti'tious ness, n.

ad ven ture (ad ven'chər), 1. an unusual or exciting experience: The trip to Florida was an adventure for her. 2. a bold and difficult undertaking, usually exciting and somewhat dangerous: Sailing across the Pacific on a raft was a daring adventure. 3. seeking excitement or danger: spirit of adventure. 4. a business undertaking; commercial speculation. 5. risk. 6. dare. 7. venture. 1-4 n., 5-7 v., ad ven tured, ad ven tur ing.

ad ven tur er (ad ven'chər ər), 1. person who seeks or has adventures. 2. soldier ready to serve in any army that will hire him. 3. person who lives by his wits; person who schemes to get money, social position, etc. 4. speculator. n.

ad ven ture some (ad ven'chər səm), bold and daring; adventurous. adj.

ad ven tur ess (ad ven'chər is), 1. woman who schemes to get money, social position, etc. 2. woman adventurer. n.

ad ven tur ous (ad ven'chər əs), 1. fond of adventures; ready to take risks; daring: a bold, adventurous explorer. 2. full of risk; dangerous: An expedition to the North Pole is an adventurous undertaking. adj. —ad ven'tur ous ly, adv. —ad ven'tur ous ness, n.

ad verb (ad'verb), word that extends or limits the meaning of verbs (She sings well) but is also used to qualify adjectives (She is very pretty) or other adverbs (She sings quite well), especially as to place, time, manner, or degree. Soon, here, very, gladly, and not are adverbs. Most adverbs are adjectives or participles plus the ending -ly: He rowed badly. She was deservedly popular. Some adverbs have the same forms as adjectives, such as cheap, close, deep, loud, much, wrong. n.

ad ver bi al (ad vēr'bē əl), 1. of an adverb. 2. used as an adverb. adj.

ad ver bi al ly (ad vēr'bē əl ē), as an adverb. adv.

ad ver sar y (ad'vær ser'ē), 1. person opposing or resisting another person; enemy. 2. person or group on the other side in a contest. n., pl. ad ver sar ies.

ad verse (ad vēr's'), 1. unfriendly in purpose; hostile: adverse criticism. 2. unfavorable; harmful: Dirt and disease are adverse to the best growth of children. 3. acting in a contrary direction; opposing: Adverse winds hinder ships. adj. —ad verse'ly, adv. —ad verse'ness, n.

ad ver si ty (ad vēr'sə tē), 1. condition of unhappiness, misfortune, or distress. 2. stroke of misfortune; unfavorable or harmful thing or event. n., pl. ad ver si ties.

ad vert (ad vēr't'), direct attention; refer (to) in speaking or writing: The speaker adverted to the need for more parks. v.

ad ver tise (ad'vær tīz), 1. give public notice of in a newspaper, over the radio, etc.: When people lose something valuable, they advertise it in the newspaper. 2. ask by public notice (for): advertise for a job. 3. make generally known. 4. inform: We have advertised our correspondents in South America of our new process. 5. praise the good qualities of (a product, etc.) in order to promote sales: Manufacturers advertise things that they wish to sell. 6. issue advertising: It pays to advertise. 7. call attention to (oneself). v., ad ver tised, ad ver tis ing.

ad ver tise ment (ad'vær tīz'mənt or ad vēr'tis-mənt), a public notice or announcement, as in a newspaper or magazine, or over the radio: The store has an advertisement in the newspaper of a special sale. n.

ad ver tis er (ad'vær tīz'ər), one who advertises. n.

ad ver tis ing (ad'vær tīz'ing), 1. business of preparing, publishing, or circulating advertisements. 2. advertisements. n.

ad vice (ad vīs'), 1. opinion about what should be done: Take the doctor's advice. 2. information; news: advices from the battle front. n.

ad vis a bil i ty (ad vīz'ə bil'ə tē), quality of being advisable; propriety; expediency. n.

ad vis a ble (ad vīz'ə bl), to be recommended; wise; sensible: It is not advisable for him to go while he is still sick. adj. —ad vis'a bly, adv.

ad vise (ad vīz'), 1. give advice to: Advise him to be cautious. 2. give advice: I shall act as you advise. 3. give notice; inform (often with of): We were advised of the dangers before we began our trip. 4. talk over plans; consult (with): Before buying a house, he advised with his friends who owned houses. v., ad vis ed, ad vis ing.

ad vis ed (ad vīzd'), planned; considered; thought-out. adj.

ad vis ed ly (ad vīz'id lē), after careful consideration; deliberately. adv.

ad vise ment (ad vīz'mənt), careful consideration: The lawyer took our case under advisement and said he would give us an answer in two weeks. n.

ad vis er or ad vi sor (ad vīz'ər), 1. person who gives advice. 2. teacher appointed to advise students. n.

ad vi so ry (ad vī'zə rē), 1. having power to advise. 2. containing advice. adj. —ad vi'so ri ly, adv.

ad vo ca cy (ad'və kə sē), speaking in favor; public recommendation; support: The President's advocacy of the plan got votes for it. n.

ad vo cate (ad/və kāt for 1; ad/və kit or ad/və kāt for 2,3), 1. speak in favor of; recommend publicly: He advocates building more schools. 2. person who pleads or argues for; supporter: Mr. Smith is an advocate of better school buildings. 3. lawyer who pleads in a law court. 1 v., ad vo cat ed, ad vo cat ing; 2,3 n. —ad/vo ca'tion, n. —ad/vo-ca'tor, n.

Man using an adz

adv't., advertisement.

adz or adze (adz), tool somewhat like an ax but with a blade set across the end of the handle and curving inward. n.

AEC or A.E.C., Atomic Energy Commission.

A.E.F., American Expeditionary Forces, soldiers sent to Europe by the United States during World War I.

Aege an (i jē'an), 1. sea E of Greece. 400 mi. long; 200 mi. wide. 2. of or in this sea. 1 n., 2 adj.

ae gis (ē'jis), 1. shield or breastplate used by the Greek god Zeus or by his daughter Athena. 2. protection. n. Also, egis.

Aene as (i nē'əs), in Greek and Roman legend, a Trojan hero, son of Anchises and Venus. He escaped from burning Troy, carrying his father and leading his little son. After years of wandering he reached Italy, where his descendants founded Rome. n.

Aene id (i nē'id), a Latin epic poem written by Vergil, describing the wanderings of Aeneas. n.

Ae o lus (ē'ə ləs), the Greek god of the winds. n.

ae on (ē'an), a very long period of time; many thousands of years: Aeons passed before life existed on the earth. n. Also, eon.

aer ate (ār'āt), 1. expose to air. 2. expose to and mix with air. Water in some reservoirs is aerated by being tossed high into the air in a fine spray. 3. fill with a gas. Soda water is water that has been aerated with carbon dioxide. 4. expose to chemical action with oxygen. Blood is aerated in the lungs. v., aer at ed, aer at ing. —aer a'tion, n.

aer a tor (ār'ā tər), device or apparatus that charges or supplies with air. Aerators often spray water into the air so that the water can absorb more oxygen. n.

aer i al (ār'ē əl), 1. in the air. 2. of or having to do with the air. 3. like air; thin and light as air. 4. ideal; imaginary. 5. relating to aircraft in any way. 6. a wire or wires used in radio or television for sending out or receiving electric waves. 1-5 adj., 6 n. —aer'i al ly, adv.

aer ie or aer y (ār'ē or ir'ē), 1. the lofty nest of an eagle or other bird of prey. 2. young eagles or the young of other birds of prey. 3. house, castle, etc., built in a high place. n., pl. aer ies. Also, eyrie, eyry.

aer o bic (ār ō'bik), 1. living and growing only where there is oxygen. Some bacteria are aerobic. 2. having to do with or caused by such bacteria. adj.

aer o dy nam ics (ār ō dī nam'iks), the branch of physics that deals with the forces exerted by air or other gases in motion. n.

aer o naut (ār'ə nōt), pilot of an airship or balloon; balloonist. n.

aer o nau tic (ār'ə nō'tik), of aeronautics or aeronauts. adj. —aer'o nau'ti cal ly, adv.

aer o nau ti cal (ār'ə nō'tə kl), aeronautical. adj.

aer o nau tics (ār'ə nō'tiks), science or art having to do with the design, manufacture, and operation of aircraft. n.

aer o plane (ār'ə plān), Esp. Bril. airplane. n.

aer o sol bomb (ār'ə sol or ār'ə söl), a metal container having insecticide, cosmetic, or other product, under pressure, that may be released as a spray.

aer o space (ār'ə spās), 1. envelope of air around the earth and the space enclosing the air. 2. the science of outer space, especially of rocket flight in it. n.

Aes cu la pi us (es'kyə lā'pē əs), the Roman god of medicine and healing. n.

Ae sop (ē'səp), 620?-560? B.C., Greek writer of fables. n.

aes thete (es'thēt), 1. person who pretends to care a great deal about beauty; person who gives too much attention to beauty. 2. person who is sensitive to beauty; lover of beauty. n. Also, esthete.

aes thet ic (es'thet'ik), 1. having to do with the beautiful, as distinguished from the useful, scientific, etc. 2. (of persons) sensitive to beauty. 3. (of things) pleasing; artistic. adj. Also, esthetic.

aes thet i cal ly (es'thet'ik lē), 1. in an aesthetic manner. 2. according to aesthetics. adv.

aes thet ics (es'thet'iks), study of beauty in art and nature; philosophy of beauty; theory of the fine arts. n. Also, esthetics.

aes ti vate (es'tə vāt), estimate. v., aes ti vat ed, aes ti vat ing.

aet. or aetat., at the age of.

ae ther (ē'thər), 1. the upper regions of space beyond the earth's atmosphere. 2. an invisible elastic medium formerly supposed to be distributed through all space and to conduct light waves, electric waves, etc. n. Also, ether.

ae the re al (i thir'ē əl), ethereal. adj.

Aet na (et'nə), Mount. See Etna, Mount. n.

A.F. or a.f., audio frequency.

a far (ə fār'), far; far away; far off; from a distance: see from afar. adv.

a feared or a feared (ə fird'), Archaic or Dialect. frightened; afraid. adj.

af fa bil i ty (af'ə bil'ə tē), quality of being easy to talk to; courteous and pleasant ways. n.

af fa ble (af'ə bl), easy to talk to; courteous and pleasant. adj. —af'fa ble ness, n. —af'fa bly, adv.

af fair (ə fār'), 1. anything done or to be done; job; business: The President has many affairs to look after. 2. a particular action or event (referred to in vague terms): The party on Saturday was a jolly affair. 3. private concern: That's my affair. 4. thing: This machine is a complicated affair. 5. a romance. n.

affairs, matters of interest, especially business matters.

affair of honor, duel.

af fect¹ (ə fekt'), 1. produce a result on; have an effect on; act on; influence: The small amount of rain last year affected the growth of crops. The disease affected his mind so that he lost his memory. 2. touch the heart of; stir the emotions of: The stories of starving children so affected him that he spent all his spare money for relief. v.

af fect² (ə fekt'), 1. pretend to have or feel: He affected ignorance of the fight, but we knew that he had seen it. 2. be fond of; like: She affects old furniture. 3. assume, use, or frequent by preference: He affects carelessness in dress. v.

af fec ta tion (af'ek tā'shən), 1. behavior that is not natural: Helen's roughness is an affectation; she really is a quiet, gentle girl. 2. outward appearance; pretense: an affectation of ignorance. n.

af fect ed¹ (ə fekt'id), 1. acted on; influenced. 2. influenced injuriously. 3. touched in the heart; moved in feeling. adj.

af fect ed² (ə fekt'id), 1. put on for effect; unnatural; pretended: an affected welcome. 2. behaving, speaking, writing, etc., unnaturally for effect; artificial: an affected voice. adj. —af fect'ed ly, adv.

af fect ing (ə fekt'ing), causing emotion; touching the heart; moving the feelings: The poor man told an affecting story of hunger and suffering. adj. —af fect'ing ly, adv.

af fec tion (ə fekt'shən), 1. friendly feeling; fondness; tenderness; love. 2. feeling; inclination. 3. disease; unhealthy condition. n.

af fec tion ate (ə fɛkʹʃən it), loving; tender; having or showing affection. adj. —af fec tion ate ly, adv.
af fec tive (ə fɛkʹtɪv), of the feelings; emotional. adj.
af fer ent (afʹər ənt), of nerves or blood vessels, carrying inward to a central organ or point (opposed to effluent). adj.

af fi ance (ə fiʹəns), 1. promise in marriage; betrothal. 2. the pledging of faith; betrothal. 3. trust; confidence. 1 v., af fi anced, af fi ancing; 2,3 n.

af fi anced (ə fiʹənst), promised in marriage; engaged; betrothed. adj.

af fi da vit (afʹə dāʹvit), statement written down and sworn to be true. An affidavit is usually made before a judge or notary public. n.

af fi li ate (ə fiʹlē āt for 1, 2; ə fiʹlē it or ə fiʹlē āt for 3), 1. connect in close association: The two clubs did not have the same members, but they were affiliated with each other. 2. associate oneself (with): affiliate with a political party. 3. organization or group associated with other similar bodies. 1,2 v., af fi li at ed, af fi li at ing; 3 n.

af fi li a tion (ə fiʹlē āʹshən), association; relation. n.
af fin i ty (ə finʹə tē), 1. natural attraction to a person or liking for a thing: an affinity for dancing. 2. person to whom one is especially attracted. 3. relationship by marriage. 4. relation; connection. 5. resemblance; likeness. n., pl. af fin i ties.

af firm (ə fɛrmʹ), 1. declare to be true; say firmly; assert: The Bible affirms that God is love. 2. confirm; ratify: The higher court affirmed the lower court's decision. 3. declare solemnly, but without taking an oath. v.

af fir ma tion (afʹər māʹshən), 1. a solemn declaration made without taking an oath. If a person's religion forbids him to take an oath, he can make an affirmation. 2. assertion; positive statement. n.

af firm a tive (ə fɛrʹmə tiv), 1. stating that a fact is so; saying yes: His answer was affirmative. 2. word or statement that gives assent or agrees. 1 adj., 2 n. —af firm a tive ly, adv.

the affirmative, the side arguing in favor of a question being debated.

af fix (ə fikʹs for 1,2,5,6; əfikʹs for 3,4), 1. make firm or fix (one thing to or on another): Joan always affixes Christmas seals to her cards. 2. add at the end. 3. thing affixed. 4. a syllable or syllables added to the stem or base of a word to modify the meaning; prefix or suffix. Un- and -ly are affixes. 5. make an impression of (a seal, etc.). 6. connect with; attach: affix blame for the accident. 1,2,5,6 v., 3,4 n. —af fix er, n.

af fla tus (ə flāʹtəs), inspiration. n.

af flict (ə fikʹtʹ), cause pain to; trouble greatly; distress: be afflicted with troubles. v.

af flic tion (ə fikʹʃən), 1. state of pain or distress. 2. cause of pain, trouble, or distress; misfortune. n.

af flic tive (ə fikʹtiv), causing misery or pain. adj.

af flu ence (afʹlū əns), 1. wealth; riches: America is a country of great affluence. 2. abundant supply; great abundance: We have had an affluence of rain this month. n.

af flu ent (afʹlū ənt), 1. very wealthy. 2. abundant; plentiful. 3. stream flowing into a larger stream, lake, etc. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —af flu ent ly, adv.

af flux (afʹluks), a flow toward a place. n.

af ford (ə fɔrdʹ), 1. spare the money for: We can't afford a new car. 2. manage to give, spare, have, etc.: Can you afford the time? 3. be able without difficulty; have the means: I can't afford to take a chance. 4. furnish from natural resources; yield: Some trees afford resin. 5. yield or give as an effect or a result; provide: Reading affords pleasure. v.

af for est (ə fɔrʹist), change (land) into forest. v.

af fray (ə frāʹ), a noisy quarrel; fight in public. n.

af front (ə fruntʹ), 1. insult openly; offend purposely: The boy affronted the teacher by making a face at her. 2. a word or act that openly expresses intentional disrespect: To be called a coward is an affront to a manly boy.

3. offend the modesty or self-respect of: The people of the village were affronted by the superior airs of the wealthy newcomer. 4. a slight or injury to one's dignity. 5. meet face to face; confront. 1,3,5 v., 2,4 n.

Afghan (afʹgən or afʹgan), 1. native of Afghanistan. 2. of Afghanistan or its people. 1 n., 2 adj.

afghan (afʹgən or afʹgan), blanket or shawl made of knitted or crocheted wool. n.

Afghan i stan (af ganʹə stan), country in SW Asia. 13,000,000 pop.; 250,000 sq. mi. Capital: Kabul. n.

a fi cio na do (ə fēʹsyə nāʹdō; Spanish ā fēʹthyō nāʹdō), 1. person who takes a very great interest in bullfighting, but who is never himself a bullfighter. 2. person who is very enthusiastic about anything. n., pl. a fi cio na dos.

a field (ə fēldʹ), 1. on or in the field; to the field.

2. away from home; away. 3. out of the way; astray. adv.

a fire (ə firʹ), on fire; burning. adv., adj.

AFL, A.F. of L., or A.F.L., American Federation of Labor, a group of trade unions.

a flame (ə flāmʹ), in flames; on fire. adv., adj.

AFL-CIO labor organization, made up of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations, merged in 1955. The unions in the AFL are organized according to crafts (carpenters, machinists); in the CIO they are organized according to industries (auto workers, electrical workers).

a float (ə flōtʹ), 1. floating. 2. on shipboard; at sea: On the trip around the world, we were afloat 60 days and ashore 30 days. 3. flooded: After the rain, our cellar was afloat. 4. going around: Rumors of a revolt were afloat. adv., adj.

a flut ter (ə flutʹər), fluttering; in a flutter. adv., adj.

a foot (ə fūtʹ), 1. on foot; walking: Did you come all the way afoot? 2. going on; in progress: Preparations for dinner were afoot in the kitchen. adv., adj.

a fore (ə fɔrʹ), Archaic and Dialect. before. adv., prep., conj.

a fore men tioned (ə fɔrʹmenʹshənd), spoken of before; mentioned above. adj.

a fore said (ə fɔrʹsedʹ), spoken of before. adj.

a fore thought (ə fɔrʹthōtʹ), thought of beforehand; deliberately planned. adj.

a foul (ə fəulʹ), in a tangle; in a collision. adv., adj.

run afoul of, get into difficulties with.

a fraid (ə frādʹ), feeling fear; frightened: Alice is afraid of the dark. adj.

a fresh (ə freshʹ), once more; again. adv.

Af ri ca (afʹrə kə), the continent south of Europe. It is the second largest continent. 235,000,000 pop.; 11,600,000 sq. mi. n.

Af ri can (afʹrə kən), 1. of or having to do with Africa; from Africa. 2. Negro. 3. a native of Africa. 4. a Negro. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

Af ri kaans (afʹrə kānsʹ or afʹrə kānzʹ), a dialect of Dutch spoken in South Africa; South African Dutch. n.

aft (aft), at, near, or toward the stern; abaft. adv.

after (afʹtər), 1. behind in place: The soldiers marched in line one after another. 2. behind; follow after. 3. next to; following: day after day. 4. in pursuit of; in search of: The dog ran after the rabbit. 5. later than the time that: After he goes, we shall eat. 6. later in time than: After dinner we can go. 7. later: three hours after (adv.). In after years he regretted the mistakes of his boyhood (adj.). 8. about; concerning: Your aunt asked after you. 9. because of: After the selfish way she acted, who could like her? 10. imitating; in imitation of: He wrote a fable after the manner of Aesop. 11. lower in rank or importance than: A captain comes after a general. 12. for: named after his cousin. 1,3,4,6,8-12 prep., 2,7, adv., 5 conj., 7 adj.

after burn er (af'tər bər'nər), in the engine of a jet plane, a device which supplies additional fuel to the exhaust and reignites it, thus increasing the thrust of the plane so that bursts of very high speed can be obtained. n.

after deck (af'tər dek'), deck toward or at the stern of a ship. n.

after glow (af'tər glō'), 1. glow after something bright has gone. 2. glow in the sky after sunset. n.

after math (af'tər math), 1. result; consequence: The aftermath of war is hunger and disease. 2. crop gathered after the first crop. n.

after most (af'tər mōst), 1. nearest the stern of a ship. 2. hindmost; last. adj.

after noon (af'tər nūn' for 1; af'tər nūn' for 2), 1. the part of the day between noon and evening. 2. of, in, or suitable for the afternoon. 1 n., 2 adj.

after thought (af'tər thōt'), 1. thought that comes after the time when it could have been used. 2. later thought or explanation. n.

after ward (af'tər wərd), later. adv.

after wards (af'tər wərdz), afterward; later. adv.

a gain (ə gen'), 1. once more; another time: try again. 2. in return; in reply: answer again. 3. moreover; besides: again, I must say. adv.

as much again, twice as much; twice as many.

a gainst (ə genst'), 1. upon; toward: Rain beats against the window. We will sail against the wind. 2. in opposition to: The dogs fought against the bear. 3. directly opposite to; facing: over against the wall. 4. in contact with: lean against a wall. 5. in preparation for: Squirrels store up nuts against the winter. 6. in defense from: A fire is a protection against cold. prep.

Ag a mem non (ag'ə mem'nən), in Greek legend, the leader of the Greeks in the Trojan War. He was the brother of Menelaus and the husband of Clytemnestra. n.

A ga ña (ä gän'yə), capital of Guam. 2000. n.

a gape (ə gäp') 1. gaping; with the mouth wide open in wonder or surprise. 2. wide open. adv., adj.

a gar-a gar (ä'gər ä'gər), a gelatinlike extract obtained from certain seaweeds, used in making cultures for bacteria, fungi, etc., and as a glue. n.

Ag as siz (ag'ə sē), (Jean) Louis (Rodolphe), 1807-1873, American zoologist and geologist, born in Switzerland. n.

ag ate (ag'it), 1. a stone with variously colored stripes or clouded colors; a kind of quartz. 2. a playing marble that looks like this. n. —ag'ate like', adj.

a ga ve (ə gä've), any of several North American desert plants (the century plant, sisal, etc.). Soap, alcoholic drinks, and rope are made from some kinds of agave. See the picture of century plant, the commonest kind of agave. n.

age (āj), 1. length of life: He died at the age of eighty. 2. period in life: middle age. 3. latter part of life: the wisdom of age. 4. the full or average term of life: The age of a horse is from 25 to 30 years. 5. a period in history: the golden age, the atomic age. 6. generation: ages yet unborn. 7. Informal. a long time: I haven't seen you for an age. 8. grow old: He aged rapidly. 9. make old: age wine. 1-7 n., 8,9 v., aged, aging or age ing.

of age, in the United States, 21 years old or over and having full legal rights.

-age, suffix meaning:

1. act of: Breakage = act of breaking.
2. collection of; group of: Baggage = a group of bags.
3. condition of; rank of: Peerage = rank of peers.
4. cost of: Postage = cost of posting.
5. home of: Orphanage = home of orphans.

a ged (ā'jid for 1; ājd for 2), 1. having lived a long time; old: The aged woman was wrinkled and bent. 2. of the age of: A child aged six is six years old. adj.

age less (āj'lis), never growing old: The ageless wisdom of the Bible. adj.

age long (āj'lōng'), lasting a long time. adj.

a gen cy (ā'jən sē), 1. means; action: Snow is drifted by the agency of the wind. 2. business of a person or company that has the authority to act for another: An agency rented my father's house for him. n., pl. a gen cies.

a gen da (ə jen'də), 1. things to be done. 2. list of things to be done: The chairman's agenda gave the members of the club an opportunity to acquaint themselves in advance with matters to be discussed. 1 n.pl., 2 n.pl. or sing.

a gent (ā'jent), 1. person or company that has the authority to act for another: I made my brother my agent while I was out of the city. 2. person who does things. 3. any active power or cause that produces an effect: Heat and electricity are important agents in the life of today. 4. means; instrument. n.

ag er a tum (aj'ər ā'təm), a plant with small, dense flower heads, usually blue, sometimes white. n.

ag glom er ate (ə glom'ər āt for 1; ə glom'ər it or ə glom'ər āt for 2,3), 1. gather together in a mass; cluster together. 2. mass; collection; cluster. 3. packed together in a mass. 1 v., ag glom er at ed, ag glom er at ing; 2 n., 3 adj.

ag glom er a tion (ə glom'ər ā'shən), mass of things gathered or clustered together. n.

ag gran dize (ə gran'diz or ag'rən dīz), increase in power, wealth, rank, etc.; make greater: The dictator sought to aggrandize himself at the expense of his people. v., ag gran dized, ag gran diz ing. —ag gran'diz er, n.

ag gran dize ment (ə gran'diz mant), increase in power, wealth, rank, etc.; making greater. n.

ag gra vate (ag'rə vāt), 1. make worse or more severe: His bad temper was aggravated by his headache. 2. Informal. annoy; irritate; provoke: The whispering in class aggravated our teacher. v., ag gra vat ed, ag gra vat ing. —ag'gra vat'ing ly, adv.

ag gra va tion (ag'rə vā'shən), 1. a making worse or more severe. 2. being made worse or more severe. 3. thing that aggravates. n.

ag gre gate (ag'rə gāt for 1,4; ag'rə git or ag'rə gāt for 2,3,5), 1. gather together in a mass or group; collect; unite: Granite is made of small particles aggregated together. 2. mass of separate things joined together; collection. 3. gathered together in one mass or group. 4. amount to: The money collected will aggregate $1000. 5. total: The aggregate of all the gifts was $100. 1,4 v., ag gre gat ed, ag gre gat ing; 2,5 n., 3,5 adj. —ag'gre gate ly, adv.

in the aggregate, together; as a whole.

ag gre ga tion (ag'rə gā'shən), collection of separate things into one mass or whole. n.

ag gres sion (ə gresh'ən), 1. first step in an attack or quarrel; an unprovoked attack. 2. practice of making assaults or attacks. n.

ag gres sive (ə gres'iv), 1. taking the first step in an attack or quarrel; attacking; quarrelsome: An aggressive country is always ready to start a war. 2. U.S. active; energetic: The police are making an aggressive campaign against crime. adj. —ag gres'sive ly, adv. —ag gres'sive ness, n.

ag gres sor (ə gres'ər), one that begins an attack or quarrel. n.

ag grieve (ə grēv'), injure unjustly; cause grief or trouble to: He was aggrieved at the insult from his friend. v., ag grieved, ag grieve ing.

ag grieved (ə grēvd'), feeling unjustly treated; grieved, troubled, or distressed. adj.

Agate (def. 1), polished, showing stripes.

a ghaſt (ə ɡaſt/), filled with horror; frightened; terrified. adj.

ag ile (aɪ/əl), moving quickly and easily; active; lively; nimble: An acrobat has to be agile. You need an agile mind to solve puzzles. adj. —ag'ile ly, adv. —ag'ile-ness, n.

a gil i ty (ə ɹil/ə tē), ability to move quickly and easily; activeness; liveliness; nimbleness. n.

Ag in court (aɪ/ɪn kɔrt/), village in N France, near Calais. The English won a famous victory over the French there in 1415. n.

ag i tate (aɪ/ə tāt/), 1. move or shake: The slightest wind will agitate the leaves of some trees. 2. disturb; excite (the feelings or the thoughts of): She was much agitated by the news of her brother's death. 3. argue about; discuss vigorously. 4. keep arguing about and discussing a matter to arouse public interest: Antislavery leaders agitated the question of slavery for many years. v., ag i tated, ag i tat ing. —ag'it at'ed ly, adv.

ag i ta tion (aɪ/ə tāt'shən), 1. a moving or shaking, usually violently. 2. a disturbed, upset, or troubled state. 3. persistent urging of a cause before the public; discussion; debate: There was much agitation for and against slavery before the Civil War. n.

ag i ta tor (aɪ/ə tāt'tər), 1. person who tries to make people discontented with things as they are. 2. device for shaking or stirring. n.

a gleam (ə ɡlēm/), gleaming. adv., adj.

a glit ter (ə ɡlit'ər), glittering. adv., adj.

a glow (ə ɡlō/), glowing; in a glow: The baby's cheeks were aglow with health. adv., adj.

ag nos tic (ag nos'tik/), person who believes that nothing is known or can be known about the existence of God or about things outside of human experience. n.

ag nos ti cism (ag nos'tə siz əm/), the belief or intellectual attitude of agnostics. n.

a go (ə ɡō/), 1. gone by; past: I met her two years ago. 2. in the past: Adam lived long ago. 1 adj., 2 adv.

a gog (ə ɡog'/), 1. eager; curious; excited. 2. with eagerness, curiosity, or excitement. 1 adj., 2 adv.

ag o nize (ag'ə nīz/), 1. feel great anguish. 2. cause to suffer extreme pain; torture. 3. struggle. v., ag o nized, ag o niz ing.

ag o niz ing (ag'ə nīz'ing/), causing great pain or suffering. adj. —ag'o niz'ing ly, adv.

ag o ny (ag'ə nē/), 1. great pain or suffering. 2. the last struggle before death. n., pl. ag o nies.

a gou ti (ə ɡū'tē/), a rodent animal somewhat like a guinea pig but having longer legs. It lives in South America, Central America, and the West Indies. n., pl. a gou tis or a gou ties.

A gra (ā'grə/), city in N India. The Taj Mahal is located there. 376,000. n.

a grar i an (ə ɡrār'ē ən/), 1. having to do with land, its use, or its ownership: Most old countries have had agrarian disputes between landlords and tenants. 2. person who favors a new division of land. 3. for the support and advancement of the interests of farmers. 4. agricultural. 1,3,4 adj., 2 n.

a gree (ə ɡrē/), 1. have the same opinion or opinions: I agree with you. 2. be in harmony; correspond (with): Your story agrees with mine. 3. get along well together: Brothers and sisters don't always agree as well as they should. 4. consent (to): He agreed to accompany us. 5. come to an understanding, especially in settling a dispute: Labor and management agreed on the terms for settling the strike. 6. admit; concede: John agreed that he had been thoughtless. 7. in grammar, have the same number, case, gender, person, etc.: That verb agrees with its subject. v., a greed, a gree ing.

Agouti (total length 18 in.)

agree with, have a good effect on; suit: This food does not agree with me; it makes me sick.

a gree a bil i ty (ə ɡrē'ə bil'ə tē/), quality of being agreeable. n.

a gree a ble (ə ɡrē'ə bl/), 1. pleasant; pleasing: agreeable manners. 2. ready to agree; willing: agreeable to a suggestion. 3. in agreement; suitable (to): music agreeable to the occasion. adj. —a gree'a ble ness, n. —a gree'a bly, adv.

a greed (ə ɡrēd'/), arranged by common consent. adj. a gree ment (ə ɡrē'mənt/), 1. an understanding reached by two or more nations, persons, or groups of persons among themselves. Nations make treaties; certain persons make contracts. Both are agreements. 2. sameness of opinion. 3. harmony; correspondence. 4. correspondence of words with respect to number, case, gender, person, etc. n.

ag ri cul tur al (ag'rə kul'chər əl/), 1. having to do with farming; of agriculture: A hoe is an agricultural tool. The Middle West is an important agricultural region. 2. promoting the interests or the study of agriculture: an agricultural college. adj. —ag'ri cul'tur ally, adv.

ag ri cul tur al ist (ag'rə kul'chər əl ist/), U.S. agriculturist. n.

ag ri cul ture (ag'rə kul'chər/), farming; the raising of crops and livestock; science or art of cultivating the ground. n.

ag ri cul tur ist (ag'rə kul'chər ist/), 1. farmer. 2. an expert in farming. n.

A grip pa (ə ɡrip'ə/), Marcus, 63-12 B.C., Roman general and statesman during the reign of the emperor Augustus. He defeated Antony and Cleopatra in 31 B.C. a gron o my (ə ɡron'ə mē/), science of managing farm land; branch of agriculture dealing with crop production; husbandry. n.

a ground (ə ɡraʊnd'/), on the shore; on the bottom in shallow water: The ship ran aground and stuck in the sand (adv.). It is still aground (adj.). adv., adj.

agt., agent.

a gue (ā'gū/), 1. a malarial fever with chills and sweating that occur at regular intervals. 2. a fit of shivering; chill. n.

A gul has (ə ɡul'əs/), Cape, cape at the southernmost point of Africa. n.

ah (ä/), exclamation of pain, sorrow, regret, pity, admiration, surprise, joy, dislike, contempt, etc. The meaning of ah varies according to the way it is spoken. interj.

a ha (ä hä/), exclamation of triumph, satisfaction, surprise, joy, etc. interj.

A hab (ā'hab/), a king of Israel who was led to the worship of idols by his wife Jezebel. I Kings 16-22. n.

a head (ə hed'/), 1. in front; before: Walk ahead of me. 2. forward; onward: Go ahead with this work. 3. in advance: Jim was ahead of his class in reading. adv., adj. get ahead, U.S. Informal. succeed. get ahead of, surpass; excel.

a hem (ə hem'/), a sound made by coughing or clearing the throat. It is sometimes used to attract attention, express doubt, or gain time. interj.

Ah med a bad or Ah mad a bad (ā'məd ä bād'/), city in W India. 788,000. n.

a hoy (ə hoi'/), a call used by sailors to attract the attention of persons at a distance. When sailors call to a ship, they shout, "Ship ahoy!" interj.

a hun gered (ə hung'gərd/), Archaic. hungry. adj. aid (ād/), 1. give support to; help: The Red Cross aids flood victims. 2. help; support: When my arm was broken, I could not dress without aid. 3. helper; assistant: Ann was my aid in the library for a time. A vacuum cleaner is an aid to housewives. 1 v., 2,3 n.

aide (ād/), aide-de-camp. n.

aide-de-camp (ād'də kəmp'/), an army or navy officer who acts as an assistant to a superior officer. He takes and sends messages and acts as a secretary. n.

pl. aides-de-camp.

ai grette (ā'gret or ā'gret'), tuft of feathers worn as an ornament on the head. n.

ail (āl), 1. be the matter with; trouble: What ails the man? 2. be ill; feel sick: He is ailing. v.

ai lan thus (ā lan'thəs), tree with many leaflets and clusters of small, greenish flowers. The flowers of some ailanthus trees have a disagreeable odor. n.

ai ler on (ā'lər on), a movable part of an airplane wing, that helps keep the airplane balanced while flying. See airplane for picture. n.

ail ment (āl'mənt), illness; sickness. n.

aim (ām), 1. point or direct (a gun, blow, etc.) in order to hit a target: aim a gun. 2. act of pointing or directing at something: His aim was so poor that he missed the lion. 3. direct acts or words so as to influence a particular person or action: The coach's speech was aimed at the boys who had not played fair. 4. direction aimed in; line of sighting. 5. U.S. intend: I aim to go. 6. U.S. try; direct one's efforts: He aims to be helpful. 7. purpose; intention: Ruth's aim was to do two years' work in one. 1,3,5,6 v., 2,4,7 n.

aim less (ām'lis), without aim or purpose: A vacation should not be a time of aimless activity. adj. —aim/-less ly, adv. —aim/less ness, n.

ain't (ānt), 1. am not; are not; is not. 2. have not; has not. Careful speakers do not use ain't.

Ai nu (ī'nū), member of a very primitive, light-skinned race in N Japan, now becoming extinct. n.

air (ār), 1. the mixture of gases that surrounds the earth; atmosphere. Air consists of nitrogen, oxygen, argon, carbon dioxide, hydrogen, small quantities of neon, helium, and other inert gases. We breathe air. 2. space overhead; sky: Birds fly in the air. 3. put out in the air; let air through: air clothes. 4. make known; mention publicly: Do not air your troubles. 5. a light wind; breeze. 6. melody; tune. In music, the air is the leading part. 7. general character or appearance of anything: an air of mystery. 8. bearing; manner: The famous man had an air of importance. 9. medium through which radio waves travel. 10. conducting or supplying air: air duct. 11. compressing or confining air: air valve. 12. using or worked by compressed air: air drill. 13. relating to aviation; done by means of aircraft: air photography. 1,2,5-9 n., 3,4 v., 10-13 adj.

airs, unnatural or affected manners: Your friends will laugh if you put on airs.

in the air, 1. going around: Wild rumors were in the air. 2. uncertain.

on the air, broadcasting.

take the air, 1. go outdoors; take a walk or ride. 2. start broadcasting.

up in the air, 1. uncertain. 2. Informal. very angry or excited.

walk on air, be very gay or pleased.

air base, headquarters and airport for military airplanes.

air-borne (ār'börn'), carried in airplanes or gliders. Air-borne troops may land by parachutes or remain with the plane until it lands. adj.

air brake, brake operated by a piston or pistons worked by compressed air.

air castle, daydream; castle in the air.

air coach, aircraft with low passenger rates.

air-con di tion (ār'kən dish'ən), 1. supply with the equipment for air conditioning. 2. treat (air) by means of air conditioning. v.

air-con di tioned (ār'kən dish'ənd), having air conditioning. adj.

air conditioner, apparatus used to air-condition a room, a building, a train, etc.

air conditioning, a means of treating air in buildings, rooms, trains, etc., to regulate its temperature and amount of moisture and to free it from dust.

Airgrette

air-cool (ār'kūl'), 1. remove heat produced in motor cylinders by combustion, friction, etc., by blowing air on. 2. remove heat in (a room) by blowing cool air in. v.

air craft (ār'kraft'), 1. a machine for air navigation that is supported in air by buoyancy (such as a balloon) or by dynamic action (such as an airplane); an airplane, airship, or balloon. 2. such machines collectively or as a class; airplanes, airships, or balloons. n., pl. air craft.

aircraft carrier, warship designed as a base for airplanes.

air drome (ār'drôm'), airport. n.

air drop, system of dropping food, supplies, etc., from aircraft, especially to allies who are caught behind enemy lines, living in occupied territory, etc.

Aire dale (ār'dāl), a large terrier having a wiry brown or tan coat with dark markings. n.

air field, landing field of an airport.

air foil (ār'foil'), any surface, such as a wing, rudder, etc., designed to help lift or control an aircraft. n.

air force, 1. branch of the military or naval forces that uses airplanes. 2. group of fliers for military aircraft.

Air Force, a separate branch of the armed forces of the United States that includes aviation personnel, equipment, etc., formerly administered by the army.

air gun, gun worked by compressed air.

air ily (ār'ə lē), in an airy manner; lightly. adv.

air i ness (ār'ē nis), airy quality. n.

air ing (ār'ing), 1. exposure to air for drying, warming, etc.; putting out in the air; letting air through: I gave my fur coat a thorough airing. 2. a walk, ride, or drive in the open air. 3. exposure to public discussion, criticism, etc.: The proposed rule is due for an airing at the next school assembly. n.

air lane, a regular route used by aircraft.

air less (ār'lis), 1. without fresh air; stuffy. 2. without a breeze; still. adj.

air lift (ār'lift'), 1. system of using aircraft to transport passengers and convey freight to a place when land approaches are closed. 2. something transported by such a system. 3. transport by airlift. 1,2 n., 3 v.

air line, 1. system of transportation of people and things by aircraft. 2. business that transports people or things by aircraft. 3. route for aircraft.

air liner, a large airplane or airship for carrying many passengers.

air mail, 1. mail sent by aircraft. 2. mail by aircraft: Please air mail this letter. 3. system of sending mail by aircraft. —air/-mail', adj.

air man (ār'mən), 1. pilot of an airplane, airship, or balloon. 2. one of the crew of an aircraft. 3. an enlisted man in the Air Force. n., pl. air men.

air-mind ed (ār'mīn'did), 1. interested in aviation. 2. fond of traveling by air. adj. —air/-mind'-ed ness, n.

air plane (ār'plān'), a mechanically driven heavier-than-air aircraft supported in flight by the action of the air flowing past or thrusting upward on its fixed wings. n. Also, esp. Brit. aeroplane.

air pocket, a current or condition in the air that causes a sudden drop in the altitude of an airplane.

air port (ār'pōrt'), tract of land or water where aircraft can land or take off. An airport usually has sheds for airplanes and waiting rooms for passengers. n.

air pressure, pressure caused by air. Winds are caused by the flow of air from an area of high air pressure to an area of low air pressure.

Airedale (23 in. high at the shoulder) air pump, apparatus for forcing air in or drawing air out of something.

air raid, attack by enemy aircraft.

air rifle, gun that shoots a single pellet or dart, worked by compressed air.

air sac, an air-filled space in the body of a bird, connected with the lungs.

air shaft, passage for letting fresh air into a mine, tunnel, building, etc.

air ship (ār'ship'), balloon that can be steered; dirigible. n.

air sick (ār'sik'), sick as a result of traveling by air. adj. —air/sick'ness, n.

air speed, speed of an aircraft measured by its greater movement than that of the air.

air strip (ār'strip'), a paved or cleared strip on which planes land and take off. n.

air tight (ār'tīt'), 1. so tight that no air or gas can get in or out. 2. having no weak points open to an opponent's attack. adj.

air way (ār'wā'), 1. a route for aircraft. 2. a passage for air. n.

air worthy (ār'wēr'thē), fit or safe for service in the air. adj. —air/wor'thi'ness, n.

air y (ār'ē), 1. like air; not solid or substantial. 2. light as air; graceful; delicate: an airy melody. 3. light-hearted; gay: airy laughter.

4. open to currents of air; breezy: a large, airy room. 5. reaching high into the air; lofty. 6. of air; in the air: birds and other airy creatures. 7. unnatural; affected. adj., air ier, air-iest.

aisle (īl), 1. passage between rows of seats in a hall, theater, school, etc. 2. any long or narrow passageway. A long space between trees in a forest is an aisle. 3. part of a church at the side of the nave, choir, or transept, set off by pillars. See apse for diagram. n.

Aisne (ān), river in northern France. 175 mi. n.

a jar¹ (ə jar'), slightly open: Leave the door ajar. adv., adj.

a jar² (ə jar'), not in harmony. adv., adj.

A jax (ā'jaks), Greek hero at the siege of Troy, next to Achilles in courage. n.

a kim bo (ə kim'bō), with the hand on the hip and the elbow bent outward. adv., adj.

a kin (ə kin'), 1. related. Your cousins are akin to you. 2. alike; similar: Most boys are akin in their love of sports. adj.

Ak ron (ak'rən), city in NE Ohio. 290,000. n.

-al, suffix meaning:

1. of; like; having the nature of: Natural = of nature or like nature. Ornamental = having the nature of ornament.

2. act of —ing: Refusal = act of refusing.

Al, aluminum.

Ala., Alabama.

Ala bam a (al'ə bam'ə), a Southern State of the United States. 3,267,000 pop.; 51,609 sq. mi. Capital: Montgomery. Abbrev.: Ala. n. —Al'a bam'an, Al'a bam'i an, adj., n.

al a bas ter (al'ə bas'tər), 1. a smooth, white, translucent mineral, a variety of gypsum. Alabaster is often carved into ornaments and vases. 2. smooth, white, and translucent like alabaster. 1 n., 2 adj.

Aisle of a church

Boy with arms akimbo

à la carte (ä' lə kärt'), with a stated price for each dish; by the bill of fare.

a lack (ə lak'), Archaic. alas; an exclamation of sorrow, regret, or surprise. interj.

a lack a day (ə lak'ə dā), Archaic. alas! alack! interj.

a lac ri ty (ə lak'rē tē), 1. brisk and eager action; liveliness: Although the man was very old, he still moved with alacrity. 2. cheerful willingness. n.

A lad din (ə lad'n), a youth in The Arabian Nights, who found a magic lamp and a magic ring. By rubbing either one of them he could call a powerful spirit to do whatever he asked it to do. n.

Al a me da (al'ə mē'də or al'ə mā'də), city in W California, across the bay from San Francisco. 61,000. n.

Al a mo (al'ə mō), a mission in San Antonio, Texas. After a siege, the Mexicans finally captured it on March 6, 1836. n.

à la mode, a la mode, or a la mode (ä'lə mōd' or al'ə mōd'), 1. according to the prevailing fashion; in style. 2. in a certain way. Desserts à la mode are served with ice cream. Beef à la mode is cooked with vegetables. adv.

a larm (ə lärm'), 1. sudden fear; fright; excitement caused by fear of danger. 2. fill with sudden fear; frighten: He was alarmed because his friends were so long in returning. 3. a warning of approaching danger.

4. thing that gives such a warning: a fire alarm. 5. warn (anyone) of approaching danger. 6. call to arms or action: Paul Revere gave the alarm to the towns near Boston. 7. a device that makes noise to warn or awaken people. 1,3,4,6,7 n., 2,5 v.

alarm clock, clock that can be set to make a noise at any desired time.

a larm ing (ə lärm'ing), that alarms; frightening. adj. —a larm'ing ly, adv.

a larm ist (ə lärm'ist), person who is easily alarmed or alarms others needlessly or on very slight grounds. n.

a lar um (ə lar'əm), Archaic. alarm. n.

a las (ə las'), exclamation of sorrow, grief, regret, pity, or dread. interj.

Alas., Alaska.

Alas ka (ə las'kə), the 49th State of the United States, in NW North America, formerly (until 1958) a territory. It was purchased from Russia in 1867. 226,000 pop.; 586,400 sq. mi. Capital:

Juneau. Abbrev.: Alas.

n. — Alas/kan, adj., n.

Alaska Highway, a highway that extends from Dawson Creek, British Columbia, Canada, to Fairbanks, Alaska.

alb (alb), a white linen robe worn by Roman Catholic and some Anglican priests at the Eucharist. n.

al ba core (al'bə kôr), a long-finned, edible fish related to the tuna, found in the Atlantic. n., pl. al ba-cores or (esp. collectively) al ba core.

Al ba ni a (al bā'nē ə), country in Europe, between Yugoslavia and Greece. 1,500,000 pop.; 10,629 sq. mi. Capital: Tirana. See the map under Balkan States. n.

—Al ba'ni an, adj., n.

Al ba ny (ôl'bə nē), capital of New York State, on the Hudson River. 130,000. n.

al ba tross (al'bə trôs), any of various large web-footed sea birds related to the petrel, that can fly long distances. n.

al be it (ôl bē'it), although; even though. conj.

Al be marle Sound (al'bə mār'l), inlet of the Atlantic Ocean, on the coast of North Carolina. 60 mi.

Albatross (30 in. long)

Alber ta (al bër'tə), province in W Canada. 1,283,000 pop.; 255,285 sq. mi. Capital: Edmonton. Abbrev.: Alta. n.

Al bert Ny an za (al'bært nī an'zə), lake in central Africa. 100 mi. long; 1640 sq. mi.

al bi nism (al'bə nīz əm), absence of color; condition of being an albino. n.

al bi no (al bī'nō), 1. person who from birth has a pale, milky skin, very light hair, and pink eyes. 2. an animal or plant that has pale, defective coloring. n., pl. al bi nos.

Al bi on (al'bē ən), Poetic. England. n.

al bum (al'bəm), 1. book with blank pages for holding pictures, stamps, autographs, etc. 2. case for a phonograph record or records. n.

al bu men (al bū'mən), white of an egg, consisting mostly of albumin dissolved in water. n.

al bu min (al bū'mən), the protein in the white of egg and in many other animal and plant tissues and juices. Albumin is soluble in water and can be coagulated by heat. n.

Al bu quer que (al'bə kër'kē), city in central New Mexico. 201,000. n.

al cal de (al kal'dē), U.S. in regions of former Spanish influence, a mayor, judge, or justice of the peace. n.

Al can Highway (al'kan), Alaska Highway.

Al ca traz (al'kə traz), 1. a small island in San Francisco Bay. 2. a former penitentiary there. n.

al che mist (al'kə mist), man who studied chemistry and magic in the Middle Ages. Alchemists tried to turn cheaper metals into gold and to find the elixir of life. n.

al che my (al'kə mē), 1. combination of chemistry and magic, studied in the Middle Ages. 2. magic power or process for changing one thing into another. n.

al co hol (al'kə hōl), 1. the colorless liquid in wine, beer, whiskey, gin, etc., that makes them intoxicating; grain alcohol; ethyl alcohol. Alcohol is used in medicines, in manufacturing, and as a fuel. 2. any intoxicating liquor containing this liquid. 3. any of a group of similar organic compounds. Wood alcohol, or methyl alcohol, is very poisonous. n.

al co hol ic (al'kə hōl'ik), 1. of alcohol. 2. containing alcohol: alcoholic liquor. 3. suffering from the excessive use of alcoholic liquors. 4. person who suffers from alcoholism. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

al co hol ism (al'kə hōl iz'əm), 1. a disease which has as its chief symptom the inability to drink alcoholic liquors in moderation. 2. a diseased condition caused by drinking too much alcoholic liquor. n.

Al cott (ôl'kət), Louisa May, 1832-1888, American author. Her most famous book is Little Women. n.

al cove (al'kōv), 1. a small room opening out of a larger room. 2. a recess or large hollow space in a wall. n.

Al deb a ran (al deb'ə ran), the brightest star in the constellation Taurus. n.

Al den (ôld'n), John, 1599?-1687, one of the Pilgrims who settled at Plymouth, Massachusetts. n.

al der (ôl'dər), any of several trees and shrubs that usually grow in wet land and have clusters of catkins which develop into small woody cones. n.

al der man (ôl'dər mən), person who represents the people of a certain district on a council or board that governs a city, town, or borough. n., pl. al der men.

al der man ic (ôl'dər man'ik), 1. of an alderman. 2. suitable for an alderman. adj.

Al der ney (ôl'dər nē), one of a group of British islands in the English Channel near France. 1500 pop.; 3 sq. mi. See Channel Islands for map. n.

ale (āl), a heavy, bitter beer. n.

a lee (ə lē'), on or toward the side of a ship that is away from the wind. adv., adj.

ale house (āl'hous'), place where ale or beer is sold. n.

A len çon (à län sôn' for 1; ə len'sən for 2), 1. city in NW France. 22,000. 2. kind of lace made there. n.

A lep po (ə lep'pō), city in NW Syria. 451,000. n.

a lert (ə lèrt'), 1. watchful; wide-awake: A good hunting dog is alert to every sound and movement in the field. 2. brisk; active; nimble: A sparrow is very alert in its movements. 3. a signal warning of an air attack. 4. the period of time after this warning until the all clear. 5. a signal to troops, etc., to be ready for action. 6. warn against and prepare for an approaching air attack. 1,2 adj., 3-5 n., 6 v. — a lert'ly, adv. — a lert'-ness, n.

on the alert, watchful; ready at any instant for what is coming.

A leu tian Islands

(ə lū'shən), chain of many small islands SW of Alaska, belonging to the United States. 1000 pop.; 6400 sq. mi.

ale wife (āl'wif'), a sea fish found in great numbers along the U.S. Atlantic Coast, related to the herring and the shad but inferior as food. n., pl. ale wives.

A lex an der the Great (al'ig zan' dər), 356-323 B.C., king of Macedonia from 336 to 323 B.C. He conquered the Greek city-states and the Persian empire, from the coasts of Asia Minor and Egypt to India.

A lex an dri a (al'ig zan'drē ə), 1. seaport in N Egypt, on the Mediterranean. Alexandria was famous in ancient times for its library and scholars. It was founded by Alexander the Great in 332 B.C. 925,000. 2. city in NE Virginia, near Washington, D.C. 91,000. n.

A lex an dri an (al'ig zan'drē ən), 1. of Alexander the Great. 2. of Alexandria, the seaport in Egypt. adj.

al fal fa (al fal'fə), Esp. U.S. plant grown as food for horses and cattle that has deep roots, cloverlike leaves, and bluish-purple flowers. Alfalfa can be cut several times a season and then dried as hay. n.

Al fred the Great (al'frid), 849-899 A.D., king of the West Saxons from 871 to 899 A.D., who united southern England by defeating the invading Danes. He reformed justice, encouraged education, and founded the navy.

al ga (al'gə), one of the algae. n., pl. al gae (-jē).

al gae (al'jē), group of water plants that can make their own food. Algae have chlorophyll but do not have true stems, roots, or leaves. Some algae are one-celled and form scum on rocks; others, such as the seaweeds, are very large. n.pl.

al ge bra (al'jə brə), branch of mathematics in which quantities are denoted by letters, negative numbers as well as ordinary numbers are used, and problems are solved in the form of equations. $x+y = x^2$ is a way of stating, by algebra, that the sum of two numbers equals the square of one of them. n.

al ge bra ic (al'jə brā'ik), of algebra; used in algebra: $(a+b)(a-b) = a^2 - b^2$ is an algebraic statement. adj.

— al'ge bra'i cally, adv.

Al ge ri a (al jir'ē ə), country in N Africa, on the Mediterranean Sea, formerly a French possession. 10,265,000 pop.; 847,552 sq. mi. Capital: Algiers. n.

— Al'ge ri an, adj., n.

Al gi ers (al jirz'),

1. capital of Algeria, on the Mediterranean. 361,000. 2. a former country in N Africa, now called Algeria. n.

Al gon quin (al gong'- kin or al gong'kwīn).

An Indian belonging to the Blackfoot, Ojibwa, Delaware, Sauk and Fox, Shawnee, or other tribe speaking a similar language. These tribes formerly lived in eastern Canada and eastern United States, but they were pushed westward across the Mississippi. n.

Alcove (def. 1)

Al ham bra (al ham'brə), 1. palace of the Moorish kings at Granada, Spain. 2. city in SW California, near Los Angeles. 55,000. n.

a li as (ā'lē əs), 1. an assumed name; other name: The spy's real name was Harrison, but he sometimes went by the alias of Johnson. 2. otherwise called; with the assumed name of: The thief's name was Jones, alias Williams. 1 n., pl. a li as es; 2 adv.

A li Ba ba (ā'lē bā'bə or al'ē bab'ə), poor man in The Arabian Nights who became rich by discovering the treasure cave of the Forty Thieves.

al i bi (al'ə bī), 1. the plea or fact that a person accused of a certain offense was somewhere else when the offense was committed. 2. U.S. Informal. an excuse. 3. U.S. Informal. make an excuse. 1, 2 n., pl. al i bis; 3 v., al i bied, al i bi ing.

al i en (āl'yən), 1. person who is not a citizen of the country in which he lives. 2. foreigner; stranger. 3. of another country; foreign: alien customs. 4. entirely different; not in agreement; strange: Unkindness is alien to her nature. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 adj.

al i en ate (āl'yən āt), 1. turn away in feeling or affection; make unfriendly: He was alienated from his sister by her foolish acts. 2. transfer the ownership of (property) to another: Enemy property was alienated during the war. v., al i en at ed, al i en at ing.

al i en a tion (āl'yən ā'shən), a turning away in feeling or affection; making unfriendly. n.

al i en ist (āl'yən ist), psychiatrist, especially one who testifies in court. n.

a light (ə līt'), 1. get down; get off: alight from a horse. 2. come down from the air and settle; come down from flight: The bird alighted on our window sill. 3. come upon by chance; happen to find. v., a light ed or (Poetic) a lit, a light ing.

a light (ə līt'), on fire; lighted up: Her face was alight with happiness. adv., adj.

a lign (ə līn'), 1. bring into line; adjust to a line: align the sights of a gun. 2. form in line: The troops aligned. 3. form into a line; join with others in a cause:  Germany was aligned with Japan in World War II. v. Also, aline.

a lign ment (ə līn'mənt),  OUT OF ALIGNMENT 1. arrangement in a straight line: The troops were in perfect alignment. 2. adjustment to a line: The sights of the rifle were in alignment with the target. n. Also, alinement.

a like (ə līk'), 1. like one another; similar: These twins are very much alike. 2. in the same way: Robert and his father walk alike. 3. similarly; equally. 1 adj., 2, 3 adv.

al i ment (al'ə mənt), food; nourishment. n.

al i men ta ry (al'ə men'tə rē), 1. having to do with food and nutrition. 2. nourishing; nutritious. 3. providing support or sustenance. adj.

alimentary canal, the parts of the body through which food passes while it is being digested. The mouth, esophagus, stomach, intestines, and anus are parts of the alimentary canal.

al i mo ny (al'ə mō'nē), money paid to a woman for her support by her husband, or former husband, under orders from a judge. Alimony is paid after a divorce or a legal separation. n.

a line (ə līn'), align. v., a lined, a lin ing.

a line ment (ə līn'mənt), alignment. n.

al i quot (al'ə kwət), dividing a number without a remainder: 3 is an aliquot part of 12. adj.

a lit (ə līt'), Poetic. alighted, a pt. and a pp. of alight. The bird alit upon a branch. v.

Al It i had (āl it'tē hād), city near the SW tip of the Arabian Peninsula, the capital of the Federation of South Arabia. 30,000.

a live (ə līv'), 1. living: Was the snake alive or dead?

2. in continued activity or operation: Keep the principles of liberty alive. 3. of all living: the happiest man alive.

4. active; lively; brisk. adj. —a live'ness, n.

alive to, noticing; awake to; sensitive to: Are you alive to what is going on?

alive with, full of; swarming with: The streets were alive with people.

look alive! hurry up! be quick!

a liz a rin (ə līz'ə rin), a red dye prepared from coal tar, formerly obtained from madder. n.

al ka li (al'kə lī), 1. any base or hydroxide that is soluble in water, neutralizes acids and forms salts with them, and turns red litmus blue. Lye and ammonia are alkalis. 2. any salt or mixture of salts that neutralizes acids. Some desert soils contain much alkali. n., pl. al ka lis or al ka lies.

al ka line (al'kə līn or al'kə līn), 1. of or like an alkali. 2. containing an alkali. adj.

al ka lin i ty (al'kə līn'ə tē), alkaline quality or condition. n.

al ka lize (al'kə līz), make alkaline. v., al ka lized, al ka liz ing. —al'ka li za'tion, n.

al ka loid (al'kə loid), substance found in or obtained from plants that is somewhat like an alkali and contains nitrogen. Many alkaloids are drugs, such as cocaine, strychnine, morphine, and quinine. Alkaloids are often very poisonous. n.

all (ōl), 1. the whole of: The mice ate all the cheese. 2. every one of: All dogs have heads. 3. everyone: All of us are going. 4. everything: All is well. 5. everything one has: He lost his all in the fire. 6. wholly; entirely: all tired out. The cake is all gone. 7. each; apiece: The score was even at forty all. 1, 2 adj., 3, 4 pron., 5 n., 6, 7 adv.

all in, Informal. weary; worn out.

at all, 1. under any conditions. 2. in any way.

in all, counting every person or thing; altogether: 100 men in all.

Al lah (al'ə or ā'lə), the Moslem name of the one Supreme Being, or God. n.

Al la ha bad (al'ə hə bad'), city in E India, on the Ganges River. 312,000. n.

all-a-mer i can (ōl'ə mer'ə kən), 1. representing the whole United States. 2. selected as the best of its class in the United States. 3. made up entirely of Americans or American elements. 4. a player on a team selected as one of the best in the United States in his class. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

Al lan-a-Dale (al'an ə dāl'), minstrel who was one of Robin Hood's followers. n.

all-a-round (ōl'ə raund'), U.S. not specialized; able to do many things; useful in many ways. adj.

al lay (ə lā'), 1. put at rest; quiet: His fears were allayed by the news of the safety of his family. 2. relieve; check: Her fever was allayed by the medicine. 3. make less; weaken. v., al lay ed, al lay ing.

all clear, signal indicating the end of an air raid or other danger.

al le ga tion (al'ə gā'shən), 1. assertion without proof: Tom makes so many wild allegations that no one will believe him. 2. assertion: The lawyer's allegation was proved. n.

al lege (ə lej'), 1. assert without proof. 2. state positively; assert; declare: This man alleges that his watch has been stolen. 3. give or bring forward as a reason, argument, or excuse: John was tardy this morning, and alleges that his bus was late. v., al leg ed, al leg ing.

al leg ed (ə lej'd'), 1. asserted without proof: The alleged theft never really happened. 2. asserted; declared. 3. brought forward as a reason. adj.

al leg ed ly (ə lej'id lē), according to what is or has been alleged. adv.

Al le ghe nies (al'ə gā'nēz), a mountain range in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia. n.pl.

Al le ghe ny (al'ə gā'nē), river in W Pennsylvania flowing into the Ohio River at Pittsburgh. 325 mi. n.

Allegheny Mountains, the Alleghenies.

al le giance (ə lē'jəns), 1. the loyalty owed by a citizen to his country or by a subject to his ruler: I pledge allegiance to the flag. 2. loyalty; faithfulness to a person, cause, or the like, that is entitled to obedience or honor: We owe allegiance to our friends. n.

al le gor i cal (al'ə gōr'ə kl), explaining or teaching something by a story; using allegory. adj. —al'le-gor'i cal ly, adv.

al le go ry (al'ə gō'rē), a story which is told to explain or teach something; a long and complicated story with an underlying meaning different from the surface meaning: Bunyan's "The Pilgrim's Progress" is an allegory. The incidents of an allegory may stand for political, spiritual, or romantic situations; its characters may be types (such as "Mr. Wiseman") or personifications (such as "Courtesy" or "Jealousy"). n., pl. al le go ries.

al le gro (ə lā'grō or ə leg'rō), 1. in music, quick; lively. 2. in allegro time. 3. such a part in a piece of music. 1 adj., 2 adv., 3 n., pl. al le gros.

al le lu ia (al'ə lū'yə), 1. Praise ye the Lord! 2. a song of praise to the Lord. 1 interj., 2 n. Also, hallelujah, halleluah.

Al len (al'ən), Ethan, 1737-1789, American officer in the Revolutionary War. n.

Al len town (al'ən toun), city in E Pennsylvania. 108,000. n.

al ler gic (ə lēr'jīk), 1. having an allergy; extremely sensitive (to some substance): Some people who are allergic to eggs cannot eat them without breaking into a rash. 2. of allergy. 3. Slang. having a strong dislike: She is allergic to camping. adj.

al ler gy (al'ər jē), 1. unusual sensitiveness to a particular substance. Hay fever and asthma are often caused by allergies to certain pollens and dusts. 2. Slang. a strong dislike: an allergy for work. n., pl. al ler gies.

al le vi ate (ə lē'vē āt), make easier to endure; relieve; lessen: Heat often alleviates pain. v., al le vi at ed, al le vi at ing. —al le'vi a'tor, n.

al le vi a tion (ə lē'vē ā'shən), 1. act of alleviating. 2. condition of being alleviated. 3. thing that alleviates. n.

al le vi a tive (ə lē'vē ā'tiv), alleviating. adj.

al ley¹ (al'ē), 1. a narrow back street in a city or town. 2. Brit. a narrow street. 3. path in a park or garden, bordered by trees. 4. a long, narrow enclosed place for bowling. n., pl. alleys.

al ley² (al'ē), a large, white or colored marble used to shoot at the other marbles in the game of marbles. n., pl. alleys.

al ley way (al'ē wā'), 1. U.S. alley in a city or town. 2. a narrow passageway. n.

All Fools' Day, April 1, April Fools' Day.

all fours, 1. all four legs of an animal. 2. arms and legs of a person; hands and knees.

all hail, exclamation of greeting or welcome.

All hal lows (əl'hal'ōz), Nov. 1, All Saints' Day. n.

al li ance (ə lī'əns), 1. union formed by agreement; joining of interests. An alliance may be a joining of family interests by marriage, a joining of national interests by treaty, etc. 2. the nations, persons, etc., who belong to such a union. n.

al lied (ə līd' or al'id), 1. united by agreement: allied nations, allied armies. 2. associated; connected: allied banks. 3. similar in structure or descent; related: The dog and the wolf are allied animals. adj.

All ied (ə līd' or al'id), of or by the Allies. adj.

All i es (al'iz or ə līz'), 1. the countries that fought against Germany and Austria in World War I. 2. the countries that fought against Germany, Italy, and Japan in World War II. n.pl.

al li ga tor (al'ə gā'tər), 1. a large reptile with a rather thick skin, similar to the crocodile but having a shorter and flatter head. Alligators live in the rivers and marshes of the warm parts of America. 2. leather prepared from its skin. 3. an amphibian vehicle for carrying troops ashore, etc. n.

alligator pear, avocado.

all-im por tant (əl'im pōr'tənt), essential; extremely important. adj.

al lit er ate (ə lit'ər āt), 1. have the same first sound or letter. 2. use alliteration. v., al lit er at ed, al lit er at ing.

al lit er a tion (ə lit'ər ā'shən), repetition of the same first sound or letter in a group of words or line of poetry. Example: "The sun sank slowly" contains alliteration of s. n.

al lit er a tive (ə lit'ər ā'tiv), having words beginning with the same sound or letter. adj. —al lit'er a'tive ly, adv. —al lit'er a'tive ness, n.

al lo cate (al'ə kāt), 1. assign or allot (a share, portion, etc.): The Ford Foundation allocated millions of dollars among many colleges and hospitals. 2. locate; fix the place of. v., al lo cat ed, al lo cat ing.

al lo ca tion (al'ə kā'shən), distribution; assignment; allotment. n.

al lop a thy (ə lop'ə thē), method of treating a disease by using remedies to produce effects different from those caused by the disease treated. Allopathy is the opposite of homeopathy. n.

al lot (ə lot'), 1. divide and distribute in parts or shares: The profits have all been allotted among the owners of the company. 2. give as a share; assign: The principal allotted each class a part in the Christmas program. v., al lot ted, al lot ting.

al lot ment (ə lot'mənt), 1. division and distribution in parts or shares: The allotment was made on Monday. 2. share: Your allotment was four dollars. n.

al lo trop ic (al'ə trōp'ik), occurring in two or more forms that differ in physical and chemical properties but not in the kind of atoms of which they are composed. Oxygen gas and ozone are allotropic forms of the element oxygen; they are gases composed of the same kind of atoms, but ozone is more active than oxygen, is heavier, and has an irritating odor. adj.

all-out (əl'out'), greatest possible; complete. adj.

all o ver (əl'ōv'ər), 1. covering the whole surface. 2. having a pattern that is repeated over the whole surface. adj.

al low (ə lou'), 1. let; permit: The class was not allowed to leave until the bell rang. 2. let have; give: His father allows him $1 a week as spending money. 3. admit; acknowledge; recognize: The judge allowed the claim of the man whose property was damaged. 4. add or subtract to make up for something: The trip will cost you only $20; but you ought to allow $5 more for extra expenses. 5. U.S. Dialect. say; think. v. —al low'er, n.

allow for, take into consideration; provide for: She purposely made the dress larger to allow for shrinking when it was washed.

al low a ble (ə lou'ə bl), allowed by law or by a person in authority; permitted by the rules of the game; not forbidden: In some parks it is allowable to walk on the grass. adj. —al low'a ble ness, n. —al low'a bly, adv.

al low ance (ə lou'əns), 1. a limited share set apart; a definite portion or amount given out: My weekly allowance is $1. 2. amount added or subtracted to make up for something; discount: The salesman offered us an allowance of $400 on our old car; so we got a $2000 car for $1600. 3. an allowing; a conceding: allowance of a claim. 4. tolerance: allowance of slavery. n.

make allowance or make allowance for, take into consideration; allow for: You must make allowance for the wishes of others.

Alligator (12 ft. long) alloy (al'oi or ə loi' for 1,3,5; ə loi' for 2,4,6), 1. metal made by mixing and fusing two or more metals, or a metal and some other substance. Alloys are often harder, lighter, and stronger than the pure metals. Brass is an alloy of copper and zinc. 2. make into an alloy. 3. an inferior metal mixed with a more valuable one: This gold is not pure; there is some alloy in it. 4. make less valuable by mixing with a cheaper metal. 5. something bad mixed with something better; any injurious addition: The only alloy in our enjoyment of the vacation was the rainy weather. 6. make worse by mixing with something bad; debase: Her happiness was alloyed by the thought that other people were suffering. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,6 v.

all-purpose (əl'pər'pəs), that can be used for any end: all-purpose thread, all-purpose flour. adj.

all right, 1. without error; correct. 2. yes: All right, I'll come. 3. without doubt; certainly. 4. in good health: He is all right. 5. satisfactory.

all-round (əl'raʊnd'), Informal. all-around. adj.

All Saints' Day, November 1, a church festival honoring all the saints; Allhallows.

all spice (əl'spīs'), 1. a spice supposed to have a flavor like a mixture of cinnamon, nutmeg, and cloves. 2. the berry of the West Indian pimento tree that it is made from. n.

all-star (əl'stär'), made up of the best players or performers. adj.

all together, everyone in a group: We found the boys all together in the kitchen. All together (two words) is an adjective phrase; altogether is an adverb.

allude (ə'lud'), refer indirectly; mention slightly: Do not ask him about his failure; do not even allude to it. v., al lud ed, al lud ing.

allure (ə'lūr'), 1. fascinate; charm: Circus life allured him with its excitement. 2. tempt by the offer of some pleasure or reward. 3. fascination; charm: the allure of the sea. 1,2 v., al lured, al lur ing; 3 n. —al lur'er, n.

allurement (ə'lūr'mənt), 1. charm; fascination. 2. temptation; attraction. n.

alluring (ə'lūr'ing), 1. tempting; attracting. 2. charming; fascinating. adj. —al lur'ing ly, adv.

allusion (ə'lū'zhən), indirect reference; slight mention: John was hurt by any allusion to his failure. n.

alluvial (ə'lū've əl), consisting of or formed by sand or mud left by flowing water. A delta is an alluvial deposit at the mouth of a river. adj.

ally (ə li' for 1,3,4; ə li' or ə li' for 2,5,6), 1. combine for some special purpose; unite by agreement. One nation allies itself with another to protect its people and interests. 2. person or nation united with another for some special purpose: England and France have been allies in some wars. See also Allies. 3. associate; connect: This newspaper is allied with three others. 4. be similar in structure, descent, etc.: Dogs are allied to wolves. 5. a related animal, plant, form, or thing. 6. helper; supporter. 1,3,4 v., al lied, al ly ing; 2,5,6 n., pl. al lies.

Alma-Ata (äl'mə ä'tə), city in SE Soviet Union, capital of the Kazakh republic. 455,000. n.

alma mater or Alma Mater (äl'mə mä'tər, äl'mə mä'tər, or äl'mə mä'tər), person's school, college, or university. Alma mater means foster mother.

almanac (äl'mə nak), a calendar or table showing the days, weeks, and months. Many almanacs give information about the weather, sun, moon, stars, tides, church days, and other facts. n.

almighty (əl mit'ē), 1. having supreme power; all-powerful. 2. U.S. Informal. great; very. 3. U.S. Informal. exceedingly. 1,2 adj., 3 adv. —al might'i ness, n. the Almighty, God.

almond (ä'mənd), 1. the nut, or seed, of a peachlike fruit growing in warm regions. 2. tree that it grows on. 3. something shaped like an almond. n. —äl'mond-like, adj.

almoner (äl'mən ər), person who distributes alms for a king, monastery, etc. n.

almost (əl'möst), nearly: Nine is almost ten. adv.

alms (ämz or älmz), money or gifts to help the poor. n. sing. or pl.

alms giver (ämz'giv'ər or älmz'giv'ər), person who helps the poor with money or other gifts. n.

alms giving (ämz'giv'ing or älmz'giv'ing), giving help to the poor. n., adj.

alms house (ämz'hous' or älmz'hous'), home for persons who do not have enough money to live on. n.

aloe (äl'ō), 1. plant having a long spike of flowers and thick, narrow leaves, that grows in South Africa and other warm, dry climates. 2. U.S. a similar plant, the American aloe or century plant. n., pl. al oes.

aloes (äl'ōz), a bitter drug made from the dried juice of the leaves of certain aloes. n.

a loft (ə löft'), 1. far above the earth; high up: Some birds fly thousands of feet aloft. 2. high above the deck of a ship; up among the sails, rigging, or masts of a ship. adv., adj.

alo ha (ə lö'ə or ä lö'hä), 1. greetings; hello. 2. goodbye; farewell. n., interj.

alone (ə lön'), 1. apart from other persons or things: He was alone (adj.). One tree stood alone on the hill (adv.).

2. without anyone else: One boy alone can do this work.

3. without anything more: Meat alone is not the best food for children. 4. only; merely; exclusively. 1-3 adj., 1,4 adv. —a lone'ness, n.

leave alone, not bother; not meddle with.

let alone, 1. not bother; not meddle with. 2. not to mention: It would have been a hot day for summer, let alone early spring.

along (ə löng'), 1. on or by the whole length of; from one end to the other of; lengthwise of: walk along a river.

2. from one end to the other; lengthwise: cars parked along by the stadium. 3. onward; forward: Let us walk along. 4. U.S. together with someone or something: You should take a tent along if you are going camping. He took his dog along. 5. U.S. Informal. of time, somewhere: along about four o'clock. 1 prep., 2-5 adv.

all along, all the time.

along with, in company with; together with: I'll go along with you.

get along, 1. Informal. manage with at least some success. 2. agree. 3. go away. 4. advance. 5. succeed; prosper.

along shore (ə löng'shōr'), near or along the shore. adv.

a long side (ə löng'sid'), 1. at the side; close to the side; side by side: anchor alongside. 2. by the side of; beside: The boat was alongside the wharf. 1 adv., 2 prep. alongside of, beside; next to.

a loof (ə lüf'), 1. at a distance; withdrawn; apart: One boy stood aloof from all the others. 2. unsympathetic; not interested; reserved: Because of her shyness Jane seemed to be a very aloof girl. 1 adv., 2 adj. —a loof'ly, adv. —a loof'ness, n.

a loud (ə loud'), 1. loud enough to be heard; not in a whisper: He spoke aloud, although he was alone. She read the story aloud to the others. 2. in a loud voice; loudly: He groaned aloud with pain. adv.

alp (alp), a high mountain. See Alps. n.

alpac a (al pak'ə), 1. a South American sheeplike animal with long, soft, silky hair or wool. It is a kind of llama. 2. its wool. 3. cloth made from this wool. 4. a glossy, wiry cloth made of wool and cotton, usually black. n.

alpen horn (äl'pən hörn'), a long, powerful horn used in Switzerland for signals and for calling cattle. n.

Alpaca (4½ ft. long; 5 ft. high to top of head) al pen stock (al'pən stək'), a strong staff with an iron point, used as an aid in climbing mountains. n.

al pha (al'fə), the beginning of anything; first in a series. n.

alpha and omega, the first and the last; the beginning and the end.

al pha bet (al'fə bet), 1. set of letters or characters representing sounds, used in writing a language. 2. the letters of a language arranged in their usual order, not as they are in words. 3. parts to be learned first; elementary principles. n.

al pha bet ic (al'fə bet'ik), alphabetical. adj.

al pha bet i cal (al'fə bet'ə kl), 1. arranged by letters in the order of the alphabet. 2. of the alphabet. adj.

al pha bet i cal ly (al'fə bet'ik lē), in the usual order of the letters of the alphabet. adv.

al pha bet ize (al'fə bē tiz), arrange in alphabetical order. v., al pha bet ized, al pha bet iz ing.

alpha particle, a positively charged particle consisting of two protons and two neutrons, released in the disintegration of radium and similar radioactive substances.

alpha rays, a stream of alpha particles.

al pine (al'pin), 1. of or like high mountains. 2. very high. adj.

Al pine (al'pin), of the Alps; like the Alps. adj.

Alps (alps), a mountain system in S Europe, famous for its beautiful scenery. The highest peak is Mont Blanc, 15,781 feet. n.pl.

al ready (əl red'ē), before this time; by this time; even now: You are half an hour late already. The baby has already broken his new toy. adv.

al right (əl rit'), Informal, all right. The spelling alright is not as yet generally acceptable. adv.

Alsace (al'sās), region in NE France, taken by Germany in 1871, restored in 1919, taken again in 1940, and restored again in 1945. n.

Alsace-Lor raine (al'sās-lō rān'), Alsace and Lorraine, region in NE France. They formed a German province from 1871 to 1919 and from 1940 to 1945. n.

Al sa tian (al sā'shən), 1. of Alsace or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Alsace. 3. breed of police dog. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

al so (əl'sō), in addition; besides; too: That dress is pretty, and cheap also. adv.

al so ran (əl'sō ran'), loser; unsuccessful contestant. n.

alt., altitude.

Alta., Alberta, a province in Canada.

Al tai Mountains (al'ti), mountain range in central Asia. The highest peak is 14,890 feet.

al tar (əl'tār), 1. table or stand in the most sacred part of a church, synagogue, or temple. In Christian churches the altar is used in the Communion service or in celebrating Mass. 2. a raised place built of earth or stone on which to make sacrifices or burn offerings to a god. n.

lead to the altar, marry.

altar boy, person who helps a priest during certain religious services, especially Mass; acolyte.

al ter (əl'tər), 1. make different; change; vary: If this coat is too large, a tailor can alter it to fit you. 2. become different: Since her trip to Europe, her whole outlook has altered. v. —al'ter a ble, adj. —al'ter a bly, adv.

al ter a tion (əl'tər ā'shən), a change in the appearance, form, or condition of anything: have alterations made in a dress. The atom and hydrogen bombs have led to great alterations in military planning. n.

Girl holding an alpenstock al ter cate (əl'tər kāt), dispute angrily; quarrel. v., al ter cat ed, al ter cat ing.

al ter ca tion (əl'tər kā'shən), an angry dispute; quarrel: The two teams had an altercation over the umpire's decision. n.

al ter e go (əl'tər ē'gō or əl'tər eg'ō), a very intimate friend.

al ter nate (əl'tər nāt for 1-3,7,8; əl'tər nit for 4-6), 1. occur by turns, first one and then the other; happen or be arranged by turns. Squares and circles alternate in this row: □ ○ □ ○ □ ○ □ ○. 2. arrange by turns; do by turns: alternate work and pleasure. 3. take turns: Lucy and her sister will alternate in setting the table.

4. placed or occurring by turns; first one and then the other: The row has alternate squares and circles. 5. every other: Our dairy no longer delivers milk daily, but only on alternate days. 6. U.S. person appointed to take the place of another if necessary; substitute. 7. interchange regularly: The sick man alternated two hours of work with one hour of rest. 8. reverse direction at regular intervals. Some electric currents alternate 120 times a second. 1-3,7,8 v., al ter nat ed, al ter nat ing; 4,5 adj., 6 n.

al ter nate ly (əl'tər nit lē), by turns, first one and then the other. adv.

alternating current, electric current in which the electricity flows regularly in one direction and then the other, reversing many times per second. Most electrical circuits now use alternating current, the usual frequency being 60 cycles per second, or 120 reversals in direction per second. See def. 8 of alternate.

al ter na tion (əl'tər nā'shən), an alternating; occurring by turns, first one and then the other: There is an alternation of red and white stripes in the flag of the United States. n.

al ter na tive (əl tēr'nə tiv), 1. giving or requiring a choice between only two things: Father offered the alternative plans of having a picnic or taking a trip on a steamboat. 2. choice between two things: His father gave John the alternative of staying in high school or going to work. 3. giving a choice from among more than two things: There are several alternative routes from New York to Chicago. 4. choice from among more than two things. 5. one of the things to be chosen: John chose the former alternative and stayed in school. 1,3 adj., 2,4,5 n. —al ter'na tive ly, adv.

al ter na tor (əl'tər nā'tər), dynamo or generator for producing an alternating electric current. n.

al the a or al thae a (al thē'ə), rose of Sharon, a flowering garden shrub. n.

alt horn (alt'hörn'), a brass musical instrument similar to the French horn. n. Also, alto horn.

al though or al tho (əl thō'), though: Although it rained all morning, they went on the hike. conj.

al tim e ter (al tim'ə tər or al'tə mē'tər), any instrument for measuring altitude. Altimeters are used in aircraft to indicate height above the earth's surface. n.

al ti tude (al'tə tūd or al'tə tūd), 1. height above the earth's surface: The airplane was flying at an altitude of 10,000 feet. 2. height above sea level: The altitude of Denver is 5300 feet. 3. a high place: In these altitudes snow never melts. 4. the angular distance of a star, planet, etc., above the horizon. n.

al to (al'tō), 1. the lowest female voice; contralto. 2. the highest male voice. 3. singer with such a voice.

4. part in music for such a voice or for a corresponding instrument. 5. instrument playing such a part. 6. for an alto part; that can sing or play an alto part. 1-5 n., pl. al tos; 6 adj.

al to geth er (əl'tə geth'ər), 1. completely; entirely: The house was altogether destroyed by fire. 2. on the whole; considering everything: Altogether, I'm sorry it happened. 3. all included: Altogether there were 14 books. adv. See also altogether.

alto horn, altorn.

Al too na (al tū'nə), city in S Pennsylvania. 69,000. n.

al tru ism (al'trū iz əm), selfishness; unselfish devotion to the interests and welfare of others. n.

al tru ist (al'trū ist), an unselfish person; person who works for the welfare of others. n.

al tru is tic (al'trū is'tik), thoughtful of the welfare of others; unselfish. adj. —al'trū is'ti cal ly, adv.

al um (al'əm), 1. a white mineral salt used in medicine and in dyeing. Alum is sometimes used to stop the bleeding of a small cut. 2. a colorless, crystal-like salt used in baking powder. n.

a lu mi num (ə lū'mə nəm), a silver-white, very light, ductile metal that resists tarnish and is used for making utensils, instruments, etc. It is a metallic element and occurs in nature only in combination. Symbol: Al n.

a lum na (ə lum'nə), Esp. U.S. a woman graduate or former student of a school, college, or university. n., pl. a lum nae.

a lum nae (ə lum'nē), women graduates or former students of a school or college. pl. of alumna. n.

a lum ni (ə lum'nī), graduates or former students of a school or college. "Alumni" may mean either men graduates or both men and women. pl. of alumnus. n.

a lum nus (ə lum'nəs), graduate or former student of a school, college, or university. n., pl. a lum ni.

al way (əl'wā), Archaic or Poetic. always. adv.

al ways (əl'wiz or əl'wāz), 1. every time; at all times: Night always follows day. 2. all the time; continually: Mother is always cheerful. adv.

a lys sum (ə lis'əm), a plant of the same family as the mustard, having small white or yellow flowers. n.

am (am; unstressed, əm), the first person singular, present indicative of be: The little boy said, "I am six years old. I am going to school." I am, you are, and he is are forms of the verb be. v.

Am, americium.

Am., 1. America. 2. American.

AM or A.M., amplitude modulation.

A.M., Master of Arts. Also, M.A.

a.m. or A.M., 1. before noon. 2. the time from midnight to noon.

A.M.A., American Medical Association.

a main (ə mən'), 1. at full speed. 2. in haste. 3. with full force; violently. adv.

a mal gam (ə mal'gəm), 1. an alloy of mercury with some other metal or metals. Tin amalgam is used in silvering mirrors. Silver amalgam is used as fillings for teeth. 2. mixture; blend. n.

a mal gam ate (ə mal'gə māt), unite; combine; mix; blend: The two companies amalgamated to form one big company. v., a mal gam at ed, a mal gam at ing.

a mal gam a tion (ə mal'gə mā'shən), combination; mixture; blend; union: Our nation is an amalgamation of many different races. n.

a man u en sis (ə man'ū en'sis), person who writes down what another says; person who copies what another has written. n., pl. a man u en ses (-sēz).

am a ranth (am'ə ranth), 1. Poetic. an imaginary flower that never fades. 2. plant with showy, purple or crimson flowers. One variety is love-lies-bleeding. 3. purple; purplish red. n.

am a ran thine (am'ə ran'thin), 1. never-fading; undying. 2. purple; purplish-red. adj.

Am a ril lo (am'ə ril'ō), city in NW Texas. 138,000. n.

am a ryl lis (am'ə ril'is), a lilylike plant with clusters of large red, white, or pink flowers. n.

a mass (ə mas'), heap together; pile up; accumulate: The miser amassed a fortune for himself. v.

am a teur (am'ə chər or am'ə tər), 1. person who does something for pleasure, not for money or as a profession. 2. athlete who is not a professional: Only amateurs are permitted to compete in the Olympic games. 3. person who does something rather poorly: You can tell from his painting that he is an amateur, completely without training. 4. of amateurs; made or done by amateurs: an amateur orchestra. 5. being an amateur: an amateur pianist. 1-3 n., 4, 5 adj.

am a teur ish (am'ə chūr'ish, am'ə tyūr'ish, or am'ə tēr'ish), done as an amateur might do it; not expert; not very skillful. adj. —am'ə teur'ish ly, adv.

am a teur ism (am'ə chər iz'm or am'ə tər iz'm), 1. amateurish way of doing things. 2. position or rank of an amateur. n.

am a to ry (am'ə tō'rē), of love; causing love; having to do with making love or with lovers. adj.

a maze (ə māz'), surprise greatly; strike with sudden wonder: She was so amazed by the surprise party that she could not think of anything to say. v., a mazed, a mazing.

a mazed (ə māzd'), greatly surprised. adj.

a mazed ly (ə māz'id lē), lost in wonder or astonishment. adv.

a maze ment (ə māz'mənt), great surprise; sudden wonder; astonishment: The girl was filled with amazement when she first saw the ocean. n.

a mazing (ə māz'ing), very surprising; wonderful; astonishing. adj. —a mazing-ly, adv.

Am a zon

(am'ə zon).

1. the largest river in the world, flowing from the Andes Mountains in NW South America across Brazil into the Atlantic. 3900 mi. 2. one of a race of women warriors in Greek legends, supposed to live near the Black Sea. 3. amazon. n.

am a zon (am'ə zon), a tall, strong, masculine woman. n.

Am a zo ni an (am'ə zō'nē ən), 1. of the Amazon River or the region it drains. 2. of the Amazons. 3. like an Amazon or the Amazons; masculine; warlike. adj.

am bas sa dor (am bas'ə dər or am bas'ə dōr), 1. a representative of highest rank sent by one government or ruler to another. An ambassador lives in a foreign country and speaks and acts in behalf of his government or his ruler. 2. official messenger with a special errand; agent: Miles Standish chose John Alden to be his ambassador. n.

am bas sa do ri al (am bas'ə dō'rē əl), of an ambassador or ambassadors. adj.

am bas sa dor ship (am bas'ə dər ship'), 1. position or rank of an ambassador. 2. term of office of an ambassador. n.

am ber (am'bər), 1. a hard, translucent yellow or yellowish-brown gum, used for jewelry and in making stems of pipes. Amber is the resin of fossil pine trees. 2. made of amber. 3. color of amber; yellow; yellowish brown. 4. yellow; yellowish-brown. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 adj.

am ber gris (am'bər grēs or am'bər gris), a wax-like, grayish substance that comes from sperm whales. Ambergris is used in making perfumes. n.

am bi dex ter i ty (am'bə deks ter'ə tē), 1. ability to use both hands equally well. 2. unusual skillfulness. 3. deceitfulness. n.

am bi dex trous (am'bə dek'strəs), 1. able to use both hands equally well. 2. very skillful. 3. deceitful. adj. —am'bi dex'trous ly, adv. —am'bi dex'trous-ness, n.

am bi ent (am'bē ənt), surrounding. adj.

am bi gu i ty (am'bə gū'ə tē), 1. possibility of two or more meanings. 2. word or expression that can have more than one meaning. n., pl. am bi gu i ties.

am big u ous (am big'ū əs), 1. having more than one possible meaning. "After John hit Dick he ran away," is ambiguous because one cannot tell which boy ran away. 2. doubtful; not clear; uncertain: He was left in an ambiguous position by his friend's failure to appear and help him. adj. —am big'ū ous ly, adv. —am big'ū ous ness, n.

am bi tion (am bish'ən), 1. strong desire for fame or honor; seeking after a high position or great power: John was filled with ambition and worked afternoons after school and on Saturdays. 2. thing strongly desired or sought after: Her ambition was to be a great actress. n. —am bi'tion less, adj.

am bi tious (am bish'əs), 1. having ambition. 2. showing ambition: an ambitious plan. 3. desiring strongly; eager: ambitious of power. John is ambitious to get through high school in three years. adj. —am bi'tious ly, adv. —am bi'tious ness, n.

am ble (am'bl), 1. gait of a horse when it lifts first the two legs on one side and then the two on the other. 2. of a horse, move at an amble. 3. easy, slow pace in walking. 4. walk at an easy, slow pace. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., am bled, am bling.

am bler (am'blər), 1. horse or mule that ambles. 2. person who ambles. n.

Am boi na (am boi'nə), 1. principal island of the Moluccas. 67,000 pop.; 314 sq. mi. 2. seaport and principal city of the Moluccas. 17,000. n.

am bro sia (am brō'zhə), 1. the food of the ancient Greek and Roman gods. 2. anything especially delicious. n.

am bro sial (am brō'zhəl), like ambrosia; especially pleasing to taste or smell. adj.

am bu lance (am'byə ləns), a vehicle, boat, or airplane equipped to carry sick or wounded persons. n.

am bu lant (am'byə lənt), walking. adj.

am bu late (am'byə lāt), walk; move about. v., am bu lat ed, am bu lat ing. —am'bu la'tion, n.

am bu la to ry (am'byə lə tō're), 1. having to do with walking; fitted for walking. 2. capable of walking; not bedridden. 3. a covered place for walking; cloister. 1,2 adj., 3 n., pl. am bu la to ries.

am bus cade (am'bəs kād'), ambush. n., v., am bus cad ed, am bus cad ing. —am'bus cad'er, n.

am bush (am'bush), 1. soldiers or other enemies hidden to make a surprise attack. 2. place where they are hidden. 3. attack from an ambush. 4. wait in hiding to make a surprise attack. 5. act or condition of lying in wait: Indians often trapped their enemies by ambush, instead of meeting them in open battle. 6. put (soldiers or other persons) in hiding for a surprise attack: The major ambushed his troops in the woods on either side of the road. 1-3,5 n., 3,4,6 v.

a me ba (ə mē'bə), amoeba. n., pl. a me bas, a me-bae (-bē).

a me bic (ə mē'bik), amoebic. adj.

a meer (ə mir'), amir. n.

a mel io rate (ə mēl'yə rāt), make better; become better; improve: New housing ameliorated living conditions in the slums. v., a mel io rat ed, a mel io rat ing.

a mel io ra tion (ə mēl'yə rā'shən), improvement. n.

a mel io ra tive (ə mēl'yə rā'tiv), improving. adj.

a men (ā'men' or ā'men'), 1. be it so; may it become true. Amen is said after a prayer or wish and is used as an expression of assent. 2. Informal. an expression of approval. 3. the word amen. 1,2 interj., 3 n.

a me na ble (ə mē'nə bl or ə men'ə bl), 1. open to suggestion or advice; responsive; submissive: A reasonable person is amenable to persuasion. 2. accountable; answerable: People living in a country are amenable to its laws. adj. —a me'na ble ness, n. —a me'na bly, adv.

a mend (ə mend'), 1. change the form of (a law, bill, motion, etc.) by addition, omission, etc.: Our Constitution was amended so that women could vote. 2. change for the better; improve: It is time you amended your poor table manners. 3. free from faults; make right; correct. v. —a mend'a ble, adj. —a mend'er, n.

a mend ment (ə mend'mənt), 1. a change made in a law, bill, motion, etc. Our Constitution has over twenty amendments. 2. a change for the better; improvement. 3. change made to remove an error; correction. n.

a mends (ə mendz'), payment for loss; satisfaction for an injury; compensation: If you took more than your share of the money, you should at once make amends by returning the extra amount. n. sing. or pl.

a men i ty (ə men'ə tē or ə mē'nə tē), 1. pleasant way; polite act: Saying "Thank you" and holding the door open for a person to pass through are amenities. 2. pleasant feature. 3. pleasantness; agreeableness: the amenity of a warm climate. n., pl. a men i ties.

Amer., 1. America. 2. American.

A mer i ca (ə mer'ə kə), 1. the United States of America. 2. North America. 3. North America and South America; the Western Hemisphere. 4. South America. n.

A mer i can (ə mer'ə kən), 1. of or having to do with the United States; in the United States: an American citizen. 2. citizen of the United States, or of the earlier British colonies, not belonging to one of the aboriginal races. 3. native only to the United States: American eagle. 4. of or in the Western Hemisphere: the Amazon and other American rivers. 5. native or inhabitant of the Western Hemisphere. 1,3,4 adj., 2,5 n.

American aloe, the century plant.

American eagle, the bald eagle. The coat of arms of the United States has a design of the American eagle on it.

A mer i can ism (ə mer'ə kən iz'm), 1. devotion or loyalty to the United States, its customs, traditions, etc. 2. a word, phrase, or meaning originating in the United States. 3. custom or trait peculiar to the United States. n.

A mer i can i za tion (ə mer'ə kən ə zā'shən), act or process of making or becoming American in habits, customs, or character. n.

A mer i can ize (ə mer'ə kən īz), make or become American in habits, customs, or character. v., A mer-i can ized, A mer i can iz ing.

American Revolution, 1. war fought by the American colonies from 1775 to 1783 to gain their independence from England. 2. the series of protests and acts of the American colonists from 1763 to 1783 against England's attempts to increase her power over them.

am er i ci um (am'er ish'ē əm), an artificial, radioactive metallic element. Symbol: Am n.

am e thyst (am'ə thist), 1. a purple or violet variety of quartz, used for jewelry. 2. a violet-colored corundum, used for jewelry. 3. purple; violet. 1-3 n., 3 adj. —am'e thyst like, adj.

a mi a bil i ty (ā'mē ə bil'ə tē), good nature; friendliness; pleasantness; agreeableness. n.

a mi a ble (ā'mē ə bl), good-natured and friendly; pleasant and agreeable. adj. —a'mi a bly, adv.

am i ca bil i ty (am'ə kə bil'ə tē), quality of being peaceable or friendly. n.

am i ca ble (am'ə kə bl), peaceable; friendly: Instead of fighting, the two nations settled their quarrel in an amicable way. adj. —am'i ca bly, adv.

a mid (ə mid'), in the middle of; among. prep.

a mid ship (ə mid'ship), amidships. adv.

a mid ships (ə mid'ships), in or toward the middle of a ship; halfway between the bow and stern. adv.

a midst (ə midst'), amid. prep.

a mi no acids (ə mē'nō or am'ə nō), complex organic compounds of nitrogen that combine in various ways to form proteins.

a mir (ə mir'), in Moslem countries, a commander, ruler, or prince. n. Also, ameer.

a miss (ə mis'), 1. not the way it should be; out of order; at fault: You must be tired; your work seems to be going amiss today. 2. improper; wrong: It would not be amiss to offer an apology, even though you may not have intended harm. 1 adv., 2 adj.

take amiss, be offended at.

amity (am'ə tē), peace and friendship; friendly relations: If there were amity between nations, there would be no wars. n., pl. amities.

Am man (ām'mān or am'ən), capital of Jordan, in the northern part. 245,000. n.

am meter (am'mē'tər), instrument for measuring the strength of an electric current in amperes. n.

Am mon (am'ən), the sun god of ancient Egypt, represented with horns like a ram's. n.

am monia (ə mōn'yə), 1. a strong-smelling, colorless gas, consisting of nitrogen and hydrogen. 2. this gas dissolved in water. Ammonia is very useful for cleaning and for many other purposes. n.

am mo ni ac (ə mō'nē ak), gum resin used for medicines and as a cement for porcelain. n.

am mo nite (am'ə nīt), one of the coiled fossil shells of an extinct mollusk. n.

am mu ni tion (am'yə nish'ən), 1. bullets, shells, gunpowder, etc., for guns or other weapons; military supplies that can be used against an enemy. 2. thing or things that can be shot, hurled, or thrown. 3. means of attack or defense. n.

am ne sia (am nē'zhə), loss of memory caused by injury to the brain, or by disease or shock. n.

am nes ty (am'nis tē), 1. a general pardon for past offenses against a government: After order was restored, the king granted amnesty to those who had plotted against him. 2. give amnesty to; pardon. 1 n., pl. am nes ties; 2 v., am nes tied, am nes ty ing.

am ni on (am'nē ən), a membrane lining the sac which encloses the embryos of reptiles, birds, and mammals. n., pl. am ni ons, am ni a (-nē ə).

a moe ba (ə mē'bə), an extremely small one-celled animal that moves by forming temporary projections that are constantly changing. Amoebas are so small that they can be examined only with a microscope. Many amoebas live in water; others live as parasites in other animals. n., pl. a moe-bas, a moe bae (-bē). —a moe'ba like', adj. Also, ameba.

Amoeba

a moe bic (ə mē'bik), 1. of or like an amoeba or amoebas. 2. caused by amoebas: amoebic dysentery. adj. Also, amebic.

a mok (ə muk' or ə mok'), amuck. adv.

a mong (ə mung'), 1. surrounded by: a house among the trees. 2. in with: He fell among thieves. 3. in the number or class of: That book is the best among modern novels. 4. in comparison with: one among many. 5. to each of; by or for distribution to: Divide the money among them. 6. by the combined action of: You have among you spoiled the child. 7. by, with, or through the whole of: political unrest among the people. prep.

among ourselves, yourselves, or themselves, each with the other; mutually: They fought among themselves.

a mongst (ə mungst'), among. prep.

am o rous (am'ə rəs), 1. inclined to love. 2. in love. 3. showing love; loving. 4. having to do with love or courtship. adj. —am'o rous ly, adv. —am'o rous-ness, n.

a mor phous (ə mōr'fəs), 1. not consisting of crystals: Glass is amorphous; sugar is crystalline. 2. of no particular kind or type. 3. having no definite form; shapeless; formless; not organized. adj. —a mor'phous ly, adv.

am or ti za tion (am'ər tə zā'shən), 1. act of amortizing a debt. 2. money regularly set aside for this purpose. n.

am or tize (am'ər tīz), set money aside regularly in a special fund for future wiping out of (a debt, etc.). v., am or tized, am or tiz ing.

A mos (ā'məs), 1. a Hebrew prophet and social reformer who lived about 760 B.C. 2. book of the Old Testament. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

a mount (ə mount'), 1. sum; total: What is the amount of the day's sales? 2. the full effect, value, or extent: The amount of evidence against him is great. 3. quantity viewed as a whole: a great amount of intelligence. 4. reach; be equal: The loss from the flood amounts to ten million dollars. Keeping what belongs to another amounts to stealing. 1-3 n., 4 v.

a mour (ə mūr'), 1. a love affair. 2. a secret love affair. n.

amp., 1. ampere. 2. amperage.

am per age (am'pər ij), strength of an electric current measured in amperes. n.

am pere (am'pīr or am pīr'), unit for measuring the strength of an electric current. It is the amount of current one volt can send through a resistance of one ohm. Ordinary light bulbs take from ¼ to ½ ampere. n.

am per sand (am'pər sand), the sign &, meaning "and." n.

Am phib i a (am fib'ē ə), group of cold-blooded vertebrates with moist, scaleless skin, including frogs, toads, newts, salamanders, etc. Their young usually develop as tadpoles that have gills and live in water. n.pl.

am phib i an (am-fib'ē ən), 1. animal that lives on land and in water. 2. one of the Amphibia. 3. plant that grows on land or in water. 4. of both land and water; able to live both on land and in water. 5. aircraft that can take off from and alight on either land or water. 6. that can start from and alight on either land or water. 7. a type of vehicle, especially a tank, for use on land or in water. 1-3, 5, 7 n., 4, 6 adj.

LANDING GEAR

Amphibian airplane

am phib i ous (am fib'ē əs), 1. able to live both on land and in water: Frogs are amphibious. 2. suited for use on land or water: an amphibious tank. 3. having two qualities, kinds, natures, or parts. 4. by the combined action of land, water, and air forces: an amphibious attack. adj. —am phib'i ous ly, adv. —am phib'i ous-ness, n.

am phi the a ter or am phi the a tre (am'fə thē'ə tər), 1. a circular or oval building with rows of seats around a central open space. Each row is higher than the one in front of it. 2. something resembling an amphitheater in shape: an amphitheater of hills. n.

Roman amphitheater

Am phi tri te (am'fə trī'tē), ancient Greek goddess of the sea. She was the wife of Poseidon. n.

am ple (am'pl), 1. large; big; extensive; roomy: A well-designed house should have ample closets. 2. more than enough; abundant: Take an ample supply of food for a day's journey. 3. enough: My allowance is ample for carfare and lunches. adj., am pler, am plest.

am pli fi ca tion (am'plə fə kā'shən), a making greater, stronger, or more extensive; enlargement; expansion. n.

am pli fi er (am'plə fī'ər), 1. person or thing that amplifies. 2. a transistor, vacuum tube, or other device for strengthening electrical impulses. 3. loudspeaker. n.

am pli fy (am'plə fī), 1. make greater; make stronger. 2. make fuller and more extensive; expand; enlarge: Amplify your description of the circus. 3. write or talk at length. 4. increase the strength of (a sound or an electrical impulse): By turning this knob to the right you can amplify the sound from this radio. v., am pli fied, am pli fy ing.

am pli tude (am'plə tūd or am'plə tūd), 1. width; breadth; size. 2. abundance; fullness: A very rich man has an amplitude of money. 3. one half the range of regular vibrations. A pendulum swinging through an angle of 10 degrees has an amplitude of 5 degrees. 4. the peak strength of an alternating electric current in a given cycle. n.

amplitude modulation, purposeful alteration of the amplitude of radio waves. Ordinary broadcasting uses amplitude modulation. See also frequency modulation.

am ply (am'plē), sufficiently; abundantly. adv.

am pu tate (am'pyə tāt), cut off: The doctor amputated the soldier's wounded leg. v., am pu tat ed, am pu tat ing. —am'pu ta'tor, n.

am pu ta tion (am'pyə tā'shən), act of cutting off a leg, arm, finger, etc.; cutting off. n.

am pu tee (am'pyə tē'), person who has had an arm, leg, etc., amputated. n.

Am rit sar (um rit'sər), city in the N part of India near Lahore, Pakistan. 326,000. n.

Am ster dam (am'stər dam), important seaport and a capital of the Netherlands. 872,000. n.

amt., amount.

a muck (ə muk'), in a murderous frenzy; with a crazy desire to attack. adv. Also, amok.

run amuck, run about in a murderous frenzy.

am u let (am'yə lit), some object worn as a magic charm against evil. n.

A mund sen (ä'mün sən), Roald, 1872-1928, Norwegian explorer who discovered the South Pole in 1911. n.

A mur (ä'mür'), river in NE Asia flowing into the Sea of Okhotsk. 2900 mi. n.

a muse (ə mūz'), 1. cause to laugh or smile: The playful puppy running around the room amused the baby. 2. keep pleasantly interested; cause to feel cheerful or happy; entertain: The new toys amused the children. v., a mused, a mus ing.

a mused (ə mūzd'), pleasantly entertained. adj. —a mus'ed ly, adv.

a muse ment (ə mūz'mənt), 1. condition of being amused: The boy's amusement was so great that we all had to laugh with him. 2. thing that amuses; entertainment; sport: When we go to the park we always enjoy the swings, slides, and other such amusements. n.

a mus ing (ə mūz'ing), 1. entertaining. 2. causing laughter, smiles, etc. adj. —a mus'ing ly, adv.

am y lop sin (am'ə lop'sin), enzyme in the pancreatic juice that changes starch into simpler compounds such as glucose. n.

an¹ (an; unstressed ən), 1. one; any: an apple. 2. each; every: twice an hour. adj. or indefinite article.

an² or an' (an; unstressed ən), 1. Dialect or Informal. and. 2. Archaic. if. conj.

-an, suffix meaning:

1. of or having to do with ____: Mohammedan = of or having to do with Mohammed.

2. of or having to do with ____ or its people: Asian = of or having to do with Asia or its people.

3. native or inhabitant of ____: American = native or inhabitant of America.

a nach ro nism (ə nak'rə niz əm), 1. act of putting a person, thing, or event in some time where he or it does not belong: It would be an anachronism to speak of George Washington riding in an automobile. 2. something placed or occurring out of its proper time. n.

a nach ro nis tic (ə nak'rə nis'tik), having or involving an anachronism. adj.

a nach ro nous (ə nak'rə nəʊs), placed or occurring out of the proper time. adj. —a nach'ro nous ly, adv.

an a con da (an'ə kon'də), 1. a very large snake of tropical forests that crushes its prey in its coils; water boa. Anacondas are the longest snakes in America. 2. any large snake that crushes its prey in its folds, such as the python, or boa. n.

An a con da (an'ə kon'də), city in SW Montana, important for its copper mines. 12,000. n.

a nae mi a (ə nē'mē ə), anemia. n.

a nae mic (ə nē'mik'), anemic. adj.

an aer o bic (an'ār ō'bik), living or growing where there is no free oxygen. Anaerobic bacteria get their oxygen by decomposing compounds containing oxygen. adj.

an aes the sia (an'is thē'zhə), anesthesia. n.

an aes the tic (an'is thē'tik), anesthetic. adj., n.

an aes the tist (ə nes'thə tist), anesthetist. n.

an aes the tize (ə nes'thə tīz), anesthetize. v.

an aes the tized, an aes the tiz ing.

an a gram (an'ə gram), word or phrase formed from another by transposing the letters. Example: lived—devil. n.

an a grams (an'ə gramz), game in which the players make words by changing and adding letters. n.pl.

a nal (ā'nəl), 1. of the anus. 2. near the anus. adj.

an al ge si a (an'al jē'zē ə), deadening or absence of sense of pain. n.

an a log i cal (an'ə loj'ə kl), based on analogy; using analogy; having to do with analogy. adj.

a nal o gous (ə nal'ə gəs), 1. corresponding in some way; similar in the quality or feature that is being thought of; comparable: The heart is analogous to a pump. 2. of animals or plants, corresponding in function, but not in structure and origin. adj. —a nal'o gous ly, adv.

a nal o gy (ə nal'ə jē), 1. likeness in some ways between things that are otherwise unlike; similarity: The analogy between words like man and pan sometimes causes children to say mans for men. 2. comparison of such things: It is risky to argue by analogy. 3. of animals or plants, correspondence in function but not in structure and origin. n., pl. a nal o gies.

an a lyse (an'ə līz), Esp. Brit. analyze. v., an a lysed, an a lys ing. —an'a lys'er, n.

a nal y sis (ə nal'ə sis), 1. separation of a thing into its parts; examination of a thing's parts to find out their essential features. An analysis can be made of a book, a person's character, a medicine, soil, etc. 2. the intentional separation of a chemical substance into its ingredients or elements to determine their amount or nature. n., pl. a nal y ses (-sēz).

an a lyst (an'ə list), 1. person who analyzes. 2. person who practices psychoanalysis. n.

an a lyt ic (an'ə lit'ik), analytical. adj.

an a lyt i cal (an'ə lit'ə kl), of analysis; using analysis: the analytical methods of science. An analytical balance is an extremely delicate pair of scales for weighing things. adj. —an'a lyt'i cal ly, adv.

an a lyze (an'ə līz), 1. separate into its parts. We can analyze water into oxygen and hydrogen. 2. examine critically the parts or elements of; find out the essential features of. After you analyze a sentence, you can explain the form and use of every word in it. 3. examine carefully and in detail. v., an a lyzed, an a lyz ing. —an'a lyz'er, n.

An a ni as (an'ə nī'əs), 1. famous liar in the Bible. He and his wife were struck dead for lying. Acts 5:1-10. 2. Informal. any liar. n.

an ar chic (an'ər kik'), lawless; favoring anarchy. adj.

an ar chism (an'ər kiz əm), 1. the political theory that all systems of government and law are harmful. Believers in anarchism think that government and laws prevent individuals from reaching their greatest development. 2. terrorism; lawlessness. n.

an ar chist (an'ər kist), person who wants to overthrow established governments and have a world without rulers and laws. n.

an ar chis tic (an'ər kis'tik), of anarchism; like that of anarchists. adj.

an ar chy (an'ər kē), 1. absence of a system of government and law. 2. disorder; confusion; lawlessness. n.

a nath e ma (ə nath'ə mə), 1. a solemn curse by church authorities excommunicating some person from the church. 2. denouncing and condemning some person or thing as evil; curse. 3. person or thing accursed. 4. thing that is detested and condemned. n., pl. a nath e mas.

a nath e ma tize (ə nath'ə mə tīz), pronounce an anathema against; denounce; curse. v., a nath e ma tized, a nath e ma tiz ing. —a nath'e ma ti za'tion, n. —a nath'e ma tiz'er, n.

An a to li a (an'ə tō'lē ə), Asia Minor. n. —An'a to'li an, adj., n.

an a tom ic (an'ə tom'ik), anatomical. adj.

an a tom i cal (an'ə tom'ə kl), of anatomy; having to do with anatomy; structural. adj. —an'a tom'i cally, adv.

a nat o mist (ə nat'ə mist), 1. an expert in anatomy. 2. person who dissects or analyzes. n.

a nat o mize (ə nat'ə miz), 1. divide into parts to study the structure; dissect. 2. examine the parts of; analyze. v., a nat o mized, a nat o miz ing. —a nat'o mi za'tion, n.

a nat o my (ə nat'ə mē), 1. structure of an animal or plant: The anatomy of an earthworm is much simpler than that of a man. 2. science of the structure of animals and plants. Anatomy is a part of biology. 3. the dissecting of animals or plants to study their structure. n., pl. a nat o mies.

An ax a go ras (an'ak sag'ə rəs), 500?-428? B.C., Greek philosopher who first explained eclipses. n.

A nax i man der (ə nak'sə man'dər), 611?-547? B.C., Greek philosopher. n.

-ance, suffix meaning:

1. act or fact of —ing: Avoidance = act or fact of avoiding.

2. quality or state of being —ed: Annoyance = quality or state of being annoyed.

3. quality or state of being —ant: Importance = quality or state of being important.

4. thing that —s: Conveyance = thing that conveys.

5. what is —ed: Contrivance = what is contrived.

an ces tor (an'ses tər), 1. person from whom one is descended. Your father, your mother, your grandfathers, your grandmothers, and so on back, are your ancestors. 2. that from which anything is descended: Men and apes are thought by many to have a common ancestor. n.

an ces tral (an ses'trəl), 1. of or having to do with ancestors: The ancestral home of the Pilgrims was England. 2. inherited from ancestors: Black hair is an ancestral trait in that family. adj. —an ces'tral ly, adv.

an ces tress (an'ses tris), woman from whom one is descended. n.

an ces try (an'ses trē), 1. parents, grandparents, and other ancestors: Many of the early settlers in America had English ancestry. 2. line of descent from ancestors; lineage. 3. honorable descent. n., pl. an ces tries.

An chi ses (an kī'sēz), in Roman legend, a prince of Troy and the father of Aeneas. In his old age Anchises shared the wanderings of Aeneas. n.

an chor (ang'kər), 1. a shaped piece of iron attached to a chain or rope and used to hold a ship in place. The anchor grips the bottom and keeps the ship from drifting. 2. hold in place with an anchor: anchor a ship. 3. drop anchor; stop or stay in place by using an anchor. 4. thing for holding something else in place: The anchors of the cables of a suspension bridge are at the ends of the cables. 5. hold in place; fix firmly: anchor a tent to the ground. 6. something that makes a person feel safe and secure. 1,4,6 n., 2,3,5 v.

Anchor (def. 1)

at anchor, held by an anchor.

cast anchor, drop the anchor.

ride at anchor, be kept at some place by being anchored.

an chor age (ang'kər ij), 1. place to anchor. 2. money paid for the right to anchor. 3. an anchoring; being anchored. 4. something to hold on to or depend on. n.

An chor age (ang'kər ij), seaport in S Alaska. 44,000. n.

an cho ret (ang'kə rit), anchorite. n.

an cho rite (ang'kə rīt), 1. person who lives alone in a solitary place for religious meditation. 2. hermit. n.

an cho vy (an'chō vē), a very small fish that looks somewhat like a herring. Anchovies are pickled or made into a paste which is used as an appetizer. n., pl. an cho vies.

an cien ré gime (ān syān' rā zhēm'), French. 1. the social and political structure of France before the Revolution of 1789. 2. the old order of things.

an cient (ān'shənt), 1. of or belonging to times long past: ancient people, ancient records. We saw the ruins of an ancient temple built six thousand years ago. 2. of great age; very old: an ancient city. 3. a very old person. 4. old-fashioned. 1,2,4 adj., 3 n. —an'cient ness, n. the ancients, people who lived long ago, such as the Greeks and Romans, the Egyptians, Hebrews, etc.

ancient history, 1. history from the earliest times to the fall of the western part of the Roman Empire in 476 A.D. 2. Informal. a well-known fact or event of the recent past.

an cient ly (ān'shənt lē), in ancient times. adv.

an cil lar y (an'sə ler'ē), 1. subordinate; dependent. 2. assisting; auxiliary. adj.

and (and; unstressed ənd or ən), 1. as well as: nice and cold. 2. added to; with: 4 and 2 make 6. He likes ham and eggs. 3. as a result: The sun came out and the grass dried. 4. Informal. to try and do better. conj.

An da lu sia (an'də lū'zhə), region in S Spain, now divided into eight provinces. n. —An'da lu'sian, adj., n.

An da man Islands (an'də mən), group of islands in the Bay of Bengal between India and the Malay Peninsula. 19,000 pop.; 2508 sq. mi.

an dan te (an dan'tē or ān dān'tā), 1. in music, moderately slow. 2. moderately slow movement in music; piece of music in this time. 1 adv., adj., 2 n.

An de an (an dē'ən), of or having to do with the Andes. adj.

An der sen (an'dər sn), Hans Christian, 1805-1875, Danish writer of fairy tales. n.

An der son ville (an'dər sn vil), village in SW Georgia where a Confederate military prison was located. n.

An des (an'dēz), mountain system in W South America. The highest peak is Aconcagua, 22,834 ft. n.pl.

Andirons

and i ron (and'ī'ərn), one of a pair of metal supports for wood burned in a fireplace. n.

An dor ra (an dōr'ə), 1. a small country between France and Spain. 6500 pop.; 191 sq. mi. 2. its capital. 700. n.

An dré (an'drā), Major John, 1751-1780, British officer hanged as a spy during the American Revolution. n.

An dre a del Sar to (ān drā'ə del sār'tō), 1486-1531, Italian painter.

An drew (an'drū), in the Bible, one of Jesus' apostles. n.

An dro cles (an'drə klēz), Androclus. n.

An dro clus (an'drə kləs), Roman slave spared in the arena by a lion from whose foot he had pulled a thorn years before. n.

An drom a che (an drom'ə kē), in Greek legend, the brave and loyal wife of Hector. n.

An drom e da (an drom'ə dā), 1. in Greek legend, a princess of Ethiopia who was exposed to a sea monster to save her country. Perseus killed the monster and married Andromeda. 2. a northern constellation. n.

And ros (an'drəs), Sir Edmund, 1637-1714, British governor in the American colonies. n.

an ec do tal (an'ik dōt'l), of anecdotes; containing anecdotes. adj.

an ec dote (an'ik dōt), a short account of some interesting incident or event: Many anecdotes are told about Abraham Lincoln. n.

a ne mi a (ə nē'mē ə), insufficiency of red corpuscles or of hemoglobin in the blood. n. Also, anaemia.

a ne mic (ə nē'mik), of anemia; having anemia. adj. Also, anaemic.

an e mom e ter (an'ə mom'ə tər), instrument that shows the speed of the wind in miles per hour. n.

a nem o ne (ə nem'ə nē), 1. plant with slender stems and small white flowers that blossoms early in the spring. 2. sea anemone. n.

a nent (ə nent'), concerning; about. prep.

an er oid barometer (an'ər oid), barometer worked by air pressing against the sides of an air-tight metal box from which the air has been pumped out.

an es the sia (an'is thē'zha), entire or partial loss of the feeling of pain, touch, cold, etc., produced by ether, chloroform, hypnotism, etc., or as the result of hysteria, paralysis, or disease. n. Also, anaesthesia.

an es the tic (an'is thet'ik), 1. substance that causes entire or partial loss of the feeling of pain, touch, etc. Chloroform and ether are two common anesthetics used by doctors so that patients will feel no pain. 2. causing anesthesia. 3. of or with anesthesia. 1 n., 2,3 adj. Also, anaesthetic. —an'es thet'i cal ly, adv.

an es the tist (ə nes'thē tist), person whose work is giving anesthetics during operations, etc. n. Also, anaesthetist.

an es the tize (ə nes'thē tīz), make unable to feel pain, touch, cold, etc.; make insensible. v., an es the tized, an es the tiz ing. Also, anaesthetize. —an'es'thē tiz'er, n.

a new (ə nū' or ə nū'), 1. once more; again: He made so many mistakes he had to begin his work anew. 2. in a new form or way: The architect planned the building anew. adv.

an gel (än'jəl), 1. one of an order of spiritual beings that are attendants and messengers of God. 2. person like an angel in goodness, innocence, loveliness, etc. 3. any supernatural (but not divine) spirit, either good or bad. 4. Slang, person who pays for producing a play. 5. an old English gold coin in use between 1465 and 1634. n.

an gel fish (än'jəl fish'), 1. shark with large fins that spread out like wings. 2. any of several tropical fish with spiny fins and brilliant colors. n., pl. an gel fish es or (esp. collectively) an gel fish.

an gel ic (än jel'ik), 1. of angels; heavenly. 2. like an angel; pure; innocent; good and lovely. adj. —an gel'i cal ly, adv.

an gel i ca (än jel'ə kə), plant of the same family as the carrot, used in cooking, medicine, and perfume. n.

an gel i cal (än jel'ə kl), angelic. adj.

An ge li co (än jel'ə kō), Fra, 1387-1455, Italian painter. n.

An ge lus (än'jə ləs), 1. prayer said by Roman Catholics in memory of Christ's assuming human form. 2. the bell rung at morning, noon, and night as a signal for Roman Catholics to say this prayer. n.

an ger (äng'gər), 1. the feeling one has toward something that hurts, opposes, offends, or annoys; wrath; strong displeasure: He never speaks in anger. 2. make angry: The boy's disobedience angered his father. 3. become angry: He angers easily. 1 n., 2,3 v.

an gi na (än jī'nə), 1. any inflammation of the throat, such as quinsy, croup, or mumps. 2. angina pectoris. n.

an gi na pec to ris (pek'tə ris), serious disease of the heart that causes sharp chest pains and a feeling of being suffocated.

Anemometer. The cups catch the wind and are moved by it, causing the vertical shaft to revolve. The speed of these revolutions is indicated on the dial.

an gi o sperm (än'jē ō spērm'), any plant having its seeds enclosed in an ovary or fruit; a flowering plant. n.

an gle (äng'gl), 1. space between two lines or surfaces that meet. 2. the figure formed by two such lines or surfaces. 3. the difference in direction between two such lines or surfaces: The roads lie at an angle of about 45 degrees. ACUTE RIGHT OBTUSE

4. move at an angle. 5. turn or bend at an angle. 6. corner. 7. point of view: I would like to hear your angle on this dispute. 8. one aspect of something; phase. 9. present with bias or prejudice. 1-3,6-8 n., 4,5,9 v., an gled, an gling.

an gle (äng'gl), 1. fish with a hook and line. 2. try to get something by using tricks or schemes: She angled for an invitation to his party by flattering him. v., an gled, an gling.

angle of incidence, the angle between a ray of light falling upon a surface and a line perpendicular to that surface. See diagram under incidence.

angle of reflection, the angle between a ray of light reflected from a surface and a line perpendicular to that surface at the point of reflection. See diagram under incidence.

an gler (äng'glər), 1. person who fishes with a hook and line. 2. person who tries to get something by using tricks and schemes. 3. kind of seafish on the coasts of Europe and North America that attracts and eats smaller fish. n.

An gles (äng'glz), a Germanic tribe that settled in England in the fifth century A.D. n.pl.

an gle worm (äng'gl wērm'), earthworm. n.

An gli a (äng'glē ə), Latin name for England. n.

An gli can (äng'glə kən), 1. of or having to do with the Church of England or other churches of the same faith elsewhere. 2. member of an Anglican church. 3. Esp. U.S. English. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

An gli cize (äng'glē sīz), make or become English in form, pronunciation, habits, customs, or character. Cajole, lace, and cousin are French words that have been Anglicized. v., An gli cized, An gli ciz ing. —An'gli ci za'tion, n.

an gling (äng'gling), act or art of fishing with a rod and line. n.

An glo-A mer i can (äng'glō ə mer'ə kən), 1. English and American. 2. of Anglo-Americans. 3. an American, especially a United States citizen of English descent. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

An glo-E gyp tian Su dan (äng'glō i jip'shən sü-dan'), a former country in NE Africa now called Sudan.

An glo-Nor man (äng'glō nōr'mən), 1. one of the Normans who settled in England between 1066 and 1154. 2. descendant of an English Norman. 3. English and Norman. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

An glo-Sax on (äng'glō sak'sən), 1. one of the inhabitants of England before the Norman Conquest in 1066. 2. their speech; Old English. 3. having to do with the Anglo-Saxons or their speech. 4. person who in any period of history has spoken English. 5. person of English descent. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 adj.

An go la (äng gō'lə), Portuguese colony in SW Africa. 4,550,000 pop.; 481,226 sq. mi. Capital: Luanda. n.

An go ra (äng gō'rə), 1. Angora cat. 2. Angora goat. 3. Angora rabbit. 4. mohair. 5. Ankara. n.

Angora cat, kind of cat with long, silky hair.

Angora goat, kind of goat with long, silky hair, used for wool. This hair is made into a cloth called Angora or mohair.

Angora rabbit, kind of rabbit with long, soft hair, used for wool.

an gri ly (äng'grā lē), in an angry way or manner. adv.

an gri ness (äng'grē nis), condition of being angry. n.

an gry (äng'grē), 1. feeling or showing anger: an angry reply. 2. raging or stormy: an angry sky. 3. moved or caused by anger: angry words. 4. inflamed and sore: An infected cut looks angry. adj., an gri er, an gri est.

angstrom (ang'strəm), one ten-millionth of a millimeter, a unit of measurement of the wave length of light. Symbol: λ n.

angstrom unit, angstrom.

anguish (ang'gwish), very great pain or grief; great suffering or distress: He was in anguish until the doctor set his broken leg. n.

anguished (ang'gwisht), 1. suffering anguish. 2. full of anguish; showing anguish: the anguished face of a mother whose child is lost. adj.

angular (ang'gyə lər), 1. having angles; sharp-cornered: an angular rock. 2. measured by an angle. In the diagram, the angular distance of P from Q, when measured from O, is the angle X. 3. not plump; bony: Many basketball players have tall, angular bodies. adj. —an'gu lar ly, adv.

angularity (ang'gyə lar'ə tē), condition of having sharp or prominent corners. n.

anhydride (an hi'drid), anhydride. n.

anhydride (an hi'drid), any oxide that unites with water to form an acid or base. Sulfur trioxide is the anhydride of sulfuric acid. n.

anhydrous (an hi'dras), 1. without water. 2. containing no water of crystallization. adj.

anile (an'il or ā'nīl), old-womanish; suitable for a weak or dotting old woman. adj.

aniline or anilin (an'ə lin), a poisonous, oily liquid, obtained from coal tar and especially from nitrobenzene, used in making dyes, perfumes, plastics, etc. It is a compound of carbon, nitrogen, and oxygen. n.

aniline dye, 1. dye made from aniline. 2. any artificial dye.

anility (ə nil'ə tē), 1. anile condition. 2. an anile act or notion. n., pl. a nilities.

animadversion (an'ə mad vēr'zhən), criticism; blame; unfavorable comment. n.

animadvert (an'ə mad vērt'), make criticisms; express blame; comment unfavorably. v.

animal (an'ə ml), 1. any living thing that is not a plant. Most animals can move about, while most plants cannot; most animals are unable to make their own food from carbon dioxide, water, nitrogen, etc., while most plants can. 2. of animals. 3. an inferior living being, as distinguished from man; brute; beast. 4. like an animal. 5. person like a brute or beast. 6. any four-footed creature. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4 adj.

animalcule (an'ə mal'kūl), a minute or microscopic animal. n.

animalism (an'ə ml iz'əm), animal existence, nature, or enjoyment. n.

animality (an'ə mal'ə tē), 1. animal nature or character in man. 2. animal life. n.

animal kingdom, all animals.

animal spirits, natural liveliness; healthy cheerfulness.

animate (an'ə māt for 1,3,5,6; an'ə mit for 2,4), 1. give life to; make alive. 2. living; having life. Animate nature means all living plants and animals. 3. make lively, gay, or vigorous: Jim's arrival served to animate the whole party. 4. lively; gay; vigorous. 5. inspire; encourage: The soldiers were animated by their captain's brave speech. 6. put into action; cause to act or work: Windmills are animated by the wind. 1,3,5,6 v., an i mat ed, an i mat ing; 2,4 adj.

animated (an'ə māt'id), 1. lively; gay; vigorous: The two boys engaged in an animated discussion of yesterday's baseball game. 2. living; alive. adj. —an'i mat'ed ly, adv.

animated cartoon, series of drawings arranged to be photographed and shown as a motion picture. Each drawing shows a slight change from the one before it.

animation (an'ə mā'shən), 1. an animating or being animated. 2. life. 3. liveliness; spirit. n.

animato (ā'ni mā'tō), in music, lively; gay; vigorous. adj.

animism (an'ə miz əm), 1. belief in the existence of soul distinct from matter; belief in spiritual beings, such as souls, angels, and devils. 2. belief that everything in the universe, including rocks, trees, the wind, stars, etc., contains an individual, living soul. n.

animosity (an'ə mos'ə tē), violent hatred; ill will; active dislike or enmity. n., pl. an i mos i ties.

animus (an'ə mäs), 1. violent hatred; ill will; active dislike or enmity. 2. moving spirit; intention. n.

anion (an'i'ən), 1. a negatively charged ion that moves toward the positive pole in electrolysis. See cathode for diagram. 2. atom or group of atoms having a negative charge. n.

anise (an'is), 1. plant of the same family as the carrot grown for its fragrant seeds. 2. the seed. n.

aniseed (an'ə sēd or an'is sēd'), seed of anise, used as a flavoring or in medicine. n.

Anjou (an'jü), a former duchy in W France. n.

Ankara (ang'kə rə), capital since 1923 of Turkey, in the central part. 646,000. n. Also, Angora.

ankle (ang'kl), 1. joint that connects the foot and the leg. 2. part of the leg between this joint and the calf. n.

ankle bone (ang'kl bōn'), bone of the ankle; talus. n.

anklet (ang'klit), 1. a short sock. 2. band worn around the ankle. An anklet may be an ornament, a brace, or a fetter. n.

annalist (an'l ist), writer of annals. n.

annals (an'lz), 1. a written account of events year by year. 2. historical records; history. n.pl.

Annam (ə nam' or an'am), a former French protectorate in SE Asia, now divided between North Vietnam and South Vietnam. n.

Annamese (an'ə mēz'), 1. of or having to do with Annam or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Annam. 3. language spoken by the Annamese. 1 adj., 2,3 n., pl. An na mese.

Annapolis (ə nap'l is), seaport and capital of Maryland. The U.S. Naval Academy is located there. 23,000. n.

Anne (an), 1665-1714, queen of Great Britain and Ireland from 1702 to 1714. n.

anneal (ə nēl'), toughen (glass, metals, etc.) by heating and then cooling; temper. v.

annelid (an'l id), worm with a body composed of a series of similar segments. Earthworms, leeches, and various sea worms are annelids. n.

annex (ə neks' for 1,2; an'eks for 3), 1. join or add to a larger thing: The United States annexed Texas in 1845. 2. Informal. take as one's own; appropriate. 3. something added or attached; an added part: Our hotel has an annex. 1,2 v., 3 n.

annexation (an'ek sā'shən), 1. an annexing. 2. being annexed: the annexation of Texas to the United States. 3. something annexed. n.

annihilate (ə nī'ə lāt), 1. destroy completely; wipe out of existence: The flood annihilated over thirty towns and villages. 2. bring to ruin or confusion. v., an ni hi lat ed, an ni hi lat ing.

annihilation (ə nī'ə lā'shən), complete destruction. n.

anniversary (an'ə vēr'sə rē), 1. the yearly return of a date: Your birthday is an anniversary. 2. celebration of the yearly return of a date. 3. celebrated each year at the same date. 4. having to do with an anniversary: an anniversary dinner. 1,2 n., pl. an ni ver sa ries; 3,4 adj.

anno Domini (an'ō dom'ə nī), Latin. in the year of our Lord; any year since the birth of Christ. Abbrev.: A.D. an no tate (an'ō tāt), 1. provide with explanatory notes or comments: Shakespeare's plays are often annotated to make them easier to understand. 2. make explanatory notes or comments. v., an no tat ed, an no tat ing. —an'no ta'tor, n.

an no ta tion (an'ō tā'shən), 1. a furnishing with notes: That book's annotations required hundreds of hours. 2. note added to explain or criticize: The editor's annotations were printed in small type. n.

an nounce (ə nouns'), 1. give formal or public notice of: announce a wedding in the papers. 2. make known the presence or arrival of: The butler announced each guest in a loud voice. v., an nounced, an nounc ing.

an nounce ment (ə nouns'mənt), 1. act of announcing. We speak of the announcement of a speaker, a meeting, a wedding, a concert, etc. 2. what is announced or made known by private or public notice of some kind: The announcement appeared in the newspaper. n.

an nounc er (ə noun'sər), 1. person or thing that announces. 2. person who makes announcements over the radio or on a television broadcast. n.

an noy (ə noi'), 1. make angry; disturb; trouble; tease; vex: The baby annoys her sister by pulling her hair. 2. hurt; harm; molest: annoy the enemy by raids. v.

an noy ance (ə noi'əns), 1. an annoying. 2. being annoyed; vexation; feeling of dislike or trouble. 3. thing that annoys: Our new house would be delightful if it were not for the annoyance of the heavy traffic on our street. n.

an noyed (ə noid'), 1. disturbed; troubled: The teacher was annoyed at the interruption. 2. molested; hurt: He was annoyed by hecklers during the last of his speech. adj.

an noy ing (ə noi'ing), disturbing; troublesome. adj. —an noy'ing ly, adv. —an noy'ing ness, n.

an nu al (an'yū əl), 1. coming once a year: Your birthday is an annual event. 2. in a year; for a year: an annual salary of $5000. 3. accomplished during a year: the earth's annual course around the sun. 4. of a plant, living but one year or season. 5. plant that lives but one year or season. 6. book, journal, etc., published once a year. 1-4 adj., 5, 6 n.

an nu al ly (an'yū əl ē), yearly; each year. adv.

an nu i tant (ə nū'ə tənt or ə nū'ə tēnt), person who receives an annuity. n.

an nu i ty (ə nū'ə tē or ə nū'ə tē), 1. sum of money paid every year. 2. right to receive or duty to pay such a yearly sum. n., pl. an nu i ties.

an nul (ə nul'), do away with; destroy the force of; make void; abolish; cancel: The judge annulled the contract because one of the signers was too young. v., an nulled, an nul ling.

an nu lar (an'yū lər), ringlike; ring-shaped; ringed. adj.

an nu let (an'yū lit), 1. a little ring. 2. a narrow, ringlike molding of wood, stone, etc. n.

an nul ment (ə nul'mənt), an annulling or being annulled; cancellation. n.

an num (an'əm), Latin. year. n.

an nun ci a tion (ə nun'sē ā'shən), announcement. n.

An nun ci a tion (ə nun'sē ā'shən), 1. the angel Gabriel's announcement to the Virgin Mary that she was to be the mother of Christ. Luke 1:26-33. 2. a church festival held on March 25, celebrating this announcement. n.

an nun ci a tor (ə nun'sē ā'tər), 1. U.S. an indicator for showing where a signal comes from. 2. person or thing that announces. n.

A No. 1, Informal. A one; first-class.

an ode (an'ōd), positive electrode. The carbon of a dry cell and the plate of a radio tube are anodes. See cathode for diagram. n.

an o dyne (an'ō dīn), anything that lessens pain. n.

a noint (ə noint'), 1. put oil on; rub with ointment; smear: Anointed unburned places with cold cream. 2. put oil on in a ceremony as a sign of consecration to office; make sacred with oil: The archbishop anointed the new king. v. —a noint'ment, n.

a nom a lous (ə nom'ə ləs), departing from the common rule; irregular; abnormal: A position as head of a department, but with no real authority, is anomalous. adj.

a nom a ly (ə nom'ə lē), 1. departure from a general rule; irregularity. 2. something abnormal: A dog with six legs is an anomaly. n., pl. a nom a lies.

a non (ə non'), 1. in a little while; soon. 2. at another time; again. adv.

ever and anon, now and then; from time to time.

anon., anonymous.

an o nym i ty (an'ə nim'ə tē), 1. condition of not declaring one's name. 2. condition of being without a name. n.

a non y mous (ə non'ə məs), 1. by or from a person whose name is not known or given: An anonymous book is one published without the name of the author. 2. having no name; nameless. adj. —a non'y mous ly, adv.

a noph e les (ə noi'ə lēz), mosquito that can transmit malaria. n., pl. a noph e les.

an oth er (ə nuθ'ər), 1. one more: Have another glass of milk (adj.). He ate a bar of candy and then asked for another (pron.). 2. different; not the same: That is another matter entirely. 3. a different one: I don't like this book, give me another. 4. one of the same kind: His father is a scholar, and he is another. 1, 2 adj., 1, 3, 4 pron.

ans., answer; answered.

an ser ine (an'sər in), 1. of, like, or having to do with a goose or geese. 2. stupid; foolish. adj.

an swer (an'sər), 1. words spoken or written in reply to a question: The boy gave a quick answer. 2. make answer; reply: I asked him a question, but he would not answer. 3. reply to: He answered my question. 4. gesture or act done in return: A nod was her only answer. 5. reply or respond by act: He knocked on the door, but no one answered. 6. act or move in response to: She answered the doorbell. 7. solution to a problem: What is the correct answer to this algebra problem? 8. serve: This will answer your purpose. Such a poor excuse will not answer. 9. reply to (a charge): answer a summons. 10. bear the consequences of; be responsible (for): answer for a crime, answer for his safety. 11. correspond (to): This house answers to his description. 1, 4, 7 n., 2, 3, 5, 6, 8-11 v.

answer back, Informal. reply in a rude, saucy way.

an swer a ble (an'sər ə bl), 1. responsible: The club treasurer is held answerable to the club for the money that is given to him. 2. that can be answered. adj.

ant (ant), any of certain small insects that live with others in small or very large colonies of from dozens of individuals to half a million or more. Ants are black, brown, reddish, or yellowish, and live in tunnels in the ground or in wood. Ants, bees, and wasps belong to the same group of insects. n. —ant'like, adj.

-ant, suffix meaning:

1. —ing: Buoyant = buoying. Compliant = complying. Triumphant = triumphing.

2. one that —s: Assistant = one that assists.

ant., antonym.

ant ac id (ant əs'id), 1. substance that neutralizes acids. Baking soda and magnesia are antacids. 2. tending to neutralize acids; counteracting acidity. 1 n., 2 adj.

An tae us (an tē'əs), in Greek legend, a giant who was invincible while touching the earth. Hercules strangled him while holding him in the air. n.

an tag o nism (an tag'ə niz əm), active opposition; conflict; hostility. n.

an tag o nist (an tag'ə nist), one who fights, struggles, or contends with another; opponent; adversary; rival: The knight defeated each antagonist. n.

an tag o nis tic (an tag'ə nis'tik), acting against each other; opposing; conflicting: Cats and dogs are antagonistic. adj. —an tag'o nis'ti cal ly, adv.

an tag o nize (an tag'ə niz), 1. make an enemy of; arouse dislike in: Her unkind remarks antagonized people who had been her friends. 2. oppose. v., an tag o nized, an tag o niz ing. —an tag'o niz er, n.

ant arc tic (ant ärk'tik or ant är'tik), 1. around or near the South Pole; of the south polar region. 2. the south polar region. 1 adj., 2 n.

Ant arc ti ca (ant ärk'täkä or ant är'täkä), the continent around or near the South Pole. 5,000,000 sq. mi. n.

Antarctic Circle, the imaginary boundary of the south polar region, running parallel to the equator at 23 degrees 30 minutes (23°30') north of the South Pole.

Antarctic Continent, Antarctica.

Antarctic Zone, region between the Antarctic Circle and the South Pole. See zone for diagram.

ant bear, 1. a large, shaggy, gray anteater of South America. 2. aardvark.

ante-, prefix meaning: before, as in antedate, anteroom.

ant eat er (ant'ēt'ər), any of various toothless mammals with a long, slender, sticky tongue, that feed on ants and termites. n.

Anteater (total length 3½ feet) an te-bel lum (an'tē bel'əm),

1. before the war. 2. before the American Civil War. adj.

an te ced ence (an'tē sēd'ns), a going before; precedence; priority. n.

an te ced ent (an'tē sēd'nt), 1. a previous thing or event; something happening before and leading up to another. 2. word, phrase, or clause that is referred to by a pronoun or relative adverb. In "This is the house that Jack built," house is the antecedent of that. In "I remember the house where I was born" house is the antecedent of where. 3. the first term of a mathematical ratio. 4. coming or happening before; preceding; previous. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

antecedents, 1. past life or history: No one knew the antecedents of the mysterious stranger. 2. ancestors.

an te cham ber (an'ti chām'bər), anteroom. n.

an te date (an'ti dāt), 1. be or happen before. 2. give too early a date to. v., an te dat ed, an te dat ing.

an te di lu vi an (an'ti dē lū'vē-ən), 1. before the Flood. 2. person who lived before the Flood. 3. very old; old-fashioned. 4. a very old person; an old-fashioned person. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

an te lope (an'ti ōp), 1. a cud-chewing hoofed mammal that belongs to the same family as the goat but looks like a deer. 2. pronghorn of the Antelope (def. 1) (2½ ft. high at the shoulder) western plains of the United States. n., pl. an te lope or an te lopes.

an te me rid i em (an'tē mē rid'ē əm), Latin. before noon. Abbrev.: a.m., A.M. an ten na (an ten'ə), 1. one of two feelers on the head of an insect, lobster, etc. 2. long wire or wires used in television and radio for sending out or receiving electromagnetic waves; aerial. n., pl. an ten nae for 1, an ten nas for 2.

an ten nae (an ten'ē), pl. of antenna (def. 1). n.

an te pe nult (an'ti pē'nult), the second from the last syllable in a word. In an te ri or, te is the antepenult. n.

an te ri or (an tir'ē ər), 1. toward the front; fore: The anterior part of a fish contains the head and gills. 2. going before; earlier; previous. adj.

an te room (an'ti rūm'), a small room leading to a larger one; a waiting room. n.

anthem (an'tham), 1. song of praise, devotion, or patriotism: "The Star-Spangled Banner" is the national anthem of the United States. 2. piece of sacred music, usually with words from some passage in the Bible. n.

an ther (an'thər), part of the stamen that bears the pollen. n.

ant hill, heap of dirt piled up by ants around the entrance to their underground nest.

an thol o gist (an thol'ə jist), person who makes an anthology. n.

an thol o gy (an thol'ə jē), collection of poems or prose selections from various authors. n., pl. an thol o gies.

An tho ny (an'thə nē or an'tə nē for 1; an'thə nē for 2), 1. Saint, 251-356? A.D., hermit in Egypt. He founded Christian monasticism. 2. Susan B., 1820-1906, American leader in work for equal rights for women and for temperance. n.

an tho zo an (an'thə zō'ən), any sea anemone, coral, or other polyp with radial segments. n.

an thra cene (an'thrə sēn), a colorless, crystalline compound used in making alizarin dyes. It is a complex compound of hydrogen and carbon, obtained in distilling coal tar. n.

an thra cite (an'thrə sīt), coal that burns with very little smoke or flame; hard coal. n.

an thrax (an'thraks), an infectious, often fatal, disease of cattle, sheep, etc., that may be transmitted to human beings. n.

an thro poid (an'thrə poid), 1. of certain apes, manlike; resembling man. 2. a manlike ape. Chimpanzees and gorillas are anthropoids. 1 adj., 2 n.

an thro po log i cal (an'thrə pə loj'ə kl), of or having to do with anthropology. adj.

an thro pol o gist (an'thrə pol'ə jist), expert in anthropology. n.

an thro pol o gy (an'thrə pol'ə jē), science that deals with the origin, development, races, customs, and beliefs of mankind. n.

an thro po mor phic (an'thrə pə mōr'fik), attributing human form or qualities to gods or things. The religion of ancient Greece was anthropomorphic. adj.

an ti (an'ti or an'tē), Informal. person opposed to some plan, idea, political party, etc. n., pl. an tis.

anti-, prefix meaning:

1. against; opposed to —: Anti-aircraft = against aircraft.

2. not; the opposite of —: Antisocial = the opposite of social.

3. preventing or counteracting —: Antiseptic = preventing or counteracting infection.

Antennae of a beetle

Anthers

4. preventing, curing, or alleviating of —: Antihistamine = preventing, curing, or alleviating allergy.

an ti-air craft (an'tē ār'kraft'), used in defense against enemy airplanes, dirigibles, and balloons. adj.

an ti-A mer i can (an'tē ə mer'ə kən), opposed to the interests or the people of the United States. adj.

an ti bi ot ic (an'tē bī ot'ik), product of an organism that destroys or weakens harmful microorganisms. Penicillin is an antibiotic. n.

an ti bod y (an'tē bod'ē), substance produced in the blood of animals or man that destroys or weakens bacteria or neutralizes poisons produced by them. n., pl. an ti bod ies.

an tic (an'tik), a grotesque action; silly trick. See also antics. n.

An ti christ (an'tē krīst'), the great enemy or opponent of Christ. n.

an tic i pate (an tis'ə pāt), 1. look forward to; expect: He had anticipated a good vacation in the mountains; but when the time came, he was sick. 2. do, make, or use in advance: The Chinese anticipated some modern discoveries. 3. take care of ahead of time: The nurse anticipated all the patient's wishes. 4. be before (another) in thinking, acting, etc. 5. consider or mention before the proper time: anticipate a point in an argument. 6. cause to happen sooner; hasten: The lazy office boy anticipated his dismissal by stealing stamps. v., an tic i pat ed, an tic i pat ing.

an tic i pa tion (an tis'ə pā'shən), act of anticipating; looking forward to; expectation: The seller cut more wood than usual, in anticipation of a long winter. A pleasure is sometimes greatest in anticipation. n.

an tic i pa to ry (an tis'ə pə tō'rē), anticipating. adj.

an ti cler i cal (an'tē kler'ə kl), opposed to the influence of the church and clergy in public affairs. adj.

an ti cli mac tic (an'tē kli mak'tik), of or like an anticlimax. adj.

an ti cli max (an'tē klī'maks), 1. an abrupt descent from the important to the trivial. Example: "Alas! Alas! what shall I do? I've lost my wife and best hat, too!" 2. descent (in importance, interest, etc.) contrasting with a previous rise. n.

an ti co lo ni al (an'tē kə lō'nē əl), opposed to the policy of a nation seeking to control weaker or dependent nations. adj.

An ti cos ti (an'tə kos'tē), island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. It is a part of the province of Quebec. 130 mi. long; 30 mi. wide. See St. Lawrence for map. n.

an tics (an'tiks), funny gestures or actions; silly tricks; capers: The clown amused us by his antics. n.pl.

an ti cy clone (an'tē sī'klōn), winds moving around and away from a center of high pressure, which also moves. n.

an ti dote (an'tə dōt), 1. medicine or remedy that counteracts a poison: Milk is an antidote for some poisons. 2. remedy for any evil: Prosperity is a good antidote for political unrest. n.

An tie tam (an tē'təm), a small creek flowing into the Potomac River in Maryland. A major battle of the Civil War was fought near it in 1862. n.

An ti fed er al ist (an'tē fed'ər ə list), member of a political party that opposed the adoption of the Constitution of the United States. n.

an ti freeze (an'tē frēz'), substance added to a liquid to prevent it from freezing. Alcohol is much used as an antifreeze in automobile radiators. n.

an ti fric tion (an'tē frik'shən), substance that prevents or reduces friction. n.

an ti gen (an'tə jən), any substance that can stimulate the production of antibodies. n.

An ti o ne (an tig'ə nē), in Greek legend, the daughter of Oedipus who gave her dead brother a proper burial, though doing so meant her own death. n.

An ti gua (an tē'gə), island SE of Puerto Rico, in the West Indies. 52,000 pop.; 108 sq. mi. n.

an ti his ta mine (an'tē his'tə mēn), a medicine used in the treatment of colds and allergies. n.

An til les (an til'ēz), chain of islands in the West Indies, including Cuba, Hispaniola, Puerto Rico, and smaller islands nearby. See map under Caribbean. n.pl.

an ti mis sile (an'tē mis'l), used in defense against ballistic missiles, rockets, etc. adj.

antimissile missile, missile used in defense against enemy ballistic missiles, rockets, etc.

an ti mo ny (an'tə mō'nē), a crystalline metal with a bluish-white luster, used chiefly in alloys to make them harder and in medicinal compounds. It is a chemical element that occurs chiefly in combination with other elements. Symbol: Sb n.

An ti och (an'tē ok), city in S Turkey, the capital of ancient Syria from 300 to 64 B.C. 30,000. n.

an ti pas to (an'tē pās'tō), Italian. an appetizer consisting of fish, meats, etc. n., pl. an ti pas toes.

an tip a thet ic (an tip'ə thet'ik), having antipathy; contrary or opposed in nature or disposition: Dogs and cats are antipathetic. adj.

an tip a thet i cal (an tip'ə thet'ə kl), antipathetic. adj.

an tip a thy (an tip'ə thē), 1. strong or fixed dislike; a feeling against. 2. something or someone that arouses such a feeling. n., pl. an tip a thies.

an ti phon (an'tē fən), 1. psalm, hymn, or prayer sung or chanted in alternate parts. 2. verses sung or chanted in response in a church service. n.

an tiph o nal (an tif'ə nl), 1. like an antiphon; sung or chanted alternately. 2. book of antiphons. 1 adj., 2 n.

an tip o dal (an tip'ə dl), 1. on the opposite side of the earth. 2. directly opposite; exactly contrary. adj.

an ti pode (an'tə pōd), anything exactly opposite; direct opposite. n.

an tip o des (an tip'ə dēz), 1. two places on directly opposite sides of the earth: The North Pole and the South Pole are antipodes. 2. place on the opposite side of the earth. 3. two opposites or contraries: Forgiveness and revenge are antipodes. 1,3 n.pl., 2 n.pl. or sing.

an ti pro ton or an ti-pro ton (an'tē prō'ton), a tiny particle of the same mass as a proton, but negatively charged, created when a proton hits a neutron. n.

an ti quar i an (an'tə kwār'ē ən), 1. having to do with antiques or antiquaries: The antiquarian section of the museum was full of old furniture and dishes. 2. antiquary. 1 adj., 2 n.

an ti quar y (an'tə kwēr'ē), student or collector of relics from ancient times. n., pl. an ti quar ies.

an ti quate (an'tə kwāt), make old-fashioned. v., anti quat ed, an ti quat ing. —an'ti qua'tion, n.

an ti quat ed (an'tə kwāt'id), 1. old-fashioned; out-of-date: antiquated ideas. 2. too old for work, service, etc.: an antiquated truck. adj.

an tique (an tēk'), 1. of times long ago; from times long ago; ancient: This antique chair was made in 1750. 2. something made long ago. 3. old-fashioned; out-of-date: She wore an antique gown to the costume party. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

an tiq ui ty (an tik'wə tē), 1. oldness; great age: We were impressed by the antiquity of the church. 2. times long ago; early ages of history. Antiquity usually refers to the period from 5000 B.C. to 476 A.D. 3. people of long ago. n., pl. an tiq ui ties.

antiquities, 1. things from times long ago. 2. customs and life of olden times.

an ti-Se mit ic (an'tē sə mit'ik), having or showing dislike or hatred for Jews; prejudiced against Jews. adj.

an ti-Sem i tism (an'tē sem'ə tiz əm), dislike or hatred for Jews; prejudice against Jews. n.

an ti sep sis (an'tə sep'sis), 1. prevention of infection. 2. method or medicine that prevents infection. n.

an ti sep tic (an'tə sep'tik), 1. substance that kills or prevents the growth of germs and thus prevents infection. Iodine, peroxide, mercurochrome, alcohol, and boric acid are antiseptics. 2. preventing infection. 1 n., 2 adj.

an ti sep ti cal ly (an'tə sep'tik lē), by the use of antiseptics. adv.

an ti slav er y (an'tē slāv'ər ē), opposed to slavery; against slavery. adj.

an ti so cial (an'tē sō'shəl), 1. opposed to the principles upon which society is based: Murder, stealing, and spreading diseases are antisocial acts. 2. opposed to friendly relationship and companionship with others: Hermits are antisocial. adj.

an ti tank (an'tē tangk'), designed for use against armored vehicles, especially tanks. adj.

an tith e sis (an tith'ə sis), 1. the direct opposite: Hate is the antithesis of love. 2. contrast of ideas. Example: "To err is human; to forgive, divine." 3. opposition; contrast (of or between): antithesis of theory and fact. n., pl. an tith e ses (-sēz).

an ti thet ic (an'tā thet'ik), 1. of or using antithesis. 2. contrasted; opposite. adj.

an ti tox ic (an'tē tok'sik), 1. counteracting diseases or poisonings caused by toxins. 2. having to do with or like an antitoxin. adj.

an ti tox in (an'tē tok'sin), 1. substance formed in the body to counteract a disease or poison. 2. a serum containing antitoxin. Diphtheria antitoxin, obtained from the blood of horses infected with diphtheria, is injected into a person to make him immune to diphtheria, or to treat him if already infected. n.

an ti trades (an'tē trād'z'), winds that blow in a direction opposite to the trade winds on a level above them and descend beyond the trade-wind belt. n.pl.

an ti trust (an'tē trust'), opposed to large corporations that control the trade practices of certain kinds of business. adj.

ant ler (ant'lər), 1. branched horn of a deer or similar animal. 2. branch of such a horn. n.

ant lered (ant'lərd), having antlers. adj.

ant lion, 1. insect whose larva digs a pit, where it lies in wait to catch ants, etc. 2. its larva.

An toi nette (an'twə net'),

Marie, the beautiful wife of King Louis XVI of France. She was beheaded during the French Revolution. n.

an to nym (an'tə nim), word that means the opposite of another word: "Hot" is the antonym of "cold." n.

Ant werp (ant'wərp), seaport in NW Belgium. 260,000. n.

A number 1, Informal. A one; first-class.

a nus (ā'nəs), the opening at the lower end of the alimentary canal, through which waste material and undigested food pass. n.

an vil (an'vəl), 1. an iron or steel block on which metals are hammered and shaped. 2. incus. See the diagram of ear. n.

anx i e ty (ang zī'ə tē), 1. uneasy thoughts or fears about what may happen; troubled, worried, or uneasy feeling: We all felt anxiety when the airplane was caught in the hurricane. 2. eager desire: anxiety to succeed. n., pl. anx i e ties.

anx ious (angk'shəs or ang'shəs), 1. uneasy because of thoughts or fears of what may happen; troubled; worried: Her mother was anxious about her. They became anxious at her delay. 2. causing uneasy feelings or troubled thoughts. 3. eagerly desiring; wishing very much; eager: Dick was anxious for a new bicycle. adj. —anx'ious ly, adv. —anx'ious ness, n.

an y (en'ē), 1. one (no matter which) out of many: Choose any book you like. 2. some: Have you any fresh fruit? (adj.). I need more ink; have you any? (pron.). 3. to some extent or degree; at all: Has the sick child improved any? 4. any person or thing; any part: Keep the cake; I don't want any. 5. every: Any child knows that. 6. even one; even a little; even one or two: He was forbidden to go to any house. 7. in no matter what quantity or number: Have you any sugar? 8. enough to be noticed: He had hardly any money. 1,2,5-8 adj., 2,4 pron., 3 adv.

an y bod y (en'ē bod'ē), 1. any person; anyone: Has anybody been here? 2. an important person: Is he anybody? pron., n., pl. an y bod ies.

an y how (en'ē hou), 1. in any way whatever: The answer is wrong anyhow you look at it. 2. in any case; at least: I can see as well as you, anyhow. 3. carelessly; in ways that are not right and proper. adv.

an y one (en'ē wun or en'ē wən), any person; anybody. pron.

an y place (en'ē plās), Informal. anywhere. adv.

an y thing (en'ē thing), 1. any thing. 2. a thing of any kind whatever. 3. at all. 1 pron., 2 n., 3 adv.

an y way (en'ē wā), 1. in any way whatever. 2. in any case; at least: I am coming anyway, no matter what you say. 3. carelessly; in ways not right and proper. adv.

an y where (en'ē hwār), in, at, or to any place. adv.

an y wise (en'ē wīz), in any way; to any degree; at all. adv.

AN ZUS (an'zūs), Australia, New Zealand, and the United States acting collectively for the purpose of mutual defense in the Pacific. n.

A-OK (ā'ō'kā), OK. adj., adv., interj.

A one (ā' wun'), Informal. first-rate; first-class; excellent. Also, A 1, A No. 1, or A number 1.

A o ran gi (ā'ō rāng'gē), mountain in S New Zealand. 12,349 ft. n. Also, Mount Cook.

a or ta (ā'ōr'tā), the main artery that carries the blood from the left side of the heart to all parts of the body except the lungs. See heart for diagram. n., pl. a or tas, a or tae (-tē).

a or tic (ā'ōr'tik), having to do with the aorta. adj.

a ou dad (ā'ū dad), a wild sheep of northern Africa. n.

A.P. or AP, Associated Press.

a pace (ə pās'), swiftly; quickly; fast: The summer flew by, and the time for school was coming on apace. adv.

A pach e (ə pach'ē), member of a tribe of warlike, nomadic Indians living in the SW United States. n., pl. A pach es or A pach e.

a pache (ə pāsh'), gangster of Paris, Brussels, etc. n.

ap a nage (ap'ə nij), appanage. n.

a part (ə pärt'), 1. to pieces; in pieces; in separate parts: Take the watch apart. 2. away from each other: Keep the dogs apart. 3. to one side; aside: He stood apart from the others. 4. away from others; separately; independently: View each idea apart. adv.

a part heid (ə pärt'heid), racial segregation. n.

a part ment (ə pärt'mənt), 1. room or rooms to live in: Every large American city has buildings with many apartments. 2. U.S. a single room. n.

apartment house, building with a number of apartments in it.

ap a thet ic (ap'ə thet'ik), 1. with little interest or desire for action; indifferent. 2. lacking in feeling. adj. —ap'a thet'i cally, adv.

ap a thy (ap'ə thē), 1. lack of interest or desire for activity; indifference: The miser heard the old beggar's story with apathy. 2. lack of feeling. n., pl. ap a thies.

ape (āp), 1. any large, tailless monkey that can stand almost erect and walk on two feet. Chimpanzees, gorillas, orang-utans, and gibbons are apes. 2. any monkey. 3. person who imitates or mimics. 4. imitate; mimic. 1-3 n., 4 v., aped, ap ing. —ape'like', adj.

Ap en nines (ap'ə nīnz), mountain system extending north and south in Italy. The highest peak is 9585 feet. n.pl.

ap er ture (ap'ər chər), an opening; gap; hole. A camera has an aperture. n.

Antlers

ANVIL

a pex (ā'peks), 1. the highest point; tip: the apex of a triangle. 2. climax. n., pl. a pex es or ap i ces.

a pha sia (ə fā'zhə), total or partial loss of the ability to use or understand words. Aphasia is caused by injury or disease that affects the brain. n.

a phe li on (ə fē'lē ən), point most distant from the sun, in the orbit of a planet or comet. n., pl. a phe li ons, a phe li a (-lē ə).

a phid (ā'fid or af'id), a very small insect that lives by sucking juices from plants; plant louse. n.

a phis (ā'fis or af'is), aphid. n., pl. aph i des (af'ə dēz).

aph o rism (af'ə riz əm), 1. a terse sentence expressing a general thought; maxim; proverb. Example: "A living dog is better than a dead lion." 2. concise statement of a principle. n.

aph o ris tic (af'ə ris'tik), of aphorisms; containing aphorisms; like aphorisms. adj.

Aph ro di te (af'rə dī'tē), the Greek goddess of love and beauty, identified with the Roman goddess Venus. n.

A pi a (ā pē'ə or ā'pē ə), the capital of Western Samoa. 21,699. n.

a pi ar y (ā'pē er'ē), place where bees are kept; group of beehives. n., pl. a pi a ries.

ap i cal (ap'ə kl or ā'pə kl), of the apex; at the apex; forming the apex. adj.

ap i ces (ap'ə sēz or ā'pə sēz), pl. of apex. n.

a piece (ə pēs'), for each one; each: These apples are five cents apiece. adv.

ap ish (āp'ish), 1. like an ape. 2. senselessly imitative. 3. foolish; silly. adj. —ap'ish ly, adv.

a plen ty (ə plen'tē), Informal, in plenty. adv.

a plomb (ə plom'), self-possession; assurance; poise. n.

A poc a lypse (ə pok'ə lips), book of Revelation; book placed last in the New Testament. n.

a poc a lypse (ə pok'ə lips), a revelation. n.

a poc a lyp tic (ə pok'ə lip'tik), 1. of the Apocalypse. 2. like a revelation; giving a revelation. adj.

a poc a lyp ti cal (ə pok'ə lip'tə kl), apocalyptic. adj.

A poc ry pha (ə pok'rə fə), fourteen books included in the Roman Catholic Bible but not generally found in Jewish or Protestant Bibles. n.pl.

a poc ry pha (ə pok'rə fə), writings or statements of doubtful authority. n.pl.

a poc ry phal (ə pok'rə fl), of doubtful authorship or authority. adj.

A poc ry phal (ə pok'rə fl), of the Apocrypha. adj.

ap o gee (ap'ə jē), 1. point farthest from the earth in the orbit of the moon or an earth satellite. 2. furthestmost point; highest point. n.

A pol lo (ə pol'ō), 1. the Greek and Roman god of the sun, poetry, music, prophecy, and healing. The Greeks and Romans considered Apollo the highest type of youthful, manly beauty. He was the first Greek god accepted by the Romans. 2. an extremely handsome young man. n., pl. A pol los.

A pol lyon (ə pol'yən), the Devil. Revelation 9:11. n.

a pol o get ic (ə pol'ə jet'ik), 1. making an apology; expressing regret; acknowledging a fault; excusing failure: an apologetic reply. 2. defending by speech or writing. adj. —a pol'o get'i cal ly, adv.

a pol o gist (ə pol'ə jist), person who defends an idea, belief, religion, etc., in speech or writing. n.

a pol o gize (ə pol'ə jīz), 1. make an apology; express regret; acknowledge a fault; offer an excuse. 2. make a defense in speech or writing. v., a pol o gized, a pol o gizing. —a pol'o giz'er, n.

a pol o gy (ə pol'ə jē), 1. words of regret for an offense or accident; saying one is sorry; asking pardon: Make

A, planet at aphelion;
P, same planet at perihelion; S, sun.

Orbit of the moon
around the earth
showing the apogee

an apology to the lady for hitting her. 2. a defense in speech or writing; explanation of the truth or justice of something: an apology for the Christian religion. 3. a poor substitute; makeshift: One piece of toast is a skimpy apology for a breakfast. n., pl. a pol o gies.

ap o plec tic (ap'ə plek'tik), 1. of or causing apoplexy. 2. suffering from apoplexy. 3. showing symptoms of a tendency to apoplexy. 4. person who has apoplexy; person likely to have apoplexy. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

ap o plex y (ap'ə plek'sē), sudden loss of the power to feel or think or move. An attack of apoplexy, or stroke, occurs when the brain is injured because of a broken blood vessel or a reduced blood supply. n.

a pos ta sy (ə pos'tə sē), complete forsaking of one's religion, faith, political party, or principles. n., pl. a pos ta sies.

a pos tate (ə pos'tāt), 1. person who completely forsakes his religion, faith, political party, or principles. 2. guilty of apostasy. 1 n., 2 adj.

a pos ta tize (ə pos'tə tīz), forsake completely one's religion, faith, political party, or principles. v., a pos ta tized, a pos ta tizing.

a pos te ri o ri (ā pos tir'ē ō'rī), from effect to cause; from particular cases to a general rule; based on actual observation or experience.

a pos tle or A pos tle (ə pos'tl), 1. one of the twelve disciples chosen by Christ to go forth and preach the gospel to all the world. 2. any early Christian leader or missionary. Paul was frequently called the "Apostle to the Gentiles." 3. the first Christian missionary to any country or region. 4. leader of any reform movement or belief. n.

the Apostles, the twelve disciples chosen by Christ to go forth and preach the gospel to all the world.

Apostles' Creed, statement of belief that contains the fundamental doctrines of Christianity, beginning "I believe in God, the Father . . ." In its present form it dates back to about 600 A.D. and is supposed to have been composed by the Apostles.

ap os tol ic (ap'əs tol'ik), 1. of the Apostles; having to do with the Apostles. 2. according to the beliefs and teachings of the Apostles. 3. of the Pope; papal. adj.

a pos tro phe (ə pos'trə fē), sign (') used:

1. to show the omission of one or more letters in contractions, as in o'er for over, thro' for through.
2. to show the possessive forms of nouns or indefinite pronouns, as in John's book, the lions' den, everybody's business.
3. in forming certain plurals, as in 2 o's, four 9's in 9999.
4. to show that certain sounds represented in the usual spelling have not been spoken: lectric. n.

a pos tro phe (ə pos'trə fē), words addressed to an absent person as if he were present or to a thing or idea as if it could appreciate them. n.

a pos tro phize (ə pos'trə fīz), 1. stop in a speech, poem, etc., and address some thing or absent person, usually with emotion. 2. address an apostrophe to: The poet apostrophizes judgment in these words: "Oh, judgment! thou art fled to brutish beasts." v., a pos tro phized, a pos tro phizing.

apothecaries' measure, system of units used in the United States in compounding and dispensing liquid drugs:

60 minims (m) = 1 fluid dram (f 3)
8 fluid drams = 1 fluid ounce (f 3) 16 fluid ounces = 1 pint

8 pints = 1 gallon (231 cubic inches)

In Great Britain the pint (being the eighth part of a gallon of 277.274 cubic inches) is divided into 20 fluid ounces, with subdivisions corresponding to the United States use.

apothecaries' weight, system of weights used in mixing drugs and filling prescriptions:

20 grains = 1 scruple
3 scruples = 1 dram
8 drams = 1 ounce
12 ounces = 1 pound

a poth e car y (ə poth'ə ker'ē), 1. person who prepares and sells drugs and medicines; druggist. 2. Brit. formerly, a person who prescribed medicines and sold them. n., pl. a poth e car ies.

ap o thegm (ap'ə them), a short, forceful saying; maxim. Example: "Beauty is only skin deep." n.

a poth e o sis (ə poth'ē ō'sis or ap'ə thē'ō sis), 1. raising of a human being to the rank of a god; deification:

The apotheosis of the emperor became a Roman custom.

2. glorification; exaltation.

3. a glorified ideal. n., pl.

a poth e o ses (-sēz).

Appalachian Mountains, chief mountain system in E North America, extending from Quebec Province in Canada to N Alabama. The highest peak is Mount Mitchell, 6684 feet.

Ap pa la chians (ap'ə lā'-chēnz), the Appalachian Mountains. n.pl.

ap pall or ap pal (ə pōl'), fill with horror; dismay; terrify: We were appalled at the thought of another war. She was appalled when she saw the river had risen to the doorstep. v., ap palled, ap pall ing.

ap pall ing (ə pōl'ing), dismaying; terrifying; horrifying. adj. —ap pall'ing ly, adv.

ap pa nage (ap'ə nij), 1. land, property, or money set aside to support the younger children of kings, princes, etc. 2. a person's assigned portion; rightful property. 3. something that accompanies; adjunct: The millionaire had three houses, a yacht, and all the other appanages of wealth. n. Also, apanage.

ap pa ra tus (ap'ə rā'təs or ap'ə rat'əs), things necessary to carry out a purpose or for a particular use: apparatus for an experiment in chemistry, gardening apparatus, our digestive apparatus. n., pl. ap pa ra tus or ap pa ra tus es.

ap par el (ə par'əl), 1. clothing; dress: Does this store sell women's apparel? 2. clothe; dress up: The horseback riders, gaily appareled, formed part of the circus parade. 1 n., 2 v., ap par eled, ap par el ing or esp. Brit. ap par elled, ap par el ling.

ap par ent (ə par'ənt), 1. plain to see; so plain that one cannot help seeing it; easily understood: It is apparent that the days become shorter in October and November. 2. according to appearances; seeming: The apparent truth was really a lie. adj.

ap par ent ly (ə par'ənt lē), 1. seemingly; as far as one can judge by appearances. 2. clearly; plainly; obviously. adv.

ap pa ri tion (ap'ə rish'ən), 1. ghost; phantom. 2. something strange, remarkable, or unexpected which comes into view. 3. act of appearing; appearance. n.

ap peal (ə pēl'), 1. make an earnest request (to or for); apply for help, sympathy, etc.: The children appealed to their mother to know what to do on a rainy day. 2. an earnest request; call for help, sympathy, etc.: Jane made an appeal to her father to forgive her. 3. call on some person to decide some matter in one's favor. 4. a call on some person for proof, decision, etc. 5. ask that a case be taken to a higher court or judge to be heard again. 6. a request to have a case heard again before a higher court or judge. 7. be attractive, interesting, or enjoyable: Blue and red appeal to me but I don't like gray or yellow. 8. attraction; interest: Motion pictures have a great appeal for most young people. 1,3,5,7 v., 2,4,6,8 n. —ap peal'ing ly, adv.

ap pear (ə pīr'), 1. be seen; come in sight: One by one the stars appear. 2. seem; look: The apple appeared sound on the outside, but it was rotten inside. 3. be published: The book appeared in the autumn. 4. present oneself publicly or formally: appear on the stage. 5. become known to the mind: It appears that we must go. 6. stand before an authority; appear in court. v.

ap pear ance (ə pīr'əns), 1. act of coming in sight: John's appearance in the doorway. 2. a coming before the public: a singer's first appearance in a city. 3. outward look; aspect: The appearance of the house made us think that it was empty. 4. outward show or seeming: keep up appearances. 5. thing that appears in sight; object seen. 6. the coming into court of a party to a lawsuit. 7. apparition. n.

ap pease (ə pēz'), 1. satisfy (an appetite or desire): A good dinner will appease your hunger. 2. make calm; quiet: He tried to appease his father's anger by promising to obey. 3. give in to the demands of (especially those of a potential enemy): Chamberlain appeased Hitler at Munich. v., ap peased, ap peas ing. —ap peas'er, n. —ap peas'ing ly, adv.

ap pease ment (ə pēz'mənt), appeasing or being appeased; pacification; satisfaction. n.

ap pel lant (ə pel'ənt), 1. person who appeals. 2. appealing; having to do with appeals. 1 n., 2 adj.

ap pel late court (ə pel'it), court having the power to reexamine and reverse the decisions of a lower court.

ap pel la tion (ap'ə lā'shan), 1. name; title. In "John the Baptist," the appellation of John is the Baptist. 2. act of calling by a name. n.

ap pend (ə pend'), add to a larger thing; attach as a supplement: The amendments to the Constitution of the United States are appended to it. v.

ap pend age (ə pen'dij), 1. thing attached to something larger or more important; addition. 2. any of various external or subordinate parts of animals. Arms, tails, fins, legs, etc., are appendages. n.

ap pend ant (ə pen'dənt), 1. added; attached. 2. appendage. 1 adj., 2 n.

ap pen dec to my (ap'ən dek'tō mē), removal of the vermiform appendix by a surgical operation. n., pl. ap pen dec to mies.

ap pen di ces (ə pen'də sēz), a pl. of appendix. n.

ap pen di ci tis (ə pen'də sī'tis), inflammation of the vermiform appendix, the small saclike growth attached to the large intestine. n.

ap pen dix (ə pen'diks), 1. addition at the end of a book or document. 2. outgrowth of some part of the body. The small saclike growth attached to the large intestine is the vermiform appendix. See intestine for diagram. n., pl. ap pen dix es or ap pen di ces.

ap per tain (ap'ər tān'), belong as a part; pertain; relate: The control of traffic appertains to the police. Forestry appertains to geography, to botany, and to agriculture. v.

ap pe tite (ap'ə tit), 1. desire for food. 2. desire: an appetite for amusement. n.

ap pe tiz er (ap'ə tīz'ər), something that arouses the appetite or gives relish to food. Pickles and olives are appetizers. n.

ap pe tiz ing (ap'ə tīz'ing), arousing or exciting the appetite: appetizing food. adj. —ap'pe tiz'ing ly, adv.

Ap pi an Way (ap'ē ən), a famous Roman road extending about 366 miles SE from Rome to Brundisium.

ap plaud (ə plōd'), 1. express approval by clapping hands, shouting, etc. 2. express approval of in this way 3. approve; praise. v.

ap plause (ə plōz'), 1. approval expressed by clapping the hands, shouting, etc. 2. approval; praise. n.

ap ple (ap'l), 1. the firm, fleshy, somewhat round fruit of a tree widely grown in temperate regions. Apples are usually red, yellow, or green, and are eaten either raw or cooked. Apples belong to the same family as the quince, pear, and hawthorn. 2. the tree. 3. any of various other fruits or fruitlike products, such as the oak apple and love apple. n.

ap ple jack (ap'l jak'), an intoxicating liquor made from apple cider. n.

apple of discord, 1. in Greek legend, a golden apple inscribed "For the fairest" and claimed by Aphrodite, Athena, and Hera. Paris awarded it to Aphrodite. 2. any cause of jealousy and trouble.

apple of the eye, something very precious.

ap ple sauce (ap'l sôs'), 1. apples cut in pieces and cooked with sugar and water until soft. 2. Slang, nonsense. n.

ap pli ance (æ plī'əns), 1. thing like a tool or small machine, used in doing something; device: A can opener is an appliance for opening tin cans. 2. an applying; act of putting into use. n.

ap pli ca bil i ty (ap'lə kə bil'ə tē), quality of being applicable. n.

ap pli ca ble (ap'lə kə bl), capable of being put to practical use; appropriate; suitable; fitting: The rule "Look before you leap" is almost always applicable. adj.

ap pli cant (ap'lə kənt), person who applies (for money, position, help, office, etc.): Are you an applicant for this job? n.

ap pli ca tion (ap'lə kā'shən), 1. act of using; use: The application of what you know will help you solve new problems. 2. act of applying; putting on: the application of paint to a house. 3. ways of using: Freedom is a word of wide application. 4. thing applied: This application is made of cold cream and ointment. 5. a request (for employment, an award, tickets, etc.): He made an application for the position of clerk. 6. continued effort; close attention: By application to the study of geography, he has become a great geographer. n.

ap plied (æ plid'), put to practical use; used to solve actual problems: Engineers study applied mathematics. adj.

ap plied science, science that uses facts, laws, and theories to solve practical problems. Applied science is used in building a bridge, designing a radio, testing intelligence, etc.

ap pli qué (ap'lə kă'), 1. ornaments made of one material sewed or otherwise fastened on another. 2. trim or ornament with appliqué. 3. trimmed in this way. 1 n., 2 v., ap pli quéd, ap pli qué ing; 3 adj.

ap ply (æ pli'), 1. put on or in contact with: apply paint to a house. Apply wet cloths to the sick boy's face. 2. put to practical use: He knows the rule but does not know how to apply it. 3. be useful or suitable; fit: When does this rule apply? 4. use for a special purpose: apply a sum of money to charity. 5. make a request; ask: apply for a job. 6. use (a word or words) appropriately with reference to a person or thing: apply a nickname. Don't apply that adjective to me. 7. set to work and stick to it: He applied himself to learning French. v., ap plied, ap ply ing.

ap point (æ point'), 1. name for an office or position; choose: This man was appointed postmaster. 2. decide on; set: appoint a time for the meeting. 3. fix; prescribe: God appointed death as punishment for sin. 4. furnish; equip: a well-appointed office. v. —ap point'er, n.

ap point ee (æ point'tē'), person appointed. n.

ap point ive (æ point'tiv), filled by appointment: Positions in the President's cabinet are appointive. adj.

ap point ment (æ point'mənt), 1. act of naming for an office or position; choosing: The appointment of Ann as secretary pleased her friends. 2. office or position. 3. engagement to be somewhere or to meet someone: I have an appointment to see the doctor at 4 o'clock. n. appointments, furniture; equipment.

Ap po mat tox (ap'ə mat'əks), town in central Virginia where Lee surrendered to Grant on April 9, 1865. n.

ap por tion (ə pōr'shən), divide and give out in fair shares; distribute according to some rule: The father's property was apportioned among his children after his death. v.

ap por tion ment (ə pōr'shən mənt), act of dividing and giving out in fair shares. n.

ap po site (ap'ə zit), appropriate; suitable; apt. adj. —ap'po site ly, adv. —ap'po site ness, n.

ap po si tion (ap'ə zish'ən), 1. act of putting side by side. 2. position side by side. 3. a placing together in the same grammatical relation. 4. the relation of two members of a sentence when the one is added as an explanation to the other. In "Mr. Brown, our neighbor, has a new car," Mr. Brown and neighbor are in apposition. n.

ap pos i tive (ə poz'ə tiv), 1. noun added to another noun as an explanation; word, phrase, or clause in apposition. 2. placed beside another noun as an explanation. 1 n., 2 adj.

ap prais al (ə prāz'l), 1. estimate of the value, amount, etc. 2. an appraising; valuation. n.

ap praise (ə prāz'), 1. estimate the value, amount, quality, etc., of: An employer should be able to appraise ability and character. 2. set a price on; fix the value of: Property is appraised for taxation. v., ap praised, ap prais ing. —ap prais'ing ly, adv.

ap praise ment (ə prāz'mənt), appraisal. n.

ap prais er (ə prāz'ər), 1. person authorized to fix the value of property, imported goods, etc. 2. person who appraises. n.

ap pre ci a ble (ə prē'shē ə bl), enough to be felt or estimated: A slight hill makes an appreciable difference in the ease of walking. adj. —ap pre'ci a bly, adv.

ap pre ci ate (ə prē'shē āt), 1. think highly of; recognize the worth or quality of; value; enjoy: Almost everybody appreciates good food. 2. have an opinion of the value, worth, or quality of; estimate: appreciate knowledge. 3. be sensitive to; be aware of: A musician can appreciate small differences in sounds. 4. estimate correctly. 5. raise in value: New buildings appreciate the value of land. 6. rise in value: This land will appreciate as soon as good roads are built. v., ap pre ci ated, ap pre ci at ing.

ap pre ci a tion (ə prē'shē ā'shən), 1. an appreciating; a valuing. 2. a valuing highly; sympathetic understanding: She has an appreciation of art and music. 3. favorable criticism. 4. a rise in value. n.

ap pre ci a tive (ə prē'shē ā'tiv), having appreciation; showing appreciation; recognizing the value: appreciative of the smallest kindness. adj. —ap pre'ci a'tive ly, adv.

ap pre hend (ap'ri hend'), 1. look forward to with fear; fear; dread: A guilty man apprehends danger in every sound. 2. arrest: The thief was apprehended and put in jail. 3. understand; grasp with the mind: I apprehended his meaning more from his gestures than from the queer sounds he made. v.

ap pre hen sion (ap'ri hen'shən), 1. expectation of evil; fear; dread: The roar of the hurricane filled us with apprehension. 2. a seizing; being seized; arrest: the apprehension of a thief. 3. understanding; grasp by the mind: Tom has a clear apprehension of arithmetic. n.

ap pre hen sive (ap'ri hen'siv), 1. afraid; anxious; worried. 2. quick to understand; able to learn. adj. —ap'pre hen'sive ly, adv. —ap'pre hen'sive ness, n.

ap pre nce (æ pren'tis), 1. person learning a trade or art. In return for instruction the apprentice agrees to work for his employer a certain length of time with little or no pay. 2. bind or take as an apprentice. In earlier times fathers often apprenticed their sons to master craftsmen in any of various trades. 3. beginner; learner. 1,3 n., 2 v., ap pre nced, ap pre ncing.

ap pre nce ship (æ pren'tis ship), 1. condition of being an apprentice. 2. time during which one is an apprentice. n.

ap prise (ə priz'), inform; notify; advise. v., ap prised, ap pris ing. Also, apprize.

ap prise (ə priz'), apprise; appraise. v., ap prised, ap pris ing.

ap prize¹ (ə prɪz/), appraise. v., ap prized, ap priz-ing. Also, apprise.

ap prize² (ə prɪz/), apprise; inform; notify; advise. v., ap prized, ap priz ing.

ap proach (ə prɒtʃ/), 1. come near or nearer (in space, time, character, condition, or amount): Winter is approaching. 2. come near or nearer to (in character, quality, amount): The wind was approaching a gale. 3. act of coming near: the approach of night. 4. nearness in quality, likeness, or character: In mathematics there must be more than an approach to accuracy. 5. way by which a place or person can be reached; access: The approach to the house was a narrow path. His best approach to the great man lay through a friend. 6. make advances or overtures to: Will you approach the general with the idea of arranging an armistice? 7. advance; overture: Our approaches to the general for an armistice were met with a demand for unconditional surrender. 1,2,6 v., 3-5,7 n.

ap proach a bil i ty (ə prɒtʃ/ə bil/ə tē), approachable quality or condition. n.

ap proach a ble (ə prɒtʃ/ə bl/), 1. that can be approached. 2. easy to approach. adj.

ap pro ba tion (ap/rə bā/shən), 1. approval; favorable opinion. 2. sanction. n.

ap pro pri ate (ə prɒ/prē it for 1; ə prɒ/prē āt for 2,3), 1. suitable; proper: Plain, simple clothes are appropriate for school wear. 2. set apart for some special use: The government appropriated money for roads. 3. take for oneself: You should not appropriate other people's belongings without their permission. 1 adj., 2,3 v., ap propri ated, ap pro pri at ing. —ap pro/pri ate ness, n. —ap pro/pri a'tor, n.

ap pro pri ate ly (ə prɒ/prē it lē), suitably; properly. adv.

ap pro pri a tion (ə prɒ/prē ā/shən), 1. sum of money or other thing appropriated. 2. act of appropriating: His appropriation of their money was not right. 3. being appropriated: The appropriation of the land made it possible to have a park. n.

ap prov al (ə pruv/l/), 1. approving; favorable opinion: This plan has the teacher's approval. 2. consent; sanction: The principal gave his approval to plans for the holiday. n.

on approval, so that the customer can decide whether to buy or not.

ap prove (ə pruv/), 1. think or speak well of; be pleased with: The teacher looked at John's work and approved it. 2. give approval (of): I'm not sure I approve of what you propose to do. 3. sanction; consent to: Congress approved the bill. 4. prove to be; show. v., ap proved, ap prov ing. —ap prov'er, n. —ap prov'ing-ly, adv.

ap prox i mate (ə prɒk/sə mit for 1,4,5; ə prɒk/sə māt for 2,3), 1. nearly correct: The approximate length of a meter is 40 inches; the exact length is 39.37 inches. 2. come near to; approach: Your account of what happened approximated the truth, but there were several small errors. The crowd approximated a thousand people. 3. bring near. 4. very near. 5. very like. 1,4,5 adj., 2,3 v., ap prox i mat ed, ap prox i mat ing.

ap prox i mate ly (ə prɒk/sə mit lē), nearly; about: We are approximately 200 miles from home. adv.

ap prox i ma tion (ə prɒk/sə mā/shən), 1. an approximating; approach. 2. nearly correct amount; close estimate: 25,000 miles is an approximation to the circumference of the earth. n.

ap pur te nance (ə pɜr/tn əns), 1. addition to something more important; added thing; accessory. 2. a minor right or privilege belonging to another that is more important. n.

Apr., April.

a pri cot (ā/prə kot or ap/rə kot), 1. a roundish, pale, orange-colored fruit that tastes somewhat like both a peach and a plum. 2. tree that it grows on. 3. pale orange-yellow. 1-3 n., 3 adj.

April (ā/prəl), the fourth month of the year. It has 30 days. n.

April fool, person who gets fooled on April Fools' Day.

April Fools' Day, April 1, a day observed by fooling people with tricks and jokes.

a pri o ri (ā prī ō/rī), 1. from cause to effect; from a general rule to a particular case. 2. based on opinion or theory rather than on actual observation or experience.

a pron (ā/prən or ā/pərn), 1. garment worn over the front part of the body to cover or protect clothes: a kitchen apron, a carpenter's apron. 2. something resembling an apron in use or shape. n. —a/pron-like', adj.

ap ro pos (ap/rə pō/), 1. fittingly; opportunely. 2. fitting; suitable; to the point: an apropos remark. 1 adv., 2 adj.

apropos of, with regard to.

apse (aps), a semicircular or many-sided recess in a church, usually at the east end. The roof of an apse is arched or vaulted. n.

apt (apt), 1. fitted by nature; likely: A careless person is apt to make mistakes. 2. suitable; fitting: an apt reply. 3. quick to learn: an apt pupil. adj. —apt/ly, adv. —apt'ness, n.

apt., apartment. pl. apts.

ap ter ous (ap/tər əs), wingless.

Lice are apterous insects. adj.

ap ter yx (ap/tər iks), kiwi. n., pl. ap ter yx es (-ik siz).

ap ti tude (ap/tə tūd or ap/tə tūd), 1. natural tendency; ability; capacity: Edison had a great aptitude for inventing new things. 2. readiness in learning; quickness to understand. 3. special fitness. n.

aq ua lung (ak/wə lung/), a diving device consisting of cylinders of compressed air strapped to the diver's back and a glass mask placed over the eyes and nose. The supply of air to the diver is regulated automatically by a valve. n.

aq ua ma rine (ak/wə mə rēn/),

1. a transparent, bluish-green precious stone that is a variety of beryl.

2. light bluish-green. 1,2 n., 2 adj.

aq ua plane (ak/wə plān/), 1.

a wide board on which a person rides for sport as he is towed by a speeding motorboat.

2. ride on an aquaplane for sport. 1 n., 2 v., aq ua planed, aq ua plan ing.

a quar i um (ə kwār/ē əm), 1. pond, tank, or glass bowl in which living fish, water animals, and water plants are kept.

2. a building used for showing collections of living fish, water animals, and water plants. n., pl. a quar i ums, a quar i a (-ē ə).

a quat ic (ə kwat/ik), 1. growing or living in water:

Water lilies are aquatic plants. 2. taking place in or on water: Swimming and sailing are aquatic sports.

3. plant or animal that lives in water. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

aquatics, sports that take place in or on water.

aq ue duct (ak/wə dukt/), 1. an artificial channel or large pipe for bringing water from a distance.

2. structure that supports such a channel or pipe. 3. canal or passage in the body. n.

a que ous (ā/kwē əs), 1. of water; like water; watery.

2. containing water; made with water. 3. produced by the action of water. Aqueous rocks are formed of the sediment carried and deposited by water. adj.

Plan of a church showing an apse

Man riding an aquaplane ology excavate, classify, and study the remains of ancient cities, tools, monuments, or any other records that remain. n. Also, archeology.

archaic (är'kä'ik), 1. no longer in general use: The phrases "in sooth" and "methinks" have become archaic. 2. old-fashioned; out-of-date. 3. ancient. adj.

archaism (är'kē iz əm), 1. word or expression no longer in general use. 2. use of something out of date in language or art. n.

arch angel (ärk'än'jəl), angel of a higher rank. n. Arch angel (ärk'än'jəl), seaport in N Soviet Union, on the White Sea. 256,000. n.

arch bishop (ärch'bish'əp), bishop of the highest rank. He presides over a church district called an archdiocese. n.

arch deacon (ärch'dē'kən), assistant to a bishop in the Church of England. He superintends the work of other members of the clergy. n.

arch diocese (ärch'di'ə sis), the church district governed by an archbishop. n.

arch duchy (ärch'duch'ē), territory under the rule of an archduke. n., pl. arch duchies.

arch duke (ärch'dük' or ärch'dük'), prince of the former ruling house of Austria. n.

arched (ärcht), having an arch or arches. adj.

arch enemy (ärch'en'ə mē), 1. chief enemy. 2. Satan. n., pl. arch enemies.

archeological (är'kē ə loj'ə kl), archaeological. adj.

archeologist (är'kē ol'ə jist), archaeologist. n.

archeology (är'kē ol'ə jē), archaeology. n.

archer (är'chər), person who shoots with a bow and arrows. n.

archery (är'chər ē), 1. practice or art of shooting with bows and arrows. 2. archers. 3. weapons of an archer; bows, arrows, etc. n.

archetype (är'kə tip), an original model or pattern from which copies are made, or out of which later forms develop: That little engine is the archetype of huge modern locomotives. n.

arch fiend (ärch'fēnd'), 1. chief fiend. 2. Satan. n.

archiepiscopal (är'kē i pis'kə-pl), of or having to do with an archbishop. adj.

Archimedes (är'kə mē'dēz), 287?-212 B.C., Greek mathematician, physicist, and inventor. He discovered the principles of specific gravity and of the lever. n.

archipelago (är'kə pel'ə gō), 1. group of many islands. 2. sea having many islands in it. n., pl.

archipelagos or archipelagos.

architect (är'kə tekt), 1. person skilled in architecture. 2. person who makes plans for buildings and sees that these plans are followed by the contractors and workers who actually put up the buildings. 3. maker; creator. n.

architectonic (är'kə tek ton'ik), 1. having to do with architecture, construction, or design. 2. showing skill in construction or design. 3. directive; controlling. adj.

architectural (är'kə tek'chər əl), of architecture; having to do with architecture. adj. —architecturally, adv.

architecture (är'kə tek'chər), 1. science or art of building. Architecture has to do with the planning of houses, churches, schools, and public and business buildings. 2. style or special manner of building: Greek architecture made much use of columns. 3. construction: The architecture of our school is very substantial. 4. a building; structure. n.

architrave (är'kə trāv), the main beam resting on the top of a column. n.

Archery

archives (är'kīvz), 1. place where public records or historical documents are kept. 2. public records or historical documents. n.pl.

archway (ärch'wā'), 1. entrance or passageway with an arch above it. 2. an arch covering a passageway. n.

arc lamp, lamp in which the light comes from an electric arc.

arc light, brilliant light given by an arc lamp.

arctic (ärk'tik or är'tik), 1. near the North Pole; of the north polar region: the arctic fox. 2. the north polar region. 3. extremely cold; frigid. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

Arctic Circle or arctic circle, 1. imaginary boundary of the north polar region. It runs parallel to the equator at 23 degrees 30 minutes (23°30') south of the North Pole. 2. the polar region surrounded by this parallel.

Arctic Ocean, ocean of the north polar region. 5,400,000 sq. mi.

arctics (ärk'tiks or är'tiks), warm, waterproof over-shoes. n.pl.

Arctic Zone, region between the Arctic Circle and the North Pole. See zone for diagram.

Arc tu rus (ärk tür'əs or ärk tyūr'əs), a very bright star in the northern sky. n.

Ar den (ärd'n), 1. district or forest in the central and formerly also the eastern part of England. 2. a land of the imagination or of romance. n.

ardent (ärd'nt), 1. full of zeal; very enthusiastic; eager: John is an ardent student of history. 2. burning; fiery; hot. 3. glowing. adj. —ardently, adv.

ardor (är'dər), 1. eagerness; warmth of emotion; great enthusiasm: the ardor of a saint, patriotic ardor. 2. burning heat. n. Also, Brit. ardour.

ardour (är'dər), Brit. ardor. n.

arduous (är'ju əs), 1. hard to do; requiring much effort; difficult: an arduous lesson. 2. using up much energy; strenuous: an arduous effort to learn the lesson. 3. hard to climb; steep: an arduous hill. adj. —arduously, adv. —arduousness, n.

are¹ (är, unstressed ər), plural and second person singular, present indicative of be: we are, you are, they are. v.

are² (är), unit of surface measure in the metric system, equal to 100 square meters, or 119.6 square yards. n.

area (är' ē ə), 1. amount of surface; extent of surface: The area of this floor is 600 square feet. 2. extent; range; scope: the area of physics, chemistry, and similar sciences. 3. region: The Rocky Mountain area is the most mountainous in the United States. 4. level space. n.

arena (ə rē'nə), 1. space where contests or shows take place: Men fought with lions in the arena of the great amphitheater at Rome. 2. any place of conflict and trial. n.

aren't (ärnt), are not.

Ares (är'ēz), the Greek god of war, identified with the Roman god Mars. n.

argent (är'jənt), 1. Archaic or Poetic. silver. 2. silver. 1 n., 2 adj.

Argentina (är'jən tē'nə), country in S South America. 20,500,000 pop.; 1,073,700 sq. mi. Capital: Buenos Aires. n.

Argentine (är'jən tēn or är'jən tīn), 1. of Argentina or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Argentina. 1 adj., 2 n.

the Argentine, Argentina.

Argive (är'jiv or är'gīv), Greek. adj., n.

Ar go (är/'gō), in Greek legend, the ship in which Jason and his companions sailed in search of the Golden Fleece. n.

ar gon (är/'gon), a colorless, odorless, inactive gas that forms a very small part of the air. Argon is used in electric light bulbs and radio tubes. It is a chemical element. Symbol: A or Ar n.

Ar go naut (är/'gə nôt), 1. in Greek legend, one of the men who sailed with Jason in search of the Golden Fleece. 2. person who went to California in 1849 in search of gold. n.

Ar gon ne (är/'gon), forest in NE France. Battles of World War I and World War II were fought there (1918 and 1944). n.

ar go sy (är/'gə sē), 1. a large merchant ship. 2. fleet of such ships. n., pl. ar-gosies.

ar got (är/'gō), jargon or slang used by a group of persons: The argot of thieves is meaningless to other people. n.

ar gue (är/'gū), 1. discuss with someone who disagrees: John argued with his sister about who should wash the dishes. 2. give reasons for or against something: One side argued for a larger air force and the other side argued against it. 3. persuade by giving reasons. 4. try to prove by reasoning; maintain: Columbus argued that the world was round. 5. indicate; show; prove: Her misunderstanding such clear directions argues inattention. 6. raise objections; dispute. v., argued, argu ing. —ar'gu er, n.

ar gu ment (är/'gyə mēnt), 1. discussion by persons who disagree; dispute; controversy: He won the argument by producing figures to prove his point. 2. reason or reasons given for or against something. 3. a short statement of what is in a book, poem, etc. n.

ar gu men ta tion (är/'gyə mēn tā'shən), 1. process of arguing; reasoning. 2. discussion; debate. n.

ar gu men ta tive (är/'gyə mēn'tə tiv), 1. fond of arguing. 2. containing argument. adj. —ar'gu men'ta tive ly, adv.

Ar gus (är/'gəs), 1. in Greek legend, a giant with a hundred eyes. He was killed by Hermes, and his eyes were put in the peacock's tail. 2. a watchful guardian. n.

Ar gus-eyed (är/'gəs id'), watchful; observant. adj.

a ri a (ä/'rē ə or är/'ē ə), air or melody; melody for a single voice with instrumental or vocal accompaniment. n.

Ar i ad ne (är/'ē ad'nē), in Greek legend, the daughter of Minos. She fell in love with Theseus and gave him a ball of thread to help him find his way out of the Labyrinth of the Minotaur. n.

ar id (är/'id), 1. having very little rainfall; very dry; barren: Desert lands are arid. 2. dull; uninteresting: an arid, boring speech. adj. —ar'id ly, adv. —ar'id ness, n.

a rid i ty (ə rid'ə tē), 1. dryness; barrenness. 2. dullness; lack of interest, life, or spirit. n.

A ri el (är/'ē əl), the airy spirit who helped Prospero in Shakespeare's play The Tempest. n.

a right (ə rit'), correctly; rightly. adv.

a rise (ə riz'), 1. rise up; get up: The children arose from their seats to salute the flag. 2. move upward; ascend; mount: Smoke arose from the chimney. 3. come into being or action; come about; appear; begin: A great wind arose. Accidents arise from carelessness. v., a rose, a risen, a ris ing.

a ris en (ə riz'n), pp. of arise. The prince had not yet arisen from his bed. v.

Ar is ti des (är/'is ti'dēz), 530?-468? B.C., Athenian statesman and general. He was often called "Aristides the Just." n.

ar is to cra cy (är/'is tok'rə sē), 1. a ruling body of nobles; the nobility. 2. any class that is considered superior because of birth, intelligence, culture, or wealth; upper class. 3. government in which a privileged upper class rules. 4. country or state having such a government. 5. government by the best citizens. n., pl. ar-is-to-cra-cies.

a ris to crat (ə ris'tə krat), 1. person who belongs to the aristocracy; a noble. 2. person who has the tastes, opinions, manners, etc., of the upper classes. 3. person who favors government by an aristocracy. n.

a ris to crat ic (ə ris'tə krat'ik), 1. belonging to the upper classes; superior in birth, intelligence, culture, or wealth. 2. like an aristocrat in manners; proud. 3. having to do with an aristocracy. adj. —a ris'to crat'i cal ly, adv.

Ar is tot le (är/'is tot'l), 384-322 B.C., Greek philosopher. He studied under Plato and was the tutor of Alexander the Great. Aristotle analyzed most of the branches of knowledge and formulated the deductive method of reasoning. n.

arith., 1. arithmetic. 2. arithmetical.

a rith me tic (ə rith'mə tik), 1. science of positive, real numbers; art of computing by figures. When you study arithmetic, you learn to add, subtract, multiply, and divide. 2. textbook or handbook dealing with this science. n.

ar ith met i cal (är'ith met'ə kl), of arithmetic; having to do with arithmetic. adj.

ar ith met i cal ly (är'ith met'ik lē), according to arithmetic; by the use of arithmetic. adv.

arithmetical progression, series in which there is always the same difference between a number and the one next after it. 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 are in arithmetical progression; so are 8, 5, 2, -1.

a rith me ti cian (ə rith'mə tish'ən), person skilled in arithmetic. n.

Ariz., Arizona.

Ar i zo na (är'ə zō'nə), a southwestern state of the United States. 1,302,000 pop.; 113,909 sq. mi. Capital: Phoenix. Abbrev.: Ariz. n.

ark (ärk), 1. in the Bible, the large boat in which Noah saved himself, his family, and a pair of each kind of animal from the Flood. 2. Informal. any large, clumsy boat. 3. Ark of the Covenant. n.

Ark., Arkansas.

Ar kan sas (är'kən sō for 1; är'kən sō or är kan'zəs for 2), 1. a southern state of the United States. 1,786,000 pop.; 53,103 sq. mi. Capital: Little Rock. Abbrev.: Ark. 2. river flowing from central Colorado southeast into the Mississippi. 1450 mi. n.

Ark of the Covenant, wooden chest or box in which the Jews kept the two tablets of stone containing the Ten Commandments. The wooden chest in synagogues today is a symbol of it.

Ark wright (ärk'rit), Sir Richard, 1732-1792, English inventor of the spinning jenny. n.

Ar ling ton (är'ling tən), the largest national cemetery in the United States, in NE Virginia, across the Potomac from Washington, D.C. n.

arm¹ (ärm), 1. the part of the human body between the shoulder and the hand. 2. forelimb of an animal. The front legs of a bear are sometimes called arms. 3. anything resembling an arm in shape or use: the arm of a chair, an arm of the sea. 4. power; authority: the strong arm of the law. n. —arm'less, adj.

arm in arm, with arms linked: She walked arm in arm with her sister.

with open arms, in a warm, friendly way; cordially.

arm² (ärm), 1. weapon. A gun, a sword, an ax, a stick —any of these might be arms for defense or attack. See arms. 2. supply with weapons: "Arm yourselves and be ready to fight," said our leader. 3. take up weapons; prepare for war: The soldiers armed for battle. 4. branch of the military service, such as the infantry, artillery, or cavalry. 5. provide with a protective covering. 6. provide with the means to defend or attack something: Each lawyer entered court armed with the data he planned to use to support his case. 1,4 n., 2,3,5,6 v.

ar ma da (är mä'də), 1. fleet of warships. 2. fleet of airplanes. n.

the Armada, the Spanish fleet that was sent to attack England in 1588.

ar ma dil lo (är'mä-dil'ō), any of several small burrowing mammals of South America and some parts of southern North America, with an armorlike shell of bony plates. Some kinds can roll up into a ball when attacked. n., pl. ar ma dil los.

Armadillo
(total length 2½ ft.)

Ar ma ged don (är'mä ged'n), 1. in the Bible, the place of a great and final conflict between the forces of good and evil. Revelation 16:16. 2. any great and final conflict. n.

ar ma ment (är'mä mēnt), 1. war equipment and supplies. 2. the army, navy, and other military forces of a nation. n.

ar ma ture (är'mä chər), 1. armor. 2. part of an animal or plant serving for offense (teeth, suckers) or defense (shells, thorns). A turtle's shell is an armature. 3. piece of soft iron arranged to be attracted by the poles of a magnet. 4. a revolving part of an electric motor. 5. coils of wire that revolve in the magnetic field of a generator to produce an electric current. n.

arm chair (ärm'chär'), chair with side pieces to support a person's arms or elbows. n.

Ar me ni a (är mē'nē ə), 1. a former country of W Asia, now divided among Turkey, Iran, and the Soviet Union. See Mesopotamia for map. 2. a Soviet republic in S Soviet Union, on the Black Sea. 1,768,000 pop.; 11,500 sq. mi. Capital: Erivan. See Georgia for map. n. —Ar me'ni an, adj., n.

arm ful (ärm'fūl), as much as one arm or both arms can hold. n., pl. arm fuls.

arm hole (ärm'hōl'), hole for the arm in a garment. n.

Ar min i an (är min'ē ən), 1. of Arminius or his doctrines. 2. believer in Arminian doctrines. 1 adj., 2 n.

Ar min i us (är min'ē əs), 1560-1609, early Dutch Protestant theologian who criticized Calvin's doctrines and believed that there was a chance of salvation for all men through God's grace. n.

arm i stice (är'mə stis), temporary stop in fighting, by agreement on all sides; truce. n.

Armistice Day, November 11, the anniversary of the end of World War I; now called Veterans Day.

arm let (ärm'lit), 1. an ornamental band for the upper arm. 2. a small inlet of the sea. n.

ar mor (är'mər), 1. a covering worn to protect the body in fighting. 2. any kind of protective covering. A diver's suit and the scales of a fish are armor. 3. the steel or iron plates or other protective covering of a warship, airplane, or fortification. 4. cover or protect with armor. 1-3 n., 4 v. Also, Brit. armour.

ar mor bear er (är'mər bär'ər), attendant who carried the armor or weapons of a warrior. n.

ar mored (är'mərd), covered or protected with armor: an armored train, car, etc. adj.

ar mor er (är'mər ər), 1. person who made or repaired armor. 2. manufacturer of firearms. 3. man in charge of firearms. The armorer of a warship takes care of the revolvers, pistols, and rifles on the ship. n.

ar mo ri al (är mō'rē əl), having to do with coats of arms or heraldry. adj.

Armor (def. 1)

armorial bearings, coat of arms.

armor plate, steel or iron plating to protect warships, forts, etc.

ar mor y (är'mər ē), 1. place where weapons are kept; arsenal. 2. U.S. place where weapons are made. 3. a building with a drill hall, offices, etc., for militia. n., pl. ar mor ies.

ar mour (är'mər), Brit. armor. n., v.

arm pit (ärm'pit'), the hollow under the arm at the shoulder. n.

arms (ärmz), 1. weapons: We do not have the arms we need to fight. 2. fighting; war: A soldier is a man of arms. 3. symbols and designs used in heraldry or, as emblems of official dignity, by governments, cities, corporations, etc. n.pl.

bear arms, 1. serve as a soldier. 2. possess and display a coat of arms.

carry arms, 1. have weapons. 2. hold a rifle vertically against the right shoulder.

to arms! prepare for battle!

under arms, having weapons; equipped for fighting.

up in arms, 1. preparing for a battle. 2. in rebellion.

ar my (är'mē), 1. a large, organized group of soldiers trained and armed for war. 2. all the military forces of a nation, exclusive of the naval forces and, in some countries, also exclusive of the air forces. 3. part of the name of certain organizations: the Salvation Army. 4. a very large number; multitude: an army of ants. n., pl. ar mies.

army of occupation, army sent into a defeated country to enforce a treaty, keep order, etc.

army worm, the larva of any of various moths that travel in large numbers and destroy grass and grain crops.

ar ni ca (är'nə kə), 1. a healing liquid used on bruises, sprains, etc., prepared from the dried flowers, leaves, or roots of a plant of the same family as the aster. 2. the plant itself. It has showy yellow flowers. n.

Ar no (är'nō), river in central Italy. 140 mi. n.

Ar nold (är'nld), Benedict, 1741-1801, American general in the Revolutionary War who turned traitor. n.

a ro ma (ə rō'mə), 1. fragrance; spicy odor: the aroma of steak cooking over an open fire. 2. a distinctive fragrance or flavor; subtle quality. n.

ar o ma tic (är'ə mat'ik), 1. fragrant; sweet-smelling; spicy: The cinnamon tree has an aromatic inner bark. 2. fragrant plant or substance. 1 adj., 2 n.

a rose (ə rōz'), pt. of arise. She arose from her chair. v.

a round (ə raund'), 1. in a circle about: travel around the world. 2. in a circle: He spun around like a top. 3. in circumference: The tree measures four feet around. 4. closely surrounding: She had a coat around her shoulders.

5. on all sides of: Woods lay around the house. 6. on all sides: A dense fog lay around. 7. U.S. Informal. here and there in: He leaves his books around the house. 8. U.S. here and there: We walked around to see the town. 9. U.S. Informal. somewhere near: Wait around awhile (adv.). Please play around the house (prep.). 10. U.S. Informal. near in amount, number, etc., to: That hat cost around five dollars. 11. in the opposite direction: Turn around! You are going the wrong way. 12. on the far side of: just around the corner. 1,4,5,7,9,10,12 prep., 2,3,6,8,9,11 adv.

a rouse (ə rouz'), 1. awaken. 2. stir to action; excite: The attack on Pearl Harbor aroused the whole country.

v., a roused, a rous ing.

ar que bus (är'kwə bəs), harquebus. n.

ar raign (ə rān'), 1. bring before a law court for trial: The tramp was arraigned on a charge of stealing. 2. call in question; find fault with; accuse. v. —ar raign'er, n.

ar raign ment (ə rān'mēnt), 1. act of bringing before a court to answer a charge; indictment. 2. unfavorable criticism. n.

Ar ran (är'ən), British island off the SW coast of Scotland. 4500 pop.; 165 sq. mi. n.

ar range (ə ˈræŋj/), 1. put in the proper order: The army is arranged for battle. 2. settle (a dispute): Mother arranged the quarrel between the two girls. 3. plan; prepare: Can you arrange to meet me this evening? 4. adapt (a piece of music) to voices or instruments for which it was not written: This music for the violin is also arranged for the piano. v., ar ranged, ar rang ing. —ar rang'er, n.

ar range ment (ə ˈræŋj/mənt), 1. a putting or being put in proper order. 2. way or order in which things or persons are put: You can make six arrangements of the letters A, B, and C. 3. adjustment; settlement. 4. plan; preparation: make arrangements for a journey. 5. something arranged in a particular way: Make an arrangement of the chairs to form a circle. 6. adaptation of a piece of music to voices or instruments for which it was not written. n.

ar rant (ə ˈrænt), thoroughgoing; downright: He was such an arrant liar that nobody ever believed him. adj.

ar ras (ar'əs), 1. a kind of tapestry. 2. a curtain or hangings of tapestry. n.

ar ray (ə ˈrā/), 1. order: The troops were formed in battle array. 2. arrange in order: The general arrayed his troops for the battle. 3. display of persons or things: an impressive array of wedding gifts. 4. The array of good players on the other team made our side lose confidence. 5. military force; soldiers. 6. clothes, especially for some special or festive occasion; dress: bridal array, gorgeous array. 7. dress in fine clothes; adorn: Elsie was arrayed like a queen. 1,3-5 n., 2,6 v.

ar rears (ə ˈrɪr/), 1. money due but not paid; debts. 2. unfinished work; things not done on time. n.pl. in arrears, behind in payments, work, etc.

ar rest (ə ˈrest/), 1. seize by legal authority; take to jail or court: Policemen arrested the thieves. 2. a seizing by legal authority; a taking to jail or court. 3. stop; check: Filling a tooth arrests decay. 4. a stopping; checking. 5. catch and hold: Our attention was arrested by the sound of a shot. 1,3,5 v., 2,4 n. —ar rest'er, n. under arrest, held by the police.

ar riv al (ə ˈrɪv/l), 1. act of arriving; a coming: She is waiting for the arrival of the train. 2. person or thing that arrives. n.

ar rive (ə ˈrɪv/), 1. reach the end of a journey; come to a place: We arrived in Boston a week ago. 2. come; occur: The time has arrived for you to study. 3. be successful. v., ar rived, ar riv ing.

ar rive at, come to; reach: You should arrive at school before nine o'clock. You must arrive at a decision soon.

ar ro gance (ar'ə ɡans), too great pride; haughtiness. n.

ar ro gant (ar'ə ɡənt), proud of oneself and disdainful of others; too proud; haughty. adj. —ar'ro gant-ly, adv.

ar ro gate (ar'ə ɡāt), 1. claim or take without right: The despotic king arrogated to himself the power that belonged to the nobles. 2. claim for another without good reason: The suspicious man arrogated bad motives to other people. v., ar ro gat ed, ar ro gat ing.

ar row (ar'ō), 1. a slender, pointed shaft or stick for shooting from a bow. 2. anything resembling an arrow in shape or speed. 3. a sign (➔) used to show direction or position in maps, on road signs, and in writing. n. —ar'row like', adj.

ar row head (ar'ō hed/), 1. head or tip of an arrow. 2. marsh or water plant, many varieties of which have leaves shaped like arrowheads. n.

ar row root (ar'ō rūt/), 1. an easily digested starch made from the roots of a tropical American plant. 2. the plant itself. n.

ar row y (ar'ō ē), 1. of arrows. 2. like an arrow in shape or speed. adj.

ar roy o (ə ˈroi/ō), in the southwestern United States: 1. the dry bed of a stream; gully. 2. a small river. n., pl. ar roy os.

ar se nal (ār'sn əl), a building for storing or manufacturing weapons and ammunition for an army or navy. n.

ar se nate of lead (ār'sn āt), a poison used on vines, trees, etc., to kill insects.

ar se nic (ār'sn ik), 1. a grayish-white chemical element, having a metallic luster and volatilizing when heated. Symbol: As 2. a violent poison that is a compound of this element. It is a white, tasteless powder that looks somewhat like flour. Arsenic is used in industry and in medicine. n.

ar son (ār'sn), the crime of intentionally setting fire to a building or other property. n.

art¹ (ärt), 1. form of human activity appealing to the imagination, especially drawing, painting, and sculpture, also architecture, poetry, music, dancing, etc. 2. these types of activity taken together: "Art is long and time is fleeting." 3. a branch of learning that depends more on special practice than on general principles: Writing compositions is an art; grammar is a science. 4. a branch or division of learning: Literature is one of the liberal arts; chemistry is a science. 5. skill. 6. human skill: This well-kept garden owes more to art than to nature. 7. some kind of skill or practical application of skill: Cooking, sewing, and housekeeping are household arts. 8. working principles; methods: the art of making friends, the art of war. 9. skillful act; cunning; trick: She deceived the youth by her arts. n.

art² (ärt), Archaic or Poetic. are. "Thou art" means "You are." v.

Ar te mis (är'tə mis), the Greek goddess of the hunt, of the forests, of wild animals, and of the moon. She was identified by the Romans with Diana. n.

ar te ri al (är ˈtɪrē əl), 1. having to do with or resembling the arteries. 2. having to do with the bright-red blood of the arteries. 3. having a main channel with many branches. adj.

ar te ri o sole ro sis (är ˈtɪrē ō sklə ˈrō/sis), a hardening of the walls of the arteries that makes circulation of the blood difficult. n.

ar ter y (är'tər ē), 1. any of the blood vessels or tubes that carry blood from the heart to all parts of the body. 2. a main road; important channel: Main Street and Broadway are the two arteries of traffic in our city. n., pl. ar ter ies.

ar te sian well (är ˈtē/zhən), a deep-drilled well. In most artesian wells the water gushes up to the surface. art ful (ärt'fəl), 1. crafty; deceitful: A swindler uses artful tricks to get people's money away from them. 2. skillful; clever. 3. artificial. adj. —art'ful ly, adv. —art'ful ness, n.

ar thrit ic (är ˈθrɪt/ik), of arthritis; caused by arthritis. adj.

ar thri tis (är ˈθrɪ/tis), inflammation of a joint or joints. n.

ar thro pod (är'thrə ˈpɒd), one of a large group of invertebrate animals having segmented (jointed) bodies and legs. Insects, arachnids, and crustaceans are arthropods. n.

Arthur (är'thər), 1. a legendary king of ancient Britain who gathered about him a famous group of knights. 2. Chester A., 1830-1886, the 21st president of the United States, from 1881 to 1885. n.

Ar thu ri an (är ˈθúrē ən), of King Arthur and his knights. adj.

ar ti choke (är'tə ˈchök), 1. a thistle-like plant whose flowering head is cooked and eaten. 2. the flowering head. n.

ar ti cle (är'tə ˈkl), 1. a literary composition, complete in itself, but forming part of a magazine, newspaper, or book: an article on gardening in a newspaper. 2. a clause in a contract, treaty, statute, etc.: the third article of the Constitution. 3. a particular thing; item: Bread is a main article of food. 4. one of the words a, an,

Indian arrowhead attached to the shaft of an arrow

Artichoke (def. 2)

or the. A and an are indefinite articles; the is the definite article. 5. bind by a contract: The apprentice was articulated to serve the master workman for seven years. 1-4 n., 5 v., ar ti cled, ar ti cling.

Articles of Confederation, constitution adopted by the thirteen original States of the United States in 1781. It was replaced by the present Constitution in 1788.

ar tic u late (är tik'yə lit for 1,3-5; är tik'yə lāt for 2,6,7), 1. uttered in distinct syllables of words: A baby cries and gurgles, but does not use articulate speech. 2. speak distinctly: Be careful to articulate your words so that everyone in the room can understand you. 3. able to put one's thoughts into words: Julia is the most articulate of the sisters. 4. made up of distinct parts; distinct. 5. jointed; segmented. 6. unite by joints. 7. fit together in a joint: After his knee was injured, he was lame because the bones did not articulate well. 1,3-5 adj., 2,6,7 v., ar tic u lat ed, ar tic u lat ing. —ar tic'u late ly, adv.

ar tic u la tion (är tik'yə lä'shən), 1. way of speaking; enunciation: If you speak more slowly, your articulation will improve. 2. a joint. 3. act or manner of connecting by a joint or joints: the articulation of the bones. n.

ar ti fact (är'tə fakt), anything made by human skill or work; an artificial product. n.

ar ti fice (är'tə fis), 1. a clever device; trick. 2. trickery; craft. n.

ar ti fi cer (är tif'ə sər), 1. skilled workman; craftsman. 2. maker; inventor. n.

ar ti fi cial (är'tə fish'əl), 1. made by human skill or labor; not natural: When you read at night, you read by artificial light. 2. made as a substitute for or in imitation of; not real: artificial flowers, artificial silk. 3. put on; assumed; false; affected: an artificial tone of voice, an artificial manner. adj. —ar'ti fi'cial ly, adv. —ar'ti fi'cial ness, n.

ar ti fi ci al i ty (är'tə fish'ē al'ə tē), 1. artificial quality or condition. 2. something unnatural or unreal. n., pl. ar ti fi ci al i ties.

artificial respiration, the drawing in and pushing out of air from the lungs of a person who has stopped breathing. It is usually done by pressing one's hands on the person's back and then releasing them or by breathing in the victim's mouth.

ar til ler y (är til'er ē), 1. mounted guns; cannon. 2. the part of an army that uses and manages cannon. 3. the science of firing and coordinating the firing of guns of larger caliber than machine guns. n.

ar til ler y man (är til'er ē mən), U.S. soldier who belongs to the artillery; gunner. n., pl. ar til ler y men.

ar ti san (är'tə zn), workman skilled in some industry or trade; craftsman. Carpenters, masons, plumbers, and electricians are artisans. n.

art ist (är'tist), 1. person who paints pictures. 2. person who is skilled in any of the fine arts, such as sculpture, music, or literature. 3. person who does work with skill and good taste. n.

ar tiste (är tēst'), a very skillful performer or worker. An artiste may be a singer, a dancer, or a cook. n.

ar tis tic (är tis'tik), 1. of art or artists. 2. done with skill and good taste. 3. having good color and design. 4. having or showing appreciation of beauty. adj.

ar tis ti cal ly (är tis'tik lē), 1. with skill and good taste. 2. from an artistic point of view. adv.

art ist ry (är'tis trē), artistic work; workmanship of an artist. n., pl. art ist ries.

art less (är'tlis), 1. without awareness of conventions; simple: Small children ask many artless questions, such as, "Mother, did you want this lady to come to see you?" 2. natural; not artificial: artless eloquence. 3. without art; unskilled; ignorant. 4. without guile or deceit. adj. —art'less ly, adv. —art'less ness, n.

art y (är'tē), Informal. making a pretense or show of being artistic. adj., art i er, art i est. —art'i ness, n.

ar um (är'əm), 1. a plant having a club-shaped spike of small flowers which is partly surrounded by a hooded sheath, such as the jack-in-the-pulpit. 2. plant somewhat like it; calla lily. n.

Ary an (är'ē ən or ar'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with a family of languages from which most European languages are descended; Indo-European. 2. the assumed prehistoric language from which these languages are derived. 3. person belonging to a prehistoric group of people who spoke this language. 4. person supposed to be descended from this prehistoric group of people. 5. in Nazi use, non-Jewish. 1,5 adj., 2-4 n.

Arum (def. 1)

as (az, unstressed əz), 1. to the same degree or extent; equally: as black as coal. 2. to the same degree or extent that: She worked just as much as she was told to. 3. in the same way that: run as I do. 4. during the time that; when; while: She sang as he worked. 5. because: We paid him generously, as he had done the work well. 6. though: Brave as they were, the danger made them afraid. 7. that the result was: The child so marked the picture as to spoil it. 8. in the character of; doing the work of: Who will act as teacher? 9. in the manner of: Will you fight as men, or die as slaves? 10. a condition or fact that: She is very careful, as her work shows. 11. that: Do the same thing as I do. 12. for example: Some animals, as dogs and cats, eat meat. 1,12 adv., 2-7 conj., 8,9 prep., 10,11 pron.

as for, about; concerning; referring to.

As, arsenic.

as a fet i da or as a foet i da (as'ə fet'ə də), gum resin with a garliclike odor, used in medicine to prevent spasms. n. Also, assa fetida, assa foetida.

as bes tos or as bes tus (as bes'təs), a mineral, a silicate of calcium and magnesium, that does not burn or conduct heat. It usually comes in fibers that can be made into a sort of cloth or felt. Asbestos is used for mats to put under hot dishes. n.

as cend (ə send'), 1. go up; rise; move upward: He watched the airplane ascend higher and higher. 2. climb; go to or toward the top of: A small party is planning to ascend Mt. Everest. v.

as cend ance (ə send'əns), ascendancy. n.

as cend an cy (ə send'ən sē), controlling influence; domination; rule. n.

as cend ant (ə send'ənt), 1. ascending; rising. 2. superior; dominant; ruling; controlling. 3. position of power; controlling influence. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

in the ascendant, 1. supreme; dominant. 2. increasing in influence.

as cend en cy (ə send'ən sē), ascendancy. n.

as cend ent (ə send'ənt), ascendant. adj.

as cen sion (ə sen'shən), act of ascending; ascent. n.

As cen sion (ə sen'shən), 1. the bodily passing of Christ from earth to heaven. 2. a church festival in honor of this on the fortieth day after Easter. 3. a British island in the S Atlantic. 170 pop.; 34 sq. mi. n. Ascension Day, a church festival on the fortieth day after Easter, in honor of the Ascension.

as cent (ə sent'), 1. act of going up; a rising: the sudden ascent of an elevator. 2. a climbing; upward movement: the ascent of Mt. Everest. 3. place or way that slopes up: the gradual ascent of the terrace. n.

as cer tain (as'ər tān'), find out; determine: John telephoned home to ascertain if his father had arrived. v.

as cer tain ment (as'ər tān'mənt), an ascertaining. n.

as cet ic (ə set'ik), 1. person who practices unusual self-denial and devotion, or severe discipline of self for religious reasons. 2. person who refrains from pleasures and comforts. 3. refraining from pleasures and comforts; self-denying. 1,2 n., 3 adj. —as cet'i cal ly, adv.

as cet i cism (ə set'ə siz əm), 1. life or habits of an ascetic. 2. doctrine that by abstinence and self-denial a person can train himself to be in conformity with God's will. n.

a scor bic acid (ā skôr'bik or ə skôr'bik), vitamin C.

as cot (as'kət), necktie with broad ends, tied so that the ends may be laid flat, one across the other. n.

as cribe (əs krib'), 1. assign (to a cause or source); think of as caused by; attribute: The police ascribed the automobile accident to fast driving. 2. consider as belonging: Men have ascribed their own characteristics to their gods. v., as cribed, as crib ing.

as crip tion (əs krip'shən), 1. act of ascribing: the ascription of selfishness to a miser. 2. statement or words ascribing something. n.

a sep sis (ə sep'sis), 1. aseptic condition. 2. aseptic methods or treatment. n.

a sep tic (ə sep'tik), free from germs causing infection. adj.

a sex u al (ā sek'shū əl), 1. having no sex. 2. independent of sexual processes. In the liverworts and mosses and in some of the lower animals, sexual and asexual reproduction alternate. adj. —a sex'u ally, adv.

As gard (as'gärd), the home of the Norse gods and heroes. n.

ash¹ (ash), 1. what remains of a thing after it has been thoroughly burned. 2. the light gray color of ashes from wood. n.

ash² (ash), 1. a timber or shade tree that has grayish twigs and straight-grained wood. 2. its tough, springy wood. n.

a shamed (ə shāmd'), 1. feeling shame; disturbed or uncomfortable because one has done something wrong, improper, or silly: I was ashamed when I cried at the movies. 2. unwilling because of shame: Tom was ashamed to tell his mother he had failed. adj.

ash en¹ (ash'ən), 1. like ashes; pale as ashes. 2. of ashes. adj.

ash en² (ash'ən), 1. of the ash tree. 2. made from the wood of the ash tree. adj.

ash es (ash'iz), 1. what remains of a thing after it has been burned. 2. a dead person or persons: "Peace to their ashes!" n.pl.

Ashe ville (ash'vil), city in the SW part of North Carolina. 60,000. n.

Ash kha bad (āsh kă bād'), capital of the Soviet republic of Turkmen. 170,000. n.

a shore (ə shôr'), 1. to the shore; to land. 2. on the shore; on land. adv., adj.

Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent; the seventh Wednesday before Easter.

ash y (ash'ē), 1. like ashes; pale as ashes. 2. of ashes. 3. covered with ashes. adj., ash i er, ash i est.

A sia (ā'zhə or ā'shə), the largest continent. Over 1,600,000,000 pop.; 16,000,000 sq. mi. n.

Asia Minor, peninsula of W Asia, between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean Sea. It includes most of Asiatic Turkey. Also, Anatolia.

A sian (ā'zhən), 1. native of Asia. 2. Asiatic. 1 n., 2 adj.

A si at ic (ā'zhē at'ik or ā'shē at'ik), 1. of or having to do with Asia or its people. 2. Asian. 1 adj., 2 n.

a side (ə sid'), 1. on one side; to one side; away: Move the table aside. John spoke aside to Tom without our hearing him. 2. out of one's thoughts, consideration, etc.: Pul your troubles aside. 3. words spoken aside; actor's remark that the other actors are not supposed to hear. 1, 2 adv., 3 n.

aside from, 1. apart from. 2. Informal. except for.

as i nine (as'ə nīn), stupid; silly: What an asinine thing to say! adj. —as'i nine ly, adv.

as i nin i ty (as'ə nīn'ə tē), stupidity; silliness. n., pl. as i nin i ties.

ask (ask), 1. try to find out by words; inquire: Why don't you ask? She asked about our health. Ask the way.

Man wearing an ascot

2. seek the answer to: Ask any questions you wish.

3. put a question to; inquire of: Ask him how old he is.

4. try to get by words; request: Ask Kate to sing. I asked permission to leave the table.

5. claim; demand: ask too high a price for a house.

6. invite: She asked ten guests to the party.

7. need; require: This job asks hard work. v.

a skance (ə skans'), 1. with suspicion or disapproval: The students looked askance at the suggestion for having classes on Saturday. 2. sideways; to one side. adv.

a skant (ə skant'), askance. adv.

a skew (ə skū'), to one side; out of the proper position; turned or twisted the wrong way: Her hat is on askew. adv., adj.

a slant (ə slant'), 1. in a slanting direction. 2. slantingly across. 3. slanting. 1 adv., 2 prep., 3 adj.

a sleep (ə slēp'), 1. sleeping: The cat is asleep. 2. in a condition of sleep. 3. into a condition of sleep: The tired boy fell asleep. 4. numb: My foot is asleep. 5. dead. 1, 2, 4, 5 adj., 3 adv.

a slope (ə slōp'), at a slant. adv., adj.

As ma ra (äs mārə), city in N Ethiopia. 120,000. n.

asp (asp), 1. any of several small, poisonous snakes of Africa, especially the Egyptian cobra. 2. a small, poisonous snake of Europe; adder. n.

as par a gus (əs par'ə gəs), 1. a perennial plant of the same family as the lily, but having pulpy fruit and no bulb. The stems have many branches covered with threadlike branchlets, the true leaves being reduced to scales. The green tender shoots of one kind are used as a vegetable. 2. these shoots. n.

as pect (as'pekt), 1. one side or part or view (of a subject): We must consider this plan in its various aspects. 2. look; appearance: I love the ocean in all its aspects, even its stormy, frightening aspect in winter. 3. countenance; expression: the solemn aspect of a judge. 4. direction anything faces; exposure: This house has a western aspect. 5. side fronting in a given direction: the southern aspect of a house. n.

as pen (as'pən), 1. a poplar tree whose leaves tremble in the slightest breeze. 2. of this tree. 3. quivering; trembling. 1 n., 2, 3 adj.

as per i ty (as per'ə tē), roughness; harshness; severity: the asperities of a very cold winter. We all noticed the asperity in our teacher's voice. n., pl. as per i ties.

as perse (əs pərs'), spread damaging or false reports about; slander. v., as persed, as pers ing. —as pers'er, n.

as per sion (əs pər'zhən), damaging or false report; slander: You should not cast aspersions on people. n.

as phalt (as'fölt), 1. a dark-colored substance, much like tar, that is found in beds in various parts of the world. It is also obtained by evaporating petroleum. 2. a smooth hard mixture of this substance with crushed rock, used for pavements, roofs, etc. n.

as pho del (as'fə del), 1. a plant of the same family as the lily, with spikes of white or yellow flowers. 2. the flower of the Greek paradise. 3. Poetic. the daffodil. n.

as phyx i a (as fik'sē ə), suffocation or unconscious condition caused by lack of oxygen and excess of carbon dioxide in the blood. n.

as phyx i ate (as fik'sē āt), suffocate because of lack of oxygen and excess of carbon dioxide in the blood: The men trapped in the coal mines were asphyxiated by the gas before help could reach them. v., as phyx i at ed, as phyx i at ing.

as phyx i a tion (as fik'sē ā'shən), suffocation caused by lack of oxygen and excess of carbon dioxide in the blood. n.

as pic (as'pik), kind of jelly made from meat, tomato juice, etc. n.

as pi dis tra (as'pə dis'trə), plant with large, green leaves and very small flowers, much used as a house plant. n.

as pir ant (əs pīr'ənt or as'pə rənt), 1. person who aspires; person who seeks a position of honor. 2. aspiring. 1 n., 2 adj.

as pi rate (as/pə'rāt for 1; as/pə'rit for 2, 3), 1. begin a word or syllable with an h-sound, as hwo! (spelled what). 2. pronounced with a breathing or h-sound. The h in here is aspirate. 3. an aspirated sound. 1 v., as pi rated, as pi rating; 2 adj., 3 n.

as pi ra tion (as/pə'rā'shən), 1. earnest desire; longing: She had aspirations to be an actress. 2. act of drawing air into the lungs; breathing. 3. an aspirating (of sounds): the aspiration of "h" in "house." n.

as pi ra tor (as/pə'rā'tər), apparatus or device employing suction: A vacuum cleaner is an aspirator. n.

as pire (əs/pir/), 1. have an ambition for something; desire earnestly; seek: Scholars aspire after knowledge. Tom aspired to be captain of the team. 2. rise high. v., as pired, as pir ing. —as pir ing ly, adv.

as pi rin (as/pə'rin), drug for headaches, colds, etc. It is the acetate of salicylic acid. n.

ass (as), 1. a long-eared mammal of the same family as the horse; donkey. An ass is a patient, sure-footed beast of burden when domesticated. 2. a stupid fool; silly or stubborn person. n.

as sa fet i da or as sa foet i da (as/ə fet/ə də), asafetida. n.

as sa gai (as/ə gī), a slender spear or javelin of hard wood, used by some African tribes. n., pl. as sa gais. Also, assegai.

as sail (ə sāl/), 1. set upon with violence; attack: assail a fortress. 2. set upon vigorously with arguments, abuse, etc. v. —as sail/a ble, adj.

as sail ant (ə sāl/ənt), person who attacks: The injured man did not know his assailant. n.

as sas sin (ə sas/ən), murderer, especially one hired to murder. n.

as sas si nate (ə sas/ə nāt), kill by a sudden or secret attack; murder. v., as sas si nated, as sas si nat ing. —as sas/si na'tor, n.

as sas si na tion (ə sas/ə nā'shən), killing by a sudden or secret attack; murder. n.

as sault (ə sōlt/), 1. a sudden, vigorous attack; attack. 2. final phase of a military attack; closing with the enemy in hand-to-hand fighting. 3. make an assault on; attack. 1,2 n., 3 v. —as sault'er, n.

assault and battery, striking a person; touching a person to harm him.

as say (ə sā/), 1. analyze (an ore, alloy, etc.) to find out the quantity of gold, silver, or other metal in it. 2. analysis of an ore, alloy, etc., to find out the amount of metal in it. 3. try; test; examine. 4. trial; test; examination. 1,3 v., 2,4 n. —as say'er, n.

as se gai (as/ə gī), assagai. n.

as sem blage (ə sem/blj), 1. group of persons gathered together; assembly. 2. collection; group. 3. a bringing together; coming together; meeting. 4. a putting together; fitting together: the assemblage of parts of a machine. n.

as sem ble (ə sem/bl), 1. gather together; bring together. 2. come together; meet. 3. put together; fit together: assemble a model airplane. v., as sem bled, as sem bling. —as sem'bler, n.

as sem bly (ə sem/blē), 1. group of people gathered together for some purpose; meeting: A reception or a ball may be called an assembly. 2. a lawmaking group. 3. a putting together; fitting together: the assembly of the parts of an automobile to make an automobile. 4. the complete group of parts required to put something together: the hull assembly of Peter's model boat. 5. signal on a bugle or drum for troops to form in ranks. n., pl. as sem blies.

As sem bly (ə sem/blē), in some States, the lower branch of the State legislature. n., pl. As sem blies.

assembly line, row of workers and machines along which work is passed until the final product is made.

as sem bly man (ə sem/blē mən), U.S. member of a lawmaking group. n., pl. as sem bly men.

As sem bly man (ə sem/blē mən), U.S. member of the lower branch of a State legislature. n., pl. As sem bly men.

as sent (ə sent/), 1. express agreement; agree: Everyone assented to the plans for the dance. 2. acceptance of a proposal, statement, etc.; agreement: Jane smiled her assent to the plan. 1 v., 2 n. —as sent'ing ly, adv.

as sert (ə sɛrt/), 1. state positively; declare: John asserts that he will go whether we do or not. 2. insist on (a right, a claim, etc.); defend: assert your independence. v. —as sert'er, as ser'tor, n.

assert oneself, put oneself forward; make demands.

as ser tion (ə sɛr'shən), 1. positive declaration; very strong statement. 2. an insisting on one's rights, a claim, etc. n.

as ser tive (ə sɛr'tiv), too confident and certain; positive: John is an assertive boy, always insisting on his own rights and opinions. adj. —as ser'tive ly, adv. —as ser'tive ness, n.

as sess (ə ses/), 1. estimate the value of (property or income) for taxation. 2. fix the amount of (a tax, fine, damages, etc.). 3. put a tax on or call for a contribution from (a person, property, etc.): Each member of the club will be assessed one dollar to pay for the trip. v. —as sess/a ble, adj.

as sess ment (ə ses'mənt), 1. act of assessing. 2. amount assessed. n.

as ses sor (ə ses'ər), person who estimates the value of property or income for taxation. n.

as set (as/et), something having value: Ability to get along with people is an asset in business. n.

as sets (as/ets), 1. things of value; property. 2. property that can be used to pay debts. n.pl.

as sever ate (ə sev'ər āt), declare solemnly; state positively. v., as sever ated, as sever at ing.

as sever a tion (ə sev'ər ā'shən), a solemn declaration; positive statement. n.

as si du i ty (as/ə dū/ə tē or as/ə dū/ə tē), careful and steady attention; diligence. n., pl. as si du i ties.

as sid u ous (ə sij'ū əs), careful and attentive; diligent. adj. —as sid'u ous ly, adv.

as sign (ə sin/), 1. give as a share: The teacher has assigned ten problems for today. 2. appoint (to a post or duty): The captain assigned two soldiers to guard the gate. 3. name definitely; fix; set: The judge assigned a day for the trial. 4. refer; ascribe; attribute: A student should be able to assign events to their places in history. 5. transfer or hand over (property, a right, etc.) legally: Mr. Jones assigned his home and farm to his creditors. 6. person to whom property, a right, etc., is legally transferred. 1-5 v., 6 n. —as sign/a ble, adj. —as sign'er, n.

as sign ment (ə sɪn'mənt), 1. something assigned; especially, a piece of work to be done: Today's assignment in arithmetic is ten examples. 2. an assigning; appointment: the assignment of a soldier to a place of danger. 3. a legal transferring of some property, right, etc. n.

as sim i la ble (ə sim'ə lə bl), that can be assimilated. adj.

as sim i late (ə sim'ə lāt), 1. absorb; digest: The girl reads so much that she does not assimilate it all. The human body will not assimilate sawdust. 2. make or become like (people of a nation, etc.) in customs and viewpoint: Swedes assimilate readily in this country. We have assimilated immigrants from many lands. 3. make like: By boarding a long time with the Jones family he was assimilated to them in his thinking and actions. 4. become like. v., as sim i lat ed, as sim i lat ing. —as sim'i la'tor, n.

as sim i la tion (ə sim'ə lā'shən), 1. absorbing or being absorbed: Life depends on the assimilation of food. 2. making or becoming like. n.

as sim i la tive (ə sim'ə lā'tiv), assimilating: the assimilative functions of the body. adj.

As si si (ə sɛ'zi), village in central Italy. It is the birthplace of Saint Francis. 5000. n.

as sist (ə sist/), 1. help; aid. 2. take part. 3. in baseball, help given in putting a runner out. 1,2 v., 3 n.
as sist ance (ə sis'təns), help; aid. n.
as sist ant (ə sis'tənt), 1. helper; aid. 2. helping; assisting; an assistant teacher. 1 n., 2 adj.
as size (ə siz/), session of a law court. n.
as sizes (ə siz'iz), periodical sessions of court held in each county of England. n.pl.
assn. or Assn., association.
as so ci ate (ə sō'shē āt for 1,4,5,7,8; ə sō'shē it or ə sō'shē āt for 2,3,6,9,10), 1. connect in thought: We associate giving presents with Christmas. 2. thing usually connected with another. 3. joined in companionship, interest, action, etc.: Tim is an associate editor of the school paper. 4. join as a companion, partner, or friend: He has always associated with large enterprises. 5. keep company (with): Do not associate with bad companions. 6. companion; partner; ally; friend: I am one of John's associates in this scheme. 7. join; combine; unite. 8. combine for a common purpose. 9. member without full rights and privileges: an associate in a law firm. 10. admitted to some, but not all, rights and privileges, etc.: He was an associate professor of English until he became a full professor. 1,4,5,7,8 v., as so ci at ed, as so ci at ing; 2,6,9 n., 3,10 adj. —as so'ci a'tor, n.
as so ci a tion (ə sō'sē ā'shən or ə sō'shē ā'shən), 1. an associating or being associated; alliance: I look forward to my association with the professors I will have at college. 2. group of people joined together for some purpose; society: the young people's association at our church. 3. companionship; partnership; friendship. 4. connection of ideas in thought. n.
association area, the part of the brain that helps one remember. It collects the impulses from the sensory areas, sorts them, and sends them to the motor area.
association football, soccer.
as so nance (as'əns), 1. resemblance in the sounds of neighboring vowels. Example: "Waken lords and ladies gay." 2. a substitute for rhyme in which the vowels are alike but the consonants are different. Examples: brave—vain, lone—show. n.
as sort (ə sōrt/), 1. sort out; classify; arrange in sorts. 2. furnish with various sorts. 3. group (with). 4. agree in sort or kind; fall into a class. 5. associate (with). v. —as sort'er, n.
as sort ed (ə sōrt'id), 1. selected so as to be of different kinds; various: assorted cakes. 2. arranged by kinds; classified: socks assorted by size. 3. matched; suited, one to another: a poorly assorted couple. adj.
as sort ment (ə sōrt'mənt), 1. an assorting. 2. collection of various sorts. 3. group; class. n.
asst. or Asst., assistant.
as suage (ə swāj/), 1. make easier or milder; quiet; calm: assuage pain. 2. satisfy; appease; quench: assuage thirst. v., as suaged, as suag ing. —as suag'er, n.
as suage ment (ə swāj'mənt), 1. an assuaging or being assuaged. 2. something that assuages. n.
as sume (ə sūm/), 1. take for granted; suppose: He assumed that the train would be on time. 2. take upon oneself; undertake: Tom assumed the leadership in planning the picnic. 3. take on; put on. 4. pretend: assume ignorance. v., as sumed, as sum ing.
as sum ed (ə sūmd/), 1. pretended; not real. 2. supposed. adj.
as sum ing (ə sūm'ing), taking too much on oneself; presumptuous. adj.
as sumption (ə sūmp'shən), 1. act of assuming: She bustled about with an assumption of authority. 2. thing assumed: John's assumption that he would win the prize proved incorrect. 3. presumption; arrogance; unpleasant boldness: That boy's assumption in always thrusting himself forward made him disliked. n.
As sumption (ə sūmp'shən), 1. the bodily taking of the Virgin Mary from earth to heaven after her death. 2. a church festival in honor of this on August 15. n.
as sur ance (ə shūr'əns), 1. a making sure or certain. 2. positive declaration inspiring confidence: Mother has given me her assurance that I may go to the circus. 3. security; certainty; confidence: We have the assurance of final victory. 4. self-confidence: Joe's hard studying has given him considerable assurance in school. 5. impudence; too much boldness. 6. Brit. insurance: life assurance. n.

as sure (ə shūr/), 1. make sure or certain: The man assured himself that the bridge was safe before crossing it. 2. tell positively: The captain of the ship assured the passengers that there was no danger. 3. make safe; secure. 4. make safe against loss; insure: Is your life assured? v., as sured, as sur ing. —as sur'er, n.

as sured (ə shurd/), 1. sure; certain: You may be assured that he is safe. 2. confident; bold. 3. insured against loss. 4. person who is the beneficiary of an insurance policy. 5. person whose life or property is insured. 1-3 adj., 4,5 n.

as sur ed ly (ə shūr'id lē), 1. surely; certainly. 2. confidently; boldly. adv.

As syr i a (ə sir'ē ə), an ancient country in SW Asia, once a great empire. Capital: Nineveh. n. —As syr'i an, adj., n.

as ta tine (as'tə tēn), a radio-active chemical element originating in the bombardment of bismuth by alpha particles. Symbol: At n.

as ter (as'tər), a common flower with white, pink, or purple petals around a yellow center. Some asters are very small; others are large with many petals. n.

as ter isk (as'tər isk), a star-shaped mark (*) used in printing and writing to call attention to a footnote, indicate an omission, etc. n.

a stern (ə stērn/), 1. at or toward the rear of a ship: The captain went astern. 2. backward; move slowly astern. 3. behind: Some yachts tow small boats astern. adv.

as ter oid (as'tər oid), any of the many very small planets revolving about the sun between the orbit of Mars and the orbit of Jupiter. n.

asth ma (az'mə), a chronic disease that causes difficulty in breathing, a feeling of suffocation, and coughing. n.

asth ma tic (az mat'ik), 1. of or having to do with asthma. 2. suffering from asthma. 3. person suffering from asthma. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

as tig mat ic (as'tig mat'ik), 1. having astigmatism. 2. having to do with astigmatism. 3. correcting astigmatism. adj.

a stig ma tism (ə stig'mə tiz əm), defect of an eye or of a lens that makes objects look indistinct or gives imperfect images. With perfect focus, all the rays of light from any one point of an object converge at one point on the retina of the eye or other receiving surface; with astigmatism they do not. n.

a stir (ə stēr/), in motion. adv., adj.

As to lat (as'tə lat), place in Arthurian legend, probably in SE England, near London. n.

as ton ish (əs ton'ish), surprise greatly; amaze: The gift of ten dollars astonished the little boy. v.

as ton ish ing (əs ton'ish ing), very surprising; amazing. adj. —as ton'ish ing ly, adv.

as ton ish ment (əs ton'ish mēnt), 1. great surprise; amazement; sudden wonder. 2. anything that causes great surprise. n.

As tor (as'tər), John Jacob, 1763-1848, American fur merchant and capitalist. n.

As to ri a (as tō'rē ə), city in NW Oregon that was established as a fur-trading post by John Jacob Astor in 1811. 11,000. n.

as found (əs found/), surprise very greatly; amaze. v. —as found'ing ly, adv.

a strad dle (ə strad'l), astride. adv., adj.

as trag a lus (as trag'l əs), the uppermost bone of the tarsus; anklebone; talus. n., pl. as trag a li (-li).

as tra khan or as tra chan (as'trə kən), 1. the curly furlike wool on the skin of young lambs from Astrakhan. 2. a woolen cloth that looks like this. n.
As tra khan (as'trə kən), district in SW Soviet Union. n. a stray (ə strā'), out of the right way: Your reasoning is astray on that subject (adj.). We seem to have gone astray; we should have turned a mile ago (adv.). adj., adv.
a stride (ə strid'), 1. with one leg on each side. 2. with one leg on each side of: He sits astride his horse. 3. with legs far apart. 1, 3 adj., adv., 2 prep.
as trin gen cy (əs trin'jən sē), being astringent. n.
as trin gent (əs trin'jənt), 1. substance that shrinks tissues and checks the flow of blood by contracting blood vessels. Alum is an astringent. 2. having the property of shrinking or contracting. 1 n., 2 adj. —as trin'gent ly, adv.
as tro labe (as'trə lāb), an instrument formerly used for measuring the altitude of the sun or stars. n.
as tro log er (əs trəl'ə jər), person who claims to interpret the influence of the stars and planets on persons, events, etc. n.
as tro log i cal (as'trə loj'ə kl), having to do with astrology. adj.
as tro log y (əs trəl'ə jē), study of the stars and planets to reveal their supposed influence on persons, events, etc., and foretell what will happen. n.
as tro naut (as'trə nōt), a pilot or member of the crew of a space ship. n.
as tro naut ics (as'trə nōt'iks), science that deals with travel in outer space. n. —as'tro naut'ic al, as'tro naut'ic, adj.
as tron o mer (əs tron'ə mər), expert in astronomy. n.
as tro nom ic (as'trə nom'ik), astronomical. adj.
as tro nom i cal (as'trə nom'ə kl), 1. of astronomy; having to do with astronomy. 2. enormous; like the numbers reported in astronomy: That trip will cost you an astronomical sum of money. adj.
as tro nom i cal ly (as'trə nom'ik lē), according to astronomy. adv.
astronomical year, period of the earth's revolution around the sun; solar year.
as tron o my (əs tron'ə mē), science of the sun, moon, planets, stars, and other heavenly bodies. It deals with their composition, motions, positions, distances, sizes, etc. n.
as tro phys ics (as'trō fiz'iks), branch of astronomy that deals with the physical and chemical characteristics of heavenly bodies. n.
as tute (əs tūt' or əs tūt'), shrewd; crafty; sagacious; clever: Many lawyers are astute. adj. —as tute'ly, adv. —as tute'ness, n.
As ty a nax (as tī'ə naks), in Greek legend, the young son of Hector and Andromache. He was hurled from the walls of Troy by the victorious Greeks. n.
A sun ción (ä sün syōn'), capital of Paraguay. 206,000. n. a sun der (ə sun'dər), 1. in pieces; into separate parts. 2. apart; separate. 1 adv., 2 adj.
As wan Dam (äs wän'), a large dam in SE Egypt, built to control the Nile for irrigation. 6400 ft. long.
a sy lum (ə sī'ləm), 1. institution for the support and care of the insane, blind, orphans, or other classes of unfortunate persons. 2. refuge; shelter. In olden times a church might be asylum for a debtor or a criminal since no one was allowed to drag a person from the altar. n.
a sym met ric (ä'sə met'rik), not symmetrical; lacking symmetry. adj.

a sym met ri cal (ä'sə met'-rə kl), asymmetric. adj.
a sym me try (ä sim'ə trē), lack of symmetry. n.
at (at; unstressed at or it), 1. in; on; by; near: at school, at the front door. 2. to; toward; in the direction of: aim at the mark. Look at me. 3. in a place or condition of: at right angles, at war. 4. on or near the time of: at midnight. 5. through; by way of: Smoke came out at the chimney. 6. doing; trying to do: at work. 7. because of; by reason of: The shipwrecked sailors were happy at the arrival of the rescue ship. 8. for: two books at a dollar each. 9. according to: at will. 10. from: The sick man got good treatment at the hands of his doctor. prep.

At, astatine.

At a lan ta (at'ə lan'tə), in Greek legend, a maiden famous for her beauty and her speed in running. n.

at a vism (at'ə viz əm), resemblance to a remote ancestor. If a child of very quiet, home-loving parents and grandparents should display the love of travel and adventure that had characterized a sea-captain ancestor, it would be called a case of atavism. n.

at a vis tic (at'ə vis'tik), 1. having to do with atavism. 2. having a tendency to atavism. adj.

a tax i a (ə tak'sē ə), inability to coordinate voluntary movements. n.

ate (āt), pt. of eat. John ate his dinner. v.

A te (ā'tē), the Greek goddess of recklessness and mischief, later regarded as the goddess of revenge. n.

-ate, suffix meaning:

1. of or having to do with: Collegiate = having to do with college.

2. having; containing: Compassionate = having compassion.

3. having the form of; like: Sagittate = having the form of an arrowhead.

4. cause to be: Alienate = cause to be alien.

5. supply or treat with: Aerate = treat with air.

6. combine with: Oxygenate = combine with oxygen.

-ate, suffix meaning: salt made from —ic acid: Sulfate = salt made from sulfuric acid.

-ate, suffix meaning: office, rule, or condition of: Caliphate = rule of a caliph.

Ath a bas ka (ath'ə bas'kə), Lake, lake in central Canada. 3085 sq. mi. n.

a the ism (ā'thē iz əm), belief that there is no God. n.

a the ist (ā'thē ist), person who believes that there is no God. n.

a the is tic (ā'thē is'tik), of atheism or atheists. adj. —a'the is'ti cal ly, adv.

A the na (ə thē'nə), the Greek goddess of wisdom, arts, industries, and prudent warfare, identified with the Roman goddess Minerva. n. Also, Pallas.

ath e nae um or ath e ne um (ath'ə nē'əm), 1. a scientific or literary club. 2. a reading room; library. n.

Ath e nae um (ath'ə nē'əm), temple of Athena at Athens. Poets and learned men gathered there. n.

A the ne (ə thē'nē), Athena. n.

A the ni an (ə thē'nē ən), 1. of Athens or its people.

2. person having the right of citizenship in ancient Athens. 3. native or inhabitant of Athens. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

Ath ens (ath'ənz), 1. capital of Greece, in the SE part. Athens was famous in ancient times for its art and literature. 565,000. See the map under Doris. 2. city compared to Athens because it is a center of art and literature. n.

a thirst (ə thērst'), 1. thirsty. 2. eager: Most young people are athirst for new experiences. adj.

ath lete (ath'lēt), person trained in exercises of physical strength, speed, and skill. Ballplayers, runners, boxers, and swimmers are athletes. n.

athlete's foot, a contagious skin disease of the feet, caused by a fungus; ringworm of the feet.

ath let ic (ath let'ik), 1. active and strong. 2. of, like, or suited to an athlete. 3. having to do with active games and sports. adj. —ath let'ic al ly, adv.

ath let ics (ath let'iks), 1. exercises of strength, speed and skill; active games and sports: Athletics include baseball and basketball. 2. the principles of athletic training. 1 n. pl., 2 n. sing.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, ĭcc; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rŭle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

a thwart (ə thwɔrt/), 1. crosswise; across from side to side. 2. across. 3. across the line or course of. 4. in opposition to; against. 1 adv., 2-4 prep.

a tilt (ə tilt/), 1. at a tilt; tilted. 2. in a tilting encounter. adj., adv.

a tin gle (ə tɪŋɡl/), tingling; in a tingling or excited condition. adj.

-ation, suffix often added to a verb to form a noun: 1. act or state of —ing: Admiration = act or state of admiring.

2. condition or state of being —ed: Cancellation = condition or state of being canceled.

3. result of —ing: Civilization = result of civilizing.

-ative, suffix meaning:

1. tending to —: Talkative = tending to talk.

2. having to do with —: Qualitative = having to do with quality.

At lan ta (at lan'tə), capital of Georgia, in the N part. 487,000. n.

At lan te an (at'lan tē'an), 1. resembling Atlas; strong. 2. having to do with the legendary island of Atlantis. adj.

At lan tic (at lan'tik), 1. ocean east of North and South America. It extends to Europe and Africa. 31,814,640 sq. mi.; with connecting seas, 41,081,040 sq. mi. 2. of the Atlantic Ocean. 3. on or near the Atlantic Ocean. 4. of or on the Atlantic coast of the United States. 1 n., 2-4 adj.

Atlantic Charter, the joint declaration of U.S. President F.D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill on Aug. 14, 1941, about world needs.

Atlantic City, a seaside resort in SE New Jersey. 60,000.

At lan tis (at lan'tis), a legendary island in the Atlantic said to have sunk beneath the sea. n.

at las (at'lās), a book of maps. n.

At las (at'lās), in Greek legend, a giant who supported the heavens. n.

Atlas Mountains, mountain range in NW Africa.

at mos phere (at'mas fir), 1. air that surrounds the earth; the air. 2. mental and moral surroundings; surrounding influence: an atmosphere of poverty. 3. mass of gases that surrounds any heavenly body. 4. air in any given place: a damp atmosphere. 5. a unit of pressure equal to 14.69 pounds per square inch. 6. coloring or feeling that pervades a work of art: music steeped in the atmosphere of old Vienna, the somber atmosphere of "The Scarlet Letter." n.

at mos pher ic (at'mas fer'ik), 1. of or having to do with the atmosphere. 2. in the atmosphere: Atmospheric conditions often prevent observation of stars. 3. caused, produced, or worked by the atmosphere. adj.

at mos pher i cal ly (at'mas fer'ik lē), as regards the atmosphere; by atmospheric force or influence. adv.

atmospheric pressure, pressure caused by the weight of the air. The atmospheric pressure at sea level is 14.69 pounds per square inch. See atmosphere def. 5.

at. no., atomic number at oll (at'ol or a'toll/), a ring-shaped coral island enclosing or partly enclosing a lagoon. n.

at om (at'əm), 1. the smallest particle of a chemical element that can take part in a chemical reaction without being permanently changed. A molecule of water is made by the combination of two atoms of hydrogen with one atom of oxygen. 2. a very small particle, any but. n.

atom bomb, atomic bomb

a tom ic (a'tom'ik), 1. of atoms; having to do with atoms: atomic nucleus. 2. extremely small; minute. adj.

atomic age, the period of the first use of atomic energy.

atomic bomb, bomb that uses the energy of atoms to cause an explosion of tremendous force and produces a blinding light, heat. A-bomb atomic clock, a highly accurate clock that is run by controlled radio waves.

atomic energy, the energy that exists in atoms. Some atoms can be made to release some of it, either slowly (in a reactor) or very suddenly (in a bomb). It is generated through alteration of an atomic nucleus, chiefly by fission.

atomic furnace, a reactor that provides heat for the generation of steam by which turbines or other engines may be run. Scientists believe that atomic furnaces may someday provide a great part of our electricity.

atomic hypothesis, atomic theory.

atomic number, number used in describing a chemical element and giving its relation to other elements. It is the number of positive charges on the nucleus of an atom of the element.

atomic pile. See reactor.

atomic submarine, submarine powered by a reactor.

atomic theory, theory that all matter is composed of atoms; especially, the modern theory that an atom is made of a positive nucleus around which electrons speed.

atomic warfare, warfare using atomic bombs.

atomic weight, the relative weight of an atom of a chemical element, using oxygen or hydrogen as a standard of comparison.

at om ize (at'əm iz/), 1. separate into atoms.

2. change (a liquid) into a fine spray. v., at om ized, at om iz ing. —at'om i za'tion, n.

at om iz er (at'əm iz'er), apparatus used to blow a liquid in a spray of very small drops: an atomizer for perfume. n.

atom smasher, cyclotron.

at o my (at'ə mē), 1. a very small thing; atom. 2. a tiny being; pygmy. n., pl. at o mies.

a ton al (ā tōn'l), without tone. adj. —a ton'al ly, adv.

a tone (ə tōn/), make up; make amends (for): Tom atoned for his unkindness to Dick by taking Dick to the movies. v., a toned, a ton ing.

a tone ment (ə tōn'mənt), a making up for something; giving satisfaction for a wrong, loss, or injury; amends. n.

A tone ment (ə tōn'mənt), reconciliation of God with sinners through the sufferings and death of Christ. n.

a top (ə top/), 1. on or at the top. 2. on the top of. 1 adv., 2 prep.

at ra bil ious (at'rə bil'yəs), 1. melancholy; hypocondriac. 2. bad-tempered: We had a think of the Puritan clergy as a fanatical, atrabilious set. adj.

a tro ci ous (ə trō'chəs), 1. very wicked or cruel; very savage or brutal. 2. Informal. very bad; abominable. adj. —a tro'ci ous ly, adv. —a tro'ci ous ness, n.

a tro ci ty (ə trō'sə tē), 1. very great wickedness or cruelty. 2. a very cruel or brutal act; the atrocities of the Nazis. 3. Informal. a very bad blunder. n., pl. a tro ci ties.

at ro phy (at'rə fē), 1. wasting away; wasting away of a part or parts of the body. Some diseases cause atrophy of the muscles in the legs. 2. waste away. An atrophy may simply follow disuse. 1 v., 2 adj. at ro phy ing.

at ro pine (at're pēn), a poisonous drug obtained from belladonna and similar plants. Atropine relaxes muscles and dilates the pupil. n.

at tach (at'ach/), 1. fasten. The boy attached a tag to his bag. 2. connect with or fasten to. He attached a card to the envelope. 3. attach to 4. attach 5. attach to 6. attach to 7. attach to 8. attach to 9. attach to 10. attach to 11. attach to 12. attach to 13. attach to 14. attach to 15. attach to 16. attach to 17. attach to 18. attach to 19. attach to 20. attach to 21. attach to 22. attach to 23. attach to 24. attach to 25. attach to 26. attach to 27. attach to 28. attach to 29. attach to 30. attach to 31. attach to 32. attach to 33. attach to 34. attach to 35. attach to 36. attach to 37. attach to 38. attach to 39. attach to 40. attach to 41. attach to 42. attach to 43. attach to 44. attach to 45. attach to 46. attach to 47. attach to 48. attach to 49. attach to 50. attach to 51. attach to 52. attach to 53. attach to 54. attach to 55. attach to 56. attach to 57. attach to 58. attach to 59. attach to 60. attach to 61. attach to 62. attach to 63. attach to 64. attach to 65. attach to 66. attach to 67. attach to 68. attach to 69. attach to 70. attach to 71. attach to 72. attach to 73. attach to 74. attach to 75. attach to 76. attach to 77. attach to 78. attach to 79. attach to 80. attach to 81. attach to 82. attach to 83. attach to 84. attach to 85. attach to 86. attach to 87. attach to 88. attach to 89. attach to 90. attach to 91. attach to 92. attach to 93. attach to 94. attach to 95. attach to 96. attach to 97. attach to 98. attach to 99. attach to 100. attach to 101. attach to 102. attach to 103. attach to 104. attach to 105. attach to 106. attach to 107. attach to 108. attach to 109. attach to 110. attach to 111. attach to 112. attach to 113. attach to 114. attach to 115. attach to 116. attach to 117. attach to 118. attach to 119. attach to 120. attach to 121. attach to 122. attach to 123. attach to 124. attach to 125. attach to 126. attach to 127. attach to 128. attach to 129. attach to 130. attach to 131. attach to 132. attach to 133. attach to 134. attach to 135. attach to 136. attach to 137. attach to 138. attach to 139. attach to 140. attach to 141. attach to 142. attach to 143. attach to 144. attach to 145. attach to 146. attach to 147. attach to 148. attach to 149. attach to 150. attach to 151. attach to 152. attach to 153. attach to 154. attach to 155. attach to 156. attach to 157. attach to 158. attach to 159. attach to 160. attach to 161. attach to 162. attach to 163. attach to 164. attach to 165. attach to 166. attach to 167. attach to 168. attach to 169. attach to 170. attach to 171. attach to 172. attach to 173. attach to 174. attach to 175. attach to 176. attach to 177. attach to 178. attach to 179. attach to 180. attach to 181. attach to 182. attach to 183. attach to 184. attach to 185. attach to 186. attach to 187. attach to 188. attach to 189. attach to 190. attach to 191. attach to 192. attach to 193. attach to 194. attach to 195. attach to 196. attach to 197. attach to 198. attach to 199. attach to 200. attach to 201. attach to 202. attach to 203. attach to 204. attach to 205. attach to 206. attach to 207. attach to 208. attach to 209. attach to 210. attach to 211. attach to 212. attach to 213. attach to 214. attach to 215. attach to 216. attach to 217. attach to 218. attach to 219. attach to 220. attach to 221. attach to 222. attach to 223. attach to 224. attach to 225. attach to 226. attach to 227. attach to 228. attach to 229. attach to 230. attach to 231. attach to 232. attach to 233. attach to 234. attach to 235. attach to 236. attach to 237. attach to 238. attach to 239. attach to 240. attach to 241. attach to 242. attach to 243. attach to 244. attach to 245. attach to 246. attach to 247. attach to 248. attach to 249. attach to 250. attach to 251. attach to 252. attach to 253. attach to 254. attach to 255. attach to 256. attach to 257. attach to 258. attach to 259. attach to 260. attach to 261. attach to 262. attach to 263. attach to 264. attach to 265. attach to 266. attach to 267. attach to 268. attach to 269. attach to 270. attach to 271. attach to 272. attach to 273. attach to 274. attach to 275. attach to 276. attach to 277. attach to 278. attach to 279. attach to 280. attach to 281. attach to 282. attach to 283. attach to 284. attach to 285. attach to 286. attach to 287. attach to 288. attach to 289. attach to 290. attach to 291. attach to 292. attach to 293. attach to 294. attach to 295. attach to 296. attach to 297. attach to 298. attach to 299. attach to 300. attach to 301. attach to 302. attach to 303. attach to 304. attach to 305. attach to 306. attach to 307. attach to 308. attach to 309. attach to 310. attach to 311. attach to 312. attach to 313. attach to 314. attach to 315. attach to 316. attach to 317. attach to 318. attach to 319. attach to 320. attach to 321. attach to 322. attach to 323. attach to 324. attach to 325. attach to 326. attach to 327. attach to 328. attach to 329. attach to 330. attach to 331. attach to 332. attach to 333. attach to 334. attach to 335. attach to 336. attach to 337. attach to 338. attach to 339. attach to 340. attach to 341. attach to 342. attach to 343. attach to 344. attach to 345. attach to 346. attach to 347. attach to 348. attach to 349. attach to 350. attach to 351. attach to 352. attach to 353. attach to 354. attach to 355. attach to 356. attach to 357. attach to 358. attach to 359. attach to 360. attach to 361. attach to 362. attach to 363. attach to 364. attach to 365. attach to 366. attach to 367. attach to 368. attach to 369. attach to 370. attach to 371. attach to 372. attach to 373. attach to 374. attach to 375. attach to 376. attach to 377. attach to 378. attach to 379. attach to 380. attach to 381. attach to 382. attach to 383. attach to 384. attach to 385. attach to 386. attach to 387. attach to 388. attach to 389. attach to 390. attach to 391. attach to 392. attach to 393. attach to 394. attach to 395. attach to 396. attach to 397. attach to 398. attach to 399. attach to 400. attach to 401. attach to 402. attach to 403. attach to 404. attach to 405. attach to 406. attach to 407. attach to 408. attach to 409. attach to 410. attach to 411. attach to 412. attach to 413. attach to 414. attach to 415. attach to 416. attach to 417. attach to 418. attach to 419. attach to 420. attach to 421. attach to 422. attach to 423. attach to 424. attach to 425. attach to 426. attach to 427. attach to 428. attach to 429. attach to 430. attach to 431. attach to 432. attach to 433. attach to 434. attach to 435. attach to 436. attach to 437. attach to 438. attach to 439. attach to 440. attach to 441. attach to 442. attach to 443. attach to 444. attach to 445. attach to 446. attach to 447. attach to 448. attach to 449. attach to 450. attach to 451. attach to 452. attach to 453. attach to 454. attach to 455. attach to 456. attach to 457. attach to 458. attach to 459. attach to 460. attach to 461. attach to 462. attach to 463. attach to 464. attach to 465. attach to 466. attach to 467. attach to 468. attach to 469. attach to 470. attach to 471. attach to 472. attach to 473. attach to 474. attach to 475. attach to 476. attach to 477. attach to 478. attach to 479. attach to 480. attach to 481. attach to 482. attach to 483. attach to 484. attach to 485. attach to 486. attach to 487. attach to 488. attach to 489. attach to 490. attach to 491. attach to 492. attach to 493. attach to 494. attach to 495. attach to 496. attach to 497. attach to 498. attach to 499. attach to 500. attach to 501. attach to 502. attach to 503. attach to 504. attach to 505. attach to 506. attach to 507. attach to 508. attach to 509. attach to 510. attach to 511. attach to 512. attach to 513. attach to 514. attach to 515. attach to 516. attach to 517. attach to 518. attach to 519. attach to 520. attach to 521. attach to 522. attach to 523. attach to 524. attach to 525. attach to 526. attach to 527. attach to 528. attach to 529. attach to 530. attach to 531. attach to 532. attach to 533. attach to 534. attach to 535. attach to 536. attach to 537. attach to 538. attach to 539. attach to 540. attach to 541. attach to 542. attach to 543. attach to 544. attach to 545. attach to 546. attach to 547. attach to 548. attach to 549. attach to 550. attach to 551. attach to 552. attach to 553. attach to 554. attach to 555. attach to 556. attach to 557. attach to 558. attach to 559. attach to 560. attach to 561. attach to 562. attach to 563. attach to 564. attach to 565. attach to 566. attach to 567. attach to 568. attach to 569. attach to 570. attach to 571. attach to 572. attach to 573. attach to 574. attach to 575. attach to 576. attach to 577. attach to 578. attach to 579. attach to 580. attach to 581. attach to 582. attach to 583. attach to 584. attach to 585. attach to 586. attach to 587. attach to 588. attach to 589. attach to 590. attach to 591. attach to 592. attach to 593. attach to 594. attach to 595. attach to 596. attach to 597. attach to 598. attach to 599. attach to 600. attach to 601. attach to 602. attach to 603. attach to 604. attach to 605. attach to 606. attach to 607. attach to 608. attach to 609. attach to 610. attach to 611. attach to 612. attach to 613. attach to 614. attach to 615. attach to 616. attach to 617. attach to 618. attach to 619. attach to 620. attach to 621. attach to 622. attach to 623. attach to 624. attach to 625. attach to 626. attach to 627. attach to 628. attach to 629. attach to</

at trib u tive (ə trib'yə tiv), 1. expressing a quality or attribute. An adjective used before or after a noun is an attributive adjective, as in "a blue shirt," "the church militant." 2. that attributes. 3. of or like an attribute. 4. an attributive word. In the phrase "big brown dog," big and brown are attributives; in "morning star," morning is an attributive. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —at trib'u tive ly, adv.

at tri tion (ə trish'ən), 1. a wearing away by rubbing: Pebbles become smooth by attrition. 2. any gradual process of wearing down: a war of attrition. n.

at tune (ə tūn' or ə tūn'), tune; put in tune: ears attuned to the noise of a big city. v., at tuned, at tun ing. —at tune'ment, n.

atty., attorney.

at. wt., atomic weight.

a typ i cal (ā tip'ə kl), not typical; irregular; abnormal. adj.

Au, gold.

au burn (ə'bərn), reddish brown. n., adj.

Auck land (ək'lənd), an important seaport in N New Zealand. 423,000. n.

au ction (ək'shən), 1. a public sale in which each thing is sold to the person who offers the most money for it. 2. sell at an auction. 1 n., 2 v.

au ction eer (ək'shən iər'), 1. man whose business is conducting auctions. 2. sell at an auction. 1 n., 2 v.

au da cious (ə dā'shas), 1. bold; daring. 2. too bold; impudent. adj. —au da'cious ly, adv. —au da'cious ness, n.

au dac i ty (ə das'ə tē), 1. boldness; reckless daring. 2. rude boldness; impudence: He had the audacity to go without being invited. n., pl. au dac i ties.

au di bil i ty (ə'də bil'ə tē), being audible. n.

au di ble (ə'də bl), capable of being heard; loud enough to be heard: She spoke in such a low voice that her remarks were barely audible. adj. —au'di bly, adv.

au di ence (ə'dē əns), 1. people gathered in a place to hear or see: the audiences at motion-picture shows, theaters, or speeches. 2. any persons within hearing. People who hear over the radio may be called the audience. 3. chance to be heard; hearing: The committee will give you an audience to hear your plan. 4. formal interview with a person of high rank: The king granted an audience to the reporter. 5. act or fact of hearing. 6. the readers of a book, newspaper, or magazine. n.

au di o (ə'dē ō), 1. of or having to do with sound. 2. having to do with the broadcasting or receiving of sound in television. An audio problem is a sound problem; a video problem involves the image that is supposed to appear on the screen. adj.

audio frequency, frequency corresponding to audible sound vibrations, from about 20 to about 20,000 cycles per second.

au di om e ter (ə dē ōm'ə tər), instrument for measuring the power of hearing. n.

au dit (ə'dit), 1. examine and check (business accounts) officially. 2. an official examination and check of business accounts. 3. statement of an account that has been examined and checked authoritatively. 1 v., 2,3 n.

au di tion (ə dish'ən), 1. a hearing to test the voice of a singer, speaker, etc. 2. hearing. 3. power or sense of hearing. 4. U.S. give (a singer, speaker, etc.) a hearing to test the voice. 1-3 n., 4 v.

au di tor (ə'də tər), 1. hearer; listener. 2. person who audits business accounts. n.

au di to ri um (ə'də tō'rē əm), 1. a large room for an audience in a church, theater, school, etc.; large hall. 2. a building especially designed for giving lectures, concerts, etc. n.

au di to ry (ə'də tō'rē), 1. of or having to do with hearing, the sense of hearing, or the organs of hearing: the auditory nerve. 2. assembly of hearers; audience. 3. auditorium. 1 adj., 2,3 n., pl. au di to ries.

Au du bon (ə'də bon), John James, 1785-1851, American painter who made a study of birds. n.

auf Wie der seh en (ouf vē'dər zā'ən), German way of saying good-by. It means "Until we see each other again."

Aug., August.

Auge an stables (ə jē'ən), in Greek legend, the stables, sheltering 3000 oxen, that remained uncleaned for 30 years, until Hercules turned two rivers through them.

aug er (ə'gər), 1. tool for boring holes in wood. 2. tool for boring holes in the earth. n.

aught (ət), 1. anything: You may go for aught I care. 2. in any way; to any degree; at all: Help came too late to avail aught. 1 n., 2 adv.

aught (ət), zero; cipher; nothing. n.

aug ment (əg ment'), increase; enlarge: The king augmented his power by taking over rights that had belonged to the nobles. v.

aug men ta tion (əg'men tā'shən), enlargement; increase; addition: The power of the nobles declined with the augmentation of the power of the king. n.

au grat in (ə grat'n; French ə grā tan'), French. with crumbs; cooked with crumbs and cheese; cooked with cheese.

Augs burg (əgz'bèrg), city in West Germany. 203,000. n.

au gur (ə'gər), 1. priest in ancient Rome who made predictions and gave advice. 2. prophet; fortuneteller. 3. predict; foretell. 4. be a sign or promise. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

augur ill, be a bad sign.

augur well, be a good sign.

au gu ry (ə'gyə rē), 1. art or practice of foretelling the future by the flight of birds, the appearance of the internal organs of sacrificed animals, thunder and lightning, etc. 2. prediction; indication; sign; omen. 3. rite or ceremony performed by an augur. n., pl. au gu ries.

Au gust (ə'gəst), the 8th month of the year. It has 31 days. n.

au gust (ə gust'), inspiring reverence and admiration; majestic; venerable. adj. —au gust'ly, adv. —au gust'ness, n.

Au gus ta (ə gus'tə), 1. capital of Maine, in the SW part. 22,000. 2. city in E Georgia. 71,000. n.

Au gus tine (ə'gəs tēn), 1. Saint, 354-430 A.D., bishop of N Africa and one of the great leaders in the early Christian church. 2. Saint, died 604 A.D., Roman monk sent in 597 A.D. to preach Christianity in England. He was the first archbishop of Canterbury. n.

Au gus tus (ə gus'təs), 63 B.C. to 14 A.D., a title of the first emperor of Rome, who reigned from 27 B.C. to 14 A.D. He was the grandnephew and heir of Julius Caesar. n.

au jus (ə zhy'), French. in gravy or juice.

auk (ək), a diving sea bird with short wings used only as paddles. Auks are found in arctic regions. n.

auld (öld), Scottish. old. adj.

auld lang syne (öld' lang sīn' or öld' lang zin'), Scottish. old times; long ago in one's life.

aunt (ant), 1. sister of one's father or mother. 2. uncle's wife. n.

au ra (ə'rə), something supposed to come from a person or thing and surround him or it as an atmosphere: An aura of holiness surrounded the saint. n., pl. au ras, au rae (ə'rē).

au ral (ə'ral), of the ear; having to do with hearing. adj.

au re ole (ə'rē ōl), 1. a ring of light; halo. 2. a ring of light surrounding the sun. n.

Au re o my cin (ə'rē ō mī'sin), Trademark. drug used to check or kill bacteria and viruses. n.

au revoir (ō rə vwär'), French. good-by; till we see each other again.

auricle (ō'rə kl), 1. chamber of the heart that receives the blood from the veins. The heart of a bird or mammal has two auricles and two ventricles, with the auricles situated above the ventricles. See diagram of heart. 2. the outer part of the ear. n.

auricular (ō rik'yə lər), 1. of the ear; near the ear. 2. heard by or addressed to the ear. 3. shaped like an ear. 4. having to do with an auricle of the heart. adj.

au rochs (ō'roks), 1. European bison, now almost extinct. 2. extinct wild ox. n., pl. au rochs.

Au ro ra (ə rō'rə), 1. Roman goddess of the dawn. 2. city in NE Illinois. 64,000. n.

au ro ra (ə rō'rə), 1. dawn. 2. streamers or bands of light appearing in the sky at night. n.

au ro ra aus tra lis (ə rō'rə ōs trā'lis), streamers or bands of light appearing in the southern sky at night.

au ro ra bore al is (ə rō'rə bō'rē'al'is or ə rō'rə bō'rē'āl'is), streamers or bands of light appearing in the northern sky at night; northern lights.

aus pice (ōs'pə sēz), 1. omens; signs: The ancient Romans used the way birds flew as auspices to guide their actions. 2. favorable circumstances; indications of success. n.pl.

under the auspices of, under the favoring influence of: The school fair was held under the auspices of the Parents' Association.

aus pi cious (ōs pish'əs), 1. with signs of success; favorable: an auspicious first day in school. 2. fortunate. adj. —aus pi'cious ly, adv.

aus tere (ōs tir'), 1. harsh; stern: Frank's father was a silent, austere man, very strict with his children. 2. strict in morals: The Puritans were austere. 3. severely simple: The tall, plain columns stood against the sky in austere beauty. adj. —aus tere'ly, adv. —aus tere'ness, n.

aus ter i ty (ōs ter'ə tē), 1. sternness; strictness; severity. 2. limitation of food, clothing, etc., especially in a time of national emergency: England had a program of austerity for several years after World War II. n., pl. aus ter i ties.

austerities, severe practices, such as going without food or sitting up all night to pray.

Aus tin (ōs'tən), capital of Texas, in the central part. 187,000. n.

aus tral (ōs'trəl), southern. adj.

Aus tral a sia (ōs'trəl ā'zhə), Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand, and other nearby islands. n. —Aus'tral a'sian, adj., n.

Aus tralia (ōs trāl'yə), 1. continent SE of Asia. 9,812,000 pop.; 2,948,366 sq. mi. 2. Commonwealth of, a country that includes this continent and Tasmania. It is a member of the British Commonwealth. 10,166,000 pop.; 2,974,581 sq. mi. Capital: Canberra. n.

Aus tral ian (ōs trāl'yən), 1. of Australia or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Australia. 1 adj., 2 n.

Australian ballot, ballot with the names of all

Aurochs (6½ ft. long)

Australasia

candidates for election to public office on it. The ballot is marked by the voter in a private booth to guarantee secrecy.

Aus tri a (ōs'trē ə), country in central Europe. Before World War I it was an empire. 7,021,000 pop.; 32,375 sq. mi. Capital: Vienna. n.

—Aus'tri an, adj., n.

Aus tri a-Hun ga ry (ōs'trē ə-hung'gə rē), a former monarchy in central Europe composed of the kingdom of Austria and the kingdom of Hungary. 260,158 sq. mi. n.

Aus tro ne sia (ōs'trō nē'zhə), islands of the south and mid-Pacific. n. —Aus'tro ne'sian, adj.

au then tic (ō then'tik), 1. reliable: We heard an authentic account of the wreck, given by one of the ship's officers. 2. genuine: A comparison of signatures showed that the letter was authentic. adj.

au then ti cal ly (ō then'tik lē), 1. reliably. 2. genuinely. adv.

au then ti cate (ō then'tə kāt), 1. establish the truth of; show to be valid or genuine. 2. establish the authorship of. v., au then ti cat ed, au then ti cat ing.

au then ti ca tion (ō then'tə kā'shən), an authenticating or being authenticated. n.

au then tic i ty (ō'then tis'ə tē), 1. reliability. 2. genuineness: to question the authenticity of a signature. n.

au thor (ō'thər), 1. person who writes books, stories, or articles. 2. an author's publications: Have you read this author? 3. person who creates or begins anything: Are you the author of this scheme? n.

au thor ess (ō'thar is), a woman author. n.

au thor i tar i an (ə thōr'ə tār'ē ən), 1. favoring obedience to authority instead of individual freedom. 2. person who favors obedience to authority instead of individual freedom. 1 adj., 2 n.

au thor i tar i an ism (ə thōr'ə tār'ē ən iz'əm), principle of obeying the authority of one person or a small group of persons. n.

au thor i ta tive (ə thōr'ə tā'tiv), 1. having authority; officially ordered: Authoritative orders came from the general. 2. commanding: In authoritative tones the policeman shouted, "Keep back." 3. that ought to be believed or obeyed; having the authority of expert knowledge. adj. —au thor'i ta'tive ly, adv.

au thor i ty (ə thōr'ə tē), 1. power to enforce obedience; right to command or act: A father has authority over his children. 2. person who has such power or right. 3. influence that creates respect and confidence. 4. source of correct information or wise advice: A good dictionary is an authority on the meanings of words. 5. expert on some subject: He is an authority on English history. n., pl. au thor i ties.

the authorities, 1. officials of the government. 2. persons in control.

au thor i za tion (ō'thər ə zā'shən), 1. authorizing: The authorization of policemen to arrest beggars put an end to begging on the streets. 2. legal right; sanction; warrant. n.

au thor ize (ō'thər īz), 1. give power or right to: The President authorized him to do this. 2. make legal; sanction: Congress authorized the spending of money for rearmament. 3. give authority for; justify: The dictionary authorizes the two spellings "traveler" and "traveller." v., au thor ized, au thor iz ing.

au thor ized (ô'thər ɪzd), 1. having authority. 2. supported or sanctioned by authority. adj.
au thor ship (ô'thər ʃɪp), 1. occupation of an author; writing. 2. origin as to author: What is the authorship of that novel? n.
au to (ô'tō), automobile. n., pl. au tos.
auto-, word element meaning:
 1. self, as in autobiography, auto-intoxication.
 2. automobile, as in autotruck.
Au to bahn (ou'tō bān'), in Germany, a four-lane express highway. n., pl. Au to bahn en (ou'tō bā'nən).
au to bi og ra pher (ô'tə bī ōg'rə fər), person who writes the story of his own life. n.
au to bi o graph ic (ô'tə bī'ə grəf'ik), 1. having to do with the story of one's own life. 2. telling or writing the story of one's own life. adj. —au to bi'o graph-ically, adv.
au to bi o graph i cal (ô'tə bī'ə grəf'ə kl), autobiographic. adj.
au to bi og ra phy (ô'tə bī ōg'rə fē), story of a person's life written by himself. n., pl. au to bi og ra phies.
auto court, group of cabins providing shelter for automobile travelers; motel.
au to cracy (ô tok'rə sē), 1. government having absolute power over its citizens. 2. absolute authority; unlimited power over a group. n., pl. au to cracies.
au to crat (ô'tə krat), 1. ruler having absolute power over his subjects. 2. person having unlimited power over a group of persons. n.
au to crat ic (ô'tə krat'ik), of or like an autocrat; absolute in power or authority; ruling without checks or limitations: The teacher's autocratic manner makes her unpopular. adj. —au to crat'i cally, adv.
Au to gi ro (ô'tə jī'rō), Trademark. airplane with large rotating airfoils that enable the airplane to go straight up or down, as well as forward like a conventional plane. n., pl. Au to gi ros.
au to graph (ô'tə graf), 1. a person's signature. 2. write one's signature in or on. 3. something written in a person's own handwriting. 4. write with one's own hand. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.
au to-in tox i ca tion (ô'tō in tok'sə kă'shən), poisoning by substances formed within the body. n.
au to mat ic (ô'tə mat'ik), 1. moving or acting by itself: an automatic lock, an automatic pump. 2. done without thought or attention: Breathing and swallowing are usually automatic. 3. gun that throws out the used shell, puts in a new one, and continues to fire until the pressure on the trigger is released. 4. of an automatic firearm, pistol, etc. 1,2,4 adj., 3 n.
au to mat i cally (ô'tə mat'ik lē), in an automatic manner. adv.
au to ma tion (ô'tə măt'shən), method or technique of making a manufacturing process, a production line, etc., operate more automatically by the use of built-in supplementary controls in a machine or number of machines. n.
au tom a tism (ô tom'ə tiz əm), action not controlled by the will; involuntary action; automatic action. n.
au tom a ton (ô tom'ə ton), 1. person or animal whose actions are purely mechanical. 2. machine that has its motive power concealed: The man was selling little automatons in the shapes of different animals. 3. thing able to move itself. n., pl. au tom a tons, au tom a ta (-tə).
au to mo bile (ô'tə mə bēl for 1, 2, 4; ô'tə mō'bil for 3), 1. vehicle that carries its own engine, for use on roads and streets. 2. for use on or in connection with automobiles: an automobile battery. 3. self-moving: an automobile torpedo. 4. travel by automobile. 1 n., 2, 3 adj., 4 v., au to mo biled, au to mo bil ing.
au to mo bil ist (ô'tə mə bēl'ist), person who uses an automobile. n.
au to mo tive (ô'tə mō'tiv), 1. of automobiles. Automotive engineering deals with the design and construction of automobiles. 2. self-moving; furnishing its own power. adj.

au to nom ic (ô'tə nom'ik), autonomous. adj.
autonomic nervous system, the ganglia and nerves of the nervous system of vertebrates, that control digestive, reproductive, and other involuntary reactions.
au ton o mous (ô ton'ə mäs), self-governing; independent. adj. —au ton'o mous ly, adv.
au ton o my (ô ton'ə mē), 1. self-government; independence. 2. a self-governing community. n., pl. au-ton o mies.
au top sy (ô'top sē), medical examination of a dead body to find the cause of death. n., pl. au top sies.
au to sug ges tion (ô'tō sæg jes'chən), suggestion to oneself of ideas that produce mental or physiological effects. n.
au to truck (ô'tō truk'), motorcar for carrying heavy loads; truck. n.
au tumn (ô'təm), 1. season of the year between summer and winter. 2. of autumn; coming in autumn; in autumn: autumn flowers, autumn rains. 1 n., 2 adj.
au tum nal (ô tum'nəl), of autumn; coming in autumn: autumnal frosts. adj.
aux il ia ry (ôg zil'yə rē), 1. helping; assisting: an auxiliary engine on a sailboat. 2. helper; aid. 3. additional. 4. auxiliary verb. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n., pl. aux il ia ries.
auxiliaries, foreign or allied troops that help the army of a nation at war.
auxiliary verb, verb used to form the tenses, moods, or voices of other verbs. Be, can, do, have, may, must, shall, and will are auxiliary verbs: I am going; he will go; they are lost; they were lost.
a vail (ə vāl'), 1. be of use or value to: Money will not avail you after you are dead. 2. help: Talk will not avail without work. 3. use; help; benefit: Crying is of no avail now. 1,2 v., 3 n.
avail oneself of, take advantage of; profit by; make use of.
a vail a bil i ty (ə vāl'ə bil'ə tē), being available; being at hand; being ready: The availability of water power helped make New England a manufacturing center. n. a vail a ble (ə vāl'ə bl), 1. that can be used: That man is not available for the job; he has other work. 2. that can be had: All available tickets were sold. adj. —a vail'a bly, adv.
av a lanche (av'ə lanch), 1. a large mass of snow and ice, or of dirt and rocks, sliding or falling down a mountainside. 2. anything like an avalanche: an avalanche of questions. 3. move like an avalanche. 1,2 n., 3 v., av a lunched, av a lanch ing.
Av a lon (av'ə lon), in Celtic legend, an earthly paradise in the western seas, to which King Arthur and other heroes were carried at death. n.
av a rice (av'ə ris), greedy desire for money or property; greed. n.
av a ri cious (av'ə rish'əs), greedy for wealth; greedy. adj. —av'a ri'cious ly, adv. —av'a ri'cious ness, n.
a vast (ə vast'), stop! stay! "Avast there!" shouted the sailor. interj.
a vaunt (ə vōnt'), Archaic. begone! get out! go away! interj.
Ave, or ave., Avenue; avenue.
A ve Ma ri a (ä'vā mə rē'ə), 1. "Hail Mary!"; the first words of the Latin form of a prayer of the Roman Catholic Church. 2. the prayer.
a venge (ə venj'), 1. get retribution for: The Indian will avenge the murder of his brother by killing the murderer. 2. take vengeance on behalf of: The clan avenged their slain chief. 3. get revenge. v., a venged, a veng ing.
a veng er (ə venj'ər), one who avenges a wrong. n.
ave nue (av'ə nū or av'ə nū), 1. wide or main street. 2. road or walk bordered by trees. 3. way of approach or departure; passage: There are various avenues to fame. 4. a city thoroughfare running at right angles to others, properly called "streets." n.
a ver (ə vēr'), state to be true; assert: Harry avers that he had nothing to do with breaking the windows. v., a verred, a ver ing.

average (av'rij or av'əri j), 1. quantity found by dividing the sum of all the quantities by the number of quantities: The average of 3, 5, and 10, is 6. 2. find the average of. 3. obtained by averaging; being an average: an average price, the average temperature. 4. amount on an average to: The cost of our lunches at school averaged one dollar a week. 5. usual kind or quality; ordinary amount or rate: His mind is about like the average. 6. usual; ordinary: average intelligence. 7. do, get, yield, etc., on an average: He averages six hours work a day. We averaged forty bushels to the acre. 8. divide among several proportionately: We averaged our gains according to what each had put in. 1,5 n., 2,4,7,8 v., averaged, averaging; 3,6 adj.

avement (ə vēr'mənt), statement that something is true; assertion. n.

Avernus (ə vēr'nəs), 1. in Roman mythology, the lower world; Hades. 2. Lake, small lake in the crater of an extinct volcano near Naples, Italy. In ancient times the entrance to Hades was supposed to be at the side of this lake. n.

averse (ə vēr's), opposed; unwilling: She was averse to fighting. adj. —averse/ness, n.

aversion (ə vēr'zhən), 1. a strong or fixed dislike; antipathy. 2. thing or person disliked. 3. unwillingness. n.

avert (ə vèrt'), 1. prevent; avoid: He averted the accident by a quick turn of his car. 2. turn away; turn aside: She averted her eyes from the wreck. v.

Aves (ā'vēz), class of vertebrates comprising the birds. n.pl.

aviary (ā'vēr'ērē), place where many birds are kept. n., pl. a viaries.

aviation (ā'vēr'āshən or av'ēr'āshən), flying in airplanes; art or science of navigating aircraft. n.

aviator (ā'vēr'ātar or av'ēr'ātar), person who flies an airplane; airplane pilot. n. aviatrix (ā'vēr'ātriks or av'ēr'ātriks), a woman aviator. n.

avid (av'id), eager; greedy: The miser was avid for gold. adj. —avidly, adv.

avidity (ə vid'ə tē), eagerness; greediness: The hungry boys looked at the food with avidity. n.

avocado (av'ə kā'dō), 1. a pear-shaped tropical fruit with a dark-green skin and a very large stone; alligator pear. 2. tree that it grows on. n., pl. avocados.

avocation (av'ə kā'shən), 1. something that a person does besides his regular business; minor occupation; hobby: Mr. Brown is a lawyer, but writing stories is his avocation. 2. Informal. regular business; occupation. n.

avoid (ə void'), 1. keep away from; keep out of the way of: We avoided driving through large cities on our trip. 2. make void; annul. v. —avoidable, adj.

avoidance (ə void'ns), act of avoiding; keeping away from: Mary's avoidance of her old friends caused her to be disliked. n.

avoir du poids (av'ər də poiz'), 1. avoidupois weight. 2. Informal. a person's weight. n.

avoidupois weight, system of weighing in which a pound containing sixteen ounces is used:

16 drams = 1 ounce
16 ounces = 1 pound
2000 pounds = 1 ton

Avoidupois weight is used to weigh everything except gems, precious metals, and drugs.

Avon (ā'vən), river in central England. Stratford, the birthplace of Shakespeare, is on the Avon. n.

vouch (ə vouch'), 1. declare to be true. 2. guarantee. 3. acknowledge; affirm. v.

vow (ə vou'), declare frankly or openly; confess; admit; acknowledge: He avowed that he could not sing. v.

vowal (ə vou'əl), frank or open declaration; confession; admission; acknowledgment. n.

vowed (ə voud'), openly declared; admitted. adj.
vowedly (ə vou'id lē), admittedly; openly. adv.
vuncular (ə vung'kyə lər), 1. of an uncle. 2. like an uncle. adj.

wait (ə wāt'), 1. wait for; look forward to: He has awaited your coming for a week. 2. be ready for; be in store for: Many pleasures await you. v.

wake (ə wāk'), 1. wake up; arouse. 2. not asleep; alert: Jerry is always awake early. Our government is awake to that peril. 1 v., a woke or a waked, a waking; 2 adj.

waken (ə wāk'ən), wake up; arouse. v.

wakening (ə wāk'ən ing), waking up; arousing. n., adj.

award (ə wōrd'), 1. give after careful consideration; grant: A medal was awarded to the best speller in the class. 2. decide or settle by law; adjudge: The court awarded damages of $5000 to the injured man. 3. something given after careful consideration; prize: Frank's dog won the highest award. 4. decision by a judge. 1,2 v., 3,4 n.

aware (ə wār'), knowing; realizing; conscious: I was too sleepy to be aware how cold it was. She was not aware of her danger. adj. —aware/ness, n.

wash (ə wosh'), 1. level with the surface of the water; just covered with water. 2. carried about by water; floating. adv., adj.

way (ə wā'), 1. at a distance; far: The sailor was far away from home. 2. from a place; to a distance: Stay away from the fire. 3. absent; gone: My mother is away today. 4. in another direction; aside: turn away. 5. out of one's possession, notice, or use: He gave his boat away. 6. out of existence: The sounds died away. 7. without stopping; continuously: She worked away at her job. 1,2,4-7 adv., 1,3 adj.

do away with, 1. put an end to; get rid of. 2. kill.

awe (ō), 1. great fear and wonder; fear and reverence: We feel awe when we stand near great mountains, or when we think of God's power and glory. 2. cause to feel awe; fill with awe: The majesty of the mountains awed us. 3. influence or restrain by awe. 1 n., 2,3 v., awed, awing.

weary (ə wir'ē), Poetic. weary; tired. adj.

weigh (ə wā'), raised off the bottom: The ship sailed off as soon as its anchor was aweigh. adj.

awesome (ō'səm), 1. causing awe: A great fire is an awesome sight. 2. showing awe; awed. adj.

awe-stricken (ō'strik'ən), filled with awe. adj.

awe-struck (ō'struk'), filled with awe. adj.

awful (ō'fl), 1. dreadful; terrible: an awful storm. 2. deserving great respect and reverence: the awful power of God. 3. filling with awe; impressive. 4. Informal. very bad, great, ugly, etc. 5. Informal. very: He was awful mad. 1-4 adj., 5 adv. —awfulness, n.

awfully (ō'flē or ō'fl ē), 1. dreadfully; terribly. 2. Informal. very: I'm awfully sorry that I hurt your feelings. adv.

awhile (ə hwīl'), for a short time: He stayed awhile. adv.

awkward (ōk'wōrd), 1. clumsy; not graceful in movement or shape: The seal is very awkward on land, but quite at home in the water. 2. not well-suited to use: The handle of this pitcher has an awkward shape. 3. not easily managed: This is an awkward corner to turn. 4. embarrassing: He asked me an awkward question. adj. —awkwardly, adv. —awkwardness, n.

awl (ōl), tool used for making small holes in leather or wood. n.

Awl

awn (ōn), one of the bristly hairs forming the beard on a head of barley, oats, etc. n.

awning (ōn'ing), piece of canvas spread over or before a door, window, porch, etc. Awnings are used for protection from the sun or rain. n.

awoke (ə wōk'), pt. and pp. of awake. He awoke at seven. John has not yet awoke. v.

A.W.O.L. or a.w.o.l. (ā'wōl, or pronounced as initials), a military abbreviation for absent without leave.

a wry (ə'ri'), 1. with a twist or turn to one side: Her hat was blown awry by the wind. 2. wrong: Our plans have gone awry. adv., adj.

ax or axe (aks), 1. tool with a bladed head on a handle, used for chopping wood. 2. weapon like this; battle-ax. n., pl. ax es. —ax/like', adj.

have an ax to grind, have a special purpose or reason for taking action or being interested.

ax es (ak'sēz), pl. of axis. n.

ax es (ak'siz), pl. of ax. n.

ax i al (ak'sē əl), 1. of an axis; forming an axis. 2. on or around an axis. adj.

ax il (ak'sil), angle between the upper side of a leaf or stem and the supporting stem or branch. n.

ax i om (ak'sē əm), 1. a statement seen to be true without proof; self-evident truth: It is an axiom that if equals are added to equals the results will be equal. 2. established principle. n.

ax i o m a t i c (ak'sē ə mat'ik), 1. self-evident: That a whole is greater than any of its parts is axiomatic. 2. full of axioms or maxims. adj.

ax is (ak'sis), 1. imaginary or real line that passes through an object and about which an object turns or seems to turn. The earth's axis passes through the North and South Poles. 2. central or principal line around which parts are arranged regularly. n., pl. ax es.

the Axis, Germany, Italy, Japan, and their allies, before the end of World War II.

ax le (ak'sl), 1. bar on which or with which a wheel turns. 2. axletree. n.

ax le tree (ak'sl trē'), crossbar that connects two opposite wheels. The wheels turn on or with its ends. n.

ax man (aks'mən), man who uses an ax in chopping or fighting. n., pl. ax men.

Ax min ster (aks'min stər), a kind of carpet with a finely tufted, velvetlike pile. n.

Axis (def. 1)

ax o lotl (ak'sə lotl), any of several salamanders that usually retain their gills and tadpole form through life. n.

ax on (ak'son), part of a nerve cell that carries impulses away from the body of the cell. n.

ay¹ (ā), always; ever. adv.

Also, aye.

ay² (ī), yes. adv., n. Also, aye.

aye¹ (ā), always; ever. adv.

aye² (ī), yes: Aye, aye, sir (adv.).

The ayes were in the majority (n.). adv., n.

aye-aye (ī'ī'), a squirrel-like lemur of Madagascar. n.

Ayr shire (ār'shir), 1. one of a breed of dairy cattle that are red and white or brown and white. 2. of or having to do with this breed. 1 n., 2 adj.

a zal ea (ə zāl'yə), 1. shrub with many showy flowers. Azaleas resemble rhododendrons, but usually are not evergreen. 2. the flower. n.

A zer bai jan (ā'zər bī jān' or az'ər bī jān'), republic in the SE part of the Soviet Union in Europe. 3,700,000 pop.; 33,090 sq. mi. Capital: Baku. See map under Georgia. n.

A zores (ə zōrz'), group of islands in the Atlantic west of and belonging to Portugal. 318,000 pop.; 922 sq. mi. n. pl.

A zov (ä zōf'), Sea of, a small sea in S European Russia, connected with the Black Sea by a narrow channel. 14,500 sq. mi. n.

Az tec (az'tek), 1. member of a highly civilized people who ruled Mexico before its conquest by the Spaniards in 1521. 2. their language. 3. of the Aztecs or their language. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

az ure (azh'ər), 1. blue; sky blue. 2. the clear blue color of the unclouded sky. 1,2 n., 1 adj.

Axolotl
(6 to 9 in. long)

Aye-aye
(total length 3 ft.;
height 8 in.)

B

B or b (bē), the second letter of the alphabet. n., pl.

B's or b's.

B, boron.

Ba, barium.

B.A., Bachelor of Arts. See A.B.

baa (bā), bleat. n., v., baed, baa ing.

Ba al (bā'əl or bāl), 1. the chief god of the Canaanites and Phoenicians. 2. a false god. n.

bab bitt (bab'it), alloy of tin, antimony, and copper, or a similar alloy, used in bearings to lessen friction. n.

Babbitt metal, babbitt.

bab ble (bab'l), 1. make indistinct sounds like a baby. 2. talk that cannot be understood. 3. talk or speak foolishly. 4. foolish talk. 5. talk too much; tell secrets. 6. murmur: The brook babbles (v.). I like the babble of the brook (n.). 7. reveal foolishly: babble a secret. 1,3,5-7 v., bab bled, bab bling; 2,4,6 n. —bab'bler, n.

babe (bāb), 1. baby. 2. an innocent or inexperienced person; person who is like a child. n.

Ba bel (bā'bl or bab'l), Babylon. n.

Tower of Babel, a high tower built after the Flood to reach heaven. God punished its builders by changing their language into several new and different languages. When they could not understand one another, they had to leave the tower unfinished. Genesis 11:1-9.

ba bel or Ba bel (bā'bl or bab'l), 1. noise; confusion of many different sounds. 2. place of noise and confusion. n.

ba bies'-breath (bā'biz breth'), a tall plant bearing numerous small white or pink flowers on branching stalks; gypsophila. n.

ba boon (ba būn'), any of various large, fierce monkeys of Arabia and Africa, with a doglike face and a short tail. n.

ba by (bā'bē), 1. a very young child.

2. the youngest of a family or group: Nell may be the baby of the class, but she's as smart as any of us. 3. of or for a baby: baby shoes. 4. young: a baby lamb. 5. small for its kind; small. 6. childish. 7. person who acts like a baby; childish person: Don't be a baby. 8. treat as a baby; pamper: Baby a sick child. 1,2,7 n., pl. ba bies; 3-6 adj., 8 v., ba-bied, ba by ing. —ba/by like', adj.

ba by hood (bā'bē hūd), 1. condition or time of being a baby. 2. babies as a group. n.

ba by ish (bā'bē ish), like a baby; childish; silly. adj. —ba/by ish ly, adv. —ba/by ish ness, n.

Baboon (body
2 ft. high, 2 ft.
long; tail 18 in.)

Bab y lon (bab'ə lən), 1. capital of ancient Babylonia, on the Euphrates River. Later it was also the capital of the ancient Chaldean empire. Babylon was noted for its wealth, power, magnificence, and wickedness. 2. any great, rich, or wicked city. n.

Bab y lon i a (bab'ə lō' nē ə), an ancient empire in SW Asia, from 2800 to 1000 B.C. n.

Bab y lo ni an (bab'ə lō' nē ən), 1. of or having to do with Babylon or Babylonia. 2. inhabitant of Babylonia. 3. language of Babylonia. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

ba by-sit (bā'bē sit'), Informal. take care of a child during the temporary absence of its parents. v. ba by-sat, ba by-sit ting.

baby sitter, person who takes care of a child during the temporary absence of its parents.

bac ca lau re ate (bak'ə lō' rē it), 1. degree of bachelor given by a college or university. 2. sermon delivered to a graduating class at commencement. n.

bac cha nal (bak'ə nəl), 1. having to do with Bacchus or his worship. 2. worshiper of Bacchus. 3. a drunken reveler. 4. a wild, noisy party; drunken revelry; orgy. 1 adj., 2-4 n.

Bac cha na li a (bak'ə nā' lē ə), a wild, noisy Roman festival in honor of Bacchus. n.pl.

bac cha na li a (bak'ə nā' lē ə), a wild, noisy party; drunken revelry; orgy. n.pl.

bac cha na li an (bak'ə nā' lē ən), 1. having to do with the Bacchanalia. 2. drunken and riotous. 3. a drunken reveler. 1, 2 adj., 3 n.

Bac chus (bak'əs), Roman and Greek god of wine. The Greeks also called him Dionysus. n.

Bach (bäh), Johann Sebastian, 1685-1750, German composer of music and organist. n.

bach e lor (bach'ə lər), 1. man who has not married. 2. person who has the first degree of a college or university. Students who complete the regular undergraduate course of four years are usually given the degree of bachelor. 3. a young knight who served under the banner of another. n.

bach e lor-at-arms (bach'ə lər ət ərmz'), bachelor (def. 3). n., pl. bach e lers-at-arms.

bach e lor hood (bach'ə lər hūd'), condition of being a bachelor. n.

bach e lor's-but ton (bach'ə lərz but'n), 1. plant with a flower shaped somewhat like a button; cornflower. 2. the flower. 3. any similar flower. n.

ba cil lar (bə sil'ər), 1. of or like a bacillus. 2. characterized by bacilli. 3. rod-shaped. adj.

ba cil li (bə sil'i), pl. of bacillus. n.

ba cil lus (bə sil'əs), 1. any of the rod-shaped bacteria. 2. any of the bacteria. n., pl. ba cil li.

back (bak), 1. the part of a person's body opposite to his face or the front part of his body. In animals, the upper part from the neck to the end of the backbone is the back. 2. the side of anything away from one; rear, upper, or farther part: the back of the head, the back of the hand, the back of a hill, the back of the room. 3. opposite the front; away from one: the back seat of a car. 4. part of a chair, couch, etc., that supports the back of a person sitting down. 5. support; help: Many of his friends backed his plan. 6. to or toward the rear; backward; behind: Please step back. 7. move or cause to move away from the front: He backed away from the gun. He backed his car slowly. 8. in or toward the past: Some years back this land was all in farms. 9. belonging to the past: the back numbers of a newspaper. 10. in return: Pay back what you borrow. 11. in the place from which it (he, she, etc.) came: Put the books back. 12. in distant or frontier regions: back country. 13. due but not yet paid; overdue. 14. player whose position is behind the front line in football and certain other games. 15. bet on: back a baseball team in the World Series. 1, 2, 4, 14 n., 3, 9, 12, 13 adj., 5, 7, 15 v., 6, 8, 10, 11 adv.

back and fill, 1. move in a zigzag way. 2. Informal. be undecided; keep changing one's mind.

back down, give up an attempt or claim; withdraw.

back out or back out of, Informal. 1. withdraw from an undertaking. 2. break a promise.

back ache (bak'āk'), a continuous pain in the back. n.

back bite (bak'bīt'), say malicious things; slander (an absent person). v., back bit, back bit ten or (Informal) back bit, back bit ing. — back/bit'er, n.

back bone (bak'bōn'), 1. the main bone along the middle of the back in man, mammals, birds, reptiles, and fishes; the spine. The backbone consists of many separate bones, called vertebrae, held together by muscles and tendons. See spinal column for diagram. 2. anything like a backbone. 3. the most important part; chief support. 4. strength of character. n.

back door (bak'dōr'), secret; underhand; sly. adj.

back drop (bak'drɒp'), 1. curtain at the back of a stage. 2. background. n.

back er (bak'ər), person who backs or supports another person, some plan or idea, etc. n.

back field (bak'fēld'), 1. in football, players behind the front line; quarterback, two halfbacks, and fullback. 2. in baseball, the outfield. n.

back fire (bak'fir'), 1. explosion of gas occurring too soon or in the wrong place in a gasoline engine, etc. 2. of gas, explode too soon. 3. fire set to check a forest or prairie fire by burning off the area in front of it. 4. use a backfire. 5. have unfavorable results. 1, 3 n., 2, 4, 5 v., back fired, back fir ing.

back gam mon (bak'gam'on), game for two played on a special board with pieces moved according to the throw of dice. n.

back ground (bak'ground'), 1. part of a picture or scene toward the back: The collage stands in the foreground with the mountains in the background. 2. surface against which things are seen; surface upon which things are made or placed: Her dress had pink flowers on a white background. 3. earlier conditions or events that help to explain some later condition or event. 4. one's past experience, knowledge, and training: His college education and much foreign travel gave him a good background for teaching history. 5. the accompanying music or sound effects in a play, motion picture, etc. n.

in the background, out of sight; not in clear view.

back hand (bak'hand'), 1. stroke made with the back of the hand turned outward. 2. handwriting in which the letters slope to the left.

3. backhanded. 1, 2 n., 3 adj. backhand writing back hand ed (bak'han'did'), 1. done or made with the back of the hand turned outward. 2. slanting to the left. 3. awkward; clumsy. 4. indirect; insincere: A backhanded compliment is really a criticism. adj.

back ing (bak'ing), 1. support; help. 2. supporters; helpers. 3. something placed at the back of anything to support or strengthen it. n.

back log (bak'lɒg'), 1. a large log at the back of a wood fire. 2. something serving as a basis or support. 3. a reserve of orders, commitments, etc., that have not yet been filled. n.

back number, Informal. 1. an old issue of a magazine or newspaper. 2. an old-fashioned person; out-of-date thing.

back seat, Informal. place of inferiority or insignificance.

back set (bak'set'), check to progress; setback. n.

back side (bak'sid'), 1. back. 2. rump; buttocks. n.

back slide (bak/slīd'), slide back into wrongdoing; lose one's enthusiasm for religion or the church. v., back slid, back slid or back slid den, back slid ing.

—back/slīd'er, n.

back stage (bak/stāj'), 1. in the dressing rooms of a theater. 2. toward the rear of a stage. 3. not known to the general public; confidential: backstage negotiations. 1,2 adv., 3 adj.

back stay (bak/stā'), 1. rope extending from the top of the mast to the ship's side and helping to support the mast. See the picture under shroud. 2. spring, rod, strap, etc., used for support at the back of various mechanisms or other objects. n.

back stop (bak/stop'), 1. fence or screen used in various games to keep the ball from going too far away. 2. player who stops balls in various games. n.

back stroke (bak/strōk'), 1. a swimming stroke made with the swimmer lying on his back. 2. a backhanded stroke. n.

back talk, Informal. talking back; impudent answers.

back track (bak/trak'), U.S. 1. go back over a course or path. 2. withdraw from an undertaking, position, etc.: Tom backtracked on the claim he made last week. v.

back ward (bak/wərd'), 1. toward the back: walk backward. 2. directed toward the back: a backward look. 3. with the back first: tumble over backward. 4. toward the starting point: look backward. 5. directed to or toward the starting point; returning: a backward movement. 6. opposite to the usual way; in the reverse way: read backward. 7. done in the reverse way or order: backward process. 8. from better to worse: Educational conditions in the town went backward. 9. toward the past. 10. reaching back into the past. 11. slow in development; dull: Backward children need a special kind of schooling. 12. behind time; late: a backward season. 13. shy; bashful: Shake hands with her; don't be backward. 1,3,4,6,8,9 adv., 2,3,5,7,10-13 adj. —backwardness, n.

back wards (bak/wərdz'), 1. toward the back. 2. with the back first. 3. toward the starting point. 4. in the opposite way; in reverse. 5. from better to worse. 6. toward the past. adv.

back wash (bak/wəsh'), 1. water thrown back by oars, paddle wheels, the passing of a ship, etc. 2. a backward current. n.

back water (bak/wō'tər'), 1. water held, pushed, or thrown back. 2. a sluggish, stagnant condition; backward place. 3. backwash. n.

back woods (bak/wūdz'), 1. uncleared forests or wild regions far away from towns. 2. of the backwoods. 3. crude; rough. 1 n.pl., 2,3 adj.

back woods man (bak/wūdz'mən'), man who lives in the backwoods. n., pl. back woods men.

ba con (bā/kən'), salted and smoked meat from the back and sides of a hog. See pork for diagram. n.
bring home the bacon, Informal. be successful; win the prize.

Ba con (bā/kən'), 1. Francis, 1561-1626, famous English essayist, statesman, and philosopher. 2. Roger, 1214?-1294, English philosopher and scientist. n.

bac te ri a (bak tir'ē ə), very tiny and simple plants, so small that they can usually be seen only through a microscope. Bacteria consist of single cells, have no chlorophyll, and multiply by fission. Certain bacteria cause diseases such as pneumonia, typhoid fever, etc.; others do useful things, such as turning cider into vinegar. n.pl. of bacterium.

bac te ri al (bak tir'ē əl'), of bacteria; caused by bacteria: bacterial life, bacterial diseases. adj.

bac te ri o log i cal (bak tir'ē ə loj'ə kl), having to do with bacteriology. adj.

bac te ri o log i st (bak tir'ē ə loj'ə jist), expert in bacteriology. n.

SPHERE ROD SPIRAL
Bacteria of three main types. Their technical names are (from left to right) coccus, bacillus, and spirillum.

bac te ri o log y (bak tir'ē ə loj'ə jē), science that deals with bacteria. n.

bac te ri um (bak tir'ē əm), one of the bacteria. n., pl. bac te ri a.

Bac tri an camel (bak/trē ən), camel with two humps on its back. See the picture of camel.

bad¹ (bad), 1. not good; not as it ought to be: Smoking is a bad habit. 2. evil; wicked: Only a thoroughly bad man will hurt a helpless person. 3. disagreeable; churlish; sullen: a bad temper. 4. unfavorable: He came at a bad time. 5. harmful: It is bad for your eyes to read in dim light. 6. severe: a bad thunderstorm. 7. sick; suffering. 8. worthless: a bad check. 9. incorrect; faulty: a bad guess. 10. rotten; spoiled: a bad egg. 11. sorry; regretful; disturbed: I feel bad about missing your visit. 12. in law, not valid: a bad debt. 13. that which is bad; bad condition, quality, etc.; bad thing. 14. badly. 1-12 adj., worse, worst; 13 n., 14 adv. —bad/ness, n.

be in bad, Slang. be in disfavor (with a person over a thing).

not bad, Informal. fairly good.

not half bad, Informal. rather good.

not so bad, Informal. rather good.

to the bad, 1. toward ruin. 2. to the bad side of an account.

bad² (bad), a pt. of bid. They bad us goodbye. v.

bad blood, unfriendly feeling; hate.

bade (bad or bād), a pt. of bid. The king bade her remain. v.

Ba den-Pow ell (bād'n pō'əl), Sir Robert, 1857-1941, English general who founded the Boy Scouts in 1908. n.

badge (baj), 1. something worn to show that a person belongs to a certain occupation, school, class, club, society, etc.: The Red Cross badge is a red cross on a white background. 2. symbol; sign: Chains are a badge of slavery. n.

badger (baj'ər), 1. a hairy, gray animal of Europe and America, related to the weasels, that digs holes in the ground to live in. 2. its fur. 3. keep on teasing or annoying; question persistently: An agent has been badgering me for the last two weeks to buy a new car. 1,2 n., 3 v.

Badger (total length 2 ft.)

bad i nage (bad'ə nāzh'), good-natured joking; banter. n.

Bad Lands, 1. the rugged, barren region in SW South Dakota and NW Nebraska. Extensive erosion has made fantastic land formations there and has exposed many fossils. 2. any similar region.

bad ly (bad'lē), 1. in a bad manner: She sings badly. 2. Informal. greatly; very much. adv.

bad min ton (bad'mint n), game like tennis, but played with a feathered cork instead of a ball. n.

bad-tem pered (bad'tem'pərd), having a bad temper or disposition. adj.

Baf fin Bay (baf'ən), a large, deep bay west of Greenland.

Baf fin Island, a large island between Greenland and Hudson Bay, belonging to Canada. 211,000 sq. mi.

baf fle (baf'lē), 1. be too hard for (a person) to understand or solve: This puzzle baffles me. 2. hinder; thwart. 3. struggle without success. 4. a wall or screen controlling the flow of air, water, etc., by hindering its movement or changing its course. 1-3 v., baf fled, baf fling; 4 n. —baf/ler, n.

baf fle ment (baf'ləmənt), 1. act of baffling. 2. state of being baffled. n.

baf fling (baf'ling), 1. puzzling. 2. hindering; thwarting. adj.

bag (bag), 1. container made of paper, cloth, leather, etc., that can be closed at the top: Fresh vegetables sometimes are sold in cellophane bags. 2. something suggesting a bag by its use or shape: Mother calls her purse her bag. Father has a new overnight bag. 3. put in a bag. 4. swell; bulge. 5. hang loosely: The man's trousers bag at the knees. 6. game killed or caught by a hunter. 7. kill or catch in hunting. 8. Slang. catch; take; steal. 9. a base in baseball. 1,2,6,9 n., 3-5,7,8 v., bagged, bag ging.

bag a telle (bag'ə tel'), 1. a mere trifle; thing of no importance. 2. game somewhat like billiards. n.

Bag dad (bag'dad), the capital of Iraq, a very old city on the Tigris River. 731,000. n. Also, Baghdad.

bag gage (bag'ij), 1. the trunks, bags, suitcases, etc., that a person takes with him when he travels. 2. equipment that an army takes with it, such as tents, blankets, ammunition, etc. n.

bag ging (bag'ing), cloth for making bags. n.

bag gy (bag'ē), 1. swelling; bulging. 2. hanging loosely: baggy trousers. adj., bag gi er, bag gi est.

Bagh dad (bag'dad), Bagdad. n.

bag pipe (bag'pīp'), a shrill-toned musical instrument made of a wind-bag and pipes, now used chiefly in Scotland. n.

bag pip er (bag'pīp'ər), person who plays the bagpipe. n.

Ba guio (bag'ē ō), a mountain city in the N Philippines. It is the summer capital of the Philippines. 29,000. n.

bah (bā), exclamation of scorn or contempt. interj.

Bahama Islands, Bahamas.

Ba ha mas (bə hā'məz or bə hā'məz), group of islands in the West Indies, a member of the British Commonwealth. 131,000 pop.; 4404 sq. mi. Capital: Nassau. n.pl.

Ba hia or Ba ia (bə ē'ə). See Salvador. n.

Bah rein (bə rān'), group of islands in the Persian Gulf, under partial British control. 142,000 pop.; 231 sq. mi. Capital: Manama. n.

Bai kal (bī kāl'), Lake, lake in S Siberia. It is the largest and deepest fresh-water lake in Asia. 12,741 sq. mi. n.

bail (bāl), 1. guarantee necessary to set a person free from arrest until he is to appear for trial. 2. amount guaranteed. 3. person or persons who stand ready to pay the money guaranteed. 4. obtain the freedom of (a person under arrest) by agreeing to pay bail. 1-3 n., 4 v.

bail out, supply bail for.

go bail for, supply bail for.

bail (bāl), 1. the arched handle of a kettle or pail. 2. a hooplike support. The bails of a covered wagon hold up the canvas. n.

bail (bāl), 1. scoop or pail used to throw water out of a boat. 2. throw (water) out of a boat with a pail, a dipper, or any other container. 3. dip water from. 1 n., 2,3 v.

bail out, drop from an airplane in a parachute.

bail (bāl), either of two small bars that form the top of a wicket used in the game of cricket. n.

bailie (bāl'ē), official of a Scottish town or city corresponding to an English alderman. n.

bail iff (bāl'if), 1. assistant to a sheriff. 2. officer of a court who has charge of prisoners while they are in the courtroom. 3. overseer or steward of an estate. The bailiff collects rents, directs the work of employees, etc., for the owner. n.

bail i wick (bāl'ə wik), 1. district over which a bailiff or bailie has authority. 2. a person's field of knowledge, work, or authority. n.

bairn (bārn), Scottish. child. n.

Man playing a bagpipe. He blows air into the bag and, by pressing with his arm, regulates the flow of air into the four pipes that produce the sound.

bait (bāt), 1. anything, especially food, used to attract fish or other animals so that they may be caught. 2. put bait on (a hook) or in (a trap). 3. thing used to tempt or attract. 4. tempt; attract. 5. set dogs to attack. Men used to bait bulls and bears for sport. 6. attack; torment: The dogs baited the bear. 7. torment or worry by unkind or annoying remarks. 1,3 n., 2,4-7 v.

baize (bāz), a thick woolen cloth used for curtains, table covers, etc. n.

bake (bāk), 1. cook (food) by dry heat without exposing it directly to the fire: The cook bakes bread and cake in the oven. 2. dry or harden by heat: bake bricks or china. 3. become baked: Cookies bake quickly. 4. a baking. 1-3 v., baked, baking; 4 n.

Ba ke lite (bā'kə lit), Trademark. an artificial material used to make beads, stems of pipes, umbrella handles, fountain pens, electric insulators, etc. n.

bak er (bāk'ər), 1. person who makes or sells bread, pies, cakes, etc. 2. a small portable oven. n.

Bak er (bāk'ər), Mount, mountain in NW Washington. 10,750 ft. n.

Baker Island, a small island in the Pacific near the equator, belonging to the United States.

baker's dozen, thirteen.

bak er y (bāk'ər ē), a baker's shop; place where bread, pies, cakes, etc., are made or sold. n., pl. bak er ies.

bak ing (bāk'ing), 1. cooking in dry heat. 2. drying or hardening by heat. 3. amount baked at one time; batch. n.

baking powder, mixture of soda and cream of tartar, or of other substances, used instead of yeast to raise biscuits, cakes, etc.

baking soda, sodium bicarbonate.

bak sheesh or bak shish (bak'shēsh), money given as a tip in Egypt, Turkey, India, etc. n.

Ba ku (bā kū'), seaport in S Soviet Union, on the Caspian Sea. It is the capital of Azerbaijan. 636,000. n.

Ba laam (bā'lām), a prophet who was rebuked by the donkey he rode. Numbers 22:27-31. n.

bal a lai ka (bal'ə lī'kə), a Russian musical instrument somewhat like a guitar. n.

bal ance (bal'əns), 1. instrument for weighing. See the picture. 2. weigh in a balance. 3. equality in weight, amount, force, effect, etc. 4. make or be equal to in weight, amount, force, effect, etc. 5. comparison of weight, value, importance, etc.; estimate. 6. compare the value, importance, etc., of: George balanced a trip to the mountains against the chance of a summer job. 7. harmony; proportion in design. 8. make or be proportionate to. 9. steady condition or position: steadiness: He lost his balance and fell off the ladder. 10. bring into or keep in a steady condition or position: Can you balance a coin on its edge? 11. mental steadiness; poise: His balance is never disturbed by the tantrums of others. 12. anything that counteracts the effect, weight, etc., of something else. 13. counteract the effect, influence, etc., of; make up for. 14. difference between the debit and credit sides of an account: I have a balance of $20 in the bank. 15. make the debit and credit sides of (an account) equal. 16. be equal in the debit and credit sides of an account. 17. Informal. part that is left over; remainder: I will be away for the balance of the week. 18. wheel that regulates the rate of movement of a clock or watch. 19. greatest weight, amount, or power. 20. hesitate; waver. 1,3,5,7,9,11,12,14,17-19 n., 2,4,6,8,10,13,15,16,20 v., bal anced, bal anc ing. —bal'anc er, n.

in the balance, undecided.

Balance or scale for weighing. The thing to be weighed is put in one pan and metal weights in the other. When the bar is straight across, the contents of the two pans weigh the same.

balanced diet, diet having the correct amounts of all kinds of foods necessary for health.

balance of power, even distribution of military and economic power among nations or groups of nations.

balance of trade, difference between the value of all the imports and that of all the exports of a country.

bal a ta (bal'ə tə), 1. a tropical tree whose dried gumlike juice is used in making chewing gum, golf balls, insulation for wires, etc. 2. the dried gumlike juice. n.

Bal bo a (bal bō'ə), Vasco de, 1475?-1517, Spanish adventurer who discovered the Pacific in 1513. n.

bal brig gan (bal brig'ən), 1. a knitted cotton cloth, used for stockings, underwear, etc. 2. a similar woolen cloth. n.

balbriggans, knitted cotton stockings or pajamas.

bal co ny (bal'kə nē), 1. a projecting platform with an entrance from an upper floor of a building. 2. a projecting upper floor in a theater or hall with seats for an audience. See the diagram under mezzanine. n., pl. bal co nies.

bald (bôld), 1. wholly or partly without hair on the head. 2. without its natural covering: A mountain top with no trees or grass on it is bald. 3. bare; plain: The bald truth is that he is a thief. 4. of birds or mammals, having white on the head. adj.

—bald'ly, adv. —bald'ness, n.

bald eagle, a large, powerful, North American eagle with white feathers on its head, neck, and tail.

Bal der (bôl'dər), the Norse god of light, beauty, goodness, wisdom, and peace. n.

bald dash (bôl'dər dash), nonsense. n.

bald pate (bôld'pāt'), 1. person who has a bald head. 2. kind of duck; widgeon. n.

bal dric (bôl'drik), belt for a sword, horn, etc., hung from one shoulder to the opposite side of the body. n.

bale¹ (bāl), 1. a large bundle of merchandise or material securely wrapped or bound for shipping or storage: a bale of cotton. 2. make into bales; tie in large bundles. 1 n., 2 v., baled, bal ing, —bal'er, n.

bale² (bāl), Poetic or Archaic. 1. evil; harm. 2. sorrow; pain. n.

Bale aric Islands

(bal'ē ar'ik or bəl'ir'ik), a group of Spanish islands in the W Mediterranean. 420,000 pop.; 1935 sq. mi.

Capital: Palma.

ba leen (bə lēn'),

whalebone. n.

bale ful (bāl'fəl),

evil; harmful. adj.

—bale'ful ly, adv.

—bale'ful ness, n.

Ba li (bə lī'), island in Indonesia,

south of Borneo.

1,101,000 pop.;

2150 sq. mi. n.

Ba li nese (bə lī'nēz'),

1. native or inhabitant of Bali. 2. people of Bali. 3. language of Bali. 4. of Bali, its people, or their language. 1-3 n., pl. Ba li nese;

4 adj.

balk (bôk), 1. stop short and stubbornly refuse to go on: My horse balked at the bridge. 2. thwart; hinder; check: The police balked the robber's plans. 3. hindrance; check; defeat. 4. fail to use; let slip; miss. 5. blunder; mistake. 6. failure of a baseball pitcher to complete a pitch he has started. 7. make a balk. 1,2,4,7 v., 3,5,6

n. Also, baulk.

Balcony (def. 1)

Bal kan (bôl'kən), 1. of the Balkan Peninsula; having to do with the countries on it. 2. of the people living in these countries. 3. of the Balkan Mountains. adj. the Balkans, the Balkan States. The Balkans have been the scene of frequent disputes and much warfare.

Balkan Mountains, mountain range in the Balkan Peninsula. The highest peak is about 7800 feet.

Balkan Peninsula, peninsula in SE Europe.

Balkan States, countries on the Balkan Peninsula; Yugoslavia, Romania, Bulgaria, Albania, Greece, and European Turkey.

balk y (bôk'ē), stopping short and stubbornly refusing to go on; likely to balk. adj., balk i er, balk i est.

ball¹ (bôl), 1. anything round or roundish: a ball of string. 2. make or form into a ball. 3. game in which some kind of ball is thrown, hit, or kicked. 4. ball in motion: a fast ball. 5. baseball. 6. baseball pitched too high, too low, or not over the plate, that the batter does not strike at. 7. bullet. 8. something that is somewhat like a ball: the ball of the thumb. 9. globe; sphere; the earth. 1,3-9 n., 2 v.

play ball, Informal. 1. begin a game or start it again after stopping. 2. get busy. 3. work together.

ball² (bôl), a large, formal party for dancing. n.

bal lad (bal'əd), 1. a simple song. 2. a poem that tells a story in a simple verse form, especially one that tells a popular legend. Ballads are often sung. n.

ball-and-socket joint, a flexible joint formed by a ball or knob fitting in a socket, such as the shoulder or hip joint. See socket for diagram.

bal last (bal'est), 1. something heavy carried in a ship to steady it. 2. weight carried in a balloon or dirigible to control it. 3. put ballast in (ships, balloons, etc.). 4. anything which steadies a person or thing. 5. gravel or crushed rock used in making the bed for a road or railroad track. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 v.

ball bearing, 1. bearing in which the shaft turns upon a number of loose metal balls to lessen friction. 2. any of the metal balls so used.

bal le ri na (bal'ə rē'nə), a woman ballet dancer. n., pl. bal le ri nas.

bal let (bal'ā or bal'lā'), 1. an elaborate dance by a group on a stage. 2. the dancers. n.

bal lis tic (bə lis'tik), 1. having to do with the motion or throwing of projectiles. 2. having to do with the science of ballistics. adj.

ballistic missile, projectile powered by a rocket engine or engines, but reaching its target as a result of aim at the time of launching.

bal lis tics (bə lis'tiks), science that deals with the motion of projectiles (bullets, shells, bombs, etc.). n.

bal loon (bə lūn'), 1. an airtight bag filled with some gas lighter than air, so that it will rise and float in the air. 2. such a bag with a car to carry one or more persons. 3. a child's toy made of rubber that may be blown up by mouth or filled with gas. 4. ride in a balloon. 5. swell out like a balloon. 6. puffed out like a balloon. 7. a boxed space in a cartoon in which the words of a speaker are written. 1-3,7 n., 4,5 v., 6 adj. —bal loon'like', adj.

bal loon ist (bə lūn'ist), 1. a person who goes up in balloons. 2. pilot of a dirigible balloon. n.

bal lot (bal'ət), 1. piece of paper or other object used in voting. 2. the total number of votes cast. 3. method of voting by paper slips, voting machines, etc. 4. vote or decide by using ballots. 1-3 n., 4 v., bal lot ed, bal lot ing.

Balkan States

ballot box, box into which voters put their ballots after they have voted.

ball player (bôl/plā'ər), 1. a baseball player. 2. person who plays ball. n.

ball-point pen, a pen that writes by means of a small metal ball set in its point. The ball turns against a cartridge holding ink in semisolid form and transmits it to the paper against which it is pressed.

ball room (bôl/rûm'), a large room for dancing. n.

bal ly hoo (bal'ē hū), Slang. 1. U.S. noisy advertising; sensational way of attracting attention. 2. U.S. advertise noisily; make exaggerated or false statements about. 3. uproar; outcry. 1,3 n., pl. bal ly hoos; 2 v., bal ly hooed, bal ly hoo ing.

balm (bām or bālm), 1. a fragrant, oily, sticky substance obtained from certain kinds of trees, used to heal or relieve pain. 2. anything that heals or soothes: Mother's praise was balm to the little girl's wounded feelings. 3. a fragrant plant of the same family as mint. n.

balm of Gilead, 1. a fragrant ointment prepared from the resin of a small evergreen tree of Asia and Africa. 2. the tree itself.

Bal mung (bāl'mûng), Siegfried's sword. n.

balm y (bām'ē or bāl'mē), 1. mild; gentle; soothing: a balm y breeze. 2. fragrant. adj., balm i er, balm i est. —balm'i ly, adv. —balm'i ness, n.

bal sa (bôl'sə), 1. a tropical American tree with very lightweight, strong wood. 2. the wood. 3. raft consisting of two or more floats fastened to a framework. n.

bal sam (bôl'səm), 1. ointment or preparation for healing or soothing. 2. a fragrant, oily, sticky substance obtained from certain kinds of trees. 3. tree that yields balsam; balsam fir. Balsams are much used as Christmas trees. 4. a garden plant with seed vessels that burst open violently when ripe. n.

balsam fir, 1. an evergreen tree of North America, of the same family as the pine, whose resin is used in making varnish. 2. its wood.

Bal tic (bôl'tik), 1. having to do with the Baltic Sea. 2. having to do with the Baltic States. adj.

Baltic Sea, sea in N Europe, north of Germany and southeast of Sweden. 160,000 sq. mi.

Baltic States, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, and sometimes, Finland. The first three of these are now under Russian control. See also the map under Estonia.

Bal ti more (bôl'tə môr), 1. city in N Maryland, on Chesapeake Bay. 939,000. 2. Lord, 1580?-1632, Sir George Calvert, English statesman who planned the colony of Maryland. 3. Lord, 1605?-1675, his son, first proprietor of the colony of Maryland. n.

Baltimore oriole, a North American bird. The male has orange and black feathers and the female has greenish or yellowish feathers. See oriole for picture.

Ba lu chi stan (bə lū'chə-stān'), a former country, on the Arabian Sea, now in Pakistan. n.

bal us ter (bal'əs tər), a support for a railing. n.

bal us trade (bal'əs trād'), row of balusters and the railing on them. n.

Bal zac (bal'zak or bôl'zak), Honoré de, 1799-1850, French novelist. n.

Ba ma ko (bə mā kô'), capital of the Republic of Mali in the SW part. 69,000. n.

Baluster and balustrade bam bi no (bam bē'nō), 1. baby; little child. 2. image or picture of the baby Jesus. n., pl. bam bi ni (-nē).

bam boo (bam bū'), 1. any of various woody or treelike tropical or semitropical grasses whose stiff, hollow stems have hard thick joints. The stems are used for making canes, fishing poles, furniture, and even houses. 2. of bamboo; made of the stems of this plant. 1 n., pl. bam boos; 2 adj.

Bamboo (40 ft. high)

Bamboo Curtain, an imaginary wall or dividing line between Communist China and noncommunist nations, created by the strict censorship of news by the Chinese Communist government.

bam boo zle (bam bū'zəl), Informal. 1. impose upon; cheat; trick.

2. puzzle; perplex. v., bam boo zled, bam boo zling. ban (ban), 1. prohibit; forbid: Swimming is banned in this lake. 2. place a ban on; pronounce a curse on. 3. the forbidding of an act or speech by authority of the law, the church, or public opinion. 4. a solemn curse by the church. 5. sentence of outlawry. 1,2 v., banned, ban ning; 3-5 n.

Banana (tree 9 ft. high) ba nal (bā'nəl), commonplace; trite; trivial. adj. —ba'nal ly, adv.

ba nal i ty (bə nal'ə tē), commonplaceness; triteness; triviality. n., pl. ba nal i ties.

ba nan a (bə nan'ə), 1. a slightly curved, yellow or red fruit with firm, creamy flesh. 2. a treelike tropical plant on which bananas grow in large clusters. n.

Ban croft (ban'krôft), George, 1800-1891, American historian and statesman who helped to found the United States Naval Academy. n.

band¹ (band), 1. number of persons or animals joined or acting together: a band of robbers, a band of wild dogs. 2. unite or cause to unite in a group: The children banded together to buy a present for their teacher. 3. group of musicians playing various instruments together: The band played several marches. 4. drove or flock of animals; herd. 5. a thin, flat strip of material for binding, trimming, or some other purpose: The oak box was strengthened with bands of iron. Put rubber bands around that package. 6. put a band on. 7. stripe: a white cup with a gold band. 8. mark with stripes. 9. collar with two strips hanging in front, worn by certain clergymen. 10. a particular range of wave lengths in radio broadcasting. 1,3-5,7,9,10 n., 2,6,8 v.

band² (band), anything that ties, binds, or unites. n. band age (ban'dij), 1. strip of cloth or other material used in binding up and dressing a wound, injured leg or arm, etc. 2. bind, tie up, or dress with a bandage. 1 n., 2 v., band aged, band ag ing. —band'ag er, n.

ban dan na or ban dan a (ban-dan'ə), a large, colored handkerchief. n.

band box (band'boks'), a light cardboard box to put hats, collars, etc., in. n.

Australian bandicoot (about 2½ ft. long) ban deau (ban dō' or ban'dō), 1. band worn about the head. 2. a narrow band. n., pl. ban deaux (-dōz' or -dōz).

ban di coot (ban'də küt), 1. a very large rat of India that is about two feet long. 2. a small ratlike animal of Australia that carries its young in a pouch on its abdomen. n.

ban dit (ban/dit), highwayman; robber. n., pl. bandits or ban dit ti.

ban dit ry (ban/dit rē), 1. work of bandits. 2. bandits. n.

ban dit ti (ban/dit/ē), a pl. of bandit. n.
band master (band/mas/tər), leader of a band of musicians. n.

ban do leer or ban do lier (ban/də lir/), 1. a broad belt worn over the shoulder and across the breast. Some bandoleers have loops for carrying cartridges; others have small cases for bullets, gunpowder, etc. 2. one of these cases. n.

band shell, platform for musical concerts. It has a shell-shaped, resonant covering open on one side.

bands man (bandz/mən), member of a band of musicians. n., pl. bands men.

band stand (band/stand/), an outdoor platform, usually roofed, for concerts. n.

band wag on (band/wag/ən), wagon that carries a musical band in a parade. n.
climb on the bandwagon, Informal. join what appears to be the winning side in a political campaign, contest, etc.

ban dy (ban/dē), 1. throw back and forth; toss about. 2. give and take; exchange: To bandy words with a foolish person is a waste of time. 3. having a bend or curve outward: Some kinds of bulldog have bandy legs. 1,2 v., ban died, ban dy ing; 3 adj.

ban dy-leg ged (ban/dē leg'id), having legs that curve outward; bowlegged. adj.

bane (bān), 1. cause of death, ruin, or harm: Wolves were the bane of the shepherds. 2. ruin; harm. n.

bane ber ry (bān/ber/ē), 1. any of several plants that have spikes of small, white flowers and clusters of white or red poisonous berries. 2. one of these berries. n., pl. bane ber ries.

bane ful (bān/fəl), deadly; harmful. adj. —bane/-ful ly, adv.

Banff (bamf), a summer resort in SW Canada, in the Rocky Mountains. It is the chief town of a Canadian national park that is noted for its magnificent scenery. 2000. n.

bang (bang), 1. a sudden, loud noise: the bang of a gun. 2. make a sudden, loud noise: The door banged as it blew shut in a sudden gust of wind. 3. suddenly and loudly. 4. a violent, noisy blow: He gave the drum a bang. 5. hit with violent and noisy blows; strike noisily: The baby was banging the dishpan with a tin spoon. 6. violently and noisily: The boy on the bicycle went bang into a telephone pole. 7. shut with noise; slam: bang a door. 8. handle roughly: My trunk was banged in the accident. 9. imitation of gun fire: "Bang! Bang!" shouted the boys. 1,4 n., 2,5,7,8 v., 3,6 adv., 9 interj.

bang² (bang), 1. fringe of banged hair. 2. cut squarely across: She wears her hair banged. 1 n., 2 v.

bangs, hair cut straight over the forehead.
Ban ga lore (bang/gə lōr/), city in S India. 779,000. n.

Bang kok (bang/kok), capital and chief port of Thailand (Siam). 1,328,000. n.

ban gle (bang/gl/), 1. ring worn around the wrist, arm, or ankle. 2. a small ornament suspended from a bracelet. n.

Ban gor (bang/gōr or bang/gər), city in S Maine. 39,000. n.

Ban gui (bāng/gē), capital of the Central African Republic, in the SW part. 78,000. n.

ban ian (ban/yən), 1. banyan. 2. a Hindu merchant of a caste that eats no meat. n.

ban ish (ban/ish), 1. condemn to leave a country; exile: Napoleon was banished to Elba. 2. force to go away; send away; drive away: Banish the thought of leaving the country on such a warm day. v. —ban/-ish er, n.

ban ish ment (ban/ish mēnt), 1. act of banishing. 2. state of being banished; exile. n.

ban is ter (ban/is tər), baluster. n.

banisters, balustrade of a staircase. n.

ban jo (ban/jō), a stringed musical instrument played with the fingers or a plectrum. Banjos have either four or five strings. n., pl. ban jos or ban joes.

ban jo ist (ban/jō ist), person who plays a banjo. n.

bank (bank), 1. a long pile or heap: a bank of snow. 2. raise a ridge or mound about; border with a bank or ridge. 3. form into a bank; pile up; heap up: bank snow. 4. form banks: Clouds are banking along the horizon. 5. ground bordering a river, lake, etc. 6. a shallow place in a body of water; shoal: the banks of Newfoundland. 7. slope. 8. sloping an airplane to one side when making a turn. 9. make (an airplane) do this. 10. of an airplane, slope to one side when turning. 11. cover (a fire) with ashes or fresh fuel so that it will burn slowly: bank a fire for the night. 1,5-8 n., 2-4,7,9-11 v.

bank² (bank), 1. an institution for keeping, lending, exchanging, and issuing money: A savings bank is a good place to put money. 2. keep a bank. 3. keep money in a bank. 4. put (money) in a bank. 5. a small metal or plastic container used to save small sums at home: Mary's father gave her a quarter for her piggy bank. 6. stock of pieces from which players draw in games. 7. any place where reserve supplies are kept. The place where blood plasma is kept for transfusions is called a bank. 8. fund of money out of which the dealer or manager in gambling games pays his losses. 1,5-8 n., 2-4 v. —bank/a ble, *adj.

bank on, Informal. depend on; be sure of.

bank³ (bank), 1. bench for rowers in a galley. 2. row or tier of oars. 3. row of keys on an organ, typewriter, etc. 4. row of things. 5. arrange in rows. 1-4 n., 5 v.

bank bill, 1. check drawn by one bank on another. 2. bank note.

bank er (bank/ər), 1. person or company that keeps a bank. 2. dealer or manager in a gambling game. n.

bank ing (bank/ing), business of a bank or banker. n.

bank note, note issued by a bank that must be paid on demand. Bank notes are used as money.

bank rupt (bank/rʌpt), 1. person who is declared by a law court to be unable to pay his debts and whose property is distributed among his creditors. 2. unable to pay one's debts; declared legally unable to pay debts. 3. make bankrupt. 4. at the end of one's resources; destitute. 1 n., 2,4 adj., 3 v.

bank rupt cy (bank/rʌpt sē or bank/rəp sē), bankrupt condition. n., pl. bank rupt cies.

ban ner (ban/ər), 1. flag. 2. piece of cloth with some design or words on it, attached by its upper edge to a pole or staff. 3. leading; foremost. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

ban nock (ban/ək), Scottish. a flat cake made of oatmeal or barley flour, eaten in Scotland. n.

banns (banz), public notice, given three times in church, that a certain man and woman are to be married. n.pl.

ban quet (bang/kwit), 1. feast. 2. a formal dinner with speeches. 3. give a banquet to. 4. enjoy a banquet. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., ban quet ed, ban quet ing.

ban shee or ban shie (ban/shē or ban/shē/), Irish and Scottish. spirit whose wails mean that there will soon be a death in the family. n.

Ban tam or ban tam (ban/təm), a small-sized kind of fowl. n.

ban tam (ban/təm), 1. a small person who is fond of fighting. 2. light in weight; small. 1 n., 2 adj.

ban tam weight (ban/təm wāt/), boxer who weighs 118 pounds or less. n.

ban ter (ban/tər), 1. playful teasing; joking. 2. tease

Man playing a banjo

B

Child
wearing bangs

playfully; make fun of. 3. talk in a joking way. 1 n., 2, 3 v. —ban'ter ing ly, adv.

bant ling (bant'ling), a young child; brat. n.

Ban tu (ban'tü), 1. member of a large group of Negroid tribes living in central and S Africa. 2. any of the languages of these tribes. 3. of these tribes or their languages. 1, 2 n., pl. Ban tu or Ban tus; 3 adj.

ban yan (ban'yän), a fig tree of India whose branches have hanging roots that grow down to the ground and start new trunks. One tree may cover several acres. n. Also, banian.

ban zai (bän'zi'), a Japanese greeting or patriotic cheer. It means "May you live ten thousand years!" interj.

ba o bab (bä'ō bab), a tall, tropical African tree with a very thick trunk. The fibers of its bark are used for making rope, cloth, etc. n.

bap tism (bap'tiz əm), 1. act of baptizing; rite or sacrament of dipping a person into water or sprinkling water on him, as a sign of the washing away of sin and of admission into the Christian church. 2. experience that cleanses a person or introduces him into a new kind of life. n.

bap tis mal (bap tiz'ml), having to do with baptism; used in baptism: baptismal vows. adj.

baptism of fire, 1. the first time that a soldier is under fire. 2. a severe trial or test; ordeal.

Bap tist (bap'tist), 1. member of a Christian church that believes in baptism by dipping the whole person under water. 2. of or having to do with the Baptists. 3. person who baptizes: John the Baptist. 1, 3 n., 2 adj.

bap tis ter y (bap'tis tər ē or bap'tis trē), place where baptism is performed. A baptistry may be a section of a church or a separate building. n., pl. bap tis ter ies.

bap tist ry (bap'tis trē), baptistery. n., pl. bap tist ries.

bap tize (bap tiz' or bap'tiz), 1. dip into water or sprinkle with water as a sign of the washing away of sin and of admission into the Christian church. 2. purify; cleanse. 3. give a first name to (a person) at baptism; christen. 4. give a name to. v., bap tized, bap tiz ing. —bap tiz'er, n.

bar (bär), 1. an evenly shaped piece of some solid, longer than it is wide or thick: a bar of iron, bar of soap, a bar of chocolate. 2. pole or rod put across a door, gate, window, etc., to fasten or shut off something. 3. put bars across; fasten or shut off with a bar: He bars the door every night. 4. anything that blocks the way or prevents progress: A bar of sand kept boats out of the harbor. 5. block; obstruct: The exits were barred by chairs. 6. exclude; forbid: All talking is barred during a study period. 7. except; excluding: He is the best student, bar none. 8. band of color; stripe. 9. mark with stripes or bands of color: a chicken with barred feathers. 10. unit of rhythm in music. The regular accent falls on the first note of each bar. 11. line between two such units on a musical staff. 12. counter for serving drinks or food. 13. place containing such a counter. 14. the railing around the place where lawyers sit in a law court. 15. profession of a lawyer: After passing his law examinations, the young man was admitted to the bar. 16. lawyers as a group: Judges are chosen from the bar. 17. place where an accused person stands in a law court. 18. law court. 19. anything like a law court: the bar of public opinion. 1, 2, 4, 8, 10-19 n., 3, 5, 6, 9 v., barred, bar ring; 7 prep.

bar (bär), 1. an evenly shaped piece of some solid, longer than it is wide or thick: a bar of iron, bar of soap, a bar of chocolate. 2. pole or rod put across a door, gate, window, etc., to fasten or shut off something. 3. put bars across; fasten or shut off with a bar: He bars the door every night. 4. anything that blocks the way or prevents progress: A bar of sand kept boats out of the harbor. 5. block; obstruct: The exits were barred by chairs. 6. exclude; forbid: All talking is barred during a study period. 7. except; excluding: He is the best student, bar none. 8. band of color; stripe. 9. mark with stripes or bands of color: a chicken with barred feathers. 10. unit of rhythm in music. The regular accent falls on the first note of each bar. 11. line between two such units on a musical staff. 12. counter for serving drinks or food. 13. place containing such a counter. 14. the railing around the place where lawyers sit in a law court. 15. profession of a lawyer: After passing his law examinations, the young man was admitted to the bar. 16. lawyers as a group: Judges are chosen from the bar. 17. place where an accused person stands in a law court. 18. law court. 19. anything like a law court: the bar of public opinion. 1, 2, 4, 8, 10-19 n., 3, 5, 6, 9 v., barred, bar ring; 7 prep.

bar (bär), 1. an evenly shaped piece of some solid, longer than it is wide or thick: a bar of iron, bar of soap, a bar of chocolate. 2. pole or rod put across a door, gate, window, etc., to fasten or shut off something. 3. put bars across; fasten or shut off with a bar: He bars the door every night. 4. anything that blocks the way or prevents progress: A bar of sand kept boats out of the harbor. 5. block; obstruct: The exits were barred by chairs. 6. exclude; forbid: All talking is barred during a study period. 7. except; excluding: He is the best student, bar none. 8. band of color; stripe. 9. mark with stripes or bands of color: a chicken with barred feathers. 10. unit of rhythm in music. The regular accent falls on the first note of each bar. 11. line between two such units on a musical staff. 12. counter for serving drinks or food. 13. place containing such a counter. 14. the railing around the place where lawyers sit in a law court. 15. profession of a lawyer: After passing his law examinations, the young man was admitted to the bar. 16. lawyers as a group: Judges are chosen from the bar. 17. place where an accused person stands in a law court. 18. law court. 19. anything like a law court: the bar of public opinion. 1, 2, 4, 8, 10-19 n., 3, 5, 6, 9 v., barred, bar ring; 7 prep.

bar (bär), 1. an evenly shaped piece of some solid, longer than it is wide or thick: a bar of iron, bar of soap, a bar of chocolate. 2. pole or rod put across a door, gate, window, etc., to fasten or shut off something. 3. put bars across; fasten or shut off with a bar: He bars the door every night. 4. anything that blocks the way or prevents progress: A bar of sand kept boats out of the harbor. 5. block; obstruct: The exits were barred by chairs. 6. exclude; forbid: All talking is barred during a study period. 7. except; excluding: He is the best student, bar none. 8. band of color; stripe. 9. mark with stripes or bands of color: a chicken with barred feathers. 10. unit of rhythm in music. The regular accent falls on the first note of each bar. 11. line between two such units on a musical staff. 12. counter for serving drinks or food. 13. place containing such a counter. 14. the railing around the place where lawyers sit in a law court. 15. profession of a lawyer: After passing his law examinations, the young man was admitted to the bar. 16. lawyers as a group: Judges are chosen from the bar. 17. place where an accused person stands in a law court. 18. law court. 19. anything like a law court: the bar of public opinion. 1, 2, 4, 8, 10-19 n., 3, 5, 6, 9 v., barred, bar ring; 7 prep.

bar (bär), 1. an evenly shaped piece of some solid, longer than it is wide or thick: a bar of iron, bar of soap, a bar of chocolate. 2. pole or rod put across a door, gate, window, etc., to fasten or shut off something. 3. put bars across; fasten or shut off with a bar: He bars the door every night. 4. anything that blocks the way or prevents progress: A bar of sand kept boats out of the harbor. 5. block; obstruct: The exits were barred by chairs. 6. exclude; forbid: All talking is barred during a study period. 7. except; excluding: He is the best student, bar none. 8. band of color; stripe. 9. mark with stripes or bands of color: a chicken with barred feathers. 10. unit of rhythm in music. The regular accent falls on the first note of each bar. 11. line between two such units on a musical staff. 12. counter for serving drinks or food. 13. place containing such a counter. 14. the railing around the place where lawyers sit in a law court. 15. profession of a lawyer: After passing his law examinations, the young man was admitted to the bar. 16. lawyers as a group: Judges are chosen from the bar. 17. place where an accused person stands in a law court. 18. law court. 19. anything like a law court: the bar of public opinion. 1, 2, 4, 8, 10-19 n., 3, 5, 6, 9 v., barred, bar ring; 7 prep.

bar (bär), 1. an evenly shaped piece of some solid, longer than it is wide or thick: a bar of iron, bar of soap, a bar of chocolate. 2. pole or rod put across a door, gate, window, etc., to fasten or shut off something. 3. put bars across; fasten or shut off with a bar: He bars the door every night. 4. anything that blocks the way or prevents progress: A bar of sand kept boats out of the harbor. 5. block; obstruct: The exits were barred by chairs. 6. exclude; forbid: All talking is barred during a study period. 7. except; excluding: He is the best student, bar none. 8. band of color; stripe. 9. mark with stripes or bands of color: a chicken with barred feathers. 10. unit of rhythm in music. The regular accent falls on the first note of each bar. 11. line between two such units on a musical staff. 12. counter for serving drinks or food. 13. place containing such a counter. 14. the railing around the place where lawyers sit in a law court. 15. profession of a lawyer: After passing his law examinations, the young man was admitted to the bar. 16. lawyers as a group: Judges are chosen from the bar. 17. place where an accused person stands in a law court. 18. law court. 19. anything like a law court: the bar of public opinion. 1, 2, 4, 8, 10-19 n., 3, 5, 6, 9 v., barred, bar ring; 7 prep.

bar (bär), 1. an evenly shaped piece of some solid, longer than it is wide or thick: a bar of iron, bar of soap, a bar of chocolate. 2. pole or rod put across a door, gate, window, etc., to fasten or shut off something. 3. put bars across; fasten or shut off with a bar: He bars the door every night. 4. anything that blocks the way or prevents progress: A bar of sand kept boats out of the harbor. 5. block; obstruct: The exits were barred by chairs. 6. exclude; forbid: All talking is barred during a study period. 7. except; excluding: He is the best student, bar none. 8. band of color; stripe. 9. mark with stripes or bands of color: a chicken with barred feathers. 10. unit of rhythm in music. The regular accent falls on the first note of each bar. 11. line between two such units on a musical staff. 12. counter for serving drinks or food. 13. place containing such a counter. 14. the railing around the place where lawyers sit in a law court. 15. profession of a lawyer: After passing his law examinations, the young man was admitted to the bar. 16. lawyers as a group: Judges are chosen from the bar. 17. place where an accused person stands in a law court. 18. law court. 19. anything like a law court: the bar of public opinion. 1, 2, 4, 8, 10-19 n., 3, 5, 6, 9 v., barred, bar ring; 7 prep.

bar (bär), 1. an evenly shaped piece of some solid, longer than it is wide or thick: a bar of iron, bar of soap, a bar of chocolate. 2. pole or rod put across a door, gate, window, etc., to fasten or shut off something. 3. put bars across; fasten or shut off with a bar: He bars the door every night. 4. anything that blocks the way or prevents progress: A bar of sand kept boats out of the harbor. 5. block; obstruct: The exits were barred by chairs. 6. exclude; forbid: All talking is barred during a study period. 7. except; excluding: He is the best student, bar none. 8. band of color; stripe. 9. mark with stripes or bands of color: a chicken with barred feathers. 10. unit of rhythm in music. The regular accent falls on the first note of each bar. 11. line between two such units on a musical staff. 12. counter for serving drinks or food. 13. place containing such a counter. 14. the railing around the place where lawyers sit in a law court. 15. profession of a lawyer: After passing his law examinations, the young man was admitted to the bar. 16. lawyers as a group: Judges are chosen from the bar. 17. place where an accused person stands in a law court. 18. law court. 19. anything like a law court: the bar of public opinion. 1, 2, 4, 8, 10-19 n., 3, 5, 6, 9 v., barred, bar ring; 7 prep.

bar (bär), 1. an evenly shaped piece of some solid, longer than it is wide or thick: a bar of iron, bar of soap, a bar of chocolate. 2. pole or rod put across a door, gate, window, etc., to fasten or shut off something. 3. put bars across; fasten or shut off with a bar: He bars the door every night. 4. anything that blocks the way or prevents progress: A bar of sand kept boats out of the harbor. 5. block; obstruct: The exits were barred by chairs. 6. exclude; forbid: All talking is barred during a study period. 7. except; excluding: He is the best student, bar none. 8. band of color; stripe. 9. mark with stripes or bands of color: a chicken with barred feathers. 10. unit of rhythm in music. The regular accent falls on the first note of each bar. 11. line between two such units on a musical staff. 12. counter for serving drinks or food. 13. place containing such a counter. 14. the railing around the place where lawyers sit in a law court. 15. profession of a lawyer: After passing his law examinations, the young man was admitted to the bar. 16. lawyers as a group: Judges are chosen from the bar. 17. place where an accused person stands in a law court. 18. law court. 19. anything like a law court: the bar of public opinion. 1, 2, 4, 8, 10-19 n., 3, 5, 6, 9 v., barred, bar ring; 7 prep.

Ba rab bas (bə rab'əs), in the Bible, a robber whose release the Jews demanded when Pilate offered to free Jesus. Matthew 29:16-21. n.

barb (bärb), 1. point projecting backward from the main point. 2. one of the hairlike branches on the shaft of a feather. 3. a long thin growth hanging from the mouth: the barbs of a catfish. 4. furnish with barbs. 1-3 n., 4 v.

Barbs (def. 1) on fishhooks

Bar ba dos (bär bā'dōz or bär'bā-dōz), island republic in the West Indies. 232,000 pop.; 166 sq. mi. Capital: Bridgetown. n.

bar bar i an (bär bār'ē ən), 1. person who is not civilized. 2. not civilized; cruel and coarse; almost savage: The Roman Empire was conquered by barbarian peoples. 3. foreigner differing from the speaker or writer in language and customs. In ancient times a barbarian was a person who was not a Greek, a person outside of the Roman Empire, or a person who was not a Christian. 4. differing from the speaker or writer in language and customs. 5. person without sympathy for literary culture or art. 1, 3, 5 n., 2, 4 adj.

Barbs (def. 2)

bar bar ic (bär bār'ik), 1. like barbarians; suited to a barbarous people; rough and rude: The dress of gypsies is barbaric. 2. crudely rich or splendid. adj.

bar ba rism (bär'bə riz əm), 1. condition of uncivilized people: People who have no form of writing live in barbarism. 2. a barbarous act, custom, or trait. 3. use of a word or expression not in accepted use. 4. word or expression not in accepted use. Example: "his'n" for "his." n.

bar bar i ty (bär bār'ə tē), 1. brutal cruelty. 2. act of cruelty. 3. barbaric manner, taste, or style. n., pl. bar bar i ties.

bar ba rize (bär'bə rīz), make barbarous; become barbarous. v., bar ba rized, bar ba rizing.

bar ba rous (bär'bə rəs), 1. not civilized; savage: Torture of prisoners is a barbarous custom. 2. rough and rude; coarse; unrefined: Many of the early fur trappers were as barbarous as the Indians they fought. 3. cruelly harsh; brutal. adj. —bar ba rous ly, adv. —bar ba rous ness, n.

Bar ba ry (bär'bə rē), the Moslem countries west of Egypt on the N coast of Africa. n.

Barbary ape, a tailless monkey that lives in N Africa and on the Rock of Gibraltar.

Barbary States, an old name for Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, and Tripoli.

bar be cue (bär'bə kū), 1. U.S. feast at which animals are roasted whole. 2. animal roasted whole. 3. roast (an animal) whole. 4. meat roasted before an open fire. 5. roast (meat) before or over an open fire. 6. a metal or brick stove on which this may be done. 7. cook (meat or fish) in a highly flavored sauce. 1, 2, 4, 6 n., 3, 5, 7 v., bar be cued, bar be cu ing.

barbed (bärbd), having a barb or barbs. adj.

barbed wire, wire with sharp points on it every few inches, used for fences, etc.

bar bel (bär'bl), 1. a long, thin growth hanging from the mouths of some fishes.

2. a large, fresh-water fish of Europe having such growths. n.

bar ber (bär'bər), 1. person whose business is cutting hair, shaving men, and trimming beards. 2. cut the hair of; shave; trim the beard of. 1 n., 2 v.

BARBELS

hat, äge, cäre, fär; let, bē, tērm; it, ice; hot, gō, ördör; oil, out; cup, püt, rüle, üse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ð, then; ž, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

bar ber ry (bär'ber'ē or bär'bar'ē), 1. shrub with yellow flowers and sour red berries. 2. the berry. n., pl. bar ber ries.

bar bi can (bär'bə'kən), tower for defense built over a gate or bridge to a city or castle. n.

bar bi tal (bär'bə'tōl), a drug containing barbituric acid, used as a sedative or hypnotic. n.

bar bi tu rate (bär'bič'ə'rāt, bär'bə'tūr'āt, or bär'bə'tyūr'āt), salt or ester of barbituric acid. n.

bar bi tu ric acid (bär'bə'tūr'ik or bär'bə'tyūr'ik), an acid much used as the basis of sedatives and hypnotics.

barb wire (bärb'wīr'), barbed wire. n.

Bar ca (bär'kə), powerful family of Carthage. Hamilcar and Hannibal belonged to it. n.

bar ca role or bar ca rolle (bär'kə'rōl), 1. a Venetian boat song. 2. music imitating such a song. n.

Bar ce lo na (bär'sə'lō'nə), seaport in NE Spain. 1,503,000. n.

bard (bärd), 1. a poet and singer of long ago. Bards sang their own poems to the music of their harps. 2. poet. n.

Bard of Avon, Shakespeare. He was called this because he came from Stratford-on-Avon.

bare (bär), 1. without covering; not clothed; naked: bare hands. The top of the hill was bare. 2. with the head uncovered. 3. not concealed; not disguised; open. 4. make bare; uncover; reveal: The knight bared his sword. 5. not furnished; empty: The room was bare of furniture. 6. plain; unadorned: He lived in a bare little house. 7. much worn; threadbare. 8. just enough and no more; mere: He earns a bare living by his work. 1-3, 5-8 adj., bar er, bar est; 4 v., bared, bar ing.

lay bare, uncover; expose; reveal.

bare (bär), Archaic. bore, a pt. of bear¹. v.

bare back (bär'bak'), without a saddle; on a horse's bare back: ride bareback (adv.), a bareback rider (adj.). adv., adj.

bare faced (bär'fäst'), 1. with the face bare. 2. not disguised. 3. shameless; impudent: a barefaced lie. adj.

bare foot (bär'füt'), without shoes and stockings: a barefoot child (adj.). If you go barefoot, watch out for broken glass (adv.). adj., adv.

bare foot ed (bär'füt'id), barefoot. adj.

bare hand ed (bär'han'did), 1. without any covering on the hands. 2. with empty hands. adj.

bare head ed (bär'hed'id), wearing nothing on the head. adv.

bare leg ged (bär'leg'id), without stockings. adj.

bare ly (bär'lē), 1. only just; hardly; scarcely: He has barely enough money to live on. 2. openly; plainly: The facts are presented barely, without any comments. 3. poorly; scantily: The room was furnished barely but neatly. adv.

bare ness (bär'nīs), being bare; lack of covering; lack of furnishings and contents. n.

bar gain (bär'gən), 1. an agreement to trade or exchange: Will you take $5 for it? Then it's a bargain. 2. something offered for sale cheap, or bought cheap. 3. a good trade or exchange; price below the real value. 4. try to get good terms: She stood for ten minutes bargaining with the man for the vegetables. 5. make a bargain; come to terms. 6. trade. 1-3 n., 4-6 v. —bar-gain er, n.

bargain for, be ready for; expect: It is raining, and that is more than I bargained for.

into the bargain, besides; also: It is late, into the bargain.

strike a bargain, make a bargain; reach an agreement.

barge (bärj), 1. a large, flat-bottomed boat for carrying freight on rivers, canals, etc.: a grain barge. 2. carry by barge. 3. a large boat used for excursions, pageants, and special occasions. 4. move clumsily like a barge. 5. a large motorboat or rowboat used by the commanding officer of a flagship. 6. houseboat. 7. Informal. push oneself rudely: Don't barge in where you're not wanted. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4,7 v., barged, bar ing.

Barbican

barge man (bärj'mən), man who works on a barge. n., pl. barge men.

Bar Harbor, a summer resort on Mount Desert Island, off the SE coast of Maine. 3000.

bar i tone (bär'ə'tōn), 1. a male voice between tenor and bass. 2. part to be sung by such a voice. 3. person who sings this part. 4. of or for a baritone. 5. a musical instrument that has the quality or range of this voice. 1-3,5 n., 4 adj. Also, esp. Brit. barytone.

bar i um (bär'ē'əm or bär'ē'əm), a soft, silvery-white metallic element. Symbol: Ba n.

bark (bärk), 1. the tough outside covering of the trunk, branches, and roots of trees and plants. 2. strip the bark from (a tree, etc.). 3. cut out a circle of bark from (a tree) in order to kill it. 4. tan (hides, etc.). 5. scrape the skin from (shins, knuckles, etc.): I fell down the steps and barked my shins. 1 n., 2-5 v.

bark (bärk), 1. the short, sharp sound that a dog makes. 2. a sound like this: the bark of a fox, a squirrel, a gum, or a cough. 3. make this sound or one like it. 4. shout sharply; speak gruffly: Some officers bark out their orders. 5. Informal. cough. 1,2 n., 3-5 v.

bark (bärk), 1. ship with three masts, square-rigged on the first two masts and fore-and-aft-rigged on the other. 2. Poetic. boat; ship. n. Also, barque.

bar keep (bär'kēp'), U.S. barkeeper. n.

bar keep er (bär'kēp'ər), man who tends a bar where alcoholic drinks are sold. n.

bar ken tine (bär'kən'tēn), a three-masted ship with the foremost square-rigged and the other masts fore-and-aft-rigged. n.

bark er (bär'kər), 1. one that barks. 2. person who stands in front of a store, show, etc., urging people to go in. n.

bar ley (bär'lē), 1. the seed or grain of a cereal grass that has compact spikes of flowers. Barley is used for food and for making malt. 2. plant yielding this grain. n.

Bar ley corn (bär'lē'kōrn'), John, a name for intoxicating liquor. n.

bar maid (bär'mād'), woman who works in a bar, serving alcoholic drinks to customers. n.

bar man (bär'mən), barkeeper. n., pl. bar men.

Bar me cide feast (bär'mə'sid), 1. a pretended feast with empty dishes. 2. an empty pretense of hospitality, generosity, etc.

barn (bärn), a building for storing hay, grain, etc., and for sheltering cows, horses, etc. n. —barn/like', adj.

Bar na bas (bär'nə'bəs), in the Bible, the Christian apostle who was a companion of Paul. n.

bar na cle (bär'nə'kl), animal with a shell that attaches itself to rocks, the bottoms of ships, the timbers of wharves, etc. n.

bar na cled (bär'nə'klid), covered with barnacles. adj.

barn dance, 1. dance held in a barn.

2. a lively dance resembling a polka.

barn storm (bärn'stōrm'), U.S. Informal. act plays, make speeches, etc., in small towns and country districts. v. —barn/storm'er, n.

barn swallow, swallow that usually nests in barns. It has a reddish breast and a long, forked tail.

Bar num (bär'nəm), Phineas Taylor, 1810-1891, American showman. n.

barn yard (bärn'yärd'), yard around a barn for livestock, etc. n.

Bark³Barnacles
(2 to 6 in. long)

Baroda (bə rō'də), city in W India. 211,000. n.
bar o graph (bar'ə graf), instrument that automatically records changes in air pressure. n.

ba rom e ter (bə rom'ə tər), 1. instrument for measuring air pressure and determining the height above sea level. A barometer shows probable changes in the weather. 2. something that indicates changes: Newspapers are often called barometers of public opinion. n.

Barometer. A flexible box in this aneroid barometer expands or contracts with changes in air pressure, and moves one of the pointers. The other pointer is set by hand and remains fixed; the position of the moving pointer is observed in relation to the fixed one.

bar o met ric (bar'ə met'rik), 1. of a barometer. 2. indicated by a barometer. adj.

bar on (bar'ən), 1. nobleman in Great Britain ranking next below a viscount. 2. nobleman in other countries having a similar rank. 3. English nobleman during the Middle Ages who held his lands directly from the king. 4. U.S., a powerful merchant or financier. n.

bar on ess (bar'ən is), 1. wife or widow of a baron. 2. lady whose rank is equal to that of a baron. n.

bar on et (bar'ən it or bar'ən et), 1. man in Great Britain ranking next below a baron and next above a knight. He has "Sir" before his name and "Bart." after it. Example: Sir John Brown, Bart. 2. title indicating this rank. n.

ba ro ni al (bə rō'nē əl), 1. of a baron; of barons. 2. suitable for a baron; splendid; stately; grand. adj.

bar o ny (bar'ə nē), 1. lands of a baron. 2. rank or title of a baron. n., pl.

bar o nies.
ba ro que (bə rōk' or bə rōk'), 1. ornate; fantastic; grotesque. Baroque architecture uses much ornament. 2. a baroque style. 3. irregular in shape: baroque pearls. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

ba rou che (bə rūsh'), a four-wheeled carriage with two seats facing each other and a folding top. n.

Barouche

bar que (bärk), 1. Poetic. boat; ship. 2. ship with three masts. See bark. n.

bar rack (bar'ək), barracks. n.

bar racks (bar'əks), 1. a building or group of buildings for soldiers to live in. 2. a large, plain building in which many people live. n.pl.

bar ra cu da (bar'ə kü'də), a large, fierce fish of the seas near the West Indies. n., pl. bar ra cu da or bar ra cu das.

bar rage (bə räzh' for 1,2; bär'ij for 3), 1. barrier of artillery fire to check the enemy or to protect one's own soldiers in advancing or retreating. 2. fire at with artillery; subject to a barrage. 3. an artificial bar in a river; dam. 1,3 n., 2 v., bar raged, bar rag ing.

Bar ran quil la (bär'räng kē'yä), city in N Colombia. 431,000. n.

bar ra try (bar'ə trē), 1. fraud or gross negligence of a ship's officer or seaman against owners, insurers, etc. 2. act of stirring up lawsuits or quarrels. n.

Bar re (bar'ē), city in central Vermont. 11,000. n.

bar red (bärd), 1. having bars: a barred window. 2. marked with stripes: a chicken with barred feathers. adj.

bar rel (bar'əl), 1. container with a round, flat top and bottom and slightly curved sides, usually made of thick boards held together by hoops. 2. amount that a barrel can hold. 3. any container, case, or part shaped somewhat like a barrel: the barrel of a drum. 4. the metal tube of a gun. 5. put in barrels. 1-4 n., 5 v., bar reled, bar rel ing, or esp. Brit. bar relled, bar rel ing.

barrel organ, a hand organ.

bar ren (bar'ən), 1. not producing anything: A sandy desert is barren. 2. not able to bear offspring: Scientists know that exposure to radioactivity may make animals and plants barren. 3. without interest; not attractive; dull. 4. fruitless; unprofitable. adj. —bar'ren ness, n.

barrens, a barren stretch of land.

bar rette (bə ret'), pin with a clasp, used by women and girls for holding the hair in place. n.

bar ri cade (bar'ə käd' or bar'ə käd), 1. a rough, hastily made barrier for defense. 2. any barrier or obstruction. 3. block or obstruct with a barricade: The road was barricaded with fallen trees. 1,2 n., 3 v., bar ri cad ed, bar ri cad ing.

bar ri er (bar'ē ə), 1. something that stands in the way; something stopping progress or preventing approach: A dam is a barrier holding water back. Lack of water was a barrier to the settlement of that region. 2. something that separates or keeps apart: The Atlantic Ocean is a barrier between Europe and America. n.

barrier reef, a long line of rocks or coral reef not far from the mainland.

bar ring (bär'ing), except; not including: Barring accidents, the train will reach Chicago at twelve. prep.

bar ris ter (bar'is tər), lawyer in England who can plead in any court. n.

bar room (bär'rüm'), room with a bar for the sale of alcoholic drinks. n.

bar row¹ (bar'ō), 1. frame with two short shafts for handles at each end, used for carrying a load. 2. wheelbarrow. 3. handcart. n.

bar row² (bar'ō), mound of earth or stones over an ancient grave. n.

Bar row (bar'ō), Point, northernmost point of land in Alaska. n.

bar sinister, supposed sign of illegitimacy on a coat of arms. See also def. 3 of baton, for the term regularly used in heraldry.

Bar.t., Baronet.

bar tend er (bär'ten'dər), U.S. man who serves alcoholic drinks to customers at a bar. n.

bar ter (bär'tər), 1. trade by exchanging one kind of goods for other goods without using money. 2. exchange. 3. give (away) without an equal return. 4. act of bartering. 5. something bartered. 1-3 v., 2,4,5 n.

Bar thol o mew (bär thol'ə-mū), Saint, one of the twelve apostles. Saint Bartholomew's Day is August 24. n.

bar ti zan (bär'tə zn), a small overhanging turret on a wall or tower. n.

Bartizan

Bar ton (bärt'n), Clara, 1821-1912, American woman who organized the American Red Cross in 1881. n.

bar y tone (bar'ə tōn), Esp. Brit. baritone. n., adj.
bas al (bäs'l), 1. of the base; at the base; forming the base. 2. fundamental; basic. adj.

basal metabolism, amount of energy used by an animal or plant at rest. The basal metabolism for an average man 30 years old is between 1400 and 1500 calories per day.

ba salt (bə sōlt' or bas'ōlt), a hard, dark-colored rock of volcanic origin. n.

ba sal tic (bə sōl'tik), of or like basalt. adj.

bas cule (bas'kül), device that works like a seesaw. In a bascule bridge the rising part pivots on a horizontal shaft at the shore end and is counterbalanced by a weight. n.

Bascule bridge, opened to let a tall ship pass through.

base¹ (bās), 1. the part of a thing on which it rests; bottom: The machine rests on a wide base of steel. 2. make or form a base or foundation for. 3. basis; foundation; fundamental principle. 4. establish; found: His large business was based on good service. 5. the most important element of anything; essential part: This dogfood has a meal base. 6. part of an animal or plant organ nearest its point of attachment; the point of attachment. 7. a chemical compound that reacts with an acid to form a salt. Calcium hydroxide is a base. 8. station or goal in certain games, such as baseball: John's home run doesn't count—he failed to touch third base as he went by it. 9. starting place: The base for our hiking trip was a campground beside a brook. 10. place from which an army, air force, or navy operates and from which supplies are obtained; headquarters. 11. line or surface forming that part of a geometrical figure on which it is supposed to stand. Any part of a triangle can be its base. 1,3,5-11 n., 2,4 v., based, bas ing.

Base (def. 6)

base² (bās), 1. morally low; mean; selfish; cowardly: To betray a friend for a reward is a base action. 2. fit for an inferior person or thing; menial; unworthy: No needful service is to be looked at as base. 3. Archaic. of humble birth or origin. 4. having little comparative value; inferior: Iron and lead are base metals; gold and silver are precious metals. 5. debased; counterfeit: base coin. 6. deep or grave in sound. 7. the lowest male voice; bass. 1-6 adj., bas er, bas est; 7 n.

base ball (bās/-bōl'), 1. game played with bat and ball by two teams of nine players each on a field with four bases. 2. ball used in this game. n.

Baseball field and players base board (bās/bōrd'), 1. line of boards around the walls of a room, next to the floor. 2. board forming the base of anything. n.

base born (bās/bōrn'), 1. born of slaves, peasants, or other humble parents. 2. born of a mother who was not married; illegitimate. adj.

base hit, a successful hitting of the baseball by a batter so that he gets at least to first base without the help of an error.

Bas el (bā'zēl), city in NW Switzerland, on the Rhine River. 207,000. n.

base less (bās/lis), groundless; without foundation: A rumor is baseless if it is not supported by facts. adj. —base/less ness, n.

base line, 1. line used as a base. 2. line between bases. n.

base ly (bās/lē), as a low, mean, or unworthy person would do. adv.

base man (bās/mən), a baseball player guarding one of the bases. n., pl. base men.

base ment (bās/mənt), the lowest story of a building, partly or wholly below ground. n.

base ness (bās/nis), low, mean, or unworthy character or conduct. n.

ba ses¹ (bā/sēz), pl. of basis. n.

ba ses² (bās/iz), pl. of base. n.

bash (bash), Dialect and Slang. 1. strike with a smashing blow. 2. a smashing blow. 1 v., 2 n.

bash ful (bash/fəl), uneasy and awkward in the presence of strangers; shy. adj. —bash/ful ly, adv. —bash/ful ness, n.

ba sic (bā'sik), 1. of the base; at the base; forming the base; fundamental: Addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division are the basic processes of arithmetic. 2. in chemistry, containing a base; alkaline. adj.

ba si cal ly (bā'sik lē), as a basic principle; fundamentally. adv.

bas il (baz'l), a tropical, sweet-smelling plant of the same family as mint, used in cooking. n.

Bas il (baz'l), Saint, 329?-379 A.D., bishop who helped to spread Christianity in Asia Minor. n.

ba sil i ca (bə sil'ə kə), 1. an oblong hall with a row of columns at each side and a semicircular structure at one end. The Romans used such buildings for law courts and public meetings. 2. an early Christian church built in this form. n.

American basilisk
(2½ ft. long)

bas i link (bas'ə link), 1. in Greek and Roman legend, a fabled reptile whose breath and look were thought to be fatal. It was supposed to be somewhat like a lizard and to have a black-and-yellow skin and fiery, red eyes. 2. a tropical American lizard with a crest along its back that it can raise or lower. n.

ba sin (bā'sn), 1. a wide, shallow bowl; bowl. 2. amount that a basin can hold. 3. a hollow place containing water: a yacht basin. 4. all the land drained by a river and the streams that flow into it: the Mississippi basin. n.

bas i net (bas'ə net), a round steel helmet. n.

ba sis (bā'sis), 1. the main part; base. 2. a fundamental principle or set of principles; foundation. 3. the principal ingredient: The basis of this medicine is an oil. 4. a starting point; military base. n., pl. ba ses (-sēz).

bask (bask), warm oneself pleasantly: The cat basks before the fire. v.

bas ket (bas/kit), 1. container made of twigs, grasses, fibers, strips of wood, etc., woven together. 2. amount that a basket holds: She bought a basket of peaches. 3. anything that looks like or is shaped like a basket: Some baskets for wastepaper are made of metal. 4. structure beneath a balloon for carrying passengers or ballast. 5. net shaped like a basket, used as a goal in basketball. 6. score made in basketball by tossing the ball through a ring into the basket. n. —bas/ket like, adj.

bas ket ball (bas/kit bōl'), 1. game played with a large, round leather ball by two teams of five players each. The players try to toss the ball through a ring into a net shaped like a basket. 2. the ball used in this game. n.

bas ket ry (bas/kit rē), 1. basketwork; baskets. 2. art of making baskets. n.

basket weave, weave in cloth that looks like the weave in a basket.

bas ket work (bas/kit wērk'), work woven like a basket; wickerwork. n.

ba son (bā'sn), in church use, a basin. n.

basque (bask), a woman's garment consisting of a close-fitting waist extending over the hips. n.

Basque (bask), 1. member of a people living in the Pyrenees in S France and in N Spain. 2. the language of this people. 3. having to do with the Basques or their language. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Bas ra (bus/rə or bas/rə), seaport in SE Iraq, near the Persian Gulf. 165,000. n.

bas-re lief (bā'ri lēf' or bas'ri lēf'), carving or sculpture in which the figures project only slightly from the background. See relief for picture. n.

bass¹ (bās), 1. low or deep in sound. 2. the lowest male voice. 3. singer with such a voice. 4. lowest part in music. 5. instrument for such a part. 6. for the lowest part in music; that can sing such a part. 1,6 adj., 2-5 n., pl. bass es.

bass² (bas), any of various spiny-finned North American fishes used for food, living in fresh water or in the ocean. n., pl. bass es or (especially collectively) bass. bass clef (bäs' klef'), a music symbol (ʒ) showing that the pitch of the notes on a staff is below middle C.

bass drum (bäs), a large drum that makes a deep, low sound when struck on one or both of its heads.

bass set (bas'it), dog with short legs and a long body, like a dachshund, but larger and heavier. n.

bass horn (bäs), tuba.

Basse-Terre (bäs ter'), capital of Guadeloupe, a French island in the West Indies. 12,000. n.

bas si net (bas'ə net' or bas'ə net), a baby's basketlike cradle. n.

bas so (bas'ō; Italian bäs'sō), singer with a bass voice. n., pl. bas sos; Italian bas si (bäs'sē).

bas soon (bä sün'), a deep-toned wind instrument with a doubled wooden tube and a curved metal mouthpiece. n.

bass viol (bäs), a deep-toned stringed instrument like a very large cello.

bass wood (bas'wüd'), 1. a linden tree. 2. its wood. n.

bast (bast), 1. the inner layer of the bark that contains cells for carrying sap. 2. tough fibers in this layer of certain trees, used in making rope, matting, etc. n.

bas tard (bas'tärd), 1. child whose parents are not married to each other; illegitimate child. 2. born of parents who are not married to each other. 3. anything inferior or not genuine. 4. inferior; not genuine. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

baste (bäst), drip or pour melted fat on (meat, etc.) while roasting. Meat is basted to keep it from drying out and to improve its flavor. v., bast ed, bast ing.

baste (bäst), sew with long, loose stitches to hold the cloth until the final sewing. v., bast ed, bast ing. —bast'er, n.

baste (bäst), beat; thrash. v., bast ed, bast ing.

Bas tille (bas tēl'), an old fort in Paris used as a prison, especially for political offenders. A mob captured and destroyed it on July 14, 1789. n.

bas tille or bas tile (bas tēl'), prison. n.

bast ings (bäs'tingz), long, loose stitches to hold cloth in place until the final sewing. n.pl.

bast ion (bas'chən or bas'tē ən), 1. a projecting part of a fortification made so that the defenders can fire at attackers from as many angles as possible. 2. defense; fortification. n.

bas tioned (bas'chənd or bas'tē ənd), provided with or defended by bastions. adj.

Ba su to land (bə sü'tō land'), a former British protectorate in S Africa, now the country of Lesotho. n.

bat (bat), 1. a stout wooden stick or club, used to hit the ball in baseball, cricket, etc. 2. hit with a bat; hit. 3. act of batting. 4. turn at batting. 5. hit safely balls served by the pitcher. 6. Informal. stroke; blow. 1,3,4,6 n., 2,5 v., bat ted, bat ting.

at bat, in the batter's position.

bat (bat), a flying mammal with a mouselike body and membranous wings supported on the enormously developed bones of the forelimbs. Bats fly at night. There are over 600 species; most of them are insect-eating but some Basset (about 2½ ft. long)

Man playing a bassoon

Bastion

Bat

live on fruit and a few suck the blood of other mammals. n. —bat'like', adj.

blind as a bat, completely blind.

bat (bat), Informal. wink: The ball nearly hit him but he didn't bat an eye. v., bat ted, bat ting.

Ba taan (bə tān' or bə tan'), peninsula near Manila in the Philippines, where United States troops surrendered to the Japanese in 1942. n.

Ba ta vi a (bə tā'vē ə), Dja-karta. n.

batch (bach), 1. quantity of bread made at one baking.

2. quantity of anything made as one lot or set: a batch of candy.

3. number of persons or things taken together: a batch of themes. n.

bate (bāt), abate; lessen; hold back. v., bat ed, bat ing.

with bated breath, holding the breath in great fear, awe, interest, etc.: The boys listened with bated breath to the sailor's story.

ba teau (bə tō'), a light boat with a flat bottom and tapering ends, used in Canada and Louisiana. n., pl.

ba teaux (-tōz').

bath (bath), 1. a washing of the body. 2. water, etc., for a bath: Your bath is ready. 3. tub, room, or other place for bathing. In ancient Rome, baths were often elaborate public buildings, which were used also as clubs.

4. resort with baths for medical treatment. 5. liquid in which something is washed or dipped, as the solution in which photographic film or prints are immersed.

6. container holding the liquid. n., pl. baths (bāthz or bāthz). —bath'less, adj.

Bath (bath), city in SW England, once famous as a health resort. 80,000. n.

bathe (bāth), 1. take a bath. 2. give a bath to: Jack is bathing the dog. 3. apply water to; wash or moisten with any liquid: Bathe your feet if they are tired. 4. go in swimming; go into a river, lake, ocean, etc., for pleasure or to get cool. 5. cover; surround: The valley was bathed in sunlight. v., bathed, bath ing. —bath'er, n.

ba thos (bā'thos), 1. dullness or commonplaceness in speech or writing, especially when immediately following more elevated expression. Example: The exile came back to his home, crippled, unfriended, and hatless.

2. strained or insincere pathos. n.

bath robe (bath'rōb'), a long, loose garment worn to and from the bath or as a dressing gown. n.

bath room (bath'rūm'), 1. room fitted up for taking baths, etc. 2. toilet. n.

bath tub (bath'tub'), tub to bathe in. n.

Bath urst (bath'ərst), capital of Gambia. 21,000. n.

bath y sphere (bath'ə sfir), a watertight chamber with glass windows, in which men can go deep down in the sea to study animal and plant life. n.

ba tik (bə tēk' or bat'ik), 1. method of making designs on cloth by dyeing only part at a time, the rest being protected by a removable coating of melted wax. 2. cloth dyed in this way. 3. design formed in this way. 4. made by batik; made of batik. 5. like batik; brightly or gaily colored. 1-3 n., 4,5 adj.

ba tiste (bə tēst'), a fine, thin, cotton cloth. n.

ba ton (ba ton'), 1. a staff or stick used as a symbol of office or authority. 2. stick used by the leader of an orchestra or band for beating time to the music. 3. in heraldry, a sign (in England) of illegitimacy. It is a narrow stripe with ends cut off, placed diagonally on a coat of arms, its upper end on the bearer's left. n.

Bat on Rouge (bat'n rūzh'), capital of Louisiana, in the SE part, on the Mississippi. 152,000.

ba tra chi an (bə trā'kē ən), 1. of or belonging to the division of vertebrates consisting of tailless amphibians.

2. like frogs and toads. 3. of frogs and toads. 4. a tail-less amphibian. Frogs and toads are batrachians. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

batsman (bats'mən), player whose turn it is to bat in cricket, baseball, etc. n., pl. batsmen.

bat tal ion (bə tal'yən), 1. two or more companies, usually commanded by a major or a lieutenant colonel and forming part of a regiment. 2. any large part of an army organized to act together. 3. army. 4. an organized group: a labor battalion. n.

battalions, armies; military forces.

bat ten¹ (bat'n), 1. grow fat. 2. fatten. 3. feed greedily. v.

bat ten² (bat'n), 1. board used for flooring. It is usually 6 or more feet long, 7 inches wide, and 2½ inches thick. 2. strip of wood. Battens are nailed across parallel boards to strengthen them. They are also used to nail down the canvas over a ship's hatchway and to cover cracks between boards. 3. fasten down or strengthen with strips of wood. 1,2 n., 3 v.

bat ter¹ (bat'ər), 1. beat with repeated blows; beat so as to bruise, break, or get out of shape; pound: The policeman battered down the door with a heavy ax. 2. damage by hard use: I found a battered old book in the attic. v.

bat ter² (bat'ər), mixture of flour, milk, eggs, or the like, that becomes solid when cooked. Cakes, pancakes, etc., are made from batter. n.

bat ter³ (bat'ər), player whose turn it is to bat in baseball, cricket, etc. See the diagram under baseball. n.

battering ram, 1. a military machine used in ancient times for battering down walls, gates, etc. 2. any heavy object used to break down a door, wall, etc.

Soldiers using a battering ram batter y (bat'ər ē), 1. set of similar or connected things: A battery of loudspeakers blared through the hall. If you want this job, you will have to take a battery of tests. 2. set of two or more electric cells that produce electric current. 3. set of guns or other weapons such as mortars, machine guns, and artillery pieces for combined action in attack or defense. 4. these guns together with the soldiers and equipment for them. 5. platform or fortification equipped with big guns. 6. in baseball, the pitcher and catcher together. 7. the unlawful beating of another person; any threatening touch to the clothes or body of another: He was guilty of assault and battery. n., pl. bat ter ies.

bat ting (bat'ing), 1. the act of hitting a ball: I have a good average in batting. 2. cotton or wool pressed into thin layers. It is used to line comforters, quilts, etc. n.

bat tle (bat'l), 1. fight between armies or navies: The battle for Guadalcanal lasted six months. 2. take part in a battle. 3. fighting; war: wounds received in battle. 4. fight; contest: a battle of words. 5. fight; struggle; contend: The swimmer had to battle a strong current. Our team is battling for first place in hockey. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v., bat tled, bat tling. —bat'tler, n.

battle array, 1. order of troops, ships, etc., ready for battle. 2. armor, equipment, etc., for battle.

bat tle-ax or bat tle-axe (bat'l-aks'), ax used as a weapon in war. n.

battle cruiser, a large, fast warship, not so heavily armored as a battleship.

battle cry, 1. shout of soldiers in battle. 2. motto or slogan in any contest.

bat tle dore (bat'l dôr), a small racket used to hit a shuttlecock back and forth in the game of battledore and shuttlecock. See the picture under shuttlecock. n.

bat tle field (bat'l fîld'), place where a battle was fought or has been fought. n.

Head of a battle-ax bat tle ground (bat'l ground'), battlefield. n.

bat tle ment (bat'l mēnt), 1. wall for defense at the top of a tower or wall, with indentations through which soldiers could shoot. 2. wall built like this for ornament. n.

bat tle ment ed (bat'l mēn'tid), furnished with battlements. adj.

battle royal, 1. fight in which several take part; riot. 2. a long, hard fight.

bat tle-scarred (bat'l skārd'),

1. injured or damaged during a battle. 2. showing the effects of many battles. adj.

bat tle ship (bat'l ship'), the largest and most powerful type of warship. A battleship is very heavily armored. n.

bat tue (ba tü' or ba tū'), 1. the driving of game from cover toward the hunters. 2. hunt where this is done. 3. general slaughter. n.

bat ty (bat'ē), U.S. Slang. crazy; queer. adj., bat ti er, bat ti est.

bauble (bô'bl), a showy trifle having no real value. Useless toys and trinkets are baubles. n.

baulk (bôk), balk. v., n.

baux ite (bôk'sit or bô'zit), a claylike mineral from which aluminum is obtained. It is also used in making alum and firebricks. n.

Ba var i a (bə vār'ē ə), a state and historical region in S West Germany. 9,191,000 pop.; 27,000 sq. mi. Capital: Munich. n. —Ba var'i an, n., adj.

bawd (bôd), person who keeps a brothel. n.

bawd y (bôd'ē), lewd; obscene. adj., bawd ier, bawd iest. —bawd'i ly, adv. —bawd'i ness, n.

bawl (bôl), 1. shout or cry out in a noisy way: The peddler bawled his wares in the street. 2. a noisy shout at the top of one's voice. 3. weep loudly. 4. a loud crying. 1,3 v., 2,4 n.

bawl out, U.S. Slang. reprimand; scold.

bay¹ (bā), part of a sea or lake, extending into the land. See cove for picture. n.

bay² (bā), 1. space or division of a wall or building between columns, pillars, buttresses, etc. 2. space with a window or set of windows in it, projecting out from a wall. 3. place in a barn for storing hay or grain. 4. compartment in an airplane, especially one for carrying bombs. n.

bay³ (bā), 1. the long, deep bark of a dog.

The hunters heard the distant bay of the hounds.

2. bark; bark at: Dogs sometimes bay at the moon.

3. a stand made by a hunted animal to face pursuers when escape is impossible:

The stag stood at bay on the edge of the cliff.

4. similar stand made by a person against persecution, etc. 5. position of pursuers or enemy kept off: The stag held the hounds at bay. 1,3-5 n., 2 v.

bring to bay, put in a position from which escape is impossible.

bay⁴ (bā), a small evergreen tree with smooth, shiny leaves; laurel tree. n.

bays, 1. laurel wreath worn by poets or victors. 2. honor; renown; fame.

bays² (bā), 1. reddish brown. 2. a reddish-brown horse with black mane and tail. 1,2 n., 1 adj.

Bay ard (bā'ərd), 1473?-1524, French knight who was called the knight "without fear and without reproach." n.

bay ber ry (bā'ber'ē or bā'ber ē), 1. a North American shrub with clusters of grayish-white berries coated with wax. The leaves of the shrub are aromatic, and candles made from the wax of the berries burn with a pleasant fragrance. 2. one of the berries. 3. a tropical American tree whose leaves contain an oil used in bay rum. n., pl. bay ber ries.

Bay City, city in E Michigan. 54,000.

bay o net (bā'ə nit or bā'ə net), 1. blade for piercing Battlement for defense

F, C, A, bays² (def. 1)

or stabbing, attached to a gun. 2. pierce or stab with a bayonet. 1 n., 2 v., bay o net ed, bay o net ing.

Bayonne (bā yōn'), city in NE New Jersey. 74,000. n.

bay ou (bī'ü), U.S. a marshy inlet or outlet of a lake, river, or gulf in the southern United States. n., pl. bayous.

Bay reuth (bī roit'), city in S West Germany, noted for its music festivals. 61,000. n.

bay rum, a fragrant liquid originally made from the leaves of a tree growing in the West Indies, used in medicine and cosmetics.

bay window, window or set of windows projecting out from a wall, leaving a space in a room.

bazaar or bazar (bə zār'), 1. street or streets full of shops in Oriental countries. 2. place for the sale of many kinds of goods. 3. sale held for some charity or other special purpose. n.

ba zoo ka (bə zū'kə), rocket gun used against tanks. n.

B.B.C., British Broadcasting Corporation.

bbl., barrel. pl. bbls.

B.C., 1. before Christ; before the birth of Christ: The year before 300 B.C. was 301 B.C. 2. British Columbia.

bd. ft., board foot; board feet.

bdl., bundle. pl. bdlis.

be (bē), 1. have reality; exist; live: to be or not to be. Veterans of the American Revolution are no more. 2. take place; happen: The circus was last month. 3. remain; continue: He will be here all year. 4. equal; represent: Let "x" be the unknown quantity. 5. Be is used as a linking verb between a subject and a predicate modifier: Jerome was the secretary (predicate noun). She is sick (predicate adjective). 6. Be is used as an auxiliary verb with: a. the present participle of another verb to form the progressive tense: I am asking. He was asking. You will be asking. b. the past participle of another verb to form the passive voice: I am asked. You will be asked. He was asked. 7. Be is used to express future time, duty, intention, and possibility: He is to be there at nine. No shelter was to be seen. 8. Be is used with the past participles of some verbs to form the perfect tense: The sun is set. v., pres. indic. sing. am, are, is, pl. are; pt. indic. was, were, was, pl. were; pp. been; ppr. being.

be-, prefix meaning:

1. thoroughly; all around: Bespatter = spatter thoroughly or all around.

2. at; on; to; for; about; against: Bewail = wail about.

3. make; cause to seem: Belittle = cause to seem little.

4. provide with: Bespangle = provide with spangles.

Be, beryllium.

beach (bēch), 1. the almost flat shore of sand or little stones over which the water washes when high. 2. run (a boat) ashore; draw up on the shore. 1 n., 2 v. —beach/less, adj.

beach comb er (bēch'kōm'ər), 1. a vagrant or loafer on the islands of the Pacific or elsewhere. 2. U.S. a long wave rolling in from the ocean. n.

beach head (bēch'hed'), the first position established by an invading army on an enemy beach or shore. n.

bea con (bē'kən), 1. fire or light used as a signal to guide or warn. 2. a radio signal for guiding aviators through fogs, storms, etc. 3. a tall tower for a signal; lighthouse. 4. give light to; guide; warn. 5. shine brightly. 6. supply with beacons. 1-3 n., 4-6 v.

bead (bēd), 1. a small ball or bit of glass, metal, etc., with a hole through it, so that it can be strung on a thread with others like it. 2. put beads on; ornament with beads. 3. any small, round object like a drop or bubble: beads of sweat. 4. form beads. 5. a bit of metal at the front end of a gun to aim by. 6. a narrow, semi-circular molding. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4 v. —bead/like', adj. beads, 1. string of beads. 2. a rosary; string of beads for keeping count in saying prayers.

draw a bead on, aim a gun at.

say, tell, or count one's beads, say prayers, using a rosary.

bead ed (bēd'id), 1. trimmed with beads; having beads. 2. formed into beads; like beads. adj.

bead ing (bēd'ing), 1. trimming made of beads threaded into patterns. 2. a narrow lace or openwork trimming through which ribbon may be run. 3. pattern or edge on woodwork, silver, etc., made of small beads. 4. a narrow, rounded molding. n.

bea dle (bē'dl), a minor officer in the Church of England. In former times if a person went to sleep in church, the beadle woke him up. n.

bead work (bēd'wērk'), beading. n.

bead y (bēd'ē), 1. small, round, and shiny: The parakeet has beady eyes. 2. trimmed with beads. 3. covered with drops or bubbles. adj., bea d i er, bea d i est.

bea gle (bē'gl), a small hunting dog with short legs and drooping ears. n.

beak (bēk), 1. a bird's bill, especially one that is strong and hooked and useful in striking or tearing. Eagles, hawks, and parrots have beaks. 2. a similar part in other animals. A hooked nose is sometimes called a beak. 3. the projecting bow of an ancient warship. 4. a spout: the beak of a pitcher, a jug, etc. n.

beaked (bēkt), 1. having a beak. 2. shaped like a beak; hooked. adj.

beak er (bēk'ər), 1. a large cup or drinking glass. 2. contents of a beaker. 3. a thin glass or metal cup with a small lip for pouring and no handle, used in laboratories. n.

beam (bēm), 1. a large, long piece of timber, ready for use in building. 2. a similar piece of metal or stone. 3. the main horizontal support of a building or ship. 4. part of a plow by which it is pulled. 5. the crosswise bar of a balance, from the ends of which the scales or pans are suspended. 6. the balance itself.

7. ray or rays of light or heat: The beam from the flashlight showed a kneeling man. 8. send out rays of light; shine. 9. a bright look or smile. 10. smile radiantly. 11. a radio signal directed in a straight line, used to guide aviators, sailors, etc. 12. direct (a broadcast): beam programs at Russia. 13. the greatest width of a ship. 1-7,9,11,13 n., 8,10,12 v.

on her beam ends, of a ship, almost capsizing.

on the beam, 1. of a ship, at right angles with the keel. 2. of an aircraft, in the right path indicated by the directing signals. 3. Slang. just right.

beamed (bēmd), furnished with beams, or as if with beams. adj.

beam ing (bēm'ing), 1. shining; bright. 2. smiling brightly; cheerful. adj. —beam/ing ly, adv.

bean (bēn), 1. a smooth, kidney-shaped seed used as a vegetable. 2. the long pod containing such seeds. In an immature stage, the green or yellow pods of some varieties, together with the seeds, are also used as a vegetable. 3. plant that beans grow on. 4. any seed shaped somewhat like a bean. Coffee beans are seeds of the coffee plant. n. —bean/like', adj.

bean pole (bē'pōl'), 1. pole stuck in the ground for bean vines to climb on as they grow. 2. Slang. a tall, thin person. n.

Bay window

Beagle (15 in. high at the shoulder)

Beaker (def. 3)

bean stalk (bĕn/'stôk'), stem of a bean plant. n.

bear¹ (bâr), 1. carry: A voice was borne upon the wind.

2. support: That board is too thin to bear your weight.

3. put up with; abide: She can't bear the noise. 4. undergo; experience; endure: He cannot bear any more pain.

5. bring forth; produce; yield: This tree bears fine apples.

6. give birth to; have (offspring): bear a child. 7. have a connection or effect; relate: His story does not bear on the question. 8. behave; conduct: He bore himself with great dignity. 9. bring forward; give: bear company, bear a hand. A person who saw an accident can bear witness to what happened. 10. hold; hold in mind: bear a grudge, affection, etc. 11. have as an identification or characteristic: He bears the name of John, the title of earl, and a reputation for learning. 12. have as a duty, right, privilege, etc.: The king bears sway over the empire. 13. take on oneself as a duty: bear the cost, responsibility, etc.

14. press; push: Don't bear down so hard. 15. move; go:

The ship bore north. 16. lie; be situated: The land bore due north of the ship. 17. allow; permit: The accident bears two explanations. v., bore or (Archaic) bare, borne or born, bear ing.

bear down or bear down on, 1. put pressure on. 2. move toward; approach.

bear out, support; prove.

bear up, keep one's courage; not lose hope or faith.

bear with, put up with; be patient with.

bear² (bâr), 1. a large, clumsy mammal that has coarse hair and a very short tail. 2. a gruff or surly person.

3. person who tries to lower prices in the stock market, etc. 4. having to do with lowering prices in the stock market, etc. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

Bear (bâr), 1. one of two northern groups of stars; the Little Bear or the Great Bear.

2. river in Utah, Wyoming, and Idaho, flowing into Great

Salt Lake. 450 mi. n.

bear a ble (bâr/'ə bl), that can be borne; endurable.

adj. —bear/a bly, adv.

bear bait ing (bâr/'bât'ing), sport of setting dogs to fight a chained bear. n.

beard (bird), 1. hair growing on a man's face.

2. something resembling or suggesting this. The chin tuft of a goat is a beard; so are the stiff hairs around the beak of a bird. 3. hairs on the heads of plants like oats, barley, and wheat; awns. 4. face boldly; defy. 1-3 n., 4 v.

—beard/like', adj.

beard ed (bir/'did), having a beard. adj.

beard less (bird/'lis), 1. without a beard.

2. young; immature; youthful. adj. —beard/- less ness, n.

bear er (bâr/'ər), 1. person or thing that carries. 2. person who holds or presents a check, draft, or note for payment. 3. tree or plant that produces fruit or flowers: This apple tree is a good bearer. n.

bear ing (bâr'ing), 1. way of standing, sitting, walking, etc.; manner: A soldier should have a military bearing. 2. reference; relation:

His foolish question has no bearing on the problem.

3. direction; position in relation to other things: Having no compass, he got his bearings from the sun. 4. part of a machine on which another part turns or slides. 5. a supporting part. 6. a single device in a coat of arms:

heraldic bearings. n.

bear ish (bâr'ish), 1. like a bear; rough; surly.

2. aiming at or tending to lower prices in the stock market, etc. adj. —bear/ish ly, adv. —bear/ish- ness, n.

bear skin (bâr/'skin'), 1. fur of a bear. 2. a tall, black, fur cap worn by some soldiers and drum majors.

n.

beast (bĕst), 1. any animal except man, especially a four-footed animal. 2. a coarse, dirty, or brutal person.

n. —beast/like', adj.

beast ly (bĕst/'lē), 1. like a beast; brutal; coarse; vile.

2. Informal. unpleasant; disgusting: a beastly headache.

3. Informal. very; unpleasantly. 1,2 adj., beast li er, beast li est; 3 adv. —beast/li ness, n.

beast of burden, animal used for carrying loads.

beast of prey, animal that kills other animals.

beat (bĕt), 1. strike again and again; strike; whip; thrash: The cruel man beats his horse. 2. stroke or blow made again and again: the beat of a drum, the beat of waves on a beach. 3. throb: Her heart beats fast with joy.

4. drive by blows; force by blows: He beat off the savage dog. 5. defeat; overcome: Their team beat ours by a huge score. 6. Informal. baffle: This problem beats me.

7. Informal. cheat; swindle. 8. make flat; shape with a hammer: beat gold into gold leaf. 9. make flat by much walking; tread (a path). 10. mix by stirring; mix by striking with a fork, spoon, or other utensil: beat eggs.

11. move up and down; flap: The bird beat its wings.

12. make a sound by being struck: The drums beat loudly.

13. unit of time or accent in music: three beats to a measure. The good dancer never missed a beat. 14. mark (time) with drumsticks or by tapping with hands or feet: beat a tattoo. 15. show (a unit of time or accent in music) by a stroke of the hand, etc. 16. stroke of the hand, baton, etc., showing a musical beat. 17. a regular round made by a policeman or watchman.

18. go through in a hunt: The men beat the woods in search of the lost child. 19. move against the wind by a zigzag course: The sailboat beat along the coast. 20. outdo; surpass: Nothing can beat yachting as a sport. 21. Informal.

win: I hope you'll beat. 22. Informal. person, thing, or event that wins. 23. U.S. the securing and publishing of news ahead of one's competitors. 24. U.S.

Informal. exhausted. 25. U.S. Informal. overcome by astonishment; taken aback. 1,3-12,14,15,18-21 v., beat, beaten or beat, beating; 2,13,16,17,22,23 n., 24,25 adj.

beat a retreat, 1. run away; retreat. 2. sound a retreat on a drum.

beat down, Informal. force to set a lower price.

beat en (bĕt/'n), 1. whipped; struck: a beaten dog.

2. shaped by blows of a hammer: beaten silver. 3. much walked on or traveled: a beaten path. 4. defeated; overcome: a beaten army. 5. exhausted. 6. a pp. of beat.

We were beaten in football on Saturday. 1-5 adj., 6 v.

beat er (bĕt/'ər), 1. person or thing that beats. 2. man hired to rouse game during a hunt. 3. device or utensil for beating eggs, cream, etc. n.

be a tific (bĕ/'ə tif'ik), making blessed; blissful: The saint had a beatific smile. adj.

be a tific a tion (bĕ at/'ə fə kă'shən), 1. act of making blessed. 2. state of being made blessed. 3. declaration by the Pope as head of the Roman Catholic Church that a dead person is among the blessed in heaven. n.

be a tify (bĕ at/'ə fi), 1. make supremely happy; bless.

2. declare (a dead person) by a decree of the Pope to be among the blessed in heaven. v., be at i fied, be at i fy ing.

beat ing (bĕt'ing), 1. act of one that beats. 2. whipping; thrashing. 3. defeat. 4. throbbing. n.

be at i tude (bĕ at/'ə tūd or bĕ at/'ə tūd), 1. supreme happiness; bliss. 2. blessing. n.

the Beatitudes, verses in the Bible beginning "Blessed are the poor in spirit." Matthew 5:3-12.

beau (bō), 1. a young man courting a young woman; suitor; lover. 2. man who pays much attention to the way he dresses and to the fashion of his clothes. n., pl.

beaus or beaux.

Beau Brum mell (bō/ brum'l), a dandy.

Beau fort scale (bō/'fərt), an internationally used scale of wind velocities, ranging from 0 (calm) to 12 (hurricane).

beau geste (bō zhest'), French. 1. a graceful or kindly act. 2. pretense of kindness or unselfishness merely for effect. pl. beaux gestes (bō zhest').

American black bear (4½ ft. long; 3 ft. tall)

A, bearded
wheat;
B, beardless
wheat.

beau i de al (bō' ī dē'əl), perfect type of excellence or beauty; highest ideal; model. pl. beaus i de al (bōz' ī dē'əl).

Beau mont (bō'mont), city in SE Texas. 119,000. n.
Beau re gard (bō'rə gārd), Pierre G. T., 1818-1893, Confederate general in the Civil War. n.

beau te ous (bū'tē əs), Poetic. beautiful. adj. —beau'te ous ly, adv. —beau'te ous ness, n.

beau ti fi er (bū'tə fī'ər), person or thing that beautifies. n.

beau ti ful (bū'tə fəl), very pleasing to see or hear; delighting the mind or senses: a beautiful picture, beautiful music. adj. —beau'ti fully, adv. —beau'ti ful ness, n.

beau ti fy (bū'tə fī), 1. make beautiful; make more beautiful: Flowers beautify a garden. 2. become beautiful. v., beau ti fied, beau ti fy ing.

beau ty (bū'tē), 1. good looks. 2. quality that pleases in flowers, pictures, music, etc. 3. something beautiful. 4. a beautiful woman. n., pl. beau ties.

beauty shop or parlor, U.S. place where women have their hair, skin, and fingernails cared for.

beaux (bōz), a pl. of beau. n.
bea ver¹ (bē'vər), 1. a large rodent with soft fur, a broad, flat tail, and feet adapted to swimming or walking. Beavers live both in water and on land and build dams across streams. 2. its soft brown fur: a coat trimmed with beaver. 3. a man's high silk hat, formerly made of beaver fur. 4. a heavy woolen cloth. n.

bea ver² (bē'vər), 1. the movable lower part of a helmet, protecting the chin and mouth. 2. the movable front part of a helmet; visor. n.

be calm (bi kām' or bi käl'm'), 1. prevent from moving by lack of wind. 2. make calm. v.

be calmed (bi känd' or bi kälmd'), 1. calm. 2. kept from moving because there is no wind. adj.

be came (bi kām'), pt. of become.
The seed became a plant. v.

be cause (bi kōz'), for the reason that; since: Boys play ball because it's fun. Because we were late, we ran the whole way. conj.
because of, by reason of; on account of: We did not go because of the rain.

be chance (bi chāns'), happen; happen to; befall. v., be chanced, be chanc ing.

Bech u a na land (bech'ū ā'nə lənd'), a former British protectorate in S Africa, now the country of Botswana. n.

beck (bek), 1. motion of the head or hand meant as a call or command. 2. beckon to. 1 n., 2 v. at one's beck and call, 1. ready whenever wanted. 2. under one's complete control.

Beck et (bek'it), Saint Thomas à, 1118?-1170, archbishop of Canterbury. He was murdered for resisting the policies of Henry II of England. n.

beck on (bek'ən), signal by a motion of the head or hand: He beckoned me to follow him. v.

be cloud (bi kloud'), 1. hide by a cloud or clouds. 2. obscure: Too many big words becloud the meaning. v.

be come (bi kum'), 1. come to be; grow to be: At his words she became more angry. He became wiser as he grew older. 2. be suitable for; suit: It does not become me to question your decision. 3. look well on: A white dress becomes her. v., be came, be come, be com ing.

become of, happen to: What will become of her? What has become of the box of candy?

be com ing (bi kum'ing), 1. fitting; suitable; appro-

Beaver¹ (3½ ft. long)

B, beaver² (def. 1)

priate: becoming conduct for a gentleman. 2. that looks well on the person wearing it: a becoming dress. adj. —be com'ing ly, adv.

Beque rel rays (bek'rel), former name for gamma rays.

bed (bed), 1. anything to sleep or rest on. A bed usually consists of a mattress raised upon a support and covered with sheets and blankets. 2. any place where people or animals rest or sleep. 3. provide with a bed; put to bed: The man bedded down his horse with straw. 4. a flat base on which anything rests; foundation: They set the pole on a bed of concrete. 5. fix or set in a permanent position; embed. 6. ground under a body of water: the bed of a river. 7. piece of ground in a garden in which plants are grown. 8. the plants growing in a garden bed: a bed of tulips. 9. plant in a garden bed: These tulips should be bedded in rich soil. 10. layer; stratum: a bed of coal. 1,2,4,6-8,10 n., 3,5,9 v., bed ded, bed ding.

bed and board, place to sleep and food.
get up on the wrong side of the bed, be irritable or bad-tempered.

be dab ble (bi dab'l), spatter all over with dirty liquid, blood, etc. v., be dab bled, be dab bling.

be daub (bi dōb'), 1. smear with something dirty or sticky. 2. ornament in a gaudy or showy way. v.

be daze (bi dāz'), daze completely; stupefy; bewilder. v., be dazed, be daz ing.

be daz zle (bi daz'l), dazzle completely; confuse. v., be daz zled, be daz zling.

bed bug (bed'bug'), a small, reddish-brown, flat, blood-sucking insect found in houses and especially in beds. Its bite is painful. n.

bed cham ber (bed'chām'bər), bedroom. n.
bed clothes (bed'klōz' or bed'klōfhz'), sheets, blankets, quilts, etc. n.pl.

bed ding (bed'ing'), 1. sheets, blankets, quilts, etc.; bedclothes. 2. material for beds: On our farm straw is used as bedding for cows and horses. 3. foundation; bottom layer. n.

be deck (bi dek'), adorn; decorate: The house is bedecked with holly for Christmas. v.

be dev il (bi dev'l), 1. trouble greatly; torment. 2. confuse completely; muddle. 3. put under a spell; bewitch. v., be de viled, be dev il ing, or esp. Brit. be de villed, be dev il ling.

be dev il ment (bi dev'l mēnt), 1. great trouble; torment. 2. complete confusion; muddle. 3. being under a spell; being bewitched. n.

be dew (bi dü' or bi dū'), wet with dew or with drops like dew: Tears bedewed her cheeks. v.

bed fast (bed'fast'), confined to bed; bedridden. adj.

bed fel low (bed'fel'ō), 1. sharer of one's bed. 2. associate. n.

be dight (bi dīt'), Archaic. 1. adorn; array. 2. adorned; arrayed. 1 v., be dight, be dight or be dight ed, be dight ing; 2 adj.

be dim (bi dim'), make dim; darken; obscure. v., be dimmed, be dim ming.

Bed i vere (bed'ə vir), Sir, faithful knight who brought the dying King Arthur to the barge that carried him to Avalon. n.

be di zen (bi dī'zn or bi diz'n), dress in gaudy clothes; ornament with showy finery. v.

bed lam (bed'lām), 1. uproar; confusion. 2. insane asylum; madhouse. n.

Bed lam (bed'lām), insane asylum in London. n.

bed linen, sheets and pillowcases for a bed.

Bed ou in (bed'ū in), 1. a wandering Arab who lives in the deserts of Arabia, Syria, or northern Africa. 2. of the Bedouins. 3. wanderer; nomad. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

be drag gle (bi drag'l), make limp and soiled. v., be drag gled, be drag gling.

be drag gled (bi drag'ld), 1. wet and hanging limp. 2. dragged in the dirt. adj.

bed rid (bed'rid'), bedridden. adj.

bed rid den (bed'rid'n), confined to bed for a long time because of sickness or weakness. adj.

bed rock (bed'rok'), 1. the solid rock beneath the soil and looser rocks. 2. a firm foundation. 3. the lowest level; bottom. n.

bed roll (bed'röl), blankets or a sleeping bag rolled up and tied for carrying. n.

bed room (bed'rüm'), room to sleep in. n.

bed side (bed'sid'), 1. side of a bed: The nurse sat by the sick woman's bedside. 2. with the sick: Young doctors need bedside practice. 1 n., 2 adj.

bed sore (bed'sör'), sore caused by lying too long in the same position. n.

bed spread (bed'spred'), cover for a bed that is spread over the blankets to make a bed look neater. n.

bed stead (bed'sted), the wooden or metal framework of a bed. n.

bed straw (bed'strö'), a small plant with clusters of white flowers, formerly dried and used as straw for beds. n.

bed time (bed'tim'), time to go to bed: His regular bedtime is nine o'clock. n.

bee (bē), 1. any of various insects, especially the common honeybee, that make honey and wax. Honeybees live in highly organized communities, each including a queen (developed female), workers (undeveloped females), and drones (males). Only workers and queens have stings. Wild bees show various gradations from elaborately organized colonies to solitary nests. 2. U.S. a gathering for work or amusement: a spelling bee, a husking bee. n.

have a bee in one's bonnet or one's head, 1. think of one thing only. 2. be slightly crazy.

bee bread (bē'bred'), a brownish, bitter substance consisting of pollen, or pollen mixed with honey, used by bees as food. n.

beech (bēch), 1. a tree with smooth, gray bark and glossy leaves. It bears a sweet nut that is good to eat. 2. its wood. 3. of the tree or its wood. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

beech en (bēch'ən), made of beechwood. adj.

beech nut (bēch'nut'), the small, triangular nut of the beech tree. n.

beech wood (bēch'wüd'), wood of a beech tree. n.

beef (bēf), 1. meat from a steer, cow, or bull. 2. a steer, cow, or bull when full-grown and fattened for food. 3. Informal. strength; muscle. 4. Informal. weight; heaviness. 5. U.S. Slang. complaint; grievance. 6. U.S. Slang. complain loudly. 1-5 n., pl. beefes (for 2), or beefs (for 5); 6 v.

beef up, U.S. Slang. strengthen.

beef cattle, cattle raised for meat.

beef eat er (bēf'ēt'ər), 1. yeoman of the English royal guard. 2. warder of the Tower of London. n.

beef steak (bēf'stāk'), slice of beef for broiling or frying. n.

beef tea, a strong beef broth.

beefy (bēf'ē), like beef; strong; muscular; solid; heavy. adj., beefier, beefiest. —beef'iness, n.

bee hive (bē'hiv'), 1. hive or house for bees. See hive for picture. 2. a busy, swarming place. n.

bee keep er (bē'kēp'ər), person who raises bees for their honey. n.

bee line (bē'līn'), the straightest way or line between two places; a straight line, like the flight of a bee to its hive. n.

Be el ze bub (bē el'zə bub), 1. the Devil. 2. a devil. n.

been (bin), pp. of be. He has been ill. v.

beer (bir), 1. an alcoholic drink made from malt and, usually, hops. 2. drink made from roots or plants: root beer, ginger beer. n.

beer and skittles, enjoyment; material comforts.

Beef showing various cuts

Beer she ba (bir shē'bā), city in central Israel. See Dan. n.

beest ings (bēs'tingz), the first milk from a cow after it has given birth to a calf. n.pl.

bees wax (bēz'waks'), 1. wax given out by bees, from which they make their honeycomb. 2. rub, polish, or treat with beeswax. 1 n., 2 v.

beet (bēt), 1. the thick fleshy root of a biennial plant. Red beets are eaten as vegetables. Sugar is made from white beets. 2. the plant.

The leaves are sometimes eaten as greens. n. —beet'like', adj.

Bee tho ven (bā'tō vən), Ludwig van, 1770-1827, German musical composer. n.

bee tle¹ (bēt'l), 1. any insect of an order with the forward pair of wings modified as hard sheaths which, when at rest, cover the hinder membranous pair. The over 250,000 species of beetles vary in size from that of a pinhead to nearly that of a man's fist. 2. any similar insect. n.

bee tle² (bēt'l), 1. a heavy wooden mallet for ramming, crushing, or smoothing. 2. a wooden household utensil for beating or mashing. 3. pound with a beetle. 1, 2 n., 3 v., bee tled, bee tling.

bee tle³ (bēt'l), 1. project; overhang: Great cliffs beelled above the narrow path. 2. projecting; overhanging. 1 v., bee tled, bee tling; 2 adj.

bee tle-browed (bēt'l broud'), 1. having projecting or overhanging eyebrows. 2. scowling; sullen. adj.

bee tling (bēt'ling), projecting; overhanging; standing out: beelling rocks. The man who plays the villain has thick, beelling eyebrows. adj.

beet root, the root of a beet plant.

beet sugar, sugar obtained from white beets.

beeves (bēvz), pl. of beef (def. 2). n.

be fall (bi fōl'), 1. happen to: Be careful that no harm befalls you. 2. happen. v., be fell, be fall en, be fall ing.

be fall en (bi fōl'ən), pp. of befall. An accident must have befallen them. v.

be fell (bi fel'), pt. of befall. Evil befell the knight upon his lonely trip. v.

be fit (bi fit'), be suitable for; be proper for; be suited to. v., be fit ted, be fit ting.

be fit ting (bi fit'ing), suitable; proper. adj. —be-fit'ing ly, adv.

be fog (bi fog'), surround with fog; make foggy; obscure; confuse. v., be fogged, be fog ging.

be fool (bi fül'), fool; deceive; dupe. v.

be fore (bi fōr'), 1. in front of; in advance of; ahead of: Walk before me. 2. earlier than: Come before five o'clock. 3. rather than; sooner than: I will die before giving in (prep.). I will die before I give in (conj.). 4. in the presence of or sight of: stand before the king. 5. in front; in advance; ahead: He went before to see if the road was safe. 6. earlier: Come at five o'clock, not before. 7. until now; in the past: I didn't know that before. 8. previously to the time when: Before she goes, I would like to talk to her. 1-4 prep., 5-7 adv., 3, 8 conj.

be fore hand (bi fōr'hand'), ahead of time; in advance: I am going to get everything ready beforehand. adv., adj.

be fore time (bi fōr'tim'), Archaic. formerly. adv.

be foul (bi foul'), 1. make dirty; cover with filth. 2. entangle: The rope was befouled by weeds and sticks. v.

be friend (bi friend'), act as a friend to; help: The kind teacher befriended her pupils. v.

be fud dle (bi fud'l), 1. stupefy; confuse. 2. make stupid with alcoholic drink. v., be fud dled, be fud-dling.

beg (beg), 1. ask help or charity: Must I beg for a living? 2. ask for (food, money, clothes, etc.) as a charity: The tramp begged his meals. 3. ask as a favor; ask earnestly or humbly: He begged his mother to forgive him. 4. ask formally and courteously: I beg your pardon. v., begged, beg ging.

beg off, get free by pleading.

Beetle¹

beg the question, take for granted the very thing argued about.

go begging, find no one who will accept.

be gan (bi gan'), pt. of begin. Snow began to fall. v.

be gat (bi gat'), Archaic. begot, a pt. of beget. v.

be get (bi get'), 1. become the father of. 2. cause to be; produce: Hate begets hate. v., be got or (Archaic) be gat, be got ten or be got, be get ting. —be get/ter, n.

beg gar (beg'ər), 1. person who lives by begging.

2. a very poor person. 3. bring to poverty: Your reckless spending will beggar your father. 4. make seem poor: The grandeur of Niagara Falls beggars description. 5. fellow: a friendly little beggar. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v.

beg gar ly (beg'ər lē), fit for a beggar; poor. adj. —beg'gar li ness, n.

beg gar y (beg'ər ē), very great poverty. n.

be gin (bi gin'), 1. do the first part; start: We will begin work soon. 2. do the first part of: I began reading the book yesterday. 3. come into being: The club began two years ago. 4. bring into being: Two brothers began the club ten years ago. 5. be near; come near: That suit doesn't even begin to fit you. v., be gan, be gun, be gin-ning.

be gin ner (bi gin'ər), 1. person who is doing something for the first time; person who lacks skill and experience. 2. person who begins anything. n.

be gin ning (bi gin'ing), 1. start: make a good beginning. 2. time when anything begins: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." 3. first part. 4. first cause; source; origin. 5. that begins. 1-4 n., 5 adj.

be girt (bi gert'), surrounded; encircled. adj.

be gone (bi gōn'), be gone; go away; depart: "Begone!" the old lady cried to the tramp in her garden (interj.). The old lady bade the tramp begone (v.). interj., v.

be go ni a (bi gō'nē ə), a tropical plant with handsome leaves and waxy flowers. n.

be got (bi got'), a pt. and a pp. of beget. He begot a son. v.

be got ten (bi got'n), a pp. of beget. He has begotten two sons. v.

be grimed (bi grīmd'), made grimy; soiled and dirty. adj.

be grudge (bi gruj'), envy (somebody) the possession of; be reluctant to give (something); grudge: She is so stingy that she begrudges her dog a bone. v., be grudged, be grudg ing. —be grudg/ing ly, adv.

be guile (bi gīl'), 1. deceive; cheat: His pleasant ways beguiled me into thinking that he was my friend. 2. take away from deceitfully or cunningly. 3. entertain; amuse; charm: The old sailor beguiled the boys with stories about his life at sea. 4. while away (time) pleasantly. v., be guiled, be guil ing. —be guil'er, n.

be guil ing (bi gīl'ing), 1. deceiving. 2. entertaining; amusing. adj. —be guil/ing ly, adv.

be gum (bē'gəm), a Moslem queen, princess, or lady of high rank in India. n.

be gun (bi gun'), pp. of begin. It has begun to rain. v.

be half (bi haf'), side; interest; favor: His friends will act in his behalf. n.

in behalf of, in the interest of; for: He worked for weeks in behalf of the Community Chest.

on behalf of, 1. as a representative of: The lawyer spoke convincingly on behalf of his client. 2. in behalf of.

be have (bi hāv'), 1. conduct (oneself): The little boy behaves himself badly in school. The ship behaves well. 2. act well; do what is right: Did you behave today? 3. act: Water behaves in different ways when it is heated and when it is frozen. v., be haved, be hav ing.

be hav ior (bi hāv'yər), 1. way of acting; actions; acts: His sullen behavior showed that he was angry. The little boat's behavior was perfect on the trial trip. 2. manners; deportment. n.

be hav ior ism (bi hāv'yər iz əm), doctrine that the objective acts of persons and animals are the chief or only subject matter of scientific psychology. n.

be hav ior ist (bi hāv'yər ist), person who believes in behaviorism. n.

be hav ior is tic (bi hāv'yər is'tik), having to do with behaviorists or behaviorism. adj.

be hav iour (bi hāv'yər), Esp. Brit. behavior. n.

be head (bi hed'), cut off the head of. v.

be held (bi held'), pt. and pp. of behold. We beheld the approaching storm. You have all beheld beautiful sunsets. v.

be he moth (bi hē'məth or bē'ə məth), a huge and powerful animal mentioned in the Bible. It may have been the hippopotamus. Job 40:15-24. n.

be hest (bi hest'), command; order. n.

be hind (bi hīnd'), 1. at the back of; in the rear of: The child hid behind the door. 2. at or toward the back; in the rear: The dog's tail hung down behind. 3. at or on the far side of: A beautiful valley lies behind the hill. 4. farther back in place or time: The rest of the hikers are still far behind. 5. later than; after: The milkman is behind his usual time today. 6. not on time; slow; late: The train is behind today. 7. concealed by: Teachery lurked behind the spy's smooth manners. 8. inferior to; less advanced than: He is behind other boys in his class in school. 9. remaining after: The dead man left a family behind him. 10. in support of; supporting: His friends are behind him. 1,3,5,7-10 prep., 2,4,6 adv.

be hind hand (bi hīnd'hand'), 1. behind time; late: Don't wait for Helen; she is always behindhand. 2. behind others in progress; backward; slow: Dick is behindhand in his schoolwork. 3. in debt; in arrears: They are behindhand with their rent. adv., adj.

be hold (bi hōld'), 1. see; look at. 2. look; take notice. v., be held, be hold ing; interj.

be hold en (bi hōld'n), under obligations; in debt: I am much beholden to you for your help. adj.

be hold er (bi hōl'dər), onlooker; spectator. n.

be hoof (bi hūf'), use; advantage; benefit: The father toiled for his children's behoof. n.

be hoove (bi hūv'), 1. be necessary for: It behooves you to work hard if you want to keep this job. 2. be proper for: It behooves a child to obey his parents. v., be hooved, be hoov ing.

beige (bāzh), pale brown; brownish gray. n., adj.

be ing (bē'ing), 1. ppr. of be. The dog is being fed. 2. life; existence: This world came into being long ago. 3. nature; constitution: Her whole being thrilled to the beauty of the music. 4. person; living creature: Men, women, and children are human beings. 5. that is; present: All is well, for the time being. 1 v., 2-4 n., 5 adj.

Bei rut (bārūt' or bār'rūt), capital of Lebanon. 450,000. n.

be jew el (bi jū'əl), adorn with jewels, or as if with jewels: The sky is bejeweled with stars. v., be jew eled, be jew el ing or esp. Brit. be jew elled, be jew el ling.

be la bor (bi lā'bər), 1. beat vigorously: The man belabored his poor donkey. 2. abuse; ridicule. v.

be la bour (bi lā'bər), Esp. Brit. belabor. v.

be lat ed (bi lāt'id), 1. delayed; too late: The belated letter arrived at last. 2. overtaken by darkness: The belated travelers lost their way in the mountains. adj. —be lat'ed ly, adv. —be lat'ed ness, n.

be lay (bi lā'), 1. fasten (a rope) by winding it around a pin or cleat. 2. Informal. stop. v., be layed, be lay ing.

belaying pin, pin around which ropes can be wound and fastened.

Belaying pins with ropes on them belch (belch), 1. throw out gas from the stomach through the mouth. 2. throw out with force: The volcano belched fire, smoke, and ashes. 3. belching. 1,2 v., 3 n.

bel dam or bel dame (bel'dəm), 1. an old woman. 2. an ugly old woman; hag. n.

be lea guer (bi lē'gər), 1. besiege. 2. surround. v.

Be lém (bə lēm'), seaport in NE Brazil. 225,000. n.

Bel fast (bel'fast), seaport and capital of Northern Ireland, on an arm of the Irish Sea. 444,000. See the map under Ireland. n.

bel fry (bel'frē), 1. tower for a bell or bells. 2. room, cupola, or turret in which a bell or bells may be hung. n., pl. bel fries.

Bel gian (bel'jən), 1. native or inhabitant of Belgium. 2. of or having to do with Belgium or its people. 1 n., 2 adj.

Belgian Congo, former Belgian colony in central Africa, now the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

Belgian hare, one of a breed of large, reddish-brown rabbits.

Belgium (bel'jəm), a small country in W Europe. 9,129,000 pop.; 11,775 sq. mi. Capital: Brussels. n.

Bel grade (bel'grād or bel'grād'), capital of Yugoslavia, on the Danube River. 542,000. n.

Be li al (bē'lē əl), the devil. n.

be lie (bi lī'), 1. give a false idea of; misrepresent: Her frown belied her usual good nature. 2. show to be false; prove to be mistaken. 3. fail to come up to; disappoint: He stole again, and so belied our hopes. v., be lied, be-lying.

be lief (bi lēf'), 1. what is held true; thing believed; opinion: the beliefs of one's church. 2. acceptance as true or real: belief in ghosts. 3. faith; trust: He expressed his belief in the boy's honesty. 4. religious faith: What is your belief? n.

be lieve (bi lēv'), 1. think (something) is true or real: We all believe that the earth is round. 2. have faith (in a person or thing); trust. 3. think (somebody) tells the truth: His friends believe him. 4. have religious belief. 5. think; suppose: I believe we are going to give a play at graduation. v., be lieved, be liev ing. —be liev'a ble, adj.

be liev er (bi lēv'ər), 1. person who believes. 2. follower of some religion. n.

be like (bi lik'), Archaic. very likely; probably; perhaps. adv.

be lit tle (bi lit'l), 1. cause to seem little, unimportant, or less important; speak slightly of: Jealous people belittled the explorer's great discoveries. 2. make small. v., be lit tled, be lit tling. —be lit'tler, n.

Be lize (be lēz'), capital of British Honduras. 33,000. n.

bell (bel), 1. a hollow metal cup that makes a musical sound when struck by a clapper or hammer: Mother tinkles the little bell on the table when she wants the maid to bring more food. 2. sound of a bell. 3. stroke of a bell every half-hour to tell time on shipboard. 1 bell=12:30, 4:30, or 8:30; 2 bells=1:00, 5:00 or 9:00; and so on up to 8 bells=4:00, 8:00, or 12:00. 4. put a bell on. 5. anything shaped like a bell. 6. swell out like a bell. 1-3.5 n., 4,6 v. —bell'-like', adj.

Bel (bel), Alexander Graham Bell, 1847-1922, American scientist who invented the telephone. n.

bel la don na (bel'ə don'ə), 1. a poisonous plant of Europe with black berries and red, bell-shaped flowers. 2. drug made from this plant; atropine. n.

bell boy (bel'boi'), U.S. man or boy whose work is carrying hand baggage and doing errands for the guests of a hotel or club. n.

Belfry

bell buoy, buoy with a bell rung by the movement of the waves.

belle (bel), 1. a beautiful woman or girl. 2. the prettiest or most admired woman or girl: the belle of the ball. n.

Bel leau Wood (bel'ō), forest in N France; battle of World War I there in 1918.

Bel ler o phon (bə lēr'ə fon), in Greek legend, a hero who killed a dreadful monster with the help of the winged horse Pegasus. n.

belles-let tres (bel'let'rə), the finer forms of literature; literature as a fine art. n.pl.

bell flow er (bel'flou'ər), plant with bell-shaped flowers; campanula. n.

bell glass, a bell-shaped container or cover made of glass.

bell hop (bel'hop'), U.S. Slang. bellboy. n.

bel li cose (bel'ə kōs), warlike; fond of fighting. adj.

bel li cos i ty (bel'ə kos'ə tē), bellicose quality or attitude. n.

bel lig er ence (bə lij'ər əns), 1. being warlike; fondness for fighting. 2. fighting; war. n.

bel lig er en cy (bə lij'ər ən sē), 1. being a belligerent. 2. belligerence. n.

bel lig er ent (bə lij'ər ənt), 1. at war; engaged in war; fighting. 2. a nation or person at war. 3. having to do with nations or persons at war. 4. fond of fighting; warlike. 1,3,4 adj., 2 n. —bel lig'er ent ly, adv.

bell jar, bell-shaped container or cover made of glass.

bell man (bel'mən), town crier. n., pl. bell men.

bell low (bel'ō), 1. roar as a bull does. 2. a roar like a bull's. 3. shout loudly, angrily, or from pain. 4. make a loud, deep noise; roar. 5. any noise made by bellowing. 1,3,4 v., 2,5 n. —bell'low er, n.

bell lows (bel'ōz or bel'əs), 1. instrument for producing a strong current of air, used for blowing fires or sounding an organ. 2. the folding part of a camera, behind the lens. n. sing. or pl.

bell weth er (bel'wēth'ər), a male sheep that wears a bell and leads the flock. n.

bel ly (bel'ē), 1. the lower part of the human body that contains the stomach and bowels; abdomen. 2. the under part of an animal's body. 3. stomach: a full belly. 4. the bulging part of anything; hollow space in a bulging part: the belly of a sail. 5. swell out; bulge: The ship's sails belled in the wind. 1-4 n., pl. bel lies; 5 v., bel lied, bel ly ing.

be long (bi lōng'), have one's or its proper place: That book belongs on this shelf. v.

belong to, 1. be the property of: Does this cap belong to you? 2. be a part of; be connected with: That top belongs to my thermos bottle. 3. be a member of: Mary belongs to the Girl Scouts.

be long ings (bi lōng'inz), things that belong to a person; possessions. n.pl.

be lov ed (bi luv'id or bi luvd'), 1. dearly loved; dear. 2. person who is loved; darling. 1 adj., 2 n.

be low (bi lō'), 1. in a lower place; to a lower place: From the airplane we could see the fields below. 2. lower than; under: below the third floor. 3. less than; lower in rank or degree than: four degrees below freezing. 4. on a lower floor or deck; downstairs: The sailor went below. 5. unworthy of: below contempt. 6. on earth. 7. in hell. 8. after in a book or article: See the note below. 1,4,6-8 adv., 2,3,5 prep.

Bel shaz zar (bel shaz'ər), in the Bible, the last king of Babylon. Daniel 5. n.

belt (belt), 1. a strip of leather, cloth, etc., worn around the body to hold in or support clothes or weapons. 2. any broad strip or band: a belt of trees. 3. put a belt Bellows. Valve closes when sides are pushed together.

around. 4. fasten on with a belt. 5. beat with a belt. 6. hit: Larry belted the ball completely out of sight. 7. region having distinctive characteristics: The cotton belt is the region where cotton is grown. 8. an endless band that moves the wheels and pulleys it passes over: a lathe belt. 1,2,7,8 n., 3-6 v.

below the belt, 1. foul; unfair. 2. foully; unfairly.

tighten one's belt, be more thrifty.

belt ed (bel'tid), 1. having a belt. 2. wearing a special belt as a sign of honor. 3. marked by a belt of color: A belted kingfisher has a reddish-brown band across its white breast. adj.

belt ing (bel'ting), 1. material for making belts. 2. belts. n.

belt line, railroad, bus line, road, etc., that makes a circuit around a city or special area.

be lu ga (bə lū'gə), 1. a large, white sturgeon of the Black Sea and the Caspian Sea. 2. a large, white dolphin that lives in arctic seas. n.

be mire (bi mīr'), 1. make dirty with mud. 2. sink in mud. v., be mired, be mir ing.

be moan (bi mōn'), moan about; bewail. v.

be muse (bi mūz'), confuse; bewilder; stupefy. v., be mused, be mus ing.

Be na res (bə nā'rēz), city in E India, on the Ganges River. It is a sacred city of the Hindus. 341,811. n.

bench (bench), 1. a long seat, usually of wood or stone. 2. worktable of a carpenter, or of any worker with tools and materials. 3. seat where judges sit in a law court. 4. judge or group of judges sitting in a law court. 5. position as a judge. 6. law court. 7. a raised level tract of land. 8. furnish with benches. 9. assign a seat on a bench. 10. take (a player) out of a game. 1-7 n., 8-10 v.

on the bench, 1. sitting in a law court as a judge. 2. sitting among the substitute players.

bench dog, dog exhibited at dog shows.

bench mark, mark made on a rock, post, etc., in surveying. It is used as a starting point or guide in a line of levels for the determination of altitudes.

bench warrant, a written order from a judge or law court to arrest a person.

bend (bend), 1. make, be, or become curved or crooked: He bent the iron bar as if it had been made of rubber. The branch began to bend as I climbed along it. 2. part that is not straight; curve; turn: There is a sharp bend in the road here. 3. turn in a certain direction; direct (mind or effort): She bent her mind to the new work. 4. stoop; bow: She bent to the ground and picked up a stone (v.). Make a bend from the waist (n.). 5. force to submit. 6. submit: A slave must bend to his master's will. 7. fasten (a sail, rope, etc.). 8. knot for tying two ropes together or tying a rope to something else. 1,3-7 v., bent or (Archaic) bend ed, bend ing; 2,4,8 n. the bends, U.S. Informal. cramps caused by a sudden change from a higher to a lower air pressure.

bend ed (ben'did), Archaic. 1. bent. 2. bent, a pt. and a pp. of bend. 1 adj., 2 v.

be neath (bi nēth'), 1. below; underneath: What you drop will fall upon the spot beneath. 2. below; under; lower than: The dog sat beneath the tree. 3. unworthy of; worthy not even of: A traitor is so low that he is beneath contempt. 1 adv., 2,3 prep.

ben e dic ite (ben'ə dik'sə tē), 1. Latin word that means Bless you! or Bless us! or Bless me! 2. invocation of a blessing. 1 interj., 2 n.

Ben e dic ite (ben'ə dik'sə tē), hymn of praise to God. n.

ben e dict (ben'ə dikt), 1. a recently married man, especially one who was a bachelor for a long time. 2. a married man. n.

Ben e dict (ben'ə dikt), Saint, 480?-543?, Italian founder of the first order of monks, called the Benedictine order. n.

Ben e dic tine (ben'ə dik'tin, ben'ə dik'tēn, or ben'ə dik'tin for 1,3; ben'ə dik'tēn or ben'ə dik'tēn for 2), 1. monk or nun following the rules of Saint Benedict or the order founded by him. 2. a kind of liqueur. 3. of Saint Benedict or a religious order following his rules. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

ben e dic tion (ben'ə dik'shən), 1. the asking of God's blessings at the end of a church service. 2. blessing. n.

ben e fac tion (ben'ə fak'shən), 1. a doing good; kind act. 2. benefit conferred; gift for charity; help given for any good purpose. n.

ben e fac tor (ben'ə fak'tər or ben'ə fak'tər), person who has given money or kindly help. n.

ben e fac tress (ben'ə fak'tris or ben'ə fak'tris), woman who has given money or kindly help. n.

ben e fice (ben'ə fis), a permanent office or position created by proper ecclesiastical authority and consisting of a sacred duty and the income that goes with it. n.

be nef i cence (bə nef'ə sns), 1. kindness; doing good. 2. a kindly act; gift. n.

be nef i cent (bə nef'ə snt), kind; doing good. adj.

ben e fi cial (ben'ə fish'al), favorable; helpful; productive of good: Sunshine and moisture are beneficial to plants. adj. —ben'e fi'cial ly, adv.

ben e fi ci ar y (ben'ə fish'ē er'ē or ben'ə fish'ər ē), 1. person who receives benefit: All the children are beneficiaries of the new playground. 2. person who receives money or property from an insurance policy, a will, etc. n., pl. ben e fi ci ar ies.

ben e fit (ben'ə fit), 1. anything which is for the good of a person or thing; advantage: Universal peace would be of great benefit to the world. 2. do good to; be good for: Rest will benefit a sick person. 3. receive good; profit: He benefited by the medicine. He will benefit from the new way of doing business. 4. act of kindness; favor. 5. money paid to the sick, disabled, etc. 6. performance at the theater, a game, etc., to raise money which goes to a special person or persons or to a worthy cause. 1,4-6 n., 2,3 v., ben e fit ed, ben e fit ing.

benefit of clergy, 1. privilege of being tried in church courts instead of regular courts. 2. services or approval of the church.

Ben e lux (ben'ə luks), the economic union of Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg that was organized in 1948. n.

be nev o lence (bə nev'ə ləns), 1. good will; kindly feeling. 2. act of kindness; something good that is done; generous gift. n.

be nev o lent (bə nev'ə lənt), kindly; charitable. adj. —be nev'o lent ly, adv.

Ben gal (beng gô'), 1. a former province of NE India now divided into West Bengal, a part of the Republic of India, and East Bengal, a part of Pakistan. 2. having to do with Bengal; from Bengal: a Bengal tiger. 3. Bay of, bay between India and Burma, part of the Indian Ocean. See India for map. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

Ben ga lese (beng gô'lēz'), 1. native of Bengal. 2. of Bengal, its people, or their language. 1 n., pl. Ben ga lese; 2 adj.

Ben ga li (beng gô'lē), 1. of Bengal, its people, or their language. 2. native of Bengal. 3. language of Bengal. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Ben gha zi (beng gâ'zē), one of the two capitals of Libya. 80,000. n.

be night ed (bi nīt'id), 1. not knowing right and wrong; ignorant. 2. overtaken by night; being in darkness. adj.

be nign (bi nīn'), 1. gentle; kindly: a benign old lady. 2. favorable; mild: a benign climate. 3. doing no harm: A benign swelling or tumor can usually be cured. adj. —be nign'ly, adv.

ben igh nan cy (bi nīg'nən sē), benignant quality or manner. n.

be níg nant (bi níg'nənt), 1. kindly; gracious: a benignant ruler. 2. favorable; beneficial; benign. adj.
—be níg'nant ly, adv.

ben íg ní ty (bi níg'nə tē), 1. kindness; graciousness. 2. a kind act; favor. n., pl. be níg ní ties.

ben í son (ben'ə zn or ben'ə sn), blessing. n.

Ben ja mín (ben'jə mən), 1. in the Bible, the youngest and favorite son of Jacob. 2. one of the twelve tribes of Israel. n.

Ben nett (ben'it), Arnold, 1867-1931, English novelist. n.

Ben Ne vis (ben nē'vis or ben nev'is), mountain in W Scotland, the highest in Great Britain. 4406 ft.

Ben ning ton (ben'ing tən), town in SW Vermont near which the Americans won an important victory over the British in 1777. n.

bent (bent), 1. pt. and pp. of bend: He bent the wire. 2. not straight; curved; crooked: The farmer's back was bent from years of toil. 3. strongly inclined; determined: Tom is bent on being a doctor. 4. inclination; tendency: He has a decided bent for drawing. 1 v., 2, 3 adj., 4 n.

bent (bent), 1. a stiff, wiry grass that grows on sandy or waste land. 2. Archaic. heath; moor. n.

Ben ton (bent'n), Thomas Hart, born in 1889, American painter. n.

be numb (bi num'), 1. make numb. 2. stupefy; deaden. v.

Ben ze drine (ben'zə drēn), Trademark. a drug that causes wakefulness. n.

ben zene (ben'zēn or ben zēn'), a colorless liquid that vaporizes and is set on fire easily. It is obtained chiefly from coal tar and is used for removing grease and in making dyes. n.

ben zine (ben'zēn or ben zēn'), a colorless liquid consisting of a mixture of hydrocarbons obtained in distilling petroleum, used in cleaning and dyeing and as a motor fuel. It vaporizes and is set on fire easily. n.

ben zo ate (ben'zō āt or ben'zō it), salt or ester of benzoic acid. Benzoate of soda is used in foods to preserve them. n.

ben zo ic acid (ben zō'ik), acid occurring in benzoin, cranberries, etc., that is used as an antiseptic or as a food preservative.

ben zo in (ben'zō in or ben'zoin), 1. a fragrant resin obtained from certain species of trees of Java, Sumatra, etc., used in perfume and medicine. 2. substance somewhat like camphor made from this resin. n.

ben zol (ben'zōl or ben'zol), 1. benzene. 2. liquid containing about 70 per cent of benzene and 20 to 30 per cent of toluene. It is obtained from coal tar and is used in making dyes. n.

Be o wulf (bā'ə wulf), 1. an Old English epic poem in alliterative verse, probably composed in England about 700 A.D. 2. hero of this poem. n.

be queath (bi kwēth' or bi kwēth'), 1. give or leave (property, etc.) by a will: The father bequeathed the farm to his son. 2. hand down to posterity: One age bequeaths its civilization to the next. v.

be queath al (bikwēth'əl), act of bequeathing. n.

be quest (bi kwest'), 1. something bequeathed; legacy: Mr. Hart died and left a bequest of ten thousand dollars to the church. 2. act of bequeathing. n.

be rate (bi rāt'), scold sharply. v., be rat ed, be rat ing.

Ber ber (bēr'bər), 1. member of a race living in N Africa, west of Egypt. 2. their language. n.

ber ceuse (bār sœz'), French. lullaby. n.

be reave (bi rēv'), 1. deprive (of) ruthlessly; rob: bereave of hope. 2. leave desolate: People are bereaved by the death of relatives and friends. v., be reaved or be reft, be reav ing.

be reaved (bi rēvd'), deprived (of) by death: Bereaved of their mother at an early age, the children learned to take care of themselves. adj.

be reave ment (bi rēv'mənt), 1. bereaved condition: Everyone sympathized with her in her bereavement. 2. loss (of a relative or friend) by death. n.

be reft (bi rēft'), 1. bereaved; deprived: Bereft of hope and friends, the old man led a wretched life. 2. left desolate. 3. a pt. and a pp. of bereave: He was bereft by the loss of his son. 1, 2 adj., 3 v.

be ret (bə rā' or ber'ā), a soft, round woolen cap. Berets are worn by European sailors and peasants. n.

berg (bērg), iceberg. n.

Ber gen (bēr'gən), seaport in SW Norway. 115,000. n.

Ber ge rac (bār'zhə rāk), Cyrano de, 1619-1655, French dramatist and poet, hero of a play by Rostand. n.

be rib boned (bi rib'ənd), trimmed with many ribbons. adj.

ber i ber i (ber'ē ber'ē), disease affecting the nerves, accompanied by weakness, loss of weight, and wasting away. It occurs in tropical countries and is probably caused by lack of vitamin B in the diet. n.

Ber ing Sea (bir'ing or bār'ing), sea in the N Pacific, between Alaska and Siberia. See Aleutian Islands for map.

Bering Strait, strait between the Bering Sea and the Arctic Ocean, 36 mi. wide Ber ke ley (bērk'lē), city in W California. 111,000. n.

ber ke li um (bēr kē'lē əm), a radioactive element produced by the cyclotron at the University of California. Symbol: Bk n.

Berk shire Hills (bērk'shir or bērk'shər), Berkshire-shires.

Berk shires (bērk'shirz or bērk'shərz), range of hills in W Massachusetts. The highest peak is 3505 feet. n.pl.

Ber lin (bēr lin'), former capital of Germany, pop. 3,343,000, now divided into West Berlin and East Berlin, capital of East Germany. n.

ber lin (bēr lin' or bērlin), a four-wheeled carriage with two hooded seats and a platform in the rear for footmen. n.

Berlin

Ber mu da (bēr mū'də), group of British islands in the Atlantic, 580 miles east of North Carolina. 44,000 pop.; 19 sq. mi. Capital: Hamilton. n.

Bermuda onion, a large, mild onion grown in Bermuda, Texas, and California.

Ber mu das (bēr mū'dəz), Bermuda. n.pl.

Bern or Berne (bērn or bārn), capital of Switzerland, in the W part. 164,000. n.

Ber nard (bēr'nərd or bār'nərd'), Saint, 923-1008, French monk who founded monasteries at two mountain passes in the Alps. n.

ber ry (ber'ē), 1. a small, juicy fruit with many seeds. Strawberries and raspberries are berries. 2. gather or pick berries. 3. a dry seed or kernel. Coffee is made from the berries of the coffee plant. 4. a simple fruit with the seeds in the pulp and a skin or rind. Botanists classify grapes, tomatoes, currants, and bananas as berries. 1, 3, 4 n., pl. ber ries; 2 v., ber ried, ber ry ing.

ber serk (bēr'serk or bēr'serk'), in a frenzy. adj., adv.

ber serk er (bēr'sēr kər), a fierce Norse warrior. n.

berth (bērth), 1. place to sleep on a ship, train, or airplane. 2. a ship's place at a wharf. 3. place for a ship to anchor conveniently or safely. 4. appointment; position; job: My brother has a berth as swimming instructor for the summer. 5. put in a berth; provide with a berth. 6. have or occupy a berth. 1-4 n., 5, 6 v.

give a wide berth to, keep well away from.

ber tha (bēr'thə), a woman's wide collar that often extends over the shoulders. n.

Ber til lon system (bēr'tə lon), system of identifying persons, especially criminals, by a record of individual measurements and physical peculiarities. Fingerprinting is now the most important part of it.

Girl wearing a beret

Berwyn (bér'win), city in NE Illinois, near Chicago. 54,000. n.

beryl (ber'əl), a very hard mineral, usually green or greenish-blue, a silicate of beryllium and aluminum. Emeralds and aquamarines are beryls. n.

beryllium (bəril'ē əm), a rare metallic chemical element used in various alloys. Symbol: Be. n.

be seech (bi sēch'), ask earnestly; beg. v., be sought or be seached, be seeching.

be seeching (bi sēch'ing), that beseeches. adj. —be seech'ing ly, adv.

be seem (bi sēm'), be proper for; be fitting to; suit: It does not beseem you to leave your friend without help. v.

be set (bi set'), 1. attack on all sides; attack: In the swamp we were beset by mosquitoes. 2. surround; hem in: beset by enemies. 3. set; stud: Her bracelet was beset with gems. v., be set, be setting.

be setting (bi set'ing), habitually attacking: Laziness is a loafer's besetting sin. adj.

be shrew (bi shrū'), Archaic. call down evil upon; curse mildly. v.

be side (bi sīd'), 1. by the side of; near; close to: Grass grows beside the brook. 2. in addition to: Other men beside ourselves were helping. 3. compared with: Nell seems dull beside her sister. 4. away from; aside from: That question is beside the point. 5. besides. 1-5 prep., 5 adv.

beside oneself, out of one's mind; crazy.

be sides (bi sīdz'), 1. also; moreover; further: He didn't want to quarrel; besides, he had come to enjoy himself. 2. in addition: We tried two other ways besides. 3. in addition to; over and above: The picnic was attended by others besides our own club members. 4. otherwise; else: He is ignorant of politics, whatever he may know besides. 5. except; other than: We spoke of no one besides you. 1,2,4 adv., 3,5 prep.

be siege (bi sēj'), 1. make a long-continued attempt to get possession of (a place) by armed force; surround and try to capture: For ten years the Greeks besieged the city of Troy. 2. crowd around: Hundreds of admirers besieged the famous aviator. 3. overwhelm with requests, questions, etc.: During the flood, the Red Cross was besieged with calls for help. v., be sieged, be sieging.

be sieger (bi sēj'ər), person who besieges. n.

be smear (bi smīr'), smear over. v.

be smirch (bi smērč'), make dirty; soil; sully. v.

be som (bē'zəm), broom made of twigs. n.

be sot ted (bi sot'id), 1. foolish; infatuated. 2. stupefied. 3. intoxicated. adj.

be sought (bi sōt'), a pt. and a pp. of beseech. They besought our help. v.

be spake (bi spāk'), Archaic. bespoke, a pt. of bespeak. v.

be span gle (bi spang'gl), adorn with spangles or anything like them. v., be span gled, be span gling.

be spat ter (bi spat'ər), 1. spatter all over; soil by spattering. 2. slander. v. —be spat'ter er, n.

be speak (bi spēk'), 1. engage in advance; order; reserve: We have bespoken two tickets for the new play. 2. show; indicate: A neat appearance bespeaks care. 3. Poetic or Archaic. speak to; address. v., be spoke or (Archaic) be spake, be spo ken or be spoke, be speaking.

be spec ta cled (bi spēk'tə kld), wearing glasses. adj.

be spoke (bi spēk'), a pt. and a pp. of bespeak. We bespoke our tickets early. v.

be spre nt (bi spre nt'), Poetic. sprinkled; strewed; scattered. adj.

be sprin kle (bi spring'kl), sprinkle all over. v., be sprin kled, be sprin kling.

Bes se mer (bes'ə mər), Sir Henry, 1813-1898, English engineer who invented the Bessemer process for making steel. n.

Bessemer process, method of making steel by burning out carbon and impurities in molten iron with a blast of air.

best (best), 1. of the most desirable, valuable, superior, etc.: the best food to eat. 2. of the greatest advantage, usefulness, etc.: the best thing to do. 3. largest: the best part of the day. 4. chief: a best seller. 5. in the most excellent way; most thoroughly: Who reads best? 6. in the highest degree: I like this book best. 7. the best thing, state, or person: We want the best. He is the best in the class. 8. utmost: I did my best to finish the work on time. 9. Informal. outdo; defeat. 1-4 adj., superlative of good; 5,6 adv., superlative of well; 7,8 n., 9 v. at best, under the most favorable circumstances. get the best of, defeat.

had best, should; ought to; will be wise to.

make the best of, do as well as possible with.

be stead (bi sted'), 1. help; assist; serve. 2. placed; situated. 1 v., be stead ed, be stead ed or be stead, be stead ing; 2 adj.

bes tial (bes'chal or best'yəl), 1. beastly; brutal; vile. 2. of beasts. adj. —bes'tial ly, adv.

bes ti al i ty (bes'chē əl'ə tē or bes'tē əl'ə tē), bestial character or conduct. n.

be stir (bi stēr'), stir up; rouse to action; exert. v., be stirred, be stir ring.

best man, the chief attendant of the bridegroom at a wedding.

be stow (bi stō'), 1. give (something) as a gift; give; confer. 2. make use of; apply. 3. Archaic. put safely; put; place. 4. Archaic. find quarters for; lodge. v.

be stow al (bi stō'al), act of bestowing. n.

be strad dle (bi strād'l), bestride; straddle. v., be-strad dled, be strad dling.

be strew (bi strū'), 1. strew; scatter; sprinkle: The children bestrewed the path with flowers. 2. strew (things) around; scatter about. 3. lie scattered over. v., be-strewed, be strewed or be strown, be strew ing.

be strewn (bi strūn'), 1. scattered about. 2. a pp. of bestrew. 1 adj., 2 v.

be strid (bi strīd'), a pt. and a pp. of bestride. v.

be strid den (bi strīd'n), a pp. of bestride. v.

be stride (bi strīd'), 1. get on or sit on (something) with one leg on each side. One can bestride a horse, a chair, or a fence. 2. stand over with one leg on each side. 3. stride across; step over. v., be strode or be-strid, be strid den or be strid, be strid ing.

be strode (bi strōd'), a pt. of bestride. He bestrode his horse. v.

best seller, 1. anything, especially a book, that has a very large sale. 2. author of a book with a very large sale.

bet (bet), 1. promise (money or a certain thing) to another if he is right and you are wrong: I bet you two cents I won't pass this test. 2. Informal. be very sure: I bet you are wrong about that. 3. a pledge or promise to give some money or a certain thing to another if he is right and you are wrong: I made a bet that I wouldn't pass. 4. the money or thing promised: I did pass; so I lost my bet (lost my two cents). 1,2 v., bet or bet ted, bet ting; 3,4 n.

be ta (bā'tə or bē'tə), 1. the second letter of the Greek alphabet (B, β). 2. the second of a series. n.

be take (bi tāk'), Betake oneself means: 1. go: betake oneself to the mountains. 2. try doing; apply (oneself): He betook himself to hard study. v., be took, be tak en, be tak ing.

be tak en (bi tāk'ən), pp. of betake. He has betaken himself away. v.

beta particle, an electron in a stream of electrons.

beta rays, stream of electrons from radium and other radioactive substances.

be ta tron (bā'tā tron or bē'tā tron), apparatus in which electrons are accelerated to high speeds by magnetic induction. n.

be tel (bēt'l), kind of climbing pepper plant of the East Indies. People in Asia chew its leaves. n.

Be tel geuse (bēt'l jüz or bet'l jœz), a very large reddish star in the constellation Orion. n.

betel nut, the orange-colored nut of a tropical Asiatic palm tree (betel palm).

bête noire (bāt' nwär'), thing or person especially dreaded or detested.

Beth a ny (beth'ə nē), a village near Jerusalem, in NW Jordan. See Nazareth for map. n.

beth el (beth'əl), 1. a holy place. 2. church or chapel for seamen. n.

Beth el (beth'əl), ancient town near Jerusalem, mentioned in the Bible. See Nazareth for map. n.

be think (bi think'), think about; call to mind. v., be thought, be think ing.

bethink oneself, 1. consider; reflect. 2. remember.

Beth le hem (beth'lē əm or beth'lə hem), 1. the birthplace of Jesus, a town in Jordan, six miles south of Jerusalem. See Nazareth for map. 2. city in E Pennsylvania. 75,000. n.

be thought (bi thôt'), pt. and pp. of bethink. I be-thought myself of my work. v.

be tide (bi tid'), 1. happen to: Woe betide you if you hurt my dog. 2. happen: No matter what betides, the family will hold together. v., be tid ed, be tid ing.

be times (bi timz'), 1. early: He rose betimes in the morning. 2. soon; before it is too late. adv.

be to ken (bi tō'kən), be a sign or token of; indicate; show: His smile betokens his satisfaction. Dark clouds be-token a storm. v.

be took (bi tūk'), pt. of betake. He betook himself home as soon as school was out. v.

be tray (bi trā'), 1. give away to the enemy: The traitor betrayed his country. 2. be unfaithful to: She betrayed her promises. 3. mislead; deceive. 4. give away (a secret); disclose unintentionally. 5. reveal; show: Harry's wet shoes betrayed the fact that he had not worn his rubbers. v. —be tray'er, n.

be tray al (bi trā'əl), a betraying or being betrayed. n.

be troth (bi trōth' or bi trôth'), promise in marriage; engage: James and Ida are now betrothed. He be-trothed his daughter to a rich man. v.

be troth al (bi trōth'əl or bi trôth'əl), engagement to be married. n.

be trothed (bi trōthd' or bi trôtht'), person engaged to be married: James' betrothed was a girl named Ida. n.

bet ter (bet'ər), 1. more desirable, useful, etc., than another: a better plan. 2. more desirably, usefully, etc.; in a more excellent way: Do better another time. 3. make or become better; improve: We can better that work by being more careful. 4. a better thing or state: the better of two roads. 5. of superior quality: better bread. 6. do better than; surpass: The other class cannot better our grades. 7. less sick: The sick child is better today. 8. larger: Four days is the better part of a week. 9. in a higher degree; more: I know her better than I know anyone else. 1,5,7,8 adj., comparative of good; 2,9 adv., comparative of well; 3,6 v., 4 n.

bettors, one's superiors: Listen to the advice of your betters.

better off, in a better condition.

get or have the better of, be superior to; defeat.

had better, should; ought to; will be wise to: I had better go before it rains.

think better of, think over and change one's mind.

bet ter² or bet tor (bet'ər), person who bets. n.

bet ter ment (bet'ər mēnt), improvement. n.

be tween (bi twēn'), 1. in the space or time separating: Many cities lie between New York and Chicago. There are no more holidays between now and the end of school. 2. in the intervening space or time; in an intermediate position or relation: We could not see the moon, for a cloud came between. 3. in the range or part separating: shades between pink and red. She earned between ten and twelve dollars. 4. from one to the other of; joining; connecting: a link between two parts, a highway between cities. 5. involving; concerning; having to do with: war between two countries. 6. by the combined action of: They caught twelve fish between them. 7. in the combined possession of: They own the property between them. 1,3-7 prep., 2 adv.

between you and me, as a secret; confidentially: Don't tell anyone; this is between you and me.

in between, 1. in the middle. 2. in the middle of.

be twixt (bi twikst'), between. prep., adv.

betwixt and between, in the middle; neither one nor the other.

Bev (bev), billion electron volts (used as a measure of energy in nuclear physics). n.

bev a tron (bev'ə tron), a high-energy cyclotron. n.

bev el (bev'l), 1. a sloping edge.

There is a bevel on the frame for a picture, on a piece of plate glass, etc. 2. cut a square edge to a sloping edge; make slope: This mirror has beveled edges. 3. instrument or tool for drawing angles or for adjusting the surfaces of work to a particular angle. 4. slanting; oblique. 1,3 n., 2 v., beveled, bev el ing or *esp. Brit. beveled, bev el ling; 4 *adj.

bev er age (bev'ər ij or bev'rij), a liquid used or prepared for drinking. Milk, tea, coffee, beer, and wine are beverages. n.

bev y (bev'ē), a small group: a bevy of quail, a bevy of girls. n., pl. be vies.

be wail (bi wāl'), mourn; weep; weep for; complain of: The little girl was bewailing the loss of her doll. v.

be ware (bi wār'), be on one's guard against; be careful: Beware! danger is here. Beware the dog! v.

be wil der (bi wil'dər), confuse completely; puzzle; perplex: The little girl was bewildered by the crowds. Some hard problems in arithmetic bewildered me. v.

be wil der ing (bi wil'dər ing), perplexing; puzzling; confusing. adj. —be wil'der ing ly, adv.

be wil der ment (bi wil'dər mēnt), a bewildered condition; complete confusion; perplexity. n.

be witch (bi wich'), 1. put under a spell; use magic on: The wicked magician bewitched the princess, and she fell into a long sleep. 2. charm; delight; fascinate: We were all bewitched by our pretty little cousin. v.

be witch ed (bi wicht'), 1. under the influence of magic. 2. charmed; delighted; fascinated. adj.

be witch ing (bi wich'ing), fascinating; delightful; charming. adj. —be witch'ing ly, adv.

be wray (bi rā'), Archaic. reveal; make known. v.

bey (bā), 1. governor of a Turkish province. 2. a Turkish title of respect for persons of rank. 3. native ruler of Tunis. n., pl. beys.

be yond (bi yond'), 1. on or to the farther side of: He lives beyond the sea. 2. farther on than: The school is beyond the last house. 3. farther away: Beyond were the hills. 4. later than: They stayed beyond the time set. 5. out of the reach, range, or understanding of: The dying man was beyond help. The meaning of this story is beyond him. 6. more than; exceeding: The price of the suil was beyond what he could pay. The day at the beach was beyond all we had hoped. 7. in addition to; besides: I will pay nothing beyond the stated price. 1,2,4-7 prep., 3 adv. the beyond or the great beyond, life after death.

bez el (bez'l), 1. slope; sloping edge. 2. the sloping sides or faces of a cut jewel. 3. a grooved ring that holds a jewel in its setting. n.

bg., bag. pl. bgs.

bhang (bang), 1. variety of hemp growing in India. 2. preparation of dried hemp leaves and seed cases smoked or eaten as a narcotic and intoxicant. n.

Bhu tan (bū tən'), country between Tibet and NE India. It is a protectorate of India. 700,000 pop.; 18,000 sq. mi. Capital: Thimbu. n.

Bevel (def. 3)

bi-, prefix meaning:

1. twice, as in biannual.
2. doubly, as in bipinnate.
3. two, as in bicuspid.
4. having two, as in bicarbonate.

Bi, bismuth.

Bi a fra (bē ā'frā), country in W Africa, until 1967 a region of Nigeria. 12,500,000 pop.; 29,484 sq. mi. Capital: Enugu. n.

bi an nu al (bī an'yū əl), occurring twice a year: Our doctor recommends a biannual visit to the dentist. adj.

bi an nu al ly (bī an'yū əl ē), twice a year. adv.

bi as (bī'ās), 1. a slanting or oblique line. Cloth is cut on the bias when it is cut diagonally across the weave.

2. slanting across the threads of cloth; oblique; diagonal. 3. obliquely. 4. opinion before there is reason for it; prejudice; a leaning of the mind. 5. influence, usually unfairly. 1,4 n., 2 adj., 3 adv., 5 v., bi ased, bi as ing or esp. Brit. bi as sed, bi as sing.

bi ased (bī'æst), favoring one side too much; prejudiced. adj.

bi ax i al (bī āk'sē əl), having two axes. adj.

bib (bib), 1. cloth worn under the chin by babies and small children to protect their clothing. 2. part of an apron above the waist. n.

bib and tucker, Informal. clothes.

bib cock (bib'kok'), faucet having a nozzle bent downward. n.

Bi ble (bī'bl), 1. the collection of sacred writings of the Christian religion, comprising the Old and New Testaments. 2. the Old Testament in the form received by the Jews. 3. the sacred writings of any religion. n.

bi ble (bī'bl), any book accepted as an authority. n.

Bib li cal or bib li cal (bib'lē əl), 1. of the Bible. 2. according to the Bible. 3. in the Bible. adj.

—Bib li cal ly, bib li cal ly, adv.

bib li og ra pher (bib'lē ōgrə'fər), expert in bibliography. n.

bib li o graph ic (bib'lē ə graf'ik), bibliographical. adj.

bib li o graph i cal (bib'lē ə graf'ə əl), of bibliography. adj. —bib li o graph i cal ly, adv.

bib li og ra phy (bib'lē ōgrə'fē), 1. list of books, articles, etc., about a subject or person. 2. list of books, articles, etc., by a certain author. 3. study of the authorship, editions, dates, etc., of books, articles, etc. n., pl. bib li og ra phies.

bib li o ma ni a (bib'lē ō mā'nē ə), craze for collecting books. n.

bib li o ma ni ac (bib'lē ō mā'nē ək), person who has a craze for collecting books. n.

bib li o phile (bib'lē ə fil), lover of books, especially one who likes to collect books. n.

bib u lous (bib'yə ləs), 1. fond of drinking alcoholic liquor. 2. absorbent. adj.

bi cam er al (bī kam'ər əl), having or consisting of two legislative assemblies: The Congress of the United States is bicameral; it has both the Senate and the House of Representatives. adj.

bi car bo nate (bī kār'bə nit or bī kār'bə nāt), salt of carbonic acid that contains a base and hydrogen. n.

bicarbonate of soda, a white, alkaline powder used in cooking and medicine; sodium bicarbonate.

bi cen te nar y (bī sen'tə ner'ē or bī sen'ten'ər ē), 1. having to do with a period of 200 years. 2. period of 200 years. 3. a 200th anniversary. 4. its celebration. 1 adj., 2-4 n., pl. bi cen te nar ies.

bi cen ten ni al (bī sen'ten'ē əl), 1. having to do with a period of 200 years. 2. recurring every 200 years. 3. a 200th anniversary. 4. its celebration. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

bi ceps (bī'seps), any muscle having two heads or origins: 1. the large muscle in the front part of the upper arm. 2. the large muscle in the back of the thigh. n.

bi chlo rid (bī klō'rid), bichloride. n.

bi chlo ride (bī klō'rid), 1. compound containing two atoms of chlorine combined with another element or radical. 2. bichloride of mercury. n.

bichloride of mercury, an extremely poisonous, white substance, used in solution as an antiseptic, in medicine, and in dyeing.

bick er (bik'ər), 1. quarrel. 2. babble; patter. 3. flash; flicker. 1-3 v., 1,2 n.

bi con cave (bī kon'kāv or bī'kon kāv'), concave on both sides. adj.

bi con vex (bī kon'veks or bī'kon veks'), convex on both sides. adj.

bi cus pid (bī kus'pid), 1. a double-pointed tooth. A human adult has eight bicuspid. See incisor for picture. 2. having two points. 1 n., 2 adj.

bi cy cle (bī'sə kl or bī'sik'l), 1. a metal frame with two wheels, handles for steering, and a seat for the rider. An ordinary bicycle has pedals for pushing; a motor bicycle has an engine. 2. ride a bicycle. 1 n., 2 v., bi cy cled, bi cy cling. —bi'cy cler, n.

bi cy clist (bī'sə klist or bī'sik'list), bicycle rider. n.

bid (bid), 1. command: The captain bids his men go forward. Do as I bid you. 2. invite: Our friends gave us strawberries and bade us come again in apple time. 3. a bidding. 4. say; tell: His friends came to bid him good-bye. 5. offer: She bid five dollars for the table. He then bid $6. 6. an offer. 7. amount offered: My bid was $7. 8. offer a price; state a price: Several companies will bid for the contract. 9. price at which one says one can do a certain piece of work: Our bid for building the bridge was $300,000. 10. proclaim; declare: He bade defiance to them all. 11. state as what one proposes to make or to win in some card game. 12. amount bid in a card game. 13. an attempt to secure, achieve, etc.: He made a bid for our sympathy. 14. Informal. an invitation. 1,2,4,5,8,10,11 v., bade, bad or bid, bid den or bid, bid ding (for 1,2,4,10), bid, bid ding (for 5,8,11); 3,6,7,9,12-14 n.

bid fair, seem likely; have a good chance: The plan bids fair to succeed.

bid den (bid'n), 1. a pp. of bid: Twelve guests were bidden to the feast. 2. invited. 1 v., 2 adj.

bid der (bid'ər), 1. person who bids. 2. person who offers to pay a certain price at an auction. n.

bid ding (bid'ing), 1. command. 2. invitation. 3. offers at an auction. 4. in card games, bids collectively. n.

do one's bidding, obey one.

bid dy (bid'ē), hen. n., pl. bid dies.

bide (bid), Archaic except in idiom. 1. dwell; abide. 2. continue; wait. 3. wait for. 4. bear; endure; suffer. v., bode or bid ed, bid ed, bid ing.

bide one's time, wait for a good chance.

bi en ni al (bī en'ē əl), 1. of plants, lasting two years. 2. plant that lives two years. Carrots and onions are biennials. 3. occurring every two years. 4. event that occurs every two years. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

bi en ni al ly (bī en'ē əl ē), once in two years. adv.

bier (bir), a movable stand on which a coffin or dead body is placed. n.

bi fo cal (bī fō'kl), 1. having two focuses. Bifocal glasses have two parts: the upper part for far vision; the lower for near vision. 2. bifocal lens. 1 adj., 2 n.

bi fo cals (bī fō'klz), pair of glasses having bifocal lenses. n.pl.

bi fur cate (bī'fər kāt or bī fēr'kāt for 1; bī'fər kāt or bī fēr'kit for 2), 1. divide into two branches. 2. divided into two branches; forked. 1 v., bi fur cat ed, bi fur cat ing; 2 adj.

bi fur ca tion (bī'fər kā'shən), 1. a splitting into two parts. 2. place where the split occurs. n.

big (big), 1. great in extent, amount, size, etc.; large: a big room, a big book, big business. 2. grown up: a big girl. 3. Informal. important; great: This is big news. 4. full; loud: a big voice. 5. boastful: big talk. 6. Informal. boastfully: He talks big. 1-5 adj., big ger, big-gest; 6 adv.

big a mist (big'ə mist), person guilty of bigamy. n.
big a mous (big'ə mäs), 1. guilty of bigamy. 2. involving bigamy. adj. —big'a mous ly, adv.

big a my (big'ə mē), having two wives or two husbands at the same time. n.

Big Dipper, group of stars in the constellation of Ursa Major.

big game, 1. large animals sought by hunters. Elephants, tigers, and lions are big game. 2. a very important thing that is sought.

big-hearted (big'här'tid), kindly; generous. adj.

big horn (big'hörn'), a wild, grayish-brown sheep of the Rocky Mountains. n., pl. big horn or big-horns.

Bighorn (about 3½ ft. high at the shoulder)

Big Horn, river flowing north from central Wyoming into the Yellowstone River in Montana. 336 mi.

Big Horn Mountains, range of the Rocky Mountains in N Wyoming. The highest peak is 13,165 feet.

bight (bit), 1. a long curve in a coastline. 2. bay; part of a sea or lake extending into the land. 3. bend; angle; corner. 4. loop of rope; slack of rope between the fastened ends. n.

big ness (big'nis), condition of being big; greatness; importance. n.

big no ni a (big nō'nē ə), vine with showy, trumpet-shaped orange flowers; trumpet vine. n.

big ot (big'ət), a bigoted person; intolerant, prejudiced person. n.

big ot ed (big'ət id), sticking to an opinion, belief, party, etc., without reason and not tolerating other views; intolerant; prejudiced. A person may be bigoted in religion or politics. adj. —big'ot ed ly, adv.

big ot ry (big'ət rē), bigoted conduct or attitude; intolerance; prejudice. n., pl. big ot ries.

big tree, a very large kind of tree growing in California; giant sequoia.

big wheel, Informal. an influential or otherwise important person, especially in a particular region, industry, etc.: a big wheel in Washington, in automobile manufacturing, etc.

big wig (big'wig'), Informal. an important person. n.

bike (bik), Informal. bicycle. n., v., biked, biking.

Biki ni (bi kē'nē), atoll in the Marshall Islands in the W Pacific, site of some U.S. atomic and hydrogen bomb tests. n.

bi la bi al (bī lā'bē əl), 1. having two lips. 2. formed by both lips. 3. sound formed by both lips. B, p, m, and w are bilabials. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

bi lat er al (bī lat'ər əl), 1. having two sides. 2. on two sides. 3. affecting or influencing two sides. adj. —bi lat'er al ly, adv.

Bil ba o (bil bā'ō), seaport in N Spain. 268,000. n.

bil bo (bil'bō), a long iron bar with sliding shackles and a lock. Bilboes were formerly used to confine the feet of prisoners. n., pl. bil boes.

bil bo (bil'bō), Archaic. sword. n., pl. bil boes.

bile (bil), 1. a bitter, yellow or greenish liquid secreted by the liver and stored in the gall bladder. It aids digestion in the small intestine by neutralizing acids and emulsifying fats. 2. ill humor; anger. n.

bilge (bilj), 1. the lowest part of a ship's hold; bottom of a ship's hull. 2. bilge water. 3. break in (the bottom of a ship); spring a leak. 4. the bulging part of a barrel. 5. bulge; swell out. 6. Informal. nonsense. 1,2,4,6 n., 3,5 v., bilged, bilg ing.

bilge water, dirty water that collects in the bottom of a ship.

bi line ar (bī lin'ē ər), of, having to do with, or involving two lines. adj.

bi lin gual (bī ling'gwəl), 1. able to speak one's own language and another equally or almost equally well. 2. containing or written in two languages. adj. —bi-ling'ual ly, adv.

bil ious (bil'yəs), 1. suffering from some trouble with bile or the liver: a bilious person. 2. caused by such trouble: a bilious attack, a bilious headache. 3. peevish; cross; bad-tempered. adj. —bil'ious ly, adv. —bil'ious ness, n.

bilk (bilk), 1. avoid payment of. 2. defraud; cheat; deceive. 3. fraud; deception. 4. person who avoids paying his bills; petty swindler. 1,2 v., 3,4 n. —bilk'er, n.

bill (bil), 1. account of money owed for work done or things supplied: Pay your bills promptly. 2. send a bill to: The store will bill us on the first of the month. 3. enter in a bill; charge in a bill. 4. piece of paper money: a dollar bill. 5. a written or printed public notice; advertisement; poster; handbill. 6. announce by bills or public notice. 7. post bills in or on. 8. a written or printed statement; list of items. 9. a theater program. 10. entertainment in a theater. 11. list on a theatrical program. 12. a proposed law presented to a lawmaking body: This bill will be voted on by the Senate today. 13. bill of exchange. 1,4,5,8-10,12,13 n., 2,3,6,7,11 v. —bill'er, n.

fill the bill, Informal. satisfy requirements.

foot the bill, Informal. pay; settle the bill.

bill (bil), 1. the horny mouth of a bird; beak. 2. anything shaped somewhat like a bird's bill: the bill of a turtle. 3. join beaks; touch bills. 4. show affection. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

bill and coo, kiss, caress, and talk as lovers do.

bill board (bil'bōrd'), signboard for posting advertisements or notices on. n.

billed (bild), having a bill or beak. adj.

bil let (bil'it), 1. a written order to provide board and lodging for a soldier. 2. place where a soldier is lodged. 3. assign to quarters by billet: Soldiers were billeted in all the houses of the village. 4. job; position. 1,2,4 n., 3 v., bil let ed, bil let ing.

bil let (bil'it), 1. a thick stick of wood. 2. bar of iron or steel. n.

bil let-doux (bil'ē dü' or bil'ā dü'), a love letter. n., pl. bil lets-doux (bil'ē düz' or bil'ā düz').

bill fold (bil'fōld'), a folding pocketbook for money, papers, etc.; wallet. n.

bill head (bil'hed'), 1. sheet of paper with name and business address printed at the top. It is used in making out bills. 2. name and business address printed at the top of a sheet of paper. n.

bill hook (bil'hūk'), tool for pruning or cutting. n.
bill liard (bil'yārd), 1. of or for billiards. 2. point made by hitting the balls in billiards. 1 adj., 2 n.

bill liards (bil'yārdz), game played with balls on a special table. A long stick called a cue is used in hitting the balls. n.

Bil lings (bil'ingz), city in S Montana. 53,000. n.
bil lings gate (bil'ingz gāt'), vulgar, abusive language. n.

bil lion (bil'yən), 1. in the United States and France, one thousand millions; 1,000,000,000. 2. in Great Britain and Germany, one million millions; 1,000,000,000,000. n., adj.

bil lion aire (bil'yən ār'), an extremely wealthy person who has a billion dollars, francs, marks, etc. n.

bil lionth (bil'yenth), 1. last in a series of a billion. 2. one of a billion equal parts. 1 adj., 2 n.

bill of attainder, act of a lawmaking body that deprives a person of property and civil rights because of a sentence of death or outlawry.

bill of exchange, a written order to pay a certain sum of money to a specified person or to his order.

bill of fare, list of the articles of food served at a meal or of those that can be ordered.

bill of health, certificate stating whether or not there are infectious diseases on a ship or in a port. It is given to a captain when his ship sails.

bill of lading, receipt given by a railroad, express agency, etc., showing a list of goods delivered to it for transportation.

bill of rights or Bill of Rights, 1. statement of the fundamental rights of the people of the nation. 2. the first ten amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

bill of sale, a written statement transferring ownership of something from the seller to the buyer.

billow (bil'ō), 1. a great wave or surge of the sea. 2. any great wave. 3. rise or roll in big waves: On a windy day the surf billows. 4. swell out; bulge: The sheets on the clothesline billow in the wind. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

billow y (bil'ō ē), 1. rising or rolling in big waves.

2. swelling out; bulging. adj., billow i er, billow i est.

bill poster (bil'pōs'tər), workman who puts up advertisements or notices in public places. n.

bill ly (bil'ē), club; stick. Policemen carry billies. n., pl. billies.

billy goat, Informal. a male goat.

Biloxi (bā lok'sē), city in SE Mississippi. 44,000. n.

bimetallic (bī'mə tal'ik), 1. using two metals. 2. of bimetallicism; based on bimetallicism. adj.

bimetallicism (bī met'iz əm), the use of gold and silver as money at a fixed relative value; for instance, having 16 ounces of silver equal to 1 ounce of gold. n.

bimonthly (bī month'lē), 1. happening once every two months. 2. once every two months. 3. happening twice a month. 4. twice a month. 5. magazine published bimonthly. 1,3 adj., 2,4 adv., 5 n., pl. bimonthlies.

bin (bin), box or enclosed place for holding grain, coal, etc. n.

binary (bī'nārē), consisting of two; involving two; dual. adj.

binary star, pair of stars that revolve around a common center of gravity.

bind (bind), 1. tie together; hold together; fasten: She bound the package with a bright ribbon. 2. stick together: Gravel or cinders can be bound by tar or cement. 3. hold by some force; restrain: Vines binding that tree will keep it from growing. 4. hold by a promise, love, duty, etc.; oblige: in duty bound to help. 5. put under legal obligation: bound over to keep the peace. 6. put under legal obligation to serve as an apprentice: bound out to be a carpenter. 7. put a bandage on: bind up a wound. 8. put a band or wreath around. 9. put a border or edge on to strengthen or ornament. 10. fasten (sheets of paper) into a cover; put a cover on (a book). 11. constipate. 12. anything that binds or ties. 1-11 v., bound, binding; 12 n.

bind er (bīn'dər), 1. person who binds. 2. anything that ties or holds together. 3. cover for holding loose sheets of paper together. 4. machine that cuts grain and ties it in bundles. n.

bind ery (bīn'dər ē), place where books are bound. n., pl. binderies.

binding (bīn'ding), 1. the covering of a book. 2. strip protecting or ornamenting an edge. Binding is used on the seams of dresses. 3. that binds, fastens, or connects. 4. having force or power to hold to some agreement, pledge, etc.; obligatory. 1,2 n., 3,4 adj.

binding energy, energy necessary to break a particular atomic nucleus into its smaller component parts.

bind weed (bīnd'wēd'), plant with long runners that twine around the stems of other plants. n.

Bi net (bi nā'), Alfred, 1857-1911, French psychologist who was one of the inventors of the first important intelligence tests. n.

Binghamton (bing'am tən), city in S New York State. 76,000. n.

bingo (bing'gō), a game derived from lotto. n.

binacle (bin'ə kl), box or stand that contains a ship's compass, placed near the man who is steering. n.

binocular (bə nok'yə lər or bī-nok'yə lər), 1. using both eyes.

2. for both eyes. adj.

binoculars (bə nok'yə lərz or bī-nok'yə lərz), field glasses or opera glasses for both eyes. n.pl.

binomial (bī nō'mē əl), 1. consisting of two terms. 2. expression or name consisting of two terms. $8a + 2b$ is a binomial. Homo sapiens is a binomial. 1 adj., 2 n.

biochemistry (bī'ō kem'ə kl), having to do with biochemistry. adj.

biochemist (bī'ō kem'ist), expert in biochemistry. n.

biochemistry (bī'ō kem'is trē), chemistry of living animals and plants; biological chemistry. n.

biog., 1. biographical. 2. biography.

biographer (bī og'rə fər), person who writes the life of somebody. n.

biograph (bī'ə graf'ə kl), 1. of a person's life. 2. having to do with biography. adj. —biographically, adv.

biography (bī og'rə fē), 1. the written story of a person's life. 2. part of literature that consists of biographies. n., pl. biographies.

biologic (bī'ə loj'ik), biological. adj.

biological (bī'ə loj'ə kl), 1. of plant and animal life. 2. having to do with biology: a biological laboratory. adj. —biologically, adv.

biological warfare, waging war by using disease germs, bacteria, etc., against the enemy.

biologist (bī ol'ə jist), expert in biology. n.

biology (bī ol'ə jē), science of life or living matter in all its forms and phenomena; study of the origin, reproduction, structure, etc., of plant and animal life. Botany and zoology are branches of biology. n.

biartisan (bī pār'tə zn), of or representing two political parties: a bipartisan foreign policy. adj.

biartite (bī pār'tīt), having two parts: a biartite shell. adj.

biarty (bī pār'tē), combining two different political groups, religious groups, etc. adj.

biped (bī'ped), 1. animal having two feet. Birds are bipeds. 2. having two feet. 1 n., 2 adj.

biplane (bī'plān'), airplane having two wings, one above the other. n.

bi polar (bī pō'lər), 1. having two poles. 2. of or at both poles. adj.

birch (bērch), 1. a slender tree whose smooth bark peels off in thin layers. The Indians used birch bark to cover the framework of their canoes. 2. its close-grained wood, often used in making furniture. 3. bundle of birch twigs or a birch stick, used for whipping. 4. whip with a birch; flog. 1-3 n., 4 v.

birchen (bēr'chən), 1. of or having to do with a birch tree. 2. consisting or made of birch wood. 3. having to do with the birch used in punishing. adj.

bird (bērd), 1. any of a group of warm-blooded vertebrates having a body covered with feathers and the forelimbs modified to form wings by means of which most kinds fly. 2. bird hunted for sport. 3. a feathered cork used instead of a ball in playing badminton; shuttlecock. 4. Informal. person. 5. Slang. a ballistic missile. n. —birdlike, adj.

bird in the hand, something certain because one already has it.

birds of a feather, people of the same kind.

bird bath (bērd' bath'), a shallow basin filled with water for birds to bathe in or drink. n.

Man looking through binoculars bird call, 1. sound that a bird makes. 2. imitation of it. 3. instrument for imitating the sound that a bird makes.

bird dog, dog trained to find or bring back birds for hunters.

bird house (bêrd'hous'), a small roofed box with one or more openings, raised off the ground for birds to nest in. n.

bird ie (bêr'dē), 1. a little bird. 2. score of one stroke less than par for any hole on a golf course. n.

bird lime (bêrd'lim'), a sticky substance smeared on twigs to catch small birds that light on it. n.

bird of paradise, bird of New Guinea noted for its magnificent plumage.

bird of peace, dove.

bird of prey, any of a group of birds that eat flesh, including eagles, hawks, owls, vultures, etc.

bird seed (bêrd'sēd'), small seed fed to caged birds. n.

bird's-eye (bêrdz'ī), 1. seen from above or from a distance; general: You can get a bird's-eye view of the city from an airplane. 2. having markings somewhat like birds' eyes. Bird's-eye maple is a wood used in making furniture. 3. kind of cotton cloth having markings somewhat like birds' eyes. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

bird shot, small size of lead shot, used in shooting birds.

bi ret ta (bāret'ə), a stiff, square cap with three upright projecting pieces, worn by Roman Catholic priests on certain occasions. n.

Bir ken head (bêr'kən hed), city in W England, near Liverpool. 142,000. n.

Bir ming ham (bêr'ming əm for 1; bêr'ming ham for 2), 1. city in W England. 1,103,000. 2. city in central Alabama. 341,000. n.

birth (bêrth), 1. coming into life; being born: the birth of a child. 2. beginning; origin: the birth of a nation. 3. a bringing forth: the birth of a plan. 4. natural inheritance: a musician by birth. 5. descent; family: He was a man of humble birth. 6. noble family or descent: He is a man of birth and breeding. n.

give birth to, 1. bear; bring forth. 2. be the origin or cause of.

birth day (bêrth'dā'), 1. day on which a person was born. 2. day on which something began: July 4, 1776, was the birthday of a nation. 3. anniversary of the day on which a person was born, or on which something began. n.

birth mark (bêrth'mărk'), spot or mark on the skin that was there at birth. n.

birth place (bêrth'plās'), 1. place where a person was born. 2. place of origin. n.

birth rate, proportion of the number of births per year to the total population or to some other stated number.

birth right (bêrth'rīt'), rights belonging to a person because he is the eldest son, or because he was born in a certain country, or because of any other fact about his birth. n.

birth stone (bêrth'stôn'), jewel associated with a certain month of the year. It is supposed to bring good luck when worn by a person born in that month. n.

Bis cay (bis'kā), Bay of, bay north of Spain and west of France, part of the Atlantic. n.

bis cuit (bis'kit), 1. U.S. a kind of bread baked in small soft cakes, made with baking powder, soda, or yeast. 2. Esp. Bril. cracker. 3. a pale

Bird of paradise
(7 in. long)

Biretta

brown. 4. pottery or china that has been fired (baked) once but not yet glazed. n., pl. bis cuits or bis cuit.

bi sect (bī sekt'), 1. divide into two parts. 2. divide into two equal parts. v.

bi sec tion (bī sek'shən), 1. act of bisecting. 2. place of bisecting. 3. one of two equal parts. n.

bi sec tor (bī sek'tər), line that bisects something. n.

bish op (bish'əp), 1. clergyman of high rank who has certain spiritual duties and who administers the affairs of a church district. 2. one of the pieces in the game of chess. n.

bish op ric (bish'əp rik), 1. position, office, or rank of bishop. 2. church district under the charge of a bishop; diocese. n.

Bis mark (biz'mărk), 1. Otto von, 1815-1898, German prince and statesman. He united the German States into an empire in 1871. 2. capital of North Dakota, in the S part. 28,000. n.

Bismarck Archipelago, group of islands northeast of New Guinea, governed by Australia. 157,000 pop.; 19,200 sq. mi.

bis muth (biz'moth), a brittle, reddish-white metallic element. Some of its compounds are used in medicine and in alloys. Symbol: Bi n.

bi son (bī'sn), 1. the American buffalo; wild ox with a big, shaggy head and strong front legs. 2. the European buffalo. It is slightly larger than the American buffalo and is now almost extinct. n., pl. bis son.

American bison (about 10 ft. long)

bisque (bisk), 1. a thick soup made of crayfish, lobsters, birds, rabbits, etc. 2. a smooth, creamy soup made of strained tomatoes, asparagus, etc. 3. ice cream containing powdered macaroons or crushed nuts. n.

Bis sau (bi sou'), capital of Portuguese Guinea. 18,000. n.

bis sex tile (bi seks'tl), 1. leap year. 2. containing the extra day of leap year. February is the bissextile year. 1 n., 2 adj.

bis ter or bis tre (bis'tər), 1. a dark-brown coloring matter made from soot. 2. a dark brown. n.

bit (bit), 1. part of a bridle that goes in a horse's mouth. See harness for picture. 2. put a bit in the mouth of; bridle. 3. anything that curbs or restrains. 4. curb; restrain. 5. the biting or cutting part of a tool. 6. tool for boring or drilling that usually fits into a handle called a brace. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4 v., bit ted, bit ting.

bit (bit), 1. a small piece; small amount: A pebble is a bit of rock. 2. somewhat; a little: I am a bit tired. 3. Informal. a short time: Stay a bit longer. 4. U.S. Informal. 12½ cents. A quarter is two bits. 1,3,4 n., 2 adv. do one's bit, do one's share.

bit (bit), pt. and a pp. of bite. The strong trap bit the leg of the fox. The tramp was bit by our dog. v.

bit ch (bich), a female dog, wolf, or fox. n.

bite (bit), 1. seize, cut into, or cut off with the teeth: She bit the apple. The nervous boy bites his fingernails. 2. a piece bitten off; bit of food; mouthful: Eat the whole

The line DB
bisects the angle ADC.

Bit¹ (def. 6) and brace. The user bears down with the upper hand and turns with the lower. A bit cuts much the same way as an auger.

apple, not just a bite. 3. act of biting: The dog gave a bite or two at the bone. 4. food: Have a bite with me. 5. cut; pierce: The sword bit the knight's helmet. 6. wound with teeth, fangs, etc.; sting: My dog never bites. A mosquito bit me. 7. result of a bite, wound, sting, etc.: The man soon recovered from the snake's bite. 8. a sharp, smarting pain: the bite of a cold wind. 9. nip; snap: a dog biting at fleas. 10. cause a sharp, smarting pain to: His fingers are bitten by frost. 11. take a tight hold on; grip: The jaws of a vise bite the wood they hold. 12. tight hold: the bite of the wheels on the rails. 13. take a bait; be caught: The fish are biting well today. 1,5,6,9-11,13 v. bit, bit ten or bit, biting; 2-4,7,8,12 n. —bit'er, n. Bi thyn i a (bə thin'ē ə), ancient country in NW Asia Minor. Capital: Nicaea. n. bit ing (bit'ing), 1. sharp; cutting: a biting wind. 2. sarcastic; sneering: a biting remark. adj. —bit'-ing ly, adv.

bitt (bit'), 1. a strong post on a ship's deck to which ropes, cables, etc., are fastened. 2. put (ropes, cables, etc.) around the bitts. 1 n., 2 v.

bit ten (bit'n), a pp. of bite. Finish the apple, now that you have bitten into it. v.

bit ter (bit'er), 1. having a sharp, harsh, unpleasant taste like quinine: bitter medicine. 2. unpleasant to the mind or feeling; hard to admit or bear: a bitter defeat. Failure is bitter. 3. that which is bitter; bitterness: You must take the bitter with the sweet. 4. harsh or cutting: bitter words. 5. causing pain; sharp; severe: a bitter wound, a bitter fight. 6. very cold: a bitter winter. 7. expressing grief, pain, misery, etc.: a bitter cry. 1,2,4-7 adj., 3 n. —bit'ter ly, adv. —bit'ter ness, n. to the bitter end, 1. until the very last. 2. to death.

bit tern (bit'ərn), a small kind of heron that lives in marshes and has a peculiar booming cry. n.

bit ter root (bit'er rūt' or bit'er-rūt'), a small plant with fleshy roots and pink flowers, found in the northern Rocky Mountains. n.

Bitterroot Range, part of the Rocky Mountains between Idaho and Montana. The highest peak is 10,000 feet.

bit ters (bit'erz), a liquid, usually alcoholic, flavored with some bitter plant. It is sometimes used as medicine. n.pl.

bit ter sweet (bit'er swēt'), 1. a climbing plant with purple flowers and poisonous, scarlet berries. 2. a climbing shrub of North America, with greenish flowers, and orange seed cases that open and show red seeds. 3. sweetness and bitterness mixed. 4. sweet and bitter mixed. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

bi tu men (bə tū'mən or bə tū'mən), any of a number of minerals that will burn, such as asphalt, petroleum, naphtha, etc. n.

bi tu mi nous (bə tū'mi nəs or bə tū'mə nəs), 1. containing or made with bitumen. 2. like bitumen. adj.

bituminous coal, coal that burns with much smoke and a yellow flame; soft coal.

bi va lence (bi vā'ləns or biv'ə ləns), bivalent quality or condition. n.

bi va lent (bi vā'lənt or biv'ə lənt), having a valence of two. adj.

bi valve (bi'valv'), 1. any mollusk whose shell consists of two parts hinged together, such as oysters and clams. 2. having two parts hinged together. 1 n., 2 adj.

biv ou ac (biv'ū ak), camp outdoors without tents or with very small tents: The soldiers made a bivouac for the night in a field (n.). They bivouacked there until morning (v.). n., v. biv ou acked, biv ou ack ing.

bi week ly (bi wēk'lē), 1. happening once every two weeks. 2. once every two weeks. 3. happening twice a week; semiweekly. 4. twice a week; semiweekly. 5. newspaper or magazine published biweekly. 1,3 adj., 2,4 adv., 5 n., pl. bi week lies.

bi year ly (bi yir'lē), twice a year. adj., adv.

bi zarre (bə zār'), odd; queer; fantastic; grotesque: The frost made bizarre figures on the windowpanes. adj. —bi zarre'ly, adv. —bi zarre'ness, n.

Blk., berkelium.

bk., 1. bank. 2. book.

bkg., banking.

bkt., basket. pl. bkts.

bl., 1. bale. 2. barrel.

bl., bill of lading.

blab (blab), 1. tell (secrets); talk too much. 2. blabbing talk; chatter. 3. person who blabs. 1 v., blabbed, blabbing; 2,3 n. —blab'ber, n.

black (black), 1. opposite of white: This print is black (adj.). The black shows up against the white (n.). 2. black coloring matter. 3. make or become black. 4. without any light; very dark: The room was black as night. 5. having a dark skin. 6. person who has dark skin. 7. Negro. 8. dirty; filthy: black hands. 9. dismal; gloomy: a black day. 10. sullen; angry: a black look. 11. evil; wicked: black magic. 12. black clothes; mourning: The old gentleman always wore black. 13. put blacking on (shoes, etc.). 1,4,5,7-11 adj., 1,2,6,7,12 n., 3,13 v.

black a moor (blak'ə mūr), 1. a Negro. 2. a dark-skinned person. n.

black-and-blue (blak'ənd blū'), bruised. adj.

black and white, writing; print: I asked him to put his promise down in black and white.

black art, evil magic.

black ball (blak'bōl'), 1. vote against: Some members of the club blackballed Jack; so he could not become a member. 2. ostracize. 3. a vote against a person or thing. 1,2 v., 3 n. —black'ball'er, n.

black bass, a North American game fish that lives in fresh water.

black bear, a large American bear that has dense black fur.

black ber ry (blak'ber'ē or blak'bər'ē), 1. a small, black or dark-purple, edible fruit of certain bushes and vines that belong to the same family as the rose. 2. the thorny bush or vine that it grows on. 3. gather blackberries. 1,2 n., pl. black ber ries; 3 v. black ber ried, black ber ry ing.

black bird (blak'bērd'), 1. any American bird so named because the male is mostly black. The cowbird, purple grackle, and red-winged blackbird are blackbirds. 2. the European thrush; merle. n.

black board (blak'bōrd'), a dark, smooth surface for writing or drawing on with chalk or crayon. n.

Black Canyon, canyon of the Colorado River between Arizona and Nevada. Hoover Dam is located there.

black cap (blak'kap'), 1. black raspberry. 2. bird that has the top of the head black, such as the chickadee. n.

Black Death, a violent plague that spread through Asia and Europe in the 14th century. It was at its worst in 1348.

black en (blak'ən), 1. make black. 2. become black. 3. speak evil of. v., black ened, black en ing.

black eye, 1. bruise around an eye. 2. Informal. cause of disgrace or discredit.

black-eyed Su san (blak'id' sū'zn), a yellow daisy with a black center.

black face (blak'fās'), 1. Negro minstrel; actor made up as a Negro. 2. make-up for Negro parts in a show, etc. 3. printing type with thick, heavy lines. n.

Black feet (blak'fēt'), tribe of American Indians formerly living in NW United States. They now live in Montana and Alberta, Canada. n.pl.

Bittern (30 in. long) black fish (blak'fish'), 1. any of various dark-colored fishes, such as the sea bass, tautog, etc. 2. a small, black whale. 3. a small fresh-water fish of Alaska and Siberia. n.

black flag, the pirate's flag. It usually had a white skull and crossbones on it.

Black foot (blak'füt'), one of the Blackfeet Indians. n., pl. Black feet or Black foot.

Black Forest, mountains covered with forests in S West Germany. The highest peak is 4900 feet.

black guard (blag'ärd), 1. scoundrel. 2. abuse with vile language. 1 n., 2 v.

black guard ly (blag'ärd lē), of or like a blackguard. adv.

Black Hand, a secret society organized to commit blackmail and crimes of violence.

Black Hawk, 1767-1838, American Indian chief of the Sauk and Fox tribes.

black head (blak'hed'), 1. a small, black-tipped lump in a pore of the skin. 2. any of various birds that have a black head. 3. disease that attacks turkeys. n.

Black Hills, group of mountains in W South Dakota and NE Wyoming. The highest peak is Harney Peak, 7242 feet.

black ing (blak'ing), black polish used on shoes, stoves, etc. n.

black ish (blak'ish), somewhat black. adj.

black jack (blak'jak'), 1. club with a flexible handle, used as a weapon. 2. hit (a person) with a blackjack. 3. coerce. 4. a large drinking cup or jug, formerly made of leather. 5. the black flag of a pirate. 6. a small oak tree of eastern United States that has a bark that is almost black. 1,4-6 n., 2,3 v.

black lead, graphite.

black leg (blak'leg'), 1. Informal. swindler. 2. Brit. worker who takes a striker's job. 3. an infectious, usually fatal disease of cattle and sheep. n.

black list, list of persons who are believed to deserve punishment, blame, suspicion, etc.: That store keeps a black list of persons who do not pay their bills.

black-list (blak'list'), put on a black list. v.

black ly (blak'lē), 1. dismally; gloomily. 2. sullenly; angrily. 3. evilly; wickedly. adv.

black magic, evil magic.

black mail (blak'mäl'), 1. money obtained from a person by threatening to tell something bad about him. 2. get or try to get blackmail from. 3. an attempt to get money by threats. 1,3 n., 2 v. —black'mail'er, n.

black mark, mark of criticism or punishment.

black market, the selling of goods at illegal prices or in illegal quantities.

black measles, a severe type of measles.

black ness (blak'nis), 1. being black; black color; darkness. 2. wickedness. n.

black nightshade, plant with white flowers, poisonous, black berries, and leaves that have a poisonous juice.

black out, 1. darken completely. 2. experience a blackout.

black out (blak'out'), 1. a turning out or concealing of all the lights of a city, district, etc., as a protection against an air raid. 2. temporary blindness or unconsciousness resulting from lack of circulation of blood in the brain. It may occur after too much exertion or be experienced by a pilot during rapid changes in velocity or direction of his airplane. 3. a turning off of all the lights on the stage of a theater. n.

black pepper, 1. a seasoning with a hot taste, made by grinding the dried berries of a woody vine grown in the East Indies. 2. the vine itself.

Black pool (blak'pül), seaport in NW England. 147,000. n.

Black Sea, sea between Turkey and S Soviet Union. 164,000 sq. mi. See Balkan States for map.

black sheep, a worthless member of a decent family.

Leather blackjacks (def. 4) black smith (blak'smith'), man who works with iron. Blacksmiths mend tools and shoe horses. n.

black snake (blak'snäk'), 1. a harmless, dark-colored snake of North America. 2. a heavy whip made of braided leather. n.

black tea, tea which has been allowed to wither and ferment in the air for some time, before being subjected to a heating process.

black thorn (blak'thörn'), 1. a thorny European shrub of the same family as the peach, that has white flowers and dark-purple, plumlike fruit called sloes.

2. a walking stick or club made from the stem of this shrub. n.

black walnut, 1. an oily, round nut with a rough shell. It is good to eat. 2. the tall tree that it grows on. 3. its dark-brown wood, often used for furniture.

black widow, a very poisonous small spider with a glossy black, spherical body which has reddish marks on its under side. It gets its name from its color and its habit of eating its mate.

blad der (blad'ər), 1. a soft, thin bag in the body that receives urine from the kidneys. 2. anything like this. A football has a hollow rubber bladder that can be blown up with air. n.

blad der wort (blad'ər wört'), any of various plants with yellow or purple flowers. Some varieties float on the water by means of small bladders on the leaves; others take root in mud. n.

blade (blād), 1. the cutting part of anything like a knife or sword: My father's hunting knife has a very sharp blade. 2. sword. 3. swordsman. 4. a smart or dashing fellow. 5. leaf of grass. 6. the flat, wide part of a leaf; leaf. 7. a flat, wide part of anything. An oar or a paddle has a blade at one end of the shaft. 8. the wide, flat part of a bone: the shoulder blade. 9. the front, flat part of the tongue. n. —blade'like', adj.

blad ed (blād'id), having a blade or blades. adj.

blain (blān), an inflamed swelling or sore; blister; pustule. n.

Blaine (blān), James Gillespie, 1830-1893, American statesman. n.

Blake (blāk), William, 1757-1827, English poet and artist. n.

blam a ble (blām'ə bl), deserving blame. adj. —blam'a bly, adv.

blame (blām), 1. hold responsible (for something bad or wrong): We blamed the fog for our accident. 2. responsibility for something bad or wrong: Lack of care deserves the blame for many mistakes. 3. find fault with: The teacher will not blame us if we do our best. 4. finding fault. 1,3 v., blamed, blam ing; 2,4 n. —blam'er, n. be to blame, deserve blame: Each person said somebody else was to blame.

blame less (blām'lis), free from blame; innocent. adj. —blame'less ly, adv. —blame'less ness, n.

blame wor thy (blām'wér'thē), deserving blame. adj.

blanch (blanch), 1. make white; bleach. Almonds are blanched by soaking off their skins in boiling water. We blanch celery by keeping out the light. 2. turn white or pale: The boy blanched with fear when he saw the bear coming. v.

blanc mange (blə mänz'h'), a sweet dessert made of milk thickened with gelatin, cornstarch, etc. n.

bland (bland), 1. smooth; mild; gentle; soothing: A warm spring breeze is bland. 2. agreeable; polite. adj. —bland'ly, adv. —bland'ness, n.

blan dish (blan'dish), coax; flatter. v.

blan dish ment (blan'dish mēnt), coaxing; flattery: Ulysses did not yield to Circe's blandishments. n.

blank (blank), 1. space left empty or to be filled in: Leave a blank after each word. 2. not written or printed on: blank paper. 3. a paper with spaces to be filled in: Fill out this application blank and return it at once. 4. with spaces to be filled in: a blank check, a blank form for you to fill in. 5. an empty or vacant place: When he saw the hard test his mind became a complete blank. 6. empty; vacant: a blank stare. 7. without interest or meaning; dull: There was a blank look on his face.

8. lacking some usual feature: a blank cartridge. 9. in games, keep from scoring. 10. hide; obscure. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,6-8 adj., 9,10 v. —blank/ly, adv. —blank/ness, n.

blan ket (blang'kit), 1. a soft, heavy covering woven from wool or cotton, used to keep people or animals warm. 2. cover with a blanket. 3. anything like a blanket: A blanket of snow covered the ground. 4. cover; hinder; obscure: The snow blanketed the ground. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

blank verse, 1. unrhymed poetry having five iambic feet in each line: Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" is written in blank verse. 2. unrhymed poetry: Walt Whitman wrote most of his poetry in blank verse.

blare (blār), 1. make a loud, harsh sound: The trumpets blared, announcing the king's arrival. 2. utter harshly or loudly. 3. a loud, harsh sound. 4. brilliance of color; glare. 1,2 v., blared, blaring; 3,4 n.

blarney (blār'nē), 1. flattering, coaxing talk. 2. flatter; coax. 1 n., 2 v., blarneyed, blarneying.
kiss the Blarney Stone, get skill in flattering and coaxing people.

blas pheme (blas fēm'), speak about (God or sacred things) with abuse or contempt; utter blasphemy. v., blas phemed, blas pheming.

blas phem er (blas fēm'ər), person who blasphemes. n.

blas phe mous (blas'fə mäs), speaking about God or sacred things with abuse or contempt. adj. —blas-phemous ly, adv.

blas phe my (blas'fə mē), abuse or contempt for God or sacred things. n., pl. blas phe mies.

blast (blast), 1. a strong sudden rush of wind or air: the icy blasts of winter. 2. the blowing of a trumpet, horn, etc. 3. sound so made. 4. current of air used in smelting, etc. 5. charge of dynamite, gunpowder, etc., that blows up rocks, earth, etc. 6. blow up (rocks, earth, etc.) with dynamite, gunpowder, etc. 7. a blasting; explosion: We heard the blast a mile away. 8. cause of withering, blight, or ruin. 9. wither; blight; ruin; destroy: A disease has blasted our grapes. His conviction for fraud blasted his reputation. 1-5,7,8 n., 6,9 v. —blast/er, n.

in full blast, in full operation.

blast ed (blas'tid), 1. withered; blighted; ruined. 2. damned; cursed. adj.

blast furnace, furnace in which ores are smelted by blowing a strong current of air into the furnace from the bottom to make a very great heat.

bla tan cy (blā'tn sē), blatant quality. n.

bla tant (blā'tnt), 1. noisy; loud-mouthed. 2. showy in dress, manner, etc. adj. —bla/tant ly, adv.

blaze (blāz), 1. a bright flame or fire: He could see the blaze of the campfire across the beach. 2. burn with a bright flame; be on fire: A fire was blazing in the fireplace. 3. an intense light; glare. 4. show bright colors or lights: On Christmas Eve the big house blazed with lights. 5. bright display: The tulips made a blaze of color in the garden. 6. make a bright display. 7. a violent outburst: a blaze of temper. 8. burst out in anger or excitement. 1,3,5,7 n., 2,4,6,8 v., blazed, blazing.
blaze away, fire a gun, etc.

blaze (blāz), 1. mark made on a tree by chipping off a piece of bark. 2. mark (a tree, trail, etc.) by chipping off a piece of the bark. 3. a white spot on the face of a horse, cow, etc. 1,3 n., 2 v., blazed, blazing.

blaze (blāz), make known; proclaim. v., blazed, blazing.

blaz er (blāz'ər), a bright-colored jacket. n.

bla zon (blā'zn), 1. make known; proclaim: Big posters blazoned the wonders of the coming circus. 2. decorate; adorn. 3. coat of arms; shield with a coat of arms on it. 4. describe or paint (a coat of arms). 5. display; show. 1,2,4,5 v., 3 n.

bla zon ry (blā'zn rē), 1. bright decoration or display. 2. coat of arms. 3. description or painting of a coat of arms. n.

bldg., building. pl. bldgs.

bleach (blēch), 1. whiten by exposing to sunlight or by using chemicals: We bleached the linen napkins. Bleached bones lay on the hot sands of the desert. 2. turn white or pale. 3. a chemical used in bleaching. 4. act of bleaching. 1,2 v., 3,4 n.

bleach er (blēch'ər),

1. person who bleaches.
2. thing that bleaches or is used in bleaching. n.

bleach ers (blēch'ərz), low-priced, often roofless seats at a baseball game or other outdoor sport. n.pl.

bleak (blēk), 1. swept by winds; bare: bleak and rocky mountain peaks. 2. chilly; cold: a bleak wind. 3. dreary; dismal: Life was bleak for unmarried women in earlier days. adj. —bleak/ly, adv. —bleak/ness, n.

blear (blir), 1. dim; blurred. 2. make dim or blurred. 1 adj., 2 v.

blear-eyed (blir'id'), having dim or blurred eyes. adj.

blear y (blir'ē), dim; blurred. adj., blear ier, blear iest. —blear/i ness, n.

bleat (blēt), 1. the cry made by a sheep, goat, or calf. 2. a sound like it. 3. make the cry of a sheep, goat, or calf, or a sound like it. 1,2 n., 3 v. —bleat/er, n.

bled (bled), pt. and pp. of bleed. The cut bled for ten minutes. v.

bleed (blēd), 1. lose blood: This cut is bleeding. 2. shed one's blood; suffer wounds or death: He bled to death. He fought and bled for his country. 3. take blood from. Doctors used to bleed sick people. 4. lose sap, juice, etc., from a surface that has been cut or scratched: The injured elm is bleeding. 5. take sap, juice, etc., from. 6. feel pity, sorrow, or grief: My heart bleeds for the poor little orphan. 7. Informal. get money away from by extortion. v., bled, bleeding.

bleed er (blēd'ər), person who bleeds very easily because the blood fails to clot. n.

bleeding heart, a common garden plant that has drooping clusters of red or pink, heart-shaped flowers.

blem ish (blem'ish), 1. a stain; spot; scar: A mole is a blemish on a person's skin. 2. stain; spot; scar. 3. injure; mar: One bad deed can blemish a good reputation. 1 n., 2,3 v.

without blemish, perfect.

blench (blench), draw back; shrink away. v.

blench (blench), 1. turn pale. 2. make white. v.

blend (blend), 1. mix together thoroughly so that the things mixed cannot be distinguished or separated: Oil and water will not blend. Blend these ingredients to make a cake. 2. a thorough mixture made by blending. 3. make by mixing several kinds together: blend tea. 4. mixture of several kinds: a blend of coffee. 5. shade into each other, little by little; merge: The colors of the rainbow blend into one another. 6. go well together; harmonize: Purple and dark blue do not blend. 1,3,5,6 v., blend ed or blend, blending; 2,4 n.

blent (blent), Poetic. a pt. and a pp. of blend. v.

bless (bles), 1. make holy or sacred: bless a church. 2. ask God's favor for: Bless these little children. 3. wish good to; feel grateful to: I bless him for his kindness. 4. make happy or successful: May this country always be blessed with prosperity. 5. praise; glorify: Bless the Lord, O my soul. 6. guard; protect: Heaven bless this house. 7. make the sign of the cross over. v., blessed or blest, blessing.

bless ed (bles'id or blest), 1. holy; sacred. 2. beatified. 3. happy; successful. 4. in heaven. 5. Informal. annoying; cursed. adj. —bless/ed ness, n.

Bleachers

Blessed Virgin, the Virgin Mary.

blessing (bles'ing), 1. a prayer asking God to show His favor: The priest gave them his blessing. 2. a giving of God's favor. 3. a wish for happiness or success. 4. anything that makes one happy or contented: A good temper is a great blessing. 5. consent; approval. n.

blest (blest), 1. a pt. and a pp. of bless. 2. blessed. 1 v., 2 adj.

blew (blü), pt. of blow² and blow³. All night long the wind blew. v.

blight (blit), 1. any disease that causes plants to wither or decay. 2. insect or fungus that causes such a disease. 3. anything that causes destruction or ruin. 4. cause to wither or decay. 5. destroy; ruin. 1-3 n., 4, 5 v.

blimp (blimp), Informal. a small, nonrigid dirigible airship. n.

blind (blind), 1. not able to see. 2. make unable to see: The bright lights blinded me for a moment. 3. hard to see; hidden: a blind curve on a highway. 4. darken; dim; cover; conceal: Clouds blind the stars from my view. 5. without thought, judgment, or good sense: blind fury, a blind guess. 6. take away the power to understand or judge: His prejudices blinded him. 7. something that keeps out light or hinders sight. A window shade is a blind. 8. anything that conceals an action or purpose. 9. without an opening: a blind wall. 10. with only one opening: a blind canyon. 11. of or for blind persons. 12. made without previous knowledge: a blind purchase. 13. arranged for one by someone else: a blind date. 14. a hiding place for a hunter. 1,3,5,9-13 adj., 2,4,6 v., 7,8,14 n. —blind'ly, adv. —blind'ness, n.

blind alley, 1. passageway closed at one end. 2. anything that gives no chance for progress or improvement.

blind er (blin'dər), a leather flap to keep a horse from seeing sideways. n.

blind flying, directing an airplane by instruments only.

blind fold (blind'föld'), 1. cover the eyes of. 2. with the eyes covered. 3. thing covering the eyes. 4. reckless. 1 v., 2,4 adj., 3 n.

blind spot, 1. a round spot on the retina of the eye that is not sensitive to light. The optic nerve enters the eye there. See eye for diagram. 2. matter on which a person does not know that he is prejudiced or poorly informed. 3. an area of poor radio reception.

blink (blink), 1. look with the eyes opening and shutting: Mary blinked at the sudden light. 2. move the eyelids; wink: He blinked his eyes. 3. shine with an unsteady light: A little lantern blinked through the darkness. 4. a blinking. 5. look with indifference at; ignore: You cannot blink the fact that there is a war. 6. glimpse. 1-3, 5 v., 4,6 n.

blink er (blink'ər), 1. blinder. 2. a warning signal with flashing lights. n.

blip (blip), image on a radar screen. n.

bliss (blis), 1. great happiness; perfect joy. 2. the joy of heaven; blessedness. n.

bliss ful (blis'fəl), very happy; joyful. adj. —bliss'ful ly, adv. —bliss'ful ness, n.

blis ter (blis'tər), 1. a little baglike place under the skin filled with watery matter. Blisters are often caused by burns or rubbing. 2. a swelling on the surface of a plant, on metal, or on painted wood, etc. 3. raise a blister on. 4. become covered with blisters; have blisters. 5. attack with sharp words. 1,2 n., 3-5 v.

blithe (blīth or blith), gay; happy; cheerful. adj. —blithe'ly, adv. —blithe'ness, n.

blithe some (blīth'səm or blith'səm), gay; cheerful; happy. adj. —blithe'some ly, adv. —blithe'some-ness, n.

blitz (blits), 1. blitzkrieg. 2. a sudden, violent attack using many airplanes and tanks. 3. any sudden, violent attack. 4. attack by blitz. 1-3 n., 4 v.

blitz krieg (blits'krēg'), warfare in which the offensive is extremely rapid, violent, and hard to resist. n.

bliz zard (bliz'ərd), a violent, blinding snowstorm with a very strong wind and very great cold. n.

bloat (blōt), 1. swell up; puff up. 2. preserve (herring) by salting and smoking. v.

bloat er (blōt'ər), herring preserved by salting and smoking. n.

blob (blob), a small lump; bubble; drop. A round, sticky mass is a blob. n.

bloc (blok), group combined for a purpose. The farm bloc in Congress is a group from different political parties that favors laws to help the farmers. n.

block (blok), 1. a solid piece of wood, stone, metal, etc.: The Pyramids are made of blocks of stone. 2. fill so as to prevent passage or progress: The country roads were blocked with snow. 3. put things in the way of; obstruct; hinder: Her sickness blocked my plans for the party. 4. obstruction; hindrance: A block in traffic kept our car from moving on. 5. U.S. part of a city enclosed by streets on each side. 6. U.S. length of one side of a city block. 7. number of buildings close together. 8. group of things of the same kind: a block of ten tickets for a play. 9. a short section of railroad track with signals for spacing trains. 10. platform where things are put up for sale at an auction. 11. pulley in a casing. 12. piece of wood, etc., engraved for printing. 13. in sports, a hindering of an opponent's play. 14. in sports, hinder an opponent's play. 15. prevent (a nerve) from transmitting impulses. 16. shape with a mold. Felt hats are blocked. 17. Slang. a person's head. 1,4-13,17 n., 2,3,14-16 v. block in or out, plan or sketch roughly without filling in the details; outline.

block ade (blok ād'), 1. control of who or what goes into or out of a place by the use of an army or navy: A complete blockade of all the harbors and ports of the United States would take hundreds of enemy warships. 2. put under blockade. 3. army or navy used to blockade a place. 4. anything that blocks up or obstructs. 5. block up; obstruct. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v., block ad ed, block ad-ing. —block ad'er, n.

run the blockade, sneak into or out of a port that is being blockaded.

block and tackle, combination of pulleys and ropes to lift or pull something. See block for picture.

block bust er (blok'bus'tər), Informal. a very destructive aerial bomb that weighs two or more tons. n.

block head (blok'hed'), stupid person; fool. n.

block house (blok'hous'), fort or building with loopholes to shoot from. n.

block signal, signal to show whether a short section of railroad track ahead has a train on it or not.

block y (blok'ē), 1. like a block; chunky. 2. having patches of light and shade. adj., block i er, block i est.

blond or blonde (blond), 1. light-colored. 2. having yellow or light-brown hair, blue or gray eyes, and light skin. 3. person having such hair, eyes, and skin. A man of this sort is a blond; a woman of this sort is a blonde. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —blond'ness, blonde'ness, n.

blood (blud), 1. the red liquid in the veins and arteries of vertebrates; the red liquid that flows from a cut. Blood is circulated by the heart, and carries oxygen and digested food to all parts of the body and takes away waste materials. 2. the corresponding liquid in lower animals. 3. bloodshed; slaughter. 4. family; birth; relationship; parentage; descent: Love of the sea runs in his blood. 5. high lineage, especially royal lineage: a prince of the blood. 6. temper; state of mind: There was bad blood between them. 7. man of dash and spirit. n. in cold blood, 1. cruelly. 2. on purpose.

B, Block (def. 11)

Blinders

Blockhouse: A, loopholes for guns blood bank, 1. place for storage of blood. 2. the blood kept in storage.

blood count, count of the red and white corpuscles in a sample of a person's blood to see if it is normal.

blood curdling (blud'kèr'dling), terrifying; horrible: a bloodcurdling story. adj.

blood ed (blud'id), 1. coming from good stock; of good breed: blooded horses. 2. having a certain kind of blood: Snakes are considered cold-blooded; lions are warm-blooded. adj.

blood group, any of the four types of blood.

blood hound (blud'hound'), 1. one of a breed of large, powerful dogs with a keen sense of smell. Bloodhounds were used to track runaway slaves and are now used to track criminals or people who have become lost.

2. Slang, detective. n.

blood less (blud'lis), 1. without blood; pale. 2. without bloodshed. 3. without energy; spiritless. 4. cold-hearted; cruel. adj.

blood let ting (blud'let'ing), act of opening a vein to take out blood. n.

blood mo bile (blud'mā bēl'), a small bus or other vehicle, usually staffed with a doctor and a nurse, that permits people to give donations of blood without going to a hospital or clinic. n.

blood money, 1. money paid to have somebody killed. 2. money paid to make up for killing somebody.

blood poisoning, a diseased condition of blood caused by poisonous matter or germs.

blood pressure, pressure of the blood against the inner walls of the blood vessels, varying with exertion, excitement, health, age, etc.

blood root (blud'rūt'), a common wild plant that has a red root, red sap, and a white flower that blooms in early spring. n.

blood shed (blud'shed'), the shedding of blood; slaughter. n.

blood shot (blud'shot'), red and sore; tinged with blood. Your eyes become bloodshot if you get dirt in them. adj.

blood stained (blud'stānd'), 1. stained with blood. 2. guilty of murder or bloodshed. adj.

blood stone (blud'stōn'), a semiprecious green stone with specks of red jasper scattered through it. n.

blood stream, blood as it flows through the body.

blood suck er (blud'suk'ər), 1. animal that sucks blood; leech. 2. person who gets all he can from others. n.

blood test, examination of a sample of a person's blood to determine the type of blood, diagnose illness, etc.

blood thirst y (blud'thèrs'tiē), eager for bloodshed; cruel; murderous. adj.

—blood/thirst'ily, adv.

—blood/thirst'iness, n.

blood type, any one of four groups into which blood may be divided.

blood vessel, tube in the body through which the blood circulates. An artery, vein, or capillary is a blood vessel.

blood y (blud'ē), 1. bleeding: a bloody nose. 2. cause to bleed. 3. stained with blood. 4. stain with blood.

5. with much bloodshed: a bloody battle. 6. eager for bloodshed; cruel. 7. Brit. Slang, cursed; confounded.

1,3,5-7 adj., blood ier, blood iest; 2,4 v., blood ied, blood y ing. —blood'i ness, n.

bloom (blüm), 1. a flower; blossom. 2. have flowers; open into flowers; blossom: Many plants bloom in the spring. 3. condition or time of flowering. 4. condition or time of greatest health, vigor, or beauty: in the bloom of youth. 5. be in the condition or time of greatest health, vigor, or beauty. 6. glow of health and beauty.

7. glow with health and beauty. 8. the powdery coating on some fruits and leaves. There is a bloom on peaches and plums. 1,3,4,6,8 n., 2,5,7 v. —bloom'er, n.

bloom ers (blüm'ərz), 1. loose trousers, gathered at the knee, formerly much worn by women and girls for physical training. 2. underwear made like these. n.pl.

bloom ing (blüm'ing), 1. having flowers; blossoming. 2. flourishing. adj. —bloom'ing ly, adv.

blos som (blos'əm), 1. flower, especially of a plant that produces fruit: apple blossoms. 2. condition or time of flowering: a cherry tree in blossom. 3. have flowers; open into flowers. 4. open out; develop. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

blos som y (blos'əm ē), full of blossoms. adj.

blot (blot), 1. a spot of ink; stain of any kind. 2. spot with ink; stain; make blots. 3. dry (ink) with paper that soaks up ink. 4. blemish; disgrace. 1,4 n., 2-4 v.

blot ted, blot ting.

blot out, 1. hide; cover up. 2. wipe out; destroy.

blotch (bloch), 1. a large, irregular spot or stain. 2. place where the skin is red or broken out. 3. cover or mark with blotches. 1,2 n., 3 v.

blotch y (bloch'ē), having blotches. adj., blotch ier, blotch iest.

blot ter (blot'ər), 1. piece of blotting paper. 2. book for writing down happenings or transactions. A police station blotter is a record of arrests. n.

blotting paper, a soft paper used to dry writing by soaking up ink.

blouse (blous), 1. a loose garment covering the body from the neck or shoulders to the waist or just below. Women often wear blouses with skirts. Sailors wear blouses. 2. a short fitted coat worn as a part of the uniform of some branches of the armed forces of the United States. 3. a kind of smock reaching to the knees, worn by European peasants and workmen to protect their clothes. n. —blouse/like', adj.

blow¹ (blō), 1. a hard hit; knock; stroke: a blow with the fist, a hammer, etc. 2. a sudden happening that causes misfortune or loss; severe shock; misfortune: His mother's death was a great blow. 3. a sudden attack or assault: The army struck a swift blow at the enemy. n.

come to blows, start fighting.

blow² (blō), 1. send forth a strong current of air: Blow on the fire or it will go out. 2. move in a current; move rapidly or with power: The wind blows. 3. drive or carry by a current of air: The wind blew the curtain. 4. force a current of air into, through, or against. 5. clear or empty by forcing air through. 6. form or shape by air: blow glass. 7. act or fact of forcing air into, through, or against something; blast. 8. make a sound by a current of air or steam: The whistle blows at noon. 9. puff up; swell with air: blow bubbles. 10. break by an explosion; blow up, open, etc. 11. be out of breath. 12. put out of breath. 13. Informal, boast; brag. 14. of whales, spout water and air. 15. of insects, lay eggs in. Some flies blow fruit. 16. U.S. Slang, spend (money) recklessly. 17. melt. A short circuit will blow a fuse with too much electric current. 18. a blowing. 19. gale of wind. 1-6, 8-17 v., blew, blown, blow ing; 7,18,19 n.

blow hot and cold, change from a favorable opinion to an unfavorable one.

blow in, appear unexpectedly; drop in.

blow off, get rid of noisily.

blow over, 1. pass by. 2. be forgotten.

blow up, 1. explode. 2. fill with air. 3. Informal, become very angry. 4. Informal, scold; abuse. 5. arise; become stronger: A storm suddenly blew up. 6. enlarge (a photograph).

blow³ (blō), blossom; bloom (now used mostly as a past participle: a full-blown rose). v., blew, blown, blow ing, n.

blow er (blō'ər), 1. person or thing that blows: a glass blower. 2. machine for forcing air into a building, furnace, mine, etc. n.

hat, âge, câre, fâr; let, bē, tērm; it, îce; hot, gō, ôrder; oil, out; cup, pût, rûle, ûse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʦh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

Bloodhound (26 in. high at the shoulder) blow fly (blō'fī'), any of various two-winged flies that deposit their eggs on meat or in wounds. n., pl. blow flies.

blow gun (blō'gun'), tube through which a person blows arrows, darts, dried beans, etc. n.

blow hole (blō'hōl'), 1. hole where air or gas can escape. 2. hole for breathing, in the top of the head of whales and some other animals. 3. hole in the ice where whales, seals, etc., come to breathe. 4. defect; flaw. n.

blown (blōn), 1. out of breath; exhausted. 2. tainted by flies; tainted; stale. 3. shaped by blowing. 4. pp. of blow and blow: The wind has blown itself out. 1-3 adj., 4 v.

blow out (blō'out'), 1. the bursting of the inner tube and casing of an automobile tire. 2. a sudden or violent escape of air, steam, etc. 3. the melting of an electric fuse caused by too much current. 4. Slang, a big party or meal. n.

blow pipe (blō'pip'), 1. tube for blowing air or gas into a flame to increase the heat. 2. blowgun. n.

blow torch (blō'tōrch'), a small torch that shoots out a hot flame. It is used to melt metal and burn off paint. n.

blow up (blō'up'), 1. explosion. 2. Informal, outburst of anger. 3. an enlargement of a photograph. n.

blow y (blō'ē), windy. adj., blow ier, blow iest.

blowz y (blouz'ē), 1. untidy; frowzy. 2. red-faced and coarse-looking. adj., blowz ier, blowz iest.

bls., 1. barrels. 2. bales.

blubber (blub'ər), 1. fat of whales and some other sea animals. The oil obtained from whale blubber was formerly used in lamps. 2. noisy weeping. 3. weep noisily. 4. disfigure or swell with crying: a face all blubbered. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

bludg eon (bluj'əon), 1. a short club with a heavy end. 2. strike with a club. 3. bully; threaten. 1 n., 2,3 v. —bludg'eon er, n.

blue (blü), 1. the color of the clear sky in daylight. 2. having the color of the clear sky in daylight or any tone of this color. 3. something having this color; blue coloring matter, dye, or pigment. 4. make blue. 5. livid: blue from cold or a bruise. 6. sad; gloomy; discouraged. 7. use bluing on. 1,3 n., 2,5,6 adj., blu er, blu est; 4,7 v., blued, bluing or blue ing. —blue'ness, n.

out of the blue, completely unexpected.

the blue, 1. the sky. 2. the sea.

the blue and the gray, in the United States Civil War, soldiers of the Union and Confederate armies respectively.

blue bell (blü'bel'), any of various plants with blue flowers shaped like bells, such as the bluebell of Scotland and the wild hyacinth. n.

blue berry (blü'ber'ē), 1. a small, sweet, edible blue berry that has smaller seeds than the huckleberry. 2. the shrub that it grows on. n., pl. blue berries.

blue bird (blü'berd'), a small songbird of North America that is related to the robin. The male usually is a bright blue on the back and wings and has an orange breast. n.

blue-black (blü'blak'), bluish-black; very dark blue. adj.

blue blood, aristocratic descent.

blue-blood ed (blü'blud'id), aristocratic. adj.

blue bon net (blü'bon'it), 1. plant with blue flowers resembling sweet peas. 2. a wide, flat cap made of blue woolen cloth. 3. person wearing such a cap; Scotchman. n.

blue bot tle (blü'bot'l), 1. a large blowfly that has a blue abdomen and a hairy body. 2. any similar fly. 3. cornflower. n.

blue coat (blü'kōt'), policeman. n.

blue fish (blü'fish'), a blue-and-silver salt-water fish of the Atlantic Coast, much esteemed as food. n., pl. blue fish es or (esp. collectively) blue fish.

blue flág, iris that has blue flowers.

blue grass (blü'gras'), any of various American grasses with bluish-green stems, especially Kentucky bluegrass. Bluegrass is valuable for pasture and hay. n.

blue ing (blü'ing), bluing. n.

blue jack et (blü'jak'it), sail-or in the navy. n.

blue jay (blü'jä'), a noisy, chattering North American bird with a crest and a blue back. n.

blue laws, any very strict and puritanical laws.

Blue Nile, river flowing from E Africa into the Nile. 850 mi.

blue-pen cil (blü'pen'sl), change, cut down, or cross out with a pencil that makes a blue mark. v., blue-pen ciled, blue-pen cil ing or esp. Brit. blue-pen cilled, blue-pen cil ling.

blue print (blü'print'), 1. photograph that shows white outlines on a blue background, used to make copies of building plans, maps, etc. 2. a detailed plan for any enterprise. 3. make a blueprint of. 4. explain a plan in detail. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

blue racer, a dark-blue, harmless snake of the United States.

blue ribbon, 1. the first prize; highest honor. 2. badge of a temperance society.

Blue Ridge, the SE range of the Appalachian Mountains, extending from NW Maryland to N Georgia. The highest peak is 5964 feet.

blues (blüz), 1. Informal, low spirits. 2. a slow, melancholy song with jazz rhythm. n.pl.

blue-sky law, Informal, law to prevent the sale of worthless stocks and bonds.

blue stock ing (blü'stok'ing), Informal, woman who displays great interest in intellectual or literary subjects. n.

blu et (blü'it), a small plant of the United States, with pale bluish flowers. n.

bluff (bluf), 1. a high, steep bank or cliff. 2. rising with a straight, broad front. 3. abrupt, frank, and hearty in manner. 1 n., 2,3 adj. —bluff'ly, adv. —bluff'ness, n.

bluff (bluf), 1. show of pretended confidence, used to deceive or mislead. 2. deceive by a show of pretended confidence. 3. threat that cannot be carried out. 4. frighten with a threat that cannot be carried out. 5. person who bluffs. 1,3,5 n., 2,4 v. —bluff'er, n.

blu ing (blü'ing), a blue liquid or powder put in water when rinsing clothes. It keeps white clothes from turning yellow. n. Also, blueing.

blu ish (blü'ish), somewhat blue. adj.

blun der (blun'dər), 1. a stupid mistake. 2. make a stupid mistake. 3. do clumsily or wrongly; bungle. 4. move clumsily or blindly; stumble. 5. blurt out; say clumsily or foolishly. 1 n., 2-5 v. —blun'der er, n.

blun der buss (blun'dər-bus), 1. a short gun with a wide muzzle that fired a quantity of shot, but only for a very short distance. It is no longer used. 2. person who blunders. n.

blunt (blunt), 1. without a sharp edge or point; dull. 2. make less sharp; make less keen. 3. plain-spoken; outspoken; frank: He thinks that blunt speech proves he is honest. 1,3 adj., 2 v. —blunt'ly, adv. —blunt'ness, n.

blur (blər), 1. make confused in form or outline: Mist blurred the hills. 2. dim: Tears blurred my eyes. 3. become dim or indistinct: Her eyes blurred with tears. 4. blurred condition; dimness. 5. thing seen dimly or indistinctly. 6. smear; blot; stain: He blurred the page with ink in two places. 1-3,6 v., blurred, blur ring; 4-6 n.

blurb (blərb), Informal, advertisement or announcement, especially of a book, full of extremely high praise. n.

Bluejay (11 in. long)

Blunderbuss

blur ry (blér/ē), 1. dim; indistinct. 2. smeary; full of blots and stains. adj.

blurt (blért), say suddenly or without thinking: In his anger he blurted out the secret. v.

blush (blush), 1. a reddening of the skin caused by shame, confusion, or excitement. 2. become red because of shame, confusion, or excitement: She was so shy that she blushed every time she was spoken to. 3. be ashamed: I blush to observe the childish errors in my manuscript. 4. a rosy color. 5. be or become rosy. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v. at first blush, on first glance; at first thought.

blus ter (blus/tər), 1. storm or blow noisily and violently: The wind blustered around the house. 2. stormy noise and violence. 3. talk noisily and violently: A cowardly bully often blusters. 4. do or say noisily and violently. 5. noisy and violent talk: boastful bluster. 6. make or get by blustering. 1,3,4,6 v., 2,5 n. —blus-ter er, n.

blus ter y (blus/tər ē), blustering. adj.
blvd., boulevard.

bo a (bō/ə), 1. any of various large tropical American snakes. Boas are not poisonous, but kill their prey by squeezing with their coils. Anacondas, pythons, and boa constrictors are boas. 2. a long scarf made of fur or feathers, worn around a woman's neck. n., pl. bo as.

boa constrictor, a large tropical American boa.

boar (bōr), 1. a male pig or hog. See the picture just below. 2. a wild pig or hog. n.

board (bōrd), 1. a broad, thin piece of wood ready for use in building, etc. 2. cover with boards: Father boards up the windows of our summer cottage in the fall. 3. a flat piece of wood used for some special purpose: an ironing board. 4. pasteboard: a book with covers of board. 5. table to serve food on; table. 6. food served on a table. 7. meals provided for pay: Mrs. Jones gives good board. 8. provide with regular meals, or room and meals, for pay. 9. get meals, or rooms and meals, for pay. 10. group of persons managing something; council: a board of health. 11. get on (a ship, train, etc.). 12. come alongside of or against (a ship). 1,3-7,10 n., 2,8,9,11,12 v.

go by the board, be given up, neglected or ignored.
on board, on a ship, train, etc.
the boards, the stage of a theater.

board er (bōr/dər), 1. person who pays for meals, or for room and meals, at another's house. 2. one of the men assigned to go on board an enemy ship. n.

board foot, unit of measure equal to a board one foot square and one inch thick; 144 cubic inches. It is used for measuring logs and lumber.

board ing (bōr/ding), 1. boards. 2. structure made of boards. n.

boarding house, house where meals, or room and meals, are provided for pay.

boarding school, school where pupils are lodged and fed.

board measure, system for measuring logs and lumber. The unit is the board foot.

board walk (bōrd/wōk'), sidewalk or promenade made of boards. n.

boar hound (bōr/hound'), a large dog used for hunting boars, such as a Great Dane. n.

boast (bōst), 1. praise oneself; speak too highly of oneself or one's possessions, etc.; brag: He boasts of his new convertible. 2. brag about. 3. praising oneself; bragging. 4. thing to be proud of. 5. be proud. 6. have

Boa for the neck

Wild boar (4 ft. long; 2½ ft. tall)

and be proud of: Our town boasts many fine parks. 1,2,5,6 v., 3,4 n. —boast'er, n.

boast ful (bōst/fəl), 1. boasting; speaking too highly about oneself: It is easy to dislike a boastful person. 2. fond of boasting. adj. —boast'fully, adv. —boast'ful ness, n.

boat (bōt), 1. a small, open vessel for traveling on water, such as a motorboat or a rowboat. 2. ship. 3. a boat-shaped dish for gravy, sauce, etc. 4. go in a boat. 5. put or carry in a boat. 1-3 n., 4,5 v.

in the same boat, in the same position or condition; taking the same chances.

boat hook, a metal hook on a pole, used for pulling or pushing a boat, raft, etc.

boat house (bōt/hous'), house or shed for sheltering a boat or boats. n.

boat ing (bōt/ing), rowing; sailing. n.

boat load (bōt/lōd'), 1. as much or as many as a boat can hold or carry. 2. load that a boat is carrying. n.

boat man (bōt/mən), 1. man who rents out boats or takes care of them. 2. man who rows or sails boats for pay. 3. man who works on a boat. n., pl. boat men.

boat swain (bō'sn; less often bōt/swān'), a ship's officer in charge of the anchors, ropes, rigging, etc. He directs some of the work of the crew. n. Also, bo's'n, bosun.

Bo az (bō'az), in the Bible, the husband of Ruth. n.

bob¹ (bob), 1. move up and down, or to and fro, with short, quick motions: The bird bobbed its head up and down. 2. a short, quick motion up and down, or to and fro. 1 v., bobbed, bob bing; 2 n.

bob² (bob), 1. a short haircut. 2. cut (hair) short. 3. a horse's docked tail. 4. weight on the end of a pendulum or plumb line. 5. float for a fishing line. 6. bobsled. 1,3-6 n., 2 v., bobbed, bob bing.

bob³ (bob), 1. a light rap; tap. 2. rap lightly; tap. 1 n., 2 v., bobbed, bob bing.

bob⁴ (bob), Brit. Slang. shilling. n., pl. bob.

bob bin (bob'an), reel or spool for holding thread, yarn, etc. Bobbins are used in spinning, weaving, machine sewing, and lacemaking. Wire is also wound on bobbins. n.

Bobbin

bob by (bob/ē), Brit. Slang. policeman. n., pl. bob bies.

bobby pin, a metal hairpin whose prongs close on and hold tightly to the hair.

bob by socks (bob/ē sok's), Informal. ankle-length socks, worn by young girls. n.pl.

bob by sox er (bob/ē sok'sər), Informal. an adolescent girl who enthusiastically follows every new fad. n.

bob cat (bob/kat'), wildcat; lynx. n.

bob o link (bob'ə link'), an American songbird that lives in fields and meadows. It belongs to the same family as the blackbirds. n.

bob sled (bob/sled'), U.S.

1. two short sleds fastened together by a plank, or a long sled with two sets of runners and a continuous seat. 2. either of the short sleds. 3. ride or coast on a bobsled. 1,2 n., 3 v., bob sled ded, bob sled-ding.

Bobsled

bob sleigh (bob/slā'), bobsled. n., v., bob sleighed, bob sleigh ing.

bob stay (bob/stā'), rope or chain to hold a bowsprit down. See picture under bowsprit. n.

bob tail (bob/tāl'), 1. a short sprit; tail cut short. 2. horse or dog having a bobtail. 3. having a bobtail. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

bob white (bob/hwīt'), an American quail that has a grayish body with brown and white markings. Its call sounds like its name. See quail for picture. n.

bock (bok), bock beer. n.

buck beer, a strong, dark beer, usually sold in the spring.

bode¹ (bōd), be a sign of; indicate beforehand: Dark clouds boded rain. v., bod ed, bod ing.

bode ill, be a bad sign.

bode well, be a good sign.

bode² (bōd), pt. of bide. v.

bod ice (bod'is), 1. the close-fitting waist of a dress 2. a wide girdle worn over a dress and laced up the front. Some European peasant women wear bodices. n.

bod ied (bod'ed), 1. having a body.

2. having a certain kind of body. adj.

bod i less (bod'ē lis), without a body. adj.

bod i ly (bod'li ē), 1. of the body; in the body: bodily pain. 2. in person: The man whom we thought dead walked bodily into the room. 3. all together; as one group; entirely: The audience rose bodily. 1 adj., 2,3 adv.

bod kin (bod'kin), 1. a large, blunt needle. 2. a long hairpin. 3. a pointed tool for making holes. n.

body (bod'ē), 1. the whole material part of a man, animal, or plant: This boy has a strong, healthy body. 2. the main part or trunk of an animal, not the head or limbs. 3. the main part; larger part, such as the nave of a church, the hull of a ship. 4. part of a vehicle which holds the passengers or the load. 5. group of persons considered together; collection of persons or things: a body of troops. 6. Informal. person: He is a good-natured body. 7. a dead person; corpse. 8. mass; portion of matter: A lake is a body of water. 9. matter; substance: Thick soup has more body than thin soup. 10. provide with a body; give substance to; embody. 1-9 n., pl. bod ies; 10 v., bod ied, bod y ing. keep body and soul together, keep alive.

bod y guard (bod'ē gārd'), 1. man or men who guard a person. A king usually has a bodyguard of soldiers. 2. retinue; escort. n.

Boe o tia (bē ō'shā), district in ancient Greece, north of Athens. n. —Boe o'tian, adj., n.

Boer (bōr or būr), person of Dutch descent living in South Africa. n.

Boer War, war between Great Britain and the Boers of South Africa, lasting from 1899 to 1902.

bog (bog), 1. soft, wet, spongy ground; marsh; swamp. 2. sink or get stuck in a bog. 1 n., 2 v., bogged, bog ging.

bog down, get stuck as if in mud.

bo gey (bō'gē), 1. boggy. 2. one stroke in golf over par. n., pl. bo geys.

bog gle (bog'li), 1. blunder; bungle; botch. 2. hold back; hesitate. 3. jump with fright; shy. 1-3 v., bog gled, bog ging; 1 n.

bog gy (bog'ē), soft and wet like a bog; marshy; swampy. adj., bog gi er, bog gi est.

bo gie (bō'gē), boggy. n.

Bo go tā (bō'gā tā'), capital of Colombia. 954,000. n.

bo gos (bō'gās), U.S. counterfeit; sham. adj.

bo gy (bō'gē), 1. goblin; evil spirit. 2. person or thing that is feared; bugbear. n., pl. bo gies. Also, bogey, bogie.

Bo he mi a (bō hē'mē ə),

1. a former country in central Europe, now a region of Czechoslovakia. 2. a free and easy, unconventional sort of life; place where artists, writers, etc., live such a life. n.

Bo he mi an (bō hē'mē ən), 1. of Bohemia, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Bohemia. 3. language of Bohemia; Czech. 4. free and easy; unconventional. 5. artist, writer, etc., who lives in a free and easy, unconventional way. 6. gypsy. 1,4 adj., 2,3,5,6 n.

Bo he mi an ism (bō hē'mē ən iz'm), a free and easy way of living; unconventional habits. n.

Bodice (def. 2)

boil¹ (boil), 1. of liquids, bubble up and give off vapor: Water boils when heated. 2. cause (a liquid) to boil. 3. cook by boiling: boil eggs. 4. of a container, have its contents boil. 5. clean or sterilize by boiling. 6. be very excited or angry: He boiled with anger. 7. move violently. 8. a boiling. 9. a boiling condition. 1-7 v., 8,9 n.

boil down, 1. reduce by boiling. 2. reduce by getting rid of unimportant parts.

boil over, 1. come to the boiling point and overflow. 2. show excitement or anger.

boil² (boil), a painful, red swelling on the skin, formed by pus around a hard core. Boils are often caused by infection. n.

boil er (boil'ər), 1. container for heating liquids. 2. tank for making steam to heat buildings or drive engines. 3. tank for holding hot water. n.

boiling point, temperature at which a liquid boils. The boiling point of water at sea level is 212 degrees Fahrenheit or 100 degrees centigrade.

Boi se (boi'sē), capital of Idaho, in the SW part. 34,000. n.

bois ter ous (bois'tər əs), 1. noisily cheerful: a boisterous game. 2. violent; rough: a boisterous wind, a boisterous child. adj. —bois'ter ous ly, adv. —bois'ter ous ness, n.

bo la (bō'lə), weapon consisting of stone or metal balls tied to cords. South American cowboys throw it so that it winds around the animal aimed at. n.

bold (bōld), 1. without fear; daring: a bold knight, a bold explorer. 2. showing or requiring courage: a bold act. 3. too free in manner; impudent: The bold little boy made faces at us as we passed. 4. striking; vigorous; free; clear: The mountains stood in bold outline against the sky. 5. steep; abrupt: Bold cliffs overlooked the sea. adj. —bold'ly, adv. —bold'ness, n.

make bold, take the liberty; dare.

bold face (bōld'fās'), a heavy type that stands out clearly. This sentence is in boldface. n.

bole (bōl), trunk of a tree. n.

bo le ro (bā lār'ō), 1. a lively Spanish dance in 3/4 time. 2. music for it. 3. a short, loose jacket. n., pl. bo le ros.

Bol i var (bol'ə vər; Spanish bō lē'vār), Simon, 1783-1830, Venezuelan general and statesman, who led revolts against Spanish rule in South America. Bolivia is named after him. n.

Bo liv i a (bə liv'ē ə), country in W South America. 3,349,000 pop.; 416,040 sq. mi. Capitals: La Paz and Sucre. See South America for map. n.

—Bo liv'i an, adj., n.

boll (bōl), a rounded seed pod or capsule of cotton or flax. n.

boll weevil, a long-billed beetle whose larva damages young cotton bolls.

boll worm (bōl'wērm'), larva that eats cotton bolls and the ears of corn. n.

bo lo (bō'lō), a long, heavy knife, used in the Philippine Islands. n., pl. bo los.

bo lo gna (bə lō'nə or bə lō'nē), a large sausage made of beef, veal, and pork. n.

Bo lo gna (bə lō'nə), city in N Italy. 364,000. n.

Bol she vik or bol she vik (bōl'shə vik), 1. member of a radical political party in Russia that seized power in November, 1917. The Bolsheviks formed the Communist party in 1918. 2. of the Bolsheviks or Bolshevism. 3. an extreme radical. 4. extremely radical. 1,3 n., pl. Bol she viks or bol she viks, Bol she vi ki or bol she vi ki (bōl'shə vē'kē); 2,4 adj.

Man throwing a bola at a bird

Cotton bolls: A, unopened; B, opened.

Bol she vism or bol she vism (bōl'shə viz əm), 1. doctrines and methods of the Bolsheviks. 2. extreme radicalism. n.

Bol she vist or bol she vist (bōl'shə vist), Bolshevik. n., adj.

Bol she vis tic or bol she vis tic (bōl'shə vis'tik), of or like the Bolsheviks. adj.

bol ster (bōl'stər), 1. a long pillow for a bed. 2. pad; cushion. n.
bolster up, support; keep from falling; prop.

bolt¹ (bōlt), 1. rod with a head on one end and a screw thread for a nut on the other. Bolts are used to fasten things together or hold them in place. 2. a sliding fastener for a door. 3. fasten with a bolt. 4. part of a lock moved by a key. 5. a short arrow with a thick head. Bolts were shot from crossbows. 6. discharge of lightning. 7. a sudden start; a running away. 8. dash away; run away: The horse bolted. 9. U.S. break away from one's political party or its candidates. 10. U.S. refusal to support one's political party or its candidates. 11. roll of cloth or wallpaper. 12. swallow (food) without chewing. 1,2,4,7,10,11 n., 3,8,9,12 v.
bolt upright, stiff and straight.

bolt² (bōlt), sift through a cloth or sieve. Flour is bolted to remove the bran. v.

bolt er (bōl'tər), 1. horse that runs away. 2. U.S. person who breaks away from his political party. n.

bomb (bom), 1. container filled with an explosive charge or a chemical substance and exploded by a fuse, a time mechanism, or the force with which it hits something. 2. a dispenser for a substance (such as insecticide, paint, or tooth paste) stored under pressure and ejected as spray or foam. 3. attack with bombs; hurl bombs at; drop bombs on. 1,2 n., 3 v.

bom bard (bom bārd'), 1. attack with heavy fire of shot and shell from big guns: The artillery bombarded the enemy all day. 2. keep attacking vigorously: The lawyer bombarded the witness with one question after another. 3. subject (atomic nuclei) to a stream of fast-moving particles, thus changing the structure of the nuclei. v.

bom bar dier (bom'bər dir'), member of an airplane crew who operates the bombsight and the mechanism that releases the bomb. n.

bom bard ment (bom bārd'mənt), 1. an attack with heavy fire of shot and shell or with bombs. 2. the subjection of atomic nuclei to a stream of fast-moving particles. n.

bom bast (bom'bast), fine-sounding language that is unsuitable. n.

bom bas tic (bom bas'tik), using many fine words with too little thought. adj. —bom bas'ti cal ly, adv.

Bom bay (bom bā'), seaport in W India. 2,839,000. n.

bom ber (bom'ər), 1. a combat airplane used for dropping bombs on the enemy. 2. person who throws or drops bombs. n.

bomb proof (bom'prūf'), strong enough to be safe from bombs and shells. adj.

bomb shell (bom'shel'), 1. bomb. 2. a sudden, unexpected happening; disturbing surprise. n.

bomb sight (bom'sit'), instrument used on a plane to determine when to drop a bomb to have it hit the target. n.

bo na fi de (bō'nə fī'dē or bō'nə fid'), in good faith; genuine; without make-believe or fraud.

bo nan za (bə nan'zə), 1. a rich mass of ore in a mine. 2. Informal. any rich source of profit. n.

Bo na parte (bō'nə pārt), Napoleon, 1769-1821, French general and emperor of France from 1804 to 1815. n. Also, Napoleon I.

bon bon (bon'bon'), piece of candy, usually soft and often having a fancy shape. n.

bond¹ (bond), 1. anything that ties, binds, or unites: a bond of affection between sisters. 2. certificate issued by a government or company promising to pay back with interest the money borrowed. 3. issue bonds on; mortgage. 4. a written agreement by which a person says he will pay a certain sum of money if he does not perform certain duties properly. 5. provide surety against financial loss for: bond an employee. 6. any agreement or binding engagement. 7. condition of goods placed in a warehouse until taxes are paid. 8. put (goods) under bond. 9. way of arranging bricks, stones, or boards to bind them together. 10. bind or join firmly together. 1,2,4,6,7,9 n., 3,5,8,10 v.

bonds, 1. chains; shackles. 2. imprisonment.

bond² (bond), in slavery; captive; not free. adj.

bond age (bon'dij), 1. lack of freedom; slavery.

2. condition of being under some power or influence. n.

bond ed (bon'did), 1. secured by bonds. 2. put in a warehouse until taxes are paid. adj.

bond hold er (bond'hōl'dər), person who owns bonds issued by a government or company. n.

bond man (bond'mən), 1. slave. 2. serf in the Middle Ages. n., pl. bond men.

bonds man (bondz'mən), 1. person who becomes responsible for another by giving a bond. 2. slave. 3. serf in the Middle Ages. n., pl. bonds men.

bond wom an (bond'wūm'ən), a woman slave. n., pl. bond wom en.

bone (bōn), 1. one of the pieces of the skeleton of an animal with a backbone: the bones of the hand, a beef bone for soup. 2. take bones out of: bone fish. 3. the hard substance of which bones are made. 4. thing like bone. Ivory is sometimes called bone. 5. stiffen by putting whalebone or steel strips in. 6. Slang. study hard. 1,3,4 n., 2,5,6 v., boned, bon ing. —bone/less, n.

bon er (bōn'ər), Slang. a foolish mistake; blunder. n.

bone set (bōn'set'), plant of the same family as the aster, with flat clusters of white flowers. n.

bon fire (bon'fir'), fire built outdoors. n.

Bon i face (bon'ə fās), Saint, 680?-755? A.D., English monk who was a missionary in Germany. n.

bo ni to (bə nē'tō), type of salt-water fish with very red edible flesh. Bonitos are related to the mackerel and the tuna. n., pl. bo ni tos or bo ni toes.

Bonn (bon), city in W Germany, on the Rhine River. It is the capital of West Germany. 146,000. n.

bon net (bon'it), 1. a head covering usually tied under the chin with strings or ribbons, worn by women and children. 2. cap worn by men and boys in Scotland. 3. headdress of feathers worn by American Indians. 4. a covering that protects a machine or chimney. 5. put a bonnet on. 1-4 n., 5 v.

Bon ne ville Dam (bon'ə vil), a power and navigation dam on the Columbia River between SW Washington and NW Oregon. 170 ft. high.

bon ny or bon nie (bon'ē), 1. pretty; handsome. 2. fine; excellent. 3. healthy-looking. adj., bon ni er, bon ni est. —bon'ni ness, n.

bo nus (bō'nəs), something extra; thing given in addition to what is due. n.

bon vo yage (bōn vwā yāzh'), French. good-by; good luck; pleasant trip.

bon y (bōn'ē), 1. of bone. 2. like bone. 3. full of bones. 4. having big bones that stick out. 5. thin. adj., bon i er, bon i est. —bon'i ness, n.

boo (bü), 1. sound made to show dislike or contempt or to frighten. 2. make such a sound.

3. cry "boo" at. 1 n., pl. boos;

1 interj.; 2,3 v., booed, boo ing.

boob (büb), U.S. Slang. a stupid person; fool; dunce. n.

boo by (bü'bē), 1. a stupid person. 2. kind of large tropical sea bird. 3. person who does the worst in a game or contest. n., pl. boo bies.

Booby (30 in. long)

booby trap, 1. trick arranged to annoy some unsuspecting person. 2. bomb arranged to explode when an object is grasped, pushed, etc., by an unsuspecting person.

boog ie-woog ie (büg'ē wüg'ē), a form of musical blues marked by a repeating bass figure under the melody. n.

book (bük), 1. a written or printed work of considerable length, especially on sheets of paper bound together. 2. blank sheets bound together. 3. division of a literary work: the books of the Bible. 4. words of an opera, operetta, etc.; libretto. 5. record of bets. 6. something fastened together like a book: a book of tickets. 7. trick or a number of tricks forming a set in a card game. 8. enter in a book or list. 9. engage (a place, passage, etc.): They booked two staterooms on the steamship. 10. engage; make engagements for: The lecturer is booked for every night of the week. 1-7 n., 8-10 v. —book'er, n. —book'less, adj.

keep books, keep a record of business accounts.

the Book, the Bible.

book bind er (bük'bin'där), person whose work or business is binding books. n.

book case (bük'käs'), piece of furniture with shelves for holding books. n.

book club, a business organization that supplies certain books regularly to subscribers.

book ish (bük'ish), 1. fond of reading or studying. 2. knowing books better than real life. 3. having to do with books. adj. —book'ish ness, n.

book keep er (bük'kēp'är), person who keeps a record of business accounts. n.

book keep ing (bük'kēp'ing), work or art of keeping a record of business accounts. n.

book let (bük'lit), a little book; thin book. It usually has paper covers. n.

book mak er (bük'mäk'är), person who makes a business of accepting bets on horse races. n.

book mark (bük'märk'), 1. something put between the pages of a book to mark the place. 2. bookplate. n.

book mo bile (bük'məbēl), a bus or truck that serves as a traveling branch of a library. n.

Book of Common Prayer, book containing the prayers and services of the Church of England or the Episcopal Church.

book plate (bük'plāt'), a label with the owner's name or emblem printed on it, to paste in his books. n.

book sell er (bük'sel'är), person whose business is selling books. n.

book shop (bük'shop'), bookstore. n.

book stall (bük'stöl'), place where books (usually second-hand) are sold. It is often outdoors. n.

book store (bük'stôr'), U.S. store where books are sold. n.

book worm (bük'wärm'), 1. any insect larva that gnaws the bindings or leaves of books. 2. person who is very fond of reading and studying. n.

boom (büm), 1. a deep hollow sound like the roar of cannon or of big waves. 2. make a deep hollow sound: The big man's voice boomed out above the rest. 3. utter with such a sound: The big guns boomed their message. 4. a sudden activity and increase in business, prices, or values of property; rapid growth: Our town is having such a boom that it is likely to double its size in two years. 5. increase suddenly in activity; grow rapidly: Business is booming. 6. produced by a boom: boom prices. 7. a vigorous pushing or urging. 8. push or urge vigorously: The governor's friends are booming him for senator. 1,4,7 n., 2,3,5,8 v., 6 adj.

boom (büm), 1. a long pole or beam, used to extend the bottom of a sail or as the lifting pole of a derrick. 2. chain, cable, or line of timbers that keeps logs from floating away. n.

boom er ang (büm'ər ang), 1. a curved piece of wood, used as a weapon by Australian natives. It can be thrown so that it returns to the thrower. 2. anything that recoils or reacts to harm the doer or user. 3. act as a boomerang. 1,2 n., 3 v.

boom town, town that has grown up suddenly.

boon (büñ), 1. a blessing; great benefit: Those warm stockings were a boon to me in the cold weather. 2. Archaic. something asked or granted as a favor. n.

boon (büñ), jolly; gay; merry: boon companion. adj.

Boone (büñ), Daniel, 1734-1820, American pioneer in Kentucky. n.

boor (bür), 1. a rude, bad-mannered, or clumsy person. 2. a farm laborer; peasant. n.

boor ish (bür'ish), rude; having bad manners; clumsy. adj. —boor'ish ness, n.

boost (büst), U.S. Informal. 1. a push or shove that helps a person in rising or advancing: a boost over the fence. 2. lift or push from below or behind. 3. speak favorably of. 4. raise; increase: boost prices. 1 n., 2-4 v. —boost'er, n.

boot (büť), 1. a leather or rubber covering for the foot and lower part of the leg. 2. a kind of high shoe. 3. put boots on. 4. kick. 5. an old instrument of torture used to crush a person's leg. 6. place for baggage in a coach. 7. Slang. a new recruit in training in the United States Navy or Marines. 1,2,4-7 n., 3,4 v.

boot (büť), Archaic. profit; benefit. n.

to boot, in addition; besides: He gave me his knife for my book and a dime to boot.

boot black (büť'blak'), person whose work is shining shoes and boots. n.

boot ee (bü tē'; esp. for 1 büť'ē), 1. a baby's soft shoe. 2. a woman's short boot. n.

Bo ö tes (bö ö'tēz), a northern constellation that includes the star Arcturus. n.

booth (büth), 1. place where goods are sold or shown at a fair, market, etc. 2. a small, closed place for a telephone, motion-picture projector, etc. 3. a small, closed place for voting at elections. 4. a partly enclosed space in a café or the like, containing a table and seats for a few persons. n., pl. booths (büthz or büths).

Booth (büth), 1. John Wilkes, 1839?-1865, American actor who assassinated Abraham Lincoln. 2. William, 1829-1912, English clergyman who founded the Salvation Army. n.

boot jack (büť'jak'), device to help in pulling off boots. n.

boot leg (büť'leg'), U.S. 1. sell, transport, or make unlawfully. 2. made, transported, or sold unlawfully. 3. Slang. alcoholic liquor made, sold, or transported unlawfully. 1 v., boot legged, boot leg ging; 2 adj., 3 n.

boot leg ger (büť'leg'är), Slang. person who boot-legs. n.

boot less (büť'lis), useless. adj. —boot'less ly, adv.

boot lick er (büť'lik'är), U.S. Slang. flatterer; person who follows or obeys another slavishly. n.

boots (büts), Brit. servant who shines shoes and boots and does other simple work. n.

boots and saddles, a bugle call to mount horses.

boo ty (bü'tē), 1. things taken from the enemy in war. 2. plunder: The pirates got much booty from the raided town. 3. any valuable thing or things obtained; prize. n., pl. boo ties.

booze (büz), Informal. 1. any intoxicating liquor. 2. spree. 3. drink heavily. 1,2 n., 3 v., boozed, booze ing.

bo rac ic (bəras'ik), boric. adj.

bor age (bēr'ij or bōr'ij), plant, native to S Europe, with hairy leaves and blue or purplish flowers. It is used in salads, in flavoring beverages, and medicinally. n.

bo rate (bô/rāt), salt or ester of boric acid. n.
borat ed (bô/rāt id), mixed or treated with boric acid or borax. adj.
bo rax (bô/raks), a white crystalline powder used as an antiseptic, in washing clothes, in fusing metals, and in preserving foods; sodium borate. n.
Bor deaux (bôr dôf), 1. seaport in SW France. 258,000. 2. a red or white wine made near Bordeaux. n.
bor der (bôr/dər), 1. a side, edge, or boundary of anything, or the part near it. 2. form a boundary to; bound: The Rio Grande borders part of Texas. 3. frontier. 4. strip on the edge of anything for strength or ornament: Her handkerchief has a blue border. 5. put a border on; edge: We have bordered our lawn with shrubs. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v.
border on or upon, 1. touch at the border; be next to; adjoin. 2. be close to; resemble.
bor der land (bôr/dər land'), 1. land forming, or next to, a border. 2. an uncertain district or space: the borderland between sleeping and waking. n.
bor der line (bôr/dər līn'), 1. boundary; dividing line. 2. on a border or boundary. 3. uncertain; in between. 1 n., 2,3 adj.
Border States, the slave States near free territory in the United States before the Civil War; Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, and Missouri.
bore¹ (bôr), 1. make a hole by means of a tool that keeps turning, or as a worm does in fruit: Bore through the handle of that brush so we can hang it up. 2. make (a hole, passage, entrance, etc.) by pushing through or digging out: A mole has bored its way under the hedge. 3. bore a hole in; hollow out evenly. 4. hole made by a revolving tool. 5. a hollow space inside a pipe, tube, or gun barrel: He cleaned the bore of his gun. 6. distance across the inside of a hole or tube. 1-3 v., bored, boring; 4-6 n.
bore² (bôr), 1. make weary by being dull or tiresome: I was never bored with his stories. 2. a dull, tiresome person or thing. 1 v., bored, boring; 2 n.
bore³ (bôr), pt. of bear. She bore her loss bravely. v.
bore⁴ (bôr), a sudden, high tidal wave that rushes up a channel with great force. n.
bo re al (bô/rē əl), 1. northern. 2. of Boreas. adj.
Bo re as (bô/rē əs), the north wind. n.
bore dom (bôr/dəm), a bored condition; weariness caused by dull, tiresome people or events. n.
bor er (bôr/ər), 1. tool for boring holes. 2. insect or worm that bores into wood, fruit, etc. n.
bore some (bôr/səm), boring; dull; tiresome. adj.
bo ric (bô/rik), of or containing boron. adj.
boric acid, a white crystalline substance used as a mild antiseptic, to preserve food, etc.
born (bôrn), 1. brought into life; brought forth. 2. by birth; by nature: a born athlete. 3. a pp. of bear: He was born in 1900. 1,2 adj., 3 v.
borne (bôrn), a pp. of bear. I have borne it as long as I can. v.
Bor ne o (bô/rnē ō), large island in the East Indies. Part of it belongs to the Federation of Malaysia, part to Indonesia, and part is a British protectorate. 5,100,000 pop.; 289,860 sq. mi. See Indonesia for map. n.
bo ron (bô/ron), a nonmetallic chemical element found in borax. Symbol: B n.
bor ough (bôr/ō), 1. in some States of the United States, an incorporated town smaller than a city. 2. one of the five divisions of New York City. 3. town in England with a municipal corporation and a charter that guarantees the right of local self-government. 4. town in England that sends representatives to Parliament. n.
bor row (bôr/ō or bor/ō), 1. get (something) from another person with the understanding that it must be returned. 2. take and use as one's own; adopt; take:

Rome borrowed many ideas from Greece. 3. take from another language: The word "canoe" was borrowed from the Indians. v. —bor/row er, n.
borrow trouble, worry about something before there is reason to.
Bors (bôrs), Sir, one of King Arthur's knights who saw the Holy Grail. n.
borsch (bôrsh), a Russian soup containing beets. n.
bosh (bosh), Informal. nonsense. n., interj.
bosk y (bos/kē), 1. wooded. 2. shady. adj.
bo's'n (bô/sn), boatswain. n.
Bos ni a (boz/nē ə), region in W Yugoslavia. n.
bos om (büz/əm), 1. the upper, front part of the human body; breast. 2. the part of a garment covering this. 3. the center or inmost part: He did not mention it even in the bosom of his family. 4. heart, thoughts, affections, desires, etc. 5. surface (of sea, lake, river, ground, etc.). 6. close; trusted: a bosom friend. 1-5 n., 6 adj.
Bos po rus (bos/pə-rəs), strait connecting the Black Sea and the Sea of Marmara. 18 mi. long. See Dardanelles for map. n.
boss¹ (bôs), Informal. 1. U.S. person who hires workers or watches over or directs them; foreman; manager. 2. U.S. person who controls a political organization. 3. be the boss of; direct; control: John's uncle bosses the mechanics in that garage. 4. master; chief. 1,2 n., 3 v., 4 adj.
boss² (bôs), 1. a raised ornament of silver, ivory, or other material on a flat surface. 2. decorate with bosses. 1 n., 2 v.
boss y (bôs/ē), Informal. fond of telling others what to do and how to do it; domineering. adj., boss i er, boss i est.
Bos ton (bôs/tən), seaport and capital of Massachusetts, in the E part. 697,000. n.
Boston bull, Boston terrier.
Bos to ni an (bôs tō/nē ən), 1. of Boston. 2. native or inhabitant of Boston. 1 adj., 2 n.
Boston terrier, a small, dark-brown dog with white markings and smooth, short hair.
bo sun (bô/sn), boatswain. n.
bot (bot), larva of a botfly. It is a parasite of horses, cattle, and sheep. n. Also, bott.
bo tan ic (bə tan'ik), botanical. adj.
bo tan i cal (bə tan'ə kl), 1. having to do with plants and plant life. 2. having to do with botany. adj.
bo tan i cal ly (bə tan'ik lē), in a botanical manner; according to the principles of botany. adv.
bot a nist (bot'n ist), expert in botany. n.
bot a nize (bot'n iz), 1. study plants where they grow. 2. collect plants for study. 3. explore the plant life of. v., bot a nized, bot a nizing.
bot a ny (bot'n ē), 1. science of plants; study of plants and plant life. It deals with the structure, growth, classification, diseases, etc., of plants. 2. a scientific book about plants. n., pl. bot a nies.
Botany Bay, bay on the SE coast of Australia, near Sydney. A penal colony was formerly located there.
botch (boch), 1. spoil by poor work; bungle. 2. a poor piece of work. 3. patch or mend clumsily. 4. a clumsy patch. 1,3 v., 2,4 n. —botch'er, n.
botch y (boch/ē), botched; poorly made or done. adj., botch i er, botch i est.
bot fly (bot'fli'), a two-winged fly whose larvae are parasites of horses, cattle, and sheep. n., pl. bot flies.
both (bōth), 1. the two; the one and the other: Both houses are white. 2. the two together: Both belong to him. 3. together; alike; equally: He can sing and dance both (adv.). He is both strong and healthy (conj.). 1 adj., 2 pron., 3 adv., conj.

Boston terrier
(12 to 16 in. tall)

both er (boʃH'ər), 1. worry; fuss; trouble: Don't bother about my breakfast; I'll eat what is here (v.). What a lot of bother about nothing (n.). 2. person or thing that causes worry or trouble: A door that will not shut is a bother. 3. irritate: Hot weather bothers me. 1,2 n., 1,3 v.

both er some (boʃH'ər səm), causing worry or fuss; troublesome. adj.

Both ni a (boʃnī ə), Gulf of, gulf between Sweden and Finland. n.

Bo tswa na (bōt swā'nə), Republic of, a country in S Africa. 543,000 pop.; 222,000 sq. mi. Capital: Gaborones. n. Formerly, Bechuanaland.

bott (bot), bot. n.

bot tle (bot'l), 1. container for handling liquids, usually made of glass, and without handles. Typically, though not always, bottles have narrow necks which can be closed with stoppers. Some bottles, however, have wide necks; some are closed with caps. 2. amount that a bottle can hold: He could drink a whole bottle of milk. 3. put into bottles: bottle milk. 4. hold in; keep back; control. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., bot tled, bot tling. —bot'tle-like', adj. —bot'tler, n.

bottle up, hold in; control: bottle up one's anger.

bot tle neck (bot'l nek'), 1. neck of a bottle. 2. a narrow passageway or street. 3. person or thing that hinders progress; check. 4. situation in which progress is hindered. n.

bot tle nose (bot'l nōz'), a kind of dolphin with a nose shaped like the neck of a bottle; porpoise. n.

bot tom (bot'əm), 1. the lowest part: These berries at the bottom of the basket are smaller. 2. part on which anything rests: The bottom of that cup is wet. 3. ground under water: the bottom of the sea. 4. the low land along a river. 5. seat: This chair needs a new bottom. 6. basis; foundation; origin: He is at the bottom of this mischief. 7. the buttocks. 8. keel or hull of a ship; ship. 9. set upon a foundation; base; rest. 10. lowest; last: bottom prices. I have spent my bottom dollar. 11. underlying; fundamental. 1-8 n., 9 v., 10,11 adj.

bot tom less (bot'əm lis), 1. without a bottom. 2. so deep that the bottom cannot be reached; extremely deep: sunk in the bottomless depths of the sea, a bottomless lake in the mountains. adj.

bot u lism (boch'ə liz əm), poisoning caused by eating food that has been spoiled by the action of certain bacteria. n.

bou doir (bü'dwār), a lady's private sitting room or dressing room. n.

bough (bou), 1. one of the main branches of a tree. 2. branch cut from a tree. n.

bought (bōt), pt. and pp. of buy. We bought apples from the farmer. v.

bought en (bōt'n), Dialect. bought; not home-made. adj.

bouil lon (bül'yon), a clear, thin soup or broth. n.

boul der (bōl'dər), a large rock rounded or worn by the action of water or weather. n. Also, bowlder.

Boulder Dam, Hoover Dam.

boul e vard (bül'ə vārd), a broad street. n.

Bou logne (bü lōn'), seaport in N France. 42,000. n.

bounce (bouns), 1. bound like a ball: The baby likes to bounce up and down on the bed. 2. cause to bounce. 3. a bound; a spring; a bouncing. 4. burst noisily, angrily, etc.: She bounced out of the room. 5. Slang. throw out. 6. Slang. discharge from work or employment. 1,2,4-6 v., bounced, bouncing; 3,6 n.

bounc er (boun'sər), 1. anything very big. 2. Informal. person who boasts or brags. 3. U.S. Slang. a strong man hired by a cabaret, hotel, etc., to throw out people who do not behave properly. n.

bounc ing (boun'sing), 1. that bounces. 2. big; strong. 3. vigorous; healthy. adj.

bouncing Bet or Bess, a European plant naturalized in the United States, growing wild by roadsides, etc., and having white or pink, often double, flowers.

bound¹ (bound), 1. pt. and pp. of bind: The men bound their prisoners with ropes. 2. put in covers: a bound book. 3. under some obligation; obliged. 4. certain; sure. 5. Informal. determined; resolved. 1 v., 2-5 adj.

bound up in or with, 1. closely connected with. 2. very devoted to.

bound² (bound), 1. leap; spring lightly along; jump: The deer bounds through the woods. 2. leap or spring upward or onward. 3. spring back; bounce: The ball bounded from the wall (v.). I caught the ball on the first bound (n.). 1-3 v., 2,3 n.

bound³ (bound), 1. boundary; limiting line; limit: Keep your hopes within bounds. 2. form the boundary of; limit. 3. name the boundaries of: Bound the State of Maine. 4. have its boundary (on): Canada bounds on the United States. 1 n., 2-4 v.

bound⁴ (bound), going; on the way: I am bound for home. adj.

bound a ry (boun'də rē), a limiting line; limit; border: the boundary between Canada and the United States. n., pl. bound a ries.

bound en (boun'dən), 1. required; obligatory. 2. under obligation; obliged. adj.

bound less (boun'dlis), not limited; infinite; vast: the boundless ocean. adj. —bound/less ly, adv. —bound/less ness, n.

bounds (boundz), 1. land on or near a boundary. 2. area included within boundaries: The inns near the camp were declared out of bounds. n.pl.

boun te ous (boun'tē əs), 1. generous; given freely: bounteous presents. 2. plentiful; abundant: bounteous food. adj. —boun'te ous ly, adv. —boun'te ous ness, n.

boun ti ful (boun'tē fəl), 1. generous; giving freely: bountiful friends. 2. plentiful; abundant: We have a bountiful supply of tomatoes. adj. —boun'ti ful ly, adv. —boun'ti ful ness, n.

boun ty (boun'tē), 1. generosity. 2. a generous gift. 3. a reward; premium: The State government gives a bounty of one dollar for each wolf killed. n., pl. boun ties.

bou quet (bō kā' or bū kā' for 1; bū kā' for 2), 1. bunch of flowers. 2. fragrance; aroma. n.

Bour bon (bür'bən, occasionally bër'bən for 1 and 2; bër'bən for 3), 1. a former royal family of France, Spain, Naples, and Sicily. 2. a person who clings to old ideas and opposes any change; an extreme conservative. 3. a kind of whiskey. n.

bour geois (bür zhvä'), 1. person of the middle class. 2. of the middle class. 3. like the middle class; ordinary. 1 n., pl. bour geois; 2,3 adj.

bour geoi sie (bür'zhvä zē'), people of the middle class. n.

bour n or bourne¹ (börn), a small stream; brook. n.

bour n or bourne² (börn or bürn), 1. Archaic. boundary; limit. 2. goal. n.

Bourne mouth (börn'məth or bürn'məth), city in S England. 143,000. n.

bourse (bürs), the stock exchange in Paris, and in other European cities; exchange where merchants transact business with one another. n.

bout (bout), 1. trial of strength; contest: Those are the two boxers who will appear in the main bout. 2. spell; period spent in some particular way: a long bout of illness. I have just had a long bout of house cleaning. n.

bo vine (bō'vin), 1. of an ox or cow; like an ox or cow. 2. an ox, cow, etc. 3. slow; stupid. 4. without emotion; stolid. 1,3,4 adj., 2 n.

bow¹ (bou), 1. bend the head or body in greeting, respect, worship, or submission. 2. a bending of the head or body in this way. 3. show by bowing: bow one's thanks. 4. cause to stoop: The man was bowed by old age. 5. submit; yield: We must bow to necessity. 1,3-5 v., 2 n.

bow² (bō), 1. weapon for shooting arrows, consisting of a strip of elastic wood bent by a string. 2. curve; bend. 3. something curved; curved part: A rainbow is a bow. 4. a looped knot: a bow of ribbon. 5. a slender rod with horsehairs stretched on it, for playing a violin, etc. 6. play (a violin, etc.) with a bow. 1-5 n., 2,6 v. —bow/less, adj. —bow/like', adj.

bow^s (bou), the forward part of a ship, boat, or airship. See aft for picture. n.

bow el (bou'əl), part of the bowels; intestine. n.

bow els (bou'əlz), 1. the tube in the body into which food passes from the stomach; intestines. 2. the inner part: Miners dig for coal in the bowels of the earth. n.pl.

bow er (bou'ər), 1. shelter of leafy branches. 2. summerhouse or arbor. 3. Archaic. bedroom. n.

bow ery (bou'ər ē), like a bower; leafy; shady. adj.

bow ie knife (bō'ē or bū'ē), a long, single-edged hunting knife carried in a sheath.

bow knot (bō'not'), slipknot such as is made in tying shoelaces. It usually has two loops and two ends, and can be untied by pulling the ends. n.

bowl¹ (bōl), 1. a hollow, rounded dish, usually without handles. 2. amount that a bowl can hold. 3. a hollow, rounded part: the bowl of a spoon or a pipe. 4. a large drinking cup. 5. drink. 6. drinking. 7. formation or structure shaped like a bowl: The Yale bowl is used for football and other sports. n. —bowl/like', adj.

bowl² (bōl), 1. a fairly large, heavy ball used in certain games. The ones used in bowling (bowling balls) are now usually made out of a plastic resembling hard rubber. 2. play the game of bowls or of bowling. 3. a throw or casting in the game of bowls or in bowling. 4. roll or move along rapidly and smoothly: Our car bowled along on the good road. 5. throw (the ball) to the batsman in the game of cricket. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 v.

bowl over, 1. knock over. 2. Informal. make helpless and confused.

bowler (bōl'dər), boulder. n.

bow leg (bō'leg'), 1. leg that curves outward. 2. an outward curve of the legs. n.

bow leg ged (bō'leg'id), having the legs curved outward. adj.

bowler (bōl'ər), 1. person who bowls. 2. Brit. a derby hat. n.

bow line (bō'lən), 1. knot used in making a loop. 2. rope tied to the edge of a square sail nearest the wind. It holds the sail steady when sailing into the wind. n.

bowline knot, bowline (def. 1).

bowling (bō'ling), 1. game played indoors, in which balls are rolled down an alley at bottle-shaped wooden pins; ninepins or tenpins. 2. playing the game of bowls. n.

bowling alley, U.S. a long, narrow, enclosed floor for bowling.

bowling green, a smooth, flat stretch of grass for bowling.

bowls (bōlz), 1. game played by rolling a lopsided or weighted wooden ball toward a stationary ball. 2. bowling (def. 1). n.

bow man (bō'mən), soldier armed with bow and arrows; archer. n., pl. bow men.

bow shot (bō'shot'), distance that a bow will shoot an arrow. n.

bow sprit (bou'sprit), pole or spar projecting forward from the bow of a ship. Ropes from it help to steady sails and masts. n.

bow string (bō'string'), 1. a strong cord stretched from the ends of a bow, pulled back by the archer to send the arrow forward. 2. cord like this. n.

box¹ (boks), 1. container made of wood, metal, paper, etc., to pack or put things in. 2. amount that a box can hold: Strawberries cost fifty cents a box. 3. pack in a box; put into a box. 4. a small

Single bowknot

Bowline (def. 1)

Bowman

BOWSPRIT

BOBSTAY

boxlike space with chairs at a theater, etc. 5. an enclosed space for a jury, witnesses, etc. 6. a small shelter: a box for a sentry. 7. the driver's seat on a coach, carriage, etc. 8. place where the baseball pitcher stands to throw the ball. 9. place where the batter stands to hit the ball. 10. receptacle in a post office for a subscriber's mail. 1,2,4-10 n., 3 v. —box/like', adj.

box² (boks), 1. blow with the open hand or the fist, especially on the ear. 2. strike such a blow. 3. fight (as a sport) with the fists. 1 n., 2,3 v.

box³ (boks), 1. shrub or small, bushy tree that stays green all winter, much used for hedges, borders, etc. 2. its hard, durable wood. n.

box car (boks'kär'), a railroad freight car enclosed on all sides. Most boxcars are loaded or unloaded through a sliding door on either side. n.

box elder, a North American maple tree with compound leaves, often grown for shade or ornament.

box er (bok'sər), 1. man who fights with his fists in padded gloves according to special rules. 2. dog with a smooth brown coat, related to the bulldog and terrier. n.

box ing (bok'sing), act of fighting with the fists. n.

Boxing Day, a legal holiday in England that occurs the first weekday after Christmas; December 26 or 27. Presents are given to employees, postmen, etc.

boxing gloves, padded gloves worn when boxing.

box office, 1. place where tickets are sold in a theater, hall, etc. 2. money taken in at the box office.

box score, a complete record of the plays of a baseball game arranged in a table by the names of the players.

box seat, chair or seat in a box of a theater, hall, auditorium, stadium, etc.

box wood (boks'wud'), 1. the hard, fine-grained wood of the box. 2. the tree itself. n.

boy (boi), 1. a male child from birth to about eighteen. 2. a male servant, especially a native servant in India, China, etc. 3. a familiar term for a man. n.

boy cott (boi'kot), 1. combine against and have nothing to do with (a person, business, nation, etc.). If people are boycotting someone, they do not associate with him, or buy from or sell to him, and they try to keep others from doing so. 2. refuse to buy or use (a product, etc.). 3. a boycotting. 1,2 v., 3 n.

boy hood (boi'hud), 1. time or condition of being a boy. 2. boys as a group: The boyhood of the nation produces the leaders of the future. n.

boy ish (boi'ish), 1. of a boy. 2. like a boy. 3. like a boy's: a boyish grin. 4. fit for a boy: boyish games. adj. —boy/ish ly, adv. —boy/ish ness, n.

boy scout, member of the Boy Scouts.

Boy Scouts, organization for boys that develops manly qualities and usefulness to others.

boy sen ber ry (boi'zn ber'ē), a purple berry like a blackberry in size and shape, and like a raspberry in flavor. n., pl. boy sen ber ries.

Bp., Bishop.

Br., bromine.

Br., 1. Britain. 2. British.

br., 1. branch. 2. brother.

brace (brās), 1. thing that holds parts together or in place. An iron rod or a timber used to strengthen a building, a tight bandage for the wrist, and an iron frame to hold the ankle straight are all braces. 2. give strength or firmness to; support. 3. pair; couple: a brace of ducks. 4. handle for a tool or drill used for boring. See bit for picture. 5. either of these signs { } used to enclose words, figures, staves in music, etc. 6. a metal wire used to straighten crooked teeth. 1,3-6 n., 2 v., braced, bracing.

brace oneself or brace up, Informal. summon one's strength or courage.

brace and bit, tool for boring, consisting of a drill fitted into a handle.

brace let (brās'/lit), 1. band or chain worn for ornament around the wrist or arm. 2. Informal. handcuff. n. bracer (brās'/ər), 1. person or thing that braces. 2. U.S. Slang. a stimulating drink. n. braces (brās'/iz), Britl. suspenders. n.pl.
brach i o pod (brak'ē ə pod'), one of a group of sea animals characterized by a shell with upper and lower valves and a pair of cilia-covered "arms" coiled within the shell. n.

bracing (brās'/ing), 1. giving strength and energy; refreshing. 2. brace or braces. 1 adj., 2 n. —brac'-ingly, adv.

bracken (brak'/ən), 1. a large fern. 2. growth of these ferns. n.

bracket (brak'/it), 1. a flat piece of stone, wood, or metal projecting from a wall as a support for a shelf, a statue, etc. 2. support with a bracket. 3. shelf supported by brackets. 4. a gas or electric fixture projecting from a wall. 5. either of these signs [], used to enclose words or figures. 6. enclose within brackets. 7. think of together; mention together; group. 1,3-5 n., 2,6,7 v.

brack ish (brak'/ish), 1. somewhat salty. 2. distasteful; unpleasant. adj. —brack'-ishness, n.

bract (brakt), a small leaf at the base of a flower or flower stalk. n.

brad (brad), a small, thin nail with a small head. n.

bradawl (brad'ol'), awl with a cutting edge for making small holes for brads, etc. n.

Brad dock (brad'ək), Edward, 1695-1755, English general in America. n.

Bradford (brad'fərd), 1. William, 1590-1657, the second governor of the Pilgrim colony at Plymouth, Massachusetts. 2. city in N England. 287,000. n.

brae (brā), Scottish. slope; hillside. n.

brag (brag), 1. boast. 2. boasting talk. 1,2 n., 1 v., bragged, bragging. —brag'-ger, n.

Bragg (brag), Braxton, 1817-1876, Confederate general in the Civil War. n.

brag ga do ci o (brag'ə dō'shē ō), 1. boasting; bragging. 2. boaster; braggart. n., pl. brag ga do ci os.

brag gart (brag'ərt), 1. boaster. 2. boastful. 1 n., 2 adj.

Brahe (brā), Tycho, 1546-1601, Danish astronomer. n.

Brah ma (brā'mə for 1; brā'mə or brā'mə for 2), 1. the Hindu god of creation. 2. kind of cattle, originally imported from India. n.

Brah man (brā'mən), member of the priestly caste, the highest caste in India. n., pl. Brah mans. Also, Brahmin.

Brah man ism (brā'mən iz əm), a Hindu religious and social system. n.

Brah ma pu tra (brā'mə pū'trə), river flowing from S Tibet into the Bay of Bengal. 1800 mi. n.

Brah min (brā'mən), 1. Brahman. 2. a cultured, intellectual person of the upper class. n., pl. Brah min.

Brahms (brāmz), Johannes, 1833-1897, German composer of music. n.

braid (brād), 1. band formed by weaving together three or more strands of hair, ribbon, straw, etc.: Mary despised wearing her hair in braids, even though everyone thought they were pretty. 2. form by weaving together three or more strands of hair, ribbon, straw, etc. 3. weave together strips or strands of. 4. a narrow band of fabric used to trim or bind clothing. 5. trim or bind with braid. 6. band for confining the hair. 7. confine (hair) with a band. 1,4,6 n., 2,3,5,7 v. —braid'-er, n.

braided (brād'id), 1. formed by weaving together three or more strands of hair, ribbon, straw, etc. 2. trimmed or bound with braid. adj.

Braille or braille (brāl), 1. system of writing and printing for blind people. The letters in Braille are made of raised points and are read by touching them. 2. the letters themselves. n.

brain (brān), 1. mass of nerve tissue enclosed in the skull or head of vertebrate animals. The brain is used in feeling and thinking. 2. part of the nervous system of invertebrates, corresponding to the brain of vertebrates. 3. large electronic computer. 4. Slang. very intelligent person. 5. dash the brains out of. 1-4 n., 5 v. brains, intelligence.

brain cell, a nerve cell in the brain.

brain less (brān'-lis), 1. without a brain. 2. stupid; foolish. adj. —brain'-less ly, adv.

brain storm, 1. Informal. a sudden inspired idea. 2. a sudden, but temporary, mental disturbance.

brain trust, a group of experts acting as advisers to an administrator, a political leader, or an executive.

brain wash (brān'wosh'ing or brān'wosh'ing), process of purging a person's mind of his political, economic, and social ideas, so that he becomes willing to accept other views. n.

brain y (brān'ē), Informal. intelligent; clever. adj., brain i er, brain i est. —brain'-iness, n.

braise (brāz), brown (meat) quickly and then cook it long and slowly in a covered pan with very little water. v., braised, braising.

brake (brāk), 1. anything used to check the motion of a wheel or vehicle by pressing or scraping. 2. slow up or stop by using a brake: brake an automobile. 3. use a brake on. 1 n., 2,3 v., braked, braking.

brake (brāk), a thick growth of bushes; thicket. n.

brake (brāk), a large, coarse fern. n.

brake (brāk), Archaic. broke, a pt. of break. v.

brake band, band acting as a brake or controlling a brake.

brake man (brāk'mən), man who works brakes or helps the conductor of a railroad train. n., pl. brake-men.

bram ble (bram'bl), 1. a large group of plants related to the rose, of which many varieties, such as the blackberry and raspberry, are prickly. 2. any rough, prickly shrub. n.

bram bly (bram'blē), 1. full of brambles. 2. like brambles; prickly. adj., bram bli er, bram bli est.

bran (bran), the broken coat of the grains of wheat, rye, etc., separated from the flour. n.

branch (branch or brānch), 1. part of a tree growing out from the trunk; any woody part of a tree above the ground except the trunk. A bough is a main branch. A twig is a very small branch. 2. any division that resembles a branch of a tree: a branch of a river, a branch of a family. 3. put out branches; spread in branches. 4. divide into branches: The road branches at the bottom of the hill. 5. division; part: History is a branch of learning. 6. a local office: a branch of a bank. 1,2,5,6 n., 3,4 v.

branch off, divide into branches.

branch out, 1. put out branches. 2. extend business, interests, activities, etc.

brand (brand), 1. a certain kind, grade, or make: a brand of coffee. 2. trademark. 3. mark made by burning the skin with a hot iron. Cattle and horses on big ranches are marked with brands to show who owns them. 4. an iron stamp for burning a mark. 5. mark by burning the skin with a hot iron. In former times criminals were often branded. 6. mark of disgrace. 7. put a mark of disgrace on: He has been branded as a traitor. 8. piece of wood that is burning or partly burned. 9. Archaic and Poetic. sword. 1-4,6,8,9 n., 5,7 v. —brand'-er, n.

brandied (brān'dēd), prepared, mixed, or flavored with brandy. adj.

Parts of the human brain bran dish (bran/'dish), 1. wave or shake threateningly; flourish: The knight drew his sword and brandished it at his enemy. 2. a threatening shake; flourish. 1 v., 2 n.

brand-new (brand/'nū' or brand/'nū'), very new; entirely new. adj.

bran dy (bran/'dē), 1. a strong alcoholic liquor made from wine. 2. a similar alcoholic liquor made from fruit juice. n., pl. brandies.

Bran dy wine (bran/'dē win'), creek in SE Pennsylvania and Delaware. The American army was defeated there by the British in 1777. n.

brant (brant), a small, dark, wild goose. It breeds in Arctic regions and migrates south in the autumn. n., pl. brants or (esp. collectively) brant.

brash (brash), 1. hasty; rash. 2. impudent; saucy. adj.

Bra sí lia (brā sē/'lyā), capital of Brazil since 1960, in the central part. 65,000. n.

brass (bras), 1. a yellow metal that is an alloy of two parts copper and one part zinc. 2. thing made of brass, such as ornaments, dishes, etc. 3. made of brass. 4. Informal. money. 5. Informal. shamelessness; impudence. 6. U.S. Slang. high-ranking military officers. 1,2,4-6 n., 3 adj.

brasses, musical wind instruments made of brass. The trumpet, trombone, and French horn are brasses.

bras sard (bras/'ārd or bra sār'd'), 1. band worn above the elbow as a badge. 2. armor for the upper part of the arm. n.

brass ie (bras/'ē), a golf club with a wooden head on the bottom of which is a metal plate. n., pl. brass ies. Also, brassy.

bras sière (brā zir'), a bust support worn by women. n.

brass tacks, Informal. the actual facts or details.

brass-wind (bras/'wind'), of or having to do with the brass winds. adj.

brass winds, metal musical instruments that are played by blowing, such as trumpets or trombones.

brass y (bras/'ē), 1. of brass. 2. like brass. 3. loud and harsh. 4. Informal. shameless; impudent. 5. brassie. 1-4 adj., brass ier, brass iest; 5 n., pl. brass ies. —brass'i ly, adv. —brass'i ness, n.

brat (brat), Scornful use. child. n.

bra va do (brā vā/'dō), a great show of boldness without much real courage; boastful defiance without much real desire to fight. n.

brave (brāv), 1. without fear; having courage: brave knights. 2. a brave person. 3. meet without fear: Soldiers brave much danger. 4. dare; defy: He braved the king's anger. 5. making a fine appearance; showy: The fair had brave displays. 6. a North American Indian warrior. 7. Archaic. fine; excellent. 1,5,7 adj., brav er, brav est; 2,6 n.; 3,4 v., braved, brav ing. —brave'ly, adv. —brave'ness, n.

brav er y (brāv/'ēr ē), 1. fearlessness; courage. 2. fine appearance; showy dress; finery. n., pl. brav er ies.

bra vo! (brā/'vō), 1. well done! fine! excellent! 2. cry of "bravo!" 1 interj., 2 n., pl. bra vos.

bra vo! (brā/'vō or brā/'vō), a hired fighter or murderer. n., pl. bra voes or bra vos.

bra vu ra (brā vyūr/'ā), 1. piece of music requiring skill and spirit in the performer. 2. display of daring; attempt at brilliant performance; dash; spirit. n.

braw (brō or brā), Scottish. 1. making a fine appearance. 2. excellent; fine. adj.

brawl (brōl), 1. a noisy quarrel. 2. quarrel noisily. 3. babble. 1,3 n., 2,3 v. —brawl'er, n.

brawn (brôn), 1. muscle; firm, strong muscles. 2. muscular strength: Football requires brawn as well as brawn. 3. boiled and pickled meat from a boar or hog. n.

brawn y (brôn/'ē), strong; muscular. adj., brawn ier, brawn iest. —brawn'i ness, n.

bray¹ (brā), 1. the loud, harsh sound made by a donkey. 2. noise like it. 3. make a loud, harsh sound. 4. utter in a loud, harsh voice. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

bray² (brā), pound or crush into fine bits; grind into a powder. v.

braz e¹ (brāz), 1. cover or decorate with brass. 2. make like brass. v., brazed, braz ing.

braz e² (brāz), solder with brass or other hard solder that has a high melting point. v., brazed, braz ing.

bra zen (brā/'zn), 1. made of brass. 2. like brass in color or strength. 3. loud and harsh: the brazen bellow of a horn. 4. shameless; impudent: You should be ashamed of such brazen behavior. 5. make shameless or impudent. 1-4 adj., 5 v. —bra'zen ly, adv. —bra'zen ness, n.

brazen a thing out or through, act as if unashamed of it.

bra zier (brā/'zhēr), a metal container to hold burning charcoal or coal. Braziers are used in some countries for heating rooms. n.

Braz il (brā zil'), the largest country in South America. 65,000,000 pop.; 3,286,170 sq. mi. Capital: Brasília. See South America for map. n.

Braz il ian (brā zil/'yən), 1. of Brazil or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Brazil. 1 adj., 2 n.

Brazil nut, a large, triangular, edible nut of a tree growing in Brazil.

Braz za ville (brāz/'ə vil), capital of the Republic of Congo, in the S part. 99,000. n.

breach (brēch), 1. an opening made by breaking down something solid; gap: There is a breach in the hedge where I ran through it with my bicycle. 2. break through; make an opening in: The enemy's fierce attack finally breached the wall. 3. a breaking (of a law, promise, duty, etc.); neglect: For me to go away today would be a breach of duty. 4. a breaking of friendly relations; quarrel. 1,3,4 n., 2 v.

breach of faith, a breaking of a promise.

breach of promise, a breaking of a promise to marry.

breach of the peace, a public disturbance; riot.

bread (bred), 1. food made of flour or meal mixed with milk or water and baked. 2. food; livelihood: How will you earn your daily bread? 3. cover with bread crumbs before cooking. 1,2 n., 3 v. —bread'less, adj.

break bread, 1. share a meal. 2. administer or take Communion.

cast one's bread upon the waters, do good with little or no prospect of reward.

know which side one's bread is buttered on, know what is to one's advantage.

bread and butter, Informal. necessities; a living.

bread-and-but ter (bred/'ənd but/'ər), 1. Informal. prosaic; commonplace. 2. expressing thanks for hospitality: a bread-and-butter letter. adj.

bread board (bred/'bōrd'), 1. board on which dough is kneaded, pastry is rolled, etc. 2. board on which bread is cut. n.

bread fruit (bred/'frūt'), 1. a large, round, starchy, tropical fruit of the Pacific Islands, much used for food. When baked, it tastes somewhat like bread. 2. tree that it grows on. n.

bread line, line of people waiting to get food given as charity or relief.

bread stuff (bred/'stuf'), 1. grain, flour, or meal for making bread. 2. bread. n.

breadth (bredth), 1. how broad a thing is; distance across; width. 2. piece of a certain width: a breadth of cloth. 3. freedom from narrowness: A tolerant person usually has breadth of mind. 4. spaciousness; extent. n.

breadth ways (bredth/'wāz'), in the direction of the breadth. adv.

breadth wise (bredth/'wīz'), breadthways. adv.

bread win ner (bred/'win/'ər), person who earns a living for those dependent on him. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

break (brāk), 1. make come to pieces by a blow or pull: How did my glasses get broken? 2. come apart; crack; burst: The plate broke into pieces when it fell on the floor. 3. a broken place; gap; crack. 4. a breaking; fracture; rupture; shattering. 5. destroy evenness, wholeness, etc.: break a five-dollar bill. 6. injure; damage; ruin; destroy: She broke her watch by winding it too tightly. 7. fracture the bone of; dislocate: break one's arm, one's neck. 8. fail to keep; act against: break a law, break a promise. 9. force one's way: break loose from prison, break into a house. 10. forcing one's way out. 11. come suddenly: The storm broke within ten minutes. 12. change suddenly: The spell of rainy weather has broken. 13. an abrupt or marked change. 14. a short interruption in work, athletic practice, etc.: a break for coffee at ten. The coach told us to take a break for five minutes. 15. lessen the force of: The trees break the wind. 16. be crushed; give way: The dog's heart broke when its master died. 17. dawn; appear: The day is breaking. 18. stop; put an end to: break one's fast. 19. reduce in rank: The captain was broken for neglect of duty. 20. train to obey; tame: break a colt. 21. go beyond; exceed: The speed of the new train has broken all records. 22. dig or plow (ground). 23. make known; reveal: break the bad news gently. 24. train (someone) away from a habit. 25. open an electric circuit. 26. act of making an electric circuit incomplete. 27. Slang. an awkward remark; mistake in manners. 28. Slang. chance; opportunity. 1,2,5-9,11,12,15-25 v., broke or (Archaic) brake, broken or (Archaic) broke, break ing; 3,4,10,13,14,26-28 n.

break away, 1. start before the signal. 2. go suddenly. 3. change suddenly.

break down, 1. have an accident; fail to work. 2. collapse; become weak; lose one's health. 3. begin to cry. 4. analyze: These figures on living expenses must be broken down into food, shelter, medical bills, etc.

break in, 1. prepare for work or use; train. 2. enter by force. 3. interrupt.

break off, 1. stop suddenly. 2. stop being friends.

break out, 1. start suddenly (of something harmful, such as a fire, an epidemic, war). 2. have pimples, rashes, etc., on the skin.

break up, Informal. 1. scatter. 2. stop; put an end to. 3. upset; disturb greatly.

break with, stop being friends with.

break age (brāk'ij), 1. a breaking; break. 2. damage or loss caused by breaking. 3. allowance made for such damage or loss. n.

break down (brāk'daun'), 1. failure to work. 2. loss of health; weakness; collapse: a nervous breakdown. 3. U.S. a noisy, lively dance. 4. analysis. n.

break er (brāk'ər), 1. wave that breaks into foam on the shore, rocks, etc. 2. machine for breaking things into smaller pieces. n.

break fast (brēk'fəst), 1. the first meal of the day. 2. eat breakfast. 1 n., 2 v.

break neck (brāk'nek'), likely to cause a broken neck; very dangerous: breakneck speed. adj.

break of day, dawn.

break through (brāk'thrū'), an offensive military operation that gets all the way through a defensive system into the unorganized area in the rear. n.

break up (brāk'up'), 1. a scattering; separation. 2. a stopping; end. 3. collapse; decay. n.

break wa ter (brāk'wō'tər), wall or barrier to break the force of waves. n.

bream (brēm), 1. carp of inland European waters. 2. the common fresh-water sunfish of the United States. n., pl. breams or (esp. collectively) bream.

bream (brēm), clean (a ship's bottom). v.

breast (brest), 1. the upper, front part of the human body; chest. 2. the corresponding part in animals.

3. the upper, front part of a coat, dress, etc. 4. thing suggesting the human breast in shape or position; front or forward part. 5. gland that gives milk. 6. heart; feelings. 7. U.S. oppose; face; struggle with; advance against: He breasted every trouble as it came. 1-6 n., 7 v. make a clean breast of, confess completely.

breast bone (brest'bōn'), the thin, flat bone in the front of the chest to which the ribs are attached; sternum. See collarbone for picture. n.

breast pin (brest'pin'), an ornamental pin worn on the breast; brooch. n.

breast plate (brest'plāt'), 1. armor for the chest. 2. vestment set with jewels, worn by the Jewish high priest. n.

breast stroke, stroke in swimming in which both arms are brought at one time from in front of the head to the sides.

breast work (brest'wērk'), a low, hastily built wall for defense. n.

breath (breth), 1. air drawn into and forced out of the lungs. 2. act of breathing. 3. moisture from breathing: You can see your breath on a very cold day. 4. ability to breathe easily: Running fast makes a person lose his breath. 5. a slight movement in the air. 6. a whisper. 7. life. 8. fragrance given off by flowers, etc. n.

below one's breath, in a whisper. in the same breath, at the same time.

breathe (brēth), 1. draw (air) into the lungs and force it out. 2. stop for breath; rest; allow to rest and breathe. 3. put out of breath. 4. blow lightly. 5. say softly; whisper; utter. 6. be alive; live. 7. draw into the lungs; inhale. 8. send out from the lungs; exhale. 9. send out; impart: The captain breathed new life into his tired soldiers. v., breathed, breath ing.

breathe again or freely, be relieved; feel easy.

breath er (brēth'ər), 1. a short stop for breath; rest. 2. Informal. thing that puts a person out of breath. n.

breath ing (brēth'ing), 1. respiration. 2. a single breath. 3. time needed for a single breath. 4. remark; utterance. 5. a slight breeze. n.

breathing space, room or time enough to breathe easily; opportunity to rest.

breath less (brēth'lis), 1. out of breath: Running very fast makes you breathless. 2. unable to breathe freely because of fear, interest, or excitement: The beauty of the scenery left Anne breathless. 3. without breath; dead. adj. —breath/less ly, adv.

breath-tak ing (brēth'tāk'ing), thrilling; exciting: a breath-taking ride on a roller coaster. adj.

brec ci a (brēch'ē ə), rock consisting of angular fragments of older rocks cemented together. n.

Breck in ridge (brēk'ən rij), John Cabell, 1821-1875, American statesman and Confederate general, vice-president of the United States from 1857 to 1861. n.

bred (bred), pt. and pp. of breed. He bred livestock for market. Our parents have bred us to be honest. v.

brech (brēch), 1. the lower part; back part. 2. part of a gun behind the barrel. 3. rump; buttocks. 4. cloth with breeches. 1-3 n., 4 v.

brech cloth (brēch'klōth'), cloth worn around the breech, especially by American Indians. n.

brech es (brich'iz), 1. short trousers reaching from the waist to the knees. 2. Informal. trousers. n.pl.

breeches buoy, pair of short canvas trousers fastened to a belt or life preserver. A breeches buoy slides along a rope on a pulley and is used to rescue people from sinking ships.

breech ing (brich'ing), part of a harness that passes around a horse's rump. n. breech load ing (brēch'lōd'ing), of guns, loading from behind the barrel instead of at the mouth. adj.

BREAST PLATE

Breakwater

Breeches buoy

breed (brēd), 1. produce (young): Rabbits breed rapidly. 2. raise (livestock, etc.): This farmer breeds cattle for market. 3. produce; cause: Careless driving breeds accidents. 4. be produced or caused. 5. bring up; train: He was bred a sailor. 6. race; stock: Jerseys are a breed of cattle. 7. kind; sort. 1-5 v., bred, breeding; 6, 7 n.

breeder (brēd'ər), 1. person who breeds animals: a cattle breeder, a dog breeder. 2. animal that produces offspring. 3. source; cause: Poverty is a breeder of war. n.

breeder pile, breeder reactor.

breeder reactor, a reactor that produces at least as much fissionable material as it uses. One type of reaction consumes uranium and produces plutonium.

breeding (brēd'ing), 1. the producing of offspring. 2. the producing of animals, especially to get improved kinds. 3. bringing up; training; behavior; manners: Politeness is a sign of good breeding. 4. in nuclear science, the producing in a reactor of at least as much fissionable material as is used. n.

breeze (brēz), 1. a light wind. 2. Informal. disturbance; quarrel. 3. Informal. proceed easily or briskly. 1, 2 n., 3 v., breezed, breezing.

breeze way (brēz'wā'), a roofed passage open at the sides, between a main building and a lesser building, such as between a house and a garage. n.

breezy (brēz'ē), 1. that has a breeze; with light winds blowing. 2. brisk; lively; jolly: We like his breezy, joking manner. adj., breezier, breeziest. —breezily, adv. —breeziness, n.

Brem en (brem'ən or brāmən), city in N West Germany. 552,000. n.

Bren ner (bren'ər), a mountain pass in the Alps between Austria and Italy. 4470 ft. high. n.

br'er (brēr), Dialect. brother. n.

Bres lau (bres'lou), German name of Wrocław, Poland. n.

Brest (brest), seaport in NW France. 111,000. n.

brethren (brēth'rən), 1. Archaic. brothers. 2. the fellow members of a church or society. n. pl.

Bret on (brēt'n), 1. native or inhabitant of Brittany. 2. language of Brittany. 3. having to do with Brittany, its people, or their language. 4. Cape, the northeastern point of Nova Scotia. 1, 2, 4 n., 3 adj.

bre vet (brā vet'), 1. a commission promoting an army officer to a higher rank without an increase in pay. 2. having or giving rank by a brevet. 3. give rank by a brevet. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v., bre vet ted, bre vet ting or bre vet ed, bre vet ing.

bre vi ar y (brē'vē er'ē or brē'vē er'ē), book of prescribed prayers to be said daily by certain clergymen and religious of the Roman Catholic Church. n. pl. bre vi aries.

brev i ty (brēv'ə tē), shortness; briefness. n., pl. brevities.

brew (brū), 1. make (beer, ale, etc.) from malt, etc., by soaking, boiling, and fermenting. 2. make (a drink) by soaking, boiling, or mixing: Tea is brewed in boiling water. 3. a drink brewed. 4. quantity brewed at one time. 5. bring about; plan; plot: Those boys are brewing some mischief. 6. begin to form; gather: Dark clouds show that a storm is brewing. 1, 2, 5, 6 v., 3, 4 n.

brew er (brū'ər), person who brews beer, ale, etc. n.

brew ery (brū'ər ē), place where beer, ale, etc., are brewed. n., pl. breweries.

brew ing (brū'ing), 1. the preparing of a brew. 2. amount brewed at one time. n.

Brezhnev (brezh'nev), Leonid, born 1906, Russian statesman, secretary of the Russian Communist Party since 1964. n.

bri ar (brī'ər), a thorny or prickly bush, especially the wild rose. n. Also, brier.

bri ar (brī'ər), 1. a white heath tree. 2. a tobacco pipe made from its root. n. Also, brier.

bri ar wood (brī'ər wūd'), brierwood. n.

bri ar y (brī'ər ē), briery. adj.

bribe (brib), 1. anything given or offered to get a person to do something that he thinks is wrong to do. 2. reward for doing something that a person does not want to do: A child should not need a bribe to obey his parents. 3. influence by giving a bribe. 1, 2 n., 3 v., bribed, bribing. —brib'a ble, adj. —brib'er, n.

brib ery (brib'ər ē), 1. the giving or offering of a bribe. 2. the taking of a bribe. n., pl. briberies.

bric-a-brac or bric-à-brac (brik'ə brak'), interesting or curious knickknacks used as decorations; small ornaments, such as vases, old china, or small statues. n.

brick (brik), 1. block of clay baked by sun or fire, used in building and paving. 2. bricks. 3. made of bricks. 4. anything shaped like a brick: Ice cream is often sold in bricks. 5. build or pave with bricks; wall in with bricks: Harry's father bricked the walk in front of his house. 6. Informal. a good fellow; one who is generous and dependable. 1, 2, 4, 6 n., 3 adj., 5 v.

brick bat (brik'bat'), 1. piece of broken brick, especially one used as a missile. 2. Informal. insult. n.

brick lay er (brik'lā'ər), man whose work is building with bricks. n.

brick work (brik'wərk'), 1. thing made of bricks. 2. building with bricks; laying bricks. n.

brick yard (brik'yārd'), place where bricks are made or sold. n.

brid al (brīd'l), 1. of a bride or a wedding. 2. a wedding. 1 adj., 2 n.

bridal wreath, a shrub having long sprays of small, white flowers that bloom in the spring; a kind of spiraea.

bride (brīd), woman just married or about to be married. n.

bride groom (brīd'grūm'), man just married or about to be married. n.

brides maid (brīdz'mād'), a young, usually unmarried woman who attends the bride at a wedding. n.

bridge (brij), 1. structure built over a river, road, etc., so that people, trains, etc., can get across. 2. build a bridge over: The engineers bridged the river. 3. extend over; span: A log bridged the brook. 4. make a way over: Politeness will bridge many difficulties. 5. platform above the deck of a ship for the officer in command. 6. the upper, bony part of the nose. 7. a mounting for false teeth fastened to real teeth nearby. 8. a movable piece over which the strings of a violin, etc., are stretched. 1, 5-8 n., 2-4 v., bridged, bridging.

burn one's bridges, cut off all chances of retreat.

bridge (brij), a card game for four players played with 52 cards. n.

bridge head (brij'hed'), 1. position obtained and held by advance troops within enemy territory, used as a starting point for further attack. 2. position taken as a stand from which to make further advances. 3. fortification protecting the end of a bridge toward the enemy. 4. either end of a bridge. n.

Bridge port (brij'pōrt), city in SW Connecticut, on Long Island Sound. 157,000. n.

Bridge town (brij'toun), capital of Barbados in the West Indies. 11,000. n.

bridge work (brij'wərk'), false teeth in a mounting fastened to real teeth nearby. n.

bridging (brij'ing), braces placed between two beams to strengthen them and to keep them apart. n.

bridle (brīdl), 1. the head part of a horse's harness, used to hold back or control a horse. 2. put a bridle on. 3. anything that holds back or controls. 4. hold back; check; control: Bridle your temper. 5. hold the head up high with the chin drawn back to express pride, vanity, scorn, or anger: Jean bridled when we made fun of her new hat. 1, 3 n., 2, 4, 5 v., bridled, bridling. —bridler, n.

Bridle (def. 1)

brief (brĕf), 1. lasting only a short time: a brief meeting. 2. using few words: a brief announcement. 3. a short statement; summary. 4. statement of the facts and the points of law of a case to be pleaded in court. 5. make a brief of; summarize. 6. furnish with a brief. 7. Brit. retain as a lawyer or counsel. 8. give a briefing to. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n., 5-8 v. —brief'ly, adv. —brief'ness, n.

hold a brief for, argue for; support; defend.
in brief, in few words.

brief case, a flat container for carrying loose papers, books, drawings, etc.

briefing (brĕf'ing), a short summary of the details of a flight mission, given to the crew of a combat airplane just before it takes off. n.

bri er (brĭ'ər), a thorny or prickly bush that has a woody stem, especially the wild rose. n. Also, briar.

bri er (brĭ'ər), 1. a white heath tree found in S Europe. Its root is used in making tobacco pipes. 2. a tobacco pipe made of this. n. Also, briar.

bri er wood (brĭ'ər wūd'), 1. the wood of briar tree roots. 2. any of various woods of which tobacco pipes are made. 3. pipe made from such wood. n. Also, briarwood.

bri er y (brĭ'ər ĕ), full of briars; thorny. adj. Also, briary.

brig (brig), 1. a square-rigged ship with two masts. 2. U.S. prison on a warship. n.

brigade (brĭ gād'), 1. part of an army. It is usually made up of two or more regiments. 2. group of people organized for some purpose: A fire brigade puts out fires. n.

brig a dier (brig'ə dir'), brigadier general. n.

brigadier general, U.S. an officer commanding an Army brigade, a wing of the Air Force, or an equivalent unit, next in rank above a colonel and below a major general. pl. brigadier generals.

brig and (brig'ənd), man who robs travelers on the road; robber; bandit. n.

brig and age (brig'ən dij), robbery; plundering. n.

brig an tine (brig'ən tĕn), ship with two masts. The foremast is square-rigged; the mainmast is fore-and-aft-rigged. n.

bright (brīt), 1. giving much light; shining: bright stars. 2. very light or clear: a bright day. 3. quick-witted; clever: A bright girl learns quickly. 4. vivid; glowing: a bright fire. 5. lively; gay; cheerful: a bright smile. 6. favorable: a bright outlook for the future. 7. famous; glorious: The knight was a bright example of courage in battle. 8. in a bright manner: The fire shines bright. 1-7 adj., 8 adv. —bright'ly, adv. —bright'ness, n.

bright en (brīt'n), 1. grow bright or brighter: The sky brightened. 2. make bright or brighter. 3. make happy or cheerful. 4. become happy or cheerful: Her face brightened. v.

Brigh ton (brīt'n), a seaside resort in SE England. 159,000. n.

Bright's disease, a kidney disease characterized by albumin in the urine.

brill (bril), a European flatfish related to the turbot. n., pl. brill or brills.

bril liance (bril'yəns), 1. great brightness; radiance; sparkle. 2. splendor; magnificence. 3. great ability. n.

bril lian cy (bril'yən sē), brilliance. n.

bril liant (bril'yənt), 1. shining brightly; sparkling: brilliant jewels, brilliant sunshine. 2. splendid; magnificent: a brilliant performance. 3. having great ability: a brilliant musician. 4. diamond or other gem cut to sparkle brightly. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —bril'liant ly, adv.

brim (brim), 1. edge of a cup, bowl, etc.; rim: You have filled my glass to the brim. 2. fill to the brim; be full to the brim: The pond is brimming with water as a result of the hard rains. 3. the projecting edge of a hat. 4. edge bordering water; water at the edge: He drank at the fountain's brim. 1,3,4 n., 2 v., brimmed, brim ming. —brim'less, adj.

Brig (def. 1)

brim ful (brim'fŭl'), full to the brim; full to the very top. adj.

brim stone (brim'stŏn'), sulfur. n.

brin dle (brin'dl), 1. brindled. 2. a brindled color. 3. a brindled animal. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

brin dled (brin'dld), gray, tan, or tawny with darker streaks and spots. adj.

brine (brin), 1. very salty water: Pickles are often kept in brine. 2. a salt lake or sea; ocean. n.

bring (bring), 1. come with (some thing or person) from another place; take along to a place or person: The waiter brought me a clean plate and took the dirty one away. 2. cause to come: What brings you into town today? 3. influence; lead: He was brought to agree by our arguments. 4. present before a law court: He brought a charge against me. 5. sell for: Meat is bringing a high price this week. v., brought, bring ing.

bring about, cause; cause to happen.

bring around or bring round, 1. restore to consciousness. 2. convince; persuade.

bring forth, 1. give birth to; bear. 2. reveal; show.

bring forward, 1. reveal; show. 2. in accounting or bookkeeping, carry over from one page to another.

bring on, cause; cause to happen.

bring out, 1. reveal; show. 2. offer to the public.

bring over, convince; persuade.

bring to, 1. restore to consciousness. 2. stop; check.

bring up, 1. care for in childhood. 2. educate; train. 3. suggest for action or discussion: Please bring your plan up at the meeting. 4. stop suddenly.

bring ing-up (bring'ing up'), 1. care in childhood. 2. education; training. n.

brink (bringk), 1. edge at the top of a steep place. 2. edge. n.

on the brink of, very near.

brin y (brin'ĕ), of or like brine; salty. adj., brin i er, brin i est. —brin'i ness, n.

bri oche (brĕ'osh or brĕ'osh), a roll or bun rich in butter and eggs. n.

bri quette or bri quet (bri ket'), 1. a molded block of coal dust used for fuel. 2. a similar block of some other material. n.

Bris bane (briz'bān), seaport in E Australia. 567,000. n.

brisk (brisk), 1. quick and active; lively: He took brisk steps. 2. keen; sharp: brisk weather. adj. —brisk'ly, adv. —brisk'ness, n.

bris ket (bris'kit), 1. meat from the breast of an animal. See beef for diagram. 2. breast of an animal. n.

bris tle (bris'l), 1. one of the short, stiff hairs of a hog. Bristles are used to make brushes. 2. any short, stiff hair of an animal or plant. 3. provide with bristles. 4. stand up straight: The angry dog's hair bristled. 5. cause (hair) to stand up straight. 6. have one's hair stand up straight: The dog bristled. 7. show that one is aroused and ready to fight: Don't bristle at me—I'm trying to help you. 8. be thickly set: Our path bristled with difficulties. 1,2 n., 3-8 v., bris tled, bris tling.

bris tle tail (bris'l tāl'), a wingless insect having long appendages like bristles. n.

bris tly (bris'lē), 1. rough with bristles. 2. resembling bristles; short and stiff; prickly. adj., bris tli er, bris tli est.

Bris tol (bris'tl), seaport in SW England. 440,000. n.
Bristol board, a fine, smooth cardboard or pasteboard.

Bristol Channel, an inlet of the Atlantic, between SW England and Wales. 85 mi. long.

Brit., 1. Britain. 2. British. 3. Britishism.

Brit ain (brit'n), England, Scotland, and Wales; Great Britain. n.

Bri tan ni a (bri tan'ĕ ə), 1. Britain; Great Britain. 2. the British Empire. 3. woman symbolizing Britain or the British Empire. n.

Bri tan nic (bri tan'ik), of Britain; British. adj.

Briticism (brít'ə siz əm), word or phrase used especially by the British. Lift meaning elevator, biscuit meaning cracker, spanner meaning wrench, and petrol meaning gasoline are Briticisms. n.

British (brít'ish), 1. of Great Britain, the former British Empire, the British Commonwealth, or its people. 2. people of Great Britain, the former British Empire, or the British Commonwealth. 1 adj., 2 n.

British Columbia, province in W Canada, on the Pacific. 1,611,000 pop.; 366,255 sq. mi. Capital: Victoria. Abbrev.: B.C.

British Commonwealth of Nations or British Commonwealth, 1. in present official use, United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the independent states which are members of the Commonwealth, and colonies, dependencies, etc., governed by Great Britain; Commonwealth of Nations. 704,150,000 pop.; 10,660,600 sq. mi. 2. in former official use, the self-governing members of the Commonwealth exclusive of the colonies, dependencies, etc.

British East Africa, former British territory in E Africa. It included Kenya and the island of Zanzibar.

British Empire, originally, all the countries and colonies owing allegiance to the British crown, and more recently the colonies, dependencies, etc., exclusive of the dominions and other autonomous units. The term now has no official use.

Britisher (brít'ish ər), Englishman; British subject. n.

British Guiana, former British colony in N South America, now the country of Guyana.

British Honduras, British colony in Central America, SE of Mexico. 90,000 pop.; 8598 sq. mi. Capital: Belize.

British Isles, Great Britain, Ireland, the Isle of Man, and other nearby islands. 55,400,000 pop.; 122,419 sq. mi.

British North Borneo, former British colony in NE Borneo, now called Sabah.

British thermal unit, unit for measuring heat; amount of heat necessary to raise a pound of water one degree Fahrenheit at its maximum density. Abbrev.: B.T.U.

British West Indies, British islands in the West Indies, including the Bahamas, Bermuda, and the British Virgin Islands.

Briton (brít'n), 1. native or inhabitant of Great Britain or the British Commonwealth. 2. member of a Celtic people who lived in S Britain long ago. n.

Brittany (brít'n ē), region in NW France. n.

brittle (brít'l), very easily broken; breaking with a snap; apt to break: Thin glass and ice are brittle. adj. —brittleness, n.

Brno (bér'nō), city in central Czechoslovakia. 306,000. n.

bro., Bro., brother.

broach (brōch), 1. a pointed tool for making and shaping holes. 2. open by making a hole: broach a barrel of cider. 3. begin to talk about: broach a subject. 4. a sharp-pointed, slender rod or bar on which meat is roasted. 1,4 n., 2,3 v. —broacher, n.

broad (brōd), 1. large across; wide: Many cars can go on that broad road. 2. extensive: a broad experience. 3. not limited; liberal; tolerant: broad ideas. 4. main; general: Give the broad outlines of what the speaker had to say. 5. clear; full: broad daylight. 6. plain; plain-spoken. 7. coarse; not refined: broad jokes. adj. —broadly, adv.

broad ax or broad axe (brōd'aks'), ax with a broad blade. n., pl. broad axes.

broad brim (brōd'brim'), 1. hat with a very wide brim. 2. Informal. person who wears such a hat; Quaker; Friend. n.

broad cast (brōd'kast'), 1. send out by radio or television. 2. a sending out by radio or television. 3. sent out by radio or television. 4. speech, music, etc., sent out by radio or television. 5. a radio or television program. 6. scatter widely: broadcast seed. 7. a scattering far and wide. 8. scattered widely. 9. over a wide surface. 1,6 v., broad cast or broad cast ed for 1, broad-cast for 6, broad cast ing; 2,4,5,7 n., 3,8 adj., 9 adv. —broad-cast'er, n.

broad cloth (brōd'klōth'), 1. a smooth, fine-woven cloth of cotton, silk, rayon, etc., used in making shirts and dresses. 2. a smooth, closely woven woolen cloth, used in making men's suits. n.

broad en (brōd'n), 1. make broad or broader: Travel broadens a person's sympathies for people from foreign lands. 2. become broad or broader: The river broadens at its mouth. v.

broad-gauge (brōd'gāj'), 1. having rails more than 56½ inches apart. 2. broad-minded; liberal. adj.

broad jump, jump to cover as much ground as possible.

broad loom (brōd'lūm'), woven on a wide loom in one color: a broadloom carpet. adj.

broad-minded (brōd'min'did), liberal; tolerant; not prejudiced or bigoted: A scientist has a broad-minded acceptance of all proven facts. adj. —broad-mindedness, n.

broad side (brōd'sīd'), 1. the whole side of a ship above the water line. 2. all the guns that can be fired from one side of a ship. 3. the firing of all these guns at the same time: The broadside caught the pirates completely by surprise. 4. Informal. a violent attack; storm of abuse. 5. a broad surface or side, as of a house. 6. with the side turned: The ship drifted broadside to the pier. 7. a large sheet of paper printed on one side only: broadsides announcing a big sale. 1-5,7 n., 6 adv.

broad-spectrum (brōd'spek'trəm), having a wide range of use or application: a broad-spectrum drug. adj.

broad sword (brōd'sōrd'), sword with a broad, flat blade. n.

Broad way (brōd'wā'), street running northeast and southwest through New York City. Part of Broadway has many lights and theaters. n.

brocade (brō kād'), 1. an expensive cloth woven with raised designs on it: silk brocade, velvet brocade. 2. weave or decorate with raised designs. 1 n., 2 v., bro cad ed, bro cad ing. bro cad ed (brō kād'id), woven or wrought into a brocade. adj.

broccoli (brōk'li), variety of cauliflower whose green branching stems and flower heads are used as a vegetable. n.

brochure (brō shūr'), pamphlet. n.

Brockton (brōk'tən), city in SE Massachusetts. 73,000. n.

brogan (brō'gan), a coarse, strong shoe. n.

brogue (brōg), 1. any coarse, strong shoe. 2. a shoe made for comfort and long wear. n.

brogue (brōg), 1. an Irish accent or pronunciation of English. 2. accent or pronunciation peculiar to any dialect. n.

broider (brōi'dər), Archaic. embroider. v.

broil (broil), 1. cook by putting or holding near the fire. 2. make very hot. 3. be very hot: You will broil in this bright sunlight. 4. broiled meat, etc. 1-3 v., 4 n.

broil (broil), 1. an angry quarrel or struggle; brawl. 2. quarrel; fight. 1 n., 2 v.

broiler (broil'ər), 1. pan or rack for broiling. 2. a young chicken for broiling. n.

broke (brōk), 1. a pt. of break: She broke her doll.
2. Archaic. broken, a pp. of break. 3. Slang. without money. 1,2 v., 3 adj.

bro ken (brō'kən), 1. a pp. of break: The window was broken by a ball. 2. crushed; in pieces: a broken cup. 3. weakened in strength, spirit, etc.; tamed: His courage was broken by his failure. 4. rough; uneven: broken ground. 5. acted against; not kept: a broken promise. 6. imperfectly spoken: The French boy speaks broken English. 7. interrupted: broken sleep. 1 v., 2-7 adj. —bro'ken ly, adv. —bro'ken ness, n.

bro ken-down (brō'kən doun'), 1. shattered; ruined: broken-down health. 2. unfit for use. adj.

bro ken-heart ed (brō'kən hār'tid), crushed by sorrow or grief; heartbroken. adj.

bro ker (brō'kər), person who buys and sells stocks, bonds, grain, cotton, etc., for other people; agent. n.

bro ker age (brō'kər ij), 1. business of a broker. 2. money charged by a broker for his services. n.

bro mid (brō'mid), bromide (def. 1). n.

bro mide (brō'mid), 1. compound of bromine with another element or radical. 2. potassium bromide, a drug used to calm nervousness, cause sleep, etc. 3. Slang. a commonplace idea; trite remark. n.

bro min (brō'min), bromine. n.

bro mine (brō'mēn), a nonmetallic element somewhat like chlorine and iodine. Bromine is a dark-brown liquid that gives off an irritating vapor. It is used in drugs and dyes and in developing photographs. Symbol: Br n.

bron chi (brong'kī), 1. the two main branches of the windpipe into the lungs. 2. the smaller, branching tubes in the lungs. n. pl. of bronchus.

bron chi a (brong'kē ə), bronchial tubes, especially the smaller tubes. n. pl.

bron chi al (brong'kē əl), of the bronchi or their branching tubes. adj.

bronchial tubes, bronchi and their branching tubes.

bron chit ic (brong kit'ik), 1. of or having to do with bronchitis. 2. having bronchitis. adj.

bron chi tis (brong kī'tis), inflammation of the lining of the bronchial tubes. n.

bron chō (brong'kō), bronco. n., pl. bron chos.

bron chus (brong'kəs), one of the bronchi. n., pl. bron chi (-kī).

bron co (brong'kō), pony of the western United States. Broncos are often wild or only half tamed. n., pl. bron cos.

bron co bust er (brong'kō bus'tər), U.S. Slang. in the West and Southwest, one who breaks broncos to the saddle. n.

bron to sau rus (brōn'tə-sō'rəs), a huge, extinct dinosaur of America. n.

Bronx (brongks), The, northern borough of New York City. 1,425,000. n.

bron ze (bronz), 1. a brown alloy of copper and tin. 2. a similar alloy of copper with zinc or other metals. 3. a statue, medal, disk, etc., made of bronze. 4. made of bronze. 5. yellowish brown; reddish brown. 6. make or become bronze in color: The sailor was bronzed from the sun. 1-3,5 n., 4,5 adj., 6 v., bronzed, bronzing.

Bronze Age, period after the Stone Age when bronze tools, weapons, etc., were used.

brooch (brōch or brüch), an ornamental pin having the point secured by a catch. n.

brood (brüd), 1. the young birds hatched at one time in the nest or cared for together: a brood of chicks. 2. young animals or humans who share the same mother or are cared for by the same person: a brood of twelve children. 3. breed; kind. 4. sit on in order to hatch. 5. think a long time about some one thing. 6. dwell on in thought: For years he brooded vengeance. 1-3 n., 4-6 v.

brood on or over, 1. keep thinking about. 2. hover over; hang close over.

brood er (brüd'ər), 1. a closed place that can be heated, used in raising chicks, etc. 2. one that broods. n.

brook¹ (brük), a small natural stream of water. n.

brook² (brük), put up with; endure; tolerate: Her pride would not brook such insults. v.

brook let (brük'lit), a little brook. n.

Brook line (brük'lin), city in E Massachusetts, near Boston. 54,000. n.

Brook lyn (brük'lan), borough of New York City, on Long Island. 2,627,000. n.

brook trout, a fresh-water game fish of the eastern part of North America; speckled trout.

broom (brüm), 1. a long-handled brush for sweeping.

2. shrub of the same family as the pea, with slender branches, small leaves, and yellow flowers. n.

broom corn (brüm'körn'), a tall plant resembling corn, with flower clusters having long, stiff stems used for making brooms. n.

broom stick (brüm'stik'), the handle of a broom. n.

bro s. or Bros., brothers.

broth (brōth), water in which meat has been boiled; thin soup. n.

broth er (bruθ'ər), 1. son of the same parents; son only of the same mother or father (a half brother). 2. a close friend; companion; countryman. 3. a fellow member of a church, union, association, fraternal order, society, etc. 4. member of a religious order who is not a priest. n., pl. broth ers for 1-4 or breth ren for 3,4.

broth er hood (bruθ'ər hüd), 1. bond between brothers; feeling of brother for brother: Soldiers in combat often have a strong feeling of brotherhood. 2. persons joined as brothers; association of men with some common aim, characteristic, belief, profession, etc. n.

broth er-in-law (bruθ'ər in lō'), 1. brother of one's husband or wife. 2. husband of one's sister. 3. husband of the sister of one's wife or husband. n., pl. broth ers-in-law.

broth er ly (bruθ'ər lē), 1. of a brother. 2. like a brother. 3. friendly; kindly; affectionate. 1-3 adj., 2 adv. —broth'er li ness, n.

brough am (brüm or brü'am), a closed carriage or automobile having an outside seat for the driver. n.

brought (brôt), pt. and pp. of bring. He brought his gun yesterday. She was brought to school in a car. v.

brow (brou), 1. forehead. 2. arch of hair over the eye; eyebrow. 3. edge of a steep place; top of a slope: a house on the brow of a hill. n.

brow beat (brou'bēt'), frighten into doing something by overbearing looks or words; bully. v., brow beat, brow beat en, brow beat ing.

brown (broun), 1. a dark color like that of toast, potato skins, coffee, etc. 2. having this color. 3. something brown. 4. dark-skinned; tanned. 5. make or become brown. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj., 5 v. —brown'ness, n.

Brown (broun), John, 1800-1859, American abolitionist who attempted to incite a rebellion of the slaves but was captured at Harpers Ferry. n.

brown bear, bear having brown fur that lives in northern Europe and North America.

brown coal, dark-brown coal, often having a woody texture; lignite.

brown ie¹ (broun'ē), 1. in stories, a good-natured elf or fairy. 2. Brownie, member of the junior division of the Girl Scouts. n.

brown ie² (broun'ē), U.S. a flat, sweet chocolate cake containing nuts. n.

Bronchi (def. 1)

Brontosaurus (60 ft. long; 14 ft. tall)

Brougham

Browning (broun'ing), 1. Elizabeth Barrett, 1806-1861, English poet, wife of Robert Browning. 2. Robert, 1812-1889, English poet. n.

brownish (broun'ish), somewhat brown. adj.

brown race, the Malay race.

brown rice, rice that is not polished.

brown stone (broun'stōn'), reddish-brown sandstone, used as a building material. n.

brown study, condition of being absorbed in thought; serious reverie.

brown sugar, sugar that is not refined or only partly refined.

brown thrasher, a brown-and-white bird somewhat like a thrush, but related to the mockingbird.

browse (brouz), 1. feed; graze: The sheep browsed in the meadow. 2. read here and there in a book, library, etc. v., browsed, browsing. —brows'er, n.

Bruce (brūs), Robert the, 1274-1329, king of Scotland from 1306 to 1329. He defeated the English in 1314. n.

bruin (brü'an), bear. n.

bruise (brüz), 1. injury to the body, caused by a fall or a blow, that changes the color of the skin without breaking it: The bruise on my arm turned black and blue. 2. injury to the outside of a fruit, vegetable, plant, etc. 3. injure the outside of. 4. injure; hurt: Harsh words bruised her feelings. 5. become bruised: Her flesh bruises easily. 6. pound or crush (drugs or food). 1,2 n., 3-6 v., bruised, bruising.

bruiser (brüz'er), 1. a prize fighter. 2. Informal. a bully. n.

bruit (brüt), 1. spread a report or rumor of: Rumors of the princess' engagement were bruited about. 2. Archaic. report; rumor. 1 v., 2 n.

Brun dis i um (brun diz'ē əm), ancient seaport in SE Italy. See Appian Way for map. n.

Brun ei (brü nī'), 1. territory in N Borneo under British control. 84,000 pop.; 2226 sq. mi. 2. its capital. 16,000. n.

brunette or bru net (brü net'), 1. dark-colored; having an olive color. 2. having dark-brown or black hair, brown or black eyes, and a dark skin. 3. person having such hair, eyes, and skin. A man with this complexion is a brunet; a woman is a brunette. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

Brunswick (brunz'wik), city in N West Germany. 245,000. n.

brunt (brunt), the main force or violence; hardest part: the brunt of the hurricane. n.

brush¹ (brush), 1. tool for cleaning, rubbing, painting, etc. A brush is made of bristles, hair, or wires set in a stiff back or fastened to a handle. 2. clean, rub, paint, etc., with a brush; use a brush on. 3. a brushing; a rub with a brush: Peter gave his puppy a good brush. 4. remove; wipe away: The child brushed the tears from his eyes. 5. touch lightly in passing: No harm was done—your fender just brushed our bumper. 6. a light touch in passing: Give the desk a brush with the cloth. 7. a short, brisk fight or quarrel: a sharp brush with the Indians. 8. move quickly. 9. the bushy tail of an animal, especially of a fox. 10. piece of carbon, copper, etc., used to connect the electricity from the revolving part of a motor or generator to the outside circuit. 11. art or skill of an artist. 1,3,6,7,9-11 n., 2,4,5,8 v.

brush aside or away, put aside; refuse to consider.

brush up, refresh one's knowledge.

brush² (brush), 1. U.S. branches broken or cut off.

2. a thick growth of shrubs, bushes, small trees, etc.

3. U.S. a thinly settled country; backwoods. n.

brush off (brush'ōf'), Informal. a refusal or dismissal of a request, person, etc.: When I asked for an appointment, I got a polite brushoff. v.

brush wood (brush'wud'), brush² (defs. 1 and 2). n.

brush y¹ (brush'ē), like a brush; rough and shaggy.

adj., brush i er, brush i est.

brush y² (brush'ē), covered with bushes, shrubs, etc. adj., brush i er, brush i est.

brusque (brusk), abrupt in manner or speech; blunt. adj. —brusque'ly, adv. —brusque'ness, n.

Brussels (brus'lz), capital of Belgium, in the central part. 1,400,000. n.

Brussels sprouts, 1. variety of cabbage that has many small heads growing along a stalk. 2. heads of this plant, used as a vegetable.

Brussels sprouts

bru tal (brüt'l), coarse and savage; like a brute; cruel. adj.

brutal i ty (brüt'al'ē tē), 1. cruelty; savageness; coarseness. 2. a cruel, savage, or coarse act. n., pl. brut'al i ties.

brutal ize (brüt'l'ī z), 1. make brutal: War brutalizes many men. 2. become brutal. v., brut'al ized, brut'al izing. —brüt'al i za'tion, n.

brutal ly (brüt'l'ē), in a brutal manner. adv.

brute (brüt), 1. an animal without power to reason. 2. without power to reason. 3. a stupid, cruel, coarse, or sensual person. 4. stupid; cruel; coarse; sensual. 5. unconscious; without feeling: Man has struggled long against the brute forces of nature. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 adj.

brut ish (brüt'ish), stupid; coarse; savage. adj. —brüt'ish ness, n.

Bru tus (brüt'təs), Marcus Junius, 85-42 B.C., Roman political leader and one of the men who killed Julius Caesar. n.

Bry an (brī'an), William Jennings, 1860-1925, American political leader and orator. n.

Bry ant (brī'ənt), William Cullen, 1794-1878, American poet. n.

Bryce Canyon National Park (brīs), national park in S Utah. 56 sq. mi.

bry o phyte (brī'ə fit), any of the mosses or liverworts. n.

B.S. or B.Sc., Bachelor of Science.

B.T.U., B.t.u., or Btu, British thermal unit or units.

bu., bushel; bushels.

bubble (bub'l), 1. a thin film of liquid enclosing air or gas. When water boils, it is full of bubbles, which come to the top and break. 2. an air space in a solid. Sometimes there are bubbles in ice or in glass. 3. have bubbles; make bubbles; look like water boiling: Water bubbled up between the stones. 4. make sounds like water boiling; gurgle. 5. act or process of bubbling; sound of bubbling. 6. plan or idea that looks good, but soon goes to pieces. 7. Archaic. swindle. 1,2,5,6 n., 3,4,7 v., bubbled, bubbling. —bub'bling ly, adv.

bubble over, 1. be very full; overflow. 2. be very enthusiastic.

bubble gum, a chewing gum which can be inflated so as to form a large bubble.

bub bly (bub'lē), full of bubbles. adj.

bu bo (bū'bō), an inflammatory swelling of a lymphatic gland, especially in the groin or armpits. n., pl. bu boes.

bu bon ic (bū bon'ik), having inflammatory swelling of the lymphatic glands. adj.

bubonic plague, a very dangerous contagious disease, accompanied by fever, chills, and swelling of the lymphatic glands. It is carried to human beings by fleas from rats or squirrels.

buc cal (buk'l), 1. of the cheek. 2. of the mouth or the sides of the mouth. adj.

buc ca neer (buk'ə nīr'), pirate; sea robber. n.

Bu chan an (bū kan'ən), James, 1791-1868, the 15th president of the United States, from 1857 to 1861. n.

Bu cha rest (bū'kə rest or bū'kə rest), capital of Romania, in the S part. 1,291,000. n.

buck¹ (buk), 1. a male deer, goat, hare, rabbit, antelope, or sheep. 2. dandy. 3. Informal. man. n.
buck² (buk), 1. U.S. Informal. fight against; resist stubbornly. 2. U.S. Informal. push or hit with the head; butt. 3. U.S. Informal. rush at; charge against. 4. in football, charge into (the opposing line) with the ball. 5. jump into the air with back curved and come down with the front legs stiff: His horse began to buck, but he managed to stay on. 6. a throw or attempt to throw by bucking. 1-5 v., 6 n.
 —buck'er, n.

Bucking bronco buck³ (buk), Informal. Pass the buck means to shift the responsibility, blame, work, etc., to someone else. n.

buck⁴ (buk), U.S. Slang. dollar. n. buck a roo (buk'ə rū), U.S. cowboy. n., pl. buck-a-roos.

buck board (buk'—bōrd'), an open, four-wheeled carriage having the seat fastened to a platform of long, springy boards instead of a body and springs. n.

Buckboard

buck et (buk'it), 1. pail made of wood or metal. Buckets are used for carrying water, milk, coal, etc. 2. amount that a bucket can hold. 3. scoop of a dredging machine. n.

buck et ful (buk'it fül), amount that a bucket can hold. n., pl. buck et fuls.

buck et seat, a seat in an airplane, sports car, etc., set close to the floor, with a rounded back.

buck eye (buk'ī'), tree or shrub closely related to the horse chestnut, with showy clusters of small flowers, large divided leaves, and large brown seeds. n.

Buck ing ham Palace (buk'ing əm or buk'ing-ham), official London residence of all British sovereigns since 1837.

buck le (buk'l), 1. catch or clasp used to fasten together the ends of a belt, strap, etc. 2. a metal ornament for a shoe. 3. fasten together with a buckle. 4. bend; bulge; kink; wrinkle: The plaster has buckled because of the settling of the house. 1,2,4 n., 3,4 v., buck led, buck ling.

buck ler (buk'ler), 1. a small, round shield. 2. protection; defense. n.

Soldiers with bucklers buck private, Slang. a common soldier below the rank of private first class.

buck ram (buk'ram), a coarse cloth made stiff with glue or something like glue. n.

buck saw (buk'sō'), saw set in a light frame and held with both hands. n.

buck shot (buk'shot'), a large lead shot used for shooting large game such as deer. n.

buck skin (buk'skin'), a strong, soft leather, yellowish or grayish in color, made from the skins of deer or sheep. n.

buck skins (buk'skinz'), breeches made of buckskin. n.pl.

buck thorn (buk'thōrn'), U.S. 1. a small, sometimes thorny tree or shrub with clusters of black berries, each containing several nutlets. 2. a low, thorny tree with black, cherrylike fruit that grows in the southern United States. n.

Man using a buck saw buck wheat (buk'hwēt'), 1. plant with brown, triangular seeds and fragrant white flowers. 2. the seeds, used as food for animals or ground into flour. 3. meal, flour, or batter made from buckwheat. n.

buckwheat cake, pancake made of buckwheat flour. bu col ic (bū kol'ik), 1. of shepherds; pastoral. Bucolic poetry is seldom written by shepherds themselves. 2. rustic; rural. 3. poem about shepherds. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

bud (bud), 1. a small swelling on a plant that will develop into a flower, leaf, or branch. 2. put forth buds: The rosebush has budded. 3. graft (a bud) from one kind of plant into the stem of a different kind. See graft for picture. 4. time or state of budding: The pear tree is in bud. 5. a partly opened flower. 6. anything not yet developed; beginning stage. 7. child; young girl. 8. begin to grow or develop. 9. a minute, bud-shaped part or organ: a taste bud. 1,4-7,9 n., 2,3,8 v., bud ded, bud ding.

nip in the bud, stop at the very beginning.

Bu da pest (bū'də pest), capital of Hungary, on the Danube River. 1,850,000. n.

Bud dha (būd'ə or bū'də), 563?-483? B.C., great religious teacher of Asia, founder of Buddhism. n. Also, Gautama.

Bud dhism (būd'iz əm or bū'diz əm), religion that originated in the sixth century B.C. in N India and spread widely over central, SE, and E Asia. It teaches that right living will enable people to attain Nirvana, the condition of a soul that does not have to live in a body and is free from all desire and pain. n.

Bud dhist (būd'ist or bū'dist), 1. having to do with Buddha or Buddhism. 2. believer in Buddhism. 1 adj., 2 n.

bud dy (bud'ē), Informal. 1. U.S. brother; comrade; pal. 2. a little boy. n., pl. bud dies.

budge (buj), move or cause to move (usually with negative): He wouldn't budge from his chair. v., budged, budg ing.

budg et (buj'it), 1. estimate of the amount of money that can be spent, and the amounts to be spent for various purposes, in a given time. Governments, schools, companies, and persons often make budgets. 2. make a plan for spending: budget your time. 3. stock or collection: a budget of news. 1,3 n., 2 v., budg et ed, budg et ing.

budg et ar y (buj'ə ter'ē), of a budget. adj.
Bue na Vis ta (bwā'nə vis'tə), village in NE Mexico. The Americans defeated the Mexicans there in 1847.

Bue nos Ai res (bwā'nəs ī'riz or bō'nəs ār'ēz), capital of Argentina, on the Plata River. 3,875,000.

buff (buf), 1. a strong, soft, dull-yellow leather, made from buffalo skin or oxhide. 2. a soldier's coat made of this. 3. made of buff leather.

4. dull yellow. 5. a polishing wheel or stick covered with leather. 6. polish with such a wheel or stick. 7. Informal. bare skin. 1,2,4,5,7 n., 3,4 adj., 6 v.

buf fa lo (buf'l ō), 1. the bison of America, the male of which has a big, shaggy head and strong front legs. Herds of buffalo used to graze on the plains of middlewestern United States. See bison for picture. 2. any of several kinds of oxen. The tame water buffalo of India and the wild Cape buffalo of Africa are two different kinds. 3. U.S. Slang. intimidate or overawe. 4. U.S. Slang. puzzle; mystify. 1,2 n., buf fa lo es, buf fa los, or (esp. collectively) buf fa lo; 3,4 v., buf fa lo ed, buf fa lo ing.

Buf fa lo (buf'l ō), port in W New York State, on Lake Erie. 533,000. n.

Buffalo Bill, 1846-1917, William F. Cody, American frontier scout and showman.

buffalo grass, a short grass of central and western North America, often used for pasture.

Water buffalo (body about 6 ft. long)

buffer¹ (buf'ər), anything that softens the shock of a blow. n.

buffer² (buf'ər), 1. person who polishes. 2. thing for polishing, covered with leather. n.

buffer state, a small country between two larger countries that are enemies or competitors.

buf fet¹ (buf'it), 1. blow of the hand or fist. 2. strike with the hand or fist. 3. knock; stroke; hurt. 4. knock about; strike; hurt: The waves buffeted him. 5. fight or struggle against: He reached home exhausted from buffeting the storm. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 v., buf fet ed, buf-fet ing.

buf fet² (bū fā' or bu fā'), 1. piece of dining-room furniture for holding dishes, silver, and table linen; sideboard. 2. counter where food and drinks are served. 3. restaurant with such a counter. n.

buf foon (bu fūn'), person who amuses people with tricks, pranks, and jokes; clown. n.

buf foon er y (bu fūn'ər ē), tricks, pranks, and jokes of a clown; undignified or rude joking. n., pl. buf-foon er ies.

bug (bug), 1. an insect that is wingless or has a front pair of wings thickened at the base, and has a sucking beak, such as the chinch bug. Bugs belong to the sub-order heteroptera. 2. any insect or insectlike animal. Ants, spiders, beetles, and flies are often called bugs. 3. bedbug. 4. Informal. a disease germ. 5. Informal. a mechanical defect or difficulty: smooth out the bugs in automatic fire prevention. n.

bug a boo (bug'ə bü), an imaginary thing feared: The child was frightened by tales of witches, ghosts, and other bugaboos. n., pl.

bug a boos.

bug bear (bug'-bār'), thing feared without reason; bugaboo. n.

bug gy¹ (bug'ē), U.S. a light carriage with one seat. n., pl. bug gies.

bug gy² (bug'ē), swarming with bugs. adj., bug gi er, bug gi est.

bu gle¹ (bū'gl), 1. a musical instrument like a small trumpet, made of brass or copper. Bugles are used in the army and navy for sounding calls and orders. 2. blow a bugle. 3. direct or summon by blowing on a bugle. 1 n., 2,3 v., bu gled, bu gling.

bu gle² (bū'gl), a long, glass bead used for trimming on dresses. n.

bu gler (bū'glər), person who blows a bugle. n.

build (bild), 1. make by putting materials together; construct: Men build houses, dams, bridges, empires. 2. form gradually; develop: build a business. 3. establish; base: build a case on facts. 4. rely; depend: We can build on that man's honesty. 5. make a structure: He builds for a living. 6. form, style, or manner of construction: An elephant has a heavy build. 1-5 v., built or (Archaic) build ed, build-ing; 6 n.

build up, 1. form gradually; develop: The firm has built up a wide reputation for fair dealing. 2. fill; block up. 3. fill with houses.

build ed (bil'did), Archaic. built, a pt. and a pp. of build. v.

build er (bil'dər), 1. person or animal that builds. 2. person whose business is building. n.

build ing (bil'ding), 1. thing built, such as a house, factory, barn, store, etc. 2. business, art, or process of making houses, stores, bridges, ships, etc. n.

build-up (bild'up'), 1. an increasing of strength, especially of military strength. 2. a bringing (of someone or something) to public attention. n.

built (bilt), a pt. and a pp. of build. The bird built a nest. It was built of twigs. v.

built-in (bilt'in'), built as part of the building: A built-in bookcase is fastened to the wall. adj.

bulb (bulb), 1. a round, underground bud from which certain plants grow.

Onions, tulips, and lilies grow from bulbs. 2. the thick part of an underground stem resembling a bulb; tuber: a crocus bulb. 3. any rounded, swelling object or part: an electric light bulb, the bulb of a thermometer. n. —bulb/less, adj. —bulb/like, adj.

bulb ar (bul'bər), having to do with a bulb-shaped organ, especially the bulb of the spinal cord: bulbar poliomyelitis. adj.

bulb ous (bul'bəs), 1. having bulbs; growing from bulbs: Daffodils are bulbous plants. 2. shaped like a bulb; rounded and swelling: a bulbous nose. adj.

Bul ga nin (bül gä'nin), Nikolai Alexandrovich, born 1895, premier of the Soviet Union from 1955 to 1958. n.

Bul gar ia (bul gār'ē ə), country in SE Europe. 7,793,000 pop.; 39,825 sq. mi. Capital: Sofia. See Balkan States for map. n.

Bul gar ian (bul gār'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with Bulgaria, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Bulgaria. 3. language of Bulgaria. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

bulge (bulj), 1. swell outward: His pockets bulged with apples and candy. 2. cause to swell outward: The apples bulged his pockets. 3. an outward swelling. 1,2 v., bulged, bulg ing; 3 n.

bul gy (bul'jē), having a bulge or bulges. adj.

bulk (bulk), 1. size; large size: an elephant of great bulk. 2. the largest part; main mass: The ocean forms the bulk of the earth's surface. 3. have size; be of importance. 4. grow large; swell. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

in bulk, 1. loose, not in packages. 2. in large quantities. bulk head (bulk'hed'), 1. one of the upright partitions dividing a ship into watertight compartments to prevent sinking. 2. wall or partition built to hold back water, earth, rocks, air, etc. 3. a boxlike structure covering the top of a staircase or other opening. n.

bul ky (bul'kē), 1. taking up much space; large: a bulky package. 2. hard to handle; clumsy. adj., bulk-i er, bulk i est. —bulk/i ly, adv. —bulk/i ness, n.

bull¹ (bül), 1. the male of beef cattle. 2. the male of the whale, elephant, seal, and other large animals. 3. like a bull; large; strong; roaring. 4. person who tries to raise prices in the stock market, etc. 5. having to do with rising prices in the stock market, etc. 6. Slang. policeman. 7. Slang. foolish talk. 1,2,4,6,7 n., 3,5 adj.

bull² (bül), a formal announcement or official order from the Pope. n.

bull³ (bül), an absurd and amusing mistake in language, especially one that is self-contradictory. Example: If you don't receive this letter, write and let me know. n.

bull dog (bül'dög'), 1. a heavily built dog with a large head and short hair. Bulldogs are not large, but they are very muscular and courageous and have strong jaws. 2. like a bulldog's: bulldog courage. 3. in the western United States, throw (a steer, etc.) by grasping its horns and twisting its neck. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v., bull dogged, bull dog ging.

bull doze (bül'döz'), U.S. 1. Informal. frighten by Lily bulb; bulb of thermometer; electric light bulb.

Buggy

Soldier blowing a bugle

Bulldog (13 to 17 in. tall) violence or threats; bully. 2. move or make (something) with a bulldozer. v., bull dozed, bull doz ing.

bull doz er (bŭl'dōz'ər), U.S. 1. a powerful tractor that moves dirt, etc., for grading, road building, etc., by pushing a wide steel blade. 2. Informal. one who bulldozes. n.

bul let (bŭl'it), a shaped piece of lead, steel, or other metal to be shot from a gun. n.

bul le tin (bŭl'ət n), 1. a short statement of news: Newspapers publish bulletins about the latest happenings. 2. magazine or newspaper appearing regularly; especially, one published by a club or society for its members. 3. make known by a bulletin. 1,2 n., 3 v.

bulletin board, board on which notices are posted.

bul let proof (bŭl'it prŭf'), made so that a bullet cannot go through: a bulletproof jacket. adj.

bul fight (bŭl'fit'), fight between men and a bull in an enclosed arena. It is a popular sport among Spanish peoples. n.

bul fight er (bŭl'fit'ər), man who fights a bull in an enclosed arena. n.

bul fight ing (bŭl'fit'ing), act of fighting a bull in an enclosed arena. n.

bul finch (bŭl'finch'), a European songbird with handsome plumage and a short, stout bill. n.

bul frog (bŭl'frog'), a large frog of North America that makes a loud croaking noise. n.

bul head (bŭl'hed'), any of several American fishes with a large, broad head, such as the catfish. n.

bul head ed (bŭl'hed'id), stupidly stubborn; obstinate. adj. —bul'head'ed ness, n.

bul lion (bŭl'yən), lumps, bars, etc., of gold or silver. n.

bul ish (bŭl'ish), 1. like a bull. 2. trying or tending to raise prices in the stock market, etc. adj. —bul'ish ly, adv. —bul'ish ness, n.

Bull Moose, member of the Progressive Party led by Theodore Roosevelt in the presidential election of 1912.

bul necked (bŭl'nekt'), having a thick neck. adj.

bul ock (bŭl'ək), ox; steer. n.

bul ring, an enclosed arena for bullfights.

Bull Run, stream in NE Virginia where two battles took place in 1861 and 1862. Both times the Confederate army defeated the Union army.

bul l's-eye (bŭlz'ī'), 1. center of a target. 2. shot that hits it. 3. a thick disk or hemispherical piece of glass in the deck or side of a ship to let in light. 4. a lens shaped like a half-sphere to concentrate light. 5. a small lantern with such a lens. 6. a small, round opening or window. n.

bul terrier, a strong, active, white dog, a cross between a bulldog and a terrier.

bul ly (bŭl'ē), 1. person who teases, frightens, or hurts smaller or weaker people. 2. be a bully. 3. frighten into doing something by noisy talk or threats. 4. Informal. first-rate; excellent. 5. Informal. well done! 1 n., pl. bullies; 2,3 v., bul lied, bul ly ing; 4 adj., 5 interj.

bul ly rag (bŭl'ē rag'), Informal. bully; tease; abuse. v., bul ly ragged, bul ly rag ging.

bul rush (bŭl'rush'), 1. a tall, slender plant that grows in wet places. 2. English. cattail. 3. in the Bible, the papyrus of Egypt. n.

bul wark (bŭl'wərk), 1. defense; protection: Our great factories and trained engineers are a bulwark of freedom. 2. defend; protect. 3. earthwork or other wall for defense against the enemy. 4. breakwater for protection against the force of the waves. 5. a ship's side above the deck. 6. provide with a bulwark or bulwarks. 1,3-5 n., 2,6 v.

Bullfrog (7 in. long)

Bulwark of a ship

bum (bum), U.S. Slang. 1. an idle or good-for-nothing person. 2. loaf. 3. drink heavily. 4. a drunken loafer. 5. spree. 6. sponge on others. 7. get (something) by sponging on others; beg. 8. of poor quality. 1,4,5 n., 2,3,6,7 v., bummed, bum ming; 8 adj., bum mer, bum-mest.

bum ble bee (bum'bl bē'), a large bee with a thick, hairy body, usually banded with gold. Bumblebees live in colonies, usually small, in underground nests, where they store honey. n.

Bumblebee (about 3/4 size) bump (bump), 1. push, throw, or strike (against something fairly large or solid): The children all bumped against one another in their eagerness to be first. 2. move (along) with bumps: Our car bumped along the rough road. 3. hit or come against with heavy blows: That truck bumped over my car. 4. a heavy blow or knock. 5. a swelling caused by a bump. 6. any swelling or lump. 1-3 v., 4-6 n. —bump off, Slang. kill.

bump er (bump'ər), 1. bar or bars of metal that protect the main part of a car or truck from being damaged if the car or truck is bumped. 2. cup or glass filled to the brim. 3. unusually large: The farmer raised a bumper crop of wheat last year. 4. Informal. something unusually large of its kind. 1,2,4 n., 3 adj.

bump kin (bump'kin), an awkward person from the country. n.

bump tious (bump'shəs), unpleasantly assertive or conceited. adj. —bump'tious ly, adv. —bump'tious-ness, n.

bumpy (bump'ē), having bumps; causing bumps; rough: a bumpy road. adj., bump ier, bump iest. —bump'i ness, n.

bun (bun), a slightly sweet roll, often containing spice, raisins, etc. n.

bu na (bŭ'nə or bŭ'nə), an artificial rubber made from butadiene. n.

bunch (bunch), 1. group of things of the same kind growing or fastened together, placed together, or thought of together: a bunch of grapes, a bunch of flowers, a bunch of sheep. 2. Informal. a group of people: a bunch of thieves. 3. come together in one place. 4. bring together and make into a bunch. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

bunch ber ry (bunch'ber'ē), shrub with clusters of bright-red berries. n., pl. bunch ber ries.

bunch grass, any of various grasses of the western United States that grow in bunches or tufts.

bunch y (bun'chē), 1. having bunches. 2. growing in bunches. adj., bunch ier, bunch iest. —bunch'i-ness, n.

bun co (bung'kō), U.S. 1. kind of card game. 2. Slang. swindle. 1,2 n., pl. bun cos; 2 v., bun coed, bun co ing.

bun dle (bun'dl), 1. number of things tied or wrapped together: We gave away several bundles of old newspapers and magazines. 2. parcel; package. 3. wrap or tie together; make into a bundle. 4. group; bunch: She was a bundle of nerves. 5. send or go in a hurry; hustle: They bundled me off to the hospital against my will. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v., bun dled, bun dling. —bun'dler, n.

bundle up, dress warmly.

bung (bung), 1. stopper for closing the hole in the side or end of a barrel, keg, or cask. 2. bunghole. n. —bung up, 1. close (a bunghole) with a stopper. 2. stop up; choke up. 3. Slang. bruise.

bun ga low (bung'gə lō), a dwelling, usually of one story or a story and a half with low, sweeping lines. n.

bung hole (bung'hōl'), hole in the side or end of a barrel, keg, or cask through which it is filled and emptied. n.

bun gle (bung'gl), 1. do or make (something) in a clumsy, unskillful way. 2. a clumsy, unskillful performance. 1 v., bun gled, bun gling; 2 n. —bun'gler, n. —bun'gling ly, adv.

bun ion (bun'yən), a painful, inflamed swelling on the foot, especially on the first joint of the big toe. n.

bunk¹ (bʌŋk), 1. a narrow bed set against a wall like a shelf. 2. Informal. any place to sleep. 3. Informal. occupy a bunk. 4. sleep in rough quarters. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.
bunk² (bʌŋk), U.S. Slang. insincere talk; non-sense; humbug. n.

bunk er (bʌŋk/ər), 1. place or bin for coal on a ship. 2. a sandy hollow or mound of earth on a golf course, used as an obstacle. 3. a fortified shelter, often part of a larger fortification, built partly or entirely below ground. n.

Bunker Hill, hill in Boston, Massachusetts. An early battle of the American Revolution was fought near there on June 17, 1775.

bunk house (bʌŋk/haus/), a rough building with sleeping quarters or bunks for laborers. n.

bun ny (bʌn/ē), Informal. 1. rabbit. 2. U.S. squirrel. n., pl. bun nies.

Bun sen burner (bʌn/sən), a gas burner with a very hot, blue flame, used in laboratories. Air is let in at the base and mixed with gas.

bunt (bʌnt), 1. strike with the head or horns, as a goat does. 2. push; shove. 3. hit (a baseball) lightly so that the ball goes to the ground and rolls only a short distance. 4. a baseball hit made in this way. 5. baseball that is bunted. 1-3 v., 2,4,5 n. —bunt'er, n.

bun ting¹ (bʌn/ting), 1. a thin cloth used for flags. 2. long pieces of cloth in flag colors and designs, used to decorate buildings and streets on holidays, etc.; flags. n.

bun ting² (bʌn/ting), a small bird with a stout bill. It is somewhat like a sparrow. n.

bunt line (bʌnt/lin), rope fastened to a sail. It is used to haul it up to the yard for furling. n.

Bun yan (bʌn/yən), 1. John, 1628-1688, English preacher and religious writer who wrote Pilgrim's Progress. 2. Paul, an imaginary hero of northwestern lumber camps. He is a giant lumberjack who does marvelous deeds. n.

Buo na par te (bwō/nā pār/tā), Bonaparte. n.

buoy (boi or bū/ē), 1. a floating object anchored in a certain place on the water to warn or guide. It marks hidden rocks or shallows, shows the safe part of the channel, etc. 2. furnish with buoys; mark with a buoy. 3. a cork belt, ring, or jacket to keep a person from sinking; life buoy. 4. keep from sinking. 5. hold up; sustain; encourage. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 v.
buoy up, 1. keep from sinking; hold up. 2. bring to the surface.

buoy an cy (boi/ən sē), 1. power to float: Wood has more buoyancy than iron. 2. power to keep things afloat: Salt water has more buoyancy than fresh water. Hydrogen has approximately 14 times as much buoyancy as air at sea level. 3. tendency to rise. 4. light-heartedness; cheerfulness; hopefulness; ability to rise above or recover quickly from low spirits. n.

buoy ant (boi/ənt), 1. able to float: Wood and cork are buoyant; iron and lead are not. 2. able to keep things afloat: Air is buoyant; balloons float in it. 3. tending to rise. 4. light-hearted; hopeful: Children are usually more buoyant than old people. adj. —buoy'ant ly, adv.

bu pres tid beetle (bū pres/'tid), a beetle whose larvae poison cattle.

bur (bər), 1. a prickly, clinging seed case or flower. 2. plant or weed bearing burs. 3. person or thing that clings like a bur. 4. remove burs from. 1-3 n., 4 v., bur red, bur ring. Also, bur r.

Bur bank (bər/bangk), 1. Luther, 1849-1926, American naturalist who originated new plants. 2. city in S California. 90,000. n.

bur ble (bər/bl), 1. make a bubbling noise. 2. speak in a confused, excited manner. v., bur bled, bur bling.

bur bot (bər/bət), a fresh-water fish with a slender body, related to the cod. n., pl. bur bots or (esp. collectively) bur bot.

bur den¹ (bərd/n), 1. what is carried; a load (of things, care, work, duty, or sorrow). 2. thing hard to carry or bear; heavy load: a burden of debts. 3. put a burden on; load. 4. load too heavily; oppress. 5. quantity of freight that a ship can carry; weight of a ship's cargo. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v.

bur den² (bərd/n), 1. the main idea or message: The value of peace was the burden of the President's speech. 2. a repeated verse in a song; chorus; refrain. n.

burden of proof, obligation of proving something said to be true.

bur den some (bərd/n səm), hard to bear; very heavy; oppressive: The President's many duties are burdensome. adj.

bur dock (bər/dok/), a coarse weed with prickly burs and broad leaves. n.

bu reau (byūr/ō), 1. U.S. chest of drawers for clothes. It often has a mirror. 2. Brit. desk or writing table with drawers. 3. office: a travel bureau. 4. a government department: The Weather Bureau makes daily reports on weather conditions. n., pl. bu reaus, bu reaux (byūr/ōz).

bu reau ra cy (byūr/ə rə sē), 1. government by groups of officials. 2. officials administering the government. 3. concentration of power in administrative bureaus. n., pl. bu reau ra cies.

bu reau crat (byūr/ə krat), 1. official in a bureaucracy. 2. a formal, pretentious government official. n.

bu reau crat ic (byūr/ə krat/ik), 1. having to do with a bureaucracy or a bureaucrat. 2. arbitrary. adj. —bu'reau crat/i cal ly, adv.

bur geon (bər/jən), bud; sprout. v., n.

bur gess (bər/jis), 1. citizen of a borough. 2. U.S. member of the lower house of the colonial legislature in Virginia or Maryland. n.

burgh (bərg), a chartered town in Scotland. n.

burgh er (bər/gər), citizen of a burgh or town; citizen. n.

bur glar (bər/glər), 1. person who breaks into a house, building, etc., at night to steal or commit some other crime. 2. one who breaks into a building to steal. See burglary (def. 2). n.

bur glar ize (bər/glər īz), Informal. break into (a building) to steal. v., bur glar ized, bur glar iz ing.

bur glar proof (bər/glər prūf/), so strong or safe that burglars cannot break in. adj.

bur glar y (bər/glər ē), 1. act of breaking into a dwelling at night to steal or commit some other crime. 2. under laws of some places, breaking into any of various buildings, by night or day. n., pl. bur glar ies.

bur go mas ter (bər/gə mas'tər), mayor of a town in the Netherlands, Belgium, Austria, or Germany. n.

Bur goyne (bər goin/), John, 1722-1792, English general. His defeat and surrender at Saratoga in 1777 marked the turning point of the American Revolution. n.

Bur gun di an (bər gun/dē ən), 1. of Burgundy or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Burgundy. 1 adj., 2 n.

Bur gun dy (bər/gən dē), 1. region in E France. Once an independent kingdom, it became a duchy and later a province of France. 2. a red or white wine made there. n., pl. Bur gun dies.

bur i al (ber/ē əl), 1. a burying. 2. having to do with burying: a burial service. 1 n., 2 adj.

Buoys: B, bell buoy;
L, light buoy;
W, whistle buoy.

bur lap (bër'lap), a coarse fabric made from jute or hemp, used to make bags. A better grade of burlap is used for curtains, wall coverings, and upholstery. n.

bur lesque (bër lesk'), 1. a literary or dramatic composition in which a serious subject is treated ridiculously, or with mock seriousness: Mark Twain's story, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," is a burlesque of the old legends. 2. imitate so as to ridicule. 3. comical; making people laugh. 4. U.S. a cheap, vulgar kind of vaudeville. 1,4 n., 2 v., bur lesqued, bur les quing; 3 adj.

bur ley or Bur ley (bër'lē), a kind of thin-leaved tobacco grown widely in Kentucky. n., pl. bur leys or Bur leys.

Bur ling ton (bër'ling tən), city in NW Vermont. 33,000. n.

bur ly (bër'lē), 1. strong; sturdy; big. 2. bluff; rough. adj., bur li er, bur li est. —bur'li ness, n.

Bur ma (bër'mə), country in SE Asia, formerly a British dependency. 16,824,000 pop.; 261,789 sq. mi. Capital: Rangoon. See Indochina for map. n.

Burma Road, a highway running between Lashio, Burma, and Chungking, China, used during World War II.

Bur mese (bër mēz'), 1. native of Burma. 2. language of Burma. 3. of Burma, its people, or their language. 1,2 n., pl. Bur mese; 3 adj.

burn (bèrn), 1. be on fire; be very hot; blaze; glow. 2. set on fire; cause to burn. 3. destroy or be destroyed by fire: burn old papers. 4. injure or be injured by fire, heat, or an acid: He burned his hand on the hot iron. 5. injury caused by fire, heat, or an acid; a burned place. 6. make by fire, by a heated tool, etc.: His cigar burned a hole in the rug. 7. feel hot; give a feeling of heat to: His forehead burns with fever. 8. be very excited or eager: burning with enthusiasm. 9. inflame or be inflamed with anger, passion, etc.: burn with fury. 10. give light: Lamps were burning in every room. 11. sunburn; tan. 12. produce, harden, glaze, etc., by fire or heat: burn bricks, burn lime. 13. undergo or cause to undergo combustion; oxidize. 14. cauterize. 15. make use of atomic energy (from uranium, thorium, etc.). 1,4,6-15 v., burned or burnt, burn ing; 5,11 n.

burn (bèrn), Scottish. a small stream; brook. n.

burn er (bër'nər), 1. part of a lamp, stove, furnace, etc., where the flame is produced. 2. thing or part that burns, or works by heat: Some stoves are oil burners; others are gas burners. 3. man whose work is burning something: a charcoal burner. n.

burn ing (bër'ning), glowing; hot. adj.

bur nish (bër'nish), polish; shine. v., n. —bur'nish er, n.

bur noose or bur nous (bər nūs'), a cloak with a hood, worn by Moors and Arabs. n.

Burns (bèrnz), Robert, 1759-1796, Scottish poet. n.

Burn side (bèrn'sid), Ambrose Everett, 1824-1881, a Union general in the Civil War. n.

burn sides or Burn sides (bèrn'sidz), growth of hair on the cheeks but not on the chin. n.pl.

burnt (bèrnt), burned, a pt. and a pp. of burn. v.

burr (bër), 1. bur. 2. remove burs from. 3. a rough ridge or edge left by a tool on metal, wood, etc., after cutting or drilling it. 4. tool that resembles a bur. Dentists use tiny burrs. 1,3,4 n., 2 v.

burr (bër), 1. a rough pronunciation of r. 2. pronounce r roughly. 3. a rough pronunciation: a Scottish burr. 4. pronounce roughly. 5. a whirring sound. 6. make a whirring sound. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,6 v.

Man wearing a burnoose

Burnsides

Burr (bër), Aaron, 1756-1836, American politician, vice-president of the United States from 1801 to 1805. n.

bur ro (bër'ō or bür'ō), in the southwestern United States, a kind of small, agile donkey, used to carry camping equipment, etc. n., pl. bur ros.

Bur roughs (bër'ōz), John, 1837-1921, American naturalist and writer. n.

bur row (bër'ō), 1. hole dug in the ground by an animal for refuge or shelter. Rabbits live in burrows. 2. a similar passage for dwelling, shelter, or refuge. 3. dig a hole in the ground: The mole quickly burrowed out of sight. 4. live in burrows. 5. hide. 6. dig. 7. search: She burrowed in the library for a book about Indian life. 1,2 n., 3-7 v. —bur'row er, n.

bur sa (bër'sə), a sac of the body, esp. one containing a lubricating fluid; pouch; cavity. n., pl. bur sae (-sē) or bur sas.

bur sar (bër'sər), treasurer, especially of a college. n.

bur si tis (bər sī'tis), inflammation of a bursa. n.

burst (bèrst), 1. break open; break out; fly apart suddenly with force; explode: The bomb burst. 2. be very full: The barns were bursting with grain. 3. go, come, do, etc., by force or suddenly: He burst into the room. 4. open or be opened suddenly or violently: The trees burst into bloom. 5. a sudden and violent issuing forth; sudden opening to sight or view. 6. act or change suddenly in a way suggesting a break or explosion: She burst into loud laughter. 7. cause to break open or into pieces; shatter: burst a blood vessel. The prisoner burst his chains. 8. bursting; split; explosion. 9. outbreak. 10. a sudden display of activity or energy: a burst of speed. 11. series of shots fired by one pressure of the trigger of an automatic weapon. 1-4,6,7 v., burst, burst ing; 5,8-11 n.

bur then (bër'thən), Archaic. burden; load. n., v.

Bu run di (bū rün'dē), country in E central Africa. 2,400,000 pop.; 10,747 sq. mi. Capital: Usumbura. n.

bur y (bër'y), 1. put (a dead body) in the earth, a tomb, etc. 2. perform a funeral service for. 3. cover up; hide: Many nuts were buried under the dead leaves. 4. plunge; sink: He buried himself in a book. 5. forget. v., bur ied, bur y ing. —bur'i er, n.

bus (bus), a motor vehicle larger than an automobile, with seats inside, used to carry passengers along a certain route; omnibus. n., pl. bus es or bus ses.

bus boy, waiter's assistant. He brings bread and butter, fills glasses, carries off dishes, etc.

bus by (bush'bē), a tall fur hat with a bag hanging from the top over the right side, worn by hussars in the British army. n., pl. bus bies.

bush (bush), 1. a woody plant smaller than a tree, often with many separate branches starting from or near the ground. 2. spread out like a bush; grow thickly. 3. set (ground) with bushes; cover with bushes. 4. open forest; wild land. 1,4 n., 2,3 v.

beat around the bush, approach a matter in a roundabout way; not come straight to the point.

bush el (bush'əl), 1. measure for grain, fruit, vegetables, and other dry things, equal to 4 pecks or 32 quarts. 2. container that holds a bushel. n.

bush el (bush'əl), U.S. repair or alter (clothing). v., bush eled, bush el ing. —bush'el er, n.

bush ing (bush'ing), a removable metal lining used to protect parts of machinery from wear. n.

bush man (bush'mən), 1. settler in the Australian bush. 2. person who knows much about life in the bush. n., pl. bush men.

Bush man (bush'mən), member of a South African tribe of roving hunters. n., pl. Bush men.

bush mas ter (bush'mas'tər), a large, poisonous snake of tropical America. n.

bush pilot, pilot who flies a small plane over relatively unsettled country, such as Alaska.

Busby

bush rang er (būsh/'rān/jər), 1. person who ranges in the bush. 2. criminal hiding in the Australian bush who lives by robbery. n.

bush whack er (būsh/'hwak/ər), 1. person accustomed to go about among bushes. 2. a guerrilla fighter. n.

bush whack ing (būsh/'hwak/ing), 1. act of beating one's way through bushes. 2. fighting from behind bushes, rocks, etc.; guerrilla warfare. n.

bush y (būsh/'ē), 1. spreading out like a bush; growing thickly. 2. overgrown with bushes. adj., bush ier, bush i est. —bush'i ness, n.

bus ily (biz/'ə lē), in a busy manner; actively. adv.

business (biz/'nis), 1. thing that one is busy at; work; occupation: Business comes before pleasure. 2. matter; affair: Taking chances is bad business. 3. activities of buying and selling; trade; commercial dealings: This store does a big business. 4. a commercial enterprise; industrial establishment: a bakery business. They sold their business for ten million dollars. 5. right to act; concern: That's not your business. n.

business college, U.S. school that gives training in shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, and other business subjects.

busi ness like (biz/'nis lik'), having system and method; well-managed; practical. adj.

business man (biz/'nis man'), 1. man in business. 2. man who runs a business. n., pl. busi ness men.

business woman (biz/'nis wūm/ən), 1. woman in business. 2. woman who runs a business. n., pl. busi ness wom en.

bus kin (bus/'kin), 1. boot reaching to the calf or knee, worn in olden times. 2. a high shoe with a very thick sole, worn by Greek and Roman actors of tragedies. 3. tragedy; tragic drama. n.

Ancient buskins

bus man's holiday (bus/'mənz), holiday spent in doing what one does at one's daily work.

buss (bus), Archaic or Dialect. kiss. v., n.

bus ses (bus/'iz), a pl. of bus. n.

bust (bust), 1. statue of a person's head, shoulders, and chest. See pedestal for picture. 2. the upper, front part of the body. 3. a woman's bosom. n.

bust (bust), 1. Substandard. burst. 2. Slang. bankrupt; ruin. 3. Slang. fail financially; become bankrupt. 4. Slang. failure. 5. Informal. punch; hit. 1-3,5 v., 1,4 n.

bust ard (bus/'tərd), a large game bird with long legs and a heavy body, found on the deserts and plains of Africa, Europe, and Asia. n.

Bustard (4 ft. long) bus tle (bus/'l), 1. be noisily busy and in a hurry. 2. make (others) hurry or work hard. 3. noisy or excited activity. 1,2 v., bus tled, bus tling; 3 n. —bus'tler, n.

bus tle (bus/'l), a pad used to puff out the upper back part of a woman's skirts. n.

bus y (biz/'ē), 1. working; active: a busy person. 2. make busy; keep busy: The bees busied themselves making honey. 3. full of work or activity: a busy day, a busy street. 4. prying into other people's affairs; meddling: She's too busy about other people's affairs. 5. of a telephone line, in use. 1,3-5 adj., bus ier, bus i est; 2 v., bus ied, bus y ing.

Bustle

bus y bod y (biz/'ē bod/'ē), person who prides into other people's affairs; meddler. n., pl. bus y bod ies.

but (but; unstressed bət), 1. on the other hand; yet: It rained, but I went anyway. 2. except; save: He works every day but Sunday. 3. if not; unless; except that: It never rains but it pours. 4. only; merely: He is but a boy. 5. other than; otherwise than: We cannot choose but hear. 6. objection: Not so many buts, please. 7. that: I don't doubt but he will come. 8. that not: He is not so sick but he can eat. 9. who not; which not: None try but succeed in some measure. 1,3,5,7-9 conj., 2,5 prep., 4 adv., 6 n.

all but, nearly; almost.

bu ta di ene (bū'tə di/'ēn), a colorless gas made from oil, used in making synthetic rubber and as an anesthetic. n.

bu tane (bū'tān), a gaseous hydrocarbon, used as a fuel. n.

but ch er (būch/'ər), 1. man whose work is killing animals for food. 2. man who sells meat. 3. kill (animals) for food. 4. kill (people, wild animals, or birds). wholesale, needlessly, or cruelly. 5. a brutal killer; murderer. 6. kill brutally; murder. 7. spoil by poor work. 1,2,5 n., 3,4,6,7 v. —butch'er er, n.

butcher bird, bird that kills more prey than it can eat and hangs this on thorns; shrike.

but ch er y (būch/'ər ē), 1. brutal killing; wholesale murder. 2. a slaughter house; butcher shop. 3. a butcher's work; killing animals for food. n., pl. but ch er ies.

but ler (but/'lər), manservant in charge of the pantry and table service in a household; head servant. n.

butt (but), 1. the thicker end of a tool, weapon, ham, etc. 2. end that is left; stub; stump. n.

butt (but), 1. target. 2. object of ridicule or scorn: That queer boy was the butt of their jokes. 3. join end to end. 1,2 n., 3 v.

butt (but), push or hit with the head. v., n.

butt in, Slang. meddle; interfere.

butt (but), 1. a large barrel for wine or beer. 2. a liquid measure equal to 126 gallons. n.

but te (būt), in the western United States, a steep hill standing alone. n.

But te (būt), city in SW Montana. 28,000. n.

Butte

but ter (but/'ər), 1. the solid yellowish fat obtained from cream by churning. 2. put butter on. 3. something like butter: Apple butter is made by boiling apples to a thick jam. 4. Informal. flatter. 1,3 n., 2,4 v. —but'ter less, adj.

but ter cup (but/'ər kup'), plant with bright-yellow flowers shaped like cups. n.

but ter fat (but/'ər fat'), fat in milk. It can be made into butter. n.

but ter fin gers (but/'ər fing/'gərz), Informal. 1. person who drops something that he ought to hold. 2. a careless or clumsy person. n.

but ter fish (but/'ər fish'), a small, silvery fish of the Atlantic coast, used for food. n., pl. but ter fish es or (esp. collectively) but ter fish.

but ter fly (but/'ər fli'), 1. any of various insects with slender bodies and four large, usually bright-colored, wings. Butterflies fly mostly in the daytime. 2. person who suggests a butterfly by delicate beauty, bright clothes, fickleness, etc. n., pl. but ter flies.

butterfly weed, milkweed with orange-colored flowers.

but ter milk (but/'ər milk'), liquid left after butter has been separated from milk. Milk can also be changed to buttermilk artificially. n.

but ter nut (but/'ər nut'), 1. an oily kind of walnut grown in America, that is good to eat. 2. tree that bears butternuts. n.

but ter scotch (but/'ər skoch'), 1. candy made from brown sugar and butter. 2. flavored with brown sugar and butter. 1 n., 2 adj.

but ter y¹ (but/ər ē), 1. like butter. 2. containing butter; spread with butter. adj.

but ter y² (but/ər ē), pantry. n., pl. but ter ies.

but tocks (but/əks), rump. n. pl.

but ton (but/n), 1. knob or round piece fastened to clothing and other things to close them, decorate them, etc. 2. fasten with buttons; close with buttons. 3. knob used as a handle or a catch to take hold of, or push, or to turn so that it holds or closes something. 4. anything that resembles or suggests a button. 1,3,4 n., 2 v. —but/ton less, adj. —but/ton like, adj.

but ton hole (but/n hōl'), 1. slit or loop through which a button is passed. 2. make buttonholes in. 3. sew with the stitch used in making buttonholes. 4. hold in conversation; force to listen. 1 n., 2-4 v., but ton holed, but ton hol ing.

but ton hook (but/n hūk'), hook for pulling the buttons of shoes, gloves, etc., through the buttonholes. n.

but ton wood (but/n wūd'), 1. a tall tree with button-shaped fruit; sycamore; plane tree. 2. its wood. n.

but tress (but/ris), 1. support built against a wall or building to strengthen it. See also the picture under flying buttress. 2. strengthen with a buttress. 3. support; prop. 1,3 n., 2,3 v.

bux om (buk/səm), plump and good to look at; healthy and cheerful. adj.

buy (bī), 1. get by paying a price: You can buy a pencil for five cents. 2. Informal. thing bought; purchase. 3. bribe: It was charged that two of the jury had been bought. 1,3 v., bought, buying; 2 n.

buy off, get rid of by paying money to.

buy out, buy all the shares, rights, etc., of.

buy up, buy all that one can of; buy.

buyer (bī/ər), 1. person who buys. 2. person who buys goods for a store or other business. n.

buzz (buz), 1. a humming sound made by flies, mosquitoes, or bees. 2. a low, confused sound of many people talking quietly: The buzz of whispers stopped when the teacher entered the room. 3. hum loudly. 4. sound in a low, confused way. 5. talk excitedly: The whole class buzzed with the news of the holiday. 6. utter or express by buzzing. 7. whisper; rumor. 8. fly a plane very fast and low over (a place or person): A pilot buzzed our school yesterday. 1,2,7 n., 3-8 v.

buzz about, move about busily.

buzz off, ring off on the telephone.

buz zard (buz/ərd), 1. any of various heavy, slow-moving birds of prey of the same family as the hawk. 2. turkey buzzard. n.

Buzzards Bay (buz/ərdz), inlet of the Atlantic, in SE Massachusetts. 30 mi. long.

buzz bomb, an aerial projectile that can be guided from land to a target where it explodes; robot bomb.

buzz er (buz/ər), 1. thing that buzzes. 2. an electrical device that makes a buzzing sound as a signal. n.

buzz saw, a circular saw.

bx., box. pl. bxs.

by (bī), 1. near; beside: The garden is by the house. 2. along; over; through: go by the bridge. 3. through the act of; through the means or use of: travel by airplane. 4. combined with in multiplication or relative dimensions: a room ten by twenty feet. 5. in the measure of: eggs by the dozen. 6. to the extent of: larger by half. 7. according to: work by rule. 8. in relation to: She did well by her children. 9. taken separately as units or groups in a series: two by two. Algebra must be mastered step by step. 10. during: by day. 11. not later than: by six o'clock. 12. at hand: near by. 13. past: days gone by. A car dashed by. 14. aside or away: to put something by. 15. toward: The island lies south by east from here. 16. Informal. at, in, or into another's house when passing: Please come by and eat with me. 17. bye. 1-11,15 prep., 12-14,16 adv., 17 n.

by and by, after a while.

by and large, in every way or aspect; on the whole.

by the by, incidentally.

by-, prefix meaning:

1. secondary; minor; less important: By-product = less important product.

2. near by: Bystander = person standing near by.

by-and-by (bī/ənd bī/), future. n.

bye (bī), 1. the odd man or the condition of being the odd player in games where players are grouped in pairs. 2. in cricket, a run made on a missed ball. 3. in golf, the holes not played after one player has won. n.

by the bye, by the way; incidentally.

bye-bye (bī/bī/), Informal. good-by. interj.

Bye lo rus sia (byel/ə rush/ə), a republic in W Soviet Union, east of Poland. 8,060,000 pop.; 80,150 sq. mi. Capital: Minsk. n. Also, White Russia.

by gone (bī/gōn'), 1. past; former; departed. 2. something in the past. 3. the past. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

by law (bī/lō/), 1. law made by a city, company, club, etc., for the control of its own affairs. 2. a secondary law or rule; not one of the main rules. n.

by-line (bī/līn'), U.S. line at the beginning of an article giving the name of the writer. n.

by-pass (bī/pas'), 1. road, channel, pipe, etc., providing a secondary passage to be used instead of the main passage. 2. provide a secondary passage for. 3. go around: by-pass a city. 4. pass over the head of (a superior, etc.) to a higher authority. 5. set aside or ignore (regulations, etc.) in order to reach a desired objective. 6. get away from; avoid; escape: by-pass a question. 1 n., 2-6 v.

by-path (bī/path'), a side path; byway. n.

by-play (bī/plā'), action that is not part of the main action, especially on the stage. n.

by-prod uct (bī/prod/əkt), something of some value produced in making or doing something else; not the main product. n.

Byrd (bērd), Richard Evelyn, 1888-1957, American naval officer, aviator, and polar explorer. n.

by-road (bī/rōd'), a side road. n.

By ron (bī/rōn), George Gordon, Lord, 1788-1824, English poet. n.

by stand er (bī/stan/dər), person who stands near or looks on but does not take part. n.

by-street (bī/strēt'), a side street. n.

by way (bī/wā'), a side path or road; way that is little used. n.

by word (bī/wērd'), 1. a common saying; proverb. 2. object of contempt; thing scorned: His cowardice made him a byword to all who knew him. n.

Byz an tine (biz/n tēn or bi zan/tin), 1. having to do with Byzantium or a style of architecture developed there. Byzantine architecture uses round arches, crosses, circles, domes, and mosaics. 2. native or inhabitant of Byzantium. 1 adj., 2 n.

Byzantine Empire, the eastern part of the Roman Empire after the division in 395 A.D. It ceased to exist after the fall of its capital, Constantinople, in 1453.

By zan ti um (bi zan/shē əm or bi zan/tē əm), an ancient city, renamed Constantinople when it became the capital of the Roman Empire in 330 A.D. It is now called Istanbul. n.

Buttress

Buzzard (2½ ft. long; wingspread about 6 ft.)

Example of Byzantine architecture

Byzantine Empire, 814 A.D.

C

C or c (sē), the third letter of the alphabet. n., pl. C's or c's.

C. 1. carbon. 2. central. 3. the Roman numeral for 100. C., 1. Centigrade. 2. Cape. 3. Catholic.

c., 1. cent; cents. 2. about; approximately. 3. catcher (in baseball). 4. center. 5. centimeter. 6. cubic.

C₁₄, carbon 14.

Ca, calcium.

ca., about; approximately.

C.A., 1. Central America. 2. Consular Agent.

CAA, Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Caa ba (kā'bā), Kaaba. n.

cab (kab), 1. automobile that can be hired; taxicab. 2. carriage that can be hired, pulled by one horse. 3. the covered part of a locomotive where the engineer and fireman sit. 4. an enclosed seat on a truck for the driver. n.

ca bal (kā bal'), 1. a small group of people working or plotting in secret. 2. a secret scheme of such a group; plot. n.

cab a lis tic (kab'ə lis'tik), having a mystical meaning; secret. adj.

cab al le ro (kab'al yār'ō or kab'ə lār'ō), Spanish. 1. gentleman. 2. knight. n., pl. cab al le ros.

ca ba ña (kā bān'yā or kā bān'ə), 1. a small, roughly built house; cabin. 2. a tentlike shelter used for dressing, to provide shade, etc., on the beach. n.

cab a ret (kab'ə rā'), 1. restaurant where an entertainment of singing and dancing is provided. 2. the entertainment. n.

cab bage (kab'ij), vegetable whose leaves are closely folded into a round head that grows from a short stem. n.

cab in (kab'en), 1. a small, roughly built house; hut. 2. live in a cabin. 3. room in a ship. 4. place for passengers in an airplane or airship. 5. confine; cramp. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v.

cabin boy, boy whose work is waiting on the officers and passengers in a ship.

cab i net (kab'ə nit), 1. piece of furniture with shelves or drawers to hold things, such as jewels, dishes, or letters: A kitchen cabinet is used for storing food supplies and dishes. 2. group of advisers chosen by the head of a nation to help him with the administration of the government. Each member of the cabinet of the President of the United States administers a department of the government. n.

cab i net mak er (kab'ə nit māk'ər), man whose work is making fine furniture and woodwork. n.

cab i net work (kab'ə nit wèrk'), 1. any beautifully made furniture and woodwork. 2. the making of such furniture and woodwork. n.

ca ble (kā'bl), 1. a strong, thick rope, usually made of wires twisted together. 2. tie or fasten with a cable. 3. cable's length. 4. a protected bundle of wires to carry an electric current. Telegraph messages are sent under the ground or under the ocean by cable. 5. message sent under the ocean by cable; cablegram. 6. send (a message) under the ocean by cable. 1,3-5 n., 2,6 v.

ca bled, ca bling.

cable car, car pulled by a moving cable that is operated by an engine.

ca ble gram (kā'bl gram), message sent under the ocean by cable. n.

cable's length, unit of measurement at sea. It is 720 feet in the United States navy and 607.56 feet in the British navy.

Cable (def. 1)

cab man (kab'mən), man who drives a cab. n., pl. cab men.

ca boose (kā büs'), 1. U.S. a small car on a freight train in which the trainmen can rest and sleep. It is usually the last car. 2. kitchen on the deck of a ship. n.

Cab ot (kab'ət), 1. John, 1450?-1498, Italian navigator who explored for England. He discovered the North American continent in 1497. 2. his son. Sebastian, 1474?-1557, English navigator and explorer. n.

Ca bri ni (kā brē'ni), Saint Frances Xavier, 1850-1917, American nun, canonized in 1946. She was the first American citizen to be made a saint of the Roman Catholic Church. n.

cab ri o let (kab'rē ə lā'), 1. automobile somewhat like a coupé, but having a folding top. 2. a light carriage with one or two seats and two wheels, pulled by one horse. It often has a folding top. n.

Cabriolet (def. 2)

ca ca o (kā kā'ō), 1. seeds from which cocoa and chocolate are made. They are washed or fermented to remove a sticky coating and then dried. 2. the tropical American tree that they grow on. n., pl. ca ca os.

cach a lot (kash'ə lot), a large, square-head whale; sperm whale. n.

cache (kash), 1. a hiding place to store food or supplies. 2. a hidden store of food or supplies. 3. put in a cache; hide. 1,2 n., 3 v., cached, cach ing.

ca cique (kā sēk'), a native chief in the West Indies, Mexico, etc. n.

cak le (kak'l), 1. the shrill, broken sound that a hen makes after laying an egg. 2. make this sound. 3. shrill, harsh, broken laughter. 4. laugh shrilly, harshly, and brokenly: After each joke the old man cackled his enjoyment. 5. noisy chatter; silly talk. 6. chatter. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,6 v., cack led, cack ling.

ca coph o nous (kā kof'ə nəs), harsh and clashing; dissonant; discordant. adj.

ca coph o ny (kā kof'ə nē), a harsh, clashing sound; dissonance; discord. n., pl. ca coph o nies.

cac tus (kak'təs), plant whose thick, fleshy stems have spines or scales but usually have no leaves. Most cactuses grow in very hot, dry regions of America and often have brightly colored flowers. n., pl. cac tus es, cac ti (-tī).

Common cactus cad (kad), person who does not act like a gentleman; an ill-bred person. n.

ca dav er (kā dav'ər), a dead body; corpse. n.

ca dav er ous (kā dav'ər əs), 1. of or like a cadaver. 2. pale and ghastly. 3. thin and worn. adj.

cad die (kad'ē), 1. person who helps a golf player by carrying golf clubs, finding the ball, etc. 2. help a golf player in this way. 1 n., 2 v., cad died, cad dy ing. Also, caddy.

cad dis fly (kad'is), insect somewhat resembling a moth whose larva lives under water and forms itself a case of sand, bits of leaves, or the like.

cad dish (kad'ish), like a cad; ungentlemanly. adj.

caddis worm, larva of a cadis fly, used as bait in fishing.

cad dy¹ (kad'ē), a small box, can, or chest, often used to hold tea. n., pl. cad dies.

cad dy² (kad'ē), caddie. n., pl. cad dies; v., cad died, cad dy ing.

ca dence (kā'dns), 1. rhythm. 2. measure or beat hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rūle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

of any rhythmical movement. 3. fall of the voice. 4. rising and falling sound; modulation. 5. series of chords bringing part of a piece of music to an end. n. ca den za (kə den'zə), an elaborate flourish or showy passage near the end of an aria, concerto, or part of a musical composition. n.

ca det (kə det'), 1. a young man in training for service as an officer in the army or air force of the United States. 2. a younger son or brother. n.

ca det ship (kə det'ship), rank or position of a cadet. n.

ca di (kă'dē or kă'dē), a minor Moslem judge, usually of a town or village. n., pl. ca dis.

Cá diz (kə diz' or kă'diz), seaport in SW Spain. 113,000. n.

cad mi um (kad'mē əm), a bluish-white, ductile metallic element, resembling tin, used in making certain alloys. Symbol: Cd n.

Cad mus (kad'məs), in Greek legend, a prince who killed a dragon and sowed its teeth. From these teeth, armed men sprang up who fought until only five were left. Cadmus and these men founded the Greek city of Thebes and introduced the alphabet into Greece. n.

ca dre (kă'dər; in military use, kad'rē), 1. framework. 2. staff of officers and enlisted men of a military unit necessary to establish and train a new unit. n.

ca du ce us (kə dū'sē əs or kə dū'sē əs), staff with two snakes twined around it and a pair of wings on top. Mercury, or Hermes, the messenger of the gods, is usually shown carrying a caduceus. The caduceus is often used as an emblem of the medical profession. n., pl. Caduceus ca du ce i (-sē ī).

cae cum (sē'kəm), the first part of the large intestine. It is closed at one end. n., pl. cae ca (-kə). Also, cecum.

Cae sar (sē'zər), 1. Gaius Julius, 102?-44 B.C., Roman general, statesman, and historian, conqueror of Gaul. 2. a title of the Roman emperors from Augustus to Hadrian, and later of the heir to the throne. 3. an emperor. 4. dictator; tyrant. n.

Cae sa re a (sē'zə rē'ə), small seaport in NW Israel. It was the ancient Roman capital of Judea. n.

cae sar ism (sē'zər iz əm), imperialism; autocracy. n.

cae si um (sē'zē əm), cesium. n.

cae sur a (si zhūr'ə or si zyūr'ə), pause in a line of verse, generally agreeing with a pause required by the sense. It usually comes near the middle of a line, either within or after a metrical foot. Example: "To err is human, | to forgive, divine." n., pl. cae sur as, cae-sur ae (-zhūr'ē or -zyūr'ē).

ca fé (ka fā' or kə fā'), 1. restaurant. 2. French. coffee. n.

caf e te ri a (kaf'ə tir'ē ə), restaurant where people wait on themselves. n.

caf feine or caf feïn (kaf'ēn), a stimulating drug found in coffee and tea. n.

cage (kāj), 1. frame or place closed in with wires, bars, etc. Birds and wild animals are kept in cages. 2. thing shaped or used like a cage. The car or closed platform of an elevator is a cage. 3. prison. 4. put or keep in a cage. 1-3 n., 4 v., caged, cag ing.

cage ling (kāj'ling), bird kept in a cage. n.

cage y (kāj'ē), Informal. shrewd; sharp; cautious. adj., cag ier, cag i est. —cag'i ly, adv. —cag'i ness, n.

Cai a phas (kă'ə fəs or kī'ə fəs), Jewish high priest from 18? to 36 A.D. He presided at the trial condemning Jesus to death. Matthew 26:57-66. n.

cai man (kă'mən), cayman. n., pl. cai mans.

Cain (kān), 1. in the Bible, the oldest son of Adam and Eve, who killed his brother Abel. 2. murderer. n.
raise Cain, Slang. make a great disturbance.

ca ique (kă ēk'), 1. a long, narrow Turkish rowboat, much used on the Bosphorus. 2. a Mediterranean sailing ship. n.

cairn (kārn), pile of stones heaped up as a memorial, tomb, or landmark. n.

Cai ro (kī'rō), capital of Egypt, in the NE part. 3,035,000. n.

cais son (kā'sn or kā'son), 1. box for ammunition. 2. wagon to carry ammunition. 3. a watertight box or chamber in which men can work under water. 4. a watertight float used in raising sunken ships. n.

caisson disease, illness caused by changing too suddenly from high air pressure to ordinary air pressure.

cai tiff (kā'tif), 1. a mean, bad person; coward. 2. vile; cowardly; mean. 1 n., 2 adj.

ca jole (kə jōl'), persuade by pleasant words, flattery, or false promises; coax. v., ca joled, ca-jol ing. —ca jol'er, n.

ca jol er y (kə jōl'ər ē), persuasion by smooth, deceitful words; flattery; coaxing. n., pl. ca jol-eries.

cake (kāk), 1. a baked mixture of flour, sugar, eggs, flavoring, and other things: a sponge cake, a fruit cake. 2. a flat, thin mass of dough baked or fried: a pancake, an oat-cake. 3. any small, flat mass of food fried on both sides: a fish cake. 4. a shaped mass: a cake of soap. 5. form into a solid mass; harden: Mud cakes as it dries. 1-4 n., 5 v., caked, cak ing.

cake walk (kāk'wōk'), 1. a march or dance to music. Negroes used to compete to see who could do the best or most original steps. The winner got a cake. 2. do a cakewalk. 1 n., 2 v.

Cal., California.

cal a bash (kal'ə bash), 1. gourd whose dried shell is used to make bottles, bowls, drums, rattles, etc. 2. the tropical plant or tree that it grows on. 3. bottle, bowl, etc., made from such a dried shell. n.

ca la di um (kă lă'dē əm), a tropical plant with large leaves. n.

Cal ais (ka lă' or kal'ā), seaport in N France that is nearest England. 60,000. n.

ca lam i tous (kə lam'ə təs), causing calamity; accompanied by calamity; disastrous. adj. —ca lam-i-tous ly, adv.

ca lam i ty (kə lam'ə tē), 1. a great misfortune, such as a flood, a fire, or loss of one's sight or hearing. 2. serious trouble; misery. n., pl. ca lam-i-ties.

cal a mus (kal'ə mäs), 1. plant with long, sword-shaped leaves; sweet flag. 2. its fragrant root. n., pl. cal a mi (-mī).

ca lash (kə lash'), 1. a light, low carriage that usually has a folding top. 2. a folding top or hood. 3. a woman's silk hood or bonnet, worn in the 18th and 19th centuries. n.

cal car e ous (kal kăr'ē əs), 1. of or containing lime or limestone. 2. of or containing calcium. adj.

cal ces (kal'sēz), a pl. of calx. n.

cal chas (kal'kəs), in Greek legend, the priest of Apollo who accompanied the Greeks in the Trojan War. n.

cal ci fi ca tion (kal'sə fə kă'shən), 1. process of calcifying. 2. a calcified part. n.

cal ci fy (kal'sə fī), become hard by the deposit of lime. An injured cartilage sometimes calcifies. v., cal ci fied, cal ci fy ing.
cal ci mine (kal'sə mīn), 1. a white or colored liquid

Caisson (def. 3). The weight of the masonry on the bottom of the caisson forces it into the sand and mud at the bottom of the water. Air under pressure is then forced into the caisson, driving out the water and permitting workmen to enter through air locks.

Decorated calabashes (def. 3)

Calash (def. 1)

Lady wearing a calash (def. 3) consisting of a mixture of water, coloring matter, glue, etc., used on ceilings and walls. 2. cover with calcimine. 1 n., 2 v., cal ci mined, cal ci min ing. Also, kalsomine.

cal ci na tion (kal'sə nā'shən), 1. act or operation of calcining. 2. anything formed by calcining. n.

cal cine (kal'sin), 1. change to lime by heating. 2. burn to ashes or powder. v., cal cined, cal cin ing.

cal ci um (kal'sē əm), a soft, silvery-white metallic element. It is a part of limestone, chalk, milk, etc., and is important as an element of strong, healthy bones. Symbol: Ca n.

calcium carbide, a heavy gray substance that reacts with water to form acetylene gas.

calcium carbonate, mineral occurring in rocks as marble and limestone, in animals as bones, shells, teeth, etc., and to some extent in plants.

calcium chloride, compound of calcium and chlorine, used in making artificial ice and chlorine.

calcium hydroxide, slaked lime.

cal cu la ble (kal'kyə lə bl), 1. that can be calculated. 2. reliable; dependable. adj. —cal'cu la bly, adv.

cal cu late (kal'kyə lāt), 1. find out by adding, subtracting, multiplying, or dividing; figure: calculate the cost of furnishing a house. 2. find out beforehand by any process of reasoning; estimate: calculate the day of the week on which Christmas will fall. 3. rely; depend; count: You can calculate on earning $65 a week if you take the job. 4. U.S. Informal. plan; intend: That remark was calculated to hurt someone's feelings. 5. U.S. Informal. think; believe; suppose. v., cal cu lat ed, cal cu lat ing.

cal cu lat ing (kal'kyə lāt'ing), 1. that calculates. 2. shrewd; careful. 3. scheming; selfish. adj.

cal cu la tion (kal'kyə lā'shən), 1. act of calculating. 2. result found by calculating. 3. careful thinking; deliberate planning. n.

cal cu la tor (kal'kyə lā'tər), person or machine that calculates. n.

cal cu lus (kal'kyə ləs), 1. a method of calculation in higher mathematics. 2. a stone that has formed in the body because of a diseased condition. Gallstones are calculi. n., pl. cal cu li (-li) or cal cu lus es.

Cal cut ta (kal kut'ə), seaport in E India. 2,550,000. n.

cal dron (kōl'drən), a large kettle or boiler. n. Also, cauldron.

Cal e do ni a (kal'ə dō'nē ə), Poetic. Scotland. n. —Cal'e dō'ni an, adj., n.

cal en dar (kal'ən dər), 1. table showing the months and weeks of the year and the day of the week on which each day of the month comes. 2. system by which the beginning, length, and divisions of the year are fixed. 3. list; record; register: She celebrates the day of every saint in the calendar. The judge proceeded to hear the next case on the calendar. 4. enter in a calendar or list; register. 1-3 n., 4 v.

calendar day, the 24 hours from one midnight to the next midnight.

calendar month, one of the 12 parts into which a year is divided; month.

calendar year, period of 365 days (or in leap year, 366 days) that begins on January 1 and ends on December 31.

cal en der (kal'ən dər), 1. machine in which cloth, paper, etc., is smoothed and glazed by pressing between rollers. 2. make smooth and glossy by pressing in a calender. 1 n., 2 v.

cal ends (kal'əndz), the first day of the month in the ancient Roman calendar. n.pl. Also, kalends.

ca len du la (kə len'jū lə), kind of marigold with yellow or orange flowers. n.

calf (kaf), 1. a young cow or bull. 2. a young elephant, whale, seal, etc. 3. leather made from the skin of a calf. 4. Informal. a clumsy, silly boy or young man. n., pl. calves.

calf (kaf), the thick, fleshy part of the back of the leg below the knee. See shin for diagram. n., pl. calves.

calf skin (kaf'skin'), 1. skin of a calf. 2. leather made from it. n.

Cal ga ry (kal'gə rē), city in southwestern Canada. 243,000. n.

Cal houn (kal hūn'), John Caldwell, 1782-1850, American statesman, vice-president of the United States from 1825 to 1832. n.

cal i ber or cal i bre (kal'ə bər), 1. diameter, especially inside diameter. A .45-caliber revolver has a barrel with an inside diameter of 45/100 of an inch. 2. amount of ability: The president of a railroad or a big factory should be a man of large caliber. n.

cal i brate (kal'ə brāt), 1. determine, check, or adjust the scale of (a thermometer, gauge, or other measuring instrument). This is usually done by comparison with a standard instrument. 2. find the caliber of. v., cal i brat ed, cal i brat ing. —cal'i brā'tor, n.

cal i bra tion (kal'ə brā'shən), 1. a calibrating. 2. being calibrated. n.

cal i co (kal'ə kō), 1. U.S. a cotton cloth that usually has colored patterns printed on one side. 2. made of calico. 3. spotted in colors. 1 n., pl. cal i coes or cal i cos; 2,3 adj.

cal i co back (kal'ə kō bak'), a red-and-black bug that feeds on cabbages and other garden plants. n.

ca lif (kā'lif or kal'if), caliph. n.

Cal if., the official abbreviation of California.

cal i f ate (kal'ə fāt or kā'lə fāt), caliphate. n.

Cal i for nia (kal'ə fōrn'yə), 1. a Western State of the United States, on the Pacific coast. 15,717,000 pop.; 158,693 sq. mi. Capital: Sacramento. Abbrev.: Calif. 2. Gulf of, gulf east of Lower California. 750 mi. long. n. —Cal'i for'nian, adj., n.

California poppy, 1. a small poppy with finely divided leaves and orange, yellow, or cream-colored flowers. 2. its flower.

cal i for ni um (kal'ə fōr'nē əm), a highly radioactive element, produced artificially in 1950 by nuclear physicists at the University of California. Symbol: Cf n.

cal i pers (kal'ə pərz), instrument used to measure the diameter or thickness of something. n.pl. Also, calipers.

ca liph (kā'lif or kal'if), head of a Moslem state. n. Also, calif, khalif.

cal iph ate (kal'ə fāt or kā'lə fāt), rank, reign, government, or territory of a caliph. n. Also, califate.

cal is then ics (kal'is then'iks), exercises to develop a strong and graceful body. Calisthenics are carried out simply by moving the body, without the use of special equipment. n.pl. Also, callis-thenics.

calk (kōk), fill up (a seam, crack, or joint) so that it will not leak; make watertight. Sailors calk boats with oakum and tar. Plumbers calk joints with lead. v. Also, caulk.

calk (kōk), a projecting piece on a horseshoe that catches in the ground or ice and prevents slipping. n.

call (kōl), 1. speak loudly; cry; shout: He called from downstairs. 2. a shout; a cry. 3. of a bird or animal, utter its characteristic sound. 4. the characteristic sound of a bird or other animal. 5. give a signal (to): The bugle called the men to assemble. 6. a signal given by sound: Army calls are played on the bugle. 7. rouse; waken: Call me at seven o'clock. 8. invite; command; summon: Obey when duty calls. He called on us to help him. 9. invitation; request; command; summons. 10. ask to come; cause to come: Call back the postman. Call off your dog. The assembly was called to order. His case will be called in court tomorrow. 11. get; bring: call forth a reply, call out the best in a person. 12. claim; demand: A busy person has many calls on his time. 13. give a name to; term: They called the baby John. 14. consider; estimate: Everyone called the party a success. 15. need; occasion: You have no call to meddle in other people's business. 16. make a short visit or stop: They called on us at home. We must call on our new neighbor. 17. a short visit or stop. 18. read over aloud: The teacher called the roll of the class. 19. end; stop: The ball game was called on account of rain. Let's call off our trip. 20. telephone (to). 21. demand payment of: The bank called my father's loan. 22. act of calling. 1,3,5,7,8,10,11,13,14,16,18-21 v., 2,4,6,9,12,15,17,22 n.

Calipers for measuring inside and outside diameters

C, calk on a horseshoe.

call back, 1. ask (a person) to return; recall. 2. take back; retract. 3. telephone to someone who has called earlier.

call down, Informal. scold.

call for, 1. go and get; stop and get. 2. need; require. call on, appeal to.

call up, 1. bring to mind; bring back. 2. telephone to on call, 1. subject to payment on demand. 2. ready.

calla (kal'ə), 1. plant with a large, petallike, white leaf around a thick spike of yellow florets. 2. a marsh plant with heart-shaped leaves. n.

calla lily, 1. calla (def. 1). 2. its blossom, formed of a white leaf around a yellow spike.

call boy (kōl'boi'), 1. bellboy in a hotel, ship, etc. 2. boy who calls actors from their dressing rooms when they are supposed to go on the stage. n.

caller (kōl'ər), 1. person who makes a short visit. 2. person who calls. n.

calligraphic (kal'ə graf'ik), having to do with calligraphy. adj.

calligraphy (kə lig'rə fē), 1. handwriting. 2. beautiful handwriting. n.

calling (kōl'ing), 1. business; occupation; profession; trade: Ellen intends to follow the calling of a teacher. 2. invitation; command; summons. n.

Calliope (kə lī'ə pē), in Greek mythology, the Muse of eloquence and heroic poetry. n.

caliopo (kə lī'ə pē or kal'ē ōp), a musical instrument having a series of steam whistles played by pushing keys. n.

calipers (kal'ə pərz), calipers. n.pl.

calisthenics (kal'is then'iks), calisthenics. n.pl.

Callisto (kə lis'tō), in Greek legend, a nymph whom Artemis changed into a bear for being in love with Zeus. n.

callosity (kə los'ə tē), 1. a hard, thickened place on the skin; callus. 2. lack of feeling; hardness of heart. n., pl. callosities.

callous (kal'əs), 1. hard; hardened. Portions of the skin that are exposed to friction are often callous. 2. unfeeling; not sensitive: Only a callous person can see suffering without trying to relieve it. adj. —callously ly, adv. —callousness, n.

callow (kal'ō), 1. young and inexperienced. 2. not fully developed. 3. of birds, without feathers sufficiently developed for flight. adj. —callowness, n.

callus (kal'əs), a hard, thickened place on the skin. n., pl. calluses.

calm (kām or kālm), 1. not stormy or windy; quiet; still; not moving: a calm sea. 2. absence of motion or wind; quietness; stillness. 3. peaceful; not excited: Although she was frightened, she answered with a calm voice. 4. absence of excitement; peacefulness. 5. become calm: The crying baby soon calmed down. 6. make calm: Mother soon calmed the baby. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n., 5,6 v. —calmly, adv. —calmness, n.

calomel (kal'ə mel), a white, tasteless, crystalline powder, a compound of mercury, used in medicine as a cathartic. n.

caloric (kə lōr'ik), 1. heat. 2. having to do with heat. 1 n., 2 adj.

calorie or calory (kal'ə rē), 1. unit for measuring the amount of heat. The quantity of heat necessary to raise the temperature of a gram of water one degree centigrade is a small calorie. The quantity of heat necessary to raise the temperature of a kilogram of water one degree centigrade or one pound of water about four degrees Fahrenheit is a large calorie. 2. unit for measuring the energy supplied by food. It corresponds to a large calorie. An ounce of sugar will produce about a hundred such calories. 3. quantity of food capable of producing such an amount of energy. n., pl. calories. calorific (kal'ə rif'ik), producing heat. adj.

calumet (kal'yū met), a long, ornamented tobacco pipe smoked by the American Indians in ceremonies as a symbol of peace. n.

calumniate (kə lum'nē āt), say false and injurious things about; slander. v., calumniated, calumniating, —calumniator, n. —calumniation, n. —calumniate, v.

calumnious (kə lum'nē əs), slanderous. adj. —calumniously, adv.

calumny (kal'əm nē), a false statement made to injure someone's reputation; slander. n., pl. calumnies.

Calvary (kal'və rē), place near Jerusalem where Jesus died on the cross. Luke 23:33. n.

calve (kav), give birth to a calf. v., calved, calving.

Calvert (kal'vərt), 1. Sir George, 1580?-1632, the first Lord Baltimore, an English noble who founded the colony of Maryland. 2. his son, Leonard, 1606?-1647, the first governor of the colony of Maryland. n.

calves (kavz), pl. of calf and calfs. n.

Calvin (kal'vən), John, 1509-1564, French leader of the Protestant Reformation at Geneva. He taught that only certain persons, the elect, were chosen by God to be saved and these could be saved only by God's grace. n.

calx (kalks), an ashy substance left after a metal or a mineral has been thoroughly roasted, burned, etc. n., pl. calxes, calces (kal'sēz).

calyxes (kal'ə sēz or kă'lə sēz), a pl. of calyx. n.

Calydon (kal'ə don), ancient city in W Greece. n.

Calydonian (kal'ə dō'nē ən), of Calydon. The Calydonian boar was a wild boar sent by Artemis to attack Calydon. Meleager finally killed it. adj.

Calyso (kə lip'sō), in Greek legend, a sea nymph who detained Odysseus on her island for seven years. n.

calypso (kə lip'sō), type of improvised song, usually about some matter of current interest, that originated in the British West Indies. n.

calyx (kă'lik or kal'iks), the outer part of a flower that is a holder for the petals. The calyx is made up of sepals. See sepal for picture. n., pl. calyxes or calyxes.

cam (kam), projection on a wheel or shaft that changes a regular circular motion into an irregular circular motion or into a back-and-forth motion. n.

camaraderie (kă'mə rā'də-rē), comradeship; friendliness and loyalty among comrades. n.

camarilla (kam'ə ril'ə), group of private advisers; cabal; clique. n.

camass or camas (kam'əs), plant of the same family as the lily, growing in the W United States. Indians eat its sweet nourishing bulbs. n.

camber (kam'bər), 1. arch slightly; bend or curve upward in the middle. 2. a slight arch; upward bend or curve in the middle. 3. a slightly arching piece of timber. 4. the rise and fall of the curve of an airfoil of an airplane. 1 v., 2-4 n.

cambiu (kam'bē əm), layer of soft growing tissue between the bark and the wood of trees and shrubs, from which new bark and new wood grow. n.

Camboja (kam bō'dē ə), country in SE Asia, formerly under French influence. 4,845,000 pop.; 69,884 sq. mi. Capital: Phnompenh. n.

Cam. The cam turns with the shaft. The wheel of the plunger follows the edge of the cam. Thus the downward movement (figure A) and upward movement (figure B) of the plunger are caused by the two different curves of the cam.

cam bric (kām'brīk), a fine, thin linen or cotton cloth. n.

cambric tea, drink made of hot water, milk, and sugar, sometimes flavored with a little tea.

Cam bridge (kām'brīj), 1. city in SE England. 91,000. 2. university located there. 3. city in E Massachusetts, near Boston. 121,000. n.

Cam den (kām'dən), city in SW New Jersey, on the Delaware River. 125,000. n.

came (kām), pt. of come. He came to school late. v.

cam el (kam'l), a large, cud-chewing mammal with one or two humps on its back, used as a beast of burden. The Arabian camel, or dromedary, has one hump; the Bactrian camel of southern Asia has two humps. Camels are used in the deserts of Africa and Asia because they can go for a long time without drinking water. n.

Bactrian camel (9 ft. long; 7½ ft. high at the hump) ca mel lia (kə mēl'yə), 1. shrub or tree with glossy leaves and waxy white or red flowers shaped like roses. 2. the flower. n.

ca mel o pard (kə mēl'ə pārd), giraffe. n.

Cam e lot (kam'ə lot), a legendary place in England where King Arthur had his palace and court. n.

camel's hair, 1. hair of a camel, used in making cloth, paintbrushes, etc. 2. cloth made of this hair or something like it.

Cam em bert (kam'əm bār), a rich, soft cheese. n.
cam e o (kam'ē ō), a precious or semi-precious stone carved so that there is a raised part on a background. Agates and other stones with layers are much used for cameos. n., pl. came os.

cam er a (kam'ər ə), 1. machine for taking photographs in which film or plates are exposed and the image is formed by means of a lens. 2. part of the transmitter which converts images into electronic impulses for television transmitting. 3. a judge's private office. n., pl. cam er as for 1 and 2, cam er ae (-ər ē) for 3.

Camera. When the shutter is opened, light rays reflected from the object pass through the lens and are focused by it on the film. Because the film is sensitive to light, it records the image.

in camera, 1. in a judge's private office. 2. privately.
cam er a man (kam'ər ə mən'), man who operates a motion-picture or a television camera. n., pl. cam er a men.

Cam er oon (kam'ər ūn'), country in W Africa, including the former Cameroun and the southern portion of the former Cameroons. 4,013,000 pop.; 183,333 sq. mi. Capital: Yaoundé. Also, Cameroun. n.

Cam er oons (kam'ər ūnz'), former British trust territory, divided between Cameroon and Nigeria in 1961. n.

Cam er oun (kam'ər ūn'), 1. Cameroon. 2. former French trust territory now included in Cameroon. n.

cam i on (kam'ē ən), 1. a strong cart. 2. truck for carrying cannon. n.

cam i sole (kam'ə sōl), 1. a woman's underwaist. 2. a woman's short, loose dressing gown. n.

cam o mile (kam'ə mil), plant of the same family as the aster, with daisylike flowers. Its flowers and leaves are sometimes dried and used in medicine. n.

Ca mor ra (kə mōr'ə), a secret society formed in Naples, Italy, about 1820 that developed into a powerful political organization. Later it was associated with blackmail, robbery, etc. n.

cam ou flag (kam'ə flāzh), 1. disguise; deception. The white fur of a polar bear is a natural camouflage; it prevents the bear's being easily seen against the snow. 2. in warfare, giving things a false appearance to deceive the enemy. 3. give a false appearance to in order to conceal; disguise. 1,2 n., 3 v., cam ou flagged, cam ou flag ing. —cam'ou flag'er, n.

camp (kamp), 1. group of tents, huts, or other shelters where people live for a time: A marching army usually makes camp every night. 2. a place where a camp is. 3. people living in a camp. 4. any tent, hut, or other shelter to live in for a time: Many people live in a camp near a lake or in the woods in the summer. 5. make a camp; put up tents, huts, or other shelters. 6. live in a camp for a time. 7. living an outdoor life with very simple shelter; camping. 8. live simply without comforts for a time. 9. group of people who agree or work together. 10. military life. 1-4,7,9,10 n., 5,6,8 v. —camp'er, n.

break camp, pack up tents and equipment.

camp out, 1. spend the night outdoors. 2. live in the open in a tent or camp: The Boy Scouts camped out for a week.

cam paign (kam pān'), 1. series of related military operations for some special purpose: The general's staff planned a campaign to capture the enemy's most important city. 2. series of connected activities to do or get something; planned course of action for some special purpose: a campaign to raise money for a college, a campaign to advertise some article, a campaign to elect someone to political office. 3. take part in or serve in a campaign; go on a campaign. 1,2 n., 3 v.

cam paign er (kam pān'ər), person who campaigns or has campaigned. n.

cam pa ni le (kam'pə nē'lē), a bell tower. n., pl. cam pa ni les, cam pa ni li (-nē'lē).

cam pan u la (kam pan'yū lə), bluebell, Canterbury bell, or other similar plant with bell-shaped flowers. n.

camp fire (kamp'fir'), 1. fire in a camp for warmth or cooking. 2. a social gathering of soldiers, scouts, etc. n.

campfire girl, member of the Camp Fire Girls.

Campanile

Camp Fire Girls, organization for promoting the health and welfare of young girls by training them in cooperation, outdoor activities, etc.

camp ground (kamp'ground'), 1. a place where a camp is. 2. a place where a camp meeting is held. n.

cam phor (kam'fər), a white, crystalline substance with a strong odor and a bitter taste. Camphor is used in medicine, to protect clothes from moths, in the manufacture of celluloid, etc. Most camphor is obtained from a laurel tree found chiefly in Taiwan, Japan, China, etc. n.

cam phor at ed (kam'fər āt'id), containing camphor: camphorated oil. adj.

cam phor ball, a small ball made of camphor or naphthalene, used to keep moths out of clothes.

cam pi on (kam'pē ən), any of certain plants of the same family as the pink, with red or white flowers. n.

camp meeting, a religious gathering held outdoors or in a tent, usually lasting several days.

camp stool (kamp'stūl'), a lightweight, folding seat. n.

cam pus (kam'pəs), U.S. grounds of a college, university, or school. n.

can (kan; unstressed kən), 1. be able to: He can read rapidly. 2. know how to: He can run that machine. 3. have the right to: Anyone can cross the street here. 4. Informal. be allowed to: You can go at four o'clock. 5. feel inclined to: You may leave whenever you can. v., pres. sing. 1 can, 2 can or (Archaic) canst, 3 can; pt. could.

can (kan), 1. a metal container: an oil can, a milk can. 2. put in a can; preserve by putting in airtight cans or jars: can fruit. 3. contents of a can. 4. a drinking cup. 5. U.S. Slang. dismiss from a job; get rid of. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v., canned, can ning.

Can., 1. Canada. 2. Canadian.

Ca na (kā'nə), in the Bible, a village in N Israel. n.

Ca naan (kā'nən), 1. in the Bible, a region in Palestine between the Jordan River and the Mediterranean. God promised Canaan to Abraham and his descendants. 2. land of promise. n.

Ca naan ite (kā'nən it), inhabitant of Canaan before its conquest by the Hebrews. n.

Can a da (kan'ə də), a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations, north of the United States. 17,900,000 pop.; 3,851,809 sq. mi. Capital: Ottawa. n.

Canada goose, a large wild goose of North America having a black head and neck, white throat, and a brownish-gray body.

Ca na di an (kā nā'dē ən), 1. of Canada or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Canada. 1 adj., 2 n.

ca nal (kā nal'), 1. waterway dug across land. Some canals are for boats and ships; others are for carrying water to places that need it. 2. tube in the body or in a plant for carrying food, liquid, or air. 3. a long arm of a large body of water. 4. any of the long, narrow markings on the planet Mars. n.

canal boat, a long, narrow boat used on canals. Canal boats are sometimes pulled along by horses.

ca nal ize (kā nal'iz or kan'ə liz), 1. make a canal or canals through. 2. make into or like a canal. v., ca nal-ized, ca nal iz ing.

Canal Zone, the Panama Canal and the land five miles on each side, governed by the United States. 42,000 pop.; 553 sq. mi. Also, Panama Canal Zone.

ca nard (kā nārd'), a false rumor; exaggerated report; hoax. n.

Ca nar ies (kā nār'ēz), Canary Islands. n.pl.

ca nar y (kā nār'ē), 1. a small, yellow songbird. Canaries are often kept in cages. 2. light yellow. 3. wine from the Canary Islands. 1-3 n., pl. ca nar ies; 2 adj.

Canary Islands, group of Spanish islands in the Atlantic, near the NW coast of Africa. 808,000 pop.; 2808 sq. mi. See Madeira for map.

canary yellow, light yellow.

ca nas ta (kā nas'tə), a card game similar to rummy in which the players try to earn as many points as possible by melding sets of seven or more cards. n.

Can ber ra (kan'ber ə), capital of Australia, in the SE part. 44,000. n.

can can (kan'kan), a form of quadrille marked by extravagant kicking and leaping. n.

can cel (kan'sl), 1. cross out; mark (something) so that it cannot be used: cancel a stamp. 2. cross out (the same factor from the numerator and denominator of a fraction, or from the two sides of an equation). 3. do away with; abolish: He canceled his order for the books. 4. make up for; balance; compensate; neutralize: The little boy's sweet smile canceled his crossness. 5. a canceling. 6. a canceled part. 1-4 v., can celed, can cel ing or esp. Brit. can celled, can cel ling; 5,6 n.

can cel la tion (kan'sl ā'shən), 1. a canceling or being canceled; striking out: cancellation of a game from the schedule. 2. marks made when something is canceled or crossed out: The cancellation of that check consists of the small holes punched through it. n.

can cer (kan'sər), 1. a very harmful growth in the body; malignant tumor. Cancer tends to spread and destroy the healthy tissues and organs of the body. 2. an evil or harmful thing that tends to spread. n.

Can cer (kan'sər), 1. tropic of Cancer, a circle around the world 23.45 degrees north of the equator. See Capricorn for diagram. 2. a northern constellation that was thought of by ancient astronomers as arranged in the shape of a crab. n.

can cer ous (kan'sər əs), 1. like cancer. 2. having cancer. adj.

can de la brum (kan'də lä'brəm or kan'də-lä'brəm), an ornamental candlestick with several branches for candles. n., pl. can de-la bra (-brə) or can de la brums.

can des cent (kan des'nt), glowing with heat; incandescent. adj.

can did (kan'did), 1. frank; sincere: a candid reply. 2. fair; impartial: a candid decision. adj. —can'-did ly, adv.

can di da cy (kan'də də sə), being a candidate: Please support my candidacy for treasurer. n.

can di date (kan'də dāt or kan'də dit), person who seeks, or is proposed for, some office or honor: There are three candidates for president of the club. n.

can died (kan'dēd), 1. turned into sugar: candied honey. 2. cooked in sugar; covered with sugar: candied sweet potatoes. 3. made sweet or agreeable: candied words of praise. adj.

can dle (kan'dl), 1. stick of wax or tallow with a wick in it, burned to give light. 2. anything shaped or used like a candle. Sulfur candles are burned to disinfect rooms. 3. test (eggs) for freshness by holding them in front of a light. 4. unit for measuring the strength of a light. The international candle is the light from 5 square millimeters of platinum at the temperature at which it solidifies. Its light is almost as strong as that from a common candle. 1,2,4 n., 3 v., can died, can dling.

can dle hold er (kan'dl hōl'dər), candlestick. n.

can dle light (kan'dl lit'), 1. light of a candle or candles. 2. time when candles are lighted; dusk; twilight; nightfall. n.

Can dle mas (kan'dl mäs), February 2, a church festival in honor of the purification of the Virgin Mary and the presentation of the infant Jesus in the Temple. It is celebrated with lighted candles. n.

candle power, intensity of light given by a standard candle, used as a unit for measuring light. A light having 30 candle power gives 30 times as much light as one standard candle does.

can dle stick (kan'dl stik'), holder for a candle, to make it stand up straight. n.

can dle wick (kan'dl wik'), wick of a candle. n.

can dor or can dour (kan'dər), 1. speaking openly what one really thinks; honesty in giving one's view or opinion. 2. fairness; impartiality. n.

can dy (kan'dē), 1. sugar or syrup, cooked and flavored, then cooled and made into small pieces for eating. Chocolate, butter, milk, nuts, fruits, etc., are often added. 2. piece of this. 3. turn into sugar. 4. cook in sugar; preserve by boiling in sugar. 5. make sweet or agreeable. 1,2 n., pl. can dies; 3-5 v., can died, can-dy ing.

can dy tuft (kan'dē tuft'), plant of the same family as mustard, with clusters of white, purple, or pink flowers. n.

cane (kān), 1. a stick to help a person in walking; walking stick. 2. stick used to beat with. 3. beat with a cane. 4. a long, jointed stem, such as that of the bamboo. 5. plant having such stems. Sugar cane and bamboo are canes. 6. material made of such stems. Cane is sometimes used for furniture, chair seats, etc. 7. make or provide with this material: Mother is having all our porch furniture caned. 8. a slender stalk or stem. 1,2,4-6,8 n., 3,7 v., caned, can ing.

cane brake (kān'brāk'), thicket of cane plants. n.

cane sugar, sugar made from sugar cane.

ca nine (kā'nīn), 1. of a dog; like a dog. 2. a dog. 3. belonging to a group of meat-eating animals including dogs, foxes, and wolves. 4. canine tooth. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n. canine tooth, one of the four pointed teeth next to the incisors. See incisor for diagram.

Candle-labrum

can is ter (kan'is tər), 1. a small box or can, especially for tea. 2. case filled with bullets that is shot from a cannon. n.

can ker (kang'kər), 1. a spreading sore, especially one in the mouth. 2. disease of plants that causes slow decay. 3. anything that causes decay, rotting, or gradual eating away. 4. infect or be infected with canker; decay; rot. 5. cankerworm. 1-3,5 n., 4 v.

can ker ous (kang'kər əs), 1. of or like canker. 2. causing canker. adj.

can ker worm (kang'kər wərm'), caterpillar that eats away the leaves of trees and plants. n.

can na (kan'ə), 1. plant with large, pointed leaves and large red, pink, or yellow flowers. 2. the flower. n.

canned (kand'), 1. put in a can; preserved by being put in airtight cans or jars. 2. Slang. preserved on a record; recorded: canned music. adj.

can nel (kan'əl), cannel coal. n.

cannel coal, soft coal in large lumps that burns with a bright flame.

can ner (kan'ər), person who cans food. n.

can ner y (kan'ər ē), factory where meat, fish, fruit, vegetables, etc., are canned. n., pl. can ner ies.

Cannes (kan or kanz; French kăn), a seacoast resort in SE France, on the Mediterranean. 50,000. n.

can ni bal (kan'ə bl), 1. person who eats human flesh. 2. animal that eats others of its own kind. 3. of or like cannibals. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

can ni bal ism (kan'ə bl iz'm), practice of eating the flesh of one's own kind. n.

can ni bal is tic (kan'ə bl is'tik), of cannibals; characteristic of cannibals. adj.

can ni bal ize (kan'ə bl iz), 1. assemble or repair (a vehicle, piece of machinery, etc.) by using parts from others which are useless as a whole: My brother cannibalized a radio set from two old ones that would not work. 2. take usable parts from (a vehicle, piece of machinery, etc.) to assemble or repair another: The soldiers cannibalized the wrecked jeep for tires. v., can ni bal ized, can ni bal iz ing.

can ni kin (kan'ə kin), a small can; cup. n.

can ning (kan'ing), putting food in cans; preserving food by putting it in airtight cans or jars. n.

can non (kan'ən), 1. big mounted gun or guns.

2. cannon bone. n., pl.

can nons or (esp. collec- tively) can non.

can non ade (kan'ən-ād'), 1. a continued firing of cannons. 2. attack with cannons. 1 n., 2 v.

can non ad ed, can non ad ing.

cannon ball, a large, iron or steel ball, formerly fired from cannons.

cannon bone, bone between the hock and the fet-lock. See fetlock for diagram.

can not (kan'ot, ka not', or kə not'), can not. v.

can ny (kan'ē), Scottish. 1. shrewd; cautious.

2. thrifty. adj., can ni er, can ni est. —can'ni ly, adv.

—can'ni ness, n.

ca noe (kə nū'), 1. a light boat moved with paddles.

2. paddle a canoe; go in a canoe. 1 n., 2 v., ca noed, ca noe ing.

ca noe ist (kə nū'ist), 1. person who paddles a canoe.

2. expert in paddling a canoe. n.

can on' (kan'ən), 1. law of a church; body of church law. 2. rule by which a thing is judged; standard: the canons of good taste. 3. the official list of the books contained in the Bible; books of the Bible accepted by the Cannon (def. 1)

Indian paddling a canoe church. 4. list of saints. 5. an official list. 6. part of the Mass coming after the offertory. n.

can on' (kan'ən), 1. Esp. Brit. member of a group of clergymen belonging to a cathedral or collegiate church. 2. member of a group of Roman Catholic clergymen living according to a certain rule. n.

ca ñon (kan'yən), canyon. n.

ca non i cal (kə non'ə kl), 1. according to or prescribed by the laws of a church. 2. in the canon of the Bible. 3. authorized; accepted. adj. —ca non'i cal ly, adv.

canonical hours, the seven periods of the day for prayer and worship.

can on i za tion (kan'ən ə zā'shən), a canonizing or being canonized. n.

can on ize (kan'ən iz), 1. declare (a dead person) to be a saint; place in the official list of saints: Joan of Arc was canonized by the Roman Catholic Church in 1920.

2. treat as a saint; glorify. 3. make or recognize as canonical. 4. authorize. v., can on ized, can on iz ing.

canon law, laws of a church governing ecclesiastical affairs.

can o py (kan'ə pē), 1. a covering fixed over a bed, throne, entrance, etc.; covering carried on poles over a person. 2. a rooflike covering; shelter; shade. 3. cover with a canopy.

4. sky. 1,2,4 n., pl. can o pies;

3 v., can o pied, can o py ing.

canst (kanst), Archaic. 2nd pers. sing. present of can. can. "Thou canst" means "you can." v.

cant' (kant), 1. insincere talk; moral and religious statements that many people make, but few really believe or follow out. 2. the peculiar language of a special group, using many strange words: thieves' cant.

3. peculiar to a special group: a cant phrase. 4. use cant; talk in cant. 1,2 n., 3 adj., 4 v.

cant' (kant), 1. slant; slope; bevel. 2. tip; tilt. 3. throw with a sudden jerk; pitch; toss. n., v.

can't (kant), cannot.

can ta loupe or can ta loup (kan'tə lōp), a sweet, juicy melon with a hard, rough rind; muskmelon. n.

can tan ker ous (kan tang'kər əs), hard to get along with because ready to make trouble and oppose anything suggested; ill-natured. adj. —can tan'ker ous ly, adv.

—can tan'ker ous ness, n.

can ta ta (kən tā'tə), story or play set to music to be sung by a chorus, but not acted. n.

can teen (kan tēn'), 1. a small container for carrying water or other drinks. 2. a military store where food, drinks, etc., are sold to soldiers and sailors. 3. box of cooking utensils for use in camp. n.

can ter (kan'tər), 1. gallop gently. 2. a gentle gallop. 1 v. 2 n.

Can ter bur y (kan'tər ber'ē), city in SE England. Many pilgrims traveled there during the Middle Ages to visit the shrine of Saint Thomas à Becket. 30,000. n.

Canterbury bell, plant with tall stalks of bell-shaped flowers, usually purplish-blue, pink, or white.

cant hook, U.S. pole with a movable hook at one end, used to grip and turn over logs.

can ti cle (kan'tə kl), a short song, hymn, or chant used in church services. n.

Can ti cles (kan'tə klz), book of the Old Testament. It is also called The Song of Solomon or Song of Songs. n.

can ti lev er (kan'tə lev'ər or kan'tə lē'vər), a large, projecting bracket or beam that is fastened at one end only. n.

cantilever bridge, bridge made of two cantilevers whose projecting ends meet but do not support each other.

Canopy over a bed

Cantilever bridge

can tle (kan'tl), the part of a saddle that sticks up at the back. The corresponding part at the front is the pommel. n.

can to (kan'tō), one of the main divisions of a long poem. A canto of a poem corresponds to a chapter of a novel. n., pl. can tos.

can ton (kan'tn), a small part or political division of a country. Switzerland is made up of 22 cantons. n.

Can ton (kan ton' for 1; kan'tn for 2), 1. city in S China. 1,840,000. 2. city in NE Ohio. 114,000. n.

Can ton ese (kan'tn ez'), 1. native or inhabitant of Canton, China. 2. the Chinese dialect spoken in or near Canton, China. 3. of Canton, China, its people, or their dialect. 1,2 n., pl. Can ton ese; 3 adj.

can ton ment (kan ton'ment or kan tōn'ment), place where soldiers live; quarters. n.

can tor (kan'tər or kan'tōr), 1. man who leads the singing of a choir or congregation. 2. soloist in a synagogue. n.

Ca nuck (kə nuk'), Slang. 1. Canadian. 2. French Canadian. n., adj.

can vas (kan'vəs), 1. a strong cloth made of cotton, flax, or hemp, used to make tents and sails. 2. made of canvas. 3. something made of canvas. 4. sail or sails. 5. piece of canvas on which an oil painting is painted. 6. an oil painting. 1,3-6 n., 2 adj.

under canvas, 1. in tents. 2. with sails spread.

can vas back (kan'vəs bak'), a wild duck of North America with grayish feathers on its back. n.

can vass (kan'vəs), 1. examine carefully; examine: John canvassed the papers, hunting for notices of jobs. 2. discuss: The city council canvassed the mayor's plan thoroughly. 3. go through (a city, district, etc.) asking for votes, orders, etc.: Salesmen canvassed the whole city for subscriptions. 4. ask for votes, orders, etc. 5. personal visiting of homes or stores in a district to sell something. 6. examine and count the votes cast in an election. 7. act, fact, or process of canvassing. 1-4,6 v., 5,7 n. —can'-vass er, n.

can yon (kan'yən), U.S. a narrow valley with high, steep sides, usually with a stream at the bottom. n.

caou tchouc (kü'chük or kou'chük'), the gummy, coagulated juice of various tropical plants; rubber. n.

cap (kap), 1. a close-fitting covering for the head with little or no brim. 2. a special head covering worn to show rank, occupation, etc.: a nurse's cap. 3. anything like a cap. The top of a mushroom is called a cap. 4. put a cap on. 5. the highest part; top. 6. put a top on; cover the top of: Whipped cream capped the dessert. 7. do or follow with something as good or better: Each clown capped the other's last joke. 8. a small quantity of explosive in a wrapper or covering. 1-3,5,8 n., 4,6,7 v., capped, cap ping. —cap'/less, adj. —cap'/like', adj.

cap., 1. capital letter. pl. caps. 2. capitalize. 3. capacity. 4. capital.

ca pa bil i ty (kā'pə bil'ə tē), ability; power; fitness; capacity. n., pl. ca pa bil i ties.

ca pa ble (kā'pə bl), having fitness or ability; able; efficient; competent: a capable teacher. adj. —ca'pa-ble ness, n. —ca'pa bly, adv.

capable of, 1. having ability, power, or fitness for: capable of criticizing music. 2. open to; ready for: a statement capable of many interpretations.

ca pa cious (kā'pā'shəs), able to hold much; roomy; large: a capacious closet. adj. —ca pa'cious ly, adv. —ca pa'cious ness, n.

ca pac i ty (kā'pas'ə tē), 1. amount of room or space inside; largest amount that can be held by a container:

CANTLE

Canvasback (nearly 2 ft. from tip of beak to end of tail)

This can has a capacity of 4 quarts. 2. power of receiving and holding: the capacity of a metal for retaining heat. The theater has a capacity of 400. 3. ability; power; fitness: a great capacity for learning. 4. position; relation: A person may act in the capacity of guardian, trustee, voter, friend, etc. n., pl. ca pac i ties.

cap and bells, cap trimmed with bells, worn by a jester.

cap and gown, a flat cap and loose gown, worn by college teachers and students on certain occasions.

ca par i son (kā'par'ə sn), 1. an ornamental covering for a horse. 2. any rich dress; equipment; outfit. 3. dress richly; fit out. 1,2 n., 3 v.

Caparison (def. 1)

cape¹ (kāp), an outer garment, or part of one, without sleeves, worn falling loosely from the shoulders. n.

cape² (kāp), point of land extending into the water. n. the Cape, the Cape of Good Hope.

Cape buffalo, a large, savage buffalo of southern Africa.

Cape Horn, cape on an island at the S tip of South America.

Cape Kennedy, cape in E Florida from which the United States launches rockets.

cap e lin (kap'ə lin), a small fish of the N Atlantic, used as bait for cod; kind of smelt. n.

Cape of Good Hope, cape near the S tip of Africa.

ca per¹ (kā'pər), 1. leap or jump about playfully. 2. a playful leap or jump. 3. prank; trick. 1 v., 2,3 n.

ca per² (kā'pər), a prickly shrub of the Mediterranean region. n.

capers, the green flower buds of this shrub, pickled and used for seasoning.

Ca per na um (kā'pər'nē əm), in the Bible, a town in Palestine, on the Sea of Galilee. n.

Cape Town or Cape town (kāp'toun'), seaport near the southern tip of Africa. The legislature for the Republic of South Africa meets there. 732,000. n.

Cape Verde (kāp'vərd'), cape in extreme W Africa.

Cape Verde Islands, group of islands west of Cape Verde, belonging to Portugal. 148,000 pop.; 1557 sq. mi. Capital: Praia.

cap il lar y (kap'ə ler'ē), 1. hairlike; very slender. 2. tube with a very slender, hairlike opening. Capillaries join the end of an artery to the beginning of a vein. 3. of or in such tubes. 1,3 adj., 2 n., pl. cap il lar ies.

capillary attraction, 1. force that raises the part of the surface of a liquid that is in contact with a solid. 2. ability of a porous substance to soak up a liquid. A blotter absorbs ink by means of capillary attraction.

cap i tal¹ (kap'ə tl), 1. city where the government of a country or State is located. 2. A, B, C, D, or any similar large letter. 3. amount of money or property that a company or a person uses in carrying on a business: The Smith Company has a capital of $30,000. 4. of capital; having to do with capital. 5. source of power or advantage; resources. 6. capitalists as a group. 7. important; leading. 8. main; chief. 9. of the best kind; excellent: A maple tree gives capital shade. 10. involving death; punishable by death: Murder is a capital crime in most countries. 1-3,5,6 n., 4,7-10 adj.

make capital of, take advantage of; use to one's own advantage: He made capital of his father's fame.

cap i tal² (kap'ə tl), the top part of a column or pillar. See the diagram under column. n.

cap i tal ism (kap'ə tl iz'əm), an economic system based on the ownership of land, factories, and other means of production by private individuals who compete with one another, using the hired labor of other persons, to produce goods and services for a free market for whatever profit may be obtainable. n.

cap i tal ist (kap'ə tl ist), 1. person whose money and property are used in carrying on business. 2. a wealthy person. 3. person who favors or supports capitalism. n.

cap i tal is tic (kap'ə tli s'tik), 1. of or having to do with capitalism or capitalists. 2. favoring or supporting capitalism. adj. —cap'i tal is'ti cal ly, adv.

cap i tal i za tion (kap'ə tli ə zā'shən), 1. a capitalizing or being capitalized. 2. amount at which a company is capitalized; capital stock of a business. n.

cap i tal ize (kap'ə tli z), 1. write or print with a capital letter. 2. set the capital of (a company) at a certain amount. 3. turn into capital; use as capital. 4. take advantage (of); use to one's own advantage: capitalize on another's mistake. v., cap i tal ized, cap i tal iz ing.

capital letter, a large letter; A, B, C, D, etc.

cap i tal ly (kap'ə təl ē), very well; excellently. adv.

capital punishment, the death penalty for a crime.

cap i ta tion (kap'ə tā'shən), tax, fee, or charge of the same amount for every person. n.

Cap i tol (kap'ə tli), the building at Washington, D.C., in which Congress meets. n.

cap i tol (kap'ə tli), the building in which a State legislature meets. n.

ca pit u late (kə pich'ə lāt), surrender on certain terms or conditions: The men in the fort capitulated upon the condition that they should be allowed to go away unharmed. v., ca pit u lat ed, ca pit u lat ing. —ca pit'u la'tor, n.

ca pit u la tion (kə pich'ə lā'shən), 1. a surrender on certain terms or conditions. 2. agreement; condition. 3. statement of the main facts of a subject; summary. n.

Cap'n, Captain.

ca pon (kā'pon), rooster specially raised to be eaten. It is castrated and fattened. n.

Cap pa do cia (kap'ə dō'shə), an ancient Roman province in E Asia Minor. n.

Ca pri (kā'prē or kə prē'), a small island that is situated in the Bay of Naples, Italy. 8,000 pop.; 5½ sq. mi. n.

ca price (kə prēs'), 1. a sudden change of mind without reason; unreasonable notion or desire; whim; whimsy. 2. tendency to change suddenly and without reason. n.

ca pri cious (kə prish'əs), guided by one's fancy; full of unreasonable notions; changeable; fickle: A spoiled child is often capricious. adj. —ca pri'cious ly, adv.

—ca pri'cious ness, n.

Cap ri corn (kap'rə kōrn),

1. tropic of Capricorn, a circle around the world 23.45 degrees south of the equator. 2. a southern constellation that was thought of by ancient astronomers as arranged in the shape of a goat. n.

caps., 1. capital letters. 2. capitalize.

cap si cum (kap'sə kəm),

1. any of several plants with red or green pods containing seeds that usually have a hot, peppery taste. Green peppers, chilies, and pimientos are pods of different kinds of capsicum. 2. such pods prepared for seasoning or medicine. n.

cap size (kap siz' or kap'siz), turn bottom side up; upset; overturn: A flat-bottomed boat is not easy to capsize. v., cap sized, cap siz ing.

cap stan (kap'stən), machine for lifting or pulling that revolves on a vertical shaft or spindle. Sailors hoist the anchor on some boats by turning the capstan. n.

capstan bar, pole used to turn a capstan.

cap stone (kap'stōn'), the top stone of a wall or other structure. n.

cap su lar (kap'sə lər), 1. of or having to do with a capsule. 2. in a capsule. 3. shaped like a capsule. adj.

cap su le (kap'sli), 1. a small case or covering; gelatin case for enclosing a dose of medicine. 2. a part of a rocket that contains instruments, a man, etc., which is separated in flight from the motors and goes into orbit or is recovered at a later time. 3. a dry seedcase that opens when ripe. 4. a membrane enclosing an organ of the body; membranous bag or sac. n.

Capt., Captain.

cap tain (kap'tən), 1. leader; chief: Robin Hood was captain of his band. 2. an army officer ranking next below a major and next above a lieutenant. He usually commands a company. 3. a navy officer ranking next below a commodore and next above a commander. He usually commands a warship. 4. commander of a ship. 5. leader of a team in sports. 6. lead or command as captain: Tom will captain the team. 1-5 n., 6 v.

cap tain cy (kap'tən sē), rank, commission, or authority of a captain. n., pl. cap tain cies.

cap tain ship (kap'tən ship), 1. rank, position, or authority of a captain. 2. leadership. n.

cap tion (kap'shən), 1. title or heading at the head of a page, article, chapter, etc., or under a picture explaining it. 2. put a caption on. 1 n., 2 v.

cap tious (kap'shəs), hard to please; faultfinding. adj. —cap'tious ly, adv. —cap'tious ness, n.

cap ti vate (kap'tə vāt), 1. hold captive by beauty or interest; charm; fascinate: The children were captivated by the animal story. 2. Obsolete. capture. v., cap ti vat ed, cap ti vat ing. —cap'ti vat'ing ly, adv. —cap'ti va'tor, n.

cap ti va tion (kap'tə vā'shən), 1. a captivating or being captivated. 2. charm; fascination. n.

cap tive (kap'tiv), 1. prisoner: The army brought back a thousand captives. 2. held as a prisoner; made a prisoner. 3. captivated. 1 n., 2, 3 adj.

cap tiv i ty (kap tiv'ə tē), 1. being in prison. 2. being held or detained anywhere against one's will: Some animals cannot bear captivity, and die after a few weeks in a cage. n., pl. cap tiv i ties.

cap tor (kap'tər), person who takes or holds a prisoner. n.

cap ture (kap'chər), 1. make a prisoner of; take by force, skill, or trick; seize: We captured butterflies with a net. 2. person or thing taken in this way. 3. act of capturing; fact of capturing or being captured. 4. catch and keep: Her gay dress captured my eyes. 1, 4 v., cap tured, cap tur ing; 2, 3 n.

Cap u chin (kap'yū chin or kap'yū-shin), a Franciscan monk belonging to an order that wears a long, pointed hood or cowl. n.

cap u chin (kap'yū chin or kap'yū-shin), a South American monkey with black hair on its head that looks like a hood. n.

car (kär), 1. vehicle that moves on wheels. 2. automobile. 3. a railroad vehicle for freight or passengers.

4. vehicle that runs on rails. A streetcar is often called a car. 5. the closed platform of an elevator, balloon, Sailors turning a capstan. As it revolves, it winds up the rope that hoists the anchor.

Capuchin (body 1½ ft. long) etc., for carrying passengers or cargo. 6. Poetic. chariot. n.

ca ra ba o (kā'rā bā'ō), the water buffalo of the Philippine Islands. n., pl. ca ra ba os.

Ca rac as (kā rak'æs), capital of Venezuela. 700,000. n.

car a cul (kā'rə kl), a type of flat, loose, curly fur made from the skin of newborn lambs. n. Also, karakul.

ca rafe (kā raf'), a glass water bottle. n.

car a mel (kā'rə ml or kā'r/ml), 1. burnt sugar used for coloring and flavoring food, etc. 2. a small block of chewy candy. n.

car a pace (kā'rə pās), shell on the back of a turtle, lobster, crab, etc. n.

car at (kā'rət), 1. unit of weight for precious stones, equal to $\frac{1}{16}$ gram. 2. one 24th part. A gold ring of 18 carats is 18 parts pure gold. n. Also, karat.

car a van (kā'rə van), 1. group of merchants, pilgrims, etc., traveling together for safety through a desert or a dangerous country. 2. a large, covered wagon for people or goods; house on wheels; van. n.

car a van sa ry (kā'rə van'sə rē), 1. inn or hotel where caravans rest in the Orient. 2. a large inn or hotel. n., pl. car a-van sa ries.

car a vel (kā'rə vel), a small, fast ship of former times. n. Also, carvel.

car a way (kā'rə wā), 1. plant of the same family as the parsley, that yields fragrant, spicy seeds used to flavor bread, rolls, cakes, etc. 2. its seeds. n.

Caravel

car bide (kā'r/bid), 1. compound of carbon with an element, usually a metal. 2. calcium carbide. n.

car bine (kā'r/bin), a short rifle or musket. n.

car bo hy drate (kā'r'bō hī/drāt), substance composed of carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen. Sugar and starch are carbohydrates. Carbohydrates are made from carbon dioxide and water by green plants in sunlight. n.

car bo lat ed (kā'r'bə lāt'id), containing carbolic acid. adj.

car bol ic acid (kā'r bol'ik), a very poisonous, corrosive, white crystalline substance, used in solution as a disinfectant and antiseptic; phenol.

car bon (kā'r/bən), 1. a very common nonmetallic element. Diamonds are pure carbon; coal is impure carbon. Carbon united with other substances is found in animals and plants. Carbon forms organic compounds in combination with hydrogen, oxygen, etc. Symbol: C 2. piece of carbon used in arc lamps, etc. 3. piece of carbon paper. 4. copy made with carbon paper. n.

carbon 14, a radioactive isotope of carbon, produced by the bombardment of nitrogen atoms. The extent of its decay in wood, bone, etc., is evidence of the age of archaeological finds or geological formations in which organic matter occurs. Symbol: C₁₄ car bo na ceous (kā'r'bə nā'shəs), 1. of or containing carbon. 2. like or containing coal. adj.

car bon ate (kā'r/bən āt or kā'r/bən it for 1; kā'r/bən-āt for 2,3), 1. salt or ester of carbonic acid. 2. change into a carbonate. 3. charge with carbon dioxide. Soda water is carbonated to make it bubble and fizz. 1 n., 2,3 v., car bon at ed, car bon at ing. —car'bon a'tion, n.

carbon dioxide, a heavy, colorless, odorless gas, present in the atmosphere. The air that comes from an animal's lungs contains carbon dioxide. Plants absorb it from the air and use it to make plant tissue.

car bon ic (kā'r bon'ik), of or containing carbon. adj.

carbonic acid, acid made when carbon dioxide is dissolved in water. It gives the sharp taste to soda water.

car bon i za tion (kā'r'bən ə zā'shən), a carbonizing or being carbonized. n.

car bon ize (kā'r'bən īz), 1. change into carbon by burning. 2. cover or combine with carbon. v., car bon-ized, car bon iz ing.

carbon monoxide, a colorless, odorless, very poisonous gas, formed when carbon burns with an insufficient supply of air. It is part of the exhaust gases of automobile engines.

carbon paper, a thin paper having a preparation of carbon or other inky substance on one surface used for making copies of letters, orders, receipts, etc.

carbon tet ra chlo ride (tet'rə klō'rid), a colorless, noninflammable liquid, often used in fire extinguishers and in cleaning fluids. It changes at low temperature to a vapor five times heavier than air. Its fumes are very dangerous if taken into the lungs.

car bo run dum (kā'r'bə run'dəm), an extremely hard compound of carbon and silicon, used for grinding, polishing, etc. n.

car boy (kā'r/boi), a very large glass bottle, usually enclosed in basketwork or in a wooden box or crate to keep it from being broken. n.

Carboy

car bun cle (kā'r/bung kl), 1. a very painful, inflamed swelling under the skin. It is usually larger than a boil and has several openings. 2. pimple. 3. a smooth, round garnet or other deep-red jewel. n.

car bu ret (kā'r'bə rāt), 1. mix (air or gas) with carbon compounds, such as gasoline, benzene, etc. 2. combine with carbon. v., car bu ret ed, car bu ret ing or esp. Brit. car bu ret ted, car bu ret ting.

car bu re tion (kā'r'bə rā'shən), 1. carbureting. 2. being carbureted. n.

car bu re tor (kā'r'bə rā'tər), device for sending air through or over a liquid fuel, such as gasoline, so as to produce an explosive mixture. n.

car ca net (kā'r/kə net), Archaic. an ornamental necklace or band of gold or jewels. n.

car cass or car case (kā'r/kəs), the dead body of an animal. A human body or corpse is sometimes contemptuously called a carcass. n.

car cin o gen (kā'r sin'ə jən), any substance or agent that produces cancer. n.

car ci no ma (kā'r'sə nō'mə), cancer. n., pl. car ci-no mas, car ci no ma ta (-mə tə).

card¹ (kărd), 1. piece of stiff paper or thin cardboard, usually small and rectangular: a post card, a calling card. 2. one of a pack of cards used in playing games. 3. a round piece of paper, etc., on which the 32 points of the compass are marked. 4. Informal. a queer or amusing person. 5. provide with a card. 6. put on a card. 1-4 n., 5,6 v.

card² (kărd), 1. a toothed tool or wire brush used to separate, clean, and straighten the fibers of raw wool, cotton, etc. 2. clean or comb with this. 1 n., 2 v.

car da mom or car da mum (kā'r'də məm), 1. a spicy seed used as seasoning and in medicine. 2. the Asiatic plant that it grows on. n.

card board (kărd'bōrd'), a stiff material made of paper, used to make cards and boxes. n.

card er (kā'r/dər), person or machine that cards wool, cotton, flax, etc. n.

car di ac (kā'r'dē ak), 1. of or having to do with the heart: cardiac symptoms. 2. medicine that stimulates the heart. 3. having to do with the upper part of the stomach. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

Car diff (kā'r'dif), seaport in SE Wales. 250,000. n.

car di gan (kā'r'də gən), a knitted woolen jacket. n.

car di nal (kā'r/dn əl), 1. of first importance; main; chief; principal: His plan has cardinal value. 2. bright red. 3. one of the princes, or high officials, of the Roman Catholic Church, appointed by the Pope. 4. cardinal bird. 5. cardinal number. 1,2 adj., 2-5 n.

cardinal bird, an American songbird that has bright-red feathers marked with black. It is a kind of finch.

Cardinal bird
(8 to 9 in. long)

cardinal flower, 1. the bright-red flower of a North American plant. 2. plant it grows on.

cardinal number, number, such as three, ten, 246, 9471, etc., that shows how many are meant.

cardinal points, the four main directions of the compass; north, south, east, and west.

cardinal virtues, prudence, fortitude, temperance, and justice. They were considered by the ancient philosophers to be the basic qualities of a good character.

card ing (kär'ding), preparation of the fibers of wool, cotton, flax, etc., for spinning by combing them. n.

car di o graph (kär'dē ə graf'), instrument that records the strength and nature of movements of the heart. n.

cards (kärdz), 1. game or games played with a pack of cards. 2. playing such games: Many of the party were busy at cards. n. pl.

care (kär), 1. burden of thought; worry: Few people are free from care. 2. serious attention; caution: A good cook does her work with care. 3. object of concern or attention: Keeping records is the care of the secretary of a club. 4. be concerned; feel an interest: He cares about music. 5. watchful keeping; charge: The child was left in her sister's care. 6. food, shelter, and protection: Your child will have the best of care. 7. like; want; wish: A cat does not care to be washed. 1-3,5,6 n., 4,7 v., care d, car ing. —car'er, n.

care for, 1. like; be fond of. 2. want; wish: I don't care for any dessert tonight. 3. attend to; provide for. take care of, 1. attend to; provide for. 2. be careful of. 3. Informal. deal with.

ca reen (kär'ren'), 1. lean to one side; tilt; tip: The ship careened in the strong wind. 2. cause to lean to one side: The strong wind careened the ship. 3. lay (a ship) over on one side for cleaning, painting, repairing, etc. v.

ca reer (kär'ri'), 1. a general course of action or progress through life: It is interesting to read of the careers of great men and women. 2. way of living; occupation; profession: The boy planned to make law his career. 3. speed; full speed; going with force: We were in full career when we struck the post. 4. rush along wildly; dash: The runaway horse careered through the streets. 1-3 n., 4 v.

care free (kär'frē'), without worry; happy; gay. adj.

care ful (kär'fəl), 1. thinking what one says; watching what one does; taking pains; watchful; cautious: He is careful to tell the truth at all times. 2. done with thought or pains; exact; thorough. 3. Archaic. anxious; worried. adj. —care'ful ly, adv. —care'ful ness, n.

care less (kär'lis), 1. not thinking what one says; not watching what one does; not taking enough pains; not watchful or cautious: One careless step may cost a life. 2. done without enough thought or pains; not exact or thorough: careless work, a careless worker. 3. not troubling oneself; indifferent; unconcerned. 4. without worry; happy; gay. adj. —care'less ly, adv. —care'less ness, n.

ca ress (kär'res'), touch or stroke to show affection; embrace; kiss. n., v.

car et (kär'ət), mark (∧) to show where something should be put in, used in writing and in correcting proof. n.

care tak er (kär'tāk'ər), person who takes care of a person, place, or thing for the owner or for another. n.

care worn (kär'wörn'), showing signs of worry; tired; weary. adj.

car fare (kär'fär'), money to pay for riding on a streetcar, bus, etc. n.

car go (kär'gō), load of goods carried by a ship or plane: a cargo of wheat. n., pl. car goes or car gos.

car hop (kär'höp'), a person, usually a girl, who takes orders for and brings food from a roadside restaurant to customers in their cars. n.

Car ib (kar'ib), 1. member of an Indian tribe of NE South America. 2. a language family found primarily in NE South America, and to a lesser extent in Central America and the West Indies. n.

Car i be an (kar'ə bē'an or kəri'bē'an), 1. sea between Central America, the West Indies, and South America. 750,000 sq. mi. 2. of or having to do with this sea or the islands in it. 3. of or having to do with the Caribs (Indians). 1 n., 2,3 adj.

Caribbean Sea, Caribbean.

car i bou (kar'ə bü), any of several kinds of North American reindeer. n., pl. car i bous or (esp. collectively) car i bou.

car i ca ture (kar'ə kə chūr'), 1. picture, cartoon, description, etc., that ridiculously exaggerates the peculiarities or defects of a person or thing. 2. art of making such pictures or descriptions. 3. a very poor imitation. 4. make a caricature of. 1-3 n., 4 v., car i ca tured, car i ca tur ing.

car i ca tur ist (kar'ə kə chūr'ist or kar'ə kə chər'ist), person who makes caricatures. n.

car ies (kär'ēz), decay of teeth, bones, or tissues. n.

car i lon (kar'ə lon), 1. set of bells arranged for playing melodies. 2. melody played on such bells. 3. part of an organ imitating the sound of bells. n.

car il lon neur (kar'ə lə nēr'), person who plays a carillon. n.

car king (kär'king), troublesome; worrying. adj.

car load (kär'löd'), as much as a car can hold or carry. n.

Carls bad Caverns (kärلزbad), a national park in SE New Mexico, famous for its huge limestone caverns.

Car lyle (kär lil' or kär'lil'), Thomas, 1795-1881, Scottish essayist, historian, and philosopher. n.

car ma gno le (kär'män yöl'), dance and song popular during the French Revolution. n.

car man (kär'män), 1. motorman or conductor of a streetcar. 2. person who drives a cart. n., pl. car men.

Car mel (kär'ml), Mount, mountain in NW Israel. 1800 ft. See Nazareth for map. n.

Car mel ite (kär'ml it'), a mendicant friar or nun of a religious order founded in the 12th century or earlier. n.

car mine (kär'mən), 1. deep red with a tinge of purple. 2. light crimson. 3. a crimson coloring matter found in cochineal, used to stain microscopic slides and formerly as a dye. 1-3 n., 1,2 adj.

car nage (kär'nij), slaughter of a great number of people. n.

car nal (kär'nəl), 1. worldly; not spiritual. 2. bodily; sensual: Gluttony and drunkenness have been called carnal vices. adj. —car'nal ly, adv.

car na tion (kär nā'shən), 1. a red, white, or pink flower with a spicy fragrance. 2. plant that it grows on. 3. rosy pink. 1-3 n., 3 adj.

Car ne gie (kär nā'gē or kär'nə gē), Andrew, 1835-1919, American steel manufacturer and philanthropist. n.

car nel ian (kär nē'l'yən), a red stone used in jewelry. It is a kind of quartz. n. Also, cornelian.

Caribou (4 ft. high at the shoulder) car ni val (kär'nə vl), 1. place of amusement or a traveling show having merry-go-rounds, side shows, etc. 2. feasting and merrymaking; noisy and unrestrained revels; celebration. 3. a time of feasting and merrymaking just before Lent. 4. an organized program of events involving a particular sport, institution, etc.: a water carnival. n.

Car niv o ra (kär niv'ə rə), a large group of flesh-eating animals. Cats, dogs, lions, tigers, and bears belong to the Carnivora. n.pl.

car ni vore (kär'nə vör), a flesh-eating animal. n.

car niv o rous (kär niv'ə rəs), 1. flesh-eating. Cats, dogs, lions, tigers, and bears are carnivorous animals. 2. of or having to do with the Carnivora. adj.

car no tite (kär'nə tit), a yellowish, radioactive mineral found in the W and SW United States. It is a source of radium. n.

car ol (kar'əl), 1. song of joy. 2. hymn: Christmas carols. 3. sing; sing joyously; praise with carols. 1,2 n., 3 v., car oled, car ol ing or esp. Brit. car olled, car ol ling. —car'ol er, esp. Brit. car'ol ler, n.

Car o li na (kar'ə lī'nə), 1. an early American colony on the Atlantic coast. The first settlers arrived in 1653, and the colony was officially divided into North Carolina and South Carolina in 1729. 2. either North Carolina or South Carolina. n.

the Carolinas, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Car o line Islands (kar'ə līn or kar'ə lin), group of over 500 islands in the W Pacific, near the equator. They were formerly under Japanese supervision and are now under United States administration. 45,000 pop.; 380 sq. mi. See the map of Micronesia.

Car o lin i an (kar'ə lin'ē ən), 1. of North Carolina and South Carolina, or either of them. 2. native or inhabitant of North Carolina or South Carolina. 1 adj., 2 n.

car om (kar'əm), 1. shot in the game of billiards. The ball struck with the cue hits two balls, one after the other. 2. a similar shot in other games. 3. make a carom. 4. hit and bounce off. 5. a hitting and bouncing off. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v.

car oms (kar'əmz), game for two or four players, played on a square board. The players try to shoot 24 round counters into pockets at the corners. n.pl.

ca rot id (kə rot'id), 1. either of two large arteries, one on each side of the neck, that carry blood to the head. 2. having to do with these arteries. 1 n., 2 adj.

ca rous al (kə rouz'l), a noisy revel; drinking party. n.

ca rouse (kə rouz'), 1. a noisy feast; drinking party. 2. drink heavily; take part in noisy feasts or revels. 1 n., 2 v., ca roused, ca rous ing. —ca rous'er, n.

car ou sel (kar'ə sel'), carrousel. n.

carp¹ (kärp), find fault; complain. v. —carp'er, n. —carp'ing ly, adv.

carp² (kärp), 1. a fresh-water fish that has many bones. It feeds mostly on plants and sometimes grows quite large. 2. any of a group of similar fishes, including goldfish, minnows, chub, and dace. n., pl. carps or (esp. collectively) carp.

car pal (kär'pl), 1. of the carpus. 2. bone of the carpus. 1 adj., 2 n.

Carpathian Mountains, Carpathians.

Car pa thi ans (kär pä'thē ənz), a mountain system extending 800 miles from N Romania to Czechoslovakia. n.pl.

car pel (kär'pl), a pistil of a flower, either simple, or one member of a compound pistil. It is regarded as a modified leaf. n.

Car pen tar i a (kär'pən tär'ē ə), Gulf of, a large gulf on the N coast of Australia. 480 mi. long; 420 mi. wide. n.

car pen ter (kär'pən tər), 1. man whose work is building with wood. 2. do such work. 1 n., 2 v.

car pen try (kär'pən trē), work of a carpenter. n.

car pet (kär'pit), 1. a heavy, woven fabric for covering floors and stairs. 2. a covering made of this fabric.

3. anything like a carpet: My lawn is a carpet of grass. 4. cover with a carpet: In the spring, the ground was carpeted with violets. 1-3 n., 4 v.

on the carpet, 1. being considered or discussed. 2. Informal, being scolded or rebuked.

car pet bag (kär'pit bag'), a traveling bag made of carpet. n.

car pet bag ger (kär'pit bag'ər), Unfriendly use. Northerner who went to the South to get political or other advantages during the time of disorganization that followed the American Civil War. n.

carpet beetle, a small beetle whose larva destroys carpets and other woolen fabrics.

car pet ing (kär'pit ing), 1. fabric for carpets. 2. carpets. n.

car port (kär'pôrt'), a roofed space open on two, or sometimes three, sides, used as a garage. n.

car pus (kär'pəs), 1. wrist. 2. bones of the wrist. n., pl. car pi (-pī).

car rack (kär'æk), a large ship of former times; gal-leon. n.

Car ra ra (kə rä'rə), city in NW Italy, famous for its fine white marble. 63,000. n.

car ri age (kar'ij; also kar'ē ij for 6), 1. vehicle that moves on wheels. Carriages are usually pulled by horses and are used to carry people. 2. frame on wheels that supports a gun. 3. a moving part of a machine that supports some other part. 4. manner of holding the head and body; bearing: She has a queenly carriage. 5. act of taking persons or goods from one place to another; carrying; transporting: insurance against loss in carriage. 6. cost or price of carrying: This will be $10 plus 50 cents for carriage. 7. handling. n.

car ri er (kar'ē ə), 1. person or thing that carries something. A postman is a mail carrier. Railroads, buses, and ships are carriers. 2. thing to carry something in or on. 3. person or thing that carries or transmits a disease. Carriers are often healthy persons who are immune to a disease, but carry its germs. 4. a radio wave (carrier wave) whose intensity is decreased or increased and whose frequency is regulated in transmitting a signal. 5. an aircraft carrier. n.

carrier pigeon, pigeon trained to fly home from great distances carrying written messages; homing pigeon.

car ri on (kar'ē ən), 1. dead and decaying flesh. 2. dead and decaying. 3. feeding on dead and decaying flesh. 4. rottenness; filth. 5. rotten; filthy. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 adj.

car rion crow, 1. the common European crow. 2. a black vulture of the southern United States.

Car roll (kar'əl), Lewis, 1832-1898, English writer, author of Alice in Wonderland. His real name was Charles L. Dodgson. n.

car rot (kar'ət), 1. plant that has a long, tapering, orange-red root eaten as a vegetable. 2. its root. n.

car rou sel (kar'ə sel'), merry-go-round. n. Also, carrousel.

car ry (kar'ē), 1. take from one place to another: Railroads carry coal from the mines to your town. 2. bear the weight of; hold up; support; sustain: Those columns carry the roof. 3. hold (one's body and head) in a certain way; have a certain kind of posture: This boy carries himself well. 4. capture; win: Our troops carried the enemy's fort. 5. get (a motion or bill) passed or adopted: The motion to adjourn the meeting was carried. 6. continue; extend: carry a road into the mountains. 7. cover the distance; have the power of throwing or driving: His voice will carry to the back of the room. This gun will carry a half mile. 8. distance covered; distance that something goes. 9. influence greatly; lead. 10. have as a result; involve: His judgment carries great weight. 11. keep in stock: This store carries clothing for men. 12. keep on the account books of a business. 13. act of carrying boats and supplies from one river or lake to another. 14. place where this is done. 1-7,9-12 v., car ried, car ry ing; 8,13,14 n., pl. car ries.

carry away, arouse strong feeling in; influence beyond reason.

carry off, 1. win (a prize, honor, etc.). 2. succeed with.

carry on, 1. do; manage; conduct. 2. go ahead with; go on with after being stopped. 3. keep going; not stop; continue: We must carry on in our effort to establish world peace. 4. U.S. Informal. behave wildly or foolishly.

carry out, do; get done; accomplish; complete.

carry over, 1. have left over; be left over. 2. keep until later; continue; extend.

car ry all (kär'ē āl'), a lightweight, covered, one-horse carriage. n.

car ry-o ver (kär'ē ō'vər), part left over. n.

car-sick (kär'sik'), nauseated by traveling in a car, train, etc. adj.

Car son (kär'sən), Kit, 1809-1868, American frontiersman, scout, and guide in the Far West. n.

Car son City (kär'sən), capital of Nevada, in the W part. 5000.

cart (kärt), 1. vehicle with two wheels. A strong cart is used to carry heavy loads. 2. a light wagon, used to deliver goods, etc. 3. a small vehicle on wheels, moved by hand. 4. carry in a cart. 1-3 n., 4 v.

cart age (kär'tij), 1. act of carting. 2. cost or price of carting. n.

Car ta ge na (kär'tə jē'nə), 1. seaport in SE Spain. 120,000. 2. seaport in NW Colombia. 163,000. n.

carte blanche (kär't' blānsh'), full authority; freedom to use one's own judgment.

car tel (kär tel'), 1. a large group of businesses that agree to regulate prices and production. 2. a written agreement between countries at war for the exchange of prisoners or some other purpose. 3. a written challenge to a duel. n.

car ter (kär'tər), man whose work is driving a cart. n.

Car thage (kär't-hij), a powerful ancient city and seaport in N Africa, founded by the Phoenicians and destroyed by the Romans in 146 B.C. n.

Car tha gin i an (kär'tə jin'ē ən), 1. of Carthage. 2. native or inhabitant of Carthage. 1 adj., 2 n.

cart horse, a big, strong horse.

Car thu sian (kär'thū'zhən), 1. member of an order of monks founded in 1086. 2. of this order. 1 n., 2 adj.

Car tier (kär'tē ā' or kär tyā'), Jacques, 1491-1557, French navigator who discovered the St. Lawrence River. n.

car ti lage (kär'tl ij), 1. the firm, tough, elastic, flexible substance forming parts of the skeleton of vertebrates; gristle. The bones of young animals contain a very high percentage of cartilage. 2. part formed of this substance. The nose consists partly of cartilages. n.

car ti lag i nous (kär'tə laj'ə nəs), 1. of or like cartilage; gristly. 2. having the skeleton formed mostly of cartilage. adj.

cart load (kär'tlōd'), as much as a cart can hold or carry. n.

car tog ra pher (kär tog'rə fər), maker of maps. n.

car tog ra phy (kär tog'rə fē), the making of maps or charts. n.

car ton (kär'tn), box made of pasteboard. n.

car toon (kär'tūn'), 1. sketch or drawing that interests or amuses by showing persons, things, political events, etc., in an exaggerated way. 2. a full-size drawing of a design or painting, used as a model for a fresco, mosaic, tapestry, etc. 3. a comic strip. 4. make a cartoon of. 1-3 n., 4 v.

car toon ist (kär'tūn'ist), person who draws cartoons. n.

car tridge (kär'trij), 1. case made of metal, plastic, or cardboard for holding gunpowder and a bullet or shot. 2. any case for insertion into a mechanical device which holds a supply of material for use therein. A cartridge may contain ink for a pen, photographic film for a camera, etc. 3. cartridge and its contents. n.

cart wheel (kär't'hwēl'), 1. wheel of a cart. 2. a sideways handspring or somersault. 3. Slang. a large coin; silver dollar. n.

Cart wright (kär't'rit), Edmund, 1743-1823, English clergyman, inventor of a power-driven loom. n.

Ca ru so (kə rū'sō), Enrico, 1873-1921, Italian operatic tenor. n.

carve (kärv), 1. cut into slices or pieces: carve the meat at the table. 2. cut; make by cutting: Statues are carved from marble, stone, or wood. 3. decorate with figures or designs cut on the surface. v., carved, carving.

car vel (kär'vl), caravel. n.

car ven (kär'vən), carved. adj.

car ver (kär'vər), 1. person who carves. 2. knife for carving meat. n.

Car ver (kär'vər), 1. George Washington, 1864?-1963, American Negro chemist and educator. 2. John, 1575?-1621, Pilgrim leader and first governor of Plymouth Colony. n.

car ving (kär'ving), 1. act or art of one that carves. 2. carved work; carved decoration: a wood carving. n.

car ving knife, knife for cutting meat.

car y at id (kär'ē at'id), statue of a woman used as a column. n., pl.

car y at ids, car y at i des (-ə dēz).

ca sa ba (kə sā'bə), kind of winter muskmelon with a yellow rind. n. Also, cassaba.

Cas a blan ca (kas'ə blang'kə), seaport in NW Morocco. 700,000. n.

cas cade (kas käd'), 1. a small waterfall. 2. anything like this. 3. fall in a cascade. 1, 2 n., 3 v., cas cad ed, cas cad ing.

Cascade Range, a mountain range in NW United States, extending from N California to British Columbia. The highest peak, Mount Rainier, is 14,408 feet.

cas car a (kas kär'ə), a medicine prepared from the bark of a kind of buckthorn, used to move the bowels. n.

case (käs), 1. instance; example: a case of poor work. His accident was a case of reckless driving. 2. condition; situation; state: a case of poverty. 3. the actual condition; real situation; true state: He said he had done the work, but that was not the case. 4. instance of a disease or injury: a case of measles. 5. person who has a disease or injury; patient. 6. matter for a law court to decide. 7. statement of facts for a law court to consider. 8. a convincing argument. 9. one of the forms of a noun, pronoun, or adjective used to show its relation to other words. I is the nominative case; me is the objective case; my is the possessive case. 10. relation shown by such a form. I is in the nominative case. 11. Informal. a queer or unusual person. n.

in any case, under any circumstances; no matter what happens; anyhow.

in case, if; supposing; if it should happen that.

in no case, under no circumstances.

case (käs), 1. thing to hold or cover something. 2. a covering; sheath: Put the knife back in the case. 3. box:

Cartridge: A, metal case; B, bullet; C, powder.

Cart (def. 1)

Caryatids

There is a big case full of books in the hall. 4. quantity in a box, etc.: My mother bought a case of ginger ale. 5. frame: A window fits in a case. 6. put in a case; cover with a case. 7. tray for printing type, with a space for each letter. 1-5, 7 n., 6 v., cased, cas ing. lower case, small letters. upper case, capital letters.

case history, all the facts about a person or group that may be useful in deciding what medical or psychiatric treatment, social services, etc., are needed.

ca sein (kā'sēn or kā'sē in), protein present in milk, used in certain kinds of paints. Cheese is mostly casein. n.

case knife, 1. knife carried in a case. 2. a table knife.

case mate (kā's/māt), 1. a bombproof chamber in a fort or rampart, with openings through which cannon may be fired. 2. an armored enclosure protecting guns on a warship. n.

case ment (kā's/mənt), 1. window opening on hinges like a door. 2. Poetic. any window. 3. a casing; covering; frame. n.

cash (kash), 1. ready money; coins and bills. 2. money, or something that equals money, such as a check, paid at the time of buying something. 3. get cash for: cash a check. 4. give cash for: The bank will cash your five-dollar check. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 v.

cash in, U.S. Informal. change into cash.

cash on, U.S. Informal. 1. make a profit from. 2. take advantage of; use to advantage.

cash book (kash'būk'), book in which a record is kept of money received and paid out. n.

cash ew (kash'ü), 1. a small, edible kidney-shaped nut. 2. the tropical American tree that it grows on. n.

cash ier¹ (kash ir'), person who has charge of money in a bank or business. n.

cash ier² (kash ir'), dismiss from service; discharge in disgrace: The dishonest officer was deprived of his rank and cashiered. v.

cash mere (kash'mir), 1. a fine, soft wool from a breed of goats of Kashmir and Tibet. 2. a costly kind of shawl made of this wool. 3. a fine, soft wool from sheep. 4. a fine, soft woolen cloth. n.

cash on delivery, payment when goods are delivered.

cash register, machine which records and shows the amount of a sale. It usually has a drawer to hold money.

cas ing (kā's/ing), 1. thing put around something; covering; case. 2. the part of a tire that encloses the inner tube. 3. frame. A window fits in a casing. n.

ca sino (kā sē'nō), 1. a building or room for public shows, dancing, gambling, etc. 2. casino, a card game. n., pl. ca si nos.

cas k (kask), 1. barrel. A cask may be large or small, and is usually made to hold liquids. 2. amount that a cask holds. n.

cas ket (kas'kit), 1. a small box to hold jewels, letters, etc. 2. coffin. n.

Cas per (kas'par), city in central Wyoming. 39,000. n.

Cas pi an Sea (kas'pē ən), an inland salt sea between Europe and Asia. 169,000 sq. mi.

cas que (kask), helmet. n.

cas sa ba (kā sā'bā), casaba. n.

Cas san dra (kā san'drə), 1. in Greek legend, a daughter of King Priam of Troy. Apollo gave her the gift of prophecy, but later in anger decreed that no one should believe her. 2. person who prophesies misfortune, but is not believed. n.

cas sa va (kā sā'və), 1. a tropical plant with starchy roots. 2. a nutritious starch from its roots. Tapioca is made from cassava. n.

cas se role (kas'ə rōl), 1. a covered baking dish in which food can be both cooked and served. 2. a mold, often of boiled rice, mashed potatoes, etc., filled with meat or vegetables. 3. a small, deep dish with a handle, used in chemical laboratories. n.

cas sia (kash'ə), 1. an inferior kind of cinnamon. 2. tree of southern China that produces it. 3. plant from whose leaves and pods the drug senna is obtained. 4. the pods or their pulp. n.

cas si mere (kas'ə mir), a soft, lightweight, woolen cloth, sometimes used for men's suits. n.

cas si no (kā sē'nō), a card game in which the ten of diamonds and the two of spades have special counting value. n. Also, casino.

Cas si o pe ia (kas'ē ə pē'ə), 1. in Greek legend, the wife of the Ethiopian king Cepheus and mother of Andromeda. 2. a northern constellation thought to resemble Cassiopeia sitting in a chair. n.

cas sock (kas'ək), a long outer garment, usually black, worn by a clergyman. n.

cas socked (kas'əkt), wearing a cassock. adj.

cas so war y (kas'ə wer'ē), a large bird of Australia and New Guinea, like an ostrich, but smaller. Cassowaries run swiftly, but cannot fly. n., pl. cas so war ies.

cast (kast), 1. throw: cast a fishing line. 2. throw off; let fall: The snake cast its skin. 3. direct; turn: He cast me a look. 4. shape by pouring or squeezing into a mold to harden. Metal is first melted and then cast. 5. thing made by casting: a cast of Lincoln. 6. made by casting: a statue cast in bronze.

7. mold used in casting; mold: His broken arm is in a plaster cast. 8. arrange (actors and parts in a play): Our drama teacher has cast Mary and Tom as brother and sister. 9. actors in a play. 10. form; look; appearance. 11. kind; sort. 12. a slight amount of color; tinge: a white dress with a pink cast. 13. a slight squint. 14. add; calculate. 1-4, 8, 14 v., cast, casting; 1, 5, 7, 9-13 n., 6 adj.

cast a ballot, vote.

cast about, search; look.

cast down, 1. turn downward; lower.

2. make sad or discouraged.

cast up, 1. turn upward; raise. 2. add up; find the sum of.

cas ta net (kas'tə net'), pair, or one of a pair, of instruments of hard wood or ivory like little cymbals. Castanets are held in the hand and clicked together to beat time for dancing or music. n.

cast a way (kast'ə wā'), 1. thrown away; cast adrift.

2. a shipwrecked person. 3. outcast. 1, 3 adj., 2, 3 n.

caste (kast), 1. a Hindu social class. By tradition, a Hindu is born into the caste of his father and cannot rise from it. 2. an exclusive social group; distinct class. 3. a social system having class distinctions based on rank, wealth, position, etc. n.

lose caste, lose social rank or position.

cast er (kas'tar), 1. person or thing that casts. 2. a small wheel set into a leg of a piece of furniture to make it easier to move. 3. bottle containing salt, mustard, vinegar, or other seasoning for table use. 4. stand or rack for such bottles. n. Also, castor for 2-4.

cas ti gate (kas'tə gāt), criticize severely; punish. v., cas ti gat ed, cas ti gat ing. —cas'ti ga'tor, n.

cas ti ga tion (kas'tə gā'shən), severe criticism; punishment. n.

Cas tile (kas tēl'), 1. region in north and central Spain, formerly a kingdom. 2. Castile soap. n.

Clergyman wearing a cassock

Cassowary (5 ft. tall)

Castanets

Castile soap or castile soap (kas'tēl), a pure, hard soap made from olive oil and soda.

Cas til ian (kas til'yən), 1. of Castile, its people, or their language. Castilian Spanish is the accepted standard form of Spanish. 2. Castilian Spanish. 3. native or inhabitant of Castile. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

cast ing (kas'ting), thing shaped by being poured into a mold to harden. n.

casting vote, a vote by the presiding officer to decide a question when the votes of an assembly or council are evenly divided.

cast iron, a hard, brittle form of iron made by casting.

cast-i-ron (kast'ī'ərən), 1. made of cast iron. 2. hard; not yielding. 3. hardy; strong. adj.

castle (kas'l), 1. a building or group of buildings with thick walls, towers, and other defenses against attack. 2. palace that once had defenses against attack. 3. a large and imposing residence. 4. piece in the game of chess, shaped like a tower; rook. n.

castle in the air, something imagined but not likely to come true; daydream.

cast off (kast'ōf'), 1. thrown away; abandoned. 2. person or thing that has been cast off. 1 adj., 2 n.

cas tor (kas'tər), caster (defs. 2, 3, 4). n.

cas tor (kas'tər), 1. hat made of beaver fur. 2. an oily substance with a strong odor, secreted by beavers. It is used in making perfume and in medicines. n.

Cas tor (kas'tər), in Greek and Roman legend, the mortal twin brother of Pollux. n.

castor bean, seed of the castor-oil plant.

castor oil, a yellow oil obtained from castor beans, used as a strong cathartic, a lubricant, etc.

cas tor-oil plant (kas'tər oil'), a tall tropical plant from whose seeds castor oil is obtained.

cas trate (kas'trāt), 1. remove the male glands of. 2. mutilate; expurgate. v., cas trat ed, cas trat ing.

cas tra tion (kas trā'shən), castrating. n.

Cas tries (kas trē'), capital of St. Lucia. 18,000. n.

Cas tro (kas'trō), Fidel, born 1927, premier of Cuba since 1959. n.

cas u al (kazh'ū əl), 1. happening by chance; not planned or expected; accidental: a casual meeting. 2. without plan or method; careless: a casual answer, a casual glance. 3. uncertain; indefinite; indifferent; vague. 4. occasional; irregular. A casual laborer has no regular job. 5. designed for informal wear: We dressed in casual clothes for the picnic. 6. a casual laborer. 7. person occasionally receiving charity. 8. soldier awaiting orders, transportation, etc., at a post or station to which he is not attached or assigned. 1-5 adj., 6-8 n. —cas' u al ly, adv. —cas' u al ness, n.

cas u al ty (kazh'ū əl tē), 1. accident. 2. an unfortunate accident; mishap. 3. soldier or sailor wounded, killed, or captured as a result of enemy action. 4. person injured or killed in an accident. n., pl. cas u al ties.

cas u ist (kazh'ū ist), 1. person who decides questions of conduct, duty, etc. 2. person who reasons cleverly but falsely, especially in regard to right and wrong. n.

cas u is tic (kazh'ū is'tik), 1. of or like casuistry. 2. too subtle; sophistical. adj. —cas' u is'ti cal ly, adv.

cas u ist ry (kazh'ū is trē), 1. act or process of deciding questions of right and wrong in regard to conduct, duty, etc. 2. clever but false reasoning. n., pl. cas u ist ries.

cat (kat), 1. a small, four-footed, flesh-eating mammal often kept as a pet or for catching mice. 2. any animal of the group including cats, lions, tigers, leopards, etc.

3. animal something like a cat. 4. a mean, spiteful woman. 5. catfish. 6. cat-o'-nine-tails. 7. hoist (an anchor) and fasten it to a beam on the ship's side. 8. tackle for hoisting. 1-6, 8 n., 7 v., cat ted, cat ting. cat a clysm (kat'ə kliz əm), 1. flood, earthquake, or any sudden, violent change in the earth. 2. any violent change: World War II was a cataclysm for all of Europe. n.

cat a clysm al (kat'ə kliz'ml), cataclysmic. adj.

cat a clysm ic (kat'ə kliz'mik), of or like a cataclysm; extremely sudden and violent. adj.

cat a comb (kat'ə kōm), an underground gallery forming a burial place. n.

cat a falque (kat'ə falk), stand or frame to support the coffin in which a dead person lies. n.

Cat a lan (kat'l ən), 1. of Catalonia, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Catalonia. 3. dialect spoken in Catalonia. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

Cat a li na (kat'ə lē'nə), an island resort off the SW coast of California, near Los Angeles. 20 mi. long. n. Also, Santa Catalina.

cat a log (kat'l ōg), catalogue. n., v., cat a loged, cat a log ing. —cat'a log'er, n.

cat a logue (kat'l ōg), 1. list of items in some collection, either identifying each item very briefly or describing it more fully. A library has a catalogue of its books, arranged in alphabetical order. A company sometimes prints a catalogue with pictures and prices of the things that it sells. 2. volume or booklet issued by a college or university listing rules, courses to be given, etc. 3. make a catalogue of; put in a catalogue: He catalogued all the insects in his collection. 1, 2 n., 3 v., cat a logued, cat a log ing. —cat'a logu'er, n.

Cat a lo ni a (kat'ə lō'nē ə), region in NE Spain. n.

ca tal pa (kə tal'pə), tree of America and Asia with large, heart-shaped leaves, clusters of bell-shaped flowers, and long pods. n.

ca tal y sis (kə tal'ə sis), the causing or speeding up of a chemical reaction by the presence of a substance that itself remains practically unchanged. n., pl. ca tal y ses (-sēz).

cat a lyst (kat'l ist), substance that causes catalysis. n.

cat a lyt ic (kat'ə lit'ik), 1. of catalysis. 2. causing catalysis. adj.

cat a lyz er (kat'ə liz'ər), catalyst. n.

cat a ma ran (kat'ə mə ran'), 1. boat with two hulls side by side. 2. raft made of pieces of wood lashed together. n.

cat a mount (kat'ə mount), wildcat, such as a puma or lynx. n.

Ca ta nia (kə tən'yə), seaport in E Sicily. 321,000. n.

cat a pult (kat'ə pult),

1. an ancient weapon for shooting stones, arrows, etc. 2. Brit. slingshot. 3. device for launching an airplane from the deck of a ship. 4. shoot from a catapult; throw; hurl. 1-3 n., 4 v.

cat a ract (kat'ə rakt),

1. a large, steep waterfall. 2. series of rapids in a stream. 3. a violent rush or downpour of water; flood. 4. an opaque condition in the lens of the eye, or its capsule, that causes partial or total blindness. n.

Famous catacombs of Rome, probably formed for the burial of Christians between the 2nd and 4th centuries A.D.

Catamaran (def. 1)

Roman soldiers using a catapult. This very heavy bow was drawn by means of ropes and could send an arrow a great distance.

ea tarrh (kə tār'), an inflamed condition of a mucous membrane, usually that of the nose or throat, causing a discharge of mucus. n.

ca tarrh al (kə tār'əl), 1. like catarrh. 2. caused by catarrh. adj.

ca tas tro phe (kə tas'trə fē), 1. a sudden, widespread, or extraordinary disaster; great calamity or misfortune. A big earthquake or flood is a catastrophe. 2. outcome; unhappy ending. The catastrophe of a tragedy usually brings death or ruin to the leading character. 3. a disastrous end; ruin. n.

cat a stroph ic (kat'ə strof'ik), of or caused by disaster; calamitous. adj.

cat bird (kat'bērd'), a slate-gray American songbird, with black on its head, wings, and tail. The catbird can make a sound like a cat mewling. n.

cat boat (kat'bōt'), sailboat with one mast set far forward. It has no bowsprit or jib. n.

cat call (kat'kōl'), 1. a shrill cry or whistle to express disapproval. Poor actors are sometimes greeted by catcalls from the audience. 2. make catcalls. 3. attack with catcalls. 1 n., 2, 3 v.

catch (kach), 1. take and hold (something moving); seize; capture: The policeman caught the thief. Catch the ball with both hands. 2. take; get: Paper catches fire easily. 3. become caught: My dress caught in the door. 4. become lighted; burn: Tinder catches easily. 5. come on suddenly; surprise: Mother caught me just as I was hiding her present. 6. act as catcher in baseball. 7. act of catching: Dick made a fine catch with one hand. 8. thing that catches. A fastener for a door or window is a catch. 9. thing caught: A dozen fish is a good catch. 10. Informal. a desirable person to marry because of wealth, position, etc. 11. game of throwing and catching a ball. 12. a short song sung by several persons or groups, beginning one after another. 13. getting one's attention; arousing one's interest: Advertisements often contain catch phrases. 14. tricky; deceptive: a catch question. 15. Informal. a hidden or tricky condition in a plan, etc. 1-6 v., caught, catching; 7-12, 15 n., 13, 14 adj.

catch on, Informal. 1. understand; get the idea. 2. become popular; be widely used or accepted.

catch up, 1. come up even with a person or thing; overtake: The dog ran as fast as he could to catch up with the car. 2. pick up suddenly; snatch; grab. 3. interrupt and annoy; heckle. 4. hold up in loops.

catch er (kach'ər), 1. person or thing that catches. 2. a baseball player who stands behind the batter to catch the ball thrown by the pitcher. n.

catch ing (kach'ing), 1. liable to spread from one to another; contagious; infectious: Colds are catching. 2. attractive; fascinating. adj.

catch up (kech'əp or kach'əp), a sauce to use with meat, fish, etc. Tomato catchup is made of tomatoes, onions, salt, sugar, and spices. n. Also, catsup, ketchup.

catch word (kach'wērd'), 1. word or phrase used again and again for effect; slogan: "A full dinner pail" was a political catchword. 2. word placed so as to catch attention. n.

catch y (kach'ē), 1. easy to remember; attractive: The new musical play has several catchy tunes. 2. tricky; misleading; deceptive: The third question on the test was catchy; everyone in the class gave the wrong answer. adj., catch i er, catch i est.

cat e chet i cal (kat'ə ket'ə kl), 1. teaching by questions and answers. 2. like or according to a catechism. adj.

Catbird (9 in. long)

Catboat

cat e chise (kat'ə kīz), catechize. v., cat e chised, cat e chis ing. —cat'ē chis'er, n.

cat e chism (kat'ə kīz əm), 1. book of questions and answers about religion, used for teaching religious doctrine. 2. set of questions and answers about any subject. 3. a long or formal set of questions. n.

cat e chist (kat'ə kīst), person who catechizes. n.

cat e chize (kat'ə kīz), 1. teach by questions and answers. 2. question closely. v., cat e chized, cat e chiz ing. —cat'ē chiz'er, n.

cat e chu (kat'ə chū or kat'ə kū), a hard, brown, brittle substance obtained from certain acacia trees of Asia and Africa. It is an astringent used in medicine, dyeing, and tanning. n.

cat e gor i cal (kat'ə gōr'ə kl), 1. without conditions or qualifications; positive. 2. of or in a category. adj. —cat'ē gor'i cal ly, adv.

cat e go ry (kat'ə gō'rē), group or division in a general system of classification; class: Helen groups all people into two categories: those she likes and those she dislikes. n., pl. cat e go ries.

ca ter (kā'tər), 1. provide food or supplies: He runs a restaurant and also caters for weddings and parties. 2. supply means of enjoyment: The new magazine caters to boys by printing stories about aviation, athletics, and camping. v.

cat er-cor nered (kat'ər kōr'nərd), 1. diagonal. 2. diagonally. 1 adj., 2 adv.

ca ter er (kā'tər ər), person who provides food or supplies for entertainments, parties, etc. n.

cat er pil lar (kat'ər pil'ər), the larva or wormlike form in which insects such as the butterfly and the moth hatch from the egg. n.

Cat er pil lar (kat'ər pil'ər), a trademark for crawler tractors and other machinery. n.

cat er waul (kat'ər wōl), 1. howl like a cat; screech. 2. such a howl or screech. 1 v., 2 n.

cat fish (kat'fish'), any of several scaleless fishes with long, slender feelers around the mouth that look somewhat like a cat's whiskers. n., pl. cat fish es or (esp. collectively) cat fish.

cat gut (kat'gut'), a tough string made from the dried and twisted intestines of sheep or other animals, used for violin strings and tennis rackets and by surgeons for stitching wounds. n.

Cath., Catholic.

ca thar sis (kə thār'sis), 1. a purging. 2. an emotional purification or relief. n.

ca thar tic (kə thār'tik), 1. a strong laxative. Epsom salts and castor oil are cathartics. 2. strongly laxative. 1 n., 2 adj.

Ca thay (ka thā'), Poetic or Archaic. China. n.

cat head (kat'hed'), beam on a ship's side near the bow. The anchor is hoisted and fastened to it. n.

ca the dral (kə thē'drəl), 1. the official church of a bishop. The bishop of a district or diocese has a throne in the cathedral. 2. having a bishop's throne. 3. a large or important church. 4. of or like a cathedral. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 adj.

Cath e rine the Great (kath'ə rin), 1729-1796, empress of Russia from 1762 to 1796.

cath ode (kath'ōd), a negative electrode. The zinc case of a dry cell and the filament of a radio tube are cathodes. It is opposed to anode. n.

cathode rays, the invisible streams of electrons from the cathode in a vacuum tube. When cathode rays strike a solid substance, they produce X rays.

cath o lic (kath'ə lik), 1. of interest or use to all people; including all; universal. 2. having sympathies

Caterpillar (1/3 actual size) with all; broad-minded; liberal. 3. of the whole Christian church. adj.

Cath o lic (kath'əlik), 1. of the Christian church governed by the Pope; Roman Catholic. 2. of the ancient undivided Christian church, or of its present representatives. 3. member of either of these churches. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

ca thol i cism (kə thol'ə siz əm), 1. catholicity. n.

Ca thol i cism (kə thol'ə siz əm), 1. faith, doctrine, organization, and methods of the Roman Catholic Church. n.

cath o lic i ty (kath'ə lis'ə tē), 1. universality; wide prevalence. 2. broad-mindedness; liberalness. n.

Cath o lic i ty (kath'ə lis'ə tē), Catholicism. n.

ca thol i cize (kə thol'ə siz), 1. make or become catholic; universalize. v., ca thol i cized, ca thol i ciz ing.

cat i on (kat'ī'ən), 1. a positive ion. During electrolysis, cations move toward the cathode. See cathode for diagram. n.

cat kin (kat'kin), 1. the downy or scaly spike of flowers that grows on willows, birches, etc. n.

cat like (kat'lik'), 1. like that of a cat. adj.

cat nap, a short nap or doze.

cat nip (kat'nip), 1. kind of mint with strongly scented leaves of which cats are fond. n.

cat-o'-nine-tails (kat'ə nin'tālz'),

1. whip consisting of nine pieces of knotted cord fastened to a handle. n., pl. cat-o'-nine-tails.

cat's cradle, a child's game played with a string looped over the fingers of both hands.

Catskill Mountains, Catskills.

Cats kills (kats'kilz), 1. a low mountain range in southeastern New York State. The highest peak is 4204 feet. n.pl.

cat's-paw or cats paw (kats'pō'), 1. person used by another to do something unpleasant or dangerous. 2. a light breeze that ruffles a small stretch of water. n.

cat sup (kech'əp or kat'səp), 1. a sauce to use with meat, fish, etc.; catchup. n.

cat tail (kat'tāl'), 1. a tall marsh plant with flowers in long, round, furry, brown spikes. n.

cat ti ness (kat'ē nis), 1. catty quality. n.

cat tish (kat'ish), 1. catlike. 2. catty. adj.

cat tle (kat'l), 1. U.S. cows, bulls, and steers; oxen. 2. farm animals; livestock. 3. any low, worthless people. n.

cat tle man (kat'l mən), 1. man who raises or takes care of cattle. n., pl. cat tle men.

cat ty (kat'ē), 1. mean; spiteful. 2. catlike. 3. of cats. adj., cat ti er, cat ti est. —cat-tily, adv.

cat walk (kat'wōk'), 1. a narrow place to walk on a bridge or in an airship. n.

Cau ca sia (kō kā'zhə), 1. region in S Soviet Union, between the Black and Caspian seas. n. Also, Caucasus.

Cau ca sian (kō-kā'zhən or kō kazh'ən), 1. member of the so-called white race, including the chief peoples of Europe, SW Asia, N Africa, the Western Hemisphere, and Australia. 2. of or having to do with the so-called white race. 3. native of Caucasia. 4. of or having to do with the Caucasus or its inhabitants. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

Cau ca sus (kō'kə səs), 1. a mountain range in S Soviet Union, between the Black and Caspian seas. The highest peak is 18,481 feet. 2. Caucasia. n.

cau cus (kō'kəs), 1. U.S. a meeting of members or Cat o'-nine-tails

Catwalk on a suspension bridge leaders of a political party to make plans, choose candidates, decide how to vote, etc. 2. hold a caucus. 1 n., 2 v.

cau dal (kō'dl), 1. of, at, or near the tail. 2. tail-like. adj.

caught (kōt), pt. and pp. of catch. He caught the ball. v. caul (kōl), 1. membrane sometimes covering the head of a child at birth. It was supposed to bring good luck and to safeguard against drowning. n.

caul dron (kōl'drən), caldron. n.

cau li flow er (kō'lə flou'ər), 1. vegetable that belongs to the same family as the cabbage, having a flower cluster which forms a solid, white head (the edible part) with a few leaves around it. n.

caulk (kōk), 1. fill up (a seam, crack, or joint) so that it will not leak; calk. v.

caus al (kōz'əl), 1. of a cause; being a cause. 2. having to do with cause and effect. 3. showing a cause or reason. Because is a causal conjunction. adj. —caus'-ally, adv.

cau sal i ty (kō zal'ə tē), 1. relation of cause and effect; principle that nothing can happen or exist without a cause. 2. causal quality or agency. n., pl. cau-salities.

cause (kōz), 1. whatever produces an effect; person, thing, or event that makes something happen: The flood was the cause of much damage. 2. produce as an effect; make happen; make do; bring about: The fire caused much damage. 3. occasion for action; reason; ground; motive: cause for celebration. 4. good reason; reason enough: He was angry without cause. 5. subject or movement in which many people are interested and to which they give their support: World peace is the cause she works for. 6. matter for a law court to decide; lawsuit. 1,3-6 n., 2 v., caused, causing.

make common cause with, join efforts with; side with; help and support.

cause less (kōz'lis), 1. without any known cause; happening by chance. 2. without good reason; not having reason enough. adj.

cause way (kōz'wā'), 1. a raised road or path, usually built across wet ground, shallow water, etc. 2. a paved road; highway. 3. provide with a causeway. 4. pave with cobbles or pebbles. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

caus tic (kōs'tik), 1. substance that burns or destroys flesh; corrosive substance. 2. that burns or destroys flesh; corrosive. Lye is caustic soda or caustic potash. 3. sarcastic; stinging; biting: The director's caustic remarks made the actors very angry. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

caus ti cal ly (kōs'tik lē), 1. sarcastically; stingingly; biting. adv.

caustic soda, a brittle, white substance used in medicine, manufacturing, etc.; sodium hydroxide.

cau ter i za tion (kō'tər ə zā'shən), 1. act of cauterizing; state of being cauterized. n.

cau ter ize (kō'tər īz), 1. burn with a hot iron or a caustic substance. Doctors sometimes cauterize wounds to prevent bleeding or infection. v., cau ter ized, cau ter iz ing.

cau tion (kō'shən), 1. being very careful; taking care to be safe; never taking chances: Use caution in crossing streets. 2. a warning: A sign with "Danger" on it is a caution. 3. warn; urge to be careful. 4. Informal. a very unusual person or thing. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

cau tion ar y (kō'shən er'ē), 1. warning; urging to be careful. adj.

cau tious (kō'shəs), 1. very careful; taking care to be safe; never taking chances: a cautious driver. adj. —cau'tiously, adv. —cau'tiousness, n.

Cav., Cavalry: the 1st U.S. Cav.

cav al cade (kav'l kād'), 1. a procession of persons riding on horses or in carriages. n.

cav a lier (kav'ə lir'), 1. free and easy; offhand. 2. proud and scornful; haughty; arrogant. 3. horseman; mounted soldier; knight. 4. a courteous gentleman. 5. a courteous escort for a lady. 1,2 adj., 3-5 n. —cav'a lier'ly, adv.

Cav a lier (kav'ə lir'), 1. person who supported Charles I of England in his struggle with Parliament from 1641 to 1649. 2. of the Cavaliers. 1 n., 2 adj.

cav al ry (kav'lrē), 1. soldiers who fight on horseback. 2. branch of military forces in which armament, supplies, and soldiers are conveyed by motor vehicles, no animals being employed except for an occasional use of mules. n., pl. cav al ries.

cav al ry man (kav'lrē mən), soldier who fights on horseback. n., pl. cav al ry men.

cave (kāv), 1. a hollow space underground. 2. Cave in means to fall in; sink. 1 n., 2 v., caved, caving. —cave/like', adj.

cave dweller, person who lived in a cave in prehistoric times.

cave-in (kāv'in'), Informal. 1. a caving in. 2. place where something has caved in. n.

cave man, 1. man who lived in a cave in prehistoric times. 2. Informal. a rough, crude man.

cav ern (kav'ərn), a large cave. n.

cav ern ous (kav'ər nəs), 1. like a cavern; large and hollow. 2. full of caverns. adj.

cav i ar or cav i are (kav'ē ār), a salty relish made from the eggs of sturgeon or other large fish. n.

cav il (kav'li), 1. find fault unnecessarily; raise trivial objections. 2. a petty objection; trivial criticism. 1 v., cav illed, cav il ling; 2 n.

—cav'il er, esp. Brit. cav'il ler, n.

Ca vite (kā vē'tā), seaport in the Philippines, near Manila. 35,000. n.

cav ity (kav'ə tē), 1. hole; hollow place: a cavity in a tooth. 2. an enclosed space inside the body: the abdominal cavity, the four cavities of the heart. n., pl. cav ities.

ca vort (kā vōrt'), U.S. Informal. prance about; jump around: The horses cavorted with excitement. v.

ca vy (kā vē), any of a group of South American rodents, the best known being the guinea pig. n., pl. ca vies.

caw (kō), 1. the harsh cry made by a crow or raven. 2. make this cry. 1 n., 2 v.

Cawn pore (kōn'pōr), the former name of Kanpur, a city in N India. n.

Cax ton (kak'stən), William, 1422?-1491, first English printer. He was also an author and translator. n.

cay (kā or kē), a low island; reef; key. n.

cay enne (kī en' or kā en'), a very hot, biting powder made from the seeds or fruit of a pepper plant; red pepper. n.

Cay enne (kī en' or kā en'), capital of French Guiana. 13,000. n.

cay man (kā'mən), a large alligator of tropical America. n., pl. cay mans. Also, caiman.

Cay man Islands (kā'mən), a group of 3 islands, a colony of Great Britain, located NW of Jamaica. 8000 pop.; 93 sq. mi.

Ca yu ga (kā ū'gə or kī ū'gə), 1. member of a tribe of Iroquois Indians formerly living in W New York State. 2. of this tribe. 1 n., pl. Ca yu ga or Ca yu gas; 2 adj.

cay use (kī ūs'), an Indian pony of the Western United States. n.

Cb, columbium.

cc. or c.c., cubic centimeter; cubic centimeters.

C clef, symbol in music that means that the line on which it is placed represents middle C.

Cd, cadmium.

cd., cord; cords.

C.D., civil defense.

cd. ft., cord foot.

Ce, cerium.

C.E., Civil Engineer.

cease (sēs), 1. come to an end; stop: The music ceased suddenly. 2. put an end or stop to: Cease trying to do more than you can. v., ceased, ceas ing.

cease-fire (sēs'fir'), a halt in military operations, especially for the purpose of discussing peace. n.

cease less (sēs'lis), never stopping; going on all the time; continual. adj. —cease/less ly, adv.

Ce bu (sā bū'), 1. island near the center of the Philippines. 1707 sq. mi. See Philippines for map. 2. this island and adjacent small islands. 1,123,000 pop.; 1867 sq. mi. 3. seaport on this island. 209,000. n.

Ce cil ia (sə sil'yə or sə sēl'yə), Saint, died 230? A.D., Roman Christian martyr, the patron saint of music. n.

Ce cro pi a moth (sə krō'pē ə), a large silkworm moth of the E United States. Its larvae feed on trees.

ce cum (sē'kəm), caecum. n.

ce dar (sē'dər), 1. an evergreen tree of the same family as the pine, with wide-spreading branches and fragrant, durable wood. 2. any of several trees with similar wood. 3. wood of any of these trees. Cedar is much used for lining clothes closets and making chests, cigar boxes, pencils, etc. 4. made of cedar. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

ce dar bird (sē'dər bērd'), a small American bird with a crest and small red markings on its wings; waxwing. n.

Cedar Rapids, city in E Iowa. 92,000.

cedar waxwing, cedarbird.

cede (sēd), give up; surrender; hand over to another: Spain ceded the Philippines to the United States. v., ced ed, ced ing.

ce dil la (sə dil'ə), mark somewhat like a comma (ç) put under c in certain words to show that it has the sound of s before a, o, or u. Example: façade. n.

ce il ing (sēl'ing), 1. the inside, top covering of a room; surface opposite to the floor. 2. the greatest height to which an airplane or airship can go under certain conditions: That new jet plane has a ceiling of more than 50,000 feet. 3. distance from the earth to the lowest clouds. 4. an upper limit set for prices, wages, rents, etc. n.

cel an dine (sel'ən dīn), plant with yellow flowers, belonging to the same family as the poppy. n.

Cel e bes (sel'ə bēz), a large island in Indonesia. With adjacent small islands, 6,300,000 pop.; 72,986 sq. mi. n.

cel e brant (sel'ə brānt), 1. person who performs a ceremony or rite. 2. priest who performs Mass. n.

cel e brate (sel'ə brāt), 1. observe (a special time or day) with the proper ceremonies or festivities: We celebrated Christmas with a tree and presents. 2. perform publicly with the proper ceremonies and rites: The priest celebrates Mass in church. 3. make known publicly; proclaim. 4. praise; honor. 5. observe a festival or event with ceremonies or festivities: On her birthday she was too sick to celebrate. 6. Informal. have a gay time. v., cel e brat ed, cel e brat ing.

cel e brat ed (sel'ə brāt'id), famous; well-known; much talked about. adj.

cel e bra tion (sel'ə brā'shən), 1. act of celebrating. 2. whatever is done to celebrate something. n.

cel e bra tor (sel'ə brā'tər), person who celebrates. n.

ce leb ri ty (sə leb'rē tē), 1. a famous person; person who is well known or much talked about. 2. fame; being well known or much talked about. n., pl. ce leb ri ties.

ce ler i ty (sə ler'ə tē), swiftness; speed. n.

cel ery (sel'ər ē), vegetable whose long stalks can be whitened by keeping them covered while they grow. Celery is often eaten raw, or it may be cooked alone or as part of a stew, soup, stuffing, etc. n.

ce les ta (sə les'tə), a musical instrument with a keyboard. The tones are made by hammers hitting steel plates. n.

celes tial (sə les'chəl), 1. of the sky; having to do with the heavens: The sun, moon, planets, and stars are celestial bodies. 2. heavenly; divine; very good or beautiful: celestial music. adj. —ce les'tial ly, adv.

cel i ba cy (sel'ə bə sē), unmarried state; single life. n.

cel i bate (sel'ə bit), 1. an unmarried person; person who takes a vow to lead a single life. 2. unmarried; single. 1 n., 2 adj.

cell (sel), 1. a small room in a prison, convent, or monastery. 2. any small, hollow place. Bees store honey in the cells of a honeycomb. 3. unit of living matter. Most cells consist of protoplasm, have a nucleus near the center, and are enclosed by a cell wall or membrane. Plants and animals are made of cells. 4. container holding materials for producing electricity by chemical action. 5. a small group that acts as a political, social, or religious unit for a larger, sometimes revolutionary, organization. n.

cel lar (sel'ər), 1. an underground room or rooms, usually under a building and often used for storing food or fuel. 2. such a room for wines. 3. supply of wines. n.

cel lar age (sel'ər ij), 1. space in a cellar. 2. cellars. 3. charge for storage in a cellar. n.

Cel li ni (chə lē'nē), Benvenuto, 1500-1571, Italian sculptor and artist in metalwork. n.

cel list or 'cel list (chel'ist), person who plays the cello. n. Also, violin-cellist.

cel lo or 'cel lo (chel'ō), instrument like a violin, but very much larger; bass violin. It is held between the knees while being played. n., pl. cel los or 'cel los. Also, violincello.

cel lo phane (sel'ə fān), a transparent substance made from cellulose, used as a wrapping to keep food, candy, tobacco, etc., fresh and clean. n.

Cel lo phane (sel'ə fān), trademark for cellophane. n.

cel lu lar (sel'yə lər), 1. having to do with cells. 2. consisting of cells. All animal and plant tissue is cellular. adj.

cel lu loid (sel'yə loid), 1. a hard, transparent, combustible substance made from cellulose and camphor. Combs, toilet articles, camera films, etc., are often made of white or colored celluloid. 2. having to do with motion pictures. 1 n., 2 adj.

Cel lu loid (sel'yə loid), trademark for the substance celluloid. n.

cel lu lose (sel'yə lōs), substance that forms the walls of plant cells; the woody part of trees and plants. Wood, cotton, flax, and hemp are largely cellulose. Cellulose is used to make paper, rayon, plastics, explosives, etc. n.

Celt (selt), member of a people to which the Irish, Highland Scotch, Welsh, and Bretons belong. The ancient Gauls and Britons were Celts. n. Also, Kelt.

Celt ic (sel'tik), 1. of the Celts or their language. 2. the group of languages spoken by the Celts, including Irish, Gaelic, Welsh, and Breton. 1 adj., 2 n. Also, Keltic.

cel tuce (sel'təs), a crisp, leafy vegetable that combines the flavor of celery and lettuce. n.

ce ment (sə ment'), 1. substance made by burning clay and limestone. 2. this substance mixed with sand and water to make sidewalks, streets, floors, and walls and to hold stones or bricks together in building. Cement becomes hard like stone. 3. any soft substance that hardens and holds things together. 4. fasten together with cement. 5. cover with cement. 6. anything that Diagram of a cell (def. 3). C, centrosomes; N¹, nucleolus; N, nucleus; V, vacuole; W, cell wall.

Man playing a cello joins together or unites. 7. join together; unite. 1-3,6 n., 4,5,7 v. —ce ment'ər, n.

cem e ter y (sem'ə ter'ē), place for burying the dead; graveyard. n., pl. cem e ter ies.

cen., central.

cen o taph (sen'ə taf), monument erected in memory of a dead person whose body is elsewhere. n.

cen ser (sen'sər), container in which incense is burned. n.

cen sor (sen'sər), 1. person who examines and, if necessary, changes books, plays, motion pictures, etc., so as to make them satisfactory to the government or to the organization that employs him. 2. act as censor; make changes in; take out part of (letters, etc.). 3. a Roman magistrate who took the census and supervised the conduct of citizens. 4. person who tells others how they ought to behave. 5. person who likes to find fault. 1,3-5 n., 2 v.

cen so ri ous (sen sō'rē əs), too ready to find fault; severely critical. adj. —cen so'ri ous ly, adv. —cen-so'ri ous ness, n.

cen sor ship (sen'sər ship), 1. act or system of censoring: Our State provides for the censorship of motion pictures. 2. position or work of a censor. n.

cen sur a ble (sen'shər ə bl), worthy of censure. adj. —cen'sur a bly, adv.

cen sure (sen'shər), 1. expression of disapproval; criticism; blame. 2. express disapproval of; find fault with; blame; criticize. 1 n., 2 v., cen sured, cen suring. —cen'sur er, n.

cen sus (sen'səs), an official count of the people of a country. It is taken to find out the number of people, their ages, sex, what they do to make a living, and many other facts about them. n.

cent (sent), 1. a coin, usually an alloy of copper, of the United States and Canada. 100 cents make a dollar. 2. any of various coins equaling a hundredth of the standard unit of currency in certain other countries. n.

cent., 1. central. 2. century. 3. centigrade.

cen taur (sen'tōr), in Greek legend, a monster that had the head, arms, and chest of a man, and the body and legs of a horse. n.

cen ta vo (sen tä'vō), a small coin used in Mexico, Cuba, the Philippines, etc. 100 centavos make a peso. n., pl. cen ta vos.

cen te nar i an (sen'tə nār'ē ən), 1. person who is 100 years old or more. 2. 100 years old or more. 3. of 100 years. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

cen te nar y (sen'tə ner'ē or sen ten'ə rē), 1. period of 100 years. 2. a 100th anniversary. 3. celebration of the 100th anniversary. 4. having to do with a period of 100 years. 1-3 n., pl. cen te nar ies; 4 adj.

cen ten ni al (sen ten'ē əl), 1. of or having to do with 100 years or the 100th anniversary. 2. 100 years old. 3. a 100th anniversary: The town is celebrating its centennial. 4. celebration of the 100th anniversary. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

cen ten ni al ly (sen ten'ē əl ē), once in every hundred years. adv.

cen ter (sen'tər), 1. a point within a circle or sphere equally distant from all of the circumference or surface. 2. the middle point, place, or part: the center of a room. 3. person, thing, or group in a middle position. 4. a point toward which people or things go, or from which Altar boy with a censor. By swinging it he spreads the smell of the incense.

Centaur

they come; main point: New York is a center of trade. 5. place in or at the center. 6. collect at a center. 7. be at a center. 8. player in the center of the line in football. 9. player who starts play in basketball, hockey, etc. 10. part of a lawmaking body that sits in front of the presiding officer. It is made up of the political groups having moderate opinions. 1-4, 8-10 n., 5-7 v. Also, esp. Brit. centre.

center board (sen'tər bōrd'), a movable keel of a sailboat. It is lowered through a slot in the bottom of a boat to prevent drifting to leeward. n.

center field, in baseball, the section of the outfield behind second base. See baseball for diagram.

center of gravity, point in something around which its weight is evenly balanced.

centesimal (sen tes'ə ml), 1. 100th. 2. divided into 100ths. adj.

centi-, word element meaning:

1. 100.

2. 100th part of.

centigrade (sen'tə grād), 1. divided into 100 degrees. 2. according to a centigrade thermometer. adj.

centigrade thermometer, thermometer having 0 for the temperature at which ice melts and 100 for the temperature at which water boils. See thermometer for diagram.

centigram or centigramme (sen'tə gram), $\frac{1}{100}$ of a gram. n.

centiliter or centiliter (sen'tə lē'tər), $\frac{1}{100}$ of a liter. n.

centime (sän'tēm), $\frac{1}{100}$ of a franc. n.

centimeter or centimetre (sen'tə mē'tər), $\frac{1}{100}$ of a meter. n.

centipede (sen'tə pēd), a small wormlike animal with many pairs of legs. In some centipedes the front pair is connected with a poison gland. n.

central (sen'trəl), 1. of the center; being the center. 2. at the center; near the center. 3. from the center. 4. equally distant from all points; easy to get to or from. 5. main; chief; leading; principal: What is the central idea in the story? 6. a telephone exchange. 7. a telephone operator. 1-5 adj., 6, 7 n. —cen'-tralness, n.

Central African Republic, republic in central Africa, north of the Congo, a member of the French Community. 1,177,000 pop.; 383,404 sq. mi. Capital: Bangui.

Central America, that part of North America between Mexico and South America. Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, British Honduras, Costa Rica, and Panama are in Central America. 12,000,000 pop.; 226,881 sq. mi.

Central American, 1. having to do with Central America or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Central America.

Central Asia, region in Asia including Turkestan, and parts of China, Tibet, and Mongolia.

centralization (sen'trəl ə zā'shən), 1. a coming or bringing to a center. 2. concentration at a center: Centralization of relief agencies may prevent waste of effort. 3. concentration of administrative power in a central government. n.

centralize (sen'trəl īz), 1. collect at a center; gather together. 2. bring or come under one control. v., centralized, centralizing.

centrally (sen'trəl ē), at or near the center. adv.

centre (sen'tər), Esp. Brit. center. n., v., centred, centring.

centrifugal (sen trif'ə gl), moving away from the center. adj. —centrifugally, adv.

centrifugal force, inertia of a body revolved around a center, tending to move it away from the center.

centripetal (sen trip'ə tl), moving toward the center. adj. —centripetally, adv.

centripetal force, force that tends to move things toward the center around which they are turning. Gravitation is a centripetal force.

centrosome (sen'trə sōm), a tiny body in a cell that separates into two parts and attracts the divided chromosomes, one group to each part. n.

centuple (sen'tə pl), 1. 100 times as much or as many; hundredfold. 2. make 100 times as much or as many; increase a hundredfold. 1 adj., 2 v., centupled, centupling.

centurion (sen tūr'ē ən or sen tyūr'ē ən), commander of about 100 soldiers in the ancient Roman army. n.

century (sen'chə rē), 1. each 100 years, counting from some special time, such as the birth of Christ. The first century is 1 to 100; the nineteenth century is 1801 to 1900; the twentieth century is 1901 to 2000. 2. period of 100 years. From 1824 to 1924 is a century. 3. group of 100 people or things. 4. body of soldiers in the ancient Roman army. Originally, it probably consisted of 100 soldiers. 5. division of the ancient Roman people for voting. Each century had one vote. n.

pl. centuries.

century plant, a large, thick-leaved plant growing in Mexico and the southwestern United States, wrongly supposed to bloom only once every 100 years.

cephalic (sə fal'ik), 1. of the head. 2. near, on, or in the head. 3. toward the head. adj.

cephalopod (sef'l ə pod'), any of the most highly organized class of mollusks, characterized by long, armlike tentacles around the mouth, a pair of large eyes, and a sharp, birdlike beak. Cuttlefish and squids are cephalopods. n.

ceramic (sə ram'ik), having to do with pottery, earthenware, porcelain, etc., or with making them. adj.

ceramics (sə ram'iks), 1. art of making pottery, earthenware, porcelain, etc. 2. articles made of pottery, earthenware, porcelain, etc. 1 n. sing., 2 n.pl.

Cerberus (sēr'ber əs), 1. in Greek and Roman mythology, a three-headed dog that guarded the entrance to Hades. 2. a surly, watchful guard. n.

cereal (sir'ē əl), 1. any grass that produces a grain used as food.

Wheat, rice, corn, oats, and barley are cereals. 2. the grain. 3. food made from the grain. Oatmeal and corn meal are cereals. 4. of or having to do with grain or the grasses producing it. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

cerebellum (ser'ə bel'əm), the part of the brain that controls the coordination of the muscles. See brain for diagram. n., pl. cerebellums, cerebella (-bel'ə).

cerebral (ser'ə brəl or sə rē'brəl), 1. of the brain: A cerebral hemorrhage causes paralysis. 2. of the cerebrum. adj.

cerebral palsy, paralysis due to a lesion of the brain, resulting in inability to coordinate the muscles.

cerebration (ser'ə brā'shən), 1. action of the brain. 2. thinking. n.

cerebrospinal (ser'ə brō spī'nəl), of or affecting both the brain and spinal cord. adj.

cerebrum (ser'ə brəm), 1. the part of the human brain that controls thought and voluntary muscular

Centipede
(1 in.
long)

Century plant (sometimes 30 ft. high)

Cerberus

movements. See brain for diagram. 2. the corresponding part (anatomically) of the brain of any vertebrate. n., pl. cer e brums, cer e bra (-brə).

cer e ment (sir'mənt), cloth or garment in which a dead person is wrapped for burial. n.

cer e mo ni al (ser'ə mō'nē əl), 1. of or having to do with ceremony: The ceremonial costumes were beautiful. 2. formal actions proper to an occasion: Bowing the head and kneeling are ceremonies of religion. 3. very formal: The queen received her guests in a ceremonial way. 1,3 adj., 2 n. —cer'e mō'ni ally, adv.

cer e mo ni ous (ser'ə mō'nē əs), 1. full of ceremony: The banquet was a ceremonious affair. 2. very formal; extremely polite. adj. —cer'e mō'ni ous ly, adv. —cer'e mō'ni ous ness, n.

cer e mo ny (ser'ə mō'nē), 1. a special form or set of acts to be done on special occasions such as weddings, funerals, graduations, Christmas, or Easter: The marriage ceremony was performed in the church. 2. very polite conduct; way of conducting oneself that follows all the rules of polite social behavior: The old gentleman showed us to the door with a great deal of ceremony. 3. an empty form; meaningless formality. 4. formality; formalities: The democratic prince disliked the ceremony of the court. n., pl. cer e mo nies.

stand on ceremony, be too polite; be very formal.

Ce res (sir'ēz), the Roman goddess of agriculture, identified with the Greek goddess Demeter. n.

ce rise (sə'rēz'), bright, pinkish red. n., adj.

ce ri um (sir'ē əm), a grayish metallic element. Sym-bol: Ce n.

cer tain (sért'n), 1. sure: It is certain that 2 and 3 do not make 6. 2. settled; fixed: Come at a certain hour. 3. reliable; dependable: I have certain information that school will end a day earlier this year. 4. definite but not named; some; one: A certain person left the room. adj. —cer'tain ness, n.

for certain, surely; without a doubt.

cer tain ly (sért'n lē), surely; without a doubt. adv.

cer tain ty (sért'n tē), 1. being certain; freedom from doubt: The man's certainty was amusing, for we could all see that he was wrong. 2. something certain; a sure fact: Death and taxes are certainties. n., pl. cer tain ties.

cer tes (sér'tēz), Archaic. certainly; in truth. adv.

cer ti fi ca ble (sér'tə fī'ə bl), that can be certified. adj.

cer ti fi cate (sər tif'ə kit for 1; sər tif'ə kāt for 2, 3), 1. a written or printed statement that declares something to be a fact. A person's birth certificate gives the date and place of his birth and the names of his parents. 2. give a certificate to. 3. authorize by a certificate. 1 n., 2,3 v., cer tif i cat ed, cer tif i cat ing.

cer ti fi ca tion (sér'tə fə kā'shən), 1. act of certifying. 2. state of being certified. 3. a certified statement. n.

cer ti fied (sér'tə fid), 1. guaranteed. 2. having a certificate. adj.

certified milk, raw or pasteurized milk guaranteed to meet certain official standards.

cer ti fi er (sér'tə fī'ər), one that certifies. n.

cer ti fy (sér'tə fī), 1. declare (something) true or correct by spoken, written, or printed statement. 2. guarantee the quality or value of. 3. assure; make certain. v., cer ti fied, cer ti fy ing.

cer ti tude (sér'tə tūd or sér'tə būd), certainty; sureness. n.

ce ru le an (sə rū'lē ən), sky blue. adj., n.

Cer van tes (sər van'tēz), Miguel de, 1547-1616, Spanish author who wrote Don Quixote. n.

cer vi cal (sər'və kl), of the neck. adj.

cer vi ces (sər vī'sēz), a pl. of cer vix. n.

cer vine (sər'vīn), of or like a deer. adj.

cer vix (sər'vīks), 1. the neck, especially the back of the neck. 2. a necklike part. n., pl. cer vix es or cer vi ces.

ce si um (sē'zē əm), a silvery metallic element. Sym-bol: Cs n. Also, caesium.

ces sa tion (se sā'shən), a ceasing or stopping; pause: During the summer there is a cessation of schoolwork. n. ces sion (sesh'ən), a handing over to another; ceding; giving up; surrendering: the cession of all warships by a conquered nation. n.

cess pool (ses'pūl'), 1. a pool or pit for house drains to empty into. 2. any filthy place. n.

Ce ta cea (sə tā'shə), group of mammals living in the water, including whales, dolphins, and porpoises. n.pl. ce ta cean (sə tā'shən), 1. of or belonging to the Cetacea. 2. animal that belongs to the Cetacea. 1 adj., 2 n.

ce ta ceous (sə tā'shəs), cetacean. adj.

Ceu ta (sü'tə or sü'tə), seaport in N Africa, on the Strait of Gibraltar. It belongs to Spain. 64,000. n.

Cey lon (si'lən'), island in the Indian Ocean, just off S India, a member of the British Commonwealth since 1948. 9,612,000 pop.; 25,332 sq. mi. Capital: Colombo. See India for map. n.

Cey lo nese (sē'lə nēz'), 1. of Ceylon or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Ceylon. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. Cey lo nese.

Cf., californium.

cf., compare.

cg., centigram; centigrams.

ch. or Ch., 1. chapter. 2. church.

Cha co (chā'kō), region divided between Bolivia and Paraguay in 1938. Its ownership was disputed until then. 100,000 sq. mi. n.

Chad (chad), 1. Lake, lake in N central Africa. 5000 to 10,000 sq. mi. according to the season. 2. Republic of, a country in N central Africa south of Libya, a member of the French Community. 2,600,000 pop.; 495,752 sq. mi. Capital: Fort Lamy. n.

chafe (chāf), 1. rub to make warm: She chafed her cold hands. 2. wear or be worn away by rubbing. 3. make or become sore by rubbing: The stiff collar chafed the man's neck. 4. make angry: His big brother's teasing chafed him. 5. become angry: He chafed under his big brother's teasing. 6. a chafing; irritation. 1-5 v., chafed, chaf ing; 6 n.

chaf er (chāf'ər), Esp. Brit. any of a group of beetles including the June bugs, scarabs, etc., that usually feed on plants. n.

chaff¹ (chaf), 1. husks of wheat, oats, rye, etc., separated from grain by threshing. 2. hay or straw cut fine for feeding cattle. 3. worthless stuff. n.

chaff² (chaf), 1. make fun of in a good-natured way before one's face: The boys chaffed the French boy about his mistakes in speaking English.

2. good-natured joking about a person to his face. 1 v., 2 n.

chaf er (chaf'ər), dispute about a price; bargain. v.

chaf finch (chaf'inch), a European songbird with a pleasant, short song, often kept as a cage bird. n.

chaff y (chaf'ē), 1. full of chaff. 2. like chaff; worthless. adj.

chaf ing dish (chāf'ing), pan with a heater under it, used to cook food at the table or to keep it warm.

cha grin (shə grin'), 1. a feeling of disappointment, failure, or humiliation. 2. cause to feel chagrin. 1 n., 2 v.

chain (chān), 1. series of links joined together: a gold chain, a steel chain. 2. series of things joined or linked together: a mountain chain, a chain of happenings. 3. join together with a chain; fasten with a chain. 4. anything that binds or restrains. 5. bind; restrain.

Chaffinch (6 in. long)

6. keep in prison; make a slave of. 7. a measuring instrument like a chain. A surveyor's chain is 66 feet long; an engineer's chain is 100 feet long. 8. number of similar restaurants, theaters, etc., owned and operated by one person or company. 9. a number of atoms of the same element linked together like a chain. 1,2,4,7-9 n., 3,5,6 v.

chains, 1. bonds; fetters. 2. imprisonment; bondage.

chain gang, U.S. gang of convicts, etc., chained together while at work outdoors or on their way to work.

chain letter, letter which each person receiving it is asked to copy and send to several others.

chain mail, kind of flexible armor made of metal rings linked together.

chain measure, system of measurement used by surveyors:

7.92 inches	= 1 link
100 links or 66 ft.	= 1 chain
10 chains	= 1 furlong
80 chains	= 1 mile

chain reaction, 1. a process that goes on automatically when it has once been started and is marked by an explosive release of atomic energy. A chain reaction takes place when unstable uranium nuclei are bombarded by plutonium neutrons in the explosion of an atomic bomb, each uranium nucleus releasing a number of plutonium neutrons, which in turn split other uranium nuclei. 2. any series of events or happenings, each caused by the preceding one or ones.

chain store, one of a group of retail stores owned and operated by the same company.

chair (châr), 1. seat for one person which has a back and, sometimes, arms. 2. seat of position, dignity, or authority. 3. position or authority of a person who has such a seat: Professor Smith occupies the chair of philosophy at this college. 4. chairman: May we have a ruling on this point from the chair? 5. a covered chair carried on poles by two men; sedan chair. 6. electric chair. 7. put or carry in a chair. 8. put in a position of authority. 1-6 n., 7,8 v.

take the chair, 1. begin a meeting. 2. be in charge of or preside at a meeting.

chair man (châr'mæn), 1. person who presides at or is in charge of a meeting. 2. person at the head of a committee. 3. man whose work is carrying or wheeling people in a chair. n., pl. chair men.

chair man ship (châr'mæn ship), 1. position of chairman. 2. length of time one is a chairman. n.

chair woman (châr'wum'-æn), 1. woman who presides at or is in charge of a meeting. 2. woman at the head of a committee. n., pl. chair-women.

chaise (shâz), a lightweight carriage. One kind usually has a folding top. n.

chaise longue (shâz'long'), chair with a long seat and a back at one end, somewhat like a couch.

chal cid (kal'sid), a very small four-winged insect whose larvae live as parasites on other insects. n.

Chal de a

(kal dē'ā), an ancient region in SW Asia, on the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. n.

Chal de an (kal dē'an), 1. of or having to do with Chaldea, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Chaldea. The Chaldeans were a Semitic tribe closely related to the Babylonians. 3. language of Chaldea. 4. of or having to do with astrology or magic. 5. astrologer; magician. 1,4 adj., 2,3,5 n.

Chaise

cha let (sha lā' or shal'ā), 1. a herdsman's hut or cabin in the Swiss mountains. 2. a Swiss house with wide, overhanging eaves. 3. house somewhat like it. n.

chal ice (chal'is), 1. cup; goblet. 2. cup that holds the wine used in the Communion service. 3. flower shaped like a cup. n.

chal iced (chal'ist), 1. having a flower shaped like a cup. 2. contained in a chalice. adj.

chalk (chôk), 1. a soft limestone, made up mostly of very small fossil sea shells. Chalk is white, gray, or yellow in color and is used for making lime and for writing or drawing. 2. substance like chalk, used for writing or drawing on a blackboard. 3. piece of this substance. 4. mark, write, or draw with chalk. 5. mix or rub with chalk; whiten with chalk. 6. score; record. 1-3 n., 4-6 v.

chalk up, 1. write down; record. 2. score. chalk y (chôk'ē), 1. of chalk; containing chalk. 2. like chalk; white as chalk: The clown's face was chalky. adj., chalk i er, chalk i est. —chalk'i ness, n.

chal lenge (chal'anj), 1. call to fight; especially, call to fight in a duel. 2. call to a game or contest. 3. call to answer and explain: A guard challenges all people who come near the fort, asking them who they are and what they are doing (v.). "Who goes there?" is the guard's challenge (n.). 4. question; doubt; dispute: I challenge your statement; you must prove it before I believe it. 5. object to: The attorney for the defense challenged the juror. 6. objection: The judge sustained the challenge and dismissed the juror from duty. 7. claim; demand: Preventing disease is a problem that challenges everyone's attention. 1-5,7 v., chal lenged, chal leng ing; 1-3,6,7 n.

—chal'enge a ble, adj. —chal'leng er, n.

chal lis or chal lie (shal'ē), a lightweight woolen, woolen and cotton, or rayon cloth, used for dresses. n.

cham ber (châm'bær), 1. a room (in a house). 2. bedroom. 3. hall where a legislature or a governing body meets. 4. group of lawmakers: The Congress of the United States has two chambers, the Senate and the House of Representatives. 5. group of people organized for some business purpose: There is a Chamber of Commerce in many American cities. 6. any enclosed space in the body of an animal or plant, or in some kinds of machinery. The part of a gun that holds the charge is called the chamber. The heart has four chambers. n.

chambers, 1. Brit. set of rooms in a building to live in or use as offices. 2. office of a lawyer or judge.

cham bered (châm'bærd), having a chamber or chambers; divided into compartments. adj.

cham ber lain (châm'bær lin), 1. person who manages the household of a king or lord; steward. 2. a high official of a king's court. 3. treasurer: city chamberlain. n.

cham ber maid (châm'bær-mâd'), maid who makes the beds, cleans the bedrooms, etc. n.

chamber music, music suited to a room or small hall; music for a trio, quartet, etc.

cham bray (sham'brä), a cotton cloth woven from white and colored threads, used for dresses and men's shirts. It is a kind ofingham. n.

cha me le on (kə mē'lē ən), 1. lizard that can change the color of its skin. 2. a changeable or fickle person. n.

cham fer (cham'fær), 1. a slanting surface made by cutting off an edge or corner. 2. cut off at an edge or corner to make a slanting surface. 3. make a groove or furrow in. 1 n., 2,3 v.

cham ois (sham'ē), 1. a small, goatlike antelope that lives in the high mountains of Europe and SW Asia.

Chalice (def. 2)

Chameleon (6 in. long)

Chamois (2 ft. high at the shoulder)

2. a soft leather made from the skin of sheep, goats, deer, etc. n., pl. cham ois.

champ¹ (champ), 1. bite and chew noisily. 2. bite on impatiently: The race horse champed its bit. v.

champ² (champ), Slang. champion. n.

cham pagne (sham pān'), 1. a sparkling, bubbling wine, first made in northern France. 2. a pale, brownish yellow. n.

cham pi on (cham'pē ən), 1. person, animal, or thing that wins first place in a game or contest: the swimming champion of the world. 2. having won first place; ahead of all others: a champion boxer, a champion rose. 3. person who fights or speaks for another; defender; supporter: a great champion of peace. 4. fight or speak in behalf of; defend; support: John championed his friend. 1,3 n., 2 adj., 4 v. —cham/pi on less, adj.

cham pi on ship (cham'pē ən ship'), 1. position of a champion; first place. 2. defense; support. n.

Cham plain (sham plān'), 1. Lake, a long, narrow lake between New York and Vermont. 125 mi. long; 600 sq. mi. 2. Samuel de, 1567-1635, French explorer who founded Quebec and was the first French governor of Canada. n.

chance (chans), 1. opportunity: a chance to make some money. 2. possibility; probability: There's a chance that the sick child will get well. 3. fate; luck. 4. a happening: Chance led to the finding of the diamond mine. 5. happen. 6. a risk: He took a chance when he swam the channel. 7. Informal. risk. 8. not expected or planned; accidental; casual: a chance visit. 1-4,6 n., 5,7 v., chanced, chanc ing; 8 adj.

by chance, accidentally.

chance upon or on, happen to find or meet.

chan cel (chan'sl), the space around the altar of a church, used by the clergy and the choir. It is often separated from the rest of the church by a railing, lattice, or screen. See apse for diagram. n.

chan cel ler y (chan'sə lər ē), 1. position of a chancellor. 2. office of a chancellor. n., pl. chan cel ler ies.

chan cel lor (chan'sə lər), 1. a very high official who is the secretary of a nobleman, king, or embassy. 2. U.S. the chief judge of certain courts. 3. the prime minister in Germany, and in Austria from 1919 to 1938. 4. title of the president in certain universities. n.

Chancellor of the Exchequer, the highest official of the treasury in Great Britain. He is a member of the Cabinet.

chan cel lor ship (chan'sə lər ship'), 1. position of a chancellor. 2. term of office of a chancellor. n.

chan cer y (chan'sər ē), 1. a court of equity. 2. equity. 3. office where public records are kept. 4. office of a chancellor. n., pl. chan cer ies.

in chancery, 1. in a court of equity. 2. in a helpless position.

chan cre (shang'kər), ulcer or sore with a hard base. n.

chan de lier (shan'də lir'), fixture with branches for lights, usually hanging from the ceiling. Chandeliers originally supported torches or candles, but most of them are now equipped with electric lights. n.

chan dler (chand'lər), 1. maker or seller of candles. 2. dealer in groceries and supplies: a ship chandler. n.

Chang chun (chāng'chūn'), city in S Manchuria. 750,000. n.

change (chānj), 1. become different: The wind changed from east to west. 2. make different: She changed the room by painting the walls green. 3. put (something) in place of another; substitute: change soiled clothes for clean ones. 4. take in place of: change a dollar bill for ten dimes. 5. give and take; exchange: I changed seats with my brother. 6. a changing; a passing from one form or place to another: The change from flower to fruit is interesting to watch. A change from the city to the country in the summer is good for children. 7. a changed condition. 8. lack of sameness; variety. 9. thing to be used in place of another of the same kind. 10. money returned to a person when he has given an amount larger than the price of what he buys. 11. smaller pieces of money given in place of a large piece of money: Please give me change for this dollar bill. 12. small coins. 1-5 v., changed, chang ing; 6-12 n. —change'er, n.

change a bil i ty (chān'jə bil'ə tē), changeable quality or condition. n.

change a ble (chān'jə bl), 1. that can change; likely to change: April weather is changeable. 2. that can be changed; likely to be changed; alterable; variable. 3. having a color or appearance that changes: Silk is called changeable when it looks different in different lights. adj. —change/a ble ness, n. —change/a bly, adv.

change ful (chānj'fəl), full of changes; likely to change; changing. adj. —change/ful ly, adv. —change/ful ness, n.

change less (chānj'lis), not changing; not likely to change; constant; steadfast. adj. —change/less ly, adv. —change/less ness, n.

change ling (chānj'ling), 1. a child secretly substituted for another. 2. a strange, stupid, or ugly child, supposed to have been left by fairies in place of a child carried off by them. n.

change of venue, change of the place of a trial.

change o ver (chānj'ō'vər), 1. a shifting to the manufacture of a new model. 2. a transfer of ownership or control. n.

chan nel (chan'l), 1. the bed of a stream, river, etc. 2. body of water joining two larger bodies of water: the English Channel. 3. the deeper part of a waterway: There is shallow water on both sides of the channel in this river. 4. passage for liquids; groove. 5. the means by which something is carried: The information came through secret channels. 6. a narrow band of radio or television frequencies. 7. form a channel in; cut out as a channel: The river had channelled its way through the rocks. 1-6 n., 7 v., chan neled, chan nel ing or esp. Brit. chan nelled, chan nel ling.

Channel Islands, British islands near the NW coast of France. The most important are Alderney, Guernsey, and Jersey. 103,000 pop.; 75 sq. mi.

chant (chant), 1. song. 2. sing. 3. a short, simple song in which several syllables or words are sung in one tone. It is used in a church service. 4. sing in this way. A choir chants psalms or prayers. 5. psalm, prayer, or other song for chanting. 6. a sing-song way of talking. 7. keep talking about; say over and over again. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4,7 v. —chant'er, n.

chant ey (shan'tē or chan'tē), song sung by sailors in rhythm with the motions made during their work. n., pl. chant eys. Also, shanty.

chan ti cleer (chan'tə klir), rooster. n.

chant y (shan'tē or chan'tē), chantey. n., pl. chant ies.

cha os (kā'os), 1. great confusion; complete disorder: The whirlwind left chaos behind it. 2. the infinite space or formless matter before the universe existed. n.

cha ot ic (kā ot'ik), in great confusion; very confused; completely disordered. adj.

cha ot i cal ly (kā ot'ik lē), in a chaotic manner; in great confusion or disorder. adv.

chap¹ (chap), 1. crack open; make or become rough. A person's lips or skin often chap in cold weather. 2. a place where the skin is chapped. 1 v., chapped, chap ping; 2 n.

chap^s (chap), Informal. fellow; man; boy. n.

chap., 1. chapter. 2. chaplain. 3. chapel.

chap book (chap/buk'), a small book or pamphlet of popular tales, ballads, etc., formerly sold on the streets. n.

cha peau (sha pō'), hat. n., pl. cha peaux or cha-peaus (-pōz').

chap el (chap'l), 1. a building for Christian worship, not so large as a church. 2. a small place for worship in a larger building. 3. a room or building for worship in a palace, school, etc. 4. a religious service in a chapel. 5. in Great Britain, a place for worship used by people who do not belong to an established church. n.

chap er on or chap er one (shap'er ōn). 1. a married woman or an older woman who accompanies a young unmarried woman in public for the sake of good form and protection. 2. act as a chaperon to. 1 n., 2 v., chap er oned, chap er on ing.

chap lain (chap'lən), clergyman officially authorized to perform religious functions for a family, court, society, public institution, regiment, or warship. n.

chap lain ey (chap'lən sē), position of a chaplain. n.

chap let (chap'lit), 1. wreath worn on the head. 2. string of beads. 3. string of beads for keeping count in saying prayers, one third as long as a rosary. 4. prayers said with such beads. n.

chap man (chap'mən), Brit. peddler. n., pl. chap men.

chaps (shaps or chaps), U.S. strong leather trousers without a back, worn over other trousers by cowboys. n.pl.

chap ter (chap'tər), 1. a main division of a book or other writing, dealing with a certain part of the story or subject. 2. anything like a chapter; part; section: The development of radio is an interesting chapter in modern science. 3. a local division of an organization; branch of a club, society, etc. n.

Cha pul te pec (chə pul'tə pek), fort on a rocky hill near Mexico City. American forces captured the fort in 1847 during the Mexican War. An international conference was held here in 1945 during World War II. n.

char (chär), 1. burn to charcoal. 2. burn slightly; scorch. v., charred, char ring.

char ac ter (kar'ik tər), 1. all qualities or features possessed; kind; sort; nature: What is the character of the plan you suggest? The trees on those islands are of a peculiar character. 2. moral strength or weakness; special way in which any person feels, thinks, and acts: a shallow, changeable character. 3. moral firmness; self-control; integrity: It takes character to endure slander. Clyde has no character whatever. 4. reputation. 5. good reputation. 6. a special thing or quality which makes one person, one animal, one plant, or thing, or a group of any kind, different from others; trait; characteristic. The size and form of a given breed of dogs and the fragrance of a sweet pea are characters. 7. position; condition: The treasurer of the club also serves in the character of secretary. 8. person in a play or book. 9. Informal. person who attracts attention because he is different or odd: The old captain was a character in the village. 10. letter, mark, or sign used in writing or printing. A, a, %, +, -, 1, 2, and 3 are characters. 11. description of a person's qualities. n.

in character, as expected; appropriate.

out of character, not as expected; not appropriate.

char ac ter is tic (kar'ik tər is'tik), 1. marking off or distinguishing a certain person or thing from others; special: Bananas have their own characteristic smell. 2. a special quality or feature; whatever distinguishes one person or thing from others: Cheerfulness is a characteristic that we admire in people. An elephant's trunk is its most noticeable characteristic. 3. the integral part of a logarithm. In the logarithm 2.95424, the characteristic is 2 and the mantissa is .95424. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

char ac ter is ti cal ly (kar'ik tər is'tik lē), in a way that shows characteristics; specially; typically. adv.

Cowboy wearing chaps char ac ter i za tion (kar'ik tər ə zā'shən), 1. act of characterizing; description of characteristics. 2. creation of characters in a play or book. n.

char ac ter ize (kar'ik tər iz), 1. describe the special qualities or features of (a person or thing); describe: I would characterize our teacher as a very friendly person. 2. be a characteristic of; distinguish: A camel is characterized by the humps on its back and an ability to go without water for several days. 3. give character to. v., char ac ter ized, char ac ter iz ing.

cha rade (shə rād'), game of guessing a word from the descriptive or dramatic representation of each syllable or part, and of the whole. n.

char coal (chär'kōl'), 1. the black substance, a form of carbon, made by partly burning wood or bones in a place from which the air is shut out. Charcoal is used as fuel and in filters. 2. pencil made of charcoal for drawing. 3. a drawing made with such a pencil. n.

chard (chärd), kind of beet whose large leaves are eaten as a vegetable. n.

charge (chärj), 1. load; fill. A gun is charged with powder and shot. A battery is charged with electricity. 2. quantity needed to load or fill something. A gun is fired by exploding the charge of powder and shot. 3. give a task, duty, or responsibility to: The law charges policemen with keeping law and order. 4. task; duty; responsibility: Arresting criminals is the charge of the police. 5. care; management: Doctors and nurses have charge of sick people. 6. person or thing under the care or management of someone: Sick people are the charges of doctors and nurses. 7. give an order or command to; direct: He charged us to keep the plan secret. The judge charged the jury. 8. an order; command; direction: a judge's charge to the jury. 9. accuse: The driver was charged with speeding. 10. accusation: He admitted the charge and paid a fine. 11. ask as a price; put a price on: This store charges little for hats. 12. price asked for or put on something. 13. put down as a debt to be paid. Some stores will charge things that one buys and let one pay for them later. 14. a debt to be paid: Taxes are a charge on property. 15. attack; rush with force: The soldiers charged the enemy (v.). The charge drove the enemy back (n.). 1, 3, 7, 9, 11, 13, 15 v., charged, charging; 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, 15 n.

charge off, 1. subtract as a loss. 2. put down as belonging: A bad mistake must be charged off to experience.

in charge, having the care or management.

in charge of, 1. having the care or management of. 2. under the care or management of.

charge a ble (chär'jə bl), 1. that can be charged: If you take anything that belongs to someone else, you are chargeable with theft. Taxes are chargeable against the owners of property. 2. liable to become a public charge. adj.

char gé d'af faires (shär zhā' də fär'), official who takes the place of an ambassador, minister, or other diplomat. pl. char gés d'af faires (shär zhāz' də fär').

charg er¹ (chär'jər), 1. a war horse. 2. person or thing that charges. n.

charg er² (chär'jər), Archaic. a large, flat dish; platter. n.

charg ing (chär'jing), 1. act of loading; filling. 2. that charges. 1 n., 2 adj.

char i ly (chär'ə lē), carefully; warily. adv.

char i ness (chär'ē nis), caution; sparingness. n.

char i ot (chär'ē ət), 1. a two-wheeled car pulled by horses, used in ancient times in fighting, racing, and processions. 2. a four-wheeled carriage or coach. n.

char i ot eer (chär'ē ətir'), person who drives a chariot. n.

char i ta ble (chär'ə tə bl), 1. of charity; for charity: Homes for old people are often charitable establishments.

Roman chariot

2. generous in giving help to poor or suffering people.

3. kindly in judging people and their actions. adj.

—char/i ta ble ness, n. —char/i ta bly, adv.

char i ty (chär'ə tē), 1. help given to the poor or suffering. 2. act or work of charity. 3. fund, institution, or organization for helping the poor or suffering. 4. Christian love of one's fellow men. 5. kindness in judging people's faults. n., pl. char i ties.

cha riv a ri (shiv'ə rē/ or shə riv'ə rē/), a mock sere-nade made by beating on kettles, pans, etc.; shivaree. n., pl. cha riv a ris.

char la tan (shär'lə tən), person who pretends to have more knowledge or skill than he really has; quack. n.

char la tan ism (shär'lə tən iz'm), the practices or methods of a charlatan; quackery. n.

char la tan ry (shär'lə tən rē), charlatanism. n.

Char le magne (shär'lə män), 742?-814 A.D., king of the Franks from 768 to 814 A.D. and emperor of the Holy Roman Empire from 800 to 814 A.D. and champion of Christendom against the invading Moors. He made many reforms in government and education in western Europe. n.

Charles (chär lz), 1. Cape, cape in SE Virginia, on the E side of Chesapeake Bay. 2. river in E Massachusetts, between Boston and Cambridge. 47 mi. n.

Charles I, 1600-1649, king of England from 1625, executed in 1649.

Charles II, 1630-1685, king of England from 1660 to 1685. He was the son of Charles I.

Charles's Wain (chär lz'z), the Big Dipper.

Charles ton (chär lz'tən), 1. capital of West Virginia, in the W part. 86,000. 2. seaport in SE South Carolina. 66,000. 3. a kind of dance of the 1920's. n.

char ley horse (chär'lē), U.S. Informal. stiffness caused by straining a muscle.

char lock (chär'lək), weed with yellow flowers; wild mustard. n.

Char lotte (shär'lət), city in the southern part of North Carolina. 202,000. n.

Char lot te A ma li e (shär lət'ə ə mäl'ē ə), seaport and capital of the Virgin Islands that belong to the United States. 13,000.

char lot te russe (shär'lət rüs'), dessert made of a mold of sponge cake filled with whipped cream or custard.

Char lot te town (shär'lət toun), capital of Prince Edward Island, Canada. 17,000. n.

charm (chärm), 1. power of delighting or fascinating; attractiveness: Our grandmother did not lose her charm for us as she grew old. 2. a very pleasing quality or feature. 3. please greatly; delight; fascinate; attract: The old sailor's stories of his adventures charmed the boys. 4. a small ornament or trinket worn on a watch chain, bracelet, etc. 5. word, verse, act, or thing supposed to have magic power to help or harm people. 6. act on as if by magic: Laughter charmed away his troubles. 7. give magic power to; protect as by a charm. 1,2,4,5 n., 3,6,7 v. —charm/less, adj.

char med (chärmd), 1. delighted; fascinated. 2. enchanted. 3. protected as by a charm: He bears a charmed life. adj.

charm er (chär'mər), one who charms, delights, or fascinates. n.

charm ing (chär'ming), very pleasing; delightful; fascinating; attractive. adj. —charm/ing ly, adv.

char nel house (chär'nl), place where dead bodies or bones are laid.

Char on (kär'ən), in Greek mythology, the boatman who ferried the spirits of the dead across the river Styx to Hades. n.

chart (chärt), 1. map. A sailor's chart shows the coasts, rocks, and shallow places of a sea. The course of a ship is marked on a chart. 2. an outline map showing special conditions or facts: a weather chart. 3. sheet giving information in lists, pictures, tables, or diagrams.

4. such a list, table, picture, or diagram. 5. make a chart of; show on a chart: chart a course. 1-4 n., 5 v. —chart/less, adj.

char ter (chär'tər), 1. a written grant by a national or state government to a colony, a group of citizens, or a commercial company, bestowing the right of organization, with other privileges, and specifying the form of organization. 2. a written order from the authorities of a society, giving to a group of persons the right to organize a new chapter, branch, or lodge. 3. give a charter to. 4. hire: charter a ship. 1,2 n., 3,4 v. —char/ter-less, adj.

char ter member, one of the original members of a club, society, or company.

Char tres (shär'trə), city in N France. Its fine Gothic cathedral is over 700 years old. 29,000. n.

char treuse (shär tröz'; also shär trüz' for 2), 1. a green, yellow, or white liqueur first made by Carthusian monks. 2. light, yellowish green. 1,2 n., 2 adj.

char wom an (chär'wum'ən), woman whose work is doing odd jobs by the day. She cleans and scrubs homes, offices, and public buildings. n., pl. char wom en.

char y (chär'ē), 1. careful: A cat is chary of wetting its paws. 2. shy: A bashful person is chary of strangers.

3. sparing; stingy: A jealous person is chary of praising others. adj., char i er, char i est.

Cha ryb dis (kä rib'dis), whirlpool in the strait between Sicily and Italy, opposite the rock Scylla. Charybdis sucked down ships. n.

between Scylla and Charybdis, between two dangers, one of which must be met.

chase¹ (chās), 1. run after to catch or kill. 2. a chasing: We watched the chase. 3. drive; drive away: English sparrows chase other birds from their nests. 4. hunt. 5. hunting as a sport. 6. a hunted animal: The chase escaped the hunter. 7. follow; pursue: chase a ball. 8. Informal. rush; hurry. 1,3,4,7,8 v., chased, chasing; 2,5,6 n.

give chase, run after; chase.

chase² (chās), 1. a groove; furrow; trench. 2. an iron frame to hold type that is ready to print or make plates from. n.

Chase (chās), Salmon P., 1808-1873, American statesman. He was secretary of the treasury under Lincoln, and chief justice of the Supreme Court from 1864 to 1873. n.

chaser (chās'er), 1. person or thing that chases. 2. hunter. 3. a small, speedy airplane or ship for pursuing the enemy. 4. gun on the bow or stern of a ship. It is used when chasing, or being chased by, another ship. 5. U.S. Informal. a drink of water or something mild after a drink of strong liquor. n.

chasm (kaz'əm), 1. a deep opening or crack in the earth; gap. 2. a wide difference of feelings or interests between people or groups: The chasm between England and the American colonies grew wider and wider until it finally resulted in the American Revolution. n.

chas sis (shas'ē), 1. the frame, wheels, and machinery of a motor vehicle that support the body. 2. the main landing gear that supports the body of an aircraft. 3. the frame on which a gun carriage moves backward and forward. n., pl. chas sis (shas'ēz).

chaste (chäst), 1. pure; virtuous. 2. decent; modest. 3. simple in taste or style; not too much ornamented. adj. —chaste/ly, adv. —chaste/ness, n.

chas ten (chäs'n), 1. punish to improve: God chastened Moses. 2. restrain from excess or crudeness. v. —chas'ten er, n.

chas tise (chas tiz'), punish; beat. v., chas tised, chas tis ing. —chas tis'er, n.

chas tise ment (chas'tiz mēt or chas tiz'mēt), punishment; beating. n.

chas ti ty (chas'tə tē), 1. purity; virtue. 2. decency; modesty. 3. simplicity of style or taste; absence of too much decoration. n.

chas u ble (chaz'yù bl), a sleeveless outer vestment worn over all other vestments by the priest at Mass. n.

chat (chat), 1. easy, familiar talk: a pleasant chat about old times. 2. talk in an easy, familiar way: We sat chatting by the fire after supper. 3. any of several birds with a chattering cry. 1,3 n., 2 v., chat ted, chat ting.

châ teau (sha tō'), 1. a French castle. 2. a large country house in France. n., pl. châ teaux (-tōz').

Châ teau-Thier ry (sha tō'tyār'ē), town in N France, on the Marne River. Several battles were fought near there in World War I. 9000. n.

chat e laine (shat'lān), 1. mistress or lady of a castle. 2. clasp worn at a woman's waist. Keys, a purse, etc., are fastened to it by a chain. n.

Chat ham (chat'əm), the first Earl of, 1708-1778, William Pitt, English statesman and orator. n.

Chat ta hoo chee (chat'ə hū'chē), river flowing from N Georgia that forms the boundary between Georgia and Alabama. 400 mi. n.

Chat ta noo ga (chat'ə nü'gə), city in SE Tennessee, on the Tennessee River. 130,000. n.

chat tel (chat'l), a movable possession; piece of property that is not real estate. Furniture, automobiles, slaves, and animals are chattels. n.

chat ter (chat'ər), 1. talk constantly, rapidly, and foolishly. 2. quick, foolish talk. 3. make quick, indistinct sounds: Monkeys chatter. 4. quick, indistinct sounds: The chatter of sparrows annoyed her. 5. rattle together: Fear or cold sometimes makes a person's teeth chatter. 1,3,5 v., 2,4 n.

chat ter box (chat'ər boks'), person who talks all the time. n.

chat ter er (chat'ər ər), one who chatters. n.

chat ty (chat'ē), fond of friendly, familiar talk. adj., chat ti er, chat ti est. —chat'ti ly, adv. —chat'ti ness, n.

Chau cer (chō'sər), Geoffrey, 1340?-1400, English poet, author of The Canterbury Tales. n.

chau feur (shō'fər or shō'fēr'), 1. man whose work is driving an automobile. 2. act as a chauffeur to; drive around. 1 n., 2 v.

chaunt (chōnt), Archaic. chant. n., v.

chau tau qua or Chau tau qua (shō tō'kwə), an assembly for education and entertainment of adults by lectures, concerts, etc., held for several days. n.

Chau tau qua (shō tō'kwə), lake and village in SW New York State where chautauquas were first held. n.

chau vin ism (shō'vən iz əm), unreasoning enthusiasm for the military glory of one's country; boastful, warlike patriotism. n.

chau vin ist (shō'vən ist), 1. an unreasoning patriot; boastful, warlike person. 2. chauvinistic. 1 n., 2 adj.

chau vin is tic (shō'vən is'tik), of chauvinism or chauvinists. adj. —chau'vin is'ti cal ly, adv.

cheap (chēp), 1. costing little: Eggs are cheap now. 2. costing less than it is worth. 3. charging low prices: a cheap market. 4. easily obtained. 5. of low value; common: cheap entertainment. 6. at a low price; at small cost. 1-5 adj., 6 adv. —cheap'ness, n.

feel cheap, feel inferior and ashamed.

cheap en (chēp'ən), make or become cheap; lower the value of. v.

cheap ly (chēp'lē), at a low price; at small cost. adv.

Cheap side (chēp'sid'), a famous street in London that was a busy market place in medieval times. n.

cheat (chēt), 1. deceive or trick; play or do business in a way that is not honest. 2. person who is not honest and does things to deceive and trick others. 3. fraud; trick. 1 v., 2,3 n. —cheat'er, n.

check (chek), 1. stop suddenly: The boys checked their steps. 2. a sudden stop: The message gave a check to our plans. 3. hold back; control; restrain: check one's anger. 4. a holding back; control; restraint. 5. any person, thing, or event that controls or holds back action. A rein used to prevent a horse from lowering his head is a check. 6. rebuff; repulse; reverse: check an enemy attack. 7. examine or compare to prove true or right: Check your answers with mine. 8. such examination or comparison: My work will be a check on yours. 9. mark to show that something has been checked and found true or right. 10. used in checking. 11. a ticket or metal piece given in return for a coat, hat, baggage, package, etc., to show ownership. 12. get a check for; put a check on: check one's hat. 13. a written order directing a bank to pay money to the person named on it; cheque. 14. write a check; draw a check. 15. a written statement of the amount owed in a restaurant: When we finished eating, Father asked the waitress for the check. 16. mark in a pattern of squares. 17. a pattern made of squares: Do you want a check or a stripe for your new dress? 18. one of these squares: The checks are small in this pattern. 19. marked in a pattern of squares. 20. crack; split. 21. a call in the game of chess warning that an opponent's king is in danger. 22. in chess, position of an opponent's king when it is in danger and must be moved, or the threatening piece blocked off or removed. 23. have (an opponent's king) in this position. 1,3,6,7,9,12,14,16,20,23 v., 2,4-6,8,9,11,13,15,17,18,20,22 n., 10,19 adj., 21 interj. —check'able, adj.

C, chasuble.

in check, held back; controlled.

check book (chek'būk'), book of blank checks on a bank. n.

checked (chekt), marked in a pattern of squares. adj.

check er (chek'ər), 1. mark in a pattern of squares of different colors. 2. a pattern made of such squares. 3. one of these squares. 4. mark off with patches different from one another: The ground under the trees was checkered with sunlight and shade. 5. change; vary; have ups and downs. 6. one of the flat, round pieces used in the game of checkers. 1,4,5 v., 2,3,6 n.

check er (chek'ər), person or thing that checks. n.

check er ber ry (chek'ər ber'ē), 1. the bright-red berry of the American wintergreen plant. 2. the plant. n., pl. check er ber ries.

check er board (chek'ər bōrd'), board marked in a pattern of 64 squares of two alternating colors, used in playing checkers or chess. n.

check ered (chek'ərd), 1. marked in a pattern of squares of different colors. 2. marked in patches. 3. often changing; varied; irregular: a checkered career. adj.

check ers (chek'ərz), a game played on a checkerboard by two people. Each player has 12 round, flat pieces to move. n. Also, Brit. draughts.

check mate (chek'māt'), 1. in chess, put (an opponent's king) in check and so win the game. 2. a move that ends the game by putting the opponent's king in check. 3. defeat completely. 4. a complete defeat. 1,3 v., check mated, check mat ing; 2,4 n.

check off (chek'ōf'), system of collecting union dues through wage deductions made by the employer. n.

check point (chek'point'), place of inspection on a road, at a border, etc. n.

check rein (chek'rān'), 1. a short rein to keep a horse from lowering its head. 2. a short rein connecting the bit of one of a team of horses to the driving rein of the other. n.

check room (chek'rūm'), place where coats, hats, baggage, etc., can be left until called for later. n.

check up (chek'up'), 1. a careful examination. 2. a thorough physical examination. n.

Ched dar (ched'ər), kind of hard, white or yellow cheese. n.

cheek (chēk), 1. side of the face below either eye. 2. something suggesting the human cheek in form or position. 3. Informal. saucy talk or behavior; impudence. n.

tongue in cheek, insincere; saying one thing and meaning another.

cheek bone (chĕk'bōn'), bone just below either eye. n.

cheek y (chĕk'ē), Informal. saucy; impudent. adj., cheek ier, cheek i est. —cheek'ily, adv. —cheek'iness, n.

cheep (chĕp), 1. make a short, sharp sound like a young bird; chirp; peep. 2. a short, sharp sound like that of a young bird; chirp; peep. 1 v., 2 n. —cheep'er, n.

cheer (chir), 1. joy; gladness; comfort; encouragement: The warmth of the fire and a good meal brought cheer to our hearts again. 2. fill with cheer; give joy to; gladden; comfort; encourage: It cheered the old woman to have us visit her. 3. a shout of encouragement, approval, praise, etc.: Give three cheers for the boys who won the game for us. 4. shout encouragement, approval, praise, etc. 5. urge on with cheers: Everyone cheered our team. 6. greet or welcome with cheers. 7. food. 8. state of mind; condition of feeling: "Be of good cheer," said the priest. 1,3,7,8 n., 2,4-6 v.

cheer up, don't be sad; be glad.

cheer ful (chir'fəl), 1. full of cheer; joyful; glad: a smiling, cheerful person. 2. filling with cheer; pleasant; bright: a cheerful, sunny room. 3. willing: a cheerful giver. adj. —cheer'ful ly, adv. —cheer'fulness, n.

cheer i o (chir'ē ō), Esp. Brit. Informal. 1. hello! 2. good-by! 3. hurrah! interj., n., pl. cheer ios.

cheer less (chir'lis), without joy or comfort; gloomy; dreary. adj. —cheer'less ly, adv. —cheer'less ness, n.

cheer y (chir'ē), cheerful; pleasant; bright; gay: Sunshine and the singing of birds are cheery. adj., cheer i er, cheer i est. —cheer'ily, adv. —cheer'iness, n.

cheese (chĕz), 1. a solid food made from the thick part of milk. 2. mass of this pressed into a shape. n. —cheese'like', adj.

cheese burg er (chĕz'bĕrg'ər), a hamburger sandwich with a slice of melted cheese on top of the meat. n.

cheese cake, dessert made of cheese, eggs, sugar, etc., baked together.

cheese cloth (chĕz'klōth'), a thin, loosely woven cotton cloth, first used for wrapping cheese. n.

chees y (chĕz'ē), 1. of or like cheese. 2. U.S. Slang. not well made; inferior. adj., chees i er, chees i est.

chee tah (chĕ'tā), a flesh-eating mammal somewhat like a leopard, found in S Asia and Africa. Cheetahs can be trained to hunt deer and antelope. n. Also, chetah.

chef (shĕf), 1. a head cook. 2. cook. n.

che la (kĕ'lā), claw of a lobster, crab, scorpion, etc. It is like a pincer. n., pl.

che lae (-lē).

chem., 1. chemistry. 2. chemical. 3. chemist.

chem i cal (kem'ə kl), 1. of chemistry: chemical knowledge. 2. made by or used in chemistry: a chemical change. 3. any substance obtained by or used in a chemical process. Sulfuric acid, bicarbonate of soda, and borax are chemicals. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

chemical engineering, science or profession of using chemistry for industrial purposes.

chem i cal ly (kem'ik lē), 1. according to chemistry. 2. by chemical processes. adv.

che mise (shĕ mĕz'), a loose, shirtlike undergarment worn by women and girls. n.

chem ist (kem'ist), 1. expert in chemistry. 2. Brit. druggist. n.

chem is try (kem'is trē), 1. science that deals with the characteristics of elements or simple substances, the changes that take place when they combine to form other substances, and the laws of their combination and behavior under various conditions. 2. the application of this to a certain subject: the chemistry of foods. n., pl. chem is tries.

chem ur gy (kem'ər jē), branch of chemistry that deals with the use of farm products, such as casein and cornstalks, for purposes other than food and clothing. n.

che nille (shĕ nĕl'), 1. a velvety cord, used in embroidery, fringe, etc. 2. fabric woven from this cord, used for rugs, curtains, etc. n.

Che ops (kĕ'ops), 2900? B.C., Greek name of Khufu, king of Egypt during the fourth dynasty. He built the great pyramid near Giza. n.

cheque (chek), Brit. check; a written order directing a bank to pay money to the person named on it. n.

Cheq uers (chek'ərz), the official country residence of the prime minister of Great Britain, northwest of London. n.

Cher bourg (shār'bürg), seaport in NW France. 38,000. n.

cher ish (cher'ish), 1. hold dear; treat with affection; care for tenderly: A mother cherishes her baby. 2. keep in mind; cling to: For many years the old woman cherished the hope that her wandering son would come home. v.

Che o kee (cher'ə kē), 1. member of a tribe of American Indians, now living mostly in Oklahoma. 2. their language. n., pl. Cher o kee or Che o kees.

Cherokee rose, an evergreen plant with glossy leaflets and fragrant white flowers. It grows wild in the southern part of the United States.

che root (shā rūt'), cigar cut off square at both ends. n.

cher ry (cher'ē), 1. a small, round, juicy fruit with a stone or pit in it. Cherries are good to eat. 2. the tree that it grows on. 3. its wood. 4. made of this wood. 5. bright red. 1-3,5 n., pl. cher ries; 4,5 adj.

cher ub (cher'əb), 1. one of the second highest order of angels. 2. picture or statue of a child with wings, or of a child's head with wings. 3. a beautiful, innocent, or good child. 4. person with a chubby, innocent face. n., pl. cher u bim for 1 and 2, cher ubs for 3 and 4. che ru bic (chā rū'bik), 1. of or like a cherub; angelic. 2. innocent; good. 3. chubby. adj. —che ru'bi cal ly, adv.

cher u bim (cher'ə bim), 1. a pl. of cherub. 2. (formerly) cherub. 1 n.pl., 2 n. sing.

cher vil (chĕr'vl), plant of the same family as parsley. The leaves are used to flavor soups, salads, etc. n.

Ches a peake Bay (ches'ə pĕk), bay of the Atlantic, in Maryland and Virginia. 200 mi. long; from 4 to 40 mi. wide.

Chesh ire cat (chesh'ər), creature that grins fixedly. The grinning cat in Alice in Wonderland is called a Cheshire cat.

chess (ches), game played on a chessboard by two people. Each player has 16 pieces to move in different ways. n.

chess board (ches'bōrd'), board marked in a pattern of 64 squares of two different colors, used in playing chess. n.

chess man (ches'man'), one of the pieces used in playing chess. n., pl. chess men (-men').

chest (chest), 1. part of a person's or an animal's body enclosed by ribs. 2. a large box with a lid, used for holding things: a linen chest, a tool chest. 3. piece of furniture with drawers. 4. a tight container for gas, steam, etc. 5. place where money is kept; treasury. 6. the money itself. n.

Ches ter (ches'tər), city in SE Pennsylvania. 64,000. n.

ches ter field (ches'tər fĕld), a single-breasted overcoat with the buttons hidden. n.

Cheetah (2 ft. high at the shoulder)

Cheela of a lobster

chest nut (ches'nut), 1. a large tree belonging to the same family as the beech, that bears sweet edible nuts in prickly burs. 2. nut of this tree. 3. wood of this tree. 4. reddish brown. 5. a reddish-brown horse with mane and tail of the same or a lighter color. 6. Informal. a stale joke or story. 1-6 n., 4 adj.

che tah (chē'tā), cheetah. n.

chev a liar (shēv'ə lir'), 1. Archaic. knight. 2. member of the lowest rank in the Legion of Honor of France. n.

chev i ot (shēv'ē at), 1. a rough, woolen cloth. 2. a cotton cloth like it. n.

Cheviot Hills, hills on the boundary between England and Scotland. The highest peak is 2676 feet.

chev ron (shēv'rən), 1. a cloth design shaped like a Λ, worn on the sleeve by non-commissioned officers, policemen, etc., as an indication of rank, or by veterans and wounded soldiers to indicate length of service or wounds in war. 2. design shaped like Λ, used in coats of arms and in architecture. n.

C, chevrons.

chev y (shēv'ē), Brit. 1. a hunting cry. 2. hunt; chase. 3. scamper; race. 4. worry. 1,2 n., pl.

chev ies; 2-4 v., chev ied, chev y ing.

chew (chū), 1. crush or grind with the teeth. 2. a chewing. 3. thing chewed; piece for chewing. 4. think over; consider. 1,4 v., 2,3 n.

chewing gum, gum for chewing. It is usually chicle that has been sweetened and flavored.

che wink (chi wingk'), bird of eastern and central North America whose cry sounds somewhat like its name. The chewink is a kind of finch. n.

Chewink (8 in. long)

Chey enne¹ (shī an' or shī en'), 1. capital of Wyoming, in the SE part. 44,000. 2. river flowing from E Wyoming into the Missouri River in South Dakota. 290 mi. n.

Chey enne² (shī en'), 1. member of an Algonquian tribe of Indians, now living in Montana and Oklahoma. 2. this tribe. n., pl. Chey enne or Chey ennes.

Chiang Kai-shek (chyang' kī'shek'), born 1886, Chinese general and political leader, president of the Republic of China since 1948.

chic (shēk or shik'), 1. style. 2. stylish. 1 n., 2 adj.

Chi ca go (shā kō'gō or shā kā'gō), city in NE Illinois, on Lake Michigan. Chicago is the second largest city in the United States. 3,550,000. n.

chi cane (shī kăn'), 1. chicanery. 2. use chicanery. 3. get by chicanery. 1 n., 2,3 v., chi caned, chi can ing.

chi can er y (shī kăn'ər ē), low trickery; unfair practice; quibbling: Only a dishonest lawyer will use chicanery to win a lawsuit. n., pl. chi can-er ies.

chick (chik), 1. a young chicken. 2. a young bird. 3. child. n.

chick a dee (chik'ə dē), a small bird with black, white, and gray feathers. Its cry sounds somewhat like its name. n.

Chick a mau ga (chik'ə mō'gā), a small creek flowing from NW Georgia into the Tennessee River. The Confederates defeated the Union army there in 1863. n.

Chick a saw (chik'ə sō), member of a tribe of American Indians, now living in W Oklahoma. n., pl. Chick a saw or Chick a saws.

chick en (chik'en), 1. a young hen or rooster. 2. any hen or rooster. 3. flesh of a chicken used for food. 4. a young bird of certain other kinds. 5. U.S. Slang. a young person. 6. young: a chicken lobster. 1-5 n., 6 adj.

chick en-heart ed (chik'en hār'tid), timid; cowardly. adj.

chicken pox, a mild contagious disease of children accompanied by a rash on the skin.

Chickadee (5 in. long) chick weed (chik'wēd'), a common weed with small white flowers. The leaves and seeds are eaten by birds. n.

chic le (chik'li), a tasteless, gumlike substance used in making chewing gum. It is the dried milky juice of a sapodilla tree of tropical America. n.

chic o ry (chik'ə rē), 1. plant with bright-blue flowers whose leaves are used for salad. 2. its root, roasted and used as a substitute for coffee. n., pl. chic o ries.

chid (chid), chided, a pt. and a pp. of chide. v.

chid den (chid'n), chided, a pp. of chide. v.

chide (chīd), reproach; blame; scold: She chided the little girl for soiling her dress. v., chid ed or chid; chid ed, chid, or chid den; chid ing. —chid'ing ly, adv.

chief (chēf), 1. leader; head of a group; person highest in rank or authority: A fire chief is the head of a group of firemen. 2. head of a tribe or clan. 3. leading; at the head; highest in rank or authority. 4. main; most important: the chief thing to do. 5. upper third of an escutcheon. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 adj. —chief'less, adj.

in chief, at the head; of the highest rank or authority.

Chief Executive, the President of the United States or the governor of a State.

chief justice, judge who acts as chairman of a group of judges in a court.

chief ly (chēf'lē), 1. mainly; mostly: We visited Washington chiefly to see the Capitol and the White House. 2. first of all; above all. adv.

chief of staff, officer at the head of a group of high army officers. He directs military operations.

chief tain (chēf'tən), 1. chief of a tribe or clan. 2. leader; head of a group. n.

chief tain cy (chēf'tən sē), position or rank of a chieftain. n.

chief tain ship (chēf'tən ship), chieftaincy. n.

chif fon (shī fon' or shī'fon), a very thin silk or rayon cloth, used for dresses. n.

chif fo nier (shīf'ə nir'), a high bureau or chest of drawers, often having a mirror. n.

chig ger (chig'ər), 1. mite whose larvae stick to the skin and cause severe itching. 2. kind of flea; chigoe. n.

chig oe (chig'ō), 1. flea of the West Indies and South America. The female burrows under the skin of people and animals, where it causes severe itching and sores. 2. kind of mite; chigger. n.

chi hua hua (chī wā'wā), a very small dog of ancient Mexican breed. n.

chil blain (chil'blān'), an itching sore or redness on the hands or feet caused by cold. n.

child (chīld), 1. baby; infant. 2. boy or girl: games for children. 3. son or daughter: a mother's love for her children. 4. descendant. 5. person like a child in nearness, affection, interest, etc. 6. an immature person; childish person. 7. result; product. n., pl. child ren.

with child, pregnant.

child birth (chīld'berth'), giving birth to a child. n.

child hood (chīld'hūd), condition or time of being a child, especially between babyhood and adolescence. n.

child ish (chīl'dish), 1. of a child. 2. like a child. 3. not suitable for a grown person; weak; silly; foolish; babyish: Crying for things you can't have is childish. adj.

—child'ish ly, adv.

child ish ness (chīl'dish nis), 1. being like a child. 2. weakness; silliness. n.

child labor, work done by children in factories, business, etc.

child less (chīld'lis), having no child. adj. —child'-less ness, n.

child like (chīld'lik'), 1. like a child; innocent; frank; simple: He has a childlike love for a circus. 2. suitable for a child. adj. —child'like'ness, n.

child dren (chīld'rən), pl. of child. n.

child's play, something very easy to do.

Chil e (chīl'ē), country in southwestern South America. 7,500,000 pop.; 286,396 sq. mi. Capital: Santiago. n.

Chil e an (chīl'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with Chile or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Chile. 1 adj., 2 n.

chili (chil'ē), 1. a hot-tasting pod of red pepper, used for seasoning. 2. plant that it grows on, a tropical American shrub grown in the S part of the United States. n., pl. chilies. Also, chilli.

chili sauce, sauce made of red peppers, tomatoes, and spices, used on meat, fish, etc. Also, chilli sauce.

chill (chil), 1. unpleasant coldness: feel a sudden chill. 2. unpleasantly cold: a chill wind. 3. make cold. 4. become cold; feel cold. 5. a sudden coldness of the body with shivering: have a chill. 6. feeling cold; shivering. 7. harden (metal) on the surface by sudden cooling. 8. unfriendliness; lack of heartiness. 9. cold in manner; unfriendly; chilly. 10. a depressing influence; discouraging feeling. 11. depressing; discouraging. 12. depress; dispirit. 1,5,6,8,10 n., 2,9,11 adj., 3,4,7,12 v.

chilled (chil'd), made cold. adj.

chili (chil'ē), chili. n., pl. chilies.

chilliness (chil'ē nis), chilly quality. n.

chilling (chil'ing), 1. a making rather cold. 2. that chills. 1 n., 2 adj.

chilli sauce, chili sauce.

chilly (chil'ē), 1. unpleasantly cool; rather cold: a chilly day. 2. cold in manner; unfriendly: a chilly greeting. adj., chillier, chilliest.

Chimborazo (chim'bə rā'zō), volcano of the Andes Mountains, in W Ecuador. 20,702 ft. n.

chime (chim), 1. set of bells tuned to the musical scale and played usually by hammers or simple machinery. 2. the musical sound made by a set of tuned bells. 3. anything with a pleasantly harmonious sound: the tinkling chime of the brook. 4. make musical sounds on (a set of tuned bells). 5. ring out musically: The bells chimed at midnight. 6. agreement; harmony. 7. agree; be in harmony. 8. say or utter in cadence or singsong. 1-3,6 n., 4,5,7,8 v., chimed, chiming.

chime in, 1. be in harmony; agree: His ideas chimed in beautifully with mine. 2. Informal. join in.

chimera or chimaera (kə mir'ə), 1. in Greek legend, a monster with a lion's head, a goat's body, and a serpent's tail, supposed to breathe out fire. 2. a horrible creature of the imagination. 3. an absurd or impossible idea; wild fancy: The hope of changing dirt to gold was a chimera. n., pl. chimerae or chimaerae.

chimeric (kə mer'ik), chimerical. adj.

chimerical (kə mer'ə kl), 1. unreal; imaginary. 2. absurd; impossible: chimerical schemes for getting rich. 3. wildly fanciful; visionary. adj.

chimney (chim'nē), 1. an upright structure to make a draft and carry away smoke. 2. part of this that rises above a roof. 3. a glass tube put around the flame of a lamp. 4. crack or opening in a rock, mountain, volcano, etc. n., pl. chimneys.

chimney sweep, person whose work is cleaning out chimneys.

chimney swift, bird of North America that often builds its nest in unused chimneys.

chim pan zee (chim'pan zē' or chim pan'zē), an African manlike ape, smaller than a gorilla. It is probably the most intelligent ape. n.

chin (cnin), 1. the front of the lower jaw below the mouth. 2. Informal. chat; gossip. 1,2 n., 2 v., chinned, chinning. —chin-*less, adj.

chin oneself, hang by the hands from a bar, etc., and pull oneself up until one's chin is even with or above it.

Chimney swift (5 or 6 in. long)

Chimpanzee (4½ ft. tall when standing)

China (chī'nə), 1. People's Republic of, a large country in E Asia, controlled by the Chinese Communists since 1949. 700,000,000 pop.; 3,745,296 sq. mi. Capital: Peking. 2. Republic of, the Chinese nationalist government on Taiwan. See Taiwan. n.

chi na (chī'nə), 1. a fine, white ware made of clay baked by a special process, first used in China. Colored designs can be baked into china. 2. dishes, vases, ornaments, etc., made of china. 3. earthen dishes of any kind. n.

China Sea, part of the Pacific east and southeast of Asia. Taiwan divides it into South China Sea and East China Sea.

chi na ware (chī'nə wār'), 1. dishes, vases, ornaments, etc., made of china. 2. earthen dishes of any kind. n.

chinch (chinch), 1. bedbug. 2. chinch bug. n.

chinch bug, a small, black-and-white bug that does much damage to wheat, corn, and other cereal plants in dry weather.

chin chil la (chin chil'ə),

1. a South American rodent that looks somewhat like a squirrel. 2. its very valuable soft, whitish-gray fur. 3. a thick woolen fabric woven in small, closely set tufts, used for overcoats. n.

Chinchilla (total length 15 in.)

chine (chīn), 1. backbone; spine. 2. piece of an animal's backbone with the meat on it, for cooking. 3. ridge; crest. n.

Chinese (chī nēz'), 1. native or inhabitant of China. 2. of China, its people, or their language. 3. person of Chinese descent. 4. language of China. 1,3,4 n., pl. Chinese; 2 adj.

Chinese Empire, China before it became a republic in 1912, including Manchuria, Mongolia, Tibet, and Sinkiang.

Chinese lantern, lantern of thin, colored paper that can be folded up.

Chinese Wall, a stone wall between China and Mongolia, about 1500 miles long. It was begun in the third century B.C. for the defense of China.

chink¹ (chinkg), 1. a narrow opening; crack; slit: The chinks between the logs of the cabin let in the wind and snow. 2. fill up the chinks in. 1 n., 2 v.

chink² (chinkg), 1. a short, sharp, ringing sound like coins or glasses hitting together. 2. make such a sound. 3. cause to make such a sound: He chinked the coins in his pocket. 1 n., 2,3 v.

Chi nook (shə nūk'), 1. member of a group of American Indian tribes living along the Columbia River in the northwestern United States. 2. the language of these Indians. n., pl. Chi nook or Chi nooks.

chi nook (shə nūk'), 1. a warm, moist wind blowing from the sea to the land in winter and spring in the northwestern United States. 2. U.S. a warm, dry wind that comes down to the Pacific coast from the Rocky Mountains. 3. the most important and largest species of salmon. n., pl. chi nook or chi nooks.

chin qua pin (ching'kə pin), 1. a dwarf chestnut tree, whose nuts are good to eat. 2. an evergreen tree of California and Oregon that has a similar nut. 3. nut of either tree. n.

chintz (chints), a cotton cloth printed in patterns of various colors and often glazed. n.

Chios (ki'os), Greek island in the E Aegean Sea. 67,000 pop.; 354 sq. mi. n.

chip (chip), 1. a small, thin piece cut from wood or broken from stone, china, etc. 2. a place where a small, thin piece has been cut or broken off: One of mother's plates has a chip on the edge. 3. cut or break off in small, thin pieces: chip off old paint. This china chips easily. 4. shape by cutting at the surface or edge with an ax or chisel. 5. a small, thin piece of food or candy: Potato chips are fried slices of potatoes. 6. a round, flat piece used for counting in games. 7. strip of wood, palm leaf, or straw used in making baskets or hats. 8. piece of dried dung, used for fuel in some regions. 1,2,5-8 n., 3,4 v., chipped, chip ping.

chip in, Informal. 1. join with others in giving (money or help). 2. put in (a remark) when others are talking.

chip munk (chip'mungk), a small, striped American squirrel. n.

chipped (chipt), of meat, smoked and cut in very thin slices: chipped beef. adj.

chip per (chip'er), U.S. Informal. lively; cheerful. adj.

Chip pe wa (chip'ə wā or chip'ə wā), Ojibwa. n., pl. Chip pe wa or Chip pe was.

chi rog ra phy (ki rog'rā fē), handwriting. n.

Chi ron (ki'ron), in Greek legend, a wise and kindly centaur, teacher of many Greek heroes. He was famous for his medical skill. n.

chi rop o dist (kə rop'ə dist), person who removes corns and treats other troubles of the feet. n.

chi rop o dy (kə rop'ə dē), work of a chiropodist. n.

chi ro prac tic (ki'rə prak'tik), 1. treatment of diseases by manipulating the spine. 2. chiropactor. 3. having to do with the treatment of diseases by manipulating the spine. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

chi ro prac tor (ki'rə prak'tər), person who treats diseases by manipulating the spine. n.

Chi rop te ra (ki rop'tə rə), an order of mammals (the bats) having forelimbs modified as wings. n.pl.

chirp (chērp), 1. make a short, sharp sound such as some small birds and insects make: Sparrows and crickets chirp. 2. such a sound. 3. utter with a chirp. 1,3 v., 2 n. —chirp'er, n.

chirr (chēr), 1. make a shrill, trilling sound: The grasshoppers chirred in the fields. 2. a shrill, trilling sound. 1 v., 2 n. Also, churr.

chir rup (chir'əp or chēr'əp), chirp again and again: He chirruped to his horse to make it go faster. v., chir-ruped, chir rup ing.

chis el (chiz'l), 1. a cutting tool with a sharp edge at the end of a strong blade, used to cut or shape wood, stone, or metal. 2. cut or shape with a chisel. 3. U.S. Slang. use unfair practices; cheat; swindle. 1 n., 2,3 v., chis eled, chis el ing or esp. Erit. chis elled, chis el ling.

chis el er or chis el ler (chiz'l or), 1. person or thing that chisels. 2. Slang. a cheat. n.

Chis holm Trail (chiz'əm), a famous western cattle trail from San Antonio, Texas, to Abilene, Kansas.

chit (chit), 1. child. 2. a saucy, forward girl. n.

chit-chat (chit'chat'), 1. friendly, informal talk; chat. 2. gossip. n.

chi tin (ki'tin), a horny substance forming the hard outer covering of beetles, lobsters, crabs, etc. n.

chi tin ous (kit'n əs), of or like chitin. adj.

chit ter lings (chit'ər lingz), parts of the small intestines of pigs, cooked as food. n.pl.

Chipmunk (total length 10 in.)

Chisel in use. It is made to cut very hard materials by hitting the end of the handle with a hammer or mallet.

chiv al ric (shiv'l rik or shə val'rik), 1. having to do with chivalry. 2. knightly; chivalrous. adj.

chiv al rous (shiv'l rəs), 1. having the qualities of an ideal knight; gallant, courteous, considerate, helpful, and honorable; knightly. 2. having to do with chivalry. adj. —chiv'al rous ly, adv. —chiv'al rous ness, n.

chiv al ry (shiv'l rē), 1. the qualities of an ideal knight in the Middle Ages. Chivalry included bravery, honor, courtesy, respect for women, protection of the weak, generosity, and fairness to enemies. 2. rules and customs of knights in the Middle Ages; system of knighthood. 3. knights as a group. 4. gallant warriors or gentlemen. n.

chive (chīv), plant of the same family as the onion, having a very small bulb. Its long, slender leaves are used as seasoning. n.

chlo ral (klō'rəl), 1. a colorless liquid, made from chlorine and alcohol. 2. chloral hydrate. n.

chloral hydrate, a white, crystalline drug used to quiet nervousness and produce sleep.

chlo rate (klō'rāt or klō'rit), salt of chloric acid. n. chlo ric (klō'rik), of or containing chlorine. Chloric acid is a colorless solution. adj.

chlo rid (klō'rid), chloride. n.

chlo ride (klō'rid), compound of chlorine with another element or radical; salt of hydrochloric acid. n.

chlo rin (klō'rin), chlorine. n.

chlo rin ate (klō'rə nāt), 1. combine or treat with chlorine. 2. disinfect with chlorine. v., chlo rin at ed, chlo rin at ing.

chlo rin a tion (klō'rə nā'shən), chlorinating. n.

chlo rine (klō'rēn), a poisonous, greenish-yellow, gaseous chemical element, used in bleaching and disinfecting. It is very irritating to the nose, throat, and lungs. Symbol: Cl n.

chlo ro form (klō'rə fōrm), 1. a colorless liquid with a sweetish smell, used as an anesthetic and to dissolve rubber, resin, wax, and many other substances. 2. make unable to feel pain by giving chloroform. 3. kill with chloroform. 1 n., 2,3 v.

chlo ro my ce tin (klō'rə mī'sə tin), an antibiotic drug, used chiefly against typhoid fever and certain types of pneumonia. n.

chlo ro phyll or chlo ro phyl (klō'rə fīl), the green coloring matter of plants. In the presence of light it makes carbohydrates, such as starch, from carbon dioxide and water. n.

chm. or chmn., chairman.

chock (chok), 1. block; wedge. A chock can be put under a barrel or wheel to keep it from rolling. A boat on a ship's deck is put on chocks. 2. provide or fasten with chocks. 3. put (a boat) on chocks. 4. block with two arms curving inward for a rope to pass through. 5. as close or as tight as can be; quite. 1,4 n., 2,3 v., 5 adv.

chock-full (chok'fūl'), as full as can be. adj. Also, chuck-full.

choc o late (chōk'lit or chōk'ə lit), 1. a substance made by roasting and grinding cacao seeds. 2. a drink made of chocolate with hot milk or water and sugar. 3. candy made of chocolate. 4. made of chocolate. 5. dark brown. 1-3,5 n., 4,5 adj.

Choc taw (chok'tō), 1. member of a tribe of American Indians, now living mostly in Oklahoma. 2. the language of these Indians. 3. any unknown or difficult language. n., pl. Choc taw or Choc taws.

choice (chois), 1. act of choosing: She made a careful choice in buying dress goods. 2. power or chance to choose: You have no other choice but to leave now. 3. person or thing chosen: This hat is my choice. 4. quantity and variety to choose from: a wide choice of vegetables in the market. 5. the best part: These flowers are the choice of my garden. 6. of fine quality; excellent; superior:

Chock (def. 4)

The choicest fruit had the highest price. 7. carefully chosen: choice arguments. 1-5 n., 6,7 adj., choic er, choic est. —choice'ly, adv. —choice'ness, n.

choir (kwîr), 1. group of singers used in a church service. 2. part of a church set apart for such a group. 3. any group of singers. 4. sing all together at the same time. 1-3 n., 4 v.

choke (chôk), 1. keep from breathing by squeezing or blocking up the throat: An assassin was hired to choke the king. The fumes from the acid choked the men in the factory. 2. be unable to breathe. 3. act or sound of choking: The man gave a few chokes and then got his breath. 4. check or extinguish by cutting off the supply of air; smother: choke a fire. 5. control; hold; suppress: She choked back a sharp reply. 6. block; fill; clog: Sand is choking the river. 7. valve that cuts off the supply of air in a gasoline engine. 1,2,4-6 v., choked, choking; 3,7 n.

choke bore (chôk'bôr'), 1. bore of a gun that narrows toward the muzzle in order to keep the shot from scattering too widely. 2. gun with such a bore. n.

choke cher ry (chôk'cher'ē), 1. a bitter wild cherry of North America. 2. tree that it grows on. n., pl. choke cher ries.

choke damp (chôk'damp'), a heavy, suffocating gas, mainly carbon dioxide, that gathers in mines, old wells, etc. n.

choke r (chôk'ər), 1. person or thing that chokes. 2. Informal. a high collar. 3. Informal. necklace that fits tightly around the neck. n.

chol er (kol'ər), an irritable disposition; anger. n.

chol er a (kol'ər ə), an acute disease of the stomach and intestines, characterized by vomiting, cramps, and diarrhea. Summer cholera is not infectious. Asiatic cholera is infectious and often causes death. n.

chol er ic (kol'ər ik), easily angered; irritable. adj.

cho les ter ol (kə les'tər ōl or kə les'tər ol), a white, crystalline substance, found in all animal fats, bile, gallstones, egg yolk, etc. It is important in metabolism. n.

chol la (chōi'ə), a spiny, treelike cactus of SW United States and Mexico. n.

choose (chüz), 1. pick out; select from a number: He chose a book from the library. 2. prefer and decide; think fit: She did not choose to accept my present. 3. make a choice: You must choose. v., chose, cho sen or (Obsolete) chose, choos ing. —choos'er, n.

choos y (chüz'ē), Informal. particular; fussy. adj., choos ier, choos iest.

chop¹ (chop), 1. cut by hitting with something sharp: chop wood with an ax. 2. a cutting stroke. 3. cut into small pieces: chop up cabbage. 4. slice of lamb, pork, veal, etc. There are rib, loin, and shoulder chops. 5. make quick, sharp movements; jerk. 6. a short, irregular, broken motion of waves. 7. make by cutting: He chopped his way through the bushes. 1,3,5,7 v., chopped, chop ping; 2,4,6 n.

chop² (chop), 1. jaw: The cat is licking the milk off her chops. 2. cheek. n.

chop³ (chop), change suddenly; shift quickly: The wind chopped around from west to north. v., chopped, chop-ping.

chop house (chop'hous'), restaurant that makes a specialty of serving chops, steaks, etc. n.

Cho pin (shō'pan), Frédéric François, 1810-1849, Polish pianist and composer who spent most of his adult life in France. n.

chop per (chop'ər), 1. person who chops. 2. tool or machine for chopping. A short ax or a heavy knife are choppers. n.

chop py¹ (chop'pē), 1. making quick, sharp movements; jerky. 2. moving in short, irregular, broken waves. adj., chop pi er, chop pi est.

chop py² (chop'ē), changing suddenly; shifting quickly. adj., chop pi er, chop pi est.

chop sticks (chop'stiks'), the small sticks used in pairs by the Chinese to raise food to the mouth. n.pl.

chop su ey (chop'sü'ē), U.S. fried or stewed meat and vegetables cut up and cooked together in a sauce. It is served with rice in Chinese restaurants.

cho ral (kô'rəl for 1,2; kə ral' or kô'rəl for 3,4), 1. of a choir or chorus. 2. sung by a choir or chorus. 3. a hymn tune. 4. a simple hymn tune sung in unison. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

cho rale (kə ral' or kô'rəl), a choral; a hymn tune, especially a simple hymn tune sung in unison. n.

chord¹ (kôrd), combination of three or more musical notes sounded together in harmony. n.

chord² (kôrd), 1. a straight line connecting two points on a circumference. 2. a structure in an animal body that looks like a string; cord. 3. string of a harp or other musical instrument. 4. a feeling; emotion: touch a sympathetic chord. 5. a main, horizontal part of a bridge truss. n.

AB and AC are chords² (def. 1).

chor date (kôr'dāt), one of the large group of animals that have backbones. It includes man and all other vertebrates, and a few other animals having a nerve cord and breathing organs arranged as in vertebrates. n.

chore (chôr), U.S. 1. an odd job; small task: Feeding the chickens and milking the cows were John's chores on the farm. 2. a difficult or disagreeable thing to do. n.

cho re a (kô'rē'ə), a nervous disease characterized by involuntary twitching of the muscles; St. Vitus's dance. n.

cho re og ra pher (kô'rē og'rə fər), planner or director of dances in the ballet. n.

cho re og ra phy (kô'rē og'rə fē), 1. art of planning the dances in a ballet. 2. dancing; ballet dancing. n.

chor is ter (kôr'əs tər), 1. singer in a choir. 2. boy who sings in a choir. 3. leader of a choir. n.

cho roid (kô'roid), 1. having to do with a delicate coat or membrane between the sclerotic coat and the retina of the eyeball. 2. choroid coat or membrane. See eye for diagram. 1 adj., 2 n.

chor tle (chôr'tl), 1. chuckle or snort with glee. 2. a gleeful chuckle or snort. 1 v., chor tled, chor tling; 2 n. —chor'tler, n.

cho rus (kô'rəs), 1. group of singers who sing together, such as a choir. 2. song sung by many singers together. 3. a musical composition to be sung by all singers together. 4. the repeated part of a song coming after each stanza. 5. sing or speak all at the same time: The birds were chorusing around me. 6. a saying by many at the same time: My question was answered by a chorus of No's. 7. group of singers and dancers. 1-4,6,7 n., pl. cho rus-es; 5 v., cho rused, chor us ing.

in chorus, all together at the same time.

chose (chôz), 1. pt. of choose. Mary chose the red dress.

2. Obsolete. chosen, a pp. of choose. v.

cho sen (chô'zn), 1. a pp. of choose. Have you chosen a book from the library? 2. picked out; selected from a group: the chosen book. 1 v., 2 adj.

Cho sen (chô'sen'), the Japanese name of Korea. n.

Chou En-lai (jō' en'li'), born 1898, premier of the People's Republic of China since 1949.

chow (chou), 1. a medium-sized Chinese breed of dog with short, compact body, large head, and thick coat of one color, usually brown or black. 2. U.S. Slang. food. 3. U.S. Slang. the time when food is served. n.

Chow (20 in. high at the shoulder) chow-chow (chou'chou'), 1. a Chinese mixed preserve. 2. any mixed pickles chopped up. n.

chow der (chou'dər), U.S. a thick soup or stew usually made of clams or fish with potatoes, onions, etc. n.

chow mein (chou' mǎn'), fried noodles served with a thickened stew of onions, celery, meat, etc.

Christ (krist), Jesus, the founder of the Christian religion. n.

Christ church (kríst'chérch), city in SE New Zealand. 215,000. n.

chris ten (kris'n), 1. admit to a Christian church by baptism; baptize. 2. give a first name to at baptism: The child was christened James. 3. give a name to: The new ship was christened before it was launched. 4. Informal. make the first use of. v.

Chris ten dom (kris'n dǎm), 1. Christian countries; the Christian part of the world. 2. all Christians. n.

chris ten ing (kris'n ing), act or ceremony of baptizing and naming; baptism. n.

Chris tian (kris'chǎn), 1. of Christ, His teachings, or the religion that bears His name. 2. believing in Christ; following His example or teachings; belonging to the religion founded by Him. 3. believer in Christ; follower of His example or teachings; member of the religion founded by Him. 4. of Christians or Christianity. 5. showing a gentle, humble, helpful spirit: Christian charity. 6. human; not animal. 7. Informal. decent; respectable. 8. Informal. decent person. 1,2,4-7 adj., 3,8 n. —Chris'tian like', adj. —Chris'tian ly, adj., adv.

Christian Church, another name for the Disciples of Christ, a Protestant denomination.

Christian Era, time since the birth of Christ. A.D. is in the Christian Era; B.C. is before it.

Chris ti an i a (kris'chǎn'ē ā), the former name of Oslo, the capital of Norway. n.

Chris ti an i ty (kris'chǎn'ē ā tē), 1. religion taught by Christ and His followers; Christian religion. 2. Christian beliefs or faith; Christian spirit or character. 3. all Christians; Christendom. n., pl. Chris ti an i ties.

Chris tian ize (kris'chǎn'iz), make Christian; convert to Christianity. v., Chris tian ized, Chris tian iz ing. —Chris'tian i za'tion, n. —Chris'tian iz'er, n.

Christian name, first name; given name: "John" is the Christian name of "John Smith."

Christian Science, a religion and system of healing founded by Mary Baker Eddy in 1866, based on the teaching that a full understanding of Jesus' healing and teaching will result in abolishing sin, sickness, and death. It treats disease by mental and spiritual means.

Christian Scientist, believer in Christian Science.

Christ like (krist'lik'), like Christ; like that of Christ; showing the spirit of Christ. adj. —Christ'like'ness, n.

Christ ly (krist'lē), of Christ; Christlike. adj. —Christ'li ness, n.

Christ mas (kris'mās), the yearly celebration of the birth of Christ; December 25. n.

Christmas Day, December 25.

Christmas Island, 1. an island in the Indian Ocean, south of Java, administered by Australia. 3000 pop.; 60 sq. mi. 2. a British island in the middle of the Pacific, part of Gilbert and Ellice Islands colony. 500 pop.; 220 sq. mi.

Christ mas tide (kris'mās tīd'), Christmas time. n.

Christmas tree, an evergreen tree hung with decorations at Christmas time.

Chris to pher (kris'tə fər), Saint, died 250? A.D., Christian martyr. n.

chro mate (krō'māt), salt of chromic acid. n.

chro ma tic (krō mat'ik), 1. of color or colors. 2. progressing by half tones instead of by the regular intervals of the musical scale. adj. —chro mat'i cally, adv.

chromatic scale, a musical scale divided equally into twelve half tones.

chro ma tin (krō'mə tīn), that part of the nucleus of an animal or plant cell which absorbs stains readily and comprises the chromosomes. n.

chrome (krōm), chromium. n.

chrome steel, a very hard, strong steel containing chromium.

chro mic (krō'mik), of or containing chromium. adj. chro mite (krō'mīt), 1. mineral containing iron and chromium. 2. salt of chromium. n.

chro mi um (krō'mē ūm), a shiny, hard, brittle metallic element that does not rust or become dull easily when exposed to air. Chromium occurs in compounds that are used for making dyes and paints, in photography, etc. Symbol: Cr n.

chromium steel, chrome steel.

chro mo some (krō'mə sōm), any of the microscopic filaments composed of chromatin that appear in a fertilized animal or plant cell during mitosis or division. Chromosomes are derived from the parents and carry the genes that determine heredity. n.

chro mo sphere (krō'mə sfīr'), 1. a scarlet layer of gas around the sun. 2. a similar layer around a star. n.

Chron., Chronicles.

chron ic (kron'ik), 1. lasting a long time: The doctor told him rheumatism was a chronic disease. 2. constant; habitual: a chronic liar, a chronic smoker. adj.

chron i cal ly (kron'ik lē), in a chronic manner; habitually. adv.

chron i cle (kron'ə kl), 1. record of happenings in the order in which they happened; history; story. 2. record in a chronicle; write the history of; tell the story of. 1 n., 2 v., chron i cled, chron i cling.

chron i cler (kron'ə klər), writer of a chronicle; recorder of events; historian. n.

Chron i cles (kron'ə klz), two books of the Old Testament, called I and II Chronicles. n.pl.

chron o graph (kron'ə graf), instrument that measures very short intervals of time accurately; stop watch. n.

chron o log ic (kron'ə loj'ik), chronological. adj.

chron o log i cal (kron'ə loj'ə kl), arranged in the order in which the events happened: In telling a story a person usually follows the chronological order. adj. —chron'o log'i cal ly, adv.

chro nol o gist (krə nol'ə jist), expert in chronology. n.

chro nol o gy (krə nol'ə jē), 1. arrangement of time in periods; giving the exact dates of events arranged in the order in which they happened. 2. table or list that gives the exact dates of events arranged in the order in which they happened. n., pl. chro nol o gies.

chro nom e ter (krə nom'ə tər), clock or watch that keeps very accurate time. A ship's chronometer is used in determining longitude. n.

chron o scope (kron'ə skōp), instrument for measuring very small intervals of time. n.

chrys a lid (kris'ə lid), 1. chrysalis. 2. of a chrysalis. 1 n., 2 adj.

chrys a lis (kris'lis), 1. form of an insect when it is in a case; pupa. A butterfly has this inactive form after it has been a caterpillar or larva and before it becomes a winged adult. 2. the case; cocoon. 3. stage of development or change. n., pl. chrys a lis es, chry sal i des (krə sal'ə dēz).

chry san the mum (krə san'thə məm), Chrysalis of a butterfly

1. any of several cultivated plants of the same family as the aster, which bloom in the autumn. The different varieties show a great range in the size and form of the flowers. 2. one of these flowers. Most chrysanthemums are white, yellow, or rose-colored. n.

chrys o lite (kris'ə lit), a green or yellow semiprecious stone. It is a silicate of magnesium and iron. n.

chub (chub), 1. a thick fresh-water fish, related to the carp. 2. any of various American fishes, such as the tautog, black bass, etc. n., pl. chubs or (esp. collectively) chub.

chub by (chub'ē), round and plump: chubby cheeks. adj., chub bi er, chub bi est. —chub'bi ness, n.

chuck (chuk), 1. pat; tap, especially under the chin. 2. throw; toss. n., v.

Chrysalis of a butterfly chuck² (chuk), 1. device for holding a tool or piece of work in a machine. 2. cut of beef between the neck and the shoulder. See beef for diagram. n.

chuck-full (chuk'fúl'), chuck-full. adj.

chuck-le (chuk'l), 1. laugh to oneself. 2. a soft, quiet laugh. 1 v., chuck led, chuck ling; 2 n. —chuck'ler, n.

chuck wagon, in the Western United States, a wagon that carries food and cooking equipment for cowboys, harvest hands, etc.

chug (chug), 1. a short, loud, explosive sound: the chug of an engine. 2. make such sounds. 3. Informal. go or move with such sounds: The engine chugged along. 1 n., 2,3 v., chugged, chug ging.

chuk ker or chuk kar (chuk'ær), one of the periods of play in polo, lasting about eight minutes. n.

chum (chum), Informal. 1. a very close friend. 2. be very close friends. 3. roommate. 4. room together. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., chummed, chum ming.

chum my (chum'ē), Informal. like a chum; very friendly; intimate. adj., chum mi er, chum mi est. —chum'mi ly, adv.

chump (chump), 1. Informal. a foolish or stupid person; blockhead. 2. a short, thick block of wood. 3. a thick, blunt end. 4. Slang. the head. n.

Chung king (chúng'king'), city in central China, on the Yangtze River, 1,773,000. See map under China. n.

chunk (chungk), Informal. 1. a thick piece or lump: a chunk of wood. 2. a stocky person or animal. n.

chunk y (chungk'ē), Informal. 1. like a chunk; short and thick. 2. stocky. adj., chunk i er, chunk i est. —chunk'i ly, adv. —chunk'i ness, n.

church (chérch), 1. a building for public Christian worship or religious services. 2. public Christian worship or religious service in a church. 3. all Christians. 4. group of Christians with the same beliefs and under the same authority; a denomination: the Methodist Church, the Presbyterian Church. 5. locally organized unit of a group of Christians for religious services: We go to the Baptist Church. 6. organization of a church; ecclesiastical authority or power. 7. profession of a clergyman: John is going into the church as a career. 8. any building, group, or organization like a church. 9. of a church. 1-8 n., 9 adj. —church'less, adj. —church'like', adj.

church go er (chérch'gō'ær), person who goes to church regularly. n.

Church ill (chérch'il or chérch'əl), 1. John, 1650-1722, Duke of Marlborough, English general who defeated the French in 1704. 2. Sir Winston, 1874-1965, British statesman and writer, prime minister of Great Britain from 1940 to 1945 and 1951 to 1955. 3. river flowing from S Canada into Hudson Bay. 1000 mi. n.

church ly (chérch'lē), 1. of a church. 2. suitable for a church. adj. —church'li ness, n.

church man (chérch'mæn), 1. clergyman. 2. member of a church. n., pl. church men.

Church of England, the Christian church in England that is recognized as a national institution by the government. Its head is the king or queen.

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, the official name of the Mormon Church.

church ward en (chérch'wōrd'n), 1. a lay official in the Church of England or the Episcopal Church who manages the business, property, and money of a church. 2. Informal. a clay tobacco pipe with a very long stem. n.

church wom an (chérch'wūm'æn), a woman member of a church. n., pl. church wom en.

church yard (chérch'yārd'), ground around a church. Part of a churchyard is sometimes used as a burial ground. n.

churl (chérll), 1. a rude, surly person. 2. person of low birth; peasant. n.

churlish (chér'līsh), rude; surly: a churlish reply. adj. —churl'ish ly, adv. —churl'ish ness, n.

churn (chérn), 1. container or machine in which butter is made from cream or milk by beating and shaking. 2. stir or shake (cream or milk) in a churn. 3. make (butter) by using a churn. 4. stir violently; make or become foamy: The propeller of a steamboat churns the waves. 5. move as if beaten and shaken: The excited crowd churned about the speaker's platform. 6. a violent stirring or shaking. 1,6 n., 2-5 v. —churn'er, n.

churr (chér), chirr. v., n.

chute (shüt), 1. an inclined trough, tube, etc., for sliding or dropping things down to a lower level. There are chutes for carrying mail, soiled clothes, coal, etc., to a lower level. 2. rapids in a river; waterfall. 3. a steep slope. 4. Informal. parachute. n.

chut ney (chut'nē), a spicy sauce or relish made of fruits, herbs, pepper, etc. n., pl. chut neys.

chyle (kīl), a milky liquid composed of digested fat and lymph, formed from the chyme in the small intestine and carried from there into the veins. n.

chyme (kīm), a pulpy, semiliquid mass into which food is changed by the action of the stomach. Chyme passes from the stomach into the small intestine. n.

ci ca da (sə kă'də or sə kă'də), a large insect with transparent wings. The male makes a shrill sound in hot, dry weather. n., pl. ci ca das, ci ca dae (-dē).

cic a trice (sik'ə tris), cicatrix. n.

cic a trix (sik'ə triks or sə kă'triks), 1. scar left by a healed wound. 2. scar left on a tree or plant by a fallen leaf, branch, etc. 3. scar on a seed where it was attached to the pod or seed container. n., pl. cic a tri ces (sik'ə trī'sēz).

Cic e ro (sis'ə rō), 1. Marcus Tullius, 106-43 B.C., Roman orator, writer, and statesman. 2. city in NE Illinois, near Chicago. 69,000. n.

cic e ro ne (sis'ə rō'nē), guide for sightseers who explains curiosities, antiquities, etc. n., pl. cic e ro nes.

ci der (sī'dær), 1. juice pressed out of apples, used as a drink and in making vinegar. 2. juice pressed from other fruits. n.

ci gar (sə gār'), a tight roll of tobacco leaves for smoking. n.

cig a rette or cig a ret (sig'ə ret' or sig'ə ret), a small roll of finely cut tobacco enclosed in a thin sheet of paper for smoking. n.

cil i a (sil'ē ə), 1. eyelashes. 2. very small hairlike projections. Some microscopic animals use cilia to move themselves or to set up currents in the surrounding water. n.pl. of cil i um (sil'ē əm).

cil i ar y (sil'ē er'ē), 1. of cilia; resembling cilia. 2. having to do with certain delicate structures of the eyeball. adj.

cil i ate (sil'ē āt or sil'ē it), provided with cilia. adj.

Ci li cia (sə lish'ə), ancient country and Roman province in SE Asia Minor. n.

Cim ar ron (sim'ə rōn'), river flowing from New Mexico into the Arkansas River in Oklahoma. 650 mi. n.

Cim me ri an (sə mir'ē ən), 1. one of a mythical people said to live in perpetual mists and darkness. 2. very dark and gloomy. 1 n., 2 adj.

cinch (sinch), 1. a strong girth for fastening a saddle or pack on a horse. 2. fasten on with a cinch; bind firmly. 3. Informal. a firm hold or grip. 4. Slang. get a firm hold or grip on. 5. Slang. something sure and easy. 1,3,5 n., 2,4 v.

cin cho na (sin kō'nə), 1. tree with light green leaves, native to South America, that grows in the East Indies and India. It is valuable for its bark. 2. its Woman working a churn. The handle works a dasher; its up-and-down motion separates the butterfat from the liquid.

bitter bark, from which quinine and other drugs are obtained; Peruvian bark. n.

Cin cin nat i (sin'sə nat'ē), city in SW Ohio, on the Ohio River. 503,000. n.

cinc ture (singk'chər), 1. belt; girdle. 2. border; enclosure. 3. encircle; surround. 1,2 n., 3 v., cinc tured, cinc tur ing.

cinder (sin'dər), piece of burned-up wood or coal. n.

Cin der el la (sin'dər el'ə), 1. girl in the fairy tale who was forced by her cruel stepmother to work very hard, but was rescued by her fairy godmother and married to a prince. 2. person whose real worth or beauty is not recognized. n.

cinders (sin'dərz), wood or coal partly burned and no longer flaming. n.pl.

cine ma (sin'ə mə), 1. a motion picture. 2. a motion-picture theater. n.

the cinema, motion pictures.

Cin e ma Scope (sin'ə mə skōp), Trademark. a motion-picture medium in which the use of a special lens on both a standard camera and projector gives the images greater depth when projected on a curved screen about 2½ times as wide as it is high. n.

Cin er am a (sin'ə ram'ə), Trademark. a motion-picture medium that uses three projectors and a large, three-paneled, curved screen to produce the illusion of three dimensions, and a system whereby sound is reproduced from the direction of its original source. n.

cine rar i um (sin'ə rār'ē əm), place for keeping the ashes of cremated bodies. n., pl. cine rar i a (-ē ə).

cine rar y (sin'ə rer'ē), 1. used to hold the ashes of a cremated body. 2. of or for ashes. adj.

cin na bar (sin'ə bār), 1. a reddish or brownish mineral that is the chief source of mercury; native mercuric sulfide. 2. artificial mercuric sulfide, used as a red pigment in making paints, dyes, etc. 3. a bright red color; vermilion. n.

cin na mon (sin'ə mən), 1. spice made from the dried, reddish-brown inner bark of a laurel tree or shrub of the East Indies. 2. this bark. 3. tree or shrub yielding this bark. 4. flavored with cinnamon. 5. light, reddish brown: a cinnamon bear. 1-3,5 n., 4,5 adj.

cinq ue foil (singk'fōil'), 1. plant having small, yellow flowers and leaves divided into five parts. 2. ornament in architecture, made of five connected semicircles or part circles. n.

Cinquefoil (def. 2)

CIO or C.I.O., Congress of Industrial Organizations. See AFL-CIO.

ci pher (si'fər), 1. zero; 0. 2. person or thing of no importance. 3. do arithmetic. 4. work by arithmetic. 5. method of secret writing which transposes the letters of a message according to a set pattern, or replaces the proper letters with substitutes called for in the system used, or combines both methods; code: All important plans were sent to the police in cipher. 6. something in secret writing or code. 7. key to a method of secret writing or a code. 8. interlaced initials; monogram. 1,2,5-8 n., 3,4 v. Also, cypher.

cir ca (sēr'kə), about: Mohammed was born circa 570 A.D. prep., adv.

Cir cas sia (sēr kash'ə), region in S Russia, on the NE shore of the Black Sea. n. —Cir cas'sian, adj., n.

Cir ce (sēr'sē), 1. in Greek legend, an enchantress who changed men into swine. Ulysses withstood her spell and forced her to set free his companions, whom she had changed to swine. 2. any enchantress. n.

cir cle (sēr'kl), 1. a line every point of which is equally distant from a point within called the center. 2. a plane figure bounded by such a line. 3. anything shaped like a circle or part of one. 4. a ring: The girls danced in a circle. 5. set of seats in the balcony of a theater. 6. go around in a circle; revolve around: The moon circles the earth. An airplane circles before it lands. 7. form a circle around; surround; encircle: A ring of forts circled the city. 8. a complete series or course: A year is a circle of 12 months. 9. orbit of a heavenly body.

10. period of revolution of a heavenly body. 11. group of people held together by the same interests: the family circle, a circle of friends. 12. sphere of influence, action, etc. 1-5,8-12 n., 6,7 v., cir cled, cir cling. —cir'cler, n.

cir clet (sēr'klit), 1. a small circle. 2. a round ornament worn on the head, neck, arm, or finger, especially a headband. n.

cir cuit (sēr'kit), 1. a going around; a trip around: It takes a year for the earth to make its circuit of the sun. 2. a way over which a person or group makes repeated journeys at certain times. Some theater companies travel over regular circuits. Some judges make a circuit, stopping at certain places along the way to hold court. 3. part of the country through which such circuits are made. 4. district under the jurisdiction of a circuit court. 5. distance around any space. 6. line enclosing any space. 7. space enclosed. 8. the complete path or a part of it over which an electric current flows. 9. make a circuit of; go in a circuit. 1-8 n., 9 v.

circuit court, court whose judges regularly hold court at certain places in a district.

cir cu i tous (sər kū'ə tēs), roundabout; not direct: We took a circuitous route home to avoid poor roads. adj. —cir cu'i tous ly, adv. —cir cu'i tous ness, n.

circuit rider, a Methodist minister who rides from place to place over a circuit to preach.

cir cu lar (sēr'kyə lər), 1. round like a circle: the circular shape of the full moon. 2. moving in a circle; going around a circle: A merry-go-round makes a circular trip. 3. having to do with a circle. 4. sent to each of a number of people: a circular letter. 5. a letter, notice, or advertisement sent to each of a number of people. 6. roundabout; indirect. 1-4,6 adj., 5 n. —cir'cu lar ly, adv.

cir cu lar i ty (sēr'kyə lər'ə tē), circular shape. n., pl. cir cu lar i ties.

cir cu lar ize (sēr'kyə lər'īz), 1. send circulars to. 2. make circular or round. v., cir cu lar ized, cir cu lar iz ing. —cir'cu lar i za'tion, n. —cir'cu lar iz'er, n.

circular measure, system used for measuring circles:

60 seconds = 1 minute

60 minutes = 1 degree

90 degrees = 1 quadrant

4 quadrants or 360 degrees = 1 circle cir cu late (sēr'kyə lāt), 1. go around; pass from place to place or person to person: Water circulates in the pipes of a building. Money circulates as it goes from person to person. 2. be distributed: A newspaper circulates among people who read it. 3. send around from person to person or place to place: He circulated the news of the holiday. This book has been widely circulated among boys. 4. of the blood, to flow from the heart through the arteries and veins back to the heart again. v., cir cu lat ed, cir cu lat ing.

circulating library, library whose books can be rented or borrowed.

cir cu la tion (sēr'kyə lā'shən), 1. a going around; a circulating: Open windows increase the circulation of air in a room. 2. the movement of blood from the heart through the body and back to the heart. 3. a sending around of books, papers, news, etc., from person to person or place to place. 4. the number of copies of a book, newspaper, magazine, etc., that are sent out during a certain time. n.

cir cu la tor (sēr'kyə lā'tər), person or thing that circulates news, money, gossip, etc. n.

cir cu la to ry (sēr'kyə lə tō'rē), having to do with circulation. Arteries and veins are parts of the human body's circulatory system. adj.

circum-, prefix meaning: in a circle; around: Circumnavigate = navigate around. Circumpolar = around the North or South Pole.

cir cum cise (sēr'kəm sīz), cut off the foreskin of. v., cir cum cised, cir cum cis ing.

cir cum ci sion (sēr'kəm sizh'ən), a circumcising. n.

cir cum fer ence (sər kum'fər əns), 1. the boundary line of a circle or of certain other surfaces. Every point on the circumference of a circle is at the same distance from the center. 2. the distance around: The circumference of the earth at the equator is almost 25,000 miles. 3. boundary: We have a fence around the circumference of our property. n.

cir cum flex (sēr'kəm fleks), 1. a circumflex accent. 2. of or having a circumflex accent. 3. bending or winding around. 1 n., 2, 3 adj.

circumflex accent, mark (˘ or ~ or ~) placed over a vowel to tell something about its pronunciation, as in the French word fête.

cir cum lo cu tion (sēr'kəm lō kū'shən), a round-about way of speaking: "The wife of your father's brother" is a circumlocution for "Your aunt." n.

cir cum nav i gate (sēr'kəm nav'ə gāt), sail around: Magellan's ship circumnavigated the earth. v., cir cum nav i gat ed, cir cum nav i gat ing. —cir'cum nav'i-ga'tor, n.

cir cum nav i ga tion (sēr'kəm nav'ə gā'shən), act of sailing around. n.

cir cum po lar (sēr'kəm pō'lār), 1. around the North or South Pole. 2. around either pole of the heavens. adj.

cir cum scribe (sēr'kəm skrib'), 1. draw a line around; mark the boundaries of. 2. surround. 3. limit; restrict: A prisoner's activities are circumscribed. 4. draw (a figure) around another figure so as to touch as many points as possible. A circle that is circumscribed around a square touches it at four points. 5. be so drawn around. A circle can circumscribe a hexagon. v., cir cum scribed, cir cum scrib ing.

cir cum scrip tion (sēr'kəm skrip'shən), 1. act of circumscribing. 2. state of being circumscribed. 3. thing that circumscribes. 4. inscription around a coin, medal, etc. 5. outline; boundary. 6. space circumscribed. 7. limitation; restriction. n.

cir cum spect (sēr'kəm spekt), careful; cautious; prudent. adj. —cir'cum spect'ly, adv. —cir'cum-spect'ness, n.

cir cum spec tion (sēr'kəm spek'shən), care; caution; prudence. n.

cir cum stance (sēr'kəm stans), 1. condition of an act or event: The place, the weather, and other circumstances made the picnic a great success. 2. fact; event: If you give all the details in telling a story, you are telling every circumstance of it. 3. full detail: The explorer told of his adventure with great circumstance. 4. ceremony; display: The royal procession advanced with pomp and circumstance. n.

circumstances, condition of affairs: A rich person is in good or easy circumstances. A poor person is in bad or reduced circumstances.

under no circumstances, never; no matter what the conditions are.

under the circumstances, because of conditions; things being as they are or were.

cir cum stan tial (sēr'kəm stan'shəl), 1. depending on circumstances: circumstantial evidence. 2. incidental; not essential; not important: Minor details are circumstantial compared with the main fact. 3. giving full and exact details; complete: a circumstantial report of an accident. adj. —cir'cum stan'tial ly, adv.

circumstantial evidence, evidence that depends on the accompanying circumstances of a crime. If stolen jewels are found in a man's possession, it is circumstantial evidence that he stole them. If somebody saw him steal them, that would be direct evidence.

cir cum stan ti ate (sēr'kəm stan'shē āt), give the circumstances of; support or prove with details. v., cir cum stan ti at ed, cir cum stan ti at ing. —cir'cum stan'ti a'tion, n.

cir cum vent (sēr'kəm vent'), 1. get the better of; defeat by trickery. 2. go around. 3. catch in a trap. v.

cir cum ven tion (sēr'kəm ven'shən), act of circumventing. n.

cir cus (sēr'kəs), 1. a traveling show of acrobats, clowns, horses, riders, and wild animals. The performers who give the show and the show that they give are both called the circus. 2. Informal. an amusing person or thing. 3. Informal. a lively time. 4. in ancient Rome, a round or oval space with rows of seats around it, each row higher than the one in front of it. n.

cirque (sèrk), 1. circular space. 2. Poetic. circlet; ring. n.

cir rho sis (sə rō'sis), a diseased condition of the liver marked by excessive formation of connective tissue. n.

cir ri ped (sir'ə ped), any of a group of crustaceans having threadlike appendages instead of legs. See the picture of barnacle which is a kind of cirriped. n.

cir rus (sir'əs), a thin, fleecy cloud very high in the air. n., pl. cir ri (sir'i).

cis al pine (sis al'pin or sis al'pin), on the southern side of the Alps. adj.

cis co (sis kō), U.S. whitefish or herring of the Great Lakes. n., pl. cis coes or cis cos.

Cirrus clouds

Cis ter cian (sis tēr'shən), 1. member of a Benedictine order of monks and nuns founded in France in 1098. 2. of or having to do with this order. 1 n., 2 adj.

cis tern (sis'tərn), reservoir or tank for storing water. n.

cit a del (sit'ə dl), 1. fortress commanding a city. 2. a strongly fortified place; stronghold. 3. a strong, safe place; refuge. n.

ci ta tion (si tā'shən), 1. quotation or reference given as an authority for facts, opinions, etc. 2. specific mention in an official dispatch. 3. honorable mention for bravery in war. 4. commendation of a civilian for public service by some official or institution. 5. summons to appear before a law court. n.

cite (sit), 1. quote (a passage, book, or author), especially as an authority: He cited the Bible and Shakespeare to prove his statement. 2. refer to; mention as an example: The lawyer cited another case similar to the one being tried. 3. mention for bravery in war. 4. commend publicly for service to the community. 5. summon to appear before a law court. 6. arouse to action; summon. v., cit ed, cit ing. —cite'a ble, adj.

cit i zen (sit'ə zn), 1. person who by birth or by choice is a member of a state or nation which gives him certain rights and which claims his loyalty: Many immigrants have become citizens of the United States. 2. person who is not a soldier, policeman, etc.; civilian. 3. inhabitant of a city or town. n.

cit i zen ess (sit'ə zn is), a woman citizen. n.

cit i zen ry (sit'ə zn rē), citizens as a group. n., pl. cit i zen ries.

cit i zen ship (sit'ə zn ship'), 1. condition of being a citizen. 2. the duties, rights, and privileges of a citizen. n.

cit rate (sit'rāt), salt or ester of citric acid. n.

cit ric acid (sit'rik), acid from such fruits as lemons, limes, etc., used as a flavoring, as a medicine, and in making dyes.

cit ron (sit'rən), 1. a pale-yellow fruit somewhat like a lemon but larger, less acid, and with a thicker rind. 2. the candied rind of this fruit, used in fruit cakes, plum pudding, candies, etc. 3. the shrub or small tree that this fruit grows on. 4. citron melon. n.

cit ron el la (sit'rən el'ə), 1. oil used in making perfume, soap, liniment, etc., and for keeping mosquitoes away. 2. a fragrant grass of S Asia from which this oil is made. n.

citron melon, kind of small watermelon with white flesh.

cit rous (sit/rəs), having to do with fruits such as lemons, grapefruit, limes, oranges, etc. adj.

cit rus (sit/rəs), 1. any tree bearing lemons, limes, oranges, or similar fruit. 2. fruit of such a tree. 3. of such trees. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

city (sit/ē), 1. a large and important town. 2. division of local government in the United States having a charter from the State that fixes its boundaries and powers. A city is usually governed by a mayor and a board of aldermen or councilmen. 3. division of local government in Canada of the highest class. 4. people living in a city. 5. of a city. 6. in a city. 1-4 n., pl. cities; 5,6 adj.

the City, the business and financial district of London.

city editor, the newspaper editor in charge of collecting and editing local news.

city hall, the headquarters of the officials, bureaus, etc., of a city government.

city manager, person appointed by a city council or commission to manage the government of a city. He is not elected by the people.

city of David, 1. Jerusalem. 2. Bethlehem.

city-state (sit/ē stāt'), an independent state consisting of a city and the territories depending on it. n.

Ciudad Juárez (sū thāth' hwā/res), city in NW Mexico. 123,000.

Ciudad Trujillo (sū thāth' trū hē'yō), former name of Santo Domingo, the capital of the Dominican Republic.

civet (siv/it), 1. a yellowish secretion of certain glands of the civet cat. It has a musky odor and is used in making perfume. 2. civet cat. n.

civet cat, 1. a small, spotted mammal of Africa, Europe, and Asia having glands that secrete a yellowish substance with a musky odor. 2. any of certain similar animals.

African civet cat (total length 4¼ ft.)

civic (siv/ik), 1. of a city.

2. of or having to do with citizenship: Every person has some civic duties, such as obeying the laws, voting, or paying taxes. 3. of citizens. adj.

civic center, the headquarters of various welfare agencies in a community.

civics (siv/iks), study of the duties, rights, and privileges of citizens. n.

civil (siv/l), 1. of a citizen or citizens; having to do with citizens: Every citizen has civil rights and civil duties.

2. of or having to do with the government, state, or nation: civil servants. 3. not military, naval, or connected with the church: Post offices are part of the civil service of the government. 4. polite; courteous: The boy pointed out our road in a very civil way. 5. having to do with the private rights of individuals and with legal proceedings connected with these rights. adj.

civil defense, defense of civilians and of industry from air or atomic attack.

civil disobedience, refusal because of one's principles to obey the laws of the state, especially by not paying taxes.

civil engineer, person whose profession is civil engineering.

civil engineering, the planning and directing of the construction of bridges, roads, harbors, etc.

civilian (sə vil'yən), 1. person who is not a soldier or sailor. 2. of civilians; not military or naval. 1 n., 2 adj.

civility (sə vil'ə tē), 1. politeness; courtesy. 2. act of politeness or courtesy. n., pl. civilities.

civilization (siv'l ə zā'shən), 1. act of civilizing. 2. process of becoming civilized; improvement in culture. 3. civilized condition; advanced stage in social development. 4. nations and peoples that have reached advanced stages in social development: All civilization should be aroused against war. 5. the culture and ways of living of a race, nation, etc.: Chinese civilization differs from ours. n.

civilize (siv'l iz), 1. bring out of a savage or barbarian condition; train in culture, science, and art: Schools help to civilize people. 2. improve in culture and good manners; refine. v., civilized, civilizing.

—civ/i liz'er, n.

civilized (siv'l izd), 1. advanced in social customs, art, and science. 2. of civilized nations or persons. 3. showing culture and good manners; refined. adj.

civilizing (siv'l iz'ing), that civilizes; promoting civilization. adj.

civil law, law that regulates and protects private rights and is controlled and used by civil courts, not military courts.

civil liberty, right of a person to do and say what he pleases as long as he does not harm anyone else.

civilly (siv'l ē), 1. politely; courteously. 2. according to the civil law. adv.

civil rights, U.S. the rights of a citizen; especially, the rights guaranteed to citizens of the United States, regardless of race or color, by the 13th, 14th, and 24th amendments to the Constitution and certain acts of Congress.

civil servant, member of the civil service.

civil service, public service concerned with affairs not military, naval, legislative, or judicial: Most post office workers are members of the civil service.

civil war, war between two groups of citizens of one nation.

Civil War, 1. war between the Northern and Southern States of the United States from 1861 to 1865; War between the States. 2. war between the English Parliament and the Royalists, from 1642 to 1646 and from 1648 to 1652.

Cl, chlorine.

cl., 1. centiliter. 2. class. 3. clause.

clabber (klab'ər), 1. thick, sour milk. 2. become thick in souring; curdle. 1 n., 2 v.

clack (klak), 1. make or cause to make a short, sharp sound: Her needles clacked as she knitted. 2. a short, sharp sound: We heard the clack of her heels on the sidewalk. 3. chatter. 1,3 v., 2,3 n. —clack'er, n.

clad (klad), a pt. and a pp. of clothe. He was clad all in green. v.

claim (klām), 1. demand as one's own or one's right; say one has and demand that others recognize (a right, title, possession, etc.); assert one's right to: claim a tract of land. Does anyone claim this pencil? 2. demand for something due; assertion of a right: Mary makes a claim to the pencil. 3. a right or title to something; a right to demand something: She has a claim on us because she is my mother's cousin. 4. something that is claimed.

5. piece of public land that a settler or prospector marks out for himself. When the government offers the land for sale, the settler must buy his claim or forfeit it. 6. require; call for; deserve: Business claims his attention. 7. say strongly; maintain; declare as a fact: She claimed that her answer was correct. 8. assertion of something as a fact. 1,6,7 v., 2-5,8 n. —claim'a ble, adj.

claim ant (klām'ənt), one who makes a claim. n.

clairvoyance (klār voi'əns), 1. power of knowing about things that are out of sight. 2. exceptional insight. n.

clairvoyant (klār voi'ənt), 1. having the power of seeing things that are out of sight. 2. person who has, or claims to have, the power of seeing things that are out of sight: The clairvoyant claimed to be able to locate lost articles, and to give news of faraway people. 3. exceptionally keen. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

clam (klam), 1. mollusk somewhat like an oyster, with a shell in two halves. Clams live in sand along the seashore or in the edges of rivers, lakes, etc. Many kinds are edible. 2. go out after clams; dig for clams. 1 n., 2 v., clammed, clam ming. —clam'like', adj.

clam bake (klam/'bāk'), picnic where clams are baked or steamed. A clambake may be an elaborate meal, with much to eat besides clams. n.

clam ber (klam/'bər), 1. climb, using both hands and feet; climb awkwardly or with difficulty; scramble. 2. an awkward or difficult climb. 1 v., 2 n.

clam my (klam/'ē), cold and damp. adj., clam mi er, clam mi est. —clam/'mi ness, n.

clam or (klam/'ər), 1. a loud noise, continual uproar; shouting. 2. make a loud noise or continual uproar; shout. 3. a noisy demand or complaint. 4. demand or complain noisily: The children were clamoring for candy. 1,3 n., 2,4 v. Also, esp. Brit. clamour. —clam/'or er, n.

clam or ous (klam/'ər əs), 1. noisy; shouting. 2. making noisy demands or complaints. adj. —clam/'or ous ly, adv. —clam/'or ous ness, n.

clam our (klam/'ər), Esp. Brit. clamor. n., v.

clamp (klamp), 1. brace, band, wedge, or other device for holding things tightly together: He used a clamp to hold the arm on the chair until the glue dried. 2. fasten together with a clamp; put in a clamp; strengthen with a clamp. 1 n., 2 v.

Clamp

clamp down, Informal. put pressure on.

clan (klan), 1. group of related families that claim to be descended from a common ancestor. 2. group of people closely joined together by some common interest: the whole clan of writers. n. —clan/'like', adj.

clan des tine (klan des/'tən), secret; concealed; underhand: a clandestine plan. adj. —clan des/time ly, adv.

clang (klang), 1. a loud, harsh, ringing sound, as of metal being hit: The clang of the fire bell aroused the town. 2. make or cause to make a clang. 3. strike together with a clang. 1 n., 2,3 v.

clan gor (klang/'gər), 1. continued clanging. 2. clang. n. Also, esp. Brit. clangour.

clan gor ous (klang/'gər əs), clanging. adj.

clan gour (klang/'gər), Esp. Brit. clangor. n.

clank (klangk), 1. a sharp, harsh sound like the rattle of a heavy chain: the clank of heavy machinery. 2. make a sharp, harsh sound: The swords clashed and clanked as the men fought one another. 3. cause to clank. 1 n., 2,3 v.

clan nish (klan/'ish), 1. having to do with a clan. 2. closely united; not liking outsiders. adj. —clan/'nish ly, adv. —clan/'nish ness, n.

clans man (klanz/'mən), member of a clan. n., pl. clans men.

clap (klap), 1. a sudden noise, such as a single burst of thunder, the sound of the hands struck together, or the sound of a loud slap. 2. strike together loudly: clap one's hands. 3. applaud by striking the hands together. 4. strike with a quick blow: He clapped his friend on the back. 5. put or place quickly and effectively: The police clapped the thief into jail. 1 n., 2-5 v., clapped, clap ping.

clap board (klab/'ərd or klap/'bōrd), U.S. 1. a thin board, thicker along one edge than along the other, used to cover the outer walls of wooden buildings. 2. cover with clapboards. 1 n., 2 v.

clap per (klap/'ər), 1. person or thing that claps. 2. the movable part inside a bell that strikes and rings the outer part. 3. device for making noise. n.

clap trap (klap/'trap'), 1. empty talk or an insincere remark made just to get attention or applause. 2. cheap and showy. 1 n., 2 adj.

claque (klak), 1. group of persons hired to applaud in a theater. 2. group that applauds or follows another person for selfish reasons. n.

clar et (klar/'ət), 1. kind of red wine. 2. dark, purplish red. 1,2 n., 2 adj.

clar i fi ca tion (klar/'ə fə kā'shən), making clear; freeing from defects or impurities. n.

clar i fi er (klar/'ə fī'ər), 1. substance used to clarify liquids. 2. a large metal pan used in clarifying sugar. n.

clar i fy (klar/'ə fī), 1. make or become clear; purify: The cook clarified the fat by heating it with a little water and straining it through cloth. 2. make clearer; explain: The explanation in the footnote clarified the difficult sentence. v., clar i fied, clar i fy ing.

Man playing a clarinet clar i net (klar/'ə net'), a wooden wind instrument played by means of holes and keys. n.

clar i net ist or clar i net tist (klar/'ə net/'ist), person who plays a clarinet. n.

clar i on (klar/'ē ən), 1. clear and shrill. 2. a trumpet with clear, shrill tones.

3. Poetic. sound made by this trumpet. 4. Poetic. a clear, shrill sound like it: the clarion of a rooster crowing. 1 adj., 2-4 n.

clar i o net (klar/'ē ə net'), clarinet. n.

clar i ty (klar/'ə tē), clearness. n.

Clark (klärk), 1. George Rogers, 1752-1818, American soldier and frontiersman. 2. his brother, William, 1770-1838, American soldier and explorer. He was a leader of the Lewis and Clark expedition from St. Louis to the mouth of the Columbia River from 1804 to 1806. n.

clash (klash), 1. a loud, harsh sound like that of two things running into each other, of striking metal, or of bells rung together but not in tune. 2. strike with a clash. 3. throw, shut, etc., with a clash. 4. a strong disagreement; conflict: a clash of opinion. 5. disagree strongly; conflict: Your feelings and your judgment sometimes clash. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v.

clasp (klasp), 1. thing to fasten two parts or pieces together. A buckle on a belt is one kind of clasp. 2. fasten together with a clasp. 3. hold closely with the arms or hands: The mother clasped her baby to her breast. 4. a close hold with the arms or hands. 5. grip firmly with the hand. 6. a firm grip with the hand: He gave my hand a warm clasp. 1,4,6 n., 2,3,5 v. —clasp'er, n.

class (klas), 1. group of persons or things alike in some way; kind; sort. 2. group of students taught together. 3. a meeting of such a group. 4. U.S. group of pupils entering a school together and graduating in the same year: The class of 1962 graduated in 1962. 5. rank or division of society: the middle class. 6. system of ranks or divisions in society. 7. group of military draftees of the same age. 8. high rank in society. 9. grade; quality: First class is the best and most costly way to travel. 10. Slang. excellence; style. 11. group of animals or plants ranking below a phylum or subkingdom and above an order. Crustaceans and insects are two classes in the phylum of arthropods. 12. put or be in a class or group. 1-11 n., 12 v.

the classes, the higher ranks or divisions of society: He contrasted the classes and the masses.

clas sic (klas/'ik), 1. of the highest grade or quality; excellent; first-class. 2. work of literature or art of the highest quality: "Robinson Crusoe" is a classic. 3. author or artist of acknowledged excellence: Shakespeare is a classic. 4. of the literature, art, and life of ancient Greece and Rome. 5. like this literature and art; simple, regular, and restrained. 6. famous in literature or history. 1,4-6 adj., 2,3 n.

the classics, the literature of ancient Greece and Rome.

clas si cal (klas/'ə kl), 1. classic; excellent; first-class. 2. having to do with the culture of the ancient Greeks and Romans; classic. 3. acquainted with or having to do with the classics: classical studies, classical students. 4. based on the classics: "Ulysses" is perhaps the best of Tennyson's classical poems. 5. orthodox and sound, but not quite up to date: classical physics. 6. of high musical quality and enjoyed especially by serious students of music. adj.

classically (klas'ik lē), in a classical style; according to the manner of classic authors. adv.

classicism (klas'ə siz əm), 1. principles of the literature and art of ancient Greece and Rome. They include simplicity, regularity, and restraint. 2. following of these principles. 3. knowledge of the literature of ancient Greece and Rome; classical scholarship. n.

classicism (klas'ə sist), 1. follower of the principles of classicism in literature and art. 2. expert in the literature of ancient Greece and Rome. 3. person who urges the study of Greek and Latin. n.

classification (klas'ə fə kā'shən), arrangement in classes or groups; a grouping according to some system: classification of books in a library. n.

classified (klas'ə fid), 1. of certain public documents of the United States, having a classification as secret, confidential, or restricted. 2. Slang. secret. adj.

classify (klas'ə fi), arrange in classes or groups; group according to some system: Men in the post office classify mail according to the places where it is to go. v., clas si fied, clas si fy ing. —clas'si fi'a ble, adj. —clas'si fi'er, n.

classmate (klas'māt'), member of the same class in school. n.

classroom (klas'rūm'), room where classes meet in school; schoolroom. n.

class struggle, any conflict between divisions of society, especially between capital and labor.

clatter (klat'ər), 1. a confused noise like that of many plates being struck together: There was such a clatter in the big dining room that we could hardly hear one another talk. 2. move or fall with confused noise; make a confused noise: The horses clattered over the stones. 3. noisy talk. 4. talk fast and noisily. 5. cause to clatter. 1,3 n., 2,4,5 v.

clause (klōz), 1. part of a sentence having a subject and predicate. In "He came before we left," "He came" is a main clause, and "before we left" is a subordinate clause. A main clause can stand alone as a sentence; a subordinate clause cannot, since its complete meaning is generally dependent upon the rest of the sentence. A subordinate clause is used as a noun, adjective, or adverb. 2. a single provision of a law, treaty, or any other written agreement: There is a clause in our contract that says we may not keep a dog in this building. n.

claustrophobia (klōs'trə fō'bē ə), a morbid fear of enclosed spaces. n.

clave (klāv), Archaic. cleaved, a pt. of cleave. v.

clavichord (klav'ə kōrd), a stringed musical instrument with a keyboard. The piano developed from it. n.

clavicle (klav'ə kl), collarbone. n.

clavier (klə vir'), 1. keyboard of a piano, organ, etc. 2. any musical instrument with a keyboard. The harpsichord and clavichord are two kinds. 3. a soundless keyboard used for practice. n.

claw (klō), 1. a sharp, hooked nail on a bird's or animal's foot. 2. foot with such sharp, hooked nails. 3. pincers of a lobster, crab, etc. 4. anything like a claw. The part of a hammer used for pulling nails is the claw. 5. scratch, tear, seize, or pull with claws or hands. 1-4 n., 5 v. —claw/like', adj.

clay (klā), 1. a stiff, sticky kind of earth, that can be easily shaped when wet and hardens after drying or baking. Bricks, dishes, and vases may be made from clay. 2. earth. 3. in the Bible, the human body. n.

Clay (klā), Henry, 1777-1852, American statesman. n.

clayey (klā'ē), 1. of, like, or containing clay. 2. covered or smeared with clay. adj., clayier, clayiest.

clay more (klā'môr), a heavy, two-edged sword, formerly used by Scottish Highlanders. n.

clay pigeon, a saucerlike clay target thrown in the air.

clean (klēn), 1. free from dirt or filth; not soiled or stained: clean clothes. Soap and water make us clean. 2. pure; innocent: a clean heart. 3. having clean habits: Cats are clean animals. 4. of atomic weapons, causing little or no radioactive fall-out. 5. clear; even; regular: a clean cut. 6. well-shaped; trim: a clean figure. 7. clever; skillful: a clean performance. 8. complete; entire; total: The new owner made a clean sweep by dismissing all the workers and hiring new ones. 9. completely; entirely; totally: The horse jumped clean over the brook. 10. in a clean manner. 11. make clean: clean a room. 12. under-go cleaning: This room cleans easily because it doesn't have much furniture in it. 13. do cleaning: I'm going to clean this morning. 1-8 adj., 9,10 adv., 11-13 v.

clean out, 1. make clean by emptying: Clean out your desk. 2. empty; use up.

clean up, 1. make clean by removing dirt, rubbish, etc.: Clean up the yard. 2. put in order. 3. Informal. finish; complete. 4. Slang. make money; profit.

clean-cut (klēn'kut'), 1. having clear, sharp outlines. 2. well-shaped. 3. clear; definite; distinct. 4. having a clear, definite character or a distinct personality. adj.

cleaner (klēn'ər), 1. person whose work is keeping buildings, windows, or other objects clean. 2. tool or machine for cleaning. 3. anything that removes dirt, grease, or stains. n.

clean-limbed (klēn'limd'), having well-shaped limbs. adj.

cleanliness (klēn'lē nis), cleanness; habitual cleanness. n.

cleanly (klēn'lē), clean; habitually clean: A cat is a cleanly animal. adj., clean li er, clean li est.

cleanly (klēn'lē), in a clean manner: The butcher's knife cut cleanly through the meat. adv.

cleanness (klēn'nis), clean condition or quality: The cleanness of the rooms pleased the good housekeeper. n.

cleanse (klenz), 1. make clean. 2. make pure. v., cleansed, cleans ing. —cleans'a ble, adj.

cleanser (klenz'ər), a substance that cleans: The housewife can choose today from many good cleansers. n.

cleansing (klenz'ing), 1. a making clean. 2. that cleanses. 1 n., 2 adj.

clean up (klēn'up'), 1. a cleaning up. 2. Slang. an exceptional amount of money made; profit. n.

clear (klir), 1. not cloudy; bright; light: a clear day. 2. transparent: clear glass. 3. having a pure, even color: a clear blue. 4. not confused; easily seen, heard, or understood; plain; distinct: a clear idea, a clear voice.

5. sure; certain: It is clear that it is going to rain. 6. not blocked or obstructed; open: a clear view. 7. make clear; get clear: He cleared the land of trees. 8. become clear: It rained and then it cleared. 9. remove to leave a space clear: She cleared the dishes from the table. 10. without touching; without being caught: The ship was clear of the iceberg. 11. pass by or over without touching or being caught: The horse cleared the fence. 12. free from blame or guilt; innocent: The police thought the man was a thief, but they learned that he was clear. 13. make free from blame or guilt; prove to be innocent: The jury's verdict cleared the accused man. 14. free from debts or charges: clear profit. 15. make as profit free from debts or charges. 16. in a clear manner. 17. complete; without limitation: the clear contrary. 18. completely; entirely: The bullet went clear through the door. 19. of lumber, free from knots or other imperfections. 20. get (a ship or cargo) free by meeting requirements on entering or leaving a port. 1-6,10,12,14,17,19 adj., 7-9,11,13,15,20 v., 16,18 adv. —clear/ly, adv. —clear/ness, n.

clear away or off, 1. remove to leave a space clear. 2. disappear; go away.

clear up, 1. make or become clear. 2. put in order by clearing. 3. explain: John cleared up the question of why

Woman playing a clavichord

Claws of a bird

he had not been there by saying that he had been ill.

4. become clear after a storm.

in the clear, 1. between the outside parts. 2. free.
clearance (klir'əns), 1. act of making clear. 2. a clear space; distance between things that pass by each other without touching. 3. the meeting of requirements to get a ship or cargo free on entering or leaving a port. 4. certificate showing this. 5. the exchanging of checks and bills and settling of accounts between different banks. n.

clear-cut (klir'kut'), 1. having clear, sharp outlines. 2. clear; definite; distinct: He had clear-cut ideas about his work. adj.

clear-headed (klir'hed'id), having or showing a clear understanding. adj. —clear'-head'ed ly, adv. —clear'-head'ed ness, n.

clearing (klir'ing), 1. an open space of cleared land in a forest. 2. exchanging of checks and bills and settling of accounts between different banks. n.

clearing house, place where banks exchange checks and bills and settle their accounts. Only the balances are paid in cash.

clear-sight ed (klir'sit'id), 1. able to see clearly. 2. able to understand or think clearly. adj. —clear'-sight'-ed ly, adv. —clear'-sight'ed ness, n.

cleat (klēt), 1. strip of wood or iron fastened across anything for support or for sure footing. A gangway has cleats to keep people from slipping. 2. a small, wedge-shaped block fastened to a spar, etc., as a support, check, etc. 3. piece of wood or iron used for securing ropes or lines. 4. fasten to or with a cleat. 1-3 n., 4 v.

CLEAT
Cleat (def. 3)

cleavage (klēv'ij), 1. split; division. 2. way in which something splits or divides. 3. any of the series of divisions by which a fertilized egg develops into an embryo. n.

cleave¹ (klēv), 1. split; divide. 2. pass through; pierce; penetrate: The airplane cleaved the clouds. 3. make by cutting: They clove a path through the wilderness. v., cleft or cleaved or clove, cleft or cleaved or cloven, cleaving. —cleav'a ble, adj.

cleave² (klēv), hold fast (to); cling; be faithful (to): cleave to an idea. v., cleaved or (Archaic) claved, cleaved, cleaving.

cleaver (klēv'ər), 1. one that cleaves. 2. a cutting tool with a heavy blade and a short handle. A butcher uses a cleaver to chop through meat or bone. n.

Cleaver

clef (klef), symbol in music indicating the pitch of the notes on a staff. n.

cleft (kleft), 1. a pt. and a pp. of cleave¹. His blow had cleft the log in two. 2. split; divided: a cleft stick. 3. space or opening made by splitting; crack. 1 v., 2 adj., 3 n.

cleft palate, a narrow opening running lengthways in the roof of the mouth, caused by failure of the two parts of the palate to join before birth.

clematis (klem'ə tis), vine with clusters of fragrant white, red, or purple flowers. n.

clemency (klem'ən sē), 1. mercy: The judge showed clemency to the prisoner. 2. mildness: The clemency of the weather allowed them to live outdoors. n., pl. clemencies.

Clemens (klem'ənz), Samuel Langhorne, 1835-1910, the real name of Mark Twain, American author and humorist. n.

clement (klem'ənt), 1. merciful. 2. mild; gentle. adj. —clem'ent ly, adv.

clench (klench), 1. close tightly together: clench one's fists, clench one's teeth. 2. grasp firmly; grip tightly: The policeman clenched his arm. 3. a firm grasp; tight grip: I felt the clench of his hand on my arm. 4. clinch (a nail, etc.). 1,2,4 v., 3 n.

Cleopatra (klē'ə pat'rə or klē'ə pā'trə), 69?-30 B.C., last queen of ancient Egypt. She reigned from 47 to 30 B.C. Her great charm gained her the love of Julius Caesar and Mark Antony. n.

clergy (klēr'jē), persons ordained for religious work; ministers, pastors, priests, and rabbis. n., pl. clergies.

clergyman (klēr'jē mən), member of the clergy; minister; pastor; priest; rabbi. n., pl. clergy men.

cleric (klēr'ik), 1. clergyman. 2. of a clergyman or the clergy. 1 n., 2 adj.

clerical (klēr'ə kl), 1. of a clerk or clerks; for clerks: Keeping records or accounts and copying letters are clerical jobs in an office. 2. of a clergyman or the clergy: The priest wore clerical robes in church. 3. clergyman. 4. Often used in an unfriendly sense. supporting the power or influence of the clergy in politics. 5. Often used in an unfriendly sense. supporter of the power or influence of the clergy in politics. 1,2,4 adj., 3,5 n. —cler'i cal ly, adv.

clericals, clothes worn by clergymen.

clericalism (klēr'ə kl iz'əm), Often used in an unfriendly sense. 1. power or influence of the clergy in politics. 2. support of such power or influence. n.

clericalist (klēr'ə kl ist), person who favors clericalism. n.

clerk (klērk; Brit. klārk), 1. person whose work is waiting on customers and selling goods in a store; salesman or saleswoman. 2. person whose work is keeping records or accounts, copying letters, etc., in an office: a law clerk. 3. official who keeps records and takes care of regular business in a law court, legislature, etc.: a county clerk. 4. work as a clerk. 5. layman who has minor church duties. 1-3,5 n., 4 v.

clerk ship (klērk'ship; Brit. klārk'ship), position or work of a clerk. n.

Clermont-Ferrand (kler mōn'fe rān'), city in central France. 113,000. n.

Cleveland (klēv'lənd), 1. city in NE Ohio, on Lake Erie. 876,000. 2. (Stephen) Grover, 1837-1908, the 22nd and 24th president of the United States, from 1885 to 1889 and from 1893 to 1897. n.

Cleveland Heights, city in NE Ohio, near Cleveland. 62,000.

clever (klēv'ər), 1. having a quick mind; bright; intelligent: Helen is the cleverest person in our class. 2. skillful or expert in doing some particular thing: a clever carpenter. 3. showing skill or intelligence: a clever trick, a clever answer. 4. Dialect. good-natured; obliging. adj. —clev'er ly, adv. —clev'er ness, n.

clevis (klēv'is), a U-shaped piece of metal with a bolt or pin through the ends. A clevis may be used to fasten a whippetree to a wagon or plow. n.

clew (klü), 1. fact or object which aids in solving a mystery or problem. 2. ball of thread or yarn. 3. a lower corner of a sail. 4. a metal ring fastened there. 5. raise or lower a sail by the clews. 1-4 n., 5 v. Also, clue.

cli ché (klē shā'), a timeworn idea or expression. n.

click (klik), 1. a light, sharp sound like that of a key turning in a lock. 2. make such a sound. 3. cause to make such a sound: The soldier clicked his heels together and saluted. 4. pawl. 5. Slang. go well; be successful: This scene will click. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v.

client (klī'ənt), 1. person for whom a lawyer acts. 2. customer. 3. a poor or humble person in ancient Rome depending on a noble or wealthy man for assistance. 4. a personal follower; dependent. n. —cli-entless, adj.

cli en tele (klī'ən tel'), 1. clients; customers. 2. personal followers. 3. number of clients. n.

cliff (klif), a very steep slope of rock, clay, etc. n. —cliff/like', adj.

cliff dweller, 1. person living in a cave or house built in a cliff. Some of the ancient Indians in the SW United States were cliff dwellers. 2. Slang. person living in a large apartment house.

cliff swallow, a North American swallow that builds a bottle-shaped nest of mud, straw, and feathers and usually fastens it to a cliff.

Cliff swallow (about 6 in. long)

Cliff ton (klif'tən), city in NE New Jersey. 82,000. n.

cli mac ter ic (klī mak'tər ik), 1. time when some important event occurs, changing the course of things; crucial period. 2. of or like a period when some important event occurs; crucial. 3. period of life when the body becomes fundamentally changed. 1,3 n., 2 adj.

cli mac tic (klī mak'tik), of or forming a climax. adj.

cli mate (klī'mit), 1. the kind of weather a place has, including conditions of heat and cold, moisture and dryness, clearness and cloudiness, wind and calm. 2. region with certain conditions of heat and cold, rainfall, wind, sunlight, etc.: The doctor ordered Jim to go to a drier climate. n.

cli mat ic (klī mat'ik), of or having to do with climate. adj.

cli mat i cally (klī mat'ik lē), with reference to climate. adv.

cli max (klī'maks), 1. the highest point; point of greatest interest; most exciting part. 2. arrangement of ideas in a rising scale of force and interest. 3. bring or come to a climax. 1,2 n., 3 v.

climb (klīm), 1. go up, especially by using the hands or feet, or both; ascend: The painter climbed the ladder. We had been climbing for hours but we had not reached the top of the mountain. 2. rise slowly or with steady effort: It takes a poor person many years to climb from poverty to wealth. 3. grow upward by holding on or twining around: Some vines climb. 4. a climbing; ascent: Our climb took two hours. 5. place to be climbed. 1-3 v., climbed or (Archaic) clomb, climbing; 4,5 n.

climb down, 1. go down by using the hands and feet. 2. Informal. give in; back down; withdraw from an impossible position or unreasonable attitude.

climb er (klīm'ər), 1. person or thing that climbs. 2. Informal. person who is always trying to get ahead socially. 3. spike attached to a shoe to help in climbing. 4. a climbing plant; vine. n.

clime (klīm), Poetic. country; region; climate. n.

clinch (klinch), 1. fasten (a driven nail, a bolt, etc.) firmly by bending over the part that projects. 2. fasten (things) together in this way. 3. fix firmly; settle decisively: A deposit of five dollars clinched the bargain. 4. grasp one another tightly in fighting or wrestling; grapple: When the boxers clinched, the crowd hissed. 5. a tight grasp in fighting or wrestling; close grip. 6. kind of sailor's knot in which the end of the rope is lashed back. 7. clench. 1-4,7 v., 5,6 n.

clinch er (klin'chər), 1. tool for clinching nails, bolts, etc. 2. Informal. argument, statement, etc., that is decisive. n.

cling (kling), 1. stick; hold fast: A vine clings to its support. We cling to the beliefs of our fathers. 2. keep near: The clouds cling to the mountains. 3. grasp; embrace: Terrified by the thunder, little Margaret clung to her mother's waist. 4. act of clinging. 1-3 v., clung, clinging; 4 n.

cling ing (kling'ing), that clings; that holds fast. adj.

clin ic (klin'ik), 1. place where poor people can receive medical treatment free or at low cost. Such a clinic is usually connected with a hospital or medical school. 2. place for the medical treatment of certain people or diseases: The children's clinic was open during school hours. 3. practical instruction of medical students by examining or treating patients in the presence of the students. 4. class of students receiving such instruction. 5. brief course of practical instruction in some non-medical field. n.

clin i cal (klin'ə kl), 1. of or having to do with a clinic. 2. used or performed in a sickroom. 3. having to do with the study of disease by observation of the patient. adj.

clin i cally (klin'ik lē), by clinical methods. adv.

clinical thermometer, thermometer for measuring the temperature of the body.

clink (klingk), 1. a light, sharp, ringing sound like that of glasses hitting together. 2. make a clink. 3. cause to clink. 1 n., 2,3 v.

clink er (klingk'ər), 1. piece of the rough, hard mass left in a furnace or stove after coal has been burned; large, rough cinder. 2. a very hard brick. 3. mass of bricks fused together. 4. slag. n.

Clint on (klin'tən), 1. De Witt, 1769-1828, American political leader largely responsible for the building of the Erie Canal. 2. George, 1739-1812, American political leader, vice-president of the United States from 1805 to 1812. n.

Clio (klī'ō), in Greek mythology, the Muse of history. n.

clip (klip), 1. cut; cut short; trim with shears or scissors: A sheep's fleece is clipped off to get wool. 2. cut the hair or fleece of: Our dog is clipped every summer. 3. act of clipping. 4. amount of wool clipped from sheep at one time. 5. damage (a coin) by cutting off the edge. 6. omit sounds in pronouncing. 7. a fast motion: Our bus passed through the village at quite a clip. 8. Informal. move fast. 9. Informal. a sharp blow or punch. 10. Informal. hit or punch sharply. 11. Informal. one time; single occasion: at one clip. 12. cut pieces from a magazine, newspaper, etc. 1,2,5,6,8,10,12 v., clipped, clip ping; 3,4,7,9,11 n.

clip (klip), 1. hold tight; fasten: clip papers together. 2. thing used for clipping (things) together. A clip for papers is often made of a piece of bent wire. 3. a metal holder for cartridges on some firearms. 1 v., clipped, clip ping; 2,3 n.

clip per (klip'ər), 1. person who clips or cuts. 2. a sailing ship built and rigged for speed. 3. a large, fast aircraft. n.

clip per-built (klip'ər bilt'), built and rigged for fast sailing. adj.

clip pers (klip'ərz), tool for cutting: hedge clippers. n.pl.

clip ping (klip'ing), 1. piece cut out of a newspaper, magazine, etc. 2. thing cut out or off of something else. n.

clique (klēk or klik), a small, exclusive set or snobbish group of people. n.

cli quish (klē'kish or klik'ish), 1. like a clique. 2. tending to form a clique. adj. —cli/quish ness, n.

clk., 1. clerk. 2. clock.

cloak (klōk), 1. an outer garment, usually loose, with or without sleeves, and hanging to the knees. 2. cover with a cloak. 3. anything that hides or conceals: do mean deeds under the cloak of friendship. 4. hide; conceal: cloak evil purposes under friendly words. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

cloak room (klōk'rūm'), room where coats, hats, etc., can be left for a time. n.

clob ber (klob'ər), Slang. 1. attack violently. 2. defeat severely. v.

clock (klok), 1. instrument for measuring and showing time, especially one that is not carried around like a watch. 2. measure the time of, especially of a person, car, horse, etc., in a race or in preparation for a race. 3. record the time of. 1 n., 2,3 v. —clock'er, n. —clock/like', adj.

clock (klok), an ornamental pattern sewn or woven on the side of a stocking, extending up from the ankle. n.

clock mak er (klok/'māk'ər), man whose business is making clocks. n.

clock wise (klok/'wīz'), in the direction in which the hands of a clock move: Turn off the water by turning the knob in a clockwise direction. adv., adj.

clock work (klok/'wèrk'), 1. machinery used to run a clock, consisting of gears, wheels, and springs. 2. machinery like this. Many mechanical toys are run by clockwork. n.

like clockwork, with great regularity and smoothness.

clod (kłod), 1. lump of earth; lump. 2. earth; soil. 3. a stupid person; blockhead. n.

clod hop per (kłod/'hɒp'ər), 1. a clumsy boor. 2. a large, heavy shoe. n.

clog (klog), 1. fill up; choke up: Greasy water clogged the drain. 2. become filled or choked up. 3. hinder; interfere with; hold back: Heavy clothes clogged the swimmer. 4. thing that hinders or interferes. 5. any weight, such as a block of wood, fastened to the leg of an animal to hinder motion. 6. a heavy shoe with a wooden sole. 7. a lighter shoe with a wooden sole, used in dancing. 8. dance by beating a heavy rhythm on the floor with such shoes. 9. such a dance. 1-3,8 v., clogged, clog ging; 4-7,9 n.

clog dance, dance in which the dancer wears clogs (def. 7) to beat time.

cloi son né (kloi/'zə nā'), 1. enamel in which the patterns of the design are separated by thin metal strips fastened on the surface. 2. enameled in this way. 1 n., 2 adj.

clois ter (klois/'tər), 1. a covered walk along the wall of a building, with a row of pillars on the open side. A cloister is often built around the courtyard of a monastery, church, or college building. 2. place of religious retirement; convent or monastery. 3. a quiet place shut away from the world. 4. shut away in a quiet place. 1-3 n., 4 v.

Cloister (def. 1)

clois tered (klois/'tərd), shut away in a quiet place. adj.

clois tral (klois/'trəl), 1. like a cloister. 2. of or suitable for a convent, monastery, etc. adj.

cloke (klōk), Archaic. cloak. n., v.

clomb (klōm), Archaic. climbed, a pt. and a pp. of climb. v.

close (klōz), 1. shut: Close the door. The sleepy child's eyes are closing. 2. stop up; fill; block: close a gap. 3. bring together; come together: close the ranks of troops. 4. end; finish: The meeting closed with a speech by the president (v.). He spoke at the close of the meeting (n.). 5. come to terms; agree: The labor union closed with the company. 6. grapple. 1-6 v., closed, clos ing; 4 n. —clos'er, n.

close down, shut completely; stop.

close in, come near and shut in on all sides.

close out, sell to get rid of.

close up, 1. shut completely; stop up; block. 2. bring or come nearer together. 3. of a wound, heal.

close (klōs), 1. with very little in between; near together; near: close teeth. 2. fitting tightly; tight; narrow: close quarters. 3. having its parts near together; compact: a close texture. 4. intimate; dear: a close friend. 5. careful; exact: a close translation. 6. thorough; strict: close attention. 7. having little fresh air: a close room. 8. hard to breathe. 9. not fond of talking; keeping quiet about oneself. 10. secret; hidden. 11. strictly guarded; confined: keep a man close at home. 12. restricted; limited. 13. stingy. 14. hard to get; scarce. 15. nearly equal; almost even: a close contest. 16. closed; shut; not open. 17. in a close manner. 18. an enclosed place. 19. grounds around a cathedral or abbey. 1-16 adj., clos er, clos est; 17 adv., 18,19 n. —close'ness, n. close to the wind, 1. with the ship pointed as nearly as possible in the direction from which the wind is blowing. 2. just barely following rules or laws.

closed shop, factory or business that employs only members of labor unions.

closed syllable, syllable that ends in a consonant sound. Example: can- in candy.

close-fist ed (klōs/'fis'tid), stingy. adj.

close-grained (klōs/'grānd'), having a fine, close grain. Mahogany is a close-grained wood. adj.

close ly (klōs/'lē), in a close manner; to a close degree or extent: Her coat fits closely. I will examine the matter very closely. adv.

close-mouthed (klōs/'mouθnd/ or klōs/'mouθt'), not fond of talking; reticent. adj.

close quarters, 1. fighting or struggling close together. 2. place or position with little space.

clo set (klōz/'it), 1. a small room used for storing clothes or household supplies, such as canned food, china, or linen. 2. cupboard for holding china, linen, etc. 3. a small, private room for prayer, study, or interviews. 4. shut up in a private room for a secret talk: The president was closeted with his personal advisers for several hours. 5. a water closet; toilet. 1-3,5 n., 4 v.

close-up (klōs/'ʌp/), 1. picture taken at close range. 2. a close view. n.

clo sure (klō/'zhər), 1. a closing. 2. a closed condition. 3. thing that closes. 4. end; finish; conclusion. 5. cloture. n.

clot (klot), 1. a half-solid lump; thickened mass: A clot of blood formed in the cut and stopped the bleeding. 2. form into clots: Milk clots when it turns sour. 1 n., 2 v., clot ted, clot ting.

cloth (klōth), 1. material made from wool, cotton, silk, linen, hair, etc., by weaving, knitting, or rolling and pressing. 2. piece of this material for some purpose. A dishcloth and a tablecloth are two kinds. 3. made of cloth. 4. the customary clothing worn by the members of a profession or trade. 5. profession of a clergyman. 1,2,4,5 n., pl. cloths (klōthz or klōths); 3 adj.

the cloth, clergymen; the clergy.

clothe (klōth), 1. put clothes on; cover with clothes; dress. 2. provide with clothes: It costs quite a bit to clothe a family of six. 3. cover: The sun clothes the earth with light. 4. provide; furnish; equip: A judge is clothed with the authority of the state. v., clothed or clad, cloth-ing.

clothes (klōz or klōthz), 1. covering for a person's body. 2. coverings for a bed. n.pl.

clothes horse (klōz/'hōrs/ or klōthz/'hōrs'), frame to hang clothes on to dry or air them. n.

clothes pin (klōz/'pin/ or klōthz/'pin/), clip, often wooden, to hold clothes on a clothesline. n.

clothes press, chest, cupboard, or closet in which to keep clothes.

cloth ier (klōth/'yər), 1. seller or maker of clothing. 2. seller of cloth. n.

cloth ing (klōth/'ing), 1. clothes. 2. covering. n.

Clo tho (klō/'thō), in Greek mythology, one of the three Fates. Clotho spins the thread of life. n.

clo ture (klō/'char), U.S. way of ending a debate and getting an immediate vote on the question being discussed. n. Also, closure.

cloud (klaud), 1. a white, gray, or almost black mass in the sky, made up of tiny drops of water. 2. mass of smoke or dust. 3. cover with a cloud or clouds. 4. grow cloudy: The sky clouded. 5. a great number of things moving close together: a cloud of birds, a cloud of arrows. 6. streak; spot: clouded marble. 7. anything that darkens or dims; cause of gloom, trouble, suspicion, or disgrace. 8. darken; dim; make or become gloomy, troubled, suspected, or disgraced. 1,2,5-7 n., 3,4,6,8 v. —cloud/-like', adj.

under a cloud, 1. under suspicion; in disgrace. 2. in gloom or trouble.
cloud berry (klaud/'ber/ē), a small, yellow raspberry that grows on mountains. n., pl. cloud berries.
cloud burst (klaud/'bērst/), a sudden, violent rainfall. n.
cloud chamber, an apparatus that permits scientists to see the paths followed through a vapor by very small charged particles.
cloud less (klaud/'lis), clear; bright; sunny. adj.
cloud let (klaud/'lit), a little cloud. n.
cloud seeding, the scattering of particles of carbon dioxide or certain other chemicals in clouds to produce rain.
cloud y (klaud/'ē), 1. covered with clouds; having clouds in it: a cloudy sky. 2. of or like clouds. 3. not clear: a cloudy liquid. 4. streaked; spotted: cloudy marble. 5. dark; dim; confused; indistinct: a cloudy notion. 6. gloomy; frowning. adj., cloud ier, cloud-i est. —cloud/i ly, adv. —cloud/i ness, n.
clough (kluf or klou), a narrow valley; ravine; glen. n.
clout (klaud), 1. Informal. hit with the hand; rap; knock; cuff. 2. a white cloth target used in archery. 3. shot that hits this. 4. Archaic. cloth; rag. 1-4 n., 1 v.
clove (klōv), 1. a strong, fragrant spice obtained from the dried flower buds of a tropical tree. 2. the dried flower bud. 3. the tree. n.
clove (klōv), a small, separate section of a bulb: a clove of garlic. n.
cloves (klōv), cleft, a pt. of cleave. v.
clove hitch, knot for tying a rope around a pole, spar, etc.
clo ven (klō/'vən), 1. cleft, a pp. of cleave. 2. split; divided. 1 v., 2 adj.
cloven hoof, a split hoof; hoof divided into two parts. Cows and sheep have cloven hoofs. The Devil is supposed to have cloven hoofs.
clo ven-hoofed (klō/'vən huft/), 1. having cloven hoofs. 2. devilish. adj.
clo ver (klō/'vər), a low plant of the same family as the pea, with three leaflets to each leaf, and rounded heads of small red, white, yellow, or crimson flowers. Clover is grown as food for horses and cattle. n.
in clover, enjoying a life of pleasure and luxury without work or worry.
clown (klaun), 1. man whose business is to amuse others by tricks and jokes. 2. act like a clown; play tricks and jokes; act silly. 3. a bad-mannered, awkward person. 1,3 n., 2 v.
clown ish (klaun/'ish), like a clown; like a clown's. adj. —clown/ish ly, adv. —clown/ish ness, n.
cl oy (kloi), 1. weary by too much, too sweet, or too rich food. 2. weary by too much of anything pleasant. v.
club (klub), 1. a heavy stick of wood, thicker at one end, used as a weapon. 2. a stick or bat used to hit a ball in games: golf clubs. 3. beat or hit with a club. 4. group of people joined together for some special purpose: a tennis club. 5. a building or rooms used by a club. 6. join together for some special purpose: The children clubbed together to buy their mother some flowers for her birthday. 7. a playing card with one or more black designs on it, shaped like this: ♣. 1,2,4,5,7 n., 3,6 v., clubbed, club bing.
club foot (klub/'fūt/), 1. a deformed foot, short and distorted. 2. deformity of the foot caused by faulty development before birth. n., pl. club feet.
club foot ed (klub/'fūt/id), having a clubfoot. adj.
club house (klub/'hous/), a building used by a club. n.
club moss, a flowerless plant that grows along the ground and looks much like a vine covered with pine needles.

clubs (klubz), suit of playing cards marked with a black ♣. n.pl.
cluck (kluk), 1. sound made by a hen calling her chickens. 2. make such a sound. 3. a sound like this. 4. make a sound like this. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.
clue (klü), 1. guide to the solving of a mystery or problem. 2. clew. n.
clum ber (klum/'bər), kind of spaniel with short legs and a long, heavy body. n.
clump (klump), 1. cluster: a clump of trees. 2. form a clump; plant in clusters. 3. lump: a clump of earth. 4. sound of heavy, clumsy walking. 5. walk heavily and clumsily. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v.
clump y (klump/'ē), 1. full of clumps. 2. like clumps. 3. heavy and clumsy. adj.
clum si ness (klum/'zē nis), being clumsy; awkwardness. n.
clum sy (klum/'zē), 1. not graceful or skillful; awkward: The clumsy boy bumped into all the furniture. 2. not well-shaped or well-made: Jack's rowboat was a clumsy affair made out of old boxes. adj., clum si er, clum si est. —clum/si ly, adv.
clung (klung), pt. and pp. of cling. The child clung to her mother. v.
clus ter (klus/'tər), 1. a number of things of the same kind growing or grouped together: a cluster of grapes, a cluster of curls, a little cluster of houses. 2. a group of persons or things. 3. form into a cluster; gather in clusters; group together closely: The girls clustered around their teacher. 1,2 n., 3 v.
clutch (kluch), 1. a tight grasp: The eagle flew away with a rabbit in its clutches. 2. grasp tightly: The girl clutched her doll to her breast. 3. snatch; seize eagerly: A drowning man will clutch at a straw. 4. a grasping claw, paw, hand, etc.: Quick shooting saved the hunter from the bear's clutches. 5. control; power: in the clutches of the police. 6. device in a machine for connecting or disconnecting the engine or motor that makes it go. 7. lever or pedal that operates this device. 1,4-7 n., 2,3 v.
clut ter (klut/'ər), 1. a litter; confusion; disorder. 2. litter (with things): Her desk was all cluttered with old papers, strings, and trash. 3. confused noise; loud clatter. 4. make a confused noise; clatter loudly. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.
Clyde (klīd), 1. river in S Scotland, flowing into the Firth of Clyde. 106 mi. 2. Firth of, a deep inlet in SW Scotland. 64 mi. long. n.
Cly tem nes tra (klī'təm nes/'trə), in Greek legend, the wife of Agamemnon. She killed him on his return from Troy and was afterwards slain by their son Orestes. n.
Cm, curium.
cm, or cm, centimeter; centimeters.
cm l., commercial.
co-, prefix meaning:
 1. with; together: Coöperate = act with or together.
 2. joint; fellow: Coauthor = joint or fellow author.
 3. equally: Coextensive = equally extensive.
Co, cobalt.
Co, or co., 1. Company. 2. County.
C.O., 1. Commanding Officer. 2. Informal. conscientious objector.
c.o. or c/o, in care of.
coach (kōch), 1. a large, closed carriage with seats inside and often on top. It carried passengers along a regular route, stopping for meals and fresh horses. 2. carry or ride in a coach. 3. a passenger car of a railroad train. 4. a closed automobile like a sedan. 5. bus. 6. person who teaches or trains athletic teams, etc.: a football coach. 7. teach; train. 8. a private teacher who helps a student prepare

Clumber (1½ ft. tall)

Clove hitch

Coach

for a special test. 9. help to prepare for a special test. 1,3-6,8 n., 2,7,9 v.

coach-and-four (kōch'ənd fōr'), coach pulled by four horses. n.

coach dog, Dalmatian.

coach man (kōch'mən), man whose work is driving a coach or carriage. n., pl. coach men.

co ad ju tor (kō əj'ə tər), 1. assistant; helper.

2. bishop appointed to assist a bishop. n.

co ag u late (kō əg'yə lāt), change from liquid into a thickened mass; thicken: Cooking coagulates the white of egg. v., co ag u lat ed, co ag u lat ing. —co ag'u la-tor, n.

co ag u la tion (kō əg'yə lā'shən), 1. act of coagulating. If coagulation does not take place after a cut or wound, the injured person may bleed to death. 2. a coagulated mass. n.

co ag u la tive (kō əg'yə lā'tiv), tending to coagulate or cause coagulation. adj.

coal (kōl), 1. a black mineral that burns and gives off heat, composed mostly of carbon. It is formed from partly decayed vegetable matter under great pressure in the earth. Hard and soft coal are two kinds. 2. a piece of this mineral. 3. supply with coal. 4. take in a supply of coal: The ship stopped just long enough to coal. 5. a piece of wood, coal, etc., burning, partly burned, or all burned. 6. charcoal. 1,2,5,6 n., 3,4 v.

coal er (kōl'ər), 1. ship, railroad, etc., used for carrying or supplying coal. 2. worker or merchant who supplies coal. n.

co a lesce (kō'ə les'), 1. grow together. 2. unite into one body, mass, party, etc.; combine: The thirteen colonies coalesced to form a nation. v., co a lesced, co a les cing.

co a les cence (kō'ə les'ns), 1. a growing together. 2. union; combination. n.

co a les cent (kō'ə les'nt), coalescing. adj.

coal gas, 1. gas made from coal, used for heating and lighting. 2. gas given off by burning coal.

co a li tion (kō'ə lish'ən), 1. union; combination. 2. a temporary alliance of statesmen, political parties, etc., for some special purpose. n.

coal mine, mine or pit where coal is dug from the earth.

coal oil, 1. kerosene. 2. petroleum.

coal pit, 1. coal mine. 2. place where charcoal is made.

coal scuttle, bucket for holding or carrying coal.

coal tar, a black, sticky residue left after soft coal has been distilled to make coal gas, used as a basis for aniline dyes, flavorings, perfumes, benzene, etc.

coam ing (kōm'ing), a raised edge around a hatch or opening in the deck of a ship to prevent water from running down below. n.

coarse (kōrs), 1. made up of fairly large parts; not fine: coarse sand. 2. rough: coarse cloth. 3. common; poor; inferior: coarse food. 4. not delicate or refined; crude; vulgar: coarse manners. adj., coars er, coars est. —coarse-ly, adv. —coarse-ness, n.

coarse-grained (kōrs'grānd'), 1. having a coarse texture; made up of large, coarse fibers. 2. not delicate or refined; crude. adj.

coars en (kōr'sən), make or become coarse. v.

coast (kōst), 1. land along the sea; seashore. 2. region near a coast. 3. go along or near the coast of. 4. sail from port to port of a coast. 5. U.S. ride or slide down a hill without using power. You can coast downhill on a sled or bicycle. 6. a slope for sliding downhill on a sled, etc. 1,2,5,6 n., 3-5 v.

the Coast, in the United States, the region along the Pacific.

coast al (kōs'tl), of, near, or along a coast: Those big guns are for coastal defense. adj.

coastal plain, a flat stretch of land along a coast.

coast er (kōs'tər), 1. person or thing that coasts. 2. ship trading along a coast. 3. sled to coast on. 4. an amusement railway with dips, curves, and bumps. 5. a little tray to hold a glass or bottle. n.

Coast Guard, the government organization whose work is saving lives and preventing smuggling along the coasts of the United States.

coast guard, 1. any group of men whose work is saving lives and preventing smuggling along the coast of a country. 2. member of any such group.

coasting trade, 1. trade carried on by ships between the ports of one country. 2. trade carried on by ships along the coasts of several countries.

coast land (kōst'land'), land along a coast. n.

coast line (kōst'lin'), outline of a coast. n.

Coast Ranges, a mountain system along the Pacific coast of North America. The highest peak is 11,485 ft.

coast ward (kōst'wārd), toward the coast. adv., adj.

coast ways (kōst'wāz'), coastwise. adv.

coast wise (kōst'wiz'), along the coast. adv., adj.

coat (kōt), 1. an outer garment of cloth, fur, etc., with sleeves. 2. an outer covering: a dog's coat of hair, a coat of bark on a tree. 3. provide with a coat. 4. layer covering a surface: a coat of paint. 5. cover with a layer: The old books were coated with dust. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v. —coat-less, adj.

co a ti (kō ā'tī), a small mammal somewhat like a raccoon, living in Central and South America. It has a long body and tail and a flexible snout. n., pl. co a tis.

coat ing (kōt'ing), 1. layer covering a surface: a coat-ing of paint. 2. cloth for making coats. n.

coat of arms, 1. shield, or drawing of a shield, bearing designs symbolic of family history, used especially by noble families in Europe. 2. somewhat similar device adopted as an emblem of authority by a government, a city, or even a corporation. pl. coats of arms.

coat of mail, garment made of metal rings or plates, worn as armor. pl. coats of mail.

co au thor (kō ō'thər), a joint author. n.

coax (kōks), 1. persuade by soft words; influence by pleasant ways: She coaxed her father to let her go to the dance. 2. get by coaxing: The nurse coaxed a smile from the baby. v. —coax'er, n. —coax'ing ly, adv.

co ax i al cable (kō ak'sē əl), a connecting cable containing insulated conducting materials surrounding an insulated central conductor, used for transmitting telegraph, telephone, and television impulses.

cob (kōb), 1. U.S. the center part of an ear of corn, on which the kernels grow. 2. a strong horse with short legs. n.

co balt (kō'bōlt), 1. a silver-white metallic element with a pinkish tint, used in making steel, paints, etc. Symbol: Co 2. a dark-blue coloring matter made from cobalt. n.

cobalt bomb, a hydrogen bomb encased in a shell of cobalt instead of steel. It is potentially, because of the wide dispersal of radioactive cobalt dust, the most dangerous atomic weapon thus far conceived.

cobalt-60 bomb, radioactive cobalt (cobalt-60) enclosed in a lead case, used in the treatment of cancer.

cob ble¹ (kōb'l), 1. mend (shoes, etc.); repair; patch. 2. put together clumsily. v., cob bled, cob bling.

cob ble² (kōb'l), 1. cobblestone. 2. pave with cobblestones. 1 n., 2 v., cob bled, cob bling.

cob bler (kōb'lər), 1. man whose work is mending shoes. 2. a clumsy workman. 3. U.S. a fruit pie baked

Coati (body 2 ft. long; tail 2 ft. long)

Coat of arms

in a deep dish, usually with a crust only on top. 4. an iced drink made of wine, fruit juice, etc. n.

cobble stone (kɒb'l stɒn'), a rounded stone that was formerly much used in paving. n.

co bel lig er ent (kō'bə lij'ər ənt), nation that helps another nation carry on a war. n.

Cóbh (kōv), seaport in the S part of the Irish Republic. 5000. n.

co bra (kō'brə), a very poisonous snake of S Asia and Africa. It can dilate the head and neck so that they assume a hoodlike form. n.

cob web (kɒb'web'), 1. a spider's web or the stuff it is made of. 2. anything thin and slight or entangling like a spider's web. 3. staleness; mustiness. n.

co ca (kō'kə), 1. a small, tropical shrub growing in South America whose dried leaves are used to make cocaine and other alkaloids. 2. its dried leaves. n.

co caine or co cain (kō kən' or kō'kən), drug used to deaden pain and as a stimulant. n.

coc cus (kɒk'əs), 1. bacterium shaped like a sphere. See bacteria for picture. 2. carpel; part of a compound pistil. n., pl. coc ci (kɒk'si).

coc cyx (kɒk'siks), a small, triangular bone at the lower end of the spinal column. n., pl. coc cyges (kɒk si'jəz).

Co chin or co chin (kō'chin or koch'in), one of a large breed of domestic fowl that have many feathers on their legs. n.

Cochin China (kō'chin or koch'in), a former French colony in S Indochina, now part of South Vietnam.

coch i neal (koch'ə nēl' or koch'ə nēl), a bright-red dye made from the dried bodies of the females of a scale insect that lives on cactus plants of tropical America. n.

coc le a (kɒk'lē ə), a spiral-shaped cavity of the inner ear, containing the sensory ends of the auditory nerve. See ear for diagram. n., pl. coch le ae (-lē ē).

cock¹ (kɒk), 1. a male chicken; rooster. 2. the male of other birds. 3. faucet used to turn the flow of a liquid or gas on or off. 4. hammer of a gun. 5. position of the hammer of a gun when it is pulled back ready to fire. 6. pull back the hammer of (a gun), ready to fire. 7. weathercock. 8. leader; head; main person. 1-5, 7, 8 n., 6 v.

cock² (kɒk), 1. turn up jauntily; stick up defiantly: The little bird cocked his eye at me. 2. an upward turn or bend of the nose or eye. 3. turn of a brim of a hat. 1 v., 2, 3 n.

cock³ (kɒk), 1. a small, cone-shaped pile of hay in a field. 2. pile in cocks. 1 n., 2 v.

cock ade (kɒk əd'), knot of ribbon or a rosette worn on the hat as a badge. n.

cock a too (kɒk'ə tü' or kɒk'ə tü), a large, brightly colored parrot of Australia, East Indies, etc. n., pl. cock a toos.

cock a trice (kɒk'ə tris), a fabled serpent whose look was supposed to cause death. n.

cock boat (kɒk'bōt'), a small rowboat. n.

cock chaf er (kɒk'chəf'ər), a large European beetle that destroys plants. n.

cock er (kɒk'ər), cocker spaniel. n.

cock er el (kɒk'ər əl), a young rooster, not more than one year old. n.

cocker spaniel, any of a breed of small dogs with long, silky hair and drooping ears.

cock fight (kɒk'fɪt'), fight between roosters or between gamecocks armed with steel spurs. n.

cock fight ing (kɒk'fɪt'ɪŋ), fighting by roosters or gamecocks for the sport of spectators. n.

Cobra (4½ ft. long)

Cochin

cock horse (kɒk'hɔrs'), a child's hobbyhorse; rocking horse. n.

cock le¹ (kɒk'l), 1. an edible salt-water mollusk with two ridged shells that are somewhat heart-shaped. 2. one of these shells. 3. a small, light, shallow boat. 4. wrinkle; pucker; bulge on the surface: Paper sometimes cockles when you paste it (v.). There is a cockle in the cover of this book (n.). 1-4 n., 4 v., cock led, cock ling. cockles of one's heart, the inmost part of one's heart or feelings.

cock le² (kɒk'l), weed that grows in grain fields. n.

cock le bur (kɒk'l bər'), any of several weeds with spiny burs. n.

cock le shell (kɒk'l shel'), 1. shell of the cockle. 2. a small, light, shallow boat. n.

cock ney (kɒk'nē), 1. native or inhabitant of the poorer section of London who speaks a particular dialect of English. 2. this dialect. 3. of or like the dialect of people of the poorer section of London. 4. of or like cockneys. 1, 2 n., pl. cock neys; 3, 4 adj.

cock pit (kɒk'pit'), 1. a small, open place in an airplane, boat, etc., where the pilot or passengers sit. 2. an enclosed place for cockfights. 3. scene of many fights or battles: Belgium is often called the cockpit of Europe. 4. rooms below the deck of warships of former times, used as quarters for junior officers, or as a hospital during battle. n.

Cockroach (actual size) cock roach (kɒk'rōch'), a small brownish or yellowish insect often found in kitchens, around water pipes, etc. Cockroaches come out at night. n.

cocks comb (kɒks'kɒm'), 1. the fleshy, red part on the head of a rooster. 2. a pointed cap somewhat like this, worn by a jester or clown. 3. plant with crested or feathery clusters of red or yellow flowers. 4. Obsolete. coxcomb. n.

cock sure (kɒk'shūr'), 1. perfectly sure; absolutely certain. 2. too sure. adj. Cockscomb —cock/sure/ness, n.

cock swain (kɒk'sən or kɒk'swān'), coxswain. n.

cock tail (kɒk'tāl'), 1. an iced drink, often composed of gin or whiskey, mixed with bitters, vermouth, fruit juices, etc. 2. appetizer: a tomato-juice cocktail. 3. shellfish served in a small glass with a highly seasoned sauce. 4. any mixed fruits served in a glass. n.

cock y (kɒk'ē), Informal. conceited; swaggering: He is a cocky little fellow. adj., cockier, cockiest. —cock/i ly, adv. —cock/i ness, n.

co co (kō'kō), 1. a tall palm tree on which coconuts grow. 2. its fruit or seed. n., pl. co cos. Also, cocoa.

co coa¹ (kō'kō), 1. powder made by roasting and grinding cacao seeds. 2. drink made of this powder with milk or water and sugar. 3. a dull brown. 4. of or having to do with cocoa. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

co coa² (kō'kō), coco. n.

cocoa butter, a yellowish-white fat obtained from cacao seeds, used in making soap, cosmetics, etc.

co co nut or co coa nut (kō'kə nut'), the large, round, brown, hard-shelled fruit of the coconut palm. Coconuts have a white lining that is good to eat, and contain a white liquid called coconut milk. n.

coconut oil, oil obtained from coconuts, used for making soap, candles, etc.

coconut palm, a tall palm tree on which coconuts grow.

coconut tree, coconut palm.

co coon (kə kün'), 1. silky case spun by the larvae of most moths and certain other insects to live in during the pupa stage, while they are turning into adult insects. 2. any similar protective covering. n.

Co cos Islands (kō'kōs), group of 27 coral islands in the Indian Ocean, belonging to Australia. 600 pop.; 1 sq. mi. Also, Keeling Islands.

Cocker spaniel (11 in. tall)

Cocoon of a silkworm cod (kod), an important food fish found in the cold parts of the N Atlantic. It is usually about three feet long when fully grown. n., pl. cods or (esp. collectively) cod.

Cod (kód), Cape, a hook-shaped peninsula in SE Massachusetts. n.

C.O.D. or c.o.d., cash on delivery; collect on delivery.

co da (kô'də), a final passage of a musical composition, which gives it a satisfactory ending. n.

cod dle (kod'l), 1. treat tenderly; pamper: coddle sick children. 2. cook in hot water without boiling: coddle an egg. v., cod dled, cod dling.

code (kôd), 1. a collection of the laws of a country arranged in a clear way so that they can be understood and used. 2. any set of rules: A moral code is made up of the notions of right and wrong conduct held by a person, a group of persons, or a society. 3. system of signals for sending messages by telegraph, flags, etc. The Morse code is used in telegraphy. 4. a secret writing; arrangement of words, figures, etc., to keep a message short or secret. 5. change or translate into a code. 1-4 n., 5 v., cod ed, cod ing.

co de in (kô'dē in or kô'dēn), codeine. n.

co deine (kô'dēn or kô'dē in), a white, crystalline drug obtained from opium, used to relieve pain and cause sleep. n.

co dex (kô'deks), manuscript; volume of manuscripts. n., pl. co di ces.

cod fish (kod'fish'), cod. n., pl. cod fish es or (esp. collectively) cod fish.

codfish cakes, any fried cakes made of cod or cod and mashed potato.

codg er (koj'ər), Informal. a queer or peculiar person. n.

co di ces (kô'də sēz or kod'ə sēz), pl. of codex. n.

cod i cil (kod'əsl), 1. something added to a will to change it, add to it, or explain it. 2. something added. n.

cod i fi ca tion (kod'ə fə kă'shən or kô'də fə kă'shən), arrangement according to a system. n.

cod i fy (kod'ə fi or kô'də fi), arrange (laws, etc.) according to a system: The laws of France were codified from 1804 to 1810 by order of Napoleon I. v., cod i fied, cod i fy ing. —cod'i fi'er, n.

cod lin (kod'lin), codling. n.

cod ling (kod'ling), 1. a small, unripe apple. 2. a kind of long, tapering apple. n.

codling moth, a small moth whose larvae destroy apples, pears, etc.

cod-liv er oil (kod'liv'ər), oil extracted from the liver of cod or of related species, used as a medicine. It is rich in vitamins A and D.

Co dy (kô'dē), William F., 1846-1917, American frontier scout and showman. He was called "Buffalo Bill." n.

co ed or co-ed (kô'ed'), U.S. Informal. a girl or woman student at a coeducational school. n.

co ed u ca tion (kô'ej ə kă'shən), education of boys and girls or men and women together in the same school or classes. n.

co ed u ca tion al (kô'ej ə kă'shən l), 1. educating boys and girls or men and women together in the same school or classes. 2. having to do with coeducation. adj. —co'ed u ca'tion al ly, adv.

co effi cient (kô'ə fish'ənt), a number or symbol put before and multiplying another. In $3x$, 3 is the coefficient of x ; in axy , a is the coefficient of xy . n.

coe la canth (sē'lə kanth), any of a group of fishes having rounded scales and lobed fins, formerly considered extinct. A coelacanth is similar to the primitive sea vertebrates which gave rise to all land vertebrates. n.

coe len ter ate (si len'tər āt), 1. one of a group of salt-water invertebrates with saclike bodies. Hydras, jellyfish, corals, etc., are coelenterates. 2. belonging to this group. 1 n., 2 adj.

co e qual (kô ē'kwəl), 1. equal in rank, degree, etc. 2. one that is coequal. 1 adj., 2 n. —co e'qual ly, adv.

co erce (kô èrs'), 1. compel; force: The boy was coerced into learning to dance. 2. control or restrain by force. v., co erced, co erc ing. —co erc'er, n.

co er cion (kô èr'shən), 1. use of force; compulsion; constraint. 2. government by force. n.

co er cive (kô èr'siv), 1. compelling; forcing. 2. restraining. adj. —co er'cive ly, adv.

co e val (kô ē'vl), 1. of the same age, date, or duration. 2. contemporary. 1,2 adj., 2 n. —co e'val ly, adv.

co ex ist (kô'eg zist'), exist together or at the same time: Orange trees have coexisting fruit and flowers. v.

co ex ist ence (kô'eg zis'təns), existence together or at the same time. n.

co ex ist ent (kô'eg zis'tənt), coexisting. adj.

co ex tend (kô'eks tend'), extend equally or to the same limits. v.

co ex ten sion (kô'eks ten'shən), 1. extension over an equal amount of space. 2. extension over exactly the same time. n.

co ex ten sive (kô'eks ten'siv), extending equally; extending over the same space or time. adj.

cof fee (kôf'ē), 1. a dark-brown drink, first used in Europe about 1600. 2. the seeds from which the drink is made. 3. a tall, tropical shrub on which the seeds grow. 4. the color of coffee. 5. a social gathering at which coffee is served. n.

coffee bean, seed of the coffee shrub. Coffee beans are roasted and ground to make coffee.

coffee house, place where coffee and other refreshments are served. In the 17th and 18th centuries, London coffee houses filled much the same place as modern clubs.

coffee shop, place where coffee and other refreshments are served.

cof fer (kôf'ər), 1. a box, chest, or trunk, especially one used to hold money or other valuable things. 2. an ornamental panel in a ceiling, etc. 3. confederam. n.

cof fer dam (kôf'ər dam'), a watertight enclosure built in a shallow river, lake, etc. It is pumped dry so that men can build the foundations of a bridge, etc. n.

cof fers (kôf'ərz), treasury; funds. n.pl.

cof fin (kôf'ən), 1. box into which a dead person is put to be buried. 2. put into a coffin. 3. shut up tightly. 1 n., 2,3 v.

cog (kog), 1. one of a series of teeth on the edge of a wheel that transfers motion by locking into the teeth of a similar wheel. 2. wheel with such a row of teeth on it. 3. projection on one piece of wood that fits into a notch on another piece to make a joint. n.

slip a cog, make a mistake.

co gen cy (kô'jən sē), forcible quality; power of convincing. n.

co gent (kô'jənt), forcible; convincing: The lawyer's cogent arguments convinced the jury. adj. —co'gent ly, adv.

cog i tate (koj'ə tāt), think over; consider with care; meditate; ponder. v., cog i tat ed, cog i tat ing. —cog'i ta'tor, n.

cog i ta tion (koj'ə tā'shən), deep thought; careful consideration; pondering; meditation. n.

co gnac (kôn'yak), a kind of French brandy. n.

cog nate (kog'nāt), 1. related by family or origin. English, Dutch, and German are cognate languages. 2. person, word, or thing related to another by having a common source. German Wasser and English water are cognates. 3. having a similar nature or quality. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

Coffers (def. 2)

cog ni tion (kog nish'ən), 1. act of knowing; perception; awareness. 2. thing known, perceived, or recognized. n.

cog ni zance (kog'nə zəns), 1. knowledge; perception; awareness: The king had cognizance of plots against him. 2. in law, an official notice. 3. right or power to deal with judicially. n.

cog ni zant (kog'nə zənt), aware: The general was cognizant of the movements of the enemy. adj.

cog no men (kog nō'mən), 1. surname; family name; last name. 2. any name. 3. nickname. n.

cog wheel (kog'hwēl'), wheel with teeth projecting from the rim for transmitting or receiving motion. n.

co hab it (kō hab'it), 1. live together as husband and wife do. 2. live together. v.

co hab i ta tion (kō hab'ə tā'shən), act or state of living together as husband and wife do. n.

co here (kō hir'), 1. stick or hold together as parts of the same mass or substance: The particles making up a brick cohere. 2. be connected logically; be consistent. v., co hered, co her ing.

co her ence (kō hir'əns), 1. logical connection; consistency. 2. a sticking together; cohesion. n.

co her ent (kō hir'ənt), 1. logically connected; consistent in structure and thought: A sentence that is not coherent is hard to understand. 2. sticking together; holding together. adj. —co her'ent ly, adv.

co her er (kō hir'ər), device for detecting radio waves, formerly used instead of vacuum tubes in radios. n.

co he sion (kō hē'zhən), 1. a sticking together; tendency to hold together: Wet sand has more cohesion than dry sand. 2. attraction between molecules of the same kind: Drops of water are a result of cohesion. n.

co he sive (kō hē'siv), sticking together; tending to hold together. adj. —co he'sive ly, adv. —co he'sive ness, n.

co hort (kō'hört), 1. part of an ancient Roman legion. There were from 300 to 600 soldiers in each cohort, and ten cohorts in each legion. 2. group of soldiers. 3. group; band; company. n.

co if (koif), 1. cap or hood that fits closely around the head. 2. cover with a coif or something like a coif. 1*n.*, 2*v.*

co if fure (kwā fyūr'), 1. style of arranging the hair. 2. covering for the hair; headdress. n.

coil (koi), 1. wind around and around in circular or spiral shape: A snake can coil itself up or coil around a branch. 2. anything wound around and around in circular or spiral shape: a coil of rope. 3. one wind or turn of a coil. 4. series of connected pipes arranged in a coil or row, as in a radiator. 5. spiral of wire for conducting electricity. 6. move in a winding course. 7. twist of hair. 1,6*v.*, 2,5,7*n.*

coin (koin), 1. piece of metal stamped by the government for use as money. Pennies, nickels, dimes, and quarters are coins. 2. metal money. A government makes coin by stamping metal. 3. make (money) by stamping metal. 4. make (metal) into money. 5. make up; invent: coin a word. 1,2*n.*, 3-5*v.*

coin money, Informal. become rich; have a prospering business.

coin age (koin'ij), 1. the making of coins. 2. coins; metal money. 3. system of coins. 4. right of coining money. 5. act or process of making up; inventing: the coinage of new words. 6. word, phrase, etc., invented. n.

co in cide (kō'in sid'), 1. occupy the same place in space: If these triangles $\triangle$ $\triangle$ were placed one on top of the other, they would coincide. 2. occupy the same time: The working hours of Joe and Tom coincide.

Cogwheels. As one wheel turns, its teeth push against the teeth of the other wheel, causing it to turn.

Coif

Coil of pipe in a heater

3. correspond exactly; agree: Her opinion coincides with mine. v., co in cid ed, co in cid ing.

co in ci dence (kō in'sə dəns), 1. exact correspondence; agreement; especially, the chance occurrence of two things at such a time as to seem remarkable, fitting, etc.: My cousin was born on the very same day that I was. Isn't that a coincidence? 2. a coinciding; an occupying the same time or place. n.

co in ci dent (kō in'sə dənt), 1. coinciding; happening at the same time. 2. occupying the same place or position. adj. —co in'ci dent ly, adv.

co in ci den tal (kō in'sə dən'tl), 1. coincident. 2. showing coincidence. adj. —co in'ci den'tal ly, adv.

coin er (koin'ər), 1. person who makes coins. 2. maker of counterfeit coins. 3. maker; inventor. n.

co in sur ance (kō'in shūr'əns), insurance jointly with another or others. n.

co ke (kōk), 1. fuel made from soft coal by heating it in a closed oven until the gases have been removed. Coke burns with much heat and little smoke, and is used in furnaces, for melting metal, etc. 2. change into coke. 1*n.*, 2*v.*, coked, cok ing.

Col., 1. Colonel. 2. Colorado (official abbrev., Colo.). col., column.

col an der (kul'an dər or kol'an dər), vessel or dish full of small holes for draining off liquids. n.

col chi cum (kol'chə kəm), 1. plant with purple or white flowers that resemble crocuses. 2. medicine for gout, obtained from this plant. n.

Col chis (kol'kis), ancient country on the E shore of the Black Sea. In Greek legend it is the country where the Golden Fleece was located. n.

cold (kōld), 1. much less warm than the body: Snow and ice are cold. 2. having a relatively low temperature: This coffee is cold. 3. lack of heat or warmth; low temperature. 4. lacking in feeling; unfriendly: a cold greeting. 5. lacking in feeling, passion, or enthusiasm; indifferent: a cold nature. 6. faint; weak: a cold scent. 7. blue, green, or gray; not red or yellow. 8. a common sickness that causes running at the nose, sore throat, sneezing, etc. 9. feeling cold: Put on a sweater, or you will be complaining that you are cold. 1,2,4-7,9*adj.*, 3,8*n.*

catch cold, become sick with a cold.

cold-blood ed (kōld/blud'id), 1. having blood whose temperature varies with that of the surroundings. Snakes and turtles are called cold-blooded, but their blood is actually very close to the temperature of the air or water in which they live. 2. feeling the cold because of poor circulation. 3. lacking in feeling; cruel. adj. —cold'-blood'ed ly, adv. —cold'-blood'ed ness, n.

cold cream, a creamy, soothing salve for the skin.

cold-heart ed (kōld'hār'tid), lacking in feeling; unsympathetic; unkind. adj. —cold'-heart'ed ly, adv.

cold light, light without heat. Phosphorescence and fluorescence are kinds of cold light.

cold ly (kōld'lē), in a cold manner; without friendliness, warmth, or enthusiasm. adv.

cold ness (kōld'nis), 1. state or quality of being cold. 2. lack of warmth of feeling or friendliness; indifference. n.

cold-shoul der (kōld/shōl'dər), Informal. treat in an unfriendly or indifferent way. v.

cold sore, blister near or on the mouth, often accompanying a cold or a fever.

cold steel, a steel weapon, such as a knife or sword.

cold storage, storage in a very cold place. Perishable foods are put in cold storage to preserve them.

cold war, a prolonged contest for national advantage, conducted by diplomatic, economic, and psychological rather than military means.

cold wave, period of very cold weather.

co le (kōl), any of various plants belonging to the same family as the cabbage, especially rape. n.

co le op ter ous (kō'lē op'tər əs), belonging to a group of insects including beetles and weevils. In this group the front pair of wings is horny, serving to sheathe the second and membranous pair. adj.

Cole ridge (kōl'rij), Samuel Taylor, 1772-1834, English poet, literary critic, and philosopher. n.

cole slaw (kōl'slō'), U.S. salad made of sliced raw cabbage. n.

cole us (kō'lē əs), plant often grown for its showy colored leaves. n.

cole wort (kōl'wɜrt'), 1. cole. 2. kind of cabbage having a loosely packed head of curly leaves. n.

col ic (kol'ik), severe pains in the abdomen. n.

col ick y (kol'ik ē), 1. of colic. 2. having colic. adj.

col i se um (kol'ə sē'əm), a large building or stadium for games, contests, etc. n.

Col i se um (kol'ə sē'əm), Colosseum. n.

col i tis (kō lī'tis), inflammation of the colon, often causing severe pain in the abdomen. n.

col lab o rate (kə lab'ə rāt), 1. work together: Two authors collaborated on that book. 2. aid or cooperate traitorously. v., col lab o rated, col lab o rating.

col lab o ra tion (kə lab'ə rā'shən), 1. act of working together. 2. act of aiding or cooperating traitorously. n.

col lab o ra tor (kə lab'ə rā'tər), 1. person who works with another, usually in literary work. 2. person who aids or cooperates traitorously. n.

col lage (kə lāzh'), a picture made by pasting on a background such items as portions of photographs and newspapers, fabric, and string. n.

col lapse (kə laps'), 1. fall in; shrink together suddenly: Pricking the balloon made it collapse. 2. a falling in; sudden shrinking together: A heavy flood caused the collapse of the bridge. 3. break down; fail suddenly: Both his health and his business collapsed within a year. 4. breakdown; failure. 5. fold or push together: collapse a telescope. 1,3,5 v., col lapsed, col laps ing; 2,4 n.

col laps i ble (kə lap'sə bl), made so that it can be folded or pushed into a smaller space. adj.

col lar (kol'ər), 1. a straight or turned-over neckband of a coat, a dress, or a shirt. 2. a separate band of linen, lace, or other material worn around the neck. 3. a leather or metal band for a dog's neck. 4. a leather roll for a horse's neck to bear the weight of the loads he pulls. See the picture of harness. 5. a colored stripe or other mark around an animal's neck. 6. ring, disk, or flange on a rod, shaft, etc., that keeps a part from moving to the side. 7. a short pipe connecting two other pipes. 8. put a collar on. 9. seize by the collar; capture. 1-7 n., 8,9 v. —col lar less, adj. —col lar like, adj.

col lar bone (kol'ər bōn'), the bone connecting the breastbone and the shoulder blade; clavicle. n.

col late (kə lāt' or kol'āt),

1. compare carefully. 2. arrange in order; put together. v., col lat ed, col lat ing. —col la'tor, n.

col lat er al (kə lat'ər əl), 1. parallel; side by side. 2. secondary; indirect; related but less important. 3. in a parallel line of descent; descended from the same ancestors, but in a different line. Cousins are collateral relatives. 4. a collateral relative. 5. additional. 6. stocks, bonds, etc., pledged as security for a loan. 7. secured by stocks, bonds, etc. 1-3,5,7 adj., 4,6 n. —col lat'er ally, adv.

col la tion (kə lā'shən), 1. a light meal. 2. a collating; a careful comparison. n.

col league (kol'ēg), an associate; fellow worker: His colleagues taught his classes while he was ill. n.

col lect (kə lekt' for 1-5; kol'ekt for 6), 1. bring or come together; gather together: Dust collects on the furniture. A crowd soon collects at the scene of an accident. 2. gather together for a set: collect stamps for a hobby. 3. ask and receive pay for (bills, debts, dues, taxes, etc.).

4. to be paid for at the place of delivery: a collect telegram (adj.), telephone collect (adv.). 5. regain control of: After a shock a person must collect himself and his thoughts.

6. a short prayer used in certain church services. 1-3,5 v., 4 adj., adv., 6 n.

col lect a ble (kə lek'tə bl), that can be collected. adj.

col lect ed (kə lek'tid), 1. brought together; gathered together. 2. under control; not confused or disturbed; calm. adj. —col lect'ed ly, adv. —col lect'-ed ness, n.

col lect i ble (kə lek'tə bl), collectable. adj.

col lec tion (kə lek'shən), 1. act or practice of collecting: The collection of these stamps took ten years. 2. group of things gathered from many places and belonging together: The library has a large collection of books. 3. money collected: A church takes up a collection to help pay its expenses. 4. mass; heap: There is a collection of dust in an unused room. n.

col lec tive (kə lek'tiv), 1. of a group; as a group; taken all together: a collective decision. 2. singular in form, but plural in meaning. Crowd, people, troop, and herd are collective nouns. 3. a collective noun. 4. formed by collecting. 5. farm, factory, or other organization with collectivistic management. 1,2,4 adj., 3,5 n.

collective bargaining, negotiation about wages, hours, and other working conditions between workers organized as a group and their employer or employers.

col lec tive ly (kə lek'tiv lē), 1. as a group; all together. 2. in a singular form, but with a plural meaning. adv.

col lec tiv ism (kə lek'tiv iz əm), control of the production of goods and services and the distribution of wealth by people as a group or by the government. n.

col lec tiv ist (kə lek'tiv ist), 1. person who favors or supports collectivism. 2. collectivistic. 1 n., 2 adj.

col lec tiv is tic (kə lek'tiv is'tik), of collectivism or collectivists. adj.

col lec tor (kə lek'tər), 1. person or thing that collects: a butterfly collector, a dust collector. 2. person hired to collect money owed: Mr. Gray is a tax collector. n.

col leen (kol'ēn or kə lēn'), Irish girl. n.

col lege (kol'ij), 1. institution of higher learning that gives degrees. 2. the academic department of a university for general instruction, as distinguished from the special, professional, or graduate schools. 3. school for special or professional instruction, as in medicine, pharmacy, agriculture, or music. 4. an organized association of persons having certain powers, rights, duties, and purposes: the electoral college. 5. building or buildings used by a college. n.

College of Cardinals, Sacred College.

col le gian (kə lē'jən), a college student. n.

col le giate (kə lē'jit), 1. of or like a college: collegiate life. 2. of or like college students: collegiate pranks. adj.

col lide (kə lid'), 1. come violently into contact; come together with force; crash: Two large ships collided in the harbor. 2. clash; conflict. v., col lid ed, col lid ing.

col lie (kol'ē), a large, intelligent, long-haired breed of dog used for tending sheep and as a pet. n.

col lier (kol'yər), Esp. Brit.

1. ship for carrying coal. 2. a coal miner. n.

col lier y (kol'yər ē), a coal mine and its buildings and equipment. n., pl. col lier ies. col li sion (kə lizh'ən), 1. a violent rushing against; hitting or striking violently together: an automobile collision. 2. clash; conflict. n.

Collie (about 2 ft. high at the shoulder) col lo cate (kol'ō kāt), 1. place together. 2. arrange. v., col lo cat ed, col lo cat ing.

col lo ca tion (kol'ō kā'shən), arrangement: the collocation of words in a sentence. n.

col lo di on (kə lō'dē ən), a glue-like liquid that dries very rapidly and leaves a tough, waterproof, transparent film. Collodion is a solution of guncotton in ether or in ether and alcohol. n.

col loid (kol'oid), 1. substance composed of particles that are extremely small but larger than most molecules. Colloids do not actually dissolve, but remain suspended in a suitable gas, liquid, or solid. 2. colloidal. 1 n., 2 adj.

col loi dal (kə loi'dl), being a colloid; containing a colloid; like a colloid. adj.

colloq., 1. colloquial. 2. colloquialism.

col lo qui al (kə lō'kwē əl), used in everyday, informal talk, but not in formal speech or writing. Beat (some one) all hollow and It's a cinch are colloquial expressions. adj. —col lo qui al ly, adv.

col lo qui al ism (kə lō'kwē əl iz'əm), 1. a colloquial word or phrase. 2. a colloquial style or usage. n.

col lo quy (kol'ə kwē), a talking together; conversation; conference. n., pl. col lo quies.

col lude (kə lüd'), act together through a secret understanding; conspire in a fraud. v., col lude ed, col lude ing.

col lu sion (kə lū'zhən), a secret agreement for some wrong purpose. n.

col lu sive (kə lū'siv), involving collusion; fraudulent. adj. —col lu sive ly, adv.

Colo., Colorado (official abbrev.).

co logne (kə lōn'), a fragrant liquid, not so strong as perfume. n.

Co logne (kə lōn'), city in West Germany. 780,000. n.

Co lom bi a (kə lum'bē ə), country in NW South America. 13,824,000 pop.; 439,829 sq. mi. Capital: Bogotá. n. —Co lom bi an, adj., n.

Co lom bo (kə lum'bō), seaport and capital of Ceylon. 426,000. n.

co lon¹ (kō'lən), mark (:) of punctuation used before a series of items, explanations, long quotations, etc., to set them off from the rest of the sentence. n.

co lon² (kō'lən), the lower part of the large intestine. n., pl. co lons, co la (kō'lə).

Co lón (kō lōn' or kō lōn'), seaport in N Panama near the Atlantic end of the Panama Canal. 59,000. n.

colo nel (kēr'nəl), an army officer ranking next below a brigadier general and next above a lieutenant colonel. He usually commands a regiment. n.

colo nel cy (kēr'nəl sē), rank, commission, or authority of a colonel. n., pl. colo nel cies.

co lo ni al (kə lō'nē əl), 1. of a colony; having to do with colonies. 2. of or having to do with the thirteen Colonies that became the United States. 3. person living in a colony. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —co lo ni al ly, adv.

co lo ni al ism (kə lō'nē əl iz'əm), policy of a nation seeking to control weaker or dependent nations. n.

col o nist (kol'ə nist), 1. person who helps to found a colony; settler. 2. person living in a colony. n.

col o ni za tion (kol'ə nə zā'shən), establishment of a colony or colonies: The English, French, Dutch, and Spanish all took part in the colonization of North America. n.

col o nize (kol'ə nīz),

1. establish a colony or colonies in: The English colonized New England. 2. establish (persons) in a colony; settle in a colony. 3. form a colony. v., col o nized, col o niz ing. —col'ə niz'er, n.

col on nade (kol'ə nād'), a series of columns set the same distance apart. n.

col o ny (kol'ə nē), 1. group of people who leave their own country and go to settle in another land, but who still remain citizens of their own country. 2. the settlement made by such a group of people. 3. territory distant from the country that governs it: England has lost many of its colonies in Asia. 4. group of people from the same country or with the same occupation, living in a certain part of a city: the Italian colony in Boston, a colony of artists. 5. group of animals or plants of the same kind, living or growing together: a colony of ants. n., pl. col o nies.

the Colonies, the thirteen British colonies that became the United States of America; New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia.

col or (kul'ər), 1. sensation produced by the effect of waves of light striking the retina of the eye. Red and blue are produced by rays of light having different wave lengths. 2. red, green, yellow, blue, or any combination of these: She never wears colors, but always dresses in black or white. 3. give color to; put color on; change the color of. 4. paint; dye; pigment. 5. redness of the face; ruddy complexion. 6. become red in the face; blush. 7. flush caused by blushing. 8. the skin color of any people or race that is not white. 9. an outward appearance; show: His lies had some color of truth. 10. change to give a wrong idea: The general colored his report of the battle to make his own mistake seem the fault of his officers. 11. vividness; distinguishing quality: His gift for description adds color to his stories. 12. give a distinguishing quality to: Love of nature colored all of John Burroughs' writing. 1,2,4,5,7-9,11 n., 3,6,10,12 v.

colors, badge, ribbon, dress, etc., worn to show allegiance.

the colors, 1. the flag of a nation, regiment, etc.: Salute the colors. 2. the ceremony of raising the flag in the morning and lowering it in the evening. 3. the army or navy: Soldiers and sailors serve with the colors.

Col o ra do (kol'ə rad'ō or kol'ə rā'dō), 1. a Western State of the United States. 1,754,000 pop.; 104,247 sq. mi. Capital: Denver. Abbrev.: Colo. 2. river flowing from N Colorado through Utah, Arizona, Nevada, and California into the Gulf of California. It created Grand Canyon. Hoover Dam is on the Colorado. 1360 mi. 3. river flowing SE from central Texas into the Gulf of Mexico. 840 mi. 4. desert in SE California. 2000 sq. mi. n. —Col'ə rad'an, adj., n.

Colorado Springs, city in central Colorado. The U.S. Air Force Academy is located there. 70,000.

col or a tion (kul'ər ā'shən), coloring; way in which something is colored: The coloration of some animals is like that of their surroundings. n.

col o ra tu ra (kul'ə rə tūr'ə or kul'ə rə tyūr'ə), 1. ornamental passages in music, such as trills, runs, etc. 2. suited for singing ornamental passages in music: a coloratura soprano. 3. in vocal music, having ornamental passages. 4. a soprano who sings such passages. 1,4 n., 2,3 adj.

col or bear er (kul'ər bār'ər), person who carries the flag or colors; standardbearer. n.

col or-blind (kul'ər blīnd'), unable to tell certain colors apart; unable to perceive certain colors. adj. —color blindness.

col or cast (kul'ər kast'), 1. television broadcast in color. 2. broadcast (a television program) in color. 1 n., 2 v.

col ored (kul'ərd), 1. having color; not black or white. 2. having a certain kind of color. 3. of the Negro race or other race than white. 4. tinged by prejudice, emotion, desire for effect, etc. adj.

color film, 1. film for making photographs in color. 2. a motion picture made with such film.

col or ful (kul'ər fəl), 1. abounding in color. 2. picturesque; vivid. adj. —col'or ful ly, adv. —col'or-fulness, n.

col or ing (kul'ər ing), 1. way in which a person or thing is colored. 2. substance used to color; pigment. 3. false appearance: He lies with a coloring of truth. n.

Colonnade

coloring matter, substance used to color; pigment.

col or less (kəl'ər lis), 1. without color. 2. without excitement or variety; uninteresting: a colorless person. adj. —col'or less ly, adv. —col'or less ness, n.

color line, difference in social, economic, or political privileges between members of the white race and of the colored races.

color photography, photography using color film.

co los sal (kə los'əl), huge; gigantic; vast: a colossal statue, explosion, etc. adj. —co los'sal ly, adv.

Col os se um (kol'ə sē'əm), a large, outdoor theater at Rome, completed in 80 A.D. The Colosseum was used for games and contests. n. Also, Coliseum.

Co los si ans (kə losh'ənz), book of the New Testament, written by the Apostle Paul to the Christian people of Colossae, an ancient city of Asia Minor. n.

co los sus (kə los'əs), 1. a huge statue. 2. anything huge; gigantic person or thing. n., pl.

co los si (-los'i) or co los sus es.

Colossus of Rhodes, a huge statue of Apollo made at Rhodes about 280 B.C. It was one of the seven wonders of the ancient world.

col our (kəl'ər), Esp. Brit. color. n., v.

colt (kōlt), 1. a young horse, donkey, etc. A male horse until it is four or five years old is a colt. 2. a young or inexperienced person. n.

col ter (kōl'tər), a sharp blade or disk on a plow to cut the earth ahead of the plowshare. n. Also, coulter.

colt ish (kōl'tish), like a colt; lively and frisky. adj.

Co lum bi a (kə lum'bē ə), 1. capital of South Carolina, in the central part. 97,000. 2. river flowing from British Columbia through E Washington and between Washington and Oregon into the Pacific. 1214 mi. 3. a name for the United States of America. Columbia is often represented as a woman dressed in red, white, and blue. n.

Co lum bi an (kə lum'bē ən), 1. of or having to do with Columbia. 2. of or having to do with Christopher Columbus. adj.

col um bine (kol'əm bīn), plant whose flowers have petals shaped like hollow spurs. Wild columbines have red-and-yellow or blue-and-white flowers. n.

Col um bine (kol'əm bīn), a woman character in comedy and pantomime, the sweetheart of Harlequin. n.

co lum bi um (kə lum'bē əm), former name of niobium. The name is still used in metallurgy. Symbol: Cb n.

Co lum bus (kə lum'bəs), 1. Christopher, 1446?-1506, Italian navigator in the service of Spain who discovered America in 1492. 2. capital of Ohio, in the central part. 471,000. 3. city in W Georgia. 117,000. n.

Columbus Day, October 12, the anniversary of Columbus's discovery of America. It is a holiday in most States.

col umn (kol'əm), 1. a slender, upright structure; pillar. Columns are usually made of stone, wood, or metal, and are used as supports or ornaments to a building, but sometimes a column stands alone as a monument. 2. anything that seems slender and upright like a column: a column of smoke, a long column of figures, the spinal column. 3. arrangement of soldiers in several short rows one behind another. 4. line of ships, one behind another. 5. a narrow division of a page reading from top to bottom, kept separate by lines or by blank spaces. A newspaper often has eight columns on a page. 6. part of a newspaper used for a special subject or written by a special writer: the children's column. n.

Two colossi of ancient Egypt

Column (def. 1)

co lum nar (kə lum'nər), 1. like a column. 2. made of columns. 3. written or printed in columns. adj.

col um ned (kol'əmd), 1. having columns. 2. formed into columns. adj.

col um nist (kol'əm nist), person who writes or selects the material for a special column in a newspaper. n.

com-, prefix meaning: with; together; altogether:

Commingle = mingle with one another. Compress = press together.

co ma¹ (kō'mə), a prolonged unconsciousness caused by disease, injury, or poison; stupor. n., pl. co mas.

co ma² (kō'mə), a cloudlike mass around the nucleus of a comet. n., pl. co mae (kō'mē).

Co man che (kə man'chē), 1. member of a tribe of American Indians that formerly roamed from Wyoming to N Mexico, now living in Oklahoma. 2. of this tribe of American Indians. 1 n., pl. Co man ches; 2 adj.

com a tose (kom'ə tōs), in a stupor or coma; unconscious. adj.

comb (kōm), 1. a narrow, short piece of metal, rubber, plastic, celluloid, etc., with teeth, used to arrange or straighten the hair or to hold it in place. 2. anything shaped or used like a comb. One kind of comb cleans and takes out the tangles in wool or flax. 3. currycomb.

4. arrange, straighten, or take out tangles in, with a comb: George combs his dog's fur every week. 5. search through; look everywhere in: We had to comb the whole city before we found our lost dog. 6. the thick, red, fleshy piece on the top of the head in some fowls. 7. structure of wax containing rows of six-sided cells, made by bees to hold honey and their eggs; honeycomb. 8. roll over or break at the top: The big waves combed as they neared the shore. 9. the top of a wave rolling over or breaking.

1-3,6,7,9 n., 4,5,8 v. —comb'like', adj.

com bat (kom'bat; also kəm bat' for 1,2), 1. fight; struggle; battle. 2. fight against: Doctors combat disease.

3. a fight, especially between two. 4. a struggle; conflict; battle: Bombing planes flew over as we entered the combat. 1,2 v., com bat ed, com bat ing or esp. Brit.

com bat ted, com bat ting; 3,4 n.

com bat ant (kəm bat'nt or kom'bə tənt), 1. fighter. 2. fighting. 3. ready to fight; fond of fighting. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

combat fatigue, state of nervous exhaustion that sometimes occurs among soldiers as a result of warfare in the front lines.

com bat ive (kəm bat'iv), ready to fight or oppose; fond of fighting. adj. —com bat'ive ly, adv. —com bat'ive ness, n.

combe or comb (kūm or kōm), a narrow valley; deep hollow surrounded on three sides by hills. n.

com ber (kōm'ər), 1. person or thing that combs. 2. wave that rolls over or breaks at the top. n.

com bi na tion (kom'bə nā'shən), 1. act of combining. 2. state of being combined. 3. one whole made by combining two or more different things. 4. group of persons or parties joined together for some common purpose: The farmers formed a combination to sell their crops at better prices. 5. series of numbers or letters followed in opening or closing a certain kind of lock: the combination of a safe. 6. suit of underwear having the shirt and drawers in one piece. 7. arrangement of individuals in groups so that each group has a certain number of individuals; the groups thus formed. Possible two-letter combinations of a, b, and c are ab, ac, and bc. 8. union of substances to form a chemical compound. n.

com bine (kəm bīn' for 1,4; kom'bīn or kəm bīn' for 2; kom'bīn for 3), 1. join two or more things together; unite: combine work and play. 2. U.S. Informal. group of people joined together for business or political purposes; combination. 3. U.S. machine for harvesting and threshing grain. It separates the seeds from the stalks as it moves across a field. 4. unite to form a chemical compound: Two atoms of hydrogen combine with one of oxygen to form water. 1,4 v., com bined, com bin ing; 2,3 n. —com bin'a ble, adj.

com bined (kəm bīnd'), 1. joined together; united. 2. done by groups, persons, etc., acting together. adj. com bus ti bil i ty (kəm bus'tə bil'ə tē), combustible quality or condition; inflammability. n.

com bus ti ble (kəm bus'tə bl), 1. capable of taking fire and burning; easily burned: Gasoline is highly combustible. 2. a combustible substance. 3. easily excited; fiery. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

com bus tion (kəm bus'chən), 1. act or process of burning: The explosion in the coal mine was caused by the combustion of gases. 2. rapid oxidation accompanied by high temperature and usually by light. 3. slow oxidation not accompanied by high temperature and light. Food is transformed into energy by this type of combustion. 4. violent excitement; tumult. n.

Comdr., Commander.

Comdt., Commandant.

come (kum), 1. move toward the speaker or the place where he is or will be; approach: Come this way. 2. arrive: The girls will come home tomorrow. 3. appear: Light comes and goes. 4. reach; extend: The dress comes to her knees. 5. happen; take place; occur: What will come, let come. 6. be caused; result: You see what comes of meddling. 7. be born: That boy comes of a poor family. 8. get to be; turn out to be; become: His dream came true. 9. be brought; pass; enter: come into use. 10. occur to the mind: The solution of the problem has just come to me. 11. be available: This soup comes in a can. 12. be equal; amount: The total comes to $100. 13. here! look! stop! behave! v., came, come ing.

come back, 1. return. 2. Informal. return to a former condition or position.

come by, get; obtain; acquire.

come down, 1. lose position, rank, money, etc. 2. be handed down or passed along. 3. Informal. become ill (with).

come off, 1. happen; take place; occur. 2. turn out to be. 3. reach the end of (a course, contest, etc.) in a certain manner: come off with flying colors.

come on, 1. improve; develop; progress. 2. meet by chance; find.

come out, 1. be revealed or shown. 2. be offered to the public. 3. do one's part: How many boys came out for football this year? 4. be introduced to society; make a debut. 5. finish an activity in a certain way: How did the ball game come out?

come to, 1. return to consciousness. 2. anchor; stop.

come back (kum'bak'), 1. Informal. return to a former condition or position. 2. Slang. a clever answer; sharp reply. 3. Slang. cause for complaining. n.

co me di an (kə mē'dē ən), 1. actor in comedies; actor of comic parts. 2. writer of comedies. 3. person who amuses others with his funny talk and actions. n.

come down (kum'daun'), Informal. loss of position, rank, money, etc. n.

com e dy (kom'ə dē), 1. an amusing play or show having a happy ending. 2. such plays or shows as a class; branch of drama concerned with such plays. 3. an amusing happening; funny incident. n., pl. com e dies.

come li ness (kum'lē nis), 1. pleasant appearance. 2. fitness; suitability; propriety. n.

come ly (kum'lē), 1. having a pleasant appearance; attractive. 2. fitting; suitable; proper. adj., come li er, come li est.

com er (kum'ər), 1. person who comes. 2. person who has recently come. 3. Informal. person who shows promise. n.

co mes ti ble (kə mes'tə bl), 1. thing to eat; article of food. 2. eatable. 1 n., 2 adj.

com et (kom'it), a bright heavenly body with a starlike center and often with a cloudy tail of light. Comets move around the sun like planets, but in a long oval course. n.

com fit (kum'fit), piece of candy; sweetmeat. n.

com fort (kum'fərt), 1. ease the grief or sorrow of; cheer: Neighbors comforted the mother of the burned child. 2. anything that makes trouble or sorrow easier to bear: bring comfort to a grief-stricken family. 3. ease; freedom from pain or hardship: live in comfort. 4. give ease to. 5. person or thing that makes life easier or takes away hardship: My sister is a great comfort to me. 6. comforter for a bed. 1,4 v., 2,3,5,6 n. —com'fort ing ly, adv.

com fort a ble (kum'fərtə bl or kum'fər tə bl), 1. giving comfort: A soft, warm bed is comfortable. 2. in comfort; at ease; free from pain or hardship: The warm fire made him feel comfortable after a cold day outdoors. 3. Informal. enough for one's needs: He has a comfortable income. 4. comforter for a bed. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —com'fort a ble ness, n. —com'fort a bly, adv.

com fort er (kum'fər tər), 1. person or thing that gives comfort. 2. U.S. a padded or quilted covering for a bed. 3. a long, woolen scarf. n.

com fort less (kum'fərt lis), 1. bringing no comfort or ease of mind: comfortless words. 2. without the comforts of life: a comfortless room. adj.

com ic (kom'ik), 1. of comedy. 2. amusing; funny: Bob Hope is a comic actor. 3. the amusing or funny side of literature, life, etc. 4. Informal. a comic book. 5. Informal. a comic strip. 1,2 adj., 3-5 n.

com i cal (kom'ə kl), amusing; funny: The football player dressed like a girl was comical. adj. —com'i cal ly, adv. —com'i cal ness, n.

comic book, magazine containing comic strips.

comic opera, an amusing opera having a happy ending.

com ics (kom'iks), Informal. comic strips. n.pl. comic strip, series of drawings, sometimes amusing, often presenting an adventure or a series of incidents.

com ing (kum'ing), 1. approach; arrival. 2. approaching; next: this coming spring. 3. Informal. on the way to importance or fame. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

com i ty (kom'ə tē), courtesy; civility. n., pl. com i ties.

com ma (kom'ə), mark (,) of punctuation, used to show interruptions in the thought or in the grammatical structure of a sentence. n.

com mand (kə mand'), 1. give an order to; direct: The captain commanded the men to fire. 2. give orders.

3. order; direction: They obeyed the captain's command.

4. have authority or power over; be in control of: The captain commands his ship.

5. be commander. 6. authority; power; control: The general is in command of the army.

7. position of a person who has the right to command. 8. soldiers, ships, district, etc., under a person who has the right to command them. 9. have a position of control over; overlook: A hilltop commands the plain around it.

10. mastery or control by position; outlook over. 11. be able to have and use: He cannot command so large a sum of money.

12. ability to have and use: A good speaker or writer must have a command of words.

13. deserve and get; force to be given: Food commands a higher price when it is scarce. 1,2,4,5,9,11,13 v., 3,6-8, 10,12 n.

com man dant (kom'an dant'), 1. commander. 2. officer in command of a fort, navy yard, etc. n.

com man deer (kom'an dir'), 1. seize (private property) for military or public use: All automobiles in the town were commandeered by the army. 2. force (men) into military service. 3. Informal. take by force. v.

com mander (kə man'dər), 1. person who commands. 2. officer in charge of an army or a part of an army. 3. a navy officer ranking next below a captain and next above a lieutenant commander. 4. member of high rank in an order of knighthood or a society. n.

commander in chief, 1. person who has complete command of the army and navy of a country. The President of the United States is also commander in chief.

2. officer in command of part of an army or navy. pl. commanders in chief.

com mand ing (kə man'ding), 1. in command: a commanding officer. 2. controlling; powerful: commanding influences. 3. authoritative; impressive: a commanding voice. 4. having a position of control. adj. —command/ingly, adv.

com mand ment (kə mand'mənt), 1. order; direction; law. 2. one of the ten laws that, according to the Bible, God gave to Moses. Exodus 20: 2-17; Deuteronomy 5: 6-21. n.

com man do or Com man do (kə man'dō), 1. Esp. Brit. soldier who makes brief, daring raids upon enemy territory and does close-range fighting. 2. group of such soldiers. n., pl. com man dos or com man does; Com man dos or Com man dos.

com mem o rate (kə mem'ə rāt), 1. preserve the memory of: Roman emperors built arches to commemorate their victories. 2. honor the memory of: Christmas commemorates Christ's birth. v., com mem o rat ed, com mem o rat ing. —com mem'o ra'tor, n.

com mem o ra tion (kə mem'ə rā'shən), 1. act of commemorating. 2. service, celebration, etc., in memory of some person or event. n. in commemoration of, to honor the memory of.

com mem o ra tive (kə mem'ə rā'tiv or kə mem'ə rā tiv), calling to remembrance; honoring the memory of. adj. —com mem'o ra'tive ly, adv.

com mence (kə mens'), begin; start: The dedication ceremonies will commence at two o'clock. v., com menced, com mence ing. —com mence'r, n.

com mence ment (kə mens'mənt), 1. a beginning; start. 2. day when a school or college gives diplomas or degrees to students who have completed the required course of study; day of graduation. 3. ceremonies on this day; exercises of graduation. n.

com mend (kə mend'), 1. praise. 2. mention favorably; recommend. 3. hand over for safekeeping: She commended the child to her aunt's care. v.

com mend a ble (kə mend'ə bl), worthy of praise; deserving approval. adj. —com mend'a bly, adv.

com men da tion (kom'an dā'shən), 1. praise; approval. 2. favorable mention; recommendation. 3. a handing over to another for safekeeping; entrusting. n. com mend a to ry (kə men'də tō'rē), 1. praising; expressing approval. 2. mentioning favorably; recommending. adj.

com men su ra ble (kə men'shə rə bl or kə men'sə rə bl), measurable by the same set of units: Greenness and weight are not commensurable. adj. —com men'su ra ble ness, n. —com men'su ra bly, adv.

com men su rate (kə men'shə rit or kə men'sə rit), 1. in the proper proportion; proportionate: The pay should be commensurate with the work. 2. of the same size, extent, etc.; equal. 3. measurable by the same set of units: An ant and an elephant are commensurate, but love and a turnip are not. adj. —com men'su rate ly, adv. —com men'su rate ness, n.

com ment (kom'ent), 1. a short statement, note, or remark that explains, praises, or finds fault with something that has been written, said, or done: The teacher had written helpful comments on the last page of my composition. 2. remark. 3. make a comment or comments: Everyone commented on her new hat. 4. talk; gossip. 1,2,4 n., 3,4 v.

com men tar y (kom'an ter'ē), 1. series of notes for explaining the hard parts of a book; explanation: Some Bibles have commentaries at the back that give much information and help. 2. comment. 3. an explanatory essay or treatise. n., pl. com men tar ies.

com men ta tor (kom'an tā'tar), person who makes comments explaining or criticizing books, concerts, recent events, etc.: a radio commentator. n.

com merce (kom'ərs or kom'ərs), buying and selling in large amounts between different places; business. n.

com mer cial (kə mēr'shal), 1. having to do with commerce. 2. made to be sold. 3. supported or substidized by an advertiser: a commercial radio program. 4. a radio or television program, or the part of a program, that advertises something. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —com mer'cial ly, adv.

com mer cial ism (kə mēr'shəl iz əm), 1. methods and spirit of commerce: Making money is often the only object of commercialism. 2. a business custom; expression used in business. n.

com mer cial ize (kə mēr'shəl iz), apply the methods and spirit of commerce to; make a matter of business or trade: To charge admission to church services would be to commercialize religion. v., com mer cial-ized, com mer cial iz ing. —com mer'cial i za'tion, n.

com min gle (kə ming'gl), mingle together; blend. v., com min gled, com min gling.

com mi nute (kom'ə nūt or kom'ə nūt), reduce to a powder or to small fragments; pulverize. v., com mi nut ed, com mi nut ing. —com'mi nu'tion, n.

com mis er ate (kə miz'ər āt), feel or express sorrow for; sympathize with; pity. v., com mis er at ed, com mis er at ing.

com mis er a tion (kə miz'ər ā'shən), pity; sympathy. n.

com mis sar (kom'ə sār), head of a government department in Soviet Russia. n.

com mis sar i at (kom'ə sār'ē at), 1. the department of an army that supplies food, etc. 2. a food supply. 3. any government department in Soviet Russia. n.

com mis sar y (kom'ə ser'ē), 1. store handling food and supplies in a mining camp, lumber camp, army camp, etc. 2. an army officer in charge of food and daily supplies for soldiers. 3. deputy; representative. n., pl. com mis sar ies.

com mis sion (kə mish'ən), 1. a written paper giving certain powers, privileges, and duties. 2. a written order giving military or naval rank and authority: A captain in the United States army or navy has a commission signed by the President. 3. rank and authority given by such an order. 4. give a commission to. 5. give authority to; give (a person) the right or power (to do something): Some businessmen commission others to buy or sell property for them. 6. authority, power, or right given. 7. a giving of authority. 8. thing for which authority is given; thing trusted to a person to do. 9. group of people appointed or elected with authority to do certain things: The President appointed a commission to find out why food cost so much. 10. doing; performance; committing: People are punished for the commission of crimes. 11. pay based on a percentage of the amount of business done: She gets a commission of 10 per cent on all the sales that she makes. 12. put in service or use; make ready for service or use. A new warship is commissioned when it has the officers, sailors, and supplies needed for a sea trip. 1-3,6-11 n., 4,5,12 v.

in commission, 1. in service; in use. 2. ready for service or use; in working order.

out of commission, 1. not in service or use. 2. not ready for use; not in working order.

com mis sioned (kə mish'ənd), having a commission. Commissioned officers in the United States army or navy include second lieutenants, ensigns, and all officers above them. adj.

com mis sion er (kə mish'ən ər), 1. member of a commission. 2. official in charge of some department of a government: a police commissioner. 3. one of a group of persons elected or appointed to govern a city or a county. n.

commission merchant, person who buys or sells goods for others who pay him a commission.

com mit (kə mit'), 1. hand over for safekeeping; deliver: He committed himself to the doctor's care. 2. imprison officially. 3. refer to a committee for consideration. 4. do or perform (usually something wrong): Criminals commit crimes. 5. reveal one's opinion. 6. involve; pledge: He would not commit himself in any way. v., com mit ted, com mit ting. —com mit'ta ble, adj. commit to memory, learn by heart.

commit to paper or writing, write down.
com mit ment (kə mit'mənt), 1. a committing. 2. being committed. 3. a sending to prison or an asylum. 4. order sending a person to prison or to an asylum. 5. pledge; promise. n.
com mit tal (kə mit'tl), commitment. n.
com mit tee (kə mit'tē), group of persons appointed or elected to do certain things: The committee meets today at four. n.
com mit tee man (kə mit'ti mən), member of a committee. n., pl. com mit tee men (-məŋ).
com mode (kə mōd'), 1. chest of drawers. 2. a stand in a bedroom, to hold a washbasin, pitcher of water, etc.; washstand. n.
com mo di ous (kə mō'dē əs), 1. roomy. 2. convenient; handy. adj. —com mo'di ous ly, adv. —com mo'di ous ness, n.
com mod i ty (kə mōd'ə tē), 1. anything that is bought and sold: Groceries are commodities. 2. a useful thing. n., pl. com mod i ties.
com mo dore (kə mō'dōr), 1. officer in the United States Navy ranking next below a rear admiral and next above a captain. 2. captain in the British Navy in temporary command of a squadron. 3. title of honor given to the president or head of a yacht club. n.
com mon (kə mən), 1. belonging equally to each or all of a group; joint: The house was the common property of the three brothers. 2. of all; from all; by all; to all; general: common knowledge, a common nuisance. 3. belonging to the community at large; public: a common council. 4. often met with; usual; familiar: Snow is common in cold countries. 5. without rank: the common people. A common soldier is a private. 6. below ordinary; inferior; coarse; vulgar. 7. land owned or used by all the people of a town, village, etc. 8. belonging equally to two or more quantities: a common factor, a common multiple. 1-6, 8 adj., 7 n. —com'mon ness, n.
in common, equally with another or others; owned, used, done, etc., by both or all: Harriet and her sister have many interests in common.
com mon al ty (kə mən əl tē), 1. the common people; persons without rank or title; middle and lower classes of society. 2. people as a group. 3. members of a corporation. n., pl. com mon al ties.
common carrier, person or company whose business is conveying goods or people for pay. A railroad company is a common carrier.
common denominator, a common multiple of the denominators of a group of fractions: 12 is a common denominator of $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{2}{3}$, and $\frac{3}{4}$.
common divisor, number that will divide two or more other numbers without a remainder: 2 is a common divisor of 4, 6, 8, and 10.
com mon er (kə mən ər), 1. one of the common people; person who is not a nobleman. 2. member of the House of Commons. 3. student who pays all his expenses at an English university; student who has no fellowship or scholarship. n.
common fraction, fraction with the numerator and the denominator separated by a horizontal or diagonal line. Examples: $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{3}{4}$.
common law, law based on custom and usage and confirmed by the decisions of judges, as distinct from statute law.
com mon ly (kə mən lē), usually; generally: Arithmetic is commonly taught in elementary schools. adv.
Common Market, an association of Belgium, France, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, and West Germany, established in 1958 to promote free trade among its members by eliminating tariffs and having a common tariff for commerce with countries outside the association.
common noun, name for any one of a class. Boy, city, and dog are common nouns. John, Boston, and Rover are proper nouns.

com mon place (kə mən plās'), 1. common or everyday thing: Not many years ago broadcasting was a rare novelty; today it is a commonplace. 2. an ordinary or obvious remark. 3. not new or interesting; everyday; ordinary. 1, 2 n., 3 adj. —com'mon place'ness, n.
com mons (kə mən ənz), 1. the common people; people who are not noblemen. 2. a dining hall or building where food is served to a large group at common tables. 3. the food served. 4. food: The poor orphans were kept on short commons. n.pl.
the Commons, House of Commons.
common sense, good sense in everyday affairs; practical intelligence.
com mon-sense (kə mən sən's'), having or showing ordinary good sense; sensible; practical. adj.
common stock, ordinary stock in a company. Common stock has no guaranteed rate of dividend and does not have the privileges of preferred stock.
com mon weal (kə mən wēl'), 1. the general welfare; public good. 2. Archaic. commonwealth. n.
com mon wealth (kə mən welθ'), 1. group of people who make up a nation; citizens of a state. 2. a democratic state; republic. 3. any one of the States of the United States. 4. group of persons, nations, etc., united by some common interest. n.
Com mon wealth (kə mən welθ'), British Commonwealth of Nations. n.
com mo tion (kə mō'shən), violent movement; confusion; disturbance; tumult. n.
com mu nal (kə mū'nəl or kə mū'nl), 1. of a community; public. 2. owned jointly by all; used or participated in by all members of a group or community. 3. of a commune. adj. —com'mu nal ly, adv.
com mune¹ (kə mūn' for 1, 3; kə mū'n for 2), 1. talk intimately. 2. intimate talk; communion. 3. receive Holy Communion. 1, 3 v., com muned, com muning; 2 n.
com mune² (kə mū'n), the smallest division for local government in France, Belgium, and several other European countries. n.
com mu ni ca ble (kə mū'nə kə bl), that can be communicated: Ideas are communicable by words. Scarlet fever is a communicable disease. adj.
com mu ni cant (kə mū'nə kənt), 1. person who receives Holy Communion. 2. person who gives information by talking, writing, etc. n.
com mu ni cate (kə mū'nə kāt), 1. pass along; transfer: A stove communicates heat to a room. 2. give (information or news) by talking, writing, etc.; talk, write, telephone, telegraph, etc.; send and receive messages. 3. be connected: The dining room communicates with the kitchen. 4. receive Holy Communion. v., com mu ni cat ed, com mu ni cat ing. —com mu'ni ca'tor, n.
com mu ni ca tion (kə mū'nə kə'shən), 1. act or fact of passing along; transfer. 2. a giving of information by talking, writing, etc.: Communication with people who are deaf is difficult. 3. information given in this way. 4. letter, message, etc., that gives information: Your communication came in time to change all my plans. 5. means of going from one place to the other; connection; passage: There is no communication between these two rooms. n.
communications, a system of communicating by telephone, radio, etc.
communications satellite, an artificial satellite that reflects or relays radio or microwave signals between two points on earth.
com mu ni ca tive (kə mū'nə kə'tiv), ready to give information; talkative. adj. —com mu'ni ca'tive ly, adv. —com mu'ni ca'tive ness, n.
com mun ion (kə mūn'yən), 1. act of sharing; a having in common. 2. exchange of thoughts and feelings; intimate talk; fellowship. 3. a close spiritual relationship. 4. group of people having the same religious beliefs. n.
Com mun ion (kə mūn'yən), 1. act of sharing in the Lord's Supper as a part of church worship. 2. celebration of the Lord's Supper. n.

Communion service, 1. celebration of the Lord's Supper. 2. the proper order or service for this.

com mu ni qué (kə mū'nə kă' or kə mū'nə kâ), an official bulletin, statement, or other communication. n.
com mu nism (kəm'yə niz əm), an economic system based on the ownership of land, factories, and other means of production by the community as a whole or the state and in which the right of private individuals to hold property is partially or totally abolished. The state also has the right to control the distribution and consumption of the products of industry and, sometimes, the right of the individual to control his own labor is denied. n.

com mu nist (kəm'yə nist), 1. person who favors and supports communism. 2. communist. 1 n., 2 adj.

Com mu nist (kəm'yə nist), member of the Communist Party. n.

com mu nis tic (kəm'yə nis'tik), 1. of or having to do with communists or communism. 2. favoring communism. adj. —com'mu nis'ti cal ly, adv.

Communist Party, a political party that supports communism.

com mu ni ty (kə mū'nə tē), 1. a number of people having common ties or interests and living in the same place and subject to the same laws; people of any district or town: This lake provides water for six communities. 2. group of people living together: a community of monks. 3. the public: the approval of the community. 4. ownership together; sharing together: community of food supplies, community of ideas. 5. group of animals or plants living together. 6. likeness; similarity; identity: Community of interests causes people to work together. n., pl. com mu ni ties.

community center, U.S. a building where the people of a community meet for recreation, social purposes, etc.

community chest, fund of money given by people voluntarily to support welfare work in their community.

com mu tate (kəm'yə tāt), reverse the direction of (an electric current). v., com mu tat ed, com mu tat ing.

com mu ta tion (kəm'yə tā'shən), 1. exchange; substitution. 2. reduction (of an obligation, penalty, etc.) to a less severe one: The prisoner obtained a commutation of his sentence from death to life imprisonment. 3. a reversal of the direction of an electric current by a commutator. 4. regular, daily travel back and forth to work by train, bus, automobile, etc. n.

com mu ta tor (kəm'yə tā'tər), 1. device for reversing the direction of an electric current. 2. a revolving part in a dynamo or motor that carries the current to or from the brushes. See dynamo for diagram. n.

com mute (kə mūt'), 1. exchange; substitute. 2. change (an obligation, penalty, etc.) to an easier one: The governor commuted the prisoner's sentence of death to one of life imprisonment. 3. reverse the direction of (an electric current) by a commutator. 4. U.S. travel regularly back and forth to work by train, bus, automobile, etc. v., com mut ed, com mut ing.

com mut er (kə mūt'ər), person who travels regularly back and forth from his home in a suburb to his work in a city. n.

comp., 1. compound. 2. compare. 3. comparative. 4. composition. 5. compositor. 6. composer.

com pact: (kəm pakt' or kom'pakt for 1,4,5; kəm-pakt' for 2,3,6; kom'pakt for 7), 1. firmly packed together; closely joined: The leaves of the cabbage were folded into a compact head. 2. pack firmly together; join closely. 3. make by putting together firmly. 4. Poetic. composed or made (of): It was a tale compact of moonstruck fancy. 5. using few words; brief. 6. condense. 7. a small case containing face powder and often rouge. 1,4,5 adj., 2,3,6 v., 7 n. —com pact'ly, adv. —com pact'ness, n.

com pact: (kom'pakt), agreement. n.

com pan ion¹ (kəm pan'yən), 1. person who goes along with another; person who shares in what another is doing. 2. anything that matches or goes with another in kind, size, color, etc. 3. person paid to live or travel with another as a friend and helper. 4. member of the lowest rank in an order of knighthood. 5. be a companion to; go along with. 1-4 n., 5 v. —com pan'ion-less, adj.

com pan ion² (kəm pan'yən), 1. a covering over the top of a companionway. 2. companionway. n.

com pan ion a ble (kəm pan'yən ə bl), fitted to be a companion; pleasant; agreeable; sociable. adj. —com pan'ion a bly, adv.

com pan ion ship (kəm pan'yən ship), association as companions; fellowship. n.

com pan ion way (kəm pan'yən wā'), 1. stairway from the deck of a ship down to the rooms below. 2. space where such a stairway is. n.

com pa ny (kum'pə nē), 1. group of people: The chairman led the company in singing. 2. group of people joined together for some purpose: a business company, a company of actors. 3. a gathering of persons for social purposes: She behaves well in company. 4. companion or companions: You are known by the company you keep. 5. companionship: His dog provided the old man with company during the long winters. 6. Informal. guest or guests; visitor or visitors. 7. part of an army commanded by a captain. 8. a ship's crew; officers and sailors of a ship. 9. partners not named in the title of a firm. n., pl. com pa nies.

keep company, 1. go (with). 2. go together.

part company, 1. go separate ways. 2. end companionship.

company union, 1. union of workers in one factory, store, etc., that is not part of a larger union. 2. union of workers dominated by the employers.

com pa ra ble (kom'pə rə bl), 1. able to be compared: A fire is comparable with the sun; both give light and heat. 2. fit to be compared: A cane is not comparable to a house as a comfortable place to live in. adj. —com'pa-ra ble ness, n. —com'pa ra bly, adv.

com par a tive (kəm par'ə tiv), 1. that compares: the comparative method of studying. 2. measured by comparison with something else: Screens give us comparative freedom from flies. 3. the second degree of comparison of an adjective or adverb. 4. form or combination of words that shows this degree. Fairer, better, and more slowly are the comparatives of fair, good, and slowly. 5. showing the comparative form. 1,2,5 adj., 3,4 n.

com par a tive ly (kəm par'ə tiv lē), 1. by comparison; relatively; somewhat. 2. in a comparative manner. adv.

com pare (kəm pār'), 1. find out or point out how persons or things are alike and how they differ: He compared the two books to see which one had the better pictures. 2. consider as similar; say (something) is like (something else); liken: A fi: h's fins can be compared to a bird's wings; both are used in moving. 3. be compared; be considered like or equal: Artificial light cannot compare with daylight for general use. 4. change the form of (an adjective or adverb) to show the comparative and superlative degree; name the positive, comparative, and superlative degrees of. v., com pared, com par ing.

beyond compare, without an equal; most excellent.

not to be compared with, 1. very different from. 2. not nearly so good as.

com par i son (kəm par'ə sn), 1. act or process of comparing; finding the likenesses and differences: The teacher's comparison of the heart to a pump helped the students to understand its action. 2. likeness; similarity. 3. change in an adjective or adverb to show degrees. The three degrees of comparison are positive, comparative, and superlative. Example: good, better, best; cold, colder, coldest; helpful, more helpful, most helpful. n. in comparison with, compared with.

Companionway

There is no comparison between them. One is very much better than the other.

com part ment (kəm pɑrt'mənt), a separate division or section; part of an enclosed space set off by walls or partitions. A ship's hold is often built in watertight compartments so that a leak will fill up only one and not the whole ship. n.

com pass (kum'pəs), 1. instrument for showing directions, consisting of a needle that points to the North Magnetic Pole, which is near the North Pole. 2. boundary; circumference: A prison is within the compass of its walls. 3. space within limits; extent; range: The old sailor had many adventures within the compass of his lifetime. 4. range of a voice or musical instrument. 5. circuit; going around. 6. make a circuit of; go around. 7. form a circle around; surround. 8. do; accomplish; get. 9. plot; scheme. 10. grasp with the mind; understand completely. 1-5 n., 6-10 v.

Compass for showing directions. It is about the size of a watch. When the needle points to N, the person holding the compass is facing north.

compass or compasses, instrument for drawing circles and measuring distances.

compass card, a circular card set beneath the needle of a compass showing the 32 points of direction and the degrees of the circle.

com pas sion (kəm pash'ən), feeling for another's sorrow or hardship that leads to help; sympathy; pity. n.

com pas sion ate (kəm pash'ən it), desiring to relieve another's suffering; deeply sympathetic; pitying. adj. —com pas'sion ate ly, adv.

com pat i bil i ty (kəm pat'ə bil'ə tē), ability to exist together; ability to get on well together; agreement; harmony. n.

com pat i ble (kəm pat'ə bl), able to exist together; that can get on well together; agreeing; in harmony: Health and hard work are compatible. adj. —com pat'i bly, adv.

com pa tri ot (kəm pā'trē ət), 1. a fellow countryman. 2. of the same country. 1 n., 2 adj.

com peer (kəm pīr' or kəm'pīr), 1. equal; peer. 2. comrade; companion. n.

com pel (kəm pel'), 1. force: Rain compelled us to stop our ball game. 2. cause or get by force: A policeman can compel obedience. v., com pelled, com pel ling. —com pel'ling ly, adv.

com pend (kəm'pend), compendium. n.

com pen di ous (kəm pen'dē əs), brief but comprehensive; concise: a compendious review of world history. adj. —com pen'di ous ly, adv.

com pen di um (kəm pen'dē əm), summary that gives much information in a little space; concise treatise. n., pl. com pen di ums, com pen di a (-dē ə).

com pen sate (kəm'pen sāt), 1. make an equal return to; give an equivalent to: The hunters compensated the farmer for killing his cow. 2. balance by equal weight, power, etc.; make up (for): Industry and loyalty sometimes compensate for lack of ability. 3. pay: The company compensated her for extra work. 4. stabilize the buying power of (money) to meet varying price levels by changing gold content or backing. v., com pen sat ed, com pen sat ing. —com pen sa'tor, n.

com pen sa tion (kəm'pen sā'shən), 1. something given as an equivalent; something given to make up for a loss, injury, etc. 2. a balancing by equal power, weight, etc. 3. means for doing this. 4. pay: He said that equal compensation should be given to men and women for equal work. 5. increased activity of one part to make up for loss or weakness of another: His loud manner was a compensation for his feeling of uncertainty. n.

com pen sa tive (kəm'pen sā'tiv), compensating. adj.

com pen sa to ry (kəm pen'sə tō'rē), compensating. adj.

com pete (kəm pēt'), 1. try hard to obtain something wanted by others; be rivals; contend. 2. take part (in a contest): An injury kept him from competing in the final race. v., com pet ed, com pet ing.

com pe tence (kəm'pə təns), 1. ability; fitness: No one doubted the guide's competence. 2. enough money or property to provide a comfortable living. 3. legal power or authority. n.

com pe ten cy (kəm'pə tən sē), competence. n.

com pe tent (kəm'pə tənt), 1. able; fit: a competent cook. 2. legally qualified: Two competent witnesses testified. adj. —com'pe tent ly, adv.

com pe ti tion (kəm'pə tish'ən), 1. effort to obtain something wanted by others; rivalry: There is competition in our class for first place. 2. contest. n.

com pet i tive (kəm pet'ə tiv), of competition; having competition; based on competition; decided by competition: A competitive examination for the job of postal clerk will be held January 10. adj. —com pet'i tive ly, adv. —com pet'i tive ness, n.

com pet i tor (kəm pet'ə tər), person who competes; rival. n.

com pi la tion (kəm'pə lā'shən), 1. act of compiling. 2. book, list, etc., that has been compiled. n.

com pile (kəm pil'), 1. collect and bring together in one list or account. 2. make (a book, report, etc.) out of various materials: compile an encyclopedia. v., com piled, com pil ing. —com pil'er, n.

com pla cence (kəm plā'sns), complacency. n.

com pla cen cy (kəm plā'sn sē), 1. being pleased with oneself; self-satisfaction: The criminal's complacency during the trial angered the jury. 2. contentment. n., pl. com pla cen cies.

com pla cent (kəm plā'snt), pleased with oneself; self-satisfied: The winner's complacent smile annoyed some people. adj. —com pla'cent ly, adv.

com plain (kəm plān'), 1. say that something is wrong; find fault: She complains that the room is cold. 2. talk about one's pains, troubles, etc.: Mary is always complaining that her health is poor. 3. make an accusation or charge: She complained to the police about her neighbor's dog. v. —com plain'er, n. —com plain'ing, adj. —com plain'ing ly, adv.

com plain ant (kəm plān'ənt), 1. person who complains. 2. person who brings a lawsuit against another; plaintiff: The complainant accused the defendant of cheating him. n.

com plaint (kəm plānt'), 1. a complaining; a finding fault: Her letter is filled with complaints about her new job. 2. a cause for complaining. 3. accusation; charge. 4. sickness; ailment: A cold is a common complaint. n.

com plai sance (kəm plā'zns), 1. obligingness; agreeableness; courtesy. 2. compliance. n.

com plai sant (kəm plā'znt), 1. inclined to do what is asked; obliging; gracious; courteous. 2. compliant. adj. —com plai'sant ly, adv.

com ple ment (kəm'plə mənt for 1-4; kəm'plə mənt for 5), 1. something that completes or makes perfect. 2. number required to fill: The ship now had its full complement of men, and no more could be taken on. 3. word or group of words completing a predicate. In "The man is good" good is a complement. 4. amount needed to make an angle or an arc equal to 90 degrees. 5. supply a lack of any kind; complete: My furniture complements my sister's, so that together we have what we need. 1-4 n., 5 v.

com ple men ta ry (kəm'plə men'tə rē), forming a complement; completing: Two complementary colors mixed make white. adj.

Complement (def. 4). The arc BD is the complement of the arc AB and the angle BCD is the complement of the angle ACB.

complementary angle, angle needed to make another angle equal to 90 degrees. A 30-degree angle is the complementary angle of a 60-degree angle.

com plete (kəm plēt'), 1. with all the parts; whole; entire: a complete set of Dickens' novels. 2. make up all the parts of; make whole or entire: She completed her set of dishes by buying the cups and saucers. 3. perfect; thorough: a complete surprise. 4. make perfect or thorough: The good news completed my happiness. 5. ended; finished; done: My homework is complete. 6. get done; end; finish: She completed her homework early in the evening. 1,3,5 adj., 2,4,6 v., com plet ed, com plet ing. —com plete/ness, n.

com plete ly (kəm plēt'/lē), in a complete manner; entirely; thoroughly. adv.

com pletion (kəm plē'shən), 1. act of completing; finishing. 2. condition of being completed: The work is near completion. n.

com plex (kəm pleks' or kom'pleks for 1, 2; kom'pleks for 3-5), 1. made up of a number of parts: A complex sentence has one or more clauses besides the main clause. 2. complicated: The instructions for building the radio were too complex for us to follow. 3. a complicated whole. 4. idea or group of ideas associated with emotional disturbance so as to influence a person's behavior to an abnormal degree. 5. Informal. an unreasonable prejudice; strong dislike. 1,2 adj., 3-5 n. —com plex/ly, adv. —com plex/ness, n.

complex fraction, fraction having a fraction in the numerator, in the denominator, or in both; compound fraction. Examples: $\frac{1\frac{3}{4}}{3}$, $\frac{1}{3\frac{1}{8}}$, $\frac{3}{1\frac{1}{8}}$.

com plex ion (kəm plek'shən), 1. color, quality, and general appearance of the skin, particularly of the face. 2. general appearance; nature; character: The complexion of the war was changed by two great victories. n.

com plex ioned (kəm plek'shənd), having a certain kind of complexion: dark-complexioned. adj.

com plex i ty (kəm plek'sə tē), 1. a complex quality, condition, or structure: The complexity of the road map puzzled Tom. 2. something complex; complication. n., pl. com plex i ties.

complex sentence, sentence having one main clause and one or more subordinate clauses. Example: When the engineer pulls the cord, the whistle blows.

com pli ance (kəm plī'əns), 1. act of complying; act of doing as another wishes; act of yielding to a request or command. 2. tendency to yield to others. n.

in compliance with, complying with; according to.

com pli ant (kəm plī'ənt), complying; yielding; obliging: A compliant person gives in to other people. adj. —com pli ant ly, adv.

com pli cate (kom'plā kāt), 1. make hard to understand, settle, cure, etc.; mix up; confuse: Too many rules complicate a game. 2. make worse or more mixed up: a headache complicated by eye trouble. 3. twist together. v., com pli cat ed, com pli cat ing.

com pli cat ed (kom'plā kāt'id), made up of many parts; involved; intricate; complex. adj.

com pli ca tion (kom'plā kā'shən), 1. a complex or confused state of affairs that is hard to understand, settle, cure, etc. 2. difficulty or problem added to one or more already existing: Pneumonia was the complication we most feared. 3. act or process of complicating. n.

com plie i ty (kəm plīs'ə tē), partnership in wrongdoing: Knowingly receiving stolen goods is complicity in theft. n., pl. com plie i ties.

com pli ment (kom'plə mant for 1,4; kom'plə mant for 2,3), 1. something good said about one; something said in praise of one's work. 2. pay a compliment to; congratulate: The principal complimented the boy on his good grades. 3. give something to (a person) as a polite attention. 4. a polite greeting: In the box of flowers was a card saying "With the compliments of a friend." 1,4 n., 2,3 v.

com pli men ta ry (kom'plə men'tə rē), 1. like or containing a compliment; praising. 2. U.S. given free: a complimentary ticket to a concert. adj.

com ply (kəm plī'), act in agreement with a request or a command: We should comply with the doctor's request. v., com plied, com ply ing. —com pli'er, n.

com po nent (kəm pō'nənt), 1. constituent; that composes: Blade and handle are the component parts of a knife. 2. an essential part; part: A chemist can separate a medicine into its components. 1 adj., 2 n.

com port (kəm pōrt'), 1. behave: A judge should comport himself with dignity. 2. agree; suit: Silliness does not comport with the position of judge. v.

com port ment (kəm pōrt'mənt), behavior. n.

com pose (kəm pōz'), 1. make up: The ocean is composed of salt water. 2. put together. To compose a story or poem is to construct it from words. To compose in a printing office is to set up type to form words and sentences. 3. get (oneself) ready; put in proper state: compose oneself to read a book. 4. make calm (oneself or one's features): Try to compose yourself before the doctor gets here. 5. settle; arrange: compose a dispute. 6. write music, books, etc.: She composes only in the morning. v., com posed, com pos ing.

com posed (kəm pōzd'), calm; quiet; self-controlled; tranquil. adj.

com pos ed ly (kəm pōz'id lē), in a composed manner. adv.

com pos er (kəm pōz'ər), 1. person who composes. 2. writer of music. 3. author. n.

com pos ite (kəm poz'it), 1. made up of various parts; compound. 2. belonging to a group of plants in which what is apparently the flower actually consists of many florets (very tiny flowers) that are borne in dense heads. Daisies and dandelions are composite flowers. 3. a composite plant. 4. any composite thing. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n. —com pos'ite ly, adv.

com po si tion (kom'pə zish'ən), 1. the make-up of anything; what is in it: The composition of this candy includes sugar, chocolate, and milk. 2. a putting together of a whole. Writing sentences, making pictures, and setting type in printing are all forms of composition. 3. thing composed, such as a piece of music, writing, etc. 4. a short essay written as a school exercise. 5. a mixture of substances: The dentist filled my tooth with a composition that had silver in it. 6. agreement; settlement. n.

com pos i tor (kəm poz'ə tər), typesetter. n.

com post (kom'pōst), 1. mixture. 2. mixture of leaves, manure, etc., for fertilizing land. n.

com po sure (kəm pō'zhər), calmness; quietness; self-control. n.

com pote (kom'pōt), 1. dish with a supporting stem for fruit, candy, etc. 2. stewed fruit. n.

com pound (kom'pound or kom-pound' for 1; kom'pound for 2-4; kom-pound' for 5,6), 1. having more than one part: A clover leaf is a compound leaf. "Steamship" is a compound word. "John bought a hat, and Philip bought a coat" is a compound sentence. 2. something made by combining parts; mixture: A medicine is usually a compound. 3. a compound word. 4. substance formed by chemical combination of two or more substances: Water is a compound of hydrogen and oxygen. 5. mix; combine: The man in the drugstore compounds medicines and drinks. 6. settle (a quarrel or a debt) by a yielding on both sides. 1 adj., 2-4 n., 5,6 v.

compound a felony, accept money not to prosecute a crime, etc.

com pound (kom'pound), an enclosed yard with buildings in it. n.

Compote (def. 1)

compound fraction, a complex fraction.

compound fracture, fracture in which a broken bone cuts through the flesh and sticks out.

compound interest, interest paid on both the original sum of money borrowed and on the unpaid interest added to it.

compound number, quantity expressed in two or more kinds of units. Example: 2 hr., 18 min., 40 sec.

compound sentence, sentence made up of coordinate independent clauses. Example: The winds blew, the rains fell, and the water covered the earth.

comprehend (kom'pri hend'), 1. understand the meaning of: He comprehends geometry and advanced algebra. If you can use a word correctly and effectively, you comprehend it. 2. include; contain. v. —comprehend'ing ly, adv.

comprehensibility (kom'pri hen'sə bil'ə tē), intelligibility; comprehensible quality. n.

comprehensible (kom'pri hen'sə bl), understandable. adj. —comprehensibly, adv.

comprehension (kom'pri hen'shən), 1. act or power of understanding; ability to get the meaning: Arithmetic is beyond the comprehension of a baby. 2. act or fact of including. 3. comprehensiveness. n.

comprehensive (kom'pri hen'siv), 1. including; including much: The term's work ended with a comprehensive review. 2. comprehending. adj. —comprehensively, adv. —comprehensiveness, n.

compress (kom pres' for 1; kom'pres for 2,3), 1. squeeze together; make smaller by pressure. 2. pad of wet cloth applied to some part of the body to create pressure or to reduce inflammation. 3. machine for compressing cotton into bales. 1 v., 2,3 n.

compressed (kəm prest'), 1. squeezed together; made smaller by pressure. 2. flattened. adj.

compressed air, air that has been put under extra pressure so that it has a great deal of force when released. The air in an automobile tire is compressed. Compressed air is used to operate certain kinds of brakes, guns, and atomizers.

compressibility (kəm pres'ə bil'ə tē), compressible quality. n.

compressible (kəm pres'ə bl), that can be compressed. adj.

compression (kəm presh'ən), 1. act or process of compressing. 2. compressed condition. n.

compressive (kəm pres'iv), compressing; tending to compress. adj.

compressor (kəm pres'ər), 1. one that compresses. 2. machine for compressing air, gas, etc. n.

comprise (kəm priz'), consist of; include: The United States comprises 50 States. v., comprised, comprising.

comprize (kəm priz'), comprise. v., comprized, comprizing.

compromise (kom'prə mīz), 1. settle (a dispute) by agreeing that each side will give up a part of what he demands. 2. settlement of a dispute by a partial yielding on both sides. 3. result of such a settlement. 4. anything halfway between two different things. 5. put under suspicion; put in danger: You will compromise your good name if you go around with thieves and liars. 1,5 v., compromised, compromising; 2-4 n.

comptroller (kən trōl'ər), controller; person employed to look after expenditures. n.

comptroller ship (kən trōl'ər ship), position or rank of a comptroller. n.

compulsion (kəm pul'shən), act of compelling; use of force; force: People must obey the law, either willingly or under compulsion. n.

compulsive (kəm pul'siv), 1. compelling: She has a compulsive desire to keep her house perfectly neat. 2. using compulsion. adj. —compulsively, adv.

compulsory (kəm pul'sə rī), 1. compelled; required: Attendance at school is compulsory for children. 2. compelling; using force. adj. —compulsorily, adv.

compunction (kəm punjk'shən), the pricking of conscience; regret; remorse. n.

computation (kom'pyə tā'shən), 1. reckoning; calculation. Addition and subtraction are forms of computation. 2. the conclusion reached as a result of this. n.

compute (kəm pūt'), find out by arithmetical work; reckon; calculate: Mother computed the cost of our trip. v., computed, computing. —compute'able, adj.

computer (kəm pūt'ər), 1. a person skilled or trained in computing. 2. a machine which computes, especially an electronic machine that solves problems when given coded information. n.

computerize (kəm pūt'ər iz), operate by means of a computer. v., computerized, computerizing.

comrade (kom'rad), 1. companion and friend; partner. 2. person who shares in what another is doing; partner; fellow worker. 3. a fellow member of a union, political party, etc. n.

comrade in arms, a fellow soldier.

comrade ship (kom'rad ship), 1. condition of being a comrade. 2. friendship; fellowship. n.

comte (kōnt), French. count. n.

con¹ (kon), 1. against: The two debating teams argued the question pro and con. 2. reason against: The pros and cons of a question are the arguments for and against it. 1 adv., 2 n.

con² (kon), learn well enough to remember; study. v., conned, conning.

Conakry (kon'ə krē), seaport and capital of Guinea, in the W part. 80,000. n.

concate nate (kon kat'ə nāt), 1. link together. 2. linked together. 1 v., concatenated, concatenating; 2 adj.

concatenation (kon kat'ə nā'shən), 1. act of linking together. 2. state of being linked together. 3. a connected series of things or events. n.

concave (kon kāv' or kon'kāv for 1; kon'kāv for 2), 1. hollow and curved like the inside of a circle or sphere: The palm of one's hand is slightly concave. 2. a concave surface or thing. 1 adj., 2 n. —concave'ly, adv.

Concave lenses seen from the side

concavity (kon kav'ə tē), 1. a concave condition. 2. a concave surface or thing. n., pl. concavities.

conca vo-con vex (kon kā'vō kon veks'), concave on one side and convex on the other. adj.

conceal (kən sēl'), 1. hide. 2. keep secret. v. —conceal'able, adj. —conceal'er, n.

concealment (kən sēl'mənt), 1. act of hiding or keeping secret. 2. being hidden or kept secret. 3. means or place for hiding. n.

concede (kən sēd'), 1. admit as true; admit: Everyone concedes that 2 and 2 make 4. 2. give (what is asked or claimed); grant; yield: He conceded us the right to walk through his land. v., conceded, conceding.

conceit (kən sēt'), 1. too high an opinion of oneself or of one's ability, importance, etc. 2. a fanciful notion; witty thought or expression, often a far-fetched one. n.

conceited (kən sēt'id), having too high an opinion of oneself or one's ability, importance, etc.; vain. adj. —conceited ly, adv. —conceitedness, n.

conceive (kən sēv'ə bl), that can be conceived or thought of; imaginable: We take every conceivable precaution against fire. adj. —conceive'ably, adv.

conceive (kən sēv'), 1. form in the mind; think up; imagine: The Wright brothers conceived the design of the first successful motor-powered plane. 2. have an idea or feeling; think. 3. put in words; express: The warning was conceived in the plainest language. 4. become pregnant. 5. become pregnant with: conceive a child. v., conceived, conceiving.

concentrate (kon'sn trāt), 1. bring or come together in one place: A convex lens is used to concentrate rays of light. 2. pay close attention; focus the mind: He concentrated upon the problem. 3. make stronger: An acid solution is concentrated when it has very much acid in it. 4. something that has been concentrated. 1-3 v., concentrated, concentrating; 4 n.

con cen trat ed (kon'sn trāt'id), 1. brought together in one place. 2. of liquids and solutions, made stronger. adj.

con cen tra tion (kon'sn trā'shən), 1. a concentrating or being concentrated. 2. close attention. 3. strength of a solution. n.

concentration camp, camp where political enemies, prisoners of war, and interned foreigners are held.

con cen tric (kən sen'trik), having the same center. adj. —con cen'tri-cally, adv.

con cen tri cal (kən sen'trə kl), concentric. adj.

Con cep ción (kōn'sep syōn'), city in S Chile. 135,000. n.

con cept (kon'sept), general notion; idea of a class of objects; idea: the concept of equality, basic concepts of chivalry. n.

con cep tion (kən sep'shən), 1. act or power of conceiving. 2. state of being conceived. 3. thought; idea; impression. 4. a becoming pregnant. 5. design; plan. n.

con cep tu al (kən sep'chü əl), having to do with concepts or general ideas. adj. —con cep'tu ally, adv.

con cern (kən sēr'n), 1. have to do with; have an interest for; be the business or affair of: The message is private; it concerns nobody but me. 2. whatever has to do with a person or thing; interest; important matter; business; affair. 3. interest: We are all concerned about the school play. 4. troubled state of mind; worry; anxiety; uneasiness: The mother's concern over her sick child kept her awake all night. 5. a business company; firm. 6. relation; reference: Children have little concern with politics. 1,3 v., 2,4-6 n.

as concerns, about; with reference to.

concern oneself, 1. take an interest; be busy. 2. be troubled or worried; be anxious or uneasy. of concern, of importance; of interest.

con cerned (kən sērnd'), 1. interested; affected; involved. 2. busy; occupied. 3. troubled; worried; anxious. adj.

con cern ing (kən sēr'ning), having to do with; regarding; relating to; about. prep.

con cern ment (kən sēr'n'mənt), 1. importance; interest. 2. worry; anxiety. 3. affair. n.

con cert (kon'sert for 1-3; kən sēr't for 4), 1. a musical performance in which several musicians or singers take part. 2. used in concerts; for concerts. 3. agreement; harmony; union. 4. arrange by agreement; plan or make together: The rebels concerted a plan for seizing the government. 1,3 n., 2 adj., 4 v.

in concert, all together.

con cert ed (kən sēr'tid), 1. arranged by agreement; planned or made together; combined: a concerted attack. 2. arranged in parts for several voices or musical instruments. adj.

con cer ti na (kon'sər tē'nə), a small musical instrument somewhat like an accordion. n.

con cert mas ter (kon'sert-mas'tər), leader, usually the first violinist, of an orchestra, ranking next to the conductor. n.

con cer to (kən cher'tō), a long musical composition for one or more principal instruments, such as a violin, piano, etc., accompanied by an orchestra. n., pl. con-cer tos.

con ces sion (kən sesh'ən), 1. a conceding; granting; yielding: As a concession, Mother let me stay up an hour longer. 2. anything conceded or yielded; admission; acknowledgment. 3. something conceded or granted by a government or controlling authority; grant. Land, privileges, etc., given by a government to a business company are called concessions. A circus leases space for booths as concessions. n.

Concentric circles

con ces sive (kən ses'iv), 1. yielding; making or implying concession. 2. expressing concession. Though and although are concessive words. adj.

conch (kongk or konch), a large, spiral sea shell. n., pl. conchs (kongks), conch es (kon'chiz).

Conch

con cil i ate (kən sil'ē āt), 1. win over; soothe: Mrs. Lee conciliated her cook with a present. 2. gain (good will, regard, favor, etc.) by friendly acts. 3. reconcile; bring into harmony. v.

con cil i at ed, con cil i at ing.

con cil i a tion (kən sil'ē ā'shən), 1. winning over or soothing; reconciling. 2. being won over or soothed; being reconciled. n.

con cil i a tor (kən sil'ē ā'tər), person who conciliates; arbitrator; peacemaker. n.

con cil i a to ry (kən sil'ē ā tō'rē), tending to win over, soothe, or reconcile. adj.

con cise (kən sīs'), expressing much in few words; brief but full of meaning: He gave a concise report of the meeting. adj. —con cise'ly, adv. —con cise'ness, n.

con clave (kon'klāv), 1. a private meeting. 2. meeting of the cardinals for the election of a pope. 3. rooms where the cardinals meet in private for this purpose. n.

con clude (kən klüd'), 1. end; finish: The book concluded happily. 2. arrange; settle: The two countries concluded an agreement on trade. 3. find out by thinking; reach (certain facts or opinions) as a result of reasoning; infer: From the tracks we saw we concluded that the animal must have been a deer. 4. decide; resolve: I concluded not to go. v., con clud ed, con clud ing.

con clu sion (kən klü'zhən), 1. end: the conclusion of the story. 2. the last main division of a speech, essay, etc.: A book or article often has a conclusion summing all of the important parts. 3. a final result; outcome. 4. arrangement; settlement: the conclusion of a peace treaty between enemies. 5. decision, judgment, or opinion reached by reasoning: Jack came to the conclusion that he must work harder to succeed. n.

in conclusion, finally; lastly; to conclude.

try conclusions, take part in a contest.

con clu sive (kən klü'siv), decisive; convincing; final. adj. —con clu'sive ly, adv. —con clu'sive ness, n.

con coct (kon kōkt' or kən kōkt'), 1. prepare from various ingredients: The children concocted some queer messes in the kitchen. 2. put together; devise: concoct an argument against something. v.

con coc tion (kon kōk'shən or kən kōk'shən), 1. act of concocting. 2. thing concocted. n.

con com i tant (kon kom'ə tant), 1. accompanying; attending: a concomitant result. 2. an accompanying thing, quality, or circumstance; accompaniment. 1 adj., 2 n. —con com'i tant ly, adv.

con cord (kon'kōrd or kong'kōrd), 1. agreement; harmony; peace: concord between friends. 2. a harmonious combination of tones sounded together. 3. treaty. n.

Con cord (kong'kōrd), 1. town in eastern Massachusetts. The second battle of the American Revolution was fought there on April 19, 1775. 3000. 2. capital of New Hampshire, in the southern part. 29,000. n.

con cord ance (kon kōrd'ns), 1. agreement; harmony. 2. an alphabetical list of the principal words of a book with references to the passages in which they occur. n.

con cord ant (kon kōrd'nt), agreeing; harmonious. adj. —con cord'ant ly, adv.

con cor dat (kon kōr'dat), 1. agreement; compact. 2. a formal agreement between the Pope and a government about church affairs. n.

Concord grape, a large, sweet, bluish-black grape.

Man playing a concertina

con course (kon'kôrs or kong'kôrs), 1. a running, flowing, or coming together: The fort was built at the concourse of two rivers. 2. a crowd. 3. a place where crowds come. 4. an open space in a railroad station. 5. a driveway; boulevard. n.

con crete (kon'krēt or kon krēt'), 1. real; existing of itself in the material world, not merely in idea or as a quality. All actual objects are concrete. 2. specific; particular; not abstract or general: The lawyer gave concrete examples of the prisoner's cruelty. 3. naming a thing, especially something perceived by the senses. Sugar and people are concrete nouns; sweetness and humanity are abstract nouns. 4. mixture of crushed stone or gravel, sand, cement, and water that hardens as it dries. Concrete is used for foundations, whole buildings, sidewalks, roads, dams, and bridges. 5. made of this mixture: a concrete sidewalk. 1-3,5 adj., 4 n. —con crete'ly, adv. —con crete'ness, n.

con cre tion (kon krē'shən), 1. a forming into a mass; a solidifying. 2. a solidified mass; hard formation. Gallstones are concretions. n.

con cu bine (kong'kyū bin or kon'kyū bin), 1. woman who lives with a man without being legally married to him. 2. wife who has an inferior rank, rights, etc. n.

con cur (kən kēr'), 1. be of the same opinion; agree: The judges all concurred in giving John the prize. 2. work together: The events of the boy's life concurred to make him what he is. 3. come together; happen at the same time. v., con cur red, con cur ring.

con cur rence (kən kēr'əns), 1. a having the same opinion; agreement. 2. a working together. 3. a happening at the same time. 4. a coming together; a meeting at a point: the concurrence of many lines of railroad track. n.

con cur rent (kən kēr'ənt), 1. existing side by side; happening at the same time. 2. cooperating. 3. having equal authority or jurisdiction; coordinate. 4. agreeing; consistent; harmonious. 5. coming together; meeting in a point. adj. —con cur'rent ly, adv.

con cus sion (kən kush'ən), 1. a sudden, violent shaking; shock: The concussion caused by the explosion broke many windows. 2. an injury to the brain, spine, etc., caused by a blow, fall, or other shock. n.

con demn (kən dem'), 1. express strong disapproval of: We condemn cruelty and cruel people. 2. pronounce guilty of crime or wrong: The prisoner is sure to be condemned. 3. doom: He was condemned to death. 4. declare not sound or suitable for use: This bridge has been condemned because it is no longer safe. 5. U.S. take for public use under special provision of the law: These four blocks have been condemned to make a park. v.

con dem na tion (kon'dem nā'shən), 1. act of condemning: the condemnation of a prisoner by a judge, the condemnation of an unsafe bridge. 2. condition of being condemned: His condemnation made him an outcast. 3. cause or reason for condemning. n.

con dem na to ry (kən dem'nə tō'rē), condemning; expressing condemnation. adj.

con dem ned (kən demd'), pronounced guilty of a crime or wrong. adj.

con den sa tion (kon'den sā'shən), 1. a condensing: the condensation of milk. 2. being condensed. 3. something condensed; condensed mass: A cloud is a condensation of water vapor in the atmosphere. 4. act of changing a gas or vapor to a liquid: the condensation of steam into water. 5. the part of a sound wave in which the air molecules are pressed together. n.

con dense (kən dens'), 1. make or become denser or more compact: Milk is condensed by evaporating most of the water from it. 2. make stronger; concentrate: Light is condensed by means of lenses. 3. change from a gas or vapor to a liquid. If steam comes in contact with cold surfaces, it condenses or is condensed into water. 4. put into fewer words; express briefly: He condensed the paragraph into one line. v., con dens ed, con dens ing.

con dens ed (kən dens't'), 1. expressed briefly. 2. changed from a gas or vapor to a liquid. adj.

con dens er (kən den'sər), 1. person or thing that condenses something. 2. device for receiving and holding a charge of electricity. 3. apparatus for changing gas or vapor into a liquid. 4. a strong lens or lenses for concentrating light upon a small area. n.

con de scend (kon'di send'), 1. come down willingly or graciously to the level of one's inferiors in rank: The king condescended to eat with the beggars. 2. grant a favor with a patronizing attitude. v.

con de scend ing (kon'di sen'ding), 1. stooping to the level of one's inferiors. 2. patronizing. adj. —con'de scend'ing ly, adv.

con de scen sion (kon'di sen'shən), 1. pleasantness to inferiors. 2. a patronizing attitude. n.

con dign (kən dīn'), deserved; adequate; fitting: con dign punishment. adj.

con di ment (kon'di mēnt), something used to give flavor and relish to food, such as pepper and spices. n.

con di tion (kən dish'ən), 1. state in which a person or thing is: A sick person is in poor condition. 2. good condition: People who take part in sports must keep in condition. 3. put in good condition: Exercise conditions your muscles. 4. rank; social position: Lincoln's parents were people of humble condition. 5. thing on which something else depends; that without which something else cannot be: Ability and effort are conditions of success. 6. be a condition of: Ability and effort condition success. 7. subject to a condition: The gift to the boy was conditioned on his good behavior. 8. make conditions; make it a condition. 9. clause that expresses or contains a condition. 10. require reexamination or special work of: John was conditioned in Latin. 11. grade or report stating such requirement. 12. shape behavior of by repeated exposure to particular conditions, with which responses become associated: This dog has been conditioned to expect food when he hears a bell. 1,2,4,5,9,11 n., 3,6-8,10,12 v. —con di'tion er, n.

con di tion al (kən dish'ən l), 1. depending on something else; not absolute; limited: "You may go if the sun shines" is a conditional promise. 2. expressing or containing a condition. "If the sun shines" is a conditional clause. adj.

con di tion al ly (kən dish'ən l ē), under a condition or conditions: He accepted conditionally. adv.

con di tion ed (kən dish'ənd), 1. put under a condition; subject to certain conditions. 2. in or having a certain kind of condition. adj.

con dole (kən dōl'), express sympathy; sympathize: The widow's friends condoled with her at the funeral. v., con do led, con dol ing.

con do lence (kən dō'ləns), expression of sympathy: Her friends sent her many condolences. n.

con do na tion (kon'dō nā'shən), forgiveness of an offense, especially by ignoring or overlooking it. n.

con done (kən dōn'), forgive; overlook: The friends condoned each other's faults. v., con done d, con don ing.

con dor (kon'dər), a large vulture with a bare neck and head. Condors live on high mountains in South America and California. n.

con duce (kən dūs' or kən dūs'), lead; contribute; be favorable (to): Darkness and quiet conduce to sleep. v., con du ced, con duc ing.

con du cive (kən dū'siv or kən dū'siv), helpful; favorable: Exercise is conducive to health. adj.

con duct (kon'dukt for 1,3,6; kən dukt' for 2,4,5,7,8), 1. behavior; way of acting: Her conduct was inexcusable. 2. act in a certain way; behave: She always conducts herself like a lady. 3. direction; management: the conduct of an office. 4. direct; manage: conduct the affairs of a business. 5. direct (an orchestra, etc.) as leader. 6. leading; guiding. 7. lead; guide: Conduct me to your teacher. 8. transmit (heat, electricity, etc.): Those pipes conduct steam to the radiators upstairs. 1,3,6 n., 2,4,5,7,8 v.

Condor (4 ft. long; wing-spread 9 ft.)

con duct i bil i ty (kən duk'tə bil'ə tē), power of conducting heat, electricity, etc. n.

con duct i ble (kən duk'tə bl), 1. capable of conducting heat, electricity, etc. 2. capable of being conducted. adj.

con duc tion (kən duk'shən), 1. transmission of heat, electricity, etc., by the transferring of energy from one particle to another: the conduction of electricity along a wire. 2. a conveying: the conduction of water through a pipe. n.

con duc tiv i ty (kon'duk tiv'ə tē), power of conducting heat, electricity, etc. n.

con duc tor (kən duk'tər), 1. person who conducts; director; manager; leader; guide. 2. director of an orchestra, chorus, etc. The conductor trains the performers to work together, selects the music to be used, beats time for the orchestra, etc. 3. person in charge of a streetcar, bus, railroad train, etc. The conductor usually collects the tickets or fares from the passengers. 4. thing that transmits heat, electricity, light, sound, etc. Copper is a good conductor of heat and electricity. n.

con duit (kon'dit or kon'du it), 1. channel or pipe for carrying liquids long distances. 2. tube or underground passage for electric wires. n.

cone (kōn), 1. a solid with a flat, round base that tapers evenly to a point at the top. 2. a surface traced by a moving straight line, one point of which is fixed, the opposite end constantly touching a fixed curve. 3. anything shaped like a cone: an ice-cream cone, the cone of a volcano. 4. part that bears the seeds on pine, cedar, fir, and other evergreen trees. n.

Con es to ga wa gon (kon'is tō'gə), a covered wagon with broad wheels, formerly used for traveling on soft ground or on the prairie.

co ney (kō'nē), cony. n., pl. co neys.

con fec tion (kən fek'shən), 1. piece of candy, candied fruit, jam, etc. 2. an elaborate hat or dress. n.

con fec tion er (kən fek'shən əri), person whose business is making or selling candies, ice cream, etc. n.

con fec tion ery (kən fek'shən er'ē), 1. candies, sweets, etc.; confections. 2. business of making or selling confections. 3. place where confections, ice cream, etc., are made or sold; candy shop. n., pl. con fec tion-eries.

con fed er a cy (kən fed'ər ə sē), 1. union of countries or states; group of people joined together for a special purpose. 2. league; alliance. 3. conspiracy. n., pl. con fed er a cies.

Con fed er a cy (kən fed'ər ə sē), group of eleven Southern States that seceded from the United States in 1860 and 1861; Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia. n.

con fed er ate (kən fed'ər it for 1-3; kən fed'ər āt for 4), 1. joined together for a special purpose; allied. 2. country, person, etc., joined with another for a special purpose; ally; companion. 3. accomplice; partner in crime: The thief was arrested, but his confederate escaped. 4. join (countries, people, etc.) together for a special purpose; ally. 1 adj., 2, 3 n., 4 v.

Con fed er ate (kən fed'ər it), 1. of or belonging to the Confederacy: the Confederate uniform. 2. person who lived in and supported the Confederacy. 1 adj., 2 n.

Confederate States of America, Confederacy.

con fed er a tion (kən fed'ər ā'shən), 1. federation; act of joining together in a league; state of being united in a league or alliance: The conference devised a scheme for the confederation of the foreign colonies. 2. group of countries, states, etc., joined together for a special purpose; league. n.

the Confederation, the confederation of the American States from 1781 to 1789.

Cone
(def. 1)

con fer (kən fər'), 1. consult together; exchange ideas; talk things over: The president often confers with his advisers. 2. give; bestow: The general conferred a medal on the brave soldier. v., con ferred, con fer ring.

con fer ence (kon'fər əns), 1. a meeting of interested persons to discuss a particular subject: A conference was called to discuss getting a playground for the school. 2. act of taking counsel; act of talking something over; consultation with a person or a group of persons: You cannot see Mr. Smith just now; he is in conference. 3. association of schools, churches, etc., joined together for some special purpose. n.

con fer ment (kən fər'mənt), a giving; bestowal. n.
con fess (kən fēs'), 1. acknowledge; admit; own up: I confess you are right on one point. 2. admit one's guilt. 3. tell (one's sins) to a priest in order to obtain forgiveness. 4. hear (a person) tell his sins in order to obtain forgiveness; act as a confessor. v.

con fessed (kən fēs't), acknowledged; admitted. adj.
con fess ed ly (kən fēs'id lē), by acknowledgment; admittedly. adv.

con fes sion (kən fesh'ən), 1. acknowledgment; admission; owning up. 2. admission of guilt. 3. the telling of one's sins to a priest in order to obtain forgiveness. 4. thing confessed. 5. acknowledgment of belief; profession of faith. 6. belief acknowledged; creed. n.

con fes sion al (kən fesh'ən l), 1. a small booth where a priest hears confessions. 2. practice of confessing sins to a priest. 3. of or having to do with confession. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

con fes sor (kən fēs'ər), 1. person who confesses. 2. priest who has the authority to hear confessions. 3. person who acknowledges belief. n.

con fet ti (kən fet'ē), bits of colored paper thrown about at carnivals, weddings, etc. n.

con fi dant (kon'fə dant'), person trusted with one's secrets, private affairs, etc.; close friend. n.

con fi dante (kon'fə dant'), woman trusted with one's secrets, etc.; close woman friend. n.

con fide (kən fid'), 1. tell as a secret: He confided his troubles to his brother. 2. express trust by imparting secrets, private affairs, etc.: The girl always confided in her mother. 3. hand over (a task, person, etc.) in trust; give to another for safekeeping: The collection of dues is confided to the treasurer. 4. put trust or have faith (in): You can confide in his good faith. v., con fided, con fid ing. —con fid'er, n.

con fi dence (kon'fə dəns), 1. firm belief; trust: We have no confidence in a liar. 2. firm belief in oneself and one's abilities: He goes at his work with confidence. 3. boldness; too much boldness: Although he could not swim, he dived into the water with confidence. 4. a feeling of trust; assurance that a person will not tell others what is said: The story was told to me in strict confidence. 5. thing told as a secret: I listened to her confidences for half an hour. n.

con fi dent (kon'fə dənt), 1. firmly believing; certain; sure: I feel confident that our team will win. 2. sure of oneself and one's abilities. 3. too bold; too sure. 4. a close, trusted friend; confidant. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —con fi dent ly, adv.

con fi den tial (kon'fə den'shəl), 1. told or written as a secret: The detective made a confidential report. 2. showing confidence. 3. trusted with secrets, private affairs, etc.: a confidential secretary. adj. —con fi den tial-ness, n.

con fi den tial ly (kon'fə den'shəl ē), in a confidential manner. adv.

con fid ing (kən fid'ing), trustful; trusting. adj. —con fid'ing ly, adv.

con fig u ra tion (kən fig'yə rā'shən), the relative position of parts; manner of arrangement; form; shape; outline: Geographers study the configuration of the surface of the earth. n.

con fine (kən fīn' for 1-3; kən'fīn for 4), 1. keep within limits; restrict: He was confined in prison for two years. 2. keep indoors; shut in: A cold confined him to the house. 3. imprison. 4. boundary; border; limit: These people have never been beyond the confines of their own valley. 1-3 v., con fined, con fin ing; 4 n. —con fin'er, n.

con fined (kən fīnd'), 1. restricted. 2. imprisoned. adj.

con fine ment (kən fīn'mənt), 1. act of confining. 2. fact or state of being confined. 3. imprisonment. 4. childbirth. n.

con firm (kən fɜrm'), 1. prove to be true or correct; make certain: confirm a rumor. The written order confirmed his telephone message. 2. approve by formal consent; approve; consent to: The Senate confirmed the treaty. 3. strengthen; make firmer: A sudden storm confirmed my decision not to leave. 4. admit to full membership in a church after required study and preparation. v. —con firm'a ble, adj.

con fir ma tion (kən'fɜr mā'shən), 1. a making sure; a confirming. 2. thing that confirms; proof: Don't believe gossip that lacks confirmation. 3. ceremony of admitting a person to full membership in a church after required study and preparation: Mary attended classes to prepare for her confirmation. n.

con firmed (kən fɜrmd'), 1. firmly established; proved. 2. habitual; constant; permanent: a confirmed invalid. adj.

con fis cate (kən'fis kāt), 1. seize for the public treasury: The government confiscated the property of all traitors. 2. seize by authority; take and keep: The policeman confiscated the robber's pistol. v., con fis cat ed, con fis cat ing.

con fis ca tion (kən'fis kā'shən), a confiscating or being confiscated: the confiscation of wealth. n.

con fis ca ry (kən'fis kə tō'rē), 1. of or like confiscation; tending to confiscate. 2. confiscating. adj.

con fla gra tion (kən'flə grā'shən), a big fire: A conflagration destroyed most of the city. n.

con flict (kən'flikt for 1,2; kən'flikt' for 1,3), 1. fight; struggle. 2. direct opposition; disagreement; clash: A conflict of opinions divided the members into two groups. 3. be directly opposed; disagree; clash. 1,2 n., 1,3 v.

con flict ing (kən'flikt'ing), that conflicts; disagreeing; clashing. adj.

con flu ence (kən'flū əns), 1. a flowing together: the confluence of two rivers. 2. a coming together of people or things; throng. n.

con flu ent (kən'flū ənt), flowing or running together; blending into one: confluent rivers. adj.

con flux (kən'fluks), a flowing together; confluence. n.

con form (kən fɔrm'), 1. act according to law or rule; be in agreement with generally accepted standards of business, law, conduct, or worship: If you wish to be a member, you must conform to the rules of our club. 2. become the same in form; correspond in form or character. 3. make similar. 4. adapt: The stranger conformed his ways to ours. v. —con form'er, n.

con form a ble (kən fɔr'mə bl), 1. similar. 2. adapted; suited. 3. in agreement; agreeable; harmonious. 4. obedient; submissive: The boy was conformable to his father's wishes. adj. —con form'a ble ness, n. —con form'a bly, adv.

con form ance (kən fɔr'məns), act of conforming; conformity. n.

con for ma tion (kən'fɔr mā'shən), 1. structure; shape; form of a thing resulting from the arrangement of its parts. 2. a symmetrical arrangement of the parts of a thing. 3. a conforming; adaptation. n.

con form ist (kən fɔr'mist), person who conforms. n.

con form i ty (kən fɔr'mə tē), 1. similarity; correspondence; agreement. 2. action in agreement with generally accepted standards of business, law, conduct, or worship; fitting oneself and one's actions to the ideas of others; compliance. 3. obedience; submission. n., pl.

con form i ties.

con found (kən found' or kən found'), 1. confuse; mix up: The shock confounded her. 2. be unable to tell apart: He confounds "deprecate" and "depreciate."

3. surprise and puzzle. 4. Archaic. make uneasy and ashamed. 5. Archaic. defeat; overthrow. v.

con found ed (kən'foun'did), 1. damned. Confounded is used as a mild oath. 2. hateful; detestable. adj. —con'found'ed ly, adv.

con frere (kən'frār), a fellow member; colleague. n.

con front (kən frunt'), 1. meet face to face; stand facing. 2. face boldly; oppose: The little band of settlers confronted the Indians with hands on their rifles. 3. bring face to face; place before: The lawyer confronted the prisoner with the forged check. 4. compare. v.

Con fu cius (kən fū'shas), 551?-478 B.C., Chinese philosopher and moral teacher. He taught that the chief virtues are respect for parents and ancestors, kindness, faithfulness, intelligence, and proper behavior. n.

con fuse (kən fūz'), 1. mix up; throw into disorder. 2. bewilder: So many people talking to me at once confused me. 3. be unable to tell apart; mistake (one thing for another): Even their own mother sometimes confused the twins. 4. make uneasy and ashamed; embarrass: Confused by her blunder, she could not say anything for a moment. v., con fused, con fus ing. —con fus'ing ly, adv.

con fused (kən fūzd'), 1. mixed up; disordered. 2. bewildered. adj.

con fus ed ly (kən fūz'id lē), in a confused manner. adv.

con fu sion (kən fū'zhən), 1. act or fact of confusing: Words like "believe" and "receive" are a source of confusion in spelling. 2. confused condition; disorder: There was confusion in the busy street after the accident. 3. failure to distinguish clearly. 4. bewilderment. 5. uneasiness and shame. n.

con fu ta tion (kən'fyū tā'shən), 1. act of confuting; disproving. 2. thing that confutes. n.

con fute (kən fūt'), 1. prove (an argument, testimony, etc.) to be false or incorrect: The lawyer confuted the testimony of the witness by showing actual photographs of the accident. 2. prove (a person) to be wrong; overcome by argument: The speaker confuted his opponents by facts and logic. v., con fut ed, con fut ing. —con fut'er, n.

Cong., 1. Congress. 2. Congressional. 3. Congregational. 4. Congregationalist. 5. Congregation.

con ga (kɒŋ'gə), a Cuban dance. n.

con geal (kən jēl'), 1. freeze. 2. thicken; stiffen: The blood around the wound had congealed. v.

con gen ial (kən jən'yəl), 1. having similar tastes and interests; getting on well together: Congenial companions made the trip pleasant. 2. agreeable; suitable: He seeks congenial work. adj. —con gen'ial ly, adv.

con ge ni al i ty (kən jē'nē əl'ə tē), congenial quality. n.

con gen i tal (kən jən'ə tl), present at birth. adj.

con gen i tal ly (kən jən'ə tl ē), from the time of birth. adv.

con ger (kɒŋ'gər), a large, ocean eel that is caught for food along the coasts of Europe. n.

con gest (kən jɛst'), 1. fill too full; overcrowd: The streets of this city are often congested. 2. cause too much blood to gather in (one part of the body). 3. become too full of blood. The lungs are congested in pneumonia. v.

con ges tion (kən jɛs'chən), 1. an overcrowded or congested condition: Sunday's congestion of traffic made him late. 2. too much blood in one part of the body: An ice bag will relieve congestion. n.

con glom er ate (kən glɒm'ər ət for 1; kən glɒm'ər it for 2-5), 1. gather in a rounded mass; collect together. 2. gathered into a rounded mass; clustered. 3. made up of miscellaneous materials gathered from various sources. 4. mass formed of fragments. 5. rock consisting of pebbles, gravel, etc., held together by a cementing material. 1 v., con glom er at ed, con glom er at ing; 2,3 adj., 4,5 n.

Conglomerate (def. 5) conglomeration (kən glom'ər ā'shən), a mixed-up mass of various things or persons; mixture. n.

Con go (kɒŋg'gō), 1. river in central Africa, flowing from SE Democratic Republic of the Congo to the Atlantic. 2900 mi. 2. republic in central Africa, formerly the Belgian Congo. Officially, Democratic Republic of the Congo. 13,650,000 pop.; about 905,000 sq. mi. Capital: Kinshasa. 3. republic in central Africa on the Atlantic, a member of the French Community. Officially, Republic of Congo. 795,000 pop.; 212,519 sq. mi. Capital: Brazzaville. n.

congratulate (kən grach'ə lāt), express one's pleasure at the happiness or good fortune of: I congratulated my friend on her success. v., congratulate, congratulating.

congratulation (kən grach'ə lā'shən), act of congratulating; wishing a person joy. n.
congratulations, expression of pleasure at another's happiness or good fortune: Congratulations on your high grades in this course.

congratulatory (kən grach'ə lā tō'rē), expressing pleasure at another's happiness or good fortune. adj.

congregate (kɒŋg'rɛgāt), come together into a crowd or mass; assemble: Bits of steel congregated around the magnet. v., congregate, congregating.

congregation (kɒŋg'rɛgā'shən), 1. act of coming together into a crowd or mass; act of assembling. 2. a gathering of people or things; assembly. 3. group of people gathered together for religious worship or instruction. 4. a religious community or order with a common rule with or without solemn vows. n.

congregational (kɒŋg'rɛgā'shən l), of a congregation: congregational singing. adj.

Congregational (kɒŋg'rɛgā'shən l), of or belonging to Congregationalism or Congregationalists. adj.

Congregationalism (kɒŋg'rɛgā'shən l iz'əm), principles and organization of a Protestant denomination in which each individual church governs itself. n.

Congregationalist (kɒŋg'rɛgā'shən l ist), member of a Congregational church. n.

congress (kɒŋg'gris), 1. a coming together; a meeting. 2. a formal meeting of representatives to discuss some subject. 3. the lawmaking body of a nation, especially of a republic. n.

Congress (kɒŋg'gris), 1. the national lawmaking body of the United States, consisting of the Senate and House of Representatives. 2. its session. n.

congression (kən gresh'ən l), of a congress; having to do with a congress. adj.

Congressional (kən gresh'ən l), of Congress; having to do with Congress. adj.

congressman or Congressman (kɒŋg'gris mən), member of the United States Congress, especially of the House of Representatives. n., pl. congressmen or Congressmen.

congresswoman (kɒŋg'gris wum'ən), a woman member of the United States Congress, especially of the House of Representatives. n., pl. congresswomen.

congruence (kɒŋg'gru əns), agreement; harmony. n.

congruent (kɒŋg'gru ənt), 1. agreeing; harmonious. 2. exactly coinciding: congruent triangles. adj. —congruently, adv.

congruous (kɒŋg'gru əs), 1. agreeing; harmonious. 2. fitting; appropriate. 3. exactly coinciding. adj. —congruously, adv. —congruousness, n.

conical (kɒn'ə kl), 1. cone-shaped; like a cone. 2. of a cone. adj. —conically, adv.

conifer (kō'nə fər or kɒn'ə fər), any of a large group of trees and shrubs, most of which are evergreen and bear cones. The pine, fir, and spruce are conifers. n.

coniferous (kō nif'ər əs), 1. bearing cones. 2. belonging to or having to do with the conifers. adj.

conj., 1. conjunction. 2. conjugation.

conjectural (kən jek'chər əl), 1. involving conjecture: His opinion was merely conjectural, not proved. 2. inclined to conjecture. adj. —conjecturally, adv.

conjecture (kən jek'chər), 1. formation of an opinion admittedly without sufficient evidence for proof; guessing. 2. guess. 1,2 n., 2 v., conjectured, conjecturing. —conjecturable, adj. —conjecturer, n.

conjoin (kən join'), join together; unite; combine. v. —conjoiner, n.

conjoint (kən joint'), 1. joined together; united; combined. 2. formed by two or more in combination; joint. adj. —conjointly, adv.

conjugal (kɒn'jū gl), 1. of marriage; having to do with marriage. 2. of husband or wife. adj. —conjugally, adv.

conjugate (kɒn'jū gāt for 1,2; kɒn'jū git or kɒn'jū gāt for 3), 1. give the forms of (a verb) according to a systematic arrangement. 2. join together; couple. 3. joined together; coupled. 1,2 v., conjugated, conjugating; 3 adj.

conjugation (kɒn'jū gā'shən), 1. a systematic arrangement of the forms of a verb. 2. group of verbs having similar forms in such an arrangement. 3. act of giving the forms of a verb according to such an arrangement. 4. a joining together; coupling. n.

conjunction (kən jungk'shən), 1. act of joining together; union; combination: A severe illness in conjunction with hot weather has left the baby very weak. 2. a word that connects words, phrases, clauses, or sentences. And, but, and or are coordinate conjunctions; if, as, because, etc., are subordinate conjunctions; either . . . or, both . . . and are correlative conjunctions. 3. the apparent nearness of two or more heavenly bodies. n.

conjunctiva (kɒn'jungk tī'və), the mucous membrane that covers the front of the eyeball and the inner surface of the eyelids. n., pl. conjunctivas, conjunctivae (-vē).

conjunctive (kən jungk'tiv), 1. joining together; connecting; uniting; combining. 2. joined together; joint; united; combined. 3. like a conjunction; like that of a conjunction. Then is a conjunctive adverb. 4. connecting words, phrases, or clauses in both meaning and construction. And, also, and moreover are conjunctive conjunctions. 5. a conjunctive word; conjunction. 1-4 adj., 5 n. —conjunctively, adv.

conjuratio (kɒn'jū rā'shən), 1. invoking by a sacred name. 2. the practice of magic: The princess had been changed to a toad by conjuration. 3. a magic form of words used in conjuring; magic spell. n.

conjure (kən jūr' for 1; kɒn'jər or kɒn'jər for 2, 3), 1. make a solemn appeal to: By all that is holy, I conjure you not to betray your country. 2. compel to appear or disappear by a set form of words: Nowadays we do not try to conjure up spirits or devils. 3. perform tricks by very quick deceiving movements of the hands; juggle. v., conjured, conjuring.

conjurer (kɒn'jər ər or kɒn'jər ər), 1. magician. 2. person who performs tricks with quick, deceiving movements of the hands; juggler. n.

conjurer (kɒn'jər ər or kɒn'jər ər), conjurer. n.

conk (kɒŋk), Slang. hit. n., v.

conk out, break down.

Conn., Connecticut.

connect (kə nek't), 1. join (one thing to another); link (two things together); fasten together; unite: The plumber will have to connect those pipes before we can turn on the water. 2. join in some business or interest; bring into some relation: Mr. Davis is connected with several clubs. 3. think of (one thing) with (another); associate in the mind. 4. be connected; become connected. 5. run so that passengers can change from one train, bus, etc., to another without delay. v. —connector, n.

connected (kə nek'tid), 1. joined together; fastened together. 2. joined in order: connected ideas. 3. having ties and associates: She is well connected socially. adj.

Con nect i cut (kə net'ə kət), 1. one of the New England States in northeastern United States. 2,535,000 pop.; 5009 sq. mi. Capital: Hartford. Abbrev.: Conn.
2. river flowing between New Hampshire and Vermont, through Massachusetts and Connecticut, and into Long Island Sound. 407 mi. n.

con nec tion (kə nek'shən), 1. act of connecting: The connection of our telephone took two days. 2. condition of being joined together or connected; union. 3. thing that connects; connecting part. 4. any kind of practical relation with another thing: I have no connection with my brother's firm. 5. group of people associated in some way. 6. thinking of persons or things together; linking together of words or ideas in proper order. 7. meeting of trains, ships, etc., so that passengers can change from one to the other without delay. 8. a related person; relative: She is a connection of ours by marriage. n. Also, esp. Brit. connexion.

in connection with, together with; in regard to.

con nec tive (kə nek'tiv), 1. that connects. 2. thing that connects. 3. word used to connect words, phrases, and clauses. Conjunctions and relative pronouns are connectives. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

connective tissue, tissue that connects, supports, or encloses other tissues and organs in the body.

con nex ion (kə nek'shən), Esp. Brit. connection. n.

con ning tower (kon'ning), a small tower on the deck of a submarine, used as an entrance and as a place for observation.

con niv ance (kə niv'əns), act of conniving; pretended ignorance or secret encouragement of wrongdoing. n.

con nive (kə niv'), 1. shut one's eyes to something wrong; give aid to wrongdoing by not telling of it, or by helping it secretly: Some policemen connive at gambling. 2. cooperate secretly: The general connived with the enemies of his country. v., con nived, con niv ing. —con niv'er, n.

con nois seur (kon'ə sér'), expert; critical judge: He is a connoisseur of antique furniture. n.

con no ta tion (kon'ə tā'shən), 1. a connoting. 2. what is suggested in addition to the simple meaning. When Elaine is described as "the lily maid," the connotation is that she was pale blonde in coloring, delicate, sweet, and pure. n.

con note (kə nōt'), suggest in addition to the literal meaning; imply. Portly, corpulent, and obese all mean fleshy; but portly connotes dignity; corpulent, bulk; and obese, an unpleasant excess of fat. v., con not ed, con not ing.

con nu bi al (kə nü'bē əl or kə nü'bē əl), of or having to do with marriage. adj.

con quer (kong'kər), 1. get by fighting; win in war: conquer a country. 2. overcome by force; defeat; get the better of: conquer an enemy, conquer a bad habit. 3. be victorious; be the conqueror: The general said he would conquer or die. v. —con'quer a ble, adj.

con quer or (kong'kər əv), person who conquers. n.

con quest (kon'kwest or kong'kwest), 1. act of conquering; victory. 2. thing conquered; land, people, etc., conquered. 3. person whose love or favor has been won. n.

the Conquest, the conquering of England by William the Conqueror, begun in 1066.

con quis ta dor (kon kwis'tə dôr), 1. a Spanish conqueror in North or South America during the 16th century. 2. conqueror. n., pl. con quis ta dors or con quis ta dores.

con san gu i nity (kon'sang gwīn'ə tē), relationship by descent from the same parent or ancestor: Brothers and cousins are united by ties of consanguinity. n.

con science (kon'shəns), sense of right and wrong. Your conscience is the ideas and feelings within you which tell you what is wrong and keep you from doing it, and which tell you what is right and lead you to do it. n. —con'science less, adj.

con science-strick en (kon'shəns strik'ən), suffering from a feeling of having done wrong. adj.

con sci en tious (kon'shē en'shəs), 1. careful to do what one knows is right; controlled by conscience. 2. done with care to make it right: Conscientious work is careful and exact. adj. —con'sci en'tious ly, adv. —con'sci en'tious ness, n.

conscientious objector, person whose beliefs do not let him take an active part in warfare.

con scion a ble (kon'shən ə bl), according to conscience; just. adj. —con'scion a bly, adv.

con scious (kon'shəs), 1. aware; knowing: He was conscious of a sharp pain. 2. able to feel: After about five minutes he became conscious again. 3. known to oneself; felt: conscious guilt. 4. meant; intended: a conscious lie. 5. self-conscious; shy; embarrassed. adj. —con'scious ly, adv.

con scious ness (kon'shəs nis), 1. state of being conscious; awareness. People and animals have consciousness; plants and stones do not. 2. all the thoughts and feelings of a person. Everything of which you are conscious makes up your consciousness. 3. awareness of what is going on about one: A severe shock often makes a person lose consciousness for a time. n.

con script (kən skript' for 1,2; kon'skript for 3,4), 1. compel by law to enlist in the army or navy; draft. 2. take for government use: The dictator proposed to conscript both capital and labor. 3. conscripted; drafted. 4. a conscripted soldier or sailor. 1,2 v., 3 adj., 4 n.

con scrip tion (kən skrip'shən), 1. compulsory enlistment of men in the army or navy; draft. 2. act or system of forcing contributions of money, labor, or other service to the government or as the government directs. n.

con se crate (kon'sə krāt), 1. set apart as sacred; make holy: A church is consecrated to worship. 2. devote to a purpose; dedicate: A doctor's life is consecrated to curing sick people. v., con se crat ed, con se crat ing. —con'se cra'tor, n.

con se crat ed (kon'sə krāt'id), set apart as sacred; made holy. adj.

con se cra tion (kon'sə krā'shən), 1. act of consecrating. 2. condition of being consecrated. 3. ordination to a sacred office, especially that of bishop. n.

con sec u tive (kən sek'yə tiv), 1. following without interruption; successive: Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday are consecutive days. 2. made up of parts that follow each other in logical order: From all the reports, he put together a consecutive account of the accident. adj. —con sec'u tive ly, adv. —con sec'u tive ness, n.

con sen sus (kən sen'səs), general agreement. The consensus of opinion means the opinion of all or most of the people consulted. n.

con sent (kən sent'), 1. agree; give approval or permission: My father would not consent to my leaving school. He consented to run for president. 2. agreement; approval; permission: We have mother's consent to go swimming. 1 v., 2 n.

con se quence (kon'sə kwens), 1. result; effect: The consequence of his fall was a broken leg. 2. a logical result; deduction; inference. 3. importance: The loss of that old hat is a matter of little consequence. 4. importance in rank or position: a man of little consequence. n.

in consequence, as a result; therefore.

in consequence of, as a result of; because of.

take the consequences, accept what happens because of one's action.

con se quent (kon'sə kwent), 1. following as an effect; resulting: His long illness and consequent absence put him far behind in his work. 2. following as a logical conclusion. 3. logically consistent. 4. thing that follows something else; result; effect. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

con se quen tial (kən'sə kwən'shəl), 1. following as an effect; resulting. 2. self-important; pompous. adj. —con'se quen'tial ly, adv. —con'se quen'tial ness, n. con se quen tly (kən'sə kwent'lē), as a result; therefore. adv.

con ser va tion (kən'sər vā'shən), 1. a preserving from harm or decay; protecting from loss or from being used up: the conservation of forests. 2. the official protection and care of forests, rivers, etc. 3. forest, etc., or a part of it, under official protection and care. n.

con ser va tion ist (kən'sər vā'shən ist), person who believes in and advocates conservation of the forests, rivers, etc., of a country. n.

con serv a tism (kən sər'və tiz əm), inclination to keep things as they are; opposition to change. n.

con serv a tive (kən sər'və tiv), 1. inclined to keep things as they are; opposed to change: A conservative person distrusts and opposes change and too many new ideas. 2. of or belonging to a political party that opposes changes in national institutions. 3. not inclined to take risks; cautious; moderate: conservative business methods. 4. free from novelties and fads: It is economy to choose suits of a conservative style. 5. having the power to preserve from harm or decay; conserving; preserving. 6. a conservative person. 7. means of preserving. 1-5 adj., 6, 7 n. —con serv'a tive ly, adv. —con serv'a tive ness, n.

Con serv a tive (kən sər'və tiv), 1. member of the Conservative Party in Great Britain or Canada. 2. of Conservatives or the Conservative Party. 1 n., 2 adj.

Conservative Party, 1. a political party in Great Britain that favors existing national institutions or return to some of those recently existing. 2. a similar political party in Canada.

con serv a to ry (kən sər'və tō'rē), 1. greenhouse or glass-enclosed room for growing and displaying plants and flowers. 2. U.S. a school for instruction in music. n., pl. con serv'a to ries.

con serve (kən sɜrv' for 1,2; kən'sɜrv or kən sɜrv' for 3), 1. keep from harm or decay; protect from loss or from being used up: Try to conserve your strength for the end of the race. 2. preserve (fruit) with sugar. 3. fruit preserved in sugar; jam. 1,2 v., con served, con serving; 3 n.

con sid er (kən sid'ər), 1. think about in order to decide: Take time to consider the problem. 2. think to be; think of as: We consider Shakespeare a great poet. 3. allow for; take into account: This watch runs very well, if you consider how old it is. 4. be thoughtful of (others and their feelings). 5. think carefully; reflect: He considered fully before accepting the offer. v.

con sid er a ble (kən sid'ər ə bl), 1. worth thinking about; important: a considerable sum of money. 2. not a little; much. 3. U.S. Informal. not a little; much. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

con sid er a bly (kən sid'ər ə blē), a good deal; much: The boy was considerably older than he looked. adv.

con sid er ate (kən sid'ər it), thoughtful of others and their feelings. adj. —con sid'er ate ly, adv. —con sid'er ate ness, n.

con sid er a tion (kən sid'ər ə'shən), 1. act of thinking about in order to decide: Please give careful consideration to this question. 2. something thought of as a reason: Price and quality are two considerations in buying anything. 3. money or other payment: Dishonest people will do almost anything for a consideration. 4. thoughtfulness for others and their feelings: Mary's consideration for her mother was in sharp contrast with her brother's rudeness. 5. importance. n.

on no consid er a tion, 1. because of. 2. in return for. on no consid er a tion, not at all; never.

take into consid er a tion, allow for; take into account.

con sid ered (kən sid'ərd), 1. carefully thought out: in my considered opinion. 2. honored; respected. adj.

con sid er ing (kən sid'ər ing), 1. taking into account; making allowance for: Considering her age, she reads well. 2. taking everything into account: He does very well, considering. 1 prep., 2 adv.

con sign (kən sɪn'), 1. hand over; deliver: The man was consigned to prison. The father consigned the child to his sister's care. 2. transmit; send: We will consign the goods to Mr. Clark by express. 3. set apart; assign. v.

con sign ee (kən'si nē'), person or company to whom goods are consigned. n.

con sign er (kən sɪn'ər), consignor. n.

con sign ment (kən sɪn'mənt), 1. act of consigning. 2. shipment sent to a person or company for safekeeping or sale. n.

con sign or (kən sɪn'ər or kən'si nōr'), person or company who consigns goods to another. n.

con sist (kən sist'), 1. be made up; be formed: A week consists of seven days. 2. agree; be in harmony. v.

consist in, be contained in; be made up of: True success consists in what a man makes of himself, not how much money he makes.

con sist ence (kən sis'təns), consistency. n.

con sist en cy (kən sis'tən sē), 1. firmness; stiffness. 2. degree of firmness or stiffness: Frosting for a cake must be of the right consistency to spread easily without dripping. 3. a keeping to the same principles, course of action, etc.: Consistency should guide conduct. 4. harmony; agreement; accordance. n., pl. con sist en cies.

con sist ent (kən sis'tənt), 1. keeping or inclined to keep to the same principles, course of action, etc.: What a consistent person says or does today agrees with what he said or did yesterday. 2. in agreement; in accord; compatible: Driving an automobile at very high speed is not consistent with safety. So much noise is not consistent with comfort. adj. —con sist'ent ly, adv.

con sis to ry (kən sis'tō'rē), 1. a church council or court. 2. meeting of such a council or court. 3. place where it meets. n., pl. con sis to ries.

con so la tion (kən'sə lā'shən), 1. comfort. 2. a comforting person, thing, or event. n.

con sol a to ry (kən sol'ə tō'rē), consoling; comforting. adj.

con sole¹ (kən sōl'), comfort. v., con soled, con soling. —con sol'a ble, adj. —con sol'er, n.

con sole² (kən sōl'), 1. the part of an organ containing the keyboard, stops, and pedals. 2. a radio, television, or phonograph cabinet made to stand on the floor. n.

con sol i date (kən sol'ə dāt), 1. unite; combine; merge: The three banks consolidated and formed a single, large bank. 2. make secure; strengthen: The army spent a day in consolidating its gains by digging trenches. 3. make or become solid. v., con sol i dat ed, con sol i dat ing.

con sol i dat ed (kən sol'ə dāt'id), united; combined. adj.

consolidated school, school for pupils from several school districts.

con sol i da tion (kən sol'ə dā'shən), act of consolidating; state of being consolidated; strengthening; combination. n.

con sol ing (kən sōl'ing), that consoles. adj. —con sol'ing ly, adv.

con som mé (kən'sə mē'), a clear soup made by boiling meat in water. n.

con so nance (kən'sə nəns), 1. harmony; agreement; accordance. 2. harmony of sounds; simultaneous combination of tones in music that is agreeable to the ear. n.

con so nant (kən'sə nənt), 1. any letter of the alphabet that is not a vowel. 2. sound that such a letter represents. 3. harmonious; in agreement; in accord: His action is consonant with his beliefs. 4. agreeing in sound. 5. consonantal. 1,2 n., 3-5 adj. —con'so nant ly, adv.

con so nan tal (kən'sə nan'tl), having to do with a consonant or its sound. adj.

con sort (kon/sôrt for 1-3; kən sôrt/ for 4,5), 1. husband or wife. 2. an associate. 3. ship accompanying another. 4. associate: Do not consort with thieves. 5. agree; accord. 1-3 n., 4,5 v.

con spec tus (kən spek/təs), 1. a general or comprehensive view. 2. a short summary or outline of a subject; digest; résumé. n.

con spic u ous (kən spik/yü əs), 1. easily seen: A traffic sign should be conspicuous. 2. worthy of notice; remarkable: Lincoln is a conspicuous example of a poor boy who succeeded. adj. —con spic/u ous ly, adv. —con spic/u ous ness, n.

con spir a cy (kən spir/ə sē), secret planning with others to do something wrong, especially a wrong against a government, public personage, etc.; plot. n., pl. con spir a cies.

con spir a tor (kən spir/ə tər), person who conspires; plotter: Conspirators planned to kill the king. n.

con spire (kən spir/), 1. plan secretly with others to do something wrong; plot. 2. act together: All things conspired to make her birthday a happy one. v., con spired, con spir ing. —con spir/er, n.

con sta ble (kon/stə bl or kən/stə bl), a police officer; policeman. n.

con stab u lary (kən stab/yə lər/ē), 1. constables of a district. 2. a police force organized like an army; state police. n., pl. con stab u lar ies.

Con stance (kon/stəns), Lake of, lake between Switzerland, Austria, and Germany. 46 mi. long; 205 sq. mi. n.

con stan cy (kon/stən sē), 1. being always the same; absence of change. 2. firmness in belief or feeling; faithfulness; loyalty. n.

con stant (kon/stənt), 1. always the same; not changing: If you walk due north, your direction is constant. 2. thing that is always the same; number or quantity that does not change. 3. never stopping: Three days of constant rain soaked everything. 4. happening often or again and again: A clock makes a constant ticking sound. 5. faithful; loyal; steadfast: A constant friend helps you when you need help. 1,3-5 adj., 2 n.

Constantine the Great (kon/stən tīn or kon/stən tēn), 283?-337 A.D., Roman emperor from 324 to 337 A.D., who granted liberty of worship to Christians and established the city of Constantinople.

Con stan ti no ple (kon/stən tē nō/pl), a former name of Istanbul, a city in Turkey. n.

con stant ly (kon/stənt lē), 1. always; without change. 2. without stopping. 3. often; again and again. adv.

con stel la tion (kon/stə lā/shən), 1. a group of stars: The Big Dipper is the easiest constellation to locate. 2. a brilliant gathering. n.

con ster na tion (kon/stər nā/shən), great dismay; paralyzing terror: To our consternation the train rushed on toward the burning bridge. n.

con sti pate (kon/stə pāt), cause constipation in. v., con sti pat ed, con sti pat ing.

con sti pat ed (kon/stə pāt/id), suffering from constipation. adj.

con sti pa tion (kon/stə pā/shən), a sluggish condition of the bowels. n.

con stit u en cy (kən stich/ü ən sē), 1. the voters in a district: The congressman carried out the wishes of his constituency. 2. the district; the people living there. 3. group of supporters, customers, etc. n., pl. con stit u en cies.

con stit u ent (kən stich/ü ənt), 1. forming a necessary part; that composes: Flour, liquid, salt, and yeast are constituent parts of bread. 2. a necessary part of a whole; component: Sugar is the main constituent of candy. 3. appointing; electing. 4. person who votes or appoints; voter: The congressman received many letters from his constituents. 5. having the power to make or change a political constitution: a constituent assembly. 1,3,5 adj., 2,4 n.

con sti tute (kon/stə tüt or kon/stə tüt), 1. make up; form: Seven days constitute a week. 2. appoint; elect: The group constituted one member its leader. 3. set up; establish: Courts are constituted by law to give out justice. 4. give legal form to. v., con sti tut ed, con sti tut ing.

con sti tu tion (kon/stə tū/shən or kon/stə tū/shən), 1. the way in which a person or thing is organized; nature; make-up: A person with a good constitution is strong and healthy. The constitution of the world is the arrangement of all things in it. 2. the system of fundamental principles according to which a nation, state, or group is governed: The United States has a written constitution. 3. document stating these principles. 4. appointing; making. 5. a setting up; establishment. 6. law; decree. n.

the Constitution, the constitution by which the United States is governed. It was first drawn up in 1787 and became effective in 1788. Since then 25 amendments have been added to it.

con sti tu tion al (kon/stə tū/shən l or kon/stə tū/shən l), 1. of or in the constitution of a person or thing: A constitutional weakness makes him subject to colds. 2. of, in, or according to the constitution of a nation, state, or group: The Supreme Court must decide whether this law is constitutional. We have constitutional governments in the United States. 3. for one's health. 4. informal. walk or other exercise taken for one's health. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

con sti tu tion al i ty (kon/stə tū/shən ə l/ə tē or kon/stə tū/shən ə l/ə tē), accordance with the constitution of a nation, state, or group: The constitutionality of the new law was disputed. n.

con sti tu tion al ly (kon/stə tū/shən l ē or kon/stə tū/shən l ē), 1. in or by constitution; naturally. 2. according to the constitution. adv.

con sti tu tive (kon/stə tū/tiv or kon/stə tū/tiv), having power to establish or enact; constructive; formative; constituent; essential. adj.

con strain (kən strān/), 1. force; compel. 2. confine; imprison. 3. repress; restrain. v. —con strain/er, n.

con strained (kən strānd/), 1. forced. 2. restrained; stiff; unnatural: a constrained smile. adj.

con strain t (kən strānt/), 1. confinement. 2. restraint. 3. a holding back of natural feelings; forced or unnatural manner; embarrassment: We felt a little constraint with the new teacher for the first day or so. 4. force; compulsion: Are you staying home by choice or under constraint from your father? n.

con strict (kən strikt/), draw together; contract; compress: A rubber band constricts what it encircles. v.

con stric tion (kən strik/shən), 1. act of drawing together; contraction; compression. 2. feeling of tightness: He coughed and complained of a constriction in his chest. 3. a constricted part. 4. something that constricts. n.

con stric tive (kən strik/tiv), drawing together; contracting; compressing. adj.

con stric tor (kən strik/tər), 1. any snake that kills its prey by squeezing it with its coils. 2. muscle that constricts a part of the body. n.

con struct (kən strukt/), 1. put together; build. 2. draw (a geometrical figure) so as to fulfill given conditions. v.

con struc tion (kən struk/shən), 1. act of constructing; putting together. 2. way in which a thing is constructed: Cracks and leaks are signs of poor construction. 3. thing constructed; building: The doll's house was a construction of wood and cardboard. 4. meaning; explanation; interpretation: He put an unfair construction on what she said. 5. arrangement, connection, or relation of words in a sentence, clause, phrase, etc. n.

con struc tive (kən struk/tiv), 1. tending to construct; building up; helpful: People appreciate constructive suggestions, not destructive criticisms. 2. having to do with construction; structural. 3. not directly expressed; inferred. adj. —con struc/tive ly, adv. —con struc/tive ness, n.

con struc tor (kən struk/tər), person who constructs; builder. n.

construe (kən strū'), 1. show the meaning of; explain; interpret: Different lawyers may construe the same law differently. 2. translate. 3. analyze the arrangement and connection of words in (a sentence, clause, phrase, etc.). v., construed, construing.

consul (kən'sl), 1. official appointed by a government to live in a foreign city to look after the business interests of his own country and to protect citizens of his country who are traveling or living there. 2. either of the two chief magistrates of the ancient Roman republic. 3. one of the three chief magistrates of the French republic from 1799 to 1804. n.

consular (kən'sl ə), 1. of or belonging to a consul. 2. serving as a consul; having the duties of a consul: Mr. Adams is the consular representative of the United States at Liverpool. adj.

consulate (kən'sl it), 1. duties, authority, and position of a consul. 2. a consul's term of office. 3. an official residence or offices of a consul. 4. government by consuls. France was governed by a consulate from 1799 to 1804. n.

consulship (kən'sl ship), 1. duties, authority, and position of a consul. 2. a consul's term of office. n.

consult (kən sult'), 1. seek information or advice from; refer to: Consult a dictionary for the meaning of a word. 2. exchange ideas; talk things over: He is consulting with his lawyer. 3. take into consideration; have regard for: A good ruler consults the interests and feelings of his people. v.

consultant (kən sult'tənt), 1. person who consults another. 2. person who gives professional or technical advice. n.

consultation (kən'sl tā'shən), 1. act of consulting; act of seeking information or advice. 2. a meeting to exchange ideas or talk things over: The three doctors held a consultation to decide what was the best way to cure the child. n.

consultative (kən sult'tiv), having to do with consultation; advisory. adj.

consulting (kən sult'ing), 1. that consults or asks advice. 2. employed in giving professional advice. adj.

consume (kən sūm'), 1. use up: A student consumes much of his time in studying. 2. eat or drink up: We will consume at least this much food on our hike. 3. destroy; burn up. 4. waste away; be destroyed. 5. spend; waste (time, money, etc.). v., consumed, consuming. —consumable, adj.

consumed with, absorbed by curiosity, envy, etc.

consumer (kən sūm'ər), 1. person or thing that uses up, makes away with, or destroys. 2. person who uses food, clothing, or anything grown or made by producers: A low price for wheat should reduce the price of flour to the consumer. n.

consummate (kən'sə māt for 1; kən sūm'it for 2), 1. complete; fulfill: His ambition was consummated when he won the first prize. 2. complete; perfect; in the highest degree: The paintings of great artists show consummate skill. 1 v., consummated, consummating; 2 adj. —consummately, adv.

consummation (kən'sə māt'shən), completion; fulfillment. n.

consumption (kən sūmp'shən), 1. act of using up; use: We look along some food for consumption on our trip. 2. the science of economics deals with the production, distribution, and consumption of wealth. 3. amount used up: The consumption of coal is much greater in winter than in summer. 4. a wasting disease of the lungs or of some other part of the body; tuberculosis of the lungs. n.

consumptive (kən sūmp'tiv), 1. having or likely to have tuberculosis of the lungs. 2. of tuberculosis of the lungs. 3. person who has tuberculosis of the lungs. 4. tending to consume; destructive; wasteful. 1,2,4 adj., 3 n. —consumptively, adv. —consumptive ness, n.

contact (kən'takt), 1. condition of touching; touch: When two balls are in contact, one can be moved by touching the other. 2. connection: The insurance salesman tried to make contacts with wealthy people. 3. informal. get in touch with; make a connection with: Mother is ill! Contact the doctor immediately! 4. connection between two conductors of electricity through which a current passes. 5. device or part for producing such a connection: The electric light went out when the wire broke off at the contact. 6. of airplanes, within sight of the ground: contact flying. 1,2,4,5 n., 3 v., 6 adj.

contact lens, a plastic lens to correct defects in vision. It covers the front of the eyeball by fitting under the eyelids.

contagion (kən tā'jən), 1. the spreading of disease by contact. 2. disease spread in this way; contagious disease. 3. means by which disease is spread. 4. the spreading of any influence from one person to another: A contagion of fear swept through the audience and caused a panic. 5. evil influence; moral corruption. n.

contagious (kən tā'jəs), 1. spread by contact: Scarlet fever is a contagious disease. 2. causing contagious diseases. 3. easily spread from one person to another: Yawning is often contagious. adj. —contagiously, adv. —contagiousness, n.

contain (kən tān'), 1. have within itself; hold as contents; include: Books contain information. This purse contains much money. 2. be capable of holding: That pitcher will contain a quart of milk. 3. be equal to: A pound contains 16 ounces. 4. control; hold back; restrain: He contained his anger. 5. be divisible by; be divisible by without a remainder: 12 contains 2,3,4, and 6. v. —containable, adj.

container (kən tān'ər), box, can, jar, etc., used to hold or contain something. n.

containment (kən tān'mənt), the confinement of a hostile or potentially hostile political or military force within existing geographical boundaries. n.

contaminate (kən tam'ə nāt), make impure by contact; defile; pollute: Flies contaminate milk. v., contaminated, contaminating. —contaminator, n.

contamination (kən tam'ə nāt'shən), 1. a contaminating or being contaminated; pollution: Milk should be kept very clean to avoid contamination. 2. thing that contaminates; an impurity. n.

contd., continued.

contemn (kən tem'), treat with contempt; despise; scorn. v.

contemplate (kən'təm plāt), 1. look at for a long time; gaze at. 2. think about for a long time; study carefully: I will contemplate your proposal. 3. meditate: All day he did nothing but contemplate. 4. have in mind; intend: She contemplated going to Europe after graduation. 5. be contemplating a change of work. v., contemplated, contemplating.

contemplation (kən'təm plā'shən), 1. act of looking at or thinking about something for a long time: contemplation of the sea. 2. deep thought; meditation: sunk in contemplation. 3. expectation; intention: We are buying tents and other equipment in contemplation of a summer of camping. n.

contemplative (kən'təm plā'tiv), 1. thoughtful; meditative. 2. devoted to religious meditation and prayer. adj.

contemporaneous (kən tem'pə rā'nē əs), belonging to the same period of time: The lives of Thomas Jefferson and John Adams were contemporaneous. adj. contemporaneously (kən tem'pə rā'nē əs lē), at the same time; during the same period of time. adv.

contemporary (kən tem'pə rē'ē), 1. belonging to or living in the same period of time: contemporary writers. 2. person who belongs to the same period of time as another or others: Lincoln and Lee were contemporaries.

We all tend to seek the society of our contemporaries. 3. of the same age or date. 4. person, magazine, etc., of the same age or date. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n., pl. con-tempo-rar-ies.

con-tempt (kən tempt/), 1. the feeling that a person, act, or thing is mean, low, or worthless; scorn; a despising: We feel contempt for a liar. 2. condition of being scorned or despised; disgrace: A cowardly traitor is held in contempt. 3. disobedience to or open disrespect for the rules or decisions of a law court, a lawmaking body, etc. A person can be put in jail for contempt of court. n.

con-tempt-i-ble (kən tempt/ə bl), deserving contempt or scorn; held in contempt; mean; low; worthless: Cowards and cheats are contemptible. adj. —con-tempt/i-ble-ness, n. —con-tempt/i-bly, adv.

con-temp-tu-ous (kən tempt/ʃu əs), showing contempt; scornful: a contemptuous look. adj. —con-temp/tu-ous-ly, adv. —con-temp/tu-ous-ness, n.

con-tend (kən tend/), 1. fight; struggle: The first settlers in America had to contend with the Indians, sickness, and lack of food. 2. take part in a contest; compete: Five runners were contending in the first race. 3. argue; dispute. 4. declare to be a fact; maintain as true: Columbus contended that the earth was round. v. —con-tend'er, n.

con-tent (kən'tent), 1. what is contained in anything; all things inside: the contents of a room. 2. facts and ideas stated; what is written in a book; what is said in a speech: The content of his speech was good, but the form was not. 3. power of containing; capacity: The content of the gas tank on our car is 17 gallons. 4. amount contained; volume. n.

con-tent (kən tent/), 1. satisfy; please; make easy in mind: Nothing contents her; she is always complaining. 2. satisfied; pleased; easy in mind: Will you be content to wait until tomorrow? 3. contentment; satisfaction; ease of mind. 4. willing; ready. 1 v., 2,4 adj., 3 n. content oneself, be satisfied.

con-tent-ed (kən tent/əd), satisfied; pleased; easy in mind: A contented person is happy with what he has. adj. —con-tent/ed-ly, adv. —con-tent/ed-ness, n.

con-ten-tion (kən ten/shən), 1. argument; dispute; quarrel. 2. statement or point that one has argued for; statement maintained as true: Columbus's contention that the earth was round turned out to be correct. 3. an arguing; disputing; quarreling: Contention has no place in a church. 4. struggle; contest. n.

con-ten-tious (kən ten/shəs), 1. quarrelsome; fond of arguing; given to disputing: A contentious person argues and disputes about trifles. 2. characterized by contention: a contentious campaign. adj. —con-ten/tious-ly, adv. —con-ten/tious-ness, n.

con-tent-ment (kən tent/mənt), satisfaction; being pleased; ease of mind. n.

con-tents (kən'tents), 1. what is contained in anything; all things inside. 2. what is written in a book; what is said in a speech. n.pl.

con-test (kən'test for 1,3,5; kən test/ for 2,4,6,7), 1. trial to see which can win. A game or race is a contest. 2. try to win. 3. fight; struggle. 4. fight for; struggle for: The soldiers contested every inch of ground. 5. argument; dispute. 6. argue against; dispute about: The lawyer contested the claim and tried to prove that it was false. 7. take part in a contest. 1,3,5 n., 2,4,6,7 v. —con-test/a-ble, adj.

con-test-ant (kən tes/tənt), 1. person who contests; person who takes part in a contest. 2. person who contests election returns, etc. n.

con-text (kən'tekst), parts directly before and after a word, sentence, etc., that influence its meaning: You can often tell the meaning of a word from its context. n.

con-textu-al (kən teks/chu əl), having to do with the context; depending on the context. adj.

con-tig-u-i-ty (kən'tə gu/ə tē), 1. nearness: The contiguity of the house and garage was a convenience in bad weather. 2. contact. 3. a continuous mass; unbroken stretch. n., pl. con-tig-u-i-ties.

con-tig-u-ous (kən tig/yu əs), 1. in actual contact; touching: A fence showed where the two farms were contiguous. 2. adjoining; near. adj. —con-tig/u-ous-ly, adv. —con-tig/u-ous-ness, n.

con-ti-nence (kən'ti nəns), 1. self-control; self-restraint; moderation. 2. chastity. n.

con-ti-nent (kən'ti nənt), 1. one of the seven great masses of land on the earth. The continents are North America, South America, Europe, Africa, Asia, Australia, and Antarctica. 2. mainland. n. the Continent, the mainland of Europe. It does not include the British Isles.

con-ti-nent (kən'ti nənt), 1. showing restraint with regard to the desires or passions; using self-control; temperate. 2. chaste. adj. —con-ti-nent-ly, adv.

con-ti-nen-tal (kən'ti nən'tl), 1. of a continent; characteristic of a continent; like that of a continent. 2. piece of American paper money issued during the American Revolution. It was considered almost worthless by the time the war was over. 1 adj., 2 n.

Con-ti-nen-tal (kən'ti nən'tl), 1. of or having to do with the American colonies at the time of the American Revolution. 2. soldier of the American army during the American Revolution. 3. belonging to or characteristic of the mainland of Europe; of or like that of the Continent: Continental customs differ from those of England. 4. person living on the Continent. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

Continental Congress, either of two legislative assemblies representing the American colonies from 1774 to 1781. The Second Continental Congress adopted the Declaration of Independence in 1776.

Continental Divide, the great ridge of the Rocky Mountains in North America. It separates streams flowing toward the Pacific from those flowing toward the Atlantic or the Arctic.

Continental Divide

con-tin-gen-cy (kən tin/jən sē), 1. uncertainty of occurrence; dependence on chance. 2. an accidental happening; unexpected event; chance. 3. a happening or event depending on something that is uncertain; possibility: The explorer carried supplies for every contingency. n., pl. con-tin-gen-cies.

con-tin-gent (kən tin/jənt), 1. conditional; depending on something not certain: Our plans for a picnic tomorrow are contingent upon pleasant weather. 2. liable to happen or not to happen; possible; uncertain: The traveler set aside five dollars a day for contingent expenses. 3. happening by chance; accidental; unexpected. 4. share of soldiers, laborers, etc., furnished to a force from other sources: The United States sent a large contingent of troops to France in World War I. 5. group that is part of a larger group: The New York contingent had seats together at the convention. 6. an accidental or unexpected event. 1-3 adj., 4-6 n. —con-tin/gent-ly, adv.

con-tin-u-al (kən tin/yu əl), 1. never stopping: the continual flow of the river. 2. repeated many times; very frequent: Dancing requires continual practice. adj.

con-tin-u-al-ly (kən tin/yu əl ē), 1. always; without stopping. 2. again and again; very frequently. adv.

con-tin-u-ance (kən tin/yu əns), 1. time during which anything lasts; duration: during the continuance of the war. 2. stay; act of remaining: A public official is paid during his continuance in office. 3. a continuing; his continuance of work in spite of illness. 4. continuation; sequel: the continuance of a story. 5. adjournment or postponement until a future time. n.

con-tin-u-a-tion (kən tin/yu ə'shən), 1. act of going on with a thing after stopping; a beginning again: Continuation of my work was hard after I had been ill for a month. 2. anything by which a thing is continued; added part: The continuation of the story will appear in next month's magazine. 3. act or fact of not stopping. n.

con tin ue (kən tin'ü), 1. keep up; keep on; go on; go on with: The road continues for miles. We continued our efforts to raise money for the hospital. 2. go on or go on with after stopping; begin again: He ate lunch and then continued his work. 3. last; endure: The king's reign continued for 20 years. 4. cause to last. 5. stay: The children must continue in school till the end of June. 6. cause to stay: The people continued the president in office for another term. 7. put off until a later time; postpone; adjourn: The judge continued the case until next month. v., con tin ued, con tin u ing. —con tin' u a ble, adj.

con ti nu i ty (kon'tä nü'ä tē or kon'tä nü'ä tē), 1. state or quality of being continuous. 2. a continuous or connected whole; uninterrupted succession; unbroken series. 3. a detailed plan of a motion picture. 4. any connecting comments or announcements between the parts of a radio program. n., pl. con ti nu i ties.

con tin u ous (kən tin'yü əs), without a stop or break; connected; unbroken: a continuous line, a continuous sound, continuous work, a continuous line of cars. adj. —con tin' u ous ly, adv. —con tin' u ous ness, n.

con tin u um (kən tin'yü əm), a continuous quantity, series, etc. n., pl. con tin u a (-tin'yü ə).

con tort (kən tōrt'), twist or bend out of shape; distort: The clown contorted his face. v.

con tor tion (kən tōr'shən), 1. a twisting or bending out of shape; a distorting. 2. contorted condition; distorted form or shape: The acrobat went through various contortions. n.

con tour (kon'tür), 1. outline of a figure: The contour of the Atlantic coast of America is very irregular. 2. showing the outlines of hills, valleys, etc.: a contour map. 3. following natural ridges and furrows to avoid erosion: contour planting. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

contour line, line on a map, showing height above sea level. All points on a contour line have the same elevation.

contour map, map showing heights above sea level by means of contour lines.

con tra band (kon'trə band), 1. against the law; prohibited: The sale of stolen goods is contraband in the United States. 2. goods imported or exported contrary to law; smuggled goods: Customs officials went through each bag looking for contraband. 3. trading contrary to law; smuggling. 4. contraband of war (see below). 1 adj., 2-4 n.

con tra band of war, goods supplied by neutral nations to any country at war with another that either warring country has a right to seize. Ammunition is always contraband of war.

con tra bass (kon'trə bās'), 1. the lowest bass voice or instrument. 2. a large stringed instrument shaped like a cello and having a very low bass tone; double bass. 3. sounding an octave lower than the normal bass. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

con tract (kən trakt' for 1-3; kon'trakt or kən trakt' for 7; kon'trakt for 4-6), 1. draw together; make or become narrow; shorten; make or become smaller; shrink: Wrinkling your forehead contracts your brows. Rubber stretches and contracts. 2. shorten (a word, etc.) by omitting some of the letters or sounds: In talking we contract "do not" to "don't." 3. get; form; enter upon; bring on oneself: Bad habits are easy to contract and hard to get rid of. He contracted a cold by not keeping warm and dry. 4. agreement. In a contract two or more people agree to do or not to do certain things. 5. a written agreement that can be enforced by law. 6. a formal agreement of marriage. 7. make a contract; agree by contract: The builder contracted to build the new library. 1-3,7 v., 4-6 n.

contract bridge, a card game played by four people divided into two opposing pairs. The highest bidder can score toward a game only as many points as he promised to make in his bid.

con tract ed (kən trakt'id), 1. drawn together; made narrow; shortened; made smaller; shrunken. 2. narrow-minded. adj.

con trac tile (kən trakt'tl), 1. capable of contracting: Muscle is contractile tissue. 2. producing contraction: Cooling is a contractile force. adj.

con trac tion (kən trakt'shən), 1. process of contracting: Cold causes the contraction of liquids, gases, metals, etc.; heat causes expansion. 2. state of being contracted: The contraction of mercury by cold makes a thermometer go down. 3. something contracted; shortened form: "Can't" is a contraction of "cannot." n.

con trac tive (kən trakt'iv), 1. capable of contracting. 2. producing contraction. 3. of contraction. adj.

con trac tor (kon'trakt tər or kən trakt'tər for 1; kən-trakt'tər for 2), 1. person who agrees to furnish materials or to do a piece of work for a certain price; person who makes a contract. 2. muscle that draws together some part or parts of the body. n.

con trac tu al (kən trakt'chü əl), 1. of or having to do with a contract. 2. having the nature of a contract. adj.

con tra dict (kon'trə dikt'), 1. deny (a statement, rumor, etc.). 2. deny the words of (a person); say the opposite of what (a person) has said: To contradict a guest is rude. 3. be contrary to; disagree with: His quick anger contradicted his previous statement that he never lost his temper. v.

con tra dic tion (kon'trə dik'shən), 1. act of denying what has been said. 2. statement that contradicts another; denial. 3. contrary condition; disagreement; opposition. 4. inconsistency. n.

con tra dic to ry (kon'trə dik'tə rē), 1. contradicting; contrary; in disagreement: Reports of the result of the battle were so contradictory we did not know which side had won. 2. inclined to contradict. adj.

con tra dis tinc tion (kon'trə dis tingk'shən), distinction by opposition or contrast: Today we cross the continent in fast airplanes in contradistinction to the slow covered wagons of our ancestors. n.

con trail (kon'trāl), trail of vapor left by a plane flying at a high altitude. n.

con tral to (kən tral'tō), 1. the lowest woman's voice. 2. a part to be sung by the lowest woman's voice. 3. person who sings this part. 4. of or for a contralto. 1-3 n., pl. con tral tos; 4 adj.

con trap tion (kən trap'shən), Informal. contrivance; device; gadget. n.

con tra ri e ty (kon'trə rī'ä tē), 1. state or quality of being contrary. 2. contrary fact or statement. n., pl. con tra ri e ties.

con tra ri wise (kon'trer ē wīz' for 1 and 2; kon'trer-ē wīz' or kən trār-ē wīz' for 3), 1. in the opposite way or direction. 2. on the contrary. 3. perversely. adv.

con tra ry (kon'trer ē; also, kən trār'ē for 5), 1. opposed; opposite; completely different: My sister's taste in dresses is just contrary to my own. 2. opposite in direction, position, etc. 3. fact or quality that is the opposite of something else; the opposite. 4. unfavorable: a contrary wind. 5. opposing others; stubborn; perverse. A contrary person is one who often opposes what is suggested. 6. in opposition. 1,2,4,5 adj., 3 n., pl. con tra ries; 6 adv. —con'tra ri ly, adv. —con'tra ri ness, n. on the contrary, exactly opposite to what has been said.

to the contrary, with the opposite effect.

Contour

Contour map of a hill. Lines connect points the same number of feet above sea level.

con trast (kon'trast for 1,2; kən trast' for 3-6). 1. a great difference; difference; striking difference: the contrast between black and white. There is a great contrast between life now and life a hundred years ago. 2. person, thing, event, etc., that shows differences when put side by side with another: Black hair is a sharp contrast to white skin. 3. compare (two things) so as to show their differences: Contrast birds with fishes. 4. show differences when compared or put side by side: Blue and yellow contrast prettily in a design. 5. form a contrast to; set off: The strained language of his speeches contrasts oddly with the ease and naturalness of his letters. 6. put close together to heighten an effect by emphasizing differences. 1,2 n., 3-6 v. —con trast'a ble, adj.

con trib ute (kən trib'yūt), 1. give (money, help, etc.) along with others; furnish as a share: contribute to the Red Cross. Everyone was asked to contribute suggestions for the party. 2. write (articles, stories, etc.) for a newspaper or magazine. v., con trib ut ed, con trib ut ing. con tribute to, help bring about: Poor food contributed to the child's illness.

con tri bu tion (kon'trə bū'shən), 1. act of giving money, help, etc., along with others. 2. money, help, etc., given; gift. 3. article, story, etc., written for a newspaper or magazine. 4. tax; levy. n.

con trib u tive (kən trib'yə tiv), contributing; helping to bring about. adj. —con trib'u tive ly, adv.

con trib u tor (kən trib'yə tər), 1. person or thing that contributes. 2. person who writes articles, stories, etc., for a newspaper or magazine. n.

con trib u to ry (kən trib'yə tō'rē), contributing; helping to bring about: The workman's own carelessness was a contributory cause of the accident. adj.

con trite (kən trīt' or kon'trīt), 1. broken in spirit by a sense of guilt; penitent. 2. showing deep regret and sorrow: He wrote an apology in contrite words. adj. —con trite'ly, adv. —con trite'ness, n.

con tri tion (kən trish'ən), 1. sorrow for one's sins or guilt; being contrite; sincere penitence. 2. deep regret. n.

con triv ance (kən trīv'əns), 1. thing invented; mechanical device. 2. act or manner of contriving. 3. power or ability of contriving. 4. plan; scheme. n.

con trive (kən trīv'), 1. invent; design: contrive a new kind of engine. 2. plan; scheme; plot: contrive a robbery. 3. manage: I will contrive to be there by ten o'clock. 4. bring about. v., con trived, con triv ing.

con trol (kən trōl'), 1. power; authority; direction: A child is under its parents' control. 2. have power or authority over; direct: A captain controls his ship and its crew. 3. hold back; keep down; restrain: She controlled her grief. 4. a holding back; keeping down; restraint: He lost control of his temper. 5. means of restraint; check: The President's power to veto is a control over the legislation passed by Congress. 6. regulate: control prices and wages. 7. device that controls a machine. 8. standard of comparison for testing the results of scientific experiments. 1,4,5,7,8 n., 2,3,6 v., con trolled, con trol ling.

con trol la ble (kən trōl'ə bl), that can be controlled; capable of being checked or restrained. adj.

con trol ler (kən trōl'ər), 1. person employed to supervise expenditures or to manage financial affairs; comptroller. 2. person who controls, directs, or restrains. 3. device that controls or regulates the speed of a machine. n.

control stick, lever that controls the direction of an airplane's movement.

con tro ver sial (kon'trə vēr'shəl), 1. of controversy; having to do with controversy. 2. open to controversy; debatable; disputed: a controversial question. 3. fond of controversy. adj. —con'tro ver'sial ly, adv.

con tro ver sial ist (kon'trə vēr'shəl ist), person who takes part in or is skilled in controversy. n.

con tro ver sy (kon'trə vēr'sē), 1. act of arguing a question about which differences of opinion exist; debate; dispute. 2. quarrel; wrangle. n., pl. con tro ver sies.

con tro vert (kon'trə vèrt), 1. dispute; deny; oppose: The statement of the last witness contradicts the evidence of the first two. 2. dispute about; discuss; debate. v.

con tro vert i ble (kon'trə vēr'tə bl), that can be controverted; debatable. adj.

con tu ma cious (kon'tū mā'shəs or kon'tū mā'shəs), stubbornly rebellious; obstinately disobedient. adj. —con'tu ma'cious ly, adv.

con tu ma cy (kon'tū mā sē or kon'tū mā sē), stubborn resistance to authority; obstinate disobedience. n., pl. con tu ma cies.

con tu me ly (kon'tū mē lē or kon'tū mē lē), 1. insolent contempt; insulting words or actions; humiliating treatment: The nobles treated the peasants with contumely. 2. a humiliating insult. n., pl. con tu me lies.

con tuse (kən tūz' or kən tūz'), bruise. v., con tused, con tus ing.

con tu sion (kən tū'zhən or kən tū'zhən), a bruise. n.

co nun drum (kə nun'drəm), 1. a riddle whose answer involves a pun or play on words. "When is a door not a door?" is a conundrum. Answer: "When it's ajar." 2. any puzzling problem. n.

con va lesce (kon'və les'), grow stronger after illness; make progress toward health. v., con va lesced, con va lesce ing.

con va les cence (kon'və les'ns), 1. a gradual recovery of health and strength after illness. 2. time during which one is convalescing. n.

con va les cent (kon'və les'nt), 1. recovering health and strength after illness. 2. person recovering after illness. 1 adj., 2 n.

con vec tion (kən vek'shən), 1. act of conveying. 2. the transfer of heat from one place to another by the circulation of heated particles of a gas or liquid. n.

con vene (kən vèn'), 1. meet for some purpose; gather together; assemble: Congress convenes in the Capitol at Washington, D.C., at least once a year. 2. call together (members of an organization, etc.): Any member may convene our club in an emergency. v., con vened, con ven ing. —con ven'er, n.

con ven ience (kən vèn'yəns), 1. fact or quality of being convenient: The convenience of packaged goods increases their sale. 2. comfort; advantage: Many towns have camping places for the convenience of travelers by automobile. 3. anything handy or easy to use; thing that saves trouble or work: A folding table is a convenience in a small room. n.

at one's convenience, under conditions or at a time one finds convenient or advantageous: Write at your convenience.

con ven ient (kən vèn'yənt), 1. saving trouble; well arranged; easy to reach or use; handy; suitable: use a convenient tool, take a convenient bus, live in a convenient house, or meet at a convenient place. 2. easily done; not troublesome: Will it be convenient for you to bring your lunch to school? adj. —con ven'ient ly, adv.

con vent (kon'vent), 1. a group of women living together, who devote their lives to religion. 2. the building or buildings in which they live. n.

con ven ti cle (kən ven'tə kl), 1. a secret religious meeting or assembly of certain Protestants who dissented from the doctrines and forms of the Church of England during the 16th and 17th centuries. 2. place of such a meeting. n.

con ven tion (kən ven'shən), 1. a meeting for some purpose; gathering; assembly. A political party holds a convention to choose candidates for public offices. 2. delegates to a meeting or assembly. 3. agreement. A convention signed by two or more countries is usually about less important matters than those in a treaty. 4. general agreement; common consent; custom: Convention now permits short hair for women, but it used to be thought queer. 5. custom approved by general agreement; rule based on common consent: Using the right hand to shake hands is a convention. 6. in the arts, a procedure or detail not taken literally, but accepted by the beholder, reader, etc., as fitting: It is a conven- tion of the theater that asides are not heard by persons on the stage with the speaker. n.

con ven tion al (kən ven'shən l), 1. depending on conventions; customary: "Good morning" is a conventional greeting. 2. formal; not natural; not original. 3. in art, following custom rather than nature. Flowers and leaves are used in a conventional design without any idea of making them look real. adj. —con ven'tion-ally, adv.

con ven tion al i ty (kən ven'shən əl'ə tē), 1. conventional quality or character: the conventionality of modern life. 2. conventional behavior; adherence to custom: Conventionality requires men to wear coats even in hot weather. 3. a conventional custom or rule: The girls at boarding school were required to observe the conventionalities very strictly. n., pl. con-ven-tion-al-i-ties.

con verge (kən vərj'), 1. tend to meet in a point. 2. turn toward each other: If you look at the end of your nose, your eyes converge. 3. come together; center: The interest of all the students converged upon the celebration. 4. cause to converge. v., con verged, con verg ing.

con ver gence (kən vər'jəns), 1. act, process, or fact of converging; tendency to meet in a point. 2. point of meeting. n.

con ver gent (kən vər'jənt), converging. adj.

con ver sant (kən vər'sənt or kon'vər sɛnt), familiar by use or study; acquainted: Mr. Taylor is thoroughly conversant with modern music. adj. —con ver'sant-ly, adv.

con ver sa tion (kon'vər sɑ'shən), informal or friendly talk; exchange of thoughts by talking informally together. n.

con ver sa tion al (kon'vər sɑ'shən l), 1. of or having to do with conversation. 2. fond of conversation; good at conversation. adj.

con ver sa tion al ist (kon'vər sɑ'shən l ist), person who is fond of or who is good at conversation. n.

con ver sa tion al ly (kon'vər sɑ'shən l ē), 1. in a conversational manner. 2. in conversation. adv.

con verse¹ (kən vɜrs' for 1; kon'vɜrs for 2), 1. talk informally together. 2. conversation. 1 v., con versed, con vers ing; 2 n. —con vers'er, n.

con verse² (kən vɜrs' or kon'vɜrs for 1,2; kon'vɜrs for 3,4), 1. opposite; contrary. 2. reversed in order; turned about. 3. thing that is opposite or contrary. 4. thing that is turned around: "Honest but poor" is the converse of "Poor but honest." 1,2 adj., 3,4 n.

con verse ly (kən vɜrs'lē or kon'vɜrs lē), if or when turned the other way around: Six is more than five; conversely, five is less than six. Gray is lighter than black; conversely, black is darker than gray. adv.

con ver sion (kən vɜr'zhən), 1. act of converting; a changing; a turning; change: Heat causes the conversion of water into steam. 2. change from unbelief to faith; change from one religion, party, etc., to another. 3. exchange into an equivalent. 4. act of taking and using unlawfully. n.

con vert (kən vɜrt' for 1,2,4-6; kon'vɜrt for 3), 1. change; turn: These machines convert cotton into cloth. One last effort converted victory into defeat. 2. change from unbelief to faith; change from one religion, party, etc., to another: The missionaries converted many Indians to the Christian religion. 3. person who has been converted. 4. take and use unlawfully: The dishonest treasurer converted the club's money to his own use. 5. turn the other way around; invert; transpose. 6. exchange for an equivalent: He converted his bank notes into gold. 1,2,4-6 v., 3 n.

con vert er (kən vɜr'tər), 1. person or thing that converts. 2. machine for changing the form of an electric current. 3. furnace in which pig iron is changed into steel by the Bessemer process. n.

con vert i bil i ty (kən vɜr'tə bil'ə tē), quality of being convertible. n.

con vert i ble (kən vɜr'tə bl), 1. capable of being converted: Wood is convertible into paper. A dollar bill is convertible into coins. 2. an automobile having a top that may be folded down. 1 adj., 2 n.

—con vert'i-ly, adv.

con vert i plane (kən vɜr'tə plān'), an aircraft that operates like a conventional airplane in level flight, but which takes off and lands like a helicopter. n.

con vex (kon vɛks' or kon'veks), curved out, like the outside of a circle or sphere. The crystal of a watch is slightly convex. adj. —con'vex-ly, adv.

con vex i ty (kon vɛks'ə tē), 1. convex condition or quality. 2. a convex surface or thing. n., pl. con vex-i-ties.

con vey (kən vā'), 1. carry; transport: A bus conveys passengers. 2. transmit; conduct: A wire conveys an electric circuit. 3. express; make known; communicate: His words convey no meaning to me. 4. transfer the ownership of (property) from one person to another: The old farmer conveyed his farm to his son. v. —con-vey'a-ble, adj.

con vey ance (kən vā'əns), 1. act of carrying; transportation; transmission. 2. thing that carries people and goods; vehicle. 3. communication: Books are for the conveyance of ideas. n.

con vey er or con vey or (kən vā'ər), 1. person or thing that conveys. 2. a mechanical device that carries things from one place to another: Grain is carried from one floor of an elevator to another by means of a conveyor. n.

con vict (kən vikt' for 1,2,5; kon'vikt for 3,4), 1. prove guilty. 2. declare guilty: The jury convicted the prisoner of murder. 3. person convicted by a court. 4. person serving a prison sentence for some crime. 5. impress with a sense of guilt: a person convicted of sin. 1,2,5 v., 3,4 n.

con vic tion (kən vik'shən), 1. act of proving or declaring guilty. 2. state of being proved or declared guilty. 3. act of convincing (a person). 4. being convinced. 5. firm belief: It is my conviction that it will rain. n.

con vince (kən vins'), make (a person) feel sure; cause to believe; persuade by argument or proof: The mistakes Nan made convinced me she had not studied her lesson. v., con vined, con vinc ing.

con vin ci ble (kən vin'sə bl), capable of being convinced. adj.

con vine ing (kən vin'sing), that convinces: a convincing argument. adj. —con vinc'ing-ly, adv. —con-vinc'ing-ness, n.

con viv i al (kən viv'ē əl), 1. fond of eating and drinking with friends; jovial; sociable. 2. of or suitable for a feast or banquet; festive; gay. adj. —con viv'i-al-ly, adv.

con vo ca tion (kon'və kɑ'shən), 1. a calling together; an assembling by a summons. 2. assembly; number of persons met in answer to a summons: The convocation of clergymen passed a resolution condemning war. n.

con vo ke (kən vōk'), call together; summon to assemble. v., con voked, con vok ing. —con vok'er, n.

con vol u tion (kon'və lū'shən), 1. a coiling, winding, or twisting together: the convolutions of a snake. 2. a coil; winding; twist. 3. an irregular fold or ridge on the surface of the brain. n.

con vol vu lus (kən vɒl'vʏə ləs), any of a group of plants (usually vines) with flowers shaped like trumpets. A morning-glory is a convolvulus. n., pl. con vol vu-lus es, con vol vu li (-lī).

con voy (kən voi' or kon'voi for 1; kon'voi for 2-4), 1. accompany in order to protect; escort: Warships convoy merchant ships during time of war. 2. an escort; protection: The gold was moved from the ship to the bank's vault under convoy of soldiers. 3. warships, soldiers, etc., that convoy; protecting escort. 4. ship, fleet, supplies, etc., accompanied by a protecting escort. 1 v., 2-4 n.

con vulse (kən vuls'), 1. shake violently: An earthquake convulsed the island. 2. cause violent disturbance in; disturb violently: His face was convulsed with rage. 3. throw into convulsions; shake with spasms of pain: The sick child was convulsed before the doctor came. 4. throw into a fit of laughter; cause to shake with laughter: The clown convulsed the audience with his funny acts. v., con vulsed, con vuls ing.

con vul sion (kən vul'shən), 1. a violent, involuntary contracting and relaxing of the muscles; spasm: The sick child's convulsions frightened its mother. 2. fit of laughter. 3. a violent disturbance: The country was undergoing a political convulsion. n.

con vul sive (kən vul'siv), 1. violently disturbing. 2. having convulsions. 3. producing convulsions. adj. —con vul'sive ly, adv.

con ny (kō'nē), 1. rabbit fur. Cony is used to make or trim coats. 2. rabbit. n., pl. co nies. Also, coney.

coo (kü), 1. a soft, murmuring sound made by doves or pigeons. 2. make this sound. 3. murmur softly; speak in a soft, loving manner. 1 n., 2,3 v., cooed, coo ing.

coo ee (kü'ē), a long, shrill signal call of the Australian aborigines, adopted by Australian colonists. n., pl. coo ees; interj.

cook (kūk), 1. prepare (food, etc.) by using heat. We use coal, wood, gas, oil, and electricity for cooking. 2. undergo cooking; be cooked: Let the meat cook slowly. 3. person who cooks. 4. act as cook; work as cook. 5. Informal. tamper with. 1,2,4,5 v., 3 n.

cook up, Informal. 1. make up; prepare. 2. prepare falsely.

Cook (kūk), 1. James, 1728-1779, English navigator who explored the S Pacific and the coasts of Australia and New Zealand. 2. Mount, mountain in S New Zealand; Aorangi. 12,349 ft. n.

cook book (kūk'būk'), book containing directions for cooking various kinds of food; book of recipes. n.

cook er (kūk'ər), apparatus or container to cook things in. n.

cook er y (kūk'ər ē), art or occupation of cooking. n., pl. cook er ies.

cook house (kūk'hous'), room or place for cooking. n.

cook ie (kūk'ē), cooky. n.

cook out (kūk'out'), a picnic, etc., where the food is cooked outdoors. n.

Cook Strait, channel between North and South Islands, New Zealand.

cook y (kūk'ē), U.S. a small, flat, sweet cake. n., pl. cook ies.

cool (kül), 1. somewhat cold; more cold than hot: a cool day. 2. allowing or giving a cool feeling: cool clothes. 3. not excited; calm. 4. having little enthusiasm or interest; not cordial: a cool greeting. 5. something cool; cool part, place, or time: the cool of the evening. 6. become cool. 7. make cool. 8. bold; impudent. 9. Informal. without exaggeration or qualification: a cool million dollars. 10. blue, green, or gray. 1-4,8-10 adj., 5 n., 6,7 v. —cool'ly, adv. —cool'ness, n.

cool ant (kül'ənt), a cooling medium, used for machinery, etc. n.

cool er (kül'ər), 1. apparatus or container that cools foods or drinks, or keeps them cool. 2. anything that cools. 3. Slang. jail. n.

cool-head ed (kül'hed'id), calm; not easily excited. adj.

Coolidge (kül'ij), Calvin, 1872-1933, the 30th president of the United States, from 1923 to 1929. n.

coo lie (kü'lē), 1. an unskilled, native laborer in China, India, etc. 2. laborer who does hard work for very little pay. n.

coon (kün), Informal. raccoon. n.

coop (küp), 1. a small cage or pen for chickens, rabbits, etc. 2. keep or put in a coop. 3. confine in a very small space: The children were cooped up indoors by the rain. 1 n., 2,3 v.

co öp (kō'öp), Informal. a coöperative store. n.

coöper., coöperative.

coop er (küp'ər), man who makes or repairs barrels, casks, etc. n.

Coo per (kü'pər), James Fenimore, 1789-1851, American novelist who wrote stories about Indian and frontier life, and about the sea. n.

co öp er ate, co op er ate, or co-op er ate (kō op'ər āt), work together; unite in producing a result: The children coöperated with their teachers in keeping their rooms neat. v., co öp er at ed, co öp er at ing; co op er at ed, co op er at ing; co-op er at ed, co-op er at ing. —co öp'er a'tor, n.

co öp er a tion, co op er a tion, or co-op er a tion (kō op'ər ā'shən), 1. act of working together; united effort or labor: Coöperation can accomplish many things which no individual could do alone. 2. combination of persons for purposes of production, purchase, or distribution for their joint benefit. n.

co öp er a tive, co op er a tive, or co-op er a tive (kō op'ər ā'tiv), 1. wanting or willing to work together with others: Dan was helpful and coöperative. 2. organization in which the profits and losses are shared by all members. 1 adj., 2 n. —co öp'er a'tive ly, adv. —co öp'er a'tive ness, n.

coöperative store, store where merchandise is sold to members who share in the profits and losses according to the amount they buy.

co ör di nate, co or di nate, or co-or di nate (kō ör'də nit for 1,2,5; kō ör'də nāt for 3,4), 1. equal in importance; of equal rank. 2. an equal; a coöordinate person or thing. 3. make equal in importance. 4. arrange in proper order or relation; harmonize; adjust: A swimmer should coöordinate the movements of his arms and legs. 5. joining words, phrases, or clauses of equal grammatical importance. And and but are coöordinate conjunctions. 1,5 adj., 2 n., 3,4 v., co ör di nat ed, co ör di nat ing; co or di nat ed, co or di nat ing; co-or di nat ed, co-or di nat ing. —co ör'di nate ly, adv. —co ör'di nate ness, n. —co ör'di na'tor, n.

co ör di na tion (kō ör'də nā'shən), 1. proper order or proper relation. 2. harmonious adjustment or working together (often used with reference to muscles). 3. putting or being put into the same order or rank. n.

coot (kü't), 1. a wading and swimming bird with short wings and toes broadened by lobes of skin. 2. a large, black duck of northern regions and seas. 3. Informal. fool; simpleton. n.

cop (kop), 1. Informal. policeman. 2. Slang. steal. 1 n., 2 v., copped, cop ping.

co pal (kō'pl), a hard, lustrous resin from various tropical trees, used chiefly in making varnish. n.

cope (kōp), fight with some degree of success; struggle on even terms; deal successfully: She was too weak to cope with the extra work. v., coped, cop ing.

cope (kōp), a long cape worn by priests during certain religious rites. n.

Co pen ha gen (kō'pən hä'gən), capital of Denmark. 761,000. n.

Co per ni can (kə pər'nə kən), of or having to do with Copernicus or his system of astronomy. adj.

Co per ni cus (kə pər'nə kəs), Nikolaus, 1473-1543, Polish astronomer who held that the earth revolves on its axis and that the planets move around the sun. n.

European coot
(18 in. long)

C. cope.

cope stone (kōp'stōn'), 1. the top stone of a wall; stone used for or in a coping. 2. a finishing touch; climax. n.

copier (kop'ē ar), 1. person who copies; imitator. 2. person who makes written copies; copyist. n.

copilot (kōp'pī'lat), the assistant or second pilot in an aircraft. n.

coping (kōp'ing), the top layer of a brick or stone wall. It is usually built with a slope to shed water. n.

coping saw, a narrow saw in a U-shaped frame, used to cut curves.

copious (kōp'ē as), 1. plentiful; abundant. 2. containing much matter. 3. containing many words. adj. —copiously, adv. —copiousness, n.

copper (kop'ər), 1. a tough, reddish-brown metal that is easily shaped into thin sheets or fine wire and resists rust. Copper is an excellent conductor of heat and electricity. Symbol: Cu 2. thing made of copper. 3. coin made of copper or bronze; penny. 4. a large boiler or caldron. 5. cover with copper. 6. of copper: a copper kettle. 7. reddish brown. 1-4,7 n., 5 v., 6,7 adj.

copperas (kop'ər əs), a green sulfate of iron, used in making ink, in dyeing, in medicine as a disinfectant, and in photography. n.

copperhead (kop'ər hed'), a poisonous, North American snake with a copper-colored head, related to the water moccasin and the rattlesnake. n.

Copperhead (kop'ər hed'), person in the North who sympathized with the South during the Civil War. n.

coppery (kop'ər ē), 1. of or containing copper. 2. like copper. adj.

coprice (kop'is), copse. n.

copra (kop'ra), the dried meat of coconuts. Coconut oil is obtained from copra. n.

copse (kops), a thicket of small trees, bushes, shrubs, etc. n.

Copt (kopt), native of Egypt descended from the ancient Egyptians. n.

copter (kop'tər), Informal. helicopter. n.

Coptic (kop'tik), 1. of or having to do with the Copts. 2. language formerly spoken by the Copts. 1 adj., 2 n.

copula (kop'yə'lə), verb that connects the subject and the predicate, often some form of be. Example: John is a boy. n., pl. copulas, copulae (-lē).

copy (kop'ē), 1. thing made to be just like another; thing made on the pattern or model of another. A written page, a picture, a dress, or a piece of furniture can be an exact copy of another. 2. make a copy; make a copy of. 3. be like; follow as a pattern or model; imitate. 4. thing to be followed as a pattern or model. 5. one of a number of books, newspapers, magazines, pictures, etc., made at the same printing: Please get six copies of today's newspaper. 6. material ready to be set up in type for a book, newspaper, or magazine. 1,4-6 n., pl. copies; 2,3 v., copied, copying.

copy book (kop'ē buk'), 1. book with models of handwriting to be copied in learning to write. 2. commonplace; conventional; ordinary. 1 n., 2 adj.

copyist (kop'ē ist), 1. person who makes written copies. 2. person who copies; imitator. n.

copy right (kop'ē rit'), 1. the exclusive right given by a government to make and sell a certain book, picture, etc. 2. protect by getting a copyright. Books, pieces of music, plays, etc., are usually copyrighted. 1 n., 2 v.

coquet (kō ket'), 1. flirt. 2. trifle. v., coquetted, coqueting.

Copperhead (about 3 ft. long) coquet ry (kō'kə trē), 1. flirting. 2. trifling. n., pl. coquetries.

coquette (kō ket'), woman who tries to attract men merely to please her vanity; flirt. n.

coquet tish (kō ket'ish), 1. of a coquette. 2. like a coquette; like a coquette's: The pretty girl winked and gave him a coquet tish smile. adj. —coquet tish ly, adv.

Coracle

Cor., Corinthians.

coracle (kōr'ə kl), a small, light boat made by covering a wooden frame with waterproof material. n.

coral (kōr'əl), 1. a stony substance consisting of the skeletons of certain kinds of very small sea animals called polyps. Reefs and small islands consisting of coral are common in the South Seas. Red coral is often used for jewelry. 2. polyp that secretes a skeleton of coral and forms large branching colonies by budding. 3. made of coral. 4. deep pink; red. 1,2,4 n., 3,4 adj.

coral reef, reef consisting mainly of coral.

Coral Sea, part of the Pacific off NE Australia. See Australasia for map.

coral snake, a small, poisonous American snake whose body is often banded with alternating rings of red, yellow, and black.

cord (kōrd), 1. a thick string; very thin rope. 2. fasten or tie with a cord; provide with a cord. 3. anything resembling a cord. A small insulated cable with fittings to connect an electric iron or lamp with a socket is a cord. 4. structure in an animal body that is somewhat like a cord; chord. The spinal cord is in the backbone. The vocal cords are in the throat. 5. ridge on cloth. 6. cloth with ridges on it; corduroy. 7. measure of cut wood; 128 cubic feet. A pile of wood 4 feet wide, 4 feet high, and 8 feet long is a cord. 8. pile (wood) in cords. 1,3-7 n., 2,8 v.

cord age (kōr'dij), 1. cords; ropes. The cordage of a ship is its rigging. 2. quantity of wood measured in cords. n.

cordial (kōr'jəl), 1. sincere; hearty; warm; friendly: His friends gave him a cordial welcome. 2. strengthening; stimulating. 3. food, drink, or medicine that strengthens or stimulates. 4. liqueur. 1,2 adj., 3,4 n. —cordially, adv. —cordialness, n.

cordiality (kōr'jal'ə tē or kōr'jē al'ə tē), cordial quality or feeling; sincerity; heartiness; warmth: The cordiality of his welcome made Tom feel at home. n., pl. cordialities.

cordille ra (kōr'dəl yār'ə or kōr dil'ər ə), a long mountain range; chain of mountains. n.

Cor dial le ras (kōr'dəl yār'əz or kōr dil'ər əz), 1. a mountain system in W North America. It includes the Rocky Mountains, the Cascade Range, the Coast Ranges, the Sierra Nevada, etc. 2. a mountain system in W South America; Andes. 3. the mountain system in W North America and South America extending from Cape Horn to Alaska. n., pl.

Cór do ba (kōr'də bə; Spanish kōr'ṭhō vā), 1. city in S Spain. 188,000. 2. city in central Argentina. 370,000. n.

cor don (kōrd'n), 1. line or circle of soldiers, policemen, forts, etc., placed at intervals to guard a place. 2. cord, braid, or ribbon worn as an ornament or badge of honor. n.

Cor do va (kōr'də və or kōr dō'və), Córdoba. n.

Red coral under water with some polyps cor du roy (kôr'də roi), 1. a thick, cotton cloth with close, velvetlike ridges. 2. made of corduroy. 1 n., 2 adj.

corduroy road, road made of logs laid crosswise, often across low, wet land.

cor du roys (kôr'də roiz), corduroy trousers. n. pl.

cord wood (kôrd'wud'), 1. wood sold by the cord; firewood piled in cords. 2. wood cut in 4-foot lengths. n.

core (kôr), 1. the hard, central part, containing the seeds, of fruits like apples and pears. 2. the central or most important part: the core of a boil, the core of an argument. 3. bar of soft iron forming the center of an electromagnet or of an induction coil. 4. take out the core of: core apples. 1-3 n., 4 v., cored, coring.

CORE or C.O.R.E. (kôr, kôr, or pronounced as initials), Congress on Racial Equality.

coreopsis (kô're op'sis), 1. plant of the same family as the aster, with yellow, red-and-yellow, or reddish flowers shaped like daisies. 2. the flower. n.

Cor fu (kôr'fû or kôr fû'), a Greek island in the Mediterranean, just northwest of Greece. 105,000 pop.; 229 sq. mi. n.

coriander (kô're an'dər), 1. plant with a disagreeable odor. 2. its seedlike fruit, used in cooking, medicines for colic, etc. n.

Corinth (kôr'inth), 1. seaport in S Greece. In ancient times, Corinth was a center of commerce, art, and luxury. 18,000. See the map under Doris. 2. Gulf of, gulf separating the peninsula of S Greece from N Greece. n.

Corinthian (kə rin'thē ən), 1. of or having to do with Corinth or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Corinth. 3. noting or having to do with the most elaborate of the three types of Greek architecture. The capital of a Corinthian column is adorned with acanthus leaves. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

Corinthian capital

Corinthians (kə rin'thē ənz), either of two books of the New Testament, written by the Apostle Paul to the Christian people of Corinth. n.

cork (kôrk), 1. a light, thick, outer bark of the cork oak, used for bottle stoppers, floats for fishing lines, inner soles of shoes, fillings for some kinds of life preservers, etc. 2. a shaped piece of cork: the cork of a bottle. 3. any stopper for a bottle, etc., made of glass, rubber, etc. 4. stop up with a cork. 5. made of cork; made with cork. 6. confine; restrain; check. 7. blacken with burnt cork. 8. an outer bark of woody plants, serving as a protective covering. 1-3,8 n., 4,6,7 v., 5 adj.

Cork (kôrk), city in the southern part of the Irish Republic. 80,000. n.

cork oak, an oak tree from which cork is obtained.

cork screw (kôrk'skrü'), 1. tool for pulling corks out of bottles. 2. shaped like a corkscrew; spiral. 3. move or advance in a spiral or zigzag course. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 v.

corm (kôrm), a fleshy, bulblike underground stem that has leaves and buds on the upper surface and roots usually on the lower. n.

Corm of a crocus cor morant (kôr'mə rənt), 1. a very large, greedy sea bird that has a pouch under the beak for holding captured fish. 2. a greedy person. n.

corn¹ (kôrn), 1. kind of grain that grows on large ears; maize; Indian corn. 2. plant that it grows on. 3. any small, hard seed or grain, especially of cereal plants. 4. in England, grain in general, especially wheat. 5. in Scotland and Ireland, oats. 6. preserve (meat) with strong salt water or by dry salt. 1-5 n., 6 v.

corn² (kôrn), a hardening of the skin, usually on a toe. Corns are caused by pressure or rubbing and are often very painful. n.

corn bread, bread made of corn meal instead of flour.

corn cob (kôrn'kob'), U.S. 1. the central, woody Cormorant (3 ft. long) part of an ear of corn, on which the kernels grow. 2. a tobacco pipe with a bowl hollowed out of a piece of dried corn cob. n.

corn cockle, weed with red or white flowers and poisonous seeds, that grows in grainfields.

corn crake, bird common in grainfields in Europe.

corn crib (kôrn'krib'), bin or small, ventilated building for storing unshelled corn. n.

cor ne a (kôr'nē ə), the transparent part of the outer coat of the eyeball. The cornea covers the iris and the pupil. See eye for diagram. n.

cor ne al (kôr'nē əl), having to do with the cornea. adj.

corned (kôrnd), preserved with strong salt water or dry salt: corned beef. adj.

cornelian (kôr'nēl'yən), carnelian. n.

cor ne ous (kôr'nē əs), horny; like horn. adj.

corner (kôr'nər), 1. the point or place where lines or surfaces meet: the corner of a room. 2. space between two lines or surfaces near where they meet; angle.

3. the place where two streets meet. 4. at a corner.

5. for a corner. 6. put in a corner; drive into a corner.

7. piece to protect or decorate a corner: The leather pocketbook has gold corners. 8. a secret place; place away from crowds: The money was hidden in odd corners all over the house. 9. region; part; place that is far away: People have searched in all corners of the earth for gold.

10. an awkward or difficult position; place from which escape is impossible: His enemies had driven him into a corner. 11. Esp. U.S. force into an awkward or difficult position; drive into a place from which escape is impossible.

12. a buying up of the available supply of some stock or article to raise its price: a corner in cotton.

13. buy up all or nearly all that can be had of (something) to raise its price: Some speculators have tried to corner wheat. 1-3,7-10,12 n., 4,5 adj., 6,11,13 v.

cut corners, 1. shorten the way by going across corners. 2. save money, effort, time, etc., by cutting down.

turn the corner, pass the worst or most dangerous point.

corner stone (kôr'nər stôn'), 1. a stone at the corner of two walls that holds them together. 2. such a stone built into the corner of a building as its formal beginning. The laying of a cornerstone is often accompanied with ceremonies. 3. a main part on which something else rests; foundation; basis: The cornerstone of religion is belief in God. n.

corner ways (kôr'nər wāz'), cornerwise. adj.

corner wise (kôr'nər wīz'), 1. with the corner in front; so as to form a corner. 2. from corner to corner; diagonally. adv.

cornet (kôr net' for 1; kôr'nit or kôr net' for 2), 1. a musical wind instrument somewhat like a trumpet, usually made of brass. It has three pistons that control the notes.

2. piece of paper rolled into a cone and twisted at one end, used to hold candy, nuts, etc. n.

cornet tist or cornet ist (kôr net'ist), musician who plays a cornet. n.

corn field (kôr'n'feld'), field in which corn is grown. n.

corn flower (kôr'n'flou'ər), plant with blue, pink, white, or purple flowers; bachelor's-button. n.

corn husk (kôr'n'husk'), husk of an ear of corn. n.

cornice (kôr'nis), 1. an ornamental molding that projects along the top of a wall, pillar, building, etc. 2. molding around the walls of a room just below the ceiling. 3. furnish or finish with a cornice. 1,2 n., 3 v.

corniced, cor nic ing.

Cornish (kôr'nish), 1. of or having to do with Cornwall, its people, or the language formerly spoken by them. 2. the ancient Celtic language of Cornwall. 1 adj., 2 n.

Cornish man (kôr'nish mən), native or inhabitant of Cornwall. n., pl. Cornish men.

Boy playing a cornet

corn meal, meal made from Indian corn; corn ground up.

corn pone, in the southern United States, a flat loaf of corn meal shaped by hand. It is a kind of corn bread.

corn stalk (kôrn'stôk'), stalk of Indian corn. n.

corn starch (kôrn'stârch'), a starchy flour made from Indian corn, used to thicken puddings, etc. n.

corn sugar, sugar made from cornstarch.

corn syrup, syrup made from corn.

cor nu co pi a (kôr'nə kô'pē ə), 1. a horn-shaped container or ornament. Cornucopias are hung on Christmas trees. 2. horn of plenty, represented overflowing with fruits and flowers. n.

Corn wall (kôrn'wôl), county in SW England. n.

Corn wallis (kôrn wôl'is or kôrn wôl'is), Charles, 1738-1805, British general who surrendered to Washington at Yorktown on October 19, 1781. n.

corn y (kôr'nē), Slang. trite; of poor quality. adj., corn ier, corn iest.

corolla (kə rol'ə), the internal envelope or floral leaves of a flower, usually of some color other than green; the petals. n.

cor ol lar y (kôr'ə ler'ē), 1. something proved incidentally in proving something else. 2. inference; deduction. 3. a natural consequence or result: Good health is a corollary of having good habits. n., pl. cor ol lar ies.

co ro na (kə rō'nə), 1. ring of light seen around the sun or moon.

2. halo of light around the sun, seen only during an eclipse. 3. a crownlike part; crown. n., pl.

co ro nas, co ro nae (-nē).

Cor o na do (kôr'ə nă'dô), Francisco Vázquez de, 1510?-1554?, Spanish soldier who explored the SW part of what is now the United States. n.

cor o nar y (kôr'ə ner'ē), 1. of or designating either or both of the two arteries that supply blood to the muscular tissue of the heart. 2. having to do with or resembling a crown. 3. coronary thrombosis. 1,2 adj., 3 n., pl. cor o nar ies.

coronary thrombosis, the stopping up of a branch of a coronary artery by a blood clot.

cor o na tion (kôr'ə nă'shən), ceremony of crowning a king, queen, emperor, etc. n.

cor o ner (kôr'ə nər), official of a local government who investigates in the presence of a jury any death not clearly due to natural causes. n.

cor o net (kôr'ə net), 1. a small crown worn as a mark of high rank. A king wears a crown; princes and nobles wear coronets. 2. a circle of gold, jewels, or flowers worn around the head as an ornament. n.

Corp. or corp., 1. Corporal. 2. Corporation.

cor po ral (kôr'pə ral), of the body: corporal punishment. adj.

cor po ral (kôr'pə ral), the lowest non-commissioned army officer, next below a sergeant. He usually commands a squad. n.

cor po ral ly (kôr'pə rəl ē), bodily; in or with its body. adv.

cor po rate (kôr'pə rit), 1. forming a corporation; incorporated. 2. belonging to a corporation; having to do with a corporation. 3. united; combined. adj.

cor po ra tion (kôr'pə rā'shən), 1. group of persons who obtain a charter giving them as a group certain legal rights and privileges distinct from those of the individual members of the group. A corporation can buy Cornucopia (def. 2)

PETALS
Corolla

Corona (def. 2)

and sell, own property, manufacture goods, etc., as if its members were a single person. 2. group of persons with authority to act as a single person. The mayor and aldermen of a city are a corporation. 3. Informal. a prominent abdomen. n.

cor po re al (kôr pô'rē əl), 1. of or for the body; bodily: Food and water are corporeal nourishment. 2. material; tangible: Land, trees, and money are corporeal things. adj. —cor po're al ly, adv.

corps (kôr), 1. branch of specialized military service, such as the Medical Corps, Signal Corps. 2. a tactical unit usually consisting of two or more divisions, and smaller than an army. 3. group of people organized for working together: a corps of nurses. n., pl. corps (kôrz).

corpse (kôrps), a dead human body. n.

cor pu lence (kôr'pyə ləns), fatness. n.

cor pu lent (kôr'pyə lənt), fat. adj.

cor pus (kôr'pəs), 1. a body, especially the dead body of a person or animal. 2. a complete collection of writings on some subject or of some period, or of laws, etc. n., pl. cor po ra (-pə rə).

Cor pus Chris ti (kôr'pəs kris'tē), 1. feast of the Roman Catholic Church in honor of the Eucharist, held on the first Thursday after Trinity Sunday. 2. city in S Texas. 168,000.

cor pus cle (kôr'pəs l), 1. any of the cells that float in the blood, lymph, etc. Red corpuscles carry oxygen and carbon dioxide; some white corpuscles destroy disease germs. 2. a very small particle. n.

cor pus de lic ti (kôr'pəs di lik'ti), 1. the actual facts that prove a crime or offense against the law has been committed. 2. body of a murdered person.

cor ral (kə ral'), 1. an enclosed space for keeping or for capturing horses, cattle, etc. 2. a circular camp formed by wagons for defense against attack. 3. drive into or keep in a corral. 4. hem in; surround; capture. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., cor ralled, cor ral ling.

cor rect (kə rekt'), 1. free from mistakes or faults; right: the correct answer. 2. agreeing with a good standard of taste; proper: correct manners. 3. change to what is right; remove mistakes or faults from: Correct any wrong spellings that you find. 4. alter or adjust to agree with some standard: correct the reading of a barometer. 5. point out or mark the errors of: The teacher corrects the test papers and returns them to the students. 6. set right by punishing; find fault with to improve; punish: The mother corrected the child. 7. counteract (something hurtful); cure; overcome: Medicine can sometimes correct stomach trouble. 1,2 adj., 3-7 v. —cor rect ly, adv. —cor rect ness, n. —cor rec tor, n.

cor rect ed (kə rek'tid), made free from mistakes or faults. adj.

cor rec tion (kə rek'shən), 1. act of correcting: The correction of all my mistakes took nearly an hour. 2. thing put in place of an error or mistake: Write in your corrections neatly. 3. punishment; rebuke; scolding. A prison is sometimes called a house of correction. 4. amount added or subtracted to correct a result. n.

cor rec tion al (kə rek'shən l), of or having to do with correction; corrective. adj.

cor rec tive (kə rek'tiv), 1. tending to correct; setting right; making better: Corrective exercises will make weak muscles strong. 2. something that tends to correct or set right anything that is wrong or hurtful. 1 adj., 2 n. —cor rec tive ly, adv.

Cor reg i dor (kə reg'ə dör), a fortified island at the entrance to Manila Bay, Philippines. n.

cor re late (kôr'ə lāt), 1. be related one to the other; have a mutual relation: The diameter and the circumference of a circle correlate. 2. place in or bring into proper relation with one another; show the connection or relation between: Try to correlate your knowledge of history with your knowledge of geography. v., cor re lat ed, cor re lat ing.

cor re la tion (kôr'ə lā'shən), 1. the mutual relation of two or more things: There is a close correlation between climate and crops. 2. a correlating or being correlated. n.
cor rel a tive (kə rel'ə tiv), 1. mutually dependent; so related that each implies the other. 2. either of two closely related things. 3. having a mutual relation and commonly used together. Conjunctions used in pairs, such as either . . . or and both . . . and, are correlative words. 4. a correlative word. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

cor re spond (kôr'ə spond'), 1. be in harmony; agree: Her white hat and shoes correspond with her white dress. 2. be similar: The arms of a man correspond to the wings of a bird. 3. exchange letters; write letters to each other: Will you correspond with me while I am away? v.

cor re spond ence (kôr'ə spon'dəns), 1. agreement; harmony: The lack of correspondence between the two statements made us suspect a lie. 2. similarity; resemblance in structure or function: correspondence between the skeletons of cats and dogs. 3. exchange of letters; letter writing. 4. letters: A company that does business by mail receives a great deal of correspondence. 5. in mathematics, a matching of the members of one set of objects with the members of a second set of objects. n.

cor re spond ent (kôr'ə spon'dənt), 1. person who exchanges letters with another: Mabel and I have been regular correspondents for over two years; we write weekly. 2. person employed by a newspaper or magazine to send news from a distant place. A foreign correspondent for a newspaper is a reporter who gathers news in another country. 3. person or company that has regular business with another in a distant place: This big bank has correspondents in all the large cities of the world. 4. corresponding; in agreement. 5. thing that corresponds to something else. 1-3,5 n., 4 adj.

cor re spond ing (kôr'ə spon'ding), 1. agreeing; in harmony. 2. similar; matching. 3. exchanging letters; writing letters to each other. adj.

cor re spond ing ly (kôr'ə spon'ding lē), in a corresponding manner; so as to correspond. adv.

cor ri dor (kôr'ə dər), 1. a long hallway; passage in a large building into which rooms open: the corridor in a school. 2. a narrow strip of land connecting two parts of a country or an inland country with a seaport. n.

cor ri gen dum (kôr'ə jen'dəm), error in a book, manuscript, etc., to be corrected. n., pl. cor ri gen da (-də).

cor rob o rate (kə rob'ə rāt), make more certain; confirm: Witnesses corroborated the policeman's statement. v., cor rob o rat ed, cor rob o rat ing. —cor rob'o ra'tor, n.

cor rob o ra tion (kə rob'ə rā'shən), 1. confirmation by additional proof. 2. something that corroborates; additional proof: Tom's sticky face was corroboration of his mother's suspicion that he had been eating jam. n.

cor rob o ra tive (kə rob'ə rā'tiv), corroborating; confirming. adj.

cor rob o ra to ry (kə rob'ə rā tō'rē), corroborative. adj.

cor rode (kə rōd'), 1. eat away gradually: Rust had corroded the steel rails. 2. become corroded. v., cor rod ed, cor rod ing.

cor ro sion (kə rō'zhən), 1. act or process of corroding. 2. a corroded condition. 3. product of corroding. n.

cor ro sive (kə rō'siv), 1. producing corrosion; corroding; eating away. 2. substance that corrodes: Most acids are corrosives. 1 adj., 2 n. —cor ro'sive ly, adv.

corrosive sublimate, a very poisonous, crystalline substance, used as an antiseptic, for engraving metals, etc.

cor ru gate (kôr'ə gāt), bend or shape (a surface or a thin sheet of material) into wavelike folds; wrinkle; furrow. v., cor ru gat ed, cor ru gat ing. —cor'ru ga'tion, n.

cor ru gat ed (kôr'ə gāt'id), bent or shaped into a row of wavelike ridges: corrugated iron. adj.

corrugated paper, paper or cardboard that is bent into a row of wavelike ridges.

cor rupt (kə rupt'), 1. evil; wicked: a corrupt man, corrupt desires. 2. make evil or wicked: Bad company may corrupt a good boy. 3. influenced by bribes; dishonest: a corrupt judge. 4. bribe. 5. damaged by inaccurate copying, insertions, alterations, or the like: The manuscript is so corrupt that parts of it make no sense at all. 6. make worse by changing; make impure or incorrect. 7. considered inferior by some because of change in meaning or form, or deviation from standard usage: Some Indians speak corrupt Spanish. 8. cause (a form, meaning, dialect, etc.) to differ from standard usage. 9. rotten; decayed. 10. rot; decay. 11. become corrupt. 1,3,5,7,9 adj., 2,4,6,8,10,11 v. —cor rupt'er, n. —cor rupt'ly, adv. —cor rupt'ness, n.

cor rupt i bil i ty (kə rupt'ə bil'ə tē), corruptible quality; willingness to be bribed. n.

cor rupt i ble (kə rupt'ə blē), 1. that can be corrupted; that can be bribed. 2. liable to be corrupted. adj. —cor rupt'i ble ness, n. —cor rupt'i bly, adv.

cor rup tion (kə rup'shən), 1. a making or being made evil or wicked. 2. evil conduct; wickedness. 3. bribery; dishonesty. 4. a changing for the worse; making impure or incorrect. 5. a causing (a form, meaning, dialect, etc.) to differ from standard usage: the corruption of a language. 6. rot; decay. 7. a corrupting influence; thing that causes corruption. n.

cor rup tive (kə rup'tiv), tending to corrupt; causing corruption. adj.

cor sage (kôr sāj'), 1. bouquet to be worn at a woman's waist, on her shoulder, etc. 2. the upper part of a woman's dress. n.

cor sair (kôr'sār), 1. pirate. 2. a pirate ship. 3. privateer. n.

corse let (kôrs'lit for 1; kôr'sə let' for 2), 1. armor for the body. 2. a woman's undergarment somewhat like a corset. n.

cor set (kôr'sit), a woman's stiff, close-fitting undergarment, worn about the waist and hips to support or shape the body. n.

Cor si ca (kôr'sə kə), a French island in the Mediterranean, southeast of France. 244,000 pop.; 3367 sq. mi. n. —Cor'si can, adj., n.

cors let (kôrs'lit), corselet; armor for the body. n.

cor te ge or cor-tège (kôr tēj' or kôr tezh'), 1. procession. 2. group of followers, attendants, etc.; retinue. n.

Cor té s or Cor tez (kôr tez'), Hernando, 1485-1547, Spanish soldier who conquered Mexico. n.

cor tex (kôr'teks), 1. the bark of a tree. 2. the outer layers of an internal organ: the cortex of the kidney. 3. the layer of gray matter that covers most of the surface of the brain. n., pl. cor ti ces (-tə sēz).

cor ti cal (kôr'tə kl), 1. of or having to do with a cortex. 2. consisting of cortex. adj. —cor'ti cal ly, adv.

cor ti sone (kôr'tə zōn), hormone obtained from the cortex of the adrenal gland, used experimentally in controlling arthritis. n.

co run dum (kə run'dəm), an extremely hard mineral consisting of aluminum oxide. The dark-colored variety is used for polishing and grinding. Transparent varieties are sapphires, rubies, etc. n.

cor us cate (kôr'əs kät), give off flashes of light; sparkle; glitter. v., cor us cat ed, cor us cat ing.

cor vette or cor vet (kôr vet'), 1. warship with sails and only one tier of guns. 2. gunboat used in antisubmarine convoy work. n.

cor vine (kôr'vin or kôr'vin), of or like a crow. adj.
cor y phée (kôr'ə fā'), 1. dancer who leads a ballet. 2. a ballet dancer. n.

cos (kos), kind of lettuce. n.

cos met ic (koz met'ik), 1. preparation for beautifying the skin, hair, nails, etc. Powder, lipstick, and face

C, corselet (def. 1) creams are cosmetics. 2. beautifying to the skin, hair, nails, etc. 1 n., 2 adj.

cos mic (koz'mik), 1. of or belonging to the cosmos; having to do with the whole universe: Cosmic forces produce stars and meteors. 2. vast. adj.

cos mi cally (koz'mik lē), according to cosmic laws; on a vast or cosmic scale. adv.

cosmic dust, fine particles of matter falling upon the earth from outer space.

cosmic rays, rays of very short wave lengths and very great penetration that come to the earth from beyond the earth's atmosphere.

cos mo drome (koz'mə drōm), a launching site for spacecraft. n.

cos mog o ny (koz mog'ə nē), 1. origin of the universe. 2. theory of its origin. n., pl. cos mog o nies.

cos mog ra phy (koz mog'rə fē), science that deals with the general appearance and structure of the universe. Cosmography includes astronomy, geography, and geology. n.

cos mol o gy (koz mol'ə jē), science or theory of the universe, its parts, and its laws. n.

cos mo naut (koz'mə nôt), astronaut. n.

cos mo pol i tan (koz'mə pol'ə tən), 1. belonging to all parts of the world; not limited to any one country or its inhabitants; widely spread: Music is one of the most cosmopolitan of the arts. 2. free from national or local prejudices; feeling at home in any part of the world. 3. a cosmopolitan person or thing; person who feels at home in all parts of the world. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

cos mop o lite (koz mop'ə lit), a cosmopolitan person. n.

cos mos (koz'məs), 1. the universe thought of as an orderly, harmonious system; the opposite of chaos. 2. any complete system that is orderly and harmonious. 3. a tall garden plant of the same family as the aster, with much-divided leaves and white, pink, purple, or orange flowers, that blooms in the fall. n.

Cos sack (kos'ak), one of a people living in SW Soviet Union, noted as horsemen. n.

cost (kōst), 1. price paid: The cost of this hat was $10. 2. loss; sacrifice: The poor fox escaped from the trap at the cost of a leg. 3. be obtained at the price of; require: This hat costs $10. The school play cost much time and effort. 1,2 n., 3 v., cost, costing.

costs, expenses of a lawsuit or case in court: Mr. Brown had to pay a $1000 fine and $50 costs.

cos tal (kos'tl), of a rib or the ribs. adj.

Cos ta Ri ca (kos'tə rē'kə), country in Central America, northwest of Panama. 1,150,000 pop.; 19,238 sq. mi. Capital: San José. See Central America for map.

Cos ta Ri can (kos'tə rē'kən), 1. of Costa Rica or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Costa Rica.

cos ter (kos'tər), costermonger. n.

cos ter mon ger (kos'tər mung'gər), Esp. Brit. person who sells fruit, vegetables, fish, etc., from a handcart or stand in the street. n.

cos tive (kos'tiv), constipated. adj.

cost li ness (kōst'lē nis), great cost; expensiveness. n.

cost ly (kōst'lē), 1. of great value: costly jewels. 2. costing much: costly mistakes. 3. costing too much. adj., cost li er, cost li est.

cos tume (kos'tüm or kos'tüm for 1-3; kos'tüm' or kos'tüm' for 4), 1. style of dress, outer clothing, etc., including the way the hair is worn, kind of jewelry worn, etc. 2. dress belonging to another time or place, worn on the stage, at masquerades, etc.: The actors wore Spanish costumes. 3. a complete set of outer garments: a street costume, a hunting costume. 4. provide a costume for; dress. 1-3 n., 4 v., cos tumed, cos tum ing.

cos tum er (kos'tüm'ər or kos'tüm'ər), person who makes, sells, or rents costumes or dresses. n.

co sy (kō'zē), cozy. adj., co si er, co si est; n., pl. co sies. —co'si ly, adv. —co'si ness, n.

cot¹ (kot), a narrow bed. A cot is sometimes made of canvas stretched on a frame that folds together. n.

cot² (kot), 1. cottage. 2. something small built for shelter or protection; cote. 3. covering; sheath. n.

cote (kōt), shelter or shed for small animals, birds, etc. n.

co te rie (kō'tə rē), set or circle of acquaintances; group of people who often meet socially. n.

co til lion (kə til'yən), Esp. U.S. a dance with complicated steps and much changing of partners, led by one couple. n.

Co to pax i (kō'tə pak'sē), volcano in the Andes Mountains in N Ecuador. 19,498 ft. n.

cot tage (kot'ij), 1. a small house. 2. U.S. house at a summer resort. n.

cottage cheese, U.S. a soft, white cheese made from the curds of sour milk.

cot tag er (kot'ij ər), 1. person who lives in a cottage. 2. person who lives in a cottage at a summer resort. n.

cot ter¹ (kot'ər), 1. pin or wedge that is inserted through a slot to hold small parts of machinery, etc., together. 2. cotter pin. n.

cot ter² or cot tar (kot'ər), a Scottish peasant who works for a farmer and is allowed to use a small cottage and a plot of land. n.

cotter pin, a split pin used as a cotter. Its ends are bent to keep it in its slot.

Cotter pin

cot ton (kot'n), 1. soft, white fibers in a fluffy mass around the seeds of a plant, used in making fabrics, thread, etc. 2. plant that produces these fibers. 3. crop of such plants. 4. thread made of cotton fibers. 5. cloth made of cotton thread. 6. made of cotton. 7. any downy substance resembling cotton fibers, growing on other plants. 8. Informal. agree; get along. 9. Informal. take a liking. 1-5,7 n., 6 adj., 8,9 v.

cotton gin, machine for separating the fibers of cotton from the seeds.

cot ton mouth (kot'n mouth'), the water moccasin, a large poisonous American snake. n.

cot ton seed (kot'n sēd'), seed of cotton, used for making cottonseed oil, fertilizer, cattle food, etc. n., pl. cot ton seeds or (esp. collectively) cot ton seed.

cottonseed oil, oil pressed from cottonseed, used for cooking, for making soap, etc.

cot ton tail (kot'n tāl'), a common American wild rabbit with a fluffy, white tail. n.

Cottontail (about 17 in. long) cot ton wood (kot'n wūd'), 1. variety of American poplar tree having cottonlike tufts on the seeds. 2. its soft wood. n.

cot ton y (kot'n ē), 1. of cotton. 2. like cotton; soft; fluffy; downy. adj.

cot y le don (kot'lēd'n), an embryo leaf in the seed of a plant; the first leaf, or one of the first pair of leaves, growing from a seed. n.

couch (kouch), 1. thing made to sleep or rest on. A bed or sofa is a couch. 2. place to sleep or rest: The deer sprang up from its grassy couch. 3. lay on a couch. 4. lie down on a couch. 5. put in words; express: Poets couch their ideas in beautiful language. 6. lower; bring down; put in a level position ready to attack: The knights couched their lances and prepared to charge. 7. lie hidden ready to attack. 1,2 n., 3-7 v. —couch/like', adj.

C, coty- ledon

cou gar (kü'gər), a large, tawny American wildcat; puma; mountain lion. n.

cough (kōf), 1. force air from the lungs with sudden effort and noise. 2. act of coughing. 3. repeated acts of coughing. 4. a diseased condition of the lungs, etc., that causes coughing; She has a bad cough. 1 v., 2-4 n.

cough up, 1. expel from the throat by coughing.

2. Slang. give; bring out; produce.

cough ing (kôf'ing), a forcing air from the lungs with sudden air or noise. n.

could (küd), pt. of can. Once she could sing beautifully. Perhaps I could write a poem, but I doubt it. v.

could n't (küd'nt), could not.

couldst (küdst), Archaic or Poetic. could. "Thou couldst" means "You could." v.

coul lee (kü'lē), 1. in the western United States, a deep ravine or gulch that is usually dry in summer. 2. stream of lava. n.

coul lomb (kü lom'), quantity of electricity furnished by a current of one ampere in one second. n.

coul ter (kôl'tər), colter. n.

coun cil (koun'sl), 1. group of people called together to give advice, talk things over, or settle questions. 2. a small group of people elected by citizens to make laws for and govern a city or town. n.

coun cil lor (koun'sl ər), Esp. Brit. councilor. n.

coun cil man (koun'səl mən), 1. member of the council of a city or town. 2. councilor. n., pl. coun cil men.

coun ci lor (koun'sl ər), member of a council. n.

coun sel (koun'səl), 1. act of exchanging ideas; act of talking things over. 2. advice: A wise person gives good counsel. 3. lawyer or group of lawyers: Each side of a case in court has its own counsel. 4. give advice to; advise. 5. recommend: He counseled acting at once. 6. Archaic. wisdom; prudence. 7. exchange ideas; consult together; deliberate. 1-3, 6 n., 4, 5, 7 v., coun seled, coun sel ing or esp. Brit. coun selled, coun sel ling.

take counsel, exchange ideas; talk things over.

coun sel lor (koun'səl ər), Esp. Brit. counselor. n.

coun se lor (koun'sl ər), 1. person who gives advice; adviser. 2. lawyer. n.

count¹ (kount), 1. name numbers in order: The child can count up to ten. 2. add up; find out how many: He counted the books and found there were fifty. 3. an adding up; a finding out how many: The count showed that 5000 votes had been cast. 4. the total number; amount: The exact count was 5170. 5. include in counting; take into account: Let's not count that game. 6. be included in counting; be taken into account: Your first trial is only for practice; it won't count. 7. have an influence; be of value: Every little bit counts. 8. consider; think of as: He counts himself fortunate in having good health. 9. depend; rely: We count on your help. 10. in law, each charge in a formal accusation. 11. ten seconds counted to give a fallen boxer time to get up before he is declared the loser. 1, 2, 5-9 v., 3, 4, 10, 11 n.

count out, 1. fail to consider; fail to include. 2. Informal. defeat by counting ballots wrongly. 3. declare (a fallen boxer) the loser when he cannot get up after 10 seconds have been counted.

count² (kount), a European nobleman having a rank about the same as that of an English earl. n.

count down (kount'daun'), 1. period of time that comes just before the firing of a missile, rocket, etc. 2. the calling out of the passing minutes and seconds, in the last stage of this period. n.

coun te nance (koun'tə nəns), 1. expression of the face: His angry countenance showed how he felt. 2. face; features: The king had a noble countenance. 3. approval; encouragement: He gave countenance to our plan, but no active help. 4. approve; encourage: The school does not countenance cheating in any form. We cannot countenance your letting Jim see your test paper. 5. calmness; composure. 1-3, 5 n., 4 v., coun te nanced, coun te nanc ing.

keep one's countenance, 1. be calm; not show feeling. 2. keep from smiling or laughing.

count er¹ (koun'tər), 1. thing used for counting. 2. an imitation coin. 3. Esp. U.S. a long table in a store, restaurant, etc., on which money is counted out, and across which goods, etc., are given to customers. n.

count er² (koun'tər), person or thing that counts. n.

coun ter³ (koun'tər), 1. in the opposite direction; opposed; contrary: His wild idea runs counter to common sense. 2. opposite; contrary: Your plans are counter to ours. 3. go or act counter to; oppose: She did not like our plan; so she countered it with one of her own. 4. that which is opposite or contrary to something else. 5. give a blow in boxing in return for another. 6. blow given in boxing in return for another. 7. a stiff piece inside the back of a shoe around the heel. 8. part of a ship's stern from the water line to the end of the curved part. 1 adv., 2 adj., 3, 5 v., 4, 6-8 n.

counter-, word element meaning:

1. against; in opposition to: Counteract = act against.

2. in return: Counterattack = attack in return.

3. so as to correspond: Counterpart = part that corresponds.

coun ter act (koun'tər akt'), act against; neutralize the action or effect of; hinder. v.

coun ter ac tion (koun'tər ak'shən), action opposed to another action; hindrance. n.

coun ter at tack (koun'tər ə tak'), 1. attack made to counteract an attack. 2. attack in return. 1 n., 2 v.

coun ter bal ance (koun'tər bal'əns for 1, 2; koun'tər bal'əns for 3), 1. weight balancing another weight. 2. influence, power, etc., balancing or offsetting another. 3. act as a counterbalance to; offset: Studying hard often counterbalances slowness at learning. 1, 2 n., 3 v., coun ter bal anced, coun ter bal anc ing.

coun ter check (koun'tər chek'), 1. something that restrains or opposes; obstacle. 2. restrain or oppose by some obstacle. 3. check made upon a check; double check for verification. 4. make a second check of; check again. 1, 3 n., 2, 4 v.

coun ter claim (koun'tər klām' for 1; koun'tər klām' for 2), 1. an opposing claim; claim made by a person to offset a claim made against him. 2. make a counterclaim. 1 n., 2 v.

coun ter clock wise (koun'tər klok'wīz'), in the direction opposite to that in which the hands of a clock go. adv., adj.

coun ter es pi o nage (koun'tər es'pē ə nij or koun'tər es'pē ə nāzh'), measures taken to prevent or confuse enemy espionage. n.

coun ter feit (koun'tər fit), 1. copy (money, pictures, etc.) in order to deceive or defraud. 2. copy made to deceive or defraud and passed as genuine. 3. resemble closely. 4. not genuine; sham: a counterfeit stamp. 5. pretend; dissemble: The old miser's widow counterfeited a grief she did not feel. 6. pretended; dissembled. 1, 3, 5 v., 2 n., 4, 6 adj. —coun'ter feit'er, n.

coun ter mand (koun'tər mand'), 1. withdraw or cancel (an order, command, etc.). 2. recall or stop by a contrary order; order back. v.

coun ter march (koun'tər mārč'), march in the opposite direction; march back. v., n.

coun ter mis sile (koun'tər mis'l), missile designed to intercept and destroy another missile. n.

coun ter of fen sive (koun'tər ə fen'siv), aggressive action on a large scale undertaken by a defending force to take the initiative from the attacking force. n.

coun ter pane (koun'tər pān'), an outer covering for a bed; bedspread. n.

coun ter part (koun'tər pärt'), 1. copy; duplicate. 2. person or thing closely resembling another: This twin is her sister's counterpart. 3. person or thing that complements another: Night is the counterpart of day. n.

coun ter plot (koun'tər plət'), plot to defeat another plot. n., v., coun ter plot ted, coun ter plot ting.

coun ter point (koun'tər point'), 1. melody added to another as an accompaniment. 2. art of adding melodies to a given melody according to fixed rules. n.

coun ter poise (koun'tər poiz'), 1. weight balancing another weight. 2. influence, power, etc., balancing or offsetting another. 3. balance; equilibrium. 4. act as a counterpoise to; offset. 1-3 n., 4 v., coun ter poised, coun ter pois ing.

coun ter rev o lu tion (koun'tər rev'ə lü'shən), revolution against a government established by a previous revolution. n.

count-er shaft (koun'tər shaft'), shaft that transmits motion from the main shaft to the working part of a machine. n.

count-er sign (koun'tər sīn'), 1. password given in answer to the challenge of a sentinel: The soldier had to give the countersign before he could pass the sentry. 2. signature added to another signature to confirm it. 3. sign (something already signed by another) to confirm it. 1, 2 n., 3 v.

count-er sink (koun'tər sīng'), 1. enlarge the upper part of (a hole) to make room for the head of a screw, bolt, etc. 2. sink the head of (a screw, bolt, etc.) into such a hole so that it is even with or below the surface. 3. a countersunk hole. 4. tool for countersinking holes. 1, 2 v., count-er sunk, count-er sink-ing; 3, 4 n.

count-er spy (koun'tər spī'), person who spies on enemy spies. n., pl. count-er spies.

count-er weight (koun'tər wāt'), weight that balances another weight. n.

count-ess (koun'tis), 1. wife or widow of an earl or count. 2. lady whose rank is equal to that of an earl or count. n.

counting house, building or office used for keeping accounts and doing business.

count-less (koun'tlis), too many to count; very many; innumerable: the countless sands of the seashore, the countless stars. adj.

count-ri-fied (kun'trē fid), 1. looking or acting like a person from the country; rustic. 2. like the country; rural. adj.

count-try (kun'trē), 1. land; region; district: The country around the mining town was mountainous. 2. all the land of a nation: He came from France, a country across the sea. 3. people of a nation: All the country hated the dictator. 4. land where a person was born or is a citizen. 5. land without many houses; rural district: Bob likes the country better than the city. 6. of the country; in the country: He likes country food and country air. 7. like the country. 1-5 n., pl. count-tries; 6, 7 adj.

country club, club in the country near a city. It has a clubhouse and arrangements for outdoor sports.

count-ry folk (kun'trē fōk'), people who live in the country. n.

count-ry man (kun'trē mən), 1. man of one's own country: Soldiers protect their countrymen. 2. man who lives in the country. n., pl. count-ry men.

count-ry side (kun'trē sīd'), 1. a rural district; country. 2. a certain section of the country. 3. its people. n.

count-ry wom-an (kun'trē wūm'ən), 1. woman of one's own country. 2. woman living in the country. n., pl. count-ry wom-en.

count-y (koun'tī), 1. in the United States, one of the districts into which a State is divided for the purposes of local government. It is the political unit next below the State. The county officers conduct local business, collect taxes, hold court, keep roads in repair, and maintain county schools. 2. in Great Britain and Ireland, one of the districts into which the country is divided for administrative, judicial, and political purposes. The counties were formed as a result of historical events. 3. people of a county. n., pl. count-ies.

count-y farm, farm for paupers supported by a county.

count-y seat, U.S. town or city where the county government is located.

coup (kü), 1. a sudden, brilliant action; unexpected, clever move; master stroke. 2. coup d'état. n., pl. coups (küz).

coup d'état (kü'dā tā'), a sudden and decisive measure in politics, especially one effecting a change of government illegally or by force.

coupe or cou-pé (küp or kü pā' for 1; kü pā' for 2),

1. a closed, two-door automobile seating two to five people. 2. a closed carriage with a seat for two people inside and a seat for the driver outside. n.

cou-ple (kup'l), 1. two things of the same kind that go together; pair. 2. man and woman who are married, engaged, or partners in a dance. 3. partners in a dance. 4. join together; join together in pairs: couple two freight cars. 1-3 n., 4 v., cou-pled, cou-pling.

cou-pler (kup'lər), 1. person or thing that couples. 2. device used to join together two railroad cars. n.

cou-plet (kup'lit), 1. two successive lines of poetry, especially two that rhyme and are equally long.

Example:

"Be not the first by whom the new are tried, Nor yet the last to lay the old aside."

2. couple; pair. n.

cou-pling (kup'ling), 1. act or process of joining. 2. device for joining parts of machinery. 3. device used to join two railroad cars. 4. device or arrangement for transferring electrical energy from one circuit to another. n.

Coupling between two railroad cars cou-pon (kü'pon or kū'pon), 1. a printed statement of interest due on a bond, which can be cut from the bond and presented for payment. 2. part of a ticket, advertisement, package, etc., that gives the person who holds it certain rights: She saved the coupons that came with each box of soap. n.

cour-age (kēr'ij), bravery; fearlessness; a meeting danger without fear. n.

have the courage of one's convictions, act as one believes one should.

cou-ra-geous (kə rā'jəs), full of courage; brave; fearless. adj. —cou-ra'-geous-ly, adv. —cou-ra'-geous-ness, n.

cour-ier (kēr'ē or kūr'ē ə), 1. messenger sent in haste: Government dispatches were sent by couriers. 2. person who goes with a group of travelers and takes care of hotel reservations, tickets, etc. n.

course (kōrs), 1. onward movement: the course of events. 2. direction taken: The ship's course was east. 3. line of action; way of doing: You must take the course that leads to success. 4. way; path; track; channel: the course of a stream. 5. group of similar things arranged in some regular order. 6. regular order: the course of nature. 7. series of studies in a school, college, or university. A student must complete a certain course in order to graduate. 8. one of the studies: Each course in geography lasts one term. 9. part of a meal served at one time: Soup was the first course. 10. place for races or games: a golf course. 11. race; run. 12. hunt with dogs. 13. cause (dogs) to hunt for game. 14. layer of bricks, stones, shingles, etc.; row. 15. the lowest square sail on any mast of a square-rigged ship. 1-10, 14, 15 n., 11-13 v., cours-ed, cours-ing.

of course, 1. surely; certainly. 2. naturally; as should be expected.

cours-er (kōr'sər), Poetic. a swift horse. n.

court (kōrt), 1. space partly or wholly enclosed by walls or buildings: The apartment house is built around a court. 2. a short street. 3. place marked off for a game: a tennis court. 4. residence where a king, queen, or other sovereign lives; royal palace. 5. family, household, or followers of a sovereign: The court of King Solomon was noted for its splendor. 6. sovereign and his advisers as a ruling power: By order of the Court of St. James is by order of the British government. 7. a formal assembly held by a sovereign. 8. place where justice is administered: The prisoner was brought to court for trial. 9. persons who are chosen to administer justice; judge or judges: The court found him guilty. 10. assembly of such persons to administer justice: Several cases await trial at the next court. 11. attention paid to get favor; effort to please. 12. pay attention to (a person) to get his favor; try to please. 13. act of making love; act of wooing. 14. make love to; woo. 15. try to get; act so as to get; seek: It is foolish to court danger. 1-11, 13 n., 12, 14, 15 v. pay court to, 1. pay attention to (a person) to get his favor; try to please. 2. make love to; woo.

cour te ous (kér'tē əs), polite; thoughtful of others: It was courteous of him to help the old lady. adj. —cour te ous ly, adv. —cour te ous ness, n.

cour te san or cour te zan (kór'tə zn or kér'tə zn), prostitute. n.

cour te sy (kér'tə sē), 1. polite behavior; thoughtfulness for others. 2. a polite act; thoughtful act; favor. 3. curtsy. n., pl. cour te sies.

by courtesy, as a favor, rather than as something rightfully owing.

court house (kórt'hous'), 1. a building where law courts are held. 2. U.S. a building used for the government of a county. n.

cour tier (kór'tē ə), 1. person often present at the court of a king, prince, etc.; court attendant. 2. person who tries to win the favor of another by flattering and pleasing him. n.

court li ness (kórt'lē nis), politeness; elegance; polish. n.

court ly (kórt'lē), 1. suitable for a king's court; polite; elegant. 2. trying hard to please one's superior; flattering. adj., court li er, court li est.

court-mar tial (kórt'mār'shəl), 1. court of army or navy officers for trying offenders against military or naval laws. 2. trial by such a court. 3. try by a court of army or navy officers. 1, 2 n., pl. courts-mar tial; 3 v., court-mar tial ed, court-mar tial ing or esp. Brit. court-mar tial ed, court-mar tial ing.

Court of St. James's, court of the British sovereign. It gets its name from St. James's Palace in London, where royal receptions were formerly held.

court room (kórt'rúm'), room where a law court is held. n.

court ship (kórt'ship), a making love; wooing. n.

court yard (kórt'yárd'), space enclosed by walls, in or near a large building. n.

cous in (kuz'n), 1. son or daughter of one's uncle or aunt. First cousins have the same grandparents; second cousins have the same great-grandparents; and so on for third and fourth cousins, etc. Your father's or mother's first cousin is your first cousin once removed. 2. a distant relative. 3. citizen of a related nation. The English, Canadians, and Americans might be called cousins. 4. term used by one sovereign in speaking to another sovereign or to a great nobleman. n.

cous in-ger man (kuz'n jér'mən), son or daughter of one's uncle or aunt; first cousin. n., pl. cous in-ger man.

cous in ly (kuz'n lē), 1. like a cousin; like a cousin's. 2. suitable for a cousin. 3. in the manner of a cousin. 1, 2 adj., 3 adv.

cove (kōv), 1. a small, sheltered bay; inlet on the shore; mouth of a creek. 2. a sheltered nook. n.

cov e nant (kuv'ə nənt), 1. a solemn agreement between two or more persons or groups to do or not to do a certain thing; compact. 2. in the Bible, the solemn promises of God to man; compact between God and man. 3. a legal contract; formal agreement that is legal. 4. solemnly agree (to do certain things). 1-3 n., 4 v.

Cov en try (kuv'ən trē or kov'ən trē), city in central England. 277,000. n.

send to Coventry, refuse to associate with.

cover (kuv'ər), 1. put something over: Cover this box with a wide board. 2. be over; occupy the surface of; spread over: Snow covered the ground. 3. clothe; wrap up: People in the arctic cover themselves with furs. 4. be thick over: Dust covered his shoes. 5. hide; conceal: cover a mistake. 6. protect; shelter: The cave covered him from the snow. 7. go over; travel: The cars cover 200 miles a day. 8. include; take in: The review covered everything we learned last term. 9. be enough for; provide for: My allowance covers my carfare to school. 10. aim straight at: cover a person with a pistol. 11. have within range: The guns of the fort on the hill covered the territory around it. 12. put one's hat or cap on: Cover your head when you are in the sun. 13. act as a reporter or photographer of: cover a fire for a newspaper. 14. thing that covers. Books have covers. A box, can, or jar usually has a cover. 15. protection; shelter: A thicket makes good cover for animals to hide in. 16. place for one person at a table, set with a plate, fork, spoon, napkin, etc. 17. deposit the equivalent of (money deposited in betting); accept the conditions of (a bet). 18. buy (commodities, securities, etc.) for future delivery as a protection against loss. 19. brood or sit on (eggs or chicks). 1-13, 17-19 v., 14-16 n. —cov'er er, n. —cov'er less, adj.

under cover, 1. hidden; secret; disguised. 2. secretly.

cov er all (kuv'ər ɔl'), a work garment of heavy cloth that includes shirt and trousers in a single unit. n.

cover crop, crop sown in a field or orchard to protect the soil, especially in winter.

cov ered (kuv'ərd), 1. having a cover or covering. 2. wearing one's hat or cap. adj.

covered wagon, U.S. a wagon having a canvas cover that can be taken off.

cov er ing (kuv'ər ing), thing that covers: bed coverings. n.

cov er let (kuv'ər lit), 1. an outer covering for a bed; bedspread. 2. any covering. n.

cov ert (kuv'ərt), 1. secret; hidden; disguised: covert glances. 2. shelter; hiding place. 3. thicket in which animals hide. 1 adj., 2, 3 n. —cov'ert ly, adv. —cov'ert ness, n.

cov et (kuv'it), desire eagerly (something that belongs to another): The boys coveted John's new bat. v.

cov et ous (kuv'ə təs), desiring things that belong to others. adj. —cov'et ous ly, adv. —cov'et ous ness, n.

cov ey (kuv'ē), 1. brood of partridges, quail, etc. 2. a small flock; group. n., pl. cov eys.

Cov ing ton (kuv'ing tən), city in N Kentucky across the Ohio River from Cincinnati, Ohio. 60,000. n.

cow¹ (kou), 1. female of a bovine family, especially the common dairy animal that furnishes milk. 2. female of various other large vertebrates: an elephant cow, a buffalo cow. n., pl. cows or (Archaic or Dialect) kine. cow² (kou), make afraid; frighten. v.

cow ard (kou'ərd), 1. person who lacks courage or is afraid; person who runs from danger, trouble, etc. 2. lacking courage; cowardly. 1 n., 2 adj.

cow ard ice (kou'ər dis), lack of courage; being easily made afraid. n.

cow ard li ness (kou'ərd lē nis), being cowardly. n.

cow ard ly (kou'ərd lē), 1. lacking courage. 2. of a coward; suitable for a coward. 3. fit for a coward. 1, 2 adj., 3 adv.

cow bell (kou'bel'), bell hung around a cow's neck to indicate her whereabouts. n.

cow bird (kou'bērd'), a small American blackbird that is often found with cattle. Most cowbirds lay their eggs in the nests of other birds. n.

cow boy (kou'boi'), U.S. man who looks after cattle on a ranch. He rides horseback to do most of his work. n.

cow catch er (kou'kach'ər), U.S. a metal frame on the front of a locomotive, streetcar, etc., to clear the tracks of anything in the way. n.

cow er (kou'ər), 1. crouch in fear or shame: The whipped dog cowered under the table. 2. draw back tremblingly from another's threats, blows, etc. v.

cow girl (kou'gêrl'), woman who works on a ranch, at rodeos, etc. n.

cow hand, person who works on a cattle ranch.

cow herd (kou'hêrd'), person whose work is looking after cattle while they are at pasture. n.

cow hide (kou'hîd'), 1. hide of a cow. 2. leather made from it. 3. U.S. a strong, heavy whip made of rawhide or braided leather.

4. whip with a cowhide; flog. 1-3 n., 4 v.

cow hid ed, cow hid ing.

cowl (koul), 1. a monk's cloak with a hood. 2. the hood itself. 3. put a monk's cowl on. 4. anything shaped like a cowl. 5. the part of an automobile body that includes the windshield and the dashboard. 6. cowl. 7. covering for the top of a chimney to increase the draft. 8. cover with a cowl or something resembling a cowl. 1,2,4-7 n., 3,8 v.

Cowl (def. 2)

cow lick (kou'lik'), a small tuft of hair that will not lie flat. It is usually just above the forehead. n.

cowl ing (koul'ing), a metal covering over the engine of an airplane. n.

co-work er (kō wêr'kər), person who works with another. n.

cow pea (kou'pē'), 1. plant that has very long pods, widely grown in the southern United States for use as food for cattle, fertilizer, etc. 2. seed of this plant, used as food. n.

Cow per (kū'pər or kou'pər), William, 1731-1800, English poet. n.

cow poke (kou'pōk'), U.S. Informal. cowboy. n.

cow pox (kou'pōks'), disease of cows causing small pustules on cows' udders. Vaccine for smallpox is obtained from cows that have cowpox. n.

cow punch er (kou'pun'chər), U.S. Informal. cowboy. n.

cow rie or cow ry (kou'rē), a yellow shell used as money in some parts of Africa and Asia. n., pl. cow-ries.

cow skin (kou'skin'), cowhide. n.

cow slip (kou'slip), 1. a plant with yellow flowers; English primrose. 2. U.S. the marsh marigold. n.

cox (koks), Informal. coxswain. n.

cox comb (koks'kōm'), 1. a vain, empty-headed man; conceited dandy. 2. coxcomb. n.

cox comb ry (koks'kōm'rē), 1. silly vanity; empty-headed conceit. 2. example of this. n., pl. cox comb-ries.

cox swain (kok'sn or kok'swān'), person who steers a boat, racing shell, etc. n. Also, coxswain.

coy (koi), 1. shy; modest; bashful. 2. pretending to be shy. adj. —coy/ly, adv. —coy/ness, n.

coy o te (ki ō'tē or ki'ōt), wolf living on the prairies of W North America. It is noted for loud howling at night. n., pl. coy o-tes or (esp. collectively) coy o te.

coy pu (koi'pū), a large water rodent of South America. Its fur resembles beaver and is called nutria. n., pl. coy pus or (esp. collectively) coy pu.

Coyote (total length 4 ft.)

coz en (kuz'n), cheat; deceive; beguile. v. —coz'-en er, n.

coz en age (kuz'n ij), cozening; fraud; deception. n.

co zi ly (kō'zē lē), in a cozy manner. adv.

co zi ness (kō'zē nis), being cozy. n.

co zy (kō'zē), 1. warm and comfortable; snug: She likes to read in a cozy corner near the fireplace. 2. a padded cloth cover to keep a teapot warm. 1 adj., co zi er, co zi est; 2 n., pl. co zies. Also, cosy.

cp., compare.

C.P., Chemically Pure.

c.p., 1. candle power. 2. chemically pure.

C.P.A., Certified Public Accountant.

cpd., compound.

Cpl. or apl., Corporal.

Cr, chromium.

cr., 1. creditor. 2. credit.

crab (krab), 1. shellfish that has a short, broad body with the abdomen or tail folded under, four pairs of legs, and one pair of pincers. Many kinds of crabs are good to eat. 2. catch crabs for eating. 3. any of various similar animals, such as a king crab. 4. machine for raising heavy weights. 5. a cross, ill-natured person. 6. Informal. find fault (with); criticize. 7. Informal. spoil. 1,3-5 n., 2,6,7 v., crabbed, crabbing. —crab/ber, n.

Crab

crab³ (krab), a crab apple. n.

crab apple, 1. any of various small, very sour apples, used for making jelly. 2. a small, sour, wild apple. 3. tree that bears crab apples.

crab bed (krab'id), 1. peevish; ill-natured; cross. 2. hard to understand; perplexing. 3. hard to read or decipher because irregular. adj. —crab/bed ly, adv. —crab/bed ness, n.

crab grass, a coarse grass that spreads rapidly and spoils lawns, etc.

crack (krak), 1. place, line, surface, or opening made by breaking without separating into parts: There is a crack in this cup. 2. break without separating into parts: You have cracked the window. 3. break with a sudden, sharp noise: The tree cracked and fell. We cracked the nuts. 4. a sudden, sharp noise: the crack of a whip. 5. make or cause to make a sudden, sharp noise: crack a whip. The whip cracked. 6. Informal. blow that makes a sudden, sharp noise. 7. Informal. hit with a sudden, sharp noise. 8. a narrow opening: There are cracks between the boards in this old floor. 9. make or become harsh and shrill: His voice cracked. 10. Informal. instant; moment. 11. Slang. try; effort. 12. Slang. joke. 13. Slang. give way; break down. 14. Informal. break into: crack a safe. 15. separate (petroleum, coal tar, etc.) into various substances. 16. Informal. very good; excellent; first-rate: a crack train. 1,4,6,8,10-12 n., 2,3,5,7,9,13-15 v., 16 adj.

crack a bottle, open a bottle and drink what is in it.

crack a joke, tell a joke; say something funny.

crack down, U.S. Slang. take stern measures.

crack up, 1. Informal. praise. 2. crash; smash. 3. suffer a breakdown in health.

crack-brained (krak'brānd'), crazy; insane. adj.

cracked (krakt), 1. broken without separating into parts. 2. lacking evenness; broken; having harsh notes: speak in a cracked voice. 3. Informal. crazy; insane. adj.

crack er (krak'ər), 1. a thin, crisp biscuit. 2. fire-cracker. 3. a small, paper roll used as a party favor, containing candy, a motto, a paper cap, etc. It explodes when it is pulled at both ends. 4. a poor white person living in the hills and backwoods regions of Georgia, Florida, etc. 5. person or instrument that cracks. n.

crack er jack (krak'ər jak'), U.S. Slang. 1. person or thing especially fine of its kind. 2. of superior ability or quality. 1 n., 2 adj.

crack ing (krak'ing), process of changing certain hydrocarbons in petroleum and other oils into lighter hydrocarbons by heat and pressure. Cracking is used in producing ordinary gasoline. n.

crack le (krak'l), 1. make slight, sharp sounds: A fire crackled on the hearth. 2. a slight, sharp sound, such as paper makes when crushed. 3. surface containing very small cracks on some kinds of china, glass, etc. 1 v., crack led, crack ling; 2,3 n.

crack pot (krak/'pot'), Slang. 1. a very eccentric or crack-brained person. 2. eccentric; crack-brained; impractical. 1 n., 2 adj.

cracks man (kraks/'mæn), Slang. burglar. n., pl. cracks men.

crack-up (krak/'up'), 1. crash; smash. 2. Informal. a mental or physical collapse. n.

Crac ow (krak/'ou), city in S Poland. 463,000. n. Polish. Kraków.

cradle (krä/'dl), 1. a baby's little bed, usually on rockers. 2. put or rock in a cradle; hold as in a cradle: She cradled the child in her arms. 3. place where a thing begins its growth: Authorities seem to disagree on where we should look for the cradle of civilization. 4. shelter or train in early life. 5. frame to support a ship or other large object while it is being built, repaired, lifted, etc. 6. support in a cradle. 7. box on rockers to wash gold from earth. 8. wash in a cradle. 9. frame attached to a scythe for laying grain evenly as it is cut. 10. a cradle scythe. 11. cut with a cradle scythe. 1,3,5,7,9,10 n., 2,4,6,8,11 v., cradled, cradling. —cradle like, adj.

cradle scythe, the scythe with a frame attached to it for laying grain evenly as it is cut.

cradle song (krä/'dl sŏng'), lullaby. n.

craft (kraft), 1. special skill: The expert woodworker shaped the bits of wood and fitted them together with craft. 2. trade or work requiring special skill. 3. members of a trade requiring special skill: Carpenters compose a craft. 4. skill in deceiving others; slyness; trickiness: By craft he got all their money from them. 5. boats, ships, or aircraft. 6. a boat, ship, or aircraft. n.

craftiness (kraf/'tē nis), skill in deceiving others; being crafty; cunning. n.

crafts man (krafts/'mæn), 1. a skilled workman. 2. artist. n., pl. crafts men.

crafts man ship (krafts/'mæn ship), work or skill of a craftsman. n.

craft union, a labor union made up of persons in the same craft. Unions of carpenters, plumbers, or bricklayers are craft unions.

crafty (kraf/'tē), skillful in deceiving others; sly; tricky: a crafty fox, a crafty villain. adj., craftier, craftiest. —craft'ily, adv.

crag (krag), a steep, rugged rock or cliff; a projecting rock. n.

craggy (krag/'ē), with many crags; rugged; rough. adj., craggi er, craggi est. —crag'gi ness, n.

crake (kräk), any of various birds of the rail family, with short bills. n.

cram (kram), 1. force; stuff: He crammed all his clothes quickly into the bag. 2. fill too full: The hall was crammed with many people standing. 3. eat too fast or too much. 4. Informal. stuff with knowledge or information. 5. Informal. learn hurriedly: He is cramming facts and dates for his history examination. v., crammed, cramming. —cram/mer, n.

cramp (kramp), 1. a metal bar bent at both ends. It is used for holding together blocks of stone, timbers, etc. 2. clamp. 3. fasten together with a cramp. 4. confine in a small space; limit; restrict: His work was cramped by the very short time he could spend on it. 5. something that confines or hinders; limitation; restriction. 6. confined; limited; restricted. 7. a sudden, painful contracting of muscles from chill, strain, etc.: The swimmer was seized with cramps and had to be taken into the boat. 8. paralysis of particular muscles as a result of using them too much. 9. cause to have a cramp. 10. hard to read; difficult to understand. 1,2,5,7,8 n., 3,4,9 v., 6,10 adj.

Miner's cradle
(def. 7)

Man using a cradle scythe

cramp one's style, Slang. keep one from showing one's skill, ability, etc.

cramps, very sharp pains in the abdomen.

cramp on (kram/'pən), 1. a strong, iron bar with hooks at one end, used to lift heavy things; grappling iron. 2. a spiked, iron plate on a shoe, used to prevent slipping. n.

cran ber ry (kran/'ber/ē), 1. a firm, sour, dark-red berry, used for jelly, sauce, etc. 2. a small shrub that the berries grow on. It grows in marshes or bogs. n., pl.

cran ber ries.

crane (krān), 1. machine with a long, swinging arm, for lifting and moving heavy weights. 2. move by, or as if by, such a machine. 3. a swinging metal arm in a fireplace, used to hold a kettle over the fire. 4. a large wading bird with very long legs and a long neck. 5. any of various herons, especially the great blue heron. 6. stretch (the neck) as a crane does, in order to see better. 1,3-5 n., 2,6 v., craned, craning.

cran i al (krā/'nē əl), of or having to do with the skull; from the skull. adj.

cran i um (krā/'nē əm), 1. the skull of a vertebrate. 2. part of the skull enclosing the brain. n., pl. cran i ums, cran i a (-nē ə).

crank (krangk'), 1. part or handle of a machine connected at right angles to a shaft to transmit motion: turn the crank of an ice-cream freezer. 2. work or start by means of a crank: crank an engine. 3. bend into the shape of a crank. 4. turn of speech or thought. 5. a queer notion or act. 6. U.S. Informal. person with queer notions or habits; person possessed by some idea, hobby, etc. 7. Informal. a cross or ill-tempered person. 8. loose; shaky; unsteady. 1,4-7 n., 2,3 v., 8 adj.

crank case (krangk/'kās'), a heavy, metal case forming the bottom part of an internal-combustion engine. The crankcase of a gasoline engine encloses the crankshaft, connecting rods, etc. n.

crank shaft (krangk/'shaft'), shaft turning or turned by a crank. n.

crank y (krangk/'ē), 1. cross; irritable; ill-natured. 2. odd; queer. 3. liable to capsize; loose; shaky. adj., crankier, crankiest. —crank'ily, adv. —crank'-iness, n.

cran ny (kran/'ē), a small, narrow opening; crack; crevice. n., pl. cran nies.

Cran ston (kran/'stən), city in E Rhode Island, near Providence. 67,000. n.

crepe (kräp), 1. crepe; a thin silk, cotton, rayon, or woolen cloth with a crinkled surface. 2. piece of black crepe used as a sign of mourning. n.

crappie (krap/'ē), a small fresh-water fish of the United States, used for food. n.

crash (krash), 1. a sudden, loud noise like many dishes falling and breaking, or like sudden, loud band music. 2. make a sudden, loud noise. 3. fall, hit, or break with force and a loud noise: The dishes crashed to the floor. 4. a falling, hitting, or breaking with force and a loud noise. 5. move or go with force and a loud noise: The bullet crashed through the window. 6. sudden ruin; severe failure in business. 7. be suddenly ruined; fail in business: In bad times some companies crash. 8. fall to the earth in an airplane; make a very bad landing. 9. such a fall or landing. 10. Slang. go to (a party, etc.) although not invited. 1,4,6,9 n., 2,3,5,7,8,10 v. —crash'er, n.

crash (krash), a coarse linen cloth, used for towels, curtains, upholstering, etc. n.

crash-land (krash/'land'), fall to the earth in an airplane; make a very bad landing. v.

Crane for lifting

Crane (4 ft. tall)

crass (kras), 1. gross; stupid: crass ignorance. 2. thick; coarse. adj. —crass'ly, adv. —crass'ness, n.

crate (krāt), 1. a large frame, box, basket, etc., used to pack furniture, glass, fruit, etc., for shipping or storage. 2. pack in a crate. 1 n., 2 v., crat ed, crat ing.

crater (krā'tər), 1. depression around the opening of a volcano. 2. a bowl-shaped hole: The battlefield was full of craters made by exploding shells. n.

Crater Lake, lake in the crater of an extinct volcano in southwestern Oregon. 6 mi. long; 5 mi. wide; 2000 ft. deep.

cravat (krə'vat'), 1. necktie. 2. neckcloth; scarf. n.

crave (krāv), 1. long for; yearn for; desire strongly: The thirsty man craved water. 2. ask earnestly; beg: crave a favor. v., craved, craving.

craven (krā'vən), 1. cowardly. 2. coward. 1 adj., 2 n. —crav'enly, adv. —crav'enness, n.

cry craven, surrender; admit defeat.

craving (krāv'ing), longing; yearning; strong desire: The hungry man had a craving for food. n.

craw (krō), 1. crop of a bird or insect. 2. stomach of any animal. n.

craw fish (krō'fish'), 1. any of numerous crustaceans much like small lobsters; crayfish. 2. U.S. Informal. back out of something; retreat. 1 n., pl. craw fish es or (esp. collectively) craw fish; 2 v.

Crayfish
(3 to 6 in. long)

crawl (krōl), 1. move slowly, pulling the body along the ground: Worms and snakes crawl. 2. move slowly on hands and knees: crawl through a hole. 3. move slowly: The traffic crawled. 4. a crawling; slow movement. 5. swarm with crawling things: The ground was crawling with ants. 6. feel creepy: My flesh crawled when I saw a big snake. 7. move stealthily or slavishly. 8. a fast way of swimming by overarm strokes. 1-3, 5-7 v., 4, 8 n. —craw'er, n.

crawler tractor, tractor that can travel over very rough ground on its two endless tracks.

cray fish (krā'fish'), crayfish. n., pl. cray fish es or (esp. collectively) cray fish.

cray on (krā'on or krā'an), 1. a stick of white or colored chalk or charcoal, or of a waxlike, colored substance used for drawing or writing. 2. draw with a crayon or crayons. 3. drawing made with crayons. 1, 3 n., 2 v., cray on ed, cray on ing.

craze (krāz), 1. something everybody is very much interested in for a short time; fad: One year Sam and his friends had a craze for collecting beetles; the next year they had a craze for making models of ships. 2. make or become crazy. 3. make tiny cracks all over the surface of (a dish, vase, etc.). 4. become minutely cracked. 1 n., 2-4 v., crazed, crazing.

crazy (krā'zē), 1. having a diseased mind; insane: The mother of the kidnaped baby was nearly crazy with worry. 2. of or suitable for a crazy person; showing insanity. 3. Informal. unreasonably eager or enthusiastic. 4. not strong or sound; shaky; frail. adj., cra zi er, cra zi est. —cra'zily, adv. —cra'zi ness, n.

creak (krēk), 1. squeak loudly: The hinges on our doors creak when they need oiling. 2. a creaking noise. 1 v., 2 n.

creak y (krēk'ē), likely to creak; creaking: creaky floors, hinges, etc. adj., creak i er, creak i est. —creak'-ily, adv. —creak'i ness, n.

cream (krēm), 1. the oily, yellowish part of milk. Cream rises to the top when milk is allowed to stand. Butter is made from cream. 2. put cream in. 3. take cream from. 4. form like cream on the top; foam; froth. 5. food made of cream; food like cream: ice cream, chocolate creams. 6. containing cream; resembling cream: cream sauce, cream soup. 7. cook with cream, milk, or a sauce made of cream or milk with butter and flour. 8. make into a smooth mixture like cream: The cook creamed the butter and sugar together for a cake. 9. an oily preparation put on the skin to make it smooth and soft. 10. yellowish white. 11. the best part: The cream of a class is made up of the best students. 1, 5, 9-11 n., 2-4, 7, 8 v., 6, 10 adj.

cream er (krēm'ər), a small pitcher for holding cream. n.

cream er y (krēm'ər ē), 1. place where butter and cheese are made. 2. place where cream, milk, and butter are sold or bought. 3. place where milk is set for cream to rise. n., pl. cream eries.

cream y (krēm'ē), 1. like cream; smooth and soft. 2. having much cream in it. 3. yellowish-white. adj., cream i er, cream i est. —cream'ily, adv. —cream'-i ness, n.

crease (krēs), 1. a line or mark made by folding cloth, paper, etc.; fold; wrinkle. 2. make a crease or creases in. 3. become creased or wrinkled. 1 n., 2, 3 v., creased, creas ing. —creas'er, n.

cre ate (krē āt'), 1. cause to be; bring into being; make: She created this garden in the desert. 2. make by giving a new character, function, or status to: create a man a knight. 3. give rise to; cause: Do not create a disturbance. v., cre at ed, cre at ing.

cre a tion (krē ā'shan), 1. act of creating or state of being created. 2. all things created; the world and everything in it; the universe. 3. thing created. n.

the Creation, the creating of the universe by God.

cre a tive (krē ā'tiv), having the power to create; inventive. adj. —cre a'tive ly, adv. —cre a'tive ness, n.

cre a tor (krē ā'tər), person who creates. n.

the Creator, God.

crea ture (krē'chər), 1. anything created. 2. a living being; animal or person. 3. person who is completely under the influence of another; person who is ready to do anything that another asks. n.

cre dence (krēd'ns), belief: The kind-hearted old lady never gave credence to gossip. n.

cre den tials (kri den'shəlz), letters of introduction; references: After showing his credentials, the new inspector was allowed to see the bank's records. n.pl.

cred i bil i ty (kred'ə bil'ə tē), fact or quality of being credible. n.

cred i ble (kred'ə bl), believable; reliable; trustworthy: It seems hardly credible that Bill has grown so tall in one year. adj. —cred'i ble ness, n. —cred'i bly, adv.

cred it (kred'it), 1. belief; faith; trust: You have told me so many fibs I can't put much credit in what you say. 2. believe; have faith in; trust: I can credit all that you are telling me. 3. trust in a person's ability and intention to pay. 4. money in a person's bank account, etc. 5. give credit in a bank account, etc. 6. entry of money paid on account. 7. the right-hand side of an account where such entries are made. 8. enter on the credit side of an account. 9. reputation in money matters: If you pay your bills, your credit will be good. 10. good reputation: a man of credit. 11. honor; praise: The person who does the work should get the credit. 12. person or thing that brings honor or praise: A bright child is a credit to its parents. 13. entry on a student's record showing that he has passed a course of study. 14. put such an entry on the record of. 15. delayed payment; time allowed for delayed payment. 1, 3, 4, 6, 7, 9-13, 15 n., 2, 5, 8, 14 v.

credit a person with, think that he has.

do credit to, bring honor or praise to.

give a person credit for, think that he has.

give credit to, believe; have faith in; trust.

on credit, on a promise to pay later. When you buy anything and promise to pay for it later, you are getting it on credit.

cred it a ble (kred'ə tə bl), bringing honor or praise: Ann's record of perfect attendance is very creditable to her. adj. —cred'it a ble ness, n. —cred'it a bly, adv.

creditor (kred'ə tər), person to whom money or goods are due; one to whom a debt is owed. n.

credit union, a cooperative association that makes loans to its members at low rates.

cre du li ty (krə dū'la tē or krə dū'la tē), a too great readiness to believe. n.

cred u lous (kred'ə ləs), too ready to believe; easily deceived: She was so credulous that the other children could fool her easily. adj. —cred' u lous ly, adv. —cred' u lous ness, n.

Cree (krē), member of a tribe of American Indians living in central Canada. n., pl. Cree or Crees.

creed (krēd), 1. a brief statement of the essential points of religious belief as approved by some church. 2. any statement of faith, principles, opinions, etc. 3. the Apostles' Creed. n.

creek (krēk or krik), 1. Esp. U.S. a small stream. 2. Esp. Brit. a narrow bay, running inland for some distance. n.

Creek (krēk), a member of a group of Indian tribes formerly living in Alabama, Georgia, and N Florida, now living in Oklahoma. n.

creel (krēl), 1. basket for holding fish. 2. a basket-like trap for fish, lobsters, etc. n.

creep (krēp), 1. move with the body close to the ground or floor: The cat crept toward the mouse. A baby creeps on its hands and knees before it begins to walk. 2. move slowly. 3. a creeping; slow movement. 4. grow along the ground or over a wall by means of clinging stems: a creeping plant. Ivy had crept up the wall of the old house. 5. feel as if things were creeping over the skin: It made my flesh creep to hear her moan. 6. move in a timid, stealthy, or servile manner: The robbers crept toward their victims. 7. slip slightly out of place. 1,2,4-7 v., crept, creeping; 3 n.

the creeps, Informal. a feeling as if things were creeping over one's skin.

creep er (krēp'ər), 1. person or thing that creeps. 2. any plant that grows along a surface, sending out rootlets from the stem, such as the Virginia creeper and ivy. n.

creep y (krēp'ē), 1. having a feeling as if things were creeping over one's skin; frightened: The ghost stories made the children creepy. 2. causing such a feeling. 3. creeping; moving slowly. adj., creep i er, creep i est. —creep'i ness, n.

creese (krēs), dagger with a wavy blade, used by the Malays. n. Also, kris.

cre mate (krē'māt or kri māt'), 1. burn (a dead body) to ashes. 2. burn. v., cre mat ed, cre mat ing.

—cre'ma tor, n.

cre ma tion (kri māt'shən), burning of a dead body to ashes instead of burying it. n.

cre ma to ry (krē'mə tō'rē or krem'ə tō'rē), 1. furnace for cremating. 2. building that has a furnace for cremating. n., pl. cre ma to ries.

Cre ole (krē'ol), 1. a white person who is a descendant of the French who settled in Louisiana. 2. the French language as spoken in Louisiana. 3. a French or Spanish person born in Spanish America or the West Indies. 4. of or having to do with the Creoles. 1-3 n., 4 adj.

cre ole (krē'ol), 1. person who is part Negro and part Creole. 2. Creole. 1,2 n., 2 adj.

cre o sol (krē'ə sōl or krē'ə sōl), a colorless, oily liquid obtained from wood tar and a certain resin, used as an antiseptic. n.

cre o sote (krē'ə sōt), 1. an oily liquid with a penetrating odor, obtained by distilling wood tar, used to preserve wood and in cough medicine. 2. a similar substance obtained from coal tar. 3. treat with creosote. 1,2 n., 3 v., cre o sot ed, cre o sot ing.

crepe or crêpe (kräp), 1. a thin silk, cotton, rayon, or woolen cloth with a crinkled surface; crape. 2. tissue paper that looks like crepe. n.

Creese

crept (krept), pt. and pp. of creep. We had crept up on the enemy without their seeing us. v.

cre scen do (krə shen'dō), in music: 1. gradually increasing in force or loudness. 2. a gradual increase in force or loudness. 1 adj., adv., 2 n., pl. cre scen dos.

cre cent (kres'nt), 1. shape of the moon in its first or last quarter. 2. anything having this or a similar shape. A curved street or a curved row of houses is sometimes called a crescent. 3. shaped like the moon in its first or last quarter. 4. growing; increasing. 1,2 n., 3,4 adj. —cre'scent like', adj.

Crescent moon

cre sol (krē'sōl or krē'sol), an oily liquid obtained from tar, used as a disinfectant. n.

cre ss (kres), plant whose leaves have a peppery taste, used as a garnish or in salad. n.

cre sset (kres'it), a metal container for burning oil, wood, etc., to give light. Cressets are mounted on poles or hung from above. n.

Cresset

Cres si da (kres'ə dā), the daughter of a Trojan priest who was faithless to her lover, Troilus. n.

crest (krest), 1. comb, tuft, etc., on the head of a bird or animal. 2. decoration, plumes, etc., on the top of a helmet. 3. decoration at the top of a coat of arms. A family crest is sometimes put on silverware, dishes, letter paper, etc. 4. the top part; top of a hill, wave, etc.; ridge; peak; summit. n. —crest'like', adj.

Crest on a coat of arms crest ed (kres'tid), having a crest. adj.

crest fall en (krest'fōl'ən), with bowed head; dejected; discouraged: Nell came home crestfallen because she had a poor report card. adj. —crest'-fall'en ly, adv.

Cre tan (krēt'n), 1. of or having to do with Crete or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Crete. 1 adj., 2 n.

Cre te (krēt), a Greek island in the Mediterranean, southeast of Greece. 462,000 pop.; 3235 sq. mi. n.

cre tin (krē'tən), a deformed idiot. n.

cre tin ism (krē'tən iz əm), inborn deformity, usually accompanied by idiocy, caused by a deficiency in the thyroid gland. n.

cre tonne (kri ton' or krē'ton), a strong cotton cloth with designs printed in colors on one or both sides, used for curtains, furniture covers, etc. n.

cre vasse (krə vas'), 1. a deep crack or crevice in the ice of a glacier. 2. U.S. break in the levee of a river, dike, or dam. n.

Crevasse (def. 1)

crev ice (krev'is), a narrow split or crack: Tiny ferns grew in crevices in the stone wall. n.

crew¹ (krü), 1. men needed to do work on a ship, or to row a boat. 2. group of people working or acting together: A train crew runs a railroad train. 3. group; crowd; gang; mob: The boys on that street are a rough crew. n.

crew² (krü), crowded, a pt. of crew¹. The cock crew. v.

crew cut, a kind of very short haircut.

crib (krib), 1. a small bed with high barred sides. The sides keep a baby from falling out. 2. rack or manger for horses and cows to eat from. 3. building or box for storing grain, salt, etc. 4. framework of logs or timbers used in building. The wooden lining inside a mine shaft is a crib. 5. provide with a crib. 6. Informal. use of another's words or ideas as one's own. 7. Informal. use (another's words or ideas) as one's own. 8. Informal. notes or helps that are unfair to use in doing schoolwork.

9. Informal. use notes or helps unfairly in doing school-work. 10. a small room or house. 1-4,6,8,10 n., 5,7,9 v., cribbed, crib bing.

crib bage (krib/ij), a card game for two, three, or four people. The players keep score with a narrow board into which movable pegs fit. n.

crick (krik), a sudden muscular cramp; painful stiffness of muscles. n.

crick et (krik/it), a black insect related to the grasshopper.

Cricket (1 in. long)

Male crickets make a chirping noise by friction of the front wings. n.

crick et (krik/it), 1. an outdoor game played by two teams of eleven players each, with ball, bats, and wickets. Cricket is very popular in England. 2. play this game. 3. Informal. fair play; good sportsmanship. 4. Informal. fair; according to good sportsmanship. 1,3 n., 2 v., 4 adj.

crick et er (krik/ə tər), person who plays cricket. n. cried (krid), pt. and pp. of cry. The baby cried for its mother. v.

crier (kri/ər), 1. official who shouts out public announcements. 2. person who cries or shouts. n.

cries (kri:z), pl. of cry. n.

crime (krim), 1. an act that is against the law: Murder and swindling are crimes. 2. activity of criminals; violation of law. 3. a wrong act; sin: War is a crime against humanity. n.

Crime a (kri mē/ə), peninsula in the SW part of the Soviet Union in Europe, on the N coast of the Black Sea. n. —Crime an, adj.

criminal (krim/ə nl), 1. person guilty of a crime. 2. guilty of crime.

3. having to do with crime: criminal law. 4. like crime; wrong; sinful: criminal behavior. 1 n., 2-4 adj.

criminality (krim/ə nal/ə tē), 1. being criminal; guilt. 2. a criminal act. n., pl. criminalities.

criminally (krim/ə nl ē), 1. in a criminal manner. 2. according to criminal law. adv.

criminologist (krim/ə nol/ə jist), expert in criminology. n.

criminology (krim/ə nol/ə jē), study of crimes and criminals. n.

crimp (krimp), 1. press into small, narrow folds; make wavy: The girl crimped her hair before going to the party. 2. a crimping. 3. something crimped; fold; wave. 4. a waved or curled lock of hair. 1 v., 2-4 n.

put a crimp in, Slang. interfere with; hinder.

crimson (krim/zn), 1. deep red. 2. turn deep red. 1 n., adj., 2 v.

cringe (krij), 1. shrink from danger or pain; crouch in fear. 2. bow down timidly; try to get favor or attention by servile behavior: The courtiers cringed before the king. 3. a cringing. 1,2 v., cringed, cringing; 3 n. —cring'er, n.

crinkle (kriŋg/kl), 1. wrinkle; ripple: Crepe paper is crinkled. 2. a wrinkle; ripple. 3. rustle: Paper crinkles when it is crushed. 4. a rustle. 1,3 v., crinkled, crinkling; 2,4 n.

crinkly (kriŋg/klē), full of crinkles. adj., crinklier, crinkliest.

crinoid (kri/noid or krin/oid), 1. any of a group of flower-shaped sea animals, usually anchored by a stalk. 2. of or like a crinoid. 1 n., 2 adj.

Crinoid (2½ in. in diam.)

crinoline (krin/ə lin), 1. a stiff cloth used as a lining to hold a skirt out, make a coat collar stand up, etc.

2. petticoat of crinoline to hold a skirt out. 3. a hoop skirt. n.

cripple (krip/əl), 1. a lame person or animal; one that cannot use his legs, arms, or body properly, because of injury or lack. 2. make a cripple of. 3. damage; disable; weaken: The ship was crippled by the storm. 1 n., 2,3 v., crippled, cripling. —cripp'ler, n.

crisis (kri/sis), 1. the turning point in a disease, toward life or death. 2. a deciding event in history. 3. time of danger or anxious waiting. n., pl. crises (-sēz).

crisp (krisp), 1. hard and thin; breaking easily with a snap: Dry toast and fresh celery are crisp. 2. make or become crisp. 3. fresh; sharp and clear; bracing: The air was cool and crisp. 4. clear-cut; decisive: "Don't talk; fight!" is a crisp sentence. 5. curly and wiry: crisp hair. 1,3-5 adj., 2 v. —crisp'ness, n.

crisply (krisp/lē), in a crisp manner. adv.

crispy (kris/pē), crisp. adj., crispier, crispiest.

criss cross (kris/krōs), 1. made or marked with crossed lines; crossed; crossing. 2. crosswise. 3. mark or cover with crossed lines. 4. a mark or pattern made of crossed lines. 1 adj., 2 adv., 3 v., 4 n.

Cris tó bal (kris tō/bl), seaport in the N part of the Canal Zone, at the Atlantic end of the Panama Canal, near Colón. 800. n.

cri te ri a (kri tī/rē ə), pl. of criterion. n.

cri te ri on (kri tī/rē ən), rule or standard for making a judgment; test: Money is only one criterion of success. n., pl. cri te ri a or cri te ri ons.

critic (krit/ik), 1. person who makes judgments of the merits and faults of books, music, pictures, plays, acting, etc. 2. person whose profession is writing such judgments for a newspaper, magazine, etc. 3. person who disapproves or finds fault; faultfinder. n.

criti cal (krit/ə kl), 1. inclined to find fault or disapprove: a critical disposition. 2. skilled as a critic. 3. coming from one who is skilled as a critic: a critical judgment. 4. belonging to the work of a critic: critical essays. 5. of a crisis; being important at a time of danger and difficulty: the critical moment. 6. full of danger or difficulty: His delay was critical. 7. of supplies, labor, or resources, necessary for some work or project but existing in inadequate supply. adj. —crit'i cal ly, adv. —crit'i cal ness, n.

crit i cise (krit/ə siz), Esp. Brit. criticize. v., crit i cised, crit i cising.

crit i cism (krit/ə siz əm), 1. disapproval; fault-finding. 2. the making of judgments; approving or disapproving; analysis of merits and faults. 3. rules and principles used in making careful judgments of the merits and faults of books, music, pictures, plays, acting, etc. 4. a critical comment, essay, review, etc. n.

crit i cize (krit/ə siz), 1. disapprove; find fault with: Do not criticize him until you know all the circumstances. 2. judge or speak as a critic. v., crit i cized, crit i cizing.

cri tique (kri tēk/), 1. a critical essay or review. Some newspapers have critiques of new books. 2. art of criticism; criticism. n.

croak (krōk), 1. a deep, hoarse sound, made by a frog, crow, or raven. 2. make a deep, hoarse sound. 3. utter in a deep, hoarse voice. 4. be always prophesying misfortune; be dissatisfied; grumble. 5. Slang. die. 1 n., 2-5 v. —croak'er, n.

croak ing (krōk/ing), act of making a deep, hoarse sound. n.

Cro at (krō/at), native or inhabitant of Croatia. n.

Cro a tia (krō ā/shə), district in NW Yugoslavia. n. —Cro a'tian, adj., n.

cro chet (krō shā/), 1. knit (sweaters, lace, etc.) with a single needle having a hook at one end. 2. knitting done in this way. 1 v., cro cheted (-shād/), cro chet ing (-shā/ing); 2 n. —cro chet'er, n.

crook (krok), pot or jar made of baked clay. n.
crook er y (krok'ər ē), dishes, jars, etc., made of baked clay; earthenware. n.

Crook ett (krok'it), David, 1786-1836, American pioneer and politician, killed at the defense of the Alamo. n.

croc o dile (krok'ə dil), a large, lizardlike reptile with a thick skin, long narrow head, and webbed feet. Crocodiles live in the rivers and marshes of the warm parts of Africa, Asia, Australia, and America. n.

Crocodile (14 ft. long) crocodile tears, pretended or insincere grief.

cro cus (krō'kəs), 1. a small plant that grows from a bulblike stem, having white, yellow, or purple flowers. Most crocuses bloom very early in the spring. 2. the flower. n., pl. cro cus es, cro ci (-sī).

Cro eus (krē'səs), 1. a very rich king of Lydia from 560 to 546 B.C. 2. a very rich person. n.

croft (krōft), Brit. 1. a small enclosed field. 2. a very small rented farm. n.

Cro-Mag non (krō mag'non), 1. belonging to a group of prehistoric people who lived in southwestern Europe. They used stone and bone implements. 2. person of this group. 1 adj., 2 n.

Crom well (krom'wel or krom'wal), Oliver, 1599-1658, English general and Puritan leader. n.

crone (krōn), a withered old woman. n.

cro ny (krō'nē), a very close friend; chum. n., pl. cro nies.

crook (krūk), 1. hook; bend; curve: The soldier crooked his finger around the trigger of his gun (v.). There is a crook in the stream (n.). 2. a hooked, curved, or bent part. 3. a shepherd's staff. Its upper end is curved or bent into a hook. 4. Informal. a dishonest person; thief; swindler. 1 v., 1-4 n.

crook ed (krūk'id), 1. not straight; bent; curved; twisted. 2. dishonest. adj. —crook'ed ly, adv. —crook'ed ness, n.

crook neck (krūk'nek'), kind of squash with a long, curved neck. n.

croon (krūn), 1. hum, sing, or murmur in a low tone: The mother was crooning to her baby. 2. a low humming, singing, or murmuring. 3. sing in a low voice with exaggerated emotion. 1,3 v., 2 n. —croon'er, n.

crop (krop), 1. product grown or gathered for use, especially for use as food: Wheat, corn, and cotton are three main crops of the United States. 2. the whole amount (of wheat, corn, or the produce of any plant or tree) that is yielded in one season: The potato crop was very small this year. 3. plant and cultivate a crop. 4. anything like a crop; group; collection: a crop of lies. 5. cut or bite off the top of: Sheep crop grass very short. 6. clip; cut short (the tail, ear, hair, edge of a book, etc.). 7. clipped hair; a short haircut. 8. mark produced by clipping the ears. 9. a baglike swelling of a bird's food passage where food is prepared for digestion. 10. a short whip with a loop instead of a lash. 11. handle of a whip. 1,2,4,7-11 n., 3,5,6 v., cropped, crop ping.

crop out or up, 1. appear; come to the surface. 2. be shown unexpectedly.

crop per (krop'ər), 1. person or thing that crops. 2. Informal. a heavy fall. 3. Informal. failure; collapse. n.

come a cropper, Informal. 1. fall heavily. 2. fail; collapse.

cro quet (krō kā'), an outdoor game played by knocking wooden balls through small wire arches with mallets. n.

Girl playing croquet

croquette (krō ket'), a small mass of chopped, cooked meat, fish, vegetables, etc., coated with crumbs and fried. n.

cro sier (krō'zhar), an ornamental staff carried by or before bishops or certain abbots. n. Also, crozier.

cross (krōs), 1. stick or post with another across it like a T or an X. 2. thing, design, or mark shaped like a cross. A cross is the symbol of the Christian religion. A person who cannot write his name makes a cross instead. A soldier is sometimes given a cross for bravery in war. 3. mark with a cross. 4. draw a line across: He crossed out the wrong word. 5. put or lay across. 6. lie across; be in the form of a cross. 7. go across; move across: cross a bridge. 8. meet and pass: My letter to her and hers to me crossed. 9. crossing; lying or going across. 10. make the sign of the cross on or over: The priest crossed himself. 11. oppose; hinder: If anyone crosses him, he gets very angry. 12. in a bad temper. 13. burden of duty; suffering; trouble: A patient person bears his cross without complaining. 14. mix kinds, breeds, or races of. A new plant is sometimes made by crossing two others. 15. a mixing of kinds, breeds, or races. 16. result of such mixing: A mule is a cross between a horse and a donkey. 17. mixed in kind, breed, or race. 1,2,9,13,15,16 n., 3-8,10,11,14 v., 9,12,17 adj.

Priest holding a crozier

GREEK

MALTESE ST. ANDREW'S

LATIN

PATRIARCHAL

PAPAL

Crosses (def. 2)

—cross'ly, adv. —cross'ness, n.
the Cross, 1. the cross on which Christ died. 2. Christ's sufferings and death; the Atonement.

cross bar (krōs'bār'), a bar, line, or stripe going crosswise. n.

cross beam (krōs'bēm'), a large beam that crosses another or extends from wall to wall. n.

cross bones (krōs'bōnz'), two large bones placed crosswise. A pirate flag has crossbones below a skull as a symbol of death. n.pl.

cross bow (krōs'bō'), a medieval weapon with a bow and a grooved stock in the middle to direct the arrows, stones, etc. n.

Man using a crossbow cross bow man (krōs'bō'mən), soldier who uses a crossbow. n., pl. cross bow men.

cross bred (krōs'bred'), produced by crossbreeding. adj.

cross breed (krōs'brēd'), 1. breed by mixing kinds, breeds, or races. 2. individual or breed produced by crossbreeding. A loganberry is a crossbreed, developed by crossing the blackberry and the raspberry. 1 v., cross bred, cross breed ing; 2 n.

cross-coun try (krōs'kun'trē), across fields or open country instead of by road: a cross-country race. adj.

cross cut (krōs'kut'), 1. used or made for cutting across. 2. a crosscut saw. 3. cut across. 4. a short cut. 1,3 adj., 2-4 n., 3 v., cross cut, cross cut ing.

crosscut saw, saw used or made for cutting across the grain of wood.

cross-ex am i na tion (krōs'eg zam'ə nā'shən), 1. examination to check a previous examination; especially, the questioning of a witness by the lawyer for the opposing side to test the truth of his evidence. 2. a close or severe questioning. n.

cross-ex am ine (krōs'eg zam'ən), 1. question (a witness for the opposing side) closely to test the truth of his evidence. 2. question closely or severely. v., cross-ex am ined, cross-ex am in ing. —cross'-ex am'-in er, n.

cross-eyed (krōs'id'), having both eyes turned toward the nose. adj.

cross-fer ti li za tion (krōs'fēr'tl ə zā'shən), fertilization of one flower by pollen from another. n.

cross-fer ti lize (krôs/'fêr/'tî lîz), 1. cause the cross-fertilization of. 2. be subjected to cross-fertilization. v., cross-fer ti lized, cross-fer ti liz ing.

cross-grained (krôs/'grând'), 1. having the grain running across the regular grain; having an irregular or gnarled grain. 2. hard to get along with; contrary. adj.

cross hatch (krôs/'hach'), mark or shade with two sets of parallel lines crossing each other. v.

Cross-hatching

cross ing (krôs/'ing), 1. place where things cross each other: "Railroad crossing! Stop! Look! Listen!" 2. place at which a street, river, etc., may be crossed: White lines mark the crossing. 3. act of crossing, especially a voyage across water. n.

cross-leg ged (krôs/'leg'id), 1. with the ankles crossed and the knees apart. 2. with one leg over the other and the knees together. adj.

cross piece (krôs/'pēs'), piece that is placed across something. n.

cross-pol li na tion (krôs/'pôl'ə nā'shən), transfer of pollen from the anther of one flower to the stigma of another. Insects are agents of cross-pollination. n.

cross-pur pose (krôs/'pêr/'pəs), an opposing or contrary purpose. n.

at cross-purposes, 1. misunderstanding each other's purpose. 2. acting under such a misunderstanding.

cross-pur pos es (krôs/'pêr/'pəs iz), game of questioning and answering in which words having different meanings are used. n.pl.

cross-ques tion (krôs/'kwes/'chən), 1. question closely or severely; cross-examine. 2. question asked in cross-examining. 1 v., 2 n.

cross-re fer (krôs/'rî fêr'), 1. refer from one part to another. 2. make a cross reference. v., cross-re ferred, cross-re fer ring.

cross reference, reference from one part of a book, index, etc., to another. "See harness for diagram" under crupper is a cross reference.

cross road (krôs/'rôd'), 1. road that crosses another. 2. road connecting main roads. n.

cross roads (krôs/'rôdz'), place where roads cross. n.pl.

cross section, 1. act of cutting anything across: John's mother was slicing tomatoes for a salad by making a series of cross sections. 2. piece cut in this way. 3. a representative sample; small selection of people, things, etc., with the same qualities as the entire group: If the people in our neighborhood may be taken as a cross section of the town, I don't think he has much chance of being elected mayor.

CROSS SECTION

Cross section of a tree trunk cross-stitch (krôs/'stich'), 1. one stitch crossed over another, forming an X. 2. embroidery made with this stitch. 3. embroider or sew with one stitch crossed over another. 1, 2 n., 3 v.

cross trees (krôs/'trêz'), two horizontal bars of wood near the top of a mast. n.pl.

cross way (krôs/'wā'), crossroad. n.

cross ways (krôs/'wāz'), crosswise. adv.

cross wise (krôs/'wîz'), 1. so as to cross; across. 2. in the form of a cross. 3. opposite to what is required; wrongly. adv.

C, cross-trees.

cross word puzzle (krôs/'wêrd'), puzzle with sets of squares to be filled in with words, one letter to each square. Synonyms or definitions of the words are given with numbers corresponding to numbers in the squares.

cross yard (krôs/'yârd'), pole or spar fastened crosswise. n.

crotch (kroch), 1. a forked piece or part; place where a tree, bough, etc., divides into two limbs or branches. 2. place where the body divides into the two legs. n.

crotched (krocht), having a crotch; forked. adj.

crotch et (kroch/'it), 1. an odd notion; unreasonable whim. 2. a small hook or hooklike part. n.

crotch et y (kroch/'ə tē), full of odd notions or unreasonable whims. adj. —crotch/et i ness, n.

cro ton bug (krôt'n), a small cockroach.

crouch (krouch), 1. stoop low with bent legs like an animal ready to spring, or in hiding, or shrinking in fear. 2. bow down in a timid or slavish manner. 3. bend low. 4. act or state of crouching. 5. a crouching position. 1-3 v., 4, 5 n.

croup¹ (krüp), inflammation or diseased condition of the throat and windpipe characterized by a hoarse cough and difficult breathing. n.

croup² (krüp), rump of a horse, etc. n.

croup y (krüp/'ē), 1. sick with croup. 2. hoarse and having difficulty in breathing. 3. of croup; resembling croup. adj.

crow¹ (krō), 1. a loud cry made by a rooster. 2. make the cry of a rooster. 3. a happy sound made by a baby. 4. make the happy sound of a baby. 5. show happiness and pride; boast: The winning team crowed over its victory. 1, 3 n., 2, 4, 5 v., crowed (or crew for 2), crowed, crow ing.

crow² (krō), 1. a large, glossy-black bird that has a harsh cry or caw. 2. any similar bird, such as a raven, magpie, jay, etc. 3. crowbar. n.

Crow (18 to 20 in. long)

Crow (krō), member of a tribe of North American Indians living in Montana. n.

crow bar (krō/'bâr'), a strong iron or steel bar, used as a lever. n.

crowd (kroud), 1. a large number of people together: A crowd gathered to hear the speaker. 2. the common people; people in general; the masses: Many newspapers appeal to the crowd. 3. informal group; set: The boy and his crowd went to the dance. 4. a large number of things together. 5. collect in large numbers: crowd around the swimming pool. 6. fill; fill too full: crowd a bus. 7. push; shove. 8. press forward; force one's way: crowd into a building. 1-4 n., 5-8 v.

crowd ed (kroud'id), 1. filled with a crowd. 2. filled; filled too full; packed. 3. close together; too close together. adj.

crow foot (krō/'fût'), buttercup or other plant with leaves shaped somewhat like a crow's foot. n., pl. crow foots.

Man using a crowbar crown (kroun), 1. a head covering for a king, queen, etc. 2. power and authority of a king, queen, etc.; royal power. 3. a king, queen, etc. 4. make king, queen, etc. 5. of a crown; having to do with a crown: the crown jewels. 6. design or thing shaped like a crown. 7. wreath for the head: The winner of the race received a crown. 8. honor; reward: His work was crowned with success. 9. head. 10. top; highest part: the crown of the head, the crown of a hat. 11. be on top of; cover the highest part of: A fort crowns the hill. 12. the highest state or quality of anything. 13. make perfect or complete; add the finishing touch to: Success crowned his efforts. 14. part of a tooth above the gum. 15. an artificial substitute for this part. 16. put a crown on (a tooth). 17. a former British silver coin, worth 5 shillings. 1-3, 6-10, 12, 14, 15, 17 n., 4, 8, 11, 13, 16 v., 5 adj.

King wearing a crown the Crown, power and authority of a king, queen, etc.: The Crown granted lands in America to certain men.

crown colony, colony under the power and authority of a king, queen, etc.

crown prince, the oldest living son of a king, queen, etc.; heir apparent to a kingdom.

crown princess, 1. the wife of a crown prince. 2. a girl or woman who is heir apparent to a kingdom.

crow's-foot (krōz'fūt'), wrinkle at the outer corner of the eye. n., pl. crow's-feet.

crow's-nest (krōz'nest'), 1. a small, enclosed platform near the top of a mast, used by the lookout. 2. any similar platform ashore. n.

Croydon (kroid'n), city in SE England, near London, containing a great airport. 249,000. n.

crozier (krō'zhær), crosier. n.

cru cial (krü'shal), 1. very important; critical; decisive. 2. very trying; severe. adj. —cru'cially, adv.

cru ci ble (krü'sə bl), 1. container in which metals, ores, etc., can be melted. 2. a severe test or trial. n.

cru ci fix (krü'sə fik's), 1. a cross with the figure of Christ crucified on it. 2. a cross. n.

cru ci fix ion (krü'sə fik'shən), 1. act of crucifying. 2. fact or state of being crucified. n.

Cru ci fix ion (krü'sə fik'shən), 1. the putting to death of Christ on the cross. 2. picture, statue, etc., of this. n.

cru ci form (krü'sə fōrm), shaped like a cross. adj.

cru ci fy (krü'sə fi), 1. put to death by nailing or binding the hands and feet to a cross. 2. treat severely; torture. v. —cru ci fied, cru ci fy ing. —cru'ci f'er, n.

crude (krüd), 1. in a natural or raw state; unrefined. Oil, ore, sugar, etc., before being refined and prepared for use are crude. 2. not mature; unripe. 3. rough; coarse: a crude log cabin. 4. lacking finish, grace, taste, or refinement: crude manners. adj. —crud er, crud est. —crude'ly, adv. —crude'ness, n.

cru el (krü'əl), 1. fond of causing pain to others and delighting in their suffering; not caring about the pain and suffering of others; hard-hearted: a cruel master. 2. showing a cruel nature: cruel acts. 3. causing pain and suffering: a cruel war. adj. —cru'elly, adv. —cru'el ness, n.

cru el ty (krü'əl tē), 1. being cruel; readiness to give pain to others or to delight in their suffering. 2. a cruel act. n., pl. cru el ties.

cru et (krü'it), a glass bottle to hold vinegar, oil, etc., for the table. n.

cruise (krüz), 1. sail about from place to place on pleasure or business; sail over or about: The destroyer cruised along the shore looking for enemy submarines. 2. act of sailing about from place to place on pleasure or business; voyage in search of something whose position is not known exactly. 3. journey or travel from place to place. 4. fly in an airplane at the speed of maximum efficiency. 1,3,4 v., cruised, cruis ing; 2 n.

cruis er (krüz'ær), 1. warship with less armor and more speed than a battleship. 2. airplane, taxi, powerboat, etc., that cruises. 3. a police car connected with headquarters by radio; squad car. n.

crul ler (krul'ær), piece of rich, sweet dough fried brown in deep fat; a twisted doughnut. n.

crumb (krum), 1. a very small piece of bread, cake, etc., broken from a larger piece. 2. break into crumbs. 3. cover with crumbs for frying or baking. 4. Informal. brush or wipe the crumbs from (a tablecloth, etc.). 5. the soft, inside part of bread. 6. a little bit: a crumb of comfort. 1,5,6 n., 2-4 v.

crum ble (krum'bl), 1. break into very small pieces or crumbs: crumble dirt between your hands. 2. fall to pieces; decay: The old wall was crumbling away at the edges. v., crum bled, crum bling.

crum bly (krum'blē), tending to crumble; easily crumbled. adj. —crum bli er, crum bli est.

crum pet (krum'pit), Esp. Brit. cake baked on a griddle, that is thicker than a pancake and is usually toasted after being baked. n.

crum ple (krum'pl), 1. crush together; wrinkle: He

Crow's-nest

Cruet

crumpled the letter into a ball. 2. fall down: He crumpled to the floor. 3. wrinkle made by crushing something together. 1,2 v., crum pled, crum pling; 3 n.

crunch (krunch), 1. crush noisily with the teeth. 2. produce or proceed with a crunching noise: The hard snow crunched under our feet. The children crunched through the snow. 3. act or sound of crunching. 1,2 v., 3 n.

crup per (krup'ær), 1. strap attached to the back of a harness and passing under a horse's tail. See harness for diagram. 2. rump of a horse. n.

cru sade (krü säd'), 1. any one of the Christian military expeditions between the years 1096 and 1272 to recover the Holy Land from the Moslems. 2. war having a religious purpose and approved by the church. 3. a vigorous campaign against a public evil or in favor of some new idea: Everyone was asked to join the crusade against tuberculosis. 4. take part in a crusade. 1-3 n., 4 v., cru sad ed, cru sad ing.

cru sad er (krü säd'ær), person who takes part in a crusade. The crusaders of the Middle Ages fought to win the Holy Land from the Moslems. n.

cruse (krüz), Archaic. jug, pot, or bottle made of earthenware. n.

crush (krush), 1. squeeze together violently so as to break or bruise. 2. wrinkle or crease by wear or rough handling. 3. break into fine pieces by grinding or pounding or pressing. 4. flatten by heavy pressure. 5. a violent pressure like grinding or pounding. 6. mass of people crowded close together. 7. subdue; conquer. 8. Slang. a sudden, strong liking for a person. 9. Slang. object of a sudden, strong liking. 1-4,7 v., 5,6,8,9 n. —crush'a ble, adj. —crush'er, n.

Cru soe (krü'sō), Robinson, shipwrecked hero of a book of the same name by Daniel Defoe, published in 1719. n.

crust (krust), 1. the hard, outside part of bread. 2. piece of this; any hard, dry piece of bread. 3. the baked outside covering of a pie. 4. any hard outside covering: The crust on the snow was thick enough for us to walk on it. 5. the solid outside part of the earth. 6. cover or become covered with a crust. 7. form or collect into a crust: By the next day the snow had crusted over. 1-5 n., 6,7 v. —crust'like, adj.

Crus ta cea (krus tā'shə), the crustaceans, a class of arthropods, mainly aquatic with hard shells and usually with gills, including crabs, lobsters, shrimps, etc. n.pl.

crus ta cean (krus tā'shan), 1. any of a group of water animals with hard shells, jointed bodies and appendages, and gills for breathing. Crabs, lobsters, shrimps, etc., are crustaceans. 2. of or belonging to this group. 1 n., 2 adj.

crusty (krus'tē), 1. having a crust; hard; crustlike: crusty bread. 2. harsh in manner, speech, etc. adj. —crust i er, crust i est. —crust'i ly, adv. —crust'i ness, n.

crutch (kruch), 1. support to help a lame person walk; stick with a crosspiece at the top that fits under a lame person's arm and supports part of his weight in walking. 2. anything like a crutch in shape or use; support. n.

crux (kruks), 1. the essential part; the most important point. 2. a puzzling or perplexing question; difficult point to explain. n., pl. crux es, crux es (krü'sēz).

cry (krī), 1. sound made by a person or animal that shows some strong feeling, such as pain, fear, anger, or sorrow; noise that shows grief, pain, etc. 2. make such a sound. 3. shed tears; weep. 4. spell of shedding tears; fit of weeping. 5. noise or call of an animal: the cry of the crow, the cry of the wolf. 6. make such a noise. 7. a loud call; shout: We heard the drowning man's cry for help. 8. call loudly; shout. 9. announce in public: Peddlers cry their wares in the street to sell them. 10. call to action; slogan: "Forward" was the army's cry as it attacked. 11. call for help; appeal; entreaty. 1,4,5,7,10,11 n., pl. cries; 2,3,6,8,9 v., cried, cry ing.

a far cry, 1. a long way. 2. a great difference.

cry down, make little of; speak of as unimportant or less valuable; deprecate.

cry up, praise; speak of as important or valuable.

in full cry, in close pursuit.

cry ba by (kri/bā/bē), person who cries easily or pretends to be hurt. n., pl. cry ba bies.

cry ing (kri/ing), 1. that cries. 2. demanding attention; very bad: a crying evil. adj.

crypt (kript), an underground room or vault. The crypt beneath the main floor of a church was formerly often used as a burial place. n.

crypt ic (krip/tik), having a hidden meaning; secret; mysterious: a cryptic message, a cryptic reply. adj.

—crypt/ti cal ly, adv.

crypt to gram (krip/tə gram), something written in secret code or cipher. n.

crystal (kris/tl), 1. a clear, transparent mineral, a kind of quartz, that looks like ice. 2. piece of crystal cut to form an ornament. Crystals are used as beads, and hung around lights. 3. made of crystal: crystal ornaments. 4. clear and transparent like crystal. 5. a very transparent glass. 6. glass over the face of a watch. 7. a regularly shaped piece with angles and flat surfaces, into which a substance solidifies: Crystals of sugar can be distinguished from crystals of snow by their difference in form. 8. piece of quartz used in radio. 1, 2, 5-8 n., 3, 4 adj.

Crystal shapes (def. 7) crystal line (kris/tlin), 1. consisting of crystals; solidified in the form of crystals: Sugar and salt are crystalline. 2. made of crystal. 3. clear and transparent like crystal. adj.

crystalline lens, lens of the eye.

crystal li za tion (kris/tl ə zā/shən), 1. a crystallizing or being crystallized. 2. a crystallized substance or formation. n.

crystal lize (kris/tl ize), 1. form into crystals; solidify into crystals: Water crystallizes to form snow. 2. form into definite shape: His vague ideas crystallized into a clear plan. 3. coat with sugar. v., crystal lized, crystal liz ing.

crystal lized (kris/tl ized), formed into crystals. adj.

Cs, cesium.

C.S.A., 1. Confederate States of America. 2. Confederate States Army.

C.S.T., Central Standard Time.

ct., cent. pl. cts.

Cu, copper.

cu., cubic.

cub (kub), 1. a young bear, fox, lion, etc. 2. an inexperienced or awkward boy. n.

Cuba (kū/bə), country on the largest island in the West Indies, south of Florida. 5,829,000 pop.; 44,164 sq. mi. Capital: Havana. See Caribbean for map. n.

Cu ban (kū/bən), 1. of or having to do with Cuba or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Cuba. 1 adj., 2 n.

cub by hole (kub/ē hōl'), a small, enclosed space. n.

Cube

cube (kūb), 1. solid with six equal, square sides. 2. make or form into the shape of a cube: The beets we had for supper were cubed instead of sliced. 3. use (a number) three times as a factor: 5 cubed is 125, for 5×5×5=125. 4. product obtained when a number is cubed: The cube of 4 is 64. 1, 4 n., 2, 3 v., cubed, cub ing.

cu beb (kū/beb), 1. a dried, unripe berry of a tropical shrub, used in medicine. 2. cigarette containing the crushed berries. Cubebs are sometimes smoked by people who have catarrh. n.

cube root, number used as the factor of a cube: The cube root of 125 is 5.

cu bic (kū/bik), 1. shaped like a cube. 2. having length, breadth, and thickness. A cubic inch is the volume of a cube whose edges are one inch long. The cubic content of a room is the number of cubic feet it contains. 3. having to do with or involving the cubes of numbers. adj.

cu bi cal (kū/bə kl), shaped like a cube. adj.

cu bi cle (kū/bə kl), a very small room or compartment. n.

cubic measure, system of measurement of volume in cubic units:

1728 cubic inches = 1 cubic foot

27 cubic feet = 1 cubic yard

1000 cubic millimeters = 1 cubic centimeter

1000 cubic centimeters = 1 cubic decimeter

1000 cubic decimeters = 1 cubic meter cu bit (kū/bit), an ancient measure of length, about 18 to 22 inches. Once a cubit meant the length of the forearm, from the elbow down. n.

cub reporter, a young, inexperienced newspaper reporter.

cuck oo (kūk/ū; kū/bū esp. for 3),

1. bird whose call sounds much like its name. The common European cuckoo lays its eggs in the nests of other birds instead of hatching them itself. The American cuckoo builds its own nest and has a call less like the name. 2. bird call that sounds like the word cuckoo. 3. U.S. Slang. crazy; silly. 1, 2 n., pl. cuck oos; 3 adj.

European cuckoo (about 14 in. long) cu. cm., cubic centimeter; cubic centimeters.

cu cum ber (kū/kum bər), 1. vegetable that has a green skin with firm flesh inside, used in salads and for pickles. 2. vine that it grows on. n.

cud (kud), mouthful of food that cattle and similar animals bring back into the mouth from the first stomach for a slow, second chewing. n.

cud dle (kud/əl), 1. hold closely and lovingly in one's arms or lap: The mother cuddled her baby. 2. lie close and snug; curl up: The two puppies cuddled together in front of the fire. 3. hug. 1-3 v., cud dled, cud dling; 3 n.

cudg el (kuj/əl), 1. a short, thick stick used as a weapon; club. 2. beat with a cudgel. 1 n., 2 v., cudg eled, cudg el ing or esp. Brit. cudg elled, cudg el ling.

cudgel one's brains, try very hard to think.

cue¹ (kū), 1. hint or suggestion as to what to do or when to act: Being a stranger, he took his cue from the actions of the natives. 2. action or speech on or behind the stage which gives the signal for an actor, singer, musician, etc., to enter or to begin. In a play the last word or words of one actor's speech is the cue for another to come on the stage, begin speaking, etc. 3. part one is to play; course of action. 4. frame of mind; mood. n.

cue² (kū), 1. queue. 2. a long, tapering stick used for striking the ball in billiards, pool, etc. n.

cuff¹ (kuf), 1. band around the wrist, either attached to a sleeve or separate. 2. a turned-up fold around the bottom of the legs of trousers. 3. handcuff. n.

cuff² (kuf), hit with the hand; slap. v., n.

cu. ft., cubic foot; cubic feet.

cu. in., cubic inch; cubic inches.

cui rass (kwi rās'), 1. piece of armor for the body made of a breastplate and a plate for the back fastened together. 2. the breastplate alone. n.

cui ras sier (kwi rə sir'), a cavalry soldier wearing a cuirass. n.

cui sine (kwi zēn'), 1. style of cooking or preparing food. 2. food. 3. kitchen. n.

cul-de-sac (kul/də sak' or kùl/də sak'), street or passage open at only one end; blind alley. n.

cu lex (kū/leks), the most common mosquito of North America and Europe. n., pl. cu li ces (-lə sēz).

cu li nar y (kū/lə ner'ē or kùl/ə ner'ē), 1. having to do with cooking. 2. used in cooking. adj.

Soldier wearing a cuirass (def. 1) cull (kul). 1. pick out; select: The lawyer culled important facts from the mass of evidence. 2. pick over; make selections from. 3. something picked out as being inferior or worthless. Poor fruit, stale vegetables, and animals not up to standard are called culls. 1,2 v., 3 n.

cul mi nate (kul'mə nāt), reach its highest point; reach a climax; result (in): The Christmas party at school culminated in the distribution of the presents. v., cul mi nated, cul mi nat ing.

cul mi na tion (kul'mə nā'shən), 1. the highest point; climax. 2. a reaching of the highest point. n.

cul pa bil i ty (kul'pə bil'ə tē), being culpable. n.

cul pa ble (kul'pə bl), deserving blame: The policeman was dismissed for culpable neglect of duty. adj. —cul'pa ble ness, n. —cul'pa bly, adv.

cul prit (kul'prīt), 1. person guilty of a fault or crime; offender. 2. prisoner in court accused of a crime. n.

cult (kult), 1. system of religious worship: Buddhism includes many cults. 2. great admiration for a person, thing, idea, etc.; worship. 3. group showing such admiration; worshippers. n.

cul ti va ble (kul'tə və bl), that can be cultivated. adj.

cul ti vat a ble (kul'tə vāt'ə bl), cultivable. adj.

cul ti vate (kul'tə vāt), 1. prepare and use (land) to raise crops by plowing it, planting seeds, and taking care of the growing plants. 2. help (plants) grow by labor and care. 3. loosen the ground around (growing plants) to kill weeds, etc. 4. improve; develop: It takes time, thought, and effort to cultivate your mind. 5. give time, thought, and effort to; seek better acquaintance with: An artist cultivates art. She cultivated people who could help her. v., cul ti vat ed, cul ti vat ing.

cul ti vat ed (kul'tə vāt'id), 1. prepared and used to raise crops: A field of wheat is cultivated land; a pasture is not. 2. produced by cultivation; not wild: The American Beauty rose is a cultivated flower. 3. improved; developed. 4. cultured; refined. adj.

cul ti va tion (kul'tə vā'shən), 1. act of preparing land and growing crops by plowing, planting, and necessary care. 2. improvement; development. 3. act of giving time and thought to improving and developing (the body, mind, or manners). 4. the result of improvement or growth through education and experience; culture. n.

cul ti va tor (kul'tə vā'tər), 1. person or thing that cultivates. 2. tool or machine used to loosen the ground and destroy weeds. A cultivator is pulled between rows of growing plants. n.

cul tur al (kul'chər əl), of or having to do with culture: Music and art are cultural studies. adj. —cul'tur al ly, adv.

cul ture (kul'chər), 1. fineness of feelings, thoughts, tastes, manners, etc. 2. civilization of a given race or a nation at a given time; its customs, its arts, its conveniences, etc.: She spoke on the culture of the Pygmies, of the ancient Incas, and of modern Denmark. 3. development of the mind or body by education, training, etc. 4. preparation of land to raise crops by plowing, planting, and necessary care; cultivation. 5. proper care given to the raising of bees, fish, silk, grapes, etc. 6. colony or growth of germs of a given kind that has been carefully made for a special purpose. 7. cultivate. 1-6 n., 7 v., cultured, cul tur ing.

cultured (kul'chərd), 1. having or showing culture; refined. 2. produced or raised by culture. adj.

cul ver in (kul'vər in), 1. musket used in medieval times. 2. a long, heavy cannon, used in the 16th and 17th centuries. n.

cul vert (kul'vərt), a small channel for water crossing under a road, railroad, canal, etc. n.

Culvert

cum ber (kum'bər), 1. burden; trouble: Household cares cumber a busy mother. 2. hinder; hamper: The lumberman's heavy boots cumbered him in walking. 3. hindrance. 1,2 v., 3 n.

Cum ber land (kum'bər lənd), 1. city in NW Maryland. 33,000. 2. river flowing from SE Kentucky through N Tennessee and W Kentucky into the Ohio River. 687 mi. n.

Cumberland Gap, a mountain pass in the Cumberland Mountains, where Virginia, Kentucky, and Tennessee meet. 1315 ft. high.

Cumberland Mountains, plateau of the Appalachian Mountains, extending from S West Virginia to N Alabama. The highest peak is 4000 feet.

cum ber some (kum'bər səm), hard to manage; clumsy; unwieldy; burdensome: The armor worn by knights seems cumbersome to us today. adj. —cum'ber some ly, adv. —cum'ber some ness, n.

cum brous (kum'brəs), cumbersome. adj. —cum'brous ly, adv. —cum'brous ness, n.

cum in or cum min (kum'ən), a small plant whose seedlike fruits are used in cookery and medicine. n.

cum lau de (kum lou'dē), with praise or honor. To graduate cum laude is to graduate with high rank.

cum quat (kum'kwot), kumquat. n.

cu mu late (kū'myə lāt), 1. heap up; accumulate. 2. heaped up. 1 v., cu mu lat ed, cu mu lat ing; 2 adj.

cu mu la tion (kū'myə lā'shən), 1. a heaping up; accumulating. 2. heap; accumulation. n.

cu mu la tive (kū'myə lā'tiv or kū'myə lə tiv), heaped up; accumulated; increasing or growing in amount, force, etc., by additions. A cumulative dividend is one that must be added to future dividends if not paid when due. adj. —cu'mu la'tive ly, adv. —cu'mu la'tive ness, n.

cu mu lus (kū'myə ləs),

1. cloud made up of rounded heaps with a flat bottom.

2. heap. n., pl. cu mu li (-lī).

cune ate (kū'nē it or kū'nē āt), tapering to a point at the base; wedge-shaped. adj.

cune i form (kū'nē ə fōrm or kū'nē ə fōrm'), 1. wedge-shaped. 2. the wedge-shaped characters used in the writing of ancient Babylonia, Assyria, Persia, etc. 1 adj., 2 n.

cun ning (kun'ing), 1. clever in deceiving; sly: a cunning villain. 2. slyness in getting what one wants; cleverness in deceiving one's enemies: A fox has a great deal of cunning. 3. skillful; clever: The old watch was a fine example of cunning workmanship. 4. Archaic. skill; cleverness. 5. U.S. Informal. pretty and dear; attractive: a cunning baby. 1,3,5 adj., 2,4 n. —cun'ning ly, adv. —cun'ning ness, n.

cup (kup), 1. dish to drink from. Most cups have handles. 2. as much as a cup holds; cupful. In cooking, a cup is a half pint. 3. thing shaped like a cup. The petals of some flowers form a cup. 4. shape like a cup: She cupped her hands to catch the ball. The old man cupped a hand behind one ear. 5. an ornamental cup, vase, etc., given to the winner of a contest. 6. take or put in a cup. 7. drink; mixture: a claret cup. 8. cup used in Communion. 9. wine used in Communion. 10. thing to be endured or experienced; fate. 11. take blood from (a person) by using a cup. 1-3,5,7-10 n., 4,6,11 v., cupped, cup ping. —cup'like, adj.

in one's cups, drunk.

cup bear er (kup'bār'ər), person who fills and passes around the cups in which drinks are served. n.

cup board (kup'bōrd), 1. closet or cabinet with shelves for dishes, food, etc. 2. Esp. Brit. any small closet. n.

cup cake (kup'kāk'), a small cake baked in a cup-shaped tin. n.

cup ful (kup'fūl), as much as a cup holds. In cooking, a cupful equals a half pint. n., pl. cup fuls.

Cu pid (kū'pid), the Roman god of love, son of Venus, identified with the Greek god Eros. Cupid is usually Cumulus cloud

NUMERAL 1

10

TAP

BE

ME

Cuneiform characters represented as a winged boy with bow and arrows. n.

cu pid (kū'pid), a winged baby used as a symbol of love; the cupids on a valentine. n.
cu pid i ty (kū pid'ə tē), eager desire; greed. n.

cu po la (kū'pl ə), 1. a rounded roof; dome. 2. a small dome or tower on a roof. n.

cur (kēr), 1. a worthless dog; mongrel. 2. an ill-bred, worthless person. n.

cur a bil i ty (kyūr'ə bil'ə tē), being curable. n.

cur a ble (kyūr'ə bl), that can be cured. adj. —cur'-a-ble ness, n. —cur'-a-ble, adv.

Cu ra çao (kyūr'ə sō'), the largest island of the Netherlands Antilles. 128,000 pop.; 210 sq. mi. n.

cu ra cy (kyūr'ə sē), position, rank, or work of a curate. n., pl. cu ra cies.

cu rate (kyūr'it), Esp. Brit. clergyman who is an assistant to a pastor, rector, or vicar. n.

cur a tive (kyūr'ə tiv), 1. having the power to cure; curing; tending to cure. 2. means of curing. 1 adj., 2 n.

cu ra tor (kyū rā'tər), person in charge of all or part of a museum, library, etc.: The curator of an art museum knows much about pictures. n.

curb (kərb), 1. chain or strap fastened to a horse's bit and passing under its lower jaw. When the reins are pulled tight, the curb checks the horse. 2. check; restraint. 3. hold in check; restrain. 4. a raised border of concrete, stone, or wood along the edge of a pavement, around the top of a well, etc. 5. provide with a curb. 6. market that deals in stocks and bonds not listed on the regular stock exchange. 1,2,4,6 n., 3,5 v.

curb bit, a horse's bit having a curb.

curb stone (kərb'stōn'), stone or stones forming a curb; raised border of concrete, etc., along the sides of a street. n.

cur cu li o (kēr kū'lē ō), a snout beetle. Some kinds destroy fruit. n., pl. cur cu li os.

curd (kərd), 1. the thick part of milk which separates from the watery part when milk sours. 2. form into curds; curdle. 1 n., 2 v.

cur dle (kərd'li), 1. form into curds: Milk curdles when kept too long. 2. thicken. v., cur dled, cur dling. curdle the blood, horrify; terrify.

cure (kyūr), 1. make well; bring back to health: cure a child of a cold or of a fever. 2. get rid of: cure a cold, cure a bad habit. 3. act of curing. 4. means of curing; treatment intended to bring one back to health: a rest cure, a cure for sore eyes, a cure for laziness. 5. medicine that is a means of curing; remedy. 6. prepare for keeping; preserve. Meat is dried and salted to cure it. 7. spiritual charge; religious care. 1,2,6 v., cured, cur ing; 3-5,7 n. —cure/less, adj. —cur'er, n.

cu ré (kyū rā'), a parish priest. n.

cure-all (kyūr'ōl'), remedy supposed to cure all diseases or evils. n.

cur few (kēr'fū), 1. a ringing of a bell at a fixed time every evening as a signal. In the Middle Ages, it was a signal to put out lights and cover fires. More recently it has been used as a signal for children to come in off the streets. 2. bell ringing such a signal: "The curfew tolls the knell of parting day." 3. time when it is rung. n.

Cu ri a (kyūr'ē ə), group of high officials who assist the Pope in the government and administration of the Roman Catholic Church; papal court of the Roman Catholic Church. n.

Cu rie (kyūr'ē or kyū rē'), 1. Marie, 1867-1934, famous physicist and chemist, born in Poland. She and her husband Pierre discovered radium in 1898. 2. Pierre, 1859-1906, French physicist and chemist. n.

cu rie (kyūr'ē or kyū rē'), unit of radioactivity. n.

cu ri o (kyūr'ē ō), object valued as a curiosity: The traveler brought back many curios from foreign lands. n., pl. cu ri os.

Cupola (def. 2)

cu ri os i ty (kyūr'ē os'ə tē), 1. an eager desire to know: Her curiosity made her open the forbidden door. 2. a strange, rare, or novel object. n., pl. cu ri os i ties.

cu ri ous (kyūr'ē əs), 1. eager to know: a curious student. 2. too eager to know; prying: The old woman is too curious about other people's business. 3. strange; odd; unusual: a curious old book. 4. very careful; exact: a curious inquiry into the customs of the pygmies. 5. Informal. very odd; eccentric: curious notions. adj. —cu'ri-ous ly, adv. —cu'ri-ous ness, n.

cu ri um (kyūr'ē əm), an element produced by bombardment of plutonium and uranium by helium ions. Symbol: Cm n.

curl (kərl), 1. twist into rings; roll into coils: Some women curl their hair; the hair of others curls naturally. The smoke curled slowly from the chimney. 2. a curled lock of hair. 3. anything like it: A carpenter's shavings are curls. 4. twist out of shape; bend into a curve: Paper curls when it burns. You can curl up in the big chair. 5. a curling or being curled. 1,4 v., 2,3,5 n.

curl er (kərl'ər), 1. person or thing that curls. 2. a device on which hair is twisted to make it curl. n.

cur lew (kərl'lu), a wading bird with a long, thin bill. n., pl. cur-lews or (esp. collectively) cur lew.

curl i cue (kərl'la kū), a fancy twist, curl, flourish, etc.: Curlicues in handwriting make it hard to read. n.

curl ing (kərl'ling), game played on the ice in which large, smooth stones are slid at a target. n.

curl y (kərl'lē), 1. curling; wavy. 2. having curls. adj., curl i er, curl i est. —curl'i ness, n.

cur mud ge on (kər muj'ən), a rude, stingy, bad-tempered person; miser. n.

cur rant (kərl'ənt), 1. a small, seedless raisin, used in cakes, etc. 2. a small, sour, edible berry that grows in bunches. Currants are red, white, or black and are used for jelly. 3. bush that bears currants. n.

cur ren cy (kərl'ən sē), 1. money in actual use in a country: Coins and paper money are currency in the United States. 2. a passing from person to person; circulation: People who spread a rumor give it currency. 3. general use or acceptance; common occurrence: Old words which have passed out of general currency are occasionally used to give an archaic effect. n., pl. cur ren cies.

cur rent (kərl'ənt), 1. a flow; stream. Running water or moving air makes a current. 2. flow of electricity along a wire, etc. 3. course; movement; general direction: the current of public opinion. 4. of the present time. The current issue of a magazine is the one most recently published. 5. generally used or accepted; commonly occurring: Long ago it was a current belief that the earth was flat. 6. going around; passing from person to person: A rumor is current that prices will go up. 1-3 n., 4-6 adj.

cur rent ly (kərl'ənt lē), 1. at the present time; now. 2. generally; commonly. adv.

cur ric u lar (kə rik'yə lər), having to do with a curriculum. adj.

cur ric u lum (kə rik'yə ləm), 1. the whole range of studies offered in a school, college, etc., or in a type of school: the American junior college curriculum. Our high-school curriculum includes English, mathematics, science, history, and foreign languages. 2. program of studies leading to a particular degree, certificate, etc.: the curriculum of the Law School. n., pl. cur ric u lums, cur-ric u la (-lə).

cur rish (kərl'ish), of or like a cur; snarling; ill-bred; worthless. adj. —cur'-rish ly, adv.

cur ry (kərl'ē), 1. rub and clean (a horse, etc.) with a brush or currycomb. 2. prepare (tanned leather) for

Curlew (from 1 to 2 ft. long, according to the species) use by soaking, scraping, beating, coloring, etc. v., curried, cur ry ing.

curry favor, seek a person's favor by insincere flattery. constant attentions, etc.

cur ry² (kér'ē), 1. a peppery sauce or powder containing a mixture of spices, seeds, vegetables, etc., used especially in India. 2. stew flavored with curry. 3. prepare or flavor with curry. 1,2 n., pl. cur ries; 3 v., cur ried, cur ry ing.

cur ry comb (kér'ē kōm'), 1. brush with metal teeth for rubbing and cleaning a horse. 2. use a currycomb on; brush with a currycomb. 1 n., 2 v.

curse (kērs), 1. ask God to bring evil or harm on: He cursed his enemy solemnly. 2. the words that a person says when he asks God to curse someone or something. 3. something that is cursed. 4. harm or evil that comes as if in answer to a curse: My quick temper has been a curse to me all my life. 5. bring evil or harm on; torment: cursed with blindness. 6. cause of evil or harm. 7. swear; swear at; blaspheme. 8. words used in swearing: His talk was full of curses. 1,5,7 v., cursed or curst, cur s ing; 2-4,6,8 n. —cur s'er, n.

cur s ed (kér'sid or kērs't), 1. under a curse. 2. deserving a curse; evil; hateful. adj. —cur s'ed ly, adv.

cur sive (kér'siv), 1. written with the letters joined together. Ordinary handwriting is cursive. 2. letter made to join other letters. 1 adj., 2 n. —cur s'ive ly, adv.

cur so ri al (kér sō'rē əl or kēr sō'rē əl), 1. for running. 2. having legs fitted for running. The ostrich is a cursorial bird. adj.

cur so ry (kér'sə rē), hasty; superficial; without attention to details: Even a cursory reading of the letter showed many errors. adj. —cur'so ri ly, adv.

curst (kērs't), 1. cursed. 2. a pt. and a pp. of curse. 1 adj., 2 v.

curt (kért), short; rudely brief; abrupt: His curt way of speaking made him seem rude. adj. —curt'ly, adv. —curt'ness, n.

cur tail (kér tál'), cut short; cut off part of; reduce; lessen: John's father curtailed his allowance. v.

cur tail ment (kér tál'mənt), a curtailing. n.

cur tain (kért'n), 1. piece of material hung to shut off, cover, hide, or decorate something. The curtain in a theater separates the stage from the audience. 2. provide with a curtain; shut off with a curtain; decorate with a curtain. 3. cover; hide. 4. thing that covers or hides: a curtain of artillery fire. 5. part of a wall between two bastions, towers, or the like. 1,4,5 n., 2,3 v.

curtain call, call for an actor, musician, etc., to return to the stage and acknowledge the applause of the audience.

curtain raiser, 1. a short play given before the main play in a theater. 2. a little thing used to introduce something bigger.

curt sey (kért'sē), curtsy. n., pl. curt seys; v., curt seyed, curt sey ing.

curt sy (kért'sē), 1. bow of respect or greeting by women, made by bending the knees and lowering the body slightly. 2. make a curtsy. 1 n., pl. curt sies; 2 v., curt sied, curt sy ing.

cur rule chair (kyúr'ül), a special seat that only certain of the highest magistrates or officials of ancient Rome were permitted to use.

cur va ture (kér'və chūr or kēr'və chər), 1. a curving; abnormal curving: curvature of the spine. 2. a curved piece or part; curve. n.

curve (kérv), 1. line that has no straight part. 2. something having the shape of a curve; bend: The automobile had to slow down for the curves in the road. 3. bend so as to form a curve. 4. move in the course of a curve.

5. curved. 6. baseball thrown so as to curve just before it reaches the batter. 1,2,6 n., 3,4 v., curved, curv ing; 5 adj.

curved (kérvd), bent so as to form a curve. adj.

cur vet (kér'vit for 1; kēr vet' or kēr'vit for 2,3), 1. leap in the air made by a horse. The forelegs are first raised and then the hind legs, so that all legs are off the ground for a second. 2. leap in this way. 3. make (a horse) do this. 1 n., 2,3 v., cur vet ted, cur vet ting or cur vet ed, cur vet ing.

cur vi lin e ar (kér'və lin'ē ər), consisting of a curved line or lines; enclosed by curved lines. adj.

Cush (kush), in the Bible, a country in NE Africa; Ethiopia. adj.

cush ion (kush'ən), 1. a soft pillow or pad used to sit, lie, or kneel on. 2. thing used or shaped like a cushion. Air or steam forms a cushion in some machines to protect them from sudden shocks or jars. 3. put or seat on a cushion; support with cushions. 4. supply with a cushion. 5. protect from sudden shocks or jars with a cushion of steam. 6. the elastic lining of the sides of a billiard table. 1,2,6 n., 3-5 v. —cush'ion like', adj.

cusk (kusk), fish something like a codfish, used for food. n.

cus p (kusp), 1. a pointed end; point: A crescent has two cusps. 2. a blunt or pointed protuberance of the crown of a tooth. n.

cus pid (kus'pid), tooth having one cusp; canine tooth. n.

cus pi dal (kus'pə dl), 1. of or having to do with a cusp. 2. having a pointed end. adj.

cus pi date (kus'pə dāt), having a sharp, pointed end. adj.

cus pi dor (kus'pə dōr), container to spit into; spittoon. n.

cus tard (kus'tərd), a baked or boiled pudding made of eggs, sugar, milk, etc. n.

custard apple, 1. a heart-shaped tropical fruit with sweet, yellowish flesh. 2. tree that it grows on. 3. any tree or shrub of the same family, such as the papaw.

Cus ter (kus'tər), George Armstrong, 1839-1876, American general in many Indian wars. n.

cus to di al (kus tō'dē əl), having to do with custody or custodians. adj.

cus to di an (kus tō'dē ən), person in charge; guardian; keeper; caretaker: the custodian of a museum. n.

cus to di an ship (kus tō'dē ən ship'), position or duties of a custodian. n.

cus to dy (kus'tə dē), 1. keeping; care: Parents have the custody of their young children. 2. being confined or detained; imprisonment. n., pl. cus to dies.

in custody, in the care of the police; in prison.

take into custody, arrest.

cus tom (kus'təm), 1. a usual action; habit: It was his custom to rise early. 2. habit maintained for so long that it has almost the force of law: The social customs of many countries differ from ours. 3. the regular business given by a customer: That store would like to have your custom. 4. made specially for individuals; made to order; not ready-made: custom clothes. 5. making things to order; not selling ready-made goods: a custom tailor. 6. tax or service regularly due from feudal tenants to their lord. 1-3,6 n., 4,5 adj.

customs, 1. taxes paid to the government on things brought in from a foreign country. 2. department of the government that collects these taxes.

cus tom ar i ly (kus'təm er'ə lē or kus'təm ār'ə lē), in a customary manner; usually. adv.

cus tom ar y (kus'təm er'ē), according to custom; as a habit; usual. adj.

cus tom er (kus'təm ər), 1. person who buys. 2. Informal. person; fellow: An ugly customer is a person hard to deal with. n.

custom house, a government building or office where taxes on things brought into a country are collected.

cus tom made (kus'təm mād'), made to order; made specially for individuals; not ready-made. adj.

Lady curtsying

Curule chair

cut (kut), 1. separate, open, or remove with something sharp: cut meat, timber, grass, one's nails, etc. 2. make by cutting: He cut a hole through the wall with an ax. 3. be cut; admit of being cut: Stale bread cuts better than fresh bread. 4. that has been cut: a cut pie. 5. shaped or formed by cutting. 6. wound with a knife, saw, etc.: She cut her finger. 7. wound or opening made by cutting. 8. passage, channel, etc., made by cutting or digging. 9. piece cut off or cut out. 10. way in which a thing is cut; style; fashion: the cut of a coat. 11. reduce; decrease: cut expenses. 12. reduced: cut prices. 13. reduction; a decrease. 14. pass; go; come: He cut across the field to save time. 15. way straight across or through; short cut. 16. go across; divide by crossing: A brook cuts that field. 17. hit or strike sharply: The cold wind cut me to the bone. 18. a sharp blow or stroke. 19. hit with a slicing stroke: He cut the ball so that it bounded almost backward. 20. a slicing stroke. 21. hurt the feelings of: His mean remark cut me. 22. action or speech that hurts the feelings. 23. Informal. refuse to recognize socially: No one in the class cut the new boy although he was very shy. 24. Informal. refusal to recognize socially. 25. Informal. be absent from (a class, lecture, etc.): He wanted to cut history when he heard there was going to be a test. 26. Informal. absence from a class, lecture, etc. 27. block or plate with a picture engraved on it, used in printing. 28. picture made from such a block or plate. 29. make less sticky or stiff; dissolve: Gasoline cuts grease and tar. 30. divide (a pack of cards) at random. 31. Informal. do; perform; make: cut a caper. 32. shorten by omitting some part or parts: Your speech will be more effective if you cut it in several places. 33. U.S. Informal. share of booty, loot, etc. 1-3,6,11,14,16,17,19,21,23,25,29-32 v., cut, cut ting; 4,5,12 adj., 7-10,13,15,18,20,22,24,26-28,33 n.

cut back, 1. go back suddenly. 2. shorten by cutting off the end (of a plant).

cut down, 1. cause to fall by cutting: cut down a tree. 2. reduce; decrease.

cut in, 1. go in suddenly. 2. break in; interrupt. 3. interrupt a dancing couple to take the place of one of them.

cut off, 1. remove by cutting. 2. shut off. 3. stop suddenly. 4. break; interrupt. 5. disinherit.

cut out, 1. remove by cutting. 2. take out; leave out. 3. take the place of; get the better of. 4. make by cutting; make; form. 5. Slang. stop doing.

cut teeth, have teeth grow through the gums.

cut up, 1. cut to pieces. 2. Informal. hurt. 3. Slang. show off; play tricks.

cu ta ne ous (kū tā'nē əs), of the skin; having to do with the skin; on the skin. adj.

cut back (kut'bak'), reduction in output: Many factories made cutbacks when their orders were cancelled. n.

cute (kūt), Informal. 1. U.S. pleasing or attractive because pretty, dear, dainty, etc. 2. clever; shrewd. adj., cut er, cut est. —cut'ly, adv. —cut'e'ness, n.

cut glass, glass shaped or decorated by grinding and polishing.

cu ti cle (kū'tē kl), the outer skin of vertebrates. The cuticle about the fingernails tends to become hard. n.

cut lass or cut las (kut'lās), a short, heavy, slightly curved sword. n.

cut ler (kut'lər), person who makes, sells, or repairs knives, scissors, and other cutting instruments. n.

cut ler y (kut'lər ē), 1. knives, scissors, and other cutting instruments. 2. knives, forks, spoons, etc., for table use. 3. business of a cutler. n.

cut let (kut'lit), 1. slice of meat for broiling or frying: a veal cutlet. 2. a flat, fried cake of chopped meat or fish. n.

cut off (kut'ɔf'), 1. a short way across or through; shorter road or passage. 2. a stopping of the passage of steam or working fluid to the cylinder of an engine. 3. mechanism or device that does this. n.

cut out (kut'out'), 1. shape or design to be cut out: Some books for children have cutouts. 2. device for disconnecting an engine from its muffler. Automobiles have cutouts to let the exhaust from the engine out into the air. 3. device for breaking an electric current. n.

cut purse (kut'pərs'), pickpocket. n.

cut ter (kut'ər), 1. person who cuts: A garment cutter cuts out clothes. 2. tool or machine for cutting: a meat cutter. 3. a small, light sleigh, usually pulled by one horse. 4. a small sailboat with one mast. 5. boat belonging to a warship, used to carry people and supplies to and from the ship. 6. a small, armed ship used by the coast guard. n.

Cutter (def. 3)

cut throat (kut'thrōt'), 1. murderer. 2. murderous. 3. relentless; merciless; severe. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

cut ting (kut'ing), 1. thing cut off or cut out. 2. a small shoot cut from a plant to grow a new plant. 3. a newspaper or magazine clipping. 4. place cut through high ground for a road, track, etc. 5. act of one that cuts. 6. that cuts; sharp. 7. hurting the feelings; sarcastic: a cutting remark. 1-5 n., 6,7 adj. —cut'ting ly, adv.

cut tle (kut'tl), cuttlefish. n.

cut tle bone (kut'tl bōn'), the hard internal shell of cuttlefish, used for making polishing powder, for food for canaries, etc. n.

Cuttlefish
(8 in. long)

cut tle fish (kut'tl fish'), a salt-water mollusk with ten sucker-bearing arms and a hard internal shell. One kind of cuttlefish squirts out an inky fluid when frightened. n., pl.

cut tle fish es or (esp. collectively) cut tle fish.

cut wa ter (kut'wō'tər), the front part of a ship's prow. n.

cut worm (kut'wərm'), caterpillar that cuts off the stalks of young plants near or below the ground when feeding on them at night. n.

Cu vier (kū'vē ā; French kŷ vyā'), Georges, 1769-1832. French naturalist who founded the science of comparative anatomy. n.

cwt., hundredweight.

-cy, suffix often added to a noun or adjective to form a noun:

1. office, position, or rank of, as in captaincy.

2. quality, state, condition, or fact of being, as in bankruptcy.

cy an a mide (sī an'ə mīd), a white, crystalline compound prepared by the action of ammonia on cyanogen chloride and in other ways. n.

cy an ic acid (sī an'ik), a colorless, poisonous liquid.

cy a nide (sī'ə nīd), salt of hydrocyanic acid, especially potassium cyanide, a powerful poison. n.

cy an o gen (sī an'ə jən), a colorless, poisonous, inflammable gas, with the odor of bitter almonds. n.

cy a no sis (sī'ə nō'sis), blueness or lividness of the skin, caused by lack of oxygen in the blood. n.

cy cad (sī'kad), a large, tropical, palmlike plant with a cluster of long, fernlike leaves either rising from an underground stem or borne at the top of a thick columnlike trunk. n.

Cyc la des (sik'lə dēz), group of Greek islands in the S Aegean Sea. 126,000 pop.; 1022 sq. mi. n.pl.

cyc la men (sik'lə mən), plant of the same family as the primrose, with heart-shaped leaves and showy white, purple, pink, or crimson flowers, whose five petals bend backwards. n.

cy cle (sī'kl), 1. period of time or complete process of growth or action that repeats itself in the same order: The seasons of the year—spring, summer, autumn, and winter—make a cycle. 2. a complete set or series. 3. pass through a cycle; occur over and over again in the same order. 4. all the stories, poems, legends, etc., about a great hero or event: There is a cycle of stories about the adventures of King Arthur and his knights. 5. a very long period of time; age. 6. bicycle, tricycle, etc. 7. ride a bicycle, tricycle, etc. 8. a complete or double alternation or reversal of an alternating electric current. 9. the series of strokes of a piston in the cylinder of an engine. 1,2,4-6,8,9 n., 3,7 v., cy cled, cy cling.

cy clic (sī'klīk or sīk'lik), 1. of a cycle. 2. moving or occurring in cycles. adj.

cy clist (sī'klist), Esp. Brit. rider of a bicycle, tricycle, etc. n.

cy clom e ter (sī klom'ə tər), instrument that measures the distance that a wheel travels. n.

cy clone (sī'klōn), 1. a very violent windstorm; tornado. 2. storm moving around and toward a calm center of low pressure, which also moves. n.

cy clon ic (sī klōn'ik), of or like a cyclone. adj.

Cy clo pe an (sī'klə pē'ən), 1. of or having to do with the Cyclopes. 2. huge; gigantic; massive. adj.

cy clo pe an (sī'klə pē'ən), huge; gigantic; massive. adj.

cy clo pe di a or cy clo pae di a (sī'klə pē'dē ə), book giving information on all branches of one subject. It is different from an encyclopedia in that it does not usually go beyond one field or classification of knowledge. n.

cy clo pe dic (sī'klə pē'dīk), 1. wide and varied. 2. having to do with a cyclopedia. adj.

Cy clops (sī'klops), in Greek mythology, one of a group of one-eyed giants. n., pl. Cy clo pes (sī klō'pēz).

cy clo ram a (sī'klə ram'ə), a large picture of a landscape, battle, etc., on the wall of a circular room. n.

cy clo tron (sī'klə trōn), an apparatus for giving very high speeds to electrically charged particles. The accelerated particles may be used to bombard, and to bring about changes in, atomic nuclei. n.

cyg net (sig'nit), a young swan. n.

cyl in der (sil'ən dər), 1. a solid bounded by two equal, parallel circles and a curved surface formed by moving a straight line of fixed length so that its ends always lie on the two parallel circles. 2. volume of such a solid. 3. any long, round object, solid or hollow, with flat ends: a cylinder of cardboard. 4. part of a revolver that contains chambers for cartridges. 5. the piston chamber of an engine. n.

cy lin dri c (sə lin'drik), cylindrical. adj.

cy lin dri cal (sə lin'drə kl), shaped like a cylinder; having the form of a cylinder. Silos, candles, and water pipes are usually cylindrical. adj. —cy lin'dri cal ly, adv.

cym bal (sim'bl), one of a pair of brass plates, used as a musical instrument. When cymbals are struck together, they make a loud, ringing sound. n.

cyme (sim), a flower cluster in which there is a flower at the top of the main stem and of each branch of the cluster. The flower in the center opens first. The sweet william has cymes. n.

cyn ic (sin'ik), 1. person inclined to believe that the motives for people's actions are insincere and selfish. 2. a sneering, sarcastic person. 3. cynical. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Cyn ic (sin'ik), 1. member of a group of ancient Greek philosophers who taught that self-control is the essential part of virtue. They despised pleasure, money, and personal comfort. 2. of or having to do with the Cynics or their doctrines. 1 n., 2 adj.

cyn i cal (sin'ə kl), 1. doubting the sincerity and goodness of others. 2. sneering; sarcastic. adj. —cyn/i cal ly, adv. —cyn/i cal ness, n.

cyn i cism (sin'ə siz əm), 1. cynical quality or disposition. 2. a cynical remark. n.

Cyn i cism (sin'ə siz əm), doctrines of the Cynics. n.

cy no sure (sī'nə shūr or sin'ə shūr), 1. center of attraction, interest, or attention. 2. something used for guidance or direction. n.

Cy no sure (sī'nə shūr or sin'ə shūr), 1. constellation containing the North Star. 2. North Star. n.

Cyn thi a (sin'thē ə), 1. Artemis or Diana, regarded as the goddess of the moon. 2. the moon. n.

cy pher (sī'fər), cipher. n., v.

cy press (sī'prəs), 1. an evergreen tree of the South, with hard wood and dark leaves. 2. its wood. n.

cyp ri noid (sip'rə noid), 1. any of a large group of fresh-water fishes, including the carps, suckers, goldfishes, breams, most fresh-water minnows, etc. 2. of or belonging to this group of fresh-water fishes. 1 n., 2 adj.

Cyp ri ot (sip'rē ət), 1. of or having to do with Cyprus. 2. native or inhabitant of Cyprus. 1 adj., 2 n.

cyp ri pe di um (sip'rə pē'dē əm), any of several orchids that have drooping flowers with a protruding saclike lip, including lady's-slippers, moccasin flowers, etc. n., pl. cyp ri pe di a (-dē ə).

Cy prus (sī'prəs), island and independent republic, a member of the British Commonwealth, in the E Mediterranean south of Turkey. 561,000 pop.; 3572 sq. mi., Capital: Nicosia. n.

Cyr e na i ca (sir'ə nā'ə kə), an ancient country in N Africa, west of Egypt. n.

Cy rus (sī'rəs) 1. died 529 B.C., king of Persia from 558? to 529 B.C. and founder of the Persian empire. He was called "Cyrus the Great." 2. died 401 B.C., Persian military leader. He was called "Cyrus the Younger." n.

cyst (sist), 1. an abnormal, saclike growth in animals or plants. Cysts usually contain liquid and diseased matter. 2. a saclike structure in animals or plants. n.

cyst ic (sis'tik), 1. of or like a cyst. 2. having a cyst or cysts. adj.

cy tol o gist (sī tol'ə jist), person who knows much about cytology. n.

cy tol o gy (sī tol'ə jē), branch of biology that deals with the formation, structure, and function of the cells of animals and plants. n.

cy to plas m (sī'tə plaz əm), the living substance or protoplasm of a cell, exclusive of the nucleus. n.

cy to plas mic (sī'tə plaz'mik), having to do with cytoplasm. adj.

C.Z., Canal Zone.

czar (zär), 1. emperor. It was the title of the former emperors of Russia. 2. autocrat; person with absolute power. n. Also, tsar, tzar.

cza ri na (zä rē'nə), wife of a czar; Russian empress. n. Also, tsarina, tzarina.

Czech (chek), 1. member of the most westerly branch of the Slavs. Bohemians, Moravians, and Silesians are Czechs. 2. their language; Bohemian. 3. of or having to do with Czechoslovakia, its language, or its people. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

Czech o slo vak or Czech o-Slo vak (chek'ə slō'vak or chek'ə slō'vāk), 1. of or having to do with Czechoslovakia, its people, or their language. 2. native or inhabitant of Czechoslovakia. 3. their language. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

Czech o slo va ki a or Czech o-Slo va ki a (chek'ə slō vā'kē ə or chek'ə slō vak'ē ə), country in central Europe. 15,564,000 pop.; 49,355 sq. mi. Capital: Prague. n.

Cylinder (def. 1)

Cymbals

Cyme

D

D or d (dē), the fourth letter of the alphabet. n., pl. D's or d's.

D, 1. Roman numeral that means 500. 2. deuterium. 3. diameter.

D., 1. December. 2. Democrat. 3. Dutch.

d., 1. died. 2. English penny; pence: 2d. = 2.3 cents. 3. diameter.

D.A., District Attorney.

dab (dab), 1. touch lightly; pat with something soft or moist; tap; peck: The girl dabbed at her face with a powder puff. 2. a quick, light touch or blow; a pat; tap; peck. 3. put on with light strokes. 4. a small, soft or moist mass: a dab of butter. 5. a little bit. 1,3 v., dabbed, dabbing; 2,4,5 n. —dab'ber, n.

dabble (dab'l), 1. dip (hands, feet, etc.) in and out of water; splash. 2. do superficially; work a little: dabble at painting, dabble in stocks. v., dab bled, dab bling. —dab'bler, n.

dace (dās), any of several small fresh-water fish. n., pl.

dac es or (esp. collectively) dace.

dachshund (däks'hünt' or dash'hünd'), dog of a German breed that is small, with a long body and very short legs. n.

Dachshund (about 8 in. high at the shoulder)

Dacia (dā'shə), ancient Roman province in S Europe. n.

Dacron (dä'kron), Trade-mark. a synthetic wrinkle- and abrasion-resistant fiber used for shirts, suits, etc. n.

dad (dad), Informal. father. n.

daddy (dād'ē), Informal. father. n., pl. dad dies.

dad dy-long legs (dād'ē lōng'legz'), U.S. animal that looks much like a spider, but does not bite; harvestman. n., pl. dad dy-long legs.

Daedalus (ded'l əs), in Greek legend, a skillful worker who made wings for flying and built the Labyrinth in Crete. n.

Daffodil (12 to 18 in. high) dæmon (dē'mən), demon. n.

daffodil (dāf'ə dil), 1. narcissus with yellow or white or partly white flowers and long, slender leaves. Its flower has a long, trumpet-shaped corona growing out from the center of the petals. 2. the flower. 3. yellow. n.

daft (daft), 1. silly; foolish. 2. crazy; insane. adj. —daft'ly, adv. —daft'ness, n.

Da Gama (də gā'mə or də gam'ə), Vasco, 1469?-1524, Portuguese navigator who first discovered a route from Europe to India by sailing around southern Africa.

dagger (dag'ər), 1. a small weapon with a short, pointed blade, used for stabbing. 2. sign (†) used in printing to refer the reader to a footnote, note at the back of the book, etc. n.

Dagger (def. 1)

look daggers at, look at with hatred or anger.

daguerreotype (də ger'ə tīp), 1. an early method of photography. The pictures were made on silvered metal plates. 2. picture made in this way. n.

dahlia (dal'yə or dāl'yə), 1. a tall plant of the same family as the aster, that has large, showy flowers in the autumn. 2. the flower. n.

Da homoy (də hō'mē), republic in W Africa on the Atlantic. 1,725,000 pop.; 43,252 sq. mi. Capital: Porto Novo. n.

Dail Eireann (dōl ār'ən or dōil ār'ən), the lower house of parliament of the Irish Republic.

daily (dā'lē), 1. done, happening, or appearing every day, or every day but Sunday: a daily paper, a daily visit. 2. newspaper appearing every day, or every day but Sunday. 3. every day; day by day. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. dailies; 3 adv.

daintiness (dān'tē nis), 1. being fresh, delicate, and pretty. 2. fineness of taste. n.

dainty (dān'tē), 1. having delicate beauty; fresh and pretty: a dainty flower. 2. having or showing delicate tastes and feeling; particular: She is dainty about her eating. 3. good to eat; delicious. 4. something very good to eat; a delicious bit of food. 1-3 adj., dain ti er, dain ti est; 4 n., pl. dain ties. —dain'ti ly, adv.

Dairen (dā'ren'), seaport in S Manchuria, on the Yellow Sea. 600,000. n.

dairy (dār'ē), 1. room or building where milk and cream are kept and made into butter and cheese. 2. farm where milk and cream are produced and butter and cheese made. 3. store or company that sells milk, cream, butter, and cheese. 4. business of producing milk and cream and making butter and cheese. n., pl. dair ies.

dairy cattle, cows kept for the milk they give.

dairy maid (dār'ē mād'), girl or woman who works in a dairy. n.

dairy man (dār'ē mən), 1. man who works in a dairy. 2. man who owns or manages a dairy. 3. man who sells milk, cream, butter, and cheese. n., pl. dair y men.

dais (dā'is), a raised platform at one end of a hall or large room. A throne, seats of honor, a lecture desk, etc., are set on a dais. n.

daisy (dā'zē), 1. plant of the same family as the aster, whose flowers or petals are usually white or pink around a yellow center. 2. a tall plant of the same family, whose flower heads have a yellow disk and white rays; the common "white daisy" of the United States. 3. the flower of either of these plants. n., pl. dai sies.

Dakar (dā kār'), seaport and capital of Senegal. 235,000. n.

Dakota (də kō'tə), 1. North Dakota or South Dakota. 2. member of an American Indian tribe living on the plains of the N United States and S Canada. n.

Dalai Lama (dā lī' lā'mə), the chief priest of the religion of Lamaism in Tibet and Mongolia. Also, Grand Lama.

dale (dāl), valley. n.

Dallas (dal'əs), city in NE Texas. 680,000. n.

dalles (dalz), in the western United States, rapids flowing over a flat rock bottom in a narrowed portion of a river. n.pl.

dalliance (dal'ē əns), 1. flirtation. 2. a playing; trifling. n.

dally (dal'ē), 1. act in a playful manner: The spring breeze dallies with the flowers. 2. flirt (with danger, temptation, a person, etc.); trifle: He dallied with the offer for days, but finally refused it. 3. be idle; loiter: Tom was late because he dallied along the way. 4. waste (time): James dallied away the afternoon. v., dal lied, dal ly ing.

Dalmatia (dal mā'shə), region in W Yugoslavia, along the Adriatic Sea. n.

Dalmatian (dal mā'shən), a large, short-haired dog, usually white with black spots; coach dog. n.

Dalmatian (20 in. high at the shoulder)

Dalton (dōlt'n), John, 1766-1844, English chemist and physicist, who contributed greatly to the modern atomic theory. n.

hat, āge, cāre, fār; let, bē, tērm; it, īce; hot, gō, ōrder; oil, out; cup, pūt, rüle, ūse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʒh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken, i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

dam¹ (dam), 1. wall built to hold back flowing water. 2. water held back by a dam. 3. anything resembling a dam. 4. provide with a dam; hold back (water, etc.) by means of a dam. 5. hold back; block up. 1-3 n., 4, 5 v., dammed, dam ming. —dam'like', adj.

dam² (dam), 1. the female parent of four-footed animals. 2. mother. n.

dam age (dam'ij), 1. harm or injury that lessens value or usefulness: The accident did very little damage to the car. 2. harm or injury so as to lessen value or usefulness; harm; hurt: I damaged my sweater in football practice. 3. Slang cost; price. 1, 3 n., 2 v., dam aged, dam aging. —dam'age a ble, adj. —dam'ag ing ly, adv.

Damas cus (da mas'kəs), capital of Syria; a very ancient trading center, famous for its metalwork and fine fabrics. 395,000. n.

Damascus steel, a kind of ornamented steel, used in making swords, etc.

dam ask (dam'ask), 1. reversible linen, silk, or cotton fabric with woven designs: hangings of damask. 2. linen material of this type used especially for tablecloths and napkins. 3. made of damask. 4. pink; rose-colored: damask cheeks. 5. a rose color; pink. 1, 2, 5 n., 3, 4 adj.

dame (dām), 1. lady; madam (used especially in titles): Dame Fortune. 2. an elderly woman. 3. Slang. woman. 4. title given to a woman who has received an honorable rank corresponding to that of a knight. 5. the legal title of the wife or widow of a knight or baronet. n.

damn (dam), 1. declare (something) to be bad or inferior; condemn. 2. cause to fail; ruin. 3. doom to eternal punishment; condemn to hell. 4. swear or swear at by saying "damn"; curse. 5. a saying of "damn"; a curse. 1-4 v., 5 n.

damn with faint praise, praise with so little enthusiasm as to condemn.

dam na ble (dam'nə bl), 1. abominable; outrageous; detestable. 2. deserving damnation. adj. —dam'nə bly, adv.

dam na tion (dam nā'shən), 1. a damning or being damned; condemnation. 2. condemnation to eternal punishment. 3. curse. n.

damned (damd), 1. condemned as bad or inferior. 2. doomed to eternal punishment. 3. cursed; abominable. 4. very. 1-3 adj., 4 adv.

the damned, the souls in hell.

Dam o cles (dam'ə klēz), flatterer and courtier of Dionysius, king of Syracuse, who glorified the happiness and riches of kings. Dionysius gave a banquet for Damocles, which Damocles enjoyed until he saw a sword hung by a single hair above his head to show him the constant danger surrounding kings. n.

Da mon (dā'mən), in Roman legend, a man who pledged his life for his friend Pythias, who was sentenced to death. n.

damp (damp), 1. slightly wet; moist: This house is damp in rainy weather. 2. moisture. 3. make moist or slightly wet. 4. thing that checks or deadens. 5. check; deaden. 6. any harmful gas that collects in mines, such as chokedamp or firedamp. 1 adj., 2, 4, 6 n., 3, 5 v. —damp'ly, adv. —damp'ness, n.

damp en (dam'pən), 1. make or become damp; moisten: Mother dampens clothes before she irons them. 2. deaden; depress; discourage: The bad news dampened our spirits. v. —damp'en er, n.

damp er (dam'pər), 1. person or thing that discourages or depresses. 2. a movable plate to control the draft in a stove or furnace. 3. device for checking vibration, especially of piano strings. n.

dam sel (dam'zl), girl; maiden. n.

Dam

dam son (dam'zən), 1. a small, dark-purple plum. 2. tree that it grows on. n.

Dan (dan), 1. a Hebrew tribe that migrated to N Palestine. 2. city in N Israel. n.

from Dan to Beersheba, from one end of a place to the other.

Dan, Daniel.

Da na (dā'nə), Richard Henry, 1815-1882, author of Two Years Before the Mast. n.

dance (dāns), 1. move in rhythm, usually in time with music: Helen can dance very well. 2. movement in rhythm, usually in time with music. 3. some special group of steps, etc.: The waltz and fox trot are well-known dances. 4. do or take part in (a dance). 5. one round of dancing. 6. piece of music for dancing. 7. party where people dance. 8. jump up and down; move in a lively way: See that boat dancing on the water. 9. bob up and down. 10. movement up and down; lively movement. 11. of dancing; for dancing. 1, 4, 8, 9 v., danced, danc ing; 2, 3, 5-7, 10 n., 11 adj. —danc'ing ly, adv.

dance attendance on, wait on often and attentively; be excessively polite and obedient to.

danc er (dan'sər), 1. person who dances. 2. person whose occupation is dancing. n.

dan de li on (dan'dl ī'ən), weed with deeply notched leaves and bright-yellow flowers. n.

dan dle (dan'dl), 1. move (a child) up and down on one's knees or in one's arms. 2. pet; pamper. v., dandled, dan dling. —dan'dler, n.

dan druff (dan'drəf), small, whitish scales that form on the scalp. n.

dand y (dan'dē), 1. man who is too careful of his dress and appearance. 2. of a dandy; too carefully dressed. 3. Slang. an excellent or first-rate thing. 4. Slang. excellent; first-rate. 1, 3 n., pl. dan dies; 2, 4 adj., dan di er, dan di est.

Dane (dān), native or inhabitant of Denmark. n.

dan ger (dān'jər), 1. chance of harm; nearness to harm; risk: A soldier's life is full of danger. 2. thing that may cause harm: Hidden rocks are a danger to ships. n.

dan ger ous (dān'jər əs), likely to cause harm; not safe; risky. adj. —dan'ger ous ly, adv. —dan'ger ous ness, n.

dan gle (dān'gl), 1. hang and swing loosely: The curtain cord dangles. 2. hold or carry (a thing) so that it swings loosely: The nurse dangled the toys in front of the baby. 3. hang about; follow: Flo had several boys dangling after her. 4. cause to dangle. v., dan gled, dan gling. —dan'gler, n.

Dan iel (dan'yəl), 1. a Hebrew prophet whose great faith in God kept him unharmed in the lion's den. Daniel 6:16-27. 2. book of the Bible that tells about him. n.

Dan ish (dān'ish), 1. of or having to do with the Danes, their language, or Denmark. 2. language of the Danes. 1 adj., 2 n.

dank (dangk), unpleasantly damp; moist; wet: The cave was dank, dank, and chilly. adj. —dank'ly, adv. —dank'ness, n.

dan seuse (dān səz'), a woman dancer in a ballet. n., pl. dan seuses (-səz').

Dan te (dan'tē or dān'tā), 1265-1321, famous Italian poet, author of the Divine Comedy. n.

Dan ube (dan'üb), river flowing from S West Germany through Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, and Romania into the Black Sea. 1725 mi. n. —Dan u'bi-an, adj.

Dan zig (dant'sig), seaport in N Poland, on the Baltic Sea near the mouth of the Vistula River. It was a free city from 1920 to 1939. 275,000. n.

Daphne (dăf'nē), in Greek legend, a nymph pursued by Apollo, whom she escaped by being changed into a laurel tree. n.

dapper (dap'ər), 1. neat; trim; spruce. 2. small and active. adj. —dapperly, adv. —dapperness, n.

dapple (dap'l), 1. spotted: a dapple horse. 2. a spotted appearance or condition. 3. animal with a spotted or mottled skin. 4. mark or become marked with spots. 1 adj., 2,3 n., 4 v., dappled, dappling.

dappled (dap'ld), spotted. adj.

dapple-gray (dap'l grā'), gray with spots of darker gray. adj.

D.A.R., Daughters of the American Revolution, a society of women who are descended from Americans who fought in the Revolution.

Dardanelles (därd'-n elz'), strait between Europe and Asia, connecting the Sea of Marmara with the Aegean Sea. In ancient times it was called the Hellespont. 40 mi. long; 1-5 mi. wide. n.

dare (där), 1. have courage; be bold; be bold enough: He does not dare to jump from that wall. 2. have courage for; not be afraid of; be bold enough for: The explorer dared the dangers of the icy north. 3. meet and resist; face and defy. 4. challenge: I dare you to jump (v.). Will you take the dare? (n.) 1-4 v., dared or durst, dared, daring; 4 n. —dar'er, n. I dare say, probably; maybe.

daredevil (där'dev'l), 1. a reckless person. 2. reckless. 1 n., 2 adj.

Dar es Salaam (där'es sə läm'), seaport and capital of Tanzania, in E Africa. 129,000.

Darien (där'ēn or där'ēn'), 1. Isthmus of, a former name of the Isthmus of Panama. 2. Gulf of, gulf of the Caribbean Sea, between Panama and Colombia. n.

daring (där'ing), 1. courage to take risks; boldness. 2. courageous; bold. 1 n., 2 adj. —daringly, adv. —daringness, n.

Darius I (dä rī'əs), 558?-486? B.C., king of Persia from 521 to 486? B.C. He was called "Darius the Great."

dark (därk), 1. without light; with very little light: a dark night. 2. absence of light. 3. night; nightfall. 4. not light-colored: a dark complexion. 5. nearly black: a dark green. 6. a dark color. 7. hard to understand or explain: a dark chapter in a book. 8. secret; hidden: a dark plan. 9. obscurity. 10. secrecy. 11. ignorant. 12. ignorance. 13. evil; wicked: a dark deed. 14. gloomy; dull; dismal: a dark day. 15. sad; sullen; frowning: a dark face. 1,4,5,7,8,11,13-15 adj., 2,3,6,9,10,12 n. —darkly, adv. —darkness, n.

after dark, after night has fallen.

in the dark, without knowledge or information.

keep dark, keep silent; not tell about.

Dark Ages or dark ages, 1. the early part of the Middle Ages, from about 500 A.D. to about 1000 A.D. 2. period between ancient and modern times, from about 500 A.D. to about 1450 A.D.; the Middle Ages.

Dark Continent, Africa.

darken (där'kən), make or become dark or darker. v.

dark horse, 1. an unexpected winner that little is known about. 2. person who is unexpectedly nominated for a political office.

darkish (där'kish), somewhat dark. adj.

dark lantern, lantern whose light can be hidden by a cover or dark glass.

darkling (därk'ling), 1. in the dark. 2. dark. 1 adv., 2 adj.

dark room (därk'rüm'), room arranged for developing photographs. It usually has a very dim, colored light. n.

dark some (därk'səm), Poetic. 1. dark. 2. gloomy. adj.

darling (där'ling), 1. person very dear to another; person much loved. 2. very dear. 1 n., 2 adj.

Darling (där'ling), river flowing from SE Australia into the Murray River. 1160 mi. n.

Darmstadt (därm'shtät), city in West Germany. 124,000. n.

darn (därn), 1. mend by making rows of stitches back and forth across a hole, torn place, etc. 2. act of darning. 3. place mended by darning. 1 v., 2,3 n.

darn (därn), Informal. damn; curse. v., n.

dar nel (där'nəl), weed that looks somewhat like rye. It often grows in grain fields. n.

darning (där'ning), 1. act of mending with stitches. 2. articles darned or to be darned. n.

darning needle, 1. a long needle with a large eye for heavy thread used for darning. 2. dragonfly.

dart (därt), 1. a slender, pointed weapon to be thrown or shot. 2. throw or shoot suddenly and quickly: The savages darted spears at the lion. 3. a sudden, swift movement. 4. move suddenly and swiftly: The deer saw us and darted away. 5. send suddenly: She darted an angry glance at her sister. 6. the stinger of an insect. 7. seam to make a garment fit better. 8. a sharp look, word, etc. 1,3,6-8 n., 2,4,5 v.

Dart (def.1)

Darwin (där'wən), Charles, 1809-1882, English scientist, famous for his theory of evolution. n.

dash (dash), 1. throw: We dashed water over him. 2. splash: She dashed some paint on the paper and called it a tree. 3. rush: They dashed by in a car. 4. strike violently against something. 5. smash: He dashed the bowl to bits on a rock. 6. ruin: Our hopes were dashed. 7. depress; discourage. 8. thing that depresses or discourages; check: The accident was a dash to our hopes. 9. mix with a small amount of something else. 10. a small amount: Put in just a dash of pepper. 11. a short race: the hundred-yard dash. 12. mark (—) used in writing or printing to show a break in sense, parenthetical material, omitted letters or words, etc. 13. a long sound used in sending messages by telegraph or radio. 14. energy; spirit; liveliness. 15. showy appearance or behavior. 1-7,9 v., 2,3,5,8,10-15 n.

dash off, do, make, write, etc., quickly.

dasher (dash'ər), 1. one that dashes. 2. device for stirring the cream in a churn or ice-cream freezer. n.

dash ing (dash'ing), 1. full of energy and spirit; lively. 2. showy. adj. —dash'ing ly, adv.

das tard (das'tərd), 1. a mean coward; sneak. 2. mean and cowardly; sneaking. 1 n., 2 adj.

das tard ly (das'tərd lē), like a dastard; mean and cowardly; sneaking. adj. —das'tard li ness, n.

da ta (dä'tə or dat'ə), things known or granted; information from which conclusions can be drawn; facts: Names, ages, and other data about the class are written in the teacher's classbook. n. pl. of datum.

date (dät), 1. time when something happens: 1492 is the date of the discovery of America by Columbus. 2. statement of time: There is a date on every piece of U.S. money. 3. mark with a date; put a date on: Please date your letter. 4. find out the date of; give a date to. 5. be dated; have a date on it. 6. period of time: At that date there were no airplanes. 7. belong to a certain period of time; have its origin: That house dates from the 18th century. 8. U.S. Informal. appointment for a certain time. 9. Informal. person of the opposite sex with whom an appointment is made. 10. Informal. make a social appointment with (a person of the opposite sex). 1,2,6,8,9 n., 3-5,7,10 v., dat ed, dat ing.

out of date, old-fashioned; not in present use.

to date, till now; yet.

up to date, 1. to the present time. 2. modern; according to the latest style or idea.

date² (dāt), 1. the oblong, fleshy, sweet fruit of a kind of palm tree. 2. date palm.

dated (dāt'id), 1. marked with a date; showing a date on it. 2. out-of-date. adj.

date less (dāt'lis), 1. without a date; not dated. 2. endless; unlimited. 3. so old that it cannot be given a date. 4. old but still admirable, in good style, etc. adj.

date line, 1. an imaginary line agreed upon as the place where each calendar day first begins. It runs north and south through the Pacific, mostly along the 180th meridian. When it is Sunday just east of the date line, it is Monday just west of it. 2. line in a letter, newspaper, etc., giving the date and place of writing.

date palm, a palm tree on which dates grow.

dative (dā'tiv), 1. showing the indirect object of a verb. In "Give me the book," me is the dative case. Most English grammars now include the dative and the accusative cases under the general term objective case. 2. the dative case. 3. word in this case. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

datum (dā'tam or dat'əm), fact from which conclusions can be drawn. n., pl. data.

dau., daughter.

daub (dōb), 1. coat or cover with plaster, clay, mud, etc. 2. apply (greasy or sticky stuff). 3. anything daubed on. 4. make dirty; soil; stain. 5. paint unskillfully. 6. a badly painted picture. 1, 2, 4, 5 v., 3, 6 n. —dauber, n.

daughter (dō'tər), 1. a female child (immediate descendant of parents). 2. a female descendant. 3. girl or woman thought of as related to something in the same way that a child is related to its parents. 4. anything thought of as a daughter in relation to its origin. n.

daughter element, an element produced by the decay of a radioactive element.

daughter-in-law (dō'tər in lō'), wife of one's son. n., pl. daughters-in-law.

daughter ly (dō'tər lē), 1. of a daughter. 2. like that of a daughter. 3. proper for a daughter. adj.

daunt (dōnt), frighten; discourage: Danger did not daunt the hero. v.

dauntless (dōnt'lis), not to be frightened or discouraged; brave: He is a dauntless aviator. adj. —dauntlessly, adv.

dauphin (dō'fēn), title of the oldest son of the king of France, from 1349 to 1830. n.

davenport (dav'ən pōrt), 1. U.S. a long couch with back and ends. Some davenports can be made into beds. 2. a writing desk with drawers and a hinged shelf to write on. n.

Dav en port (dav'ən pōrt), 1. John, 1597-1670, Puritan clergyman. He was a founder of the colony of New Haven, Connecticut, in 1638. 2. city in E Iowa, on the Mississippi. 89,000. n.

Dav id (dā'vid), 1. in the Bible, the second king of Israel, who organized the Jewish tribes into a national state. 2. Saint, died 601? A.D., patron saint of Wales. n.

da Vin ci (dā vin'chē), Leonardo, 1452-1519, Italian painter, sculptor, architect, and scientist.

Date palm (40 to 80 ft. high)

Davis (dā'vis), 1. Jefferson, 1808-1889, president of the Confederate States of America from 1861 to 1865.

2. Richard Harding, 1864-1916, American writer. n.

Davis Strait, strait in the Atlantic between Canada and Greenland. 200-500 mi. wide.

davit (dav'it or dā'vit), 1. one of a pair of curved arms at the side of a ship, used to hold or lower a small boat. 2. crane for raising or lowering the anchor of a ship. n.

Davy (dā'vē), Sir Humphry, 1778-1829, English chemist. n.

Davy Jones (dā'vē jōnz'), spirit of the sea; the sailor's devil.

Davy Jones's locker, grave of those who die at sea; bottom of the ocean.

daw (dō), a jackdaw. n.

dawdle (dōd'l), waste time; idle; loiter: Don't dawdle over your work. v., dawdled, dawdling. —dawdler, n.

dawn (dōn), 1. break of day; the first light in the east. 2. beginning: before the dawn of history. 3. grow bright or clear: Day dawns in the east. 4. grow clear to the eye or mind: The ocean dawned on our view. 5. begin; appear: A new era is dawning. 1, 2 n., 3-5 v.

day (dā), 1. time between sunrise and sunset: Days are longer in summer than in winter. 2. light of day; daylight: a cloudy day, a sunny day. 3. the 24 hours of day and night. 4. a certain day on which something happened, set aside for a particular purpose or for celebration: Christmas Day. 5. hours for work: an eight-hour day. 6. time; period: the present day, in days of old. 7. period of life, activity, power, or influence: He has had his day. 8. conflict; contest. 9. victory. n.

win the day, win the game, battle, or contest.

day break (dā'brāk'), dawn; time when it first begins to get light in the morning. n.

day coach, U.S. an ordinary railroad passenger car.

day dream (dā'drēm'), 1. dreamy thinking about pleasant things. 2. a pleasant plan or fancy, unlikely to come true. 3. think dreamily about pleasant things. 1, 2 n., 3 v.

day light (dā'līt'), 1. light of day: Lamplight is not as good for the eyes as daylight. 2. daytime. 3. dawn; daybreak: He was up at daylight. 4. publicity; openness. 5. open space; gap. n.

daylight-saving time, time that is one hour faster than standard time. It gives more daylight after working hours. Clocks are set ahead one hour in the spring and back one hour in the fall.

day long (dā'lōng'), through the whole day. adj., adv.

day nursery, U.S. nursery for the care of small children during the day.

day school, 1. school held in the daytime. 2. a private school for students who live at home.

days of grace, three extra days allowed for payment after a bill or note falls due.

day spring (dā'spring'), dawn; daybreak. n.

day time (dā'tīm'), time when it is day. n.

Day ton (dāt'n), city in SW Ohio. 262,000. n.

daze (dāz), 1. confuse; bewilder; cause to feel stupid; stun: He was so dazed by the blow on his head that he could not find his way home. 2. dazzle. 3. a dazed condition; bewilderment: He was in a daze and could not understand what was happening. 1, 2 v., dazed, dazing; 3 n.

dazzle (daz'l), 1. confuse, dim, or overpower (the eyes) with too bright light or with quick-moving lights: To look straight at the sun dazzles the eyes. 2. overcome (the sight or the mind) by brightness, display, etc.: The poor little girl was dazzled by the richness of her new home. 3. act or fact of dazzling; bewildering brightness: the dazzle of powerful electric lights. 1, 2 v., dazed, dazling, dazling; 3 n. —daz'zling ly, adv. —daz'zler, n.

D.C., 1. District of Columbia. 2. direct current.

d.c., direct current.

D.D., Doctor of Divinity.

D-day (dē'dā'), day on which a previously planned

Davits (def. 1)

military attack is to be made, or on which an operation is to be started. n.

D.D.S., Doctor of Dental Surgery.

DDT or D.D.T., the symbol for a kind of odorless and very powerful insecticide.

de-, prefix meaning:

1. do the opposite of, as in decamp, deforest, decentralize, demobilize.

2. down, as in depress, descend.

3. away; off, as in deport, detract.

4. (take) away, as in debunk.

5. entirely; completely, as in despoil.

dea con (dē'kən), 1. officer of a church who helps the minister in church duties not connected with the preaching. 2. member of the clergy next below a priest in rank. n.

dea con ess (dē'kən is), woman who is an official assistant in church work, especially in caring for the sick and the poor. n.

dead (ded), 1. no longer living; that has died: The flowers in my garden are dead. 2. without life. 3. like death: in a dead faint. 4. not active; dull; quiet. 5. without force, power, spirit, or feeling. 6. no longer in use: dead languages. 7. out of play; not in the game: a dead ball. 8. Informal. very tired; worn-out. 9. sure; certain: a dead shot. 10. complete; absolute: a dead loss. 11. completely; absolutely: You are dead right. 12. directly; straight: Walk dead ahead two miles. 13. dead person or persons. The dead means all who no longer have life. 14. time of greatest darkness, cold, etc.: the dead of night. 1-10 adj., 11, 12 adv., 13, 14 n. —dead/ness, n.

dead en (ded'n), 1. make dull or weak; lessen the intensity or force of: Some medicines are given to deaden pain. The force of the blow was deadened by his heavy clothing. 2. make soundproof: Thick walls deaden the noises from the street. v.

dead end, street, passage, etc., closed at one end.

dead eye (ded'ī), a round, flat, wooden block that is used to fasten the shrouds of a ship. n.

dead fall (ded'fōl'), 1. trap for animals made so that a heavy weight falls upon and holds or kills the animal. 2. mass of fallen trees and underbrush. n.

dead heat, race that ends in a tie.

dead letter, 1. an unclaimed letter; letter that cannot be delivered because of a wrong address, etc. 2. law, rule, etc., that is not enforced.

dead line (ded'lin'), 1. time limit; the latest possible time to do something. 2. line or boundary that must not be crossed. n.

dead lock (ded'lok'), 1. a complete standstill: Employers and strikers were at a deadlock.

2. bring or come to a complete standstill. 1 n., 2 v.

dead ly (ded'lē), 1. causing death; liable to cause death; fatal: a deadly wound, the deadly berries of a poisonous bush. 2. like death: deadly paleness (adj.), deadly pale (adv.). 3. until death: The deadly enemies had a fierce hatred for each other. 4. causing death of the spirit: deadly sin. 5. Informal. extreme; intense. 6. Informal. extremely. 7. as if dead. 1-5 adj., dead li er, dead li est; 2, 6, 7 adv.

dead pan, Informal. an expressionless face.

dead reckoning, calculation of a ship's location without observations of the sun, stars, etc., by using a compass and studying the record of the voyage.

Dead Sea, a salt lake between Israel and Jordan. 46 mi. long; 10 mi. wide; 1293 ft. below sea level. See Nazareth for map.

dead weight, 1. the heavy weight of anything inert. 2. a very great or oppressive burden.

deaf (def), 1. not able to hear. 2. not able to hear well. 3. not willing to hear; heedless: A miser is deaf to all re- quests for money. adj. —deaf/ly, adv. —deaf/ness, n. deaf and dumb, unable to hear and speak.

deafen (def'an), 1. make deaf. 2. stun with noise. 3. drown out by a louder sound. 4. make soundproof. v. —deaf/en ing ly, adv.

deaf-mute (def'mūt'), person who is deaf and dumb. n.

deal (dēl), 1. have to do: Arithmetic deals with numbers. 2. occupy oneself; take action: The courts deal with those who break the laws. 3. act; behave: Deal fairly with everyone. 4. do business; buy and sell: A butcher deals in meat. 5. Informal. bargain; business arrangement: If you buy this television set now, I can give you a good deal. 6. give: One fighter dealt the other a blow. 7. give a share of to each; distribute. 8. distribution; arrangement; plan: a new deal, a square deal. 9. distribute (playing cards). 10. in card playing, the distribution of cards. 11. a player's turn to deal. 12. time during which one deal of cards is being played. 13. quantity; amount: I took a deal of trouble. 1-4, 6, 7, 9 v., dealt, dealing; 5, 8, 10-13 n.

a good deal or a great deal, 1. a large amount: He spends a great deal of money. 2. to a great extent or degree; much: He smokes a good deal.

deal (dēl), 1. board of pine or fir wood, usually more than 7 inches wide and 6 feet long. 2. pine or fir wood. 3. made of deal. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

dealer (dēl'ər), 1. man who trades; any person engaged in buying and selling. 2. person who distributes the cards to the players. n.

dealing (dēl'ing), 1. way of doing business. 2. way of acting; behavior toward others: Mr. Just is honored for his fair dealing. 3. distribution of playing cards, etc. n.

dealings, 1. business relations. 2. friendly relations.

dealt (delt), pt. and pp. of deal. The knight dealt his enemy a blow. The cards are dealt. v.

dean (dēn), 1. member of the faculty of a college or university who has charge of the behavior or studies of the students. 2. head of a division or school in a college or university. 3. a high official of a church. A dean is often in charge of a cathedral. 4. member who has belonged to a group longest. n.

dean ery (dēn'ər ē), 1. position or authority of a dean. 2. residence of a dean. n., pl. dean eries.

dear (dir), 1. much loved; precious: His sister was very dear to him. 2. a dear one: "Come, my dear," said mother. 3. with affection; fondly. 4. much valued; highly esteemed. Dear is used as a polite form of address at the beginning of letters: Dear Sir: 5. high-priced; costly: Fruit is still too dear to can. 6. at a high price; at a great cost. 7. exclamation of surprise, trouble, etc.: Oh, dear! My head aches. 1, 4, 5 adj., 2 n., 3, 6 adv., 7 interj. —dear/ly, adv. —dear/ness, n.

Dear born (dir'bōrn), 1. Fort, a former American fort built on the site of Chicago in 1804. 2. city in SE Michigan, near Detroit. 112,000. n.

dearth (dérth), 1. scarcity; lack; too small a supply. 2. scarcity of food; famine. n.

dear y or dear ie (dir'ē), Informal. a dear one; darling. n., pl. dear ies.

death (deth), 1. act or fact of dying; the ending of any form of life in people, animals, or plants. 2. any ending that is like dying. 3. being dead. 4. any condition like being dead. 5. cause of death. 6. bloodshed; murder. n.

Death (deth), power that destroys life, often represented as a skeleton dressed in black and carrying a scythe. n.

death bed (deth'bed'), 1. bed on which a person dies. 2. the last hours of life. 3. during the last hours of life: The murderer made a deathbed confession. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

death blow (deth'blō'), 1. blow that kills. 2. thing that puts an end (to something). n.

D, dead eye

death cup, a very poisonous mushroom that has a cuplike enlargement at the base of the stem.

death house, U.S. place where condemned prisoners are kept until put to death.

death less (deth'lis), never dying; living forever; immortal; eternal. adj. —death/less ness, n.

death like (deth'lik'), like that of death: a deathlike silence. adj.

death ly (deth'lē), 1. like that of death. 2. causing death; deadly. 3. Poetic. of death. 4. as if dead. 5. extremely: deathly ill. 1-3 adj., 4, 5 adv.

death mask, clay, wax, or plaster likeness of a person's face made from a cast taken after his death.

death rate, proportion of the number of deaths per year to the total population or to some other stated number.

death's-head (deths'hed'), a human skull, used as a symbol of death. n.

death trap (deth'trap'), 1. an unsafe building or structure where the risk of fire is great. 2. a very dangerous situation. n.

Death Valley, valley in E California. It is the lowest land in the Western Hemisphere. 276 ft. below sea level.

de ba cle (dā bā'kl or di bak'/l), 1. disaster; overthrow; downfall. 2. the breaking up of ice in a river. 3. a violent rush of waters carrying debris. n.

de bar (di bār'), bar out; shut out; prevent; prohibit: John was debarrd from playing on the school team because his work had been so poor. v., de barred, de bar ring. —de bar/ment, n.

de bark (di bārk'), go or put ashore from a ship or aircraft; disembark. v.

de bar ka tion (dē'bār kā'shən), a debarking or being debarked; landing from a ship or aircraft. n.

de base (di bās'), make low or lower; lessen the value of: He debased himself and his character by evil actions. The country's paper money was debased when the government could no longer give the full amount of gold or silver for it. v., de based, de bas ing.

de base ment (di bās'mənt), act of debasing; being debased: Debasement of coinage is brought about by increasing the alloy in coins. n.

de bat a ble (di bāt'ə bl), 1. capable of being debated; open to debate. To be debatable a topic must have at least two sides. 2. not decided; in dispute. adj.

de bate (di bāt'), 1. discuss reasons for and against (something); consider: I am debating buying a car. 2. discussion of reasons for and against: There has been much debate about the best boy to choose for captain. 3. argue about (a question, topic, etc.) in a public meeting. 4. a public argument for and against a question in a meeting. A formal debate is a contest between two sides to see which one has more skill in speaking and reasoning. 1, 3 v., de bat ed, de bat ing; 2, 4 n. —de bat'er, n.

de bauch (di bōch'), 1. lead away from duty, virtue, or morality; corrupt morally; seduce. 2. corrupt; pervert; deprave. 3. excessive indulgence in sensual pleasures; excess in eating or drinking. 4. bout or period of debauchery. 1, 2 v., 3, 4 n. —de bauch'er, n. —de bauch/ment, n.

de bauch ery (di bōch'ər ē), 1. excessive indulgence in sensual pleasures. 2. departure from duty, virtue, or morality. n., pl. de bauch er ies.

de ben ture (di ben'char), a written acknowledgment of a debt. A common kind of debenture is a bond issued by a company acknowledging indebtedness for a sum on which interest is due until the principal is paid. n.

de bil i tate (di bil'ə tāt), weaken: A hot, wet climate is debilitating to many people. v., de bil i tat ed, de bil i tat ing. —de bil i ta/tion, n.

de bil i ty (di bil'ə tē), weakness: Long illness may cause general debility. n., pl. de bil i ties.

deb it (deb'it), 1. entry of something owed in an account. 2. the left-hand side of an account where such entries are made. 3. enter on the debit side of an account. 4. charge with or as a debt: Debit his account $500. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 v.

deb o nair or deb o naire (deb'ə nār'), 1. gay; cheerful. 2. pleasant; courteous. adj. —deb'o nair'/ly, adv.

de bouch (di būsh'), come out from a narrow or confined place into open country: The soldiers debouched from the valley into the plain. v.

De bre cen (de'bre tsen), city in eastern Hungary. 130,000. n.

de bris or dé bris (də brē'), 1. scattered fragments; ruins; rubbish: The street was covered with debris from the explosion. 2. a mass of fragments of rock, etc.: the debris left by a glacier. n.

debt (det), 1. something owed to another. 2. liability or obligation to pay or render something: be in debt to the grocer, get out of debt. 3. sin. n.

debt of honor, a betting or gambling debt.

debt or (det'ər), person who owes something to another: If I borrow a dollar from you, I am your debtor. n.

de bunk (di bungk'), remove nonsense or sentimentality from. v. —de bunk'er, n.

de but or dé but (dā'bū), 1. a first public appearance: an actor's debut on the stage. 2. a first formal appearance in society. n.

deb u tante or dé bu tante (deb'yū tānt), 1. girl during her first season in society. 2. woman making a debut. n.

Dec., December.

dec ade (dek'ād), 1. ten years: From 1900 to 1910 was a decade. Two decades is twenty years. 2. group of ten. n.

de ca dence (di kād'ns or dek'ə dāns), a falling off; decline; decay: The decadence of morals was one of the causes of the fall of Rome. n.

de ca dent (di kād'nt or dek'ə dānt), 1. falling off; declining; growing worse. 2. a decadent person. 1 adj., 2 n.

dec a gon (dek'ə gon), a plane figure having 10 angles and 10 sides. n.

dec a gram (dek'ə gram), weight equal to 10 grams or 0.3527 ounce. n.

dec a he dron (dek'ə hē'drən), a solid figure having ten flat, sharp-angled surfaces. n., pl. dec a he drons, dec a he dra (-drā).

dec a li ter or dec a li tre (dek'ə lē'tər), measure of volume equal to 10 liters, 9.08 quarts U.S. dry measure or 2.64 gallons U.S. liquid measure. n.

Dec a logue or Dec a log (dek'ə lōg), the Ten Commandments. Exodus 20:2-17. n.

dec a logue or dec a log (dek'ə lōg), any set of ten commandments. n.

dec a me ter or dec a me tre (dek'ə mē'tər), measure of length equal to 10 meters, or 32.8 feet. n.

de camp (di kəmp'), 1. depart quickly, secretly, or without ceremony. 2. leave a camp. v. —de camp/ment, n.

de cant (di kant'), 1. pour off (liquor or a solution) gently without disturbing the sediment. 2. pour from one container to another. v.

de cant er (di kan'tər), a glass bottle with a stopper, used for serving wine or liquor. n.

de cap i tate (di kap'ə tāt), cut off the head of; behead. v., de cap i tat ed, de cap i tat ing. —de cap i ta/tion, n.

dec a pod (dek'ə pod), 1. crustacean having ten legs or arms, such as lobsters and crabs. 2. mollusk having ten arms or tentacles, such as squid and cuttlefish. 3. having ten legs or arms. 1, 2 n., 3 adj.

de cath lon (di kath'lōn), an athletic contest having ten parts, such as racing, jumping, throwing the javelin, etc. The person who has the highest total score is the winner. n.

De ca tur (di kă'tər), 1. Stephen, 1779-1820, American naval officer. 2. city in central Illinois. 78,000. n.
de cay (di kă'), 1. rot: The old fruits and vegetables decayed. Her teeth decayed because they were not taken care of. 2. a rotting. 3. grow less in power, strength, wealth, beauty, etc.: The power of the Roman Empire was decaying at the time of Nero. 4. loss of power, strength, wealth, beauty, etc. 5. loss in quantity of a radioactive substance through disintegration of its component nuclei. 1,3 v., 2,4,5 n.

Dec can (dek'ən), 1. peninsula that makes up the southern part of India. 2. region on this peninsula. n.

de cease (di sēs'), 1. death. 2. die. 1 n., 2 v., deceased, de ceasing.

de ceased (di sēs't'), dead. adj.

the deceased, a (particular) dead person.

de ce dent (di sēd'nt), a dead person. n.

de ceit (di sēt'), 1. making a person believe as true something that is false; deceiving; lying; cheating. 2. a dishonest trick; lie spoken or acted. 3. deceitful quality; deceitfulness. n.

de ceit ful (di sēt'fəl), 1. ready or willing to deceive or lie. 2. deceiving; fraudulent. 3. meant to deceive. adj. —de ceit'ful ly, adv. —de ceit'ful ness, n.

de ceive (di sēv'), 1. make (a person) believe as true something that is false; mislead. 2. lie; use deceit. v., de ceived, de ceiv ing. —de ceiv'a ble, adj. —de ceiv'ing ly, adv.

de ceiv er (di sēv'ər), person who deceives. n.

de cel er ate (dē sel'ər āt), decrease the velocity of; slow down. v., de cel er ated, de cel er at ing. —de cel'er a'tion, n. —de cel'er a'tor, n.

De cem ber (di sem'bər), the 12th and last month of the year. It has 31 days. n.

de cen cy (dē'sn sē), 1. state or quality of being decent: Common decency requires a healthy man to try to support his family. 2. propriety of behavior; conforming to the standard of good taste. 3. a proper regard for modesty or delicacy. n., pl. de cen cies.

decencies, 1. suitable acts; proper observances: Washing your face, using good language, and going to church are some of the decencies of life. 2. things required for a proper standard of living.

de cen ni al (di sen'ē əl), 1. of or for ten years. 2. happening every ten years. 3. a tenth anniversary. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

de cent (dē'snt), 1. proper and right: It is not decent to laugh at a funeral. 2. modest; not obscene. 3. respectable: decent people. 4. good enough; fairly good: He gets decent marks at school. 5. suitable to one's position; adequate: He earns a decent living. 6. not severe; rather kind: My boss was very decent about my being away when my mother was ill. adj. —de'cent ly, adv. —de'cent-ness, n.

de cen tral ize (dē sen'trəl īz), spread or distribute (authority, power, etc.) among more groups or local governments. v., de cen tral ized, de cen tral iz ing. —de cen'tral i za'tion, n.

de cep tion (di sep'shən), 1. act of deceiving. 2. state of being deceived. 3. thing that deceives; illusion. 4. trick meant to deceive; fraud; sham. n.

de cep tive (di sep'tiv), 1. deceiving. 2. meant to deceive. adj. —de cep'tive ly, adv. —de cep'tive ness, n.

dec i bel (des'ə bel), unit for measuring the loudness of sounds. n.

de cide (di sīd'), 1. settle (a question, dispute, etc.) by giving victory to one side; give a judgment or the decision to: Let us decide it by tossing a penny. Mother decided in favor of the blue dress. 2. make up one's mind; resolve: John decided to be a sailor. 3. cause (a person) to reach a decision. v., de cid ed, de cid ing.

de cid ed (di sīd'id), 1. clear; definite; unquestionable: a decided advantage. 2. firm; determined: Tom was a very decided person. adj. —de cid'ed ness, n.

de cid ed ly (di sīd'id lē), 1. clearly; definitely; unquestionably: John's work is decidedly better than Frank's. 2. firmly; in a determined manner. adv.

de cid u ous (di sīj'ū əs), 1. falling off at a particular season or stage of growth: deciduous leaves, deciduous horns. 2. shedding leaves annually. Maples, elms, and most oaks are deciduous trees. adj.

dec i gram or dec i gramme (des'ə gram), weight equal to one tenth of a gram; 1.5432 grains, or .003527 ounce. n.

dec i li ter or dec i li tre (des'ə lē'tər), measure of volume equal to one tenth of a liter; 6.102 cubic inches, or about 3.38 fluid ounces. n.

de cil lion (di sil'yən), 1. in the United States and French systems, 1 with 33 zeros following it. 2. in English and German systems, 1 with 60 zeros following it. n.

dec i mal (des'ə ml), 1. based upon ten or tenths; increasing by tens: The metric system is a decimal system of measurement. 2. a decimal fraction; fraction like .04 or $\frac{4}{100}$, .2 or $\frac{2}{10}$. 3. a number like 75.24, 3.062, .7, or .091. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

decimal fraction, fraction whose denominator is ten or some power of ten, like .2, .02, etc.

dec i mal ly (des'ə ml ē), 1. by means of decimals. 2. by tens. adv.

decimal point, period placed before a fraction expressed in decimal figures, as in 2.03, .623.

dec i mate (des'ə māt), 1. destroy much of; kill a large part of: War had decimated the tribe. 2. select by lot and execute every tenth man of. 3. take or destroy one tenth of. v., dec i mated, dec i mat ing. —dec'i ma'tion, n. —dec'i ma'tor, n.

dec i me ter or dec i me tre (des'ə mē'tər), measure of length equal to one tenth of a meter, or 3.937 inches. n.

de ci pher (di sī'fər), 1. make out the meaning of (bad writing, an unknown language, or anything puzzling). 2. interpret (secret writing) by using a key; change (a message) from code to ordinary language. v. —de ci'pher a ble, adj.

de ci sion (di sīzh'ən), 1. the deciding or settling of a question, dispute, etc., by giving judgment to one side. 2. judgment reached or given: The judge gives a decision in a lawsuit. 3. act of making up of one's mind; resolution. 4. firmness; determination: A man of decision makes up his mind what to do and then does it. n.

with decision, without any wavering or doubt; promptly and with force.

de ci sive (di sī'siv), 1. having or giving a clear result; settling something beyond question: a decisive victory. 2. having or showing decision: a decisive answer. adj. —de ci'sive ly, adv. —de ci'sive ness, n.

deck (dek), 1. floor or platform extending from side to side and often from end to end of a ship. Often the upper deck has no roof over it. 2. part or floor resembling it: the deck of an airplane. 3. pack of playing cards. 4. cover; dress; adorn: Grace was decked out in white linen. 1-3 n., 4 v.

on deck, Informal. present; on hand.

deck hand, sailor who works on deck; common sailor.

de claim (di klām'), 1. recite in public; make a formal speech. 2. speak in a loud and emotional manner; speak or write for effect. v. —de claim'er, n.

dec la ma tion (dek'lə mā'shən), 1. act or art of reciting in public; making a formal speech or speeches. 2. selection of poetry, prose, etc., for reciting; formal speech. 3. act of talking loudly and emotionally. 4. loud and emotional talk. n.

de clam a to ry (di klām'ə tō'rē), 1. having to do with declamation. 2. loud and emotional. adj.

dec la ra tion (dek'lə rā'shən), 1. act of declaring. 2. thing declared. 3. document containing a declaration. 4. statement of goods, etc., for taxation. 5. a formal announcement. 6. a strong statement. n.

Declaration of Independence, U.S. the public statement adopted by the Continental Congress on July 4, 1776, in which the American colonies were declared free and independent of Great Britain.

de clar a tive (di klar'ə tiv), making a statement. "I eat" and "The dog has four legs" are declarative sentences. adj.

de clar a to ry (di klar'ə tō'rē), declarative. adj.

de clare (di klār'), 1. announce publicly or formally; make known; proclaim: That company has just declared a dividend on its stock. Peace was declared at last. 2. say openly or strongly: The boy declared that he would never go back to school again. 3. make a declaration; proclaim oneself: The boys declared themselves against cheating. 4. make a statement of (goods, etc.) for taxation: Travelers returning to the United States must declare the things which they bought abroad. v., de clared, de clar-ing. —de clar'er, n.

de clen sion (di klen'shən), 1. the giving of the different endings to nouns, pronouns, and adjectives according to their case. The declension of who is: nominative case, who; possessive case, whose; objective case, whom. 2. group of words whose endings for the different cases, etc., are alike. Latin nouns are usually grouped in five declensions. 3. a downward movement, bend, or slope. 4. a sinking into a lower or inferior condition; decline. 5. a turning away (from one's religion, faith, etc.); deviation from a standard. 6. a polite refusal. n.

de clin a ble (di klin'ə bl), capable of being given in different cases; that has different forms for its different cases. adj.

dec li na tion (dek'lə nā'shən), 1. a downward bend or slope. 2. a polite refusal. 3. deviation of the needle of a compass from true north or south. n.

de cline (di klin'), 1. refuse: The boy declined to do what he was told. 2. refuse politely: The man declined my offer of help. 3. bend or slope down: The hill declines to a fertile valley. 4. decay; grow less in strength, power, value, etc.; grow worse: Great nations have risen and declined. 5. a falling; a sinking: the decline of the sun to the horizon, a decline in prices. 6. a growing worse; a losing of strength, power, value, etc.: the decline of the Roman Empire. 7. the last part of anything: the decline of the day or of a person's life. 8. give the different cases or case endings of (a noun, pronoun, or adjective). 1-4 v., de clined, de clin ing; 5-7 n. —de clin'er, n.

de cliv i ty (di kliv'ə tē), a downward slope. n., pl. de cliv i ties.

de coct (di kōkt'), extract desired substances from (herbs, etc.) by boiling. v.

de co c tion (di kōk'shən), 1. act of boiling to extract some desired substance. 2. preparation made by boiling a substance in water or other liquid; extract obtained by boiling. n.

de code (dē kōd'), translate (secret writing) from code into ordinary language. v., de cod ed, de cod ing. —de cod'er, n.

dé colle té (dā'kol tā'), 1. low-necked. 2. wearing a low-necked gown. adj.

de com pose (dē'kəm pōz'), 1. decay; rot. 2. separate (a substance) into what it is made of: The prism decomposed the sunlight into its various colors. 3. become separated into its parts. v., de com posed, de com pos-ing.

de com po si tion (dē'kəm pə zish'ən), 1. act or process of decomposing. 2. decay; rot. n.

de con tam i nate (dē'kən tam'ə nāt), 1. free from poison gas or harmful radioactive agents. 2. free from any sort of contamination. v., de con tam i nat ed, de con tam i nat ing. —de'con tam'i na'tion, n.

de con trol (dē'kən trōl'), 1. remove controls from: decontrol the price of meat. 2. removing of controls. 1 v., de con trolled, de con trol ling; 2 n.

dé cor (dā kōr'), 1. decoration. 2. scenery on a stage. n.

de o rate (dek'ə rāt), 1. make beautiful; adorn: We decorated the Christmas tree with shining balls. 2. paint or paper (a room, etc.). 3. give a medal, ribbon, etc., to (a person) as an honor: The president decorated the brave explorer for bravery. v., dec o rat ed, dec o rat ing.

dec o ra tion (dek'ə rā'shən), 1. act of decorating. 2. thing used to decorate; ornament. 3. medal, ribbon, etc., given as an honor. n.

Decoration Day, U.S. Memorial Day.

dec o ra tive (dek'ə rā'tiv), decorating; helping to adorn; ornamental. adj. —dec'o ra'tive ly, adv.

dec o ra tor (dek'ə rā'tər), 1. person who decorates.

An interior decorator plans and arranges the furnishings of homes, clubs, offices, etc. 2. person whose work is painting or papering rooms, etc. n.

dec o rous (dek'ə rəs or di kō'rəs), well-behaved; acting properly; in good taste; dignified. adj. —dec'o rous ly, adv. —dec'o rous ness, n.

de co rum (di kō'rəm), 1. propriety of action, speech, dress, etc.: You behave with decorum when you do what is proper. 2. observance or requirement of polite society: Mary's mother had taught her to observe all the little decorums that mark a lady. n.

de coy (di koi' for 1, 5; dē'koi or di koi' for 2-4, 6), 1. lure (wild birds, animals, etc.) into a trap or within gunshot. 2. an artificial bird used to lure birds into a trap or within gunshot. 3. a trained bird or other animal used for the same purpose. 4. place into which wild birds or animals are lured. 5. lead or tempt into danger. 6. any person or thing used to lead or tempt into danger. 1, 5 v., 2-4, 6 n.

de crease (di krēs' for 1, 3; dē'krēs or di krēs' for 2, 4), 1. become less: Hunger decreases as one eats. 2. a becoming less: Toward night there was a decrease of heat. 3. make less: decrease prices. 4. amount by which a thing becomes or is made less: The decrease in heat was ten degrees. 1, 3 v., de creased, de creas ing; 2, 4 n. —de creas'ing ly, adv.

on the decrease, decreasing.

de cree (di krē'), 1. something ordered or settled by authority; official decision: A decree of the President sets the date of Thanksgiving Day. 2. order or settle by authority: The government decreed that Washington's birthday should be a holiday. 3. decide; determine. 1 n., 2, 3 v., de creed, de cree ing.

de crep it (di krep'it), broken down or weakened by old age; old and feeble. adj. —de crep'it ly, adv.

de crep i tude (di krep'ə tūd or di krep'ə tūd), feebleness, usually from old age; decrepit condition; weakness. n.

de cre scen do (dē'krə shen'dō), in music: 1. a gradual decrease in force or loudness; diminuendo. 2. with a gradual decrease in force or loudness. 1 n., pl. de cre-sen dos; 2 adj., adv.

de cre tal (di krē'tl), decree or reply by the Pope settling some question of doctrine or ecclesiastical law. n.

de cry (di kri'), 1. condemn: The minister decreed gambling in all its forms. 2. make little of; try to lower the value of: The lumber dealer decreed the use of concrete for houses. v., de cried, de cry ing.

ded i cate (ded'ə kāt), 1. set apart for a sacred or solemn purpose: The minister was dedicated to the service of God. The land on which the battle of Gettysburg was fought was dedicated to the memory of the soldiers who had died there. 2. give up wholly or earnestly to some person or purpose. 3. address (a book, poem, etc.) to a friend or patron as a mark of affection, respect, gratitude, etc. v., ded i cat ed, ded i cat ing —ded'i ca'tor, n.

ded i ca tion (ded'ə kā'shən), 1. a setting apart or being set apart for a sacred or solemn purpose: the dedication of a church. 2. a giving up wholly or earnestly to some person or purpose. 3. words dedicating a book, poem, etc., to a friend or patron. n.

Wooden decoy for ducks

ded i ca to ry (ded'ə kə tō'rē), of dedication. adj.
de duce (di dūs' or di dūs'), infer from a general rule or principle; reach (a conclusion) by reasoning. v., de duced, de duc ing.
de duc i ble (di dūs'ə bl or di dūs'ə bl), capable of being deduced or inferred. adj.
de duct (di dukt'), take away; subtract. v.
de duct i ble (di dukt'ə bl), that can be deducted. adj.
de duc tion (di dukt'shən), 1. act of taking away; subtraction: No deduction in pay is made for absence due to illness. 2. amount deducted. 3. inference from a general rule or principle. A person using deduction reasons from general laws to particular cases. Example: All animals die; a cat is an animal; therefore, a cat will die. 4. conclusion: Sherlock Holmes made brilliant deductions. n.
de duc tive (di dukt'iv), of or using deduction; reasoning by deduction. adj. —de duc tive ly, adv.
deed (dēd), 1. thing done; act: To feed the hungry is a good deed. 2. a brave, skillful, or unusual act. 3. action; doing; performance: Deeds, not words, are needed. 4. a written or printed document, sealed and signed, containing some contract. The buyer of real estate receives a deed legally transferring the ownership. 5. transfer by deed. 1-4 n., 5 v.
deem (dēm), think; believe; consider. v.
deep (dēp), 1. going far down or back: a deep well. 2. from far down or back: Take a deep breath. 3. far down or back: a deep cut (adj.). The men dug deep before they found water (adv.). 4. far on: He studied deep into the night (adv.). 5. in depth: a tank 8 feet deep. 6. low in pitch: a deep voice. 7. strong and dark in color: a deep red. 8. strong; great; intense; extreme: deep sorrow, a deep sleep. 9. going below the surface: a speech of deep importance. 10. hard to understand: a deep book. 11. with the mind fully taken up: deep in thought. 12. wise; shrewd. 13. sly; crafty. 14. a deep place. 15. the most intense part: the deep of winter. 1-13 adj., 3, 4 adv., 14, 15 n. —deep ly, adv. —deep ness, n. the deep, the sea.
deep en (dēp'ən), make or become deeper. v.
deep-root ed (dēp'rūt'id), 1. deeply rooted. 2. firmly fixed: deep-rooted traditions, a deep-rooted dislike. adj.
deep-sea (dēp'sē'), of or in the deeper parts of the sea: a deep-sea diver. adj.
deep-seat ed (dēp'sēt'id), 1. far below the surface. 2. firmly fixed: The disease was so deep-seated that it could not be cured. adj.
deep-set (dēp'set'), 1. set deeply. 2. firmly fixed. adj.
deer (dir), 1. a swift, graceful mammal of a group that have hoofs and chew the cud. A male deer has horns or antlers, which are shed and grow again every year. 2. any of a group of mammals including deer, elk, moose, and caribou. 3. Obsolete. any beast, especially a wild beast. n., pl. deer or (rarely) deers.
deer hound (dir'hound'), dog of a Scottish breed, like a greyhound but larger and with a shaggy coat. n.
deer mouse, 1. a small American mouse with white feet and large ears. 2. a yellowish-brown jumping mouse of America.
deer skin (dir'skin'), 1. skin of a deer. 2. leather made from it. n.
def., 1. definition. 2. defined. 3. defendant. de face (di fās'), spoil the appearance of; mar: Scribbled

Virginia deer (3½ ft. high at the shoulder)

Deerhound (about 2½ ft. high at the shoulder) pictures and notes defaced the pages of the book. v., de faced, de fac ing. —de fac'er, n.

de face ment (di fās'mənt), 1. act of defacing. 2. state of being defaced. 3. thing that defaces. n.
de fac to (dē fak'tō), 1. in fact; in reality. 2. actually existing, whether legal or not: a de facto government.
de fal cate (di fal'kāt), steal or misuse money trusted to one's care. v., de fal cat ed, de fal cat ing. —de fal'ca tor, n.
de fal ca tion (dē fal kā'shən), 1. theft or misuse of money entrusted to one's care: The cashier's defalcation was discovered. 2. amount stolen or misused: a defalcation of $5000. n.
def a ma tion (dēfə mā'shən), a defaming or being defamed; slander; libel. n.
de fam a to ry (di fam'ə tō'rē), defaming; slanderous. adj.
de fame (di fām'), attack the good name of; harm the reputation of; speak evil of; slander: Men in public life are sometimes defamed by opponents. v., de famed, de fam ing. —de fam'er, n.
de fault (di fōlt'), 1. failure to do something or to appear somewhere when due; neglect. If, in any contest, one side does not appear, it loses by default. 2. fail to do something or appear somewhere when due: They defaulted in the tennis tournament. 3. failure to pay when due. 4. fail to pay when due. 5. lack; absence: In default of tools, she used a hairpin and a nail file. 1, 3, 5 n., 2, 4 v.
de fault er (di fōlt'ər), 1. person who defaults. 2. person who steals or misuses money trusted to his care. n.
de feat (di fēt'), 1. win a victory over; overcome: defeat another school in basketball. 2. make useless: defeat someone's plans. 3. a defeating: Tom's defeat of Joe. 4. being defeated: Joe's defeat by Tom. 1, 2 v., 3, 4 n.
de feat ism (di fēt'iz əm), attitude or behavior of a defeatist. n.
de feat ist (di fēt'ist), person who expects, wishes for, or admits the defeat of his country, cause, party, etc. n.
de fe cate (dēf'ə kāt), have a movement of the bowels. v., de fe cat ed, de fe cat ing. —de fe ca'tion, n.
de fect (dēfekt or di fekt'), 1. fault; blemish; imperfection: A bad temper was the defect in Henry's nature. 2. lack of something essential to completeness; a falling short. 3. forsake one's own country, group, etc., for another, especially another that is opposed to it. 1, 2 n., 3 v. —de fec'tor, n.
de fec tion (di fēk'shən), 1. a falling away from loyalty, duty, religion, etc.; desertion: The candidate denied any defection from the principles of his party. 2. failure. n.
de fec tive (di fēk'tiv), 1. having a flaw or blemish; not perfect; not complete: This pump is defective and will not work. 2. below normal in behavior or intelligence. 3. person who has some defect of body or mind. 4. lacking one or more of the usual forms of grammatical inflection. Ought is a defective verb. 1, 2, 4 adj., 3 n. —de fec'tive ly, adv. —de fec'tive ness, n.
de fence (di fens'), Esp. Brit. defense. n.
de fend (di fend'), 1. guard from attack or harm; protect. 2. act, speak, or write in favor of. 3. resist (a claim); contest (a lawsuit). v.
de fend ant (di fend'ənt), person accused or sued in a law court: This defendant is accused of theft. n.
de fend er (di fend'ər), protector; guardian. n.
de fense (di fens'), 1. act of defending or protecting; a guarding against attack or harm: Thanks for your defense of Tim from that bully. 2. thing that defends or protects; thing used to guard against attack or harm: A wall around a city was a defense against enemies. A well-built house or a warm coat is a defense against cold weather. 3. act of defending oneself in boxing or fencing. 4. team or players defending a goal in a game. 5. action, speech, or writing in favor of something. 6. answer of a defendant to an accusation or lawsuit against him. 7. a defendant and his lawyers. n. Also, esp. Brit. de-fence.

de fense less (di fens'lis), having no defense; unprotected; helpless against attack or harm: A baby is defenseless; he cannot prevent what is done to him. adj.

de fen si ble (di fen'sə bl), 1. capable of being defended. 2. justifiable; proper. adj. —de fen'si bly, adv.

de fen sive (di fen'siv), 1. ready to defend; defending. 2. for defense. 3. of defense. 4. position or attitude of defense. 5. thing that defends. 1-3 adj., 4, 5 n. —de fen'sive ly, adv. —de fen'sive ness, n.

de fer¹ (di fēr'), put off; delay: Examinations were deferred because so many children were sick. v., de ferred, de fer ring.

de fer² (di fēr'), yield in judgment or opinion; submit courteously: Children should defer to their parents' wishes. v., de ferred, de fer ring.

de fer ence (def'er əns), 1. a yielding to the judgment or opinion of another; courteous submission. 2. great respect: Boys and girls should show deference to persons who are much older and wiser. n.

in deference to, out of respect for the wishes or authority of.

de fer en tial (def'er ən'shəl), showing deference; respectful. adj. —de fer'en'ti al ly, adv.

de fer ment (di fēr'mənt), a putting off; delay. n.

de fer red (di fērd'), postponed; delayed. adj.

de fi ance (di fi'əns), 1. a defying; a standing up against authority and refusing to recognize or obey it; open resistance to power: He shouted defiance at the enemy. 2. challenge to meet in a contest, to do something, or to prove something. n.

bid defiance to, defy.

in defiance of, without regard for; in spite of.

de fi ant (di fi'ənt), showing defiance; challenging; openly resisting. adj. —de fi'ant ly, adv. —de fi'ant ness, n.

de fi cien cy (di fish'ən sē), 1. lack or absence of something needed or required; incompleteness: There is a deficiency of salt in this stew; put more in. 2. amount by which something falls short or is too small: If a bill to be paid is $10 and you have only $6, the deficiency is $4. n., pl. de fi cien cies.

de fi cient (di fish'ənt), 1. incomplete; defective. 2. not sufficient in quantity, force, etc.: This milk is deficient in fat. adj. —de fi'cient ly, adv.

de fi cit (def'ə sit), amount by which a sum of money falls short; shortage: Since the club owed $15, and had only $10 in the treasury, there was a deficit of $5. n.

de fi er (di fi'ər), person who defies. n.

de file¹ (di fil'), 1. make filthy or dirty; make disgusting in any way. 2. destroy the purity or cleanness of; corrupt: The barbarians defiled the church by using it as a stable. v., de filed, de fil ing. —de fil'er, n.

de file² (di fil' or dē'fil), 1. march in a line. 2. a narrow way or passage through which troops can march only in narrow columns; steep and narrow valley. 1 v., de filed, de fil ing; 2 n.

de file ment (di fil'mənt), 1. act of defiling. 2. state of being defiled. 3. thing that defiles. n.

de fine (di fin'), 1. make clear the meaning of; explain: A dictionary defines words. 2. make clear; make distinct. 3. fix; settle: The powers of the courts are defined by law. 4. settle the limits of: define the boundaries of a piece of property. v., de fined, de fin ing. —de fin'a-ble, adj. —de fin'er, n.

de fi nite (def'ə nit), 1. clear; exact; not vague: I expect a definite answer, either yes or no. 2. limited; restricted. 3. limiting; restricting. The English definite article is the; it specifies precisely the person, thing, time, etc., to which it refers. "The hat" means "a certain hat"; "the dog" means "a certain or particular dog." adj. —def'i nite ness, n.

de fi nite ly (def'ə nit lē), 1. in a definite manner. 2. certainly: Will you go? Definitely. adv.

de fi ni tion (def'ə nish'ən), 1. act of explaining; act of making clear the meaning of a word. 2. statement that makes clear the meaning of a word; explanation. 3. power of making clear and distinct. The capacity of a lens to give a clear, distinct image of an object is called its definition. 4. clearness; distinctness. 5. the accuracy with which sound is reproduced by a radio receiver. n.

de fin i tive (di fin'ə tiv), 1. conclusive; final. 2. limiting; defining. 3. word that limits or defines a noun. The, this, all, none, etc., are definitives. 1, 2 adj., 3 n. —de fin'i tive ly, adv. —de fin'i tive ness, n.

de flate (di flāt'), 1. let air or gas out of (a balloon, tire, football, etc.). 2. reduce the amount of; reduce: deflate prices, deflate currency. v., de flat ed, de flat ing.

de fla tion (di flā'shən), 1. act of letting the air or gas out: the deflation of a tire. 2. reduction. 3. reduction of the amount of available money in circulation so that prices go down. n.

de fla tion ar y (di flā'shən er'ē), of or having to do with deflation. adj.

de flect (di flekt'), bend or turn aside; change the direction of. v. —de flec'tor, n.

de flection (di flek'shən), 1. a bending or turning aside. 2. amount of bending or turning. n.

de flec tive (di flek'tiv), 1. causing deflection. 2. tending to deflect. adj.

De foe or De Foe (di fō'), Daniel, 1661?-1731, English author who wrote Robinson Crusoe. n.

de for est (dē fōr'ist), clear of trees: The land had to be deforested before the settlers could farm it. v. —de-for'est a'tion, n. —de for'est er, n.

de form (di fōrm'), 1. spoil the form or shape of: Shoes that are too tight deform the feet. 2. make ugly: Anger deforms the face. v. —de form'er, n.

de for ma tion (dē fōr mā'shən or def'er mā'shən), 1. act of deforming. 2. deformed condition. n.

de formed (di fōrmd'), 1. not properly formed: A hunchback is deformed. 2. ugly. adj.

de form i ty (di fōr'mə tē), 1. part that is not properly formed. 2. condition of being improperly formed. 3. an improperly formed person or thing. 4. ugliness. n., pl. de form i ties.

de fraud (di frōd'), take money, rights, etc., away from by fraud; cheat. v. —de fraud'er, n.

de fray (di frā'), pay (costs or expenses): The expenses of national parks are defrayed by the taxpayers. v.

de fray al (di frā'əl), payment (of expenses, etc.). n.

de fray ment (di frā'mənt), defrayal. n.

de frost (dē frōst'), 1. remove frost or ice from: defrost the refrigerator. 2. thaw out (frozen foods). v.

de frost er (dē frōs'tər), device that removes ice, either through heat or mechanically. Defrosters are used on automobile windshields. n.

deft (deft), skillful; nimble: The fingers of a violinist are deft. adj. —deft'ly, adv. —deft'ness, n.

de funct (di fungkt'), dead; extinct. adj.

de fy (di fi'), 1. set oneself openly against (authority); resist boldly: Now that the boy was earning his own living he could defy his stepfather's strict rules. 2. withstand; resist: This strong fort defies capture. 3. challenge (a person) to do or prove something: We defy you to show that our game is not fair. v., de fied, de fy ing.

de Gaulle (də gōl'), Charles, born 1890, French general and political leader, president of France since 1959.

de gen er a cy (di jen'er ə sē), degenerate condition. n.

de gen er ate (di jen'er āt for 1, 2; di jen'er it for 3, 4), 1. decline in physical, mental, or moral qualities; grow worse. 2. sink to a lower type; lose the normal or more highly developed characteristics of its race or kind. 3. that has degenerated; showing a decline in physical, mental, or moral qualities: The thief was a degenerate member of a fine family. 4. person having an evil and unwholesome character: Only a degenerate could have committed such a horrible crime. 1, 2 v., de gen'er at ed, de gen'er at ing; 3 adj., 4 n. —de gen'er ate ly, adv.

de gen er a tion (di jen'er ā'shən), 1. process of degenerating. 2. degenerate condition. 3. deterioration in tissues or organs caused by disease, injury, etc. n.

de gen er a tive (di jen'ər ā'tiv), 1. tending to degenerate. 2. characterized by degeneration; showing degeneration. adj.

deg ra da tion (deg'rə dā'shən), 1. a degrading. 2. being degraded: Failure to obey orders caused the captain's degradation to the rank of a private. 3. degraded condition: The drunkard, filthy and half-starved, lived in degradation. n.

de grade (di grād'), 1. reduce to a lower rank; take away a position, an honor, etc., from: The captain was degraded for disobeying orders. 2. make worse; lower; debase: You degrade yourself when you tell a lie. 3. wear down by erosion. v., de grad ed, de grad ing. —de grad'er, n.

de gree (di grē'), 1. stage or step in a scale or process. 2. step in direct line of descent: a cousin two degrees removed. 3. amount; extent: To what degree are you interested in reading? 4. unit for measuring temperature. The freezing point of water is 32 degrees (32°) Fahrenheit. A degree on the centigrade scale is 1.8 times a degree on the Fahrenheit scale. 5. unit for measuring angles or arcs. A degree is $\frac{1}{90}$ of a right angle or $\frac{360}{360}$ of the circumference of a circle. 45 degrees (45°) is half a right angle or one eighth of the line bounding a circle. 6. rank: A princess is a lady of high degree. 7. rank or title given by a college or university to a student whose work fulfills certain requirements, or to a person as an honor: an A.B. degree, a D.D. degree. 8. one of the three stages in the comparison of adjectives or adverbs. Fast is the positive degree; faster, the comparative degree; fastest, the superlative degree. 9. in law, the relative measure of guilt: murder in the first degree. n.

by degrees, gradually: By degrees the lake gets warm enough to swim in.

to a degree, 1. to a large amount; to a great extent. 2. somewhat; rather.

de his cent (dē his'nt), bursting open to scatter seeds. adj.

de horn (dē hōrn'), remove the horns from. v.

de hu man ize (dē hū'mən īz), deprive of human qualities, interest, sympathy, etc. v., de hu man ized, de hu man iz ing.

de hy drate (dē hī'drāt), 1. deprive (a chemical compound) of water or the elements of water. 2. take moisture from; dry. 3. lose water or moisture. v., de hy drat ed, de hy drat ing.

de hy dra tion (dē'hī drā'shən), removal of water from a chemical compound or from vegetables, fruits, etc. n.

de ice (dē īs'), prevent formation of ice on; remove ice from (an aircraft). v., de iced, de ic ing. —de ic'er, n.

de i fi ca tion (dē'ə fə kā'shən), 1. a deifying. The deification of the emperor was customary in ancient Rome. 2. being deified: After his deification, altars were erected to him. n.

de i fy (dē'ə fī), 1. make a god of. 2. worship or regard as a god: Some people deify wealth. v., de i fied, de i fy ing. —de'i fi'er, n.

deign (dān), 1. condescend; think fit: So great a man would never deign to notice such petty criticisms. 2. condescend to give (an answer, a reply, etc.). v.

de ism (dē'iz əm), 1. belief that God exists entirely apart from our world and does not influence the lives of human beings. 2. belief in God without accepting any particular religion. n.

de ist (dē'ist), person who believes in deism. n.

de i ty (dē'ə tē), 1. god or goddess: Neptune was a deity of the sea. 2. divine nature; being a god: Christians believe in the deity of Christ. n., pl. de i ties. the Deity, God.

Degrees (def. 5)

Dehiscent pods

de ject ed (di jek'tid), in low spirits; sad; discouraged. adj. —de ject'ed ly, adv. —de ject'ed ness, n.

de jec tion (di jek'shən), lowness of spirits; sadness; discouragement: Her face showed her dejection at missing the party. n.

De Kalb (di kalb'), Baron Johann, 1721-1780, German general in the American army during the American Revolution.

Del., Delaware.

Del a ware (del'ə wār), 1. an Eastern State of the United States. 446,000 pop.; 2370 sq. mi. Capital: Dover. Abbrev.: Del. 2. river flowing from S New York State between Pennsylvania and New Jersey into the Atlantic. 296 mi. 3. member of a tribe of American Indians, most of whom formerly lived in the valley of the Delaware River. n.

Delaware Bay, bay between Delaware and New Jersey, at the mouth of the Delaware River.

de lay (di lā'), 1. put off till a later time: We will delay the party for a week. 2. make late; keep waiting; hinder the progress of: The accident delayed the train for two hours. 3. be late; wait; go slowly; stop along the way: Do not delay on this errand. 4. act of delaying: We were so late that we could afford no further delay. 5. fact of being delayed: The delay upset our plans. 1-3 v., 4, 5 n. —de lay'er, n.

de lec ta ble (di lek'tə bl), very pleasing; delightful. adj. —de lec'ta ble ness, n. —de lec'ta bly, adv.

de lec ta tion (dē'lek tā'shən), delight; pleasure; entertainment: The magician did many tricks for our delectation. n.

del e gate (del'ə gāt or del'ə git for 1-3; del'ə gāt for 4, 5), 1. person given power or authority to act for others; representative: Our club sent two delegates to the national meeting. 2. representative of a Territory in the United States House of Representatives. 3. member of the lower branch of the legislature in Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia. 4. appoint or send (a person) as a delegate: Each club delegated one member to attend the State meeting. 5. give over (one's power or authority) to another as agent or deputy: The States delegated the control of foreign affairs to the federal government. 1-3 n., 4, 5 v., del e gat ed, del e gat ing.

del e ga tion (del'ə gā'shən), 1. a delegating. 2. fact of being delegated. 3. group of delegates: Each State sent a delegation to the national convention. n.

de le te (di lēt'), strike out or take out (anything written or printed); remove; omit; cross out: References to places of battles were deleted from soldiers' letters during the war. v., de let ed, de let ing.

del e te ri ous (del'ə tir'ē əs), harmful; injurious. adj. —del'e te'ri ous ly, adv.

de le tion (di lē'shən), 1. act of deleting. 2. fact of being deleted. 3. a deleted part. n.

Delft (delft), city in SW Netherlands. 68,000. n.

delft (delft), kind of glazed earthenware made in Holland, usually decorated in blue. n.

Del hi (del'ē), 1. city in N India. It was the capital of the ancient Mogul empire in India. 915,000. 2. New Delhi. n.

de lib er ate (di lib'ər it for 1-3; di lib'ər āt for 4, 5), 1. carefully thought out; made or done on purpose: His excuse was a deliberate lie. 2. slow and careful in deciding what to do: A deliberate person takes a long time to make up his mind. 3. not hurried; slow: The old man walked with deliberate steps. 4. think over carefully; consider. 5. discuss reasons for and against something; debate: Congress was deliberating over the question of raising taxes. 1-3 adj., 4, 5 v., de lib er at ed, de lib er at ing. —de lib'er ate ly, adv. —de lib'er ate ness, n. —de lib'er a'tor, n.

Delft

de lib er a tion (di lib'ər ā'shən), 1. careful thought. 2. discussion of reasons for and against something; debate: the deliberations of Congress. 3. slowness and care: The hunter aimed his gun with great deliberation. 4. slowness. n.

de lib er a tive (di lib'ər ā'tiv), 1. for deliberation; having to do with deliberation; discussing reasons for and against something: Congress is a deliberative body. 2. characterized by deliberation; coming as a result of deliberation. adj. —de lib'ər ā'tive ly, adv.

del i ca cy (del'ə kə sē), 1. delicate quality or nature; slightness and grace: the delicacy of lace, the delicacy of a flower, the delicacy of a baby's skin. 2. fineness of feeling for small differences; sensitiveness: delicacy of hearing or touch. 3. need of care, skill, or tact: A matter of great delicacy is one that requires careful handling. 4. thought or regard for the feelings of others. 5. a shrinking from what is offensive or not modest. 6. weakness; being easily hurt or made ill: The child's delicacy was a constant worry to his mother. 7. a choice kind of food; a dainty. n., pl. del i ca cies.

del i cate (del'ə kit), 1. pleasing to the taste; lightly flavored; mild; soft: delicate foods, delicate colors, delicate fragrance. 2. of fine weave, quality, or make; easily torn; thin: A spider's web is very delicate. 3. requiring careful handling: delicate flowers, a delicate situation, a delicate question. 4. very rapidly responding to slight changes of condition; finely sensitive: delicate instruments, a delicate sense of touch. 5. easily hurt or made ill: a delicate child. adj. —del'i cate ly, adv. —del'i cate ness, n.

del i ca tes sen (del'ə kə tes'n), 1. store that sells prepared foods, such as cooked meats, smoked fish, cheese, salads, pickles, etc. 2. the foods sold at such a store. n.

de li cious (di lish'əs), 1. very pleasing to taste or smell. 2. very pleasing; delightful: a delicious color combination. adj. —de li'cious ly, adv. —de li'ciousness, n.

de light (di līt'), 1. great pleasure; joy. 2. thing that gives great pleasure: Dancing is her delight. 3. please greatly: The circus delighted the children. 4. have great pleasure: Children delight in surprises. 1,2 n., 3,4 v. —de light'er, n.

de light ed (di līt'id), greatly pleased; joyful; glad. adj. —de light'ed ly, adv.

de light ful (di līt'fəl), very pleasing; giving joy: a delightful ride, a delightful person. adj. —de light'ful ly, adv. —de light'ful ness, n.

De li lah (di lī'lə), 1. the woman who betrayed Samson, her lover, to the Philistines. Judges 16. 2. a false, treacherous woman; temptress. n.

de lim it (di lim'it), fix the limits of; mark the boundaries of. v. —de lim'i ta'tion, n.

de lin e ate (di lin'ē āt), 1. trace the outline of. 2. draw; sketch. 3. describe in words. v., de lin e ated, de lin e at ing. —de lin'e a'tor, n.

de lin e a tion (di lin'ē ā'shən), 1. drawing; sketch. 2. description. n.

de lin quen cy (di ling'kwən sē), 1. failure to do what is required by law or duty; guilt. 2. fault; offense. 3. condition or habit of behaving unlawfully: Juvenile delinquency is greatly increased by wartime conditions. n., pl. de lin quen cies.

de lin quent (di ling'kwənt), 1. failing to do what is required by law or duty; guilty of a fault or an offense. 2. a delinquent person; offender; criminal. 3. due and unpaid; overdue: The owner lost his house when it was sold for delinquent taxes. 4. having to do with delinquents. 1,3,4 adj., 2 n. —de lin'quent ly, adv.

de lir i ous (di lir'ē əs), 1. temporarily out of one's senses; wandering in mind; raving. 2. wildly excited. 3. caused by delirium. adj. —de lir'i ous ly, adv.

de lir i um (di lir'ē əm), 1. a temporary disorder of the mind that occurs during fevers, insanity, drunkenness, etc. Delirium is characterized by excitement, irrational talk, and hallucinations. 2. any wild excitement that cannot be controlled. n., pl. de lir i ums, de lir i a (-lir'ē ə).

delirium tre mens (trē'mənz), violent tremblings and terrifying hallucinations, caused by excessive drinking of alcoholic liquor.

de liv er (di liv'ər), 1. carry and give out; distribute: The postman delivers letters. 2. hand over; give up: deliver a fort to the enemy. 3. give forth in words: The traveler delivered a series of talks on his travels. The jury delivered its verdict. 4. strike; throw: The fighter delivered a blow. 5. set free; rescue; save from evil or trouble: "Deliver us from evil." 6. help (a woman) give birth to a child. v. —de liv'er a ble, adj. —de liv'er er, n.

de liv er ance (di liv'ər əns), 1. act of setting free or state of being set free; rescue; release: The soldiers rejoiced in their deliverance from prison. 2. a formal opinion or judgment. n.

de liv er y (di liv'ər ē), 1. act of carrying and giving out of letters, goods, etc.; act of distributing: parcel-post delivery. 2. a giving up; handing over: The captive was released upon the delivery of his ransom. 3. manner of speaking; way of giving a speech, lecture, etc.: Our minister has an excellent delivery. 4. act or way of striking, throwing, etc. 5. rescue; release. 6. giving birth to a child; childbirth. 7. anything that is delivered; goods to be delivered. n., pl. de liv er ies.

dell (del), a small, sheltered glen or valley, usually with trees in it. n.

Del phi (del'fi), town in ancient Greece where a famous oracle of Apollo was located. See Doris for map. n.

Del phic oracle (del'fik), the oracle of Apollo at Delphi. The oracle often gave ambiguous answers to questions.

del phin i um (del fin'ē əm), larkspur. n.

del ta (del'tə), deposit of earth and sand that collects at the mouths of some rivers and is usually three-sided. n.

Del ta-wing or del ta-wing (del'tə wing'), of a jet plane, having wings in the shape of a triangle. adj.

de lude (di lūd'), mislead; deceive. v., de luded, de luding. —de lud'er, n.

de luge (del'ūj), 1. a great flood. 2. a heavy fall of rain. 3. flood. 4. overwhelm: The movie star was deluged with requests for his autograph. 5. any overwhelming rush: Most stores have a deluge of orders just before Christmas. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., del uged, del ug ing.

the Deluge, the great flood in the days of Noah. Genesis 7.

de lu sion (di lū'zhən), 1. act of deluding. 2. state of being deluded. 3. a false notion or belief: The insane man had a delusion that he was the king. 4. a fixed belief maintained in spite of unquestionable evidence to the contrary. n.

de lu sive (di lū'siv), misleading; deceptive; false. adj.

de luxe or de luxe (də lūks' or də luks'), of exceptionally good quality; elegant. adj.

delve (delv), 1. search carefully for information: The scholar delved in many libraries for facts. 2. Archaic or Dialect. dig. v., delved, delv ing.

Dem., 1. Democrat. 2. Democratic.

de mag net ize (dē mag'nə tiz), deprive of magnetism. v., de mag net ized, de mag net iz ing. —de-mag'net i za'tion, n.

dem a gog (dem'ə gōg), demagogue. n.

dem a gog ic (dem'ə gōj'ik), 1. of a demagogue. 2. like a demagogue or demagogue's. adj.

dem a gogue (dem'ə gōg), a popular leader who stirs up the people by appealing to their emotions and prejudices. The chief aim of most demagogues is to get money, power, etc., for themselves alone. n.

dem a gogu er y (dem'ə gōg'ər ē), Esp. U.S. methods or principles of a demagogue. n.

dem a go gy (dem'ə gō'jē or dem'ə gōg'ē), Esp. Brit. demagoguery. n.

Delta of the Mississippi River de mand (di mand'), 1. ask for as a right: The prisoner demanded a trial. 2. ask for with authority: The policeman demanded the boys' names. 3. ask to know or to be told: demanded an answer. 4. call for; require; need: Training a puppy demands patience. 5. act of demanding: Taxis are in great demand on rainy days. 6. thing demanded. 7. claim; requirement: A busy person has many demands on his time. 8. desire and ability to buy: Because of the large crop, the supply of apples is greater than the demand. 1-4 v., 5-8 n. —de mand'er, n. in demand, wanted.

de mar cate (dē'mār kāt), 1. set and mark the limits of. 2. separate; distinguish. v., de mar cat ed, de mar cat ing.

de mar ca tion (dē'mār kā'shən), 1. act of setting and marking the limits: the demarcation of infancy from childhood. 2. separation; distinction: the demarcation of a country's authority. n.

de mean (di mēn'), lower in dignity or standing; humble: The duke's son would not demean himself by working. v.

de mean (di mēn'), behave or conduct (oneself). v. de mean or (di mēn'ər), way a person looks and acts; behavior; conduct; manner: Amy has a quiet, modest demeanor. n.

de mean our (di mēn'ər), Brit. demeanor. n.

de ment ed (di men'tid), insane; crazy. adj.

de men tia prae cox (di men'shə prē'koks), insanity that usually occurs or begins in late adolescence.

de mer it (dē mer'it), 1. fault; defect. 2. mark against a person's record for poor work or unsatisfactory behavior. n.

de mes ne (di măn' or di mēn'), 1. possession and actual use of land. 2. house and land reserved for the owner's use. 3. domain; district; region. n.

De me ter (di mē'tər), the Greek goddess of agriculture and of the fruitful earth, identified with the Roman goddess Ceres. n.

dem i god (dem'ē god'), 1. god that is partly human. Hercules was a demigod. 2. a minor or lesser god. n.

dem i john (dem'ē jon), a large bottle of glass or earthenware enclosed in wicker. n.

de mil i tar ize (dē mil'ə tā rīz), free from military control. v., de mil i tar ized, de mil i tar iz ing. —de mil'i tā ri za'tion, n.

Demijohn

de mise (di mīz'), 1. death. 2. transfer of an estate by a will or lease. 3. transfer of royal power by death or abdication. n.

dem i tasse (dem'ē tas'), 1. a very small cup of black coffee. 2. a small cup for serving black coffee. n.

de mo bi lize (dē mō'bl īz), disband: When a war is over, the armies are demobilized. v., de mo bi lized, de mo bi liz ing. —de mō'bi li za'tion, n.

de moc ra cy (di mok'rə sē), 1. government that is run by the people who live under it. In a democracy the people rule either directly through meetings that all may attend, such as a town meeting in New England towns, or indirectly through the election of certain representatives to attend to the business. 2. country, state, or community having such a government. The United States is a democracy. 3. treatment of others as one's equals: The teacher's democracy made him liked by all his pupils. n., pl. de moc ra cies.

De moc ra cy (di mok'rə sē), 1. the Democratic Party in the United States. 2. its principles and policies. n., pl. De moc ra cies.

dem o crat (dem'ə krat), 1. person who believes that a government should be run by the people who live under it. 2. person who holds or acts on the belief that all people are his equals. n.

Dem o crat (dem'ə krat), U.S. member of the Democratic Party. n.

dem o crat ic (dem'ə krat'ik), 1. of a democracy; like a democracy. 2. treating all classes of people as one's equals: The queen's democratic ways made her dear to her people. adj. —dem'o crat'i cal ly, adv.

Dem o crat ic (dem'ə krat'ik), U.S. of the Democratic Party. adj.

Democratic Party, one of the two main political parties in the United States.

de moc ra tize (di mok'rə tīz), make or become democratic. v., de moc ra tized, de moc ra tiz ing. —de-moc'ra ti za'tion, n.

de mol ish (di mol'ish), pull or tear down; destroy. v. —de mol'ish er, n. —de mol'ish ment, n.

dem o li tion (dem'ə lish'ən), destruction; ruin. n.

de mon (dē'mən), 1. an evil spirit; devil; fiend. 2. a very wicked or cruel person. 3. an evil influence: The demon of greed ruined the miser's happiness. 4. person who has great energy or vigor. 5. an inferior or minor Greek god. n.

de mo ni ac (di mō'nē ak), 1. of demons. 2. devilish; fiendish: Burning people alive was a demoniac custom. 3. raging; frantic. 4. possessed by an evil spirit. 5. person supposed to be possessed by an evil spirit. 1-4 adj., 5 n.

de mo ni a cal (dē'mə nī'ə kl), demoniac. adj.

de mo nic (di mon'ik), of or caused by evil spirits. adj.

de mon stra bil i ty (di mon'strə bil'ə tē), demonstrable quality or condition. n.

de mon stra ble (di mon'strə bl), capable of being proved. adj.

de mon stra bly (di mon'strə blē), 1. in a manner that can be proved; clearly. 2. by demonstration. adv.

dem on strate (dem'ən strāt), 1. establish the truth of; prove. 2. explain by using examples, experiments, etc.; show how (something) is done: If you will come with me to the laboratory, I will demonstrate the process to you. 3. show the merits of (a thing for sale); advertise or make publicly known by carrying out a process in public: He demonstrated his washing machine to us by washing some clothes with it. 4. show (feeling) openly. 5. show feeling by a parade, meeting, etc. 6. display military strength to frighten or deceive an enemy. v., dem on strate d, dem on strate ing.

dem on stra tion (dem'ən strā'shən), 1. clear proof: a demonstration that the earth is round. 2. explanation with the use of examples, experiments, etc. 3. a showing of the merits of a thing for sale; advertising or making known some new product or process in a public place: the demonstration of a washing machine. 4. an open show or expression of feeling: The mother greeted her long lost son with every demonstration of joy. 5. show of feeling by a parade, meeting, etc. 6. display of military strength to frighten or deceive an enemy. n.

de mon stra tive (di mon'strə tiv), 1. expressing one's affections freely and openly: The girl's demonstrative greetings embarrassed her shy brother. 2. showing clearly; explanatory. 3. giving proof; conclusive. 4. pointing out. This and that are demonstrative pronouns and also demonstrative adjectives. 5. pronoun or adjective that points out. 1-4 adj., 5 n. —de mon'-stra tive ly, adv. —de mon'-stra tive ness, n.

dem on stra tor (dem'ən strā'tər), 1. person who demonstrates. 2. person who takes part in a demonstration. n.

de mor al i za tion (di mōr'əl ə zā'shən or di mor'əl-ə zā'shən), 1. a demoralizing. 2. being demoralized. n.

de mor al ize (di mōr'əl īz), 1. corrupt the morals of: The drug habit demoralizes people. 2. weaken the spirit, courage, or discipline of; dishearten: Lack of food and ammunition demoralized the besieged soldiers. 3. throw into confusion or disorder: Threats of war demoralized the stock market. v., de mor al ized, de mor al iz ing.

De mos the nes (di mos'thə nēz), 384?-322 B.C., the most famous orator of ancient Greece. n.

de mote (di mōt'), put back to a lower grade; reduce in rank: He was demoted from corporal to private. v., de mot ed, de mot ing.

de mo tion (di mō'shən), 1. act of demoting. 2. fact of being demoted. n.

de mount a ble (dē moun'tə bl), that can be removed: a demountable wheel rim. adj.

de mur (di mēr'), 1. object: The clerk demurred at working overtime without extra pay. 2. an objection. 1 v., de murred, de mur ring; 2 n.

de mure (di myūr'), 1. artificially proper; assuming an air of modesty; coy: the demure smile of a flirt. 2. serious; thoughtful; sober: The Puritan maid was demure. adj., de mur er, de mur est. —de mure/ly, adv. —de-mure/ness, n.

den (den), 1. place where a wild animal lives: The bear's den was in a cave. 2. place where thieves or the like have their headquarters. 3. a small, dirty room. 4. one's private room for reading and work, usually small and cozy. n. —den/like/, adj.

Den., Denmark.

de na tion al ize (dē nash'ən līz), deprive of national rights, scope, or character. v., de na tion al ized, de na tion al iz ing. —de na/tion al i za/tion, n.

de nat u ral ize (dē nach'ə rəl īz), 1. make unnatural. 2. withdraw citizenship from (a naturalized citizen). v., de nat u ral ized, de nat u ral iz ing. —de-nat'u ral i za/tion, n.

de na ture (dē nā'chər), 1. change the nature of. 2. make (alcohol, food, etc.) unfit for drinking or eating without destroying its usefulness for other purposes. v., de na tured, de na tur ing. —de na/tur a/tion, n.

Dendrite (def. 1)

den drite (den'drit), 1. a stone or mineral with branching, treelike markings. 2. a treelike marking. 3. the branching part at the receiving end of a nerve cell. n.

den gue (deng'gā), an infectious fever with skin rash and severe pain in the joints and muscles. n.

de nial (di nī'əl), 1. act of saying that something is not true: a denial of the existence of ghosts. 2. act of saying that one does not hold to or accept: a public denial of communism. 3. a refusing: His denial of our request was impolite. 4. a disowning; a refusing to acknowledge: Peter's denial of Christ. 5. doing without things that one wants; self-denial. n.

de ni er (di nī'ər), person who denies. n.

den im (den'əm), a heavy, coarse cotton cloth with a diagonal weave, used for overalls, upholstery, etc. n.

den i zen (den'ə zn), 1. inhabitant; occupant: Fish are denizens of the sea. 2. foreigner who is given certain rights. 3. a foreign word, plant, animal, etc., that has been naturalized: The common English sparrow is a denizen of America; it was brought from Europe to America about 1850. n.

Den mark (den'märk), a small country in N Europe. 4,547,000 pop.; 16,576 sq. mi. Capital: Copenhagen. n.

de nom i nate (di nom'ə nāt for 1; di nom'ə nīt or di nom'ə nāt for 2), 1. give a name to; name. 2. called by a specific name. 6 ft., 4 oz., 10 in., and 9 lb. are de-nominate numbers. 1 v., de nom i nat ed, de nom i nat ing; 2 adj.

de nom i na tion (di nom'ə nā'shən), 1. name for a group or class of things; name. 2. a religious group or sect: Methodists and Baptists are two large Protestant denominations. 3. class or kind of units: Reducing 5 ft. and 10 in. to the same denomination gives 70 in. Reducing 1/2, 1/3, and 1/6 to the same denomination gives 1/6, 1/3, and 1/2. The United States coin of lowest denomination is a cent. 4. act of naming. n.

de nom i na tion al (di nom'ə nā'shən l), having to do with some religious denomination or denominations; sectarian. adj. —de nom i na/tion al ly, adv.

de nom i na tion al ism (di nom'ə nā'shən līz'əm),

1. denominational principles. 2. division into denominations. n.

de nom i na tive (di nom'ə nā'tiv), 1. giving a distinctive name; naming. 2. formed from a noun or an adjective. To center and to whiten are denominative verbs. 3. word formed from a noun or an adjective. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —de nom i na/tive ly, adv.

de nom i na tor (di nom'ə nā'tər), 1. number below the line in a fraction, stating the size of the parts in their relation to the whole: In 3/4, 4 is the denominator, and 3 is the numerator. 2. person or thing that names. n.

de no ta tion (dē'nō tā'shən), 1. meaning, especially the exact, literal meaning. The denotation of home is "place where one lives," but it has many connotations. 2. a denoting or marking out. 3. mark; sign. n.

de note (di nōt'), 1. be the sign of; indicate: A fever usually denotes sickness. If I write "Excellent" on your paper, it denotes very good work. 2. be a name for; mean: The word "stool" denotes a small chair without a back. v., de not ed, de not ing.

de noue ment or dé noue ment (dā'nū măn'), solution of a plot in a play, a story, etc.; outcome; end. n.

de nounce (di nouns'), 1. condemn publicly; express strong disapproval of: The preacher denounced sin. 2. inform against; accuse: He denounced his own brother to the military police as a spy. 3. give formal notice of the termination of (a treaty, etc.). v., de nounced, de-nounce ing. —de nounce/er, n.

de nounce ment (di nouns'mənt), act of denouncing; denunciation. n.

dense (dens), 1. closely packed together; thick: a dense fog, a dense growth of weeds. 2. stupid. adj., dens er, dens est. —dense/ly, adv. —dense/ness, n.

den si ty (den'sə tē), 1. dense condition or quality; having parts very close together; compactness; thickness: The density of the forest prevented us from seeing more than a little way ahead. 2. quantity of matter in a unit of volume; the ratio of the mass of a given volume of a substance to that of an equal volume of a standard substance. Water is the standard for solids and liquids, and hydrogen or air for gases. 3. stupidity. n., pl. den si ties.

dent (dent), 1. hollow made by a blow or pressure: Bullets had made dents in the steel helmet. 2. make a dent in: That table was dented in moving. 3. become dented. 1 n., 2,3 v.

den tal (den'tl), 1. of or for the teeth. 2. of or for a dentist's work. adj.

den ti frice (den'ti fris), paste, powder, or liquid for cleaning the teeth. n.

den tin (den'tin), the hard, bony material beneath the enamel of a tooth, forming the main part of a tooth. n.

den tine (den'tēn), dentin. n.

den tist (den'tist), doctor whose work is the care of teeth. A dentist fills cavities in teeth, cleans, straightens, and extracts them, and supplies artificial teeth. n.

den tist ry (den'tis trē), work, art, or occupation of a dentist. n.

den ti tion (den tish'ən), 1. growth of teeth; teething. 2. kind, number, and arrangement of the teeth: Dogs and wolves have the same dentition. n.

den ture (den'tchər), 1. set of artificial teeth. 2. set of teeth. n.

de nu da tion (dē'nū dā'shən or dē'nū dā'shən), 1. a denuding. 2. denuded condition. n.

de nude (di nūd' or di nūd'), make bare; strip of clothing, covering, etc.: Most trees are denuded of their leaves in winter. v., de nud ed, de nud ing.

de nun ci a tion (di nun'sē ā'shən), 1. public condemnation; expression of strong disapproval: the teacher's denunciation of cheating. 2. act of informing against; accusation. 3. formal notice of the intention to end a treaty, etc. 4. declaration of a curse, revenge, etc.; warning; threat. n.

de nun ci a to ry (di nun'sē ā tō'rē), condemning; accusing; threatening. adj.

Den ver (den'vər), capital of Colorado, in the central part. 494,000. n.

de ny (di nī'), 1. declare (something) is not true: The prisoner denied the charges against him. They denied the existence of disease in the town. 2. say that one does not hold to or accept: deny a political party. 3. refuse: I could not deny her so small a favor. 4. refuse to acknowledge; disown: He denied his signature. v., de nied, de ny ing.

deny oneself, do without the things one wants. deny oneself to, refuse to see: Illness forced Mrs. Smith to deny herself to all callers.

de o dor ant (dē ō'dər ant), 1. preparation that destroys odors. 2. that destroys odors. 1 n., 2 adj.

de o dor ize (dē ō'dər iz), destroy the odor of. v., de o dor ized, de o dor iz ing. —de o'dor i za'tion, n. —de o'dor iz'er, n.

de ox i dize (dē ōk'sə dīz), remove oxygen from. v., de ox i dized, de ox i diz ing. —de ox'i diz'er, n.

de part (di pärt'), 1. go away; leave: The train departs at 6:15. 2. turn away; change (from): He departed from his usual way of working. 3. go away from (chiefly with life): He departed this life at the age of seventy. 4. die. v.

de part ed (di pärt'id), 1. dead person or persons. 2. dead. 3. gone; past. 1 n. sing. and pl., 2, 3 adj.

de part ment (di pärt'mənt), 1. a separate part; special branch; division: the fire department of a city government. 2. one of the administrative districts into which France is divided. 3. a main division of governmental administration. n.

de part men tal (dē pärt men'tl), 1. having to do with a department. 2. divided into departments. adj.

department store, store that sells many different kinds of articles arranged in separate departments.

de par ture (di pär'chər), 1. act of going away; act of leaving: His departure was very sudden. 2. a turning away; change: a departure from our old custom. 3. starting on a new course of action or thought: This dancing class will be a new departure for me, for I have never done anything like it. 4. Archaic. death. n.

de pend (di pend'), 1. rely; trust: You can depend on the timetable to tell you when trains leave. 2. rely for support or help: Children depend on their parents. 3. result from another thing; be controlled or influenced by something else: The success of our picnic will depend partly upon the weather. 4. hang down. v.
depend on, be a result of.

de pend a bil i ty (di pen'də bil'ə tē), reliability; trustworthiness. n.

de pend a ble (di pen'də bl), reliable; trustworthy: Newspapers ought to be dependable. adj. —de pend'a ble ness, n. —de pend'a bly, adv.

de pend ant (di pen'dənt), dependent. adj., n.

de pend ence (di pen'dəns), 1. reliance on another for support or help: The boy wished to go to work so that he could end his dependence on his uncle. 2. reliance; trust: Do not put your dependence in him, for he sometimes fails us. 3. condition of being a result of another thing; fact of being controlled or influenced by something else: the dependence of crops on the weather. 4. person or thing relied on. n.

de pend en cy (di pen'dən sē), 1. country or territory controlled by another country: The Virgin Islands is a dependency of the United States. 2. dependence. 3. thing that depends on another for existence, support, or help. n., pl. de pend en cies.

de pend ent (di pen'dənt), 1. relying on another for support or help: A child is dependent on its parents. 2. person who relies on another for support or help. 3. resulting from another thing; controlled or influenced by something else: Good crops are dependent on the right kind of weather. Being promoted is dependent on doing good enough work in school. 4. hanging down. 1, 3, 4 adj., 2 n.

de pict (di pikt'), represent by drawing, painting, or describing; show; picture; portray: The artist and the author both tried to depict the splendor of the sunset. v.

de pic tion (di pik'shən), act of drawing; act of painting; description. n.

de pil a to ry (di pil'ə tō'rē), 1. capable of removing hair. 2. paste, liquid, or other preparation for removing hair. 1 adj., 2 n., pl. de pil a to ries.

de plete (di plēt'), empty; exhaust: Because the traveler's funds were depleted, he went home. v., de-plet ed, de plet ing.

de plet ion (di plē'shən), 1. a depleting. 2. being depleted. n.

de plor a ble (di plōr'ə bl), 1. to be deplored; regrettable; lamentable: a deplorable accident. 2. wretched; miserable. adj. —de plor'a bly, adv.

de plore (di plōr'), be very sorry about; regret deeply; lament: We deplore the accident. v., de plored, de ploring.

de ploy (di ploi'), spread out (troops, military units, etc.) from a column into a long battle line. v. —de-plot'ment, n.

de po nent (di pō'nənt), person who testifies, especially in writing, under oath. n.

de pop u late (dē pop'yə lāt), deprive of inhabitants: The conquerors depopulated the enemy's country by deporting the inhabitants. v., de pop u lat ed, de pop u lat ing. —de pop'u la'tor, n.

de pop u la tion (dē pop'yə lā'shən), 1. a depopulating. 2. being depopulated. n.

de port (di pōrt'), 1. banish; expel; remove. When an alien is deported, he is sent out of the country, usually back to his native land. 2. behave or conduct (oneself) in a particular manner: The boys were trained to deport themselves like gentlemen. v.

de por ta tion (dē pōr tā'shən), banishment; expulsion; removal: Deportation of criminals from England to Australia was once common. n.

de port ment (di pōrt'mənt), way a person acts; behavior; conduct: gentlemanly deportment. n.

de pose (di pōz'), 1. put out of office or a position of authority; remove from a throne: The king was deposed by the revolution. 2. declare under oath; testify: He deposed that he had seen the prisoner on the day of the murder. v., de posed, de pos ing.

de pos it (di poz'it), 1. put down; lay down; leave lying: He deposited his bundles on the table. The flood deposited a layer of mud in the streets. 2. something laid down or left lying: There is often a deposit of mud and sand at the mouth of a river. 3. put in a place for safekeeping: People deposit money in banks. 4. thing put in a place for safekeeping: Money put in a bank is a deposit. 5. pay as a pledge to do something or to pay more later: If you deposit part of the price, a store will keep an article for you until you pay the rest. 6. money paid as a pledge to do something or to pay more later. 7. mass of some mineral in rock or in the ground: deposits of tin. 1, 3, 5 v., 2, 4, 6, 7 n.

on deposit, 1. in a place for safekeeping. 2. in a bank.

de pos i tar y (di poz'ə ter'ē), 1. person or company that receives something for safekeeping; trustee. 2. depository; storehouse. n., pl. de pos i tar ies.

dep o si tion (dep'ə zish'ən or dē'pə zish'ən), 1. act of putting out of office or a position of authority; removal from a throne. 2. testimony. 3. a sworn statement in writing: A deposition made before the witness left town was used as evidence in the trial. 4. act of depositing: the deposition of sediment in a liquid. 5. thing deposited; deposit. n.

de pos i tor (di poz'ə tər), 1. person who deposits. 2. person who deposits money in a bank. n.

de pos i to ry (di poz'ə tō'rē), 1. place where a thing is put for safekeeping; storehouse. 2. depository; trustee. n., pl. de pos i to ries.

de pot (dē'pō; in military and British use dep'ō), 1. U.S. a railroad station. 2. storehouse; warehouse. 3. place where military supplies are stored. 4. place where recruits are brought together and trained. n.

de prave (di prāv'), make bad; corrupt: Drinking too much alcoholic liquor often depraves a person's character. v., de praved, de prav ing.

de praved (di prāv'd'), corrupt; perverted: A murderer is so depraved that he has no regard for human life. adj.

de prav i ty (di prāv'ə tē), 1. wickedness; corruption. 2. a corrupt act; bad practice. n., pl. de prav i ties.

dep re cate (dep'rə kāt), express strong disapproval of; plead against; protest against: Lovers of peace deprecate war. v., dep re cat ed, dep re cat ing. —dep're-cat'ing ly, adv. —dep're ca'tor, n.

dep re ca tion (dep'rə kā'shən), a strong expression of disapproval; pleading or protesting against something. n.

dep re ca to ry (dep'rə kə tō'rē), 1. deprecating. 2. Informal. apologetic. adj.

de pre ci ate (di prē'shē āt), 1. lessen the value or price of. 2. lessen in value: Rubber goods depreciate if they are kept very long. 3. speak slightly of; belittle: He depreciates the value of exercise. v., de pre ci at ed, de pre ci at ing. —de pre'ci at'ing ly, adv. —de pre'ci a'tor, n.

de pre ci a tion (di prē'shē ā'shən), 1. a lessening or lowering in value. 2. a speaking slightly of; a belittling. n.

de pre ci a to ry (di prē'shē ā tō'rē), tending to depreciate, disparage, or undervalue. adj.

dep re da tion (dep'rə dā'shən), act of plundering; robbery; a ravaging. n.

de press (di pres'), 1. make sad or gloomy; cause to have low spirits: She was depressed by the bad news from home. 2. press down; push down; lower: When you play the piano, you depress the keys. 3. lower in amount or value: The price of potatoes has been depressed by the tremendous size of the harvest this year. 4. reduce the activity of; weaken: Some medicines depress the action of the heart. v. —de press'ing ly, adv.

de pres sant (di pres'nt), 1. decreasing the rate of vital activities; quieting. 2. medicine that lessens pain or excitement; sedative. 1 adj., 2 n.

de pressed (di pres't), 1. gloomy; low-spirited; sad. 2. pressed down; lowered. adj.

de pres sion (di presh'ən), 1. act of pressing down; a sinking; a lowering: A rapid depression of the mercury in a barometer usually indicates a storm. 2. depressed condition. 3. a low place; hollow: The roads were dry, but water still filled depressions in the ground. 4. sadness; gloominess; low spirits. 5. reduction of activity; dullness of trade: Many men lose their jobs during times of business depression. n.

dep ri va tion (dep'rə vā'shən), act of depriving; state of being deprived; loss; privation. n.

de prive (di priv'), 1. take away from by force: The people deprived the cruel king of his power. 2. keep from having or doing: Worrying deprived him of sleep. v., de prived, de priv ing.

de pro fun dis (dē prō fun'dis), Latin. from the depths (of sorrow, misery, despair, etc.).

dept., 1. department. 2. deputy.

depth (depth), 1. quality of being deep; deepness. 2. distance from top to bottom: the depth of a hole. 3. distance from front to back: The depth of our house lot is 125 feet. 4. a deep place. 5. the deepest part: in the depths of the earth. 6. the most central part; middle: in the depth of the forest, in the depth of winter. 7. profoundness: A philosopher should have depth of mind. 8. lowness of pitch. 9. intensity of color, etc. n.

depth bomb, depth charge.

depth charge, an explosive charge dropped from a ship or airplane and arranged to explode at a certain depth under water.

dep u ta tion (dep'yə tā'shən), 1. act of deputing. 2. group of persons appointed to act for others: A depu- tation of workmen called upon the owner of the factory to ask for higher pay. n.

de pute (di pūt'), 1. appoint to do one's work or to act in one's place: The teacher deputed a pupil to take charge of the room while she was gone. 2. give (work, authority, etc.) to another. v., de put ed, de put ing.

dep u tize (dep'yə tiz), 1. appoint as deputy. 2. act as deputy. v., dep u tized, dep u tiz ing.

dep u ty (dep'yə tē), 1. person appointed to do the work of or to act in the place of another: The sheriff appointed deputies to help him enforce the law. 2. representative in certain lawmaking assemblies. 3. acting as a deputy. 1, 2 n., pl. dep u ties; 3 adj.

de rail (dē rāl'), 1. cause (a train, etc.) to run off the rails. 2. run off the rails. v. —de rail'ment, n.

de range (di rānj'), 1. disturb the order or arrangement of; throw into confusion: Sudden illness in the family deranged our plans for the trip. 2. make insane: The mother of the kidnapped baby was temporarily deranged by grief. v., de ranged, de rang ing.

de range ment (di rānj'mənt), 1. disturbance of order or arrangement. 2. mental disorder; insanity. n.

der by (dēr'bē), a stiff hat with a rounded crown and narrow brim. n., pl. der bies.

Der by (dēr'bē; Brit. dār'bē), 1. city in central England. 138,000. 2. a famous horse race in England, founded by the Earl of Derby in 1780 and run every year at Epsom Downs, near London. 3. a horse race of similar importance: the Kentucky Derby. n., pl. Derbies.

der e lic t (dēr'ə likt), 1. abandoned; deserted; forsaken: a derelict ship. 2. a ship abandoned at sea. 3. any worthless, deserted person or thing: The ragged old derelict begged for money to buy a meal. 4. failing in one's duty; negligent. 1, 4 adj., 2, 3 n.

der e lic tion (dēr'ə lik'shən), 1. failure in one's duty; negligence. 2. abandonment; desertion; forsaking. n.

de ride (di rīd'), make fun of; laugh at in scorn; ridicule with contempt. v., de rid ed, de rid ing. —de-rid'er, n. —de rid'ing ly, adv.

de ri sion (di rizh'ən), 1. scornful laughter; ridicule; contempt: Children dread the derision of their playmates. 2. an object of ridicule. n.

de ri sive (di rī'siv), mocking; ridiculing. adj. —de-ri'sive ly, adv. —de ri'sive ness, n.

de ri so ry (di rī'sə rē), derisive. adj.

der i va tion (dēr'ə vā'shən), 1. act or fact of deriving. 2. state of being derived. 3. source; origin: The celebration of Halloween is of Scottish derivation. 4. the system used by a given language for making new words from old, through use of prefixes and suffixes and other methods. Example: Quickness = quick + suffix -ness. 5. statement of how a word was formed. n.

de riv a tive (di riv'ə tiv), 1. derived; not original. 2. something derived. Words formed by adding prefixes and suffixes to other words are called derivatives. 1 adj., 2 n. —de riv'a tive ly, adv.

de rive (di rīv'), 1. get; receive; obtain: A scholar derives knowledge from reading books. 2. obtain from a source or origin: The word "December" is ultimately derived from the Latin word "decem," which means "ten." 3. come from a source or origin; originate. 4. trace (a word, custom, etc.) from or to a source or origin. 5. obtain by reasoning. v., de rived, de riv ing. —de-ri'v-a-ble, adj. —de riv'er, n.

der ma (dēr'mə), 1. the sensitive layer of skin beneath the epidermis. See epidermis for diagram. 2. skin. n.

der mal (dēr'mal), of the skin. adj.

der ma tol o gist (dēr'mə tol'ə jist), expert in dermatology. n.

der ma tol o gy (dēr'mə tol'ə jē), science that deals with the skin and its diseases. n.

der mis (dēr'mis), derma. n.

der o gate (dēr'ə gāt), 1. take away; detract: The king felt that summoning a parliament would derogate from his authority. 2. become worse; degenerate. v., der o gat ed, der o gat ing.

der o ga tion (der'ə gā'shən), 1. a lessening or impairment (of power, law, position, etc.); detracting. 2. state of becoming worse; deterioration; debasement. n.
de rog a to ry (di rog'ə tō'rē), 1. disparaging; belittling; showing an unfavorable opinion of some person or thing. 2. lessening the value; detracting. adj. —de rog'a to'ri ly, adv.

Derrick (def. 1)

der rick (der'ik), 1. machine for lifting and moving heavy objects. A derrick has a long arm that swings at an angle from the base of an upright post or frame. 2. a towerlike framework over an oil well, gas well, etc., that holds the drilling and hoisting machinery. n.

der ring-do (der'ing dü'), daring deeds. n.

der rin ger (der'an jər), U.S. a short pistol that has a large caliber. n.

der vish (dēr'vish), a Moslem monk or friar. Dancing dervishes have a religious ceremony in which they dance and spin about violently. n.

de sal i nate (dē sal'ə nāt), remove salt from: desalinate sea water. v., de sal i nat ed, de sal i nat ing.

des cant (des kant'), talk at great length; discourse: She descanted upon the wonders of her trip to Europe. v.

de scend (di sent'), 1. go or come down from a higher place to a lower place: We descend stairs and mountains. The river descends to the sea. 2. go from earlier to later time: a superstition descended from the Middle Ages. 3. go from greater to less: 75-50-25 form a series that descends. 4. slope downward. 5. make a sudden attack: The pirates descended on the people and took their money. 6. be handed down from parent to child; pass by inheritance: This land has belonged to our family for 150 years, descending from father to son. 7. have as ancestors: John is descended from a pioneer family. 8. lower oneself; stoop: Dishonest persons descend to cheating, lying, and stealing. v.

de scend ant (di sen'dənt), 1. person born of a certain family or group: a descendant of the Pilgrims. 2. offspring; child; great-grandchild, etc. You are a direct descendant of your parents, grandparents, great-grandparents, etc. n.

de scent (di sent'), 1. a coming down or going down from a higher to a lower place: The descent of the balloon was more rapid than its rise had been. 2. a downward slope: We climbed down a steep descent. 3. way or passage down; means of descending. 4. a handing down from parent to child; a descending or coming down in a family line: We can trace the descent of this shape of lip through five generations. 5. family line; ancestry: We can trace our descent back to before 1750. 6. decline; sinking to a lower condition; fall; a lowering of oneself. 7. a sudden attack. n.

de scribe (di skrib'), 1. tell in words how a person looks, feels, or acts, or how a place, a thing, or an event looks; tell or write about. 2. draw the outline of; trace: The spinning top described a figure 8. v., de scribed, de scribing. —de scrib'a ble, adj. —de scrib'er, n.

de scrip tion (di skrip'shən), 1. act of describing; act of giving a picture or account in words. 2. composition or account that describes or gives a picture in words. 3. kind; sort: In the crowd there were people of every description. 4. act of tracing; act of drawing in outline. n.

de scrip tive (di skrip'tiv), describing; using description: Write a descriptive paragraph about a flower garden. adj. —de scrip'tive ly, adv. —de scrip'tive ness, n.

de scry (di skri'), catch sight of; be able to see; make out: The shipwrecked sailor at last descried an island far away on the horizon. v., de scried, de scry ing.

des e crate (des'ə krāt), treat or use without respect; disregard the sacredness of: The enemy desecrated the church by using it as a stable. v., des e crat ed, des e crat ing. —des'e crat'er, des'e crat'or, n.

des e cra tion (des'ə krā'shən), 1. act of desecrating: The Puritans thought that work or amusement was a desecration of the Sabbath. 2. a being desecrated. n.

de seg re gate (dē seg'rə gāt), U.S. bring about desegregation. v., de seg re gat ed, de seg re gat ing.

de seg re ga tion (dē seg'rə gā'shən), U.S. abolishment of the practice of segregating Negroes from whites, especially in the United States public schools. n.

de sen si tize (dē sen'sə tiz), make less sensitive. v., de sen si tized, de sen si tiz ing. —de sen'si ti za'tion, n. —de sen'si tiz'er, n.

des ert (dez'ərt), 1. a dry, barren region, usually sandy and without trees: the Sahara Desert. 2. dry; barren. 3. region that is not inhabited or cultivated; wilderness. 4. not inhabited or cultivated; wild: Robinson Crusoe was shipwrecked on a desert island. 1,3 n., 2,4 adj.

de sert (di zèrt'), 1. go away and leave; abandon; forsake: A husband should not desert his wife and children. 2. run away from duty. 3. leave military service without permission: A soldier who deserts is punished. v.

de sert (di zèrt'), what is deserved; suitable reward or punishment: The robber got his just deserts when he was sentenced to five years in prison. n.

de sert er (di zèr'tər), 1. person who deserts. 2. soldier or sailor who runs away from duty or leaves military service without permission. n.

de ser tion (di zèr'shən), 1. a deserting. 2. a being deserted. 3. a running away from duty. 4. a leaving military service without permission. n.

de serve (di zèrv'), 1. have a claim or right to; be worthy of: Good work deserves good pay. 2. be worthy. v., de served, de serv ing.

de serv ed ly (di zèr'vid lē), according to what is deserved; justly; rightly: The criminal was deservedly punished. adv.

de serv ing (di zèr'ving), 1. that deserves; worthy (of something). 2. worth helping. adj. —de serv'ing ly, adv.

des ic cate (des'ə kāt), 1. dry thoroughly: The soil in a desert is desiccated. 2. preserve by drying thoroughly: desiccated fruit. v., des ic cat ed, des ic cat ing. —des'ic ca'tion, n.

de sid er a ta (di sid'ər ā'tə), pl. of desideratum. n.

de sid er a tum (di sid'ər ā'təm), something desired or needed: Health, security, and affection are desiderata. n., pl. de sid er a ta.

de sign (di zīn'), 1. a drawing, plan, or sketch made to serve as a pattern from which to work: a design for a machine. 2. arrangement of detail, form, and color in painting, weaving, building, etc.: a wallpaper design in tan and brown. 3. make a first sketch of; plan out; arrange form and color of; draw in outline: design a dress. 4. make drawings, sketches, plans, etc.: He designs for a firm of dressmakers. 5. art of making designs: a school of design. 6. piece of artistic work. 7. a plan in mind to be carried out: My brother's design is to be a lawyer. 8. scheme of attack; evil plan: The thief had designs upon the safe. 9. plan out; form in the mind; contrive: The author of this detective story has designed a good plot. 10. purpose; aim; intention: Whether by accident or design, he overturned the lamp. 11. have in mind to do; purpose: Did you design this, or did it just happen? 12. set apart; intend; plan: His parents designed him for the ministry. 1,2,5-8,10 n., 3,4,9,11,12 v.

des ig nate (dez'ig nāt), 1. mark out; point out; indicate definitely: Red lines designate main roads on this map. His uniform designates his rank. 2. name; entitle:

Design for a calendar

The ruler of the country was designated king. 3. select for duty, office, etc.; appoint: That is the man designated by the President as the next Secretary of State. v., desig-nat ed, desig nat ing.

desig na tion (dez'ig nā'shən), 1. act of marking out; act of pointing out; definite indication: The designation of places on a map should be clear. 2. a descriptive title; name: "Your Excellency" is a designation sometimes given to a governor in the United States. 3. appointment or selection for a duty, office, position, etc.: The designation of cabinet officers is one of the powers of the President. n.

de sign ed ly (di zīn'id lē), purposely; intentionally. adv.

de sign er (di zīn'ər), 1. person who designs. A dress designer makes patterns and sketches for women's clothes. 2. plotter; schemer. n.

de sign ing (di zīn'ing), 1. scheming; plotting. 2. showing plan or forethought. 3. art of making designs, patterns, sketches, etc. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

de sir a bil i ty (di zīr'ə bil'ə tē), state or quality of being desirable. n.

de sir a ble (di zīr'ə bl), worth wishing for; worth having; pleasing; good; excellent. adj. —de sir'-a ble ness, n. —de sir'a bly, adv.

de sire (di zīr'), 1. wish for; wish strongly for. 2. wish; strong wish: His desire is to travel. 3. express a wish for; ask for. 4. an expressed wish; request. 5. thing desired. 1,3 v., de sired, de sir ing; 2,4,5 n.

de sir ous (di zīr'əs), having or showing desire; full of desire; desiring; eager: desirous of going to France. adj.

de sist (di zist'), stop; cease. v.

desk (desk), piece of furniture with a flat or sloping top on which to write or to rest books for reading. n.

Des Moines (də moin'), 1. capital of Iowa, in the central part. 209,000. 2. river flowing from SW Minnesota across Iowa into the Mississippi. 327 mi.

des o late (des'ə lit for 1,3,5,6,8; des'ə lāt for 2,4,7), 1. barren; laid waste; devastated: desolate land. 2. make unfit to live in; lay waste. 3. not lived in; deserted: a desolate house. 4. deprive of inhabitants. 5. left alone; solitary; lonely. 6. unhappy; wretched; forlorn: The ragged, hungry child looked desolate. 7. make lonely, unhappy, or forlorn: He was desolated to hear that his old friend was going away. 8. dreary; dismal: a desolate life. 1,3,5,6,8 adj., 2,4,7 v., des o lat ed, des o lat ing. —des'-o late ly, adv. —des'-o late ness, n.

des o la tion (des'ə lā'shən), 1. act of making desolate. 2. a ruined, lonely, or deserted condition. 3. a desolate place. 4. sadness; lonely sorrow. n.

De So to (di sō'tō), Hernando, 1500?-1542, Spanish explorer in America who discovered the Mississippi.

de spair (di spār'), 1. loss of hope; state of being without hope; hopelessness; a feeling that nothing good can happen: Despair seized us as we felt the boat sinking under us. 2. person or thing that causes despair. 3. lose hope; be without hope: The doctors despaired of saving the sick man's life. 1,2 n., 3 v.

de spair ing (di spār'ing), feeling, showing, or expressing despair; hopeless. adj. —de spair'ing ly, adv. —de spair'ing ness, n.

des patch (dis pach'), dispatch. v., n.

des per a do (des'pər ā'dō), a bold reckless criminal; dangerous outlaw. n., pl. des per a does or des per a dos.

des per ate (des'pər it), 1. reckless because of despair; willing to run any risk: a desperate robber. 2. showing recklessness caused by despair; violent: Suicide is a desperate act. 3. with little or no hope of improvement; very dangerous or serious: a desperate illness. 4. hopeless. adj. —des'per ate ly, adv. —des'per ate ness, n.

des per a tion (des'pər ā'shən), recklessness caused by despair; willingness to run any risk: In desperation he jumped out of the window when he saw that the stairs were on fire. n.

des pi ca ble (des'pi kə bl or des pik'ə bl), to be despised; contemptible: Cowards and liars are despicable. adj. —des'pi ca ble ness, n. —des'pi ca bly, adv.

de spise (di spiz'), look down on; feel contempt for; scorn: Honest people despise those who lie. v., de spised, de spis ing. —de spis'er, n.

de spite (di spit'), 1. in spite of: The boys went for a walk despite the rain. 2. insult; injury. 3. Archaic. malice; spite. 4. Archaic. contempt; scorn. 1 prep., 2-4 n.

in despite of, in spite of.

de spoil (di spoil'), rob; plunder. v.

de spond (di spond'), lose heart, courage, or hope. v. —de spond'ing ly, adv.

de spond ence (di spon'dəns), despondency. n.

de spond en cy (di spon'dən sē), loss of courage or hope; discouragement; dejection. n.

de spond ent (di spon'dənt), without courage or hope; discouraged; dejected. adj. —de spond'ent ly, adv.

des pot (des'pət), 1. tyrant; oppressor. 2. monarch having unlimited power; absolute ruler. n.

des pot ic (des pot'ik), of a despot; tyrannical; having unlimited power. adj. —des pot'i cal ly, adv.

des pot ism (des'pət iz əm), 1. tyranny; oppression. 2. government by a monarch having unlimited power. n.

des sert (di zert'), a course served at the end of a meal. Pie, cake, ice cream, fruit, cheese, etc., are desserts. In England, dessert usually means fruit, candy, or nuts. n.

des ti na tion (des'tə nā'shən), 1. place to which a person or thing is going or is being sent. 2. a setting apart for a particular purpose or use; intention. n.

des tine (des'tən), 1. set apart for a particular purpose or use; intend: The prince was destined from birth to be a king. 2. cause by fate: My letter was destined never to reach him. v., des tined, des tin ing.

destined for, 1. intended to go to; bound for: ships destined for England. 2. intended for: destined for the ministry.

des ti ny (des'tə nē), 1. what becomes of a person or thing in the end; one's lot or fortune: It was his destiny to die in battle. 2. what will happen in spite of all efforts to change or prevent it. 3. power that foreordains; overruling necessity; fate. n., pl. des ti nies.

des ti tute (des'tə tūt or des'tə tūt), lacking necessary things such as food, clothing, and shelter: A destitute family needs help from charity. adj.

destitute of, having no; without: A bald head is destitute of hair.

des ti tu tion (des'tə tū'shən or des'tə tū'shən), 1. destitute condition; extreme poverty. 2. state of being without; lack. n.

de stroy (di stroi'), 1. break to pieces; make useless; ruin; spoil: Some children destroy all their toys. 2. put an end to; do away with: A heavy rain destroyed all hope of a picnic. 3. deprive of life; kill: Fire destroys many trees every year. 4. counteract the effect of; make void. v.

de stroy er (di stroi'ər), 1. person or thing that destroys. 2. a small, fast warship with guns, torpedoes, and other weapons. A destroyer is used to attack submarines. n.

de struct (di strukt'), 1. blow up a rocket or other missile that fails to function properly. 2. the destructing of a rocket or missile. 1 v., 2 n.

de struct i bil i ty (di struk'tə bil'ə tē), quality of being destructible. n.

de struct i ble (di struk'tə bl), capable of being destroyed. adj.

de struc tion (di struk'shən), 1. act of destroying: A crowd watched the destruction of the old building. 2. state of being destroyed. 3. thing that destroys; cause or means of destroying. 4. ruin: The storm left destruction behind it. n.

de struc tive (di struk'tiv), 1. tending to destroy; liable to cause destruction: Termites are destructive insects. 2. destroying; causing destruction: Fires and earthquakes are destructive. 3. tearing down; not helpful:

His destructive criticism showed things to be wrong, but did not show how to correct them. adj. —de struc'tive ly, adv. —de struc'tive ness, n.

des ue tude (des'wə tūd or des'wə tūd), disuse: Many words once commonly used have fallen into desuetude. n.

des ul to ry (des'əl tō'rē), jumping from one thing to another; unconnected; without aim or method: The careful study of a few books is better than the desultory reading of many. adj. —des'ul to'ri ly, adv. —des'ul to'ri ness, n.

de tach (di tach'), 1. loosen and remove; unfasten; separate: He detached his watch from the chain. 2. send away on special duty: One squad of soldiers was detached to guard the camp. v. —de tach'a ble, adj.

de tached (di tacht'), 1. separate from others; isolated: A detached house is not in a solid row with others. 2. not influenced by others or by one's own interests and prejudices; impartial. adj.

de tach ment (di tach'mənt), 1. separation. 2. group of soldiers or ships sent on some special duty. 3. state of being on special duty: a squad of soldiers on detachment. 4. a standing apart; aloofness. 5. freedom from prejudice or bias; impartial attitude: Students were surprised at the professor's air of detachment in talking about his own books. n.

de tail (di tāl' or dē'tāl), *1. a small or unimportant part: All the details of her costume carried out the brown color scheme. 2. a dealing with small things one by one: I will give you the broad outlines of the situation in Australia; there is not space to go into detail. 3. a minute account; report of particulars. 4. tell fully; give the particulars of: The new boy detailed to us all the wonders he had seen in his travels. 5. a small group selected for or sent on some special duty: The captain sent a detail of six soldiers to guard the road. 6. select for or send on special duty: Policemen were detailed to hold back the crowd watching the parade. 1-3, 5 n., 4, 6 v. in detail, *part by part.

de tain (di tain'), 1. hold back; keep from going; delay. 2. keep in custody; confine: The police detained the suspected thief for further questioning. 3. withhold. v.

de tain ment (di tain'mənt), detention. n.

de tect (di tēkt'), 1. find out; discover: Tim was detected stealing cookies in the pantry. 2. discover the existence of: Could you detect any odor in the room? 3. change (the alternating currents in a radio set) by a detector. v.

de tect a ble (di tēkt'ə bl), capable of being detected. adj.

de tec tion (di tēkt'shən), 1. a finding out; discovery. 2. a being found out or discovered. 3. change of alternating currents in a radio set. n.

de tec tive (di tēkt'iv), *1. policeman or other person whose work is finding information secretly, discovering who committed a crime, etc. 2. having to do with detectives and their work. 3. used in discovering or finding out: Scientific detective methods are more accurate than guessing. 1 n., 2, 3 *adj.

de tec tor (di tēkt'ər), 1. person or thing that detects. 2. a vacuum tube or crystal in a radio that helps in the change of radio waves into sound waves. n.

de ten tion (di ten'shən), 1. act of detaining; act of holding back. 2. state of being detained; delay: Detention after hours used to be a common punishment in school. 3. act of keeping in custody; confinement: A jail is used for the detention of persons who have been arrested. n.

de ter (di tēr'), discourage; keep back; hinder: The extreme heat deterred us from going downtown. v., de-terred, de ter ring.

de ter gent (di tēr'jənt), *1. cleansing. 2. substance used for cleansing. 1 adj., 2 *n.

de te ri o rate (di tēr'ē ə rāt), 1. become worse; lessen in value; depreciate: Machinery deteriorates if it is not given good care. 2. make worse: A hot, damp climate deteriorates leather. v., de te ri o rat ed, de te ri o rat ing.

de te ri o ra tion (di tēr'ē ə rā'shən), 1. a deteriorating. 2. condition of having deteriorated: The Smiths moved away because of the deterioration of the neighborhood. n.

de ter ment (di tēr'mənt), 1. a deterring. 2. thing that deters. n.

de ter mi na ble (di tēr'mə nə bl), 1. capable of being settled or decided. 2. capable of being found out exactly. adj.

de ter mi nant (di tēr'mə nənt), *1. thing that determines. 2. determining: The longer vacation offered was the determinant factor in Mr. Brown's change of position. 1 n., 2 *adj.

de ter mi nate (di tēr'mə nit), 1. with exact limits; fixed; definite. 2. settled; positive. 3. determined; resolute. adj. —de ter'mi nate ly, adv. —de ter'mi nate ness, n.

de ter mi na tion (di tēr'mə nā'shən), 1. act of deciding; act of settling beforehand: The determination of the best name for our club took a long time. 2. a finding out the exact amount or kind, by weighing, measuring, or calculating: the determination of gold in a sample of rock. 3. result of finding out exactly; conclusion. 4. state of being determined; settlement; decision. 5. fixed purpose; great firmness in carrying out a purpose: The boy's determination was not weakened by the difficulties he met. n.

de ter mine (di tēr'mən), 1. make up one's mind firmly; resolve: He determined to become the best Scout in his troop. 2. settle; decide. 3. find out exactly; fix: The captain determined the latitude and longitude of his ship's position. 4. fix the geometrical position of. 5. be the deciding fact in reaching a certain result: Tomorrow's events will determine whether we are to go or stay. 6. fix or settle beforehand: Can we now determine the date for our party? 7. give an aim to; direct; impel. 8. limit; define: The meaning of a word is partly determined by its use in a particular sentence. 9. put an end to; conclude. 10. come to an end. v., de ter mined, de ter min ing.

de ter mined (di tēr'mənd), 1. with one's mind firmly made up; resolved: The determined explorer kept on his way in spite of the storm. 2. firm; resolute: His determined look showed that he had made up his mind. adj.

de ter mined ly (di tēr'mənd lē), in a determined manner. adv.

de ter rent (di tēr'ənt), *1. deterring; restraining. 2. something that deters: Fear of consequences is a common deterrent from wrongdoing. 1 adj., 2 *n.

de test (di tēst'), dislike very much; hate. v.

de test a ble (di tēs'tə bl), deserving to be detested; hateful. adj. —de test'a ble ness, n.

de tes ta tion (dē'tēs tā'shən), 1. very strong dislike; hatred. 2. a detested person or thing: Snakes are her detestation. n.

de throne (di thrōn'), deprive of the power to rule; remove from a throne; depose. v., de throned, de throning.

de throne ment (di thrōn'mənt), 1. a dethroning. 2. being dethroned. n.

det o nate (det'ə nāt or dē'tən āt), 1. cause to explode with a loud noise: The workmen detonated the dynamite. 2. explode with a loud noise: The bomb detonated. v., det o nat ed, det o nat ing.

det o na tion (det'ə nā'shən or dē'tā nā'shən), 1. explosion with a loud noise. 2. a loud noise. n.

det o na tor (det'ə nā'tər or dē'tā nā'tər), fuse, percussion cap, etc., used to set off an explosive. n.

de tour (dē'tūr), *1. road that is used when the main or direct road cannot be traveled. 2. a roundabout way. 3. use a detour. 4. cause to use a detour. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 *v.

de tract (di trakt'), take away: The ugly frame detracts from the beauty of the picture. v.

de trac tion (di trak'shən), 1. act of speaking evil; belittling. 2. a taking away; detracting. n.

de tractive (di trak'tiv), 1. tending to detract. 2. speaking evil; belittling. adj. —de tractive ly, adv.

de trac tor (di trak'tər), person who speaks evil of or belittles another. n.

det ri ment (det'rə mēnt), 1. damage; injury; harm: No one can tell lies without detriment to his character. 2. something that causes damage or harm. n.

det ri men tal (det'rə men'tl), damaging; injurious; harmful: Lack of sleep is detrimental to one's health. adj. —det ri men tal ly, adv.

de tri tus (di trī'təs), particles of rock or other material worn away from a mass. n.

De troit (di troit'), 1. city in SE Michigan. 1,670,000. 2. river connecting Lake Erie and Lake St. Clair. 25 mi. n.

deuce¹ (düs or dūs), 1. two in a game of cards or dice. 2. a playing card marked with a 2. 3. the side of a die having two spots. 4. a tie score at 40 each in a game of tennis, or 5 games each in a set. n.

deuce² (düs or dūs), Informal. exclamation of annoyance meaning "bad luck," "the mischief," etc. interj.

Deut., Deuteronomy.

deu te ri um (dü tir'ē əm or dū tir'ē əm), an isotope of hydrogen; heavy hydrogen. Its molecules weigh twice as much as those of ordinary hydrogen. Symbol: D n.

Deu ter on o my (düt'tər on'ə mē or dū'tər on'ə mē), the fifth book of the Old Testament. n.

Deutsch land (doich'lānt'), German. Germany. n.

de val u ate (dē val'yū āt), lessen the value of; fix a lower legal value on (a currency which has depreciated): devalue the pound. v. de val u at ed, de val u at ing.

de val u a tion (dē val'yū ā'shən), 1. a devaluating. 2. being devaluated. n.

dev as tate (dev'əs tāt), make desolate; destroy; ravage: A long war devastated the border towns. v. dev as tat ed, dev as tat ing. —dev'as ta'tor, n.

dev as ta tion (dev'əs tā'shən), destruction; laying waste; being laid waste. n.

de vel op (di vel'əp), 1. bring or come into being or activity; grow: Swimming will develop many different muscles. Plants develop from seeds. 2. change or cause to change in character through successive periods; evolve: Land animals are believed to have developed from sea animals. The modern power loom has been developed from an ancient and simpler machine. 3. work out in greater detail; make or become bigger, better, fuller, more useful, etc.: Gradually we developed our plans for the boys' club. 4. make or become known; reveal: The detective's inquiry did not develop any new facts. 5. treat or be treated with chemicals to bring out a photograph: We shall print all the films we developed. This type of film develops in twenty minutes. v.

de vel op er (di vel'əp ər), 1. person or thing that develops. 2. a chemical used to bring out the picture on a photographic film, plate, print, etc. n.

de vel op ment (di vel'əp mēnt), 1. a developing; a gradual unfolding; a working out in detail. 2. growth. 3. evolution. 4. stage of advancement. 5. happening; outcome; result: This newspaper gives news about the latest developments. 6. a more elaborate form. 7. developing of a photograph. 8. houses or other buildings built on rural land or built to replace buildings in an old and often run-down area: Many developments in New York City have replaced slums. n.

de vel op men tal (di vel'əp men'tl), having to do with development. adj.

de vi ate (dē'vē āt), turn aside (from a way, course, rule, truth, etc.); diverge: His statements sometimes deviated slightly from the truth. v. de vi at ed, de vi at ing.

de vi a tion (dē'vē ā'shən), a turning aside from a way, course, rule, truth, etc.; divergence: No deviation from the rules will be allowed. The iron in the ship caused a deviation of the magnetic needle of the compass. n.

de vi a tion ist (dē'vē ā'shən ist), person who turns aside from strict communistic principles. n.

de vice (di viz'), 1. a mechanical invention used for a special purpose; machine; apparatus: a device for lighting a gas stove. 2. plan; scheme; trick: By some device or other he got the boy to let him into the house. 3. a drawing or figure used in a pattern or as an ornament. 4. picture or design on a coat of arms, often accompanied by a motto. 5. motto. n.

leave to one's own devices, leave to do as one thinks best.

dev il (dev'l), 1. an evil spirit; fiend; demon. 2. a wicked or cruel person. 3. a very clever, energetic, or reckless person. 4. an unfortunate or wretched person. 5. something very bad; an evil influence or power. 6. person who does literary work for another, for which the latter gets the credit or pay. 7. the errand boy in a printing office. 8. Informal. bother; tease; torment. 9. prepare (food) with hot seasoning: devil ham. 10. machine that has sharp teeth or spikes for tearing, cleaning, etc. 1-7, 10 n., 8, 9 v., dev iled, dev il ing or esp. Brit. dev illed, dev il ling.

the Devil, the supreme spirit of evil; the enemy of goodness; Satan.

dev iled (dev'ld), highly seasoned: deviled eggs. adj.

dev il fish (dev'l fish'), 1. a large, odd-shaped fish related to the shark; giant ray. 2. octopus. n., pl. dev il fish es or (esp. collectively) dev il fish.

dev il ish (dev'l ish), 1. like a devil; like a devil's; very cruel or wicked. 2. mischievous; daring. 3. Informal. very great; extreme. 4. Informal. very; extremely. 1-3 adj., 4 adv. —dev'il ish ly, adv. —dev'il ish ness, n.

dev il ment (dev'l mēnt), 1. evil action; wicked behavior. 2. mischief; daring behavior. n.

dev il ry (dev'l rē), devilry. n., pl. dev il ries.

Devil's Island, an island off the coast of French Guiana, formerly used as a French penal colony.

dev il try (dev'l trē), Esp. U.S. 1. evil action; wicked behavior. 2. daring behavior; mischief. 3. great cruelty or wickedness. n., pl. dev il tries.

de vi ous (dē'vē əs), 1. winding; twisting; roundabout: We took a devious route through side streets and alleys to avoid the crowded main streets. 2. straying from the right course; not straightforward; going astray: His devious nature was shown in half-lies and small dishonesties. adj. —de'vi ous ly, adv. —de'vi ous ness, n.

de vise (di viz'), 1. think out; plan; contrive; invent: The boys devised a scheme for earning money during the summer vacation. 2. give or leave (land, buildings, etc.) by a will. 3. a giving or leaving of land, buildings, etc., by a will. 4. a will or part of a will doing this. 5. land, buildings, etc., given or left in this way. 1, 2 v., de vis ed, de vis ing; 3-5 n. —de vis'a ble, adj.

de vi tal i za tion (dē'vī tl ə'zā'shən), 1. a devitalizing. 2. being devitalized. n.

de vi tal ize (dē'vī tl īz), 1. kill; take the life of. 2. weaken; exhaust; make less vital. v., de vi tal ized, de vi tal iz ing.

de void (di void'), lacking (of): devoid of sense. adj.

de voir (dē vwär'), 1. act of courtesy or respect. 2. duty. n.

de volve (di volv'), 1. transfer (duty, work, etc.) to someone else. 2. be handed down to someone else; be transferred: If the president is unable to handle his duties, they devolve upon the vice-president. v., de volved, de volving.

Dev on (dev'ən), county in SW England. n.

de vote (di vōt'), 1. give up (oneself, one's money, time, or efforts) to some person, purpose, or service: The mother devoted herself to her children. 2. set apart and consecrate to God or to a sacred purpose. 3. set apart for any other particular purpose: That museum is devoted to modern art. v., de vot ed, de vot ing.

Devilfish (def. 1)
(about 20 ft. across)

de vot ed (di vōt'id), 1. loyal; faithful: a devoted friend. 2. set apart for some purpose; dedicated; consecrated. adj. —de vot'ed ly, adv. —de vot'ed ness, n.

dev o tee (dev'ə tē'), 1. person deeply devoted to something. 2. person earnestly devoted to religion. n.

de vo tion (di vō'shən), 1. deep, steady affection; loyalty; faithfulness: the devotion of a mother to her child. 2. act of devoting or state of being devoted: the devotion of much time to study. 3. earnestness in religion. n.

devotions, religious worship; prayers.

de vo tion al (di vō'shən l), having to do with devotion; used in worship. adj. —de vo'tion al ly, adv.

de vour (di vour'), 1. eat (usually said of animals): The lion devoured the sheep. 2. eat like an animal; eat hungrily: The hungry boy was devouring his dinner. 3. consume; waste; destroy: devoured by disease. 4. swallow up; engulf. 5. take in with eyes or ears in a hungry, greedy way: devour a new book. 6. absorb wholly: She was devoured by anxiety. v. —de vour'er, n. —de vour'ing ly, adv.

de vout (di vout'), 1. active in worship and prayer; religious. 2. devoted; earnest; sincere; hearty: devout thanks. adj. —de vout'ly, adv. —de vout'ness, n.

dew (dü or dū), 1. moisture from the air that condenses and collects in small drops on cool surfaces during the night. 2. moisture in small drops. 3. wet with dew; moisten. 4. anything fresh or refreshing like dew: the dew of youth. 1,2,4 n., 3 v. —dew'less, adj.

dew ber ry (dü'ber'ē or dū'ber'ē), 1. a blackberry vine that grows along the ground. 2. fruit of one of these vines. n., pl. dew ber ries.

dew claw (dü'klō' or dū'klō'), a small, useless hoof or toe on the feet of deer, pigs, dogs, etc. n.

dew drop (dü'drop' or dū'drop'), a drop of dew. n.

Dew ey (dü'ē or dū'ē), 1. George, 1837-1917, American admiral in the Spanish-American War who was commander of the fleet at the capture of Manila. 2. Thomas Edmund, born 1902, American lawyer and political leader; Republican candidate for President in 1944 and 1948. n.

dew lap (dü'lap' or dū'lap'), a loose fold of skin under the throat of cattle and some other animals. n.

DEW or D.E.W. line, the Distant Early Warning line, a chain of radar stations stretching across northern Canada, north of the Arctic Circle, designed to give the earliest possible warning of an attack on the United States or Canada by bombing planes routed over the north polar region.

dew point, temperature of the air at which dew begins to form.

dew y (dü'ē or dū'ē), 1. wet with dew. 2. of dew. 3. like dew; refreshing; sparkling; coming gently; vanishing quickly. adj., dew i er, dew i est. —dew'i ness, n.

dex ter i ty (deks ter'ə tē), 1. skill in using the hands: A good surgeon works with dexterity. 2. skill in using the mind; cleverness. n.

dex ter ous (deks'tər əs), 1. having or showing skill in using the hands and body: A typist, a dressmaker, an artist, and a pianist need to be dexterous. 2. having or showing skill in using the mind; clever: A manager should be dexterous in handling men. adj. Also, dex-tros —dex'ter ous ly, adv. —dex'ter ous ness, n.

dex tral (deks'trəl), of the right hand; right-hand. adj.

dex trin or dex trine (deks'trin), a gummy substance obtained from starch, used as an adhesive, for sizing paper, etc. n.

dex trose (deks'trōs), a sugar less sweet than cane sugar; a form of glucose. n.

dex trous (deks'trəs), dexterous. adj.

di (dē), tone of the musical scale, intermediate between do and re. n.

DEWLAP

di a be tes (dī'ə bē'tis), disease in which the digestive system is unable to absorb normal amounts of sugar and starch. n.

di a bet ic (dī'ə bet'ik or dī'ə bē'tik), 1. of or having to do with diabetes. 2. having diabetes. 3. person having diabetes. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

di a bol ic (dī'ə bol'ik), 1. devilish; like the Devil; very cruel or wicked; fiendish. 2. having to do with the Devil or devils. adj. —di'a bol'i cal ly, adv.

di a bol i cal (dī'ə bol'ə kl), diabolic. adj.

di a crit ic (dī'ə krit'ik), 1. diacritical. 2. a diacritical mark. 1 adj., 2 n.

di a crit i cal (dī'ə krit'ə kl), used to distinguish. adj. —di'a crit'i cal ly, adv.

diacritical mark, mark like $\cdot$ $\wedge$ $-$ $/$ or $\backslash$ placed over or under a letter to indicate pronunciation, accent, etc.

di a dem (dī'ə dem), 1. crown. 2. an ornamental band of cloth formerly worn as a crown. 3. royal power, authority, or dignity. n.

di a er e sis (dī'er'ə sis), dieresis. n., pl. di a er e ses (-sēz).

di ag nose (dī'əg nōs'), make a diagnosis of; find out the nature of by an examination. v., di ag nosed, di ag nos ing.

di ag no sis (dī'əg nō'sis), 1. act or process of finding out what disease a person or animal has by examination and careful study of the symptoms: The doctor used X rays and blood tests in his diagnosis. 2. a careful study of the facts about something to find out its essential features, faults, etc. 3. decision reached after a careful study of symptoms or facts. n., pl. di ag no ses (-sēz).

di ag nos tic (dī'əg nōs'tik), of diagnosis; helping in diagnosis. adj.

di ag nos ti cian (dī'əg nōs'tish'ən), person who is expert in making diagnoses. n.

di ag o nal (dī'əg'ə nl), 1. a straight line that cuts across in a slanting direction, often from corner to corner. 2. taking the direction of a diagonal; slanting; oblique: a ship sailing on a diagonal course, a diagonal ridge in cloth. 3. having slanting lines, ridges, etc. 4. any slanting line, row, course, etc. 5. connecting two corners that are not next to each other. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 adj.

di ag o nal ly (dī'əg'ə nl ē), in a diagonal direction. adv.

di a gram (dī'ə gram), 1. drawing or sketch showing important parts of a thing. A diagram may be an outline, a plan, a drawing, a figure, a chart, or a combination of any of these, made to show clearly what a thing is or how it works: He drew a diagram to show us how to get to his house. The engineer drew a diagram of the bridge. 2. put on paper, a blackboard, etc., in the form of a drawing or sketch; make a diagram of. 1 n., 2 v., di a gram ed, di a gram ing or esp. Brit. di a gram med, di a gram ming.

di a gram mat ic (dī'ə grə mat'ik), 1. in the form of a diagram. 2. in outline only; sketchy. adj.

di a gram mat i cal ly (dī'ə grə mat'ik lē), in the form of a diagram. adv.

di al (dī'əl), 1. a marked surface on which a moving pointer shows how much there is of something. The face of a clock or of a compass is a dial. A dial may show the amount of water in a tank or the amount of steam pressure in a boiler. 2. plate, disk, etc., of a radio with numbers, letters, etc., on it for tuning in to a radio station. 3. part of an automatic telephone used in making telephone calls. 4. tune in by using a radio dial. 5. call by means of a telephone office. 6. sundial. 1-3,6 n., 4,5 v., di aled, di al ing or esp. Brit. di alled, di al ling.

di a lect (dī'ə lekt), 1. form of speech characteristic of a fairly definite region or class, that varies from the standard language: the Scottish dialect, the Negro dialect, the dialect spoken in southern Louisiana. 2. one of a group of closely related languages: Some of the dialects descended from the Latin language are French, Italian, Spanish, and Portuguese. 3. words and pronunciations used by certain professions, classes of people, etc. n.

Diadem (def. 2)

di a lect tal (dī'ə lek'tl), of a dialect; like that of a dialect. adj. —di a lec'tal ly, adv.

di a logue or di a log (dī'ə lōg), 1. conversation. 2. a literary work in the form of a conversation. 3. conversation in a play, story, etc. n.

dial tone, the humming sound that is heard on a dial telephone when the receiver is lifted. It indicates that a number may be dialed.

diam., diameter.

di a m e t e r (dī am'ə tər), 1. a straight line passing from one side to the other through the center of a circle, sphere, etc. 2. the length of such a line; measurement from one side to the other through the center; width; thickness: The tree trunk was almost 2 feet in diameter. n.

di a met ric (dī'ə met'rik), 1. of or along a diameter. 2. direct; absolute; exactly opposite. adj.

di a met ri cal (dī'ə met'ri kl), diametric. adj.

di a met ri cal ly (dī'ə met'rik lē), 1. as a diameter. 2. directly; exactly; entirely. adv.

diametrically opposed, directly opposite; exactly contrary.

dia mond (dī'mənd or dī'ə mənd), 1. a colorless or tinted precious stone formed of pure carbon in crystals. Diamond is the hardest substance known. Inferior diamonds are used to cut glass. 2. tool having a diamond tip for cutting glass. 3. a plane figure shaped like this . 4. a playing card with one or more red designs like a diamond on it. 5. space inside the lines that connect the bases in baseball. n.

diamonds, suit of playing cards with red designs like a diamond on them.

diamondback terrapin, turtle that has diamond-shaped markings on its shell. It lives in salt marshes along the coast of the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico.

Di an a (dī an'ə), the Roman goddess who was worshiped especially as the protectress and helper of women. She was also the goddess of the hunt and of the moon. Diana was identified with the Greek goddess Artemis. n.

di a pa son (dī'ə pā'zn), 1. harmony. 2. melody; strain. 3. a swelling musical sound. 4. the whole range of a voice or instrument. 5. a fixed standard of musical pitch. 6. either of two principal stops in an organ. n.

di a per (dī'ə pər), 1. a small piece of cloth used as part of a baby's underclothing. 2. pattern of small, constantly repeated, geometric figures. 3. a white cotton or linen cloth woven with such a pattern. n.

Diaper (def. 2)

di aph a nous (dī af'ə nəs), transparent: Gauze is a diaphanous fabric. adj. —di aph'ous ly, adv.

di a phragm (dī'ə fram), 1. a partition of muscles and tendons separating the cavity of the chest from the cavity of the abdomen. 2. a thin partition, as in a galvanic cell, in some shellfish, etc. 3. a vibrating disk in a telephone. 4. device for controlling the amount of light entering a camera, microscope, etc. n.

di a rist (dī'ə rist), person who keeps a diary. n.

di ar rhe a or di ar rhoe a (dī'ə rē'ə), too many and too loose movements of the bowels. n.

di a ry (dī'ə rē), 1. account written down each day, of what one has done, thought, etc., during the day. 2. book for keeping such an account, with a blank space for each day of the year. n., pl. di a ries.

Di as (dē'ās), Bartolomeu, 1450?-1500, Portuguese navigator. He was the first to sail around the southern tip of Africa. n. Also, Diaz.

di as to le (dī as'tə lē), the normal, rhythmical dilation of the heart, especially that of the ventricles. n.

di as tol ic (dī'əs tol'ik), having to do with diastole. adj.

di a tom (dī'ə tom), any of numerous microscopic, one-celled, aquatic algae that have hard shells composed mostly of silica. n.

di a ton ic (dī'ə ton'ik), of or using the tones of a standard major or minor musical scale. adj.

diatonic scale, a standard major or minor scale of eight musical tones in the octave.

di a tribe (dī'ə trib), a bitter and violent denunciation of some person or thing. n.

Di az (dē'ās), Bartholomew, 1450?-1500, Portuguese navigator. See Dias. n.

dib ble (dib'l), a pointed tool for making holes in the ground for seeds, young plants, etc. n.

dice (dis), 1. small cubes with a different number of spots (one to six) on each side, used in playing games and gambling. 2. game played with dice. 3. play dice, tossing them to see how many spots there will be on the sides turned up. 4. lose or throw away by gambling with dice. 5. small cubes. 6. cut into small cubes: dice carrots. 1,2,5 n. pl. of die; 3,4,6 v., diced, dic ing. —dic'er, n.

Dick ens (dik'ənz), Charles, 1812-1870, English novelist. n.

dick ens (dik'ənz), devil; deuce. n., interj.

The dickens! exclamation expressing surprise or annoyance.

dick er (dik'ər), Esp. U.S. 1. trade by barter or by petty bargaining. 2. a petty bargain: I made a dicker with him to take care of my hens during my absence in return for the eggs the hens laid. 1 v., 2 n.

dick ey (dik'ē), 1. a shirt front that can be detached. 2. a high collar on a shirt. 3. a child's bib or pinafore. n., pl. dick eys.

di cot y le don (dī kot'l ēd'n), a flowering plant that has two cotyledons or seed leaves; any of a group of plants that have two seed leaves. Many trees and most of the cultivated plants are dicotyledons. See cotyledon for picture. n.

dict., dictionary.

dic ta (dik'tə), pl. of dictum. n.

dic tate (dik'tāt), 1. say or read (something) aloud for another person or other persons to write down: The teacher dictated a spelling list. The businessman dictated to his secretary. 2. command with authority; give orders that must be obeyed: The country that won the war dictated the terms of peace to the country that lost. No one shall dictate to me. 3. direction or order that is to be carried out or obeyed: An honest man follows the dictates of his conscience. 1,2 v., dic tat ed, dic tat ing; 3 n.

dic ta tion (dik tā'shan), 1. act of saying or reading (something) aloud for another person or persons to write down: The pupils wrote at the teacher's dictation. 2. words said or read aloud to be written down: We have dictation during the first five minutes of our French class. 3. act of commanding with authority; act of giving orders that must be obeyed: The slave acted at the dictation of his master. n.

dic ta tor (dik'tā tər), 1. person exercising absolute authority; especially, a person who, without having any claim through inheritance or free popular election, seizes control of a government: The dictator of the country had complete power over its people. 2. person who says or reads words aloud to another who writes them down. n.

dic ta to ri al (dik'tə tō'rē əl), 1. of or like that of a dictator: dictatorial government. 2. imperious; domineering; overbearing: The soldiers disliked the dictatorial manner of that officer. adj. —dic'ta tō'ri al ly, adv.

dic ta tor ship (dik'tā tər ship'), 1. position or rank of a dictator. 2. term of a dictator; period of time a dictator rules. 3. absolute authority; power to give orders that must be obeyed. n.

dic tion (dik'shən), manner of expressing ideas in words; style of speaking or writing. Good diction implies grammatical correctness, a wide vocabulary, and skill in the choice and arrangement of words: John's diction is poor; he uses too much slang and too many colorless words. n.

dic tion ar y (dik'shən er'ē), book containing a selection of the words of a language or of some special subject, arranged alphabetically, with explanations of their meanings and other information about them. n., pl. dic tion aries.

dic tum (dik'təm), 1. a formal comment; authoritative opinion: The dictum of the critics was that the play was excellent. 2. maxim; saying. n., pl. dic tums or dic ta.

did (did), pt. of do. I did my work. v.

di dac tic (dī dak'tik), 1. intended to instruct: Aesop's "Fables" are didactic stories; each one has an instructive moral. 2. inclined to instruct others; teacherlike: The older brother was called "Professor" because of his didactic manner. adj. —di dac'ti cal ly, adv.

di dac ti cism (dī dak'tē siz əm), didactic quality, character, or manner. n.

did n't (did'nt), did not.

di do (dī'dō), U.S. Informal. prank; trick; mischievous or disorderly action. n., pl. di dos or di does.

didst (didst), Archaic or Poetic. did. "Thou didst" means "You did." v.

die: (dī), 1. cease to live; stop living; become dead. 2. come to an end; lose force or strength; stop. 3. Informal. want very much; be very desirous (usually a participle with a form of to be, followed by an infinitive or by for): I'm dying to go to Alaska. We are dying for a home in the country. v., died, dy ing.

die away or down, stop or end little by little; lose force or strength gradually: The music died away. The noisy conversation of the class died down suddenly when the teacher came into the room.

die hard, struggle until death; resist to the very end; refuse to give in.

die off, die one after another until all are dead.

die out, 1. stop or end little by little. 2. cease or end completely.

die: (dī), 1. one of a set of dice. 2. any tool or apparatus for shaping, cutting, or stamping things. It is usually a metal block or plate cut in a certain way. n., pl. dice for 1, dies for 2.

The die is cast. The decision is made and cannot be changed.

die-hard (dī'härd'), 1. resisting to the very end; refusing to give in. 2. person who refuses to give in. 1 adj., 2 n.

di er e sis (dī'er ə sis), two dots (") placed over the second of two consecutive vowels to indicate that the second vowel is to be pronounced in a separate syllable. Examples: cooperate, naïve. n., pl. di er e ses (-sēz). Also, diaeresis.

die sel engine or motor (dī'sēl), an internal-combustion engine that burns oil with heat caused by the compression of air.

di et: (dī'et), 1. the usual food and drink for a person or animal: The diet of the giraffe consists of young leaves and shoots. A rich diet is not wholesome. 2. a special selection of food and drink eaten during sickness, or to gain or lose weight. 3. eat or cause to eat special food and drink as a part of a doctor's treatment, or in order to gain or lose weight. 1,2 n., 3 v., di et ed, di et ing. —di'et er, n.

di et: (dī'et), 1. a formal assembly. 2. the national lawmaking body in certain countries. n.

di e tary (dī'et ter'ē), 1. having to do with diet: Dietary rules tell what food to eat for healthy living and how to prepare it. 2. allowance of food in a prison, hospital, etc. 3. system of diet. 1 adj., 2,3 n., pl. di e taries.

di e tet ic (dī'et tet'ik), having to do with diet. adj.

di e tet ics (dī'et tet'iks), science that deals with the amount and kinds of food needed by the body. n.

di e ti cian (dī'et tish'ən), dietitian. n.

di e ti tian (dī'et tish'ən), person trained to plan meals that have the proper proportion of various kinds of food: Many hospitals and schools employ dietitians. n.

diff er (dif'er), 1. be unlike; be different: My answers to the arithmetic problems differed from Mary's. 2. have or express a different opinion; disagree: Peter is a stubborn boy, determined to differ with his teacher at every turn. v.

diff er ence (dif'er əns), 1. condition of being different: the difference of night and day. 2. way of being different; point in which people or things are different. 3. amount by which one quantity is different from another; what is left after subtracting one number from another: The difference between 6 and 15 is 9. 4. condition of having a different opinion; disagreement. 5. dispute. n.

make a difference, 1. give or show different treatment. 2. matter; be important; have an effect or influence.

split the difference, 1. divide what is left in half. 2. meet halfway; compromise.

diff er ent (dif'er ənt), 1. not alike; not like: People have different names. An automobile is different from a cart. 2. not the same; separate; distinct: I saw her three different times today. 3. not like others or most others; unusual. adj. —dif'er ent ly, adv.

diff er en tial (dif'er ən'shəl), 1. of a difference; showing a difference; depending on a difference: Differential duties, rates, charges, etc., are those that differ according to circumstances. 2. a differential duty or rate; the difference involved. 3. distinguishing; distinctive. 4. having to do with distinguishing characteristics or specific differences: Differential diagnosis is distinguishing between two similar diseases or objects of natural history. 5. arrangement of gears in an automobile that allows one of the rear wheels to turn faster than the other in going round a corner or curve. 1,3,4 adj., 2,5 n.

diff er en tial ly (dif'er ən'shəl ē), in a differential manner; with reference to a difference between quantities or forces. adv.

diff er en ti ate (dif'er ən'shē āt), 1. make different: Consideration for others differentiates good manners from mere politeness. 2. become different: This genus of plants differentiates into many species. 3. perceive the difference in; make a distinction between: The botanist differentiated varieties of plants. 4. note differences. v., dif fer en ti at ed, dif fer en ti at ing.

diff er en ti a tion (dif'er ən'shē ā'shən), an act or process of differentiating; alteration; modification; distinction. n.

diff i cult (dif'ə kult), 1. hard to do or understand: The higher mathematics is difficult. 2. hard to deal with, get along with, or please: The prima donna was difficult. adj.

diff i cul ty (dif'ə kul'tē), 1. fact or condition of being difficult: the difficulty of a job. 2. hard work; much effort: Some children have a great deal of difficulty learning how to spell. 3. trouble: What is your difficulty? 4. financial trouble. 5. thing that is difficult; thing in the way; ob-

Differential (def. 5): A, ring gear; B, axle; C, pinion gear; D, drive shaft; E, drive shaft gear. The shape of the gears changes the direction of motion between the drive shaft and the axle. When the car turns, power is transmitted only to the outside rear wheel.

Die for cutting threads of bolts stacle, such as lack of money, lack of people to help, lack of understanding, or objections to plans. 6. disagreement; quarrel. n., pl. dif fi cul ties.

make a difficulty, be unwilling; object.

diffi dence (dif'ə dəns), lack of self-confidence; shyness. n.

diffi dent (dif'ə dənt), lacking in self-confidence; shy. adj. —diffi dent ly, adv.

dif fract (di frakt'), break up by diffraction. v.

dif frac tion (di frak'shən), 1. a breaking up of a ray of light into a series of light and dark bands or into colored bands of the spectrum. 2. a similar breaking up of sound waves, electricity, etc. n.

dif fuse (di fūz' for 1,3; di fūs' for 2,4), 1. spread out so as to cover a larger space or surface; scatter widely. Light, heat, kindness, good humor, and knowledge can be diffused. 2. not concentrated together at a single point; spread out: diffuse light. 3. mix together by spreading into one another, as one gas with another or one liquid with another. 4. using many words where a few would do: a diffuse writer. 1,3 v., dif fused, diffusing; 2,4 adj. —diff use/ness, n.

dif fus i ble (di fūz'ə bl), capable of being diffused. adj.

dif fu sion (di fū'zhən), 1. act or fact of diffusing; a spreading widely; a scattering: The invention of printing greatly increased the diffusion of knowledge. 2. being widely spread or scattered; diffused condition. 3. a mixing together of the molecules of gases or of liquids by spreading into one another. 4. wordiness. n.

dif fu sive (di fū'siv), 1. tending to diffuse. 2. showing diffusion. 3. using too many words; wordy. adj. —dif fu/sive ly, adv. —dif fu/sive ness, n.

dig (dig), 1. use a shovel, spade, hands, claws, or snout in making a hole or in turning over the ground. 2. break up and turn over (ground) with a spade, etc.; make (a hole, cellar, etc.) by removing material. 3. make a way by digging: dig through or under a mountain. 4. get by digging: dig potatoes, dig clams. 5. act of digging. 6. make a thrust or stab into; prod. 7. Informal. a thrust or poke; a remark against. 8. make a careful search or inquiry (for information or into some author). 9. Informal. work hard. 10. Slang. understand. 1-4,6, 8-10 v., dug or (Archaic) digged, dig ging; 5,7 n.

di gest (də jest' for 1-5; dī jest' for 6), 1. change (food) in the stomach and intestines so that the body can absorb it: We digest our food. 2. undergo this process: Our food digests. 3. promote the digestion of (food). 4. understand and absorb mentally; make part of one's thoughts. 5. condense and arrange according to some system; summarize. 6. information condensed and arranged according to some system; summary: a digest of law. 1-5 v., 6 n.

di gest i bil i ty (də jes'tə bil'ə tē), digestible quality. n.

di gest i ble (də jes'tə bl), capable of being digested; easily digested. adj.

di ges tion (də jes'chən), 1. the digesting of food. 2. ability to digest. 3. act of digesting. n.

di ges tive (də jes'tiv), 1. of or for digestion: digestive trouble. 2. helping digestion: digestive tablets. 3. something that aids digestion. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

dig ger (dig'ər), 1. person that digs. 2. the part of a machine that turns up the ground. 3. any tool for digging. n.

dig gings (dig'ingz), 1. mine or place where digging is being done. 2. stuff that is dug out. 3. Informal. place to live. n.pl.

dig ht (dit), Archaic. 1. dress; adorn. 2. equip. v., dig ht or dig ht ed, dig ht ing.

dig it (dij'it), 1. finger or toe. 2. any of the figures 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. Sometimes 0 is not called a digit. n.

dig it al (dij'ə tl), 1. of a digit or digits, especially a finger. 2. a finger. 1 adj., 2 n.

dig i tal is (dij'ə tal'is), 1. medicine used for stimulating the heart, obtained from the leaves and seeds of the purple foxglove. 2. foxglove. n.

dig ni fied (dig'nə fid), having dignity; noble; stately. adj. —dig/ni fied ly, adv.

dig ni fy (dig'nə fi), 1. give dignity to; make noble, worth while, or worthy: The low farmhouse was dignified by the great elms around it. 2. give a high-sounding name to. v., dig ni fied, dig ni fy ing.

dig ni tar y (dig'nə ter'ē), person who has a position of honor. A bishop is a dignitary of the church. n., pl. dig ni tar ies.

dig ni ty (dig'nə tē), 1. proud and self-respecting character or manner; stateliness: Millon's poetry has dignity.

2. quality of character or ability that wins the respect and high opinion of others; worth; being noble, worthy, or stately: A judge should maintain the dignity of his position. 3. a high office, rank, or title: Any native-born citizen of the United States may attain the dignity of the presidency. 4. person of high office, rank, or title. 5. worth; nobleness: Honest work has dignity; idleness has none. n., pl. dig ni ties.

di graph (di'graf), two letters used together to spell a single sound. Examples: ea in each, th in with. n.

di gress (də gres'), turn aside; get off the main subject in talking or writing. v.

di gres sion (də gresh'ən), a turning aside; a getting off the main subject in talking or writing. n.

di gres sive (də gres'iv), tending to digress; digressing. adj. —di gres/sive ness, n.

dike (dik), 1. a bank of earth or a dam built as a defense against flooding by a river or the sea. 2. provide with dikes. 3. a ditch or channel for water. 4. drain with a ditch or channel for water. 5. a bank of earth thrown up in digging; low wall of earth or stone; causeway. 6. barrier; obstacle. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4 v., diked, dik ing.

Also, dyke.

di lap i dat ed (də lap'ə dāt'id), falling to pieces; partly ruined or decayed through neglect: a dilapidated house. adj.

di lap i da tion (də lap'ə dā'shən), a falling to pieces; decay; ruin; tumble-down condition: The house was in the last stage of dilapidation. n.

di late (di lāt'), 1. make or become larger or wider: The pupil of the eye dilates when the light gets dim. 2. speak or write in a very complete or detailed manner: Mother was dilating on the children's successes. v., dilat ed, di lat ing.

di lat ed (di lāt'id), widened; expanded. adj.

di la tion (di lā'shən), 1. act of dilating; enlargement; widening. 2. dilated condition. 3. a dilated part. n.

dil a to ry (dil'ə tō're), 1. tending to delay; not prompt: Storekeepers don't like customers who are dilatory in paying their bills. 2. causing delay. adj. —dil/a-to'ri ly, adv. —dil/a-to'ri ness, n.

di lem ma (də lem'ə), situation requiring a choice between two evils; any embarrassing or perplexing situation; a difficult choice: Her dilemma was whether to go to the party in her old dress or to stay at home. n.

dil et tan te (dil'ə tan'tē or dil'ə tānt'), 1. lover of the fine arts. 2. person who follows some art or science as an amusement or in a trifling way. 3. trifler. n., pl. dil et tan tes, dil et tan ti.

dil et tan ti (dil'ə tan'tē or dil'ə tān'tē), a pl. of dilettante. n.

dil et tant ism (dil'ə tan'tiz əm or dil'ə tān'tiz əm), quality or practice of a dilettante. n.

Dil i (dil'ē), capital of Portuguese Timor. 7000. n.

dil i gence¹ (dil'ə jəns), a working hard; careful effort; being diligent; industry. n.

dil i gence² (dil'ə jəns), a public stagecoach formerly used in France and other parts of Europe. n.

dil i gent (dil'ə jənt), 1. hard-working; industrious. 2. careful and steady. adj. —dil/i gent ly, adv.

Diligence²

dill (dil), 1. spicy seeds or leaves used to flavor pickles. 2. plant that they grow on. n.

dill pickle, a cucumber pickle flavored with dill. n.

dil ly-dal ly (dil'ē dal'ē), waste time; loiter; trifle. v., dil ly-dal lied, dil ly-dal ly ing.

di lute (də lūt' or dī lūt'), 1. make weaker or thinner by adding water or some other liquid. 2. weaken; lessen. 3. become diluted. 4. weakened or thinned by the addition of water or other liquid. 1-3 v., di lut ed, di lut ing; 4 adj.

di lut ed (də lūt'id or dī lūt'id), weakened; thinned. adj.

di lu tion (də lū'shən or dī lū'shən), 1. act of diluting. 2. fact or state of being diluted. 3. something diluted. n.

dim (dim), 1. not bright; not clear; not distinct: dim light. 2. not clearly seen, heard, or understood: a dim view, a dim voice. 3. not seeing, hearing, or understanding clearly: My eyesight is getting dim. 4. make or become dim: We dimmed our lights when we reached the city streets. 1-3 adj., dim mer, dim mest; 4 v., dim med, dim ming. —dim'ly, adv. —dim'ness, n.

dim out, make nearly but not absolutely dark, by allowing light to appear only through slits, by use of blue lights, etc.

dime (dim), 1. a copper and nickel coin of the United States, worth 10 cents. 2. a silver coin of Canada, worth 10 cents. n.

di men sion (də men'shən), 1. measurement of length, breadth, or thickness: He ordered wallpaper for a room of the following dimensions: 16 ft. long, 12 ft. wide, 9 ft. high. 2. size; extent. n.

di men sion al (də men'shən l), having to do with dimension or dimensions. adj.

dime store, store selling a large variety of low-priced articles.

di min ish (də min'ish), make or become smaller in size, amount, or importance; lessen; reduce: The heat diminished as the sun went down. v.

di min u en do (də min'ū en'dō), 1. a gradual lessening of loudness. The sign in music for a diminuendo is dim., dimin., or $\rightrightarrows$. 2. with a diminuendo. 3. passage to be played or sung with a diminuendo. 1,3 n., di min u en dos; 2 adj., adv.

dim i nu tion (dim'ə nū'shən or dim'ə nū'shən), a diminishing; a lessening; reduction; decrease. n.

di min u tive (də min'yə tiv), 1. small; little; tiny. 2. a small person or thing. 3. expressing smallness. 4. word or part of a word expressing smallness. The suffixes -let and -kin are diminutives. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n. —di min'u tive ly, adv. —di min'u tive ness, n.

dim i ty (dim'ə tē), 1. a thin cotton cloth woven with heavy threads at intervals in striped or cross-barred arrangement, used for dresses, curtains, etc. 2. a strong cotton cloth with raised patterns, used for draperies, coverings for furniture, etc. n., pl. dim i ties.

dim mer (dim'ər), 1. person or thing that dims. 2. device that dims an electric light. n.

dim out (dim'out'), a lessening or concealing of light at night. n.

dim ple (dim'pl), 1. a small hollow, usually in the cheek or chin. 2. any small, hollow place. 3. make or show dimples in. 4. form dimples. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., dimpled, dim pling.

din (din), 1. a loud, confused noise that lasts. 2. make a din. 3. strike with a din. 4. say over and over: He was always dinning into our ears the importance of hard work. 1 n., 2-4 v., dinned, din ning.

dine (dīn), 1. eat dinner. 2. give a dinner to or for: The Chamber of Commerce dined the famous traveler. v., dined, din ing.

dine out, eat dinner away from home.

din er (din'ər), 1. person who is eating dinner. 2. a railroad car in which meals are served. 3. restaurant shaped like such a car. n.

di nette (dī net'), a small dining room. n.

ding (ding), 1. make a sound like a bell; ring continuously. 2. sound made by a bell. 3. Informal. say over and over. 1,3 v., 2 n.

ding-dong (ding'dōng'), sound made by a bell or anything like a bell; continuous ringing. n.

din gey (ding'gē), dinghy. n., pl. din geys.

din ghy (ding'gē), 1. a small rowboat. 2. a small boat used as a tender by a large boat. n., pl. din ghies.

din gle (ding'gl), a small, deep, shady valley. n.

din go (ding'gō), a wolflike wild dog of Australia. n., pl. din goes.

din gy (din'jē), dirty-looking; not bright and fresh; dull. adj., din gi er, din gi est. —din'gi ly, adv. —din'-gi ness, n.

dink ey (dingk'ē), a small locomotive, used for pulling freight cars around in a railroad yard, for hauling logs, etc. n., pl. dink eys.

dink y (dingk'ē), Slang. small; insignificant. adj., dink i er, dink i est.

din ner (din'ər), 1. the main meal of the day: In the city we have dinner at night, but in the country we have dinner at noon. 2. a formal meal in honor of some person or occasion. n.

di no saur (dī'nə sôr), any of a group of extinct reptiles. n.

dint (dint), 1. force: By dint of hard work the man became successful. 2. dent. 1,2 n., 2 v.

di oc e san (dī'os'ə sn), 1. of or having to do with a diocese. 2. bishop of a diocese. 1 adj., 2 n.

di o cese (dī'ə sis), district over which a bishop has authority. n.

Di og e nes (dī'oj'ə nēz), 412?-323 B.C., Greek philosopher who lived in a tub to show his indifference to comfort. n.

Di o ny sus (dī'ə nī'səs), Greek god of wine; Bacchus. n.

di o ram a (dī'ə ram'ə), 1. picture that is usually looked at through a small opening. It is lighted in such a way as to be very realistic. 2. scene to be viewed through a windowlike opening, showing a foreground occupied by sculptured figures (life-size or smaller) of animals, men, etc., with appropriate accessory objects, and a painted background. n.

di ox ide (dī'ok'sid), oxide having two atoms of oxygen per molecule and one atom of a metal or other element. n.

dip (dip), 1. put under water or any liquid and lift quickly out again: Mary dipped her head into the clear pool. 2. go under water and come quickly out again. 3. a dipping of any kind, especially a plunge into and out of a tub of water, the sea, etc. 4. dye by dipping in a liquid. 5. wash or clean by dipping in a liquid. 6. liquid in which to dip something. 7. make (a candle) by putting a wick into hot tallow or wax. 8. candle made by dipping. 9. take up in the hollow of the hand or with a pail, pan, or other container: dip up water from a well, dip up a sample of wheat. 10. put (one's hand, a spoon, etc.) into to take out something. 11. that which is taken out or up by dipping. 12. lower and raise again quickly: The flag is dipped as a kind of salute. 13. sink or drop down: A bird dips in its flight. 14. a sudden drop. 15. slope downward: The road dips. 16. amount of slope down. 1,2,4,5,7,9,10,12,13,15 v., dipped or dipt, dip-ping; 3,6,8,11,14,16 n.

dip into, read or look at for a short time; glance at.

Dingo (about 2 ft. high at the shoulder)

Dinosaur (from 2 ft. to 60 ft. long, according to the species) diph the ri a (dif thir'ē ə), a dangerous, infectious disease of the throat, usually accompanied by a high fever and formation of membranes that hinder breathing. n.

diph thong (dif'thông), a vowel sound made up of two identifiable vowel sounds in immediate sequence and pronounced in one syllable, as ou in house, oi in noise. n.

diph thon gal (dif thông'gəl), of or like a diphthong. adj.

dī plo ma (dē plō'mə), 1. certificate given by a school, college, or university to its graduating students. 2. any certificate that bestows certain rights, privileges, honors, etc. n.

dī plo ma cy (dē plō'mə sē), 1. management of relations between nations. The making of treaties, international agreements, etc., is an important part of diplomacy. 2. skill in managing such relations. 3. skill in dealing with others; tact: Our son showed diplomacy in being very helpful at home the day he wanted to use the car. n., pl. dī plo ma cies.

dip lo mat (dip'lə mat), 1. representative of a nation who is located in a foreign country with the duty of looking after the interests of his own nation in the foreign country. 2. person who is skillful in dealing with others; a tactful person. n.

dip lo mat ic (dip'lə mat'ik), 1. of or having to do with diplomacy: Ambassadors are the highest-ranking members of the diplomatic service. 2. skillful in dealing with others; tactful: a diplomatic policeman, a diplomatic answer. adj.

dip lo mat i cal ly (dip'lə mat'ik lē), in a diplomatic manner; with diplomacy. adv.

diplomatic corps, all of the ambassadors, ministers, etc., of foreign nations at the capital of a country.

dī plo ma tist (dē plō'mə tist), Esp. Brit. diplomat. n.

dip per (dip'ər), 1. person or thing that dips. 2. a long-handled cup or larger vessel for dipping water or other liquids. n.

Dip per (dip'ər), either of two groups of stars in the northern sky somewhat resembling the shape of a dipper; Big Dipper or Little Dipper. n.

Big Dipper and Little Dipper dip so ma ni a (dip'sə mā'nē ə), an abnormal, uncontrollable craving for alcoholic liquor. n.

dip so ma ni ac (dip'sə mā'nē ak), person who has dipsomania. n.

dipt (dipt), dipped, a pt. and a pp. of dip. v.

dire (dir), causing great fear or suffering; dreadful. adj., dir er, dir est. —dire/ly, adv. —dire/ness, n.

di rect (də rekt'), 1. manage; control; guide: The teacher directs the work of the pupils. 2. order; command: The captain directed his men to advance. 3. tell or show the way; give information about where to go, what to do, etc.: Can you direct me to the railroad station? Signposts direct travelers. 4. point (to); aim (at): We should direct our effort to a useful end. 5. put the address on (a letter, package, etc.). 6. address (words, etc.) to a person: direct a request to the king. 7. turn (a thing) straight to. 8. proceeding in a straight line; straight: a direct route. 9. in an unbroken line of descent: a direct descendant of General Grant. 10. immediate: He took direct charge of the library. 11. without anyone or anything in between; by oneself or itself; not through others: a direct tax. 12. straightforward; frank; plain; truthful: a direct answer. He made a direct denial of the charge of cheating. 13. exact; absolute: the direct opposite. 14. directly. 1-7 v., 8-13 adj., 14 adv. —di rect/ness, n.

direct current, a steady electric current that flows in one direction.

direct discourse, a quoting of what a person says in his exact words. Example: He said, "Let's go now."

di rec tion (də rek'shən), 1. guidance; management; control: the direction of a play or movie. 2. order; command. 3. a knowing or telling what to do, how to do, where to go, etc.; instruction: Can you give me directions how to reach Chicago? 4. the address on a letter or package. 5. course taken by a moving body, such as a ball or a bullet. 6. any way in which one may face or point. North, south, east, and west are directions. 7. line of action; tendency, etc.: The town shows improvement in many directions. The crime investigation has taken a new direction. n.

di rec tion al (də rek'shən l), 1. of or having to do with direction in space. 2. fitted for determining the direction from which radio signals come, or for sending radio signals in one direction only. adj.

di rec tive (də rek'tiv), 1. order or instruction as to procedure. 2. directing. 1 n., 2 adj.

dī rect ly (dē rekt'lē), 1. in a direct line or manner; straight: This road runs directly north. 2. exactly; absolutely: directly opposite. 3. Esp. Brit. immediately; at once: Come home directly. adv.

direct object, a grammatical term denoting by its position or form the person or thing undergoing the action expressed by the verb. In "The car struck the boy," boy is the direct object.

dī rec tor (də rek'tər), 1. manager; person in control; leader. A person who directs the production of a play or motion picture is called a director. 2. one of the persons chosen to direct the affairs of a company or institution. n.

dī rec tor ate (də rek'tər it), 1. position of director. 2. group of directors. n.

dī rec tor ship (də rek'tər ship), position or term of office of a director. n.

dī rec to ry (də rek'tə rē), 1. list of names and addresses. A telephone book is a directory. 2. book of rules or instructions. 3. group of directors; directorate. 4. directing; advisory. 1-3 n., pl. dī rec to ries; 4 adj.

direct primary, election in which the voters of a political party choose the candidates of their party for office.

direct question, question in a person's exact words. Example: He asked, "Shall we go now?"

direct tax, tax demanded of the persons who must pay it. Poll taxes, income taxes, property taxes, and inheritance taxes are direct taxes.

dire ful (dir'fəl), dire; dreadful; terrible. adj. —dire/ful ly, adv. —dire/ful ness, n.

dirge (dèrj), a funeral song or tune. n.

dir i gi ble (dir'ə jə bl or də rij'ə bl), 1. kind of balloon that can be steered. 2. capable of being directed. 1 n., 2 adj.

dirk (dèrk), 1. dagger.

2. stab with a dirk. 1 n., 2 v.

dīrn dl (dèrn'dl),

1. an Alpine peasant girl's costume consisting of a blouse, a tight bodice, and a full, bright-colored skirt, gathered at the waist. 2. dress imitating it. 3. skirt of this type. n.

dirt (dèrt), 1. mud, dust, earth, or anything like them. Dirt soils whatever it gets on. 2. loose earth; soil. 3. unclean action, thought, or speech. 4. uncleanness; meanness. n. —dirt/less, adj.

dirt farmer, Informal. person who has practical experience in doing his own farming.

dirt y (dèr'tē), 1. soiled by dirt; unclean: Children playing in the mud get dirty. 2. not clear or pure in color; clouded: a dirty red. 3. low; mean; vile. 4. unclean in action, thought, or speech. 5. make dirty; soil. 6. stormy; windy: dirty weather. 1-4 adj., dirt i er, dirt i est; 5 v., dirt ied, dirt y ing. —dirt/i ly, adv. —dirt/i ness, n.

Dirigible moored

Dis (dis), 1. the Roman god of the lower world, identified with the Greek god Pluto. 2. the lower world; Hades. n.

dis-, prefix meaning:

1. opposite of; as in discontent.

2. reverse of; as in disentangle.

dis a bil i ty (dis'ə bil'ə tē), 1. disabled condition: The player's disability was caused by illness. 2. something that disables: Insanity is a mental disability. 3. something that disqualifies: Relationship to an accused man is a disability which disqualifies a person for service on the jury at his trial. n., pl. dis a bil i ties.

dis a ble (dis'ə bl), 1. deprive of ability or power; make useless; cripple: A war kills and disables many men. 2. disqualify legally. v., dis a bled, dis a bling. —dis a ble ment, n.

dis a bled (dis'ə bld), deprived of ability or power; crippled. adj.

dis a buse (dis'ə bŭz'), free from deception or error: Education should disabuse people of foolish prejudices. v., dis a bused, dis a bus ing.

dis ad van tage (dis'əd van'tij), 1. lack of advantage; unfavorable condition: The deaf child was at a disadvantage in school. 2. loss; injury: The candidate's enemies spread rumors to his disadvantage. n.

dis ad van ta geous (dis'əd vən tā'jəs), causing disadvantage; unfavorable. adj. —dis ad van ta/geous ly, adv. —dis ad van ta/geous ness, n.

dis af fect ed (dis'ə fek'tid), unfriendly; disloyal; discontented. adj.

dis af fec tion (dis'ə fek'shən), unfriendliness; disloyalty; discontent: Lack of food and supplies caused disaffection among the soldiers. n.

dis a gree (dis'ə grē'), 1. fail to agree; differ: The witness disagreed with the lawyer about the exact time of the accident. Doctors sometimes disagree. 2. quarrel; dispute. 3. have a bad effect; be harmful: He can't eat strawberries because they disagree with him. v., dis a gree d, dis a gree ing.

dis a gree a ble (dis'ə grē'ə bl), 1. not to one's liking; unpleasant: A headache is disagreeable. 2. bad-tempered; cross: Mary is sometimes disagreeable until she has her breakfast. adj. —dis a gree a bly, adv.

dis a gree ment (dis'ə grē'mənt), 1. failure to agree; difference of opinion. 2. quarrel; dispute. 3. difference; unlikeness. n.

dis al low (dis'ə lou'), refuse to allow; deny the truth or value of; reject: The request for a new trial was disallowed. v.

dis ap pear (dis'ə pir'), 1. pass from sight: The little dog disappeared down the road. 2. pass from existence; stop being; be lost: When spring comes, the snow disappears. v.

dis ap pear ance (dis'ə pir'əns), act of disappearing. n.

dis ap point (dis'ə point'), 1. fail to satisfy or please; leave (one) wanting or expecting something: The circus disappointed him, for there was no elephant. 2. fail to keep a promise to: You promised to come; do not disappoint me. 3. keep from happening; oppose and defeat. v.

dis ap point ment (dis'ə point'mənt), 1. state of being or feeling disappointed: When she did not find her mother, the disappointment seemed too great to bear. 2. person or thing that causes disappointment: Her lazy son was a disappointment to her. 3. act or fact of disappointing: Ben's disappointment of our wishes was done on purpose. n.

dis ap pro ba tion (dis'ap rə bā'shən), disapproval. n.

dis ap prov al (dis'ə prŭv'l), 1. opinion or feeling against; expression of an opinion against; dislike. 2. refusal to consent; rejection. n.

dis ap prove (dis'ə prŭv'), 1. have or express an opinion against. 2. show dislike (of): The boy disap- proved of going to school in the summer. 3. refuse consent to; reject: The judge disapproved the verdict. v., dis ap proved, dis ap prov ing. —dis ap prov ing ly, adv.

dis arm (dis'ärm'), 1. take weapons away from: The police captured the bandits and disarmed them. 2. stop having an army and navy; reduce or limit the size of an army, navy, etc. 3. remove suspicion from; make friendly; calm the anger of: The speaker's frankness disarmed the angry mob, and they began to cheer him. 4. make harmless. v.

dis ar ma ment (dis'är'mə mənt), 1. act of disarming. 2. reduction or limitation of armies, navies, and their equipment. n.

dis ar range (dis'ə rānj'), disturb the arrangement of; put out of order: The wind disarranged her hair. v., dis ar ranged, dis ar rang ing. —dis ar range ment, n.

dis ar ray (dis'ə rā'), 1. disorder; confusion. 2. put into disorder or confusion. 3. disorder of clothing. 4. undress; strip. 1,3 n., 2,4 v.

dis as sem ble (dis'ə sem'bl), take apart. v., dis as sem bled, dis as sem bling.

dis as ter (də zas'tər), event that causes much suffering or loss; great misfortune. A destructive fire, flood, earthquake, or shipwreck is a disaster. n.

dis as trous (də zas'trəs), bringing disaster; causing great danger, suffering, loss, pain, or sorrow. adj. —dis as trous ly, adv.

dis a vow (dis'ə vou'), deny that one knows about, approves of, or is responsible for; disclaim: The prisoner disavowed the confession bearing his signature. v.

dis a vow al (dis'ə vou'əl), a disavowing; denial of knowledge, approval, or responsibility. n.

dis band (dis band'), 1. dismiss from service: Most of the army was disbanded after the war. 2. break ranks; become scattered. v. —dis band ment, n.

dis bar (dis bār'), deprive (a lawyer) of the right to practice law. v., dis barred, dis bar ring. —dis bar ment, n.

dis be lief (dis'bi lēf'), lack of belief; refusal to believe. n.

dis be lieve (dis'bi lēv'), have no belief in. v., dis be lieved, dis be liev ing. —dis be liev er, n.

dis bur den (dis bērd'n), relieve of a burden: The boy disburdened his mind to his brother by confessing what he had done. v.

dis burse (dis bērs'), pay out; expend: Our city treasurer disburses thousands of dollars each week. v., dis bursed, dis burs ing. —dis burs er, n.

dis burse ment (dis bērs'mənt), 1. act of paying out: Our treasurer attends to the disbursement of funds. 2. money paid out; expenditure. n.

disc (disk), disk. n.

disc card (disk'kard' for 1,4,5; disk'kard for 2,3,6), 1. give up as useless or worn out; throw aside: You can discard clothes, ways of doing things, or beliefs. 2. act of throwing aside as useless. 3. thing or things thrown aside as useless or not wanted: The scientist's discovery threw old theories into the discard. 4. get rid of (useless or unwanted playing cards) by throwing them aside or playing them. 5. throw out an unwanted card. 6. the unwanted cards thrown aside; card played as useless. 1,4,5 v., 2,3,6 n.

dis cern (də zērn' or də sēr'n'), perceive; see clearly; distinguish; recognize: I looked where he pointed but could discern nothing. When there is so much propaganda, it is hard to discern the truth. v. —dis cern er, n.

dis cern i ble (də zēr'nə bl or də sēr'nə bl), capable of being discerned. adj. —dis cern i bly, adv.

dis cern ing (də zēr'ning or də sēr'ning), shrewd; acute; discriminating. adj. —dis cern ing ly, adv.

dis cern ment (də zēr'nənt or də sēr'nənt), 1. keenness in perceiving and understanding; good judgment; shrewdness. 2. act of discerning. n.

dis charge (dis chärj' for 1,3,5,8,11,13,15,17,19; dis-chärj' or dis'chärj for 2,4,6,7,9,10,12,14,16,18), 1. unload (a ship, train, bus, etc.); unload (cargo) from a ship; unload. 2. an unloading: The discharge of this cargo will not take long. 3. fire; shoot: discharge a gun. 4. a firing off of a gun, a blast, etc.: The dynamite discharge could be heard for a mile. 5. release; let go; dismiss: discharge a patient from a hospital, discharge a committee, discharge a servant. 6. a release; a letting go; a dismissing: the discharge of a prisoner from jail. 7. writing that shows a person's release or dismissal; certificate of release: A soldier or sailor gets a discharge when his service is ended. 8. give off; let out: The wound discharges pus. 9. a giving off; a letting out: In a thunderstorm there is a discharge of electricity from the clouds. 10. thing given off or let out: the watery discharge from a sore. 11. come or pour forth: The river discharged into a bay. 12. rate of flow: The discharge from the pipe is ten gallons a second. 13. rid of an electric charge; withdraw electricity from. 14. transference of electricity between two charged bodies when placed in contact or near each other. 15. pay (a debt, etc.). 16. payment. 17. perform (a duty). 18. performance: A public official should be honest in the discharge of his duties. 19. in law, to cancel or set aside (a court order). 1,3,5,8,11,13,15,17,19 v., dis charged, dis charging; 2,4,6,7,9,10,12,14,16,18 n. —dis charg'-er, n.

dis ci ple (də sī'pl), 1. believer in the thought and teaching of a leader; follower. 2. one of the followers of Jesus. n.

dis ci pli nar i an (dis'ə plə nār'ē ən), 1. person who enforces discipline or who believes in strict discipline. 2. disciplinary. 1 n., 2 adj.

dis ci pli nar y (dis'ə plə nər'ē), 1. having to do with discipline. 2. for discipline. adj.

dis ci pline (dis'ə plin), 1. training; especially, training of the mind or character. 2. the training effect of experience, adversity, etc. 3. a trained condition of order and obedience. 4. order among school pupils, soldiers, or members of any group: When the fire broke out, the pupils showed good discipline. 5. train; bring to a condition of order and obedience; bring under control. 6. a particular system of rules for conduct. 7. methods or rules for regulating the conduct of members of a church. 8. control exercised over members of a church. 9. punishment; chastisement: A little discipline would do him a world of good. 10. punish: discipline a child for bad behavior. 11. branch of instruction or education. 1-4,6-9,11 n., 5,10 v., dis ci plined, dis ci plin ing. —dis'ci plin er, n.

dis claim (dis klām'), 1. refuse to recognize as one's own; deny connection with: The motorist disclaimed responsibility for the accident. 2. give up all claim to: She disclaimed any share in the invention. v.

dis claim er (dis klām'ər), 1. a disclaiming; denial; rejection. 2. person who disclaims. n.

dis close (dis klöz'), 1. open to view; uncover: The lifting of the curtain disclosed a beautiful Christmas tree. 2. make known; reveal: This letter discloses a secret. v., dis closed, dis clos ing. —dis clos'er, n.

dis clo sure (dis klöz'hər), 1. act of disclosing. 2. thing disclosed. n.

dis col or or dis col our (dis kul'ər), 1. change or spoil the color of; stain: Smoke had discolored the building. 2. become changed in color: Many materials discolor if exposed to sunshine. v.

dis col or a tion (dis kul'ər ā'shən), 1. act of discoloring. 2. state of being discolored. 3. stain. n.

dis com fit (dis kum'fit), 1. overthrow completely; defeat; rout. 2. defeat the plans or hopes of; frustrate. 3. embarrass greatly; confuse; disconcert. v.

dis com fi ture (dis kum'fi chūr or dis kum'fi chər), 1. a complete overthrow; defeat; rout. 2. defeat of plans or hopes; frustration. 3. confusion. n.

dis com fort (dis kum'fört), 1. lack of comfort; uneasiness. 2. thing that causes discomfort. 3. make uncomfortable or uneasy. 1,2 n., 3 v.

dis com mode (dis'kə mōd'), disturb; trouble; inconvenience. v., dis com mod ed, dis com mod ing.

dis com pose (dis'kəm pōz'), 1. disturb the self-possession of; make uneasy. 2. bring into disorder: The grins of his friends discomposed Jack when he tried to make his speech. v., dis com posed, dis com pos ing.

dis com po sure (dis'kəm pō'zhər), state of being disturbed; uneasiness; embarrassment. n.

dis con cert (dis'kən sērt'), 1. disturb the self-possession of; embarrass greatly; confuse: His arrest of the wrong man disconcerted the policeman. 2. upset; disorder: The chairman's plans were disconcerted by the late arrival of the speaker. v. —dis'con cert'ing ly, adv.

dis con cert ed (dis'kən sēr'tid), disturbed; confused. adj. —dis'con cert'ed ly, adv.

dis con nect (dis'kə nekt'), undo or break the connection of; unfasten; separate: He disconnected the electric fan by pulling out the plug. v.

dis con nect ed (dis'kə nek'tid), 1. not connected; separate. 2. without order or connection; incoherent; broken: The injured man could give only a disconnected account of the accident. adj. —dis'con nect'ed ly, adv.

dis con nec tion (dis'kə nek'shən), 1. act of disconnecting. 2. state of being disconnected; separation. n.

dis con so late (dis kon'slīt), without hope; forlorn; unhappy; cheerless: Mary was disconsolate because her kitten died. adj. —dis con'so late ly, adv. —dis-con'so late ness, n.

dis con tent (dis'kən tent'), 1. dislike of what one has and a desire for something different; feeling not satisfied; uneasiness. 2. dissatisfy; displease. 1 n., 2 v.

dis con tent ed (dis'kən ten'tid), not contented; not satisfied; displeased and restless; disliking what one has and wanting something different. adj. —dis'con-tent'ed ly, adv. —dis'con tent'ed ness, n.

dis con tent ment (dis'kən tent'mənt), discontent. n.

dis con tin u ance (dis'kən tin'yū əns), 1. a stopping. 2. a being stopped. n.

dis con tin u a tion (dis'kən tin'yū ā'shən), 1. a breaking off; a stopping; a ceasing. 2. break; interruption. n.

dis con tin ue (dis'kən tin'ū), 1. cause to cease; put an end or stop to: That train has been discontinued. After the patient got well, the doctor discontinued his visits. 2. cease from; cease to take, use, etc. 3. terminate (a lawsuit) by request of the plaintiff or by his failing to continue it. v., dis con tin ued, dis con tin u ing.

dis con ti nu i ty (dis'kon tənū'ā tē or dis'kon tənū'ā tē), lack of connection. n.

dis con tin u ous (dis'kən tin'yū əs), not continuous; broken; interrupted. adj. —dis'con tin'u ous ly, adv.

dis cord (dis'kōrd), 1. difference of opinion; disputing; disagreement: Angry discord spoiled the meeting. 2. a lack of harmony in musical notes sounded at the same time. 3. harsh, clashing sounds. n.

dis cord ance (dis'kōrd'ns), 1. discord of sounds. 2. disagreement. n.

dis cord ant (dis'kōrd'nt), 1. not in harmony: a discordant note in music. 2. not in agreement; not fitting together: Many discordant views were expressed. 3. harsh; clashing: Many automobile horns are discordant. adj. —dis cord'ant ly, adv.

dis co the que (dis'kə tek), night club where phonograph records are played for dancing. n.

dis count (dis'kount or dis kount' for 1,3-5; dis'-kount for 2,6), 1. deduct (a certain percentage) of the amount or cost: The store discounts 3 per cent on all bills paid when due. 2. deduction from the amount or cost: During the sale the dealer allowed a 10 per cent discount on all cash purchases. 3. allow for exaggeration, prejudice, or inaccuracy in; believe only part of: You must discount what Jack tells you, for he is too fond of a good story. 4. make less effective by anticipating: The price of stock fell before its dividend was reduced, for the reduction had already been discounted. 5. lend money, deducting the interest in advance. 6. interest deducted in advance. 1,3-5 v., 2,6 n. —dis'count a ble, adj.

at a discount, 1. at less than the regular price; below par. 2. easy to get because not in demand.

dis coun te nance (dis koun'tə nəns), 1. refuse to approve; discourage: This school discountenances secret societies. 2. abash; disconcert. v., dis coun te nanced, dis coun te nanc ing.

discount rate, per cent charged for discounting notes.

dis cour age (dis kər'ij), 1. take away the courage of; lessen the hope or confidence of: Repeated failures discouraged him. 2. try to prevent by disapproving; frown upon: All Nell's friends discouraged her from such a dangerous swim. 3. prevent or hinder through fear, loss of incentive, etc.: Lack of recognition discouraged him from publishing more novels. Fear that war might break out discouraged us from going to Europe. 4. frown on; make seem not worth while: The chill of coming winter soon discouraged our picnics. v., dis cour aged, dis cour ag ing. —dis cour'ag ing ly, adv.

dis cour age ment (dis kər'ij mənt), 1. state of being or feeling discouraged. 2. thing that discourages. 3. act of discouraging. n.

dis course (dis kōrs for 1,3; dis kōrs' for 2,4), 1. a formal speech or writing: Lectures and sermons are discourses. 2. speak or write formally. 3. conversation; a talk. 4. converse; talk. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., dis coursed, dis cours ing. —dis cours'er, n.

dis cour te ous (dis kər'tē əs), not courteous; rude; impolite. adj. —dis cour'te ous ly, adv. —dis cour'te ous ness, n.

dis cour te sy (dis kər'tə sē), 1. lack of courtesy; rudeness; impoliteness. 2. a rude or impolite act. n., pl. dis cour te sies.

dis cov er (dis kuv'ər), 1. see or learn of for the first time; find out: Columbus discovered America. 2. Archaic. make known; reveal. v. —dis cov'er a ble, adj. —dis cov'er y, n.

dis cov er y (dis kuv'ər ē), 1. act of discovering. 2. thing discovered: One of Benjamin Franklin's discoveries was that lightning is electricity. n., pl. dis cov er ies.

dis cred it (dis kred'it), 1. cast doubt on; destroy belief, faith, or trust in: The lawyer discredited the witness by proving that he had been bribed. 2. loss of belief, faith, or trust; doubt: Dick's story throws discredit on your account of the trip. 3. refuse to believe; decline to trust or have faith in: We discredited Lulu because she has lied so often. 4. do harm to the reputation of; give a bad reputation to: Losing five battles discredited that general. 5. loss of good name or standing. 6. thing that causes loss of good name or standing; disgrace. 1,3,4 v., 2,5,6 n.

dis cred it a ble (dis kred'ə tə bl), bringing discredit. adj. —dis cred'it a bly, adv.

dis creet (dis krēt'), careful and sensible in speech and action; wisely cautious; showing good sense. adj. —dis creet'ly, adv. —dis creet'ness, n.

dis crep an cy (dis krep'ən sē), 1. lack of consistency; difference; disagreement: The lawsuit was lost because of discrepancies in the statements of the witnesses. 2. an example of inconsistency. n., pl. dis crep an cies.

dis crete (dis krēt'), 1. separate; distinct. 2. consisting of distinct parts. adj. —dis crete'ly, adv. —dis crete'ness, n.

dis cre tion (dis kresh'ən), 1. freedom to judge or choose: Making final plans was left to the president's discretion. 2. quality of being discreet; good judgment; carefulness in speech or action; wise caution: My brother rushed in front of the car, but I showed more discretion. n.

dis cre tion ar y (dis kresh'ən er'ē), with freedom to decide or choose; left to one's own judgment: The law gave the mayor certain discretionary powers. adj.

dis crim i nate (dis krim'ə nāt), 1. make or see a difference: It is often difficult to discriminate between a mere exaggeration and a deliberate falsehood. 2. make a distingtion: The law does not discriminate against any race, creed, or color. 3. make or see a difference between; distinguish: Studying literature makes a person able to discriminate good books from poor ones. v., dis crim i nat ed, dis crim i nat ing. —dis crim'i nate ly, adv.

dis crim i nat ing (dis krim'ə nāt'ing), 1. that discriminates. 2. able to discriminate well. 3. differential: Manufacturers wanted a discriminating duty on imports. adj. —dis crim'i nat'ing ly, adv.

dis crim i na tion (dis krim'ə nā'shən), 1. act of making or recognizing differences and distinctions: Do not buy clothes without discrimination. 2. ability to make fine distinctions. 3. making a difference in favor of or against: There was discrimination against Jews in Germany. n.

dis crim i na tive (dis krim'ə nā'tiv), 1. discriminating. 2. showing discrimination. adj.

dis crim i na to ry (dis krim'ə nə tō'rē), discrimina-tive; showing partiality. adj.

dis cur sive (dis kər'siv), wandering or shifting from one subject to another; rambling: His carefully planned speech was not discursive, but developed one topic. adj. —dis cur'sive ly, adv. —dis-cur'sive ness, n.

dis cus (dis kəs), a heavy, circular plate of stone or metal, used in athletic games as a test of skill and strength in throwing. n.

Man throwing a discus dis cuss (dis kus'), consider from various points of view; talk over: The class discussed several problems. Congress is discussing tax rates. v.

dis cus sion (dis kush'ən), a going over the reasons for and against; discussing things; talk: After two hours' discussion, we seemed no nearer a decision. n.

dis dain (dis dān'), 1. look down on; consider beneath oneself; scorn: The honest official disdained the offer of a bribe. 2. act of disdain; feeling of scorn: That selfish boy treated his younger brothers with disdain. 1 v., 2 n.

dis dain ful (dis dān'fəl), feeling or showing disdain; contemptuous; scornful. adj. —dis dain'ful ly, adv. —dis dain'ful ness, n.

dis ease (dē zēz'), 1. sickness; illness. 2. any particular illness: Measles and chicken pox are two diseases of children. 3. an unhealthy condition of a plant or a product: the diseases of grains. 4. disordered or bad condition of mind, morals, public affairs, etc. n.

dis eased (dē zēzd'), 1. having a disease; showing signs of sickness. 2. disordered: a diseased mind. adj.

dis em bark (dis'em bārk'), go or put ashore from a ship; land from a ship. v.

dis em bar ka tion (dis'em bār kā'shən), 1. a disembarking. 2. a being disembarked. n.

dis em bod y (dis'em bod'ē), separate (a soul, spirit, etc.) from the body: Ghosts are usually thought of as disembodied spirits. v., dis em bod ied, dis em bod y ing. —dis'em bod'i ment, n.

dis em bow el (dis'em bou'əl), take or rip out the bowels of. v., dis em bow eled, dis em bow el ing or esp. Bril. dis em bow elled, dis em bow el ling. —dis'em bow'el ment, n.

dis en chant (dis'en chant'), free from a magic spell or illusion. v. —dis'en chant'ment, n.

dis en cum ber (dis'en kum'bər), free from a burden, annoyance, or trouble. v.

dis en fran chise (dis'en fran'chīz), disfranchise. v., dis en fran chised, dis en fran chis ing.

dis en fran chise ment (dis'en fran'chiz mənt), disfranchisement. n.

dis en gage (dis'en gāj'), 1. free from an engagement, pledge, obligation, etc. 2. detach; loosen: The mother disengaged her hand from that of the sleeping child. v., dis en gaged, dis en gag ing. —dis'en gage'ment, n.

dis en gaged (dis'en gāj'd/), 1. not busy; free from appointments. 2. released; detached. adj.

dis en tan gle (dis'en tang'gl/), free from tangles or complications; untangle. v. dis en tan gled, dis en tan gling. —dis'en tan'gle ment, n.

dis en twine (dis'en twin'/), disentangle. v. dis en twined, dis en twin ing.

dis es tab lish (dis'es tab'lish/), deprive of the character of being established; especially, withdraw state recognition or support from (a church). v. —dis'es-tab'lish ment, n.

dis es teem (dis'es tēm'/), scorn; dislike. v. n.

dis fa vor (dis fā'vər/), 1. dislike; disapproval: The workers looked with disfavor on any attempt to lower their wages. 2. regard with dislike; disapprove. 3. state of being regarded with dislike or disapproval. 1,3 n., 2 v.

dis fig ure (dis fig'yər/), spoil the appearance of; mar the beauty of: Large billboards disfigured the countryside. v. dis fig ured, dis fig ur ing. —dis fig'ur er, n.

dis fig ure ment (dis fig'yər mēnt/), 1. act of disfiguring. 2. disfigured condition. 3. something that disfigures; defect. n.

dis fran chise (dis fran'chīz/), 1. take the rights of citizenship away from. A disfranchised person cannot vote or hold office. 2. take a right or privilege from v. dis fran chised, dis fran chis ing. Also, disenfranchise.

dis fran chise ment (dis fran'chiz mēnt/), 1. a disfranchising. 2. being disfranchised. n. Also, disenfranchisement.

dis gorge (dis gōrj'/), 1. throw up (what has been swallowed); vomit forth. 2. pour forth; discharge: Swollen streams disgorged their waters into the river. 3. give up unwillingly: The robbers were forced to disgorge their plunder. v. dis gorged, dis gorg ing.

dis grace (dis grās'/), 1. loss of honor or respect; shame. 2. cause of disgrace: To be put in prison is usually a disgrace. 3. cause disgrace to. 4. loss of favor or trust: The king's former adviser is now in disgrace. 5. dismiss in disgrace: The cowardly officer was disgraced for failing to do his duty. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v. dis graced, dis grac ing. —dis grac'er, n.

dis grace ful (dis grās'fəl/), causing loss of honor or respect; shameful. adj. —dis grace'ful ly, adv. —dis-grace'ful ness, n.

dis grun tled (dis grunt'ld/), in bad humor; discontented; disgusted; displeased. adj.

dis guise (dis gīz'/), 1. make a change in the clothes and appearance of to hide who one really is or to look like someone else: The spy disguised himself as an old man. 2. use of a changed or unusual dress and appearance in order not to be known: The criminal resorted to disguise to escape from jail. 3. clothes, actions, etc., used to hide who one really is or to make a person look like someone else: Woman's clothes and a wig formed his disguise. 4. hide what (a thing) really is; make (a thing) seem like something else: The pirates had disguised their ship. He disguised his handwriting. He disguised his hate by a false show of friendliness. 5. a false or misleading appearance; deception; concealment: Her seeming friendliness was a disguise. 1,4 v., dis guised, dis guis ing; 2,3,5 n. —dis guis'er, n.

dis gust (dis gust'/), 1. strong dislike; sickening dislike: We feel disgust for bad odors or tastes. 2. arouse disgust in: The smell of a pigpen disgusts many people. 1 n., 2 v.

dis gust ed (dis gust'tid/), filled with disgust. adj. —dis gust'ed ly, adv. —dis gust'ed ness, n.

dis gust ing (dis gust'ing/), that disgusts; unpleasant; distasteful. adj. —dis gust'ing ly, adv.

dish (dish/), 1. anything to serve food in, such as a plate, platter, bowl, cup, or saucer. 2. amount of food served in a dish: I ate two dishes of ice cream. 3. food served: Sliced peaches and cream is the dish I like best. 4. serve (food) by putting it in a dish: You may dish the dinner now. 5. thing shaped like a dish. 6. shape like a dish. 7. Slang. defeat; ruin. 1-3,5 n., 4,6,7 v.

dis heart en (dis härt'n/), discourage; depress: A long drought disheartens a farmer. v. —dis heart'en-ing ly, adv.

di shev eled (də shev'ld/), 1. rumpled; mussed; disordered; untidy. 2. hanging loosely or in disorder: disheveled hair. adj.

di shev elled (də shev'ld/), Brit. disheveled. adj. dis hon est (dis on'ist/), not honest: Lying, stealing, and cheating are the dishonest acts of dishonest people. adj. —dis hon'est ly, adv.

dis hon es ty (dis on'is tē/), 1. lying, cheating, or stealing; lack of honesty. 2. a dishonest act. n., pl. dis hon-es ties.

dis hon or (dis on'ər/), 1. loss of honor or reputation; shame; disgrace. 2. cause of dishonor: A man who steals is a dishonor to his family. 3. cause or bring dishonor to. 4. refusal or failure to pay a check, bill, etc. 5. refuse or fail to pay (a check, bill, etc.): A bank will dishonor your checks if you do not have money in the bank to pay them. 1,2,4 n., 3,5 v.

dis hon or a ble (dis on'ər ə bl/), 1. causing loss of honor; shameful; disgraceful. 2. without honor. adj. —dis hon'or a ble ness, n. —dis hon'or a bly, adv.

dis hon our (dis on'ər/), Esp. Brit. dishonor. n., v. dis il lu sion (dis'i lū'zhən/), 1. free from illusion: People are apt to become disillusioned as they grow old. 2. a freeing or being freed from illusion. 1 v., 2 n.

dis il lu sion ment (dis'i lū'zhən mēnt/), a disillusioning or being disillusioned. n.

dis in cli na tion (dis in'klə nā'shən/), unwillingness. n.

dis in cline (dis'in klīn'/), make or be unwilling. v. dis in clined, dis in clin ing.

dis in clined (dis'in klīnd'/), unwilling. adj.

dis in fect (dis'in fekt'/), destroy the disease germs in: If you nurse someone who has scarlet fever, you should disinfect yourself and your clothes every time you leave the room where the sick person is. v. —dis'in fec'tor, n.

dis in fect ant (dis'in fek'tənt/), 1. means for destroying disease germs. Alcohol, iodine, and carbolic acid are disinfectants. 2. destroying disease germs. 1 n., 2 adj.

dis in fec tion (dis'in fek'shən/), destruction of disease germs. n.

dis in gen u ous (dis'in jen'yū əs/), not frank; insincere. adj. —dis'in gen'u ous ly, adv.

dis in her it (dis'in her'it/), prevent from inheriting; deprive of an inheritance: A father disinherits his son if he leaves none of his property to his son. v.

dis in her it ance (dis'in her'ə təns/), 1. act of disinheriting. 2. state of being disinherited. n.

dis in te grate (dis in'tə grāt/), 1. break up; separate into small parts or bits: Time had caused the old books to disintegrate into a pile of fragments and dust. 2. change in nuclear structure through bombardment by charged particles. v. dis in te grat ed, dis in te grat ing.

dis in te gra tion (dis in'tə grā'shən/), a breaking up; separation into small parts or bits: Rain and frost had caused the gradual disintegration of the rock. n.

dis in te gra tor (dis in'tə grā'tər/), 1. person or thing that causes disintegration. 2. machine for disintegrating a substance. n.

dis in ter (dis'in tər'/), 1. take out of a grave or tomb; dig up. 2. bring to light; discover and reveal. v. dis in terred, dis in ter ring. —dis'in ter'ment, n.

dis in ter est (dis in'tər ist/), lack of interest; indifference. n.

dis in ter est ed (dis in'tər is tid or dis in'tər es'tid/), free from selfish motives; impartial; fair: A judge should be disinterested. adj. —dis in'ter est ed ly, adv. —dis-in'ter est ed ness, n.

dis join (dis join'/), separate; keep from joining; prevent from being joined. v.

dis joint (dis joint'/), 1. take apart at the joints: disjoint a chicken. 2. break up; disconnect; put out of order: The boy's speech was stumbling and disjointed. 3. put out of joint; dislocate: a disjointed wrist. 4. come apart; be put out of joint. v.

dis joint ed (dis join'tid), 1. taken apart at the joints.

2. broken up; disconnected; incoherent. 3. out of joint. adj. —dis joint'ed ly, adv. —dis joint'ed ness, n.

disk (disk), 1. a round, flat, thin object. 2. a round, flat surface, or an apparently round, flat surface: the sun's disk. 3. a roundish, flat part in a plant or animal. The yellow center of a daisy is a disk. 4. anything resembling a disk. 5. a phonograph record. 6. discuss. n. Also, disc. —disk'like', adj.

Disk (def. 1)

disk harrow, harrow with a row of sharp, revolving disks used in preparing ground for planting or sowing.

disk jockey, Slang. announcer for a radio program that consists chiefly of recorded music.

dis like (dis lik'), 1. a feeling of not liking; a feeling against: I have a dislike of rain and fog. 2. not like; object to; have a feeling against: Bob dislikes studying and would rather play football. 1 n., 2 v., dis liked, dis lik ing.

dis lo cate (dis'lō kāt), 1. put out of joint: The football player dislocated his shoulder when he fell. 2. put out of order; disturb; upset. v., dis lo cat ed, dis lo cat ing.

dis lo ca tion (dis'lō kā'shən), 1. act of dislocating. 2. state of being dislocated. n.

dis lodge (dis loj'), drive or force out of a place, position, etc.: The workman used a crowbar to dislodge a heavy stone from the wall. Heavy gunfire dislodged the enemy from the fort. v., dis lodged, dis lodg ing.

dis lodg ment (dis loj'mənt), 1. act of dislodging. 2. state of being dislodged. n.

dis loy al (dis loi'əl), not loyal; unfaithful: A disloyal servant let robbers into the house. adj. —dis loy'al ly, adv.

dis loy al ty (dis loi'əl tē), 1. lack of loyalty; unfaithfulness: Refusing to defend parents, school, or country is disloyalty. 2. a disloyal act. n., pl. dis loy al ties.

dis mal (diz'ml), 1. dark; gloomy: A damp cave or a rainy day is dismal. 2. dreary; miserable: Sickness or bad luck often makes a person feel dismal. adj. —dis'mal ly, adv.

dis man tle (dis man'tl), 1. strip of covering, equipment, furniture, guns, rigging, etc.: The warship was dismantled before the hull was sold for scrap metal. 2. pull down; take apart: We had to dismantle the bookcases in order to move them. v., dis man tled, dis man tling.

dis may (dis mā'), 1. loss of courage because of fear of what is about to happen: The mother was filled with dismay when her son confessed that he had robbed a store. 2. trouble greatly; make afraid: The thought that she might fail the history test dismayed her. 1 n., 2 v.

dis mem ber (dis mem'bər), 1. pull apart; cut to pieces; separate or divide into parts: The defeated country was dismembered. 2. cut or tear the limbs from: dismember a human body. v. —dis mem'ber ment, n.

dis miss (dis mis'), 1. send away; allow to go: At noon the teacher dismissed the class. 2. remove from office or service: We dismissed the cook because her cooking was so poor. 3. put out of mind; stop thinking about: Dismiss your troubles and be happy. 4. refuse to consider (a complaint, plea, etc.) in a law court. v.

dis miss al (dis mis'l), 1. act of dismissing: The dismissal of those workmen caused a strike. 2. state or fact of being dismissed. 3. a written or spoken order dismissing someone. n.

dis mis sion (dis mish'ən), dismissal. n.

dis mount (dis mount'), 1. get off a horse, bicycle, etc. 2. throw or bring down from a horse; unhorse: The first knight dismounted the second. 3. take (a thing) from its setting or support: The cannons were dismounted for shipping. 4. take apart; take to pieces. v.

dis o be di ence (dis'ə bē'dē əns), refusal to obey; failure to obey: Disobedience cannot be allowed in the army. n.

dis o be di ent (dis'ə bē'dē ənt), refusing to obey; failing to obey. adj. —dis'o bē'di ent ly, adv.

dis o bey (dis'ə bā'), refuse to obey; fail to obey. v. —dis'o bey'er, n.

dis o blige (dis'ə blīj'), 1. neglect to oblige; refuse to oblige; refuse to do a favor for. 2. give offense to. v., dis o bliged, dis o blig ing. —dis'o blig'ing ly, adv.

dis or der (dis ōr'dər), 1. lack of order; confusion. 2. destroy the order of; throw into confusion: A series of accidents disordered the shop. 3. a public disturbance; riot. 4. sickness; disease: a disorder of the stomach. 5. cause sickness in: The bad food disordered my stomach. 1, 3, 4 n., 2, 5 v.

dis or dered (dis ōr'dərd), 1. not in order; disturbed. 2. sick. adj.

dis or der ly (dis ōr'dər lē), 1. not orderly; in confusion: An untidy, messy room is disorderly. 2. causing disorder; making a disturbance; breaking rules; unruly. 3. against the law; contrary to good morals or decency. 4. in a disorderly manner. 1-3 adj., 4 adv. —dis-or'der li ness, n.

dis or gan ize (dis ōr'gən īz), throw into confusion and disorder; upset the order and arrangement of: Heavy snowstorms disorganized the train schedule. v., dis or gan ized, dis or gan iz ing. —dis or'gan i za'tion, n.

dis own (dis ōn'), refuse to recognize as one's own; cast off: He disowned his wicked son. v.

dis par age (dis par'ij), 1. speak slightly of; try to lessen the importance or value of; belittle: The coward disparaged the hero's brave rescue. 2. lower the reputation of; discredit. v., dis par aged, dis par ag ing. —dis-par'ag ing ly, adv.

dis par age ment (dis par'ij mənt), 1. act of disparaging. 2. something that lowers a thing or person in worth or importance. 3. a lessening in esteem or standing: Say nothing that will be to Joe's disparagement with his new employer. n.

dis pa rate (dis'pə rit), distinct in kind; essentially different; unlike. adj. —dis'pa rate ness, n.

dis par i ty (dis par'ə tē), inequality; difference: There will be a disparity in the accounts of the same event given by several people. n., pl. dis par i ties.

dis part (dis pārt'), separate; divide into parts. v.

dis pas sion ate (dis pash'ən it), free from emotion or prejudice; calm; impartial: To a dispassionate observer, the drivers of both cars seemed equally at fault. adj. —dis pas'sion ate ly, adv.

dis patch (dis pach'), 1. send off to some place or for some purpose: He dispatched a messenger to tell the king what had happened. 2. a sending off (of a letter, a messenger, etc.): Please hurry up the dispatch of this telegram. 3. a written message, such as special news or government business: This dispatch has been two days on the way. 4. get (something) done promptly or speedily. 5. promptness; speed: Fred works with neatness and dispatch. 6. give the death blow to; kill: He dispatched the deer at his first shot. 7. a putting to death; a killing. 8. Informal. eat up: The hungry boy quickly dispatched the meat. 9. agency for conveying goods, etc. 1, 4, 6, 8 v., 2, 3, 5, 7, 9 n. Also, despatch.

dis patch er (dis pach'ər), person who dispatches. A train dispatcher sends out the trains. n.

dis pel (dis pel'), drive away and scatter; disperse: The captain's cheerful laugh dispelled our fears. v., dis pel led, dis pel ling. —dis pel'ler, n.

dis pen sa ble (dis pen'sə bl), 1. that may be done without; unimportant. 2. capable of being dispensed or administered. adj. —dis pen'sa ble ness, n.

dis pen sa ry (dis pen'sə rē), place where medicines and medical advice are given free or for a very small charge. n., pl. dis pen sa ries.

dis pen sa tion (dis'pen sā'shən), 1. act of giving out; act of distributing: the dispensation of charity to the poor. 2. thing given out or distributed: They gave thanks for the dispensations of Providence. 3. rule; management; England under the dispensation of Elizabeth I. 4. management or ordering of the affairs of the world by Providence or Nature. 5. a religious system: the Christian dispensation. 6. official permission to disregard a rule. n.

dis pense (dis pens'), 1. give out; distribute: The Red Cross dispensed food and clothing to the sufferers. 2. carry out; put in force; apply: In our country judges and law courts dispense justice. 3. prepare and give out: Druggists must dispense medicines with the greatest care. 4. release; excuse. v., dis pensed, dis pens ing. —dis pens'er, n.

dis pense with, 1. do away with; make unnecessary. 2. do without; get along without.

dis per sal (dis pēr'sl), dispersion; act of scattering or state of being scattered: the dispersal of a crowd. n.

dis perse (dis pērs'), 1. spread in different directions; scatter: The crowd dispersed when the policeman came. 2. divide (white light) into its colored rays. v., dis persed, dis pers ing.

dis per sion (dis pēr'zhən), 1. a dispersing. 2. a being dispersed. 3. the separation of light into its different colors. n.

dis pir it (dis pir'it), depress; discourage; dishearten: A week of rain dispirited us all. v. —dis pir'it ed ly, adv.

dis place (dis plās'), 1. put something else in the place of; take the place of: The automobile has practically displaced the horse and buggy. 2. remove from a position of authority. 3. put out of place; move from its usual place or position. v., dis placed, dis plac ing.

dis placed person, a European or other person forced out of his own country by war or to be used as labor.

dis place ment (dis plās'mənt), 1. act of displacing. 2. a being displaced: His laziness has caused his displacement from office. 3. weight of the volume of water displaced by a ship or other floating object. It is a weight equal to that of the floating object. n.

dis play (dis plā'), 1. show; expose to view: The flag is displayed on the Fourth of July. 2. a displaying; exhibition: He did not like the boy's display of bad temper. 3. show in a special way, so as to attract attention: The boys' suits were displayed in the big window of the store. 4. let appear; reveal: He displayed his good nature by answering all our questions. 5. a showing off; ostentation: Her fondness for display led her to buy showy clothes. 6. spread out; unfold: display a newspaper. 7. a planned showing of a thing, for some special purpose: Grade 8 had two displays of children's drawings. 8. the choice and arrangement of type so as to make certain words, etc., prominent. 1,3,4,6 v., 2,5,7,8 n.

dis please (dis plēz'), not please; offend; annoy. v., dis pleased, dis pleas ing.

dis pleas ure (dis plezh'ər), 1. the feeling of being displeased; slight anger; annoyance; dislike. 2. Archaic. discomfort; uneasiness. 3. Archaic. offense; injury. n.

dis port (dis pōrt'), 1. amuse (oneself); sport; play: People laughed at the clumsy bears sporting themselves in the water. 2. Archaic. pastime; amusement. 1 v., 2 n.

dis pos a ble (dis pōz'ə bl), 1. capable of being disposed of. 2. at one's disposal; available. adj.

dis pos al (dis pōz'l), 1. act of getting rid (of something): the disposal of garbage. 2. act of giving away: His will arranged for the disposal of his property after his death. 3. sale. 4. an arranging of matters; a settling of affairs: Mary's disposal of the difficulty pleased everybody. 5. act of putting in a certain order or position; arrangement: The disposal of the chairs around the sides of the room left plenty of space in the middle. n.

at or in one's disposal, ready for one's use or service at any time; under one's control or management.

dis pose (dis pōz'), 1. put in a certain order or position; arrange: The battleships were disposed in a straight line. 2. arrange (matters); settle (affairs); determine. 3. make ready or willing; incline: More pay and shorter hours of work disposed him to take the new job. 4. make liable or subject: Getting your feet wet disposes you to catching cold. v., dis posed, dis pos ing. —dis pos'er, n.

dis pose of, 1. get rid of. 2. give away. 3. sell. 4. eat or drink. 5. arrange; settle.

dis posed (dis pōzd'), willing; inclined. adj.

dis po si tion (dis'pə zish'ən), 1. habitual ways of acting toward others or of thinking about things; nature: a cheerful disposition, a selfish disposition. 2. tendency; inclination: a disposition to argue. 3. act of putting in order or position; arrangement: the disposition of soldiers in battle. 4. management; settlement: the satisfactory disposition of a difficult problem. 5. disposal: What disposition did you make of Johnny's case? n.

dis pos sess (dis'pə zes'), 1. force to give up the possession of a house, land, etc.; oust: The farmer was dispossessed for not paying his rent. 2. deprive: Fear dispossessed him of his senses. v. —dis'pos ses'sion, n.

dis praise (dis prāz'), 1. express disapproval of; speak against; blame. 2. expression of disapproval; blame. 1 v., dis praised, dis prais ing; 2 n.

dis proof (dis prūf'), 1. a disproving; refutation. 2. fact, reason, etc., that disproves something. n.

dis pro por tion (dis'prə pōr'shən), 1. lack of proportion; lack of proper proportion; lack of symmetry. 2. make disproportionate. 1 n., 2 v.

dis pro por tion ate (dis'prə pōr'shən it), out of proportion; lacking in proper proportion: A penny would be disproportionate pay for a day's work. adj.

dis pro por tion ate ly (dis'prə pōr'shən it lē), in a disproportionate degree; inadequately or excessively. adv.

dis prove (dis prūv'), prove false or incorrect; refute: John disproved Tom's statement that he had less candy by weighing both boxes. v., dis proved, dis prov ing. —dis prov'a ble, adj.

dis put a ble (dis pūt'ə bl or dis'pyə tə bl), liable to be disputed; uncertain; questionable. adj.

dis pu tant (dis'pyə tənt or dis pūt'nt), person who takes part in a dispute or debate. n.

dis pu ta tion (dis'pyə tā'shən), 1. debate; controversy. 2. dispute. n.

dis pu ta tious (dis'pyə tā'shəs), fond of disputing; inclined to argue. adj. —dis'pu ta'tious ly, adv.

dis pute (dis pūt'), 1. discuss; argue; debate. 2. argument; debate. 3. quarrel. 4. disagree with (a statement); declare not true; call in question. 5. fight against; oppose; resist. 6. fight for; fight over: The soldiers disputed every inch of ground when the enemy attacked. 7. contend for; try to win: The losing team disputed the victory until the very end of the game. 1,3-7 v., dis put ed, dis put ing; 2,3 n. —dis put'er, n.

dis qual i fi ca tion (dis kwol'ə fə kā'shən), 1. a disqualifying. 2. a being disqualified. 3. something that disqualifies. n.

dis qual i fy (dis kwol'ə fi), 1. make unfit; make unable to do something: His lameness disqualified him for many years. 2. declare unfit or unable to do something; deprive of a right or privilege: The school coach disqualified two football players because they had low marks. v., dis qual i fied, dis qual i fy ing.

dis qui et (dis kwī'ət), 1. make uneasy or anxious; disturb: Rumors of a revolution disquieted the king. 2. uneasiness; anxiety: Her disquiet made the rest of us uneasy too. 1 v., 2 n.

dis qui et ing (dis kwī'ə ting), disturbing. adj.

dis qui e tude (dis kwī'ə tūd or dis kwī'ə tūd), uneasiness; anxiety. n.

dis qui si tion (dis'kwə zish'ən), a long or formal speech or writing about a subject. n.

dis re gard (dis'ri gārd'), 1. pay no attention to; take no notice of: Disregarding the child's screams, the doctor cleaned and bandaged the cut. 2. lack of attention; neglect: The reckless driver was arrested for his complete disregard of the traffic laws. 3. treat without proper regard or respect; slight. 4. lack of proper regard or respect. 1,3 v., 2,4 n.

dis rel ish (dis rel'ish), dislike. v., n.

dis re mem ber (dis'ri mem'bər), Informal. fail to remember; forget. v.

dis re pair (dis'ri pār'), bad condition; need of repairs. n.

dis rep u ta ble (dis rep'yə tə bl), 1. having a bad reputation: a disreputable dance hall. 2. not respectable: a disreputable old hat. adj. —dis rep'u ta bly, adv.

dis re pute (dis'ri püt'), disgrace; discredit; disfavor: Many remedies formerly used are now in disrepute. n.

dis re spect (dis'ri spekt'), lack of respect; rudeness; impoliteness: Older people disliked the boy because of his disrespect to his parents. n.

dis re spect ful (dis'ri spekt'fəl), rude; showing no respect; lacking in courtesy to elders or superiors: The disrespectful boy laughed at his father. adj. —dis'respect'ful ly, adv. —dis're spect'ful ness, n.

dis robe (dis rōb'), undress. v., dis robed, dis rob ing. dis rupt (dis rupt'), break up; split: Slavery seemed likely to disrupt the union. v.

dis rup tion (dis rup'shən), 1. a breaking up; a splitting. 2. a being broken up; a being split. n.

dis rup tive (dis rup'tiv), tending to break up; causing disruption: a disruptive influence. adj.

dis sat is fac tion (dis'sat is fak'shən), discontent; displeasure. n.

dis sat is fied (dis sat'is fid), 1. discontented; displeased. 2. showing discontent or displeasure. adj.

dis sat is fy (dis sat'is fi), fail to satisfy; make discontented; displease: Envy may dissatisfy us with our lot. v., dis sat is fied, dis sat is fy ing.

dis sect (di sekt'), 1. cut in pieces; divide into parts. 2. separate or divide the parts of (an animal, plant, etc.) in order to examine or study the structure. 3. examine carefully part by part; analyze: The lawyer dissected the testimony to show where the witnesses had contradicted themselves. v.

dis sect ed (di sekt'id), cut or divided into many parts: These plants have dissected leaves. adj.

dis sec tion (di sekt'shən), 1. act of separating or dividing an animal or plant into parts in order to examine or study the structure. 2. animal, plant, etc., that has been dissected. 3. analysis; consideration of something in detail or point by point. n.

dis sec tor (di sekt'tər), 1. person who dissects. 2. instrument used in dissecting. n.

dis sem ble (di sem'bl), 1. disguise or hide (one's real feelings, thoughts, plans, etc.): She dissembled her anger with a smile. 2. conceal one's motives, etc.; be a hypocrite. 3. pretend; feign: The bored listener dissembled an interest he didn't feel. 4. pretend not to see or notice; disregard; ignore. v., dis sem bled, dis sem bling. —dis sem'bler, n.

dis sem i nate (di sem'ə nāt), scatter widely; spread abroad: Missionaries disseminate Christian beliefs all over the world. v., dis sem i nat ed, dis sem i nat ing. —dis sem'i na tion, n. —dis sem'i na tor, n.

dis sen sion (di sen'shən), a disputing; a quarreling; hard feeling caused by a difference in opinion: Their political disagreement caused dissension. n.

dis sent (di sent'), 1. differ in opinion; disagree: Two of the judges dissented from the decision of the other three. 2. difference of opinion; disagreement. 3. refuse to conform to the rules and beliefs of an established church. 4. refusal to conform to the rules and beliefs of an established church: The Puritans' dissent caused their separation from the Church of England. 1, 3 v., 2, 4 n.

dis sent er (di sen'tər), person who dissents. n.

Dis sent er (di sen'tər), in England and Scotland, a Protestant who belongs to some other church than the state church. n.

dis sen tient (di sen'shənt), 1. dissenting, especially from the opinion of the majority. 2. person who dissents. 1 adj., 2 n.

dis ser ta tion (dis'ər tā'shən), a formal discussion of a subject; treatise. n.

dis serv ice (dis sēr'vis), bad treatment; harm; injury. n.

dis sever (di sev'ər), sever; separate. v.

dis si dence (dis'si dəns), disagreement; dissent. n.

dis si dent (dis'si dənt), 1. disagreeing; dissenting. 2. person who disagrees or dissents. 1 adj., 2 n.

dis sim i lar (di sim'ə lər), not similar; unlike; different. adj. —dis sim'i lar ly, adv.

dis sim i lar i ty (di sim'ə lar'yə tē), lack of similarity; unlikeness; difference. n., pl. dis sim i lar i ties. dis si mil i tude (dis'si mil'ə tūd or dis'sə mil'ə tūd), unlikeness; difference. n.

dis sim u late (di sim'yə lāt), disguise or hide under a pretense; dissemble. v., dis sim u lat ed, dis sim u lat ing. —dis sim'u la tor, n.

dis sim u la tion (di sim'yə lā'shən), act of dissembing; hypocrisy; pretense; deceit. n.

dis si pate (dis'si pāt), 1. spread in different directions; scatter. 2. disappear or cause to disappear; dissipate: The sun dissipated the mists. 3. spend foolishly; waste on things of little value: The extravagant son soon dissipated his father's fortune. 4. indulge too much in evil or foolish pleasures. v., dis si pat ed, dis si pat ing.

dis si pat ed (dis'si pāt'id), 1. indulging too much in evil or foolish pleasures; dissolute: A youth who spends his time in drinking and gambling is dissipated. 2. scattered. 3. wasted. adj.

dis si pa tion (dis'si pā'shən), 1. a dissipating or being dissipated. 2. amusement; diversion, especially harmful amusements. 3. too much indulgence in evil or foolish pleasures; intemperance. n.

dis so ci ate (di sō'shē āt), 1. break the connection or association with; separate: When the honest man discovered that his companions were thieves he dissociated himself from them. 2. separate or decompose by dissociation. v., dis so ci at ed, dis so ci at ing.

dis so ci a tion (di sō'sē ā'shən), 1. act of dissociating or state of being dissociated. 2. separation of molecules of an electrolyte into constituent ions; ionization. Sodium and chlorine ions are formed by the dissociation of sodium chloride molecules in water. n.

dis sol u bil i ty (di sol'yə bil'yə tē), fact or quality of being dissoluble. n.

dis sol u ble (di sol'yə bl), capable of being dissolved. adj. —dis sol'u ble ness, n.

dis so lute (dis'sō lūt), living an evil life; very wicked; lewd; immoral. adj. —dis'so lute ly, adv. —dis'so lute ness, n.

dis so lu tion (dis'sō lū'shən), 1. a breaking up; an ending: The partners arranged for the dissolution of their partnership. 2. the breaking up of an assembly by ending its session. 3. ruin; destruction. 4. death. n.

dis solve (di zolv'), 1. make or become liquid, especially by putting or being put into a liquid; form into a solution in a liquid: Salt or sugar will dissolve in water. 2. break up; end: dissolve a partnership. 3. fade away: The dream picture dissolved when she woke up. 4. solve; explain; clear up. 5. separate into parts; decompose. 6. the gradual disappearing of the figures of a motion picture or television scene while those of a succeeding scene slowly take their place. 1-5 v., dis solved, dis solv ing; 6 n. —dis solv'a ble, adj.

dissolved in tears, shedding many tears.

dis so nance (dis'sō nəns), 1. combination of sounds that is not harmonious; harshness and unpleasantness of sound; discord. 2. disagreement; lack of harmony. n.

dis so nant (dis'sō nənt), 1. harsh in sound; clashing; not harmonious. 2. out of harmony with other views or persons; disagreeing. adj.

dis suade (di swād'), persuade not to do something: The father dissuaded his son from leaving school. v., dis suad ed, dis suad ing.

dis sua sion (di swā'shən), act of dissuading. n.
dis syl lab ic (dis'sə lab'ik), having two syllables. adj.
dis syl la ble (dis'sil'ə bl), word having two syllables, such as about, bandage, candy. n.

dist., 1. district. 2. distance.

dis taff (dis'taf), 1. a stick, cleft at the tip, to hold wool, flax, etc., for spinning into thread. 2. the part of a spinning wheel that holds the wool or flax. 3. woman's work or affairs. 4. the female sex; woman or women. n.

distaff side, the mother's side of a family.

dis tance (dis'təns), 1. space in between: The distance from the farm to town is 5 miles. 2. being far away: The farm is at a distance from any railroad. 3. place far away: a light in the distance. 4. time in between; interval. 5. the interval or difference between two musical tones. 6. lack of friendliness or familiarity; coldness of manner; reserve. 7. leave far behind; do much better than: The big black horse distanced the others. 1-6 n., 7 v., dis tanced, dis tanc ing.

dis tant (dis'tənt), 1. far away in space: The moon is distant from the earth. 2. away: The town is three miles distant. 3. far apart in time, relationship, likeness, etc.; not close: A third cousin is a distant relative. 4. not friendly: She gave him only a distant nod. adj. —dis tant ly, adv.

dis taste (dis tās't), dislike. n.

dis taste ful (dis tās'tfəl), unpleasant; disagreeable; offensive: a distasteful medicine, a distasteful task. adj. —dis taste'ful ly, adv. —dis taste'ful ness, n.

dis tem per¹ (dis tem'pər), 1. an infectious disease of dogs and other animals, accompanied by a short, dry cough and a loss of strength. 2. sickness of the mind or body; disorder; disease. 3. make unbalanced; disturb; disorder. 4. disturbance. 1,2,4 n., 3 v.

dis tem per² (dis tem'pər), paint made by mixing the colors with eggs or glue instead of oil. Distemper is often used for painting on plaster walls. n.

dis tend (dis tend'), stretch out; swell out; expand: The balloon was distended to the bursting point. v.

dis ten tion or dis ten sion (dis ten'shən), 1. act of distending. 2. state of being distended. n.

dis til (dis til'), Esp. Brit. distill. v., dis tilled, dis tilling.

dis till (dis til'), 1. heat (a liquid or other substance) and condense the vapor given off. Water obtained by distilling dirty water is clean and pure because the steam given off contains no impurities. See retort for diagram. 2. obtain by distilling: Gasoline is distilled from crude oil. 3. extract; refine: A jury must distill the truth from the testimony of witnesses. 4. give off in drops: Flowers distill nectar. 5. fall or let fall in drops; drip. v., dis tilled, dis tilling.

dis til late (dis'tə lit or dis'tə lāt), a distilled liquid; something obtained by distilling. n.

dis til la tion (dis'tə lā'shən), 1. a distilling: the distillation of water to purify it. 2. something distilled; extract; essence. n.

dis tilled (dis tild'), obtained by distilling. adj.

dis till er (dis til'ər), 1. person or thing that distills. 2. person or corporation that makes whiskey, rum, brandy, etc. n.

dis till er y (dis til'ər ē), 1. place where distilling is done. 2. place where whiskey, rum, brandy, etc., are made. n., pl. dis till er ies.

dis tinct (dis tingkt'), 1. not the same; separate. 2. different in quality or kind: Mice are distinct from rats. 3. clear; plain: distinct writing. 4. unmistakable; definite; decided: a distinct advantage. adj. —dis tinct'ness, n.

dis tinc tion (dis tingkt'shən), 1. act of distinguishing; making a difference: A teacher should be firm but fair with everyone without distinction. 2. difference: What is the distinction between ducks and geese? 3. point of difference; special quality or feature. 4. honor: The soldier served with distinction. 5. mark or sign of honor: He won many distinctions for bravery. 6. excellence; superiority: A governor of any of our States should be a man of character and distinction. n.

dis tinc tive (dis tingkt'iv), distinguishing from others; special; characteristic: Policemen wear a distinctive uniform. adj. —dis tinc'tive ly, adv. —dis tinc'tive ness, n.

dis tinct ly (dis tingkt'lē), 1. clearly; plainly. 2. unmistakably; decidedly. adv.

dis tin guish (dis ting'gwish), 1. tell apart; see or show the difference in: Can you distinguish cotton cloth from linen? 2. see or show the difference. 3. see or hear clearly; make out plainly: It is much too dark for me to distinguish anything. 4. make different; be a special quality or feature of: Ability to talk distinguishes human beings from animals. 5. make famous or well-known: He distinguished himself by winning three prizes. 6. separate into different groups. v.

dis tin guish a ble (dis ting'gwish ə bl), capable of being distinguished. adj. —dis tin'guish a bly, adv.

dis tin guished (dis ting'gwisht), 1. famous; well-known: a distinguished artist. 2. having the appearance of an important person. adj.

dis tort (dis tōrt'), 1. pull or twist out of shape; change the normal appearance of: Rage distorted his face. 2. change from the truth: The man distorted the facts of the accident to escape blame. v.

dis tor tion (dis tōr'shən), 1. a distorting: A lie is a distortion of the truth. 2. fact or state of being distorted. 3. anything distorted. n.

dis tract (dis trakt'), 1. draw away (the mind, attention, etc.): Noise distracts my attention from studying. 2. confuse; disturb; bewilder: Several people talking at once distract a listener. 3. put out of one's mind; make insane. v. —dis tract'ed ly, adv. —dis tract'ing ly, adv.

dis trac tion (dis trak'shən), 1. act of drawing away the attention, mind, etc. 2. thing that draws away the attention, mind, etc.: Noise is a distraction when you are trying to study. 3. confusion of mind; disturbance of thought: The mother of the lost children scarcely knew what she was doing in her distraction. 4. insanity; madness. 5. confusion; perplexity; dissension. 6. relief from continued thought, grief, or effort; amusement. n.

dis train (dis trān'), seize (goods) for unpaid rent or other debts. v.

dis trait (dis trā'), not paying attention; absent-minded. adj.

dis traught (dis trōt'), 1. in a state of mental conflict and confusion: The lost child wandered about distraught with fear. 2. crazed. adj.

dis tress (dis tres'), 1. great pain or sorrow; anxiety; trouble. 2. cause pain, grief, or suffering to; make miserable or troubled. 3. something that causes distress; misfortune. 4. dangerous condition; difficult situation: A ship sinking or burning at sea is in distress. 1,3,4 n., 2 v. —dis tress'ing ly, adv.

dis tress ful (dis tres'fəl), 1. causing distress; painful. 2. feeling or showing distress; suffering. adj. —dis tress'ful ly, adv.

dis trib ute (dis trib'ūt), 1. give (some of) to each; divide and give out in shares: The teacher distributed paper to the class. 2. spread; scatter: Distribute the paint evenly over the wall. 3. divide into parts. 4. arrange; classify: A mail clerk distributes mail when he puts each letter into the proper bag. v., dis trib ut ed, dis trib ut ing.

dis tri bu tion (dis'trə bū'shən), 1. act of distributing: After the contest the distribution of prizes to the winners took place. 2. way of being distributed: If some get more than others, there is an uneven distribution. 3. thing distributed. 4. the distributing to consumers of goods grown or made by producers. n.

dis trib u tive (dis trib'yə tiv), of or having to do with distribution; distributing. adj.

hat, âge, cäre, fär; let, bë, tèrm; it, ìce; hot, gò, ôrder; oil, out; cup, pùt, rùle, ùse; ch, child; ng, long; th, thin; ʦh, then; zh, measure; ə represents a in about, e in taken; i in April, o in lemon, u in circus.

god; heavenly. 5. very excellent; unusually good or great. 6. clergyman who knows much about theology; minister; priest. 7. find out or foretell by inspiration, by magic, or by guessing; predict. 1-5 adj., 6 n., 7 v.

di vined, di vin ing. —di vine'ness, n.

di vine ly (də vin'lē), 1. in a divine or godlike manner. 2. by the agency or influence of God. 3. supremely. adv.

di vin er (də vin'ər), 1. person who foresees the future or perceives the unknown, or professes to do these things. 2. person who makes a skillful guess or prediction. n.

divine right of kings, the right to rule, thought to have been given to kings by God.

diving bell, a large, hollow container filled with air. People can work in it under water.

diving suit, a waterproof suit with a helmet into which air can be pumped through a tube. Diving suits are worn by persons working under water.

divining rod, a forked stick supposed to be useful in locating water, oil, metal, and other things underground.

di vin i ty (də vin'ə tē), 1. a divine being; a god. 2. divine nature or quality. 3. study of God, religion, and divine things; theology. 4. a creamy fudge. n., pl. di vin i ties.

the Divinity, God.

di vis i bil i ty (də viz'ə bil'ə tē), quality of being divisible. n.

di vis i ble (də viz'ə bl),

1. capable of being divided. 2. capable of being divided without leaving a remainder. Any even number is divisible by 2. adj.

di vi sion (də vizh'ən), 1. a dividing or being divided. 2. act of giving some to each; a sharing: a minute division of labor. 3. process of dividing one number by another: $26 \div 2 = 13$ is a simple division. 4. thing that divides. A boundary or a partition is a division. 5. part; group; section: a division of the animal kingdom. 6. part of an army consisting of two or three brigades of infantry and a certain amount of cavalry, artillery, etc., usually commanded by a major general. 7. difference of opinion, thought, or feeling; disagreement. n.

di vi sion al (də vizh'ən l), of a division; having to do with a division; belonging to a division. adj.

di vi sor (də vī'zər), 1. number or quantity by which another is divided: In $8 \div 2$, 2 is the divisor. 2. number or quantity that divides another without a remainder. n.

di vorce (də vōrs'), 1. the legal ending of a marriage. 2. end legally a marriage between: The judge divorced Mr. and Mrs. Jones. 3. get rid of by a divorce: Mrs. Smith divorced her husband. 4. a complete separation: In this country there is a complete divorce of government and religion. 5. separate: In sports, exercise and play are not divorced. 1,4 n., 2,3,5 v., di vorced, di vorc ing.

di vor cée (də vōr'sā'), a divorced woman. n.

div ot (div'ət), a small piece of turf or earth dug up by a golf club in making a stroke. n.

di vulge (də vulj'), make known; make public; tell; reveal: The traitor divulged secret plans to the enemy. v., di vulged, di vulg ing. —di vulg'er, n.

Dix ie (dik'sē), 1. the southern states of the United States, especially those which belonged to the Confederacy. 2. a lively song about the South, written in 1859, sung during the Civil War, and still popular. n.

Dix ie crat (dik'sē krat), one of those Democrats who opposed first the civil rights program of the Truman Administration and later the civil rights plank of the 1948 platform of the Democratic Party. n.

Diving bell

Diving suit

Dixie Land, Dixie (def. 1).

diz zy (diz'ē), 1. disposed to fall, stagger, or spin around; not steady: When you spin round and round, and stop suddenly, you feel dizzy. 2. having the sensation that things about one are whirling: Riding on a merry-go-round makes some people feel dizzy. 3. confused; bewildered. 4. make dizzy. 5. likely to make dizzy; causing dizziness: The airplane climbed to a dizzy height. 6. Informal. foolish; stupid. 1-3,5,6 adj., diz zi er, diz zi est; 4 v., diz zied, diz zy ing. —diz'zi ly, adv. —diz'zi ness, n.

Dja kar ta (jə kār'tə), seaport in NW Java, capital of Indonesia. 2,800,000. n. Also, Jakarta. Formerly, Batavia.

Dji bou ti (ji bū'tē), capital of French Somaliland, on the Gulf of Aden. 31,000. n.

Dne pro pe trovsk (dnje'prō pye trōfsk'), city in SW Soviet Union, on the Dnieper. 658,000. n.

Dnie per (nē'pər), river flowing from W Soviet Union into the Black Sea. 1400 mi. n.

do (dü), 1. carry out; perform: She did her work. 2. act; work: Do or die. 3. complete; finish; end: That's done! 4. make; produce: Walt Disney did a movie about the seven dwarfs. 5. be the cause of; bring about: Do good. Your work does you credit. 6. act; behave: Do wisely. 7. render: do homage, do justice. 8. deal with as the case may require; put in order: do the dishes, do one's hair. 9. get along; manage; fare: How do you do? 10. be satisfactory; be enough; serve: This hat will do. 11. work out; solve: do a puzzle, do a sum. 12. cook: The roast will be done in an hour. 13. cover; traverse: We did 60 miles in an hour. 14. Informal. cheat; trick. 15. Do has special uses where it has no definite meaning: (1) in asking questions: Do you like milk? (2) in emphasizing a verb: I do want to go. (3) in standing for a verb already used: My dog goes where I do. (4) in expressions that contain not: People talk; animals do not. (5) in inverted constructions after the adverbs rarely, hardly, little, etc.: Rarely did she laugh. v., pres. sing. 1 do, 2 (Archaic) do est or dost, 3 does or (Archaic) do eth or doth; pl. do; pt. did; pp. done; bpr. do ing.

do away with, 1. abolish: do away with a rule. 2. kill. do up, 1. wrap or tie up. 2. clean and get ready for use. 3. Informal. wear out; exhaust.

do² (dō), the first and last of a series of syllables used for the eight tones of a musical scale.

The eight syllables are do, re, mi, fa, sol, la, ti, do. n.

do., ditto.

do a ble (dü'ə bl), that can be done. adj.

doat (dōt), dote. v.

dob bin (dob'ən), a slow, gentle horse. n.

Do ber man pin scher (dō'bər mən pin'shər), a medium-sized, slender, alert dog with short, dark hair.

dob son fly (dob'sən), a large insect whose larva is often used as bait by anglers.

doc ile (dos'l), 1. easily managed; obedient: a docile dog. 2. easily taught; willing to learn: a docile pupil. adj. —doc'ile ly, adv.

do cil i ty (dō sil'ə tē), docile quality. n.

dock (dok), 1. platform built on the shore or out from the shore; wharf; pier. 2. water between two piers, permitting the entrance of ships. 3. place where a ship may be repaired, often built watertight so that the water may be kept high or pumped out. See dry dock for picture. 4. bring (a ship) to a dock: The sailors docked the ship and began to unload it. 5. come into a dock. 6. join (two spacecraft) while in space. 1-3 n., 4-6 v.

dock (dok), 1. the solid, fleshy part of an animal's tail. 2. cut short; cut the end off. Horses' and dogs' tails are sometimes docked. 3. cut down; cut some off of: Our wages are docked when we are late to work. 1 n., 2,3 v.

Doberman pinscher (about 2 ft. high at the shoulder) dock³ (dok), place where an accused person stands in a law court. n.

dock⁴ (dok), large weed with sour or bitter leaves. n.

dock et (dok'it), 1. list of lawsuits to be tried by a court. 2. any list of matters to be considered by some group of people. 3. enter on a docket. 4. summary or list of law-court decisions. 5. make such a summary or list of. 6. label or ticket giving the contents of a package, document, etc. 7. mark with such a label or ticket. 1,2,4,6 n., 3,5,7 v., dock et ed, dock et ing.

dock yard (dok'yārd'), place where ships are built, equipped, and repaired. A dockyard contains docks, workshops, and warehouses for supplies. n.

dock tor (dok'tər), 1. person licensed to treat diseases or physical disorders; physician or surgeon. 2. any person who treats diseases: a witch doctor. 3. Informal. treat diseases in (a person, animal, etc.): A mother doctors her children for colds and stomach aches. 4. Informal. be a doctor; practice medicine. 5. Informal. take medicine. 6. person who has received one of the highest degrees given by a university: a Doctor of Laws, a Doctor of Philosophy. 7. the academic degree held by such a person. 8. Informal. tamper with. 9. Informal. repair; mend. 1,2,6,7 n., 3-5,8,9 v.

dock tor al (dok'tər əl), 1. having to do with a doctor or doctorate. 2. having a doctorate. adj.

dock tor ate (dok'tər it), degree of doctor given by a university. n.

dock tri naire (dok'trə nār'), an impractical theorist; person who tries to apply a theory without considering the actual circumstances. n.

dock tri nal (dok'trən əl), of or having to do with doctrine: a doctrinal sermon about baptism. adj.

doc trine (dok'trən), 1. what is taught as the belief of a church, nation, or group of persons; belief; principle. 2. what is taught; teachings. n.

doc u ment (dok'yə mənt for 1; dok'yə mənt for 2,3), 1. something written, printed, etc., that gives information or proof of some fact; any object used as evidence. Letters, maps, and pictures are documents. 2. provide with documents. 3. prove or support by means of documents. 1 n., 2,3 v. —doc'u men tā'tion, n.

doc u men tā ry (dok'yə məntə rē), 1. consisting of documents; in writing, print, etc.: The man's own letters were documentary evidence of his guilt. 2. presenting or recording factual information in an artistic fashion: a documentary film. 3. a documentary motion picture. 1,2 adj., 3 n., pl. doc u men tā ries.

dod der¹ (dod'ər), shake; tremble; totter: The man dodders about as if he were ninety years old. v.

dod der² (dod'ər), plant without leaves, roots, or chlorophyll, that lives as a parasite by twining its threadlike stems around other plants and absorbing food from them. n.

Do dec a nese Islands (dō'dek ə nēs'), group of Greek islands in the Aegean Sea, off SW Turkey. 121,000 pop.; 1035 sq. mi.

dodge (dɒʃ), 1. move quickly to one side. 2. move quickly in order to get away from (a person, a blow, or something thrown). 3. a sudden movement to one side. 4. get away from by some trick. 5. Informal. a trick to cheat. 1,2,4 v., dodged, dodging; 3,5 n.

dodg er (dɒʃər), 1. person who dodges. 2. a shifty or dishonest person. 3. U.S. a small handbill. 4. in the southern United States, a kind of corn bread. n.

Dodg son (dɒʃsn), Charles L., 1832-1898, English mathematician who wrote Alice in Wonderland. His pen name was Lewis Carroll. n.

do do (dō'dō), a large, clumsy bird unable to fly. Dodos are now extinct. n., pl. do dos or do does.

Dodo
(4 ft. long)

doe (dō), a female deer, antelope, rabbit, or hare. n.

Doe (dō), John, name used in legal documents, etc., to mean anyone. n.

do er (dū'ər), person who does something: John is a dreamer, but his brother Jim is a doer. n.

does (duz), the third person singular, present indicative of do¹. He does all his work. Does she sing well? v.

doe skin (dō'skɪn'), 1. skin of a female deer. 2. leather made from it. 3. a smooth, soft woolen cloth, sometimes used for men's suits. n.

does n't (duz'nt), does not.

do est (dū'ɪst), an archaic form of do, used only with thou. v.

do eth (dū'ɪθ), Archaic. does. v.

doff (dɒf), 1. take off; remove: He doffed his hat as the flag passed by. 2. get rid of; throw aside. v.

dog (dɒg), 1. a domesticated mammal, related to wolves, foxes, and jackals, that is kept as a pet, for hunting, and for guarding property. Two varieties are the cocker spaniel and the greyhound. 2. any animal of the same family as the dog, that includes wolves, foxes, and jackals. 3. a male dog, fox, wolf, etc. 4. any of various animals somewhat like a dog. 5. hunt or follow like a dog: The police dogged the thief's footsteps until they caught him. 6. a low, worthless man. 7. Informal. man; fellow: He is a gay dog. 8. Informal. outward dog. 9. device to hold or grip something. 10. andiron. 1-4,6-10 n., 5 v., dogged, dog ging. —dog/like', adj. go to the dogs, be ruined.

dog bane (dɒg'bān'), plant with clusters of small, white or pink, bell-shaped flowers. n.

dog cart (dɒg'kɑrt'), 1. a small cart pulled by dogs.

2. a small, open carriage with two seats that are back to back. n.

dog days, period of very hot and uncomfortable weather during July and August.

doge (dɔj), the chief magistrate of Venice or Genoa when they were republics. n.

dog-ear (dɒg'ɪr'), 1. a folded-down corner of a page in a book: I made a dog-ear to mark the page where I stopped reading. 2. fold down the corner of (the page or pages of a book). 1 n., 2 v. Also, dog's-ear. —dog/-eared', adj.

dog fight (dɒg'fɪt'), Informal. combat between individual fighter planes. n.

dog fish (dɒg'fɪʃ'), any of several kinds of small shark. n., pl. dog fish es or (esp. collectively) dog fish.

dog ged (dɒg'id), stubborn; persistent; not giving up: In spite of failures he kept on with dogged determination to succeed. adj. —dog/ged ly, adv. —dog/ged ness, n.

dog ger el (dɒg'ər əl), 1. very poor poetry; poetry that is not artistic in form or meaning. 2. of or like doggerel; not artistic; poor. 1 n., 2 adj.

dog gy (dɒg'ɪ), 1. like a dog. 2. Informal. outwardly showy. adj., dog gi er, dog gi est.

dog house (dɒg'həʊs'), a small house or shelter for a dog. n.

do gie (dō'gē), in the western United States, a motherless calf on the range or in a range herd. n.

Doe of the Virginia deer (about 2¾ ft. high at the shoulder)

dog
for gripping

Dogcart

dog ma (dôg'mə), 1. belief taught or held as true, especially by authority of a church. 2. doctrine. 3. opinion asserted in a positive manner as if it were authoritative. n.

dog mat ic (dôg mat'ik), 1. having to do with dogma; doctrinal. 2. asserting opinions as if one were the highest authority; positive; overbearing. 3. asserted without proof. adj. —dog mat'ic al ly, adv.

dog ma tism (dôg'mə tiz əm), positive or authoritative assertion of opinion. n.

dog ma tist (dôg'mə tist), 1. person who asserts opinions as if they were authoritative. 2. person who states dogmas. n.

dog ma tize (dôg'mə tīz), assert opinions in a positive or authoritative manner; speak or write in a dogmatic way. v., dog ma tized, dog ma tiz ing.

do-good er (dū'gud'ər), Informal, a person who is too eager to correct or set things right. n.

dog's-ear (dôgz'ir'), dog-ear. n., v.

dog sledge, sledge that is pulled by dogs.

Dog Star, 1. Sirius. 2. Procyon.

dog's tooth violet (dôgz'tūth'), dogtooth violet.

dog-tired (dôg'tīrd'), very tired. adj.

dog tooth violet (dôg'tūth'), a small plant of the same family as the lily, that has one yellow, white, or purple flower, and, in some varieties, mottled leaves.

dog trot (dôg'trot'), a gentle, easy trot. n.

dog watch (dôg'woch'), a two-hour period of work on a ship. There are two dogwatches a day, one from 4 to 6 P.M. and the other from 6 to 8 P.M. n.

dog wood (dôg'wud'), 1. tree with large white or pinkish flowers in the spring and red berries, called dog-wood berries, in the fall. 2. its hard wood. 3. any tree of the same family as the dogwood. n.

Do ha (dô'hə), capital of Qatar. 10,000. n.

doi ly (doi'lē), a small piece of linen, lace, paper, etc., used under plates, vases, etc. n., pl. doi lies.

do ings (dū'ingz), 1. things done; actions. 2. behavior; conduct. n.pl.

dol drums (dol'dramz or dōl'dramz), 1. certain regions of the ocean near the equator where the wind is very light or constantly shifting. When a sailing ship gets in the doldrums, it makes hardly any headway. 2. dullness; gloomy feeling; low spirits. n.pl.

dole (dōl), 1. portion of money, food, etc., given in charity. 2. deal out in portions to the poor. 3. a small portion. 4. give in small portions: Mother doles out one piece of candy a day to each child. 5. relief money given by a government to unemployed workers. 6. Archaic. lot; fate. 1,3,5,6 n., 2,4 v., doled, dol ing.

dole ful (dōl'fəl), sad; mournful; dreary; dismal. adj. —dole'ful ly, adv. —dole'ful ness, n.

doll (dōl), 1. a child's plaything made to look like a baby, child, or grown person. 2. a pretty girl or woman without much intelligence. 3. a pretty child. 4. Slang. dress (up or out) in a stylish or showy way. 1-3 n., 4 v.

dol lar (dol'ər), 1. a unit of money in the United States. 100 cents make one dollar ($1.00). 2. a similar unit of money in Canada, Australia, etc. 3. a silver coin or piece of paper money worth one dollar. n.

doll y (dol'ē), a child's name for a doll. n., pl. doll ies.

dol men (dol'mən), a prehistoric monument, generally regarded as a tomb, made by laying a large, flat stone across several upright stones. n.

dol o mite (dol'ə mīt), a rock consisting mainly of calcium and magnesium carbonate. Much white marble is dolomite. n.

Dog sledge

Dolmen

do lor (dō'lər), Poetic. sorrow; grief. n.

dol or ous (dol'ər əs or dō'lər əs), 1. mournful; sorrowful: She uttered a little dolorous cry. 2. grievous; painful: The dolorous day was ending. adj. —dol'or-ous ly, adv.

do lour (dō'lər), Esp. Brit. dolor. n.

dol phin (dol'fən), 1. a sea mammal related to the whale, but smaller. It has a beaklike snout. 2. a large, edible, salt-water fish remarkable for its changes of color when taken from the water. n.

Dolphin (def. 1) (6 to 10 ft. long)

dolphin striker, a small spar under the bowsprit that helps support the jib boom.

dolt (dōlt), a dull, stupid person. n.

dolt ish (dōl'tish), dull and stupid. adj.

-dom, suffix often added to a noun or adjective to form a noun:

1. position, rank, or realm of a —: Kingdom = realm of a king.

2. condition of being —: Martyrdom = condition of being a martyr.

3. all those who are —: Heathendom = all those who are heathen.

dom., 1. domestic. 2. dominion.

do main (dō mān'), 1. territory under the control of one ruler or government. 2. land owned by one person; estate. 3. field of thought, action, etc.: Edison was a leader in the domain of invention. n.

dome (dōm), 1. a large, rounded roof on a circular or many-sided base. 2. something high and rounded: the dome of the sky, the dome of a hill. 3. cover with a dome. 4. shape like a dome. 5. rise or swell as a dome does. 1,2 n., 3-5 v., domed, dom ing. —dome'like, adj.

Dome of a church

do mes tic (də mes'tik), 1. of the home, household, or family affairs: domestic cares, a domestic scene. 2. fond of home and family life. 3. servant in a household. A cook or a maid is a domestic. 4. not wild; tame. Cats, dogs, cows, horses, sheep, and pigs are domestic animals. 5. of one's own country; not foreign: This newspaper publishes both domestic and foreign news. 6. made in one's own country; native: domestic woolens. 1,2,4-6 adj., 3 n.

do mes ti cal ly (də mes'tik lē), in a domestic manner; so far as concerns domestic affairs. adv.

do mes ti cate (də mes'tə kāt), 1. change (animals, savages, or plants) from a wild to a tame or cultivated state; tame. 2. make fond of home and family life. 3. cause to be or feel at home. v., do mes ti-cated, do mes ti cat ing.

do mes ti ca tion (də mes'tə kā'shən), 1. a domesticating. 2. being domesticated. n.

do mes tic i ty (də mes'tis'ə tē), 1. home and family life. 2. fondness for home and family life. n., pl. do mes tic i ties.

domesticities, domestic affairs.

dom i cile (dom'ə sl), 1. house; home; residence. 2. place of permanent residence. One may have several residences, but only one legal domicile at a time. 3. settle in a domicile. 4. dwell; reside. 1,2 n., 3,4 v., dom i ciled, dom i cil ing.

dom i cil i ar y (dom'ə sil'ē er'ē), having to do with a domicile. adj.

dom i cil i ate (dom'ə sil'ē āt), 1. settle in a domicile. 2. dwell; reside. v., dom i cil i ated, dom i cil i at ing.

dom i nance (dom'ə nəns), being dominant; rule; control. n.

dom i nan cy (dom'ə nən sē), dominance. n., pl. dom i nan cies.

dom i nant (dom'ə nənt), 1. most influential; controlling; ruling; governing: The white race was dominant in most of Asia until after World War II. 2. rising high above its surroundings; occupying a commanding position: A dominant cliff rose at the bend of the river. 3. the fifth note in a musical scale. G is the dominant in the key of C. 1,2 adj., 3 n. —dom'i nant'ly, adv.

dom i nate (dom'ə nāt), 1. control or rule by strength or power: A man of strong will often dominates others. Dandelions will dominate over grass if they are not kept out. 2. rise high above; hold a commanding position over: The mountain dominates the harbor. v., dom i nated, dom i nat'ing. —dom'i na'tor, n.

dom i na tion (dom'ə nā'shən), control; rule: The tyrant's domination caused the people to rebel. n.

dom i neer (dom'ə nir'), rule (over) at one's own will; tyrannize; be overbearing in asserting one's authority: Dick domineers over his little sisters. v.

dom i neer ing (dom'ə nir'ing), inclined to domineer; arrogant: a domineering attitude, a domineering personality. adj. —dom'i neer'ing ly, adv.

Dom i nic (dom'ə nik), Saint, 1170-1221, Spanish priest who founded an order of preaching friars and an order of nuns called the Dominican orders. n.

Dom i ni ca (dom'ə nē'kə), one of the Windward Islands, in the West Indies. 60,000 pop.; 305 sq. mi. Capital: Roseau. n.

Do min i can (də min'ə kən), 1. of Saint Dominic or the religious orders founded by him. 2. friar or nun belonging to the Dominican order. 3. of or having to do with the Dominican Republic. 4. native or inhabitant of the Dominican Republic. 1,3 adj., 2,4 n.

Dominican Republic, republic in the eastern part of the island of Hispaniola (Haiti), in the West Indies. 4,070,000 pop.; 19,332 sq. mi. Capital: Santo Domingo.

dom i nie (dom'ə nē), Esp. Scottish. schoolmaster. n.

do min ion (də min'yən), 1. supreme authority; rule; control: Englishmen had dominion over a large part of the world. 2. territory under the control of one ruler or government. 3. a self-governing territory. n.

Do min ion (də min'yən), between 1926 and 1947, a self-governing part of the British Empire. Such a nation is now known as a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations. n.

Dominion Day, July 1, a national holiday in Canada in honor of the establishment of the Dominion of Canada in 1867.

dom i no (dom'ə nō), 1. a loose cloak with a small mask covering the upper part of the face, worn as a disguise, especially at masquerades. 2. the small mask. 3. person wearing a domino. 4. any of the pieces of bone or wood marked with spots and used in playing dominoes. n., pl. dom i noes or dom i nos.

dom i noes (dom'ə nōz), game played with flat, oblong pieces having dots marked on one side. Players try to match pieces having the same number of dots. n.pl.

Dom re my (dôn rə mē'), village in NE France. It is the birthplace of Joan of Arc. n.

don¹ (don), 1. a Spanish gentleman; Spaniard. 2. a distinguished person. 3. Informal. head, fellow, or tutor of a college at Oxford or Cambridge University. n.

don² (don), put on (clothing, etc.): Sir Richard donned his armor. v., donned, don ning.

Don (don), river flowing from W Soviet Union into the Sea of Azov. 1325 mi. n.

Don (don), Mr., Sir (a Spanish title). n.

Do ña (dō'nyā), Lady; Madam (a Spanish title). n.

do nate (dō'nāt), Esp. U.S. give; contribute, especially to a fund or institution. v., do nat ed, do nat ing.

do na tion (dō nā'shən), 1. act of giving or contributing. 2. gift; contribution: Everyone was called upon to make a donation to the Red Cross. n.

Don cas ter (dong'kas tər; Britl. dong'kəs tər), city in central England. 83,000. n.

done (dun), 1. completed; finished; ended; through. 2. Informal. worn out; exhausted. 3. cooked enough. 4. pp. of do. Have you done your homework? 1-3 adj., 4 v.

don jon (dun'jən), a large, strongly fortified tower of a castle. n.

don key (dong'kē), 1. a small animal somewhat like a horse but with longer ears, a shorter mane, and a tuft of hair on the end of its tail. 2. a stubborn person. 3. a silly or stupid person. n., pl. don keys.

donkey engine, a small steam engine. Donkey engines are used on a ship for hoisting anchor, etc.

Don na (don'ə), lady; madam (an Italian title). n.

do nor (dō'nər), person who contributes; giver. n.

Don Qui xo te (don ki hō'tē), the chivalrous and idealistic, but very impractical hero in a story by Cervantes.

don't (dōnt), do not.

doo dad (dū'dad), Informal. a fancy, trifling ornament. n.

doo dle (dūd'l), 1. make drawings, etc., absent-mindedly while talking or thinking. 2. a meaningless drawing or mark. 1 v., doo dled, doo dling; 2 n.

doo dle bug¹ (dūd'l bug'), U.S. larva of the ant lion. The doodlebug digs a pit to catch other insects. n.

doo dle bug² (dūd'l bug'), Informal. any of various devices with which it is claimed mineral and oil deposits can be located. n.

doom (düm), 1. fate. 2. condemn to some fate. 3. an unhappy or terrible fate; ruin; death: The soldiers marched to their doom. 4. destiny to an unhappy or terrible fate. 5. judgment; sentence: The judge pronounced the guilty man's doom. 6. condemn (to punishment): The prisoner was doomed to death. 7. end of the world; God's final judgment of mankind. 1,3,5,7 n., 2,4,6 v.

dooms day (dümz/dā'), end of the world. n.

door (dôr), 1. a movable part to close an opening in a wall. A door turns on hinges or slides open and shut. A room has a door; a house or building has several doors. 2. any movable part that suggests a door. 3. an opening where a door is; doorway. 4. room, house, or building to which a door belongs: His house is three doors down the street. 5. any means by which to go in or out; way to get something; access: door to opportunity. n.

door bell (dôr'bel'), bell to be rung by pressing a button or pulling a handle on the outside of a door as a signal that someone wishes to have the door opened. n.

door jamb (dôr'jam'), the upright piece forming the side of a doorway. n.

door keep er (dôr'kēp'ər), 1. person who guards a door or entrance. 2. doorman. n.

door knob (dôr'nob'), handle on a door. n.

door man (dôr'mən or dôr'man'), 1. man whose work is opening the door of a hotel, store, apartment house, etc., for people going in or out. 2. man who guards a door. n., pl. door men.

door nail (dôr'nāl'), nail with a large head. n.

door post (dôr'post'), doorjamb. n.

door sill (dôr'sil'), threshold. n.

door step (dôr'step'), step leading from an outside door to the ground. n.

door way (dôr'wā'), an opening in a wall to be closed by a door. n.

door yard (dôr'yärd'), yard near the door of a house; yard around a house. n.

Donkey (3 ft. high at the shoulder)

Domino (def. 1)

dope (dōp), 1. Slang. a harmful, narcotic drug, such as opium, morphine, etc. 2. Slang. a drug addict. 3. oil, grease, etc., used to make machinery run smoothly. 4. varnish put on the cloth parts of an airplane to make them stronger, waterproof, and airtight. 5. Slang. apply or give dope to; use dope. 6. Slang. information; forecast; prediction. 7. Slang. work out; forecast; predict. 8. U.S. Slang. very stupid person. 1-4,6,8 n., 5,7 v., doped, doping. —dot'er, n.

Doric capital

Doric (dōr'ik), 1. of or having to do with the oldest and simplest of the Greek kinds of architecture. 2. the Greek dialect spoken in Doris. 1 adj., 2 n.

Doris (dō'ris), a small region in the central part of ancient Greece. n.

dor man cy

(dōr'mən sē), dormant condition. n.

dor mant (dōr'mənt), 1. sleeping. 2. quiet as if asleep: Bears are dormant during the winter. 3. inactive:

The plant bulbs were dormant during the cold of winter. adj.

dor mer (dōr'mər), 1. an upright window that projects from a sloping roof. 2. the projecting part of a roof that contains such a window. n.

dormer window, dormer (def. 1). dor mi to ry (dōr'mə tō'rē), 1. U.S. a building with many sleeping rooms. Many colleges have dormitories for students. 2. a sleeping room containing several beds. n., pl. dor mi to ries.

dor mouse (dōr'mous'), a small rodent that looks somewhat like a squirrel and sleeps all winter. n., pl. dor mice.

dor sal (dōr'sl), of, on, or near the back: a dorsal fin, a dorsal nerve. adj.

dor sal ly (dōr'sl ē), 1. on the back; by the back. 2. toward the back. adv.

Dort mund (dōrt'munt), city in West Germany. 618,000. n.

do ry (dō'rē), rowboat with a flat bottom and high sides, often used by fishermen. n., pl. do ries.

dos age (dōs'ij), 1. amount of a medicine to be taken at one time. 2. the giving of medicine in doses. n.

dose (dōs), 1. amount of a medicine to be given or taken at one time. 2. give medicine to in doses; treat with medicine: The doctor dosed the boy with quinine. 3. portion; amount of anything given at one time as a remedy, treatment, etc.: a dose of flattery. 4. blend; adulterate: dose wine with sugar. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., dosed, dos ing. —dos'er, n. dost (dust), Archaic. do. "Thou dost" means "you do" (singular). v.

dot (dot), 1. a tiny round mark; very small spot; point. A dot after a note or rest in music makes it half again as long. 2. a small spot: a blue necktie with white dots. 3. mark with a dot or dots. 4. be here and there in; give variety to: Trees and bushes dotted the broad lawn. 5. a short sound used in sending messages by telegraph or radio. 1,2,5 n., 3,4 v., dot ted, dot ting. —dot'ter, n.

on the dot, Informal. at exactly the right time.

dot age (dōt'ij), weak-minded and childish condition caused by old age. n.

dot ard (dōt'ərd), person who is weak-minded and childish because of old age. n.

dote (dōt), be weak-minded and childish because of old age. v., dot ed, dot ing. Also, doat. —dot'er, n. dote on or upon, be foolishly fond of; be too fond of. doth (duth), Archaic. does. "He doth" means "he does." v.

dot ing (dōt'ing), foolishly fond; too fond. adj. —dot'ing ly, adv.

dot ted (dōt'id), marked with or as with a dot or dots. adj.

dot ty (dōt'ē), 1. Esp. Brit. Informal. feeble-minded; half-witted; partly insane. 2. Informal. unsteady; shaky; feeble. 3. full of dots. adj., dot ti er, dot ti est.

double (dub'l), 1. twice as much, as many, as large, as strong, etc.: double pay, a double letter. 2. twice. 3. number or amount that is twice as much: Four is the double of two. 4. make twice as much or twice as many: Mr. Smith doubled his money in ten years by investing it wisely. 5. become twice as much or as many: Money left in a savings bank will double in about twenty years. 6. for two: a double bed. 7. two together: The blow made him see double. 8. made of two like parts; in a pair: double doors. 9. made of two unlike parts; combining two in one. Bear has a double meaning: carry and a certain animal. 10. person or thing just like another: In a picture an actor often has a double to do the dangerous parts. 11. be used for another; be the double of. 12. serve two purposes; play two parts: The maid doubled as cook. 13. fold; bend: He doubled his fists in anger. Jack doubled his slice of bread to make a sandwich. 14. bend or turn sharply backward: The fox doubled on his track to get away from the dogs. 15. a sharp backward bend or turn; shift. 16. go around: The ship doubled the cape. 17. insincere; deceitful; false: a double tongue, double-faced. 18. having more than one set of petals: Some roses are double; others are single. 19. hit by which a batter gets to second base in baseball. 20. increase the points or penalties of (an opponent's bid) in bridge. 21. act of doubling a bid in bridge. 1,6,8,9,17,18 adj., 2,7 adv., 3,10,15,19,21 n., 4,5,11-14,16,20 v., dou bled, dou bling. —dou'bler, n.

doubles, game with two players on each side.

double bar, a double line on a musical staff that marks the end of a movement or of an entire piece of music.

dou ble-bar reled (dub'l bar'əld), 1. having two barrels: a double-barreled shotgun. 2. having a two-fold purpose. adj.

double bass, a musical instrument shaped like a cello but much larger, with a very low bass tone; bass viol. double bassoon, a large bassoon, an octave lower in pitch than the ordinary bassoon.

dou ble-breast ed (dub'l bres'tid), overlapping enough to make two thicknesses across the breast and having two rows of buttons. adj.

double chin, a soft fold of flesh under the chin.

dou ble-cross (dub'l krōs'), Slang. promise to do one thing and then do another; be treacherous to. v. —dou'ble-cross'er, n.

double cross, act of treachery.

dou ble-deal er (dub'l dēl'ər), person guilty of double-dealing. n.

dou ble-deal ing (dub'l dēl'ing), pretending to do one thing and then doing another; deceiving. n., adj.

double eagle, a former gold coin of the United States, worth 20 dollars.

dou ble-edged (dub'l ejd'), 1. two-edged. 2. as much against as for. adj.

dou ble-faced (dub'l bres'fə'), 1. pretending to be what one is not. 2. having two faces or aspects. adj.

dou ble-head er (dub'l hed'ər), 1. two baseball games on the same day one right after the other. 2. a railroad train pulled by two engines. n.

dou ble-joint ed (dub'l join'tid), having joints that let fingers, arms, legs, etc., bend in unusual ways. adj.

dou ble-park (dub'l pārk'), park (a car, etc.), usually in the street, beside another car which is occupying the area where parking is allowed. v.

Dormer (def. 2) and window

Dormouse (about 5 in. long including the tail) double-quick (dub/1 kwik/), 1. the next quickest step to a run in marching. 2. very quick. 3. in double-quick time. 4. march in double-quick step. 1 n., 2 adj., 3 adv., 4 v.

double star, two stars so close together that they look like one to the naked eye.

douplet (dub/1 lit/), 1. a man's close-fitting jacket. Men in Europe wore doublets in the 15th, 16th, and 17th centuries. 2. pair of two similar or equal things. 3. one of a pair. n.

double tackle, pulley with two grooved wheels.

double talk, speech that is purposely incoherent, but that is made to seem serious by mixing in normal words, intonations, etc.

double time, 1. a rate of marching in the United States army, in which 180 paces, each of 3 feet, are taken in a minute. 2. double-quick.

douloon (dub lün/), a former Spanish gold coin. Its value varied from about $5 to about $16. n.

doubly (dub/1 le/), 1. twice; twice as: Doubly careful means twice as careful. 2. two at a time. adv.

doubt (dout/), 1. not believe; not be sure of; feel uncertain about. 2. be uncertain. 3. lack of belief or sureness; uncertainty: Faith casts out doubt. 4. Archaic. be afraid; fear; suspect. 5. Obsolete. fear; apprehension. 1, 2, 4 v., 3, 5 n. —doubt/er, n. —doubt/ing ly, adv.

doubtful (dout/fəl/), 1. in doubt; not sure; uncertain. 2. causing doubt; open to question or suspicion. adj. —doubt/fully, adv. —doubt/fulness, n.

doubtless (dout/1 lis/), 1. surely; certainly. 2. probably. 3. having no doubts; certain. 1, 2 adv., 3 adj.

dough (dō/), 1. a soft, thick mixture of flour, liquid, and other materials for baking. Bread, biscuits, cake, pie crust, etc., are made from dough. 2. any soft, thick mass like this. 3. Informal. money. n.

dough boy (dō/1 boi/), U.S. Informal. an infantryman in the United States Army during World War I. n.

doughnut (dō/1 nut/), a small, brown cake cooked in deep fat. The dough is usually cut in the shape of rings. n.

dough ty (dou/1 tē/), brave; valiant; strong: King Arthur's doughty knights fought valiantly. adj., dough/ty er, dough/ty est. —dough/ty ness, n.

dough y (dō/1 ē/), of dough; like dough; soft and thick; pale and flabby. adj., dough/i er, dough/i est.

Douglass (dug/1 lās), Stephen A., 1813-1861, American statesman who was the Democratic candidate for president against Lincoln in 1860. n.

Douglas fir, an evergreen tree, often over 200 feet high, common in the western United States.

Douglas-Home (dug/1 lās hūm/), Sir Alec, born 1903, British statesman, prime minister from 1963 to 1964. n.

Douglass (dug/1 lās), Frederick, 1817-1895, American Negro leader who opposed slavery. n.

dour (dūr or dour/), 1. gloomy; sullen: dour silence. 2. Scottish. stern; severe: a dour look. 3. Scottish. stubborn. adj. —dour/ly, adv. —dour/ness, n.

douse (dous/), 1. plunge into water or any other liquid. 2. throw water over; drench. 3. Informal. put out (a light); extinguish. 4. Informal. take off; doff. 5. lower or slacken (a sail) in haste. 6. close (a porthole). v., doused, dousing.

dove¹ (dov/), 1. bird with a thick body, short legs, and a beak enlarged at the tip; pigeon. The dove is often a symbol of peace. 2. an innocent, gentle, or loving person. 3. Informal. person who is eager for peace; pacifist. n.

dove² (dōv), Informal. a pt. of dive. v.

dove cot (dov/1 kot/), dovecote. n.

dove cote (dov/1 kōt/), a small house or shelter for doves or pigeons. n.

Doublet
(def. 1)

Dovetails
(def. 1)

Dover (dō/1 vər), 1. seaport in SE England, the nearest English port to France. 35,000. See Dunkirk for map. 2. Strait of, a narrow channel or strait between N France and SE England. 20 mi. wide. 3. capital of Delaware. 7000. n.

dove tail (dov/1 tāl/), 1. projection at the end of a piece of wood, metal, etc., that can be fitted into a corresponding opening at the end of another piece to form a joint. 2. the joint formed in this way. 3. fasten, join, or fit together with projections that fit into openings. 4. fit together exactly: The various bits of evidence dovetailed so completely that the mystery was solved at once. 1, 2 n., 3, 4 v.

dowager (dou/1 ə jər/), 1. woman who holds some title or property from her dead husband: The queen and her mother-in-law, the queen dowager, were both present. 2. Informal. a dignified, elderly lady. n.

dowdy (dou/1 dē/), 1. poorly dressed; not neat; not stylish; shabby. 2. woman whose clothes are dowdy. 1 adj., dow/di er, dow/di est; 2 n., pl. dow dies. —dow/di ly, adv. —dow/di ness, n.

dowel (dou/1 ə l/), 1. peg on a piece of wood, metal, etc., to fit into a corresponding hole on another piece, and so form a joint fastening the two pieces together. 2. fasten with dowels. 1 n., 2 v., dow/eled, dow/el ing or esp. Brit. dow/elled. dow/el ing.

DOWEL

dower (dou/1 ər/), 1. a widow's share for life of her dead husband's property. 2. dowry. 3. a natural gift, talent, or quality; endowment. 4. provide with a dower; endow. 1-3 n., 4 v. —dow/er less, adj.

down¹ (doun/), 1. from a higher to a lower place or condition: The soldiers laid down their arms. They ran down from the top of the hill. 2. in a lower place or condition. 3. to or in a place or condition thought of as lower: He lives in New York, but goes down to Florida in the winter. 4. to a position or condition that is difficult, dangerous, etc.: The dogs ran down the fox. 5. from an earlier to a later time or person: The house was handed down from father to son. 6. from a larger to a smaller amount, degree, etc.: everyone from the governor down to the shoeblack. The temperature has gone down. 7. down along, through, or into: One can ride down a hill, sail down a river, walk down a street. 8. going or pointed down: the down train. 9. put down; get down: He downed the medicine at one swallow. Tom downed Percy and sat on top of him. 10. lie down: Down, Fido! 11. a downward movement. 12. piece of bad luck. 13. actually; really: Stop talking, and get down to work. 14. on paper; in writing: Take down what I say. 15. when bought: You can pay part of the price down and the rest later. 16. sick; ill: She is down with a cold. 17. sad; discouraged: He felt down about his failure. 18. of a football, no longer in play. 19. chance to move a football forward. A team has four downs to make ten yards. 20. behind an opponent by a certain number. 1-6, 13-15 adv., 7 prep., 2, 8, 16-18, 20 adj., 9, 10 v., 11, 12, 19 n.

down² (doun/), soft feathers or hair. n.

down³ (doun/), 1. rolling, grassy land. 2. mound or ridge of sand heaped up by the wind; dune. n.

downcast (doun/1 kast/), 1. directed downward: Ashamed of his mistake, he stood with downcast eyes. 2. dejected; sad; discouraged: A life of failure had made her downcast. 3. a downcast look. 4. a casting down; overthrow. 1, 2 adj., 3, 4 n.

downfall (doun/1 fōl/), 1. overthrow; ruin: the downfall of an empire, the moral downfall of a person. 2. a heavy rain or snow. n.

downfall en (doun/1 fōl/1 ən/), fallen; overthrown. adj.

downgrade (doun/1 grād/), 1. a downward slope. 2. move to a lower position with a smaller salary. 1 n., 2 v., down grad ed, down grad ing.

down heart ed (doun/här'tid), discouraged; dejected; depressed. adj. —down/heart/ed ly, adv. —down/heart/ed ness, n.

down hill (doun/hil'), 1. down the slope of a hill; downward. 2. sloping downward. 3. worse. 1 adv., 2,3 adj.

Downing Street (doun'ing), 1. street in London where several important offices of the British government are located. 2. the British government.

down pour (doun/pör'), a heavy rain. n.

down right (doun/rit'), 1. thorough; complete: a downright thief, a downright lie. 2. thoroughly; completely: He was downright rude to me. 3. plain; positive: His downright answer left no doubt as to what he thought. 1,3 adj., 2 adv.

down stairs (doun/stärz'), 1. down the stairs: Bill slipped and fell downstairs. 2. on a lower floor: Look downstairs for my glasses (adv.). The downstairs rooms are dark (adj.). 3. the lower floor or floors. 1,2 adv., 2 adj., 3 n.

down stream (doun/strēm'), with the current of a stream; down a stream. adv., adj.

down town (doun/toun'), 1. to, toward, or in the lower part of a town. 2. to or in the main part or business part of a town. adv., adj.

down trod (doun/trod'), downtrodden. adj.

down trod den (doun/trod'n), 1. tyrannized over; oppressed. 2. trodden down. adj.

down under, region of Australia, New Zealand, etc. down ward (doun/wärd), 1. toward a lower place or condition. 2. toward a later time. adv., adj.

down wards (doun/wärdz), downward. adv.

down y (doun/ē), 1. of soft feathers or hair. 2. covered with soft feathers or hair. 3. like down; soft; fluffy. adj., down i er, down i est. —down/ness, n.

dow ry (dow/rē), 1. money, property, etc., that a woman brings to her husband when she marries him. 2. a natural gift, talent, or quality; endowment from nature: Good health and intelligence make a useful dowry. n., pl. dow ries. Also, dower.

dowse (douz), use a divining rod to locate water, etc. v., dowsed, dows ing. —dows/er, n.

dox ol o gy (doks ol'ə jē), hymn or statement praising God. Three of the best-known doxologies begin: "Glory to God in the highest," "Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Ghost," and "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." n., pl. dox ol o gies.

doz., dozen; dozens.

doze (dōz), 1. sleep lightly; be half asleep. 2. a light sleep; a nap. 1 v., dozed, doz ing; 2 n. —doz/er, n.

doz en (duz'n), group of 12. n., pl. doz ens or (after a number) doz en.

doz enth (duz'nth), the 12th. adj.

D.P. or DP, displaced person.

dpt., department.

Dr. or Dr., Doctor.

drab (drab), 1. dull; monotonous; unattractive: the drab houses of the mining town. 2. dull brownish-gray. 1,2 adj., drab ber, drab best; 2 n. —drab/ly, adv. —drab/ness, n.

drachm (dram), 1. Brit. dram. 2. drachma. n.

drach ma (drak/mə), an ancient Greek silver coin, varying in value. n., pl. drach mas, drach mae (-mē).

draft (draft), 1. current of air. 2. device for regulating a current of air: Opening the draft of a furnace makes the fire burn faster. 3. a plan; a sketch. 4. make a plan or sketch of. 5. a rough copy: He made three different drafts of his speech before he had it in final form. 6. write out a rough copy of. 7. selection of persons for some special purpose: In time of war men are often supplied to the army and navy by draft. 8. persons selected for some special purpose. 9. select for some special purpose: The army drafted millions of young men. 10. act of pulling loads. 11. the quantity pulled. 12. for pulling loads: A big, strong horse or ox is a draft animal. 13. the pulling in of a net to catch fish. 14. quantity of fish caught in a net at one time. 15. a written order from one person or bank to another, requiring the payment of a stated amount of money. 16. a heavy demand or drain on anything: A long illness is a draft on one's resources. 17. depth of water that a ship needs for floating; depth to which a ship sinks in water. 18. act of drinking: He emptied the glass at one draft. 19. amount taken in one drink. 20. breathing in of air, smoke, etc. 21. air, smoke, etc., breathed in. 22. drawing beer, ale, etc., from a barrel when ordered: Beer is sold on draft and in bottles. 23. drawn from a barrel when ordered. 1-3,5,7,8,10,11,13-22 n., 4,6,9 v., 12,23 adj. Also, draught.

draft ee (draf tē'), person who is drafted for military service. n.

draft i ness (draf tē nis), drafty condition. n.

drafts (drafts), the spelling of draughts in the United States. n.pl.

drafts man (drafts/mən), 1. person who makes plans or sketches. A draftsman draws designs or diagrams from which buildings and machines are made. 2. person who writes out rough copies of documents, speeches, etc. n., pl. drafts men. Also, draughtsman.

drafts man ship (drafts/mən ship), work of a draftsman. n. Also, draughtsmanship.

draft y (draf tē), 1. in a current of air. 2. having many currents of air. 3. causing a current of air. adj., draft i er, draft i est. Also, draughty. —draft/ily, adv.

drag (drag), 1. pull or move along heavily or slowly; pull or draw along the ground: A team of horses dragged the big log out of the forest. 2. go too slowly: Time drags when you have nothing to do. A piece of music played too slowly drags. 3. pull a net, hook, harrow, etc., over or along for some purpose: drag a lake for fish or for a drowned person's body. 4. net, hook, etc., used in dragging. 5. act of dragging. 6. thing dragged. 7. thing that holds back; obstruction; hindrance: Some old ideas are a drag on progress. 8. a low, strong sled for carrying heavy loads. 9. a big coach with seats inside and on top. 10. a heavy harrow or other implement drawn over land to level it and break up clods. 11. Slang. influence. 1-3 v., dragged, drag ging; 4-11 n.

drag gle (drag'l), 1. make or become wet or dirty by dragging through mud, water, dust, etc. 2. follow slowly; lag behind; straggle. v., drag gled, drag gling.

drag net (drag/net'), 1. net pulled over the bottom of a river, pond, etc., or along the ground: Fish and small birds were caught in the dragnet. 2. means of catching or gathering in: All kinds of criminals were caught in the police dragnet. n.

drag on (drag'ən), 1. a huge, fierce animal supposed to look like a snake with wings and claws. In old stories dragons often breathed out fire and smoke. 2. a fierce, violent person. 3. a very strict and watchful woman; a stern chaperon. 4. lizard with wing-like membranes. n. —drag/on like', adj.

drag on fly (drag'ən flī'), a large, harmless insect, with a long, slender body and two pairs of gauzy wings. It flies about very rapidly to catch flies, mosquitoes, etc. n., pl. drag on flies.

dra goon (drə gūn'), 1. soldier who fights on horseback. Dragons formerly rode horses to the battlefield, but sometimes fought on foot. 2. oppress or persecute by dragons. 3. compel by oppression or persecution: He was draagooned into signing a false statement. 1 n., 2,3 v.

drain (drän), 1. draw off or flow off slowly: A ditch drains water from a swamp. The water drains into a river. 2. draw water or other liquid from; empty or dry by draining: Farmers drain swamps to get more land for crops. 3. channel or pipe for carrying off water or other liquid. 4. anything that drains: Strips of gauze are used as drains for pus from wounds. 5. take away from slowly; use up little by little; deprive: War drains a country of its people and money. 6. a slow taking away; a using up little by little: Working or playing too hard is a drain on your strength. 1,2,5 v., 3,4,6 n.

Dragonfly (1½ to 4 in. long) drain age (drān'ij), 1. act or process of draining; gradual flowing off: The drainage of swamps improves a town. 2. system of channels or pipes for carrying off water or waste of any kind. 3. what is drained off. 4. area that is drained. n.

drain pipe (drān'pīp'), pipe for carrying off water or other liquid. n.

drake (drāk), a male duck. n.

Drake (drāk), Sir Francis, 1540?-1596, English admiral who led many raids against the Spanish. He was the first Englishman to sail around the world. n.

drām (drām), 1. a small weight. In apothecaries' weight, 8 drams make one ounce; in avoirdupois weight, 16 drams make one ounce. 2. Esp. Brit. a small drink of intoxicating liquor. n. Also, Brit. drachm.

dra ma (drā'mə or dram'ə), 1. story written to be acted out by actors on a stage; play such as one sees in a theater. 2. series of happenings that seem like those of a play: The history of America is a great and thrilling drama. n.

the drama, the art of writing, acting, or producing plays; the branch of literature having to do with plays.

dra mat ic (drə mat'ik), 1. of drama; having to do with plays. 2. seeming like a drama or play; full of action or feeling; exciting. adj. —dra mat'i cal ly, adv.

dra mat ics (drə mat'iks), 1. art of acting or producing plays. 2. plays given by amateurs. 1 n.sing., 2 n.pl.

dra ma tist (drām'ə tist), writer of plays. n.

dra ma ti za tion (drām'ə tə zā'shən), 1. act of dramatizing. 2. what is dramatized. n.

dra ma tize (drām'ə tīz), 1. make a drama of; arrange in the form of a play: dramatize a novel. 2. show or express in a dramatic way; make exciting and thrilling. v., dra ma tized, dra ma tiz ing. —dra ma'tiz'er, n.

dra mam shop (drām'shop'), Esp. Brit. place where intoxicating liquor is sold; saloon; barroom. n.

drank (drangk), pt. of drink. She drank her milk. v.

drape (drāp), 1. cover or hang with cloth falling loosely in graceful folds: The buildings were draped with red, white, and blue bunting. 2. arrange (clothes, hangings, etc.) in graceful folds: The designer draped the robe around the model's shoulders. 3. cloth hung in folds; hanging: There were heavy drapes at the window. 1, 2 v., draped, drap ing; 3 n.

draper (drāp'ər), 1. Esp. Brit. dealer in cloth or dry goods. 2. person that drapes. n.

dra per y (drā'pər ē), 1. clothing or hangings arranged in graceful folds. 2. the graceful arrangement of hangings or clothing. 3. cloth or fabric. n., pl. dra per ies.

dras tic (dras'tik), acting with force or violence; extreme: The police took drastic measures to put a stop to the crime wave. adj. —dras'ti cal ly, adv.

draught (draft), draft. n., n., adj. —draught'er, n.

draughts (drafts), Brit. game of checkers. n.pl.

draughts man (drafts'mən), draftsman. n., pl. draughts men.

draughts man ship (drafts'mən ship), draftsman-ship. n.

draught y (draft'tē), drafty. adj., draught i er, draught i est.

drave (drāv), Archaic. drove, a pt. of drive. v.

Dra vid i an (drā vid'ē ən), 1. of or having to do with the non-Aryan races in S India and in Ceylon. 2. member of any of these races. 3. their languages. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

draw (drō), 1. pull; drag: A horse draws a wagon. 2. pull out; pull up; pull back: He drew his hand from his pocket. 3. bring out; take out; get out: Draw a pail of water from the well. 4. take out a pistol, sword, etc., for action. 5. act of doing this. 6. take; get; receive: I drew another idea from the story. 7. make; cause; bring: Your actions draw blame or praise on yourself. 8. move; come; go: We drew near the fire to get warm. 9. attract: A parade draws a crowd. 10. thing that attracts.

11. make a picture or likeness of with pencil, pen, chalk, crayon, etc.; represent by lines. 12. make pictures or likenesses with pen, pencil, chalk, crayon, etc.; make drawings: He draws very well for a six-year-old. 13. write out in proper form; frame; draft: draw a deed. 14. write (an order to pay money). 15. make a demand; be a drain. 16. make a current of air to carry off smoke: A chimney draws. 17. breathe in; inhale; take in: draw a breath. 18. utter: draw a sigh. 19. a tie in a game. If neither side wins, it is a draw. 20. make the same score in (a game); finish with neither side winning. 21. make or become longer; stretch: The battle was long drawn out. 22. make or become smaller; shrink. 23. need for floating; sink to a depth of: A ship draws more water when it is loaded than when it is empty. 24. a small land basin into or through which water drains; valley. 1-4, 6-9, 11-18, 20-23 v., drew, drawn, draw ing; 5, 10, 19, 24 n.

draw back (drō'bak'), 1. something unfavorable or unpleasant; something that lessens satisfaction or success; disadvantage; hindrance: Our trip was interesting but the rainy weather was a drawback. 2. money paid back from a charge made. A drawback is made on customs duties on imported goods when they are later exported. n.

draw bridge (drō'brij'), bridge that can be wholly or partly lifted, lowered, or moved to one side. In old castles drawbridges were lifted to keep out enemies. A drawbridge over a river is lifted to let boats pass. n.

drawer (drōr for 1; drō'ər for 2 and 3), 1. box that slides in and out of a chest, desk, table, etc. 2. person or thing that draws. 3. person who writes an order to pay money. n.

drawers (drōrz), undergarments fitting over the legs and around the waist. n.pl.

draw ing (drō'ing), 1. picture or likeness made with pencil, pen, chalk, crayon, etc.; lines representing a person or thing. 2. the making of such pictures or likenesses; representing objects by lines. n.

drawing room, 1. room for receiving or entertaining guests; parlor. 2. guests assembled in a drawing room. 3. U.S. a private compartment in a Pullman car.

drawl (drōl), 1. talk in a slow, lazy way. 2. a slow, lazy way of talking. 1 v., 2 n. —drawl'er, n.

drawn (drōn), pp. of draw. That old horse has drawn many loads. v.

dray (drā), 1. a low, strong cart for hauling heavy loads. 2. transport or carry on a cart. 1 n., 2 v.

dread (dred), 1. look forward to with fear; dislike to experience; fear greatly: We dread visits to the dentist. My cat dreads water. 2. fear; especially, fear of something that will happen or may happen. 3. person or thing inspiring fear. 4. dreaded; dreadful. 5. held in awe; awe-inspiring. 1 v., 2, 3 n., 4, 5 adj.

dread ful (dred'fəl), 1. causing dread; fearful; terrible; awe-inspiring. 2. Informal. very bad; very unpleasant. adj. —dread'ful ness, n.

dread ful ly (dred'fəl ē), 1. in a dreadful manner. 2. very; exceedingly. adv.

dread nought or dread naught (dred'nōt'), a big, powerful battleship with heavy armor and large guns. n.

dream (drēm), 1. something thought, felt, seen, or heard during sleep. 2. something as unreal as a dream: The boy had dreams of being a hero. 3. state in which a person has dreams. 4. have dreams: The girl dreamed of being in the movies. 5. think of (something) as possible; suppose in a vague way; imagine: The day seemed so bright that we never dreamed there would be rain. 6. spend in dreaming. 7. something having great beauty or charm. 1-3, 7 n., 4-6 v., dreamed or dreamt, dream ing. —dream'less, adj. —dream'like', adj.

dream er (drēm'ər), 1. person who has dreams. 2. person whose ideas do not fit real conditions; impractical person. n.

dream land (drēm'land'), 1. place where a person seems to be when he is dreaming. 2. an ideal place existing only in the imagination. 3. sleep. n.

dreamt (dremt), dreamed, a pt. and a pp. of dream. v.

dream y (drēm'ē), 1. full of dreams: a dreamy sleep. 2. like a dream; vague; dim: a dreamy recollection. 3. fond of thinking about pleasant things that are unreal; impractical: a dreamy person. 4. causing dreams; soothing: dreamy songs. adj., dream i er, dream i est. —dream'i ly, adv. —dream'i ness, n.

drear (drir), Poetic. dreary. adj.

drear y (drir'ē), 1. dull; gloomy; cheerless; depressing. 2. Archaic. sad; sorrowful. adj., drear i er, drear i est. —drear'i ly, adv. —drear'i ness, n.

dredge¹ (drej), 1. machine with a scoop or series of buckets for removing mud, sand, or other materials from the bottom of a river, harbor, etc. 2. clean out or deepen (a channel, harbor, etc.) with a dredge. 3. apparatus with a net, used for gathering oysters, etc. It is dragged along the bottom of the sea. 4. bring up or gather with a dredge. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., dredged, dredg ing. —dredg'er, n.

Dredge (def. 1)

dredge² (drej), sprinkle: dredge meat with flour. v., dredged, dredg ing. —dredg'er, n.

dregs (dregz), 1. solid bits of matter that settle to the bottom of a liquid: After pouring the tea she rinsed the dregs out of the teapot. 2. the most worthless part: Thieves and murderers are the dregs of humanity. n.pl.

drench (drench), 1. wet thoroughly; soak: A heavy rain drenched the campers and they had to dry out their clothing. 2. a thorough wetting; a soaking. 3. something that drenches; solution for soaking. 4. draft of medicine given to an animal. 1 v., 2-4 n.

Dres den (drez'dən), city in East Germany, on the Elbe River. 494,000. n.

Dresden china, kind of fine china originally from Dresden.

dress (dres), 1. an outer garment worn by women, girls, and babies. 2. of or for a dress. 3. an outer covering. 4. clothes: Boys think less about dress than girls do. 5. put clothes on. 6. formal clothes. 7. put formal clothes on. 8. of formal dress; characterized by formal dress. 9. decorate; trim; adorn: The store windows were dressed for Christmas. 10. make ready for use; prepare: A butcher dresses a chicken by pulling out the feathers, cutting off the head and feet, and taking out the insides. 11. comb, brush, and arrange (hair). 12. put a medicine, bandage, etc., on (a wound or sore). 13. form in a straight line: The captain ordered the soldiers to dress their ranks. 14. smooth; finish: dress leather. 1,3,4,6 n., 2,8 adj., 5,7,9-14 v., dressed or drest, dress ing.

dress er¹ (dres'ər), 1. person who dresses (himself, another person, a shop window, or a wound). 2. tool or machine to prepare things for use. n.

dress er² (dres'ər), 1. piece of furniture with drawers for clothes and a mirror; bureau. 2. piece of furniture with shelves for dishes. n.

dress ing (dres'ing), 1. what is put on or in something to get it ready for use. 2. sauce for salads, fish, meat, etc. 3. a stuffing of bread crumbs, seasoning, etc., for chicken, turkey, etc. 4. medicine, bandage, etc., put on a wound or sore. 5. fertilizer. 6. act of one that dresses. n.

dress ing-down (dres'ing doun'). Informal. 1. a scolding; rebuke. 2. a beating; a thrashing. n.

dressing gown, a loose robe worn while dressing or resting.

dress mak er (dres'māk'ər), 1. person whose work is making dresses, etc. 2. of women's clothing, having delicate or flowing lines and decoration. 1 n., 2 adj.

dress mak ing (dres'māk'ing), making dresses, etc. n.

dress parade, a formal parade of soldiers or sailors in dress uniform.

dress rehearsal, rehearsal of a play with costumes and scenery just as for a regular performance.

dress y (dres'ē), Informal. 1. fond of wearing showy clothes. 2. stylish; fashionable. adj., dress i er, dress i est. —dress'i ness, n.

drest (drest), dressed, a pt. and a pp. of dress. v.

drew (drū), pt. of draw. He drew a picture. v.

drib ble (drib'l), 1. flow or let flow in drops, small amounts, etc.; trickle: Gasoline dribbled from the leak in the tank. 2. a dropping; a dripping; a trickle. 3. let saliva run from the mouth: The baby dribbles on his bib. 4. a very light rain. 5. move (a ball) along by bouncing it or giving it short kicks. 6. act of moving a ball in this way. 1,3,5 v., drib bled, drib bling; 2,4,6 n. —drib'bler, n.

drib let (drib'lit), a small amount: He paid off the debt in driblets, a dollar or two a week. n.

dried (drid), pt. and pp. of dry. I dried my hands. This bread has been dried in the oven. v.

drier (dri'ər), 1. comparative of dry. 2. person or thing that dries. 3. device or machine that removes water by heat, air, etc.; dryer. 4. substance put in paint, varnish, etc., to make it dry more quickly; dryer. 1 adj., 2-4 n.

drift (drift), 1. carry or be carried along by currents of water or air: The wind drifted the boat onto the rocks. A raft drifts if it is not steered. 2. go along without knowing or caring where one is going: Some people have a purpose in life; others just drift. 3. a drifting. 4. direction of drifting: The drift of this current is to the south. 5. tendency; trend: The drift of opinion was against war. 6. meaning; direction of thought: Explain that again; I did not get the drift of your words. 7. snow, sand, etc., heaped up by the wind. 8. heap up or be heaped up by the wind: The wind is so strong it's drifting the snow. The snow is drifting badly. 9. current of water or air caused by the wind. 10. distance that a ship or aircraft is off its course because of currents. 11. sand, gravel, rocks, etc., moved from one place and left in another by a river, glacier, etc. 12. an almost horizontal passageway in a mine along a vein of ore, coal, etc. 1,2,8 v., 3-7,9-12 n. —drift'er, n.

drift wood (drift'wud'), wood drifting in the water or washed ashore by water. n.

drill¹ (dril), 1. tool or machine for boring holes. 2. bore a hole in; pierce with a drill. 3. snail that bores into and destroys oysters. 4. teaching or training by having the learners do a thing over and over again: The teacher gave the class plenty of drill in arithmetic. 5. teach or train in this way: The sergeant drilled the new soldiers. 6. be taught or trained in this way. 7. group instruction and training in physical exercises or in marching, handling a gun, and other duties of soldiers. 8. cause to do or do military or physical exercises. 1,3,4,7 n., 2,5,6,8 v. —drill'er, n.

drill² (dril), machine for planting seeds in rows. It makes a small furrow, drops the seed, and then covers the furrow. n.

drill³ (dril), a strong, twilled cotton or linen cloth, used for overalls, linings, etc. n.

drill⁴ (dril), baboon of western Africa. It is smaller than the mandrill. n.

drill mas ter (dril'mas'tər), 1. officer who drills soldiers in marching, handling guns, etc. 2. person who drills others in anything. n.

Drill (def. 1). It has two handles so that it may be used vertically or horizontally. The cutting part, or bit, works like an auger.

drily (drī'lē), dryly. adv.

drink (dringk), 1. swallow (liquid): A person or animal must drink water to stay alive. 2. liquid swallowed or to be swallowed. 3. take and hold; absorb: The dry ground drank up the rain. 4. alcoholic liquor. 5. drink alcoholic liquor. 6. too much drinking of alcoholic liquor. 7. drink in honor of. 1,3,5,7 v., drank or (formerly) drunk; drunk or (formerly or as pred. adj.) drunk en; drinking; 2,4,6 n. —drink'less, adj.

drink in, take in eagerly with the senses: Our ears had drunk in the music.

drink to, drink in honor of; drink with good wishes for.

drink a ble (dringk'ə bl), fit to drink. adj.

drink er (dringk'ər), 1. person who drinks. 2. person who drinks alcoholic liquor often or too much. n.

drip (drip), 1. fall or let fall in drops: Rain drips from an umbrella. 2. a falling in drops. 3. liquid that falls in drops. 4. be so wet that drops fall: His forehead was dripping. 5. part that projects to keep water off the parts below. 1,4 v., dripped or dript, drip ping; 2,3,5 n.

drip pings (drip'ingz), the melted fat and juices that drip down from meat while roasting. n. pl.

dript (dript), dripped, a pt. and a pp. of drip. v.

drive (driv), 1. make go: Drive the dog away. Drive the nails into the board. Grief drove her insane. 2. force (into or out of some place, condition, act, etc.): Hunger drove him to steal. 3. direct the movement of (an automobile, vehicle drawn by a horse, etc.). 4. go or carry in an automobile, carriage, etc. 5. trip in an automobile, carriage, etc. 6. road to drive on: He built a drive to his house. 7. carry out with vigor; bring about: drive a bargain. 8. vigor; energy. 9. pressure; impelling force: The craving for approval is a strong drive in mankind. 10. a special effort of a group for some purpose: The town had a drive to get money for charity. 11. work hard or compel to work hard. 12. dash or rush with force: The ship drove on the rocks. 13. hit very hard and fast: drive a golf ball. 14. a very hard, fast hit. 15. aim; strike. 16. a military attack, often a large-scale, forceful attack. 17. a driving. 1-4,7,11-13,15 v., drove or (Archaic) drave, driven, driving; 5,6,8-10,14,16,17 n. drive at, mean; intend.

let drive, aim; strike.

drive-in (driv'in'), place where customers may make purchases, eat, attend movies, etc., while seated in their cars. n.

driv el (driv'l), 1. let saliva run from the mouth. 2. saliva running from the mouth. 3. flow like saliva running from the mouth. 4. talk or say in a stupid, foolish manner; talk silly nonsense. 5. stupid, foolish talk; silly nonsense. 6. waste (time, energy, etc.) in a stupid, foolish way. 1,3,4,6 v., driv eled, driv el ing or esp. Brit. driv elled, driv el ling; 2,5 n.

driv el er (driv'l ər), person who drives. n.

driv el ler (driv'l ər), Esp. Brit. driver. n.

driv en (driv'ən), 1. pp. of drive: Mr. Jones has just driven past. 2. carried along and gathered into heaps by the wind; drifted. 1 v., 2 adj.

driv er (driv'ər), 1. person or thing that drives. 2. person who directs the movement of an engine, automobile, horses, etc. 3. person who makes the people under him work very hard. 4. a golf club with a wooden head, used in hitting the ball from the tee. n.

drive way (driv'wə), road to drive on. A driveway often leads from a house to the public street or road. n.

driz zle (driz'l), rain in very small drops like mist. v., driz zled, driz zling; n.

driz zly (driz'lē), drizzling. adj.

dro gher (drō'gar), a slow, clumsy sailing boat used in the West Indies. n.

dro gue (drōg), a device shaped like a large funnel at the end of a hose, used to refuel planes in flight. The pilot of the plane being refueled guides the nose of his plane into the drogue. n.

droll (dröl), amusingly odd; humorously quaint; laughable: We smiled at the monkey's droll tricks. adj.

droll er y (dröl'ər ē), 1. something odd and amusing; laughable trick. 2. quaint humor. 3. jesting. n., pl. droll er ies.

drom e dar y (drom'ə der'ē), a swift camel for riding, usually the one-humped camel of Arabia. n., pl. drom e dar ies.

Dromedary (6 ft. high at the shoulder) drone¹ (drōn), 1. a male honeybee. Drones do not work. 2. person not willing to work; idler; loafer. 3. spend time idly; loaf. 1,2 n., 3 v., droned, dron ing.

drone² (drōn), 1. make a deep, continuous, humming sound: Bees droned among the flowers. 2. such a sound: the drone of airplane motors. 3. talk or say in a monotonous voice: The weary beggar droned a prayer. 4. the bass pipe of a bagpipe. 1,3 v., droned, dron ing; 2,4 n.

drool (drül), 1. let saliva run from the mouth as a teething baby does. 2. saliva running from the mouth.

3. Slang. talk or say foolishly. 4. Slang. foolish talk. 1,3 v., 2,4 n.

droop (drüp), 1. hang down; bend down: These flowers will soon droop if they are not put in water. 2. a bending position; hanging down: The droop of the branches brought them within our grasp. 3. become weak; lose strength and energy. 4. become discouraged or depressed; be sad and gloomy. 1,3,4, v., 2 n. —droop'ing ly, adv.

drop (drop), 1. a small amount of liquid in a roundish shape: a drop of rain. 2. fall or let fall in drops. 3. a very small amount of liquid: Drink a drop of this. 4. anything roundish like a drop. Some earrings or pieces of candy are called drops. 5. a sudden fall. 6. distance down; length of a fall: From the top of the cliff to the water is a drop of 200 feet. 7. fall suddenly; let fall suddenly: The price of sugar will drop soon. 8. fall or cause to fall. 9. fall dead, wounded, or tired out. 10. cause to fall dead; kill. 11. thing arranged to fall. A letter drop is a slot, usually with hinged cover. 12. go or make lower; sink: Please drop your voice. 13. pass into a less active or a worse condition: She finally dropped off to sleep. 14. U.S. let go; dismiss: Members who do not pay will be dropped from the club. 15. leave out; omit: Drop the "e" in "drive" before adding "ing." 16. stop; end: The matter is not important; let it drop. 17. send (a letter, etc.). 18. come casually or unexpectedly: Drop over to our house for a visit sometime. 19. give or express casually: In saying good-by she dropped the hint that she wanted to go, too. 20. go along gently with the current or tide: The raft dropped down the river. 21. set down from a ship, automobile, carriage, etc.: He dropped his passengers at Main Street. 1,3-6,11 n., 2,7-10,12-21 v., dropped or dropt, drop ping.

drop off, 1. go away; disappear. 2. go to sleep.

drops, liquid medicine given in drops.

get or have the drop on, 1. point a gun at (a person) before he can point one at you. 2. Slang. get or have an advantage over.

drop-forge (drop'fōrj'), beat (hot metal) into shape with a very heavy hammer or weight. v., drop-forged, drop-forg ing.

drop kick, kick given to a football as it touches the ground after being dropped from the hands.

drop let (drop'lit), a tiny drop. n.

drop per (drop'ər), a small glass tube with a hollow rubber cap at one end and a small opening at the other end from which a liquid can be made to fall in drops. n.

drop pings (drop'ingz), 1. what is dropped. 2. dung of animals. n. pl.

drop si cal (drop'sə kl), 1. of or like dropsy. 2. having dropsy. adj.

drop sy (drɒp'sē), an abnormal accumulation of watery fluid in certain tissues or cavities of the body. n.

dropt (dropt), dropped, a pt. and a pp. of drop. v.

drosh ky or drosh ky (drɒsh'kē), a low, four-wheeled, open carriage formerly used in Russia. n., pl. drosh kies.

Droshky

dro soph i la (drɒ'sɒf'ə-lə), a small fly whose larvae feed on fruit and decaying plants; fruit fly. n., pl. dro soph i lae (-lē).

dross (drɒs), 1. waste or scum that comes to the surface of melting metals. 2. waste material; rubbish. n.

drought (draʊt), 1. a long period of dry weather; continued lack of rain. 2. lack of moisture; dryness. 3. Archaic or Dialect. thirst. n.

drought y (draʊt'ē), 1. showing or suffering from drought. 2. dry; lacking moisture. adj.

drouth (drouth), drought. n.

drouth y (drouth'ē), drouthy. adj.

drove (drɒv), pt. of drive. We drove twenty miles today. v.

drove (drɒv), 1. group of cattle, sheep, hogs, etc., moving or driven along together; herd; flock: The rancher sent a drove of cattle to market. 2. many people moving along together; crowd. n.

dro ver (drɒ'vər), 1. man who drives cattle, sheep, hogs, etc., to market. 2. dealer in cattle. n.

drown (draʊn), 1. die under water or other liquid because of lack of air to breathe. 2. kill by keeping under water or other liquid. 3. cover with water; flood. 4. be stronger or louder than; keep from being heard: The boat's whistle drowned what she was trying to tell us. 5. get rid of: He tried to drown his sorrow in excitement. v.

drowse (draʊz), 1. be sleepy; be half asleep: She drowsed, but did not quite fall asleep. 2. make sleepy. 3. pass (time) in drowsing: She drowsed the day away. 4. being half asleep; sleepiness. 1-3 v., drowsed, drows ing; 4 n.

drow si ness (draʊ'zē nis), sleepiness; being drowsy. n.

drow sy (draʊ'zē), 1. half asleep; sleepy. 2. causing sleepiness or half sleep; lulling: It was a warm, quiet, drowsy afternoon. 3. caused by sleepiness. adj., drow si er, drow si est. —drow'si ly, adv.

drub (drʌb), 1. beat with a stick; whip soundly. 2. defeat by a large margin in a fight, game, contest, etc. v., drubbed, drubbing. —drub'ber, n.

drubbing (drʌb'ing), 1. a beating. 2. a thorough defeat. n.

drudge (drʌj), 1. person who does hard, tiresome, or disagreeable work. 2. do hard, tiresome, or disagreeable work. 1 n., 2 v., drudged, drudg ing.

drudg er y (drʌj'ər ē), hard, uninteresting, or disagreeable work. n., pl. drudg er ies.

drug (drʌg), 1. substance (other than food) that, when taken into the body, produces a change in it. If the change helps the body, the drug is a medicine; if the change harms the body, the drug is a poison. 2. give harmful drugs to, particularly drugs that cause sleep: The witch drugged the princess. 3. put a harmful or poisonous drug in (food or drink): The spy drugged the soldier's tea. 4. affect or overcome (the body or senses) in a way not natural: The wine had drugged him. 1 n., 2-4 v., drugged, drug ging. —drug'less, adj.

drug on the market, article that is too abundant, is no longer in demand, or has too slow a sale.

drug gist (drʌg'ist), 1. person who sells drugs; medicines, etc. 2. U.S. person licensed to fill prescriptions; pharmacist. n.

drug store (drʌg'stɔr'), U.S. store where drugs and other medicines are sold. A drugstore often sells soft drinks, cosmetics, magazines, etc., as well as drugs. n.

Dru id or druid (drū'id), member of a religious order of priests, prophets, poets, etc., among the ancient drum (drʌm), 1. a musical instrument that makes a sound when it is beaten. A drum is hollow with a covering stretched tightly over the ends. 2. sound made when a drum is beaten; sound like this. 3. beat or play a drum; make a sound like this. 4. beat, tap, or strike again and again: Stop drumming on the table with your fingers. 5. force into one's mind by repeating over and over: His lessons had to be drummed into him because he did not like school. 6. anything shaped somewhat like a drum. 7. part around which something is wound in a machine. 8. a drum-shaped container to hold oil, food, etc. 9. membrane covering the hollow part of the ear. 10. the hollow part of the middle ear. 1,2,6-10 n., 3-5 v., drummed, drum ming. —drum'like', adj.

Celts of Britain, Ireland, and Gaul. The Druids were very powerful as leaders and judges until the Christian religion was accepted by the Celts. n.

drum out of, send away from in disgrace.

drum up, 1. call together: We could not drum up enough children for our game. 2. get by asking again and again.

drum head (drʌm'hed'), parchment or membrane stretched tightly over the end of a drum. n.

drumhead court-martial, court-martial on the battlefield or while troops are moving, held in order to try offenders without delay.

drum lin (drʌm'lɪn), ridge or oval hill formed by deposit from a glacier. n.

drum major, leader or director of a marching band.

drum mer (drʌm'ər), 1. person who plays a drum. 2. U.S. Informal. a traveling salesman. n.

drum stick (drʌm'stik'), 1. stick for beating a drum. 2. the lower half of the leg of a cooked chicken, turkey, etc. n.

drunk (drʌŋk), 1. overcome by alcoholic liquor; intoxicated. 2. Slang. person who is drunk. 3. Slang. spell of drinking alcoholic liquor. 4. very much excited or affected. 5. pp. of drink. 6. Archaic. a pt. of drink. 1,4 adj., 2,3 n., 5,6 v.

drunk ard (drʌŋk'ərd), person who is often drunk; person who drinks too much alcoholic liquor. n.

drunk en (drʌŋk'ən), 1. drunk. 2. caused by or resulting from being drunk: a drunken act, drunken words. 3. often drinking too much alcoholic liquor. 4. Archaic. a pp. of drink. 1-3 adj., 4 v. —drunk'en ly, adv. —drunk'en ness, n.

drupe (drʌp), fruit whose seed is contained in a hard pit or stone surrounded by soft, pulpy flesh. Cherries and peaches are drupes. n.

drupe let (drʌp'lɪt), a small drupe. A raspberry or blackberry is a mass of drupelets. n.

dry (dri), 1. not wet; not moist: Dust is dry. This bread is dry. 2. make or become dry. 3. having little or no rain: a dry climate. 4. not giving milk: That cow has been dry for a month. 5. containing no water. 6. not shedding tears or accompanied by tears. 7. wanting a drink; thirsty. 8. not liquid; solid: dry measure, on dry land. 9. showing no feeling: His dry humor does not seem intentional. 10. not interesting; dull. 11. without butter: dry toast. 12. free from sweetness or fruity flavor: dry wine. 13. U.S. Informal. having or favoring laws against making and selling alcoholic drinks: a dry State. 14. U.S. Informal. person who favors laws against making and selling alcoholic drinks. 1,3-13 adj., dri er, dri est; 2 v., dried, dry ing; 14 n., pl. dries.

dry up, 1. make or become completely dry. 2. Slang. stop talking.

dry ad or Dry ad (dri'əd), in Greek mythology, a nymph that lives in a tree; wood nymph. n., pl. dry ads, dry a des (-ə dēz); Dry ads, Dry a des.

dry battery, 1. set of dry cells connected to produce electric current. 2. dry cell.

dry cell, a small, portable device that produces electric current. It is an electric cell made with absorbent material so that its contents cannot spill. See electrode for diagram.

dry-clean (dri'klēn'), clean (clothes, etc.) with naphtha, benzene, etc., instead of water. v.

dry cleaner, 1. naphtha, benzine, etc., used in dry cleaning. 2. person who does dry cleaning.

dry cleaning, cleaning of cloth without water, using liquids like naphtha and benzine.

Dry den (drid'n), John, 1631-1700, English poet, dramatist, and critic. n.

dry dock, dock from which the water can be pumped out. Dry docks are used for building or repairing ships.

dry-dock (dri'dok'), 1. place in a dry dock. 2. go into dry dock. v.

dry er (dri'er), 1. drier; device or machine that removes water by heat, air, etc. 2. drier; substance put in paint, varnish, etc., to make it dry more quickly. n.

dry-farm (dri'farm'), farm (land) where there is no irrigation and little rain. v.

dry farming, way of farming land in regions where there is no irrigation and little rain by using methods which conserve the soil moisture.

dry goods, cloth, ribbon, lace, etc.

Dry Ice, Trademark. a very cold, white solid formed when carbon dioxide is greatly compressed and then cooled. It is used for cooling because it changes from a solid back to a gas without becoming liquid.

dry law, law prohibiting the making and selling of alcoholic liquor.

dry ly (dri'lē), in a dry manner: President Coolidge spoke little and dryly. adv. Also, dryly.

dry measure, system for measuring such things as grain, vegetables, or fruit. In the United States:

2 pints = 1 quart

8 quarts = 1 peck

4 pecks = 1 bushel

dry ness (dri'nis), being dry; dry quality. n.

dry rot, decay of seasoned wood, causing it to crumble to a dry powder, due to various fungi.

dry run, a practice test or session.

dry-shod (dri'shod'), having dry shoes; without getting the feet wet. adj.

D.S.C., Distinguished Service Cross.

D.S.M., Distinguished Service Medal.

D.S.T., Daylight Saving Time.

du al (dü'al or dü'al), 1. of two; showing two. 2. consisting of two parts; double; twofold: The airplane had dual controls, one set for each pilot. 3. the dual number. 1,2 adj., 3 n.

dub (dub), 1. make (a man) a knight by striking his shoulder lightly with a sword. 2. give a title to; call; name: The boys dubbed the fat boy "Fatty." 3. smooth by cutting, rubbing, scraping, etc. v., dubbed, dubbing.

dub (dub), Slang. an awkward, clumsy player. n.

dub (dub), 1. add or alter sounds, as on a motion-picture film. 2. the sounds thus added or altered. 1 v., dubbed, dubbing; 2 n.

du bi e ty (dü bī'ə tē or dü bī'ə tē), 1. doubtfulness; uncertainty. 2. something which is doubtful. n., pl. du bi e ties.

du bi ous (dü'bē əs or dü'bē əs), 1. doubtful; uncertain: a dubious compliment, dubious authorship, a dubious friend. 2. of questionable character; probably bad: a dubious scheme for making money. adj. —du'bi ous ly, adv. —du'bi ous ness, n.

Dub lin (dub'lən), capital of the Irish Republic. 539,000. See Ireland for map. n.

Du buque (də bū'k'), city in E Iowa. 57,000. n.

du cal (dü'kl or dü'kl), of a duke or dukedom. adj.

duc at (duk'ət), 1. a gold or silver coin formerly used in some European countries. Its value varied, being at most about $2.30. 2. Slang. a ticket. n.

Ship in dry dock

Du ce (dü'chā), Italian. title given to Mussolini. Duce means "leader." n.

duch ess (duch'is), 1. wife or widow of a duke. 2. lady with a rank equal to a duke's. n.

duch y (duch'ē), territory under the rule of a duke or duchess; dukedom. n., pl. duch ies.

duck (duk), 1. a wild or tame swimming bird with a short neck, short legs, and webbed feet. Most ducks have broad, flat bills. 2. the female duck. 3. flesh of a duck used for food. 4. Informal. darling; pet. 5. Slang. a fellow; chap. n.

Pintail duck
(2 ft. long)

duck (duk), 1. dip or plunge suddenly under water and out again. 2. a sudden dip or plunge under water and out again. 3. lower the head or bend the body suddenly to keep from being hit, seen, etc. 4. lower (the head) or bend (the body) suddenly. 5. a sudden lowering of the head or bending of the body to keep from being hit, seen, etc. 6. Informal. get or keep away from by ducking; avoid. 1,3,4,6 v., 2,5 n.

duck (duk), a strong cotton or linen cloth with a lighter and finer weave than canvas. Duck is used to make small sails and clothes for sailors or people living in hot climates. n.

ducks, Informal. trousers made of duck.

duck (duk), a military vehicle that looks something like a truck, but has a water-tight body so that it may move through the water like a boat. It is used to carry supplies or troops over water. n.

Duckbill (about 1½ ft. long) duck bill (duk'bil'), a small water mammal of Australia and Tasmania that lays eggs and has webbed feet and a beak like a duck; platypus. n.

duckbilled platypus, duckbill.

ducking stool, stool on which a person was tied and ducked into water as a punishment. See the picture below.

duck ling (duk'ling), a young duck. n.

duck pins (duk'pinz'), game somewhat like bowling, but played with smaller balls and pins. n.

duck weed (duk'wēd'), a very small plant that grows in water, often forming a coating on the surface. n.

Ducking stool

duct (dukt), 1. tube, pipe, or channel for carrying liquid, air, wires, etc. 2. tube in the body for carrying a bodily fluid: tear ducts. n. —duct'less, adj.

duc tile (duk'til), 1. capable of being hammered out thin or drawn out into a wire: Gold and copper are ductile metals. 2. easily molded or shaped: Wax is ductile. 3. easily managed or influenced; docile. adj.

duc til i ty (duk til'ə tē), ductile quality. n., pl. duc til i ties.

ductless gland, gland without a duct whose secretion passes directly into the blood or lymph circulating through it. The thyroid, the spleen, and the thymus are ductless glands.

dud (dud), 1. Informal. an article of clothing. 2. Slang. shell or bomb that did not explode. 3. Slang. failure. n.

duds, Informal. 1. clothes. 2. old ragged clothes. 3. possessions; belongings.

dude (dūd or dūd), 1. man who pays too much attention to his clothes; dandy. 2. in the western United States, an Easterner or city-bred person, especially one who vacations on a ranch. n.

dude ranch, ranch that is run as a tourist resort.

dudgeon (dudj'ən), anger; resentment. n.
in high dudgeon, very angry; resentful.

dullish (dūd'ish or dūd'ish), like that of a dude. adj.

due (dū or dū), 1. owed as a debt; to be paid as a right: Money is due him for his work. Respect is due to older people. 2. thing owed as a debt or to be paid as a right: Courtesy is a person's due as long as he is your guest. 3. proper; suitable; rightful: Good deeds deserve due reward; bad deeds deserve due punishment. 4. as much as needed; enough: Use due care to be safe in crossing streets. 5. promised to come or be ready; looked for; expected: The train is due at noon. Your report is due tomorrow. 6. straight; directly; exactly: The wind is due east. 1,3-5 adj., 2 n., 6 adv.

dues, 1. amount of money owed or to be paid; fee; tax. 2. amount of money owed or to be paid to a club, etc., by a member.

due to, caused by: The fire was due to carelessness.
give a person his due, be fair to a person.

duel (dū'əl or dū'əl), 1. a formal fight between two men armed with swords or firearms. Duels are arranged to settle quarrels, avenge insults, etc., and are fought in the presence of witnesses, called seconds. 2. any fight or contest between two opponents: The two opposing lawyers fought a duel of wits in the law court. 3. fight in a duel. 1,2 n., 3 v., du el ed, du el ing or esp. Brit. du elled, du el ling.

duelist (dū'əl ist or dū'əl ist), man who fights a duel or duels. n.

duelist (dū'əl ist or dū'əl ist), Esp. Brit. duelist. n.
duenna (dū'en'ə or dū'en'ə), 1. an elderly woman who is the governess and chaperon of young girls in a Spanish or Portuguese family. 2. governess; chaperon. n.

duet (dū et' or dū et'), 1. piece of music to be sung or played by two people. 2. two singers or players performing together. n.

duff (duf), a flour pudding boiled in a cloth bag. n.

duffel bag (duf'l), 1. a bag of stout material. 2. a canvas bag used by soldiers for carrying personal effects.

duffer (duf'ər), Slang. a useless, clumsy, or stupid person. n.

dug¹ (dug), pt. and pp. of dig. The dog dug a hole under the garden fence. The potatoes have all been dug. v.

dug² (dug), nipple; teat. n.

dugong (dū'gong), a large, fish-shaped mammal of tropical seas with flipperlike forelimbs and a paddlelike tail. n.

Dugong (10 ft. long) dugout (dug'out'), 1. a rough shelter made by digging into the side of a hill, trench, etc. During war, soldiers use dugouts for protection against bullets, bombs, etc. 2. a small shelter at the side of a baseball field, used by players who are not at bat or not in the game. 3. boat made by hollowing out a large log. n.

Duis burg-Ham born (dys'bürk häm'börn), city in West Germany, on the Rhine River. 502,000. n.

duke (dük or dük), 1. nobleman ranking next below a prince and above a marquis. 2. prince who rules a small state or country called a duchy. n.

duke dom (dük'dəm or dük'dəm), 1. territory under the rule of a duke; duchy. 2. title or rank of a duke. n.

dulcet (dul'sit), soothing, especially to the ear; sweet; pleasing. adj.

dulcimer (dul'sə mər), a musical instrument with metal strings, played by striking the strings with two hammers. n.

Man playing a dulcimer dull (dul), 1. not sharp or pointed: a dull knife. 2. not bright or clear: dull eyes, a dull day, a dull sound, a dull color. 3. slow in understanding; stupid: a dull mind, a dull boy. 4. having little feeling; insensitive. 5. not interesting; tiresome; boring: a dull book. 6. having little life, energy, or spirit; not active: The coal business is dull this summer. 7. not felt sharply: a dull pain. 8. make dull. 9. become dull. 1-7 adj., 8,9 v. —dull/-ness, dul'ness, n.

dullard (dul'ərd), a stupid person who learns very slowly. n.

dullish (dul'ish), somewhat dull. adj.

dully (dul'lē), in a dull manner. adv.

dulse (duls), any of several coarse, edible seaweeds that have red fronds. n.

Duluth (də lüth'), city in E Minnesota. 107,000. n.

du ly (dū'lē or dū'lē), 1. according to what is due; as due; properly; suitably; rightfully. 2. as much as is needed; enough. 3. when due; at the proper time. adv.

Duma (dū'mä), the national lawmaking body of Russia, established in 1905 and discontinued in 1917. n.

dumb (dum), 1. not able to speak: Even intelligent animals are dumb. 2. silenced for the moment by fear, surprise, shyness, etc. 3. that does not speak; silent. 4. U.S. Informal. stupid; dull. adj. —dumb/ly, adv. —dumb'ness, n.

Dumbbell

dumb bell (dum'bel'), 1. a short bar of wood or iron with large, heavy, round ends. Dumbbells are generally used in pairs and are lifted or swung around to exercise the muscles of the arms, back, etc. 2. U.S. Slang. a very stupid person; dunce. n.

dumb found (dum'found'), dumfound. v.

dumb show, gestures without words; pantomime.

dumb waiter (dum'wät'ər), 1. U.S. a small box with shelves, pulled up and down a shaft to send dishes, food, rubbish, etc., from one floor to another. 2. a small stand placed near a dining table, for holding dishes, etc. n.

dum dum (dum'dum), bullet that spreads out when it strikes, causing a serious wound. n.

dum dum bullet, dumdum.

dum found (dum'found'), amaze and make unable to speak; bewilder; confuse. v.

dum my (dum'ē), 1. figure of a person, used to display clothing in store windows, to shoot at in rifle practice, to tackle in football, etc. 2. Informal. a stupid person; blockhead. 3. imitation; counterfeit; sham: The boys played soldier with dummy swords made of wood. 4. person supposedly acting for himself, but really acting for another. 5. acting for another while supposedly acting for oneself. 6. cardplayer whose cards are laid face up on the table and played by his partner. 7. hand of cards played in this way. 8. played with a hand of cards exposed. 1-4, 6-7 n., pl. dum mies; 3,5,8 adj.

dump (damp), 1. empty out; throw down; unload in a mass: The truck backed up to the curb and dumped the coal on the sidewalk. 2. unload rubbish. 3. place for unloading rubbish. 4. heap of rubbish. 5. place for storing ammunition or other military supplies. 6. put (goods) on the market in large quantities and at a low price; especially, to do this in a foreign country at a price below that in the home country. 7. Informal. get rid of; abandon, reject: to dump an unpopular candidate. 1,2,6,7 v., 3-5 n.

dump ling (dump'ling), 1. a rounded piece of dough, boiled or steamed and served with meat. 2. a small pudding made by enclosing fruit in a piece of dough and baking or steaming it. n.

dumps (dumps), Informal. low spirits; gloomy feelings. n. pl.

dump y (dump'ē), short and fat. adj., dump ier, dump iest. —dump'ily, adv. —dump'iness, n.

dun¹ (dun), 1. demand payment of a debt from, again and again. 2. demand for payment of a debt. 3. person constantly demanding payment of a debt. 1 v., dunned, dun ning; 2,3 n.

dun² (dun), dull, grayish brown. n., adj.

dunce (duns), 1. child slow at learning his lessons in school. 2. a stupid person. n.

dunce cap or dunce's cap, a tall, cone-shaped cap formerly worn as a punishment by a child who was slow in learning his lessons in school.

Dun dee (dun dē'), seaport in E Scotland. 179,000. n.

dun der head (dun'dər hed'), a stupid, foolish person; dunce; block-head. n.

dune (dūn or dūn), mound or ridge of sand heaped up by the wind. n.

Dun e din (dun ēd'n), seaport in SE New Zealand. 103,000 with suburbs. n.

dung (dung), waste matter from the bowels of animals; manure. n.

dun ga ree (dung'gə rē'), a coarse cotton cloth, used for work clothes, sails, etc. n.

dungarees, trousers or clothing made of this cloth.

dun geon (dun'jən), a dark underground room to keep prisoners in. n.

dung hill (dung'hil'), heap of dung. n.

dunk (dungk), Formerly used only locally. dip (something to eat) into a liquid: dunk doughnuts into coffee. v.
—dunk'er, n.

Dunk ard (dungk'ərd), member of the German Baptist Brethren, a sect practicing baptism by immersion, and opposed to oaths and military service. n.

Dun kirk (dun'kərk), seaport in N France where British forces were evacuated in 1940. 21,000. n.

dun lin (dun'lən), a small wading bird that has a broad black stripe across the abdomen during the breeding season. n., pl. dun lins or (esp. collectively) dun lin.

du o (dū'ō or dū'ō), duet. n., pl. du os.

du o dec i mal (dū'ō des'ə ml or dū'ō des'ə ml), 1. having to do with twelfths or twelve; proceeding by twelves. 2. one twelfth. 3. one of a system of numerals, the base of which is twelve instead of ten. 1 adj., 2, 3 n.

du o dec i mo (dū'ō des'ə mō or dū'ō des'ə mō), the page size of a book in which each leaf is one twelfth of a whole sheet of paper, or about 5 by 7½ inches. n.
pl. du o dec i mos.

du o de num (dū'ō dē'nəm or dū'ō dē'nəm), the first part of the small intestine, just below the stomach. See intestine for diagram. n., pl. du o de na (-nə).

du pe (dūp or dūp), 1. person easily deceived or tricked. 2. one who is being deluded or tricked: The young politician's inexperience is making him the dupe of some unscrupulous schemers. 3. deceive; trick. 1, 2 n., 3 v., duped, dup ing. —dup'er, n.

du ple (dū'pl or dū'pl), double. adj.

duplex (dū'pleks or dū'pleks), double; twofold. adj.

duplex apartment, an apartment having rooms on two floors.

duplex house, U.S. a house accommodating two families.

du pli cate (dū'plə kit or dū'plə kit for 1,2,4-6; dū'plə kāt or dū'plə kāt for 3), 1. exactly like something else; corresponding to something else: We have duplicate keys for the front door. 2. one of two things exactly alike; an exact copy: He mailed the letter, but kept a duplicate. 3. make an exact copy of; repeat exactly. 4. double. 5. having two corresponding parts; twofold: A person's lungs are duplicate, but he has only one heart. 6. in card games, having the same hands played by different players: duplicate bridge. 1,4-6 adj., 2 n., 3 v., du pli cat ed, du pli cat ing.

Dunes

Dunlin (8 to 9 in. long) in duplicate, in two forms exactly alike.

dup li ca tion (dū'plə kā'shən or dū'plə kā'shən), 1. a duplicating. 2. a being duplicated. 3. a duplicate copy. n.

dup li ca tor (dū'plə kā'tər or dū'plə kā'tər), machine for making many exact copies of anything written or typed. n.

dup lic i ty (dū plis'ə tē or dū plis'ə tē), deceitfulness; treachery; secretly acting one way and publicly acting another in order to deceive. n., pl. du plic i ties.

Du ques ne (dū kăn' or dū kăn'), Fort, a former French fort built on the present site of Pittsburgh in 1754. n.

du ra bil i ty (dūr'ə bil'ə tē or dyūr'ə bil'ə tē), lasting quality; ability to stand wear. n., pl. du ra bil i ties.

du ra ble (dūr'ə bl or dyūr'ə bl), lasting a long time; not soon injured or worn out. adj. —du/ra-ble ness, n. —du/ra bly, adv.

Du ral u min (dū ral'yə min or dyū ral'yə min), Trademark. a light, strong, hard metal. It is an alloy of aluminum containing copper, manganese, and sometimes magnesium. n.

du rance (dūr'əns or dyūr'əns), imprisonment. n.

du ra tion (dū rā'shən or dyū rā'shən), length of time; time during which anything continues. n.
for the duration, until the end, especially of a war.

Dur ban (dēr'bən), seaport in the SE part of the Republic of South Africa. 634,000. n.

dur bar (dēr'bār), 1. an official court or reception held by a native prince of India or, formerly, by a British king, viceroy, governor, etc., in India. 2. hall where a durbar is held. n.

du ress (dū res' or dyū res'), 1. compulsion. A person cannot be legally forced to fulfill a contract signed under duress. 2. imprisonment. n.

Dur ham (dēr'əm), city in N North Carolina. 78,000. n.

dur ing (dūr'ing or dyūr'ing), 1. through the whole time of: The boys played during the afternoon. 2. at some time in; in the course of: Come to see me during the afternoon. prep.

dur ra (dūr'ə), kind of sorghum with slender stalks that produces grain. n.

durst (dērst), dared, a pt. of dare. v.

du rum (dūr'əm or dyūr'əm), a hard wheat from which the flour used in macaroni, spaghetti, etc., is made. n.

dusk (dusk), 1. time just before dark. 2. shade; gloom. 3. dark-colored; dusky. 4. make or become dusky. 1, 2 n., 3 adj., 4 v.

dusk y (dus'kē), 1. somewhat dark; dark-colored. 2. dim; obscure. 3. sad; gloomy. adj., dusk i er, dusk i est. —dusk'i ly, adv. —dusk'i ness, n.

Düs sel dorf (düs'l dōrf), city in West Germany, on the Rhine River. 692,000. n.

dust (dust), 1. fine, dry earth; any fine powder: Dust lay thick in the street. The old papers had turned to dust. 2. get dust off; brush or wipe the dust from: Mother always dusts the furniture after sweeping. 3. get dust on; soil with dust. 4. sprinkle (with dust, powder, etc.): The nurse dusted powder over the baby. 5. earth; ground. 6. what is left of a dead body after decay: The tomb contains the dust of kings. 7. low or humble condition. 8. a worthless thing. 9. Slang. money. 1,5-9 n., 2-4 v.
bite the dust, 1. fall dead or wounded. 2. be thoroughly humiliated.

lick the dust, 1. fall dead or wounded. 2. humble oneself slavishly.

shake the dust off one's feet, go away feeling angry or scornful.

throw dust in one's eyes, deceive or mislead a person.

dust bowl, area, especially in the western part of the United States, where dust storms are frequent and violent.

duster (dus'tər), 1. person or thing that dusts. 2. cloth, brush, etc., used to get dust off things. 3. a long, lightweight coat worn over the clothes to keep dust off them. 4. U.S. Informal. a dust storm. n.

dust jacket, the jacket of a book, made of paper and loosely folded on.

dust less (dust'lis), 1. without dust. 2. not causing dust. adj.

dust pan (dust'pan'), a flat, broad pan to sweep dust into from the floor. n.

dust proof (dust'pruf'), 1. that will let no dust through; resistant to dust. 2. free from dust. adj.

dust storm, a strong wind carrying clouds of dust across or from a dry region.

dust y (dus'tē), 1. covered with dust; filled with dust. 2. like dust; dry and powdery. 3. having the color of dust; grayish. adj. dustier, dustiest. —dustily, adv. —dustiness, n.

Dutch (dʌtʃ), 1. of or having to do with the Netherlands, its people, or their language. 2. the people of the Netherlands. 3. their language. 4. Slang. German. 5. Slang. the people of Germany. The ancestors of the Pennsylvania Dutch came from Germany, not from the Netherlands. 6. Slang. the German language. 1,4 adj., 2,5 n. pl., 3,6 n. sing.

beat the Dutch, Informal. be very strange or surprising; outdo anything seen or heard of before.

go Dutch, Informal. have each person pay for himself. in Dutch, Slang. 1. in disgrace. 2. in trouble.

Dutch Borneo, southern part of Borneo, now part of Indonesia. It was formerly part of the Dutch East Indies.

Dutch East Indies, formerly, the islands and colonies in the East Indies belonging to the Netherlands. All are now part of Indonesia.

Dutch Guiana, a Dutch overseas territory in N South America; Surinam.

Dutch Harbor, a United States naval station in the Aleutian Islands.

Dutch man (dʌtʃ'mæn), 1. native or inhabitant of the Netherlands. 2. Slang. German. n., pl. Dutchmen.

Dutch man's-breech es (dʌtʃ'mænz brɪtʃ'iz), 1. a spring wild flower shaped somewhat like breeches. 2. the plant that bears it. n. sing. and pl.

Dutch New Guinea, former name for the western part of New Guinea, now a part of Indonesia and called West Irian.

Dutch oven, 1. a metal box that opens in front, used for roasting meat, etc., before an open fire or on top of a stove. 2. a heavy iron kettle with a close-fitting cover. Some Dutch ovens are covered with hot coals and used for baking. 3. a brick oven in which the walls are first heated, and food is put in to cook after the fire goes out or is removed.

Dutch treat, U.S. Informal. meal or entertainment in which each person pays for himself.

Dutch uncle, Informal. person who sternly or severely criticizes or scolds another.

Dutch West Indies, Netherlands Antilles.

du te ous (dū'tē əs or dū'tē əs), dutiful; obedient. adj. —du'te ous ly, adv. —du'te ous ness, n.

du ti a ble (dū'tē ə bl or dū'tē ə bl), on which a duty or tax must be paid: Perfumes imported into the United States are dutiable goods. adj.

du ti ful (dū'tə fəl or dū'tə fəl), 1. performing the duties one owes; obedient: a dutiful daughter. 2. required by duty; proceeding from or expressing a sense of duty: dutiful words. adj. —du'ti ful ly, adv. —du'ti ful ness, n.

du ty (dū'tē or dū'tē), 1. thing that a person ought to do; doing that is right to do: It is your duty to obey the laws. 2. the binding force of what is right: A sense of duty makes a person do what he thinks is right. 3. thing that a person has to do in his work; action required by one's occupation or position: A policeman's duties include enforcing the laws and arresting people who break them. 4. proper behavior owed to an older or superior person; obedience; respect. 5. tax on articles brought into or taken out of a country, made, sold, etc. n., pl.

du ties.

do duty for, serve in place of.

off duty, not at one's work or occupation.

on duty, at one's work or occupation.

du um vir (dū um'vər or dū um'vər), either of two men in ancient Rome who shared the same governmental position between them. n., pl. du um virs, du um vi ri (-və rī).

du um vir ate (dū um'vər it or dū um'vər it), 1. a governmental position shared by two men simultaneously. The consulship in ancient Rome was a duumvirate. 2. union or partnership of two men. n.

du ve tyn (dū'və tēn), a soft, closely woven woolen cloth having a velvety finish. n.

D.V., God willing.

dwarf (dwɔrf), 1. person, animal, or plant much smaller than the usual size for its kind. 2. in fairy tales, an ugly little man with magic power. 3. much smaller than the usual size of its kind; checked in growth. 4. keep from growing large; check in growth. 5. cause to seem small by contrast or by distance: That tall building dwarfs the other. 1,2 n., 3 adj., 4,5 v.

dwarf ish (dwɔr'fɪʃ), like a dwarf; smaller than usual. adj. —dwarf ish ly, adv. —dwarf ish ness, n.

dwell (dwel), make one's home; live: They dwell in the country. v., dwelt or dwelled, dwell ing.

dwell on, 1. think, write, or speak about for a long time. 2. put stress on.

dwell er (dwel'ər), person who lives in a place: a city dweller, a cliff dweller. n.

dwell ing (dwel'ing), house to live in; place in which one lives. n.

dwelling house, house in which people live.

dwelling place, a dwelling.

dwelt (dwelt), a pt. and a pp. of dwell. We dwell in the country for years. v.

dwin dle (dwɪn'dl), become smaller and smaller; shrink; diminish: Our supply of food has dwindled. v., dwin dled, dwin dling.

dwt., pennyweight; pennyweights.

Dy, dysprosium.

Dy ak (dī'ak), one of a primitive people living in central Borneo. n.

dye (dī), 1. a coloring matter used to color cloth, hair, etc.; liquid containing this: We bought some blue dye. 2. color produced by such coloring matter; tint; hue: A good dye will not fade. 3. color (cloth, hair, etc.) by putting in a liquid containing coloring matter: have a dress dyed. 4. color; stain: The wounded soldier's blood dyed the ground red. 5. become colored when treated with a dye: This material dyes easily and quickly. 1,2 n., 3-5 v., dyed, dye ing.

of deepest or blackest dye, of the lowest or vilest kind.

dyed-in-the-wool (dī'dɪn ðə wul'), 1. dyed before being woven into cloth. 2. thorough-going, especially in a political sense; complete. adj.

dye ing (dī'ing), the coloring of fabrics with dye. n.

dy er (dī'ər), person whose business is dyeing fabrics. n.

dye stuff (dī'stuf'), substance yielding a dye or used as a dye. Indigo and cochineal are dyestuffs. n.

dy ing (dī'ing), 1. about to die: a dying man. 2. coming to an end: the dying year. 3. death. 4. of death; at death. 5. ppr. of die: The storm is dying down. 1,2,4 adj., 3 n., 5 v.

dyke (dīk), dike. n., v., dyked, dyk ing.

dy nam ic (dī nam'ik), 1. having to do with energy or force in motion. 2. having to do with dynamics. 3. active; energetic; forceful. adj.

dy nam i cal ly (dī nam'ik lē), in a dynamic manner. adv.

dy nam ics (dī nam'iks), 1. branch of physics dealing with the action of force on bodies either at motion or at rest. 2. science of force acting in any field. 3. forces, physical or moral, at work in any field. n.

dy na mite (dī'nə mīt), 1. a powerful explosive used in blasting rock, tree stumps, etc., made of nitroglycerin mixed with an absorbent material and pressed into round sticks. 2. blow up or destroy with dynamite. 1 n., 2 v., dy-na-mit-ed, dy-na-mit-ing.

dy na mit er (dī'nə-mīt'ər), one who uses dynamite. n.

dy na mo (dī'nə mō), machine that changes mechanical energy into electric energy and produces electric current. n., pl. dy-na-mos.

dy na mo e lec tric

(dī'nə mō i lek'trik), having to do with the transformation of mechanical energy into electric energy, or electric energy into mechanical energy. adj.

dy na mom e ter (dī'nə mom'ə tər), apparatus to measure force. n.

Dynamo or generator. When a conductor (such as copper wire) is moved through lines of magnetic force, electrons flow along the conductor. This flow is electric current. The armature, rotated by the pulley, turns through the lines of force of the magnets, electric current is generated in the wires wound on the armature, and the current is transferred to an outside circuit by means of the brushes and commutator.

dy na mom e try (dī'nə mom'ə trē), act or art of using a dynamometer. n.

dy na mo tor (dī'nə mō'tər), a combined dynamo and motor for changing the voltage of an electric current. n.

dy nast (dī'nast), 1. member of a dynasty; hereditary ruler. 2. any ruler. n.

dy nas tic (dī nas'tik), having to do with a dynasty. adj.

dy nas ty (dī'nəs tē), 1. series of rulers who belong to the same family: The Bourbon dynasty ruled France for more than 200 years. 2. period of time during which a dynasty rules. n., pl. dy-nas-ties.

dyne (din), amount of force that, acting on a mass of one gram for one second, gives it a velocity of one centimeter per second. n.

dys en ter y (dis'n ter'ē), a painful disease of the intestines, producing diarrhea with blood and mucus. n.

dys gen ic (dis jen'ik), having to do with or causing degeneration in the type of offspring produced. adj.

dys pep si a (dis pep'sē ə), poor digestion; indigestion. n.

dys pep tic (dis pep'tik), 1. having to do with dyspepsia. 2. suffering from dyspepsia. 3. person who has dyspepsia. 4. gloomy; pessimistic. 1,2,4 adj., 3 n.

dys pep ti cal ly (dis pep'tik lē), 1. with dyspepsia. 2. as a dyspeptic. adv.

dys pro si um (dis prō'sē əm), a rare, highly magnetic chemical element. Symbol: Dy n.

Dyu sham be (dyū shām'be), city in SW Soviet Union, capital of Tadzhik. 224,000. n.

dz., dozen; dozens.

E

E or e (ē), the fifth letter of the alphabet. n., pl. E's or e's.

E, einsteinium.

E or E., 1. East; east. 2. Eastern; eastern.

ea., each.

each (ēch), 1. every one of two or more considered separately or one by one: Each dog has a name, that is, as individuals, all the dogs in the group have names of their own. 2. this one and that one and the other ones: Each went his way. 3. for each; to each; apiece: These pencils are a penny each. 1 adj., 2 pron., 3 adv.

each other, 1. each the other: They struck each other, that is, they struck, each striking the other. 2. one another: They struck at each other.

eager (ē'gər), 1. wanting very much; desiring strongly; anxious to do or get something: The child is eager to have the candy. 2. characterized by or showing keenness of desire or feeling: eager looks, an eager contest. adj. —ea'-ger-ly, adv. —ea'-ger-ness, n.

ea gle (ē'gl), 1. a large, strong bird of prey that has keen eyes and powerful wings. Eagles eat meat and live on other birds and animals. The eagle is the symbol of the United States. 2. picture of an eagle, or object shaped like an eagle, used as an emblem on a flag, coat of arms, coin, stamp, etc. 3. standard bearing the figure of an eagle as an emblem. 4. a gold coin of the United States, worth $10. It has been withdrawn from circulation. 5. two strokes less than par for any hole on a golf course. n.

ea gle-eyed (ē'gl īd'), able to see far and clearly. adj.

ea glet (ē'glit), a young eagle. n.

Eagle (3 ft. from head to tail)

ear¹ (ir), 1. part of the body by which human beings and animals hear, usually consisting of three parts (external ear, middle ear, and inner ear); organ of hearing. 2. the external ear; visible part of the ear. 3. sense of hearing. 4. ability to distinguish small differences in sounds: That musician has a very good ear for pitch and tone. 5. favorable attention; listening; attention: give ear to something. 6. thing shaped like the external part of an ear. n. —ear/like', adj.

be all ears, Informal. listen eagerly; pay careful attention.

go in one ear and out the other, make no impression. lend an ear, listen; pay attention.

ear² (ir), 1. part of certain plants that contains the grains. The grains of corn, wheat, oats, barley, and rye are formed on ears. 2. grow ears; form ears: Soon the corn will ear. 1 n., 2 v.

ear ache (ir'āk'), pain in the ear. n.

ear drop (ir'drɒp'), ornament hanging from the ear. n.

ear drum (ir'drum'), 1. a thin membrane across the middle ear that vibrates when sound waves strike it; tympanic membrane. See ear¹ for diagram. 2. the middle ear. n.

ear flap (ir'flap'), part of a cap that can be turned down over the ear to keep it warm. n.

earl (ērl), a British nobleman ranking below a marquess and above a viscount. The wife or widow of an earl is called a countess. n.

earl dom (ērl'dəm), 1. territory under the rule of an earl. 2. rank or title of an earl. n.

Ear of a man

Ear of corn

ear ly (ēr'lē), 1. near the beginning; in the first part: The sun is not hot early in the day (adv.). In his early years he liked ships (adj.). 2. before the usual or expected time: Call me early (adv.). We had an early dinner (adj.). 3. long ago; far back in time; in ancient times. 4. before very long; in the near future; soon: Let us have an early reply. adv., adj., ear li er, ear li est. —ear/li-ness, n.

Ear ly (ēr'lē), Jubal Anderson, 1816-1894, Confederate general in the Civil War. n.

early bird, person who gets up or arrives early.

ear mark (ir'märk'), 1. mark made on the ear of an animal to show who owns it. 2. a special mark, quality, or feature that gives information about a person or thing; sign. 3. make an earmark on; identify or give information about. 4. set aside for some special purpose: One hundred dollars is earmarked to buy books for the library. 1,2 n., 3,4 v.

ear muffs (ir'muifs'), U.S. pair of coverings to put over the ears to keep them warm. n.pl.

earn (ern), 1. receive for work or service; be paid: She earns ten dollars a day. 2. do enough work for; deserve; be worth: He is paid more than he really earns. 3. bring or get as deserved: Her unselfish acts earned her the respect of all who knew her. v. —earn'er, n.

ear nest (ēr'nist), 1. sincerely zealous; strong and firm in purpose; serious: An earnest pupil has his mind on his work. 2. important: "Life is real, life is earnest." adj. —ear'nest ly, adv. —ear'nest ness, n.

in earnest, sincerely zealous; serious.

ear nest (ēr'nist), 1. part given or done in advance as a pledge for the rest: Take this as an earnest of what is to come. 2. thing that shows what is to come; pledge; token. n.

earnest money, money paid as a pledge.

earn ings (ēr'ningz), money earned; wages; profits. n.pl.

ear phone (ir'fōn'), receiver for a telephone, telegraph, or radio that is fastened or placed over the ear; headphone. n.

ear ring (ir'ring'), ornament for the ear. n.

ear shot (ir'shot'), distance a sound can be heard; range of hearing: He was out of earshot and could not hear our shouts. n.

earth (erth), 1. planet on which we live; the third planet from the sun, and the fifth in size. 2. all the people who live on this planet. 3. this world (often in contrast to heaven and hell). 4. dry land. 5. ground; soil; dirt. 6. hole of a fox or other burrowing animal. 7. worldly matters. n.

earth bound (erth'bound'), bound or limited to this earth. adj.

earth en (ēr'thən), 1. made of earth. 2. made of baked clay. adj.

earth en ware (ēr'thən wār'), 1. coarser kinds of dishes, containers, etc., made of baked clay. Pottery or crockery is earthenware. 2. baked clay. 3. made of earthenware. 1,2 n., 3 adj.

earth ly (erth'lē), 1. having to do with the earth, not with heaven: He thinks only of earthly affairs. 2. possible; conceivable: That rubbish is of no earthly use. adj., earth li er, earth li est. —earth/li ness, n.

earth quake (erth'kwāk'), a shaking of the earth's surface, caused by the sudden movement of masses of rock or by changes beneath the earth's surface. n.

earth satellite, a satellite of the earth, especially a metal sphere or other structure, launched by rockets into an orbit around the earth.

earth science, any of a group of sciences dealing with the origin and physical features of the earth. Geology, geography, and seismology are earth sciences.

earth ward (erth'wārd'), toward the earth. adv., adj.

earth work (erth'wērk'), 1. bank of earth piled up for a fortification. 2. a moving of earth in engineering operations. n.

earth worm (erth'wērm'), a reddish-brown or grayish worm that lives in the soil; angleworm. n.

earth y (ēr'thē), 1. of earth or soil. 2. like earth or soil. 3. not spiritual; worldly. 4. not refined; coarse. adj., earth i er, earth i est. —earth/i ness, n.

ear trumpet, a trumpet-shaped instrument held to the ear by a deaf person as an aid in hearing.

ear wax (ir'waks'), the sticky, yellowish substance in the canal of the outer ear. n.

ear wig (ir'wig'), insect like a beetle. It was formerly supposed to creep into people's ears. n.

ease (ēz), 1. freedom from pain or trouble; comfort: When school is out, I am going to live a life of ease for a whole week. 2. make free from pain or trouble; give relief or comfort to. 3. freedom from trying hard; lack of effort; readiness. 4. freedom from constraint; natural or easy manner. 5. lessen; lighten: This medicine eased my pain. 6. make easy; loosen: The bell is too tight; ease it a little. 7. move slowly and carefully: He eased the big box through the narrow door. 8. become less rapid, less tense, etc. 1,3,4 n., 2,5-8 v., eased, eas ing.

at ease, 1. free from pain or trouble; comfortable.

2. with the body relaxed and the feet apart.

ease off or up, 1. lessen; lighten.

2. loosen.

with ease, without trying hard; with little effort.

ea sel (ē'zl), a support or upright frame for holding a picture, blackboard, etc. n.

ease ment (ēz'mənt), a right held by one person in land owned by another. n.

eas ily (ēz'lē), 1. in an easy manner. 2. without trying hard; with little effort. 3. without pain or trouble; comfortably. 4. smoothly; freely: The cowboy rode his pony easily. 5. beyond question: She is easily the best singer in the choir. 6. very likely: A war may easily begin. adv.

ea si ness (ēz'ē nis), 1. quality, condition, or state of being easy. 2. carelessness; indifference. n.

east (ēst), 1. direction of the sunrise. 2. point or land situated in this direction. 3. toward the east: Walk east to find the road. 4. from the east: an east wind. 5. in the east. 1,2 n., 3-5 adj., 3 adv. east of, further east than.

East (ēst), 1. the eastern part of the United States; region from Maine through Maryland. 2. the countries in Asia; the Orient. 3. the Communist nations, especially the Soviet Union and its satellites in eastern Europe. n. down east, 1. New England. 2. the eastern part of New England; Maine. 3. in, to, or toward New England.

East er (ēs'tər), 1. day for celebrating Christ's rising from the dead. Easter comes between March 21 and April 26 on the first Sunday after the first full moon after March 21. 2. of Easter: Easter music. 1 n., 2 adj.

Easter Island, island in the S Pacific, 2000 miles west of and belonging to Chile. 45 sq. mi.

easter ly (ēs'tər lē), 1. toward the east. 2. from the east: an easterly wind. 3. wind that blows from the east. 1,2 adj., adv., 3 n.

east ern (ēs'tərn), 1. toward the east: an eastern trip. 2. from the east: eastern tourists. 3. of or in the east: eastern schools. adj.

East ern (ēs'tərn), 1. of or in the E part of the United States. 2. of or in the countries in Asia; Oriental. adj. Eastern Church, group of Christian churches in E Europe, W Asia, and Egypt that consider the patriarch of Constantinople as head of the church; Orthodox Church.

East ern er (ēs'tər nər), native or inhabitant of the E part of the United States. n.

Eastern Hemisphere, the half of the world that includes Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia.

east ern most (ēs'tərn mōst), farthest east. adj.

Eastern Roman Empire, the eastern part of the Roman Empire after its division in 395 A.D. The Eastern Roman Empire ended with the capture of Constantinople by the Turks in 1453.

East er tide (ēs'tər tid'), Easter time. n.

East Germany, area of Germany, including part of Berlin, under Communist control since World War II; the East Zone.

East India, East Indies. —East Indian.

East Indies, 1. a name given to India, Indochina, and the Malay Archipelago. 2. the islands of the Malay Archipelago.

East Orange, city in NE New Jersey. 78,000.

East River, strip of water connecting Long Island Sound and New York Bay. 15 mi.

East St. Louis, city in SW Illinois, across the Mississippi from St. Louis, Missouri. 82,000.

east ward (ēst'wərd), toward the east; east: He walked eastward (adv.). The orchard is on the eastward slope of the hill (adj.). adv., adj.

east ward ly (ēst'wərd lē), 1. toward the east. 2. of winds, from the east. adj., adv.

east wards (ēst'wərdz), eastward. adv.

East Zone or Eastern Zone, East Germany.

eas y (ēz'ē), 1. requiring little effort; not hard: easy work. 2. without trying hard; with little effort. 3. free from pain, discomfort, trouble, or worry: an easy life. 4. giving comfort or rest: an easy chair. 5. fond of comfort or rest; lazy. 6. not harsh; not severe; not strict: easy terms. 7. not hard to influence; ready to agree with, believe in, or help anyone. 8. smooth and pleasant: easy manners. 9. not tight; loose: an easy fit. 10. not fast; slow: an easy pace. 11. not much in demand; not hard to get. 12. Informal. easily. 1,3-11 adj., easier, easiest; 2,12 adv.

on easy street, in comfortable circumstances.

easy chair, a comfortable chair, usually having arms and cushions.

eas y go ing (ēz'ē gō'ing), taking matters easily; not worrying. adj.

easy mark, Informal. person who is easily imposed on: Michael found his grandfather an easy mark.

eat (ēt), 1. chew and swallow (food). 2. have a meal: Where shall we eat? 3. gnaw; devour: Termites have eaten the posts and ruined them. 4. destroy as if by eating; corrode; wear away: The sea has eaten into the north shore. This acid eats metal. 5. make by eating: Moths ate holes in my wool coat. v., ate, eat en, eating. —eat'er, n.

eat one's words, take back what one has said; retract. eat up, 1. eat all of. 2. use up; waste away: Extravagance ate up his inheritance. 3. Slang. receive eagerly or greedily: Mary is eating up the course in algebra. They offered him the most absurd flattery, and he ate it up.

eat a ble (ēt'ə bl), fit to eat. adj.

eatables, things fit to eat.

eat en (ēt'en), pp. of eat. Have you eaten your dinner? v.

eaves (ēvz), the lower edges of a roof projecting beyond the wall of a building. n., pl.

eaves drop (ēvz'drɒp'), listen to what one is not supposed to hear; listen secretly to private conversation. v., eaves dropped, eaves drop ping. —eaves'drop'per, n.

East Indies (def. 2)

ebb (eb), 1. a flowing of the tide away from the shore; fall of the tide. 2. flow out; fall: We waded farther out as the tide ebbed. 3. a growing less or weaker; decline. 4. point of decline: His fortunes were at an ebb. 5. grow less or weaker; decline: His courage began to ebb as he neared the haunted house. 1,3,4 n., 2,5 v.

ebb tide, flowing of the tide away from the shore. Ebb tide occurs once in about thirteen hours.

eb on (eb'ən), 1. ebony. 2. Poetic. made of ebony. 3. Poetic. dark; black. 1,2 n., 2,3 adj.

eb on ite (eb'ən īt), a hard, black substance made by heating rubber with a large quantity of sulfur; vulcanite. Ebonite is used for combs and buttons, and for electric insulation. n.

eb on y (eb'ən ē), 1. a hard, heavy, durable wood, used for the black keys of a piano, the backs and handles of brushes, ornamental woodwork, etc. 2. a tropical tree that yields this wood. 3. made of ebony. 4. like ebony; black; dark. 1,2 n., pl. eb on ies; 3,4 adj.

e bul lience (i bul'yans), overflow of excitement, liveliness, etc.; great enthusiasm. n.

e bul lient (i bul'yant), 1. overflowing with excitement, liveliness, etc.; very enthusiastic. 2. boiling; bubbling. adj. —e bul'lient ly, adv.

eb ul li tion (eb'ə lish'ən), 1. a boiling; a bubbling up. 2. outburst (of feeling, etc.). n.

ec ce ho mo (ek'sē hō'mō), Latin. 1. Latin phrase meaning "Behold the man!" John 19:5. 2. picture, statue, etc., of Christ crowned with thorns.

ec cen tric (ek sen'trik), 1. out of the ordinary; odd; peculiar: It would be eccentric for you to turn around after every ten steps. 2. an eccentric person. 3. not having the same center: These circles are eccentric. 4. not moving in a circle but in a related line. The orbit of an eccentric planet is not circular. 5. off center; having its axis set off center: an eccentric wheel. 6. disk or wheel set off center so that it can change circular motion into back-and-forth motion. 1,3-5 adj., 2,6 n. —ec cen'tri cal ly, adv.

Eccentric (def. 4)

ec cen tric i ty (ek'sen tris'ə tē), 1. something queer or out of the ordinary; oddity; peculiarity: One of Dr. Johnson's eccentricities was the habit of touching every lamppost he passed. 2. eccentric condition; being unusual or out of the ordinary. n., pl. ec cen tric i ties.

Eccl. or Eccles., Ecclesiastes.

Ec cle si as tes (i klē'zē as'tēz), book of the Old Testament. n.

ec cle si as tic (i klē'zē as'tik), 1. clergyman. 2. ecclesiastical. 1 n., 2 adj.

ec cle si as ti cal (i klē'zē as'ti kl), of or having to do with the church or the clergy. adj. —ec cle'si as'ti cal ly, adv.

ech e lon (esh'ə lon), 1. arrangement of troops, ships, etc., in a steplike formation. 2. form into a steplike arrangement. 3. level of command. 1,3 n., 2 v.

TROOPS SHIPS
Echelon

e chid na (i kid'nə), a small, egg-laying, ant-eating mammal of Australia with a covering of spines and a long, slender snout. n., pl.

e chid nas, e chid nae (—nē). e chi no derm (i kī'nə dērm), starfish, sea urchin, or other similar small sea animal with a spiny, stony shell and a body whose parts are arranged radially. n.

ech o (ek'ō), 1. a sounding again; a repeating of a sound. You hear an echo when sound is sent back by a cliff or hill. 2. sound again;

Echidna (1 ft. long) repeat or be repeated in sound; reflect sounds. 3. repeat (the words) or imitate (the feelings, acts, etc.) of another. 4. person who repeats the words or imitates the feelings, acts, etc., of another. 5. repeating the words or imitating the feelings, acts, etc., of another. 1,4,5 n., pl. ech oes; 2,3 v., ech oed, ech o ing. —ech/o'er, n.

Ech o (ek'ō), in Greek legend, a nymph who pined away with love for Narcissus until only her voice was left. n.

éclair (ā klār'), an oblong puff or piece of pastry filled with whipped cream or custard and covered with icing. n.

éclat (ā klā'), 1. a brilliant success. 2. fame; glory. n.
ec lec tic (ek lek'tik), 1. selecting and using what seems best from various sources. 2. follower of an eclectic method. 3. made up of selections from various sources. 1,3 adj., 2 n.

ec lec ti cism (ek lek'ti siz əm), 1. use or advocacy of an eclectic method. 2. eclectic system of philosophy, medicine, etc. n.

e clip se (i klips'), 1. a darkening of the sun, moon, etc., when some other heavenly body is in a position that partly or completely cuts off its light. A solar eclipse occurs when the moon passes between the sun and the earth. A lunar eclipse occurs when the moon enters the earth's shadow. 2. cut off or obscure the light from; darken. 3. loss of importance or reputation; failure for a time. 4. obscure the importance or reputation of; make less outstanding by comparison; surpass: Napoleon eclipsed other generals of his time. 1,3 n., 2,4 v., e clipped, e clips ing.

e clip tic (i klip'tik), 1. path that the sun appears to travel in one year. It is that great circle of the celestial sphere which is cut by the plane containing the orbit of the earth. 2. of this circle. 3. having to do with eclipses. 1 n., 2,3 adj.

e clip ti cal (i klip'tə kl), eclip tic. adj.

ec lo gue (ek'lōg), a short poem about country life, often written as a dialogue between shepherds. n.

é cole (ē kōl'), French. school. n.

e col o gy (ē kol'ə jē), branch of biology that deals with the relation of living things to their environment and to each other. n.

econ., 1. economic. 2. economics. 3. economy.

e co nom ic (ē'kə nom'ik or ek'ə nom'ik), 1. having to do with economics. Economic problems have to do with the production, distribution, and consumption of wealth. 2. having to do with the management of the income, supplies, and expenses of a household, community, government, etc. adj.

e co nom i cal (ē'kə nom'ə kl or ek'ə nom'ə kl), 1. avoiding waste; saving; thrifty: An efficient engine is economical of fuel. 2. having to do with economics. adj.

e co nom i cal ly (ē'kə nom'ik lē or ek'ə nom'ik lē), 1. in an economical manner. 2. from the point of view of economics. adv.

e co nom ics (ē'kə nom'iks or ek'ə nom'iks), science of the production, distribution, and consumption of wealth. Economics deals with the material welfare of mankind and the problems of capital, labor, wages, prices, tariffs, taxes, etc. n.

e con o mist (i kon'ə mist), 1. expert in economics. 2. person who is economical. n.

e con o mize (i kon'ə mīz), 1. manage so as to avoid waste; use to the best advantage. 2. cut down expenses.

v., e con o mized, e con o miz ing. —e con'o miz'er, n. e con o my (i kon'ə mē), 1. a making the most of what one has; freedom from waste in the use of anything; thrift. 2. instance of this. 3. managing of affairs and resources so as to avoid waste; management. 4. efficient arrangement of parts; organization; system. 5. system of managing the production, distribution, and consumption of goods: feudal economy. n., pl. e con o mies.

ec ru or é cru (ek'rū), pale brown; light tan. n., adj.
ec sta sy (ek'stə sē), 1. state of great joy; thrilling or overwhelming delight; rapture: Speechless with ecstasy, the little boy gazed at the toys. 2. any strong feeling that completely absorbs the mind; uncontrollable emotion. 3. trance. n., pl. ec sta sies.

ec stat ic (ek stat'ik), 1. full of ecstasy; showing ecstasy. 2. caused by ecstasy. 3. likely to show ecstasy. 4. one subject to fits of ecstasy. 1-3 adj., 4 n. —ec stat'i cal ly, adv.

ecstatics, fits of ecstasy; raptures.

ec to derm (ek'tə dērm), the outer layer of cells formed during the development of the embryos of animals. Skin, hair, nails, the enamel of teeth, and essential parts of the nervous system grow from the ectoderm. n.

ec to plasm (ek'tə plaz əm), the outer portion of the cytoplasm of a cell. n.

Ec ua dor (ek'wə dōr), country in NW South America. 4,169,000 pop.; 104,510 sq. mi. Capital: Quito. n.

—Ec'ua do'ri an, adj., n.

ec u men ic (ek'yū men'ik), ecumenical. adj.

ec u men i cal (ek'yū men'ə kl), 1. general; universal. 2. of or representing the whole Christian Church. adj.

ec ze ma (ek'sə mē or eg zē'mə), inflammation of the skin with redness, itching, and the formation of patches of scales. n.

-ed-, suffix forming the past tense of many verbs, as in wanted from want, edged from edge, tried from try.

-ed-, 1. suffix forming the past participle, as in echoed. 2. suffix meaning: having; supplied with, as in bearded, long-legged, pale-faced, tender-hearted. 3. suffix meaning: having the characteristics of, as in honeyed.

ed., 1. editor. 2. edition. 3. edited. 4. educated.

Ed am (ē'dam or ē'dəm), Edam cheese. n.

Ed am cheese, a round, yellow cheese made in Holland, usually colored red on the outside.

ed dy (ed'ē), 1. water, air, etc., moving against the main current, especially when having a whirling motion; small whirlpool or whirlwind. 2. move against the main current in a whirling motion; whirl. 3. move in circles. 1 n., pl. ed dies; 2,3 v., ed died, ed dy ing.

Ed dy (ed'ē), Mary Baker, 1821-1910, founder of the Christian Science Church. n.

Ed dy stone Rocks (ed'ē stan), dangerous rocks near the western end of the English Channel.

e del weiss (ā'dl vis), a small Alpine plant that has heads of very small, yellow flowers in the center of star-shaped clusters of fuzzy leaves. n.

e de ma (i dē'mə), swelling caused by an abnormal accumulation of watery fluid in the tissues of the body. n., pl. e de ma ta (-mə tə).

E den (ēd'n), 1. garden where Adam and Eve lived at first. 2. a delightful spot; paradise. n.

e den tate (ē den'tāt), 1. toothless. 2. one of a group of mammals that are toothless or lack incisors. Armadillos and sloths are edentates. 1 adj., 2 n.

edge (ej), 1. line or place where something ends; part farthest from the middle; side: the edge of the paper. We walked to the edge of the water. 2. brink; verge. 3. a thin, sharp side that cuts. The blade of a knife, ax, or razor has an edge. 4. sharpness; keenness. 5. put an edge on; form an edge on: Anne edged the path with white stones. 6. move in a sideways manner: She edged through the crowd. 7. move little by little: He edged his chair nearer to the fire. 8. Informal. advantage. 1-4,8 n., 5-7 v., edged, edg ing.

edge in, manage to get in.
on edge, 1. disturbed; excited; uncomfortable. 2. eager; anxious; impatient. set on edge, 1. disturb; cause to feel excited or uncomfortable. 2. make eager, anxious, or impatient.
take the edge off, deprive of force, strength, or enjoyment.
edge ways (ej'wāz'), with the edge forward; in the direction of the edge. adv.
get a word in edgeways, manage to say a few words during a conversation or conference.
edge wise (ej'wiz'), edgeways. adv.
edging (ej'ing), thing forming an edge or put on along an edge; border or trimming for an edge. n.
edgy (ej'ē), 1. sharply defined: edgy outlines. 2. impatient; irritable. adj., edgier, edgiest.
edibility (ed'ə bil'ə tē), fitness for eating. n.
edible (ed'ə bl), fit to eat. adj.
edibles, things fit to eat.
edict (ē'dikt), a public order or command by some authority; decree. n.
edification (ed'ə fə kā'shən), moral improvement; spiritual benefit; instruction: Good books give edification. n.
edifice (ed'ə fis), a building; especially, a large or imposing building. n.
edify (ed'ə fi), improve morally; benefit spiritually; instruct. v., edified, edifying.
Edinburgh (ed'n bər'ō), capital of Scotland, in the SE part. 467,000. n.
Edirne (e dir'ne), city in the NW part of European Turkey; Adrianople. 30,000. n.
Edison (ed'ə sn), Thomas Alva, 1847-1931, famous American inventor. n.
edit (ed'it), 1. prepare (another person's writings) for publication: The teacher is editing famous speeches for use in schoolbooks. 2. have charge of (a newspaper, magazine, etc.) and decide what shall be printed in it. v.
edition (i dish'ən), 1. all the copies of a book, newspaper, etc., printed alike and issued at or near the same time: In the second edition of the book many of the errors in the first edition had been corrected. 2. form in which a book is printed or published: The reading matter in the cheaper one-volume edition was exactly the same as in the three-volume edition. n.
editor (ed'ə tər), 1. person who edits. 2. person who writes editorials. n.
editorial (ed'ə tō'rē əl), 1. article in a newspaper or magazine written by the editor or under his direction, giving the opinion or attitude of the paper regarding some subject. 2. of or having to do with an editor; by an editor. 1 n., 2 adj.
editorialize (ed'ə tō'rē əl īz), 1. write news articles as if they were editorials, including comment and criticisms in the articles. 2. write an editorial. v., editorialized, editorializing.
editorially (ed'ə tō'rē əl ē), 1. in an editorial manner. 2. in an editorial. adv.
editorship (ed'ə tər ship'), position, duties, or authority of an editor. n.
Edmonton (ed'mən tən), city in SW Canada. It is the capital of Alberta. 275,000. n. educable (ej'ə kə bl), capable of being educated, taught, or trained. adj.
educate (ej'ə kāt), 1. develop in knowledge, skill, ability, or character by training, study, or experience; teach; train. 2. send to school. v., educated, educating.
education (ej'ə kā'shən), 1. development in knowledge, skill, ability, or character by teaching, training, study, or experience; teaching; training: In the United States, public schools offer an education to all children. 2. knowledge, skill, ability, or character developed by teaching, training, study, or experience: A person with education knows how to speak, write, and read well. 3. science and art that deals with the principles, problems, etc., of teaching and learning. n.

educational (ej'ə kā'shən l), 1. of or having to do with education: an educational association. 2. giving education; tending to educate: an educational motion picture. adj. —educationally, adv.
educative (ej'ə kā'tiv), that educates; instructive. adj.
educator (ej'ə kā'tər), 1. person whose profession is education; teacher. 2. leader in education; authority on methods and principles of education. n.
educe (i dūs' or i dūs'), bring out; draw forth; elicit; develop: The teacher's questions educed many facts about home gardens. v., educed, educing.
Edward VII (ed'wərd), 1841-1910, king of England from 1901 to 1910, son of Queen Victoria.
Edward VIII, born 1894, king of England in 1936, son of George V. He abdicated and received the title of Duke of Windsor.
Edwards (ed'wərdz), 1. Jonathan, 1703-1758, American clergyman, theologian, and metaphysician. 2. his son, Jonathan, 1745-1801, American clergyman. n.
-ee, suffix often added to verbs to form nouns:
 1. person who is ____: Absentee = person who is absent.
 2. person who is ____ed: Appointee = person who is appointed.
 3. person to whom something is ____ed: Mortgagee = person to whom something is mortgaged.
eel (ēl), a long, slippery fish shaped like a snake and lacking ventral fins. n.

e'en (ēn), Poetic. even. adv.
e'er (ār), Poetic. ever. adv.
erie (ir'ē), 1. causing fear; strange; weird. 2. timid because of superstition. adj., erier, eriest. —eerily, adv. —eeriness, n.
erry (ir'ē), eerie. adj., errier, erriest.
efface (ə fās'), 1. rub out; blot out; do away with; destroy; wipe out: The inscriptions on many ancient monuments have been effaced by time. It takes many years to efface the unpleasant memories of a war. 2. keep (oneself) from being noticed; make inconspicuous: The shy boy effaced himself by staying in the background. v., effaced, effacing. —effaceable, adj.
effacement (ə fās'mənt), 1. an effacing. 2. being effaced. n.
effect (ə fekt'), 1. whatever is produced by a cause; something made to happen by a person or thing; result: The effect of the gale was to overturn several boats. 2. produce as an effect; make happen; get done; bring about: The war effected changes all over the world. 3. make; construct. 4. force; power; influence: The medicine had an immediate effect. 5. impression produced. 6. combination of color or form in a picture, etc.: Sunshine coming through leaves makes a lovely effect. 7. purport; intent; meaning. 1,4-7 n., 2,3 v.
effects, personal property; belongings; goods.
for effect, for show; to impress or influence others.
give effect to, put in operation; make active.
in effect, 1. in result; in fact; really. 2. in operation.
into effect, in operation; in action; in force.
take effect, begin to operate; become active.
effective (ə fēk'tiv), 1. producing an effect: Several new drugs are effective in treating serious diseases. 2. producing the desired effect. 3. in operation; active: A federal law is effective as soon as the President signs the act. 4. striking; impressive. 5. equipped and ready for fighting in the army or navy. adj. —effectively, adv. —effectiveness, n.
effectual (ə fēk'chū əl), 1. producing the effect desired; capable of producing the effect desired: Quinine is an effectual preventive of malaria. 2. valid. adj.

ef fec tu al ly (ə fɛk'tʃu əl ē), with a desired effect; thoroughly. adv.

ef fec tu ate (ə fɛk'tʃu āt), cause; make happen; bring about; accomplish. v., ef fec tu at ed, ef fec tu at ing.

ef fem i na cy (ə fɛm'ə nā sē), lack of manly qualities; unmanly weakness or delicacy. n.

ef fem i nate (ə fɛm'ə nīt), lacking in manly qualities; showing weakness or delicacy that is not manly. adj. —ef fem'i nate ly, adv.

ef fen di (ə fɛn'dē), 1. a Turkish title of respect meaning about the same as "Sir" or "Master." 2. person having this title; Turkish doctor, official, scholar, etc. n., pl. ef fen dis.

ef fer ent (ɛf'ər ənt), conveying outward from a central organ or point. Efferent nerves carry impulses from the brain to the muscles. adj.

ef fer vesce (ɛf'ər ves'), 1. give off bubbles of gas; bubble: Ginger ale effervesces. 2. be lively and gay; be excited. v., ef fer vesced, ef fer ves cing.

ef fer ves cence (ɛf'ər ves'ns), 1. act or process of bubbling. 2. liveliness; gaiety. n.

ef fer ves cent (ɛf'ər ves'nt), 1. giving off bubbles of gas; bubbling. 2. lively; gay. adj.

ef fete (ē fēt'), no longer able to produce; worn out; exhausted. adj. —ef fete'ness, n.

ef fi ca cious (ɛf'ə kā'shəs), producing the desired results; effective: Vaccination for smallpox is efficacious. adj. —ef fi ca'cious ly, adv. —ef fi ca'cious ness, n.

ef fi ca cy (ɛf'ə kāsē), power to produce a desired effect or result; effectiveness. n., pl. ef fi ca cies.

ef fi cien cy (ə fɪʃ'ən sē), 1. ability to produce the effect wanted without waste of time, energy, etc. 2. efficient operation: Friction lowers the efficiency of a machine. n., pl. ef fi cien cies.

ef fi cient (ə fɪʃ'ənt), 1. able to produce the effect wanted without waste of time, energy, etc.; capable; competent: An efficient cook receives good pay. 2. actually producing an effect: Heat is the efficient cause in changing water to steam. adj. —ef fi'cient ly, adv.

ef fi gy (ɛf'ə jē), statue, etc., of a person; image: The dead man's monument bore his effigy. n., pl. ef fi gies.

Effigy on a tomb

burn or hang in effigy, burn or hang a stuffed image of a person to show hatred or contempt: The king was burned in effigy by the angry mob.

ef flo resce (ɛf'lō res'), burst into bloom; blossom out. v., ef flo resc ed, ef flo resc ing.

ef flo res cence (ɛf'lō res'ns), 1. a blooming; a flowering. 2. mass of flowers. 3. anything like a mass of flowers. n.

ef flo res cent (ɛf'lō res'nt), blooming; flowering. adj.

ef flu ence (ɛf'lū əns), 1. outward flow. 2. thing that flows out; emanation. n.

ef flu ent (ɛf'lū ənt), 1. flowing out or forth. 2. that which flows out or forth; outflow. 3. stream flowing out of another stream, lake, etc. 1 adj., 2,3 n.

ef flu vi a (i flū'vē ə), pl. of effluvi. n.

ef flu vi um (i flū'vē əm), 1. an unpleasant vapor or odor. 2. vapor; odor. n., pl. ef flu vi a or ef flu vi ums.

ef fort (ɛf'ərt), 1. use of energy and strength to do something; trying hard: Climbing a steep hill takes effort. 2. hard try; strong attempt. 3. result of effort; thing done with effort; achievement. Works of literature or art are often called literary or artistic efforts. n.

ef fort less (ɛf'ərt lis), requiring or involving no effort; easy. adj. —ef'fort less ly, adv. —ef'fort less-ness, n.

ef fron ter y (ə frun'tər ē), shameless boldness; impudence: The politician had the effrontery to ask the people he had insulted to vote for him. n., pl. ef fron ter ies.

ef ful gence (i ful'jəns), brightness; radiance: the effulgence of the queen's jewels. n.

ef ful gent (i ful'jənt), shining brightly; radiant. adj.

ef fuse (i fūz'), pour out; spill; shed. v., ef fused, ef fus ing.

ef fu sion (i fū'zhən), 1. a pouring out: the effusion of blood. 2. unrestrained expression of feeling, etc., in talking or writing. n.

ef fu sive (i fū'siv), showing too much feeling; too emotional in expression. adj. —ef fu'sive ly, adv. —ef fu'sive ness, n.

eft (ɛft), U.S. a small newt or lizard. n.

EFTA, European Free Trade Association.

eft soon (ɛft sūn'), Archaic. 1. soon afterward.

2. again. adv.

e.g., for example; for instance.

egg (ɛg), 1. a roundish body covered with a shell or membrane that is laid by the female of birds, many reptiles, amphibians, fishes, and other types of animals. Young animals come from these eggs. 2. a female germ cell. 3. anything shaped like a hen's egg. n. —egg'less, adj. —egg'like, adj.

egg² (ɛg), urge; encourage (with on): The other boys egged him on to fight. v.

egg cell, the reproductive cell produced by a female plant or animal. A new animal or plant develops from a fertilized egg cell.

egg head (ɛg'hed'), U.S. Informal. an intellectual. n.

egg nog (ɛg'nog'), drink made of eggs beaten up with milk and sugar, often containing whiskey, brandy, or wine. n.

egg plant (ɛg'plant'), 1. plant with a large, oval, purple-skinned fruit. 2. the fruit, used as a vegetable. n.

egg shell (ɛg'shel'), 1. shell covering an egg. 2. like an eggshell; very thin and delicate. 1 n., 2 adj.

egis (ē'jis), aegis. n.

eg lan tine (ɛg'lən tin), a wild rose with a tall, prickly stem and single, pink flowers; sweetbrier. n.

e go (ē'gō), 1. the individual as a whole in his capacity to think, feel, and act; self. 2. Informal. conceit. n., pl. e gos.

e go ism (ē'gō iz əm), 1. seeking the welfare of oneself only; selfishness. 2. talking too much about oneself; conceit. n.

e go ist (ē'gō ist), 1. person who seeks the welfare of himself only; selfish person. 2. person who talks too much about himself; conceited person. n.

e go is tic (ē'gō is'tik), 1. seeking the welfare of oneself only; selfish. 2. talking too much about oneself; conceited. adj. —e'go is'ti cal ly, adv.

e go tism (ē'gə tiz əm), 1. excessive use of I, my, and me; habit of thinking, talking, or writing too much of oneself: Henry's egotism keeps him from having friends. 2. self-conceit. 3. selfishness. n.

e go tist (ē'gə tist), 1. person who thinks and talks about himself a great deal; conceited, boastful person. 2. a selfish person. n.

e go tis tic (ē'gə tis'tik), 1. characterized by egotism; conceited. 2. selfish. adj.

e go tis ti cal (ē'gə tis'tə kl), egotistic. adj.

e go tis ti cal ly (ē'gə tis'tik lē), in an egotistic manner. adv.

e gre gious (i grē'jəs), 1. remarkably or extraordinarily bad; outrageous; flagrant: an egregious lie. 2. remarkable; extraordinary. adj. —e gre'gious ly, adv.

e gress (ē'gres), 1. a going out: The enemy blocked the narrow pass so that no egress was possible for our soldiers. 2. way out; exit. 3. right to go out. n.

e gret (ē'gret), 1. any of various herons with tufts of beautiful, long plumes. 2. one of its plumes, often used as an ornament on the head; aigrette. n.

Great white egret of America

Egypt (ē/jipt), country in NE Africa, on the Nile. The official name of Egypt is the United Arab Republic. 26,000,000 pop.; 386,000 sq. mi. Capital: Cairo. n.

Egyptian (i jip/shən),

1. of or having to do with Egypt or its people. 2. native or inhabitant of Egypt. 3. language of the ancient Egyptians.

1 adj., 2, 3 n.

eh (ā), 1. exclamation expressing doubt, surprise, or failure to hear exactly. 2. exclamation suggesting "Yes" for an answer: Wasn't it lucky, eh? interj.

eider down (ī'dər), 1. the soft feathers from the breasts of eider ducks, used to stuff pillows, bed quilts, etc. 2. quilt stuffed with these feathers.

eider duck, a large, northern sea duck, usually black-and-white, with very soft feathers on its breast.

Eiffel Tower (ī'fl), a lofty tower in Paris. 984 ft.

eight (āt), 1. one more than seven; 8. 2. crew of eight rowers. 1, 2 n., 1 adj.

eight een (ā'tēn), eight more than ten; 18. n., adj.

eight eenth (ā'tēnth), 1. next after the 17th; last in a series of 18. 2. one of 18 equal parts. adj., n.

eighth (āth), 1. next after the seventh; last in a series of 8. 2. one of 8 equal parts. 3. one octave in music. 1, 2 adj., 1-3 n.

eighth note, a short note in music; one eighth of a whole note.

eight i eth (ā'tē ith), 1. next after the 79th; last in a series of 80. 2. one of 80 equal parts. adj., n.

eight y (ā'tē), eight times ten; 80. n., pl. eight ies; adj.

Ein stein (īn/stīn), Albert, 1879-1955, American physicist who developed the theory of relativity. n.

Einstein equation, equation expressing the relation of mass and energy: $E=MC^2$. E =the energy in ergs; M =the mass in grams; C =the velocity of light in centimeters per second.

ein stein i um (īn stīn/ē əm), a rare, radioactive, artificial element, produced as a by-product of nuclear fission. Symbol: E or Es n.

Eir e (ār/ə), the Irish Republic. n.

Ei sen how er (ī'zn hou'ər), Dwight D., born 1890, American general, the 34th president of the United States, 1953-1961. n.

ei ther (ē'thər or ī'thər), 1. one or the other of two: Either hat is becoming (adj.). Either of the hats is becoming (pron.). Either come in or go out (conj.). 2. each of two: On either side of the river lie cornfields. 3. any more than another: If you do not go, I shall not go either. 4. Informal. word used to strengthen a negative in contradiction or retraction: I've finished all my homework; no, I haven't either. 1, 2 adj., 1 pron., conj., 3, 4 adv.

e jac u late (i jak'yə lāt), say suddenly and briefly; exclaim. v. e jac u lat ed, e jac u lat ing.

e jac u la tion (i jak'yə lā'shən), something said suddenly and briefly; exclamation. n.

e jac u la to ry (i jak'yə lā tō'rē), said suddenly and briefly; containing exclamations. adj.

Eider duck
(2 ft. long)

Eighth note

eject (i jekt'), throw out; force out; expel: The volcano ejected lava and ashes. The landlord ejected the tenant who did not pay his rent. v. —e jec'tor, n.

ejection (i jek/shən), 1. an ejecting. 2. a being ejected. 3. something ejected: Lava is a volcanic ejection. n.

eject ment (i jekt'mənt), an ejecting; a dispossessing; an ousting. n.

eke (ēk), Archaic and Dialect. increase; enlarge; lengthen. v., eked, ek ing.

eke out, supply what is lacking to; supplement: The clerk eked out his regular wages by working evenings.

e lab o rate (i lab'ə rit for 1; i lab'ə rāt for 2-4), 1. worked out with great care; having many details; complicated: The scientists made elaborate preparations for studying the eclipse. 2. work out with great care; add details to: The inventor spent months in elaborating his plans for a new engine. 3. talk, write, etc., in great detail; give added details: The witness was asked to elaborate upon one of his statements. 4. make with labor; produce. 1 adj., 2-4 v., e lab o rat ed, e lab o rat ing. —e lab'o rate ly, adv. —e lab'o rate ness, n.

e lab o ra tion (i lab'ə rā'shən), 1. an elaborating. 2. a being elaborated. 3. something elaborated. n.

E laine (i lān'), in Arthurian legend: 1. a beautiful maiden who died for love of Sir Lancelot. 2. the mother of Sir Galahad. n.

El A la mein (el ā'lə mān'), town on the coast of N Egypt where the British decisively defeated a German army in 1942.

E lam (ē'lām), an ancient country in what is now W Iran, just east of ancient Babylonia. n.

E lam ite (ē'lām īt), native or inhabitant of Elam. n.

é lan (ā lān'), enthusiasm; liveliness. n.

e land (ē'lānd), a large, heavily built, African antelope with twisted horns. n.

e lapse (i laps'), slip away; glide by; pass: Many hours elapsed while he slept. v.

e lapsed, e laps ing.

e las mo branch (i las'mə-brangk), any of a group of fishes whose skeletons are formed of cartilage and whose gills are thin and plate-like. Sharks and rays are elasmobranchs. n.

e las tic (i las'tik), 1. having the quality of springing back to its original size, shape, or position after being stretched, squeezed, bent, etc.: Toy balloons, sponges, and steel springs are elastic. 2. springing back; springy: an elastic step. 3. recovering quickly from weariness, low spirits, or misfortune; buoyant: His elastic spirits never let him be discouraged for long. 4. easily altered to suit changed conditions; flexible; adaptable. 5. tape, cloth, etc., woven partly of rubber. 6. a rubber band. 1-4 adj., 5, 6 n. —e las'ti cal ly, adv.

e las tic i ty (i las'tis'ə tē or ē'las tis'ə tē), 1. elastic quality: Rubber has great elasticity. 2. flexibility: "Good" and "evil" are words having great elasticity of meaning. n.

e late (i lāt'), put in high spirits; make joyful or proud. v.

e lat ed, e lat ing.

e lat ed (i lāt'id), in high spirits; joyful; proud. adj. —e lat'ed ly, adv.

e la tion (i lā'shən), high spirits; joyous pride; exultant gladness: Ruth was filled with elation at having won the prize. n.

El ba (ēl'bə), an Italian island between Italy and Corsica. Napoleon I was in exile there from 1814 to 1815. 30,000 pop.; 86 sq. mi. n.

Eland (5 to 6 ft. high at the shoulder)

El be (el'bə), river flowing from Czechoslovakia through central Germany into the North Sea. 725 mi. n.

El bert Peak (el'bərt), mountain in central Colorado, the highest in the Rocky Mountains. 14,431 ft. n.

el bow (el'bō), 1. joint between the upper and lower arm. 2. anything like a bent elbow in shape or position. A sharp turn in a road or river may be called an elbow. 3. push with the elbow; make one's way by pushing: Don't elbow me off the sidewalk. 1,2 n., 3 v.

el bow room or elbow room (el'bō rŭm'), plenty of room; enough space to move or work in. n.

El brus or El bruz (el'brŭs), Mount, the highest mountain in Europe, located in S Russia, just north of Turkey, in the Caucasus Mountains. 18,465 ft. n.

El burz Mountains (el bŭrz'), mountains in N Iran, south of the Caspian Sea. The highest peak is 18,600 ft. n.

El Cha co (el chā'kō), region divided between Bolivia and Paraguay in 1938. Its ownership was disputed until then. 100,000 sq. mi.

eld (eld), Archaic. 1. old age. 2. old times; former times. n.

eld er¹ (el'dər), 1. born, produced, or formed before something else; older; senior: my elder brother, an elder statesman. 2. prior in rank, validity, etc.: an elder title to an estate. 3. earlier; former: in elder times. 4. an older person: Children should respect their elders. 5. an aged person. 6. ancestor. 7. one of the older and more influential men of a tribe or community; chief, ruler, member of council, etc. 8. any of various important officers in certain churches. 1-3 adj., 4-8 n.

el der² (el'dər), elderberry. n.

el der ber ry (el'dər ber'ē), 1. shrub or tree with flat clusters of white flowers and black or red berries, sometimes used in making wine. 2. berry of such a plant. n., pl. el der ber ries.

eld er ly (el'dər lē), somewhat old; beyond middle age; near old age. adj.

eldest (el'dist), oldest (of brothers and sisters or of a group). adj.

El do ra do or El Do ra do (el'də rā'dō), 1. a legendary city of very great wealth sought by early explorers in South America. 2. any fabulously wealthy place. n., pl. El do ra dos, El Do ra dos.

e lect (i lekt'), 1. choose or select for an office by voting: Washington was elected President of the United States. 2. elected but not yet in office. 3. choose. 4. chosen; selected. 5. chosen by God for salvation and eternal life. 1,3 v., 2,4,5 adj.

the elect, 1. people selected or chosen by God for salvation and eternal life because He foresees their merit. 2. people who belong to a group with special rights and privileges.

e lec tion (i lek'tshən), 1. choice. 2. a choosing by vote. 3. selection by God for salvation. n.

e lec tion eer (i lek'shən ir'), work for the success of a candidate or party in an election. v.

e lec tive (i lek'tiv), 1. chosen by an election: Senators are elective officials. 2. filled by an election: The office of President of the United States is elective. 3. having the right to vote in an election. 4. open to choice; not required: Spanish is an elective subject in many high schools. 5. subject or course of study that may be taken, but is not required. 1-4 adj., 5 n.

e lec tor (i lek'tər), 1. person who has the right to vote in an election. 2. U.S. one of the persons chosen by the voters to elect the President and Vice-President of the United States; member of the electoral college. n.

e lec tor al (i lek'tər əl), 1. of electors. 2. of an election. adj.

electoral college, group of people chosen by the voters to elect the President and Vice-President of the United States.

e lec tor ate (i lek'tər it), the persons having the right to vote in an election. n.

e lec tric (i lek'trik), 1. of electricity; having to do with electricity. 2. charged with electricity: an electric battery. 3. giving an electric shock: an electric eel. 4. run by electricity. 5. exciting; thrilling. adj.

e lec tri cal (i lek'trə kl), electric. adj.

e lec tri cal ly (i lek'trīk lē), by electricity. adv.

electrical transcription, 1. radio broadcasting from a special phonograph record. 2. a special phonograph record so used.

electric chair, chair used in electrocuting criminals.

electric eel, a large, eellike fish of South America that can give strong electric shocks.

electric eye, a photoelectric cell. An electric eye can operate a mechanism so as to open a door when its invisible beam is interrupted by the approach of a person.

e lec tri cian (i lek'trīsh'ən), person whose work is installing or repairing electric wires, lights, motors, etc. n.

e lec tric i ty (i lek'trīs'ə tē), 1. form of energy that can produce light, heat, magnetism, and chemical changes, and which can be generated by friction, induction, or chemical changes. 2. an electric current; flow of electrons: Most refrigerators are run by electricity. 3. branch of physics that deals with electricity. n.

electric storm or electrical storm, a storm accompanied by much thunder and lightning.

e lec tri fi ca tion (i lek'trə fə kā'shən), 1. an electrifying. 2. a being electrified. n.

e lec tri fy (i lek'trə fī), 1. charge with electricity. 2. equip to use electricity: Some railroads once run by steam are now electrified. 3. give an electric shock to. 4. excite; thrill: The speaker electrified his audience. v., e lec tri fied, e lec tri fy ing.

electro-, word element meaning:

1. electric, as in electromagnet.
2. electrically, as in electropositive.
3. electricity.

e lec tro chem i cal (i lek'trō kem'ə kl), of or having to do with electrochemistry. adj.

e lec tro chem i try (i lek'trō kem'is trē), branch of chemistry that deals with chemical changes produced by electricity and the production of electricity by chemical changes. n.

e lec tro cute (i lek'trə kūt), kill (a criminal, etc.) by an electric current. v., e lec tro cut ed, e lec tro cut ing.

e lec tro cu tion (i lek'trə kū'shən), a killing by electricity. n.

e lec tro de (i lek'trōd), either of the two terminals of a battery or any other source of electricity. n.

e lec tro ly sis (i lek'trōl'ə sis), 1. decomposition of a chemical compound into ions by the passage of an electric current through a solution of it. 2. removal of excess hair, moles, etc., by destruction with an electrified needle. n.

e lec tro lyte (i lek'trō lit), 1. solution that will conduct an electric current. 2. a chemical compound whose water solution will conduct an electric current. Acids, bases, and salts are electrolytes. n.

e lec tro lyt ic (i lek'trō lit'ik), having to do with electrolysis or with an electrolyte. adj.

e lec tro lyt i cal ly (i lek'trō lit'ik lē), by means of electrolysis. adv.

e lec tro lyze (i lek'trō līz), decompose by electrolysis. v., e lec tro lyzed, e lec tro lyz ing. —e lec tro ly za'tion, n. —e lec tro lyz'er, n.

e lec tro mag net (i lek'trō mag'nit), piece of iron that becomes a strong magnet when an electric current is passing through wire coiled around it. n.

e lec tro mag net ic (i lek'trō mag net'ik), of or caused by an electromagnet. adj.

e lec tro mag net ism (i lek'trō mag'nə tiz əm), 1. magnetism produced by a current of electricity. 2. branch of physics that deals with this. n.

Electrodes of a dry cell: +, positive; —, negative. Chemical reaction between the paste and the zinc causes a flow of electrons toward the zinc, and of positive ions toward the carbon. When the electrodes are connected, the flow of electrons (electric current) leaves the cell at — and returns to it at +.

e lec trom e ter (i lek'trōm'ə tər), instrument for measuring differences in electrical charge or potential. n.

e lec tro mo tive (i lek'trō mō'tiv), 1. producing a flow of electricity. 2. of or having to do with electromotive force. adj.

electromotive force, amount of energy derived from an electric source in one second when one unit of current is passing through the source. Electromotive force is produced by differences in electrical charge or potential.

e lec tron (i lek'trōn), unit charge of negative electricity. All atoms are composed of electrons, protons, and neutrons. n.

e lec tro neg a tive (i lek'trō neg'ə tiv), 1. charged with negative electricity. 2. tending to pass to the positive pole in electrolysis. 3. nonmetallic; acid. adj.

electron gun, device that guides the flow and greatly increases the speed of atomic particles. Electron guns are being developed for use in oil refining.

e lec tron ic (i lek'trōn'ik), of or having to do with an electron or electrons. adj. —e lec'tron'i cally, adv.

electronic brain, a complex electric calculating machine.

e lec tron ics (i lek'trōn'iks), the branch of physics that deals with electrons in motion. n.

electron microscope, microscope that uses beams of electrons instead of beams of light, and has much higher power than any ordinary microscope. Its enlarged images are not observable directly by the eye, but are projected upon a fluorescent surface or photographic plate.

electron tube, vacuum tube.

e lec tro plate (i lek'trō plāt'), 1. cover with a coating of metal by means of electrolysis. 2. silverware, etc., covered in this way. 1 v., e lec tro plat ed, e lec tro plat ing; 2 n. —e lec'tro plat'er, n.

e lec tro pos i tive (i lek'trō poz'ə tiv), 1. charged with positive electricity. 2. tending to pass to the negative pole in electrolysis. 3. metallic; basic. adj.

e lec tro scope (i lek'trō skōp), device that indicates the presence of minute charges of electricity and shows whether they are positive or negative by being attracted to them or repelled by them. One type has a negatively charged ball of pith suspended on a thread that swings toward anything with a positive charge and away from anything with a negative charge. n.

Electro-scope.

e lec tro stat ic (i lek'trō stat'ik), having to do with electricity at rest or with stationary electric charges. adj.

e lec tro stat ics (i lek'trō stat'iks), branch of physics that deals with objects charged with electricity. n.

e lec tro ther a py (i lek'trō ther'ə pi), treatment of disease by electricity. n.

e lec tro type (i lek'trō tīp), 1. metal or composition plate used in printing. An electrotpe is a copy of a page of type, an engraving, or the like, consisting of a thin shell of metal deposited by electrolytic action in a wax mold of the original and backed with type metal. 2. print made from such a plate. 3. make such a plate or plates (of). 1, 2 n., 3 v., e lec tro typed, e lec tro typ ing. —e lec'tro typ'er, n.

el ee mos y nar y (el'ə mos'ə ner'ē), 1. of or for charity; charitable. 2. provided by charity; free. 3. dependent on charity; supported by charity. adj.

el e gance (el'ə gāns), 1. refined grace and richness; luxury free from coarseness: We admired the elegance of the lady's clothes. 2. something elegant. n.

el e gant (el'ə gānt), 1. having or showing good taste; gracefully and richly refined: The palace had elegant furnishings. 2. expressed with taste; correct and polished in expression or arrangement. 3. Informal. fine; excellent; superior. adj. —el'e gant ly, adv.

el e gize (el'ə jīz), 1. write an elegy about. 2. write an elegy; lament. v., el e gized, el e giz ing.

el e gy (el'ə jē), a mournful or melancholy poem poem that is a lament for the dead. Milton's Lycidas and Shelley's Adonais are elegies. n., pl. el e gies.

el e ment (el'ə mēnt), 1. one of the simple substances, such as gold, iron, carbon, sulfur, oxygen, and hydrogen, that cannot as yet be separated into simpler parts by ordinary means; substance composed of atoms that are chemically alike. 2. one of the parts of which anything is made up: Honesty, industry, and kindness are elements of a good life. 3. one of the four substances—earth, water, air, and fire—that were once thought to make up all other things. 4. natural or suitable surroundings. n.

be in one's element, be where one can live and thrive. the elements, 1. the simple, necessary parts to be learned first; the first principles: We learned the elements of arithmetic before the seventh grade. 2. the atmospheric forces: The storm seemed a war of the elements.

el e men tal (el'ə mēn'tl), 1. of the four elements—earth, water, air, and fire. 2. of the forces of nature. Primitive peoples usually worship elemental gods, such as the sun, earth, thunder, etc. 3. as found in nature; simple but powerful: Hunger is an elemental feeling. 4. being a necessary or essential part. 5. elementary. adj.

el e men ta ry (el'ə mēn'tə rē), 1. of or dealing with the simple, necessary parts to be learned first; having to do with first principles; introductory: John learned addition and subtraction in elementary arithmetic. 2. made up of only one chemical element; not a compound: Silver is an elementary substance.

3. having to do with a chemical element or elements. 4. elemental. adj.

elementary school,

1. school of six grades for pupils from about six to about twelve years of age, followed by junior high school. 2. school of eight grades for pupils from about six to about fourteen years, followed by a four-year high school.

African elephant (10 ft. tall; body 8 ft. long; ears 5 ft. across) el e phant (el'ə fənt), a huge, heavy mammal, with a long snout called a trunk; the largest four-footed animal now living. Ivory comes from its tusks. n., pl. el e phants or (esp. collectively) el e phant.

el e phan ti a sis (el'ə fan-ti'ə sis), disease in which parts of the body, usually the legs, become greatly enlarged, and the skin thickened and broken. It is caused by parasitic worms that block the flow of lymph. n.

el e phan tine (el'ə fan'tin or el'ə fan'tin), 1. like an elephant; huge; heavy; clumsy; slow. 2. of elephants. adj.

el e phant's-ear (el'ə fənts'ēr), plant with large leaves shaped like elephants' ears. n.

el e vate (el'ə vāt), 1. lift up; raise: He spoke from an elevated platform. 2. raise in rank or station: The soldier was elevated to knighthood for bravery. 3. raise in quality: Reading good books elevates your mind. 4. put in high spirits; make joyful or proud; elate. v., el e vat ed, el e vat ing.

el e vat ed (el'ə vāt'id), 1. lifted up; raised; high. 2. dignified; lofty; noble. 3. in high spirits; joyful; proud. 4. Informal. elevated railroad. 1-3 adj., 4 n.

Indian elephant (9 ft. tall; body 7 ft. long; ears 2 ft. across) elevated railroad, railroad raised above the ground on a supporting frame high enough for streetcars, automobiles, etc., to pass underneath.

elevation (el'ə vā'shən), 1. a raised place; high place: A hill is an elevation. 2. height above the earth's surface: The airplane fell from an elevation of 2000 feet. 3. height above sea level: The elevation of Denver is 5300 feet. 4. dignity; loftiness; nobility. 5. a raising; lifting up: the elevation of Caesar to be the ruler of Rome. 6. being raised or lifted up. 7. a flat drawing of the front, rear, or side of a building. n.

elevator (el'ə vā'tar), 1. thing that raises or lifts up. 2. a moving platform or cage to carry people and things up and down in a building, mine, etc. 3. U.S. a building for storing grain. 4. an adjustable flat piece that causes an airplane or airship to go up or down. See airplane for picture. n.

elevator shaft, a vertical passageway for an elevator.

eleven (i lev'ən), 1. one more than ten; 11. 2. team of eleven football or cricket players. 1,2 n., 1 adj.

eleventh (i lev'ənθ), 1. next after the 10th; last in a series of 11. 2. one of 11 equal parts. adj., 1 n.

eleventh hour, the latest possible moment; time just before it is too late.

elf (elf), 1. a tiny, mischievous fairy. 2. a small, mischievous person. n., pl. elves. —elflike, adj.

elfin (el'fən), 1. of or suitable for elves; like an elf's: The child's elfin smile was very charming. 2. elf. 1 adj., 2 n.

elfish (el'fish), elflike; elfin; mischievous. adj. —elfishly, adv. —elfishness, n.

elicit (i lis'it), draw forth: elicit a reply, elicit applause, elicit the truth. I succeeded in eliciting from his secretary the information I needed. v.

elicitation (i lis'ə tā'shən), a drawing forth or being drawn forth. n.

elide (i lid'), omit or slur over in pronunciation. The e in the is elided in "th' inevitable hour." v., elided, eliding.

eligibility (el'ə jə bil'ə tē), fitness; qualification; desirability. n., pl. eligibilities.

eligible (el'ə jə bl), 1. fit to be chosen; properly qualified; desirable: Players had to pass in all subjects to be eligible for the school team. 2. an eligible person. 1 adj., 2 n. —eligibly, adv.

Elijah (i lī'jə), a great Hebrew prophet who lived in the ninth century B.C. I Kings 17-19; II Kings 2:1-11. n.

eliminate (i lim'ə nāt), 1. get rid of; remove: The new bridge over the railroad tracks eliminated danger in crossing. 2. pay no attention to; leave out of consideration; omit: The architect eliminated furniture, rugs, etc., in figuring the cost of the house. 3. get rid of (an unknown quantity) by combining algebraic equations. v., eliminated, eliminating.

elimination (i lim'ə nā'shən), 1. an eliminating. 2. being eliminated. n.

Elis (ē'lis), an ancient division of W Greece. Olympic games were held on the plains of Olympia in Elis. See Greece for map. n.

Elisha (i lī'shə), the Hebrew prophet who was taught by Elijah. II Kings 2. n.

elision (i liz'hən), suppression of a vowel or a syllable in pronouncing. Elision is often used in poetry, and generally consists in cutting off a vowel at the end of one word when the next begins with a vowel. n.

élite or elite (ā lēt' or i lēt'), the choice or distinguished part; the best people: The élite of society attended the reception for the visiting queen. n.

elixir (i lik'sər), 1. substance supposed to have the power of changing lead, iron, etc., into gold or of lengthening life indefinitely, sought for by the alchemists of the Middle Ages. 2. a universal remedy; cure-all. 3. medicine made of drugs or herbs mixed with alcohol and syrup. n.

Elizabeth I (i liz'ə bəth), 1533-1603, queen of England from 1558 to 1603, daughter of Henry VIII. Elizabeth II, born 1926, queen of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, and head of the British Commonwealth of Nations; daughter of George VI.

Elizabeth (i liz'ə bəth) city in NE New Jersey. 108,000. n.

Elizabethan (i liz'ə bē'thən or i liz'ə beth'ən), 1. of the time of Queen Elizabeth I (1533-1603). 2. person, especially a writer, of the time of Queen Elizabeth I (1533-1603): Shakespeare is a famous Elizabethan. 1 adj., 2 n.

elk (elk), 1. a large deer of N Europe and Asia. It has antlers like a moose. 2. a large, reddish deer of North America; wapiti. n., pl. elks or (esp. collectively) elk.

American elk (def. 2) (5 ft. high at the shoulder) ell (el), an old measure of length, chiefly used in measuring cloth. In England it was equal to 45 inches. n.

ell (el), 1. the letter L. 1. 2. something shaped like a capital L. 3. an extension of a building at right angles to it. n.

Ellesmere (elz'mir), a large Canadian island northwest of Greenland. 76,600 sq. mi. n.

ellipse (i lips'), oval having both ends alike. It is the path of a point that moves so that the sum of its distances from two fixed points remains the same. Any conic section formed by a cutting plane inclined to the base but not passing through the base is an ellipse. n.

Showing the rule for making an ellipse. F and G are the two foci. The sum of the distances of any point of the ellipse from F and G is always the same. FM+GM equals FN+GN.

ellipsis (i lip'siz for 1; i lip'sēz for 2), 1. pl. of ellipse. 2. pl. of ellipsis. n.

ellipsis (i lip'sis), 1. omission of a word or words needed to complete the grammatical construction of a sentence. Example: She is as tall as her brother (is tall), if not taller (than her brother is tall). 2. marks (. . . or * * *) used to show an omission in writing or printing. n., pl. ellipses.

elliptic (i lip'tik), elliptical. adj.

elliptical (i lip'tə kl), 1. shaped like an ellipse; of an ellipse. 2. having a word or words omitted. adj.

elliptically (i lip'tik lē), 1. shaped like an ellipse. 2. with an ellipsis. adv.

Elis Island (el'is), a small island in New York harbor where, until 1943, immigrants were examined before entering the United States.

elm (elm), 1. a tall, graceful shade tree. 2. its hard, heavy wood. n.

Elmira (el mī'rə), city in SW New York State. 47,000. n.

eloquence (el'ə kū'shən), 1. art of speaking or reading clearly and effectively in public; art of public speaking, including the correct use of the voice, gestures, etc. 2. manner of speaking or reading in public. n.

eloquently (el'ə kū'shən er'ē), of or having to do with elocution. adv.

elocutionist (el'ə kū'shən ist), 1. person skilled in elocution. 2. teacher of elocution. n.

elongate (i lōng'gāt), 1. lengthen; extend; stretch: A rubber band can be elongated to several times its normal length. 2. lengthened. 3. long and thin: the elongated leaf of a willow. 1 v., elongated, elongating; 2,3 adj.

Leaves:
E, elongate;
O, oblong.

elongation (ē'lōng gā'shən), 1. a lengthening; extension. 2. a lengthened part; continuation. n.

elope (i lōp'), 1. run away with a lover. 2. run away; escape. v., eloped, eloping. —elope/ment, n. —elope/er, n.

eloquence (el'ə kwəns), 1. flow of speech that has grace and force: The eloquence of the President moved all hearts. 2. power to win by speaking; the art of speaking so as to stir the feelings. n.

eloquent (el'ə kwənt), 1. having eloquence. 2. very expressive. adj. —eloquently, adv.

El Paso (el pas'ō), city in W Texas, on the Rio Grande. 277,000.

El Salvador (el sal'və dōr), country in W Central America. 2,613,000 pop.; 13,176 sq. mi. Capital: San Salvador. See Central America for map.

else (els), 1. other; different; instead: What else could I say? 2. in addition: The Browns are here; do you expect anyone else? 3. differently: How else can it be done? 4. otherwise; if not: Hurry, else you will be late. 1,2 adj., 3,4 adv.

elsewhere (els'hwär), somewhere else; in or to some other place. adv.

elucidate (i lü'sə dāt), make clear; explain: The scientist elucidated his theory by a few simple experiments. v., elucidated, elucidating.

elucidation (i lü'sə dā'shən), a making clear; explanation. n.

elude (i lüd'), 1. slip away from; avoid or escape by cleverness, quickness, etc.: The sly fox eluded the dogs. 2. escape discovery by; baffile: The cause of cancer has eluded all research. v., eluded, eluding. —eluder, n.

elusion (i lü'zhən), an eluding; clever avoidance. n.

elusive (i lü'siv), 1. hard to describe or understand; baffling: an elusive idea. 2. tending to elude: an elusive enemy. adj. —elusively, adv. —elusiveness, n.

elusive (i lü'sə rē), elusive. adj.

elver (el'vər), a young eel. n.

elves (elvz), pl. of elf. n.

elvish (el'vish), elfish; elflike. adj.

Elysian (i liz'hən), 1. of or having to do with Elysium. 2. happy; delightful. adj.

Elysian Fields, in Greek mythology, Elysium.

Elysium (i liz'həm or i liz'ē əm), 1. in Greek mythology, a place where heroes and virtuous people lived after death. 2. any place or condition of perfect happiness; paradise. n.

elytra (el'ə trə), pair of hardened front wings that form a protective covering for the hind pair. Beetles and certain other insects have elytra. n. pl. of elytron (el'ə trən).

em (em), the letter M, m. n., pl. ems.

'em or em (əm), Informal. them. pron. pl.

emaciate (i mǎ'shē āt), make unnaturally thin; cause to lose flesh or waste away: A long illness had emaciated the invalid. v., emaciated, emaciating.

emaciation (i mǎ'shē ā'shən), unnatural thinness from loss of flesh; wasting away. n.

emanate (em'ə nāt), come forth: Light and heat emanate from the sun. Fragrance emanated from the flowers. The rumor emanated from Chicago. v., emanated, emanating.

emanation (em'ə nā'shən), 1. a coming forth. 2. anything that comes forth from a source: Light and heat are emanations from the sun. 3. a gas given off by a disintegrating, radioactive substance. n.

emancipate (i man'sə pāt), release from slavery or restraint; set free: Lincoln emancipated the slaves. v., emancipated, emancipating.

emancipation (i man'sə pā'shən), release from slavery or restraint; a setting free: emancipation of slaves, emancipation from a father's authority. n.

emancipator (i man'sə pā'tər), person who emancipates. n.

the Great Emancipator, Abraham Lincoln.

emasculate (i mas'kü lāt for 1,2; i mas'kyə lit or i mas'kyə lāt for 3), 1. remove the male glands of; castrate. 2. destroy the force of; weaken: The editor emasculated the speech by cutting out its strongest passages. 3. deprived of vigor; weakened; effeminate. 1,2 v., emasculated, emasculating; 3 adj. —emasculatedly, adv.

em balm (em bām' or em bālm'), 1. treat (a dead body) with drugs, chemicals, etc., to keep it from decaying. 2. keep in memory; preserve: Many fine sentiments are embalmed in poetry. 3. fill with sweet scent; perfume: Roses embalmed the June air. v. Also, imbalm.

—em balmer, n.

em bank (em bangk'), protect, enclose, or confine with a raised bank of earth, stones, etc. v.

em bank ment (em bangk'mənt), 1. a raised bank of earth, stones, etc., used to hold back water, support a roadway, etc. 2. a protecting, enclosing, or confining with a bank of this kind. n.

em bar go (em bār'gō), 1. order of a government forbidding ships to enter or leave its ports: During the War of 1812, Congress laid an embargo on commerce with Great Britain. 2. any restriction put on commerce by law. 3. restriction; restraint; hindrance. 4. lay an embargo on; forbid to enter or leave port. 1-3 n., pl. em-bar goes; 4 v., em bar goed, em bar go ing.

em bark (em bār'k'), 1. go on board ship: Many people embark for Europe in New York. 2. put on board ship: The general embarked his troops. 3. set out; start: After leaving college, the young man embarked upon a business career. 4. involve (a person) in an enterprise; invest (money) in an enterprise: He foolishly embarked much money in the swindler's scheme and so lost it all. v.

em bar ka tion (em'bār kā'shən), an embarking. n.

em bar rass (em bār'əs), 1. disturb (a person); make self-conscious: Meeting strangers embarrassed the shy boy so that he blushed and stammered. 2. complicate; mix up; make difficult: He embarrassed discussion of the simplest subject by the use of a difficult technical vocabulary. 3. involve in difficulties; hinder: Heavy equipment embarrassed the army's movements. 4. burden with debt; involve in financial difficulties. v.

em bar rass ing (em bār'əs ing), that embarrasses. adj. —em bar rass ing ly, adv.

em bar rass ment (em bār'əs mənt), 1. an embarrassing. 2. a being embarrassed. 3. thing that embarrasses. n.

em bas sage (em'bə sij), Archaic. embassy. n.

